ANSWERS TO CHARGES AGAINST WORK BUREAU BY HEYDECKER

Complaints of Local Relief Worker Not Substantiated

DIRECTOR DENIES POLITICAL MOTIVE

Regrets Complaints Were Not Investigated First

WHITE PLAINS, Feb. 18.—Answer in detail to each charge advanced in the past few weeks against the County Work Bureau was made to the supervisors this afternoon by Wayne D. Heydecker, director, who concluded his specific answers with the request: "We suggest that it is in the public interest that, before broadcasting such unfounded complaints, those interested should take the trouble to ascertain the facts, and thus avoid prejudicing the public mind against a form of relief that, in this county at least, has demonstrated its ability to serve both the recipient of relief and the taxpayer."

Mr. Heydecker, in answer to the charges from the country of Carl H. Tucker, new bureau chairman, lists three sources of complaints: namely, Frank R. Richardson of 52 Hartung Street, Mamaroneck, a relief worker; Frederick Clinton, 187 of the Brotherhood of Painters, Mamaroneck; and Supervisor A. Albert Gleason, New York.

Lunch Wagon Crashes Into Hut Only Peanut Cakes In Tank

Two police are searching today for a burglar, believed to be a juvenile, who went to the trouble of breaking into a lunch wagon in the Hudson Post Road and Wagon Street area Saturday, just to steal four pieces of peanut candy valued at 20 cents.

The forced entry was discovered by Chang Mah, Chinaman who runs the stand, who was arrived by police up for business at 4 o'clock Saturday night. He found the rear door open and that a pane of glass in the rear window had been broken. Police believe the entry was made through the window and that the thief then left by the door.

Chang Mah said police had had looked up about 10 o'clock the same morning so that the burglar must have been committed sometime during the day.

Silverware, cooking utensils and other articles in the restaurant were untouched by the intruder.

But The United States Supreme Court Rules That Government Gold Obligations Can Not Be Paid Off On A "Dollar For Dollar" Basis—Effect Of Decision Explained

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—The Supreme Court today upheld the government's right to cancel "gold clauses" in private bonds but ruled that government gold obligations can not be paid off on a "dollar for dollar" basis.

Chief Justice Hughes, in a summarization of the decision, after reading the momentous decision, disclosed the court's ruling that the government could cancel gold clauses in private bonds but ruled that government gold obligations can not be paid off on a "dollar for dollar" basis.

The administration had already been declared by attorney general Cummings to be ready "for any emergency." The government was the salary case involving gold certificates. The decision was that the Court of Claims could not have jurisdiction to entertain suits against the federal government because of its gold bonds and gold certificates.

The effect of the decision was to validate the act of congress suspending gold payments which the court today declared valid as applied to private bonds. The decision was announced at 10:30 A. M. and the market rallied sharply.

Supervisors Seek Opinion Of Public Before Voting To Accept Or Reject $33,000 YEARLY SAVING Thorough Study Of Company's Proposal Urged By Utility Council

WHITE PLAINS, Feb. 19.—With evident divided opinion as to the value of the recent offer by private lighting companies to reduce the rates paid for light and power by the county institutions, the Board of Supervisors late yesterday voted, after a long wrangle, to hold a public hearing before making a definite decision on acceptance or rejection.

The action followed receipt of a communication from the Westchester Council of Utility Rate Committees, which proposed that the county's present rate for light and power be reduced by $33,000 annually.

WE DO OUR PART SEVERE TEST IN THE NEW JUDICIAL SETUP

State Legislature May Pave The Way For Putting Democrats On Supreme Court Bench In This Area—Westchester G. O. P. Seeks To Avoid Gains Of Opponents In Erie Co.

WHITE PLAINS, Feb. 22.—With a Democratic state legislature already acting favorably on a "re-arrangement" in Erie County to provide two Democratic judicial districts where one normally Republican district formerly existed, and with Westchester Republicanism striving vigorously to avoid a similar fate in this judicial district, party lines this week faced what may be the most bitter struggle ever known here in many years.

