Class Prophecy

Television news flashes brought to you by William C. Morrison, Inc., Manufacturers of Reliable Safety Pins. A word from our sponsor: All over the world, people are enthusiastically proclaiming the reliability of Morrison Pins. Mahatma Gandhi reports our product, The Morrison Reliable Safety Pin as indispensable to him. Thank you, Mr. Gandhi. And now the news.

WASHINGTON . . . The country's first woman president, Miss Betty Quick, with her secretary, Miss Meta Greto, stated today in a press conference that she had conferred with James Minnerly, head usher in the House of Representatives, and Estelle Belluscio, hat-check girl in the Senate, to decide the country's stand in the present world crisis. They were the only government officials available as some are with Vice-President William LaRoza, on a fishing trip, and the rest, headed by the Co-Secretaries of Public Amusement, John Fitzner and Bernard Nicolais, are at the opening of the Utopia Racetrack in Florida.

Here's a Trans-Television bulletin which just came in . . . ZANZABULLA, INDIA . . . The multi-millionaire playboy, James T. Corrigan, Jr., and his pilot, Dick Russell, crashed here early today. The injured flyers were rescued by two missionary nurses, Alice Cornell and Margaret Ropeter, who dragged the victims from the flames. The wingless plane, Russell's invention, failed when it ran out of its fuel, hot air. The aviators, who were heading for the Greenland Goldmines when the crash occurred, are resting in the mansion of the Ambassador to India, Raymond LaBrusciano.

HOLLYWOOD . . . Producer Cecil B. DeWahl tonight announced his selection of the characters in the long-awaited movie version of "Gone With The Wind". After an intensive fifteen-year search for talent, he said Ruth Raymond and Edward Renshaw had finally been chosen for the parts of Scarlett O'Hara and Rhett Butler.

Class Prophecy — 2

From the Olympics . . . VOLGONAVICH, RUSSIA . . . The U. S. hockey team defeated Canada in the finals today by a score of 9 to 1. That famous pair, George Hahn and James Campbell, scored eight of the goals. In the swimming event, Eve Skuse broke the world's record in the 200 yard free style. Chester Gudger made an all-time record in the 100 yard dash, running the distance in 9.4 seconds. The U. S. girl's field hockey team lost by a score of 10 to 8, despite the fact that Olympia Auleta of the U. S. scored all of the eight points.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

NEW YORK . . . At the Rockefeller City Art Gallery last evening, Charlotte Manheim, famous modernistic painter, opened her exhibit to a larger throng of art lovers than was ever before gathered in America.

VIENNA . . . When interviewed before their concert, Miss Beulah Goddard and Miss Laura Boese, world reknowned soprano and alto duo team revealed that they intended to tour Europe until January when they will return to New York for a benefit performance at Carnegie Hall.

LOS ANGELES . . . The Tracy Department Store was the scene of a panic today when Betty Freer, author of the year's best seller, "Alabama Beware" was recognized and overcome by autograph seekers. Police got Miss Freer to safety by means of a freight elevator.

NEW YORK . . . The Annual Debutantes Ball is to be presented tonight under the auspices of Mrs. Pierpont Van Yipp, the former Miss Elizabeth Anne Wilson, and Lady Marie, wife of the Earl of Brownleigh.

Class Prophecy — 3

Here is a flash from the World Series Game in BOSTON . . . Duke "Whirlwind" Miltner struck out 25 men today as the New York Yankees beat the Boston "Beehives" in a thrilling 16 to 0 game.

