Davis Trims Hilltoppers As Garnet Shellacks Panthers

The Sports Spotter

By THE SPORTS EDITOR

Our High School ball teams evidently don't like league play . . . the boys have engaged in 15 league contests and have won a grand total of three . . . the Hilltoppers are out of the cellar in the W. I. A. A. only because New Rochelle has lost more loop contests than they have . . . Harrison's Huskies are the obliging team in the S. W. I. A. C., anchoring the league with Bye and Bellows seemingly doing their best to get to the bottom.

The ball game at Mamaroneck Ave. field yester twilight was a corker . . . the boys were out for blood and competition was keen . . walks decided the game as both Rodriguez and Ianerelli were keeping the hitters in check . . . Bates Rainaldi handled a tough game in good style . . the feature probably was the ineffectual swings that Footsie Gironda took at Will Rod-

Orange Held To Three Hits; Drop Fifth W.I.A.A. Game

Mamaroneck's Hilltoppers are still looking for their first victory in W. I. A. A. play since they dropped their fifth straight league game yesterday by a 7-3 score, sustaining the whipping at the hands of A. B. Davis. The Bengals lost the game on their miscues, turning in a total of six errors afield and supporting the hurling of Skip Harris and Cy DeLitta with only three bingles and three unearned runs. De Litta hurled most of the game as Harris was having trouble finding the plate and was yanked in the second frame. For Davis, Bob Melhorn, a right hander, held the Tigers in check throughout.

Chuck Gibbon, Bruno Condro and Charlie Rigano shared the Tiger safeties while Ramsey and North of the winners each got two hits, with Ramsey blasting a homer in the sixth and North notching a triple in the first.

The Tigers took a short-lived lead as they touched Mehlhorn for a tally in the first. Loiaconi got on as Spasoto booted his grounder, stole second and held the bag as a sacrifice, moving both runners up and Gironda strolled to fill the sacks. Loiaconi scored when Sorrentino threw to first in an attempt to get Gironda off the base. Gironda was cut down going to second and Rigano ended the frame by fanning.

Davis went in front in their half of the first on two hits, an error and a pair of walks. The big blow of the frame was North's triple to the left field wall.

The Hilltoppers got back in the ball game in the second stanza when with two down, Condro singled to left and went all the way home on Hammond's three base miscue at first on Slip Harris's potential infield out. After a close play on Condro at the plate, Harris was thrown out attempting to take second base. The lead secured back to Davis in the last half of the second inning when with one out, Harris went wild and hit Valentine on the back with a pitched ball and walked Martinelli. Harris was yanked in favor of De Litta who easily disposed of Ramsey on a hopper to Mitchell, the runners going up a notch. DeLitta balked and Valentine was waved home and Martinelli to third. North was retired for the third out on an easy tap back to the mound.

The Orange and Black tied the game up once more in the third as Loiaconi again reached base on Spasoto miscue at short, this time going all the way to second base. Chuck Gibbon fanned but Harry Brown advanced Loiaconi on a grounder to second. Mehlhorn walked Gironda, who on the first pitch to Rigano attempted to pilfer second and was safe as Martenelle cut off the throw in an attempt to catch Loiaconi scoring from third. Loiaconi was safe as Sorrentino dropped the ball, Gironda going to third on the play. Charlie Rigano ended the threat by whiffing.

Davis acquired a fourth and tie breaking run in the third inning when with two down and Florde on first base as a result of a fielder's choice, Florde went to second and took third as Bruno Condro threw wildly to Loiaconi and Charlie Rigano overran the ball in center to allow Florde to count with the winning run. The Maroon and White got two more runs in the fourth stanza on hits by Mehlhorn and Ramsey and an important outfield error by Bill Scott. The last Davis marker came about in the last half of the sixth when Ramsey homered over Scott's head in deep center.

Daffodil Trio Wins Title In Floral League

The Daffodils dropped a 3-2 match to the Dandelions last night at Larchmont Rec but still managed to hang on to enough of their lead to annex the loop title with their conquerors finishing in second place. Down in third were the Daisies, who also ended their schedule with a loss to the Pansy trio by the same 3-2 score. In the third match the Lilies outbowled the definitely Trailing Arbutus three-some by four points to one.

Andy Dickison of the Pansy outfit was top bowler for the evening with a 725 for his four games. High single, however, went to Al McMillan who carded a 203 in his second effort and followed that with a 206 string.

Tigers Rally To Nip Bears By 2-1 Count

The first crucial game of the budding softball season resulted in a first class hurling duel last night as Will Rodriguez of the Tigers and Ianerelli of the Bears hooked up in a game which saw each of them give up four hits and two walks, with Rodriguez and the Tigers getting the edge by a 2—1 margin.

The two walks yielded by Ianerelli were the deciding factor in the contest. The Bears had grabbed a one-run lead in the second inning on solid bingles by Fraioli, Ianerelli and Gauft. Ianerelli protected this slim margin until the sixth and then weakened momentarily.

Stanfield opened the Tiger sixth by running into a batted ball in fair territory. Russo followed, working Ianerelli for the first of his walks. Willie Carter, who had a hit in the fourth, also patiently waited for a pass and then Castagna sent Russo across with the tieing run by banging a solid single to left. Carter took third on the hit and scored the winning marker when Belowich sent a skyscraper to center.

Rodriguez started slowly and gave up all four of his hits in the first three frames. After the third Fava was the only Bear to get on base, walking with one out in the sixth. In the seventh Rodriguez got his only strike-out, fanning Footsie Gironda on three "zephyr" pitches. Ianerelli whiffed three, getting Carter in the first, Rodriguez in the second and Petruzzo in the fifth.

East Enders Licked By 11-3; Harvey And Homer Lead Rye

Bellows lost its eighth game in eleven starts yesterday afternoon when Rye, at the bottom of the S. W.I.A.C. ladder, came to town and thoroughly trounced the Panthers by 11—3. After the first inning it was no contest, since the Garnet tallied three times to take a lead which was never relinquished. Francis Cleary was belted from the box in the initial stanza and the boys from Rye continued to attack Tommy Akers, going into a 6—0 lead in the third and adding five additional markers in the sixth.

The Panthers, on their part, didn't do a thing until the bottom of the sixth when they tallied once and then managed to add two more in the last of the seventh.

Tim Harvey started his first game for Rye and tossed a five-hitter at the Panthers to give the Garnet its second win in eighth league starts. Harvey's speed ball sent 11 East Enders back to the bench on strikes.

Tom Akers relieved Nonny Cleary at the start of the second frame and tossed the rest of the game, yielding eight runs on only six hits. He hurled good ball for most of the game, but a hunting attack by Rye embarrassed him in the sixth and some loose play on the part of an inept Panther infield didn't do him any good.

Chubby Homer of the winners was the leading batter of the fray as he collected three hits in four trips to the plate. Homer also batted in four runs while playing errorless ball at second base.

The Rye team started out in the first inning and really had the game under control after that. Tommy Lewis, playing short-stop for the first time this year, started the ball rolling with a line single to right. Roth grounded out, Bascome to Rose with Lewis taking second and Pasquale scored him when he was safe on Art O'Neill's error. Tim Harvey, the pitcher, then stepped up and blasted a terrific triple out to the flag pole in center field scoring Pasquale. Inglis grounded out but Homer brought Harvey in with a single.

The Rye runs in the third were the clinchers. Roth opened the inning with a double to right. Pasquale was safe on Rose's error with Roth holding on at second. Inglis forced Roth at third, but Harvey walked, loading the bases. Homer then stepped up and singled in two more runs and Werner followed with a walk. Harvey romped in as O'Neill was throwing Narr's grounder wide of first. Ebetino flied to Pratt to end the inning.

The Panthers got their three runs in the last two frames. In the sixth, Lanza's single and Jimmy's Bianca's double developed into the run which broke the ice and spoiled Harvey's no-hitter. Their two seventh inning runs were mostly gifts. Huntley was hit by a pitched ball and then Harvey proceeded to walk Cleary, Pratt and Bob Joyce in a row to force one run across. Bascome's grounder was bobbled by Ebetino and the Panthers last tally came across.

Peace Council To Mark First Anniversary

Justice Arnold comes to the Larchmont Council for the Promotion of Peace Planning at a time when the question of international cartels is in the public mind, since the Kilgore Bill and the Mahoney Bill are now before Congress for consideration. The Kilgore Bill concerns technical mobilization, and the establishment of research laboratories for patents; the Mahoney Bill requires the registration of international trade agreements. Other bills up for consideration attempt to solve the problem of restrictive patent combines.

GOVERNORS END SESSION

HERSHEY, PA., (AP)—The nation' governors concluded the 36th annual governors conference by calling for quick Federal action on plans for post-war public works and reconversion of war industries to peacetime production. They elected Governor Herbert B. Maw, Utah Democrat, as chairman.

"A BUSY BOY IS A HAPPY BOY"
And when you can add healthful exercise; growth of self-confidence, tact, and personality; an increasing bank account; a sense of responsibility; and business training;—you have a sound basic program for your boy's development. This happy combination is available with just the right amount of "busy-ness" in a newspaper route near your home. It's important war work, too, even though the boy is in business for himself. State Leaders Laud Legion's Post-War Plan and well-defined plan to meet what in my mind is the number one job of The American Legion. There are many who feel that postwar plans should be prepared to meet conditions that will be in evidence at the conclusion of the war. However, I am gratified to learn of the plan set out by your Post as I, too, am heartily in favor of immediate establishment and operation, for the reason that thousands of our returning servicemen and women have now reached the so-called 'Postwar period.'

"While you have sent this material to me because of my recent appointment to the newly created State committee of veterans affairs, I should like, with your permission and if you have sufficient extra copies available, to distribute this material throughout The Legion in the Department of New York. I do not mean to put you to any additional expense and, if you do not have approximately 100 extra copies, I shall endeavor to have the copies made at Department Headquarters.

"Please accept my thanks for your interest in forwarding this material to me. I wish you every success in your efforts with respect to this worthwhile undertaking."

Cabaret Tax Cut Legality Is Questioned

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Tacking of a Senate rider to the public debt limit bill, reducing the cabaret tax from 20 to 20 per cent precipitated an offstage argument today on whether the Senate has overstepped its constitutional authority.

After attaching the night club amendment which also exempts servicemen and women from the tax, the Senate passed yesterday without a dissent legislation boosting the debt ceiling from $210,000,000,000 to $260,000,000,000. The House previously had voted the new ceiling at $240,000,000,000.

Chairman Doughton of the ways and means committee said he would ask the House to stand pat on its bill and request the Senate for a conference to adjust differences.

Express Cars Are Derailed

METUCHEN, N. J. (AP)—Several cars of a freight train and the sleeper on the Washington-Boston Express were derailed early today from eastbound tracks on the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad three miles west of here.

No one was injured in the derailment which railroad spokesmen said was caused by the collapse of flooring on a moving freight car and the spilling onto the roadbed of a load of brass. A portion of the brass spilled onto the second eastbound track and derailed the sleeper on the Washington-Boston train.

The derailment which occurred at 2:30 A. M. also tied up traffic on the two westbound tracks for an hour and a half until the wreckage was cleared away.

Nine Overcome By Coal Gas In Tarrytown

TARRYTOWN — Nine children from St. Christopher's School at Dobbs Ferry were overcome by coal gas yesterday after a weekly swim at the YMCA pool. All were revived by police, firemen and lighting company crews working with four inhalators. Five were taken to Grasslands Hospital overnight and the others returned to the home.

The fumes seeped through a locked door from the pit of a furnace used to heat water for showers and filled a dressing room used by the children off the pool. Miss Peggy Slavin heard uncontrolled giggling and laughing from the dressing room and investigated. As she entered five girls dropped to the floor.

Miss Slavin pulled them through a door of the dressing room leading to a rear yard. A seven-year-old boy who looked into the pool filled room after the girl had been removed started for the railroad station to return to the home, but collapsed two blocks away and was carried by other children back to the "Y."

As word of the emergency spread through the Village many mothers hurried to the "Y" for fear their children were involved. Prompt attention was possible because next door to the "Y" is Police Headquarters where the first alarm was received at 5:06.

Non-Partisan Plan Lauded By Reichler

NEW ROCHELLE—"Non-partisanship appears on the Yonkers scene as the liberator. In local politics, Yonkeres voters have won the war for liberation," Oxie Reichler, editor of the Yonkers Herald Statesman, told the Civic Forum last night at the Thomas Paine House.

"Yonkers undoubtedly had the worst municipal government in the State, under the old party system," said Mr. Reichler. "Today under nonpartisanship it is surely the best in the County, and perhaps in the State."

Mr. Reichler's review of the Yonkers situation was followed by a debate on the principle of nonpartisan municipal ballots.

"It's a physical impossibility," said James R. Rooney, Democratic campaign manager in the last municipal election.

"You can't attribute the success of any government to the mechanics of electing the officials," said Ralph S. Kent, former Republican city leader. "What counts is the support and desire of the citizens for good government."

"The old party system no longer works in municipal government," said Walter M. Hinkle, prominent charter league member. Today we need a functional operation, not a political operation."

"The people have shown they are nonpartisan," said Mayor Stanley W. Church. Why not give them the method to make it easy for them to vote for whom they want?"

Woman's Death Mystery To Police

NEW ROCHELLE—Although the case appears to be a suicide, police today are puzzled over the death of Mrs. Anna Holden, 60, of 12 Burling Lane. Mrs. Holden was found dead, her throat slashed, in her bedroom when her husband, Richard, a landscape gardener, returned from work about 6:30 last evening.

A close search of the room disclosed nothing that could have inflicted the wound, and Medical Examiner Amos O. Squire expressed doubt that Mrs. Holden could have slashed herself and then been able to conceal the weapon. However, there were no signs of a struggle in the house. Assistant District Attorney George M. Fanelli, who joined with police in the investigation, said, or any indication that the house had been looted.

In his examination today, Dr. Squire found bruises on the side of the woman's face which he said could have been caused by a blunt instrument. He did not volunteer whether the bruise could have been caused by Mrs. Holden falling from the bed and striking her face on the floor.

CHANGSHA EVACUATED

Only WONDER BREAD Makes This $1,000 Vitamin B_1 Guarantee
Regular laboratory tests of typical loaves of Wonder White Bread show an average Vitamin B_1 content substantially in excess of the minimum requirements as recommended for bread by the Federal Food and Drug Administration.
We will pay $1,000 to any charitable organization named by the citizen of the United States first to disprove the above statement.

Eastchester Eagles Depose Bellows As S.W.I.A.C. Track Champions

Panthers Take Five Firsts But Finish In Third Place

Despite the fact that they took five out of the possible eleven first places in the meet, the Bellows Panthers yesterday came in a close third in the Southern Westchester Interscholastic Athletic Conference annual track meet. The meet was held at Rye this year and the winning team was Eastchester whom the East Enders have previously conquered in a dual meet. The winners took only three firsts while the second place team, Rye, scraped through with two and last place Harrison had but one. The Panthers won the championship last year and had dreams of repeating their performance this season. However the Eagles had too much strength in the field events and their runners gathered some valuable points by dashing off with second, third and fourth places. Rye moved out the Blue and Black clad runners by winning the last event, the 880-yard delay in a close race in which the Panthers finished second.

The running events were held first and the East Enders went into a big lead by capturing all but one of the foot races. Dick Carpenter was the first winner when he went into a quick lead in the first quarter of the mile run and then left his opponents far behind. Carpenter's time was 4 minutes and 56 seconds with Locker of Eastchester nosing out Black of Rye for the runner up spot and Wood of Rye taking fourth.

Then Marty Gallotti raced to a win in the 220 yard dash. Mitchell finished a not too close second while Schindo also took two points for Rye. D'Arbelloff took the fourth spot for Bellows.

Ralph Nicolais then made it four in a row when he outlasted the quarter miliers to triumph in the fine time of 55.4. Nicolais took an early lead and the opposition trailed him until the final turn when he turned on the heat and dashed to the tape. His time could have been even better if he hadn't slowed up at the last five yards. Nicolais, as well as miler Carpenter, finished the season unbeaten.

The 100-yard dash was the Panthers first and only loss in the individual running events. Ferri of Eastchester was the winner with Brondell of Rye second and Stavredes, also of Rye third. Gallotti took a close fourth for the East End cause.

Tom Reehe turned in the last Bellows running victory as he ran a perfectly paced half mile to triumph with a fine finish in the mediocre time of 2 minutes, 14.4 seconds. Beebe took the third spot until the second and gun lap, when he turned on the steam and worked his way into the lead. Virtue of Rye managed to eke out second place while Thiel of Eastchester and Scerfi of Rye brought up the rear.

The biggest Eastchester victory of the day was in the high jump where the Eagles collected 10 points. Kauth and K. Smith tied for first place. Both are Eastchester men and to make matters worse, so was Seguso who took third. Skelley of Rye took fourth but only because there were no more Eagles entered.

Bob Copeland was a good victor in the discus throw. Copeland threw the ephemoid 117 feet 3 inches to defeat White of Eastchester and his team-mate Dick O'Keefe for the initial spot. Smith of Eastchester added another point for the winning cause with a fourth.

The fifth and last Bellows winner was the reliable Jim Murphy who again triumphed in the pole vault. Murphy soared over 10 feet as easily as rolling off a log while the other vaulters had their hands full with lower heights. Murphy's victory was surprisingly easily won for he had been tied by Kneur of Harrison earlier in the season when both cleared 10 feet 3 inches. However Kneur was unable to make 10 feet yesterday and thus Murphy took the event.

Recs, Pickups Trounced In 3-Man League

Shutouts were the order of the night yesterday in the Larchmont three-man league as the Acres No. 1 trio and the Clippers blanked the Pickups and Recs to maintain the spots in the circuits first and second places. In a third match the Acres No. 2 outfit won a forfeit from the Sailors.

The league-leading Acres No. 1 team had a surprisingly easy time with the Recs as none of the Recreation team was in top form and turned in a three-game total of only 1322. Art Pellino led the Acres team with a 546 series.

The Clippers, knocked out of a competitive position by the Recs last week, found the going a bit tougher as the Pickups just did manage to lose two of three games. Only the final contest was an easy victory for the Clippers who didn't do any outstanding legling in winning their shutout triumph.

Gossweiler of the Acres No. 2 squad turned in the best legling of the evening when he managed the maples for two 200 games, tallying 202 and 210 and ending up with a 597 series. His rolling was done without any opposition as the Sailors didn't show up for the match and the No. 2 trio was only bowling out the string for the sake of the record.

Refiners Drop To Fourth In Classic Loop

Mamaroneck's Refiners who once upon a time were flirting with the lead in the Rogers Classic League found themselves down in fourth place today as a result of a 2—1 whipping handed out by the LaVenders last night. The Stevens quintet of Mamaroneck took a like victory from Larchmont's Insulators.

Tober turned out to be last night's best bowler on the local teams as he smashed the timbers of 621, including games of 223 and 212 to lead the Stevens outfit to its win over the Insulators. Dan Goetze was tops in the match which the Refiners lost as he broke 600 by eight pins with two games over the double century mark.

Rye Neck A. C. Victor By 11-3 In Twilight Softball League

The Rye Neck A. C. and Institute softball outfits tangled last night in a battle for last place. The Institute won a moral victory in that they are still in last place as the result of an 11-3 trouncing inflicted by the Rye Neck boys. Neither team had won a game prior to last night's tilt and the squad from the East End, hitting consistently and favored by some five-hit turling on the part of Bianca, never let the game get really close as they broke a two game losing streak and set the Institute team back for the fourth straight time.

In the very first inning the Rye Neck outfit went out in front as Murphy was safe on an error and scored on hits by Oviatt and Bianca. Bianca nipped the tally when he tried to go to second and was caught by a good throw. In the third inning the East End team again went to town. Another error started it as O'Neill was safe on Bielwels' miacue. Coutard followed with a hit, Lanza was safe on a fielder's choice, and then Carpenter scored both O'Neill and Coutard with a solid bingle to left center.

The Institute broke into the scoring column in the fourth and momentarily made the game close. Two runs came in on Tannenbaum's hit, Crown's bingle and two more off the bats of Bielwels and Kuritzky.

The Rye Neck team iced the contest in the fifth when six hits yielded five runs. The big blows were Lanza's double, Carpenter's second single and another bingle delivered by Gedney.

From there in it was merely a matter of coasting as the Institute picked up a run in the sixth to make the score 8-3, while the Rye Neck team added three in the top of the seventh to run up the eleven tallies.

Charlie Lanza, league prexy, essayed to umpire for the first time this year and was struck by a foul tip in the fourth inning. He retired to the bench and Fred Rainaldi took over the remaining chores for the rest of the game.

School Teams Deadlocked In Track Events

A total of 24 events were run off in the Mamaroneck Avenue School Field Day held yesterday afternoon when all 24 had been contested, the Red and Blue teams were even-steven at 90 points apiece. The points, arbitrarily awarded on the basis of five for first and three for second with no third places counting, were so evenly split that the Red boys' squad whipped the Blue boys 30-40 and the Red girls lost to the Blue girls 50-40.

Twelve events were contested for the boys and 12 for the girls. The list of winners included Gloria Notorangelo and Arline Ranieri in the girls' 50-yard dashes, Edith Hall and Marie Faillace in the broad jumps, Vincenza Piacente and Jacqueline Albert in the base circling races, Grace DiPietro and Anna Stamegna in the basketball throw, Olga Maccarone and Vincenzia Piacente in the high jump. Both relay races for girls went Among the boys it was Luke to the Blue squad.

DiRuzzo and Vincent Tomassetti who took the 50-yard dash races, Louis Nash and Vito Dellanosta won the base circling race, John Garland and Curtis Nelson were on top in the basketball throws, Albert Di Stoala and Vincent Reid took the running broad jump, and Philip Tronbla and Antonio Datina were victors in the hop, skip and jump. The Red outfit won both relay events to send the two teams into an absolute tie.

The meet was under the direction of Bill Celestino, physical education director at the school.

We don't want to appear boastful, but many women have paid us some nice compliments about our careful repair work. Of course, women are not supposed to know much about mechanical repairs on a car, but we have found many of them are a lot better informed about their cars than their husbands. If you want to drive your car this Summer in Safety, be sure that everything on the car is in first-class repair. Three Crashes Mar Village Safety Record

Three accidents have been reported at Mamaroneck Village Police headquarters during the last two days after a holiday weekend which was free of any reported mishap.

Turning out to avoid striking a pedestrian on Halstead Avenue yesterday afternoon, a car operated by William A. Nye, a soldier stationed at Fort Slocum, sideswiped another vehicle operated by Clifford D. Brower of 139 Dubois Avenue. The car is owned by Florence McNamara of 550 Mamaroneck Avenue and no damage was reported in it. The car driven by the soldier is owned by Michael Mares of New York City and suffered a bent crash bar and gear shift rod.

Shortly after noon Wednesday a car driven by Robert P. Beebe, 16, a student, of 829 Halstead Avenue, Mamaroneck, turned out on Carroll Avenue to pass another car parked beside a Good Humor truck and the right front wheel struck the left ankle of Betty Ann Turner, 14, of 309 Hunter Street, who was sitting on the curb near the Bellows High School. She was treated by Dr. Eugene Healey for a deep laceration. The young driver told the police he had been driving for four months.

Later in the afternoon a collision resulting in damage estimated at $50 to each car occurred between a vehicle operated by Edmund J. Ayres of 40 Hompkins Avenue and James McCrory of Fort Chester. The McCrory car was reported parked at the curb near 441 Halstead Avenue at the time of the crash. Ayres was treated for a laceration of the scalp.

Audience Learns Proper Methods For Cooking Meat

Instructions in the proper methods for roasting meat were featured by Miss Betty Stafford Thursday at the second in a series of three cooking demonstrations sponsored by the Larchmont Consumer Information Center.

Miss Stafford, a member of the New York State Emergency Food Commission, told her audience that nutritionists now agree that all meats should be roasted at a low temperature because experiments have proved that as much as three fourths of a pound is lost when high temperatures are used.

"It is important to have an oven regulator," she said, "or at least a good oven thermometer; and keep the heat at 350 degrees. Put your meat on a rack in a low pan to ensure good circulation of heat and do not pre-heat the oven.

"We never baste anymore, nor do we cover the meat," she continued. "Do not worry if the meat doesn't brown at once for roasts cooked at low temperatures don't begin to brown until the last half hour of cooking."

Miss Stafford said that the time for cooking beef was calculated at 20 minutes to the pound at 350 degrees for a medium rare roast. All other meats and fowls should be cooked 25 minutes to the pound at the same temperature, she stated.

As she talked, she cooked a roast of beef and prepared the vegetables to be served with it, giving several hints for proper vegetable cooking to assure the best flavor and greatest conservation of vitamins.

"Vegetables need only the smallest amount of water," she said. "They will not burn unless the flame is too high, the cover too loose or too little water is used. One inch of water under the proper conditions will last an hour, but no vegetable should be cooked longer than 25 minutes."

Miss Stafford peeled and sliced beets to be cooked in one inch of water and told the class that by cooking them only 25 minutes they would not lose vitamins or flavor though they were peeled and sliced. She said that strong-flavored vegetables such as cabbage and broccoli should be cooked in covered pot with a slice of bread on top of the vegetable to absorb odors.

"We know that if we use too rapidly boiling water, foods keep knocking together and lose much of their value," she continued. "We also know that too much water is bad; that vitamins are lost in an uncovered pot and that baking soda must never be associated with vegetables."

When the food was prepared it was served to those present and recipes were passed out. Miss Stafford will return to the Center next Thursday at 10:30 A.M. for her final lecture. The public is invited free of charge.

War Council will be held Tuesday at 8 P. M. at the Municipal Building.

Programs for discussion are paper salvage drive, June 11; 5th War Loan Drive, June 12; child care program slow in progress; Victory Gardens, with plans for Garden Show Sept. 16.

BABY CLINIC

Mrs. E. B. Ingraham, Mrs. Charles Howard, and Mrs. Ola Johnson have volunteered to serve each Tuesday afternoon this Summer to help with children of the Village who attend the baby clinic.

ATTENTION

We are making an urgent appeal to shoppers to remember the paper shortage. When your meat and vegetables are put in a bag, please don't ask for another large bag to hold all your parcels. Carry a shopping bag with you for your own convenience. The shopkeepers are trying to help you, but they cannot get a supply of large paper bags. Let's all cooperate and save paper.

WASTE FATS STILL VITAL

Let it be bluntly stated, and fully understood by every American housewife—the need for continued fat salvage is as vital as ever. Our government has never undertaken to force the salvaging of waste fats by legal means. This has not been thought necessary in the United States because our government has always felt that this was a simple, though vital, patriotic duty that every woman would want to perform to the best of her ability. To use the relaxation of meat rationing as an excuse to deliberately slacken one's effort now, if, in essence, to repudiate a segment of one's responsibility as an American citizen in our present all-out war effort!

150 Gas Fume Victims Still In Hospitals

NEW YORK, (AP)—Approximately 150 of an estimated 1,000 persons felled by escaping chlorine gas in Brooklyn yesterday still were under treatment in hospitals today as authorities began an investigation to determine the cause of the accident.

No fatalities were reported from the greenish-yellow fumes which seeped from a 220-pound steel cylinder on a delivery truck and billowed out over a radius of half a dozen blocks in a busy downtown section.

