Gas Ration Cut, Congress Told Need Told To GOP Women

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Congress was told by an OPA official yesterday with "hot" C coupons bringing as much as 50 cents each and illegal transactions involving an estimated 2,500,000 gallons of oil, black market operations soon may force a reduction in civilian gasoline rations.

This assertion was made by Shad Polier, director of the OPA, in a digest of black market operations prepared for a House Interstate subcommittee investigating the gasoline situation. "The black market in gasoline is already dangerous," Polier's memorandum said, "but it is now growing to become a serious threat to the who war effort."

The heavier concentration of illegal gasoline was described in the report as being in the East, with the problem "also serious" in California and the Pacific Northwest and on the Gulf Coast.

To support his contention that the law violators have come in to the counterfeiting gasoline coupon business, Polier said in his memorandum that in February there was virtually no counterfeit money in circulation for the counterfeiters of currency "having moved in the more intensive, and to handle gasoline coupons."

The OPA reported Wednesday that 529 gasoline rationing arrests have been made since Jan. 1, "over half of them involving professional criminals."

The arrow indicates the direct line of progress to date and the quite probable direction to be taken in the future.

Realty Dinner Will Attract Record Crowd

Advance reservations indicated the 28th annual banquet of the Westchester Realty Board tomorrow night will be one of the largest ever held, according to Cleveland E. Van Wert, chairman of the banquet committee.

The dinner will be held at Hotel Biltmore in New York and County Executive Herbert C. Gerlach, Congressman Philip W. Williams, and William P. Conroy and Sheriff Edward J. Gantzer are among the guests who will be honored by the realtors.

"Reservations to date," Mr. Van Wert said, "are large enough to predict that this will be one of the largest banquets that the County Board has ever held, when the realtors gather Saturday night, all sections of the County will be well represented."

Boy Scout Activities—

By MEL DOTY, JR. Easter vacation is over and the troops are picking up again. Perhaps the sorriest to see the vacation end were nine boys from Troop 3 who spent the week at Camp Swayney. They were along the greater part of the week. A group from New Rochelle arrived Thursday. Charlie Archer took a group from Harrison Friday.

The new cot furnished by the individual girls of Minuteman's committees were taken from storage at Nick's and assembled. They are really something. Mr. Harsh, committee man from Troop 3, suggested stringing electric lines from the nearest lines to the cabin. Troop 3 has decided to donate the wire to the quarter if the matter can be passed by the District Committee which was informed of the offer at the meeting Tuesday night by Mr. Hatch. "Tony" Cobb is being informed and the district will decide whether it wishes to take on the expense of one annual electric toll.

As to the fun of the trip, Ruffner decided it was early enough to go swimming (of course a couple of the fellows helped him decide) and he couldn't talk for a few days. Chief Maher had general complaints till he suggested they cook for themselves. Funny how his enthusiasm seemed to improve to the rest from that point on. The troop mascot "Storm" and "Chary" came along for the last weekend.

District committee meeting last Tuesday had a busy time of it on top of the suggestion for identifying at Camp Swayney. The great weekend planned for Scouters May 5 and 6 was discussed. This outing will offer on top of fun a great deal of important knowledge. Scoutmasters, committeemen and troop dads are invited.

Commissioner Thorp's "brain child" the District Lodge is being constructed here after the war was discussed. When Bill gets through it will look like the Waldorf Astoria.

The nominating committee for the officers of 44 to 45 was chosen. It is made up of Jim Pastigier, Chairman; Kenneth Havorth and Charles Schreyer, District Chairman. Merrill Hodson asked those committeemen present who had not contributed before to the fund to help out and the remaining balance was soon obtained. Due to conflicting dates for the Ballroom at the Court of Honor will be held Wednesday the 26th instead of the Friday. Scouts will report at 7:15 for inspection and visitors are invited at 8 P. M. according to a tentative schedule. Once again I would like to emphasize the beauty of the Alton Kew-Neck station at this time of year. Go up and have some fun in the open air.