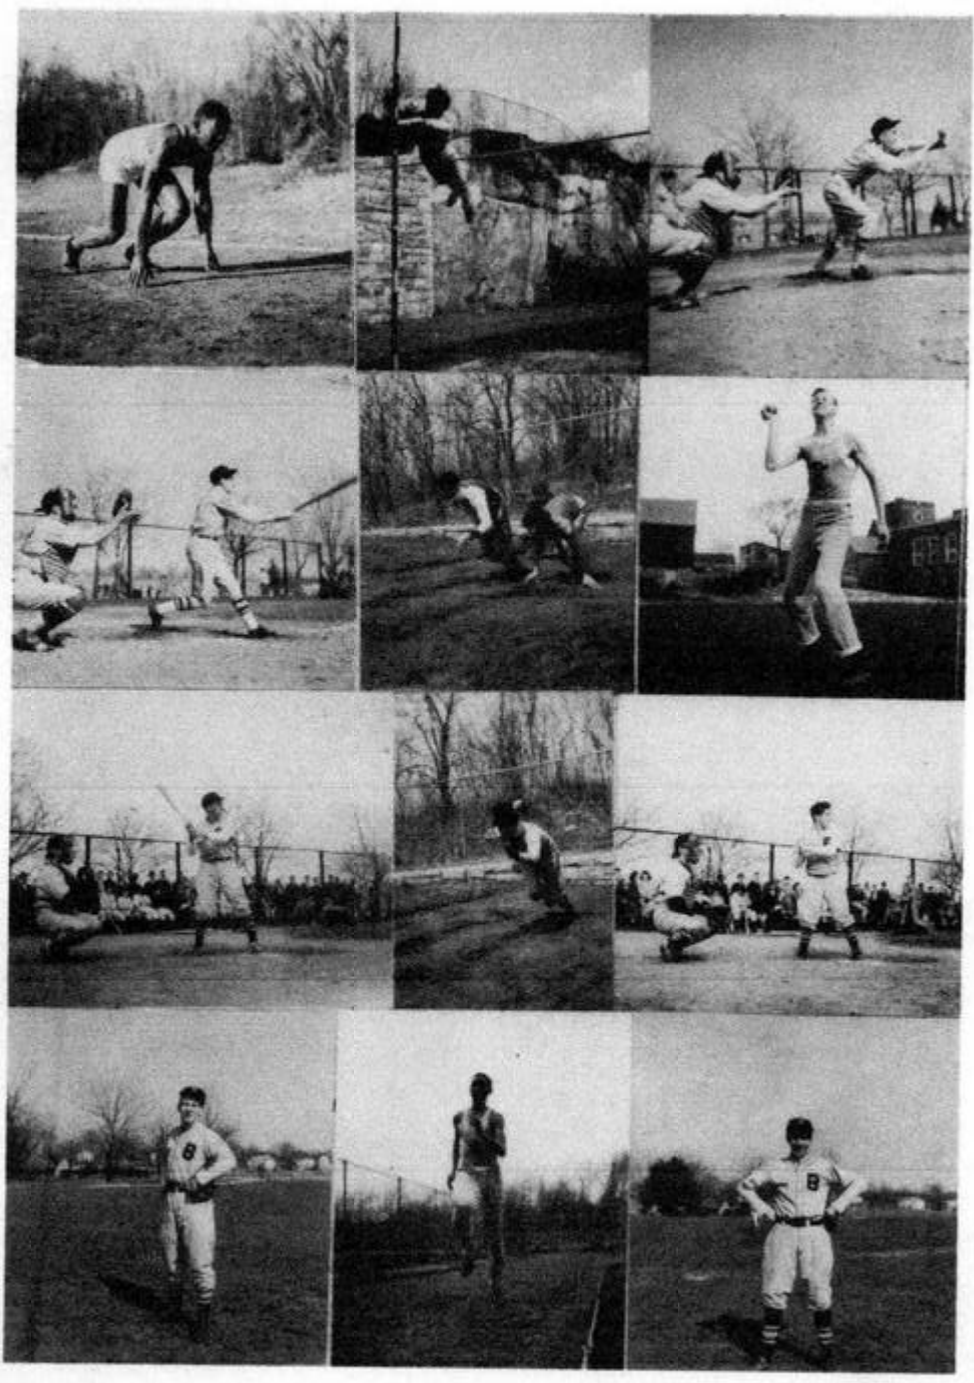

LONDON . . . At a command performance for Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth, Gertrude Nichols and Garwood Wolff presented "Dark Destiny", the play which is entering its fifth year at the Drury Lane Theater. Miss Nichols' gowns for the occasion were designed by Toni, in private life, Miss Virginia Skuse. Also in the Queen's party were Baron and Baroness Karl. The Baroness is the former Miss Christine Krisch.

HIPIAGO, MO. . . Two-gun Barrett (president of the Junior Class) who has been terrorizing the western towns and cities, was captured here today. Mayor Edmund Lowery, of Hipiago, a thriving town of 126 inhabitants will give a stoveside chat tonight in McBride's General store to commend Sheriff "Pat" Dunn and his two deputies, Emil Scelia and Albert Canil, for their bravery in the daring capture.