More than 250 men, women and children were taken to seven hospitals. Most of them were allowed to go home after treatment.

Scores of others were treated at makeshift first aid stations set up in stores, gasoline stations and nearby homes.

As the pungent fumes spread over the area, people toppled to the ground like flies, eyewitnesses said, while others were sent into violent spells of choking, coughing and vomiting.

The gas came from one of 20 tanks on the truck, operated by John G. Golliver, 45, of Brooklyn.

Inspector Joseph Barbuto of the Fire Department Bureau of Combustibles said he had obtained summonses against Golliver and the truck owner, Lester J. Denner, charging them with transporting chlorine through the streets without a permit.

55 Bags Of Clothing

Clothing collected in the three schools of the Rye Neck District during the recent "Save the Children" collection campaign filled 55 bags, Dr. Alvin W. Hicks, superintendent of schools, reported today.

The receptacles were provided by the foundation and shipped directly to a workroom where the clothing is being put into condition for shipment to the Southern mountain districts of the United States as well as to the bombed areas abroad.

Miss Marie Haggerty had charge of the collection at the Barry Avenue School, George Ayres at the Daniel Warren School, and Miss Minnie Healey at the Bellows High School.

The response to the appeal for clothing was "very generous," Dr. Hicks said.

War Bond Sales Drop During May

May Total Of $30,642 Shows Steady Decline In Purchases Here

9,000 BELOW APRIL

The steady decline in the sale of War Stamps and Bonds in Mamaroneck during the late Winter and Spring continued last month with a drop of nearly $9,000 from the sales during April. The May total was $30,642.05 as against $39,267.90 the month before.

The figures include a stamp sale, however, of $4,952.05 which is a $400 increase over the $4,567.90 sold at the postoffice during April.

During May, 1943, the 2nd War Loan campaign was in progress when $153,000 was raised during the month, making it impossible to compare the figures with May of this year.

The issue price of bonds sold by the five agencies in Mamaroneck during May totals as follows with April's figures in parenthesis:

The County Trust Company, $14,353.75 ($21,150); Union Savings Bank, $4,068.75 ($3,125); Federal Savings and Loan, $618.75 ($520); The Playhouse, $1,256.25 ($1,250); postoffice, $5,242.50 ($5,580).

The increase in the stamp sale, Gabriel Wendel, chairman of the War Finance Committee, said today, was "undoubtedly the result of the school's pushing it."

The committee met yesterday at Mr. Wendel's office in the Union Savings Bank to lay plans for the Fifth War Loan drive which will begin in less than two weeks.

Dead Woman's Husband's Bail Up To $10,000

WHITE PLAINS—With the circumstances of the death of Mrs. Anna Holden, 60, who was found with her throat slashed in her bedroom at 42 Burling Lane, New Rochelle, Wednesday night, still a mystery today, the bail of her husband, Richard Holden, 59-year-old handyman and gardener, who is being held as a material witness, was increased from $1,000 to $10,000 by Medical Examiner Amos O. Squire.

Holden was just about to be released on $1,000 cash bail provided by his wife's sister, Miss Frances Clair, when Dr. Squire arrived at the County Jail and raised the amount of the bond. As a result Holden was returned to his cell to await further developments.

Dr. Squire explained he acted after a conference with District Attorney Elbert T. Callagher late yesterday afternoon. This conference, Dr. Squire said, disclosed "certain differences" between the story told the medical examiner and that told to Mr. Gallagher by the husband.

Holden was arrested as a material witness after being questioned by police and Assistant District Attorney George M. Fanelli Wednesday night. Since that time he has been questioned at length and subjected to a lie detector test. Results of the test were not revealed.

Holden, Mr. Fanelli said, expressed doubt that his wife had taken her own life, but was unable to ascribe any possible motive for anyone to slay her. The authorities are inclined to the belief the case was one of suicide but the absence of any weapon capable of inflicting the wounds, which brought quick death, shrouds the case with mystery.

NORMAN D. WATERS

A $25 War Bond will be awarded as first prize in a Victory Garden contest sponsored by the Victory Garden Committee of the Village of Larchmont, it has been announced by Mrs. Milton B. Numbers of gardens, as assigned, are to be placed on a marker in an easily visible spot in the garden.

Mrs. Freudenheim reminds all vegetable gardeners that they are eligible to enter the competition, regardless of the size of the garden, provided it has been worked and planted by the individual or family in whose name it is registered.

Awards will be presented at a Harvest Show to be held in September.

Walters Retires As Television Society Head

Frequently called "The Television Crusader" because of his efforts in fighting for the advancement and development of television, Norman D. Waters of Taylors Lane, Mamaroneck, retired yesterday as president of the Television Society, continuing his interest as a member of the board of directors and succeeded by Dan Halpin of Radio Corporation of America.

Head of his own advertising agency since 1927, Mr. Waters first viewed television and its "tremendous potentialities" in London in 1938. "On my return home, and ever since, I have been endeavoring to learn why television have was behind the rest of the world," he stated, "and found that political and patent factors as well as misunderstandings in industrial and government circles were responsible for handicapping television's progress."

Today television stands at the point where it is ready to go ahead on a large scale immediately after the war, according to Mr. Waters, who considers that most of its major problems have now been solved. "Now on the threshold of a new era, no one can deny its contributions to the public welfare, for selfish reasons," he said in a recent interview. "It is my hope that television will develop along far greater lines of public service than radio was able to accomplish, with the enormous advantage of sight over sound."

"My retirement as president of the American Television Society indicates no diminished interest on my part. On the contrary, it will enable me to devote more time to aspects of the industry and its government relationships, where my efforts may be of great assistance in hastening the day when science's great blessing to mankind will be here in all its glory."

In a talk delivered at a general meeting of the society in New York last January, Mr. Waters spoke of the educational and cultural potentialities of television, calling it "the soundest basis for world peace that has yet been presented."

"The public, always inarticulate even when developments are of vital importance in their lives, would raise their voices in wrath if they were aware of what has caused the delay in television's progress."

German Coastal Bases Hit Twice During Day

LONDON, (AP) — U. S. heavy bombers struck twice at Nazi coastal fortifications in the Pas-de-Calais and Boulogne areas of France today, carrying on the non-stop aerial assault of Europe now under intensified pressure after the shuttle raid to Russian bases.

Flying two missions from Britain for the second day, a force of 250 Flying Fortresses and Liberators with equally strong escort hit coastal emplacements in the morning, and similar fleets roared back in the afternoon to the same area.

These west wall fortifications were hit Friday in their heaviest daylight pounding of the war, and 500 RAF bombers attacked the west wall defenses and crumbling German rail facilities last night.

The daylight attacks sent the air offensive into its 16th day.

Today's raiders hurled probably 1,500 tons of explosives on this Atlantic Wall section—for a total of about 4,500 tons smashing down in the last 24 hours on this area closest to Britain.

Howell Park Assn. Elects New Officers

William T. Kniesner has been elected president of the Howell Park Association, succeeding Frank De Vore who has headed the organization for the last year. Others who will serve with Mr. Kniesner are Edwin R. Jung, vice president; Carl L. Norris, treasurer, and Sterling Baer, secretary.

The executive committee will consist of the newly elected officers, the retiring president, Frank C. Armstrong, Erik B. Andersen and Clarence C. Merritt.

Mr. Armstrong and Carl L. Norris, jointly heading a committee on new street signs for Howell Park, reported the adoption of a final design of wooden construction a sample of which is being erected at one of the intersections.

Members of the association endorsed the news letter, "The Howell Parker," sent regularly to men and women in the service and voted for its continuation. Edited for the last year by Mr. De Vore, the publication contains news of community activity and is mailed to 14 association members.

The members adopted a resolution of appreciation of the work done for the association by Mr. and Mrs. Roger F. Bird who will move to Boston July 1. A past president of the association, Mr. Bird has lived in Howell Park more than eight years and served for a time as deputy chief warden of the Town of Mamaroneck. He and Mrs. Bird organized the Air Raid Wardens' unit in Howell Park.

Plans for summer activities include a lawn party, June 17, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Bird their daughter Joy, and their son Pfc. Roger Bird. Mr. Jung is in charge of arrangements for the party.

WMC Job Plan To Have Little Effect On Area

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Anna M. Rosenberg, regional War Manpower Commission director, said yesterday that the new WMC labor priority plan announced in Washington would have little effect on the New York City area, including Westchester, but would be applied to the rest of the State.

"It is not administratively feasible to put the plan into effect at this time in New York City," Mrs. Rosenberg said.

The new WMC controls provide that virtually every job-seeking man in America will be required to apply to the United States Employment Service for assignment to the war plant where he is most needed. Employers will be permitted to hire only those men referred to them by the USES.

Flight Officer C. C. Beall Missing In Action After Plane Crash In Yugoslavia

FLIGHT OFFICER Charles C. Beall of 7 Glenn Road, Larchmont, above, has been reported missing in action since April 24 in the Mediterranean area.

Official news was received here this morning from the War Department that Flight Officer Charles C. Beall, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Beall of 7 Glenn Road, Larchmont, is missing in action in the Mediterranean area.

Flight Officer Beall is a graduate of the Bombardier School at Big Spring, Tex., where he received his commission last August. Before entering the service Feb. 2, 1943, he graduated from Mamaroneck High School and attended Brown University.

He has completed 31 missions and 25 sorties against the enemy and would be eligible for leave upon the completion of his 20th mission.

His parents have been advised by Major Gen. N. P. Twining of the 15th Air Force that, when the plane crashed over Yugoslavia on April 24, Flight Officer Beall "had ample time to bail out without having been observed by accompanying crews." Confirmatory details, he added, cannot be expected for a long time.

Major Gen. Twining's letter to Mr. and Mrs. Beall follows:

"Your son, Flight Officer Charles C. Beall, arrived in this theater last December, and since that date has been in one of our heavy bomber groups. His unit participated in a very successful raid on the enemy installations at Bucharest, Rumania, on the 24th of April, and as you have been advised, Charles has been missing since that date.

"While I cannot tell you whether he is safe, we do know that his crew had ample time to bail out, without having been observed by accompanying crews before the plane crashed near Milentifa, Yugoslavia. Unfortunately, we cannot expect confirmatory details for a long time, but if and when we have any news of your son, you will be notified at once.

"Our bomber crews are daily carrying out attacks on distant enemy targets, each man risking his life to shorten the end of this struggle in order that we all may remain free. Charles has gallantly fulfilled the highest traditions of the Armed Forces in participating in many of our most vital attacks and has thereby brought much credit upon himself and his country."

Youth Admits Entering Two Orienta Homes

WHITE PLAINS—Pleading guilty to a charge of unlawful entry, Richard A. W. Leon, 18-year-old automobile mechanic of 373 Palmer Avenue, Mamaroneck, was placed on indefinite probation yesterday by County Judge Frederick G. Schmidt and ordered to make $300 restitution for damage done to two Orienta Point houses.

Leon was arrested with three other youths, whose cases were handled under the Youthful Offender Law, and was indicted on two charges of burglary third degree, and one of injury to property. Judge Schmidt declined to accept the recommendation of the Grand Jury that Leon be also treated as a youthful offender.

The youth pleaded innocent to the three counts, but entered a plea to the lesser charge, on consent of Assistant District Attorney Frederick E. Weeks, Jr. Mr. Weeks told the court that Leon and the others had entered one house and taken a number of small articles, in another house they wreaked havoc, smashing furniture, pulling away a mantle piece, and breaking up a hand carved balustrade.

After sentence had been imposed, Judge Schmidt dismissed the other indictments against Leon. The names of the other defendants were not revealed in accordance with the provisions of the Youthful Offender Law, and their cases were disposed of in private.

Veitch Graduates

Robert A. Veitch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Veitch of Normandy Lane, Larchmont, has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the Air Forces of the Army of the United States, having successfully completed his course at the Air Forces Officer Candidate School at Miami Beach, Fla. His duties will be to direct vital administrative and supply operations of the AAF in theaters of operations all over the world.

Formerly stationed at the ROTC unit of the ASTP at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Mass., where he held the rank of corporal, Lt. Veitch was a student at M. I. T. when he entered the AAF, after attending Chauncey Hall School in Boston, Mass.

Yanks Based In Russia Hit Romania

EASTERN COMMAND, U. S. STRATEGIC AIR FORCE, SOMEWHERE IN RUSSIA, (AP). — Strong formations of American Flying Fortresses and Mustang fighter escorts have landed at secretly-prepared American bases in Russia after bombing Romanian targets accomplishing west east shuttle raids on Hitler's fortress for the first time and establishing joint offensive operations with the Red Air Force.

The historic operation, completed yesterday, was disclosed to be the fruition of a long-range American-Russian-British air plan through which the three powers, in intimate collaboration, brought the most far-flung portions of the Nazi domain under precision bombing.

Our Troops Only 14 Miles From Eternal City

BULLETIN

NEW YORK, (AP)—A British Radio broadcast today said Eighth Army troops had captured Alatri, five miles north of Frosinone on an alternative German escape road east of the Via Casilina.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES, (AP)—U. S. troops slugging through the Alban Hills toward Rome have captured Monte Castellacio, a bare 14 miles from the Eternal City, and another American column today drove up the Via Casilina toward the capital.

Other Allied troops pushed down the highway from Valmontone, one jaw of a potential trap for Nazi rearguards falling back under steady advances by the Allied armies to the southeast.

The power drive that cracked the Germans' Velletri-Valmontone line swept on to Monte Castellacio 6½ miles north of Velletri, and only 14 miles southeast of Rome.

Wars of Nazi Strength

Headquarters cautioned that although Velletri and Valmontone, bastions of the Rome Line, have been captured, "the enemy's defensive position in this sector has not yet been broken," that the German defenses are "in considerable depth and firm resistance is being encountered."

(The German High Command reported bitter fighting in the Alban Hills Friday, and said attacks at and west of Lanuvio, just west of Velletri, were repelled.

(An Allied spearhead thrusting above Valmontone was "brought to a standstill east of Rocca Di Papa and south of Palestrina," five miles north of Valmontone, the Germans said.)

United States units which took Valmontone already out in three directions — northwest along the Via Casilina toward Rome, 20 miles away; southeast along the same road to link up with the Allies who are driving the Germans out of their last footholds on the south side of the Sacco River, and due north along an important secondary road toward a vital highway junction at Cave, three miles from Valmontone.

French Close In

The French, meantime, closed in quickly from the south on Colle Ferro, four and a half miles southeast of Valmontone and within pistol shot of both Highway 6 and the river.

Farther to the southeast other French troops closed the retreat route from the area south of the Sacco River by slicing across at secondary road at Sgurgola, 14 miles from Valmontone and five and a half miles west of Ferentino, while the Eighth Army already had taken.

Gen. Alphonse Juin's French troops also were driving northward from the village of Montelanico, 11 miles southeast of Valmontone.

Thus Juin's troops were closing in on whatever German units were attempting to fight a rearguard action in the 18-mile sector between Colle Ferro and Ferentino, looping south of the Sacco River.

Berlin Says Rome Is Free Of Nazi Units

LONDON, (AP)—A Berlin broadcast today quoted a foreign office spokesman as saying that Rome is free from German armed forces.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES, (AP).—The Allied Command in Italy pledged itself today to continue to take every precaution to spare Rome, but declared its fate was up to the Germans, who would be buried out by force if they attempted to defend the Eternal City by arms.

A special communique expressed hope the enemy "will not make such an ill-considered choice." It came the day after Pope Pius XII urged Rome be spared, declaring that "whoever would dare lift a hand against Rome would be guilty of matricide."

The Allies "have only taken and only will take military action against Rome insofar as the Germans use the City, its highways and its roads for their military purposes," the communique said.

Tigers Turn Tables On Davis; Scarsdale Routs Panthers

The Sports Spotter

By THE SPORTS EDITOR

It wasn't exactly a skate of glory in which the Bellows Panthers closed their diamond season yesterday. Coach Jack Fearon's charges, after an encouraging start against Eastchester found only one 'cousin' all season, Harrison. Whipping Eastchester by 3–2, the Panthers beat Harrison 7–6 and 12–9, but lost all the rest of the 12 games on their card, finishing up the campaign with a record of 3 and 9, and a league record of 3 and 7.

The Panther record is featured by anemia at the platter. And that's putting it mildly. When final batting records are computed they'll show some averages that will be far lower than any averages imaginable. The East Enders scored only 36 runs in 12 games, suffering three blankings, being held to 1 run a single time, and scoring two in three games. Only twice did they get more than four runs, both times against Harrison, the cellar dwellers of the SWIAC.

To complete the budget of poor figures we find that an even 100 tallies were scored against the Panthers. Mamaroneck, Scarsdale, Eastchester and Rye ran riot against the team, all scoring in double figures. In addition, Harrison got nine runs once and Pleasantville and Tuckahoe each scored eight. Only in a single game did Blue and Black twirlers hold the opposition to less than three runs, that game being the first Eastchester affair.

After all these statistics, we'd better quit this recital of discouraging figures and take a leaf from Brooklyn Dodger fans who are continually optimistic with their chant: "Wait till next year!"

Gibbon Hurls 13-2 Victory As Orange Garners 11 Hits

Chuck Gibbon led the Mamaroneck Tigers to their first league triumph of the season yesterday afternoon at Manchester Field by twirling a neat three hitter while the Bengals were routing A. B. Davis, 13-2. Gibbon gave up two unearned runs in the first inning along with two hits and then settled down to pitch one hit ball for the last six innings. The Bengals banged two Davis moundsmen for eleven safeties and thirteen tallies in seven frames. Footsie Girondo, Jack McKernan, Bruno Condro and Gus Sansone paced the Orange and Black at the plate, each garnering two hits. Stan Branca started on the hill for Davis but was shelled from the mound in the fourth stanza and was replaced by DeSantola who went the last three innings.

Davis acquired an early lead in the initial frame when Valentine opened the inning by reaching first base on Brown's error and Martenelli forced Valentine at second, Gironda to Loiaconi. Martenelli went to second as Branca grounded out to Gironda at third and, sent to third on North's infield single. After North had stolen, both runners tallied on Sposato's Texas leaguer to left center; Seminara ended the inning by bouncing out Loiaconi to Scott.

Tigers Score Three

The Hilltoppers batted all the way around in the first inning but did not make one base hit as they score three runs as Branca was issuing six free passes to first base. Footsie Gironda started the rainy by receiving the first pass from Branca and went to second as Tony Loiaconi was struck out. Gibbon and Brown were then walked and while Branca was working on big Charlie Rigano, he uncorked a wild pitch that permitted Gironda to score, Gibbon to go to third, and Brown to, second. Rigano flied out to Fionda but three successive passes to Scott, McKernan and Condro accounted for two more Mamaroneck scores before Gus Sansone fanned for the final out.

Gibbon easily disposed of the bottom third of the Davis batting order in the second stanza but the Orange and Black came through with three more runs in the second inning, this time coupling the runs with three solid base hits. Footsie Gironda got the first safety off Branca in the top of the second inning with a clean whack to left. Gironda advanced to second base on Loiaconi's infield out back to the pitcher and scored on Chuck Gibbon's base hit to right. Gibbon coasted down to second as Ramsey errored on Branca's attempt to pick him off first. Brown bounced out to Sposato, Gibbon taking third. Rigano reached first on another free ticket from Branca and Gibbon scored on Martenelli's overthrow of Scott's easy grounder to third. Rigano went all the way to third on the miscue as Scott swiped second before Jack McKernan singled Rigano home. Scott holding up at third. Bruno Condro flied to Sposato to wind up the inning.

Both pitchers settled down and held the opposition scoreless in the third and fourth innings while Gibbon set Davis down in the top of the fifth before the Bengals exploded for five more runs in the Mamaroneck fifth. Bill Scott opened the inning by getting his second walk of the game from Branca and McKernan followed him up with a clean base knock to center. Bruno Condro singled to center, Scott scoring on the hit, and went all the way to third as Valentine fumbled the ball in center, McKernan counting on the error. Sansone tripled McKernan home with a drive to left center and scored on Gironda's second hit of the game. DeSantola replaced Branca on the mound and was greeted by Loiaconi's single-to right, Gironda scampering to third. On the first pitch to Gibbon, Loiaconi attempted to steal second base but was cut down at second by Sorrentino, Gironda scoring on the play; Gibbon whiffed, Brown walked and Charlie Rigano struck out to finish up the round.

Valentine opened the sixth inning with a triple off Gibbon but was cut down at the plate on an accurate throw by Jack McKernan from the right field after Martenelli had popped up. The Hillteppers finished up the afternoon's scoring off DeSantola in the bottom of the sixth inning on three base hits. Scott singled to left and went all the way to third on a hit and run play as McKernan grounded out to third. Condro scored Scott with an infield single and came home on Sansone's second triple of the contest. Sansone was tagged out in a run down along the third base line as Footsie Gironda missed a squeeze bunt. Gironda then filed to Sposato for the last out of the inning. Sposato reached first base on Gironda's error in the top of the seventh and went all the way to third as Bruno Condro threw wildly into center when Sposato attempted to steal second. Gibbon

East Enders Close Season With 16-0 Loss To Maroon

Coach Jack Fearon's Bellows High baseball team ended their 1944 season yesterday afternoon in an auspicious style as they were thoroughly trounced by the Maroon and White of Scarsdale High School by the score of 16-0. The Panthers were never in the ball game from the first inning and throughout the entire contest were able to get only three hits off the fingering of two Maroon pitchers. The Blue and Black team was composed almost entirely of inexperienced players and they did not do too badly despite the fact that their record was far from good.

The contest was the second one that the Panthers have played outside of S. W. I. A. C. this year and both have been lost by large scores. The other was an 18-1 shellacking at the hands of Mamaroneck earlier in the season. Though they really did not deserve to win the contest the East Enders contributed greatly to the Scarsdale runs by making a total of 10 errors. All of these miscues with one exception were made in the infield. The Maroon did collect 12 hits, three of which were triples, and had the Panthers played flawless ball they still would not have won the contest.

Bruce Stowell started the game for the Scarsdale nine and pitched good ball, giving up but one hit until he was yanked for Dodson in the sixth inning. Dodson wasn't quite as good but he was good enough to keep the Blue and Black from scoring. Stowell was only taken out because the Maroon were so far ahead.

Tom Akers started the game for Bellows and pitched very well considering that it was his first starting assignment. If Akers had had any kind of decent support he would have fared well enough to remain in the contest but as was the case, Coach Fearon was forced to take him out and put in Francis Cleary. Cleary also did well but again it was his mates' errors that kept the Maroon scoring.

Four of the Scarsdale players collected two hits apiece. They were Mike Smith, Simpson, pitcher Stowell, and Claris the second baseman. The three big triples were made by Woodruff, Sproull, and Simpson. Woodruff's clout came with the bases loaded in the fifth inning and knocked in three of the five runs scored in that stanza.

The Maroon won the ball game in the first inning. Kate popped to Sansone but Sansone was safe on an error by Bianca and Woodruff walked. Lankner grounded out with both men advancing and Sproule then knocked in the two runs when he was safe on another error. The runs were all unearned but some of the ones that came after were not and so the East Enders went down to their ninth defeat of the year.

Wins Silver Wings

2nd Lieut. Arnold Morton Singer, above, son of Mrs. Ina Singer of the Larchmont Acres Apartments, graduated recently from the Army Air Forces Pilot School at George Field, Ill. He received the silver wings of a flying officer and was commissioned in the Army Air Forces.

A former student at Mamaroneck High School, 2nd Lieut. Singer had taken the college entrance examinations in engineering to enter the Massachusetts Institute of Technoicgy when he enlisted in the service. He entered pilot training last November, and attended flying schools at Fletcher Field, Miss., and Greenville, Miss., before his graduation from the advanced two-engine flying school at George Field.

Home From Butner

Corp William La Roza, son of Mrs. William H. La Roza of 1020 Halstead Avenue, Mamaroneck, spent a weekend furlough at home from Camp Butner, N. C., where he is training with the anti-aircraft coast artillery.

A graduate of Bellows High School, he celebrated the end of his first year in the service Saturday.

Reports For Training

Pvt. Walter F. Titus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Titus of 352 Fenimore Road, Mamaroneck, has reported to Keesler Field, Miss., for training in the Army Air Forces.

He graduated from Mamaroneck High School last June, enlisted in the service a few days later and was not called until May 9 when he had passed his 18th birthday. In the meantime he completed his Freshmen year at Amherst College.

Freshman year at Amherst College

His family has received a letter from him in which he says he has seen Jack Maggard and Biehl Clark of Larchmont and Elmer Winkler of Mamaroneck at the base. All three men graduated in his class from Mamaroneck High School last June.

Elks Initiate Nine

Before a group of more than 100 local and visiting Elks, Mamaroneck Lodge No. 1457 B. P. O. E. initiated a class of nine candidates Friday night at Masonic Hall.

The ritual was conducted by Exalted Ruler Hugh R. Grace assisted by the officers of the lodge. The championship Drill Team of the Bronx lodge also took part in the ceremony.

Those admitted to membership in the order were William H. Johnson, James P. Coogan, Dr. Alphonse R. Finelli, Frank A. Acebal, Henry T. Hornidge, Victor Oberhammer, Fred Yankovy, William Lanza and Lawrence A. Quinlivan.

Back On Ration Board

The reappointment of Percy R. Everett of 1 France Place, Larchmont, to the local War Price and Rationing Board was announced today by Chairman John V. Baum.

Mr. Everett resigned from the Board last November because of a law which forbad government workers to engage in private business which had dealings with the government. The law has since been modified to permit rationing board members.

Mr. Everett, whose reappointment was made by Regional OPA Director Daniel P. Woolsey in New York, will reassume his duties as head of the fuel oil division at the local board.

Beall Safe After Crash In Balkans

Reported Missing In Action, Flight Officer Wires Parents Here

'ALL WELL', HE SAYS

A cablegram from Flight Officer Charles C. Beall, reported missing in action over Yugoslavia April 24, was received at 2 P. M. yesterday by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Beall of 7 Glenn Road, Larchmont, informing them that he is safe and urging them not to worry.

The message was relayed by telephone, Mrs. Beall said this morning, and, when she heard the operator say "Western Union" her heart jumped up to the sky and then way down into the depths because she didn't know what news the message might contain.

Although they have no way of knowing where he is, they hope there is a possibility that he might be in Switzerland, Mrs. Beall said, adding that he could hardly be in Germany or the cablegram could not have come through. She agreed heartily, however, that, wherever he is, "the main thing is that he is safe and well."

The cablegram reads, "All well and safe. Please don't worry," suggesting, Mrs. Beall thinks, that the whole crew escaped serious injury after the crash.

Flight Officer Beall completed his 50th mission April 20 and was apparently on his 21st at the time of the mishap. He will be granted leave to come home after his 25th mission and, unless he is interned some place, the Bealls hope it will be soon.

The message is the second of its kind received in Larchmont within four days. Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Lawrence of Larchmont Acres, received word Thursday from their son, Lieut. John C. Lawrence, who had been reported missing May 13.

1,250 Planes Again Pound French Coast

LONDON, (AP)—Approximately 1,250 American heavy bombers and fighters—leading an Allied aerial assault of powerful proportions against the fortified French coast—smashed military installations in the Boulogne and Calais areas today with an estimated 2,200 short tons of bombs.

