GERMANS LOSE 110,000 MEN AS YANKS CLOSE RUHR TRAP; JAPS REPORT NEW INVASION

Our Men In Service

Pfc. Shapiro Honored

Pfc. Henry Shapiro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Shapiro of 167 Larchmont Avenue, Larchmont, has received high praise from his commanding general at an Air Service Depot in England for his service on the signal maintenance line where he and his fellow soldiers, installed more than 8,000 radios and radar sets in front line aircraft, and made more than 90,000 modifications to existing radio equipment.

Commending their battle-backing efforts, Brig. Gen. Morris Berman of San Antonio declared: "Working for months without days off before D-Day; stepping up their output to meet the demands of airborne operations in Holland; sweating night and day to get planes into the air for ever yraid over Germany, these men have outdone themselves in the thankless job of backing the 1944 aerial offensive against Germany."

Pfc. Shapiro, who is a graduate of Mamaroneck High School, entered the service in February, 1943, and went overseas 18 months ago. He was formerly employed by Republic Aviation Corporation in Farmingdale, L. I.

Wins Battery Citation

Pfc. Robert Herdman, of Mamaroneck, received one of the greatest rewards a soldier can earn when Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Commanding General of the Third U. S. Army, commended him and the men of his Battery in a commendation which read in part:

"These attacks were met by the gun crews with typical American fortitude; each man displaying conspicuous bravery. Defending the field with rapidly developed and extremely effective fire, these units destroyed 14 enemy aircraft and badly damaged four others. The heroic performance of these units is in keeping with the highest traditions of the service."

Gen. Patton's commendation had reference to an attack on Jan. 1, 1945 by 25 German fighters which attempted to strafe a Ninth Air Force fighter strip somewhere in France. The field was protected in part by gun crews of the Ninth Air Defense Command. In the ensuing battle 14 of the attacking fighters were destroyed and four others were badly damaged.

Pfc. Herdman is the son of Mrs. Anna Herdman of 450 Beach Avenue.

Arrives In England

Flight Officer Richard C. Palmer of Mamaroneck recently arrived at a U. S. Strategic Air Force Station in England and received a brief orientation course designed to help him adjust himself to life in a combat zone.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Palmer of 412 Wagner Avenue, he was employed in the Marine Department of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey before he entered the service. He will soon be transferred to a permanent station where America's fighting planes are covering the advance into Germany.

Returns To Sea Duty

Gilbert Schlierer of Mamaroneck, now rated as radarman third class with the United States Navy, was at home recently on a 15-day furlough while his ship was in a West coast port for repairs. He entered the service in February, 1944.

A member of the Village of Mamaroneck Police Department, RM Schlierer is the son of Police Sgt. and Mrs. Charles Schlierer of 450 North Barry Avenue. He has returned to the west coast for reassignment to active sea duty.

Navy Graduate

Robert R. Madelung, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Madelung of 417 North Barry Avenue, Mamaroneck, was graduated recently from the Naval Training School (Electric) at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

After assignment to sea duty or to a shore station, he will be eligible to earn the petty officer rate of electrician's mate third class.

The newly graduated man was selected for this special school on the basis of his recruit training aptitude test scores. The completed course of study included the use, function and maintenance of all electric tools used by the Navy. Electricity and the radio elements of electricity were also included in the course.

Leaves For Pacific

Pfc. Joseph R. Mazzeo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas F. Mazzeo of 88 West Garden Road, Larchmont, recently left for Air Corps service in the Pacific area following training at Lakeland, Fla.

A former student at Penn State College, Pfc. Mazzeo entered the Air Corps in July, 1943, following his graduation from Mamaroneck High School. He received training at Pollock Army Air Field in Louisiana, where he was promoted to private first class as a reward for "enterprising endeavor and efficiency in the performance of his assigned duties."