NEW YORK . . . The Ballet Russe, with Kathleen Bergan as premiere danseuse begins its American season at the Metropolitan Opera House this evening. The famous all girl troupe is under the ballet master Ricardo Galeovitch. Among the Patronesses expecting to attend are Miss Eastina DeRubis and Miss Barbara Reilling, who are box-holders in the famous "Diamond-horseshoe."

KALAMAZOO . . . After yesterday's disastrous strike in the Hossenfeffer Pretzel Factory, motor-magnate, Earle Brown, in a statement issued by his secretary Miss Lena Chiodo, today called an emergency conference to arbitrate the matter. Among those called to this momentous conference, according to the recording secretary, Miss Katherine Klokow, are the New York banker, George Coffin, the President of the American Federation of Women's Clubs, Miss Marguerite Nuoffer, and the two rival labor union presidents, John Fredricks and George Reilling. The committee has the pressing problem of deciding the destiny of the pretzel.

The National Honor Society

ter has taken in twenty-one members. This year's honored were: Kathleen Bergan, George Coffin, Edward Renshaw, Shirley Carpenter, Werner Fuchs, and Anne Yale.

Among its valuable projects are tutoring, awarding scholarship banners to a Junior and a Senior high school home room, and compiling material on various scholarships available to our students.

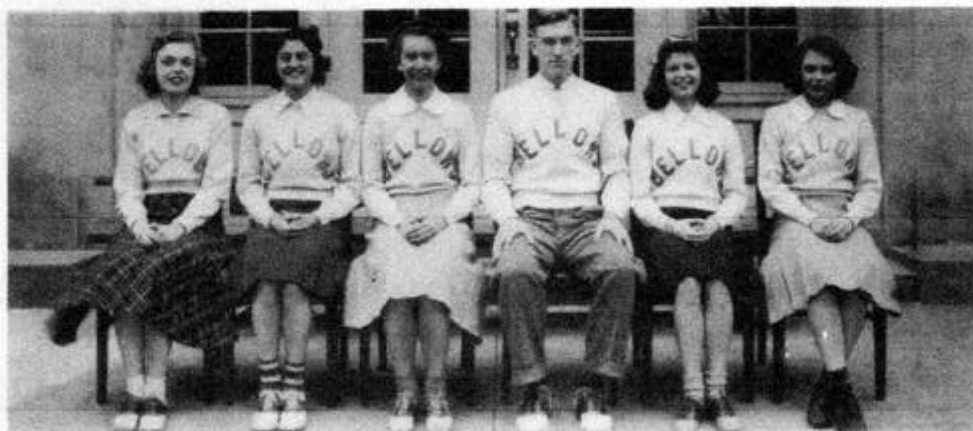

Since its organization in 1936, the F. E. Bellows chapter has taken in twenty-one members. This year's honored were: Kathleen Bergan, George Coffin, Edward Renshaw, Shirley Carpenter, Werner Fuchs, and Anne Yale.

