Let There Be Magic Bubbling In Your Kettle, For It's Time To Make Rows Of Sparkling Jelly

EDITOR'S NOTE This mouth-watering piece of expert advice about jellies is one more delicious morsel of a whole series of Tuesday instalments, which have been coming to you for these last fourteen weeks. Three more to come.

By JANE PAYNE
Westchester Lighting Company

Whiff deep! There's magic bubbling in our canning kettle; and its bewitching fragrance carries you back to Mother's kitchen, where rows of sparkling jellies stood on the window ledge to set.

Remember, when she turned that jelly out, how it swayed from side to side? Yet it kept its equilibrium, and Mother smiled in satisfaction.

Jelly-making is always satisfying. And not difficult! It just needs know-how.

Let's take grape jelly, for example:

Concord grapes are ready for taking, as witness those blue clusters hanging rich and heavy from the vine and overbowing to the markets.

Select a mixture of fully ripe (for flavor) and under-ripe (for acid and pectin). Go easy on the under-ripe or your jelly will weep. So will you, for it will have lost flavor.

If uncertain whether the mixture is right, make this test for pectin: Mix two teaspoons of sugar and one tablespoon of Epsom salts with two tablespoons of cooked juice. Within 20 minutes there should be heavy flaking or even a semi-gelatinous mass. If neither occurs, add the juice of tart apples or use a commercial pectin (by packer's directions).

However, we have gotten ahead of our story, which should start with thorough washing. The cleaner the fruit, the clearer the jelly. Remove stems, which give off-flavor; crush grapes slightly, and for each pound add one-fourth cup of water.

Cook just until juice flows freely. Here, or in the syrup stage that's coming up, overcooking destroys pectin, deadens flavor and darkens color.

Turn into a clean jelly bag of Canton flannel or unbleached muslin, rinsed in hot water to cut absorption of precious juice. Let it drip-drip by itself. Impatient pressing makes jelly cloudy.

Anyway, that's all till tomorrow. Grape juice should stand covered in your refrigerator for 24 hours, while any hidden tartaric acid crystals settle out. When you measure the juice, pour it off carefully so as not to disturb this sediment.

Never work with more than eight cups of juice, and use three-quarters cup of sugar for each of juice. Choose a kettle at least four times the volume of the mixture and let the syrup boil vigorously. Stir only occasionally; and wait till the end of cooking to skim off foam.

Test for doneness by dipping a large spoon into the syrup and holding it horizontally. Sooner than you expect, the jelly will no longer run off in a stream but will separate into two drops. Test again. Those drops sheet together, flatten and slide off the spoon. Your jelly's done!

Skim and pour boiling hot into sterile glasses; wipe rims and seal with paraffin. If commercial pectin has been used, seal immediately. Otherwise, you can wait until the jelly sets.

And there they stand; a dozen glasses of jelly from only six pounds of grapes. Not bad!

So, go easy on the butter, kids; but help yourselves to jelly!

*Cereal Cookies
1 1-2 cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1-4 teaspoon salt
1-2 cup shortening
1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 egg
1-2 cup ready-to-eat whole bran cereal
1-2 cup grapenuts or contents of one one-ounce box

Put cake flour, baking powder and salt into sifter. Cream shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Beat egg and add to fat-sugar and mix well. Add bran, grapenuts and other dry ingredients and mix well. Take a level teaspoon of the mixture up and turn out on greased cooky sheet with a spatulate knife, leaving at least 1 1-2 inches between each cooky for spreading during baking. Bake in a hot (425F.) oven for about seven to 10 minutes; allow to stand for a second before removing to cooky rack with spatulate knife. If cookies get too crisp to remove easily put back in oven to soften for a second, then remove at once. Makes about 80 thin crisp cookies.

Unhappy Teachers Blame Tyrannies For School Woes

By ANGELO PATRI

There is a feeling of uneasiness among teachers in the public schools of a democracy. In education is a fine theory but tyranny in office is the practice. Why this should be so is something for educational leaders and community service people to study and correct.

Teachers are hard-working, over-strained people. They are sensitive; otherwise they could not be teachers. A mother finds one young child a great strain. A teacher who lives with 40 to 50 of them in one room, hour after hour, day after day, trying to help them to learn and to grow in grace and intelligence endures a strain on the nervous system that only highly trained, finely adjusted people can stand.

Yet added to the strain of the children's activity is this tyrannical attitude of some of the supervisors—far too many, however few they may be in actual numbers. There are still places in this country where school heads are appointed on the basis of politics, race and religion. Among such—and even among the well trained ones there are occasional offenders — we find the tyrants. Of course, they are ignorant of the fundamentals of their profession. This ignorance is what permits their wrong attitudes and creates a feeling of unhappiness in the teachers who suffer under their rule.

What would you think of the school head who deprived the whole school of its movies because there was a scrap of chewing gum paper found on the corridor floor? Of one who would deprive a whole class of its recess because the line was broken, a pupil out of step, as the class filed down the hall? Or of one who, angered because so many windows were broken, called the teachers to a conference that lasted from three o'clock until five — the conference being a monologue concerning the laxity of teachers' discipline.

Many years ago a principal ordered me to do something which a few hours before he had told me not to do. "But I thought—" I began. "You thought. Never mind what you thought. I'm doing the thinking here, young man. You're doing what you're told."

I thought this breed was extinct until these last 10 years, when the unhappiness of teachers throughout the country plainly was manifested in resignations, retirements and strikes.

Boards of Education, parents, good citizens everywhere: Are your teachers happy? If they are not, your children are being cheated of an education, for upon the spirit of the teaching force the growth and development of our children largely depend. Take a look behind the scenes. Do something about it.

the plant, complained to the board recently about the noise.

The county council of the Veterans of Foreign Wars was denied permission to operate a "Mardi Gras" on Harbor Island, proceeds of which were to be used to aid hospitalized veterans.

Appearing for the V.F.W. were Roland L. Walsh of the New Rochelle V.F.W. post and John J. Meehan, county commander.

The board, in reluctantly denying the request, informed the V.F.W. representatives that a village ordinance prohibits bazaars and similar functions unless they are held on property owned by the organization promoting them. Mayor Sanford Smith said that the recent carnival of the Mamaroneck Fire Department was an exception in that the department is a municipal organization.

Construction of water mains by the Westchester Joint Waterworks No. 1 on Edward Place, Green Meadow Lane, and Orienta, Lester, Nostrand and Howard Avenues at a total cost of $11,056.50 to the Village, was authorized by the board. The water extensions were necessitated by new housing developments.

A public hearing was set for Oct. 11 on the application of Joseph De Maria to purchase a "reserve strip" of land owned by the Village which runs between lots he owns in Mamaroneck Knolls on Mamaroneck Avenue.

The following bids on in rem property were opened by the board and referred to the Village Manager for tabulation and report at the next meeting:

A bid of $4,000 on Section 8, Block 57, Lots 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 by Gordon V. Lyons. The land, located on Mamaroneck Avenue near Hillside Avenue, will be used to erect a clothing factory if the bid is accepted. Part of the land is on the site of the proposed curtain factory, plans for which were abandoned about a year ago. Such a factory, according to Joseph F. Paillace, Mr. Lyons' agent, would add considerably to the village tax rolls and provide more employment.

A bid of $1,000 on Section 8, Block 46, Lot 4 by Bernardo Fraioli. The land is located on Mamaroneck Avenue near Winfield Avenue.

A bid of $240 on Section 8, Block 87, Lot 35 by Joseph and Ersilla Ricci. The land is at the rear of a house they own on Center Avenue.

The Mamaroneck Veterans' Service Agency handled 153 personal interviews and 94 phone calls in August, according to a report filed by Harry T. Leikert, deputy director. The queries answered by the agency were as follows: indexing, 77; education, 18; State bonus, 30; terminal leave, 15; pensions, 11; housing, 9; insurance, 8; legal aid, 8; on-the-job training, 7; subsistence pay, 7; loans, 7; civil service, 2; apprentice training, 2; burial, 1; and readjustment pay, 1.

HEALTH CENTER AIDS 15 CAMPERS

Through the efforts of the Mamaroneck Health Center, 15 children enjoyed Summer camping experiences, Mrs. George W. Brown, welfare chairman, reported at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Health Center held yesterday morning.

Mrs. Brown said the children were able to spend from one to four weeks in camps due to the generosity of Mamaroneck individuals and organizations. She expressed the thanks of her committee to the Red Cross Motor Corps for transporting the campers from their homes and back.

Mrs. Emerson C. Hayworth, chairman of the nursing committee, reported that during July and August the nursing staff had covered 517 field visits, 48 office visits and that 21 clinics had been held

She also announced that Mrs. Martha Bartel, who had been associated with the Health Center for the last 10 years as Public Health Nurse, had been transferred to Harrison. Mrs. Bartel will be Senior Public Health Nurse for the Town of Harrison.

Mrs. M. Joseph Borst, executive secretary, said that the Health Center loan closet had proved a boon to several local residents this Summer. Three hospital beds, two wheel chairs, several pairs of crutches and air rings have been loaned to people needing them. The Health Center has recently purchased a new modern hospital bed, she added.

Mrs. Thomas E. Healley, president, presided over the meeting which was attended by Mrs. Paul Brautigam, Mrs. M. E. Marsland, Mrs. F. S. Rathbone, Mrs. John Spader, Mrs. Charles E. Howard, Mrs. W. L. McLaughlin, Mrs. George Ayers, Mrs. Heyworth, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Borst and Mrs. A. P. Callahan.

Gamble

foregoing, Gamble declared, "that we have gone a long way toward liquidating the actual housing shortage. Even assuming a continuation of business at its present high level, this shortage will have been eliminated in a minimum of two to three years and a maximum of three to five.

He added, however, that "it is apparent to all of us that the housing problem is not settled."

"Indeed, I do not think it will be settled even when there is a surplus of vacant dwelling units," Gamble said. "It will not be settled for the simple reason that for 16 years the New Deal has disseminated a propaganda for so that now considerable numbers of people erroneously regard slum clearance as housing and think of the word housing as being synonymous with that public housing which can be provided only through Federal government ownership and operation."

Ralph H. Davies of Utica, executive vice president of the Homestead Savings and Loan Association, urged his colleagues to take advantage of the Federal Housing Administration's insured mortgage financing.

"We are loaning today on inflated valuations," he said. "and when the levelling of period arrives we might find ourselves with loans in excess of the true value of the property and be faced with losses beyond our ability to assume.

through Mamaroneck at a loss, depending on a profitable main line operation. He said there was a serious question whether the firm would be able to maintain its other routes if the competition from the Fordham Transit Company should prove too severe. He also cited the sums that the companies have paid to the Village of Mamaroneck in taxes.

Mr. Zwick presented bus and train schedules to the board and asked that they be inspected before a decision was made.

Lloyd Rice of Sterling Avenue said that the schedules handed out by the County Transportation Company are "hit-and-miss," and that the service is not dependable. He said that the proposed Bronx route would be very worthwhile.

Sol Pasciliner, attorney for the Fordham Transit Company, informed the board that the company is not in competition with either the County Transportation Company or the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad. He said the County bus company's service is strictly in-county, while the railroad does not serve the Bronx.

lot after being denied the use of the facilities at a nearby service station, they told police.

Dr. Baird said that the action creates a serious health hazard, especially during warm weather.

Mr. Silleck and Jack Holland agreed that a law should be passed to require bus companies to provide lavatory facilities along the route they are using.

Malcolm D. Brown of 141 Florence Street suggested that the village prohibit buses from stopping without a license to do so, and also suggested that a law be introduced in the State Legislature to require bus companies carrying men from their homes and back.

Mrs. Emerson C. Hayworth, chairman of the nursing committee, reported that during July and August the nursing staff had covered 517 field visits, 48 office visits and that 21 clinics had been held fice of Military Government for Berlin.

Berlin

Glaser leaves tomorrow for the United States after serving in Berlin since the beginning of the joint occupation in July, 1945. He told newsmen three years of "daily shirt sleeve negotiations" with the Russians had been tough, but confidently asserted:

"The Russians and Communism have proved themselves morally, ethically and ideologically bankrupt in Berlin.

"The proof of this lies in recent events," he said. "They now have descended to rioting and resorted to force against Democratic procedures to resist control which they could never gain otherwise."

Clay said the next step, if the Moscow talks fail, would be to bring the Berlin crisis before the United Nations Security Council as a threat to peace.

Speaking of the Soviet-sponsored drive for withdrawal of all occupation forces from Germany, the American commander said:

"This could become very popular in Germany, but not now. Fear of Communist domination is very great. The Germans would be very disturbed at the withdrawal of our army."

"We set out to have a very different job in Germany anyhow. I don't know what we came here for in the first place if we are going to get out now."

Asked whether the combined British-American army maneuvers in Bavaria had proved anything, Clay branded as "ridiculous" reports that the operation simulated defensive action against a Russian invasion.

Asked if the Western Allied forces in Germany were strong enough to fight such an invasion Clay said;

"If we were waiting for an immediate war with the Soviets, they would not be adequate."

Clay said negotiations among the military governors here had "not been broken off, but suspended by mutual agreement to resume on call. They may partially be returned to Moscow."

Speaking of prospects for the Winter, if the city remains under Soviet blockade, Clay said, "We may not be at war as in the past, but there are no plans to evacuate the x x x children of the U. S. community."

CAR DAMAGED IN CRASH

The left rear fender, bumper and left rear door of a car driven by Frank Brosco of 540 Fourth Street, Mamaroneck was damaged at 8:30 A. INDIAN INVADERS TAKE RAJASUR

NEW DELHI, (AP) — Indian troops in a lightning invasion of Hyderabad captured today the town of Rajasur, halfway from their jumping off point of Sholapur to Hyderabad City, heart and capital of the princely state.

Another tank-led column thundering down from the northwest was reported approaching town of Jalna on the nizam's state railroad after a penetration of 70 miles into Hyderabad. Jalna is 250 miles from the capital.

Rajasur is 90 miles to the west and in the area where the Indian Army had found its hardest resistance.

The Indians driving in from the east captured Sutlapet, 90 miles east of Hyderabad City.

Troops in the northwest also captured Daulatabad, also a communications center 60 miles west of Jalna against "strong resistance."

The successes were recounted in a defense ministry communique issued shortly after noon when the invasion was less than 96 hours old.

Hyderabad Defenders Put Indian Losses at 1,000

KARACHI, Pakistan, (AP)—A communique from the Hyderabad Defense Ministry said today Indian troops suffered 1,000 casualties on the first day of their invasion of the princely state.

(An Indian Army communique issued in New Delhi this morning said one Indian column, in Western Hyderabad, had lost 100 killed and 150 captured.)

On the northern front, the communique said, the forces of the Moslem nizam recaptured one village within eight hours after Indian troops took it. An earlier communique received here last night said the Indian advance had been stopped on all fronts.

When the word spread in Karachi, the capital of Moslem Pakistan, that Indian troops had invaded Hyderabad there were immediate demonstrations calling for Pakistan to declare war on India. Hyderabad's population of 16 million is about 80 per cent Hindu, but ruled by a Moslem nizam who has resisted Indian efforts to bring his state into the Indian union.

Hyderabad is entirely surrounded by Indian territory.

Nazimuddin Is Named New Pakistan Governor

12-Year-Old Escapee Steals, Abandons Auto

TARRYTOWN—A twelve-year-old boy who stole a car from Yorktown yesterday afternoon abandoned the vehicle in Tarrytown two hours later.

The car was found parked in the middle of the road in Benedict Park. Police traced its ownership to Elizabeth Wagenfiel of RFD 1, Peekskill. She said it had been stolen in Yorktown at 3 P. M.

Yorktown police reported a boy who escaped from "a nearby institution" took the car. The boy hasn't been found although a Benedict Park resident reported seeing a small boy leave the abandoned auto.

small flows passing through the meter unregistered.

The company recommended that these meters be replaced with smaller meters or by compound meters.

2. within the last year approximately five per cent of the total number of meters have been found stopped and this percentage has been gradually increasing during the recent past.

The company recommended that a plan be adopted whereby all meters will be removed and tested every five years.

It also recommended that an additional 12-inch main be laid from the booster station to connect with the main in Larchmont Avenue with a viewpoint of increasing the reliability of the system.

A study of the report is being made by the village engineer and trustees.

Village Engineer Richards reported that an agreement had been reached with Colin B. Campbell for easements through his property for the Palmer Avenue sewer district improvement while Village Attorney William J. McHad been received from Edward Cornell to go in on his property so as not to hold up the project. He said that in the event an agreement could not be reached with Mr. Cornell it would be necessary to proceed with condemnation proceedings.

Mr. Richards reported that the sewer line installation had been completed while the water main would be completed in a day or two.

William H. Fernschild of 193 Rockingstone Avenue, Larchmont, appeared on behalf of a client who had purchased a piece of property through the Town In Rem sales. He said it was found that a piece of the property was a part of the Larchmont Village water shed and offered to sell it back to the Village for $340. The property is assessed for $350, he added.

Mr. Richards told the board it was a rather complicated matter and the board held the matter over for discussion in executive session.

Mayor Walter R. C. Washburn read a letter from Theodore Riegel of 25 Helena Avenue, Larchmont, commending the Police Department for its cooperation. Mr. Riegel wrote that on Aug. 16 telephone service at his home had been disrupted. He said he had a house guest who was being sought via a long distance phone call. The police were asked by the telephone operator to see if they could locate Mr. Riegel's guest which they did, and relayed the message.

A letter of thanks was received from A. M. Halstead, corresponding secretary of the Larchmont Temple, for the use of the Larchmont Municipal Building and the Larchmont Library.

Joseph Roth, secretary of the Larchmont Lions Club, sent a letter to the Mayor informing him that the Lions Club had appointed a committee to study the proposal of whether or not Larchmont should adopt a village in Europe

Radio station WGNR, a new station operating in New Rochelle, offered its facilities to the village in the events of any emergency.

The board authorized the purchase of a deluge set and a resuscitator for the Larchmont Fire Department from funds already in the budget.

MRS. SMITH WINS; GOP SWEEPS MAINE

PORTLAND, (AP)—Rep. Margaret Chase Smith won a Senate seat with two new records—majority and percentage—in yesterday's Maine election—another Republican grand slam.

She and other GOP leaders hailed the results as indicative of a smashing victory for the Dewey-Warren ticket in November.

The fifty-year-old Senator-elect called her vote "wonderful" and "forerunner of a great Republican national victory."

First Republican woman elected to the Senate, Mrs. Smith also is first of her sex elected without first having served by anointment.

In the seventh straight GOP clean-sweep of top offices, Republicans also named a Governor and three Congressmen.

Unofficial tabulations of practically complete returns gave Mrs. Smith 154,687 votes and Dr. Adrian H. Scolten, D., 61,837.

Mrs. Smith's majority — 92,850 —beat a 20-year-old record of 82,481 set in the 1928 gubernatorial contest.

The gubernatorial results: Frederick G. Payne, R., 141,718; Louis B. Lausier, Democratic Mayor of Biddeford, 73,974.

ELKS ELECT HEITHAUS TO SECRETARY'S POST

MOUNT VERNON — Frank H. Wells of Mount Vernon last night was elected president of the Past Exalted Rulers Association of the Eastern District, New York State Elks.

Others elected to offices at the meeting held in Mount Vernon's Elks Club were Ernest Tinklepaugh of Poughkeepsie, vice-president; Leo Heithaus of Mamaroneck, secretary, and Randolph Noxon of Port Chester, treasurer.

During the meeting Mrs. Mary A. McCabe of Yonkers, widow of Frank A. McCabe, former Parkway Police Chief who died last year in Germany, was presented with a scroll in memory of her husband. The presentation was made by former Supreme Court Justice Sidney A. Syme.

Truck Strike

an hour increase was turned down at a meeting of Local 282 officers yesterday, although the local was reported to have authorized its negotiators to agree on 15 cents before Local 807 struck.

After the meeting, John O'Rourke, Local 282 president, said the new demands included several welfare benefits in addition to a 25-cent increase. The demands also called for a $1-a-day differential for night work and a similar differential for day men operating windlass trucks.

An operator spokesman said the demands probably would cost the employers a total of 32 to 35 cents an hour per man.

Local 807 which has scaled down its demands to 17 1-2 cents an hour increase and a hospitalization plan paid for by the employers, announced yesterday it had signed contracts at the 17 1-2 cent figure with independent truck owners employing nearly half the local's 8,400 members. John E. Strong, local president said 633 firms had agreed so far to the local's reduced terms.

Yonkers Firm Signs Pact, Ends Strike of Drivers

YONKERS — Refined Syrups and Sugars Inc. has signed a contract with members of Local 87 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, AFL, calling for a 17 1-2 cent hourly wage increase.

Drivers for the company started back to work yesterday after being on strike since Sept. 1.

The company, which operates a fleet of refinery trucks that haul liquid sugar, used railroad facilities to deliver to their customers. Emergency barge shipments were utilized to customers along the Hudson River.

Meanwhile, members of Local 445 of the teamsters union and the Westchester operators will meet tomorrow afternoon at Paul's Restaurant in Riverdale to negotiate a contract.

Police said the dog was owned by George Thomas of 527 Center Street, Mamaroneck. The Porretto boy was treated by the family doctor, police added, and the County Health Department was notified.

PRAYER FOR TODAY—Clothe me, dear Lord, with that inner strength that can direct and inspire me to cultivate the virtue of self-control, the duty of diligence, the loyalty to our blessed America and to all free men everywhere. Give me a steady faith that Your kingdom will yet be established upon the earth. Help me personally to hasten its coming by letting me labor to that end.

THE RUBBER DOLLAR

WHETHER higher wages caused higher prices, or vice versa, is a debate of which we shall hear much during the coming campaign. The employer points to higher costs of every commodity, including labor, which goes into his product; he must raise the price or go out of business.

On the other hand, the employe points to higher living costs and demands more pay. He compares prices of essentials and complains with some justification that his pre-war dollar now buys only 56 worth of clothes, 51 cents worth of coal, and 28 cents worth of meat.

So, the rat-race in the squirrel cage continues. Up go wages in a fourth round and prices follow. The farmer, looking back to days when his farm was almost constantly under shadow of mortgage foreclosure and ahead of what he fears may be equally troublous days when governmental subsidies are lowered, believes in getting what the market will stand while the getting is good. Large corporations, viewing heavy tax burdens and aware of the need for substantial profits if risk capital is to be encouraged for badly needed expansion, feel they cannot lower price levels without inviting ultimate disaster. And in between these economic grinding stones the little fellow, the white-collar class, the families dependent upon fixed incomes, are facing lowered living standards unless relief comes soon.

These are, of course, not all of the factors which must be considered. We have, on the one hand, a bountiful 1948 harvest; but against that we have higher prices of farm produce more than double pre-war levels. We have a greater output from our factories, by nearly 85 per cent; but against that we have an advance in prices almost equivalent to that accorded the farmer.

Too, we have abortive "buyers' strikes" here and there, now and then; but by way of comparison we find larger attendance at baseball games and other sports events than ever before, and we have long waiting lists for expensive automobiles and television receiving sets. Cost of welfare and relief cases has mounted alarmingly and there are grave predictions of sharply increased municipal budgets for 1949; yet at the same time we find relatively little unemployment and long columns of "help wanted" advertisements in our newspapers.

Somehow, it doesn't add up to any honest, realistic, common-sense total. Many families have more income than ever before—and are worse off. We complain of heavy taxes—and in the same breath demand more expensive services from government. With the highest national income in our history, and with the largest employment of all peacetime, we find the greatest dissatisfaction and the worst public concern.

Sooner or later we must realize that even a rubber dollar can be stretched only so far!

THE AVERAGE MAN believes a thing first, and then searches for proof to bolster his opinion.—Elbert Hubbard.

A Glance Backward—

A DECADE AGO
(From The Daily Times)

Westchester institutions came to the aid of small home seekers with a $8,000,000 loan for financing, architectural service and supervised construction. Eight institutions, one of which was the Mamaroneck and Larchmont Federal Savings and Loan Association, volunteered the aid. All organizations concurred are members of the Federal Home Loan Bank System... Trustee Benjamin M. Scherer of the Rye Neck Board of Education stated at a meeting of that organization that the exchange of student bodies between the Daniel Warren Elementary school and the F. E. Bellows High School was an eventual necessity. Trustee Scherer suggested that the Daniel Warren school be transformed into a high school and the two elementary schools be concentrated on a adjoining property. The Bellows and Barry Avenue schools were "natural locations for elementary school children for the past 75 years."

August Passafuma was judged the Daily Times All-Star carrier for the month of July. The 17-year - old Harrison High school senior scored more points for daily delivery than any other carrier.

Frankie Fritsch was dismissed from his managerial duties with the St. Louis Cardinals and was sitting on the porch of his New Rochelle home eating fresh corn for supper and hoping to hook up with the New York Giants.

Col. Joe Bush Says:

Up there in North Salem Saturday night Charlie Decker (retired County Clerk, you young squirts) won the prize ham at the annual mardi gras of the North Salem library. And Charlie didn't even have to dance to git the prize. Now he's plannin' to get together for breakfast with Hank Wallace over in South Salem, Charlie has the Ham and Hank got the eggs.

This here County is gettin' kinda fancy it appears — appointin' "County Pathologist." Guess its progress that changed coroners to medical examiner—and now medical examiner to pathologist. For our part — its even too late for us to stop callin' him a coroner. A danged sight more people know what We're talkin' about we betcha.

Went for a ride on the train the other day and got mixed up with a bunch then had to sit in as a fourth at bridge just to git a seat. Never got caught in a tighter trap—we even had to pay the brakeman to get off the train.

Do you suppose that five foot nine gal from Minnesota they selected as Miss America is some relation of Paul Bunyan's? She can sure look over a four-leaf clover.

Its getin' so dry around the county due to the drought that the firemen may soon have to stop holdin' parades and stay home to watch for fire.

The Counselor

HELD AT FRENCH BORDER

Question: My mother lives in the French - controlled section of Germany. She is a widow, and my husband and I (United States citizens) would like very much to have her come to live with us. We have had all the necessary papers made out for her, including the visa. She is to come here by plane, leaving the airport in Frankfurt. Now she is held up by the French, at the border between the French and American - controlled sections, and cannot reach the airport where her passport to the United States has been assured. I shall anxiously read your column to find your answer.

Worried Daughter

Answer: Your mother must have an exit permit from the French authorities in order to go to the American zone. It is possible that she was unaware of this regulation, and has failed on her part to secure this permit. If this is the case, write her to contact the nearest American consul in the French zone. If she has applied to the French for a permit and been refused, then also tell her to contact the nearest American consul.

GERMAN CLARINET

Question: Is it possible to have a clarinet sent over here from Germany? It was left me by my father. My daughter, who would be in the high school band this Fall if she had her own clarinet, would like very much to have it.

Mrs. P. N.

Answer: We suggest you contact the American consul in the area where your father lived. There are American consular offices in Berlin, Munich, Stuttgart, Frankfurt, Bremen and Hamburg. But if it is possible to have the clarinet sent here, we have a feeling you're more apt to get it next Fall than this one. Maybe your daughter could do some babysitting and earn enough money to buy a second - hand clarinet for the Spring term?

POCKET GOLD

Question: Please advise on the value of a $3 gold piece, 1854; excellent condition.