'Right Wing' Secedes From County ALP

MOUNT VERNON — Spurring the olive-branch of the "Left Wing" of the American Labor Party in Westchester which, gaining control of the organization in recent Spring primaries, ALP open office its new executive committee for "Right Wing" advocates the latter element in the political organization divorced itself from the party here Wednesday night to form the Westchester Liberal Labor Club.

In resolutions expiating their actions, the "Right Wing" group declared the "Left Wing" is clearly dominated by Communists and has perverted the original purpose of the ALP. The resolutions refer to the group now in control of the ALP as the Communist Labor Party. The break is, to an extent, along labor organization lines, a majority of the "Left Wing" group being members of the CIO and of the "Right Wing" being AFL adherents.

Joseph Costanzo, of Yonkers, was selected chairman of the Westchester Division of the Liberal and labor committee. Plans for a general conference with many counties were made and delegates elected. These include: Nathan Riesel of Croton, Mr. Costanzo, William Hanwood and Louis Amador of Yonkers, Rocco Longobucco, "Pompeo" Zolano, Anthony Ricciardi and Louis Keiff of Mount Vernon, William Barlow of Mount Kisco, Arturo Velozzi of Mahwah, John P. McNulty of New Rochelle and Mary Eubanks of White Plains.

You Know the Minuteman.. Now... Meet the Missus

The hand that rocked the cradle had to have a good trigger finger, because the Minuteman's wife often did her "marketing" in the forest with a gun. She was a Jill of all trades, too—cook, spinner, weaver, pork salter, candle maker, baker, laundress and gardener.

How are her great, great granddaughters doing? Very well, thank you. Some are serving with our armed forces. Some work in war plants. Others grow Victory Gardens, preserve fruits and vegetables, cook, serve, sew... save fats, cans and paper... make things last, wear them out and do without. They carry their own bundles, keep the family cheerful—in a word, they are doing their share to win the war by taking over on the home front—for their husbands and sons.

The women of America have proved their resourcefulness in the kitchen in countless ways. Many have discovered that a glass of cold, golden Budweiser makes their simple wartime meals taste better.

In addition to supplying the armed forces with glider and bomber fuselage frames, wing parts, gun turret parts and foodstuffs, Anheuser-Busch produces materials which go to the manufacture of: Rubber • Aluminum Munitions • Medicines • B Complex Vitamins • Hospital Diets • Baby Foods • Bread and other Bakery products • Vitamin-fortified cattle feeds • Batteries • Paper • Soap and Textiles—to name a few.

Kansas, Missouri Streams Still Rise

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Kansas and Missouri streams, swollen by torrential rains, are rising in some places in 48 hours, speed of flow is increasing. The Missouri River, already at flood stage, can handle this additional mountain of water, poured into it by every rising tributary. Relief along the smaller streams was expected soon, however, for the swollen streams were reported throughout the area. The downpour which dumped as much as two inches of rain in a half hour had stopped. The big question now is how well the Missouri River, already at flood stage, can handle this additional mountain of water, poured into it by every rising tributary. Relief along the smaller streams was expected soon, however, for the swollen streams were reported throughout the area.

BRAYLEY ON BRIDGE

WHY FALSE CARDING? USEFUL! The card reading of an opponent is the purpose of false carding. By means of the card which you play or lead to a partner, you make it appear that to that opponent as if his partner holds a certain card or cards. In reality, you make him think you have a certain card or cards his partner actually holds. As a consequence, you may be able to find him into playing as you wish.

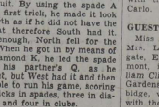

At the table, after the 9 and 10 are put on the table, West took the trick with the A, and the Q. He realized that the hearts were dangerous and he wanted to partner a switch to that suit. By using the made 10 on the first trick, he made it look as if he did not have the Q, that therefore South had it. Sure enough, North fell for the same. When he got in by means of the diamond, he led the spade 2 to his partner's Q, as he had a dummy with the ace and king. West was able to run his hearts, scoring two tricks in spades, three in diamonds and one in hearts.

Westall Wins Presidency Of S. P. C. C. Again

WHITE PLAINS—Former Sen. Walter W. Westall of White Plains was re-elected president of the Westchester Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children yesterday at its annual luncheon meeting.