The Merit System of Awards

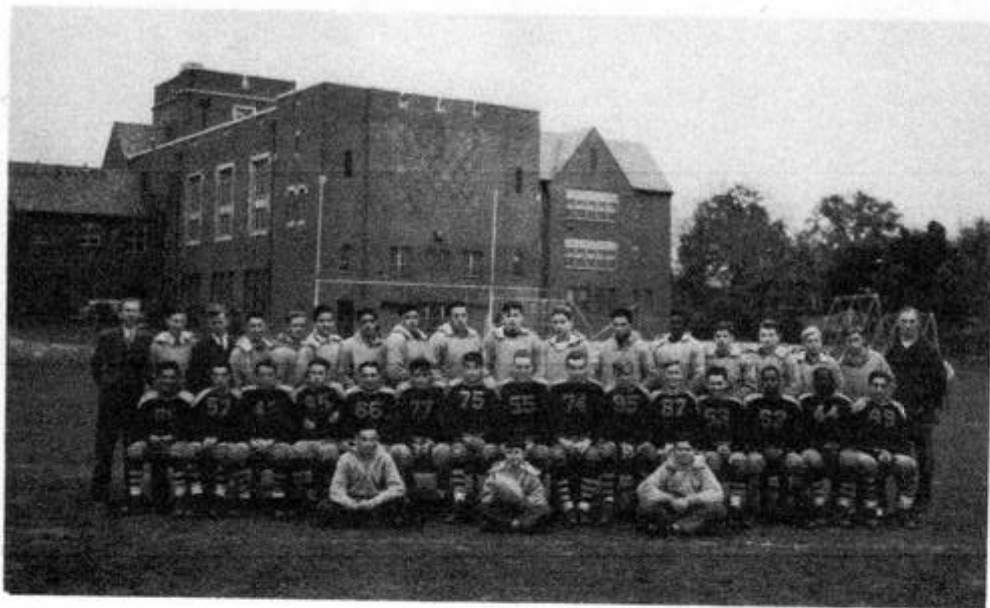

programs is that at which merit sweaters are awarded pupils whose activity records meet the provisions of the Merit System Constitution and the approval of the faculty committee. At this year's assembly, Mr. Lidstrom, Committee Chairman, awarded coveted sweaters to Beulah Goddard, Kathleen Bergan, and Theodore Rathbone.

One of Bellows' most eagerly awaited assembly

ATHLETICS

Football - 1938

The 1938 edition of the Bellows grid squad began practice early under the watchful eyes of Coach Axtell. The candidates looking forward to the coming campaign with great zest, impressed the coach with their willingness to work.

Bellows vs. Eastchester: Bellows opened the season with Eastchester. After a scoreless first half, Eastchester ran rough-shod over the Axtellmen, 19 to 0.

Bellows vs. Mt. Kisco: Coming back with a vengeance, Bellows completely outplayed its rival to win 14 to 0.

Bellows vs. Bronxville: The powerful Bronxville eleven shattered Bellows' .500 average, handing Bellows a 30 to 0 setback.

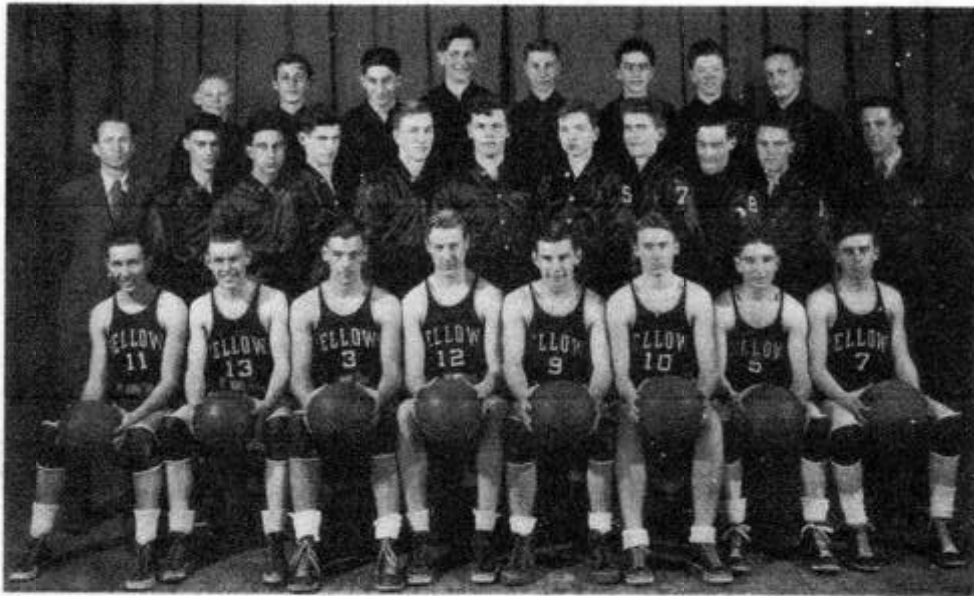

Bellows vs. Elmsford: Given an even chance to come through, Bellows fought gamely but came out on the short end of a 6 to 0 score.

Bellows vs. Rye: Bellows sought to offset the Elmsford defeat with Rye as its victim. The tables were reversed, however, as Rye was the victor, 9-0.

Bellows vs. New York School for the Deaf and Dumb: Again the fighting lads of Bellows met their Waterloo; this time losing 13 to 6 to the White Plains institution.

Bellows vs. Harrison: Approaching its final game with a not too impressive record of five losses and one victory, Bellows renewed the great war with Harrison on Armistice Day. Bellows lost the fray, 19 to 0, thereby ending the season with six losses and one victory.