The assembly judiciary committee this week voted favorably on the bill which would carve a 16th judicial district out of the present eighth district, including Erie, Genesee, Niagara, Albany, Oswego, Chautauque, Orleans and Wyoming Counties. Assemblyman Ralph Larchmont, Republican, was one who voted against the report, but was overruled.

According to reports from Albany, there is almost a certainty that one of the two new districts will be Democratic, while there is such probability of Democratic success in the other. Formerly the eighth district was strongly Republican.

Political observers indicate that a possible danger to the Democrats in this district through an increase in the number of official referees. For several years the district was without an official referee at all, former Justice Marchant of Poughkeepsie who retired last year from office being the only such referee.

But yesterday the resident trial justice of Westchester, William F. Healey of Yonkers, Frederick P. Chen of Hornellville, George R. Taylor Jr. of Mount Vernon, affiliated the county clerk and the board of supervisors for a check for the referee.

It is not believed this would have been done except for possible aid from Mr. Marchant's representative in this connection that Justice Arthur B. Thompson, who retired this year for age limit and Justice A. Addison Van Dusen, who will retire the same next year. Both are well known to the referees and there are reports they will be qualified to make judgments for the sixth judicial district one year later.

Delay Action On Bill On Income Tax Funds To Town WHITE PLAINS, Feb. 22.—A resolution disapproving of Senate Bill 1000 which would require the towns of the county to distribute income tax refunds proportionately among the villages within the towns, was submitted to the Board of Supervisors yesterday and was laid over for the next meeting at the request of Supervisor William J. Sherry, Yorkers Democrat.

The resolution was presented by Supervisor William C. Duell of Greenburgh, as chairman of the committee on legislation. It objects to a bill introduced by Senator James A. Garity, on the ground mainly that the bill would make it possible for villages to share unequally in refunds which should go to the incorporated areas.

The bill provides for payment to the villages in the proportion the village's total assessed valuation bears to the town's total assessed valuation, the villages then to share in the amount either in the form of a cash or a vote.

Another resolution of the legislative committee, favoring a bill which would permit merging the offices of County Engineer and County Clerk by removing the constitutional restrictions on the office of Recorder was adopted by the Board without opposition.

The action marked a step toward the accomplishment of the merger proposed long ago.

GARRITY BILL IS AMENDED, PASSED BY COUNTY BOARD

Measure Provides That State Take Over Construction Costs Of Parkways BLEAKLEY, SHERRY TILT Effort To Shift Total Bonded Indebtedness Is Called Ridiculous

WHITE PLAINS, Feb. 22.—The Board of Supervisors yesterday amended its plan for the Garity Bill, which provides for the state to take over construction costs of Westchester parkways, but only after the Republican majority claimed credit for discharging alleged misrepresentation of the bill to the public.

Resolutions on the bill, known as Senate Bill 286 and introduced into the state legislature by Senator James A. Garity, were being pending before the supervisors when the majority party's misrepresentation of the bill to the public.

Last Monday, the committee on highways, headed by Supervisor William C. Duell, introduced an amended resolution requesting Senator Garity to amend his bill to include reimbursement to the county for the cost of construction of its parkways, but also their acquisition and improvement.

There was some doubt as to whether the bill would be amended to include reimbursement to the county for the cost of construction of its parkways, but also their acquisition and improvement.

KENNEMER FOUND GUILTY, LAWYERS SEEK NEW TRIAL To Be Sentenced Tomorrow After Conviction Of First Degree Murder

PAWNEE, OKLA., Feb. 22 (AP)—Phil Kennemer paid his cell in the Oklahoma penitentiary today, outwardly calm after his conviction of first degree murder for the slaying of his friend, John P. Gorrell, Jr.

The husky, 39-year-old son of Federal Judge Franklin E. Kennemer must wait until tomorrow afternoon to learn his sentence—a term which may range in length from 10 to 30 years.

In introducing Dr. Carrabine as a witness, Kennemer's attorney assured him he would "not be put on the spot."

Opening on this note, the meeting closed after adopting unanimously a resolution proposed by James J. Dugan which complimented the school board on obtaining the survey and pledged the cooperation of the two civic organizations.