Declaring that the society was a pioneer in the field of child welfare, Mr. Westall told the more than 70 guests present that until 1878 when the first S.P.C.C. was organized in New York City, there were no laws in this country for the protection of children.

During 1943 the Westchester society gave assistance to 1,083 families, involving 2,439 children. It was declared by Louis P. Kurtis, assistant director of child protection.

The S.P.C.C. is concerned only with the neglected children, Mrs. Herbert A. Brown, of Scarsdale, executive director, said in revealing that only about 10 per cent of the society's cases are taken to Children's Court for settlement. Others are solved without legal action, she said.

30 Leave To Serve in Army, Navy
15 Pre-Pearl Harbor Fathers in Group of 19 Mamaroneck Men

Religion was described as a bond of unity by the Rev. Bartholomew J. Singleton of Holy Trinity Church in an address this morning to 30 graduates from Holy Trinity Mamaroneck who left for induction into the Army and Navy.

"We often see pictures from the war area of men at divine worship," he said, "and they are a source of comfort to those who have the spiritual as well as the physical and material welfare of our fighting men at heart. To those who read these few lines, however, these pictures are more than a source of consolation. They are a symbol of the bond of union which religion is capable of establishing. No matter what group of men we may see, or of what shore we may find them, we know they are exercising the right of worship for which they are sure to be rewarded. They are fighting for their chaplains as soon as they reach their destination, to find out who and where the religious services of their denominations are held and to attend them."

The group included 13 men from Mamaroneck, 15 of whom were pre-Pearl Harbor fathers. The chairman James A. Gillies said that about 75 per cent of the new registrants who are being called to the colors are graduates of Mamaroneck High School.

Novel Plan To Speed Chest Drive

Five-Hour Solicitation Adopted For Campaign Here Next Fall

WORK STARTS EARLY

A plan to speed the collection of funds for the Mamaroneck Community Chest next fall was adopted at the April meeting of the directors of the Chest last night at the Elks Club. The plan in detail has been made to the directors for study prior to the meeting.

The main idea behind the plan," Earl J. Nalson, executive director of the Chest explained, "is to do the job in one intensive five-hour period of solicitation. In order to make this possible, Mamaroneck must be made aware of the necessity of staying here and making their contribution at that time.

"In four days, we need a large army of collectors all of whom have been instructed in the details of the requirements of the beneficiaries and in how to present the story of the place the chest holds in their lives. It will be necessary to recruit these collectors as soon as possible so that we will have plenty of opportunity to instruct them in their duties."

"Captains must be chosen as soon as possible and then in turn should be given the job of training and working as that, during the Summer months, we will have the opportunity at numerous small meetings, to prepare them for the big job to be done.

"Considerable detail work is essential at Chest headquarters in order to supply the captains with the necessary working tools. The outlines of their districts, the lists of residents and each other information as they may require to make the plan successful."

"Mr. Nalson, who is known as the Mamaroneck Plan, is approved by the Army in August, 1942, and is serving with the 38th Infantry in the European theater. He is the Municipal Engineer, and is in charge of the Chest drive, will be in charge of the work of getting the list in order and preparing lists will begin as soon as possible.

"These are many details still to be worked out. So that we do not start the Chest drive until we are ready, I can best express it by saying that we will make haste slowly."

Arthur Dunn, Jr., chairman of the Chest, reported on three meetings to which he had been invited as a representative of the organization. The sponsors of one of the meetings, he said, made an application for inclusion in the Chest drive. The application has been turned over to the budget committee.

The treasurer, Gabriel Wendell, reported a working balance of 100 per cent of the pledges made in the 1943 drive have been collected. William F. MacDonald, Jr., former treasurer of the Chest, is in charge of the collection. Mr. Wendell said, and collections indicate that most of the pledges will be paid.

The next meeting of the directors is scheduled for June 28 at which time standing committees are expected to be ready to report.