FROST DUE

CHICAGO, (AP)—A cold air front swept down across the border from the Canadian Rockies over the week-end and the United States Weather Bureau in a special warning forecast possibility of damaging frosts to midwestern and Missouri Valley fruit crops.

Both Smith And Coffin Run Again

School Board Trustees Will Seek Reelection For Fourth Terms

NO OTHERS ENTERED

Both George H. Coffin and Everett H. Smith whose terms on the Rye Neck School Board expire this year annouunced their intention today to run for a fourth term.

Declaring that they had originally intended to retire from the board this year, both trustees stated that they do not feel they should drop out of school affairs at the present time since the status of the school district will be under discussion by the commission to be appointed involving both Rye Neck and the City of Rye during the coming year.

Elected to the board in 1936, Trustees Coffin and Smith have served three terms. Mr. Coffin's career on the board predated his election by a few months since he was appointed in January of that year to complete the unexpired term of Edgar L. Howe. He has served throughout his three terms as chairman of the supply committee as well as in member capacities on other committees. Mr. Coffin, who resides at 724 Soundview Drive, Shore Acres, is assistant manager of the County Trust Company in Mamaroneck.

Trustee Smith has served as chairman of the maintenance committee, as president of the board for two years, and as chairman of the personnel committee, a post which he now holds. He said this morning that, although he finds it necessary to be out of town frequently, he expects to be in Mamaroneck the first week of every month to attend board meetings this year.

Trustee Smith's younger daughter, Dorothy, will graduate in June from Bellows High School and Trustee Coffin has no children in school at the present time.

Trustee Smith desides at 523 Linden Avenue and holds the post of territorial supervisor of Illinois and Iowa for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

Bartholomew Haviland, clerk to the board, said today that so far no petitions have been obtained for nominations. They must contain the names of at least 25 qualified voters in the school district and must be filed with him by April 16. The election takes place May 2.

Pacific Medical Unit Vet Wins Lieutenancy

Lewis L. Jacobs, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Jacobs of 19 Knollwood Drive, Larchmont, has been graduated from Officer Candidate School, Carlisle Barracks, Pa., and commissioned a second lieutenant in the Medical Administrative Corps, U. S. Army.

Lt.Jacobs served with a combat medical unit in the Pacific for almost a year and is a veteran of Saipan, Bougainville and Guadalcanal, where he was hospitalized with malaria. On his return, he reported to Carlisle Barracks, graduating with the 17th officer candidate class. Diplomas were presented by Brig. Gen. Addison D. Davis, commandant, and Col. Howard T. Wickert, assistant commandant of the Medical Field Service School gave the graduation address.

A former resident of New York City, where he attended schools, Lt. Jacobs volunteered in the Enlisted Reserve Corps in July, 1942, while a pre-medical student at New York University, and received basic training at Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill., Army medical training unit.

Lt. Jacobs was married last week to the former Zoe Feldman of Westport, Conn. On their return from a wedding trip, he will report to the West Coast for reassignment.

Two brothers are also serving with the armed forces, both ensigns in the Navy. Ensign Herbert H. Jacobs is executive officer on an LCI commanded by Lt. Albert Corminey of New Rochelle, serving in the Pacific. A graduate of Cornell University, where he received several scholarships including the McMillan award, highest honor in chemical engineering, and top man in his class, Ensign Jacobs remained at Cornell for Navy V-12 training, and was graduated from the Cornell Midshipmen's School, where he was also top ranking man. He was awarded the Navy sword and a gold watch by the commandant. On completion of amphibious training at Solomons Island, Md., he was appointed executive officer.

Ensign Earl E. Jacobs was also graduated from Cornell where he specialized in physics and mathematics, and after Navy V-12 training was assigned to the Columbia Midshipmen's School. Shortly before graduation he was selected for special research at Bowdoin College, graduating on March 8 and commissioned an ensign.