The resolution was originally framed and pledged the group's support and cooperation in any effort the school board might make to place before the voters a more efficient and economical tax.

A bare handful of 20 people, mostly men, gathered for the joint meeting of the two groups declared their support for the plan.

Walt Whitman, president of the school board, said that the school board had received the survey and was planning to place it before the voters.

Two New York Women Hurt In Larchmont Accident

Seven people were hurt here and in Larchmont, one seriously, as ice coated road surfaces took their toll during the night. One motor mishap in which two were injured was reported in this Village, while two traffic accidents occurred in Larchmont. The Post Road was the scene of all three accidents. No pedestrian casualties were reported despite the slippery condition of the sidewalks.

Somers V. Messler, 51 Templeton Avenue, suffered a possible fracture of the jaw, injured teeth, chin lacerations and a cut eye when his sedan, driven by his wife, Mrs. Grace S. Messler, skidded on the West Post Road, bounded over the village line and struck a stone wall. Mrs. Messler received a cut on the eye. Both were treated by their family physician, Dr. G. C. Lyons, of Larchmont.

Car Skidded on Post Road. Police say Messler's car skidded across the street into a slope preceding the entrance way, owned by Receiver H. E. Messler of the First National Bank and driven by Mary Fern Fry of 40 Mamaroneck Avenue. The impact drove the coupe into a parked truck standing in front of the house, and the Messler machine then jumped the curb and crashed into a stone wall. No one in the Messler car was hurt.

Betty Brooks, and Barbara Carr, both of New York City, suffered serious eye injuries when their car skidded on the Post Road in Larchmont shortly after the snow started to fall last night. They were driving in a car operated by Mrs. Margaret M. Carr, which was struck by a car driven by Elizabeth Chen of Brooklyn after Chen's car had collided with a mail delivery by William C. Hallist, Jr., of 11 Vaughan Street, New Rochelle.

A Judge O'Brien, a passenger in the Chen car, suffered a bruise over the left eye and Chen suffered from chest. Eight other occupants in the three cars were not reported hurt.

Hallett Summoned. As a result of the mishap Hallett will appear before Judge Cahill Monday night on a charge of driving a car without registration, and Chen will face charges of reckless driving and having no operator's license.

The new rates take two forms, first an immediate reduction in the "inducement" rates offered by the Westchester Lighting Company, serving the county except Yonkers and a small strip near the Putnam River, representing reductions ranging from 2.5 per cent for the consumer of 25 kilowatt hours a month to 25.6 per cent for the high consumer consuming as high as 300 K. W. H.

Yonkers, served by the Yonkers Electric Light and Power Company, where rates are slightly lower, has similar reductions on all schedules in the rest of the county, the residential reductions on the new "immediate" rates range from 1.6 per cent for the consumer of 15 K. W. H. to 27.6 per cent for the consumer of 10 K. W. H. The "inducement" rate is intended to encourage a large consumption through rates still less than the new "immediate" schedule.

THE GREAT NEW BANK WHICH OFFICIALS OPENING SET FOR TOMORROW

Bank Establishing Branch Here Began Over 30 Years Ago

County Trust Company Has Made An Envious Record For Service In Westchester County During This Long Period—Howard E. Foster Was First President Back In 1903

The County Trust Company of White Plains that is opening up a branch here tomorrow to give this village banking service that has been lacking for the last two years, comes to Mamaroneck with a record of distinguished service won during the 32 years it has operated as one of the most prominent financial institutions in the county seat.

In the minds of most men associated with banking in Westchester, it is only fitting that the County Trust, which through its predecessor the old First National Bank in White Plains, can trace its history back to before the time the county capital was a city, should be the concern to restore commercial banking service to Mamaroneck.

Has Served Local People Even before the First National Bank in Mamaroneck closed, many local residents did their banking with the County Trust. During the total absence of local banking service their number has increased until today there are several hundred Mamaroneck accounts in the records of the County Trust. These will serve as an impetus in starting a new branch's career. When the new bank's doors open for business for the first time tomorrow morning many local residents who are already old customers of the County Trust, will be mingling with the newcomers visiting the branch to open up accounts.