Y. H.

Answer: Of all the readers who have asked us about coins, you're the first in a long time who has a coin apparently worth a good deal more than its face value. If your 1854 $3 - piece has no mint mark, it is worth around $20 — that is, if it is in very fine condition, and you say its condition is excellent. If it has the mint mark D (for Dahlonega (Ga.) mint, closed in 1861) then its value is about $85. If its mint mark is O (for New Orleans mint, closed in 1909), it is worth about $25 in very fine condition.

These values are listed in a coin manual that hasn't failed us yet, but before you get enthusiastic, take your gold pieces to some of the dealers in coins and let them appraise it. They would have to see it to make appraisals.

ARMY SWALLOWS A PAPER

Question: When my husband went in the Army I had to have proof of our son's birth. So far nothing has been returned to me. Can you tell me where I should write to get them sent back to me?

F. W.

Answer: There isn't any way you can get back the proof of your son's birth you sent the Army—because it is part of the Army's records now. But you can easily get another birth certificate—if that is what you used—by writing the Health Department of the city where your son was born. There will be a charge for this, probably $1, but you can check with the Health Department first. If your son was born in a small community which doesn't keep its vital statistics records on hand, then write the New York State Department of Health, Division of Vital Statistics, Albany.

THE SEXES

Question: What is the salutation in a letter to a women's organization?

Answer: Ladies:.

Ojai Valley Fire Loss Put At Over a Million

OJAI, Calif., (AP) — With women and children evacuated from two communities, the picturesque Ojai Valley resort lay blackened and desolate today from a still burning, 12,000-acre forest fire.

The community of Ojai itself and the population of 3,500 felt the fringe of the flames, but a wind enabled the hundreds o fire fighters to gain control last night.

Chief Pete Little of the Ventura Fire Department said some 35 homes, including palatial Summer dwellings of wealthy Southern Californians, were destroyed, but the fire was halted two blocks short of the business district. Initial damage estimates ran over $1,000,000.

JOIN AUSTRIAN UNIONS

VIENNA (AP) — Trade Union membership in Austria has increased by nearly 100 per cent since the end of the war, according to latest figures issued by the Austrian Federation of Trade Unions. The increase is fairly evenly divided between white collar workers, manual laborers and public service workers. The figures show there were 1,238,088 union members in Austria at the end of 1947 compared to 331,213 at the end of 1945.

IT HAPPENED TODAY

On Sept. 14, 1752, Great Britain and her colonies adopted the Gregorian calendar. "The Star-Spangled Banner" was written by Francis Scott Key on the same date in 1814. In America, the Massachusetts Bay colony was established, in Salem, on this date. Baron Von Humboldt, German naturalist, explorer and scholar, founder of modern physical geography, was born on Sept. 14, 1769.

JOBS UPON A TIME

William Maxwell Aitken—Lord Beaverbrook—decided at an early age that he wanted to be a millionaire. He was born in Canada, son of a Presbyterian minister. His start was modest—as a drug store clerk. Then he sold sewing machines and bonds. Aitken found a backer in a Halifax banker and became a promoter. So successful was he that by 1907 he liquidated his holdings for $5,000,000 and went to London. In 1910 he was elected to Parliament, and service in the Lloyd George war cabinet in World War I won him a peerage, the name Beaverbrook being his choice from a small town near his birthplace. Lord Beaverbrook is now Britain's outstanding publisher. During World War II Beaverbrook served as minister of aircraft production.

Walter Slezak, Vienna-born motion picture actor, was in the banking business when Director Michael Curtiz met him in a cafe in Vienna and offered him the juvenile lead in an Austrian film. Slezak appeared next in a Berlin stage show and in German films. Having an excellent singing voice, Slezak made a hit in 1931 in Shubert shows in New York—"Meet My Sister" and other musicals. His first screen role came in "Once Upon a Honeymoon" in 1943. Hollywood usually casts Slezak as a "menace."

BERMUDA CLEARS AWAY HURRICANE DEBRIS

MIAMI, (AP)—The honeymoon and vacation resort of Bermuda cleared away debris today in the wake of a severe hurricane that lashed the area with winds of 123 miles an hour.

No loss of life was reported and property damage was not extensive, according to reports.

The hurricane had winds of 140 miles per hour in a small area near the center and heavy squalls and gales extended outward 200 miles from the center.

It whirled northward at 16 miles an hour and the Weather Bureau said it probably would make a slow curve to the north northeast, away from the mainland, accelerating in a forward movement.

Truman Cautioned By Friends Against Crusade In Deep South

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Many old friends of President Truman, including prominent Dixiecrats who have abandoned the administration only temporarily and technically, have warned him against his avowed plan of carrying his civil rights crusade through the Deep South in person. It will win him enemies rather than friends, according to their well-meant advice.

Henry A. Wallace's violent and spectacular trip through this territory, in the opinion of veteran observers, was arranged deliberately so as to embarrass the Chief Executive, if he accepts the dare to invade the South.

Mr. Wallace had not the slightest expectation of winning any Dixie ballots by his egg-haloed foray. But he did convert on his non - segregated performance to gain votes in such northern centers as New York, Philadelphia, Chicago etc. By depriving Mr. Truman of a large percentage of Negro support in those cities, the Iowan aims to insure a Dewey-Warren triumph in November.

STRATEGY — It is generally admitted that the President has the same strategy in mind through his advocacy of social, economic and political equality for Negroes. He is gambling that prospective victories in the electorally important northern areas will more than offset the loss of a few rebellious commonwealths in Dixie.

But if he conforms to custom, and addresses only assiccated audiences, Mr. Truman will lose whatever advantage his civil rights program is designed to win him in the northern metropolitan centers.

On the other hand, if he should try to match the Wallace appeal to racial emotions, he may toss away many Southern and border states that might otherwise give him a narrow margin. Instead of losing three or four through an electoral college rule, he may be defeated by popular vote in all save a few.

WEAKNESS — Mr. Truman may suffer the unhappy experiences that befell Al Smith in 1928.

Save in a few places, particularly Louisville, there was no actual hazing of the New York Governor and his party. But he paraded through supply streets in such a Democratic citadel as Richmond, faced surly crowds in his formal night appearances, and gazed gloomily from his train windows at Ku Klux Klan crosses flaming on the hostile hills.

Indeed, the very fact that a Democratic Presidential nominee considered it necessary to canvass the seven confederacy was regarded everywhere as a sign of weakness and sure defeat.

ARRANGE — Thus the President's earlier off-hand declaration that the problem of a progressive fight on this issue has placed him in the most serious dilemma of the campaign, as his aides belatedly realize.

It he confines his "Dixie invasion" to such southwestern states as Texas and Oklahoma, and avoids the historic confederate section by flying to Miami for his address before the American Legion convention, his cautious behavior will be interpreted as evidence that he is playing both ends against the middle.

How to arrange a Southern tour without alienating either white Democrats down there or Negro voters in the North has become the heaviest headache around the White House.

STUDY—A White House study of the 1944 Presidential vote in 12 border and Southern states sharpens the anxiety of the Truman political family. It suggests that even a Democratic President could lose nine of these commonwealths, in view of the disturbing issue which the Missourian has exhumed.

The three states which seem safe, regardless of the Wallace appeal in certain industrial areas and the racial question, are Florida, Tennessee and North Carolina. The Roosevelt-Truman ticket swept them respectively by 194,162, 108, 396 and 264,244 votes. It might be hard to tip them over, despite reports that Florida and Tennessee might flop.

SOLID—But in nine other historically Democratic states the margin was sufficiently close to endanger the Truman - Barkley ticket under the current circumstances. Remembering that only slightly more than a 50 per cent smitt of the 1948 majority will land any state in the GOP column, here is the lead piled up by FDR at a time when the U. S. was beginning to win history's worst war.

Arizona, 24,639; Arkansas, 85,414; Kentucky, 80,141; Maryland, 22,541; New Mexico, 10,701; Oklahoma, 82,123, South Carolina, 86,034; Virginia, 97,033; West Virginia, 69,958.

From these statistics, it is possible that even the states standing loyally by the Truman-Barkley ticket in the selection of their electoral College members may not be so solid, after all.

INVESTIGATION — Resentful labor experts' investigation of J. Whittaker Chambers' record as a federal employe during his Communist days discloses that he worked for an agency frequently assailed as harboring radicals—the late Harry Hopkins' Works Progress Administration.

Mr. Chambers originally testified that he was employed by the Railroad Retirement Board at $6,000 a year. He said that he got the position only 24 hours after he had consulted another alleged Communist in WPA explaining that he needed a steady job so as to cover up his Commie activities. He was then receiving $35 a week from the Moscow party.

Labor men are extremely proud of the Retirement Board's performance and doubted that its funds, which are contributed by employes and the lines, had been used to finance Reds. Their check shows that Chambers worked for the National Research Project in making a transportation survey.

NRP was one of the numerous WPA make-work agencies which pay-rolled jobless writers, ballet dancers, actors, musicians and Greenwich Village bohemians without a too careful check of their antecedents. Chambers' pay was $5,000 annually, and he worked only three months.

"He's always too late for banking hours. Somebody ought to tell him about banking by mail."

Banking by mail is definitely the "way out" for people with too much to do and too little time to do it. No need to rush around and wear yourself to a frazzle . . . most of the time you can handle all your banking with an "assist" by the U. S. Mails. Just remember, it's simple to make deposits by mail at County Trust — and what's more, it's faster!

My New York

By MEL HEIMER

NEW YORK—It is not entirely true that your correspondent never looks at Page One in his daily newspaper, turning instead first to the comic page and then to the sports section.

If there is a good murder story brewing I will give it a few minutes of my time, and I certainly read Page One with care if I have a seventh sports final and the race results are imprinted thereon.

It is the truth, however, that I am not exactly the right man to deal with politics, finance, the state of the union and, generally, what Westbrook Pegler calls cosmos stuff.

Thus, it is with certain reservations that I circle warily around today's topic. In the last few days I have been wandering haphazardly over the face of this city peering into its corners and lifting up rugs under which the day's dust has been swept, and what I have seen has given me the feeling that we are on the edge of a good, solid depression.

Now this kind of talk requires a special license. When you meditate out loud on things like depressions or trends, you really should be qualified for the job.

This kind of writing is known as painting on a broad canvas (a phrase employed by Mr. James C. Cain in describing his new book, "The Moth," thus forcing me to begin reading it with a good-sized chip on my shoulder).

Well, I would like to paint on a broad canvas for just a moment or two. Don't take it too seriously. I probably don't know what I'm talking about.

WHAT STARTED IT all was a walk through midtown Manhattan at twilight the other night. Since I always am hunting for charteuse socks or a good, conservative cerise sports jacket, I paid particular attention to men's clothing stores — and found at least a half-dozen of them were going out of business.

The better stores were holding great fire sales. The cheaper stores were throwing in the sponge. The prices in these last dying gasp sales were really low.

Usually I spend hours hulking through these joints, as fascinated as by the shoe-polish counter in the 10-cent store, without buying. The other night I bought two pairs of tennis socks. You can see things were down.

Then, suddenly, the whole midtown area seemed to fall into the pattern. In the Astor bar, at a time of night when the commuters should have been pressed around the mahogany for the last quick one before the 7:22, there were six customers.

One man and his wife drew the full attention of three bartenders. In the Strand theater, a good movie and a fine stage show were on the bill, and it was a Friday night-late night—but the joint was just about half filled.

The saloons along Broadway had only scattered handfuls of customers. A night - seeing bus stood forlornly empty in one of the Forties; not even a child, or come - on, was seated inside. A half-dozen of the big night clubs were shut down tight—"for the summer," it was explained by the managements.

THE SUMMER — that, of course, had something to do with the state of affairs. But there have been summers before this in New York and never have the cafes, the movie houses, the restaurants seemed so deserted.

I can recall it this way just once before. The years were the early '30's. There were no long lines in front of the movie houses or the theaters then; the only long lines spread dismally along the sidewalks by those churches that offered soup and bread to the jobless.

It was most startling of all, the other night, to see the countless taxicabs in front of the hotels, and Grand Central and Penn stations. There were 15 cabs ready to leap at a flick of a finger or a whistle.

Talking with a couple of cab drivers convinced me that business was bad. It was hard to weep for them. During the war years there was no more independent, spit-in-your-eye citizen than the New York taxi driver.

People used to mutter after them, "You'll get yours when this war is over and the easy money disappears," and now they are getting theirs, right in the neck, and no one cries for them.

So nobody in town is going anywhere—and yet there still are no apartments for rent, an it be that everyone is holed up at home, shotguns across their knees, counting their dwindling pennies—and waiting for the end of the world?

I repeat, this painting on a broad canvas is not quite my dish. I think we may have a depression on our hands, sort of, but it is likely, as I have said, I do not know what I'm talking about.

Lilly Windsor To Sing Again At County Center On Oct. 15

By MAUREEN McKERNAN

WHITE PLAINS — Her first County Center audience was far more frightening than any she faced in Europe. Lilly Windsor, the little Hawthorne girl with the big soprano voice, confided today.

Her memories of her stage fright last October, when she faced her first big countywide audience, came as she was planning for the concert she will give at the County Center on Oct. 15 to celebrate the golden anniversary of the District Nursing Association of Nothern Westchester.

"It wasn't until after I had sung a few numbers and saw that the home folks didn't have a 'show me attitude' that I lost my fears," she says.

It's hard to write about the little Hawthorne girl, who in the past two years has made operatic history in Italy without the use of superlatives. She is so natural, so bubbling with enthusiasm and friendship. She is an actress too, as well as a singer as she tells of the people she met while studying in Italy, of her experiences before cold audiences in Rome and Holland that warmed to stand and cheer her songs, the scenes come alive and one lives all the dramatic moments with her.

Her wit bubbles over.

"I told them I bet I was the first American bologna cutter ever to have stood on that stage," she giggled as she recalled her audience in the darkened Rome opera that led to her contract. That was an illusion to her childhood in Hawthorne helping in her mother's delicatessen shop.

Plastic-Toughened Soil Seen As Future Roads

PORTLAND, Ore., (AP)—Low cost roads made out of chemically toughened dirt now are possible because of recent advances in soil stabilization, a Princeton University scientist asserted today.

The toughening process is done by adding plastics or other chemicals to the soil that is to form the traffic lanes. Paving which can withstand pressures even better than concrete can be made cheaply, Dr. Hans F. Winterkorn told the American Chemical Society.

PHILATELISTS TO MEET

The party, which had been on a hike, lost its way while trying to take a short cut back to the camp with an injured woman, Mrs. John Tracy of the Bronx.

Yesterday's Answer

Overstaying Guest Should Be Told Her Bed Is Needed

By EMILY POST

A worried husband wants to know: "What can we do to send an overstaying friend of my wife's on her way without seeming rude? She does not help around the house and my wife is wearing out under the strain. Moreover, she was invited for a week but with one excuse after another, has stayed almost a month! Every day she says she must go, but doesn't. I know my wife is afraid I'll do something rude and spoil the whole visit, but she will be content if I follow your advice."

The least discourteous way would be to invite another guest for an immediate date and explain very politely to the lingering one that her room will be needed. One word of warning: Do not be persuaded to make up a bed elsewhere!

Question: My husband died lately and I am expecting a child. I'd like to send announcements of its birth especially to my distant friends who probably have not heard of my husband's accident. Is there any way to include both announcements?

Answer: Your name alone on a black-bordered card and the baby's little card, plain white without pink or blue border, would be both correct and understood.

Question: You insist a girl should return an engagement ring after her engagement has been broken. Would this advice apply to a friendship ring given her by a boy friend?

Answer: This rule applies only to an engagement ring. However, if the ring symbolizes a friendship which no longer exists, one certainly would prefer to return the ring.

Question: At a birthday dinner for the relatives, should the cake or flowers be the centerpiece?

Answer: Flowers. The cake should be brought in lighted just before dessert and stood in front of the birthday guest.

Palmerettes, Sportsmen Take Shutouts In Major Circuit Openers

Hafner Takes High Triple; High Single To Loiaconi

The Larchmont Bowl Major League, first of the top-flight local circuits to open play, raised the curtain on the bowling season last night with shutout wins by the Sportsmen and Palmerette outfits while the Mechanics and Depots came away with 2-1 victories. Only eight teams started in what probably will eventually be a 12 team league.

Later in the season, the boys will look back on these scores and wonder if the figures are correct. A 600 game was something beyond reach and the top total for the evenings work was a lusty 570 which was garnered by Hafner of the Palmerette team. Tony Loiaconi of the Depots was close behind with a triple of 563.

The high single for the evening was a little more respectable with Loiaconi keeling his opening game in grand style and ending with a fine 220. Verny's third game of the evening totaled 216 for second honors in single play.

Seriously speaking, the boys were naturally hot and cold on their first league games of the season, but none will look back on these games as disgraceful although there will undoubtedly be many a "600" game rolled before the last ball goes down the alley this year.

The high team total for the night was credited to the Palmerette outfit which rolled 2526 pins. Their second game total of 884 was also tops for the evening.

With only eight teams entered in the league to date, four more outfits are needed. Art Salasin, a league official would appreciate anyone interested to get in touch with him at Larchmont 2 - 1443. The secretary of the league, Mr. Welsh, can also be contacted at Larchmont 2 - 2410.

League play will take place on Monday night of every week and all keeling is done at the Larchmont Bowl.

Polo Grounds Fast Gaining Flag Hope Graveyard Fame

Associated Press Sports Staff

The historic Polo Grounds is fast gaining a reputation as the graveyard of pennant hopes.

Burt Shotton brought his Brooklyn Dodgers into the lair of the New York Giants over the weekend for a four-game series and left the cigar box with only one victory.

The high - flying Pittsburgh Pirates showed up last night boasting a seven game winning streak and Lippy Leo Durocher's fence busters cooled them off, 5-2.

By knocking off the pursuers of the front-running Boston Braves, the Giants themselves are sticking very much in the running for the National League flag.

Last night's triumph boosted the Giants into a fourth place tie with the idle St. Louis Cardinals, five and one half games behind the Braves. The Giants and Cards are only .005 of a percentage point behind the third place Dodgers, who also trail the Braves by 5 1-2 games.

Lefty Morton Kennedy stopped the Pirates surge, scattering nine hits for his third triumph.

The Pirates opened in high gear, scoring once in the first inning on a double by Johnny Hopp, an infield hit by Dixie Walker and Ralph Kiner's ground out.

But the Giants bounced back in their half, pouncing on Southpaw Vic Lombardi, a former Giant killer for three runs. They scored their runs on an error by Stan Rojek, Whitey Lockman's single, Sid Gordon's double and Willard Marshall's two-run one-bagger.

The Giants clipped Lombardi for another run in the second and completed their scoring in the sixth at the expense of Kirby Higbe. Kennedy gave up Pittsburgh's final run in the seventh.

Brooklyn wrested third place from the Cards by dumping the Chicago Cubs, 6-4 in a night game at Brooklyn.

A four-run seventh inning rally enabled the Dodgers to overcome a 3-2 deficit and win. Two singles, two singles, two sacrifices, two errors, and two fly balls accounted for the runs.

Lefty Johnny Schmitz, an old Dodger nemesis went the route for Chicago. Schmitz, who now has won 17 games and lost 12, entered the game boasting a 6-1 record over Brooklyn.

Another Win for Rex

Rex Barney, who hurled a 2-0 no - hit triumph over the Giants last Thursday, went the distance for Brooklyn to gain his 14th win. He has lost 10.

The Indians also lost the services of pitcher Don Black for the rest of the season. Black is in critical condition in a Cleveland hospital with a hemorrhage near the brain.

Black apparently twisted his neck when he hit a foul ball in the second inning. He fell at the plate in pain, was helped from the field and later lost consciousness. Team physician Edward Castle, however, said Black had an excellent chance to recover.

Legion And Free-Toes Tie In See-Saw Softball Battle

The Legion and the Free-Toes battled to a 7-7 tie last night at the Mamaroneck Avenue school field in a softball game which was supposed to wind up local league play. The contest will now have to be played off on Thursday evening at 6 P. M.

The Legion was particularly anxious to triumph in this affair so that they could clinch third place in second half play.

Both nines scored once in the opening inning but the Legion tallied twice in the third to take a temporary lead. However, this was wiped out quickly in the Free-Toe half of the same inning when they rallied for four big markers to take a commanding advantage. When the Legion came right back with four in the fourth it was obvious that the slow, slow tempo of the battle was really set. Single tallied by the Free-Toes in the fourth and fifth tied up the contest and the affair was called because of darkness by umpire Tommy Perri.

Taps went all the way for the Free-Toe outfit and gave up a total of seven bingles to the opposition. Bob Cohen and Alosi divided the twirling for the Legion, each working three innings and giving up a total of six hits.

The battle was also even, at the plate with each side having a man come up with two hits. Rigano accomplished this for the Free-Toes in four trips to the plate while pitcher Alosi found time to garner his double in three official times at bat.

The old story of the base on balls hurting a pitcher seemed to hold true in the game as Legion hurlers issued six free trips to the sacks and five of the fortunate batters eventually scored.

Last Saturday afternoons game between the Legion and the Manzoni Lodge was won by the Legion and not the Manzoni's as previously reported. The score book simply had the names of the teams switched.

Last night's score:

HILL-'N-DALERS START PRACTICE

By JOHN TAUB

With only one standout of last year's team returning, the Mamaroneck High School cross-country squad started practice yesterday under the tutelage of Coach Edward Puritz. Bill Stiegerwald, a dependable starter last year, was chosen captain of the team, numbering twenty-two.

The 1948 team will have a long way to go to best the record of 7 wins and no defeats which marked the 47 team. Last year's Hill-and-Dale outfit of the WIAA crown from Isaac Young by a score of 27-38, and then went on to take the District One title.

Dick Hillsley, '47 captain, Jerry Vier, Bob Schad, George Rabe, Al Vollmer, George Rapp and Jim Henry, all better than average runners, have been lost through graduation, while Bill Rex, a sophomore sensation, is no longer attending Mamaroneck.

Puritz has not as yet made up a schedule, but the squad will probably have five meets before competing in the WIAA and District 1 meets.

East Enders Drilling For Season Opener With Darien

Recent visitors to the Daniel Warren Field have come away with the impression that Bellows High School football fans will be seeing some nighty good pigskin play at the East End this season.

Coach Jack Pearson, starting his second season as head football mentor, has very little in the way of seasoned veterans but it can be said that the youngsters who are members of this eleven will represent the Blue and Black in a manner that should bring visitors to Panthertown. This outfit appears to have the fighting spirit necessary to bring a winning team to any school. A fairly heavy line, deep in reserves, is set to open up the holes for a fast, well-drilled backfield.

The East End mentor has had his charges going through workouts daily since September 1st and has been concentrating on contact drills for the past week.

At the end positions Coach Pearson had to choose from several standout pass catchers with Don Anderson, Ed Kayner, and Jim Panero holding the edge at the moment. Anderson and Kayner had experience last season.

Bart Thrasher and Magrino seem to be fairly certain to see action at the tackle positions with the former, a big rugged type of player, leading the field.

Jack Connor, another veteran, seems to have the center slot sewed up. Connor is a capable pivot man and a bruising tackler on defense.

The guard positions may be filled by a brother act in the event the Skehan brothers should open at those spots. These boys are newcomers to the East End school and have already shown Coach Pearson enough to merit considerable action this year.

In the backfield, Pearson has many talented boys to choose from. Ed Feldt, familiar to all Bellows followers, should hold down the fullback spot as he did last season. Rocky O'Connell, leads the contenders for the blocking back spot, while Frank Vitetta, Bob Keegan, Bob Pitz, Steve Johnston, and newcomers Saunders and DiRoberto are fighting it out for the remaining two starting positions.

The opening game of the season for the locals is Saturday Sept. 25 when they tangle with Darien High from Connecticut. The locals are resuming their rivalry with the Nutmeg school after a lapse of several years.

This Friday Coach Pearson has scheduled a practice encounter with Albert Leonard High of New Rochelle. This scrimmage will take place on the Daniel Warren Field.

Saturday the Panther hopefuls will travel to Mount Vernon to see a workout of the New York football Yankees. Coach Pearson is hoping that the squad will benefit from watching the professionals drill.

Contact drills are scheduled from now until the opening fray which, on a quick look at the calendar, is but a week and a half away.

CHIEFS ENTER PLAYOFF FINAL

Poughkeepsie is in the Colonial League final playoffs and pennant - winning Port Chester needs but one more win to make the grade.

The Poughkeepsie Chiefs stayed a four-run spurt in the fifth inning last night to eliminate Kingston by a 7-5 victory. The Chiefs took the best-of-seven semifinal series by a 4-1 margin.

Ed Peterlic, who blanked Kingston with three hits in an earlier game, hung up his second triumph of the series with a six-hitter.

Manager Steve Mizerak and Harold Leach doubled in the big fifth when starter Joe Kania was routed. A single by Joe De Toia, a walk to Chuck Quinby and a pinch single by Billy Ostrom followed.

Guy Coleman took charge of Port Chester's chances, shutting out Waterbury with two singles, 6-0. He yielded a single in the first and another in the second and then worked seven-no-hit innings.

Port Chester picked on Mike Kash and Al Yaklich who relieved him in the seventh for eight hits and an easy win.

Manager Al Barillari's Clippers now hold a 3-1 edge over Waterbury, the fifth game will be played at Port Chester tonight.

"The Authority on Authorities"

FULL OF CLOSE PLAYS

AT ONE extreme we find the "pianola" type of hand, in which the play is a good deal like pumping on a pedal while the results follow automatically as if from a record. At the other end is the deal filled with a series of close questions. At one stage after another the declarer is confronted with the alternative of putting up his highest card of the suit led or sticking in some lower card in the hope that it will either win or else force out a much higher card from the defenders. Those deals are usually the most interesting to play, or to kibitz.

North: ♠Q 8 7 ♥10 9 4 ♦8 5 4 ♣A K 9 3

West: ♠A J 2 ♥A 6 3 ♦10 7 6 2 ♣Q J 4

East: ♠5 4 ♥J 7 5 ♦K J 5 3 ♣10 8 6 2

South: ♠K 10 9 6 3 ♥K Q 8 2 ♦A Q ♣7 5

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1♠	Pass	2♣	Pass
2♦	Pass	2♠	Pass
3♦	Pass	4♦	Pass

Upon winning the diamond 2 lead to the K with a A. South embarked on a whole series of problems of which direction to lead various suits, then which card to put on from the opposite hand. The deal was in a tournament, so every trick might prove vital.

To the second trick she led the spade 3 and, after West played the 2, put in the Q. Next the heart 10 was led and, when East played low, used the Q, which West allowed to win. The club 5 to the A enabled her next to put forth the spade 7, the 10 losing to the J and the A being used by West to clear the dummy of trumps.

The club Q return was won by the K and the heart 9 led. When East again played low to force a guess, she guessed right by playing the 8 and West had to use the A to win. That was really the play that decided the hand. If she had put her heart K on the trick and the A had killed it, the J would have been established in East's hand for the trick that would have set the contract.

Having lost only two tricks in spades and one in hearts, she made her game. More than that, she struck another lick for the doctrine that women can play just as well as men. She was Mrs. Desmond Wray of Lynchburg, Va.

Tomorrow's Problem

North: ♠10 3 2 ♥A K Q 5 4 ♦5 2 ♣A Q 6

West: ♠Q 9 6 ♥J 10 9 6 ♦K 7 4 3 ♣7 3

East: ♠J 8 7 4 ♥2 ♦Q J 10 9 6 ♣J 10 9

South: ♠A K 5 ♥8 7 3 ♦A 8 ♣K 8 5 4 2

(Dealer: North. Neither side vulnerable.)