SGT. DOMINICK J. FORTI

Japs A Crazy Lot, Pacific Air Hero Says

The people back home just can't realize "how crazy the Japs are", Sgt. Dominick J. Forti of Larchmont recently wrote his family after receiving credit for shooting down some Jap Zero planes. He said he shot about 120 bullets into the air and added, "I was pretty scared by I prayed and kept shooting until the Jap planes went down in flames." It was an experience he said he hopes never to have again and one which he will never forget.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Forti of 81 Myrtle Boulevard, Sgt. Forti is a graduate of Mamaroneck High School and entered the Army Air Forces in August, 1942, receiving training at Lowry Field, Col., and at the Bridges' Manufacturing Company in Detroit, Mich. He was promoted to sergeant at Morris Field, N. C., and, on Aug. 3, 1943, graduated from the flexible gunnery school at Buckingham Army Air Field, Fort Myers, Fla., where he won his gunner's wings with high honors.

After serving as an aerial gunner instructor, he went to New Guinea six months ago and from there to the Philippines where he had the encounter with the Jap planes.

His brother-in-law, W.O. Henry Mazurkiewicz, who has been in the Army for 12 years, has been in England a year and a half. He typed all the D-Day news before the orders were given out. He is married to the former Carmella Forti and has a daughter, Virginia, whom he has never seen.

War Bond Sale Turns Upward After Slump

After the alarmingly low record set by War Bond sales in Mamaroneck during January and February, the sale pulled out of the nose dive last month to show an increase of about $6,262 over the February sale.

The five issuing agencies, two of which showed a decided increase in March, chalked up a total of $40,225 as against $33,961.75 the month before. In addition to that total, a sale of $3,973.40 in stamps was reported at the postoffice, a drop of about $5 from the $3,978.05 sold there in February.

The figures also compare favorably with the total sold in March, 1944, with $36,725 on the books, about $3,500 less than last month. The Federal Savings and Loan, the Union Savings Bank and the County Trust Company showed substantial increases in the comparison of the two years, but the stamp sale fell off more than $1,800.

Gabriel Wendel, chairman of the Village War Finance Committee, said this morning that the total, although better than last month, "still isn't good enough." Payroll deductions are undoubtedly hitting "a goodly portion of our people," he said but added that, although a certain group buys regularly, the rest sit by and wait for the stimulus of a big bond drive.

The totals reported for March are as follows with the February figures in parenthesis: Federal Savings and Loan, $456.25 ($975); Union Savings Bank, $10,431.25 ($3,543.75); County Trust Company, $24,312.50 ($22,018); Postoffice, $3,675 ($6,150); Playhouse, $1,350 ($1,275).

Resident To Face Non-Support Charge

A court warrant issued by Judge George W. Smyth of Westchester County Children's Court led this morning to the arrest of Akesnt Hill of 626 Third Street, Mamaroneck, on a charge of non-support of his wife and children. Detective Samuel Bryant made the arrest and the case will be heard in Children's Court.

Vinson Gets Post Held By Byrnes

War Mobilization Head Resigns; F.D.R. Expresses 'Heartfelt Regret'

SUBMITS V-DAY PLAN

WASHINGTON, (AP) — President Roosevelt accepted today the resignation of James F. Byrnes as Director of War Mobilization and Reconversion, and picked Fred M. Vinson to succeed him.

Byrnes will stay on the job until Vinson's nomination is approved by the Senate. Then he will break Vinson into his new duties.

It was the second change of jobs for Vinson in less than a month. On March 6 he was nominated Federal Loan Administrator. Prior to that date he was Director of Economic Stabilization.

Byrnes had submitted his resignation on March 24, while preparing a report to President Roosevelt and Congress which outlined the plans he has developed for reconversion after Germany's collapse.

The report was dated yesterday and Byrnes had hoped to leave office today.

Vinson worked closely with Byrnes while serving as stabilization director.

Before that, Vinson was a judge on the Federal Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia. Earlier he served a long term as a representative from Kentucky.

Mr. Roosevelt said it was with "heartfelt regret" that he had received Byrnes' resignation.