The County Trust Company was organized March 7, 1903, and was headed by Howard E. Foster as the first president. The bank's original quarters were directly across Main Street from its present dignified address at Main and Grand Streets. The present bank building is across the street from the White Plains courthouse.

Horan Succeeded Foster James P. Horan succeeded Foster as president of the bank and served until 1917. David Connolly was the next head and held the office until 1922. He was succeeded by Carroll T. Young, and when the bank became affiliated with the Bank of the Manhattan Company in 1920, Orlin K. Kelly became president and served until he was succeeded by Arthur H. Titus.

The bank took over the old First National Bank in White Plains, which had done business a few days after its closing in 1920. The County Trust moved into its present White Plains quarters in April, 1930. Last fall increasing business compelled it to enlarge its main banking room.

At the present time it enjoys the patronage of 17,000 depositors. Its banking floor is a busy place, checked at all times by dozens of men whose and quite often crowded. It is the intention of the County Trust of the new local branch to make the Mamaroneck office the same strong financial institution as the county that the main office are in White Plains.

The County Trust is a member of the Federal Reserve System.

David F. Britt Was The First Banker In Village Mamaroneck's first banker, in an informal way, was David F. Britt, a local merchant, who prior to 1867 would give anyone who wanted to send money out of the village his check drawn on a New York bank, in return for cash.

Application for incorporation of the Union Savings Bank of Westchester was made by a group of local residents on June 10, 1867, and Bradford Rhodes became its first president.

The Mamaroneck bank, which followed as the first National Bank and Trust Company, closed on the Post Road here on September 14, 1891.

DENVER & SALT LAKE PAYMENT DENVER, Feb. 28 (AP)—Directors of the Denver & Salt Lake Railway company have declared a 4 percent dividend for 1934 on the company's 4 percent bonds of 1906, payable on April 1. Funds will be available on April 1. Funds will be available at the International Trust Company, Denver, and the Bankers Trust Company, New York, officials said.

RETURN IN JERSEY POINTS NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 28—The first reversal in the downward trend in the telephone business in New Jersey since 1929 occurred last year when the New Jersey Telephone Company reported that its telephone service at the end of 1934 totaled 677,581, an increase of 1,626 in 1934.

This is the exterior of the home of the local branch of the County Trust Company of White Plains. It occupies a prominent location on the west side of Mamaroneck Avenue near the Village Square, almost directly across from the edifice of the Union Savings Bank of Westchester that is located on the east side of the street. Erected seven years ago, the bank building is the last word in modern banking structures, with up-to-date electrically-controlled vaults in its basement.

TITUS PRESIDENT OF COUNTY TRUST SINCE JAN. 1931

He Had Served Previously Vice President of The Bank of Manhattan Arthur Hale Titus of New Rochelle became president of the County Trust on January 21, 1931, shortly after the bank became affiliated with the Bank of Manhattan Company. He succeeded Orlin K. Kelly.

SCENE AT OPENING OF NEW BANK

Mayor Henry T. Hornidge officially welcomes the County Trust Company of White Plains on its arrival in this village with a new branch bank. He is shown here congratulating Austin K. Griffen, local resident and County Trust Company director, who responded to the Mayor's greeting.

The local branch of the County Trust Company of White Plains that began its first business day here this morning received a royal welcome from the village as well as from the County Trust, responded to the Mayor's greeting.

James A. Gillies, whom the chairman first introduced to the Mayor, then introduced him to the Mayor on behalf of his committee and wished the institution "the best and permanent success."

Horridge introduced the Mayor, "and friends and neighbors. In April of 1933 when I assumed the duties of Mayor, this village was faced with two important problems. One, the financial straits common to many municipalities, the other, peculiar to our own community, the total lack of banking facilities.

Each was inseparably connected with the other. Measures could be taken and later taken, to place this village upon a sounder financial basis. But it required but little analysis to realize that these alone would not suffice, and that in a community, banking facilities were vitally necessary to the ultimate welfare of the community as its schools and churches.