Basketball

Inspired with the hope of all basketball squads — that of an undefeated season— Bellows entered the '39 campaign. Although not achieving an unblemished record, Bellows won the "Little Three Championship" for the second consecutive year with two victories over Rye and one at the expense of Harrison. Only one team was able to handcuff the Axtellmen twice, that team being the undefeated Pelham squad. Much enjoyment was afforded spectators at this season's games by the new electric scoreboard constructed by Bellows students in our own shop and financed by the G. O.

Baseball

The '39 edition of the Bellows baseball annals was directed by Coach Axtell.

Returning for service was one of the best batteries in Westchester County; namely, Ed. Zelinka and Claudio Ruggiero. Also on hand were Bob and Willie Garvin, Jim Corrigan and Chester Miltner, all justly celebrated veterans of the '38 nine.

Again this year as in the past, Mamaroneck, Harrison, and Rye were our chief rivals with emphasis placed on the Rye games, that team having been the only one to upset our otherwise undefeated season of '38.

As the yearbook goes to press, two games are already history. In the first encounter Bellows swamped Elmsford 11 to 4. In its second game, the blue and black met its traditional rival, Mamaroneck, and Bellows again emerged victorious, this time by a 9 to 5 score. Thus the season started with a fury of base hits and good pitching.

Hockey

Due to Mr. Leonard's success in forming the Westchester High School Hockey League at Playland, Bellows was able to organize a puck squad this year. Handicapped by insufficient practice, the squad lost five of its games with Mamaroneck, Roosevelt and New Rochelle, and tied one. Under Coach Ockershausen, the Bellows players improved steadily and exhibited a spirit that evoked enthusiasm from the bleachers.

Track

A large group, inexperienced but businesslike, reported to Coach Ockershausen for track, and later carried on meets with North Tarrytown, Rye, Harrison, Tuckahoe, and Eastchester. Track results were somewhat altered this season by new state rulings restricting individual participation to two events and in the case of runs over 220 yards to one.

Panthers

An outstanding duty assumed by this well organized service club was the controlling of traffic on the stairs during noon dismissal. Here a serious problem was efficiently solved by the cooperative work of these boys. As usual the members were on hand at all football and basketball games to maintain order and keep peace among over-enthusiastic fans.

Cheer Leading

During the year of 1938-39 our cheer-leaders, Marie Wales, Betty Quick, Kathleen Bergan, Virginia Bister, Alice Schmidt and the lone brave male, Elmer Jones, were on hand at every home game and made a definite impression, so we hear, on our rivals.

It is the hope of the squad to be succeeded by a group made up of an equal number of boys and girls.

Girls' Field Hockey

The Senior High Girls' Field Hockey Squad, under the direction of Miss Edythe Dressel, physical director of the elementary schools, got under way in the fall with a large turn-out. Every Monday after school the girls met and had a thorough work-out, learning rules and mastering hockey technique. Lily Sarles, Catherine Dolan and Olympia Auleta were chosen as managers to take attendance and distribute equipment.

The one outside game which the team played was with the Mamaroneck Junior High School. The result was in Mamaroneck's favor.