He said he had no alternative other than to accept, but requested the former Supreme Court Justice and Senator from South Carolina to make the resignation effective when Vinson qualifies for the job.

Pedlar Caught, Refunds $120, Pays $10 Fine

All Village of Mamaroneck patrolmen have been on the lookout for the last few days for the driver of the red truck carrying humus whom Glenn Angle of 826 Walton Avenue, Mamaroneck, reported last week to Village Manager William H. Johnson, for allegedly overcharging him for a job done on his lawn.

It was Patrolman Anthony Perri who saw the vehicle go by Saturday morning while he was doing traffic duty on Mamaroneck Avenue at Palmer. He hailed the driver and turned him over to Patrolman Vito Fraioli who escorted him and his three helpers to police headquarters where they were charged with peddling without a license.

During a session at the detective bureau which lasted almost all morning and involved most of the village officials including the police chief, the manager and the mayor, Mr. Angle identified the driver and told him if he did not make restitution for the overcharge he would charge him with misrepresentation and fraud. The defendant who gave his name as Louis A. Salvatore of 66 Ege Avenue, Jersey City, N. J., finally agreed to refund $120 of the $160 he had charged for the job. On the charge of peddling without a license, Judge Patrick J. Hughes fined him $10.

Chief Arthur W. Martensen said this morning that a complaint had been received in New Rochelle about a truck answering the same description where the housewife had refused to pay the bill until her husband came home. The driver was to return later but never came back.

Chief Martensen also said that he had weighed one of the butter tubs, represented as containing 50 pounds of humus net, and found that the gross weight was 47 pounds, the tub itself weighing about six, bringing the net weight down to about 41 pounds. The truck was full when Patrolman Perri stopped it and, since Salvatore had apparently made no sale Saturday morning could not be charged with misrepresenting the weight to a buyer.

As a result of the incident, both Mayor Santoro and Village Manager Johnson issued an appeal today urging residents to exercise care in the purchase of material from strange pedlars. Mayor Santoro stressed the fact that there are reputable dealers in Mamaroneck who can supply humus for lawns and gardens.

CRASH DAMAGES CARS

Damaged fenders and bumpers resulted Saturday night from a collision on the Boston Post Road near Nassau Street in Larchmont between a car operated east on the Post Road by John J. Tippett of 115 Petersville Road, New Rochelle, and another vehicle driven by John P. Croce of 21 Fountain Place, New Rochelle. Croce told Larchmont police that the other car struck his from the rear.

Kume Landing Claimed As We Gain On Okinawa

NEW YORK, (AP)—American invasion forces have started landings on Kume Island, about 60 miles west of Okinawa and west of the Kerama group, a Tokyo broadcast said today.

By ELMONT WAITE
AP Staff

GUAM — Thousands of U. S. Tenth Army infantrymen and Marines invaded strategic Okinawa—325 miles from Japan proper—Easter morning at little cost and found the going still surprisingly easy as they pushed eastward today toward the important Nakagusuku Bay fleet anchorage.

The Yanks went ashore on the west coast at 8:30 A. M. yesterday (6:30 P. M. Saturday, EWT), quickly captured two airfields and a dozen virtually deserted villages and towns. By nightfall they had carved out a beachhead three miles deep at points on an isthmus eight miles wide, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today.

Front reports said a third airstrip—unidentified—also was seized.

The Yank invaders walked inland from the beaches 200 yards or more without once having to seek shelter.

Surprise Achieved

Tough fighting is expected however, as the Japanese reorganize for defense. The enemy, surprised by invasion on Okinawa's western shore near Katena after a 10-day bombing and bombardment of his eastern shore defenses, was expected to fight fanatically from prepared positions, probably in the low hills in the center of the island. Estimates of Japanese strength on Okinawa range from 60,000 to 100,000 troops.

Size of the Yank invasion force was not announced, but it, too, numbered perhaps 100,000.