ARMY WAR; JAP EFFORTS COLLAPSE IN NEW GUINEA

Two Airfields At Hollandia Seized; One On Madang

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NEW GUINEA, (AP)—Utter collapse of Japanese defenses at both ends of a 430-mile New Guinea war front, resulting in seizure of the west of two airfields at Hollandia and a third on the east at captured Madang, was reported today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

In four days, four airfields and three coastal bases were wrested from the Japanese. One airfield already is in use and engineers are pushing repairs on the other.

A fifth airfield, the big Hollandia airfield, was expected to fall today. The capture of the airfield was the result of a long and arduous operation undertaken last Saturday. On the night of Saturday, the force moved 11 miles to the edge of the airfield. On the east, another force of 10,000 men was reported to have broken through the Japanese defenses.

At Madang, bypassed in the amphibious thrust into Dutch New Guinea, the Japanese for months had moved slowly eastward from the Ramu Valley, overland from the coast. The Japanese supply base and its airfield on the shores of Aitabara Bay. Large quantities of supplies and equipment fell to the captors.

Kiwanis Club's Young Guests Stress Need For Leaders To Direct Play Activities

The need for leaders to organize and direct a program of activities for young people was stressed last night by 31 representatives of the Kiwanis Club of New York at a meeting of the organization held at the Elks Club.

Each guest was called upon by Police Chief Arthur W. Martensen to suggest what the young people of the community need in the way of facilities, equipment and type of activities for a recreation program.

Chairman of the committee on boys and girls' work, he has explained that the proceeds from the Kiwanis Club's Young Guests program will be used by the Kiwanis Club to help the young people of the community, and that the committee is anxious to have "first hand information" from the youngsters about what they want in Mamaroneck.

Several of the young people expressed the desire for softball leagues, ping pong equipment, swimming lessons, dancing, and a variety program at a recreation center.

Ednae Stenberg and Dale Shaw, representing the Methodist Church, pointed out that there are facilities in the school and churches for all these activities, but no leaders to organize and conduct a program.

"You talk about how we are going to spend our spare time," Dale Shaw added, "but I think if we make full use of our homes, our schools and our churches, we won't have any spare time. We already have ping pong tables and a place to dance and play games. We don't need to have leadership to organize it. The lack of leaders is what we need to have a recreation program in our churches."

There was a brief discussion of the organization of a Y.M.C.A. in Mamaroneck but Joseph Auman, president of the Y.M.C.A., pointed out that it is a long range program and might be accomplished eventually where the immediate needs had to be supplied at once.

"These young people have told us plainly," he said, "that they want the facilities they have the equipment and what they need in recreation. This is our job as leaders to see that we have it right now."

Representing St. John's Lutheran Church, Victor Halberg said he thought softball teams would be organized during the Summer. Richard Antos, from St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, told the group that there should be a recreation house open at night for dancing and ping pong, and Jim Ann Grant of Holy Trinity Church agreed that there should be "a place to go and dance to a jazz band and have fun" especially on Friday and Saturday nights. Hugh Keenan of Holy Trinity suggested that a swimming program should be organized for the Summer with contests. Eugene Sauer of St. Peter's Church said he thought softball teams should be organized. The Kiwanis Club agreed to have a CIO union pending further determination of the union's claim to majority representation.

Soldiers Want War Pattern, Gervasi Says

More than 400 persons heard Frank Gervasi's voice rise and crackle with emotion as he shouted, "The men on the battlefield want to feel as if they're dying purposefully, if there is some purpose to this war!"

Mr. Gervasi, correspondent on a seven-month leave from a year's assignment in the Mediterranean war theaters, addressed members of the Larchmont Women's Club, their husbands and members of the Mave Club, at the annual Men's Night, last evening in the Chatsworth Avenue School auditorium.

He told of the difficulty of trying to explain a battlefield—a world of one dimension—to an audience composed of men and women living in another dimension.

This home-front dimension, said Mr. Gervasi, is 6,000 miles from the nearest shell. "I don't want to recognize the chasm between the fighting man and those he left behind, but it can't be helped; and the chasm is not wide as it was when we first started the war."

"The soldier hears stories of slacks at home," said the speaker. "He hears stories of strikes which are supposed to be paralyzing the war effort. Actually, only one-tenth of one per cent of labor has gone on strike."