What safety element does a No Trump contract possess on this deal, as against a suit slam?

Panthers Continue Drills Despite High Temperature

By BARRY LOUGHRANE

The thermometer was very close to the 80 mark, and a few rabid football fans sat wearily fanning themselves in the Autumn heat on the bleachers at Daniel Warren Field. On the field itself about 35 Bellows hopefuls were being drilled and drilled in fundamental workouts, trying to get into shape for a scrimmage against Albert Leonard Friday.

Then Coach Jack Fearon blew his whistle and divided the boys into two squads for a scrimmage. Judging from this lineup, it looks as though Ed Feldt, Rocky O'Connell, Panky Vitteta and Bob Keegan will make up the first string offensive backfield. The line looked particularly good as Don Anderson, newly elected captain for the season, and Veteran Bart Thrasher ripped through the opposing line and nailed one ball carrier after another.

Some added strength in the line can be found in Pete and Jack Sheehan who have played quite a bit of ball in Boston. Both of these boys look especially good backing up the line on defense. Tom Walsh better known for his prowess on the basketball court, shows signs of developing into a glue-fingered pass receiver.

Of course there is one thing that must be remembered on a team as small as Bellows, there is naturally more competition for every position. The starting eleven may be completely changed by the time the first game rolls around.

As far as the morale of the team is concerned, it couldn't be any higher if the immortal Red Grange was in the backfield. All of the boys seem to think that this year's team has more speed, weight, reserve strength, and above all, a spirit of cooperation that wins games.

The Panthers have good reserves in Steve Johnston, Bill Fitts, Mark Runaun and Walt Saunders in addition to the kicking specialist, George Vladenides.

Nobody can predict the future. Only time will tell. The first real test for Bellows will come Sept. 24 at Darien, in the meantime, we'll keep passing out information regarding improvements or changes in the lineup.

SEMI-PRO GRID ACTIVITY QUIET

With the high school pigskin season opening just around the corner and the softball playoffs near, local sport fans will be turning their attention toward semi-pro football.

In past years, the fans have gotten their fill of Sunday afternoon football in this area and even saw a glimpse of night ball when the All-Stars held Friday night games under the lights of either Harbor Island or Manchester Field.

However, this season may see Mamaroneck fans being forced to travel out of town if the high schools don't satisfy their desire to watch pigskin contests.

The rumor is that Joe Tolve, coach and player of the All-Stars for the past few years, will be playing his football in a nearby village.

In the past two weeks, this desk has received several letters from officials of various teams representing towns in New York, New Jersey and Connecticut inquiring as to whether this town would be represented by a semi-pro outfit.

To our knowledge, there has been no activity in the direction of organizing such a team but anyone interested can contact this reporter who will gladly render all the necessary information.

MAM'K SOFTBALL PLAYOFF SLATED

If all goes according to schedule, the Mamaroneck Softball league should have a champion by next Sunday night. According to the present schedule the first half champion Foodmen will meet the Gaels, winners of the last half, in a playoff which will require the winner to take two out of three.

The Gaels gained the playoff berth by whipping the Foodmen in a similar playoff last Sunday afternoon for the second half title. Thus, for the second successive year, these two aggregations are involved in the playoff fussle.

The Gaels will undoubtedly start their ace moundsman Noun McClennan, while Wes Keeler handling his slants.

The Foodmen on the other hand have a choice of either fastballer Tony Vitti, or tricky Moe Nask. Both have been extremely effective at times this year and on other occasions have appeared erratic.

President Joe Lanza plans to announce exact starting times for all three games and same will be released on this page in the next day or two.

Should the Foodmen again take the crown they would gain permanent possession of the three year trophy, on which they have two leas.

CLIPPERS, CHIEFS START SERIES PLAY

By The Associated Press

Port Chester and Poughkeepsie the two clubs which spent most of the season battling each other for the Colonial League pennant, go at it again tonight in the league's final playoff series.

The pennant-winning Clippers from Port Chester finished off their semifinal series against Waterbury last night. They won the final game, 8 1, and the set, four games to one.

Poughkeepsie rested last night after turning back Kingston, four games to one.

The first tilt of the best of seven series for the playoff title will be in Port Chester. The second game will also be played in Port Chester tomorrow night with games three and four in Poughkeepsie Friday and Saturday.

Three runs in the first two innings insured last night's victory for the Clippers. Al Barkus, in good form, held the Timers to only six hits. He struck out eight and batted in one of the five Port Chester runs.

Following last night's loss Mike Kash resigned as manager of the Waterbury club.

The veteran leftfielder said he was quitting because of what he called "interference" on the part of the club's board of directors. There are nine directors of the team which is owned by 34 Waterbury business men.

Kash pitched and won five doubleheaders in 1947. This season, his first as manager, he tried the iron man stunt only once and succeeded.

He did not announce his plans for the future.

KEGLERS SPARKLE IN WARM-UP TEST

The Daily Times Sweepstakes Bowling League was to have opened play last night at the Larchmont Rec, but since the attendance was light, the curtain raising was postponed until next Tuesday.

President of the League Len Grosso reported that warm - up games were rolled by some 15 keglers and that scores were respectable for opening games.

The high game for "warm-up night" was rolled by Don Tregonawon with a 220 effort. Bob Gunther also broke into the double century mark with a total of 213.

The Odd - Fellows, who were members of the league last season, bowed as a team and rolled 900 pins.

Some of the attending keglers were Will Rogers, Bob Gould, Gene Tregonawon, Maltz, Dan Goetz, Max Gossweiler, Marty Pader, Joe Cianni, Jim O'Neill, Al Reid, and Larry Templeton.

League play is definitely scheduled to start next Tuesday night at 8:15 sharp.

Len Grosso also reported that the Westchester Travelers League of which he was President last season, is having their initial meeting at the Larchmont Rec next Saturday at 8:30 P. M. The Travelers hope to have an eight team league this season which will have representatives from all Westchester towns and also Greenwich.

The Larchmont Community League play will commence this Thursday night at the Rec Center.

All league activity is expected to get into full swing next week with play scheduled for the Mamaroneck Rec, Larchmont Bowl, and Larchmont Rec.

LOUIS NOW WEIGHING HIS RING RETIREMENT

PHILADELPHIA, (AP — Joe Louis intends to take the full six months to decide whether he'll retire as heavyweight boxing champion of the world.

The Brown Bomber, who previously said his June 25 fight against Jersey Joe Walcott was his last, told delegates to the National Boxing Association dinner last night:

"I have six months from the date of my last fight to make known my plans of retirement and until that time I should be known as the heavyweight champion of the world."

He then turned to Abe Greene, president of the NBA, and said:

"Mr. Greene at the end of six months you'll have my answer on your desk."

Dodgers Scuttle Bucs Twice To Put Braves 5 Games Ahead

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Staff

It looks as if the Boston Braves are in.

With a five game lead and only 18 games left to play, the Braves appear unstoppable in the National League today. At the moment it seems that only a major nosedive would deprive the Braves of their first pennant since the "Miracle Team" of 1914.

As for hitting a serious slump, Manager Billy Southworth isn't worried. He has the best remedy possible in his double "S" stoppers — Johnny Sain and Warren Spahn.

Sain and Spahn, the Mr. Right and Mr. Left respectively of the Braves mound staff, are rolling in high gear. The Braves have won eight out of their last nine starts and Sain and Spahn have won five of these games.

No. 20 for Sain

Sain, a big tobacco chewing righthander with one of the best curve balls in the business, became the first pitcher in the loop to win 20 games when he pitched the Braves to a 10-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs yesterday.

The triumph enabled the Braves to pull five games ahead of the runner - up Pittsburgh Pirates who suffered a severe jolt by dropping a doubleheader to the third place Brooklyn Dodgers, 8-5 and 7-3.

Erskine Leading Bomber

The Dodgers blasted 27 hits in sinking the Pirates at Ebbets Field. Marv Rackley with six blows and Pee Wee Reese and Jackie Robinson with five apiece paced the Dodger bombardment. Reese drove home five runs in the first game.

Brilliant relief pitching by Hank Behrman played a prominent part in the Dodgers' opening triumph. Behrman rescued young Carl Erskine in the fourth inning and held the Pirates to three hits the rest of the way. Harry Taylor, recently recalled from St. Paul, went the distance in the finale to post his first success since April 22. Ostermueller and Elmer Riddle were the losing pitchers. The victories moved the Dodgers to within one percentage point of the Pirates.

The St. Louis Cardinals, behind the three - hit pitching of Harry Brecheen, blanked the Phillies, 8-0 in a night game at Philadelphia.

The triumph enabled the Cards to break their fourth place tie with the idle New York Giants.

The Boston Red Sox retained their two game lead over the New York Yankees in the American League's pennant chase. The Sox downed the White Sox, 4-1, in a night game at Chicago while the Yanks brushed off the third place Cleveland Indians, 6-5.

Ellis Kinder checked the White Sox on five blows and wasn't scored on until the ninth. Ted Williams led the Red Sox attack, driving home three runs with a pair of doubles.

The Yanks came from behind to nip the Indians, scoring four runs in the seventh inning to overcome a 4-2 deficit. A two-run pinch-hit homer by Charley Keller highlighted the uprising. Bob Lemon, Cleveland's 20 game winner, was the loser and Ed Lopat got the decision. Joe Gordon clouted his 27th homer off Lopat in the sixth with one on to spark a three run Cleveland rally.

Connie Mack's fourth place Philadelphia Athletics drubbed the Browns, 12 2, in a night game at St. Louis.

The Detroit Tigers took a doubleheader from the hapless Washington Senators, 2-1 in 11 innings, and 12-1. Paul Campbell's based loaded single enabled Hal Newhouser to pick up his 17th victory in the first game.

Tonight in New York
The Coronet Theatre, which has been dark since last week, when "Angel in the Wings" closed a successful run, will reopen tomorrow night with another intimate revue called "Small Wonder." This new musical will be the first production effort of George Nichols 3rd.
Featured in the small but talented cast will be Tom Ewell, Alice Pearce, Mary McCarty and Hayes Gordon.

The dangerous wild horse race, by the vote of the cowboys themselves, will again be a part of the 23rd annual World's Championship Rodeo in Madison Square Garden beginning Wednesday, Sept. 29th.
They decided against the wild horse race in 1946 and the relatively tame wild cow milking contest replaced it. But many of the crack hands insisted it be restored, and that was done in 1947, to provide the most hectic scene of the rodeo.

Irving, the talking horse in Marc Connelly's forthcoming comedy called "A Story for Strangers," isn't going to, after all. That is, not loud enough for the audience to hear him. He'll still whinny (courtesy of Donald Baint) and he'll still be vainie (first at death's door, and later as a rejuvenated two-year-old), but, due to some recent script revisions, all his remarks will be sotto voce.

The message that the theatre itself can be enjoyable, no less than the attraction it houses, was delivered to the house staffs of the Fulton, Morosco, 48th Street, Coronet and Martin Beck Theatres at the luncheon in the Hotel Carlyle yesterday. Their hosts were Robert W. Dowling, president of City Investing Company, and Louis A. Lotito, president of City Playhouses, Inc. These companies control the first four-named theatres, and Mr. Lotito directs the operations of the Martin Beck.

Combing The Town

Rousing Sendoff

The Larchmont Air Scouts last night gave William Fitzgerald, a charter member, a rousing sendoff as he prepared to leave this morning for the Lackland Air Base, San Antonio, Texas, where he will undergo Air Force training.

Fitzgerald was presented an Air Scout pin by his fellow Scouts at a meeting held in the Junior High School. He was one of six Air Scouts who received flight instruction at the County Airport, aided by the sponsoring Larchmont Rotary Club. He attained the rank of ace Feb. 11, 1947, and has attended three Summer encampments at Stewart Field and one at Mitchel Field. He was elected assistant squadron pilot at this years' encampment.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Ozg Fitzgerald of 7 Boston Post Road, he was graduated from Mamaroneck High School last June.

Agents Back Drive

The Mamaroneck Association of Insurance Agents, meeting yesterday at the Morris Stern agency, voted to make its regular contribution to the Community Chest which will hold its drive Oct. 24.

Everett Houghton, secretary - treasurer of the association, will forward the group's check to Village Manager William H. Johnson, chairman of the Lions' Club organizing committee.

Earl W. Quick will head a countywide committee of the Westchester County Association of Insurance Agents, Inc., to foster the compulsory inspection of autos to promote safer driving in the county, it was announced.

H. Edward Block will represent Mamaroneck in the county association's annual Fire Prevention Week program starting Oct. 3.

Budget Speed-Up

The steps which precede the presentation of the Rye Neck School budget will be stepped up next year, Superintendent Alvin W. Hicks told the School Board last night, to avoid a last minute rush on the part of the trustees and provide ample time for consideration by the taxpayers.

Teachers are to present their budget booklets to their respective principals by Dec. 6 this year, about two weeks before it was done last year. The succeeding steps will be advanced accordingly with the master copy ready for the board by Feb. 20. Last spring, the board did not receive the master copy until April 11.

Landscaping Counsel

James Jackson, former president of the Rye Neck School Board, was back in the school news last night at the meeting of the Board of Education.

Trustee Edgar B. Burchell, in charge of buildings and grounds, reported that Mr. Jackson has been consulted about the Post Road property purchased last Spring by the board and has offered to write suggestions for planting and landscaping it.

The lot is adjacent to the Bellows High School building and was purchased from the village with a view to improving the appearance of the high school grounds.

Show of Gratitude

It turned out last night to be "Value received" by the Rye Neck School Board for the loan of its bleachers to the Village of Mamaroneck for Harbor Island sports events this Summer.

Superintendent Alvin W. Hicks read a letter of gratitude from Village Manager William H. Johnson who disclosed that the village had cancelled a bill of $10 against the school district for rolling the cinder track.

All future questions of lending or renting school property have been settled by the state auditor, Clerk Edward Juliet told the board. It can't be done any more.

New School Opens

The new Westchester Day School sponsored by the Westchester Religious Institute swung into operation yesterday as 50 students attended their first classes.

Boys and girls from all over the county are registered in the school, which includes kindergarten and Grades 1 through 5.

Maurice Plotnick is headmaster. The teaching staff includes Rabbi Aaron Baer, Irving Perlow, Mrs. Pauline Konstantin, Mrs. Shirley Ann Schwartz and Miss Leona Goldstein. Another teacher will join the staff Monday.

Merry Chase

An elusive gray Plymouth Rock chicken which apparently jumped off a chicken truck on the Boston Post Road yesterday morning gave Pete O'Reilly a merry chase through the Mitchell Oil Corporation service station before Pete and his associates were able to corner the bird in the pump room.

The men finally caught the bird, killed it and took it to a local market, where it was dressed.

You guessed it, Pete had chicken for dinner last night!

SCHOOL CENSUS SHOWS BIG GAIN

Children's Population Up 226, Largest Gain In 15 Years

The 1948 school census showed an increase of 226 children, the largest gain in 15 years, John C. Fisher, attendance supervisor reported to the Mamaroneck Board of Education Tuesday night.

His report shows that since 1943 there has been a total increase of 678 children in the school district. From 1943 to 1947, the gain was chiefly in the number of children under school age, he stated. This year, although there is a substantial increase in this age group, the largest gain is in the group of elementary school age, 5 to 11 years old.

Further large increases may be expected due to the building activities in the community, said Mr. Fisher.

This is particularly true in the area served by the Central School Mr. Fisher reported, adding that the first school census in Elkan Park, near the schools, showed 52 children. Although most of these children are under school age, he said, all of them will be ready for school in a very few years, and more children may be expected there. Other factors indicating a large increase in the Central School district are the new apartments on Richbell Road which are expected to be fully occupied within the next year, and the many houses being built and planned on Orienta Point.

There is also considerable building activity in the areas served by the Murray Avenue and Chatsworth Avenue schools, Mr. Fisher said, but not so much noted in the Mamaroneck Avenue School district.

His report shows 6,268 children in the entire school district between the ages of less than one year old and 17, compared with 6,042 in 1947, 5,917 in 1946 and 5,845 in 1945. Of the total number of children in the school district this year 3,223 of them are boys and 3,045 are girls. There are 429 children in the district who are only one year old, the largest group of any single age.

The least number of children, 296, are the eleven-year-olds.

ST. THOMAS'S SCHOOL TO REOPEN SUNDAY

St. Thomas's Episcopal Church School will reopen Sunday at 10:10 A. M. in the Parish House following the Summer recess. All pupils will be enrolled and assigned to classes.

A large matriculation is anticipated of children of all ages. During the Summer, lesson material was carefully arranged by Superintendent Harold S. Woodward.

The Nursery and Kindergarten Departments, under the supervision of Mrs. Milton Lewis, will continue to be one of the largest of the Church School departments. Parents with children of nursery and kindergarten age are asked to bring their children to the Parish House for enrollment Saturday between 11 A. M. and noon.

The first of the services for parents and children will be held at 11 A. M. Sunday. At this short service, of festive nature, the pupils of the school will participate by following the choir in the processional. Hymns and prayers will be appropriate for sacred education, and the rector will give a short talk.

Program Of Adult Education Planned For Rye Neck Schools

A program of adult education sponsored by the parent-teacher organizations and administered by the school authorities will be inaugurated this year in Rye Neck if sufficient interest is indicated on the part of residents of the district.

The school board voted favorably on the proposition last night and authorized the use of the necessary rooms and equipment for the program.

Superintendent Alvin W. Hicks explained that selection of classes will depend upon the interest shown by residents since an average of eight adults is necessary for course approval.

"What means would you use to determine the interest?" Trustee Edgar B. Burchell asked.

"A check sheet could be sent home with the pupils," Dr. Hicks replied, "to be filled out by the parents."

Trustee Malcolm Brown pointed out that if the requirements called for an average enrollment of eight, then some classes could have as few as three if others pulled the average up.

Since the district is allowed state aid in the amount of $2.50 per 40-minute period for teacher payment, Trustee John P. Fox commented that the district "would be quite negligent if we didn't make the program available." He added that it was essentially a self-supporting proposition whereupon Trustee Brown moved that the plan be adopted with a nominal fee not to exceed $5 per course, as recommended, in order to make the program "as nearly self-supporting as possible."

The courses may include ceramics, cabinet making, civics and citizenship, Dr. Hicks explained, judging by the interest which has already been expressed.

In reply to a question from Trustee Edgar B. Burchell, Dr. Hicks stated that no recreation program will be undertaken as such but that the school might arrange to teach a particular sport since, to qualify as a course, a subject will have to be taught.

Final enrollment figures presented by Dr. Hicks showed that 259 students are attending Rarry Avenue School, 320 are at Daniel Warren and 379 at Bellows Junior and Senior High Schools. The enrollments respectively for those three schools when the year closed last June were 267,291 and 369 indicating that a large seventh grade passing to the High School caused a large increase there while the two elementary schools show a decrease.

The board discussed at length a proposal to authorize Dr. David D. Grossbard, school dentist, to give elementary school children the fluoride treatment to reduce the incidence of tooth decay. Balked by the problem of how to provide that treatment for all children who might want it and still stay within the budgetary item for dental work, the board voted to consult Dr. Grossbard at the next meeting and determine then what procedure might be adopted which would be equitable.

Board President Raymond T. O'Connell asked if there were any objections to the staggered lunch hour now in effect at the Daniel Warren School to relieve overcrowding of the lunch room and Trustee Burchell replied, "Yes, my wife objects to it. The kids have only a half hour at home for lunch."

Dr. Hicks enlarged upon the reasons for the adoption of the schedule and the board voted to give it a trial "for a month or so."

When Trustee Fox and Dr. Hicks agreed that "some improve-

DAVIS OUTLINES CHEST CAMPAIGN

Executive Chairman Gives Report On 1948 Plans To Directors

Clayton L. Davis, executive campaign chairman of the 1948 Larchmont Community Chest, reported details of the coming campaign at a meeting of the Board of Directors last evening at the Girl Scout House on Harmon Drive, Larchmont. Platt K. Wiggins, chest president, presided.

Mr. Davis introduced Paul Ryan, chairman of special gifts; Philip H. Holden, publicity chairman, and Mrs. Theodore V. Bennett, chairman of press relations, regretting that other of the campaign's chairmen and vice-chairmen were unable to be present.

Wednesday, Oct. 6, was selected as a focal point midway in the campaign when the district chairmen would make their first reports. Members of the Board were urged to be present at that time to greet the chairmen and supervisors and to receive information regarding the campaign's progress.

Mrs. Harold Hall Rhoades, executive campaign secretary, told the Board that her office staff had been selected and that headquarters would open Sept. 20 at 131 Larchmont Avenue.

DETECTIVES QUESTION VICTIM OF ASSAULT

Detective Sergeant Thomas J. Boyle of the Larchmont Police and detectives of the Paterson, New Jersey Police Department will interview Miss Dolly Jordan of Larchmont this afternoon in her room at the United Hospital, Port Chester where she is recuperating from injuries resulting from alleged criminal attacks.

Hospital authorities today reported her condition "improved." She was admitted to the hospital Tuesday night on the recommendation of her physician, Dr. John F. Foland, who diagnosed her condition as mental hysteria and a possible brain concussion.

Police expressed the belief today that Miss Jordan will swear out a formal complaint against two male companions who she alleges criminally assaulted her on Monday morning in New Jersey during a tour of night clubs, and also relieved her of $45 in cash and a wrist watch. Police said that both men have been identified.

The thirty-year-old blonde night club singer and dancer told her story of the alleged attacks to Detective Boyle Monday afternoon following her return from New Jersey.

WEAVER ST. FIREMEN PLAN FIRST BAZAAR

The first annual bazaar of the Weaver Street Fire Department will open Saturday evening Sept. 25, continuing through Oct. 2 with the exception of the intervening Sunday, it was announced today by George W. Bartlett. Permission has been granted by the Park Commission for the use of the Depot Plaza, Mystic Boulevard and Vine Street, as the scene of the carnival.

The bazaar, originally scheduled to begin Oct. 2, was set ahead in order to cooperate with Larchmont Fair Trade Association which is holding its exposition during that week.

VALUES IN TOWN JUMP $2,690,897 OVER LAST YEAR

Assessment Roll For 1948 Totals $81,293,302, Near All-Time Peak

The 1948 assessment roll for 1949 tax purposes in the Town of Mamaroneck, totalling $81,293,302, or $2,690,897 over the 1947 valuation, was completed yesterday by Town Assessor James M. Smith and filed with Town Clerk Charles J. Gronberg. The clerk in turn will file the roll with the Town Supervisor who must file it with Westchester County officials by Oct. 1.

The new assessment roll is within $2 million dollars of the all-time peak assessment of $83,139,768 levied in 1932.

Assessments of all three municipal divisions of the town increased in the new roll. The unincorporated area was increased from $32,803,318 last year to $33,868,963; the Village of Larchmont from $24,521,000 last year to $25,060,914; and the Village Mamaroneck from $21,278,087 last year to $22,363,405.

Excluded from the total figure is $11,007,624 in exemptions, which if added would make the total valuation of the entire Town of Mamaroneck $92,300,926.

Among the exemptions is $181,800 in military exemptions. This is bonus money of World Wars I and II which is used toward the purchase and building of new homes for which exemptions were claimed and granted. Last year, military exemptions amounted to $138,820, which shows that approximately $43,000 of bonus money was put into homes and property by veterans during the last year.

Other exemptions are $1,224,375 for churches, $4,244,200 for schools, $4,762,374 for municipalities, $44,950 for cemeteries, and $549,825 for "miscellaneous," which includes such items as the V.F.W. and the American Legion clubhouses and grounds.

Of the total exempted for municipalities, $2,567,390 is for property owned by the County of Westchester, including the Sanitary Sewer Commission. The balance is made up of exemptions of property held by New York State, the United States Government, town and village properties.

Mr. Smith explained that the majority of the $2,690,897 increase in this year's roll is due to new construction, while some of the old buildings have had their assessments increased. Protests were reviewed last June by a Board of Review.

The State Tax Commission last Spring gave the Town an equalization rating of 96 per cent, adding $44,064 to the assessment of special franchises in the town. The rating means that the commission believes the town of Mamaroneck property is assessed at 96 per cent of its full value. The Westchester County Tax Commission, however, reduced the equalization rating last year to 95 per cent. The County will determine a new rating for the town after the new roll is filed with them.

The total assessment for special franchises in 1948 amounted to $3,245,376, compared with $3,201,312 in 1947. A breakdown of the 1948 assessments of special franchises with last year's figures in parentheses follows:

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, $40,005 ($45,984); New Rochelle Water Company, $328 ($288); Westchester Lighting Company, $2,082,912 ($2,047,200); American Telephone and Telegraph Company, $155,232 ($155,232); New York Telephone Company, $966,336 ($952,608).

The total assessment roll for the last five years is as follows: $77,719,089 in 1943, $76,376,017 in 1944, $75,688,203 in 1945, $77,627,871 in 1946, and $78,602,405 in 1947.

Local Draft Boards Ordered To Provide 29 Inductees

Draft Boards Nos. 10 and 11, serving areas which include Larchmont and Mamaroneck, respectively, have received a tentative call for a total of 29 men for pre-induction physical examinations for pre-induction physical examinations some time next month, according to an announcement by Brig. Gen. Ames T. Brown, State Director of Selective Service.

Draft Board No. 10 has been ordered to call up 18 registrants, while Draft Board No. 11 was notified it will be required to provide 11 men. The men will be called for induction into the service in November.

Draft Board officials said the 26-year-old men would be called first. They were unable to determine from what areas served by the board men would be called. Questionnaires are being sent out to the 26-year-old registrants so that they may be classified. Unless the local board grants an extension, a registrant is required to return his questionnaire to the board within 10 days after receipt.

"Registrants who appeal their classification and then receive notice for pre-induction physical a notice to appear for pre-induction physical examination are not being denied the right of appeal," Gen. Brown said. If the pre-induction physical examination finds the registrant physically unable to perform military or naval training and service, he will be reclassified in Class 4-F and the need for an appeal will cease."

A total of 622 men will be called in November from New York State Boards, exclusive of New York City.

Bike Testing Plan Launched In Rye Neck

A bicycle testing program has been undertaken by the Parent-Teacher Associations of the Barry Avenue and Daniel Warren elementary schools in the interests of bicycle safety, the Board of Education learned last night.

License plates will be sold to the students at 25 cents each if their bicycles pass the test. Each bicycle rider in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades will be encouraged to submit his bike in order to qualify for one of the plates.

In the memorandum presented by Superintendent Alvin W. Hicks to the board, he stated that the school administration plans "to cooperate with the PTA groups who wish to sponsor this program in our district" and points out that two tests, one written and one practical, will be given by Miss Marguerite Smith and Jack Fearon, physical education teachers. Rules set by the Bicycle Institute of America will be followed.

Mrs. Herbert B. Livesey, Jr., urged that children whose bicycles do not pass the test be prohibited from riding them to school, but Trustee William Fitts objected to that clause with the contention that, unless there is a village ordinance to that effect, it cannot be enforced.

Mrs. Livesey maintained that there would be no point to the program if the children could ride their bikes to school whether they passed the test or not, but Attorney Henry Hornidge explained that a school board cannot specify how a child shall travel from home to the school.

The board agreed that the license plates can be issued only as a reward and that all possible encouragement should be given bike riders to take the tests short of compulsion.

Beach Club Roof Fire Causes Slight Damage

The roof of the winter clubhouse of the Orienta Beach Club caught fire late yesterday afternoon, but Mamaroneck firemen extinguished the blaze before much damage was done.