"Final, decisive victory is assured," Nimitz declared as he personally read his Sunday communique announcing the invasion. But he warned that Japan itself still must be conquered.

Capture of Okinawa will afford airfields for intensified aerial neutralization of the Empire's home airfields and continued devastation of its war vital industrial centers.

"It is difficult to over-emphasize the importance of this operation," asserted Lieut. Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner, Jr., commander of the new 10th Army. His command comprises the 24th Army Corps and the Marine Third Amphibious Corps, made up of probably six divisions—all veterans of Pacific fighting.

Power Failure Traps Three In Elevators

Three tenants of the Alden House Apartments in Larchmont were rescued Saturday morning by the Town of Mamaroneck Fire Department when the electric power failure, general in that area, halted three elevators of the apartment building. The three tenants, one in each elevator, were trapped from 30 to 45 minutes before Firemen Earl Mellor and Louis Testa under the command of Fire Chief George Burton, lowered ladders through emergency doors in the tops of the elevators.

John Barrie, superintendent of the apartment, was stuck in the elevator between the first floor and basement; Mrs. Margaret Bastain in the elevator on the grounds floor and George Ritterband in the elevator stalled between the fourth and fifth floors.

A 14-foot extension ladder was lowered from upper floors into the top of the self-service elevators after firemen had been notified of the emergency by Mrs. Barrie.

The Larchmont Times Wins State Honors

The Larchmont Times has been awarded third place in the annual state-wide newspaper contest for appearance and content in the 1,000-2,000 circulation class, it was announced this morning by the New York Press Association.

Holder of many journalistic honors in the weekly field, The Larchmont Times led all other competing state newspapers in typography and news content. It scored a total of 475 points as against 515 for The Rhinebeck Gazette, winner of first place. The Wolcott Lake Shore News placed second with 502 points.

THE AIR MEDAL for "courage and devotion to duty while participating in operational flight missions in the Southwest Pacific" has been awarded Col. Millard L. Haskin, right, of Mamaroneck at a 5th Air Force Base in the Philippines. Major Gen. Ennis C. Whitehead is shown above awarding the medal while Lt. Col. O. C. Van Noesen (center) reads the official citation during the ceremony. Col. Haskin, who resides at 116 Wagner Avenue, returned home recently from the Philippines where he had been serving as chief supply and transportation officer with the 5th AAF.

Veteran Of 900 Hours Aloft, Hap, Pal Of Lt. Bibas, Steals The Show At Folies-Bergere

By RUTH R. TAUB

LT. F. P. BIBAS and HAP

When they talk about leading a dog's life, it's clear that they're not referring to Hap. The Mamaroneck-born pedigreed cocker spaniel, with more than 900 flying hours to his credit, leads the life of Riley when he's not participating in an invasion with his pilot master, Lt. Frank P. Bibas of Larchmont.

Hap, named for General "Hap" Arnold, and Lt. Bibas have been overseas 16 months and are at present based in France, where the 22-pound dog doesn't seem to care much for the French workmen around the flying strip. Doesn't like their berets, maybe, thinks the lieutenant. However, his nose for danger and trouble have proved invaluable when it comes to ferreting out land mines and booby traps. Hap is the only one of the crew who has a mind to go exploring.

Equipped with his own flak suit, parachute and oxygen mask, Hap is a veteran of the invasions of Normandy, Southern France and Holland. He understands every word that is said to him, according to his doting master, never disobeys, is very quick at spotting trouble, and is, in short, "the kind of a dog that doesn't sound true when somebody else owns him." And Lt. Bibas only wishes he could bring Hap home to Larchmont right now, to prove it.

When one of the crew tells Hap to hit the sack, off he goes to bed in his own little bunk. He recently spent four hours in the coat room of a London night club, and regardless of the comings and goings, wouldn't budge until the crew came to pick him up.