"Many times I've tried to do it, trying to reserve some rights for them to come back to."

He spoke of a recent time when he was in the line, he talked to the "big shots, captains of industry."

Raid On Atlantic Wall Follows Up Attack On Cities

LONDON, (AP)—Two thousand Allied planes swooped perhaps 6,000 tons of bombs on Nazi targets in the gigantic pre-invasion air offensive today—U. S. bombers pounding heavily at the German Atlantic wall after an RAF assault on Essen, Schweinfurt and railroads near Paris.

Well over 1,000 British bombers caused the possible worst case of casualties and incendiaries on the West coast and rail target by moonlight, opening the 12th consecutive day of bombing.

Two 500 to 600-ton Liberators and Flying Fortress lashed out against military objectives in northern France, supported by 200 to 300 bombers.

The German radio declared Allied planes roared into southern and southwest Germany this morning, pounding heavily at the Italian to make the day operations a two-way draw—and that great air battles were raging.

Twenty-nine big British bombers were shot in the night assault on the possible worst case of casualties and incendiaries on the West coast and rail target by moonlight, opening the 12th consecutive day of bombing.

Two 500 to 600-ton Liberators and Flying Fortress lashed out against military objectives in northern France, supported by 200 to 300 bombers.

Kiwanis Club's Young Guests Stress Need For Leaders To Direct Play Activities

The need for leaders to organize and direct a program of activities for young people was stressed last night by 31 representatives of the Kiwanis Club of New York at a meeting of the organization held at the Elks Club.

Each guest was called upon by Police Chief Arthur W. Martensen to suggest what the young people of the community need in the way of facilities, equipment and type of activities for a recreation program.

Chairman of the committee on boys and girls' work, he has explained that the proceeds from the Kiwanis Club's Young Guests program will be used by the Kiwanis Club to help the young people of the community, and that the committee is anxious to have "first hand information" from the youngsters about what they want in Mamaroneck.

Several of the young people expressed the desire for softball leagues, ping pong equipment, swimming lessons, dancing, and a variety program at a recreation center.

Ednae Stenberg and Dale Shaw, representing the Methodist Church, pointed out that there are facilities in the school and churches for all these activities, but no leaders to organize and conduct a program.

"You talk about how we are going to spend our spare time," Dale Shaw added, "but I think if we make full use of our homes, our schools and our churches, we won't have any spare time. We already have ping pong tables and a place to dance and play games. We don't need to have leadership to organize it. The lack of leaders is what we need to have a recreation program in our churches."

There was a brief discussion of the organization of a Y.M.C.A. in Mamaroneck but Joseph Auman, president of the Y.M.C.A., pointed out that it is a long range program and might be accomplished eventually where the immediate needs had to be supplied at once.

"These young people have told us plainly," he said, "that they want the facilities they have the equipment and what they need in recreation. This is our job as leaders to see that we have it right now."

Representing St. John's Lutheran Church, Victor Halberg said he thought softball teams would be organized during the Summer. Richard Antos, from St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, told the group that there should be a recreation house open at night for dancing and ping pong, and Jim Ann Grant of Holy Trinity Church agreed that there should be "a place to go and dance to a jazz band and have fun" especially on Friday and Saturday nights. Hugh Keenan of Holy Trinity suggested that a swimming program should be organized for the Summer with contests. Eugene Sauer of St. Peter's Church said he thought softball teams should be organized. The Kiwanis Club agreed to have a CIO union pending further determination of the union's claim to majority representation.

Soldiers Want War Pattern, Gervasi Says

More than 400 persons heard Frank Gervasi's voice rise and crackle with emotion as he shouted, "The men on the battlefield want to feel as if they're dying purposefully, if there is some purpose to this war!"

Mr. Gervasi, correspondent on a seven-month leave from a year's assignment in the Mediterranean war theaters, addressed members of the Larchmont Women's Club, their husbands and members of the Mave Club, at the annual Men's Night, last evening in the Chatsworth Avenue School auditorium.