A general alarm was sounded at 5:10 P. M. and all companies responded under the direction of Chief William Lemon. Chief Lemon stated that the fire was apparently caused by an oil burner in the basement which backfired, causing lighted pieces of soot to fly out of the chimney and land on the cedar shingles of the roof, setting fire to them. The blaze was reported by the manager of the club.

China, Russia, Ukraine Refuse To Support Proposal

PARIS, (AP)—The United Nations Security Council voted 8 to 0 today to look into the war situation in Hyderabad.

China, Soviet Russia and the Ukraine abstained in the vote placing the Indian invasion of the princely state on the agenda.

PARIS, (AP)—The United Nations Security Council met in the Palais de Chaillot today to consider the war in Hyderabad.

The council's first business was to decide whether India's invasion of the princely state concerns the council.

Hyderabad is seeking a cease-fire order, withdrawal of Indian troops and mediation by the U. N.

Sir A. Ramaswami Mudaliar, representing India, told the press his country contends "this is strictly a domestic affair" and is outside the province of the council because Hyderabad is not a Sovereign State.

The council is meeting in the great hall of the Palais de Chaillot on Place du Trocadero, where the U. N. General Assembly will convene Tuesday for two or three months to ponder the world's great problems.

Preparations for the assembly meeting already were apparent as the 11-nation council responden to the summons for the meeting on Hyderabad.

The assembly already has an agenda listing 60 - odd items, including the frustrated attempts to settle the atomic and arms reduction issues. The assembly also has two new items of a unique character to consider.

One is the disposition of the prewar Italian colonies — Eritrea, Libya and Somaliland. The Big Four powers failed to agree on their future.

The other new problem, which may or may not be officially acknowledged by the assembly, is posed by Garry Davis, twenty-six, wartime aviator son of orchestra leader Meyer Davis. He claims to be the first world citizen and demands recognition as such.

TAXPAYER GROUP LAUDS APPROVAL OF BUS LINE

The Mamaroneck Taxpayers' Association voiced its approval yesterday of the decision made Monday night by the Village Board granting permission to the Fordham Transit Company to extend its bus route through the village. The association's statement is contained in a letter to Mayor A. S. Santoro and the Board of Trustees from Vincent DePaul Crennan, chairman of the executive committee.

Following is the letter: "This association wishes to voice its approval of the action taken by the Board of Trustees in granting permission to the Fordham Transit Company to extend its bus route to the Town of Rye Lane.

"We feel this extension of service is most desirable, not only as a convenience to the people of this community, but affords economical transportation for a through service to the Bronx. As an added traveling facility, it should prove most advantageous.

"We sincerely hope the Public Service Commission will grant this request."

LARCHMONTER FACES SECOND AUTO CHARGE

NEW YORK—A charge of driving a car without an operator's license was lodged in Auto Accident Court here yesterday morning against Alfonso Kollar of 49 Monroe Avenue, Larchmont. The charge was made by Patrolman Umberto Fiorentino of the East 104th Street station, who apprehended Kollar last month on a hit-run charge.

Fiorentino explained to Magistrate Frederick L. Strong that both charges arose from an accident involving Kollar's car and another vehicle at 86th Street and Second Avenue here at 10 P. M. on Aug. 13. He said he had neglected to press the unlicensed operator charge at the time Kollar was arraigned on the hit - run charge on Aug. 23.

Kollar allegedly left the scene of the accident, in which the other car was badly damaged, without reporting it to police.

Both charges were set for a hearing next Tuesday.

38 SEAMEN SAVED FROM BRITISH SHIP

NEW YORK, (AP) — Thirty-eight crew members of an abandoned British freighter were rescued today by two ships in the hurricane - lashed North Atlantic, but four others were lost.

Coast Guard headquarters said the American rescue ship Cecil N. Bean reported saving 20 crew members of the freighter Leicester from mountainous waves about 400 miles southwest of Cape Race, Nfld.

The Bean reported that 18 other crew members were rescued by the Argentine steamer Tropero. The remainder of the Leicester's 43-man crew were reported lost.

The Leicester, a 7,266 - ton New York-bound freighter, was caught in the path of the northeastward sweeping Mid-Atlantic Hurricane. She has now been completely abandoned, the Bean messaged.

A brief message received by Coast Guard headquarters said the remainder of the Leicester's crew were lost during the hurricane Tuesday night.

The Royal Canadian Air Force reported that the abandoned Leicester and two partly submerged lifeboats had been sighted about 400 miles southeast of Halifax. Strong winds churned up heavy seas in the region.

Meanwhile the Coast Guard cutter Bibb messaged that she had reached the storm - battered Portuguese fishing schooner Gaspar 300 miles off the Newfoundland Coast.

Winds were dying, the Bibb reported, but seas still were too rough to attempt removal of 40 crewman from the Gaspar. The Bibb stood by.

M. in the Odd-Fellows Hall in New Rochelle, it was announced by Mrs. Hugh J. Morris of Mamaroneck, secretary and treasurer of the association.

The public is invited to see the wool spun into yarn by means of an old fashioned spinning wheel. A short business meeting will preceed the demonstration and lecture, Mrs. Morris said.

ment" can undoubtedly be made in the Summer recreation program, Mr. O'Connell asked the recreation advisory committee to study the results of the Summer program and report at the next meeting of the board.

Trustee Burchell told the board he felt the district received "excellent value for what we spent" on the Summer program and added that if the community felt more money could be spent, the program could be improved.

Upon motion of Trustee Brown, the board authorized the expenditure of $304.65 for the purchase of review books for 29 subjects, an expense hitherto met by the students who use them.

After a conference regarding the application of several students who have moved out to the district to continue attendance in the Rye Neck schools, the board agreed that the present rule requiring $300 tuition from non-resident students must be enforced. If a student should move out of the district after beginning his senior year, however, he will be permitted to finish the year tuition free.

The board accepted Dr. Hicks' recommendations for two exceptions to the school distribution plan. Robert F. Bryan requested that his two children who are nearly the same age be permitted to attend the same school and Robert D. Payne, who lives just a half a block from the Barry Avenue School, asked that his daughter be permitted to attend first grade there instead of at Daniel Warren.

Trustee William Fitts advised Dr. Hicks to make sure that the changes would not cause a flood of other requests for transfer and Dr. Hicks declared that not only were the two cases exceptional but also they would not cause any equalization problem in the classes involved. Every request would continue to be considered on its own merits, he said, without precedents being set.

Trustee Burchell reported that the truck strike caused a delay in the delivery of building materials to Bellows High School last week and that consequently the wall which was to have been built to partition the superintendent's office has not yet been built. He described other Summer work completed and praised the custodians for their work in the basement of the Barry Avenue School. So far, $1,300 has been spent for waterproofing out of the $2,500 in the budget for waterproofing and roofing and Clerk Juller stated that estimates are being received for the roofing work. Certain necessary electrical work has been done in the Barry Avenue building for $441; Trustee Burchell said to remove a fire hazard due to overloading of sockets.

As a result of information received from two sources, the insurable value of the Rye Neck school buildings is reported to have increased somewhere between 15 percent and 31 percent during the last two years, Trustee Brown reported. He recalled that in 1936, fire insurance on the building totalled $573,00 and that as a result of a survey in 1946 the replacable values jumped 90 percent on the Barry Avenue building, 67 percent on the Bellows building and 66 per cent on the Daniel Warren building.

According to one recent source, the value has now jumped between 15 and 17 per cent on the buildings and according to a second authority between 18 per cent and 37 per cent.

Trustee Brown made it clear that he was merely passing along the information and added, "I'm not sure yet where to go." He explained that the insurance committee will study the figures and told the board that he didn't consider the matter as urgent as it was two years ago.

Francis, Stephany Married In Georgia's 'Gretna Green'

FOLKSTON, Ga., (AP)—Polo playing Francis Hitchcock and tall, willowy Stephany Saja, a Pennsylvania coal miner's daughter, were honeymooning today after a surprise elopement to this South Georgia "Gretna Green."

The twenty-three-year-old bride who left her native Windber, Pa., and went to New York to become a clerk in a brokerage firm, was married to the balding thirty-nine year-old Hitchcock here last night by Charlton County Judge A. S. McQueen.

It was the first marriage for the bride, the third for the Socialite groom.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for the Kentucky-Florida club, an ultra exclusive sportsmen's club five miles from De Land, Fla.

A friend said the civil marriage last night would be followed soon by a church ceremony.

The last legal barrier to the wedding was removed Tuesday at West Palm Beach, Fla., when Circuit Judge C. E. Chillingworth granted a divorce decree to Mrs. Marie Grammer Hitchcock, the groom's second wife, on her counter suit.

Hitchcock, however, still faces the possibility of a perjury investigation directed by the court at the time the decree was entered. The question raised was whether Hitchcock had perjured himself in obtaining a Florida marriage license by saying he was divorced.

150 BERLIN YOUTHS STONE RED POLICE

BERLIN, (AP)—Some 150 German youths stoned three policemen in the Russian sector of Berlin today, the Soviet - controlled press reported.

The Communist police report said the three policemen were returning home from duty when a swarm of youngsters near a "black market center" set upon them and showered them with rocks from nearby rubble heaps.

The report said the youths were "incited by older people," one of whom was said to be drunk. He was arrested along with 15 boys. The latter were released after several hours, the account said.

A former Berlin official, meanwhile, was reported facing a secret Russian court today, as the East - West war of nerves continued.

Last night, American authorities said the official — Dr. Curt Mueckenberger, former manager of the Berlin Central Coal Organization—was to face trial in a secret Soviet court session.

The Soviet - licensed press has made no comment on the reported trial.

Mueckenberger was arrested by the Russians a month ago after they removed him from office for an "uncooperative attitude." Nothing since has been heard from him.

Economics officials in the American Military Government said the Russians refused a request they made to attend the hearing.

U. S. Recalls 4 Aides On Romania's Request

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The State Department disclosed today that four members of the American legation staff in Bucharest, Romania, have been recalled on the demand of the Romanian government.

Romania had accused the four of taking photographs in a forbidden zone.

The United States rejected the accusation and declared that the Romanian Government's complaints "do not conform to the facts."

This assertion was made in a note which was delivered by Minister Rudolf E. Schoenfeld to the Romanian Foreign Ministry yesterday.

The note, released by the State Department today, accused Romanian police in the city of Giurgiu of having detained the two men and two women members of the Legation Staff for 17 hours incommunicado after the alleged photographing occurred.

Murray Ave. Wins Place On Safety Honor Roll

For the fourth consecutive year, Murray Avenue School has received a certificate of Exceptional Merit and was placed on the National School Safety Honor Roll of the National Safety Council, Miss Loretta Hirschbeck, principal, announced today. "We are proud of our safety education program and are pleased that the National Safety Council has again recognized our efforts," Miss Hirschbeck said. "As long as accidents are the ranking cause of death among school-age children, all of us on the staff of Murray Avenue School will continue our organized safety program to teach the young people of our community to protect themselves and their fellow students."

The committee which reviewed the work of the Murray Avenue School and reported to the Council was composed of Mrs. Thomas Morrison, Jr., past president of the P. T. A., James Smith, physical education director, Richard Levy, past president of Student Council, and Miss Hirschbeck.

Blast In Tunnel to Join Brooklyn-Battery Tube

NEW YORK, (AP) — A blast 115 feet beneath the surface of New York harbor today will link the two extremities of the Brooklyn-Battery vehicular tunnel.

Since 1940 — with three years out for war—sandhogs have been blasting and burrowing toward one another from each end of the $77 million project.

Only a few feet of rock remain to be holed through before workers meet with mathematical accuracy late today.

The new 9,117-foot tunnel will be opened to four express traffic lanes in 1950, connecting downtown Manhattan and Brooklyn.

Polio Strikes Boy, 10

A ten-year-old White Plains boy has become ill of infantile paralysis, health authorities reported today. The case is the 14th in White Plains and 53rd in Westchester this year. The boy became ill on Tuesday.

CIO FUR WORKER BALKS AT QUERY

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Sam Mencher, a vice president of the CIO Fur and Leather Workers' Union, refused to tell a Congressional committee today whether he is a Communist.

Mencher is the second vice president of the union to refuse to answer such a question on grounds it violated his constitutional right to free assembly and that an answer might incriminate him. Sam Burt had declined to answer on those grounds yesterday.

Mencher, a fur worker since 1911, was promptly dismissed from the witness stand by Chairman Max Schwabe, R., Wyo., of a House Labor Subcommittee. The committee is investigating complaints of Communist infiltration of the union.

ARMONK — "Not quite frost but almost" was the report from this area where temperature last midnight was 45 degrees. By 8 A. M. the mercury had risen 10 degrees.

TYPHOON LASHES CENTRAL HONSHU

TOKYO, (AP) — Ten Central Honshu prefectures were lashed by a typhoon tonight as winds up to 60 miles an hour zipped east of metropolitan Tokyo.

At least two were dead, three injured and 23 missing in the 15 prefectures, early reports indicated.

Torrential rains deluged sections north and west of Tokyo sending rivers on rampages. Thousands of Japanese fled as rivers threatened to engulf their homes.

Fears were expressed for the ripening rice crops.

Residents of Shimizu, 80 miles south of here, cringed with terror as four storm loosened Japanese vessels were tossed about the harbor where the American freighter, Governor Bibbs, was trapped as it loaded explosive ammonium nitrate, the type of cargo that wrecked Texas City last year.

Haneda Airport reported only slight damage from the high winds. Four American B29s landed at Misawa Airport during the storm.

HOME SOLD

The sale of a home at 11 Bayard Avenue, Larchmont, for J. Frost, Jr. to John J. McDonald has been reported by the James R. Murphy, Inc., real estate office. The sale was for cash over a purchase money mortgage held by the New York Federal Savings and Loan. Title was insured by the Security Title and Guarantee Company.

Gets Into Wrong Car, Takes Wrong Parcel

Taking the wrong parcel from the wrong car caused a bit of confusion for Mrs. William M. Payne of 15 Senate Place, Larchmont, yesterday.

Mrs. Payne, who was driving with a friend, got out of her friend's car to do some shopping. When she returned, she got into the wrong car, according to police. When she finally found her friend's car, she picked up what she thought was one of her parcels and transferred. On arriving home, she discovered she had a pair of young man's shoes that did not belong to her. She notified police, who traced the shoes to Mrs. H. C. Manifred of New Rochelle through the shop where they had been repaired.

Spotlight On Sports

By DICK CARPENTER

With both local high school grid teams hard at work preparing for their season openers, we feel that it is just about that time of year when all rabid fans start looking over the potentialities of their favorite school. While browsing around both Daniel Warren and Manchester Fields, we've heard both optimistic and pessimistic views about the Bellows and Mamaroneck eleven.

In the past four years, Mamaroneck's Black and Orange have produced winning teams and there is no particular reason why this year's club shouldn't also be among the leading county gridiron outfits. It is our contention that to have a hard driving high school football team, it is necessary to have a leader among the starting players who is capable of keeping the entire club on its toes at all times during the course of a game. The Hilltoppers have just such a player in Joe Petruzzo who is a familiar figure in the Mamaroneck sports picture.

Petruzzo will be winding up his high school athletic career this season and should reach a peak of performance if it is possible to become any more of a standout performer.

Also to be considered is the fact that Mamaroneck High School has an outstanding program of junior high sports which produces a continuous flow of material into the senior high. Howard Smith, former coach at the junior and senior high, can possibly take the credit for organizing scheduled games with other junior high outfits throughout the county as it seems to this writer that this practice originated in his first year at the Hilltop Junior High.

So, from our point of view, it looks like another successful season for the Orange and Black gridders. We hate to jinx Coach Harry Harrison's boys and we could be as wrong as the next fan but, at any rate, we're hoping for the best as far as football at Mamaroneck High is concerned.

For the past few seasons up at Bellows, the coaches have been faced with tremendous tasks and it appears that Jack Pearon will also have his troubles this year. Due to the limited supply of athletically-minded boys which is always prominent in a small school, Coach Pearon is starting out with few boys who have ever engaged in an inter - scholastic football game of any kind.

However, this is no reason for the genial coach or any of the East End fans to give up on their chances. This season the Panthers will be playing a schedule which includes schools comparable to the size of Bellows. In recent seasons, the East End boys have encountered many teams which represent schools of twice the enrollment of Bellows. Darien, New Canaan, Horace Greeley and Irvington now are opponents of the Panthers and all are in the Class D category, as is the East End school.

The Blue and Black eleven opens its season a week from Saturday against Darien, a school in lower Connecticut which is faced with about the same obstacles as Bellows. Darien has three returning lettermen and is drawing its starting team from members of last year's J. V. squad. The Nutmeg eleven will open their season this Saturday against Stratford, a Class A school which appears to be an almost certain winner. However, strange things happen on the football field sometimes and many Panther fans will be keeping their eyes on the result of this battle.

Although experience is lacking in the East End squad, fighting spirit is prominent, a trait which could sway many a ball game.

We'll be rooting for both local eleven when they take the field for the first time and here's hoping for successful seasons for both Jack Pearon and Harry Harrison.

VILLANOVA CAPTAIN

PHILADELPHIA, (AP) — Bob Poulnot, Villanova's speedy halfback, has been named captain of the Wildcats for their opening game against Texas A. and M. at Franklin Field Saturday. Poulnot, a senior, was voted Villanova's most valuable player last season.

Panther Wingman Sidelined Indefinitely By Leg Injury

The Bellows Panthers and local football received notice of the first football injury of the season yesterday as it was revealed by Coach Jack Pearon that Ed Kaynor, a leading candidate for one of the end positions may possibly be lost for the entire season.

Kaynor was X-rayed yesterday to learn the extent of a torn muscle in his thigh. It was believed that Kaynor had reinjured a leg bruise. He has been instructed to refrain from any further gridiron activity until further observation reveals the true extent of his injury.

Kaynor appeared in several games for the East Enders last season and was slated to see plenty of action this year as one of the flanks.

Luckily, the Panthers have several candidates who also appear to be capable performers. Leading the group at this writing are Don Anderson, Tom Walsh, and Jim Panero. Walsh and Panero are experiencing their first year at the game but both have natural ability and may turn into steady wingmen.

Coach Pearon has been drilling with his most experienced eleven this week but still insists that every position is wide open.

In yesterday's contact drill, Tom Walsh gave a convincing exhibition of pass catching which may merit further consideration for him as a starting end. The emphasis for this day's contact work was put on running plays and the first and second squads showed the first signs of a coordinated attack.

A practice encounter has been scheduled with Albert Leonard High of New Rochelle at Daniel Warren Field Friday.

CLIPPERS WIN, 2-1, IN LOOP PLAYOFF

By The Associated Press

Apparently they are using the same script in the final Colonial League playoffs that they used all season — Port Chester beats Poughkeepsie but it is close all the way.

That was the routine during the Summer and because of it Port Chester won the pennant with the Chiefs second. The two clubs waltzed through their semifinal playoffs with equal ease and last night started their private taffy pull in Port Chester.

Poughkeepsie scored a run in the third inning. Port Chester tallied two in the eighth. That was the ball game with the Clippers winning, 2-1. One hit, a double by Nick Malfaro with two on base, made the difference.

Unless a change is forthcoming Poughkeepsie will win a couple of games and Port Chester will win the series.

Lefty Paul Wargo handled the mound chores for the pennant winners last night. He struck out eight, gave six hits, and forced in the Chief's only run by walking a pair with two runners already on base.

Marty Garlock pitched well for Poughkeepsie, giving an equal number of hits and staying out of trouble until the eighth.

The second game at Port Chester will be played tonight.

The score by innings:

Poughkeepsie	010 000 000	1 6 1
Port Chester	000 000 020	2 6 1

Garlock and Leach; Wargo and Pluchino, Barillari (9).

Chicago Hex Red Sox Again With Yanks 1½ Games Away

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Staff

The Boston Red Sox inability to hold their own with the cellar dwelling White Sox in Chicago this year could cost them the American League pennant.

Murdered in Boston's Fenway Park where they dropped 10 of 11 games, the White Sox have whipped the league leaders in 7 of 11 games at home.

Ted Lyons' crew yesterday added insult to injury, by handing Joe McCarthy's outfit its worst beating of the season. The White Sox exploded for 10 runs in the seventh inning to blitz the Red Sox, 17-10.

The defeat melted Boston's margin over the runner-up New York Yankees to a game and a half. The third place Cleveland Indians, who like the Yanks were idle, also picked up a half game and they now trail by three and one-half games.

Taft Wright was the big noise in the White Sox rally. The veteran outfielder went to bat twice in the big seventh inning and drove in five runs, four of them on a grand slam homer which climaxed the uprising. Thirteen White Sox went to bat against Dave Ferriss and Earl Caldwell.

Despite the savage attack against Ferriss and Caldwell, starting pitcher Jack Kramer, winner of 16 games, was charged with the loss, his fifth. Kramer was shelled from the hill in the third when the White Sox tallied four times to take a 4-1 lead.

The only bright spot as far as Boston was concerned was the hitting of Ted Williams. Williams collected five singles in six trips to boost his league - leading batting mark to .377.

While the White Sox upset the Red Sox, Chicago's other last place entry in the majors, the Cubs, continued to act as "cousins" for the National League's pennant bound Boston Braves.

The Braves, aided by four errors, clipped the Cubs, 5 - 2, in their final meeting of the season. The triumph was their 16th over the Cubs in 23 outings this season.

Lefty Warren Spahn scattered nine Chicago hits in winning his 14th game of the year. The to rack up his 15th triumph, Gerry Staley, Braves nicked losing pitcher Doyle Lade for four runs in the first six innings.

The triumph enabled the Braves to stay five games ahead of the runner - up Pittsburgh Pirates, who whipped the Giants, 6-3, in New York. Dixie Walker drove in three of the Pirates runs with a single and double. Ernie Bonham checked the Giants on seven hits, two of them homers by Whitey Lockman and Johnny Mize.

The St. Louis Cardinals moved into a tie with the Brooklyn Dodgers for third place, a half game behind Pittsburgh, by beating Philadelphia, 7-0, while the Dodgers split a twin bill with the Cincinnati Reds.

After the Reds edged the Dodgers, 3-2, in the opener behind the six hit pitching of Howie Fox, Brooklyn grabbed the nightcap, 2-1 as Lefty Preacher Roe spun a seven hitter for his 10th victory.

Big George Munger stopped the Phils 2 - 0 under the lights at Philadelphia on three hits as the Cards blanked the Phils for the second straight night. Harry Brecheen snuz out the Quakers on three blows Tuesday evening.

Stan Musial, with two singles and a triple, led the Card's eight hit attack against rookie Robin Roberts.

In the other American League games, the Detroit Tigers beat the Washington Senators, 4-2, and the Philadelphia Athletics nipped the Browns, 8-7, in 12 innings in a night game at St. Louis.

Rookie Lou Kretlow, signed by the Tigers for $35,000 in 1946, scattered nine Washington hits in his first major league start of the season. The loss extended Washington's losing streak to 15 games, its longest in modern American League history.

Ferris Fain doubled home Eddie Joost with the payoff run in Philadelphia's victory. Dick Fowler went the distance for the A's.

Ty Priddy sent the game into extra innings with a homer in the ninth for St. Louis. Rookie Hank Arft poled a three-run four-bagger for the Browns in the seventh.

MISS KIRBY RULES AS GOLF FAVORITE

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Tall, easy swinging Dorothy Kirby looked like the girl to beat for the title today as eight survivors headed into the fourth round of the Women's National Amateur Golf Championship.

The Atlanta miss, who reached the finals in 1939 and lost to Betty Jameson, and again reached the threshold last year at Detroit, only to lose to Louise Suggs, is no rookie but to grab the big prize of women's golf.

Ahead of her are such skilled players as Polly Riley, Peggy Kirk, Helen Sigel, Grace Lenczyk, Mrs. Peggy Holmes, Margaret Gunther and Dorothy Mast. Most immediate threat, twenty-four-year-old Beverly Hanson of Fargo, N. D.

Gone are the easy touches. From now on until the finals Saturday over tough Pebble Beach the road will be rough. But if any one is a favorite now, Kirby is the name.

PIONEERS CLOSE SEASON FRIDAY

The Rye Pioneer softball team will close its 1948 season this Friday night at 8:30 P. M. when it engages the Vale and Towne nine, industrial league champions of Stamford, at the Rye YMCA Field.

Mamaroneck will be represented in the Pioneer lineup by either Pat Bellucci of Johnnie Thompson, one of whom will hurl for the Rye outfit.

The closing contest marks the end of a successful season for the Pioneers, who ended up in a tie for second place of the Four Town Play-off League. Harrison's representative, the VFW Stars, were declared winner of the playoff when both Mamaroneck and Port Chester forfeited their games with the Harrison nine.

All contests in league play have been completed except a home and home series between Mamaroneck and Port Chester. Both teams were awarded one forfeit victory on the grounds that the home team failed to provide a field.

The Mamaroneck All-Stars tied with Rye for second place in the final count.

Mickey Reilly, former Rye chucker, will take the mound for the Stamford club. Reilly recently defeated his old mates to gain the Rye American Legion title.

With the picture, the Music Hall will present "Musicana," a spectacular revue produced on the great stage by Russell Markert with settings by Bruno Maine.

European Trip Is Described By Mrs. Stahl

She described the trip aboard the Washington, her "surprise" at the small size of English autos and taxis and her visit to the streamlined theater at Stratford-on-Avon where she saw a fine performance of "The Merchant of Venice" after waiting in line many hours for a ticket. Points of interest in London were Buckingham Palace, Scotland Yard and the Tower of London.

Flying to Paris, Mrs. Stahl toured that city, visiting the Tuilleries, Notre Dame Cathedral, the Louvre, Latin Quarter, Eiffel Tower, night clubs and Place Vendome shops.

The traveler went by train from Paris to Geneva, enjoying the grandeur of the Swiss Alps, the winding streets of Zermatt and the Matterhorn before arriving in Italy for more sight-seeing. SOFTBALL PREXY PLANS FIELD DAY

Fans who attend the softball play - off of the Mamaroneck league Sunday will be treated to a double show, it was announced by officials last night. A mammoth field day will be held at 1 P. M., just preceding the second game between the Foodmen and Gaels which could be the deciding tussle. Local merchants have donated numerous prizes to be awarded to players of the ten league teams who win each event.

Included in between game activity will be contests in home run hitting ability, speed in circling the bases, dashes of several distances, and throwing accuracy tests.

President Joe Lanza has requested that the manager of each team supply three of his most talented performers to participate in the aforementioned contests. Lanza would like to have all ten teams represented and bring down the curtain of 1949 play with a mass gathering.

The two teams involved in the play-off will play the first game at 9:45 A. M. and then return to battle the second affair out at 1:30. Should a third contest be necessary, the rival managers would be asked to arrange an agreeable time for playing it off.

Leonard And Bellows Play To Deadlock In Scrimmage

By BARRY LOUGHRANE

The first real test of the ability of the Blue and Black football team came yesterday when Bellows met Albert Leonard in a scrimmage at Daniel Warren Field. In the first half of the Varsity game, the Panthers seemed very much puzzled as Jim Noel ran off his quick opening 'T' formation with success. After about twenty minutes of see-saw battle, however, the East Enders began to click. To the joy of the many students spectators, Bob Keegan broke off his own right tackle and galloped thirty yards.