During another lull in his aerial activities, Hap accompanied his master to the Folies-Bergers in Paris, where he turned out to be much more sensational than the cast. In fact, he stole the show completely, by barking furiously every time the spotlight was thrown on the stage near where he was sitting, perched on the railing of a box. Hap was definitely a hit at the Folies-Bergere.

Lt. Bibas' letters to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Percy M. Bibas of 124 Palmer Avenue, Larchmont, are filled with news and tales of Hap. Mr. Bibas calls them doggone-good letters.

Hap entered his Army training at the age of five weeks. Lt. Bibas, on the other hand, enlisted at a somewhat more mature age, in February, 1942, following his graduation from Columbia University. He formerly attended Brown University and Mamaroneck High School and is a graduate of the Winnwood Preparatory School.

Commissioned on May 28, 1943, at Blytheville, Ark., Lt. Bibas was promoted to first lieutenant shortly before D-Day, and was awarded the Air Medal soon after. He received pilot training at Greenville, Miss.

Hap's flying hours total "more than plenty of co-pilots'," according to Lt. Bibas. Together they have covered a lot of territory by air, South America, Africa, the United Kingdom, Gibraltar, practically everywhere. Both have proved themselves good soldiers.

Clothing Drive Opens; Village Goal 32 Tons

The United National Clothing Collection which started officially yesterday, will continue throughout April. The drive to collect used clothing, shoes and bedding has been going on unofficially in Mamaroneck for the last month and will continue at an increased tempo until it reaches its peak on Sunday, April 22, when a one-day intensive drive will gather in all the clothing and bedding not previously donated.

This is the plan of the local committee announced some time ago and several meetings have been held to perfect the arrangements for collecting, sorting, packing and shipping. Four clothing depots have already been established and the amount of used clothing, shoes and bedding already deposited in these three places have encouraged the committee to believe that Mamaroneck has an excellent opportunity to exceed its quota of 32 tons, or five pounds per person, Mr. Mary Ingraham, secretary of the committee, said this morning.

"Millions of people all over the world," Mrs. Ingram said, "are suffering more from cold and exposure than anything else. Shoes are particularly badly needed. Bedding is so scarce as to be pitiful. Many families can leave their miserable homes one at a time because there is only enough covering for one person.

"I urge that the people of Mamaroneck examine their closets, attics, trunks and other places where used clothing may be found and donate it to the suffering peoples of liberated countries."

British Menace Nazi Army Group In Holland

BY JAMES M. LONG
AP Staff

PARIS — The American First and Ninth Armies have trapped 21 divisions of 110,000 first line enemy troops in the Ruhr and the British Second Army, driving swiftly northeast, threatened today to throw a noose about another whole army group in Holland, reducing German strength in the west by two thirds.

The British Second Army, wheeling toward the north German ports, plunged to the outskirts of Lengerich, 20 miles northeast of the Westphalian capital of Muenster and 122 from Hamburg. Lengerich is 74 miles from Bremen and 217 from Berlin.

Field Marshal Montgomery lifted the long silence about the 21st Army Group advances in the Ruhr and on the Westphalian plains late today.

Among towns captured were Rheine and Enschede. Britons were in the outskirts of Gronau. The Zutphen-Enschede Canal has been reached.

The Third Army, meanwhile, fought into Kassel and Fulda and sent armored spearheads probing within 155 miles of Berlin and 195 of the Russian lines. The drive to bisect Germany reached within 95 miles of Leipzig.

Supreme headquarters said all of Field Marshal Walther Von Model's Army Group B, strongest left on the western front and containing the last tank army opposing Gen. Eisenhower's nine armies charging east of the Rhine, had been caught in the Ruhr trap, closed yesterday by the First and Ninth Armies.

Even as the fate of this whole fighting force was sealed, Gen. Eisenhower's communique in an unusual revelation of the course of the developing campaign declared flatly that the cleanup "will not preclude the advance of Allied armored columns farther into Germany."

That swift advance was well underway.

Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army had armor less than 160 miles from the battered capital of Germany and 195 miles from the Russians. Lieut. Gen. Alexander M. Patch had Seventh Army tanks within 45 miles of the Nazi congress city of Nuernberg (pop: 431,000) where he could cut one of the two main trunklines from Berlin through Munich to the Brenner Pass.

Third Army tanks raced to within three miles of Eisenach and 96 of Leipzig in their eastward drive across the waist of Germany.

A security blackout still veiled the surging advances of the British Second Army toward north German ports, but Berlin said the Tommies had advanced more than 35 miles past the Westphalian capital of Muenster to a point south of Bielefeld (128,700). There the British would be 128 miles southwest of Hamburg (1,918,000) and 62 southwest of Hannover (472,500).

The German communique reported fighting in the Teutoburg Forest "on both sides of Bielefeld" and along the Dutch frontier between the lower Rhine and Schede 106 miles from Wilhelmshaven and 98 from Bremen.

The Third Army drive across the waist of Germany was bisecting the Reich and had reached within a half hour flying time of the Russians.

German Army Group B was composed of the Fifth Panzer Army and the 15th Army. Pocketed along with these were a number of divisions of the First Parachute Army as well as thousands of static and organizational troops. The loss of the Ruhr was a catastrophe for Germany. Eisenhower's deputy, Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur Tedder, said in October that Germany would be defeated within 60 days after that great industrial region was lost.

The Germans' Army Group H in Holland was reported pulling out of that low country because of the hourly increasing threat that Field Marshal Montgomery's drive north of the Ruhr would spring another trap. Disorganized Army Group G in the south was reeling back into central Germany.

LAUDS CHINESE

CHUNGKING, (AP).—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek issued a special order of the day today commending Chinese forces for their stubborn defense of Laohokow and Nanyang, pivotal cities in Hupeh and Honan provinces which he said still were in Chinese hands.

The Sports Spotter

BY THE SPORTS EDITOR

There's a Derby A. C. quintet all set and ready to defend the open championship in the 15th Annual Westchester County Amateur Basketball Tournament which opens today at the County Center. But, because of some mess somewhere along the line there'll be no Derby A. C. in the tourney.

Harv Derby, who has sponsored a team in the annual fixture for some years and last year led his boys to the title in the Open division, is somewhat perturbed over the matter. Although he didn't receive any invitation to enter (which is one of the causes of Derby's being just a little bit put out) he nevertheless went to the trouble of making a special effort to get entry blanks, gather a team and send in his entry three days before the deadline. Somehow, somewhere that entry got sidetracked and when the draw for the tournament was released late last week there was no Derby A. C. listed.

There's been a letter of explanation since but it hasn't managed to sooth Derby and we can't say we blame him. Seems that the entry got waylaid between Mamaroneck and White Plains and got to White Plains too late, despite the fact that it was mailed in plenty of time to get in ahead of the deadline. Anyway, it does seem as though a defending champ rates at least the courtesy of being sent entries and, ought to learn for earlier than two days before the tourney if his entries haven't been accepted.

As matters stand, and there's no chance of their being changed, eight grad cagers will be missing from the tournament, there'll be a new champion, and Mamaroneck and Larchmont will not be represented in the top division.

Two local teams are entered in the tournament however, the Tigers and the Holy Name Society, both of which played in the Rec league at Mamaroneck Avenue School. The champion Tigers are scheduled to begin play against the Murchison Worms at nine o'clock Wednesday and, the runner-up Holy Name outfit goes against the Wolves of West Harrison at nine on Friday night. Aside from these two there are no local outfits in the tourney in which 37 squads from all over the County are entered in a total of four divisions. Both the Tigers and Holy Name quintets will fight it out in the Intermediate Division of the competition.

39 Regattas Carded For Long Island Sound Yachtsmen

Race Season Opens May 26; Distance Events Scheduled

The largest yacht racing season in history, 39 regattas, was adopted by the Yacht Racing Association of Long Island Sound, yesterday, at a meeting at the New York Yacht Club. The calendar of events is subjected to the war conditions and the waters to the rules laid down by the Coast Guard.