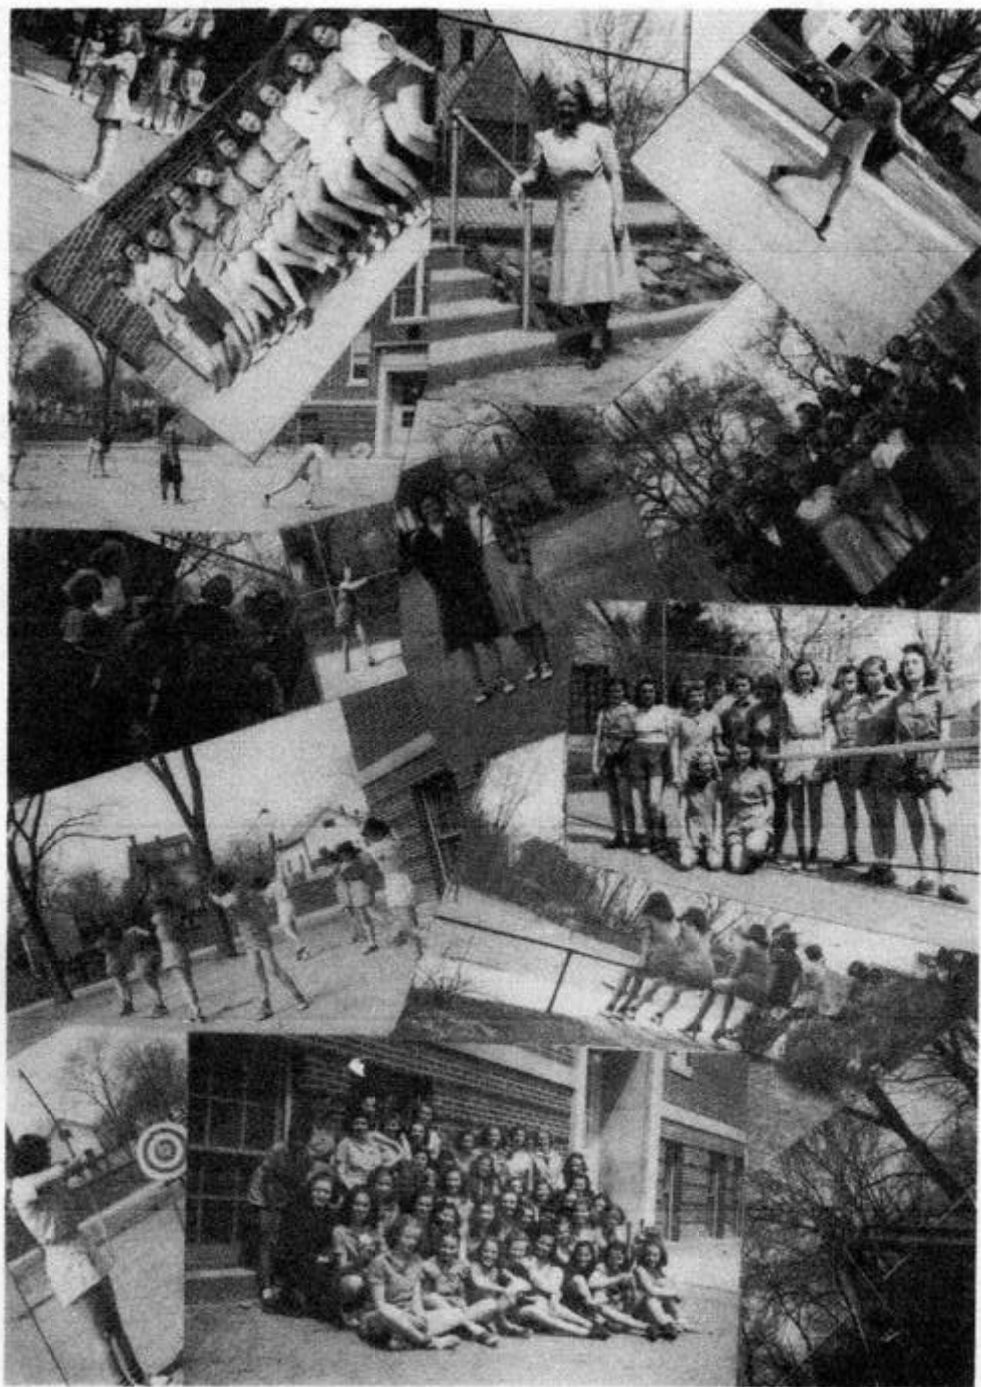

Girls' Basketball

Seven teams with a captain to lead each were chosen from the large turnout that responded for Senior Girls' Basketball. At practice the girls enjoyed lively fun and exercise rather than rigid attention to formal rules of the game. Later in the season a "sudden death" (elimination) tournament was held with Jane Huntley's the winning team. TEAM: Jane Huntley, captain, Marion Brower, Anna Tunno, Virginia Bister, Gloria Arcara, Georgette Cornell, Josephine Marciano.

Managers

A new system for the promotion of girls' sports and student leadership was inaugurated this year. A General Manager, Olympia Auleta, was chosen and a separate manager for each sport. The duties of these managers were to take attendance and distribute equipment. This system proved to be very successful.