This was the fourth attack in a row against the Pas-De-Calais section, the area of France closest to England, and it came after RAF bombers attacked French coast objectives and targets in Cologne, Germany, last night. The German radio said American bombers were over Paris at noon today.

Since the first of June, the more than 200 miles of French coast line — bristling with German guns —had been shaken from end to end by Allied bombs.

The big British bombers made it their target for the third consecutive night last night. The U. S. Eighth Air Force has neglected strategic targets deeper in the continent for the last four days to concentrate on immediate tactical targets behind the invasion wall.

It is estimated that well over 13,000 tons of bombs have been dumped on France by American and British heavy bombers alone in the last 72 hours.

The German Radio soon afternoon warned that single enemy planes were over the lower Danube, suggesting that Italy-based bombers were on the prowl.

Visitor Hurt In Fall Down Cellar Steps

Frederick Derenthall, 53, of the Bronx, a visitor at the home of John Dascome of 321 Carroll Avenue, Mamaroneck, was treated at United Hospital yesterday for a possible fracture of the skull after he fell down the cellar steps at the Dascome residence. He was treated by Dr. George Meningher before going to the hospital.

RECENTLY APPOINTED ADJUTANT at Camp Waldron, one of five recruit training camps at the Farragut, Idaho, Naval Training Center, is Lieut. G. W. Brown, USNR, above, who formerly resided at 206 Knollwood Avenue, Mamaroneck.

Lieut. Brown, who is on military leave of absence from his position as dean of boys, at the Mamaroneck Junior High School, went to Farragut in July, 1943, after serving periods of indoctrination and training at Dartmouth, Princeton, and Ohio State University.

He and Mrs. Brown reside at 1319 A street, Coeur de-Alene, Idaho.

139,730 Lbs. Of Paper Idle In Mamaroneck

An inventory survey recently made by the Department of Commerce indicates that there are an estimated 139,730 pounds of waste paper lying idle in basements and attics in Mamaroneck.

The figures are based on a report that, in the country as a whole, 850,000 tons of paper were uncollected during the month of April, or an average of 46.1 pounds per family.

In a concerted drive to get the waste paper out of home-storage places, the Village Paper Salvage Committee, headed by Charles Silleck, will cover every street in Mamaroneck next Sunday afternoon with a fleet of trucks in the first of the monthly collections planned for the Summer.

All residents are urged to tie the paper securely and place it at the curb before 1 P. M.

The Department of Commerce survey reveals that the average household has 17.6 pounds of newspapers, 20.5 pounds of magazines, 5.2 pounds of brown Kraft, and 2.8 pounds of waste basket paper.

The need for waste paper to be put to war uses is urgent at the present time, Mr. Silleck pointed out this morning, adding that it is used for such vital needs as bomb bands, practise bombs, wing tips, airplane signals, flares, ammunition chests, shell protectors, shell containers and packing for plane motors and other machinery which must have protection from moisture for shipment abroad.

8-Year-Old Boy Drowns In Croton

CROTON—An eight-year-old boy was drowned yesterday in Lonsbury Pond while a companion ran more than a mile home for help.

William Scully, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scully, of 29 High Street, was swimming with two small associates while a third remained on the bank. When he went under in deep water an unnamed boy ran home although help might have been available in nearby homes.

By the time police arrived at the pond the boy had been in the water 30 minutes and was dead when his body was recovered 12 minutes later.

LOSSES HIGH

LONDON, (AP)—Apparently attempting to smash Russian preparations for a new offensive, the Germans continued to attack yesterday north and northwest of Iasi in Romania but were hurled back with tremendous losses in men and material, MOSCOW announced today.

Bond Drive Goal Set At $1,100,000

10 P. C. Increase Over Last Campaign Fixed For Mamaroneck

PLANS COMPLETED

Mamaroneck's quota for the Fifth War Loan drive scheduled to begin next Monday will be $1,100,000, an increase of 10 percent over the last drive, Gabriel Wendel, chairman of the War Finance Committee, disclosed this morning. Of this amount, the quota to be raised from purchases by individuals will be $440,000, or 10 percent more than the quota for the Fourth War Loan drive.

Plans for the conduct of the campaign were made recently at a meeting of the committee when Mr. Wendel described the quota as "of necessity large" since Westchester County is expected to raise $62,000,000 of the national quota of $16,000,000,000. "By far the largest amount this country has been asked to subscribe in any one drive."

"This drive has been well named "The Invasion Drive," Mr. Wendel told the committee. "With invasion so near, we must do our share. Our 1,600 men and women whose names appear on our Honor Roll look to us to do our part as best we can. They are surely doing theirs. The gold stars on that roll bear mute testimony to the full extent of their sacrifice. We can certainly lend our money when they are willing to give their lives."

Early in the drive, which runs from June 12 to July 8, a Bond rally has been planned in conjunction with the Flag Day parade on June 14, Mr. Wendel announced in the absence of Mayor B. J. Santoro who is chairman of this rally. Definite plans and details will be announced prior to the parade, he said.

Malcolm P. Taylor, chairman of special events, submitted a letter which is to be sent to all homes in the Village a few days before the campaign starts. The letter outlines the purpose of the drive and the part each citizen is expected to play. The minimum average of $125 for each household was set.

The Boy Scout troops have agreed to put up posters throughout the Village, it was announced, and have also expressed a willingness to conduct a house-to-house canvass.

The Girl Scouts have opened a booth at the A & P Super Market and will sell War Stamps there during the drive. This booth was opened Saturday.

The part to be played in the drive by the Camp Fire Girls will be announced in a few days, Mr. Wendel said.

Mrs. Edward H. Lebeis, co-chairman in charge of women's activities, said that a meeting of her committee will be held Thursday, when plans of women's organizations will be announced.

The location of the thermometer, which shows daily the amounts raised, was left in the hands of Albert Wilson, chairman of this function.

The complete list of the committee personnel and the activities in which each member participates, in addition to those already mentioned follows: William F. MacDonald, Jr., industrial organizations and payrolls; Isadore Linehan, distribution; Charles Gas, theater activities; Edward Margolis, retail stores; Roy Haisey, omcial photographer; Margaret Donaldson, press representative; Arthur Dunn, chairman of publicity; Mrs. J. Silver, station sales committee; Mrs. Joseph Haviland, schools committee.

The special solicitation committee is composed of Mrs. Peter Cooper, Everett Houghton, Charles Cornell, Hunter Meighan, Charles Reed, Mrs. Mary Ingraham, William Johnson, Leo Heithaus, Dr. Sol Shapera, Mrs. Harvey Conover.

Robert M. (Believe It or Not) Ripley is an honorary member of the War Finance Committee.

No damaged fenders resulted Friday from a collision between vehicles operated by Arthur Klebanoff of 405 Grant Terrace, and Mabel Lewis of 534 Third Street, Mamaroneck. The Klebanoff car was proceeding north on Mamaroneck Avenue when the car operated by Mrs. Lewis made a left turn into Mamaroneck Avenue from Prospect Avenue, according to the police.

800 Boy Scouts Turn Out For Three-Day Camporee, Largest In Siwanoy History

More than 800 Boy Scouts from Pelham to Port Chester attended the largest camporee in the history of Siwanoy Council Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Allen Reservation, near Mamaroneck Avenue, in Harrison.

The three-day event which featured scouting competitions among troops came to a close yesterday afternoon with the awarding of badges to nine Eagle Scouts who heard addresses from Mayor Grenville S. Sewall of Rye and Dr. James E. West, Chief Scout of America, who made the presentations.

Declaring that Eagle Scouts will form a staunch backbone of an "army for peace", Mayor Sewall paid tribute to Scouts who had previously received their Eagle awards, many of whom are now serving in the armed forces.

When he presented the badges, Dr. West stated that their knowledge and experience should enable them to become leaders in postwar reconstruction.

All Eagle Scouts in the audience came forward to form a Guard of Honor as the following boys received their awards: George Goldberg of Troop 4, Port Chester; Ted Hummel, Robert Bednar, Jack Connolly of Troop 10; Daniel Di Francesco of Troop 11; and Jack Tracy of Troop 20; all of New Rochelle; Thorwald Tenney, Jr., of Troop 4; Wyman Proctor and Edward Karsten of Troop 7; all of Pelham.

With Hoyt W. Smith of Larchmont presiding, awards were made by Archer W. Wirth of Pelham, council commissioner, and George Froelich of New Rochelle, Camporee chief, to the patrols with high scores in the weekend competition in Scouting activities.

Pelham Troop Wins

Out of a possible 1,000 points scored for administration, camp craft, commissary, attendance, program and participation in patrol projects, Troop 3 of Pelham achieved the highest score by earning 894 points. A total of 16 other patrols scored better than 800 points.

They were, from New Rochelle, Arrow Patrol of Troop 3A, Hawk Patrol of Troop 10, Wolf and Cobra Patrols of Troop 20, Arrow and Wolf Patrols of Troop 21 and Troop 22, from Mamaroneck, Cobra, Fox, Bat and Eagle Patrols of Troop 3, Cougar, Colt and Fly-

Masons Attend Services At South Salem

Representatives of Masonic lodges, including Larchmont, attended religious services at the South Salem, N. Y. Presbyterian Church, Sunday morning to hear an address by Lt. Col. George H. McClelland, retired, on "The Innkeeper."

Mrs. Helen Hewson, contralto soloist, of the Mamaroneck Methodist Church, gave two solos, with Mrs. Hayward Davis of South Salem at the organ.

Attending from Larchmont and Mamaroneck were James E. Hewson, president of the Larchmont Club; Alex Hutcheon, secretary; John T. Breunich, chief of the Larchmont Fire Department; Waldo Opsrer, Peter Lindemann, Charles Hagelston and Harry Brown. Representatives from Brewster, Ridgefield and other towns also attended.

Stressing the obligations of Masons everywhere to "shelter, inspire and enlighten the world with their benevolence and integrity," Lt. Com. McClelland urged that they become "good innkeepers of souls tossed by tempests and sinking under burdens."

"Masonry encircles the world with fellowship," he continued. "Every clime and creed is embraced in its holy sanctuary. Not so much an exclusive as it is a selective fraternity, older by centuries than Christianity, it seeks not to compete with Christianity but to buttress it and its basic institutions."

Harding Speaks On County Airport

He explained the work involved in the construction of the Rye Lake Airport and displayed maps and drawings of the undertaking.

Visitors at the meeting included Rotarians Bert T. Harvey of Pomona, Calif., Al Swanson and Reeves Newson of Scarsdale and Fred Raymer of New Rochelle.

The speaker at the meeting Friday will be Dr. Edmond M. Wiley who will address the club on the British policy in India.

Articles On Canning For Victory Will Help You Store Winter Food

Canning for Victory is the sister program of Gardening for Victory, and of course you're interested in both.

Your Victory Garden, properly operated, should give you not only enough food for the Summer but a handy supplies that you will want to put away for the Winter, when we may be back on rationing again.

The art of Canning for Victory, and of Dehydrating for Victory too, is something that Miss Jane Payne of the Westchester Lighting Company knows well and writes interestingly about.

You will want to enjoy her new series of articles which will begin appearing in this newspaper this week. They will appear twice a week, each part of an illustrated lesson course that will be worth reading and keeping—in a Victory Scrap Book.

Fifth Army Gets Swift Glance At Eternal City

'VIOLENT FIGHTING'

LONDON, (AP), — Violent fighting raged northeast of Rome today, the German High command said in a broadcast communique, after Adolf Hitler in two headquarters announcements had acknowledged the fall of the capital despite a last-minute effort to declare it an open city. United States tank formations pushed into the center of Rome yesterday despite the offer to make it an open city, the bulletin said, and "bitter fighting developed which was still continuing in the hours of the evening."

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES, (AP) — The powerful Fifth Army thundered across the Tiber toward northern Italian horizons in pursuit of the 10th and 14th German armies today — with hardly a look at captured Rome, ancient seat of western civilization fallen a prize to Allied troops after nine months of sacrifice.

Last-ditch German rearguards died within the shadow of the Roman forum and in the streets of the government quarter in bitter clashes as Italian Partisans, bare-chested and wearing hammer and sickle insignia, fought hand-to-hand with Fascists and Nazis in a brief battle for liberation.

The Italian populace cheered American and Allied infantry and tank teams as they threaded the City's streets, rushed to kiss the bearded and grimy liberators and with small shrill cries warned of ambushes ahead.

Some of the Romans died in the City's closing hours of German domination — victims of machine guns they tried to seize almost bare-handed.

But despite the sporadic clashes, which took place even though the German High Command had pretended until the last that Rome was an open city, the Italian capital with its store of cultural and religious treasures apparently came through unscathed for the most part.

Police officers said all was quiet at the Vatican, where the Pope has been a virtual prisoner of German bayonets since last September. A Berlin broadcast said Baron von Weizsacker, German Ambassador to the Holy See, "has left his residence in Rome, Villa Bonaparte, and moved to Vatican City. Other diplomatic missions of the tripartite powers will move to Vatican City—namely those of Japan, Hungary, Slovakia, Romania and Finland."

(British correspondents in Madrid said the Pope spent Sunday in prayer and in consultation with papal officials during the hours of violent liberation of the City. The Swiss guard had been doubled about Vatican City to prevent an influx of refugees.

(German broadcasts said Allied diplomatic representatives in the Holy See already had left the Vatican precincts for their old apartments in Rome.

King Vittorio Emanuele was expected to hand over his power to Crown Prince Umberto at a formal ceremony in keeping with his promise of several months ago to act when the Allies entered Rome.)

Two Residents Bitten By Dogs

Two Mamaroneck residents were treated for dog bites during the weekend.

Mrs. Viola Byrd a domestic at the Pinax residence on Taylor's Lane, was treated late Saturday afternoon by Dr. M. E. Marsiano for a bite on the left shin, inflicted by a dog owned by Russel D. Niles, also of Taylor's Lane.

Shortly after 4 P. M. yesterday, Frank Pokorny, 11, of 641 Harold Street, was bitten on the right thigh by a dog said by the police to be owned by Mrs. Claude Latimer of Wood Street. Mrs. Latimer told the police two boys had walked through her yard and apparently the dog followed them to the street where he bit the Pokorny boy when he motioned to the dog to go back. The youngster was treated by Dr. Eugene Healey.

Alberta And Bumble Bee Annex Victories In Weekend Regattas

Atlantic Led By Ariel Toy; 59 Yachts Out Yesterday

Aided by good winds which on Saturday were so good that many of the smaller yachts remained in their moorings rather than venture to race in the rather rough sea, the Long Island Yacht Association held its second week-end of racing yesterday and Saturday with the New Rochelle Yacht Club running Saturday's special regatta and the Knickerbocker Yacht Club sponsoring yesterday's event.

Both races started northeast of Execution Lightshoal but the sources differed on the two days in that the sloops went 11 and a half miles Saturday up to Scotch Caps and a stake boat in the Sound and yesterday the Internationals were sent up to Pascenage Point and back, a distance of about eight miles.

On Saturday, with 29 yachts racing, Albert Marx' Alberta finished well ahead of R. A. Mosbacher's Susan to take International Class honors. The surprise of this race was not so much the winner as the fact that Arthur Davis in his Patricia finished last, down in the twelfth spot. Davis is last year's International Class champion and took the Sparkman Trophy in recent pre-season International Class races.

In other races Willie Olson with his Woodcock, out for his first S class race of the year, won an easy victory over Auley, piloted by W. S. Chesley, Jr. The Atlantic Ariel Toy led the Atlantics to the line with something to spare while C. E. Rogers Bud was an easy victor in the 110 Class, the only smaller class which ventured out in the brisk breeze.

Yesterday, with a fine northeaster prevailing at the start of the races, 59 craft turned out for the third championship regatta, this one under the Knickerbocker Yacht Club auspices. Ariel Toy won her third straight win the Atlantic class title series as Reichart beat out Khim skippered by Aileen Shields by a matter of two minutes.

In the International class race Arthur Knapp at the tiller of W. H. Stanley's Bumble Bee won a close one from R. A. Mosbacher's Susan. The difference between the two yachts was only 30 seconds.

Alex Gest, chairman of the Larchmont Yacht Club's race committee, took his first race of the year with Rattlesnake coming to the line over eight minutes in front of S. E. Kay's Valkyrie. Correct time gave Rattlesnake a five minute victory.

Other class winners included the 110 Quitz. W. S. Chesley's S sloop Auley, the Comet Cootie sailed by George Brazill, Richard Carr's Lightning, Nola, and the Wee Scot Lassie owned by Ronald Mayer.

Senators Fall Apart, Tumble Into Cellar

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Washington Senators, hailed as a pennant contender in the American League, are all but falling apart on their first western road trip. The Nats dropped a doubleheader to the Chicago White Sox yesterday, 6 to 5 in 10 innings, and 8 to 1, and plummeted into the cellar.

The St. Louis Browns retained first place in the American loop by splitting a twin bill with the Athletics while the runnerup New York Yankees divided a bargain bill at Cleveland.

Bobo Newsom, aided by Joe Berry's relief pitching, twirled the A's to a 4 to 3 triumph in the opener. The Browns won the afterpiece by the same score when relief pitcher Jack Kramer singled Mark Christmas home from second.

Cleveland's largest turnout of the season—27,845—saw rookie Joe Page pitch the Yanks to a 6 to 4 triumph in an 11-inning first game. The Indians took the nightcap, 4 to 3, behind the six-hit pitching of Allie Reynolds and Steve Gromek.

Cards, Phillies, Split

Big Bill Lee twirled a two-hit 1 to 0 shutout against the St. Louis Cardinals to give the Philadelphia Phillies a split of their doubleheader. The National League champions won the opener, 4 to 2, behind Harry Gumbert and George Munger.

Pittsburgh swept a twin bill from the New York Giants, 9 to 4 and 7 to 4. The Pirates walloped five homers in the opener, two each by Jimmy Russell and Babe Dahlgren and one by Vince DiMaggio, to give southpaw Fritz Ostermueller an easy win in his first start as a Pirate.

Cincinnati also beat the Boston Braves twice. Gerald Walker's first inning homer won the opener, 1 to 0. The Reds combined 14 hits with four Boston errors to take the nightcap, 7 to 3.

Detroit and the Boston Red Sox split their war relief twin bill. Paul Trout chalked up his seventh win for the Tigers in the opener, 2 to 1. Rookie Clem Heusman then pitched the Sox to a 5 to 1 triumph.

The Chicago Cubs beat Brooklyn, 6 to 5, in the first game of a scheduled doubleheader. The second was called because of darkness after the 10th inning with the score tied, 8-8.

Byron Nelson, Partner Win Pro-Amateur Test

ESSEX FELLS, N. J., (AP) — Byron Nelson of Toledo, Ohio, and William Regan, of Essex Fells, carded a 30-32—62 yesterday to win the pro-member medal play invitation golf tournament at the Essex Fells Country Club.

Nelson was the only pro to crack the course's par 70, chalking up a 66. Three others among the 46 pros posted par 70's: Sgt. Vic Ghezzi, stationed at Atlantic City, Ed Dudley of the Atlantic County Country Club and Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, N. Y., U. S. open champion for the duration.

Although no official entry blanks have as yet been sent out for the race several prominent local yachtsmen have already submitted entries to the New York Yacht Club. These include Alex Gest who will sail his Rattlesnake, Harvey Conover of Mamaroneck whose Revenge will start, the Voyager owned by E. C. New Rochelle WIAA Titlist; Orange Trackmen Take Third

By ED NORTON

New Rochelle High School ran away with the thirty-sixth annual WIAA track meet last Saturday afternoon at New Rochelle as Mamaroneck High was edged by a mere one half point for second place by White Plains. The Purple and White ran up a total of 47 and one half points while Mamaroneck and White Plains were tar in the near with 23 and 23½ markers respectively. Gorton High of Yonkers was fourth with 22 points, Albert Leonard and Rosevelt tied for fifth at 14 tallies, A. B. Davis sixth with 12 points and Isaac Young brought up the rear with nine markers.

Thurman Boddie and Bobby Hunt of New Rochelle were the outstanding individuals in the meet as each boy contributed nine points to the Purple Wave's cause. Boddie with a first in the 100 yard dash and a second in the 220 and Hunt second in the high jump and first in the 220 yard low hurdles. Captain Pete Sutherland and Chuck Gibbon were the only Tigers covered 1944 WIAA champs as Sutherland copped the 880 yard run in a sensational race and Gibbon successfully defended his high jump crown with a leap of 5' 9", two inches under the height at which he won the event last season. Jimmy Burch got off to a very bad start in the 440 and was unable to make up the deficit as he finished a disappointing third to Oliver Henry of Albert Leonard and Edward James of New Rochelle.

In the 100 yard dash, Dick Greenbaum of Mamaroneck qualified in the third heat for the finals while Billy Ross was eliminated in the first heat. Greenbaum finished behind Thurman Boddie and Charley Sweet of New Rochelle in the finals as Boddie flashed home in the fair time of 10.6. Blond Chuck Gibbon of Mamaroneck won the high jump for the second year in a row by soaring up to 5' 9" in keen competition with Bobby Hunt of New Rochelle.

Jimmy Burch had a rough time in the start of the 440 yard dash as he started on the inside pole but was slow getting off and was left at the tail end of the procession. He was then forced to pass the entire field in order to get a crack at Henry and then it was too late.

John Seberle of Gorton won the mile by about twenty yards over Don Smith of Albert Leonard. Seberle's time of 4:34.6 was only one and eight tenths of a second off the record established by Bob MacLeay of New Rochelle four years ago. Bobby Hunt scored again for New Rochelle in the 220 yard low hurdles as he won the event in 27.7 seconds. Ed James of New Rochelle leaped 20' 5 to cop the broad jump while Jim Hamper of Mamaroneck pulled out two more points for the Rangels with a fourth in this event.

Captain Pete Sutherland of the Hilltoppers took charge of the 880 at the first turn and never relinquished the lead for the entire distance as he beat Julian Rolandelli of New Rochelle by about four yards. Rolandelli was at Sutherland's heels for the whole race and made two bids in the bell lap. Just before the last turn, Sutherland killed off Roger Browning with a strong spurt and had only to deal with Rolandelli over the last 220 yards. Rolandelli attempted to pass at the beginning of the last turn but Sutherland held him at bay and as the New Rochelle lad made his final bid in the last turn into the home stretch, Sutherland turned on the heat with a torrid final kick to triumph going away.

Bernie Bernstein of Isaac Young just nipped Thurman Boddie at the tape for a victory in the 220 as Ed Werden of Davis took third and Dick Greenbaum salvaged a fourth for the Tigers. Greenbaum's performances were impressive in both dashes and were a pleasant surprise to the Mamaroneck rooters. Pete Ryan of Gorton capured the Shot Put with a toss of 40'4" and Don Gibert of White Plains vaulted to a 10' 6" victory in the pole vault.

On the strength of Tink Loede's blasting final quarter, the Mamaroneck mile relay quartet finished in third position behind New Rochelle and Isaac Young. Joe (Hard Luck) Staranoli was jostled badly and tripped in the start of the race but brought the baton home in 7th place. Owen Norton ran a good leg as did Bob Heinzer but Lord carried the Orange and Black colors home in the third slot.

The summary:

100 yard dash (final) — Boddie (NR), Sweet (NR), Greenbaum (M) Cowles (G) Werden (D)—Time 10.6.0.

High Jump—Gibbon (M), Hunt (NR), tie for third, Prigoff NR) and Gilbert (WP), Thomas (G)—Height—5'9".

440 yard dash — Henry (AL), James (NR), Burch (M), Fowler (D), Titus (R)—Time 52.4.

Four Deadlock In Winged Foot Kicker's Event

Varying the procedure of the last three weeks in the Craig Wood Kicker's handicap held weekly at Winged Foot Golf Club, a four-way tie developed yesterday in this week-end's play. In the previous three events a three-way deadlock had resulted from each of the matches.

Yesterday it was again John Kadel of Mamaroneck who was involved in a tie for the kicker's leadership. He shot an 81 which with a five stroke handicap gave him a 76 for the round. William Becker of Forest Hills tied him with a 91 less 15, while W. W. Kelley of New York and E. K. Poncet of Brooklyn both carded 84 gross with eight stroke handicaps, also finishing with 76.

In special match play over the week-end Carl Gundlich of the Bronx finished in front in Class A by 1 up while Class B honors were taken by E. B. Hoyes of Larchmont, also by a 1 up margin.

Eager Millions To Spend—

IT is undoubtedly true that any calculation at this time of the amount of money which will be spent in Westchester immediately after the war when normal commodities are again available is at best an estimate. But in an effort to make such an estimate more than a guess the Westchester Committee for Economic Development has made a survey of cities and villages representing a population of 396,487 or 69 per cent of the county's entire population.

This survey was made by what is known as "sampling," a poll device wherein interviews are held with typical residents in all income levels and social brackets and the results then mathematically arrived at. While not necessarily accurate, experience has proven that these polls and surveys reflect surprisingly closely the actual conditions which eventuate.

On this understanding, it is important to note the percentages discovered by the C. E. D. in its survey, which was specifically designed to discover the postwar demand for consumer goods.

Roughly, these results show that in Westchester 15 per cent of the residents want new refrigerators, 21 per cent want new washers, 14 per cent want new ranges, five per cent want ironers, 15 per cent wish radios, 14 per cent each want vacuum cleaners and irons, and 12 per cent want toasters. These figures will, we believe, be of particular interest to the power utilities and the manufacturers of household appliances.

In the matter of home decorating, the survey showed 14 per cent anxious to purchase furnishings for the living room, seven per cent for the dining room, nine per cent for the bed room, 20 per cent desirous of buying new rugs and carpets, and 12 per cent hoping to get new lamps.

On a broader scale, the survey shows 51 per cent of home-owners planning major alterations or repairs to their homes, four per cent who are planning to buy or build new homes, and 19 per cent planning to change to automatic heating units with either oil or gas or fuel.

The C. E. D. rather modestly estimates the average alteration or repair job to a house at $200; it estimates the new home at from $7,000 to $7,500; automatic heating units are listed as averaging $250, refrigerators at $150, radios at $40, and so on down the line. Applying these average costs to the estimated number of homes desirous of such improvements and we reach a total volume running high into the millions.

As we said at the start, these are only estimates, and yet they are backed by reliable interviews with typical families in Mamaroneck and other Westchester communities. Economists and bankers tell us these people and thousands like them in Westchester have the money in the banks and in war bonds, merely awaiting the end of the war and the patriotic opportunity to expend their savings. We recommend a study of this survey by all Westchester business men, realtors, utilities and merchants. Even at this distance it closely resembles a gold mine—and not the kind that one stocked with sugar millions or hard cash. Westchester people are prepared, it seems, to spend their own earned money for the improvement of their homes—which is the traditionally sound American way of making a community prosperous.

Dogs Attacked Three In Rye

Charles Sewall, four, son of Mayor and Mrs. Grenville S. Sewall, Grace Church Street, Rye, was one of three persons attacked by dogs in Rye during the weekend, police reported today.

The child, bitten while attending the Presbyterian Church picnic, Saturday, was treated at United Hospital. Police said the dog was owned by Mrs. Vera Van Horne, Blind Brook Lodge.