It looked as though the Panthers were on their way again as Feldt worked a smart ariel attack with his ends Tom Walsh and "Gump" Anderson. The Leonard defense then stiffened and the Blue and Black lost the ball on downs, despite the tremendous line play of Bart Thrasher and Pete and Jack Skehan, the opposition moved forward step by step. Noel then threw a pass to Henry Lynbland in the end zone to even up the score. Seventy five minutes later Lynbrand intercepted a short pass and streaked all the way for another Albert Leonard tally.

Both coaches then substituted entire teams in order to give their first strings a well deserved rest. Every East Ender played a hard game as Fearon and Coach John Serrone emptied their benches.

Pinky DiRoberto, Steve Johnston and George Vladenides went in to work the attack for Bellows and Willie Archer, a true speed demon, replaced Noel as quarterback for Leonard. Vladenides began a series of runs cliched by a reverse that carried him twenty yards. With the blocking aid of Bill Marrino and Don Dahlgren, Rocky O'Connel plunged into the end zone for the Panther and "tied" the game once more.

Jack Connor, Bill Dummings and Mark Romani then pitched in with sparkling defensive play and held the Blue and Gold from tallying.

The last drive of the scrimmage saw Feldt pitch a long one to Panaro who legged it more than forty yards before being nailed at the three yard marker. On the following play, Vladenides went over his right side to count.

It is true, of course, that the Panthers need plenty of drills and improvement before playing such schools as Scarsdale and New Canaan. Still, it can be honestly said that Bellows will be a threat to any team this year.

PACKERS TRAMPLE BOSTON, 31 TO 0

NEW YORK, (AP) — The Boston Yanks opened the National Football League's 29th season last night by bowing to the Green Bay Packers 31 to 0. A sturdy Packer line held the Yanks to 18 net yards on the ground. They added 107 yards via passes, but came close to pay dirt just once.

Green Bay gained only 87 yards through the air, but two of its 12 completed passes went for touchdowns. Jack Jacobs pitched 14 yards to Bob Forte for one tally; Fred Provo tossed 20 yards to Nolan Luhn for another and Ralph Earhart scampered 63 yards for a third.

There was news on two fronts in the rival All-America Conference. Cleveland's champion Browns continued unbeaten with a 28-7 conquest of the Chicago Rockets and the New York Yankees fired head coach Ray Flaherty.

The New Yorkers, Eastern Division kings, had lost three straight games after winning their opener from Brooklyn. Two Flaherty aides — line coach Jim Barber and assistant coach Mike Pecarovich — quit the club with Flaherty's dismissal.

Norman Red Strader, the backfield coach, was named head coach for the remainder of the season.

The All-America got the better of its older rival in the attendance battle, the Boston - Green Bay game drew 15,433 paying fans. Cleveland and Chicago drew 30,608.

San Francisco's unbeaten 49ers entertain Los Angeles tomorrow afternoon in the All-America Conference and the only game of the day.

Mamaroneck High Gridders Too Powerful For Rye Team

By JOHN TAUB

Amid the dust of Manchester Field, Harry Harrison's football charges gave what might be called a prediction or things to come, as they scrimmaged the Rye Garnets yesterday. The Orange and Black started off with a bang, as Big Joe Petruzzo plowed through the line and broke out into the clear for a seventy-yard gain on the Tigers' first offensive play. The second play from scrimmage sent speedy George Pengler around right end and over the goal line for what would have been a touchdown in an actual contest.

With Moose Bruno sidelined by a sore leg, George Cheung and Bob Wilson took over at the end positions, with Red Kennedy and Don Baker adding weight and blocking strength at tackles. Jimmy Bilotta, Tony Datino and Dave Repiogle made up the center of the line, and opened up holes regularly for the line bucks.

In the backfield were Petruzzo, Fengler, Buddy Berkeley, with Jolly Woodbridge masterminding the team from quarterback. Petruzzo and Fengler sparked the attack with the latter going for eight and ten yard gains practically at will.

If this first scrimmage with organized opposition is any kind of a sign as to how the regular season will turn out, it would appear that Mamaroneck high school fans are in for an extremely good brand of football. With two weeks still remaining before the opening tilt with Albert Leonard on Oct. 2, Harrison should have his men letter perfect on its plays, ground and pass defense.

Rye, one of the few teams in the county to work out of the T formation, pulled off a few baffling and yard-gaining plays, but on the whole, the Mamaroneck defense was well prepared and virtually held them to a standstill after the first few minutes of play. The only pass play attempted by the Garnets, was broken up by Fengler, who intercepted and ran the ball 30 yards.

The team will continue to hold daily scrimmages after school, while the Jayvee squad also seems to be shaping up under William Howell and John L. Sullivan.

Blind Brook Poloists To Play Farmington

PURCHASE — Second place will be at stake in the New England polo League when Blind Brook and Farmington clash at 3:30 tomorrow afternoon at the Purchase club's field.

Both quartets bear 5-5 records, but the Brooks will have the edge considering their earlier 8-7 triumph over the visitors. In addition, Farmington had a three-goal handicap at the start, but that dwindled as the Brooks moved into high speed with a four - goal fifth period.

Capt. George Oliver Hayward Headden will be missing from the Brook lineup, but George Lacks and Paul Miller will try to make up for their absence.

Louis Agrees To Fight Again; Lesnevich-Walcott Battle Off

NEW YORK, (AP)—The return of Joe Louis is causing drastic revisions in the fight script.

No sooner had the news hit the street that Joe was coming out of "retirement" to meet Gus Lesnevich broke a bone in his right foot and withdrew from his Tuesday night date with Jersey Joe Walcott.

All was confusion in the camp of the Tournament of Champions, the new promotional gimmick that is challenging Mike Jacobs with a Marcel Cerdan-Tony Zale middleweight title setup at Roosevelt Stadium, Jersey City Tuesday.

A heavyweight elimination bout between Lesnevich and Walcott, involving a total guarantee of some $100,000 was a big selling point of the Jersey card. Suddenly the promoters discovered that there was no need for any elimination tournament of any kind.

Louis, changing his mind despite repeated announcements that he would never fight again, said he would meet the winner of the Nov. 12 Madison Square Garden fight between Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati and Joe Baksi of Kulpmont, Pa.

Louis was Mike Jacobs' ace in the hole all along in this "war" with the new promoters.

The Jacobs empire was founded in an exclusive contract with the Brown Bomber. When he goes out, it probably will be safe to assume that the new champ—Charles, Baksi, or whoever it may be—will be another Jacobs exclusive.

Lesnevich was injured when he slipped leaving the postoffice in his home town of Cliffside Park, N. J., according to promoter Andy Niederreiter.

LLANORIA WINNER TO DEFEND CUP

OYSTER BAY (AP) — The Olympic champion six-meter yacht, Llanoria, yesterday won the right to defend the Seawanhaka Cup against Sweelen, Tuesday.

Llanoria won two races yesterday from Star Wagon, the only other craft competing for the chance to represent the United States. In two races Thursday Star Wagon won the first and Llanoria the second.

After triumphing by 57 seconds in the first race, Llanoria had the second contest all to herself. Star Wagon fouled at the start by touching a buoy and withdrew.

Llanoria came from behind in the day's first encounter. The winning time was 2:07:18 over the 11 2/3 mile triangular course. With a good southwesterly breeze Llanoria completed the second solo journey in 1:43:18.

Llanoria is owned by a three-man syndicate—Douglas Dillon, A. Lee Loomis and Herman Whiton, all of the Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club.

Star Wagon is owned by Mr. and Mrs. James Sheldon, of Greenwich, Conn.

Llanoria will oppose the Maybe VI in next Tuesday's race.

COLLEGE GRIDDERS START PLAY TODAY

NEW YORK, (AP) — The college football season opens on scattered fronts today, a reminder that there are only 82 more sluggish days until Christmas.

The infant grid menu offers a handful of honest-to-goodness tussles.

Three intersectional scraps — Texas A. & M. - Villanova, LSU - Texas and Texas Christian-Kansas — would look good any late Fall Saturday. In addition, the Pacific Coast, Southern and Missouri Valley Conference present games that count in their standings.

Southern California, one of the major Pacific Coast powers, opened its season last night by whipping Utah, 27-0, at Los Angeles before 55,211 fans.

LISANTI SHINES IN REC OPENER

The Larchmont Community League became the first local bowling circuit to begin operation this year when it opened regular play at the Larchmont Bowl Thursday evening. The initial matches were won by the plumbers, Hook and Ladder, Clippers, and Fingers. The first two teams took 3-0 shutout wins while the latter pair came through with 2-1 triumph.

The Community League, a nine-team affair, will play league games every Thursday evening during the Winter season League officials have scheduled games which stretch over 32 weeks of bowling activity.

Lisanti of the L. R. T.'s became the first high single winner of the infant season when his third and last game of the evening totaled 234 pins. Just to insure his superiority for the evening, Lisanti also took high series, a mark of 592. Despite his efforts, Lisanti's club, the LRT's, were unable to defeat the Clippers who won the contest when their last game of the night topped the LRT's by five pins.

The Plumbers took a shutout win from the Pelcol and were sparked by Sid Anton who rolled a single of 203 and high series at 574.

The Hook and Ladders' blanking of the Jolly Five was insured by high triples from Rodficki and Alpiad of 493 and 494 respectively.

The Fingers' win over Uncle Carl's was accomplished despite the fact that Hageles of the losers had high triple of 558. The winners, however had four of their men roll in the 500 class and thus took a 2-1 victory.

Despite the fact that they were the first matches of the year, scores were unusually fine and members of the league are looking forward to a banner year.

Len Grosso announced that all other league play at the Larchmont Rec will start next week with the Daily Times League opening Tuesday and the Larchmont Ladies Rec League bringing up the curtain Friday. The Ladies league will extend through 31 weeks of play.

Trio Awarded Scholarships At Brookside

The Vlachos-Wei children, Bophie, Madeleine and George, of 133 Wagner Avenue, Mamaroneck, will begin their studies Monday at the Brookside School in Great Barrington, Mass., where they have been awarded full - year scholarships.

The children, noted pianists, came to Mamaroneck last November with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Vlachos-Wei from their native China. They resided last year at the Wagner Avenue address, and attended the Barry Avenue School before moving temporarily to Larchmont to spend the Summer at the home of N. C. Yao on Weaver Street.

The young pianists have concertized in New York City and other places, and recently made a short technicolor film entitled "The Three Vlachos - Wei Children". The film, produced by Paul Thoma, has been shown at various schools, including the Brookside School, whose faculty immediately became interested in the trio.

They contacted the parents of the children, and offered them a scholarship at the school, with board and lodging paid, as well as living quarters and board for Mrs. Vlachos Wei. She will accompany them to future engagements, already contracted. Mrs. Vlachos-Wei will leave in the near future to return to China.

At the school, devoted to the ideal of "One World", the pianists will study piano, and at the same time, receive intellectual, cultural and creative training. Situated in the Berkshires on 800 acres of land, the school has been for 20 years open to children of all nations, and brings together all religions and creeds.

The school is self - sufficient, and is financed by donations, endowments, grants and bequests for student scholarships, faculty salaries, research and experiments, books and equipment and its educational, cultural and humanitarian activities. A limited number of scholarships are awarded children of professional persons, workers for a world of peace and talented persons.

REDS TO EVACUATE NORTHERN KOREA

Surprise Tass Announcement Calls on U. S. Move Out of South

MOSCOW, (AP)—Russia will pull all her troops out of Northern Korea by the new year, an official statement said last night.

The announcement indicated the withdrawal of Soviet troops from the Far Eastern trouble spot apparently will be unconditional, although it called on the United States to move American troops out of Southern Korea.

The news agency Tass announced the decree of the presidium of the supreme Soviet.

The Russian move caused surprise in American diplomatic circles, where some informants predicted the Soviets would not actually carry out the plan unless the Americans evacuate their area of Korea.

(In Seoul, Syngman Rhee, president of South Korea's new republic, said today he welcomes the Soviet plan for withdrawal.)

Thief Climbs Ladder To Lift Pocketbook Off Window Seat

A thief reached into the second floor bedroom of a Mamaroneck home from a step ladder early yesterday morning and stole a ladies' pocketbook containing $25 in cash and other articles.

Detective Sam Bryant of the Mamaroneck police reported that sometime after 2:45 A. M. yesterday the thief took a seven-foot folding ladder, put it up to a bedroom window at the home of Mrs. Grace Travis, 3 Staub Court, Mamaroneck, removed the screen from the window and took the pocketbook from the window bench. The pocketbook belonged to Mrs. Vera L. Downing of New York City who was spending the weekend at the Travis home with her husband, Clarence Dowsing.

Mr. Dowsing told Detective Bryant that he stayed up until 2:45 A. M. reading in another room before going to bed. He said he did not hear or see anyone. The Dowsings did not discover the pokbetbook was missing until they woke up.

The pocketbook with large gold letters "V. L. D." stamped on it, also contained a gold cigaret case and compact and a red leather bill fold with papers and an operator's license.

Detective Bryant said the step ladder had been taken from another part of the yard and placed against the side of the house.

After taking the pocketbook, the thief removed a pair of gloves, some tissues and a nail file which he threw on the ground. Detective Bryant said there was no evidence to show that the room had been entered.

PALESTINE ARABS SET GOVERNMENT

Ahmed Hilmy Pasha Is Named Prime Minister—2 States Protest Action

AMMAN, Trans-Jordan, (AP)—Over the strong protests of Trans-Jordan and Iraq, the Arab League announced formation today of an Arab Government for Palestine.

Ahmed Hilmy Pasha, military governor of the Arab-held section of Jerusalem, was appointed prime minister of the new government, an official announcement here said, despite a declaration from King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan that such a government would amount to partitioning Palestine.

The Arabs have fought against partition ever since the beginning, he said. King Abdullah refused to permit formation of the government "within the security zone of the Trans-Jordan Government brought to a head long-simmering differences over the formation of an Arab government for Palestine. Abdullah has been pictured as seeing in such a government an effort by the mufti of Jerusalem to carve out a base of power for himself in Palestine.

Renewed shelling in the old city of Jerusalem combined to make this one of the tensest moments since the truce began last July 18.

In Cairo Saturday, Abdel Rahman Azzam Pasha, Secretary General of the seven-nation Arab League, announced that every possible material aid, including an army of volunteers would be placed at the disposal of the new government.

Abdullah, in a message to the league today, called attention to the fact that Hilmy Pasha advised him the league had approved creation of the new government.

Italy Leads Europe On Road To Recovery, Church Men Told

European recovery has developed far beyond the conception or expectation of the average American citizen, according to Weyman C. Huckabee, executive secretary of the Laymen's Movement for a Christian World, who spoke yesterday morning at the seventh annual men's breakfast of the Larchmont Avenue Church.

The breakfast, served at the Larchmont Shore Club, was attended by about 150. It was under the auspices of the Men's Association.

Mr. Huckabee, who has just returned from an extensive tour of European countries, spoke on the subject, "What Can We as Laymen Do About This Unsettled World?"

Stating that Europe today is not "a thoroughly destitute continent," Mr. Huckabee said Italy is the most advanced of all in its national recovery program.

He reported the consensus of a large group of Italian industrialists that, with two more years of American help in replacing equipment commandeered by the Germans during their occupation of the country, Italy can not only again be self-supporting, but can join with this country and others in the task of helping the remainder of western Europe to rehabilitation.

France, he said, is also well on the road to a pre-war normal economic state. The one place in which there is still only confusion, he said, is Germany.

The conclusions reached by the average well-informed German citizen, as reported by Mr. Huckabee, take the objectives of the several occupation forces about as follows:

The British are interested primarily in seeing that every vestige of economic competition in Germany is eliminated; the French are concerned with removing from their zone all the equipment that can be utilized by French industry, and America is concerned with conviction of the Nazi war criminals. There seems to be unanimous agreement, according to Mr. Huckabee, that everything the Russians have done or are doing is purely destructive. Only the Communists, he said, who are under direct control of the Kremlin are actually dangerous. He thinks that most of the others, in a pinch, would line up for the best interests of their respective countries.

In this welter of "confusion and near hopelessness," he feels that Christian influence could be brought tremendously to bear through representatives of the various nations concerned with finding a way to lasting peace. That is the objective of his organization, whose activities begin with prayer. These prayers, on a world-wide basis, are for the guidance of the men who must find a way to settlement of the world's present problems; he called it a subsidy for the sustenance of these men in their turmoil.

What the world desperately needs, Mr. Huckabee declared, if decisions of the future are to be tinged with anything of the Christian spirit, is that there develop an understanding between the layman and the minister. It is no easy undertaking, he admitted, because the viewpoints of the two are usually so remotely separated; but, if the layman can open his mind and heart to learn thoroughly of the Christian teachings that should prevail in settling the affairs of the world, then the weight of chance is in favor of his making the right decision at the right time, he declared.

And this attitude is one to be assumed not merely by those directly concerned with making the decisions, but by all the hordes of men and women of the world who are concerned with present-day problems of an unsettled world and are lifting their prayers for a wise course of action, the speaker stated. Only in this way, ultimately, can Christianity make itself felt in resolving the problems, because the Church of itself can assume no direct part in the negotiations, Mr. Huckabee said.

The breakfast meeting was presided over by Joseph C. McLain, program chairman, and Oscar S. Keeler served as breakfast master.

Auto Dealer Trial Postponed For Week

The trial of Henry Daniels, Yonkers used-car dealer, charged with failure to register with New York State, was adjourned for one week this morning by Judge Henry T. Hornidge in Mamaroneck Police Court to allow Daniels an opportunity to secure an attorney.

Daniels, who had set up a used car lot at Post Road and Delancey Avenue, was arrested Friday afternoon by Police Chief Arthur W. Martensen, who charged him with being an unregistered dealer and operating a used car lot without a certificate of occupancy.

The paper drive committee was headed by Vice Commander Orlando H. Ciraco, assisted by Vice Commanders Roger Harper and George Langerfeld. Harry Leikert, former drive chairman, acted as advisory chairman and truck dispatcher while Andrew Samela was in charge of refreshments.

The committee today thanked all Legionnaires and other residents who assisted in yesterday's drive.

'INTERNATIONAL' HOLY CITY URGED

Posthumous Draft of Slain Mediator Urges Changes In Partition Areas

PARIS, (AP) — A posthumous report by the murdered Count Folke Bernadotte declares the United Nations should step in to end the Palestine war if the Arabs and Jews fail to make peace.

The mediator wrote that "Israel exists in Palestine," and the "future of Arab Palestine should be left to the Arab states," "in full consultation with the Arab inhabitants" of the Holy Land.

His 35,000-word report was distributed to the 58 U. N. member states as his body and that of French Lt. Col. Andre Pierre Serot were being flown home.

It was tentatively planned to hold a memorial service at Paris' Orly Field. After receiving homage from high United Nations and French officials, Bernadotte's body would be flown to Stockholm.

International Jerusalem

The Holy City of Jerusalem, where he and Serot were shot to death last Friday, should be placed under United Nations control, the report said.

The report, which will be one of the problems facing the General Assembly opening tomorrow,

FAIR EMPLOYMENT LAW COMMENDED

Discrimination Legislation Has Proved Effective, Mrs. Simon Says

Good results have been achieved in the three years since the enactment of the State discrimination law, according to Mrs. Caroline K. Simon, a member of the State Commission Against Discrimination, guest speaker yesterday at a meeting of the Mamaroneck Branch, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, at the First Baptist Church, Howard Avenue.

Representatives of minority groups are now holding jobs which they did not hold prior to the enactment of anti-discrimination legislation, Mrs. Simon reported. The law, she said, requires that qualified workers must be judged by their skills and not by their race, color or national origin.

Any person who believes he has been discriminated against has the right to file a complaint with the commission, swearing that he believes he did not obtain a position or was not allowed to join a union because of his race, color or national origin, Mrs. Simon said.

Mrs. Simon cited a case involving several Negroes who claimed they were discriminated against by a steamship company. Following investigation by the State Commission Against Discrimination, the company agreed to accept employes solely on the basis of their qualifications.

The speaker urged members of the audience to inform their friends that they are entitled to any job for which they are qualified, regardless of their race, color or creed. She reported that every complaint filed with the commission has been effectively adjusted.

We must not only end discrim-

New York Bus Firms Sign; 3rd Ave. Strike Threatens

NEW YORK, (AP)—A threatened strike that would have stopped three bus lines serving 3,500,000 passengers today has been averted by city intervention.

However, one of the lines, the big Third Avenue Transit System, still faced a possible strike next Monday unless it meets workers' back pay demands.

Meanwhile the private bus lines prepared to put into effect this week one-cent "interim" fare increases authorized by the Public Service Commission.

The increased fares went into effect on some lines today. Fares previously were five cents on all lines except the Fifth Avenue, which had a 10-cent fare.

The lines previously agreed to grant the workers 24 cents more an hour when they got higher fares.

Current wage levels for the bus operators were not disclosed.

The strike threat arose Saturday, however, over payment of the increase retroactive to May 1.

Michael J. Quill, president of the CIO Transport Workers Union, said workers would not report this morning unless they got lump sum payments of the back pay.

PRAYER FOR TODAY—I stand humbly in meditation, dear God eternal, asking for help to be aware of Your presence and of Your summons. May I recognize the spectacular in the many commonplace things of life. May it be given to me, personally, to do great things today and in the passing days, no matter what my field of labor. And as I kneel to pray, may it ever be that my prayer shall be not alone for me and mine, but also for others, for this is a whole world of neighbors, all looking to You for guidance and succor.

FOOD FOR A WEEK

THE Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, commendably striving to aid families of limited means to stretch the food budget, has issued Pamphlet AIS-11. It is deserving of consideration, even if it appears questionable as to its optimism in regards to cost.

The Bureau properly cites that a family with growing children should give thought to such items of food as guarantee good returns in nutrition. That we grant.

Also, the Bureau stresses, it helps to have a few fruit trees in the back yard and space for a garden. We are still in agreement.

Then, the Bureau continues, it is advisable to spread a wholesome variety upon the table so that the appetite does not become jaded. That is correct, too.

For breakfast there are recommended fruit, cereal, milk, toast with fruit spread, and eggs when they are cheap. (?) For lunch, sandwiches for those who carry lunch boxes; with peanut butter, jelly or jam, cheese, eggs, meat, with some raw vegetables. And for dinner, the main meal, a large pot roast, ground meat in loaf or patties, heart, liver, kidney or brains; fish; dry beans, peas or lentils. We agree that this is a substantial diet and reasonable as to economy.

But it is when the Bureau, in its pamphlet, gets down to actual dollars-and-cents talk that some may disagree. For example, the Bureau lists menus for an entire week, for a family of six—father, mother, two children eight and 11; two others 14 and 16.

Here are the totals which the Bureau thinks will provide a wholesome menu for the 21 meals of the week:

Leafy, green and yellow vegetables, 14 and a quarter pounds; citrus fruit and tomatoes, 13 and three quarter pounds; potatoes and sweet potatoes, 20 and one-half pounds; other vegetables and fruits, 71 and one-half pounds; milk, cheese and ice cream, 32 quarts or equivalent; meat, poultry or fish, once daily, 11 and one-quarter pounds; eggs, 30, allowing four or more a week per person; dry beans and peas, nuts, two and one-eighth pounds; flour, cereals and meal, 22 and one-quarter pounds; fats and oils, five and one-quarter pounds; sugar, syrup and preserves, five pounds.

Then we come to the opinion by the Bureau that all this, for a family of six can be purchased for from $27 to $29, basing prices upon the March, 1948 index.

Well, many a housewife reader will throw up her hands at this point. And we can't blame her.

Anyhow, it's an interesting booklet and for those who like to accept a challenge we suggest writing to the Bureau in the Department of Agriculture for a copy of AIS-71. It's a good trick if you can do it.

A Glance Backward—

A DECADE AGO
(From The Daily Times)

Union Free School District No. 1 Town of Mamaroneck, allowed the small children attending the elementary schools to go home at noon due to rain and the fear of rising flood waters. Superintendent of Schools A. Z. Boothby directed that the children be sent home so there would be no difficulty in reaching their homes through the rising waters. The Junior and Senior High Schools remained open, however... Approximately 300 voters, most of whom were members of either the Republican or Democratic parties, cast their votes in the preliminary elections. Rain and the absence of interest led most of the party followers to stay away from the polling places. The running of the election cost the town approximately $500 Town Clerk Robert D. Payne reported. Six "write in votes" were cast for Supervisor Bert C. McCulloch for county president though former Judge William F. Bleakley, designee of the Republican party, received about 122 votes... Simulating actual fire fighting conditions, the Mamaroneck and Larchmont Fire Departments held a joint drill in which they "Battled" a seven story apartment blaze. Chief William McCarthy of the Town of Mamaroneck was in charge of the drill... Mamaroneck Council No. 2247 of the Knights of Columbus planned to hold its final meeting of the month to install recently elected officers. Grand Knight Vito Lucenno was scheduled to call the meeting to order and the installation was to be handled by District Deputy Godfrey Bauer, of Harrison... Bill Axtell was at the helm of the Bellows football team and Ed Rice led Mamaroneck High as the two local schools prepared to open their respective schedules. The 1938 Orange and Black eleven would be the first coached by Mr. Rice and the outlook was bright ... The luncheon bridge at the Winged Foot Golf club was featured by a style parade for sport and street wear.

Col. Joe Bush Says:

Maybe all these special campaign trains and mass meetin's and speeches and so on are necessary, but to our mind they're just a habit we can't get away from. Our guess is that 99 per cent of the people vote in November the way they made up their mind in August.

In fact, this Presidential race is so one-sided that right now there's a lot more public interest in the one between the Yanks and the Red Sox. And that one has got a race at the bottom, too, to see whether the Senators can make good on: "Washington, first in war, first in peace, and last in the American League."

Speakin' of sports and athletics, there's official denial that Joe Stalin's favorite is Cornell's "Big Red" team. Joe wouldn't like any team what had a right side to their line.

Hank Wallace will view with alarm from the Courthouse steps in White Plains this afternoon. He came down from his South Salem farm to register at the Election Bureau, which makes Westchester the official residence of a Presidential candidate for the first time in many years. Get back in line, Dutchess County:

The Counselor

MAID'S VIEW

To A. B. C., who says she is a former housemaid and whose letter to The Counselor was prompted by an earlier letter from a reader naming herself "Employer": ("Employer" complained of maids leaving suddenly and said she wished there were "some way to keep a maid from walking out when it strikes her fancy.") Your letter, A. B. C., is too long to print. Sorry. But since conditions have changed from the days when maids worked almost unending hours, sometimes almost like slaves, it is better to forget all that, don't you think? If an employer mistreats a maid now — when there aren't enough maids to go around — then the maid can quit and soon find a new employer. We know of one Westchester housewife who is as popular with her maid as the maid is with her; who takes turns with holidays, for instance. Every other Thanksgiving is the family's day and the maid work; that Christmas the maid goes to visit her sister. If the family has steak for dinner, the maid has steak. In many years, the maid hasn't shown signs of walking out.

Our observation agrees with what you say in your letter, A. B. C.: "According to my theory and my own past performances, only in rare instances will a considerate employer be left holding the bag."

BLOOD TESTS

Question: I am going to be married to a man from Minnesota. Will you let me know if he can have a blood test taken there and use it here when we get our license? H. E.

Answer: If he has his test taken by the Minnesota Department of Health, University Campus, Minneapolis, Minn., he can use it here. Otherwise, tell him to wait until he arrives in New York to have his test taken. The New York State Department of Health furnishes local municipal clerks with its nationwide list of approved blood - test laboratories, and there is only the one listing for the State of Minnesota. Blood tests, by the way, are good for 30 days in obtaining marriage licenses.