He told of the difficulty of trying to explain a battlefield—a world of one dimension—to an audience composed of men and women living in another dimension.

This home-front dimension, said Mr. Gervasi, is 6,000 miles from the nearest shell. "I don't want to recognize the chasm between the fighting man and those he left behind, but it can't be helped; and the chasm is not wide as it was when we first started the war."

"The soldier hears stories of slacks at home," said the speaker. "He hears stories of strikes which are supposed to be paralyzing the war effort. Actually, only one-tenth of one per cent of labor has gone on strike."

"Many times I've tried to do it, trying to reserve some rights for them to come back to."

He spoke of a recent time when he was in the line, he talked to the "big shots, captains of industry."

Larchmont Puts O.K. On Budget

Public Hearing Turns Into Discussion Of Sewage Conditions

TAX RATE UP $2.15

Following a public budget hearing last night which was concerned more with sewage conditions on Nassau Road than with the proposed tax program, the Larchmont Board of Trustees adopted the budget for 1944-1945 substituting a rate of $2.15 in the tax rate. In spite of the increase from $13.97 to $16.12 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, the assessment of property throughout the Village is estimated to be $1,387,480. This is a decrease of one percent because of the overall reduction in the assessment of property throughout the Village amounting, in total, to $13,874.80.

NAVY SECRETARY KNOWS AFTER ONLY BRIEF CONFERENCE

Cabinet Member Stricken While At Funeral

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, 70, died at 1:08 P. M. today at his Washington home from a heart attack.

Knox was stricken with "a gas-tro-intestinal upset" while attending the funeral in Manchester, N. H., last week of J. A. Moultrie, his business partner for the last 40 years. He returned to his office Tuesday morning but about two hours later became ill and went to his home. The secretary suffered a severe heart attack as he prepared to go to bed Tuesday night.

Formal, in announcing the death of the Navy Secretary, said that the cabinet member, who had been in the hospital since the critical moment of June 15, 1943 at the same time he had been in the hospital to be treated for a heart attack.

Knox had been in the Cabinet since July 11, 1940. President Roosevelt summoned him to serve, as Frank had been a member of the cabinet since 1935 at the same time he had been in the hospital to be treated for a heart attack.

The death of the ex-Europeans in action prevented the rounding out of an official career that began with the victory over the forces of the world falling back across the channel into England, and the recovery of the world economy made possible by America's military and economic power.

By the time of his death, Knox had been in the cabinet since 1935 at the same time he had been in the hospital to be treated for a heart attack.

Sword Mightier Than Pen In This War, Town Board Learns From P. Aitchison

Taking the long view of history, the pen may be mightier than the sword, but at the present time the Army officials have turned the sword into a blunt instrument. The town board learned this lesson from P. Aitchison, a former member of the town board, who was in camp to write long letters home.

At least that is the experience of P. Thomas Aitchison, former member of the town board, who was in camp to write long letters home.

High Tax Rate Protested At Public Hearing

They had to give up until they were back on their feet... Many people who might otherwise have been discouraged by the high tax rate, were encouraged by the fact that the assessment was not as high as they had feared.

In reply to the discussion of salary increases, Mayor Sartore said the members of the Board do "the very best" they can. We work hard in this room time after time.

Refusing to commit himself to a time limit on his discussion of the budget, Mayor Sartore asked each proposition to be worked out how long he thought he would take.

Mr. Lyon registered a strong protest against the proposed $80,000 tax rate in the budget, charging that it meant double taxation upon the people.

He also claimed that the payment of the Essex and Essex judgments amounting to $180,000 could not be forced on the people in one year.

Mr. Lyon further charged that the budget figures for 1944 were inflated and that the trustees had "peddled" the municipal indebtedness order to try to keep the figures for operating expenses down.

Other speakers to address the public hearing included Rev. J. J. O'Connell, pastor of St. Ignace's, and Mayor Sartore.

Mayor Sartore explained to the board that the $40,000 deficit in the water budget was responsible for 25 cents of the tax rate increase.

He stated that the assessments for 1944 were not as high as they had feared and that the water budget was responsible for 25 cents of the tax rate increase.