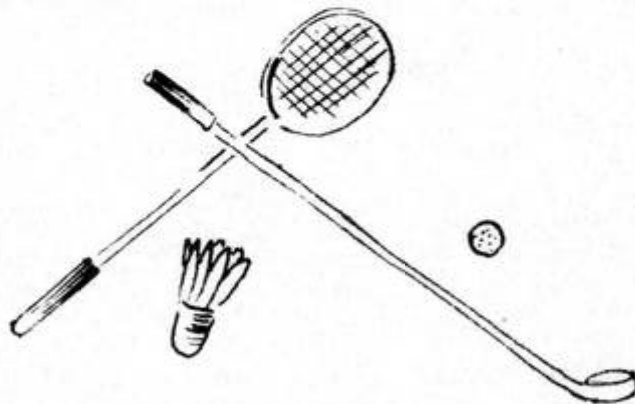

Spring! Spring! Spring!

The sun came out of its winter hiding place, gym classes went out of doors, and "Whoopee!" Spring arrived with baseball, tennis, golf, quoits, badminton, and ping pong close upon its heels.

Don't think that we were all twiddling our thumbs waiting for this glorious spring. Indeed no! Our Fall and Winter sports, too, had kept us pepped up with a busy program. However, with spring in our blood they now seem like ancient history.

Just look at those smiling faces, and say! look at the crowd. If you aren't here some place (and there are only a few of you who aren't) you don't know what you are missing. Even though it is called after school "work", "What's in a name?" If, however, it is "work", our pay is ample. Not only can we be sure of a load of fun and sunshine, but we earn points toward that much sought goal, the varsity "B". Now if you think these "B's" are easy to get, let's see YOU get 650 points in one season.

Miss Norton is grateful for the fine showing in numbers and interest in our Spring Sports schedule. When this book becomes one of the souvenirs of our youth we shall open it now and then and remember these happy times.

A Favorite Sport

One of the attractive features which Mamaroneck has to offer the residents is its fine facilities for boating. The story of the development of these facilities forms an interesting page in its history.

In the year 1661 John Richbell bought Mamaroneck from the Indians "to cultivate the land", and it is quite probable to start a smuggling business in the fine harbors which this site included.

Larchmont harbor furthered the sport of sailing, and in 1875 the Larchmont Yacht Club was established in which such great cup defenders as Vigilant, Defender, Columbia and Reliance were registered.