Two other cases involved Daniel E. Lehane, four, 3 Allendale Drive, who did not appear to be bitten but was knocked down by the family dog, and sustained lacerations of the scalp and back scratches; also Mrs. Mattie McArthur, 65, of 27 Greenhaven Road, bitten while walking on Brevoort Lane by a dog police said was owned by the Calahan family, Brevoort Lane.

Only one dogbite case was reported in Harrison. Thomas W. Burke, 18 months old, was treated at United Hospital for bites on the forehead and chin received while playing with dogs belonging to F. D. Gabel, Highfield Farms, Harrison, where he was visiting.

The Counselor—

TELEGRAPH TALES

When Samuel Morse flashed his first message across the telegraph wires he had just invented, it was, "What wonders hath God wrought." Is the last word of the message spelled correctly or should it be "wroth?" Also, the word, "hath." Is it used correctly?

MRS. J. V. B.

The word, "wrought," is spelled correctly. In this sentence it is the past participle of the verb, "work," and the broad meaning, therefore, is what God has worked, made, brought about. "Wroth" is an entirely different word; it means angry, incensed, and is seldom used now; you can see the meaning from such a sentence as "he was full wroth," meaning, of course, "he was very angry."

"Hath" is used correctly. It is the third person, singular, of the verb, "to have," and is used here in conjunction with the past participle, "wrought," to make the complete verb.

The quotation you have in mind, incidentally, is "What God hath wrought," and is from the Bible—23d chapter of Numbers.

But it wasn't the first telegraph message or even the first one that Morse sent, though legend seems to like it the best. In Mable's "Life of Morse," you will find that on May 1, 1844, reports of the Whig convention at Baltimore were wired from Annapolis Junction to Washington; the message you quote was sent May 24 of that year, and was sent to Baltimore from Washington.

There's another story that the first message Morse sent was passed on Jan. 6, 1838, to convince Morse's backer, Judge Stephen Vail, and that the message was, "A patient waiter is no loser."

And there's still another story that the first telegraphed message originated in New York and read, "Attention, the Universe! By Kingdom's right wheel!" We don't know the date on that one!

THE EMERALD ISLE

Could you tell us the true birth place of General Sir Bernard Law Montgomery? One fellow says he was born in Scotland: the other that he was born in Donegal, Ireland; I say he was born in England. Which one is correct?

E. J.

The other fellow. General Montgomery was born in Donegal, Ireland.

TOO YOUNG

Is there any branch of service for girls eighteen years of age? If so, where could I get information?

D. O'C.

None that we know of. A girl must at least twenty, and if she's under twenty-one she has to have permission of her parents or guardians. Seems a shame, doesn't it?

WOMEN PREDOMINATE

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Women's votes, for the first time, could outnumber the men's votes in the Presidential election next Fall. There are nearly 600,000 more potential women voters—citizens of 21 and over—than men of voting age, the Census Bureau says.

FOR FDR

NEW YORK, (AP)—Fifteen million Americans said to be of Slav descent have been asked to support President Roosevelt for a fourth term by the American Slav Congress of Greater New York.

News Behind The News

by Paul Mallon

WHERE WHEELER STANDS?—Conjectures as to why staunchest anti-Roosevelitian Senator Wheeler spent 45 unrevealed minutes with the President died without convincing explanation because both parties refused to talk, even privately.

The common interpretation that Mr. Roosevelt was burying the bones of old antagonisms to get a campaign understanding with Wheeler was a natural deduction, but obviously the least of any story.

Mr. Roosevelt called Wheeler down to get him to take the leadership of the international communications settlement, the disposition of cable and radio rights. But this hardly reflected Presidential altruism.

Wheeler is chairman of the Senate interstate commerce committee through which any settlement legislation must go, and, therefore, is in a position to block anything the Administration might do.

What Wheeler must have replied seems evident in ensuing results. A resolution is pending before his committee for an investigation of the subject to determine a policy, but no consideration has been given it yet. Whatever leadership Wheeler is to assume apparently is to be modest, and unhurried.

This is not necessarily a personal matter. The Administration's Federal Communications Commission Chairman Fly, if not the President, wants a world-wide postwar monopoly for communications. All would be under one company, privately owned, but under Government control. Domestic wire conditions are in that same state since the Postal-Western Union merger.

Wheeler's liberalism (he ran with the elder LaFollette for the presidency, you know) might well make him hesitate, although he handled the WU-Postal merger on the ground that such competition was financially deteriorating and likely to be fatal.

However, in a democratic state, competition is the indispensable necessity for protection of the consumer. Monopolies such as that of the Aluminum Company of America caused the Government to go into the aluminum business during this war. The Anti-Trust Act has been recognized as a good law for nearly three decades.

Competition Helps

To protect the consumer in this instance, Fly proposes Government control, an increasingly familiar device. But the consumer has not always been able to get satisfactory protection from Government control, nothing like the protection offered by hard competition.

Better service always was available to the public on competing Western railroads than on non-competing Eastern roads carrying more traffic, and all were under complete Government control through Interstate Commerce Commission. The Postal for years had a slogan somewhat like this: "Remember what telegraph service was before Postal came into the field?" It was a good advertising slogan, because everyone knew the service had been inadequate.

Whether people can get as much out of a Government-controlled monopoly (with all its inherent possibilities) than out of honest competition for public favor and public business, is something about which the public can have little doubt in view of its experience (the public not being immediately concerned with the issue of whether competing services can make money or how much. This used to be true liberalism.

But now the unauthenticated pretenders to liberal leadership increasingly favor monopoly under Government auspices which seems to be far less in the public interest—if not more in their own.

FDR WILL RUN—You can get both sides of the President's health story here. Most of the aired versions have been flavored with rankly noticeable political intentions, the Democrats claiming that any question of Mr. Roosevelt's personal ability or desire to go on is just an innuendo concocted by those naughty naughty Republicans.

The published material, however, has come mostly from the White House, stoutly defending Mr. Roosevelt's physical eagerness to do battle with anyone, and the original story broke months ago from the lips of his friend Aubrey Williams.

One Democratic senator who spent some time with the President last week expressed surprise at his loss of weight, alteration of appearance, and thought him tired.

Senate Leader Barkley, whose figure is more open to public view, has lost 15 pounds lately with radical alteration of his structure, but he says he feels better.

Congressional guesses of the President's loss run up to 20 pounds. Other Democratic congressmen, who have sat close to him, received an opposite impression of his strength.

The guesses of these men range all the way from a suspicion that he is foxily resting for the campaign, to down-right conviction that he will decide for reasons of health to make other arrangements.

The most recent flurry of gossip—it is hardly even that, but only idle talk—is he may run his chief economic helper, Jimmy Byrnes.

My personal belief is he will run under any or all presently conceivable circumstances.

Man is the merriest, the most joyous of all the species of creation. Above and below him all are serious.—Addison.

Hints on Etiquette

If you are allowed the privilege of making personal calls on your business telephone, don't abuse the favor. Don't make long personal calls to friends or home. The phone is in the office for business purposes.

Today's Horoscope

If today is your birthday, you have very definite emotions; you love deeply and hate intensely. You play whole heartedly and work with enthusiasm and concentration. You make and act upon all decisions quickly. You are usually kind and thoughtful, but sometimes speak brusquely and harshly, but only under provocation. Martial matters are well signified in the next year. You should avoid hasty actions, however, in love and business. Unexpected journeys are portended. The child born today will be active, original, shrewd, keenly critical, quick-tempered, fond of the opposite sex. He or she will possess good manual dexterity and many gifts.

LONDON, (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill announced today that Allied air-borne troops had captured several strategic bridges in France before they could be blown up and that "there is even fighting proceeding in the Town of Caen."

LONDON, (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill said tonight Allied troops had penetrated in some cases several miles inland after effective landings on the French coast on a broad front

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, (AP) — German opposition in all quarters was less than expected it was learned at headquarters tonight, and an optimistic tone was evident. In general, Allied losses have been much less than expected. Losses of aircraft carrying airborne troops were extremely small, although the air-borne attack was on a very large scale. It was disclosed that Allied naval losses had been "very, very small."

LONDON, (AP)—German forces launching a counter-attack knocked out 35 heavy Allied tanks at Arcelles in the Seine Bay area alone by noon, a DNB report from Berlin said today.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Closeted in his bedroom, President Roosevelt spent the early morning hours of the invasion writing a prayer for victory for the Allied forces of liberation. The Chief Executive, who received reports of the invasion through its early phases, will go on the air at 10 o'clock tonight, with the hope that the nation will join him in the prayer which he wrote.

President Sees Victory Sure But Road Hard

WASHINGTON, (AP). — In a speech which made no reference to invasion but was delivered in the certain knowledge that the climactic hour finally had come, President Roosevelt told the nation last night that victory over Germany is certain but "it will be tough and it will be costly."

The President broadcast on the fall of Rome at 8:30 P. M. EWT—about the time United States and allied forces were jumping off from England for the air and water push across the channel.

Now that the invasion has been announced, he may avail himself of th eregular Tuesday afternoon (4 P. M.) news conference to say more.

One Up, Two To Go

Having in mind the fact that Berlin and Tokyo remain as Axis capitals he summed up the capture of the Italian capital by saying "one up and two to go."

ALLIES INVADE NORMANDY COAST — According to German broadcasts Allied forces struck this morning between Caen and Isigny, 35 miles apart. This would indicate that the Allied plan is to seize the Cherbourg Peninsula and make Normandy the initial beachhead for a drive up the Seine Valley to Paris. The German radio said the landings were made from Cherbourg to Le Havre—a coastline roughly 100 miles long. Additional landings were also reported west of Cherbourg.

Big Allied Force Speeding Inland On French Soil

4,000 Warships Carry Montgomery And His Men Ashore By Daylight; Nazi Opposition Less Than Expected; Foe Says Landings Made From Cherbourg To Le Havre

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE — Allied troops landed on the Normandy coast of France in tremendous strength by cloudy daylight today and stormed several miles inland with tanks and infantry in the grand assault which Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower called a crusade in which "we will accept nothing less than full victory."

German broadcasts said the Allies penetrated several kilometers in between Caen and Isigny, which are 35 miles apart and respectively nine and two miles from the sea.

German opposition apparently was less effective than expected, although fierce in many respects, and the Germans said they were bringing reinforcements continuously up to the coast, where "a battle for life or death is in progress."

The seaborne troops, led by Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, surged across the channel from England by 4,000 regular ships and additional thousands of smaller craft.

They were preceded by massed flights of parachute and glider troops who landed inland during the dark.

Eleven thousand planes supported the attack.

The initial landings were made from 6 to 8:25 a. m. British Time (midnight to 2:25 a. m., EWT). The Germans said subsequent landings were made on the English Channel Isles of Jersey and Guernsey, and that invasion of new points on the Continent was expected hourly.

Aside from confirming that Normandy was the general area of the assault, Supreme Headquarters of the Allied Expeditionary Force was silent concerning the location for tactical reasons.

Reds Ready New Attack

From Moscow came word that the Russian Army was massing in preparation for another great attack from the east as its part in defeating Germany.

All reports from the beachhead, meager though they were in specific detail, agreed that the Allies had made good the great gamble of amphibious landing against possibly the strongest fortified section of coast in the world.

Reconnaissance pilots said the Allied troops had secured the beaches and were slashing inland, some of them actually running in a swift advance. The unofficial word at headquarters confirmed this, while the Vichy Radio admitted the Allied drive inland was going right ahead.

Community Greets D-Day Solemnly As Church Bells Call Residents To Prayer

D-Day was greeted in Mamaroneck and Larchmont with darkness and silence early this morning. With little night work going on in the community, there were few lights burning and, according to the patrolmen on duty when news of the invasion was received, no one was on the streets.

The first public acknowledgement that the long awaited day had arrived was the tolling of the bell in the tower of the Mamaroneck Methodist Church on the Boston Post Road at 4:55 A. M.

The Rev. Asbury G. E. Stromberg was awakened by a parishioner who said he had been expecting news of the invasion after the fall of Rome and had just heard the announcement over the radio. They went to the tower and tolled the bell for 15 minutes. Shortly after 5 A. M. Mr. Stromberg held the first prayer service of the day in the church.

The Mamaroneck Church bell was the earliest tolling reported anywhere in Westchester County.

Patrolmen returning to headquarters in Larchmont and the Village and Town of Mamaroneck after the night beat reported a quiet community except for a group of truck drivers celebrating at 8 A. M. in a nearby diner.

Pastors of local churches immediately announced the hours of services for the day and the chimes at St. Thomas's Episcopal Church in Mamaroneck and St. John's Church in Larchmont were heard during the morning.

Dr. Alvin W. Hicks, superintendent of Rye Neck Schools, announced the schedule of Village church services at a special assembly held at Bellows High School, and the schedule was posted at Mamaroneck Senior High School. The students at Mamaroneck, instead of gathering for an assembly, observed a two-minute period of silent prayer at 11 A. M. in the classrooms. Three radios were in operation in the school. Principal Joseph C. McLain said, manned by relay groups of students following the progress of the news.

3 Freight Cars To Load Paper During S-Day

Three empty freight cars will be on the tracks at the Mamaroneck station Sunday afternoon ready to be filled with salvage paper as it is brought to the freight yards in trucks during the first monthly S-Day collection of waste paper throughout the village.

"The arrival of D-Day should spur the efforts of everyone on behalf of D-Day Sunday," Charles Silleck, chairman of the Paper Salvage Committee, said this morning. "Now that the invasion is taking place, our troops will need more supplies and they must be wrapped in paper for protection. The need is more urgent than ever before."

In gathering up their paper for Sunday's collection, residents are urged to add old books to the supply. "Books, magazines and newspapers," Mr. Silleck said, "will form the bulk of the bundles."

Driverless Car Rams Station Freight House

A car owned by the Ward Electric Company of Mount Vernon was parked yesterday afternoon near Woodland Avenue and Depot Way by Mrs. Emma Lea of Mount Vernon and, soon afterwards, rolled down the hill to the railroad freight house, striking the side of the building. Patrolman Walter Vavdick of the Larchmont Police Department was on duty at the station at the time. Damage was reported both to the car and the corner of the building.

Let Us Pray—

"O God, America kneels at Thy feet, humbly confessing the sin which holds us back from complete Sacrifice at this crucial hour.

"Give us, each one of us, O God, the faith and the fortitude of our forefathers. Make us to know the pure joy, which comes from a life fulfilled in service to all mankind.

"Help us, no matter what the cost, to hold high the Torch of Liberty to all peoples throughout Thy beautiful world.

"Teach us to pray for those whom we must restrain, to hold without hate and O God, give us the power to quench the burning fires which threaten world destruction.

"With deepening humility, we seek Thy guidance for the restored freedom of all peoples.

"In the days of suffering to come, help us to remember Thy great command—Love Thy Neighbor As Thy Self. Give us, O God, unselfish hearts, that we may be eager to share Thy gifts with those whom hunger and plague seek to destroy.

"Help us to succor the weak, bind up the wounds of the maimed and mangled and from our own store of faith and confidence in a new world to be, set them on their feet once more, eyes alight with hope, unafraid.

"To this High Purpose, we dedicate the Sons and Daughters of America—the Home of the Free and the Brave. We dedicate our lives and the lives of those whom we love to that Spirit of Sacrifice which alone can bring in the long awaited hour, Thy Kingdom Come, Thy Will be Done, on Earth as it is in Heaven.

"In Thy Name, we go Dear Lord, as Soldiers of God. Not for petty gain, not for national greed, not for empty revenge, but to one high purpose—to bring in The Brotherhood of Man.

"AMEN."

4-Day Office Holiday Slated For Larchmont

The village offices will be closed for a four-day period, from July 1 until July 5, it was decided at a meeting of the Larchmont Village Board, Monday night, with Mayor Frank B. Washburn presiding, after a motion was passed closing the offices on Saturdays from June 17 to Sept. 2, as well as the Monday preceding July 4.

Everett Dodrill of Larchmont Avenue, was appointed acting police justice for the Village of Larchmont, and Vincent Mascia of Waterbury, Conn., was appointed chemical operator for the filtration plant.

Complaints were the order of the day, with Charles King, of the Planning Commission, who addressed the board concerning the correction of his property boundary line as it appears on the assessment map, calling attention to the Buymor and Larchmont Spa signs, on Palmer Avenue, which violate the building ordinance although licenses were issued by the board for their erection. Mayor Washburn, declaring the non-conforming signs were "offensive," recommended that the board "amend any previous mistakes," and turned the matter over to the village attorney for further investigation.

Other complaints received concerning the noise emanating through the night from the Rheingold Brewery on the Boston Post Road, "disturbing the peace," which was emphasized by Trustee E. Spencer Greason; the traffic hazards resulting from untrimmed hedges on vacant corner property, with Mayor Washburn promising

Tigers Roll Up Fourth Straight Victory In Twilight League Game

Loop Leaders Triumph 9-1 Over Hebrew Institute Ten

The Tigers, current leaders in the Twilight Softball League, took on the Hebrew Institute ten last night at Mamaroneck Avenue School and the result was the Bengals' fourth straight league victory this time by a 9—1 score. The winners, who now lead the second place team, the Derby A. A., by a full game, took the lead in the second frame when they pushed across a single marker and then rolled up the victory when they tallied three times in the fourth frame.

When the Institute slammed home a run in their half of the fourth, the Tigers went into a rage and batted around to score four more unnecessary runs. Despite the fact that they are firmly embedded in the league cellar, the Institute team seems to get better every time that they take the field. Their fielding showed much improvement over last week when they lost a game to the Rye Neck A. C. by an almost similar score. However, this time, it wasn't errors, but base hits that brought their doom for the rampaging Tigers clawed Rabbi Irving Koslows, Institute pitcher, for 14 solid hits, three of which went for extra bases.

The Tigers used two pitchers in the fray and one did equally as well as the other. Tiny Willie Carter and Willie Rodriguez worked on the mound for the winners and between them they gave up a total of two hits, both off Carter. However, since they were far in front, Carter, who also is the Bengal manager, yanked himself and sent in fast ball pitcher, Rodriguez who had a fine time of it for two innings.

The Tigers had five batting stars, all of whom got two hits apiece. Carter, Rodriguez, Chubby Acavell, and Ray Georgia all dropped in two bingles, but Rodriguez's were the most spectacular considering that he made them in just two official times at bat.

The Tigers first run came across via the perfect route, three straight singles. Rodriguez started it with a liner to right and Acavell followed that with another to the same spot. Billy Kanavy then drove home the first marker with a solid bingle to center. Hank Rodowe got out of that jam without further damage but his finish was to come in the fourth frame.

In the all-important inning, Carter started the ball rolling in grand style with a long triple. Herman then stepped to the plate and banged out a single to drive in the first run of the inning and second of the game. Rodriguez sacrificed and Acavell drove home Herman with another single. Acavell then scored himself via an infield out and an Institute error.

The Institute scored its lone markers in the fourth frame when H. Urich singled and Tanenbaum followed suit. Rothenburg then hit a grounder to Russo who booted it and Urich scampered home with the Institute's one and only run.

The Tigers' last four were scored via two singles, a walk, and one error, but they were just insurance against an uprising by the eventual losers.

Bellows Sophs Take 7-3 Win Over Seniors

In one of the last games of Coach Jack Hasley's Senior High School softball league, Bellows Sophomore class defeated the Seniors by a score of 7-3. The Sophs, composed almost entirely of the Bellows High School varsity baseball team, took an early lead of 2-0 only to have the upper classmen come back and go ahead by a 3-2 count. However that was the last time that the Seniors were in the ball game for in the very next stanza, the Sophs let loose with both barrels and banged out into a three run lead, 6-3. When the Seniors went down easily from the slants of relief pitcher Jimmy Blanca, the Sophs jumped on the Seniors chucker, Austin Pedersen, for another tally and sewed up their fourth win against one defeat. The Seniors have won two and lost three. Chandler (7) and George Hinkley led the Soph attack with two hits apiece. Pratt getting a triple and a single while Huntley collected two one base blows.

Lapses in the field contributed largely to the Soph win as the Seniors were guilty of five miscues. Despite these errors, the winners still managed to outhit their foe, seven to five.

The Seniors play their last game today when they battle the Frechman at 3:45.

Mamaroneck Rec Women Lose Match To Larchmont

In matches rolled off at the Larchmont Recreation Bowling Center last night, the Larchmont Recreation "A" and "B" teams combined defeated the "A" and "B" aggregation from the Mamaroneck Rec by a total of 217 pins. The match between the "B" teams was the closest as the Mamaroneck ladies' total of 2102 topped the Larchmont "B's" total of 2002. The big difference lies in the 2285 total pins that the Larchmont "A" squad compiled to a mediocre 1968 for the Mamaroneck "A's."

Elise Rigano rolled the high single for both matches which was a 200 effort. Miss Rigano also had the high series with a fine 500 pins for three games. She was the deciding factor in the Larchmont "A's" high total for the entire match was only won by 317 pins.

The roll was a rematch for the four Ladies teams met last week. However the tables were turned on that meeting.

It seems that in both meetings of last week and this, the "B" teams have done better than their top five, at least as far as the Mamaroneck Recreation team is concerned. Last week the "B" team outrolled its "A" team-mates by some 100 pins and this week they did even better.

Dodgers Plan Tryout Camp In Bridgeport

BRIDGEPORT, CONN.—A tryout camp offering young players an opportunity to determine whether they have the ability to play baseball professionally will be conducted here by the Brooklyn Dodgers from Thursday, June 15, through Saturday, June 17.

The tryouts were announced today by Branch Rickey, Jr., director of minor league clubs for the Dodgers. The Fairfield County Sheriff and Keepers Association is assisting in arrangements for the camp. Tryouts will be held at Diamond No. 1 in Seaside Park here.

Boys sixteen years or older are invited to report at Seaside here for trials, Rickey said. To receive tryouts they need only to present themselves at the field Thursday, June 15, bringing their shoes, gloves and uniforms. The hours of the tryouts are: June 15 and 16, 3 P. M. to 8 P.M.; June 17, 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. No fee is charged; however, out-of-town boys must finance their trips to Bridgeport and living expenses while here.

Boys showing sufficient ability to be signed to contracts will be refunded expenses incident to attending the trials.

Rickey urged that boys should not be deterred from attending tryouts because they expect shortly to be in the armed services. The Dodgers, he said, are interested in determining the ability of such boys now, looking toward post-war baseball operations.

Tigers Romp To 4-1 Diamond Triumph Over Albert Leonard High

Seniors Trounce Freshmen In Bellows League Battle

The Senior Class of Bellows High School won its third game of the season yesterday afternoon when it outlasted the Freshmen in a hitting battle to the tune of 8-6. The victory for the Panther upperclassmen enabled them to remain in second place in the schools intramural softball league standings. This win was far from easy as the eventual winners had to come from behind three times before they went out in front for good.

Austin Pedersen started, but didn't quite finish the game on the mound for the Seniors and pitched good ball although his mates let him down on the fielding end of the game. He allowed but seven hits and in addition to winning his second game of the year collected his first hit, driving in two runs.

In the meantime the Senior batters were clubbing young Dan Minnerly for eleven solid hits and when they scored runs, they came in bunches and were well earned.

The Frosh took a three-run lead in the first inning despite the fact that they didn't collect a solitary hit off Pedersen's deliveries. The inning was highlighted by the sloppy play of the Senior infield and outfield. However as the game commenced, the winners got better and better. They fielded well and left nothing to be desired when men were on the base paths. However the big lead was short lived as the Seniors tied it up in the second inning and then went out into a 4-3 lead in the third when they managed to squeeze a solitary marker.

The Freshmen didn't let this bother them though, for in their turn at bat. They tied the game up again when they added another run via a single, an error, and a squeeze play bunt by Ben Herman.

At this point however the Seniors sowed up the game by slamming across four runs in the last half of the fifth inning. Five base hits rattled off their bats and Minnerly's infield was baffled as the blows rode over the inner gardens and into the outfield with amazing regularity.

Still the Freshman did not give up but their best was two runs in the sixth inning which left the score at 8-6.

In their final turn at bat, the Freshman loaded the bases with just one out but Pierre Coutard came in from short-stop and took the mound. He retired the first batter on a pop-up and, after throwing three straight balls to Dimitrie D'Arbelloff, he struck the little Freshman out with two swings and a third called strike.

Pirates, Chisox Top Loops In Close Victories

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

If winning tight, one-run games means a pennant as the experts say — the second place Pittsburgh Pirates and the fourth place Chicago white sox today are bound for the big league flags.

As the majors resumed operations after a two-day rest period caused jointly by the schedule makers and D-Day, a survey of the first quarter of the league races revealed that of 341 games played, roughly one third, or 115, have been decided by a single score.

Frankie Frisch's Pirates have best record of pulling those tight ones out of the fire, winning eight of 11 for a .727 percentage, far above the Cincinnati Reds who placed next by taking 10 of 18. Brooklyn and Chicago now have won at least as many close ones as they've lost.

Strangely enough the St. Louis Cardinals have grabbed but four of nine close fits, but lead the league by four games, indicating they don't often make it close. The New York Giants have the poorest record, winning but six of 15.

Just as doping the American League race is strictly a job to do with a blindfold and a hat pin, speculating the best 'church' teams calls for a decimal point expert. The bare fact that the league standings show only five and a half games from top to bottom indicates there is no standout club.

The White Sox have the edge in one-run games by taking seven of 11, but Detroit with 10 of 18 is close behind. Cleveland has been hard pressed to get an even break in 12 starts. Washington has had the worst luck in the close ones, losing 10 of 15.

Chuck Gibbon Leads M.H.S. To Second Straight Victory

BY ED NOKTON

With Chuck Gibbon turning in another superb pitching performance, the Mamaroneck Tigers whipped Albert Leonard High 4-1 for the Benzals' second straight league victory. Gibbon twirled two hit ball and got much better support than he has had while Walter Seacord did a good job on the mound for the Blue and White, allowing the Bengals three hits but his support on field was inadequate in the clutches. Bill Scott doubled home the only earned Tiger run of the game in the sixth inning with a screaming drive to right center that was the longest hit of the game. Gibbon was touched for singles in the third and seventh frames, struck out eight batters and did not issue a single pass. This victory evened the Tigers' record up at seven wins and seven losses with two more games on the schedule.

After Gibbon easily disposed of the top third of the Leonard batting order in the first inning, the Orange and Black rashed in on a walk issued to Gironda by Seacord for their first marker of the game. Frank Gironda crossed the frame by working Seacord for a walk and went down in second on Tony Loiaconi's neat sacrifice bunt. Footsie took third as Seacord uncorked a wild pitch while working on Gibbon and scored after Gibbon had filed out to Di-Maggio in deep right field. Harry Brown looked at three straight strikes for the third out.

Both pitchers set the opposing sides down in order in the second frame but in the Leonard half of the third inning, Accocella nicked Gibbon for the first Leonard single of the contest but was cut down trying to stretch it into a double on an excellent zer from left center field by Charlie Rigano. In the home half of the third, Tony Loiaconi reached Seacord for the first Mamaroneck hit of the game as the Hilltoppers tallied two more runs.

Bruno Condro started the rally off by reaching first base on Mundies' over throw of his grounder. Gus Sansone sacrificed Condro to second and Bruno then scored the Tiger's second run as Accocella errored on Gironda's grounder to second. Gironda took second as Seacord let loose another wild pitch and scored on Loiaconi's ground single to left. Loiaconi took second on the attempt to nail Footsie at the plate and went to third as Gibbon bounced out to short but was stranded as Harry Brown fanned.