PREMATURELY GRAY

Question: You see so many young people who are prematurely gray. Is that caused by permanent waves? Does the electricity kill the hair? When hair is dead, does it turn gray? F. N.

Answer: Permanent waves have nothing to do with prematurely gray hair, and they don't kill the hair because whether it is red, black, brown, blond or white—hair is dead anyway. Hair is dead tissue, like fingernails and toenails. But what causes prematurely gray hair, we don't know, and a doctor tells us he is "under the impression that no one does." He says "glandular condition is linked in some way with the functioning of the hair follicles."

"I SHALL NOT WANT"

Question: For the longest time I had a copy of "The Lord Is My Shepherd," and carried it around with me. Now I've lost it. Will you please print it in your column? A. E.

Answer: We can't very well get started on printing the Bible here. A. F. But you could make your own copy of this 23rd Psalm from a Bible, or you perhaps could buy a single - sheet printing of it through a religious organization. The American Bible Society (headquarters 450 Park Avenue, New York) will send you all 150 of the psalms bound in one book if you mail it nine cents. Another great psalm many people find especially comforting, too, is the psalm "He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High..."

Dewey's Foreign Policy Seen As Determined In Advance

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Capitol Hill Republicans' collaboration in framing a bipartisan foreign policy and rearmament program will pay rich dividends to Governor Thomas E. Dewey if he should become the next President of the United States.

The GOP could not have made a better deal for themselves if they had cooperated with President Truman from a Machiavellian political motive rather than from the standpoint of a need for national unity.

In discussing a possible break in negotiations with Russia over Berlin, a likely stalemate over the issue in the United Nations and the prospect of preparing for actual hostilities, Secretary George C. Marshall has kept in touch with Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg and John Foster Dulles, the Albany man's adviser on foreign matters. They are in full agreement on the three alternative courses to be pursued.

Thus Governor Dewey will not have to face a new and difficult set of circumstances or make a sharp break with his predecessor's policies, and when he takes over the White House. There will be no such revolutionary reversal as happened when Harding succeeded Wilson or when FDR followed Hoover.

ISSUE — From both a political and national standpoint, the most important factor is that Governor Dewey's decisions and policies will have been fixed for him before Jan. 20, when he will take the oath if he wins in November. He will not approach this field in blindness and ignorance, as did Mr. Truman and even Secretary Byrnes after the death of former President Roosevelt.

Responsibility for a deterioration of our relations with Moscow after next Inauguration Day, including such an extremity as war with Russia, would continue to be bipartisan.

Indeed, despite disagreement and political bickering over how and why the United States and the world got into the present predicament, it may be no exaggeration to suggest that the great issue of foreign policy and politics has been eliminated from the field of partisan controversy.

As President, therefore, Mr. Dewey would simply be executing the Truman policy, and it would be difficult for the Democrats to attack him on this sector.

AGREEMENT—In fact spokesmen for the major Presidential candidates and parties have reached an agreement on the diplomatic and national defense steps which must be taken or accelerated in the event of an open break with the Kremlin.

In view of the closing of Russian and American consulates in the two countries, Moscow and Washington are not far from the kind of ultimatum that usually precludes a conflict.

So, it is entirely possible that, if and when Governor Dewey walks into the White House, he can find it necessary only to sign orders, vouchers and other documents which validate, continue and intensify warlike preparations already made by his predecessor.

In order of their importance, as discussed at recent conferences of the cabinet, the National Security Council, American and Benelux nations' ambassadors in Washington, London and in Paris, here is the outline of our agenda for an economic, diplomatic or shooting war with Russia:

AGENDA—1. An expansion and acceleration of the Marshall Plan, to strengthen prospective allies in Western Europe, the Scandinavian countries if they will agree and in the Middle East.

2. A hard-and-fast military alliance with the Benelux countries —Britain, France, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg. This would involve the lend-leasing of arms and munitions, as well as American reinforcement of bases in those areas.

3. De jure instead of a mere de facto recognition of Israel, and any other steps which would win Middle East nations to our side. This would necessitate a practical compromise of differences between the Jews and Arabs, lest the latter be drawn into the Russian orbit.

4. A composition of our difficulties with several South American countries, especially Argentina, even if it means partial surrender of our previous demands in Latin America.

5. More effective aid to Chiang Kai-shek, provided he remains in partial power after a possible October revolt against him that is now under way.

6. Domestic rearmament, now estimated at $15 billion for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1950, but which may run as high as $20 billion if world conditions do not improve.

EDUCATIONAL—The Truman-Wallace "crusade" for civil rights has precipitated racial clashes in the Old Dominion State of Virginia which may throw that historic commonwealth, as well as North Carolina, into the Republican Presidential column, although they would like to vote the other way.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd, the political boss of Virginia, has no use for Mr. Truman's domestic program, but he has taken no stand openly. Earlier efforts to name anti-Truman Electoral College members have been snubbed. In North Carolina, despite anti-Truman sentiment, the Democrats have not quit the reservation formally because the GOP has shown strength of its own in recent years.

But Negro lawyers and political leaders recently tried to force white high schools to accept Negro children, making the attempt in three of the Old Dominion's most historic counties. They argued that the school districts had not provided "equal educational facilities" for their race, as required by a federal court decision.

APPEAL—In each instance the school principal denied entrance on the ground that the Virginia Constitution prohibited non-segregation in the state's schools. The petitioners retired quietly and there were no violent scenes, but the lawyers plan to appeal to the courts.

The Negro principals are not openly associated with the Wallace movement. But it is understood that they were encouraged to storm the schools by his platform and by President Truman's demand for social equality. The political reaction has been extremely unfavorable to the President, and it may cost him these two states which he might otherwise have captured.

Could you imagine John Lund, film actor, digging ditches? He did when he started to earn his living. John was also a soda-jerk, carpenter and timekeeper before he joined a stock company and went on the stage. Lund was born in Rochester, N.Y., and is married to Marie Charton.

Wanda Hendrix was born in a log cabin in Jacksonville, Fla. A Hollywood talent scout spotted her when she was appearing with a Little Theater group in 1944, and took her to the film capital for a screen test. Wanda continued her dramatic studies at the studio. She is an only child.

Gift From Ex-Mayor

The Brownies of Troop 25, Mamaroneck Girl Scouts, have a flag today—thanks to ex-Mayor William E. Lyon.

Last Memorial Day, while receiving the parade, the ex-Mayor noticed that Troop 25 was without a flag. Perturbed, Mr. Lyon contacted Mrs. Thomas Chick, commissioner of Mamaroneck Girl Scouts, and told her he would like to present a flag to the troop as a gift. He was referred to Mrs. Norman Buchanan, leader of the troop, and arranged to have the flag made.

Ex-Mayor Lyon yesterday presented the flag, on which is inscribed "Troop 25—Daniel Warren," with a staff, belt and standard to go with it. He explained he was especially interested in Troop 25, since he once attended School at Daniel Warren.

140-MILE WINDS STRIKE KEY WEST

'Little White House' Endangered As Gale Moves North at 10 MPH

MIAMI, (AP) — Winds of 140 miles an hour lashed Key West today as a big and growing tropical hurricane brushed near or over the island city 175 miles south of Miami.

All weather stations along the long narrow stretch of Florida keys—famous fishing grounds for thousands — reported hurricane force winds of 75 miles an hour or better.

Torrential rains accompanied the winds.

The hurricane was a short distance south of Key West at 11:30 A. M. and moving north - northeastward at about 10 miles an hour.

Key West reported 110 mile an hour winds at 11:20 A. M. Red Cross officials at the island city where President Truman has his "Little White House" said no casualties had been reported. Shelters were crowded.

The storm has enlarged and hurricane winds and strong gales now cover an area about 300 miles in diameter, the Weather Bureau reported.

The slow movement of the storm will keep the center over South Florida for a longer period and delay the arrival of hurricane winds at Miami tonight, forecasters said.

The storm grew rapidly in size after crossing Cuba, said Chief Forecaster Grady Norton.

Hurricane force winds cover an area of 50 to 60 miles and gales extend outward north of the center 150 miles.

The blow should reach the latitude of Miami tonight, the Weather Bureau said.

Hurricane warnings fluttered along the East Coast as far north as Melbourne, and storm warnings extended to Daytona Beach. On the West Coast of the Peninsula, hurricane flags flew to Fort Myers and storm warnings to Tarpon Springs.

The rich Everglades "salad bowl" area — where the nation's Winter crop of snap beans, celery and other vegetables are grown —also was in danger. Hurricane warnings were hoisted there.

DEWEY TO PLEDGE BACKING TO WEST

Governor to Answer Truman's Charges on Land, Water Development

By JACK BELL

ENROUTE TO DENVER WITH DEWEY, (AP) — Western water and land development was pledged today by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in answer to President Truman's charge that the Republicans plan "sabotage of the West."

Following Mr. Truman into Denver, the Republican Presidential nominee prepared in his second major speech of the campaign there tonight to talk about "our land as the basic resource of our country's material strength."

The quotes were those of Paul Lockwood, the New York Governor's secretary, who told reporters:

"The Governor will discuss the need to conserve our natural resources and to develop our country for the future. He will pledge an administration that understands our land and water problems and that will keep our country strong as it works earnestly for peace in the world."

Answer to Truman

This added up to a direct reply to Mr. Truman's assertion that if the Republicans win in November they will "try to turn back the clock to the day when the West was an economic colony of Wall Street."

Central School Now Filled To Capacity; Building Plan Needed, Superintendent Says

This is the first in a series of articles based on the sixth annual report of Superintendent of Schools T. James Ahern, submitted to the Mamaroneck Board of Education.

In this installment, the remarks of the superintendent cover the schools, teaching staff, parents and student enrollment are considered, as well as excerpts from the report of Principal Joseph C. McLain of the Senior High School.

There is sufficient room in the school buildings for the expected increase in enrollment for the next five years, except at Central School, which is now filled to capacity, the superintendent reported.

To meet this year's increased enrollment, the library was moved to the basement floor of Central School. "But even this is but a temporary move for the present, since our estimates would indicate a much larger registration than the present in the immediate years following," the superintendent wrote.

The construction of a new apartment house in the Central School district, as well as private homes in Orienta, indicates a very large increase in enrollment in all grades beginning next year, he said. "Plans must be made in the immediate future to meet the building needs at Central School," he stated.

GOOD TEACHERS VITAL

The success of the school system, Mr. Ahern reiterated, rests heavily on the classroom teachers. "Even with excellent buildings and a good staff of administrators," he added, "the school system could not progress to its enviable position if it were not for its excellent teachers who constitute the heart of the schools. The staff is well-trained, experienced and carefully selected for each assignment. In addition, a splendid corps of clerical and custodial employees contribute services beyond the ordinary to all who enter our schools."

Parents, through the various P. T. A. units, Mr. Ahern said, give unselfishly of their time and service to the teachers and pupils as well as to the general welfare of the school. "To mention only a few, our parents have been of inestimable help in our elementary libraries, in visual aids, educational trips, recreation, parent-teacher institutes and publication of 'Know Your Schools,'" he stated.

Adult education is again being supported by the school district as an evening school program for adults in the High School building. The school term is 75 nights and is free to all residents. Any group of 10 or more who wish evening school courses may have such courses established within the limits of the budget.

For the first time, the district will receive a partial return of expended monies through state aid, Mr. Ahern said. Consequently, the services of this adult division may be somewhat expanded. He urges that a number of parent-education classes be established to relieve the parent-teacher organizations from this additional expense and also believes busi-

AUGUST CONSTRUCTION TOTALS ONLY $16,260

Permits for new construction in the Village of Larchmont totalling $16,260 were issued during August, according to Building Inspector Arthur Richards.

Included in the permits was one for a new $12,000 home at 14 Rockwood Drive, three for repairs, alterations and roofing, and one for an addition.

The estimated cost represented an increase of $11,830 over the preceding month, but was $1,060 less than the amount estimated for new construction in August, 1947.

RING, WATCH MISSING AT LARCHMONT HOME

Elizabeth Wilson maid at the residence of Ralph P. Bolton of 4 Huguenot Drive, Larchmont, told Mamaroneck town police at 1 P. M. yesterday that someone had taken her white gold engagement ring with one diamond setting, valued at $15, and her gold wrist watch, valued at $75.

Miss Wilson said she last saw the watch Sunday noon in her dresser drawer when she wound it.

Police said the diamond ring was next to the kitchen. Detective Joseph Pannessa is investigating.

Two Autos Damaged In Palmer Ave. Crash

An auto driven by Alice DeLong of 7 Meadow Place, Larchmont, collided yesterday afternoon with a car operated by Katherine R. Maloney of 1915 Palmer Avenue, Larchmont, Larchmont police reported today.

Miss DeLong told police she had just pulled her car away from the curb on Palmer Avenue at the Parkway when she began a U-turn around the safety islands to head east when the car driven by Miss Maloney, proceeding east on Palmer Avenue, appeared in front of her.

Police reported that the DeLong car struck the left side of the Maloney auto, damaging its left front and rear fenders, both doors on the left side and the door post. Damage to the DeLong auto included the front bumper, the left front fender and the radiator grill.

No persons were injured and no charges or arrests were made.

3 New Cases Of Polio Reported In County

Three new cases of infantile paralysis reported by health authorities today bring the county total this year to 31, compared with 36 at this time last year.

The latest cases affect a thirty-eight-year-old Eastchester woman, a sixteen-year-old Bronxville boy and a three-year-old New Rochelle boy. The cases are the eighth in New Rochelle, fourth in Bronxville and second in unincorporated Eastchester this year.

Thursday First Day of Autumn

One more day remains of Summer. Confounding the almanacs, the sun will not cross the autumnal equinox until 11:22 tomorrow night. That will make Thursday the first day of Fall.

The weather will be about the same as it has been recently, and the only change will be that the hours of daylight and darkness will be about even tomorrow and the next day.

Incidentally, this is the hurricane season and the tenth anniversary today of the big storm which raked Westchester, but don't worry about the one blowing over Key West.

$1,000 JEWELRY VANISHES FROM LARCHMONT HOME

Ladies' Ring, Man's Watch Snatched; Entry Made Through Front Door

A ring and watch, valued at more than $1,000, were stolen last night from the home of Thomas S. Russell, 2 Clarke Street, Larchmont, police reported today.

Det. Sgt. Thomas J. Boyle reported that the entry was made sometime between 5 and 10 P.M. yesterday, when the Russells returned home and found bureau drawers in their second floor bedroom ransacked.

Reported missing were a ladies' gold ring set with two one-karat diamonds, appraised at $950, and a man's gold wrist watch, estimated by Mr. Russell to be worth $100, Sgt. Boyle reported. Apparently nothing else was taken.

Sgt. Boyle said entry was made through the front door. The thief broke a pane of glass in the door near the lock, reached in and opened the door, he said. Exit was apparently made through the kitchen door which was found unlocked.

The bureau drawers in the bedroom had been pulled out and the contents strewn about the floor and bed.

CHAMBER ELECTS NEW DIRECTORS

15 Chosen For New Setup At Annual Meeting Attended By 43

Fifteen directors to serve varying terms of one to three years were elected at the annual meeting of the Mamaroneck Chamber of Commerce last night at 7 Pines Restaurant. Leonard Chase, first vice-president, presided in the absence of President Ernest Warming who sent a telegram of good wishes to the new slate. The annual dinner, preceeding the meeting, was attended by 43 members and guests.

Beginning Oct. 1 the Chamber will operate through three divisions, Mr. Chase explained, and therefore the directors, all of whom were elected unanimously, had been chosen to represent each of the divisions with four serving at large.

Those elected last night are: Retail Division, Bruno Koenzbock, Mortimer Margolulis, Samuel Sirlin and Ernest Warming; Industry Division, Leonard Chase, Joseph De Maris, John Robinson and Jack Waldman; General Division, Don Abbott, Barney Epstein, James Gunn and Mrs. Edward H. Lebeis; directors-at-large, Walter Picke, William Pulcher and Fred Rubin.

Prior to the election, the members and their guests heard reports of officers and committees. Mr. Pulcher, reporting both as vice-president and civic committee chairman, stressed the importance of finding a way to ban the construction of what he termed "shacks" along the Boston Post Road. He reviewed the work of his committee on their never-ending fight to eliminate billboards. He also spoke of the fine work done by the children of Jubb Park at the foot of East Prospect Avenue

Marshall Urges U. N. Adopt Bernadotte's Report On Palestine

Secretary Calls Plan A 'Fair Basis For Settlement'

PARIS, (AP) — Secretary of State Marshall today urged United Nations adoption of the report of the late Count Folke Bernadotte as "a generally fair basis for settlement of the Palestine question."

"My government is of the opinion that the conclusions are sound and strongly urges the parties and the General Assembly to accept them in their entirety as the best possible basis for bringing peace to a distracted land," Marshall said in a written statement.

Marshall said the assassinated Bernadotte worked for a "solution of the Palestine question" energetically, courageously and with a spirit of complete fairness."

"He gave his life to this effort," Marshall said.

Arabs Held Ready To Reject Count's Report

CAIRO, (AP) — The newspaper Al Misri today quoted Abdel Rahman Azzam Pasha as saying the Arab States will reject Count Folke Bernadotte's report to the United Nations on Palestine.

Azzam Pasha, Secretary General of the Arab League, said the Arab countries are "in accord regarding the measures they will take to prevent the evils plotted against Palestine."

He did not elaborate.

The report of Bernadotte, prepared before he was slain in Jerusalem Friday, said the Jewish State of Israel "is a living, solidly entrenched and vigorous reality."

He said the United Nations should step in to end the Palestine war if the Jews and Arabs fail to make peace.

"The Arabs," he said, "had consistently advocated a unitary Arab state in Palestine with full rights and guarantees for the Arab minority. In the light of developments, the Arab proposal is unrealistic."

The formation of an Arab government for Palestine, over the objections of Trans - Jordan and Iraq, was disclosed in Amman yesterday.

Irgun Gets 24 Hours To Surrender Arms

JERUSALEM, (AP) — The Israeli Government has given Irgun Zvai Leumi 24 hours to surrender all its arms and turn its men over for enlistment into the Israeli Army.

A spokesman for Irgun, an extremist Jewish organization, said he believed the ultimatum resulted from the assassination of Count Folke Bernadotte, the U. N. mediator for Palestine. The spokesman, Irgun Commander Ishak Avigdor Jabotinsky, called the ultimatum, saying Irgun agreed three weeks ago to negotiate on a similar demand.

The government threatened to "act with all the means at its disposal" if Irgun did not comply. It promised to deplore "infringements hitherto committed against the law of Israel."

Mamaroneck Artist Exhibits 'Hobby' In New York Gallery

Yesterday was a great day in the life of young George Russin of Mamaroneck, whose 14 temperas reflecting the artist's accomplishment went on exhibit at the Harry Salpeter Gallery on 56th Street in New York City. The exhibit will run through Oct. 9.

The majority of subject matters included in his exhibit are scenes of New Mexico and Colorado where he visited last June. Among his paintings, however, are two of especial interest to local residents. They are scenes of the Lawrence Inn and Jensen's Greenhouse. The paintings, rich in color, are a decorative approach with broad lines, done in temperas.

Art with Mr. Russin is a hobby. He would like to make it his life's work, as he explains, "you also have to eat."

"An artist," he continued, "no matter how accomplished he is, always has some other means of livelihood besides his paintings. I like to eat, so I work and do my painting in my spare time."

When not painting, young Russin works in the commercial art field making "decorative spots," small sketches, and illustrations for nationally known magazines.

George, who will be 25 in November, comes from a family of artists. His father, Herbert Russin, is a well-known New York portrait artist, while his mother, before she married Mr. Russin and for a short while afterwards, was a designer of dresses. He also has a sister, Jeannette, who is artistically inclined and is a fashion artist in New York City.

The combined artistic talents of the family are well reflected in their aptly decorated home at 1111 Jensen Avenue, where they have been living for the last three years. The work done on their home almost represents a miracle of transformation.

George's talent for art goes back to the early years of his youth. At the age of six, his mother related, he began drawing jungle pictures which showed merit. By the time he was 10 he had attracted the attention of art critics and was given a large write-up by the New York Sun.

While his father is of the "old school," George is of the "new school" of modern painting. "It is

Tri-Color And Sweepstakes Given At Garden Club Show

Mrs. Ronald Yocum received a tri-color award yesterday at the opening luncheon and September flower show of the Garden Club of Mamaroneck at the Orienta Beach Club, Mamaroneck, where Mrs. Patricia Kroh Freudenheim of Larchmont was guest speaker.

Mrs. Yocum's analagous arrangement, staged in a shadow box, featured yellow sinniae, glad loli, coxcomb and hydrangea in a yellow - green container, with green grapes as accessories against a red backdrop.

"Importance of Color in Flower Arranging" was the subject discussed by Mrs. Freudenheim, a member of the Garden Club of Larchmont, who was introduced by Mrs. Richmond S. Barton, program chairman. The speaker pointed out the psychological effect of color in the home or in dress, stressing its appeal to the senses, and its ability to make "arrangements live". Color is the "flesh and blood of an arrangement" she stated, with the design merely the skeleton.

The speaker, to enable members to visualize her explanations of color and theory, demonstrated with a color wheel, showing the various relationships of color to each other, including analagous colors, monochrome, complementary, triads and split complimentaries.

Mrs. Freudenheim illustrated her talk by making dramatic arrangements of flowers using the various harmonies. Among her demonstrations were a complimentary composition of red dahlias and green foliage in a large green glass container, and shades of the same hue, orange-red, in a monochromatic arrangement in a wooden dialiac.

The most striking of the speaker's demonstrations was a triadic arrangement of violet-red cockscomb combined with cream-colored gladioli and blue delphinium in a blue-green, low container.

Preceding the program, Mrs. John M. Spader, president, welcomed guests and introduced members and guests at the speakers table including Mrs. Henry Kincaid, chairman of the judges, Mrs. George Engle of Harrison, and Mrs. Bernard Farley of Scarsdale, artistic judges, and William Aitchison and Thomas Skinner, both of Mamaroneck, horticultural judges.

SON VISITS

Richard Gale of Pittsburgh, Pa., is spending a week visiting his mother, Mrs. B. W. Gale of Evelyn Court Apartments, Mamaroneck.

When the Village of Larchmont's energetic attorney and his busy wife take off on a mountain climbing binge, there are no half-way measures.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Mc-Williams of 99 Willow Avenue, Larchmont, enthusiastic members of the Adirondack Mountain Club and mountaineers from way back, are home from one of their favorite spots with a record of nine mountains climbed in two weeks.

Based at the famous Interbrook Lodge in the Ausable country, heart of the Adirondacks, the McWilliamses climbed and rested on alternate days, more or less, and took the little mountains along with the big ones.

"We're the world's slowest mountain climbers", says Mrs. McWilliams, known for her writings as Marion Lerrigo, and a veteran mountain climber. "Before you go in for mountain climbing, you've got to train for it in slow and easy stages. Otherwise... you're in trouble."

Their trails ranged from Algonquin, next highest peak to Marcy, to tiny Mount Jo, with its romantic name connotation, and included Hurricane, Noonmark, Big Slide, Cascade, Porter, Wright and Gawtooth.

Animal life was plentiful, they reported and an encounter with a fame doe caused a bit of excitement. Mrs. McWilliams knew that the doe holding out her hand (empty, alas), so her husband could get a picture of her. The doe nibbled at the outstretched hand and finding nothing, administered to the surprised Mrs. McWilliams what she calls a "light kick," and Mr. McWilliams terms a "sharp cuff."

Remembering a package of Life savers in her pocket, she hastily reached in and offered them to the doe, who would have none of them, but left peacably after smiffing.

Another episode was disturbing a nest of yellow jackets which resulted in a good half dozen stings, "right where they hurt the most, too."

On clear days, the mountaineers report, a fine view can be had of the Green Mountain range from almost any mountain. Bear prints were often seen in the mud, and early one morning a bewildered bear had himself quite a time slamming into the backstop of the Lodge's tennis court, to the amazement of onlookers. A mountain lion was reported in the thickets of Rooster Comb Mountain.

Interbrook, located in Keene Valley and famous among mountaineers, is operated by a family which includes a former teacher of physical education in Mamaroneck. Miss Travis, and attracts people of all nationalities bound together by their common interest in mountain climbing, Mr. McWilliams said. With mountain trails right at the back door, it is a perfect spot for mountain-minded folks, of course.

Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams have been climbing mountains together since 1934, and Mrs. McWilliams since long before then. They have climbed the White and Green Mountains and the Rockies. Mrs. McWilliams, member of the national board of the YWCA, serves as chairman of its subcommittee on health and education and also on the executive committee.

On one of their trail expeditions, they met up with James Goodwin, well known rock climber and mountain guide, who told them that one of the chief characteristics of mountain climbing folk is their eagerness to convert others to their hobby. The McWilliamses bear out his theory well.

Mamaroneck LWV Speaker Urges More UN Information

The League of Women Voters of Mamaroneck opened its Fall season yesterday with a membership tea at the home of Mrs. Hugh Grant Straus of Harrison, with Mrs. Charles Heming as guest speaker, and reports from chairmen revealing a broad variety of activities geared to the League's objective of community service.

Mrs. Heming, past president of the New York State League and representative to the U. S. National Commission on UNESCO, outlined the purpose of the Carrie Chapman Catt Memorial fund of which she is president, discussing its use of funds to care for appeals for information from women in foreign countries and its education work with foreign exchange students, teaching them "democracy at work." She was introduced by Mrs. Julius Silver, president.

Opening her talk with a consideration of citizenship in a democracy, and the League's assistance in "making it easier", Mrs. Heming enumerated several areas in which LWV achievements have gained great prestige.

She told of the present 83,000 "working members" of the League, an increase of 17 per cent since last year, its organization in 43 states as well as Alaska and Hawaii, and its more than half a million dollars budget, largely through public support.

The sale of League publications shows $32,000 in receipts, she continued, going on to note the League's recognition editorially in leading newspapers and magazines, its influence in college political science courses, its interest in other countries, and government recognition and prestige through representation on UNESCO.

Turning to the United Nations Mrs. Heming stressed the need for an informed public concerning the UN, describing its campaign through workshop to train leaders and furnish information to the community. She decried the "skeptical, defeatist" attitude of those who emphasize the "headline failures" of the UN while ignoring its "slow, day by day progress in many areas, with notable success.

She urged wider dissemination of more UN literature, and noted the "sensitivity" of congressmen to the opinions of their constituents.

In response to a question concerned with the ability of the UN to keep peace between Russia and the United States, the speaker emphasized the necessity for time and natural growth, the desirability of keeping discussion open around conference tables and the technique and devices available under the UN charter "not yet tapped."

Mrs. Heming recommended the widespread reading of Trygve Lie's third report to the General Assembly, and urged League members to read and distribute UN publications available from the State Department as well as the United Nations headquarters.

He announced plans to stump Southward into North Carolina with two speeches in Raleigh on Sept. 19.

Showing disdain for the strain on his vocal cords, Mr. Truman planned additional speeches in Utah today.

Yesterday he told Colorado voters the Democrats were "servants of the people" and the Republicans were "puppets of big business."

He declared at Denver that his administration had inherited "an almost impossible situation and a war." He said he took over conditions "much more difficult to handle" than when there was a Republican usually.

"It's hard to understand how we could continue to make the government run," Mr. Truman said. "But it did run. We had no coup, no bloodshed, no Ku Klux Klan. We succeeded in putting 51 million people to work. We succeeded in creating the greatest national income in the history of the world."