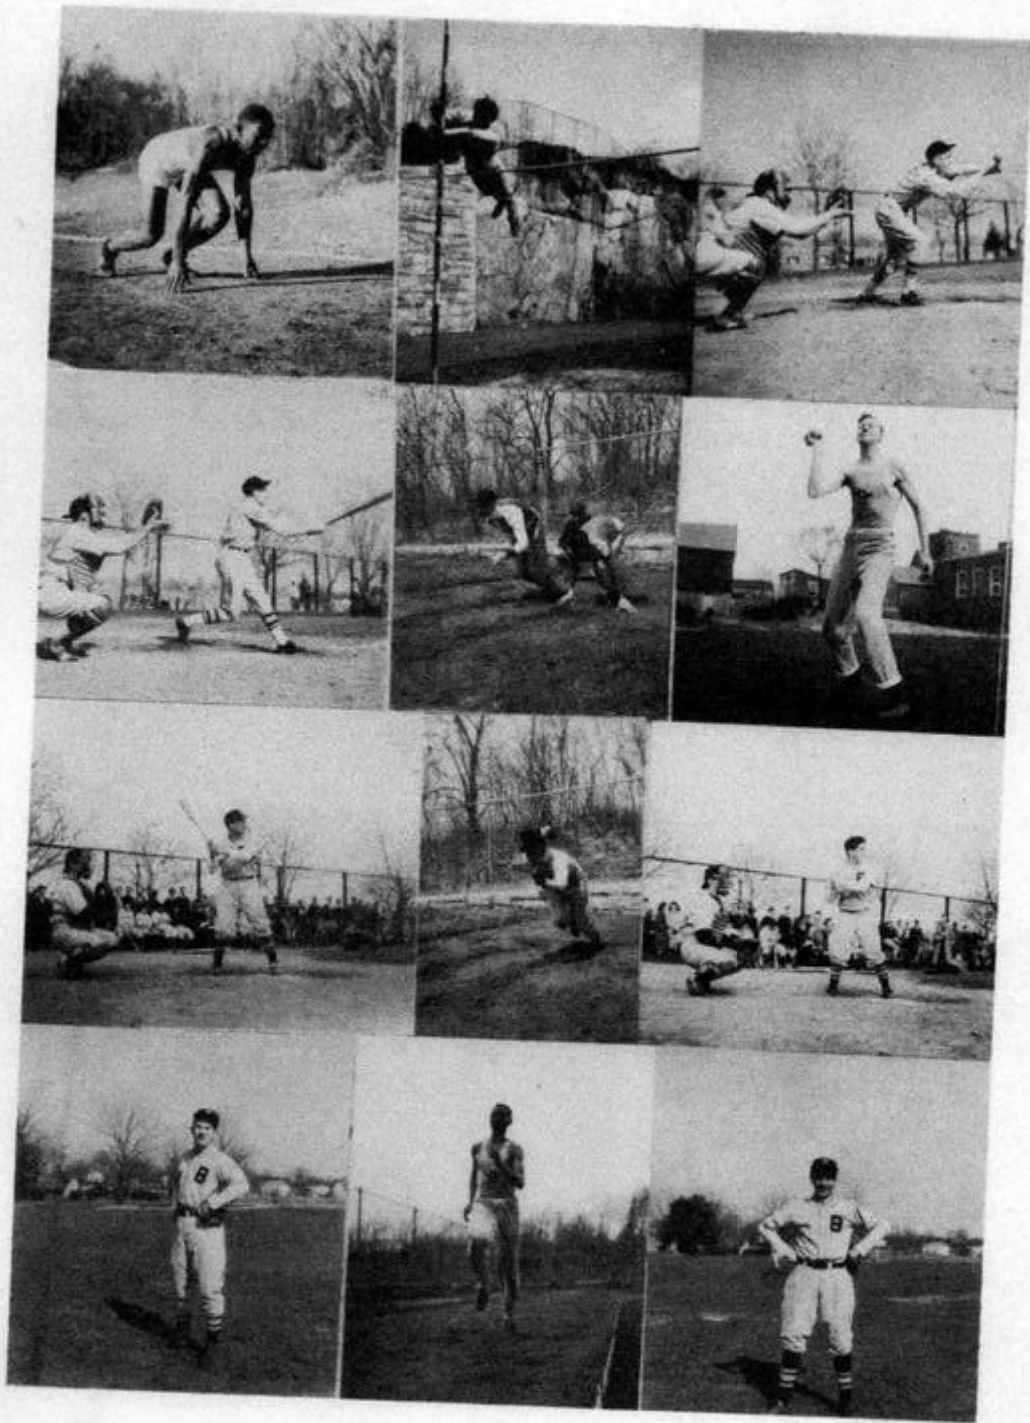

For the produce of outlying farms the Sound proved a convenient route of transportation. From Mamaroneck harbor, in the 1870's, the sailing craft, John G. Perry, made three trips a week to New York. However, due to channel difficulties, the Perry could enter and depart only at high tide. By 1880 produce was piled so high on her decks that a larger vessel was needed. The Mary E. Gordon, a steam freighter, was accordingly put into service. In 1894 the government dredged the channel; then five trips a week were possible. A unique part of the cargo was pumice stone from the Van Amringe Mill. In 1907 a second freighter, the Irene E. Davis, was added. During the World War these freighters were very active, but soon water transportation became less popular, and in 1924 freighter service ended. Today, however, we still see many barges carrying cargoes of building supplies unloaded at the docks.

Again, in 1916, the Harbor was dredged and the mud taken from the bottom used as fill upon which grew Harbor Island with its public beach and fine playground.

On the west side of the Harbor Chapman's Boat Yard did a thriving business in building and storing the yachts which soon became so popular. Early in the 1900's, the Mamaroneck, the Sheldrake and the Orienta Yacht Clubs were established about the Harbor.

The development of the craft that anchored there is interesting to note. The first racing boats, popular in the 1880's, were of the shallow, centerboard, skimming dish type carrying sandbags for ballast which were shifted from port to starboard when sailing to windward. These boats, about forty feet long and expensive in construction, were almost exclusively the hobbies of millionaires. Since then approximately thirty classes have been added. Boats like the Snipe and Wee Scot have proved popular among the boys and girls of Westchester and Long Island, who do not hesitate to contend against their elders in races planned by the various clubs. There they share in the fine spirit of friendship and good sportsmanship that has been fostered among the sailors on both sides of the Sound. Our own school has many enthusiasts. Therefore, the Seniors have chosen Sailing for the theme of the 1940 edition of "Scraps".