Gibbon continued his shut out spell over the Blue and White until the top of the seventh while Seacord was holding the Bengals at bay until the bottom of the sixth frame when Seacord was solidly tagged for two hits and a single run. Gibbon got the rally started in the Mamaroneck sixth by greeting Seacord with a single to left but was forced at second by Harry Brown on a hoppe to third. Charlie Rigano whiffed for the second out but Bill Scott whacked a long drive to right center that scored Brown all the way from first. Scott ending up at second with a long double. "Jack McKernan left Scott stranded by grounding out to third for the final out of the inning.

With two out in the top half of the seventh frame, Stone singled through third base and scored as the ball took an erratic hop over Gus Sansone's head in left field. Stone's hit and run robbed Gibbon of a shut out but the Tigers won by a good margin and in doing so, knocked Leonard out of the first place fight for the 1944 WIAA crown.

Tigers Suffer 8th Defeat As Victors Score First Win

BY ED NORTON

In a nip and tuck extra inning ball game at the New Rochelle High field, New Rochelle edged out Mamaroneck 9-8 in a seesaw battle that gave the winners their first victory of the season. This loss dropped the Tigers below the .500 mark with a record of seven wins and eight defeats with one more game left on the schedule. Skip Harris, Al Dodenhoff and Chuck Gibbon all took turns on the mound for the Bengals with Gibbon taking the loss while Stroh and Mino divided the mound duties for New Rochelle. Mino getting credit for the win. Jack McKernan and Tony Loiaconi paced the Orange and Black at the plate with two hits apiece while Mino led the Purple and White with two hits in three trips.

Both teams scored one run in the first inning but New Rochelle scored twice more in the second inning to take a three to one lead that lasted until the fourth frame when the Tigers closed it down to 3-2. New Rochelle went way out in front in the fifth stanza with three tallies but in the Bengal sixth, the Hilltoppers tied the contest with four more runs. New Rochelle got one more in the bottom of the sixth for a one run lead that the Tigers wiped out in the seventh with a two-run splurge. New Rochelle tied the game up in the last of the seventh and pushed across the winning run in the last half of the eighth after the Bengals were blanked in the top of the seventh.

Going into the top half of the sixth inning, New Rochelle held a commanding lead of four runs, 9-2, which the Bengals immediately smashed despite the fact they got only two hits. Tony Loiconi opened the frame with a single to right and Chuck Gibbon blasted a homer to deep center to score Loiaconi ahead of him. Bill Scott bounced out to third but Rocky Stingone batting for Harry Brown worked Stroh for a walk. Charlie Rigano fanned and McKernan was hit by a pitched ball before Bruno Condro also was passed. With the bases jammed, Skip Harris hit a grounder to Macdarano at short who fumbled the ball, allowing both McKernan and Stingone to score.

Footsie Gironda walked but Tony Loiaconi ended the rally by lifting to Dartley in short center field. With the contest all tied up at six all, New Rochelle tallied a tie breaking run in the last of the sixth on a run that was scored on Mino's single after Kemp had been walked by Dodenhoff.

With one out in the Mamaroneck half of the seventh, the Bengals came up with a last ditch rally that kept the ball game alive. Bill Scott worked Mino for a pass to first but the rally was temporarily stymied as Stingone struck out but Charlie Rigano was safe on Aines's error at first. Scott going all the way to third. Jack McKernon then came through in the clutch with a line double down the left field foul line to score both runners. McKernan was stranded, however, as Condro flied to right to end the inning.

The Purple Wave evened the game up in the last of the seventh as Scalfani opened the inning by reaching first base on Gironda's miscue at third base and went to second when Stingone threw back to the infield. Aines popped to Loiaconi but Mandeiano was tickled by a pitched ball. Stitt then pinch hit a single to score Scalfani from second and keep the game going.

Mino set down Dodenhoff, Gironda and Loiaconi in order in the Tiger eighth but a costly error by Rocky Stingone in left field set up the winning run for New Rochelle. Kemp opened the inning by bouncing out to Dodenhoff who took over at short when Gibbon went to the hill in the seventh. Mino was walked, stole second and went to third on Stingone's muff of Bartley's pop up to left center. Stroh hit one down to Dodenhoff at short who could not make the throw to home in time to get Mino coming in from third, sending the New Rochelle fans home with a victory.

Gate Accident Mars Seaside

By The Associated Press

An accident to the starting gate at Aqueduct, which marred the running of the featured Seaside Handicap yesterday, recalled the trouble the same track experienced last Fall when the gate broke down. Then there was no spare gate available and races were started with a flag. Yesterday, after a faulty release switch on the gate failed to function, another gate was substituted and the race was run off after a 25-minute delay.

Giants, Chisox Continue Climb Up The Ladder

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mel Ott continued to lift the Giants by their bootstraps, and the Chicago White Sox began to cast their shadow across the American League standings today as baseball swung back into normal stride.

Ott clouted two more home runs, lifting his season production to 14, as the Giants pummeled Al Javery and the Boston Braves last night, 6—2, behind the four-hit chucking of Harry Feldman.

Nap Reyes and Phil Weintraub joined Ott in the Polo Ground shoofest with one round tripper each, and Dutch Nieman ruined Feldman's bid for a shutout with a two-run wallop in the seventh.

Jimmy Dykes' White Sox stretched their win streak to seven by downing Detroit, 3—1, in another night game. The Sox are only a half game behind the third-place Tigers, and only three and a half behind the leading St. Louis Browns.

Boston sent the New York Yankees reeling back under another setback, 5—1, as Tex Hughson grabbed his seventh decision and boss Joe Cronin led the attack with a double and homer. Hank Borowy suffered his second setback of the campaign, fading after the fifth inning.

Rip Sewell ran his victory string to seven by stopping Cincinnati, 4—2 on Vince Di Maggio's single in the eighth, which drove home Johnny Barrett and Jimmy Russell. The Pittsburgh "blooper ball" tosser lost two of his first three starts, but hasn't been beaten since May 3 while trimming Brooklyn twice, Boston Philadelphia, New York, Chicago and now Cincinnati.

The Phillies came from behind twice to top Brooklyn in the ninth, 6—5, when Jimmy Wasdell, an ex-Dodger, singled home Tony Lupien after Ray Hamrick had scored the tying run on Rube Melton's wild pitch.

Rye Neck A. C. Loses 4-3 To Larchmont Postoffice

The Larchmont Postoffice softball team of the Twilight Softball League last night won its second game of the season at Mamaroneck Avenue School Field by defeating the Rye Neck A. C. in one of the tightest games of the season by the score of 4—3. The winners scored two runs early in the contest, but the Rye Neck ten came back in the last half of the third inning to score twice themselves to tie the game. The Larchmont team squeezed through two more markers in the fourth frame and this lead seemed quite safe. The Rye Neck team again put on a determined rally in the last turn at bat, but the Postoffice drew in their infield and stopped the rally one run short.

Carl Carpino hurled the entire contest for the winners and pitched one of the finest games of his career. He walked only two batters in the entire game and, despite the fact that he got into trouble in almost every inning, he pitched his way out of these escapes with the help of some fine play on the part of his infield and outfield.

The leading batter of the contest was Bruno Condro, Larchmont catcher, who was the only man on the winning team to collect two hits. Condro's two hits were both doubles and he scored the third Postoffice run of the contest.

Leading the Rye Neck ten was right fielder Witch Lanza, who also got two hits. However, Lanza's blows were both singles and he was not fortunate enough to have one of his mates drive him across the plate. Lanza got his second hit on one of the prettiest bunts of the season. He sent the ball rolling down the third base line and before either third baseman Anton or catcher Condro could touch the ball he was safely past first base.

The Postoffice opened the scoring in the first inning by collecting an unearned run. Anton singled to right and Stout singled to center, putting two on the base paths. When Stout's hit dropped over short-stop, Anton raced for third and Pratt's throw skimmed off Wally Huntley's glove, allowing simply came home as the ball rolled to the fence. Gary popped to Coutard and Talgo tried to Coutard, who flipped to Jack Hasley at second for an inning ending double play.

The Larchmont team added another run in the first half of the third inning. Chuck Gibbon singled to right and went to second as R. Condro grounded out. Gibbon was forced at third by Anton, but Stout was safe on Hasley's error and Anton came home on Coutard's miscue. This was the second run that the Rye Neck team gave up and both were unearned.

The Rye Neck team came to bat in the last of the third and before it was retired it had tied the score up. Bob Joyce and Dick Carpenter went out easily enough, but Ed Manning was safe on Loiacona's error and Gedney also got on, this time by Gary's fumble. Pratt then hit a linerr at Condron who threw to first, but the ball was a little low and Mirandi let it get away from him with Manning and Gedney coming in with the two runs. Hasley grounded out on a nice play by Gibbon to retire the side, but the game was a new one at this point.

The Postoffice lost no time in sewing up the game. Carpino flied out, but Condro got a line double to left. Mirandi popped out to Manning, but Loiaconi was safe on Manning's error and Condro scored Loiaconi then came across as Gibbon was getting on base through Manning's second error. This gave the Larchmont team the winning margin.

The Rye Neck outfit put on their rally in the last of the seventh, but it fell short. Lanza set down a beautiful bunt for a single and went to second on Condro's wild throw. Lanza then stole third but Gibbon threw Lanza out at the plate on Bianca's grounder. Bianca went to second on the play. Coutard then grounded out with Bianca scoring and Bob Joyce singled to right. However, Dick Carpenter ended the game by grounding to Gibbon at short who threw him out easily.

The postponed game between the Larchmont Postoffice and the Bears has been rescheduled for this Friday. The Bears are the home team.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

LEARN BRIDGE FAST
19—Response to Partner

IN ALMOST any situation during the bidding, it pays to tell your partner when you know the side has enough strength to justify its bidding a game. That is accomplished when you make a bid of two originally, meaning "here's a game." You do that then by bidding "one more than necessary" to open the bidding.

You also convey the message of "here's a game" when you bid "one more than necessary" in response to your partner's bid. If he bids 1-Heart and you bid 2-Hearts, you tell him you are able to bid 4-Hearts, but that your hand is strong generally and you do not fear the opponents' bidding. An answer to him of 4-Hearts does not show a hand nearly as strong in high cards, but does indicate your expectation of a good play for the contract.

A bid of 2-Spades over his 1-Heart would also be a bid of "one more than necessary" and guarantee the strength justifying the pair reaching game, though it would not necessarily say in what declaration, as the best fit has not been stated by either partner. The same would be true of 3-Diamonds over 1-Heart, as it is one more than necessary. And most players treat 2-No Trumps over a suit bid of one as also being a declaration that the side can make a game.

Many players call these "one more than necessary" bids "game forcing" bids, because after one of them neither partner should drop the side at less than a game contract. After such a bid, it is up to you to find something to say any time a less-than-game bid reaches you. To pass then would amount to saying you do not like game, and would rather be there than win. Such a bid not only guarantees the strength to justify a game bid, but also betokens the possibility of slam if either partner has a bit more than he had shown.

The strength for such a bid is either enough supporting tricks to be sure of game in your partner's declaration or enough strength to feel sure of it in some thing else, either No Trumps or suit. When the strength is about equal between partners, and each has enough for an opening bid, there will nearly always be a play for game in something.

So much for the maximum New York minimum, which occurs much oftener. To raise your partner's suit bid requires strength outlined in a previous lesson. Bidding another suit after your partner's opener in a suit requires a notable suit and about 1½ high card tricks in your hand, or else a hand which contains about four playing tricks of any kind, with a suit which can be rebid later if necessary to indicate that the hand may be lacking in high strength.

A suit which can be rebid soundly is of at least five cards, and sometimes it is well to rebid twice on a suit of six cards or more.

The exact amount for a suit bid, however, cannot be fixed too definitely, depending on various factors. It has to be at the two level, such as 2-Diamonds over 1-Heart, it requires more strength than would 1-Diamond over 1-Club.

After you respond with a different suit, your partner, if sound, may be counted on almost always to bid again at least once.

If you lack a suit which can be bid at the range of one over your partner's suit bid, and are not quite strong enough to bid two, a 1-No Trump bid is sometimes the only recourse. To make that, you should have at least a bit better than 1 high card trick in your hand, or a No Trump count of 8, rating ace at 4, king 3, queen 2 and jack or a couple of tens at 1. That bid can always be dropped by the first bidder, since it denies ability to bid 2-No Trumps, unless the first bidder has some extra strength to show.

Responses of "more than one higher than necessary," such as 3-Hearts over 1-Diamond, are usually used to indicate a splendid suit, but a hand containing little also.

Tolerance In Education Stressed By William Agar

WHITE PLAINS—The needs for cooperation and tolerance in education were emphasized yesterday by Dr. William Agar and Clarence I. Chatto, principal speakers at the annual spring conference of the Metropolitan District, New York State Congress of Parents and Teachers in Eastview Avenue Junior High School. About 450 attended the event, chairman for which was Mrs. Lester Ilgenfritz of Larchmont.

Mrs. Henry H. Abbott, Yonkers, district director, presided. The invocation was pronounced by Rabbi Louis Simeovitz of Congregation Kneses Tifereth Israel, Port Chester.

Dr. Agar, vice-president of Freedom House in New York, spoke on "Valuing Human Differences." "Our Great Strength As A Nation," he pointed out, "lies in our differences. We are held together by an ideal and ideals must be nurtured to live." People differ historically and geographically, but all are able to be educated, he continued.

Dr. Agar stressed the need for understanding and cooperation in living together.

Mr. Chatto, curriculum specialist, Springfield, Mass., public schools, whose topic was "The Springfield Plans," described the program carried out in that city, which he prefers to call "education for democratic citizenship." The project aimed for both children and adults points toward preparing for tomorrow in fair-mindedness and tolerance.

In the school curricula, democratic living is taught through committee work, group thinking and action, and student government. Student government includes the right for students as well as teachers to make mistakes, he said. One of the most successful efforts has been the establishment of a parent-teacher-student organization in one school. He sketched the special courses available for both children and adults, pointed toward cooperation and tolerance in living with one another.

A nominating committee selected includes Mrs. Harold Ewald, Yonkers, chairman; Mrs. James Ford, Port Chester; Mrs. Edward Helwig, Larchmont; Mrs. H. W. Marquardt, Briarcliff Manor, and Mrs. William Affelder, Yonkers.

Mrs. Ford conducted the round table on programs and Miss Miriam Foster spoke at the round table on hobbies and childrens' activities.

Both were from the Park Avenue School and others from there were Mrs. Harry Walsh, Mrs. Hugh McKay, Mrs. Kenneth Hauck, Mrs. Lloyd Randall, Mrs. George McNeil, Mrs. Augustus Cutler, Mrs. John Buckley and Miss Katherine Sinna, principal.

From Roosevelt School were Mrs. Leslie G. Wood, Mrs. Daniel De Mane, Mrs. David Rennie, Mrs. William Douglas Sterling, Mrs. Emil Krauter and Mrs. John Ray.

Mrs. Anthony Ricci and Mrs. Charles Dest represented Washington School and Mrs. Carl Hotoph and Mrs. Ralph Mulford, Edison.

Mrs. Joseph Storino and Mrs. Salva J. Summa went from Horton and Mrs. Robert J. McKeever represented the Parent Council.

Others from this area taking part in the conference were Mrs. S. F. Conerbear of Mamaroneck and Mrs. J. E. Woodbridge of Larchmont, who assisted Mrs. Egan with the round table discussions with Mrs. Louis Frank and Mrs. Leicester Sherrill of Larchmont.

Miss Loretta Hirschbeck, principal of the Murray Avenue School, explained how the aid of teachers is enlisted at the round table on "Children Activities."

Chatsworth Votes To Buy Ambulance With Bond Sales

An ambulance will be purchased in the name of the Chatsworth Avenue School, financed through sales during the Fifth War Loan drive, an aim for which Chatsworth pupils recently voted. War Bonds and Stamps are sold every Tuesday under the direction of Mrs. Stanly Day, chairman of Parent-Teacher Association War Activities.

Because of previous records, the faculty expressed confidence in the ability of pupils to reach their goal. They cited the example of the waste paper drive when pupils voted to continue on their own after a 50 pounds per pupil quota was not achieved in a two-week waste paper drive. The quota was reached in May and collections totalled 24,000 pounds of paper.

Progress in the Fifth War Loan drive will be indicated by a thermometer posted on the front hall bulletin board. The thermometer was made by Robert Hall, sixth grade pupil, under the direction of Miss Grace Winters, art teacher.

Mrs. James Named To Lead Women's ORT In County

Mrs. Maxwell James of New Rochelle was elected president of the Westchester Women's ORT, at the final bi-monthly meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Ferdinand H. Kaufmann, Trenor Drive, New Rochelle. Mrs. Jack V. Tana, retiring president, presided.

Larchmont board members elected to serve include Mrs. Carl Kunzeuther, Mrs. Charles Segal, Mrs. Paul Smolka, and Mrs. James Tropp. Mamaroneck members are Mrs. Sidney Senzer and Mrs. Max van Pels.

The solution of the Jewish problem will not come with the defeat of Hitler and the Axis, but with the removal of the basic causes," Dr. Theodore Gastner, scholar and lecturer, told the meeting. "War is only a military phase of social and economic unrest. The lesson of the last 20 years is that peace conferences are futile in solving problems, unless mere declarations are further implemented."

Mrs. Senzer, chairman of study groups, introduced the speaker.

Boy Scout Activities—

BY MEL DOTY, JR.

Not only was the weekend Camporee a lot of fun but Mamaroneck did itself proud in the number of awards it took. All patrols of both Troops 2 and 3 won blue ribbons, which means that out of the 18 patrols in all Siwanoy to qualify for the highest award, seven were from Mamaroneck. Troop 3 also was one of two Troops in the council to receive the special award for 100% attendance. Earl Annis and myself being very proud of the work our troops did want to list the winning patrols here:

Troop 2 Panther Patrol: Patrol leader, Bill Hodsdon; assistant, Dan Brown; Gordon Palenius, Bob Haviland, Austin Tiffin, and George Gladstone. Flying Eagle: Patrol leader, Robert Sanlomenna; assistant, Jack Coneybear; John Haviland, Don Anderson, and Alan Bell. Cuckoo: Patrol leader, Bob Mc Brien; assistant, Ronald Barlow; Harold Palenius, Larry Litchfield, Dominick Trimarchy, Walt Brower, Gerald Redford, Cliff Blanchard and Donald Lonny. The junior officers aiding the patrols were Howard Nygood, Robert Clarke and Eric Aulfinger. Earl Annis and Perry Andrews were busy in their official activities for the camporee but spent a great deal of time with the troop also.

Troop 3—Cobra: Patrol leader, Tony Vitetta; assistant, Jim Haggerty; Joe Cavallere, Francis Vitetta and Bill Shelinsan. Bat: Patrol Leader Francis Cavaney; assistant, Joe Delbianco, Al Chiodo, Frank Costa, Leonard Moll, Hugh McGinley, Bill Loehr, and Ray Phillips. Fox: Patrol leader Emil Yesse. Eddie Yesse, Arthur Guttman, Richard Guttman, Jan De Graaf, Olaf Hasselt, and Dave Lawson. Eagle: Patrol leader, Bob Hatch; Kenneth Anderson, Charlie Burke, Eddie Behan, Bob Sanlo and Vincent Garvey. The junior officers, Jim Mather, Gabe Carabee and Francis Ruffner. George Millint and Manny Hatch, troop committeemen, also spent a good deal of time at camp.

All of these Scouts are to be commended for their work in upholding Mamaroneck.

There were quite a few notables from Mamaroneck to see the Court of Honor and ceremonies Sunday in the Chapel Hollow. Among those I spotted were Mayor R. J. Santoro, Fire Chief Clifford De-Alvin Hicks, J. Elleworth Olsen, Linden Morehouse, Former Mayor William S. Lyon, Jr., James Jackson and the chairman of the meeting, Hoyt Smith.

Camporee Highlights

Saturday night saw a very special board of inspectors going around the other districts camps creating quite a bit of hustling to get their places in shape. This group inspected every troop but two of Mamaroneck. Wonder why? The food looked good everywhere, one looked. Understand that "Casey" of Troop 3 looked everywhere, too. He checked in at all nearby camp sites every meal. When the camporee was over Casey might have been an appropriate mascot for Frank Herz.

At least the weather was a little better for Ruffner's traditional shower bath, he never gets through a camping trip without someone drowning him in a water fight. If he ever brings that sad hunk of brass he calls a musical instrument to any troop event again, he is liable to get stuffed down it and tossed in the harbor. Friday night was very noisy but as usual everyone was eager to get a good night's sleep Saturday and the officers were able to do the same.

Storm King who is known in Mamaroneck but not elsewhere gave some other districts quite a scare as he ambled around through their camps with the chief observer on tour. Many a Scout thought he had heat prostration.

CHAPTER TWENTY-NINE

Hours passed. Snow flurries blustered past, and twice Colin moved back into the spruce for the solace of a smoke. Then, two hours before dawn, he heard the scraps of a toboggan and the steady patter of dogs' feet; Dove was going back to Tennant.

The way was clear—hurrying to his dog team, Colin took up the northbound trail again.

It was nearly eight when the sun rose—a hard sun, almost obscured by clouds, and an hour later a fine, steady snow warned of worse things to come. Straight toward a distant point of spruce Dove's trail was leading, and cautious had Colin to tie his dogs and reconnoiter.

But, even as he hesitated, his doubts were dispelled. Fully a mile ahead five timber wolves came down toward the lake in single file. Not upon the ice they trotted; then, turning, rounded the point of spruce and disappeared. Clearer than words their actions vouched for the absence of any human being. Calling to his lead dog, Colin pushed on. And soon the search ended.

The dogs, sniffing the trail, slackened pace and, stopping, Colin saw the unmistakable tracks of airplane skis. Further on, a few drops of engine oil stained the ice.

The tracks told the story. Dove had stopped beside the plane and fed his dogs, for a few pieces of whitefish lay scattered about. Colin picked up a fragment of freshly torn brown cardboard. A column of numbers was written there in pencil, and he saw that the figure 7 bore the small horizontal cross mark used by Europeans.

Colin's mind went back to that airplane map of the bay, with arrows pointing to the little crescent-shaped inlet. Up there, three hundred miles to the north, the trail was leading. Too far for any dog-team trek.

Sunk deep in meditation, it was minutes before Colin raised his head to see that the long-expected blizzard had broken, and already the lake shore was blotted out in a swirling curtain of white. Pulling up the hood of his parka, he started his dog team south. None too soon.

In less than an hour the wind had risen to a howling gale, filling the world with snow so needle-fine that Colin could scarcely breathe. For a while, he rode the toboggan, but soon the cold forced him to run beside the team. The dogs were whining, weaving back and forth. Colin veered westward, hoping that in the lee of the timber the wind's force might be broken.

It was almost noon when he realized he must be far west of the trail, while the fury of the storm increased. He could scarcely see the lead dog.

Blind going now. He let the dogs drift farther west—easier to make for his own cabin than face that wind into Learmonth. Then suddenly he realized the dogs were following a vaguely familiar ridge trail that wound down to the shores of a tiny lake.

Head down, eyes almost shut, Colin followed the toboggan until suddenly the team stopped, and, laying his hand on the lead dog's head, Colin felt him stiffen—in the same second he heard the long, quavering howl of a wolf. Then he understood. They were on the trail to Nate Tennant's cabin—he was farther west than he had thought.

Storm-beaten and weary, Colin remembered their quarrel the night before, while the dogs looked at him, whining. He knew they were hungry—hungry as himself—and the temptation to risk it grew strong. Sooner or later he was bound to meet Tennant, so why not now?

And, if Tennant was not there, he could borrow some whitefish and fresh tea from the unwritten law of the north—the never-failing offer of refuge in a storm. He turned his dogs toward Nate's cabin.

Tying them well back from the trail where they would not be close to Nate's wolf team, Colin patted the lead dog's head. "Food soon, old boy," and he knocked on the door.

No answer, but the latch was up, and, shoving his shoulder against it, Colin entered, eyes half-frozen. As he closed the door, Nate Tennant stood watching him.

No sign of welcome on the big trapper's face; his eyes were cold as ice, and in that moment Colin knew he should have gone on. Too late now. He could only make the best of it.

"I've got a team of tired, hungry dogs outside, Nate." He drew off his mitts. "Mind if I feed and rest them?"

"Your dogs are welcome—but not you!"

Colin made no move, but the tant muscles of his jaw showed how near Nate had come to the danger line. Worn out with his battle against the storm, weary with the past night's sleeplessness, Colin's own patience was rapidly thinning. Only a single word was needed—the merest snark.

But calmly, so calmly Colin wondered at the sound of his own voice, he answered, "All right, Nate. If that's the way it is, I'll go."

He turned, then stopped—Tennant had stepped between him and the door.

"You're not going anywhere." One hand closed on the fold of Colin's shirt, and roughly Tennant jerked him close. "I told you last night what would happen if I saw you again. I gave you fair warning to get out. Now they'll carry you out."

Within Colin something snapped. At sight of Tennant's savage face thrust so close to him, and the feel of that hairy hand gripping his shirt, the memory of past provocations swept over him in a red wave. "Nate!"—the words came very slowly—"you're not man enough to drive me out of this country; you're not man enough to keep me away from Blair."

Ripping off his parka, Colin threw it behind him. "You've been asking for this fight all your life."

For the space of a heartbeat the two men stood poised, while Colin was conscious of the roar of flames rising in the stovepipe and the solitary howl of a wolf outside.

In the next second, Tennant struck.

A vicious blow, driven with all the power of Nate's huge shoulder muscles, catching Colin high on the chest, sent him crashing back against the cabin wall. There he steadied himself.

Then a sweep of Tennant's hand, and a chair splintered in a far corner. He lowered his head and rushed at Nate.

In the center of the room they met. Flat-footed, failing with both hands, making no effort to ward off the other's blows, they fought almost toe to toe.

Lighter by twenty pounds, Colin gave ground as Nate crowded him. Twice around the cabin they fought, Colin forced ever backward by the very bulk of his huge adversary. His lip was bleeding, and a blue-red welt stood out upon his cheek, but he was beyond the reach of pain.

Savagely Colin lashed out and missed. A blow, from Tennant caught him squarely on the jaw, and he fell backward, upsetting the table; then rose to his knees.

"Get up!" Nate towered over him. "Get up! I haven't even started."

Slowly Colin gathered himself, shaking his throbbing head to clear it, and through a blood-hued mist he heard Tennant laugh. Already triumph was lighting Nate's eyes. Anxious — too anxious — to get it over with, he lunged again, missed, and, losing balance, struck the stove. With a crash it overturned, scattering burning brands across the cabin, and the stovepipe clattered to the floor.

At that moment Colin was on him. A terrific blow drove Tennant's head back. Nate stumbled against the bunk, then, growling like a wounded bear, came out again, and once more Colin struck.

Out of the stove a thin tongue of flame began licking its red way across the floor until it reached the wall and, spreading fanlike, climbed swiftly upward, crackling through tinder-dry moss that chinked the logs.