The President agreed to follow a physician's advice in swabbing his throat after his voice, worn from constant campaigning, temporarily sputtered out in his rear platform talk last night.

WO INJURED AS CAR, MILK TRUCK COLLIDE

Two persons were injured yesterday morning when a car and a milk truck collided at Prospect and Maple Avenues, Mamaroneck. Albert V. Kershaw, seventy-two, of Valhalla, driver of the car, suffered contusions and abrasions of the head and right knee and a laceration over the right eye. John White, forty-six, of 314 Livingston Avenue, Mamaroneck, a passenger in the Kershaw car, received abrasions of the scalp, laceration of the chin and possible fracture of the ribs. Both were treated by Dr. R. E. Machan.

According to Mamaroneck Police, Mr. Gershaw was driving his car south on Maple Avenue when the truck, operated by Joseph Goldstein, fifty-one, of the Bronx was traveling east on Prospect Avenue. The entire right side of Kershaw's car and the front end of the milk truck were smashed, police said.

"I entirely different approach," he said, "and to be a successful artist you must be able to inject into painting something original."

Although he likes living in Mamaroneck and has painted many local scenes, the "native Indian colors, the rich blues and purples" of the West have captured him and he now wants to live out there.

But again, the only thing that holds him from going West is the question of whether he would be able to make a livelihood.

In addition to his painting, George is also a rabid music lover. In their attractive third floor studio which he and his father have converted into a music room, George has a collection of more than 2,000 records, ranging from the hottest jazz to the classicals.

Although we are a family of artists, we get along beautifully," he added. "That's because we all work in different fields. And all of us are temperamental, even down to the dog."

Major Fleet Air Base Planned By Navy For Jacksonville Area

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., (AP)—The Navy today disclosed plans for turning this area into a major fleet air base for the nation's largest service.

"The shifting of strategic importance from the Pacific to the Atlantic has made imperative the establishment of such a base," Vice Adm. John D. Price, deputy chief of naval operations for air, said.

Price said in an address prepared for a Chamber of Commerce luncheon that the Navy expects to set up two carrier air groups—about 135 planes each—here by December.

Under a vast expansion plan already approved by Secretary of Defense Forrestal, Price said, these carrier forces later would be doubled, with berthing facilities for two carriers of the giant Midway class.

In addition the projected new Navy base would accommodate six patrol squadrons, two utility squadrons, plus assembly, repair and overhaul facilities.

Congress will be asked to approve extra funds for the expansion, Price said.

More than 13,000 civilian and military personnel will be employed on the completed base, with an annual payroll of about $39,000,000, he said.

Price did not amplify his remark about the shift of "strategic importance from the Pacific to the Atlantic."

NATION WARNED OF GAS SHORTAGE

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—The West's gasoline shortage pinched hard in Portland today, as negotiations continued in Washington in efforts to end the 18-day-old deadlock.

In Washington, D. C., director Isaac W. Bell of the Interior Department's gas and oil section added another warning: If the strike continues, the whole country may feel its effects this Winter.

The West itself can continue to furnish gasoline to all essential users, he added, but will feel a shortage of Diesel and heating oils before Spring.

Federal conciliators said they have asked Shell Oil Company officials to meet with representatives of the striking CIO oil workers today. Meetings in Richmond, Calif., with Standard Oil have brought no progress, they explained. The union asked 21 cents above the pre - strike wage of $1.68 an hour and the six struck companies offered 12 1-2 cents.

Many service stations in Portland remained closed yesterday, and some others sold gasoline for only a short time then shut down.

ROA CHAPTER HEARS REPORT ON BALKANS

More than 100 members were present last night as the Westchester Chapter, Reserve Officers' Association, meeting at the Rogers Smith Hotel, White Plains, heard a confidential report by Major Basil Pilardi of White Plains on the current situation in the Balkans. Maj. Pilardi, a Reserve Intelligence Officer, is briefed bi-weekly by Regular Army Intelligence Officers on international situations and instructed to pass the information on to Reservists.

Members voted to extend memberships to Reserve Army Nurses, and Lt. Col. William L. Payle of New Rochelle, president of the chapter, announced that Mrs. Donald B. Adams of New Rochelle, the wife of Brig. Gen. Adams, a past president of the chapter, will start a Women's Auxiliary of the ROA this Fall. A joint meeting of the chapter and its auxiliary will be held some time in December.

Detailed plans for the coming year was presented by Col. Rosa Doty of Mamaroneck, New York State Department President of the ROA.

At the Oct. 18 meeting in the hotel, Col. John Keegan will report on the current situation in Bavaria.

Doctor Pleads Innocent To Murder Indictment

Dr. Francis E. Kent, Yonkers physician and surgeon, pleaded innocent yesterday in County Court at White Plains, to an indictment charging him with first degree murder in the slaying of his wife, Helen, in their home at 19 Hawthorne Drive, Yonkers, on July 31.

Judge Elbert T. Gallagher remanded Dr. Kent to County Jail to await trial, for which no date has been set. A similar plea was entered by Patrolman Anthony Milano, indicted as an accessory after the fact, because he took away the gun used in the shooting and concealed it.

Mortimer C. O'Brien, attorney for Dr. Kent, entered the plea and asked for time in which to make motions. Judge Gallagher granted the request. Charles J. Wallace, attorney for Patrolman Milano, who has been suspended from duty, also was given time for motions. Judge Gallagher granted Mr. Wallace's application that bail of $2,500 be continued for the officer.

Dr. Kent is alleged to have slain his wife in the kitchen of their home, by firing two bullets into her. He told police that the shooting climaxed an argument, and contended that his wife had "nagged" him.

ASSEMBLY URGED TO BANISH FORCE

PARIS, (AP)—Dr. Herbert V. Evatt of Australia was elected president of the general assembly today.

PARIS, (AP)—The United Nations assembly met today in an atmosphere of world tension and heard its temporary president call for the banishment of force from the earth.

The Assembly's first meeting on the continent of Europe was opened by temporary president Juan A. Bramuglia of Argentina at 3:21 P. M.

Bramuglia proposed a new international policy of "equal rights and not domination," economic equality and settlement of disputes by right over might. In a thinly veiled reference to Spain's exclusion from the U. N., Bramuglia said "We do not want any nation of the world to be excluded from the United Nations."

"There can be no chosen and no outcasts in this world," he added.

The delegates of 58 nations convened in an atmosphere of world tension, heightened by the East-West cold war over Germany and the imminent threat of renewed warfare in Palestine.

N. Y. TRUCKS ROLL, STRIKE NEARS END

NEW YORK, (AP) — Trucking operations in New York City were almost back to normal The Association of American Railroads has taken steps to lift the partial railroad freight embargo which went into effect when the truck work stoppage began three weeks ago.

George C. Randall, district manager of the association, announced yesterday that the embargo on shipments in carload lots would be lifted today.

He said the necessity for emptying several hundred freight cars containing smaller lots of merchandise would compel some delay in complete relaxation of the embargo. He said, however, that he hoped full freedom of shipment would be restored by Friday.

Although most of the city's trucks were reported rolling yesterday, one of the major locals of the AFL International Brotherhood of Teamsters involved still had not reached a contract agreement with any of the employers.

But Local 807, which started the walkout on Sept. 1, reported that only four or five of the larger trucking companies had not yet settled with the local.

EXPECT RED ATTACK ON BESIEGED TSINAN

NANKING, (AP) — A decisive battle between government defenders of besieged Tsinan and the main forces of the Red attackers is expected within 24 hours.

Defense ministry spokesman Maj. Gen. Chang Liu - shih forecast the struggle today only a few hours after a government communique had reported desertion during the siege by Gen. Wu Ha-wen and 2,000 of his 84th Division troops. All surrendered to the Communists. The surrender came in the midst of an investigation of a plot among nationalist soldiers to revolt at Changching, 20 miles southwest of the Shantung provincial capital.

Reports reaching Shanghai said the remaining defenders were "holding out desperately" against continued pressure and that the situation was worsening.

Government successes were reported along the Peiping-Mukden Railway south of the Great Wall, where Red troops were reported in retreat. The reports however, gave the impression the retreat might be perhaps only the Communists completed their mission of destroying crops and communications.

CAR RADIO STOLEN

An 8-tube car radio was stolen from his auto Sunday night, John I Dugan of the Stonecrest Apartments, Larchmont, reported to Mamaroneck town police at 7:15 P. M. yesterday. He said his car was parked in a lot on the north side of the Stonecrest Apartments from 6 P. M. Sunday to 6 P. M. Monday and that it was not locked.

BABY STROLLER MISSING

Mrs. John Greaves of the Hillcrest Court Apartments, Mamaroneck, reported to police at 6:19 P. M., yesterday that her baby stroller was missing from the basement of the building. She told police that it was in the basement Thursday, but was missing yesterday morning.

and praised the mothers who saw to it that at no time was the park unattended.

He closed his report by urging the renewal of a plan advanced some time ago to present an annual award to the citizen who has done the most for the Village during the year.

The executive secretary, Arthur Dunn., Jr., reported both for the president and for himself. He reviewed the year's work, picking out some of the highlights and following each project through to date. Some of the important projects mentioned were Christmas lighting and the community Christmas sing, weekly advertising in The Daily Times for the benefit of Chamber members, Books for Peace, the Westchester County Airport, the activity in connection with the rescinding of limited parking in front of the Municipal Building, joint sponsorship with the League of Women Voters of World Trade Week, the work done with the Fordham Transit Co. in bringing bus service closer to Mamaroneck and now being done to extend the service through to the easterly village line. He also outlined the work done by the office in keeping the affairs of the Chamber going smoothly.

Mr. Dunn concluded his report by thanking the officers and committees for their "wonderfully cooperative attitude." He also thanked The Daily Times for its cooperation and village officials for their excellent cooperation. He especially thanked Police Chief A. W. Martensen and the police force for the assistance given in connection to earth G. R. Minter and "also in other matters that have come up from time to time."

County Officials Mum On Sales Tax Plan

Westchester officials who have tentatively considered the question of a 2 per cent retail sales tax to help municipalities meet rising public school costs had no further statements to make today following yesterday's publication of reports that the tax was being given study.

The County officials were familiarizing themselves with the workings of the sales tax in Erie County and the City of Syracuse, the only points where the 1947 law permitting such new taxes has been invoked. The New York City sales tax is of older origin and legislation limited to that city alone.

One point mentioned by County Budget Director William B. Fulper today was that made by George Wanamaker, Erie County Sales Tax Director, who spoke recently at the Saranac Lake conference of county officials. Mr. Wanamaker referred to "housewifely habits", pointing to a city on the Erie County line where the sales tax was imposed on one side and not on the other. After the first month of the tax, reported Mr. Wanamaker, women returned to their original shopping habits without regard to the tax.

School Report

ness men and women should have courses established to assist in their every day work and relaxation.

The Superintendent, who has long championed additional state aid, reported that the schools will receive $33,000 more under the new law.

"This represents a first step in securing our just share of such aid," he said, "and a program will be pursued during the coming year to advance even closer to our fair proportion."

AVERAGE ATTENDANCE

The total enrollment in the six schools as of March 1 last year amounted to 3,392 while the average daily attendance was 3,133. The cost of running the schools per pupil based on the average daily attendance amounted to $349.53. The average class group in all schools last year was 24-25.

Of the 1,922 Regents papers written last year, 1,777 were allowed, representing 92.46 per cent. The number of papers written was the largest in the last five years. In 1947, however, 93.72 per cent of the papers written were allowed.

The high school enjoyed one of the most successful years in its history, Principal McLain reported. He attributed the success to the staff which worked so faithfully and cooperatively.

"Among the many professional activities carried on by our staff there is one which has been especially beneficial to our school and to the profession at large—the supervision of cadet teachers," Mr. McLain said. (Two teachers participated in the program in cooperation with New York University and Teachers College of Columbia University.) "In this program, the viewpoint of the young teacher, fresh from the college classroom, is infused into our school," he added. "The wise guidance and council of experienced teachers helps the novice make the transition from student to teacher an easy and pleasable experience."

MORE

Mr. McLain reported that much progress has been made over the last few years in securing general recognition of the importance of guidance work in the total school program.

GUIDANCE WORK

The aim and purpose of the guidance work, he said, is "to serve the needs, interests and abilities of all of these students and to do it in such a way as to emphasize the significance and importance of the individual."

It is a task which calls for "eternal alertness and untiring efforts," he said. Each of the deans devote full time to the work, but in so doing, they reveal so much more which needs to be done for which they do not have time that additional facilities must be provided. He urged that the deans be provided with paid clerical assistance. At least one secretary should be provided for the offices of the deans, he said.

While the instructional equipment in several of the departments in the high school is reasonably ample, Mr. McLain finds deficiencies in others.

Among the items needed are maps, science and shop equipment. "During the last few years," he said, "we have been concerned with building at least one fairly complete set of maps, charts, etc. for the social studies program. These materials have been filed in the library and are withdrawn as needed by the several history teachers. This arrangement, at times, results in conflicting demands as more than one teacher may have urgent need of the same aids at the same time. We should now start equipping each of the history classrooms with the teaching devices needed by the students in that particular room so that the illustrative material will be readily available as and when needed.

The science equipment of our high schools is too limited to present to our boys and girls an adequate comprehension of the new-er developments in the field of science. So many new concepts have been developed in recent years that we have not been able to keep our teaching and demonstration equipment up to date.

EQUIPMENT NEEDED

"The woodworking, auto and electrical shops in our Industrial Arts Department have suffered greatly in recent years by our inability to secure many much needed items. The tools in these shops, in many cases, make good workmanship impossible. The old auto engines are so out of date that it is inconceivable that they functioning and proper care of the modern car. These shops need a complete overhauling.

"Our community needs men with the skills our boys can and should learn in a well staffed and a well equipped modern industrial arts program."

Graduates from the business department, he reported, are in great demand. "Those students must be given the best possible training in the basic business skills, he said, and to do it adequately antiquated equipment must be replaced with modern business machines such as the young people will be called upon to use in the offices where they work.

In the field of audio-visual aids, he reported that the high school needs an opaque projector, wire recorder and play back machine, additional speaker for permanent installation in the auditorium, micro-projector, and at least two good portable radios for classroom use.

During the year, a series of 16 vocational conferences was held at which the students met men and women who are successful in their chosen field of activity. "In many instances," Mr. McLain said, "boys and girls had their initial interest in a vocation centered and in some cases, what is equally important, they quickly discovered that the field of supposed interest was not what they thought it to be."

In addition, he reported, many students, through arrangement with the deans and cooperation of various businesses and industries in the community, carried on a type of cooperative school-work education. This frequently meant a half day in school and a half day on the job and has proved to be valuable to the students, Mr. McLain added.

Job Credit

"The next step to be taken by our school to make this work more significant," he urged, "would be to tie up in-school study with experiences on the job and grant credit toward graduation for cooperative work experience. We should be ready to do this in the next year or two."

Concerning public relations, Mr. McLain said, "If we do a good job, by, with, and for each student, the parents and public know it. If we do not, no amount of talking will produce the desired public support." He outlined the programs undertaken in that field, particularly that of the annual college conference, which, he points out, "over the years has been so well conducted that Mamaroneck has earned a reputation for holding just about the most successful college conference in this part of the country."

The record of Mamaroneck High School in interscholastic athletics last year is without parallel in the history of the school, he reported. In 10 sports, Mamaroneck High School teams won Westchester County championships in football, cross country, ice hockey, swimming, bowling and golf. Clubs and non-athletic events continued at a very high standard, he added, particularly journalism, music and assemblies.

The quality of teaching in Mamaroneck High School, is in Mr. McLain's opinion, considerably above the average in the State of New York and equal or superior to that in most of the high schools of the metropolitan area. The effectiveness of instruction by results of the Regents tests which showed that in 1947, 93.72 per cent of Mamaroneck papers written were accepted, compared with 82.8 per cent for the state.

Results of the high quality of instruction are shown by the achievements of the students in nation-wide scholarship examinations and scholarship grants awarded to the students.

Potential Citizens

One of the problems which Mr. McLain recommends for further study is that of preparing those students who are more likely to be the permanent residents of the community for the responsibilities of potentially active citizens.

He urges that a thorough study be made of these students, their preparation, and present status, and that appropriate curriculum adjustments be made to better prepare them to make a more significant contribution to the business world.

An approach to meeting this problem, he reported, is now under way through the Life Adjustment Education Program, sponsored by the U. S. Office of Education. He recommended that the Senior High School staff make the study of the program the area of their major interest through the coming school year.

"This program," he said, "promises to be the most important approach to the solution of this problem undertaken by the secondary schools in our generation. While we are at work endeavoring to make permanent improvements in our school offerings, I would recommend that as a stop-gap measure we make increased use of the vocational job training facilities available through the Albert Leonard High School in New Rochelle.

Students in our school district whose educational needs can be better met in this program, Mr. McLain added, can participate in its advantages through arrangement with the New Rochelle schools. The tuition, which will be paid by our district, amounts to about only $75 per student per year, he said.

Three-Point Plan

"Until a complete community-wide recreational program is agreed upon and under way," Mr. McLain continued, "I recommend that the following simple expedients be done to help meet some very obvious needs.

"1. Supervision for the high school gymnasium should be provided after school and on Saturdays to meet the recreational interests of that fairly sizable group of youths who ask only for a place to play basketball.

"2. The fenced-in area back of the bleachers could readily be converted into a very usable outdoor basketball court by the installation of backboards and baskets. The area could be surfaced with colprovia and marked off for basketball, shuffleboardand a number of other simple games.

"3. A minimum of four major dances should be included as part of the school sponsored social program. The four should be the Fall Sports dance, the Junior Prom, the Sophomore Hop and the Senior Ball."

PRAYER FOR TODAY—For the blessings of today, I pray fervently, dear Father in Heaven. I petition urgently too for the bliss—after awhile—of eternal years. Open to me and mine the springs of happiness that renew us for every occasion. I thank You for the loveliness of life itself and for the beauty of our fair land. Forgive my indifference and complacency. May I give cheerfully of myself for the benefit of my community and my generation. For Your glorification forever.

NEXT WEEK—REGISTER!

THE week of Sept. 27-Oct. 2, which is next week, has been set aside for registration of voters in Westchester County. The same week sees registration in New York City and Westchester changed to this week a few years back in order to eliminate the confusion which formerly existed when commuters found New York City registration at one time and Westchester registration at another.

During weekdays of next week, that is Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, the registration booths—in the regular polling places—will be open each evening, from 5 to 10:30 P. M. On Saturday, the last day, the booths will be open longer, from 7 A. M. to 10:30 P. M.

Such registration hours are for voters who are in what is called "personal" registration areas, namely all incorporated communities of 5,000 or more population. In the smaller places, under 5,000 population, we have what is known as "non-personal" registration, where a voter is automatically carried over from one year to the next, and does not have to register each year.

A large majority of Westchester voters, naturally, are in "personal" registration districts. These must register next week or they will lose their November votes. It is not at all too early to set aside now a time when all eligible members of the family will register on some evening next week. Don't wait until the last day when there will be a rush.

ILLEGAL AND DISFIGURING

LAWS of this State prohibit the erection of any advertising signs on lands owned by the State. Similarly, ordinances of the Westchester County Park Commission prohibit placing of such signs on County-owned lands. The purpose in each case is to protect the scenic beauties of our highways and parkways.

Westchester is more alert to violations of this law than is the State. Rarely does a billboard display get within optical reach of our Parkways except upon some privately owned land which may impinge upon the Parkway approaches. But the State has not been so vigilant.

For example, State Public Works Superintendent Sells announces that nearly 6,000 illegal advertising signs have been removed from state highways in recent months. The question naturally rises of how that large number could have been permitted to be erected even for a short period.

We hope the day will come when such offending types of advertising will disappear from all highways. The motorist in search of beauty should be protected from the commercialism which now disfigures such a large part of our traveling area.

And in many cases these billboards actually create traffic hazards through elimination of visibility. They should be more carefully regulated throughout this State.

THE CHILEAN PENDULUM

THE recent political swing in Chile cannot but remind of the landlubber who drilled a hole in the right side of his rowboat to drain out the water seeping through a crack on the left side.

Two years ago Gabriel Gonzalez Videla was elected President of Chile with the essential support of some 90,000 Communist votes. Yet early this month the Chilean Congress steam-rollered through an anti-Communist law which would at the same time permit a dictatorship as absolute as that of Joseph Stalin.

Acclaimed as a "democracy defense" measure, this outlaws the Communist Party, bars Reds from membership in all labor unions, allows President Gonzalez to throttle radio stations and newspapers which are considered by him to be subversive, and in general concentrates such power in the Chief Executive's hands that civil liberties of all Chileans are endangered.

This lesson from below may be worthy of remembrance here in the North. If we push a pendulum too hard it may swing just as dangerously far in the other direction. Tolerance and moderation should, instead, be our guiding lights. For we may rid a barn of rats by burning down the barn—but what have we left?

$2 AN ACRE

Question: A while ago I read in the papers that Government land can be bought for $2 an acre. Where can I get information about this? W. P. E.

Answer: It is possible that areas of state - owned lands in some parts of the country may be offered for sale at $2 an acre. To find out about this would be an undertaking, but we are mailing you a list of officials to write to in all the states—in case you care to do this.

The U. S. Department of the Interior, Bureau of Land Management, in Washington, D. C., tells us that it has "no general disposal program which contemplates the sale of public lands at $2 an acre," and that it has "not been advised that any other federal agency has embarked upon such a program."

If you could give us more information on the land you read about, maybe we could do better for you.

GIRLS, MEET BRANCA

Question: I am interested in knowing a little about Ralph Branca, Dodger pitcher. Was he born in Mount Vernon and if so, when was he born? Do he and his parents still live in Mount Vernon and has he any brothers and sisters? From what baseball team was he picked to play for the Dodgers? Anything else you might add will be appreciated.

Branca fan

Answer: Ralph Branca was born Jan. 6, 1926, in Mount Vernon, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Branca. He still lives with his parents in Mount Vernon, at 409 Seneca Avenue, and is one of 13 Branca children—seven girls and six boys. He began to be noticed by baseball major league scouts while he was pitching great ball at A. B. Davis High School in Mount Vernon and was signed for the Dodgers when he was pitching for New York University. He is going on with his studies at NYU and expects to be graduated in 1950. Incidentally four Branca boys are pitchers. In order of age they are John, Ralph, Paul and Alfred. Ralph is not married. He is not engaged. He emphatically is not engaged, according to the big "No" underlined twice, answering that question from us.

ST. LOUIS KIN IN NEED

—Question: My parents, both past sixty-five years of age, live in St. Louis. (I am a Westchester resident.) Because of a physical ailment, my father is unable to work. My parents live in a small house and rent two rooms to help them along, but they haven't enough money for their needs. If they apply for the old-age pension in St. Louis, would they still be allowed to rent the rooms? Daughter —Answer: If they receive an old-age pension, they still could rent the rooms, but it might be that the amount of the pension would be reduced by the amount they receive in rent for the two rooms.

We wrote to St. Louis to make inquiry for you, and were told that if your parents are in need, they can receive an old-age pension. Tell them to apply at 715 Market Street, St. Louis. After they make application, a social worker will contact them. Our St. Louis informant says that whether the pension would be reduced by the rent money or not would be "at the discretion of the social worker who makes the investigation and recommendation."

PIANO KEYS YELLOW

—Question: Is there any way to remove nicotine stains from the ivory keys of a piano?

C. H. O.

Answer: If they actually are cigaret stains, burning cigarets must have been left on the keys and they undoubtedly are charred. There is nothing that can be done except have the keys recovered with ivory. Possibly when you say "nicotine stains" you refer to a yellow coloring the piano keys are taking on. But this is a natural aging of ivory—elephant ivory is yellow and is bleached before it is used on piano keys. If this natural yellowing is the trouble, then the only cure is rebleaching. Professional piano-men sometimes use a dilute solution of ammonia in cleaning piano keys, but a piano manufacturer tells us he doesn't recommend this "unless handled by experienced technicians."

New 'Short Form' Use Urged By Rent Office

WHITE PLAINS — Landlords who own four or fewer dwelling units and who do not keep complete records should use the new short form petition in asking higher rents on hardship grounds, Joseph E. Kelly, Area Rent Director, suggested today.

While the older petition form is still available, Mr. Kelly said, it can generally be used more effectively by landlords who operate extensive rental properties.

On the short form the landlord may show increased expenses only on one or more of four items—taxes, insurance, fuel and utilities—in the current year as contrasted with the average of two base years, Mr. Kelly explained.

Rents may then be adjusted by the Rent Office to make the ratio between current income and expenses as favorable as it was during the base years, Mr. Kelly said.

Truman's Belief In Victory Held Astounding to Observers

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — President Truman's seemingly sincere belief in a Democratic victory in November astounds both friendly and hostile observers at Washington, especially in the face of accepted and convincing evidence that he heads into a defeat of a shocking nature. Here are a few samples of the general attitude as the two Presidential candidates sally forth on their first major sorties.

Many national political writers here and elsewhere will make no expensive, cross-country canvasses this year because of their feeling that it would be a waste of time and money. Those accompanying the President do so largely because they seek to renew contacts with old newspaper friends and clients, and with the politicians in the field.

FENCES — Correspondents traveling with Governor Thomas E. Dewey concede that there is a certain amount of self-interest in going on this assignment. To make themselves more valuable to their newspapers, they want to become acquainted beforehand with the possible Cabinet members, advisers and personal cronies that the Albany man will bring to the Capital next January. They are simply building future journalistic fences in the same way a politician does.

There is no pro-Truman betting money in sight. Even ultra-New Dealers will not take or give even money that Mr. Truman will carry 20 states. The 1948 election wagers will probably have to be made in the way former Vice President John N. Garner placed them during the Rooseveltian heyday.

In those years he could get bets only by letting his Republican pals name five states which the GOP nominee would carry. The canny Texan never lost on this basis.

GIFTS — The most ominous sign for both Democrats and Republicans is that political money has become tighter than it has been in many years. Habitual contributors to the Democratic till figure that a gift this year would be a waste of cash.

Even enthusiastic Dewey people in the higher brackets are coming across with only $1,000 instead of $5,000, or $250 instead of $1,000, because of their confidence in a Republican sweep.

PENSION — The prospect of a Truman debacle has revived talk among his Capitol Hill friends of the movement to pension ex-Presidents on a salary of at least $25,000 a year and to make a former Chief Executive an honorary member of the U. S. Senate. Almost alone of modern White House occupants, Mr. Truman has no personal fortune or professional position to which he can return.

Speculation over his future, however, always centered around the likelihood he will reenter politics. Missouri informants suggest that he may run for his old Senate seat in 1950 against Governor Phil M. Donnelly, who is legally barred from seeking reelection this year. Only difficulty is that Governor Donnelly has made such a good, non-partisan record that he might defeat even Mr. Truman, if the two should make a fight of it.

Incidentally, the writer erred a few weeks ago when he listed Missouri as one of seven major states which had elected or reelected a governor since 1944. Mr. Donnelly, a Democrat, carried the President's state in that year).

BORDERLINE — The prospect of a Truman-for-Senate candidacy in 1950 lies behind the effort of his friends to insure that the Chief Executive's home state lands in the Democratic column next November. It would be an inauspicious introduction for the returning Truman if it should give its electoral vote to Governor Dewey.

Missouri is now listed as a toss-up state. The Roosevelt - Truman ticket carried it by only 46,192 in the war year of 1944, and only a slight shift would move it into GOP ranks. Moreover, Roy Roberts extremely influential Kansas City Star, an independent newspaper, recently declared for Dewey on the basis that Mr. Truman had shown his incapacity as President.