Recalls Trying Days "As time went on, anticipation of the consequences of the lack of banking was replaced by actual experience. It has been a sad thing to watch the steady march out of this village of the business that our tradesmen had enjoyed for years. Commerce at a time when the ultimate welfare was exacting a heavy toll, it has been a sad thing to witness the consequences of the lack of banking upon the merchants, to see the declining incomes, inevitably following by depleted stocks and diminished services, the reduction of retail prices, the carrying costs of the property, the increase in vacancies, the loss of so many properties, all contributing to the economic depression of our village which carries so heavy a part of the tax burden and whose well-being means so much to the stability of the Village as a whole.

"It has not been any for these years, but membership upon the Board of Directors is an additional tie between Mamaroneck and the County Trust Company.

By the time 8:30 arrived and Mayor William F. MacDonald, Jr., of the new branch came suitably forward and unlocked the big front doors, a number of the local residents had already joined the first contingent.

Both men needed the bank desperately. They were sitting on the floor, practically together a few minutes ago, in the cold for more than 20 minutes, waiting for the doors to open.

MONARCH QUILTS THRONE IN SIAM AFTER DISPUTES

Announcement of Abdication Is Made By Secretary—King Is Now In England

CRANFORD, N. J., March 1 (AP)—King Prajithonok of Siam was announced by his private secretary today to have abdicated the throne.

The king's abdication, which followed months of internal disputes in Siam over governmental matters and repeated conferences in London with a delegation of courtiers, the attempt to patch up the wide rift between the monarch and his administration officials.

An official notification reaching King Prajithonok from his capital, Bangkok, that parliament had bluntly rejected his conditions for retaining the throne was the final straw for the picturesque monarch.

"Smakman announced, 'The delegation realizes that this answer from Siam means abdication.'

The king himself did not plan to issue any formal announcement of abdication, his secretary said, leaving that to the government officials in Bangkok.

Smakman explained: 'His Majesty feels it would be a breach of diplomatic courtesy for him to issue any statement, to make any statement which might be construed as propaganda for himself.'

The hint was dropped however, that the king, who among his other titles is "the descendant of the great God Buddha" and "the possessor of the 24 umbrellas" hoped in his heart that his people might some day call him back to the throne.

The Associated Press asked if King Prajithonok planned to go to the United States as he originally had been scheduled to do.

Lindbergh Baby Stolen Three Years Ago Tonight

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP)—Absolutely not, say the defenders of Hauptmann.

In any event, the case still has some loose ends to be gathered up. Prosecutor Anthony J. Hauck of Hunterdon County, where Hauptmann was tried, hopes to knit his jury indictment against Hauptmann's witnesses, he was said.

Hauck said that the arrest of Colonel Lindbergh paid in vain for his arrest, he said.

The State believes most of it was done by Hauptmann's agent, who sent Charles Z. Flinn said, and the bills will continue to trickle in from innocent holders. Less than $15,000 was recovered from the carrier.

"We will of course," Flinn said, "but since Hauptmann's arrest we have had none and have no good reason to look for any."

SPORTS CARNIVAL START SCHEDULED ON MONDAY NIGHT

Volleyball Tournament Initial Competition In Annual Classic

Starting Monday with the special known as the volleyball, the greatest collection of athletic stars in Westchester County will enter the contest for one million month at the County Center, in observance of the third annual sports carnival.

The idea of this new-fangled carnival was born in the mind of Charles Post, County manager, and contrary to general thought, wasn't started upon hesitatingly.

The need for such a county gathering to bring about goodwill and also definitely to decide titleholders of Westchester in such a manner that other classes would be empty, was felt for years, but it was only with the building of the big White Plains auditorium and the subsequent use by the County Recreation Commission that opportunity came about.

Utility Concern Accused of Lying Land 400 Feet Above Costs

OFFICERS DEAL ASSAILED

Mack Legislative Committee Hearing Is Adjourned Until Next Week

NEW YORK, March 2 (AP)—The Mack Legislative Committee investigating public utilities in New York State resumed its hearings today next week after bringing out testimony designed to attribute exorbitant write-ups in property values to the Westchester Lighting Company and questionable land deals to the Westchester Company and its subsidiaries.