Unheeding this blaze, the desperate battlers fought on. By now that spreading flame had gained the rafters, filling the place with smoke while the dogs and wolves raised a maddened, frantic chorus.

Then suddenly it was over. Out of the smoke Colin saw Nate's face loom and he struck with all his might. A spasm of pain darted through his hand; the face disappeared.

Guardedly, Colin took a step forward, and his foot touched Tennant's prostrate body. For a moment he swayed, then groped his way out the door. The cold touch of snow on his face brought sanity surging back; he saw smoke billowing from the cabin. Even as he watched a spearhead of flame flared out of the open door; a window broke with a crash of glass.

MUSICAL ASSEMBLY

"Sing Me To Sleep," a duet, sung by Sue and Claire Dufault was the opening number in an amateur student music program held last Friday. The first held this year, and also in a trial stage, it was greeted with much enthusiasm.

The performers were auditioned by Mr. Olsen of the Music Department and Mr. Penner, in charge of assemblies a few days before.

Yvonne Davies was second on the program and accompanied by Claire Dufault played a "Gavotte," a flute solo. Yvonne attracted special attention for she has been a student only since September but has advanced so rapidly that her director felt she was well able to perform a solo before the student body.

"Sleepy Lagoon," a soprano solo interpreted by Lynn Fausett followed. Lynn was accompanied by Ednalee Stromberg.

An excellent rendition of "Murder, He Says," a piano solo by Evelyn Heithaus received much applause as did the sonrano solo of "I'll Be Seeing You" by Corinne Lanza. Mary Beno played the accompaniment.

The able fingers of Janet Tagg did a splendid interpretation of Dave Rose's, "Holiday For Strings." Janet has been an accompanist for the Junior Glee Club and has always turned in an admirable performance but this was far above average, receiving the praise of many students.

Ed Manning, the only male performer sang "My Heart Tells Me," accompanied by Judy Hallberg. Ed, while he definitly isn't a Frank Sinatra, reminded us of him in the way he tenderly held the "mike."

Judy Hallberg played the "Cow Cow Boogie" and it is not necessary to relate the appreciation of the audience and her many admirers. Judy next accompanied Charmaine Trettier whose rendition of the "Boogie Woogie washerwoman" was greeted by applause. Charmaine is far from a novice having performed with many bands at different school functions.

To the strains of "In the Blue of Evening" the curtains parted revealing Vincent Ricci and his band, better known as the "Twingeroos." With Judy Hallberg at the piano, Vic Hallberg playing the trombone, Peter Pratt at the sax and clarinet, Vincent Ricci with the bass fiddle, and Gene Haviland at the drums, they played a group of songs including "Shoo, Shoo Baby," "Besame Mucho," and ending with the popular favorite "Stardust."

Del Marshalleck, with the band, sang "I Had A Man," and as a closing number, "This Is A Lovely Way To Spend An Evening."

There is no doubt now that such assemblies are desired by the students and much appreciated by them. It is probable that when the schedule for next year's programs is drawn up there will be a few free periods given over to such entertainment.

Union Pushes Bonus, Wage Boost Drive

WHITE PLAINS.—A letter-campaign of pressure upon County Executive Herbert C. Gerlach and the Board of Supervisors to bring about higher wage scales for county employes has been initiated by the State, County and Municipal Workers of America, new CIO local union, it appeared today from letters received by the county officials.

Several in their letters admit they are writing at the request of the CIO local, which has been energetic in urging larger war bonuses and higher wages for county employes to meet increased living costs.

One writer, Louis Gottesman, Mount Vernon, refers to "substandard" wages paid the county employes, while another urging immediate upward adjustment of the wage-scales is George Roosa, 10 Palisade Avenue, Yonkers.

Called "Entirely Fair"

The CIO salary proposals are "entirely fair and justified," writes Charles Ansell, executive director of the Jewish Community Center of Yonkers.

"Penny-saving pound foolish false economy" is denounced by Bruno Lasker, 64 Shelley Avenue, Yonkers, who charges that the County's economy program is permitting many of its services to deteriorate, even trees upon the roadside.

"Saving the taxpayers' money," writes Mr. Lasker, "may be a good election slogan but is not a policy at all when applied purely to its negative side. I would rather pay more in taxes than share the guilt of sweating those who work for us."

The question of increased war bonuses and salaries is now before the supervisors' budget committee and a report is expected on July 3.

Village Residents Urged To Tie Bundles For Collection On Sunday

MANY VOLUNTEER AID

Residents of Mamaroneck are urged by Charles D. Silleck, chairman of the waste paper campaign, to spend time tomorrow gathering paper from their cellars and attics and tying it securely in preparation for the community-wide collection Sunday afternoon.

"If everyone waits until Sunday to tie it up," he said, "they might forget it or decide they haven't enough time. If the bundles are all tied tomorrow, however, the job will be done and the trucks can pass through the streets quickly Sunday afternoon."

Under the general direction of the War Counsil Salvage Committee of which the Rev. Frank Dean Gifford is chairman, the paper drive has received offers of volunteers from the following organizations: Lions, Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs, V. F. W., American Legion, Oddfellows, Masons, Elks, Patriotic Order of the Sons of America, and all the Boy Scout Troops in the Village.

Air raid wardens, Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls will do advance work by making personal calls reminding householders of the collection and offering help in the tying of bundles. Boy Scouts will also assist in the advance efforts and will be supplied with string for any resident who has none with which to tie the bundles.

The fleet of trucks, under the direction of Leo Heithaus, chairman of transportation for the War Council, will be manned by representatives of all the above organizations with the exception of the Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls.

The Auxiliary Police will be on duty at the freight yard to assist with the transfer of the bundles from the trucks to the freight cars.

The canteen of the Red Cross, under the direction of Mrs. Ronald Yocum, will serve refreshments to the collectors at the freight yard. Ralph Mann will assist Mrs. Tocum and Mr. Silleck in preparations for the canteen service.

Franco Wins Bronze Star For Heroism

A Bronze Star for heroic achievement in action has been awarded to Pvt. James Franco, Jr. who received a citation dated Feb. 23 when he was stationed in the Italian area with a chemical battalion of the United States Army.

The citation he received in connection with the Bronze Star bears the personal signature of Lt. Gen. Mark Clark and reads as follows: "James Franco, Jr., for heroic achievement in action in the vicinity of Colli, Italy. An enemy artillery shell landed near a marching column of men, wounding two of Pvt. Franco's fellow soldiers. Pvt. He then volunteered as a stretcher bearer, and, returning over a road under enemy shelling, aided in evacuating another wounded soldier. His heroic actions aided in saving two soldiers' lives."

Aerial Pincers Again Swinging Into Action

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, (AP). Allied aircraft of all types kept up a disruptive bombardment of German positions behind the lines in France today despite hampering weather. Reports from Switzerland telling of huge formations invading Germany from the British indicated the great Allied aerial pincers once more was swinging into action by daylight.

Switzerland dispatches said the formations flying over the Tyrol started detonations in the neighborhood of Munich and Augsburg.

Later Naples announced that U. S. heavy bombers attacked the Munich area today.

For the first time since D-Day official reports however, made no mention of Allied air-borne operations last night.

Seine Bridges Destroyed

The British Radio said today that all railway bridges on the Seine River between Paris and the Channel have been destroyed.

During operations of the past 24 hours 52 German planes were destroyed in the air and 20 others were accounted for on the ground, as against an Allied loss of 25 fighters and five bombers.

German made four fighter-bomber attacks against the invasion beaches between early yesterday morning and late last night, employing some 60 planes, but were driven off each time.

Several hundred RAF heavy bombers, flying through rain and thick clouds, hit the switching yards and road junctions at Rennes, Fougeres, Alencon, Mayenne and grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE—A powerful American thrust has plunged within 18 miles of the prize Port of Cherbourg after capturing Ste. Mere Eglise, the Germans conceded today, and Supreme Headquarters reported armored combat rising in intensity on the plains of France.

Allied Headquarters, announcing "satisfactory progress" all along the 60 mile beachhead front, said tonight that both sides were throwing more and more armor into the battle. Canadians and British had joined forces for a coordinated assault on Caen, pivot city at the eastern end of the combat zone.

Ground has been gained and the main German counter-attack hurled back in that sector, Supreme Headquarters said.

Field dispatches told of Canadian tanks firing at point blank 200-yard range into massed German formations.

These dispatches described the tank battle as the biggest yet, and the Germans said hand-to-hand fighting was taking place in Caen.

The German communique conceded the loss of Ste. Mere Eglise, astride one of the main German arteries leading to Cherbourg, saying the Americans were pushing "north and south" from the landing head there.

Then a later Berlin broadcast said U. S. troops had advanced a mile beyond the town toward Valognes, 12 miles southeast of the port that would form a great funnel for Allied reinforcements and supplies into the battle for France.

American Rear Admiral John Leslie Hall, Jr., on a tour of the beachhead, told correspondents operations were going well, but stressed the necessity of quickly building up our forces.

At least 1,600 Nazi prisoners have been taken. A field dispatch today said Americans had captured 600, including some Russians and Poles.

We Occupy Formigny

Doughboys have occupied Formigny on the road from Caen to Carentan, a field dispatch said. Formigny, one of the few towns identified of many reported taken, is nine miles northwest of Bayeux, and three miles inland.

Other Berlin broadcasts reported street fighting in Caen, and say Allied push toward Carentan, 60 miles to the west, and 20 from Cherbourg.

Supreme Headquarters gave no confirmation of these or other details, but declared the steadily-augmented Allies were holding firm under counterblows of increasing weight and "making progress" on all sectors.

Front dispatches said the battle was developing into a race for supplies, and "it looks as if the Allies are winning." There was a freshening breeze today over the misty English Channel after a hampering overnight rain.

The Germans rolled up more tanks, dropped parachute troops, and sent some supplies charging to the front behind horses.

The Germans made no mention of parachutists earlier reported landed on the west coast 20 miles from Ste. Mere Eglise in an effort to pinch off the tip of the peninsula and its port of 36,000 inhabitants.

Silent on Caen

The Allied command was silent on the battle for Caen—a town of 61,000 population. Caen was described as a pivot of German defenses.

The Germans said the Allies had penetrated five miles below and six miles west of fallen Bayeux, and said Allied beachheads had been strengthened. The Nazi High command claimed gains east of the Orne.

Chiang Orders Fight To End For Changsha

CHUNGKING, (AP)—Japanese columns driving from the north are within seven and a half miles of Changsha, whose defenders have been instructed by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek to remain at their posts and do their utmost to achieve victory, a Chinese spokesman announced today.

Strength of the various columns advancing toward the Hunan Province capital, astride the Hankow-Canton Railway, was estimated at between 70,000 and 80,000.

The Japanese are reported to have poured reinforcements, including many divisions from Manchuria, into southwestern Shansi for a potential invasion of Shensi Province.

Japanese movements south of the Yellow River indicated possibility that the invaders will drive into southwestern Honan Province in efforts to destroy Chinese field forces.

A big flareup of fighting in Honan was predicted as signs were detected that the Japanese are preparing for a try at reconquering the 70-mile stretch of the Peiping-Hankow Railway held by the Chinese, extending south from Yencheng.

According to reports here the Japanese have already started railway traffic between Chenghsien and points north of the Yellow River.

Soviets Take Vital Height North Of Iasi

LONDON, (AP) — Moscow announced today that Soviet troops, seeking to improve their positions, have captured a height of "great importance" north of Iasi in Romania, where a German radio commentator declared yesterday that Russian armored forces had launched an offensive on a wide front.

The broadcast Soviet communique, however, made no mention of a large scale offensive, but said about 200 Germans were killed and several enemy tanks destroyed as Nazi counter-attacks to restore the captured position were frustrated.

Ernst von Hammer, the Nazi commentator, declared Red Army troops advanced several miles in the center and on the left flank in the Iasi sector.

Wounded Flyer Guides Plane Back To Base

Second Lt. Marvin L. Gurwit, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter S. Gurwit of Larchmont Acres, Larchmont, who received the Air Medal and the Purple Heart in April when he was wounded in action in the European Area, is recovering in a hospital in England, according to word received by his wife, Mrs. Rosalind Gurwit, who resides at Larchmont Acres with her mother, Mrs. Helen Kolb.

Suffering a crushed foot and head wounds from flak, Lt. Gurwit, navigator of a plane which had become separated from its squadron, regained consciousness in time to be able to guide the plane, with part of a wing shot away, back to its base in England. Five members of the crew were killed.

A graduate of St. Petersburg High School in St. Petersburg, Fla., Lt. Gurwit enlisted in 1942, was commissioned in July, 1943, at Hondo Field, Tex., and has been overseas since March. Mrs. Gurwit is associated with the Model Industry Magazine in New York.

Loud Speaker Asks Purchase Of Bonds Here

Sleepy commuters were startled this morning when a loud speaker blared out an appeal for the purchase of War Bonds in Mamaroneck at the railroad station.

As part of the 5th War Loan drive, the voice advised commuters that the booth in the station would be moved to the platform Monday and that bonds ordered in the morning would be ready for delivery in the evening between the 5:00 and the 6:44 trains at the former Paramount Taxi booth.

The Lions Club of Mamaroneck will man the loud speaker every morning during the campaign. A special committee of which Edward Margolulis is chairman was organized at the D-Day meeting of the club Tuesday. This morning the speakers were Mr. Margolulis and Gabriel Wendel, chairman of the War Finance Committee. The loud speaker will not operate tomorrow, but on Monday the voices from the sky will be those of Earl Quick and Arthur Dunn, Jr.

Bond Rally Set After Parade On Flag Day

A bond rally is to be held in conjunction with the Flag Day parade and services June 14 was announced today by Gabriel Wendel, chairman of the Mamaroneck War Finance Committee in the absence of Mayor B. J. Santoro, chairman of the Flag Day Committee and the bond rally.

"This rally will be the first big event in the 5th War Bond drive starting Monday," Mr. Wendel announced. "We expect a large attendance and are confident that the people of Mamaroneck will support the rally with their dollars. Not only does every $3 invested bring back $4 to the investor, but such support shows our more than 1,600 men and women in service that we are enthusiastically and earnestly behind them.

"The Flag Day parade will start at Columbus Park at 7 P. M and will end on the grounds of the Elks Club. The bond rally will be a part of the services conducted there.

"All civic and fraternal organizations in the Village have been invited to participate in the parade and rally.

"The principal speaker will be Sol Geib, assistant district attorney of New York City. During his address he will talk briefly about War Bonds.

"In addition we expect to have a veteran present who will talk about the importance of bond purchases, particularly at this time when we are engaged in the greatest and most vital battle in our entire history—the great battle of the invasion of the continent. While our boys are giving their lives, the least we can do is invest our dollars.

"We are not able at this time to announce the name and service record of the veteran who will address the rally, but we will be able to do so in a few days. The story of his actual experience under fire should prove a great inspiration to those of us whose sons, husbands, brothers, daughters, sisters and relatives are risking everything they have—their very lives—in order that we may be free to determine our own way of living through our most jealously guarded democratic way of life.

"To those boys and girls we owe our unselfish support. We can give it by making extra bonds purchases at this time to support the invasion."

Burning Rubbish Calls Out Mamaro Firemen

Briskly burning rubbish, dumped in an old foundation at the corner of Ward Avenue and Valley Place in Mamaroneck and adjoining a portion of the municipal parking area for commuters, resulted in a call for the Mamaro Fire Company shortly aftre 1:30 P. M. yesterday.

The blaze was quickly extinguished and no damage was reported. Chief James Duggan was in charge.

Derby A. C. Subdues Bears In One-Sided Contest

Yanks Getting Knocked Over By Home Runs

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Leave it to Bucky Walters and the Cincinnati Reds will ruin the St. Louis Cardinals' dreams of a third straight National League pennant.

Leave it to the home run, and the New York Yankees will wind up in the American League's also-ran column.

These are two strange developments produced in the major leagues by a third wartime season.

Up to 1944 Walters had beaten St. Louis only 18 times in 42 starts, but now he has handed them three straight setbacks by scores of 1-0, 2-0 and 2-1. Not until the ninth frame of last night's 2-1 tilt in Cincinnati were the Cards able to break a string of 30 scoreless innings against Bucky's effective tossing.

Two top-ranking National League hurlers clashed as Walters tangled with Max Lanier, and Billy Southworth followed with a second ace, George Munger, in relief but the Cincy No. 1 man took the nod on two unearned runs.

Juniors Win Double Header Against Bellows Freshmen

The Junior and Freshman softball teams of the Bellows High School Intramural League yesterday played a double-header which resulted in a double victory for the Juniors by 5—0 and 6—1 scores. Bob Gudger hurled both games for the winners and pitched fine ball. It was the first time that Gudger has taken the hill this year.

The Juniors won the first contest by scoring once in the fourth frame and twice each in the fifth and sixth innings. These flurries broke a 0—0 tie and enabled the Juniors to settle back and play defensively for the first time this year. The Freshman seemed to be able to get enough hits off Gudger but they just couldn't bunch them together to form a run.

Gudger himself and Pete Loriya were the big batters for the winners with two hits apiece. Gudger collected his two base knocks in a similar number of times at bat.

The second game was a duplicate of the first. It was a pitcher's battle for the first half after which the Juniors broke away and clinched the ball game.

The eventual winners scored once in the first inning and the score remained that way until the fifth inning when the Freshman scored once to tie the score. However the Juniors scored an easy tally in their half of the fifth and crossed the plate four times in the sixth to put the game on ice.

Acres No. 1 Team Finishes On Top As Season Closes

With the completion of the league schedule last night at the Larchmont Recreation Center, the Larchmont Acres No. 1 team finished on top with a record of 25 wins and 5 losses. Although beaten last night, the Clippers managed to hold second place two full games ahead of the Larchmont Rec team. The Recs had a record of 18 wins and 12 losses while the Clippers notched 19 victories against 11 defeats. The Acres No. 2 team ended in fourth place with a record of .500 with 15 wins against the same number of losses. The Pick Ups were fifth with a 10-15 record and the sixth team, the Sailors, failed to finish the schedule.

Last night's matches resulted in victories for the Larchmont Acres No. 2 team and the Acres No. 1 team. The No. 2 squad defeated the Clippers by 128 pins with Grossweller having the high single, a 181 game. The No. 1 squad ended the season with a victory over the pick-ups by 216 pins. Dickison had the high single, a 198 effort and also held the high triple of both matches with a total of 555 pins for three games.

The Sailors were scheduled to roll the Recs team last night but the former failed to appear and thus the match went by forfeit to the Recs.

Prize for high average went to Len Grosso whose average score for 30 games was 188. Grosso also won the honors for high single with a 201 game, and topped that by taking the high triple with a 614. As a single player is entitled to but one prize the second highest in each department took the award.

Templeman held the high triple with an even 600 which was very close to Grosso's. Splendido was the winner for the high single with a fine game of 222.

Although the Sailors failed to appear Grosso still rolled off his three games to determine his final average. His scores last night were 182 for the first game, 251 for the second, and 180 for the third. His second effort also would have given him the high single had he chosen this department.

Victors Snatch Fourth Game Of Season By Score Of 9-1

Led by the two-hit pitching of Joe Pooley and the clutch batting of first baseman Preston, the Derby A. C. of the Twilight Softball league, won its fourth game of the season last night by defeating the third place team, the Bears, by a 9-1 count. As a result, the Derby ten moves to within a half game of the first place Tigers and the losing Bears drop into a tie with the Larchmont Postoffice, both teams having two wins against a similar number of losses.

The victory for the Larchmont team lies in the fact that the Derbys did everything the right way and the Bears did just the opposite. The winners collected seven solid hits and played fine ball in the field, making just one error and that one in the first inning on a very hard chance. Pooley struck out only one batter but the Bears might just as well have struck out for they were popping up and grounding out monotonously until Willie Greto slammed a single to center in the first half of the sixth inning. Greto worked around the sacks and eventually scored the Bears only run.

Although it was Preston who either walked or singled for the Derbys, their leading men with the willow were Charlie Lanza and Phil Quercia. Both boys collected two hits in four trips to the plate and while Lanza was driving in two runs, Quercia socked four across the plate. Three of these runs batted in for the veteran third baseman were earned when he doubled against the fence in center with the bases loaded.

The Derby's opening run came in the second inning when they tallied an unearned run. Although not fully creditable, the marker didn't hurt Preston's feelings any. Pete Talgo, playing the game for the Tigers in a Navy uniform, opened the frame by getting on base through Stingone's error. When Raymond filed to the roving short stop, Talgo sped to second as the throw to the infield went wild. Preston then stepped to the plate and banged a single to right and Talgo sped across the platter with the first run.

That run could have stopped the Bears for the remainder of the game but the local athletic club wanted a lead to coast on and really got it in the last of the third by scoring seven times against the specialist deliveries of Sonny Ianerelli. Pooley opened with a walk and Charlie Lanza advanced him to scoring position with a bunt single. Joe Masto singled to right and in came Pooley with the first run of the inning. Derby walked to load the bases and up came slugger Quercia who banged his tremendous double to center and the three base runners came across the plate. Pete Talgo singled another run in and took second on a bad throw. Raymond popped out but Preston walked and Holton knocked in Talgo when he was safe on the pitcher's error.

The Green and White added another marker in the fourth frame but that just added insult to injury. At this point the score was 9-0 but the Bears kept trying and in their ninth time at bat they got their first hit and their first run of the game. Greto hit Pooley's second pitch for a single to break the ice. Fava got on when Raymond dropped his fly after a long run. Ianerelli then got the second and last hit and when he did Greto walked in with the consolation run.

The first half will perhaps be decided on Monday night when the Derby's battle the Tigers in a tight for first place. Either Tony Vitti or Joe Pooley will start for the Larchmont outfit while either little Willie Carter or Willie Rodriguez will twirl for the Tigers.

At least 250 lined up for supper, served cafeteria style, which included many hot dishes, salads, vegetables, dessert and coffee.

Merchandise tables were lined along the walls and the large hall was dotted with round tables for supper guests. The hall was decorated with many flowers, including great bunches of roses, under the direction of Mrs. Harold Pennington, newly-elected Guild president.

Outside the Community Hall, children were entertained at games, supervised by Thomas Skinner. Prizes were awarded. A steady stream of customers patronized all the merchandise tables from the moment the church bells heralded the opening of the festival until the last light was dimmed.

The candy table and the white elephant table under the direction of the St Cecelia Chapter, were handled by Mrs. Alfred Weise, chairman, assisted by co-chairmen Mrs. Robert Klink and Mrs. Harold Barlow.

Betty Stafford Prepares Buffet Menu At Center

A menu for a buffet supper was featured at the third and final cooking demonstration conducted by Miss Betty Stafford, member of the New York State Emergency Food Commission Thursday morning at the Larchmont Consumer Information Center.

Miss Stafford prepared a soybean and frankfurter scallop as the main hot dish, a macaroni shrimp salad, a royal egg platter and a caramel crisp fruit ring for dessert.

She told the class that she believes every buffet supper should include a meat and fish dish. A cold fish dish and a hot meat dish appeared on the menu.

Preparing the shrimp for the salad, she suggested that the sheils and legs be removed before cooking to avoid a strong flavor and cautioned her audience always to remove the "black line" or intestines of the shrimp before serving.

"Many doctors now believe," she said, "that this black line often causes ptomaine, because it is here that the shrimp would first decay."

"Planning a buffet meal," she continued, "decide on dishes which may be prepared the day before and put them away in the refrigerator until time to cook them, just before serving. The soybean casserole which we're making today is a fine example of such a dish and so is the salad and dessert. In fact, the dessert is much better if allowed to stand in the refrigerator overnight."

Miss Stafford also prepared a "burn-day cake" for which she used only one bowl. She poured the batter into a shallow oiled baking dish.

"Always use unsalted fat or oil to grease your cake pans," she cautioned. "For the salt in butter will make your cake stick. And always put the cake into an unheated oven. This will give it time to expand and rise well before the heat forms a hard crust around it.

Miss Stafford suggested that her audience place a doily over the cake when finished, sprinkle confectioner's sugar over it, and upon lifting the doily the cake would be covered with a white design.

When the cake was in the oven Miss Stafford made "four-minute dainties," which were cut in strips after they were cooked, similar to brownies. She prepared her batter and dividing it into four sections, flavored each with a different flavor—chocolate, spice, lemon and vanilla. The four flavors were placed in the same pan and cooked together like a checkerboard. She also made some vanilla cookies which she pressed thin with the bottom of a glass covered with a wet napkin.

The food was served buffet style to the class and typewritten recipts were given to each member.

Mrs. Norma R. Clarke, new executive director of the New York State Emergency Food Commission, attended the demonstration as observer.

Thursday, June 15, Miss Pauline Gerard of the Wheat and Flour Institute, will give a demonstration of breads and cakes. The session will open at 10:30 A. M. and is free to the public.

Mrs. Herbert Rogers, chairman of the Larchmont Consumer Information Center, has announced that Miss Helen Easter, head of the Home Bureau of Westchester County, will be at the Center Thursday morning, June 15, at 10 o'clock with a pressure cooker gauge tester.

Miss Easter has offered to test any gauges that are brought in at that time, but she suggested that each pressure cooker owner have the gauge removed by an experienced person so that the threads won't be broken. Her tester can be used only on the clock type gauge and is not applicable to the new Victory pressure cookers.

Plan Is Announced To Spur Individual Bond Purchases

A ribbon pin with a star will be awarded to any woman who sells $1,000 worth of bonds to at least 10 persons during the Fifth War Loan drive which starts Monday, Mrs. Edward H. Lebeis, chairman of the Woman's Division and co-chairman of the Mamaroneck War Finance Committee announced today. The purpose of the award, Mrs. Lebeis explained, is to encourage the purchase of bonds by as many individuals as possible in order to meet the quota of $440,000 for individual purchasers.

Mrs. Lebeis also announced that Mrs. C. E. Wheeler has been appointed the new chairman of the booth at Woolworth's. Serving under her will be co-chairmen representing various organizations cooperating in manning the booth. A list of these co-chairmen and the organizations they represent will be announced in a few days, Mrs. Lebeis added.

"Mrs. Julius Silver is chairman of the station booth," Mrs. Lebeis said. "We want to call attention to a system we have worked out in connection with the banks in the Village.

"Buyers of bonds at the station booth who place their orders in the morning will be able to pick up their bonds at the former Paramount taxi booth opposite the uptown side of the railroad station on their way home. This little building will be open when the 5:09 P. M. train pulls in and will remain open until after the 6:44 train has pulled out. Representatives from the banks will be there to make out the bonds and accept payments. Thus there will be no delay or confusion in the delivery of bonds purchased by those on their way to New York.

"A loud speaker will announce that bonds may be picked up at the little Paramount building as each train pulls in.

"We are also recruiting a number of 'glamour girls', to sour sales at the station next week. These girls will service in addition to the regular attendants at the booth. Next week the booth will be in charge of the Women's Society for Christian Service of the Mamaroneck Methodist Church, under the chairmanship of Mrs. C. E. Wheeler."

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

LEARN BRIDGE FAST

17—Overcalling Opponents

AFTER AN opponent has opened the bidding, you may put your side in it by any one of the following moves:

1. A minimum bid of a new suit.
2. A double (called "informatory" or "takeout" double if you have not heard from your partner.)
3. A bid of "one more than necessary" in a new suit.
4. A bid of No Trumps.
5. A higher bid than "one more than necessary" in a new suit.
6. A bid of the opponent's suit.