In Mr. Truman's favor is the presence of Forrest Smith on the state slate as a candidate for Governor. He has been state auditor for 18 years, and is a supervotegetter, even running ahead of FDR. He is an old - age - pension advocate, and has signed many checks for years.

Nevertheless, as the fairly heavy betting indicates, Missouri stands on the political borderline.

INTERIOR — The principal Cabinet squabble in the event of a Dewey-Warren triumph will undoubtedly involve the choice of a satisfactory man for Secretary of the Interior. With California's Governor expected to enable the GOP to sweep the Western Empire, and also certain to become an important figure in the Presidential family, that section will demand this job.

Governor Dewey has said that he wants a regional expert on western problems for this post. This statement seems to dispose of the principal claimants, who are now Rep. Ben Johnson of Iowa and former Ohio representative, Robert E. Jones, now on the Federal Communications Commission. This area always complained because President Truman men were Harold L. Ickes of Illinois and J. A. Krug of Wisconsin. To the Rocky Mountain and coastal interests they were "easterners."

CANDIDATE — The Dewey difficulty selecting a Westerner lies in the fact that almost every state will present its own candidate. They have done so already, and the prospect of an intra-party row of major proportions threatens.

Likely bet now would be Sen. William F. Knowland of California, provided he could quit the upper chamber. But should jealousies and rivalries become too bitter in the section most interested in conservation and expansion problems, Mr. Dewey might find it advisable to keep out of trouble by looking elsewhere. Under these circumstances, strange as it may seem, there is talk of Robert Moses of New York, a Smith-Roosevelt - LaGuardia-Ickes man, for the post.

Chester Lauck and Norris Goff, Lum and Abner to millions of radio listeners, were born in Lena, Ark. Lauck "Lum," took dramatics at the University of Arkansas and art courses at the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts, but went to work for a building and loan company.

Norris Goff, "Abner," attended the University of Arkansas and got his start in business as a traveling salesman. They appeared in a local Elks club minstrel show and made such a hit that the boys went to Chicago for a radio audition, only to find that blackface acts were not wanted then.

In 1931 the two put on their home folk program and it was so well liked that they found a sponsor, and have been "Lum and Abner," the small town business men, ever since.

At first they ad - libbed their whole show, but later wrote their own script. The first script took them 16 hours of hard work and was finished about five minutes before broadcasting time. The two play nine principal characters. Both are married and they live in the same apartment house in Chicago. Lauck (Lum) has two daughters and Goff (Abner) a son.

Architects And Equippers Shine In Daily Times League Opener

Rec's And Mike's Five Win; Riker Tallies High Singles

The Architects and Equippers scored shutouts while the Rec's and Mike's Five tallied 2—1 victories last night as the Daily Times Bowling League entered its first week and 21st season of play.

Despite the fact that his club was soundly trounced by the Equippers, Horace Riker of the Skyscrapers bowled the high single game of the evening when he totaled 211 pins in his second game of the night. The Equippers were sparked by Marty Fader who rolled the night's high series, a mark of 591 pins. Fader also tallied a single game of an even 200.

Ward of the Architects rolled a 205 game while team-mate Eggers tallied a single of 201 as their club whipped the Oilers 3—0. Don Tresanowen had high triple for the losers.

The Mamaro five, last year's season winner, were beaten by Mike's Five 2—1 in a match spotlighted by Joe Canini's 200 game. Dan Goetz rolled well for the losing club.

The Rec's took a close one from the Depot Way despite a single effort of 202 by Sid Anton, who also took the high triple for this match. The losers were hampered by the fact that they had only four players available and therefore had to use a blind.

Len Grosso, originator of The Daily Times loop, and for many years one of its leading bowlers, announced that play would be held every Tuesday night for 32 weeks. Other leagues which do their rolling at the Larchmont Recreation Center are the Larchmont Acres League, a regular Monday night attraction, the Thursday night Community loop, and the Larchmont Ladies League, which rolls off on Friday nights.

BARETTES LEAD WOMEN BOWLERS

Ladies Bowling in Mamaroneck began last night when the Friendly Village League started play at the Mamaroneck Recreation Center with the Barettes, Halstead Centers, Optimists, and Rummies gaining their initial triumphs.

Malinowski was leading lady for the evenings bowling by rolling the high single, a mark of 170 pins. This feat sparked Miss Malinowski's team, the Barettes to a shutout win over the Barettes.

The Halstead Centers were led by Mae's single of 169 as they defeated the Marketteps by a 2-1 score.

The Optimists gained their victory at the expense of the Oaels who succumbed 2-1 with Rhoads being high man(?) with a 159 effort.

Jubbies Gals gave in to the Rummies after a hard battle with Herman and Lemon of the winners taking high honors for the contest with identical scores 149.

The league will roll every Thursday night at the Mamaroneck Rec.

The Yankees, one of the best semi-pro teams in Westchester, will counter with Wally Signer, former Bushwicks hurler.

Batting Title To Raneiri As Carter, Carpenter Trail

Billy Raneiri of the Champion Foodmen was named batting king of the Mamaroneck Softball League last night when official statistics for the recently completed season were released. Raneiri led the loop batters with an average of .428 and figures revealed that he clinched the award during the playing of the extra-season games with the runner-up Gaels. When the actual season play had been completed, George Carpenter, a team-mate of Raneiri, led the league's swatters. However, a meeting of league managers was held and a decision reached to include the second half play-off totals in the final averages. It so happened that Raneiri outhit Carpenter in the three games played and thus took the title. Willie Carter of the Gaels breezed past George Carpenter to take second place with the latter having to be content with third slot. Carter was unable to play in post season activity due to the beginning of college.

The Foodmen landed a total of three men in the first ten, with the third player being Art O'Neill who took tenth spot with a mark of .343.

Joe Pooley, hurler for the Manzoni Lodge, was fourth best in the averages at .392. Pooley came through with most of his base hits in the second half and became a real challenger for the title during the last two weeks of play. Only a slight batting slump in the final games prevented Pooley from real contention.

The Legion team was represented in the "charmed circle" by outfielder Hank Ciraco who took fifth place. DiRuzzio of the Happy Boys and George Huntley of the Oilers represented their respective clubs in the first ten while Giorgio was the Manzoni Lodge's second man to place.

Buddy Lutz was the Heathcotes lone representative. But batted a cool .345 to capture ninth position.

Bill Canavy of the Happy Boys and Norm McClendon of the Gaels narrowly missed getting into the first ten with .324 marks to tie for eleventh place.

Willie Greto, Happy Boy infielder, Unk Larsen of the Heathcotes, and Bob Grosso of the Gaels all batted .333 for the season's play. The averages:

Name	Team	Aver.
Raneiri	Foodmen	.428
Carter	Gaels	.415
Carpenter	Foodmen	.413
J. Pooley	Manzoni's	.392
Ciraco	Legion	.354
DiRuzza	Happy Boy's	.353
Huntley	Oilers	.351
Giorgio	Manzoni's	.340

Boston Will Fly NL Flag Today If Braves Sweep Doubleheader

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Staff

The Boston Braves can clinch their first pennant in 34 years today but the baseball spotlight will be centered on Cleveland where the Indians tackle the Boston Red Sox with first place in the American League at stake.

Billy Southworth's Braves, who have had the National League pennant virtually sewed up for weeks, can mathematically win it today by beating the St. Louis Cardinals providing the runner up Brooklyn Dodgers bow to Pittsburgh.

The Braves virtually killed off the remaining pennant hopes of both the Cards and Dodgers yesterday, taking a twin bill from the Red Birds, 11-3 and 4-0 while the Dodgers bowed, 12-11 and 6-3 to Pittsburgh.

The Braves now lead the Dodgers by seven and one half games. Both teams have nine games left to play. The Cards are eight games back with 10 to go and a loss today will knock them out.

However, the main attention will be riveted on the Red Sox-Indian clash under the lights at Cleveland's Municipal Stadium.

Crucial Series

The league leading Red Sox are only a game in front of the runner-up Indians who have won their last six starts. A Cleveland victory would put the two teams in a flat footed tie for the lead. A Boston triumph would jump the Red Sox two games ahead with only eight games left to play for each team.

Bob Feller (16-14), who has been pitching great ball since late August, will start for Cleveland against Boston's Joe Dobson (16-8).

The Red Sox trounced the Detroit Tigers, 10-2, yesterday in the only game played in the American League. Lefty Mel Parnell, although rapped for 11 hits, coasted to his 14th victory. The Red Sox opened with two runs in the first inning and iced the decision with six more in the third.

Johnny Sain, the Braves' star righthander and rookie Vern Bickford, turned back the Cardinals on nine and four hits respectively. Sain's victory was his 22nd —top mark in either league.

The Cards nicked Sain for two runs in the first inning but the Braves came back with one in their half and drove Red Munger to cover with four more the second to win going away. The Braves clinched the nightcap triumph early, scoring three times in the opening frame to rout Lefty Howie Pollet.

Pirates' Protest Pays Off

Pittsburgh's 12-11 win over Brooklyn completed a game that began in Pittsburgh on Aug. 25 when a ninth inning protest by the Pirates was upheld.

The game was resumed with the Pirates at bat, three runs behind, two out, runners on first and third. Ed Bruggman up with a 3-1 count and Carl Erskine pitching. Erskine walked Bockman to load the bases and Hank Behrman took over. Stan Rojek then broke up the game with a base-clearing double.

In the regular scheduled game that followed little Vic Lombardi held his former Dodger mates to five hits in picking up his ninth victory.

The New York Giants and the Chicago Cubs divided a day-night doubleheader by identical 3-2 scores. Johnny Mize clouted his 38th homer with two on.

Andy Pafko's three-run nin homer enabled the Cubs to grab the nightcap and end a 10 game losing streak.

The Cincinnati Reds and the Philadelphia Phillies also split a day-night twin bill. The Reds won the first game, 6-5 and the Phils took the nightcap, 6-1.

Tolve And Martensen Join New York Ranger Gridders

With Mamaroneck having no semi-pro football team representing it, many local players have moved their pigskin headquarters elsewhere and the New York Rangers of Pelham Bay seem to have a good percentage of them. The Rangers, who played under the name of St Cecelia Catholic War Vets last season, won the Bronx Senior CYO Eastern Division title last year. Home games for the Rangers will be held at the Pelham Bay Park Stadium, Bronx, New York.

Joe Tolve, leader of the Mamaroneck All-Stars last season and, for several years, Mamaroneck's leading organizer of semi-pro football, has led the shift to the Rangers and will be non-playing manager of that outfit. Tolve has been known locally for his association with the New York Giants as a player in their farm system and is a proven leader of the gridiron sport.

The New York club will have Tom Parker, Bill Avery, Gene McLaughlin and Bill Pooley, all former Mamaroneck High School gridiron greats, on their roster this season. Parker and Pooley are seat-backs while the other two are linemen.

Bob Martensen, formerly of Rye and Bellows High Schools will hold down one of the end positions for the Rangers. Martensen came to Bellows in 1942 for his senior year and, at the completion of the season was named on the All-County Class B team by the football writers. Bob also is well known for his kicking prowess and may display this talent in his stay with the New Yorkers.

Leading lineman for the New York outfit may turn out to be Don McMahon, also a Bellows graduate, who operates at tackle and has always been known to play bang-up football.

Former Bellows players Joe Puleo and John Flynn will also be with the Rangers. Both are linemen and plan to see plenty of action this year.

Manager Frank Mack, a former resident of Mamaroneck, stated that the team is expected to average close to 200 pounds with the bulk of the weight falling in the line. Many of the backs have seen collegiate competition and are said to be fast afoot and tough to bring down.

The opening game for the Rangers will take place at Islip, Long Island, where the Rangers tangle with the Bay Shore Bears this Friday night at 8:30 P. M. under the lights.

LLANORIA WINNER OF 1ST CUP TEST

OYSTER BAY, L. I., (AP) — Llanoria, the American Olympic six-meter yachting champion, won the first race of the Seawanhaka Cup series yesterday against the Swedish challenger, Maybe 6th.

The American entry took advantage of a break in the wind on the final leg to pile up a 32-minute edge on the Swedes.

Official time for the twelve-mile windward-leeward course was 2 hours, 57 minutes, 29 seconds. Sweden used 3 hours 29 minutes 40 seconds. There were no other entries.

A light northerly breeze was blowing when the race started, but it died in the middle of the last leg. The American entry had much better staying power and the Swedes fell far behind.

Second race in the best-of-five series is scheduled for today.

FIREMEN SUBDUE $700 BLAZE IN AN HOUR BATTLE

Defective Wiring Blamed For Fire Over Kitchen On Byron Place

Town firemen battled for an hour last night to extinguish a fire in the home of Miss Deborah Paysoure of 72 Byron Place, Larchmont, which caused damage "not exceeding $700, according to Chief George W. Burton.

The blaze, which started in defective wiring between the ceiling and roof over the kitchen annex, was reported at 7:16 P. M.

Flames crept half way back into the main part of the house on the second floor. Firemen played water fog through small lines and also used "wet water", a special penetrating type of water used with Truck No. 2's booster tank.

No water damage was reported and there was "not too much smoke damage", Chief Burton reported. He said one bathroom wall, half the ceiling over the kitchen, and the bedroom wall were damaged.

"The occupants were back in their beds in rooms that we worked on 30 minutes after the fire was put out", the chief said.

The kitchen annex is a small one-story flat roof building adjoining the main house. The occupants had been receiving electric shocks from the water faucet during the last week, according to Chief Burton, indicating defective wiring.

Had the fire department arrived three minutes later there would have been considerable damage, for the fire was already well into the main building, Chief Burton said.

Engines No. 2 and 3 and the patrol truck of the Town Fire Department responded to the alarm.

TRUMAN HITS GOP ON AID TO FARMER

President Tells Californians On 'Accident' Brought Help, If Any

ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN, (AP) — President Truman campaigned for votes today among early-rising Californians with the assertion the Republicans propose only "crumbs for the little fellow."

He told a trainside crowd at Merced—in the heart of the rich San Joaquin Valley farming area—that "if the Republicans ever did anything for the farmers, it was an accident" and not "on purpose."

It was only 6:45 A. M. daylight time, when the President appeared on the platform.

He had made his first appearance at Modesto at 5:50 A. M. to exchange "good mornings" with a crowd there. He apologized for not being up when the train stopped at Tracy at 5 A. M.

"I didn't get up quite as early as usual," he explained. "I have to get a little sleep. I can't go all day and all night, too."

President Truman also tossed into the increasingly bitter political campaign a suggestion for a "solid front" on foreign policy while he threw new punches at the Republicans on domestic issues.

DAVIS OUTLINES PLANS OF CHEST

Campaign Head Tells Lions 650 Have Volunteered To Aid Drive

Clayton Davis, executive campaign director of the Larchmont Community Chest, was guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Larchmont Lions Club yesterday, outlining the plans of the Chest for its coming drive.

The campaign will start Oct. 2 and continue through Oct. 12, he said. A total of 650 volunteer workers are giving their time and efforts to make the Community Chest a success, he reported.

This year's total budget will exceed $50,000, he said, $10,500 of which is already on deposit as a surplus from last year's drive. Ten local organizations will benefit from the Community Chest.

Following Mr. Clayton's talk, color movies taken by William Russ of Larchmont, a member of the club, made at the Blythedale Home near White Plains, were shown.

The Blythedale Home, a home for crippled children, is partially maintained from funds received from the Community Chest. The film showed some of the therapeutic measures given to the children, who were also seen at play on their crutches and wheel chairs. It also showed them enjoying outdoor activities at the Raff estate in Scarsdale. The film was made for the Westchester League of Volunteers to aid in enlisting more volunteers to assist in the worthy cause.

Dr. Daniel G. Karrel, past president of the Lions Club, has been appointed vice-chairman of the business section of the Larchmont Chest, it was announced. He appointed the following Lions to assist him in soliciting funds from merchants: Carnig Aslanian, Herman Barish, Anthony Camerella, Dr. Joseph Carlucci, T. Kirby Davidson, Harold Elsner, Fred Lowe, George Mills, Sr., Herbert Neslage, Joseph Torre, Dr. Joseph M. Roth and David Uran.

The 35 members present honored the club president, David Uran, in connection with the observance of 100 per cent attendance week by Lions Clubs throughout the country.

The Rev. Francis J. H. Coffin, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, Larchmont, also spoke, praising the work of the Lions Club.

The meeting of Oct. 6 was set aside to pay tribute to the Rev. Mr. Coffin, an honorary member of the club, who will celebrate his

Palmer Avenue Crash Damages Two Autos

Two cars were damaged when they collided at 4:15 P. M. yesterday on Palmer Avenue at Rockland Avenue, Mamaroneck.

Lawrence J. Santangelo, nineteen, of 181 Grand Street, Mamaroneck, told police he was driving east on Palmer when another car passed him on the right side and made a left turn into Rockland Avenue, cutting him off and causing his car to run into the other car.

The driver of the other car, Peter Hasslacher, sixteen, of Scarsdale, said his car passed Santangelo and then he signaled with an indicator for a left turn. As his car was making the turn, it was struck by the Santangelo car, which received a slightly dented right rear fender. The left rear fender and door on the Hasslacher car were also dented.

2 Injured As Car Plunges Across Station Into Train

HARRISON—Two persons were injured, one seriously, when a car operated by Mrs. Frank Gernon of North Street jumped the platform on the eastbound side of the Harrison railroad station last night and crashed into a train that had stopped to discharge passengers.

Miss Dorothy Dickens of 11 Nelson Avenue was taken to United Hospital, Port Chester, with a broken thigh and a possible fractured left hand after being treated at the scene by Dr. Ellis Marshall, police surgeon.

According to police, Mrs. Gernon was parked at the east end of the station. When she saw her husband alight from the 7:02 train she accidentally started up her motor while the gear was in reverse. The car vaulted the platform, struck Miss Dickens, grazed Mr. Gernon and crashed into the train steps.

PEACE VISIONED THROUGH U.W.F.

Police Force and Control of Atomic Energy Vital, Fuchs Says

A limited world government with powers adequate to prevent war is the goal of United World Federalists, according to Lawrence Fuchs, executive assistant to Cord Meyer, Jr., president of UWF, guest speaker at a meeting of the Larchmont UWF Chapter held last night at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Julius Kapian of 8 Shore Drive, attended by 30 persons.

Only through a world law enforced by a world police force and control of atomic energy can enduring peace be realized, Mr. Fuchs declared.

He said that the world government movement is supported by many leaders throughout the world, including Prime Minister Attlee, Foreign Minister Bevin and Winston Churchill of England, Nehru of India, former Prime Minister McKenzie King of Canada, and Prime Minister Herbert Evatt of Australia.

He pointed out that the constitutions of France, Italy and other nations provide for amendments allowing participation in a world federal government.

Educating the people of the United States to the ideal of world peace through world federal government was the theme of a talk delivered by Dr. Nathanial Warner, president of the Larchmont Chapter. Dr. Warner stressed the danger of complacency, saying that he preferred active opposition to the UWF drive to an indifferent attitude.

World government, Dr. Warner said, is the only solution to the international anarchy which threatens to lead to war.

He urged the active support and cooperation of each individual in his own community of the principals of world government through education.

Jerome Kaufman of Larchmont is president of the Temple and Leonard Schofer of New York City will serve as rabbi.

DEWEY GREETED BY 1,500 THRONG

Governor Talks With GOP Chiefs In West, Cites Great Opportunities

EN ROUTE WITH DEWEY, (AP) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey declared today that "incredible opportunities" for the future development of this country lie in the West.

Heading toward Phoenix and a discussion tonight of atomic energy problems, the GOP Presidential nominee talked at Winslow during an early morning stop about Arizona's sunshine.

He said he wished some of it could be bottled so that he could take it home with him to New York.

The Governor was greeted on his arrival by a crowd estimated by Police Chief A. T. Hartley at 1,500 persons. The Santa Fe Indian Band played.

Dewey kept the crowd waiting at Winslow for several minutes while a delegation headed by Clarence Budington Kelland, Arizona national committeeman, boarded the train. Bruce Brockett, GOP candidate for Governor was introduced before the Governor gave his brief talk.

Brockett, in introducing the nominee, termed him "one of the greatest administrators of our times."

Need of Unity

Dewey said "these are serious times" and that "we need unity because the world situation is what it is."

He added that he proposes to bring back to Washington an administration in which "quarreling, back-biting, and bickering" will be eliminated.

After Dewey finished talking five Indian governors of the Hopi villages near Winslow, climbed aboard the rear platform and shook hands with the Presidential nominee.

Earlier Dewey had fired new barbed criticisms at the Truman administration's dealings with Russia.

As his special train rolled westward toward a fourth formal campaign speech at Phoenix tonight, the Republican Presidential nominee appeared ready to try some variations of the theme that Yalta, Potsdam and other decisions gave the Soviets too big a chunk of the world.

He has made it sides regarded as good crowd reaction when he asserted at Santa Fe, N. M., that the GOP's major task "is to get an administration which doesn't play 'footie' with the Communists."

Dewey also has been contend-

'Heterogeneous' Grouping Of Pupils Causes Poor Work, Junior High Principal Says

This is the second in a series of articles based on the sixth annual report of Superintendent of Schools T. James Ahern, submitted to the Mamaroneck Board of Education. It contains excerpts from reports made to the superintendent by the principals of the Junior High School and Central School.

The scholastic achievements students in the Junior High School have fallen, largely due to the heterogeneous grouping of pupils, Principal Hoyt D. Smith of the Junior High School reported.

"Data are available," he said, "showing clearly that the percentage of pupils doing unsatisfactory and failing work has increased considerably. The more capable students are not working up to capacity and the least able students fail to achieve the impossible."

Mr. Smith feels that by heterogeneous grouping there is a wasting of talents of the able students. A method previously used in which students were grouped according to ability had more advantages than disadvantages, he maintains, "but we allowed the pressure of social rivalry to force us into heterozeneous grouping."

"We should have an objective appraisal of results as a guide to future policies," he said, adding that "at present we are following two inconsistent policies. When we made provision for individual differences by ability groups, we adapted the curricular offerings in terms of the achievement levels of the various groups. Under this plan it was proper to minimize the acceleration and retardation of typical students."

"The latter policy has been continued after we have ceased to make ample provision for individual differences within a grade level. The inevitable result has been to increase the number of mal-adjusted pupils. Many more pupils are failing in their work.

"Insofar as this is due to their being expected to do the impossible, the school has failed. On the upper end of the scale, our teachers find a great number of able students who fall into indifferent attitudes and poor habits because the work which has been watered down to the level of the 'average' is not sufficiently challenging to them. This results in wasting the talents of our able students. It is doubtful that going back to a policy of retarding and accelerating pupils will offer the best solution."

"The struggle against reactionary forces," Mr. Smith continued, "has finally resulted in the loss of enriching electives and the restoration of the oldest traditional subject, Latin, to the ninth grade level for a large percentage of the college preparatory students.

"Our guidance philosophy is to no longer try to convince weak college preparatory students that they should defer one of their most difficult subjects until they have a stronger and more mature background. We lack the professional courage of other professions when we do not advise patients and students against making choices which our experience has shown will almost certainly result in failure. It is a weak defense on our part to disclaim responsibility on legal grounds. The enrichment electives in fine arts have all but disappeared. Next year (meaning this current school year) there will be no Backgrounds of Music class because it can no longer compete with Latin in the ninth grade. Home economics and shop are not now chosen by academic students."

In the past, slower mathematics students who must have algebra credit for college admission, were given a third semester to complete the course. This resulted in some difficulties when they moved up to the Senior High School, Mr. Smith reported. As a solution, he said, a special algebra class has been set up composed of mathematically weak college preparatory students who

COMINFORM SESSION BELIEVED IN CRIMEA

LONDON, (AP) — The British Foreign Office said today the Cominform - Communist International Information Bureau — may be meeting now in the Russian Crimea.

A Foreign Office spokesman advanced this theory in response to questions.

He said such reports had been received at the Foreign Office and that it had been established definitely that both Anna Pauker, Romania's Foreign Minister, and Klement Gottwald, President of Czechoslovakia, are absent from their capitals. Moscow reported last week that Gottwald was vacationing in the Crimea.

There also have been unconfirmed reports that Georgi Dimitrov, Bulgaria's Premier, is away from Sofia. All three are key members of Cominform.

Prime Minister Stalin has been reported on vacation at Sochi, in the Crimea.

Radio Cab Not Involved In Mt. Vernon Crash

The Larchmont taxi involved in a two-car collision Monday in Mount Vernon was owned by the Larchmont Rapid Taxi Company and not by the Larchmont Radio Taxi Company as erroneously reported in Tuesday's Daily Times. It was announced today by George Polra, owner of Radio Taxi. Blame for the accident in which one person was slightly injured is placed by police on the driver of the second car, Robert Fulton of Mount Vernon, who faces charges of operating his car with improper brakes.

Secretary Warns Reds At U. N. General Assembly

By WILLIAM L. PHILLIPS

PARIS, (AP) — Secretary of State Marshall said today in a thinly veiled warning to the Soviet Union that American patience should not be mistaken for weakness.

Marshall outlined the United States basic foreign policy in a speech to the Fall session of the United Nations General Assembly.

He referred to the Russians and their six Eastern European satellites as the "small minority" which consistently boycotts the Balkan and Korean U. N. commissions and the "Little Assembly."

"It would be a tragic error," the American declared, "if, because of misunderstanding, the patience of others should be mistaken for weakness."

Won't Barter Freedom

Marshall served notice the United States will not "compromise the essential principles" or "barter away the rights and freedom of other peoples."

In an apparent reference to the Berlin crisis, Marshall said the United States "is prepared to seek in every possible way, in any appropriate forum, a constructive and peaceful settlement of the political controversies which contribute to the present tension and uncertainty."

FLORIDA MOPS UP STORM DAMAGE

Three Deaths, 25 Million Loss Reported In Wake Of Severe Hurricane

MIAMI, FLA., (AP)—Severe gales of near-hurricane force threatened the British island of Bermuda today as a hurricane that left three dead and an estimated $25 million damage in Florida expanded at sea.

MIAMI, Fla., (AP) — Florida today began a mammoth clean-up job in the wake of a severe hurricane that left three dead and an estimated $25 million damage in the state.

The great storm, lumbering through the state at eight miles an hour, picked up forward speed as it crossed the coast near Jensen Beach and moved away from the mainland.

It was expected to pass about 500 miles east of Jacksonville and away from the busy Atlantic coastal shipping lanes, moving about 13 miles per hour in a direction between northeast and east-northeast.

The ponderous storm needed 30 hours to travel through Florida on a 240-mile line from Key West to Jensen Beach, attended by thrashing winds up to 160 miles an hours.

Tremendous property damage was reported at Key West, in the choice Indian River citrus area and to vegetable crops along the southern and eastern rim of Lake Okeechobee.

FIRE HAZARDS CAUSE HIKE TRAIL CLOSING

Because of fire hazards created by the extended drought, the hiking trails in both Blue Mountain Reservation near Peekskill and Ward-Poundridge Reservation in the northeast section of the county were ordered closed to the public today.

George S. Haight, superintendent of the county park system, in announcing the closing of the trails, said that the picnic areas in the two reservations, which are the largest parks in the county will be kept open and may be patronized over the weekend by visitors. He urged, however, that picnickers guard carefully against spread of any camp fires they might light, being sure they are extinguished upon leaving.