The committee will meet in Albany next Thursday and Friday in the Senate Chamber to resume the committee's work and leave full attendance.

In addition to producing findings on property write-ups to the extent of 400 percent and by $100,000,000 in land deals, the committee heard testimony from William T. Harris, assistant committee counsel, who said that the committee would like more details on the company's books at this point.

That's where they just begin to fight in other parts of the country," Rosenfeld told the committee.

Harris brought out findings that the late Benjamin W. Stillwell, first vice president of the Westchester Lighting Company, had purchased property in 1928 for $100,000 and resold it in 1930 for $1,000,000, a profit of $900,000. It will be carried on the company's books at this figure.

The White Plains property, which was sold in a hearing here paying $100,000 a month was at a high price, Harris said. The rate was not once contained above $1,000 a year, Harris said.

Another deal, the findings of Harris, concerned the purchase of the land now occupied by the office building in White Plains, which was purchased in 1925 for $100,000, and for $750,000 to the Corporate Investment Company for the Westchester Lighting Company in 1930.

Additional examples of write-ups, as found by Harris, were those of 100 percent on a garage in Mount Vernon, 300 percent on a suburban house in White Plains, 400 percent on a commercial office building in Port Chester and 100 percent on land for (Continued on Page Two)

WE DO OUR PART $400,000 LARGEST PROGRAM EVER FOR FLINT PARK

List of CWA Projects Presented to Village Board by King of Planning Board—Proposes Removal of Graves From Quaker Cemetery On Post Road

A $50,000 swimming pool for Flint Park, Larchmont's recreation center, is included in a $400,000 CWA program for the park proposed by Charles B. King in a report he submitted to the Larchmont Village Board last night.

Speaking as a member of the Larchmont Planning Board, King also submitted other projects, and the entire tentative program placed before the Village Board for its approval.

Another project urged means purchase by the village of two lots adjacent to the Municipal Building, on the Cherry Avenue side, as a site of $10,000 apiece. They are to be used for possible expansion of the site of the municipal property.

The proposed Flint Park project includes dredging the creek at a cost of $250,000, changing its zig-zag course at a further cost of $100,000.

The Board decided to accept the amount of government help that can be obtained.

Village Treasurer Hugh E. Callier was empowered to secure a $50,000 bond to assist in the cost of the new pool, which was approved March 1. Callier reported a balance of $12,000 and interest of $1,014 to the last of 1934.

Under the last two Republican and the first two Democratic Village reports of the chairman were $430 in fines and the amount earned by Police Justice John R. Cahill, in fines during the past month.

It was decided to make an appropriation for a road in Flint Park to meet an immediate need of covering garbage there.

ELECTION ISSUES TO COME BEFORE LEAGUE TUESDAY

Will Decide On What Stand To Take Relative To Village Candidates

LIKELY TO BACK BELLE

Report Group Undecided Between William O'Connor And James Corrigan

The board of directors of the Village League will hold a meeting to decide the stand that the League will take on the present election campaign, set Tuesday evening at the local League Auditorium.

Announcement of the meeting was made by President G. H. Van Patten, who said that the League will support the candidates for Mayor and Council on the basis of the merits of the candidates representing the two opposing parties will be considered and discussed, and a decision will likely be made as to which of them the League will support.

Ever since the Village Manager form of government was adopted in 1906 the League has been a prominent factor in municipal elections here. During the past three years the candidates selected to support have been victorious at the polls. Whenever the League has endorsed any running it endorses it as a whole, and this year's election candidates were no exception.

Has Two Endorsed

The League has twice already endorsed Alfred P. Belle, Republican candidate for mayor, in previous campaigns. In consequence he is regarded as a favorite for League endorsement again this year.

Whether the League will stick to party alignments and also endorse Belle's running mate, James T. Corrigan, Republican candidate for mayor, will not be ascertained to-day.

The Democratic candidates are Joseph Cashin for mayor and William F. O'Connor for trustee.