To be in line with advanced players, No. 1, an overcall in a new suit, requires playing tricks within about two of the number bid for if you are vulnerable, within three if not vulnerable, the high card strength being of no fixed amount.

No. 2, a double, requires enough strength and such distribution as to be prepared for any response from your partner with a trickless hand. This means you should have enough for some kind of fit with any suit he bids, or else a declaration you can name yourself if he bids a non-fitting one. Usually this requires about 3½ tricks in high cards.

No. 3, among the best players, usually indicates a two-suiter and is practically a one-time force to give you a chance to show your other suit and offer your partner a chance to choose. It indicates pretty close to as much in high cards as a double. On some occasions, it can safely be done with a great one-suiter, which you rebid.

No. 4 is usually used on a hand with the amount of No Trump strength indicated if it had been an opening bid, but including a double stopper in the opponent's suit.

No. 5 is on the kind of hand which would be shown by an opening suit bid of three or more, with playing tricks within two of the number bid for if vulnerable, three if not vulnerable, not much high card strength and a desire to shut out the opponents' further bidding because your hand is weak defensively.

No. 6 is the strongest action you can take. It is like a gigantic double, showing about the same amount of total strength you would need for an original suit bid of two to say "here's a game," but giving no indication of what may be your preferred declaration or declarations. After this, your partner must not let the bidding die except in a game declaration or a double of the opponents promising at least as many points as a game would be worth.

Following No. 1, a partner adds his strength to that indicated if he is considering a raise. If he bids something else in response, he must realize that the high card strength shown may be less than in an original bid.

After No. 2, you must not pass except with such strength right in the opponent's declaration that you think he can be defeated severely. Otherwise, you must bid, and the weaker you are the more important is your responding. Any four-card major is preferred to a longer minor, as a rule, in response. If your only four-carder is the opponent's suit, you generally should answer with your lowest three-card minor as a choice among evils. And, with a hand anywhere near to opening bid strength, give a jump. To bid No Trumps in response requires safe stoppers in the hostile suit and about a couple of tricks in the entire hand.

In late bidding which develops after any of these calls, or after your own side opened the bidding, you will sometimes prefer doubling an opponent to going on with your own side's bidding, and at other times will purposely overbid for a sacrifice, if you think the points lost from a moderate defeat will be less than the opponents can get from making their contract.

The Weather

Tonight, showers ending by midnight. Tomorrow, cloudy in the morning, partly cloudy in afternoon. High tides today at 3:11 P. M.; tomorrow at 3:36 A .M. and 4:06 P. M.

Tomorrow is WASTE PAPER DAY

Is your waste paper tied in bundles ready to be put out at the curb at 1 P. M. tomorrow?

The fire whistles will blow at 2 P. M as a signal to all residents of Mamaroneck that a fleet of ten trucks is leaving the Municipal Building grounds to cover every street in the Village.

Manned by volunteer workers from civic and fraternal organizations, they will be driven directly to the freight yard at the railroad station with every full load. The bundles will be piled in three empty cars waiting on the tracks and the trucks will then return to their routes to be filled again.

Not only newspapers, but books, magazines, corrugated paper and wrapping paper are wanted.

Each bundle must be tied securely and placed at the curb in front of your house.

If it's raining, put it under a tree—and if you haven't a tree, put it out anyway. The rain won't hurt it!

If you have no string, your air raid warden, or the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls in your neighborhood can supply you with some.

Paper is among the most urgent needs the government has right now.

With the invasion going on in Europe, the troops need more supplies. Paper is used for wrapping; for protection against moisture; for car tons to hold ammunition, medical supplies, blood plasma; for packing airplane motors and mechanical parts; for hundreds of other war material uses.

If your neighbor hasn't put his paper out by 1 P. M. tomorrow, remind him that it's S-Day. Offer to help him tie it up and get it out!

The Red Cross Canteen will be on duty at the station to serve refreshments to the truck volunteers when they come to unload their paper.

Before unloading, the trucks will be weighed on the freight scales, the weight of the truck deducted from the total, and the Salvage Committee will know, before the end of the afternoon, how many pounds of paper have been dug out of Mamaroneck attics and cellars to be sent to the mills.

The auxiliary police will be at the freight yard to help unload and to protect the spectators, many of whom are expected to watch the weighing and unloading process.

Remember! When the whistles blow at 2 P. M., the trucks are coming!

ALLIES PUSH ON IN DRIVE FOR NORMANDY PENINSULA; BRITISH SINK 4 NAZI SHIPS

Armed Trawlers Sent To Bottom Off Dutch Coast

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, (AP)—Light coastal ships of the Royal Navy sank four heavily-armed German trawlers today off the Dutch coast at a cost of one motor torpedo boat in another of a series of naval clashes, the Admiralty announced.

Four trawlers were engaged southwest of Ijmuiden, and three sent down by torpedo hits, with the fourth damaged by gunfire and sent heading back for the coast.

Later three more armed trawlers, apparently searching for survivors, appeared and one of these was torpedoed and sunk. One British torpedo boat was sunk, but there were only two casualties, the Admiralty said.

The first attempts by German naval craft to enter the invasion coast have been frustrated, it was disclosed earlier in a communique describing three surface actions, one a point-blank engagement between eight Allied and four Nazi destroyers.

Eight British, Canadian and Polish destroyers intercepted the four German destroyers off the tip of Brittany, near Ile D'Ouessant before dawn yesterday. The Allies blew up one of the enemy destroyers chased another aground in flames and scored hits on the other two, which escaped, the communique said.

The grounded vessel was attacked later by Royal Canadian Beaufighters which shot at least 70 rocket projectiles into it and scored numerous hits with heavy and light bombs. Today it lay a smouldering wreck surrounded by a pool of burning oil.

Damage and a few casualties on one British ship, the Tartar, was the only Allied cost.

Americans Aim For Cherbourg And Carentan

BULLETIN

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS Allied Expeditionary Force, (AP).—American troops have captured Trevieres, midway between Bayeux and Isigny.

Allied Air forces for the first time since 1940 are operating from French soil, it was announced today.

Spitfires and P-47 Thunderbolts were the first Allied planes to operate from France.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, (AP)—U. S. troops snatching up thousands of prisoners battered powerfully today toward Cherbourg — by Nazi account only 15 miles away — and rammed another column southward in a squeeze attack on Carentan, stronghold guarding the narrowest neck of the Normandy Peninsula.

Both these attacks fanned out from fallen Ste. Mere Eglise, while Berlin, reporting a large-scale offensive against Cherbourg, declared there was violent fighting east of Montebourg, only 15 miles southeast of the prize port.

Seiz Isigny

Other American forces to the southeast seized Isigny, and drove westward on Carentan seven miles away. Two columns thus were converging on Carentan, itself nearly a third of the way inland on the shortest line across Cherbourg Peninsula.

Lt. Gen. Omar Bradley's American parachutists and infantrymen alone have captured more than 2,000 prisoners, half of them Nazi parachute veterans of Sicily and Cassino seized after they plunged from the skies. The Allies since D-Day have taken more than 5,000 captives.

British and Canadian forces meanwhile battled German armored divisions in the greatest tank engagement since the landings, near Caen, stronghold on the eastern flank.

Heavy fighting raged near Caen, and Allied shells tore into the big city.

The German communique declared Allied counterattacks against Tourville, six miles east of Caen, had failed. There was no Allied confirmation of fighting on that side of the city, where Caen would be flanked from the east.

Berlin asserted "Allied military strength assembled in the Caen-Bayeux area has been thrown in the direction of Cherbourg."

Another broadcast said Americans in the Carentan area attacked Friday with four infantry divisions and a tank division, and "new paratroops were landed behind German lines," forcing the Germans to withdraw northward and northwestward.

Say Foe Breaking

An official Allied front dispatch, without identifying the exact sector, declared German resistance which had been strong "began to break yesterday afternoon" and the "indications now are that the Germans are having considerable difficulty, throwing in reinforcements indiscriminately." It said U. S. forces pressed forward against mild resistance, capturing one town and "a handful of villages."

Gen. Bradley told correspondents he was "satisfied" with American progress, but expected a German counterattack shortly in three-division strength.

With improving weather, Allied sky fleets including up to 500 American heavy bombers ripped at Nazi railways, roads, troop and tank concentrations and positions behind the battle line, and at airfields in France. U. S. marauder airmen reported Allied shells bursting in Caen, defended by the Nazis as a key point in their protective belt in Normandy.

U. S. Ninth Air Force engineers and technicians established a bridgehead for tactical planes.

Berlin admitted some Nazi strongholds of the Atlantic Wall had been encircled, but said they still were resisting.

Fleet Of Trucks To Collect Waste Paper On Mamaroneck's S-Day Tomorrow

Tomorrow is S-Day in Mamaroneck.

When a fleet of trucks starts out at 2 P. M. prompt to blow the fire whistle, the village will inaugurate its second great salvage campaign. For the remainder of the afternoon every home in every section will be visited by trucks, manned by civic leaders, which will pick up waste paper residents are urged to leave at the front of their homes. Three freight cars will stand ready at the station to receive the paper for immediate shipment to the mills.

The waste paper collection will be made in rain or shine, Charles D. Silleck, chairman of the drive, announced this morning.

In the event of a hard downpour, he advises residents to wait until 1 P. M. to put out their paper and to put it under a tree if possible. In any event, the rain will not penetrate more than the top layers and the campaign will continue throughout the afternoon according to schedule.

A boon to the collection arrived yesterday, according to Mr. Silleck, in the form of two full cartons of Venetian blind cord donated by former Mayor William E. Lyon, Jr., of New York.

Mr. Silleck said he received a letter from Mr. Lyon asking if the cord would be acceptable and had replied immediately that it would. The cartons were sent express by Mr. Lyon and will be available to anyone who has not enough string for the bundles.

Air raid wardens, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls are forming an advance guard today, reminding householders to gather all their paper together and offering help with the tying process.

Ten trucks will leave the Municipal Building tomorrow at 2 P. M. under the direction of Leo Heilhaus, chairman of transportation for the War Council, and manned by volunteers from local organizations, will travel specified routes through the streets of the Village, piling in the bundles from the curbs.

Three freight cars will be waiting at the railroad station to receive the loads as the trucks bring them in.

Mrs. Ronald Yocum will be in charge of the Red Cross canteen at the station. Lieut. Louie Giancola will direct the auxiliary police at the freight yard, and Ralph Mann will assist Mr. Silleck with the general arrangements.

The entire campaign, the first of its kind to be held one Sunday each month during the Summer, is under the general direction of the Village War Council Salvage Committee of which the Rev. Frank Dean Gifford is chairman.

Allies Slash North Steadily In Italy Push

ROME, (AP)—The German 14th Army fled northward today with increasing disorder, and the Allied command for the first time declared officially that a "estastrophe" has befallen Field Marshal Albert Kesselring's forces in Italy.

Slashing steadily northward after the retreating foe, the Fifth Army captured the ancient town of Tuscania, 13 miles southeast of Tarquinia.

Despite the great speed of Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark's pursuing troops, which have averaged roughly 15 miles daily since the fall of Rome, an official spokesman declared they are "unable to catch up with any important elements of Col Gen. Eberhard von Mackensen's 14th Army which is withdrawing in this area in a completely disorganized fashion."

The Fifth Army also picked up speed in its northward advance near the Adriatic.

Mackensen's flight was considered a peril to the Nazi 10th Army, whose withdrawal northward on the east side of the Tiber has been slower and more orderly, due largely to demolitions, mine fields and the mountainous terrain which made close pursuit by the British Eighth Army difficult.

With the taking of Tuscania, Tarquinia and Vetralla, the Fifth Army now has fanned out on a broad front more than 50 miles to the northwest from Rome, and at the same time has stabbed at least 40 miles north of the capital city in a drive beyond Veterbo.

The Eighth Army captured Montcione, 11 miles north of Tivoli, and Arsoli, nine miles northwest of Subiaco.

Yacht Club Raises Flag Tomorrow

A prayer for the men serving overseas will accompany the flag raising exercises which will mark the opening of the season tomorrow of the Sheldrake Yacht Club.

Scheduled to begin at 2 P.M., the ceremonies will be simplified this year because of D-Day and the succession of events in the war area during the last week.

"It is our purpose to keep the spirit of Sheldrake intact," Secretary Ray Crosby said today. "We that our members in the armed services may return to find the club burgee still flying over Harbor Island."

Justice Arnold Condemns 'Poisonous Philosophy' Of Cartels At Peace Forum

Condemning the "poisonous philosophy" of the cartel system, which protects prices and inefficient individuals, as a contributing factor of the war, Thurman Arnold, associate justice of the United States Court of Appeals, told a capacity audience at the first anniversary meeting of the Larchmont Council for the Promotion of Peace Planning Friday night at the Chatsworth Avenue School that "what this country needs more than anything else is a healthy infusion of the old philosophy of opportunity to replace the economic frustration of cartel organization."

Defining a cartel as a group of producers or distributors who enter into an agreement to control prices, production or distribution, Judge Arnold said that the term, inaccurately used in this country in its technical sense, covered all those who "under the cloak of corporate franchise control the market and keep out new enterprise."

"Under the Weimar Republic in Germany, manufactured products could not be distributed domestically, because of cartel restrictions and low agricultural prices which lessened the purchasing power of the people, as predicted by Karl Marx," he said. "This situation led to revolution and socialism, which however did not bring about the benevolent leadership he also predicted."

As a result of Germany's cartel society and subsequent revolution, he went on, the "wrong type of leaders emerged to seize power.

Stating the aim of cartels as means of stabilizing production and distribution, on the theory that otherwise bankruptcy will follow and production will stop, the speaker pointed out that cartels and the obsolete techniques which they keep alive, actually serve to stifle progress and prevent the consumer from receiving full value for his expenditures.

"Cartels are aimed at preserving investments and stabilizing old investments at the expense of the public investments which due to technological advances would long ago have been obsolete," he declared. He mentioned as an example the railroads, with a capital of 26 billion dollars, constantly renewed, with no bonds paid off. "With the advent of the airplane, and the illegal agreements between plane and railroad companies, the cost of airplane express was double what it could profitably have been," he said.

With only 400 commercial planes in the United States, before the war, Western Airlines was not permitted to come into Los Angeles, he said, noting that had a similar situation existed in the early days of the automotive industry, Henry Ford would never have been allowed to manufacture cars.

5th War Loan Drive Off To Good Start

The 5th War Loan drive in Mamaroneck got off to a big start this morning with the receipt by the Mamaroneck War Finance Committee of a check for $10,000 from the William R. Warner Company, pharmaceutical house which maintains a laboratory in Mamaroneck on Waverly Avenue. This contribution counts towards the total goal of $1,100,000 but is not credited to the quota for individuals of $440,000.

"On Monday we expect to announce the receipts for the first ten days of June," Gabriel Wendel, chairman of the War Finance Committee said this morning. "All bond purchases since June first are included in the quota set for the main drive which begins Monday. While I do not know this figure at the moment, I believe that it will be a substantial start toward the achievement of our over-all quota."

Five thermometers will be set up in the Village to mark the progress of the drive, Albert Wilson, chairman of this committee, announced.

"Five thermometers are on the way from White Plains," Mr. Wilson said. "When they arrive, the proper wording will be inscribed and they will be set up in the County Trust Company, the Union Savings Bank, the Mamaroneck Federal Savings and Loan Association, The Playhouse and the Postoffice. We will endeavor to make daily notations on these thermometers so that our citizens will be fully informed of the progress we and they are making.

"Every bond bought in Mamaroneck will push the mercury up. Help us to reach our quota quickly."

Mr. Wilson also announced that the little building formerly housing the Paramount Taxi Company has been re-named "The Commutators Bond House" and will be so designated hereafter by a window sign.

Mamaroneck Romps Away With 7-3 Win Over Isaac Young

The Sports Spotter

By DICK CARPENTER

Rehashing the Mamaroneck High School baseball games this week:—In the New Rochelle clash, Jack McKernan looked good for the Tigers although they dropped the game in extra innings to the Purple Waves . . . Chuck Gibbon's round tripper in the New Rochelle clash and his two four base knocks yesterday, ended the season in fine style for the big fella . . . Skip Harris was a trifle wild in the Purple game but with a little better support would have gotten by . . . Al Doddenhoff made his debut at short stop for the Mamaroneck nine and turned in a creditable performance . . . The New Rochelle clash was the kind that coaches have dreams about and it was a tough one to take for the Tigers who ended their season yesterday exactly at the .000 mark. We'd call it a fairly good season from all points of view . . . Incidentally, Mamaroneck should field a fine team next year for they have many returning letermen and some fine prospects . . . In the pitching line they will have Rocky Stingone, Al Doddenhoff, and Skip Harris. Behind the plate Coach Mathews will work on Pet Ahern and Jim Newmann. Infielders will be Footsie Gironda, Tony Loiaconi, Ronnie Pelletier and Harry Brown. Outfielders will be Charlie Rigano, Jack McKernan and Jim McDermott. . . We'd like to congratulate both high schools on their teams and wish them the best of luck next year.

Gibbon Pitches And Bats Tigers To Eighth Victory

BY ED NORTON

In his final appearance in a Mamaroneck uniform, Chuck Gibbon pitched and batted the Orange and Black to their eighth victory of the season yesterday afternoon at Isac Young High as the Tigers whipped the Green and White 7-3. This triumph evened the Bengals' record for a percentage of .500. Gibbon was the outstanding performer for the Hilltoppers as he limited Young to six hits while he connected for two towering home runs off the offerings of Joe Seftner, losing pitcher for Young. Frankie Gironda also got two safe hits for the Tigers while Iarocci and McPherson paced Young at the plate with two bingles apiece in four trips.

Young reached Gibbon for two unearned runs in the bottom half of the first inning as the Bengals seemed to fall apart afield as they made three miscues in this frame that enabled the Green and White to tally their first two runs. Esposito grounded out to Ronnie Pelletier at short to open the frame but Pelletier bobbled the next one to allow Gary to reach first base safely. Gary stole second base and scored when Tony Loiaconi errored on Simmons' grounder to second, allowing Simmons to reach second base. Simmons took third as Loiaconi again miscued on a grounder, this time on Iarocci's bounder. Benevento reached first as Chiclie Rigano dropped his pop to short center as Iarocci had to hold up at third due to Pigano's quick recovery and peg to the infield. Benevento stole second. However as Gibbon stretched to start his motion to Semenza, he whirled and caught Benevento in a run down between second and third with a throw to Loiaconi who had come in to cover the bag. Loiaconi bluffed a throw to third and ran the ball nearly to home plate, forcing Iarocci to break for home where he was tagged out by Condro. Semenza then grounded out to Scott to end the inning.

With two down in the top of the second frame, Bruno Condro got an infield single and went to second on a passed ball by catcher Gary of Young. Ronnie Pelletier then came up with a line single to right to score Condro with the first Tiger tally. Gus Sansone struck out to leave Pelletier stranded on second.

Gibbon shut out Young in the second but the Orange and Black came up with two more runs in the top of the third on the first of Gibbon's tremendous home runs. Gironda opened up the frame by beating out a single to the infield and swiped second base before Loiaconi popped up to Benevento for the first out. Gibbon smashed a drive well over 300 feet off the flag pole in right field for a two run homer. McKernan fanned and Bill Scott drove a ball over the left field fence foul by inches before he gazed at a third strike for the final out of the inning.

Gibbon whitewashed Young in the third and fourth and Seftner did the same to the Bengals in the fourth. But in the fifth, Seftner met his Waterloo. Footsie Gironda once more got the rally under way with a single to right and stole second. Gironda scored home as Benevento let Loiaconi's grounder get away from him and Loiaconi scored ahead of Gibbon as he blasted another ball over past the flag pole in right field for his second successive four-bagger. Seftner was removed from the game in favor of McLeod who set McKernan, Scott and Rigano down in order to snuff out the rally.

Young tallied its last run of the contest in the last of the fifth when Lucci greeted Gibbon with a long triple to left center and scored on a passed ball by Condro. Gibbon fanned Benevento and Semenza but McPherson singled. Gibbon hung up the third out by whiffing Felice, starting McPherson on first.

Both twirlers got by the sixth stanza without any trouble but the Bengals nudged McLeod for their final marker in the top of the seventh frame. Gibbon lifted to Benevento for the first out but Jack McKernan pounded a double to left center. Bill Scott popped back to the pitcher but Charlie Rigano scored McKernan with a long triple to right. Jim McDermott, batting for Bruno Condro bounced out to Benevento for the final out. With one out in the last of the seventh, Iarocci singled to left to set a mild Young threat. Penelia batting for Benevento flied to Gironda but Mastermarino worked Gibbon for a walk. McPherson, who had already collected two hits, made the final out by grounding out to Gironda to end the game.

Postoffice Moves Into 3rd With Triumph Over Bears

The Larchmont Postoffice softball team last night moved into third place in the Twilight Softball League with a 5-4 victory over the Bears who had formerly held down the third spot. The Postoffice scored two runs in the first inning and after the Bears had tied it up in their half of the second, the letermen tallied three times in the first half of the third. The Bears were not taking this defeat hands down. They tallied twice more in the third frame which left the Postoffice with one run more. With both teams playing excellent defensive ball for the last four innings the Riganomen failed to gather a single run and got only two hits while they were holding the Larchmont team scoreless.

Carl Carpino started and finished for the Postmen and won his third game of the season against two losses. Carl scattered the nine safe blows the Bears gathered and prevented run from getting more than three hits in one inning. He was also backed up in fine style by his infield which made nary an error. The Bears were also flawless. The one miscue of the entire contest was made by the winning pitcher Carpino.

Charlie Rigano pitched the first softball game of his career and did a fine job. He walked only four men throughout the contest. He was credited with the only strikeout of the game when he fanned Gary, the first batter in the contest, for the Postoffice.

The Postoffice started the game off with a bang with two runs on three bingles. Gary struck out but Loiaconi and Gibbons singled in succession, placing men on first and third. Mirandi then fled to center with Loiaconi tagging up for the first run. Bruno Condro singled and Gibbon came across with the run that put the Postmen ahead 2-0.

The Bears came right back. Vince Vitti, a Marine home on leave, singled to center but Lerza flied out. Stingone then got a solid bingle and when Zucola also got a single, Vitti came flying home. Footsie Gironda then sizzled to left and Stingone stepped on the platter for the second Bear run. Rigano ended the inning but the Bears had at least tied the contest.

This splurge by the Bears just delayed the Larchmont team's drive to victory. When the third rolled around, the Postmen went to work. The winners got four singles and a base on balls in a row to take possession of the lead. Mirandi led off with a single and Anton followed suite after Bruno Condro had gotten a base on balls. Ralph Condro singled home the second run of the inning and Carpino added another knock to drive across the third.

The Bears scored their and the game's last run in the last of the third inning. Greto received a base on balls from Carpino and went to third on Fava's hit. Iannarelli filed out but Fraiolo singled in the Bears fourth run. Vitti then came to bat and went out, third to first, to end the inning.

The Bears threatened in the sixth. It was all for naught though and the Postmen walked off the field a third place.

Kay Byrne Enters Women's Western Open

CHICAGO, (AP)—Second Lieut. Patty Berg of the Marines will be on hand to defend her title in the Women's Western Open Golf championship at Suburban Park Ridge Country Club June 19-24. Proceeds from the meet will go to some war cause.

In addition to Lieut. Berg, who won the 1943 open crown to climax a comeback in golf after suffering a severe leg injury in an auto accident, other outstanding players entered include Kay Byrne of Rye, N. Y., and Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta, Ga.

Rye Neck Wins As Has Beens Trail, 9 To 5

The Rye Neck A. C. last night defeated the Has Beens, a team made up of sports personalities in the Rye Neck area, in a nine inning softball game by the score of 9—5. Jim Bianca pitched the winners to their triumph and hurled a fine game considering that he was in trouble in almost every inning. Jack Fearon, coach of the Bellows High School baseball team, pitched the contest for the losers and did all right but was let down by some sloppy play on the part of his teammates.

The leading hitters for the contest were Fearon with three hits for the losers while Dick Carpenter collected a similar number for the winners.

AMERICANS CAPTURE CERISY FOREST

Combing The Town

Promoted To Sergeant

William Brooks Smith of the 84th Infantry Regiment, 63rd "Blood and Fire" Division, Camp Van Dorn, Miss., formerly of Chatsworth Gardens, Larchmont, has been promoted from corporal to sergeant.

Since entering the service in September, 1943, Sgt. Smith has received recognition as an expert mortar gunner and rifle sharpshooter. A graduate of Northwestern University in 1930, he formerly served with the New York Seventh Regiment. Mrs. Smith, the former Ann Terrace, resides at the Park Dearborn Hotel, Chicago. His father, William Smith, is stationed in Cleveland with the U. S. Coast Guard.

At Gunnery School

Edward Leroy Grainger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Grainger of 660 Barry Avenue, Mamaroneck, has completed a course of training at the Naval radio school at Memphis, Tenn., and has reported to Hollywood, Fla., to attend gunnery school.

His mother learned this morning that he is now stationed 16 miles from his brother, Radioman 3cl Richard Grainger, who is in Miami and that they have seen each other for the first time in two and a half years. A third brother, Sgt. John W. Grainger is in England with the Eighth Air Force.

Rated as seaman first class, Edward Leroy Grainger attended schools in Roxbury, N. Y. where he played basketball and baseball. He enlisted in the Navy in Utica last November and received his recruit training at Sampson, N. Y.

In Officer Training

S/S Warren D. Holby, Army Medical Corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Duncan Holby of Vine Road, Larchmont, has reported to Officers' Candidate School, Fort Belvoir, Va., after a short stay at home following his return from nearly two years of service in the Middle East.

Stationed for a considerable time in Iran, S/S Holby also served in Eritrea, Cairo and Palestine, flying across Africa from Persia to Brazil, thence to Miami, on the homeward trip.

A graduate of Avon Old Farms, Conn., and Earlham College, Indiana, S/S Holby was with the General Reinsurance Company in New York when he entered the Army in 1942. He received training at Camp Berkeley, Tex., and medical training at El Paso, Tex.

Reports At Airfield

2nd Lt. Edward L. Anning, Air Corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Anning of 21 North Chatsworth Avenue, Larchmont, has reported for duty at the Keesler Field, Biloxi, Miss., unit of the Army Air Forces Training Command for the Village War Council, who told the workers it was "not a time for words but for deeds."

Mr. Silleck also introduced J. D. Rickette of Scarsdale, in charge of waste paper conservation for the county, who assured the men that, within five or six days, all the paper will be transformed into cartons, packing boxes and other usable material for the shipment of supplies overseas.

Mayor B. J. Sanforo added a final word of encouragement to the workers, assuring them that they were participating in a vital piece of war work.

Leo Heithaus, chairman of transportation, then directed the departure of the trucks for the afternoon's work.

Most residents of the Village cooperated with the committee by tying their bundles securely. Mr. Silleck said, but in a few cases the paper was either not tied at all, or so insecurely tied that the bundles fell to pieces when the men picked them up.

Trucks were contributed by J. T. Goodliffe, the Connor Coal Company, the Brewer Coal Company, Crown Radio, Swift Cleaners, Mamaroneck Plumbing Company, Individual Laundry and Happiness Laundry. There were also two village public works trucks in the fleet.

The drivers included Thomas Goodliffe, Jr., Clifford Goodliffe, Joseph DiBuono, Charles Martin, Henry Williams, Clarence Rogers, Harry Crowl, Donald Goolden, Al. Wynn Manning, Alvin Hartung, William O'Connell, Willard Griffin, W. F. Gadney, Walter Heilthaus, Harold Kroell, John Smergs, John Cimaglia, Mrs. Fannie Bonelli, Charles Stenman and Mrs. Lillian McCarthy.

Altogether the trucks covered 264 miles during the course of the afternoon according to the speedometers. The owners will receive an allotment of gasoline from the ODT for the amount used.

More than 100 members of local organizations assisted with the drive, including the members of all Boy Scout troops. Scout leaders who were on duty included Merrill Hodsdon, district chairman; Melvin Doty, Jr., Benjamin Morrell, Frank Herz, James Pastiga and George Ayres.

County Seeks Harbor Land Grant Here

WHITE PLAINS — A grant by the State of New York to Westchester County of a parcel of underwater land in Long Island Sound just southeast of the county's Mamaroneck sewage treatment plant, 1.57 acres in size, is recommended to the supervisors today by the office of James C. Harding, county public works superintendent.

The cost of the survey is put at $150 and the cost of the land at $350, for a total of $500, which the supervisors are expected to authorize.

Mr. Harding wrote also that Mamaroneck Village is seeking an additional grant of underwater land adjoining that request by the county. The parcel sought by the County covers the area where there lies an abandoned bulkhead. The use is in connection with operation of the county sewage plant adjoining.

S-Day Collection Yields 100,000 Pounds Of Paper

20-Trucks Take Part In Village-Wide Pick-Up

With the rapid regularity of the arrival and departure schedule of a municipal bus terminal, 20 trucks drove in and out of the Mamaroneck railroad freight yards all yesterday afternoon depositing loads of waste paper and going back through the Village for more.

Before the end of the day, the bundles of paper completely filled two freight cars and a third, with more than average cubic capacity, was three-quarters full. Charles D. Silleck, chairman of the collection campaign, estimated today that the weight will exceed fifty tons or 100,000 pounds.

The month's quota is 90,000 pounds and the amount collected yesterday represents only the household collections and does not include paper contributed monthly by stores, factories and manufacturers in Mamaroneck. The exact weight of the paper will not be known until the freight cars pass over the scales on the way to the mill, Mr. Silleck said, and the load will starts on its way this afternoon.

The fleet of trucks left the Municipal Building grounds after a brief ceremony at 2 P. M., drove with a police escort down Mamaroneck Avenue to the railroad bridge and there dispersed to their assigned territory to begin the pick-up.

Before the trucks were dispatched, Chairman Silleck introduced the Rev. Frank Dean Gifford, salvage chairman for the Village War Council, who told the workers it was "not a time for words but for deeds."

Mr. Silleck also introduced J. D. Rickette of Scarsdale, in charge of waste paper conservation for the county, who assured the men that, within five or six days, all the paper will be transformed into cartons, packing boxes and other usable material for the shipment of supplies overseas.

Mayor B. J. Sanforo added a final word of encouragement to the workers, assuring them that they were participating in a vital piece of war work.

Leo Heithaus, chairman of transportation, then directed the departure of the trucks for the afternoon's work.

Most residents of the Village cooperated with the committee by tying their bundles securely, Mr. Silleck said, but in a few cases the paper was either not tied at all, or so insecurely tied that the bundles fell to pieces when the men picked them up.

Trucks were contributed by J. T. Goodliffe, the Connor Coal Company, the Brewer Coal Company, Crown Radio, Swift Cleaners, Mamaroneck Plumbing Company, Individual Laundry and Happiness Laundry. There were also two village public works trucks in the fleet.

The drivers included Thomas Goodliffe, Jr., Clifford Goodliffe, Joseph DiBuono, Charles Martin, Henry Williams, Clarence Rogers, Harry Crowl, Donald Goolden, Al. Wynn Manning, Alvin Hartung, William O'Connell, Willard Griffin, W. F. Gadney, Walter Heilthaus, Harold Kroell, John Smergs, John Cimaglia, Mrs. Fannie Bonelli, Charles Stenman and Mrs. Lillian McCarthy.

Altogether the trucks covered 264 miles during the course of the afternoon according to the speedometers. The owners will receive an allotment of gasoline from the ODT for the amount used.

More than 100 members of local organizations assisted with the drive, including the members of all Boy Scout troops. Scout leaders who were on duty included Merrill Hodsdon, district chairman; Melvin Doty, Jr., Benjamin Morrell, Frank Herz, James Pastiga and George Ayres.

S-DAY Pick-Ups

When the first truck reached the platform of the freight yards yesterday, so full of paper that the Boy Scouts were hanging to the sides, the driver stopped, then went around to help the boys unload and — as fast as that—there wasn't a Scout in sight. Unable to tackle the job alone, the driver went in search of them and found them in the Red Cross canteen, heads tipped back under bottles of Pepsi-Cola. After the refreshments, they were back on the job.

The Red Cross Canteen under the direction of Mrs. Ronald Tocum and Disaster Chairman Ralph Mann, served 456 bottles of Pepsi-Cola during the afternoon. In order to be sure to have enough doughnuts, they ordered 20 dozen. The doughnuts were gone, it was reported this morning, before the afternoon was over.

No injuries were reported, but one member of a Scout troop came close to having a free ride to the paper mill. He was reported up in the inside corner of one of the freight cars "filling up the chinks" as two workers threw bundles to him. The personnel on the throwing end changed, however, and several people continued to throw who didn't know there was a small Scout on the receiving end. After a while they heard a yell and clamored up to dig a tousled Scout out from under a pile of magazines.

The paper collected by Scout troops will benefit from the weight were driven to the coal scales in the Conner and Goodliffe yards and weighed before it was unloaded. The troops will receive their share of the salvage money when it is sent to the salvage committee.

The air raid wardens, under the direction of Chief Warden William Kuhn, covered the territory in their respective districts reminding householders who were also slow getting their paper out, and offering string to help with the tying. When each warden had checked his district, he telephoned the Volunteer Office that the job was done in readiness for the trucks.

Most of the bundles contained the usual stack of newspapers and magazines, but one offering was reported that called for a couple of men to handle: a large wallpaper sample book mounted on a

Accounting for more Eagle Scouts this year than any other district in the Siwanoy Council, the Larchmont District, Boy Scouts of America, will honor members at the Court of Honor scheduled for Friday, at 7:45 P. M. at the Larchmont Station Plaza Park, it is announced by Hoyt Smith, chairman of the Court of Honor and of the advancement committee.

Merit badges will be awarded to 73 scouts; 10 will advance to second class and eight to first class, with 11 new Star rank advancements, two Life rank, and one Eagle. There are now more Eagle Scouts than ever before in the history of Larchmont scouting according to Mr. Smith.

Urged on by the loud speakers, the booth reported subscriptions of $4,525 issue price. Mrs. Fred W. Spoehler was in charge, assisted by Mrs. Julius Silver and Miss Chariotte Davies.

Larchmont's Quota Set At Half Million As Fifth War Loan Drive Gets Under Way; First Mamaroneck Rally Yields $116,000

$27,000 Raised Before Start Of Campaign In Village, Wendel Says

The first 5th War Bond drive rally in Mamaroneck Saturday night at the Beach Point Club on Orienta Point added $116,000 in individual subscriptions to the amount already raised, Gabriel Wendel, chairman of the War Finance Committee in Mamaroneck announced today. Between June 1 and June 10 a total of $17,407.50 for individuals and $10,000 for companies has been raised, Mr. Wendel said. These figures do not include the amount subscribed at the rally.

The Beach Point Club rally was more or less impromptu, according to Mrs. Leonard Levine, wife of one of the chairmen of the rally.

"Mr. Levine called Laurence J. Hirsch during the day," Mrs. Levine said, "and both together suggested the rally. Lawrence S. Greenbaum was the third chairman. Our auctioneers were Marvin Haskel and Edwin K. Latz, Jack Karpen, president of the club, and several of the directors were called. They promptly gave their consent and said it was an excellent idea.

"Put one real inspiration for the rally was Major Martin F. Rockmore, 1st Division, U. S. Marines. Major Rockmore has just received the Silver Star and Presidential Citation. He was in three major campaigns in the Pacific and returned only two weeks ago. He will go to Quantico, Va. this week. He was present with Mrs. Rockmore and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rockmore.

"There was great enthusiasm during the rally. We plan to hold additional dances and will continue to take bond subscriptions all during the drive.

"We would have raised even more money over the weekend, but we ran out of subscription forms, not out of subscribers."

The figure of $17,047.50 was made up by 230 individual subscriptions, Mr. Wendel said. They were reported as follows: County Trust Company, 134 individuals, $13,006.25; Union Savings Bank, 35 individuals, $2,095.00, Post Office, 31 individuals, $1,987.50; Mamaroneck Federal Savings and Loan, 10 individuals, $318.75. All amounts quoted are issue value, not maturity value. The quota is based on issue value.

Assisting at the War Bond booth on the station platform this morning, Mrs. Edward Lebels, co-chairman of the drive, said, were Mrs. Julius Silver and Miss Charlotte Davies. They circulated among the commuters and took subscriptions on the spot.

The Commuters Bond House opens officially today. Here com-

PVT. FRANK PAONESSA

Pvt. Paonessa Wins Citation For Courage

During the first week in May when the American troops were fighting to hold an important position on the Anzio Beachhead, Pvt. Frank Paonessa of Mamaroneck, not only had the distinction of being nearer to Rome than any other soldier, but he was awarded a citation from his commanding officer for his "skill and determination, disregard for personal safety, display of courage, undaunted spirit and devotion to duty."

The climax of the week came when Pvt. Paonessa received the citation. He found that another soldier, whose platoon had distinguished itself, was also receiving one, and, after giving him a close look, discovered that it was Fred Opper of Mount Vernon, a boy he had played against in basketball when he was a student at Mamaroneck High School.

Pvt. Paonessa has been an infantryman ever since he entered the service in March, 1942. He went overseas last May and has participated in the invasion of Sicily and Italy. He is the son of Frank Paonessa of 160 Waverly Avenue.

The citation, signed by Major M. S. Davison of the 179th Infantry, refers to the assignment of Pvt. Paonessa's platoon to an outpost only 25 yards from the German foremost emplacements while the battalion defended a difficult sector of the beachhead. It reads, in part, as follows:

Residents Urged By McGrath To Purchase Bonds At Home

A quota of a half a million dollars has been set for the Larchmont Postal District for the Fifth War Loan drive which opened today, it is announced by Benedict F. McGrath, chairman of the War Finance Committee of Larchmont. Westchester County's quota is $61,585,000 with the national quota set at 16 billion.

Issuing agents are the Bank of Westchester, main office and Post Road branch; Larchmont post-office and the Larchmont Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Subscribers are urged by Mr. McGrath to buy locally. He emphasized that in the case of "E" series bonds the community does not receive credit unless purchased in Larchmont. Credit for the purchase of bonds other than series "E" may be allocated to Larchmont wherever purchased if purchasers fill out the proper form which may be obtained through the issuing agent where the bonds are purchased.

Mr. McGrath will be assisted during the drive which continues throughout July 8 by George E. Mills of the Bank of Westchester, vice-chairman in charge of statistics; Postmaster Frank Egger, vice-chairman, Mrs. James E. Curtis, vice-chairman and chairman of the Women's Division, and Miss Agatha Blasi of the Bank of Westchester who will assist Mr. Mills in the compilation of statistics.

Ex-Officers Of Fire Dept. Win Tribute

The officers and ex-officers of the Larchmont Fire Department dined Saturday night at the Hotel Bevan, Larchmont, to honor men who retired as officers of their company, and the department last April. Among those honored was ex-Chief Alexis B. Cunneen, who retired to put the chieftship of the department in the hands of John T. Breunich, who acted as toastmaster.

In introducing ex-Chief Cunneen, Chief Breunich paid tribute to his leadership and stated that under him the department had been brought to a "high pitch of efficiency" as the result of the course of instruction which he had instituted.

Acknowledging the introduction and thanking the members for the gift presented by his fellow firemen, ex-Chief Cunneen said:

"When we all get together, I assume it is for good times. So I don't want to get too serious.

"However, there are two things I would like to point out. First, you officers are the brains of the fire department. You must train yourselves and your men to take care of the life of the community. These bills are fire. There is no substitute for frequent inspections of danger spots to take care of these ills. Secondly, the chief responsibility for fire prevention rests with the warden. He must be trained as an inspector so that he may know what he is seeking to prevent. He must know what he is inspecting.

"A warden has assumed the responsibility of protecting life and

OUR TROOPS PUSH AHEAD IN NORMANDY

Carentan Falls In Advance Of 18 Miles

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, (AP)—American troops have driven 18 miles inland in the middle of the Normandy Beachhead, capturing the whole forest of Cerisy, and the German High Command said today that the strategic stronghold of Carentan had fallen to U. S. forces.

The smashing advance through the eriay Forest punched the deepest dent yet in the Nazi line, striking three-quarters of the way across the neck of the Cherbourg Peninsula.

Doughboys were converging on St. Lo, communications hub in the center of Normandy, less than nine miles away, from the north and east.

14 Miles From Cherbourg

Headquarters did not confirm the fall of Carentan, guarding the narrowest neck of Cherbourg Peninsula, but said Americans were within 14 miles of Cherbourg itself from the northeast, and had punched half-way across the cape, threatening to seal off the tip.

German broadcasts said Caen, eastern bastion of the 60-mile long front, was menaced by encirclement—with British troops slashing nine miles east of the city.

The Germans said Carentan, whose floodgates control the main peninsular water defense system, was evacuated in order to continue to stand on ground less exposed to Allied naval guns.

As for Caen, German broadcasts said that a British drive had reached nearly to Troarn, nine miles due east of that Bastion, and that Allied parachutists had landed south of Caen. British troops were driving down west of Caen threatening the other flank. Field Marshal Erwin Rommel has mounted his fiercest armored counter-attacks in this Caen sector, and Berlin said major British forces were concentrating for a full-fledged assault on the town.

St. Lo Communications Hub

In the center of the 60-mile-long front, American troops were advancing toward St. Lo, a prize communications hub 20 miles inland.

As the American frontal attack across the Merderet River on Cherbourg Peninsula reached within 12 miles of the west coast roads whose capture would seal off Cherbourg — Vichy radio said doughboys had pushed into Quineville on the east coast.

This would put Lieut.-Gen. Omar N. Bradley's flank within 14 miles of Cherbourg on a four-mile front between Quineville and Montebourg, where street fighting was reported.

The Germans, apparently reeling under the force of the first invasion week, said 300,000 to 400,000 Allied troops already had been poured into a mighty bridgehead flood and that these represented only third of the amphibious assault forces poised in Britain to hammer home attacks against the continent.

The Germans said the Allies had crossed the Orne Estuary, ferrying over tanks to threaten Caen.

Soviets Gaining Fast In Major Karelian Push

MOSCOW, (AP) Launching a major offensive designed to knock Finland out of the war and isolate approximately 100,000 Nazi troops in the northern part of that country, the Red Army rolled forward along the Karelian Isthmus above Leningrad today after cracking Finnish defenses on a 25-mile front.

A communique last night announcing the new drive said Soviet troops already had advanced 12 to 25 miles, and indicated they were moving forward everywhere in high gear.

This offensive evidently was coordinated closely with Allied operations in France, and represented a step in the grand Allied strategy worked out at the Teheran Conference.

Troops launched the push Friday, just one month after the fall of Sevastopol—a month devoid of major activity along the long front.

The Soviet communique declared Russian forces had captured 82 towns and villages, including the rail junction of Terijoki, 27 miles airline northwest of Leningrad and 150 miles east of the Finnish capital of Helsinki.

Hit-Run Crash Calls Police And Firemen

A fire alarm, an accident report and a hit and run driver alarm came into the Mamaroneck Village Police Department within a few seconds shortly before 10 o'clock last night sending fire apparatus, the police ambulance and patrol cars to the corner of Palmer Avenue and Fenimore Road.

There they found Mrs. Carlo Cassata of Larchmont Acres who had pulled the alarm in the fire box when she thought a fire was breaking out in a station wagon following collision with another car which had left the scene.

Mrs. Cassata said she and her husband had witnessed the accident and she had gone to the fire box where her husband swung his car around and gave chase to the fugitive driver.

The run-away was finally stopped in Larchmont when Mr. Cassata signalled Lieut. Paul Euler of the Town of Mamaroneck Police Department. Lieut. Euler took him to Weaver Street headquarters, where the village police were notified and Patrolman James Hughes sent to bring him to Mamaroneck.

Identified as Emile H. Talmon of 11 Broadmoor Road, Scarsdale, the driver said he had been rushing to get his passenger, Lieut. (j. g.) James Moynahan, to the station to board a train to get back to his Staten Island Coast Guard base, when the accident occurred. He was arrested on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

The driver of the station wagon was Robert Mosbacker, 17 of 324 Rosedale Avenue, White Plains, who told the police he was travelling east on Palmer Avenue when the Talmon car, going south on Fenimore Road, collided with him. Arthur P. Davis, 17, a passenger in the station wagon, was treated for cuts and bruises of the right knee.

Talmon was fined $25 in Village Police Court this morning by Police Judge Patrick J. Hughes. Mosbacker pleaded not guilty to a charge of operating a vehicle without a license and the case was adjourned.

Mrs. Amelia H. Hotelet of North Chatsworth Avenue, Larchmont, and Mrs. Mabel McElroy of Briarcliff Road, Larchmont, were nominated last week by the executive committee of the Democratic Party of Westchester County, as delegate and alternate, respectively, from the Town of Mamaroneck, to serve at the County Judicial Convention scheduled for August in White Plains. They will be voted upon on primary day Aug. 1.

Society Installs Kent Wood Leader Of Young People

Kent Wood was installed president of the Young People's Society of the Larchmont Avenue Church Sunday evening after a worship service in the church balcony room and an outdoor supper at Flint Park.

Other officers installed included Adrienne Cramer, vice-president; Joan Speyer, secretary, and Arthur Chadbourne, treasurer.

Officers for the coming year are Larelda Land, worship committee chairman; Mary Allen Phelps and Knight Washburn, program chairman; Betsey Cook, recreation chairman.

The outdoor supper was one of the features of the closing meeting of the society.

The balcony room was decorated with June roses and lighted by candles. The cross, rose and a tall white taper formed the worship center to which the officers were called by Robert M. Totton, outgoing president. Dr. Floyd E. McGuire gave the pastor's charge.

Each officer lighted a candle from the taper representing Christ as the Light of the World and pledged his faithfulness in performing his new duties. The group joined hands and sang "Blessed Be the Tie That Binds." William Scott gave the benediction.

At the worship service preceding the installation the call to worship was given by William Scott; hymns were announced by Knight Washburn; Carol Ernst read the responsive reading; Mary Lynn Hogg gave the prayer and Robert M. Totton presented the worship story, "The Church of Lighted Lamps."

A recreation period completed the evening. Among those present were Mary Lynn Hogg of Salem Academy, N. C., John Scott of Amherst, Tom Parker of the U. S. Maritime Training Station, Sheepshead Bay, L.I., Walter Mott, James Kitchell of Staunton Military Academy, and Ted Schad of Virginia Military Institute.

Junior High Group

The Junior High Group of the Larchmont Avenue Church installed officers at the final meeting Sunday evening in the church house.

Ruth Juillerat, past president, gave the call to worship. Jean Davis led the litany dedication and Gary Thomas gave the offertory sentence and announced the hymns. The newly-elected officers formed a semi-circle in front of the worship center and participated in a candelight installation service.

David Hampton, adult leader, gave the charges to the officers, followed by a prayer dedication. Barbara Parke, president, pronounced the benediction. Organists were presented to Virginia Scott, pianist for the group, Ruth Juillerat and Barbara Parke for perfect attendance.

A large birthday cake with two candles to represent the second anniversary of the group made a centerpiece for the refreshment table. Mrs. David Hampton cut the cake. Ice cream and punch were served by Robert Schad, Tennyson Schad, Sally Pearse and Barbara Parke.

Outdoor picnics will be arranged during the summer months.

Parental Neglect Named One Cause Of Delinquency

Parental neglect rather than genuine delinquency is at the bottom of most cases of juvenile delinquency, according to Mrs. B. Harold Brod, district superintendent of the Westchester Children's Court, who spoke Saturday at a garden party meeting of 60 Hunter Alumnae in Westchester, at the home of Mrs. James Picker, "The Hommocks," Larchmont.

Mrs. Brod also traced the increase of delinquency to sudden financial opportunity following a long period of depression.

"A careful study of causes, however, makes it possible to put about 90 per cent of the children on probation," she stated. The court works on the theory that it has two functions—to protect society and to guard the welfare of the individual child. It works, therefore, to improve the home conditions that cause delinquency and has much success in making good citizens out of young offenders.

Mrs. John G. Horgan, Tuckahoe, president, announced that plans for the coming year included a series of book talks and bridges to take the place of general meetings during the period of gasoline shortage.

Trooping With Girl Scouts

By HELEN DUNCAN

Scouts and friends of Scouting buy your War Stamps and Bonds at the new Girl Scout Booth.

The Fifth War Loan drive in Mamaroneck has started with five fine Girl Scouts taking over the responsibility of a stamp and bond selling booth at the A and P market on Mamaroneck Avenue. Those who have been selected for this important civic task are Gloria and Agnes Battipaglia, Irene Lerza from Troop 2 and Audrey Steffes and Magdalene Pereshko from Troop 1. They have been very businesslike with their plans. They will be selling stamps each Friday from 4:30 to 6; again on Saturday morning from 9:30 to 11 and 2 to 4 in the afternoon. Two girls will be on duty for each period with an alternative always available.

They will have 10 and 25 cent stamps on hand. Anyone wanting to buy a bond is most welcome. Here the five girls have worked out a plan for a personal messenger service. Buy a Bond and we how quickly and promptly you will receive it.

The Mamaroneck Chamber of Commerce gets a big vote of thanks from the Girl Scouts for advancing to them the money to buy the stamps. Gabriel Wendel, we thank you, too, for all your assistance.

Many of Mamaroneck Girl Scouts will buy their stamps at their booth now that most of the schools are closing their booths for the Summer months. Shoppers in the super market will get to know the willingness and efficiency of these five Scouts and will buy their weekly quota at this booth.

Mrs. V. J. Boyle, service chairman, is to be thanked for getting the booth in one of Mamaroneck's very busy stores.

Since before Pearl Harbor, the Girl Scouts have been in the vanguard of youth organizations in selling and promoting the sale of War Bonds and Stamps. Although no exact figures are available, it is estimated that, in the 7,000 communities in which Girl Scouting is represented in the United States and its possessions, more than $20,000,000 worth of War Bonds and Stamps have been bought by Girl Scouts, or sold through the efforts of Girl Scouts.

One shut-in Scout in Kentucky sold more than $250,000 worth of Bonds and Stamps by telephone solicitation. The Girl Scouts of a small town in Ohio accumulated for more than $300,000 worth of sales in one drive. These are outstanding examples but they are typical of the efforts and results of Girl Scouting in all parts of the country.

The Fifth War Loan drive was given an official, pre-drive send-off by the Girls Scouts on May 23 when the Scouts, in cooperation with the National Father's Day Committee, sold Father Bond rosettes to the governors of most of the 48 states. Mrs. Franklin Delano Roosevelt bought one of the rosettes for the President on that day at Arthurdale, W. Va.

During the Fifth War Loan drive Girl Scouts in various parts of the country will assist with clerical work in local War Finance offices, and in the distribution of posters and pamphlets, make Victory corsages of War Stamps, provide messenger service, help in special displays, and give other types of assistance to the local committees. This type of service is typical of the work that Girl Scouts have always performed. In the last World War, a special medal was struck off by the Treasury Department and presented to the Girl Scouts for their extraordinary assistance in the Liberty Bond drives.

Scouts, don't forget that Tuesday is flag day and you are invited to parade. All Scouts are to meet at 6:30 at Columbus Park near the Mamaroneck Railroad Station. The end of the parade will be at the Elks Club on the Post Road.

And now last, but not least, Jean Brown is back from Florida. We welcome her back to her column and her fine comments on scouting activities in Mamaroneck. Thus does this columnist retire to her homely duties with the words "Thanks for reading."

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

LEARN BRIDGE FAST
19—Leads at No Trump

WHEN THE bidding is over and the contract determined, the play begins with the most important single act by the defenders—the opening lead. It is most important because it, more or less sets the tempo for the entire defense of the hand, and also has a mighty influence on what the declarer must do.

Fine defensive players think of their role more as attack than defense, as if they are attacking a position chosen by the declarer. That is why they generally lead their longest suit against a No Trump contract. By so doing, and by repeating the suit, they hope to get some of its tricks established as trick-takers, in addition to whatever high cards they can take.

The particular card of the suit to lead, depends on what high cards are at the top of the suit. If it is topped by what is called an "honor combination," they lead an honor. For such purposes, an honor combination is "any three of the top six cards of the suit if any two of them are touching honors." Thus, Q-J-9-4-2 would be a suit headed by an honor combination because the Q and J are touching honors, whereas A-Q-10-4-2 or K-J-9-6-3 would contain the necessary three high cards, but with none of them touching, and therefore not what is called an "honor combination."

When the suit has an "honor combination," the lead is from the touching honors, the top card of the touchers except when the touchers are the A-K, when the lead is the K. So from the A-10-9, the lead would be the 10 as the top of the touchers, from the Q-J-9, it would be the Q, from the A-K-J it would be the K, from the K-Q-10 it would be the K, from the K-J-10 it would be the J. Leaves with all other such combinations of three of the cards ranged from the 9 up, with two or more touching. The lead is the top of the touchers except when they include the A-K, when it is the K.

The purpose of that is to help establish the suit in the most rapid way, making it impossible for the declarer to take the first trick with some small card.

But when the long suit does not contain such an honor combination, the accepted lead is the fourth-best card of it. Thus, the lead from K-10-8-6-3 would be the 6, from A-9-6-5-3 it would be the 5, from 10-7-5-3 it would be the 3, and so on. A great majority of all leads made by good players against No Trump are such fourth-best leads, as holdings which justify such a lead are far more frequent than those calling for other leads.

If your partner had bid a suit during the auction, it is usually best to disregard your own long suit and lead his. Then the best lead is generally your highest card of it, unless you hold four of it or three headed by an honor. With any number headed by an honor as high as the J, it is usually best to underlead the honor so you can hold it to later possibly kill some lesser honor in the declarer's hand. If you have four, the best lead is usually fourth-best, unless you have touching honors, when you lead the top of the touchers, unless they be the A-K, when the K is the lead.

Sometimes your hand will be so weak, with no high cards for entries, that it seems hopeless; in which case it may be better to forget your own long suit and lead a short one which seems likely to be your partner's, even if he had not bid, in the hope that you may help him set up his suit. Then you should usually lead the top card of the suit.

There will be times also when the various bids made by your opponents during the auction will guide you in selection of a lead, but that is a subject to be reserved for later lessons.

Tomorrow: Leads at a Suit.