Hope was expressed that some of the rules applied the last three years may be modified to some extent, at least as to crossing the Sound with due respect to Government and commercial vessels.

It was settled that the full regatta season will start on May 26, with a special event at the Echo Bay Club of New Rochelle. It will carry through Sept. 23. There will be 39 competitions, including the championship series on Sundays and holidays. The "specials," as they have for three years, will be held on Saturdays.

As an example of the augmented program, the Larchmont Club will have a Race Week covering eight days. It used to be seven, but was curtailed to five the past two years because of the war.

All in all the Larchmont Yacht Club will sponsor the heaviest schedule of regattas of any of the Sound Clubs. Five championship regattas, including two in race week, are scheduled for the club while a total of nine special, six of them in Race Week, are carded. The Club will have YRA regattas both on Independence Day and Labor Day.

For the first time distance contests were taken up by the association at the request of race chairmen of the many clubs to avoid confliction in dates. There were a few changes from the tentative schedules. The Manhasset Bay Club exchanged its September championship date with the Indian Harbor Club of Greenwich so that Manhasset, which is to start its Race Week on Sept. 3, could wind up with a titular affair. Stamford and Riverside exchanged their August championships.

The American Club of Rye, the Port Washington and the Huguenot Club of New Rochelle came into the special regatta fold. A proposal by the International and S classes to change the starting time from 2 P. M. on Saturdays to 2:30 P. M. was voted down.

Representatives of the Junior YRA met earlier and adopted their program for the Summer. The junior championship will be held by the Stamford Club July 31, Aug. 1 and 2. The junior regatta at Larchmont was scheduled for July 25, and junior regattas were set for the Bayside Club on Aug. 25 and 26, and at the Port Washington Club on Aug. 27.

Coaches Propose National College Baseball Setup

HAMILTON, (AP)—A national college baseball organization to promote broader competition, form leagues, conduct tournaments and regulate relations between players and professional interests, was proposed today by two of the east's foremost coaches as a shot in the arm for the college game.

Joe Bedenk, All-America football guard in 1923 and now baseball coach at Penn State, and Everett D. Barnes, assistant director of athletics and coach at Colgate University, said in a joint statement that national organization is necessary to restore the game to its major sport rating.

"A quarter-century ago this sport ranked with football in both player and spectator appeal," Barnes said, "But it has gradually slipped to a point where it is simply apathetic."

The proposed organization, open to all coaches, would embrace plans for national championship playoffs similar to the NCAA basketball tourney. Such tournaments also have been advocated by Robert "Red" Rolfe, former New York Yankee third baseman and now baseball coach at Yale.

Twilight Softballers To Organize Tonight

A meeting of representatives of all teams interested in filing entries in the Twilight Softball League will be held at 8 o'clock tonight at the Daily Times offices on Elm Street, Mamaroneck. Squads which expect to enter must have representatives present as plans are expected to be drawn for the season play.

Charlie Lanza, president of the league, has called the meeting with the interest in the loop running high, expects a record entry.

The teams which compete in the circuit will battle for the trophy now held by the Larchmont Yachtmen. The Postmen won the first leg of the cup last year and will probably enter a squad in the hope of gaining another leg on the three-year trophy.

Etchells Wins Dinghy Regatta At Larchmont

Winning the last five races E. W. Etchells yesterday piloted his dinghy Sno Fun to victory in the weekly regatta at the Larchmont Yacht Club. Beginning with a fourth place in the first race, moving up to third in the second contest, Etchells made a clean sweep of the last five to finish up with 135 points, nine better than Pat O'Gorman could do with his Felix. O'Gorman finished no lower than fifth in any of the seven races. Third place in the regatta was taken by Paralysis, skippered by Jack Odell.

Although the day was almost perfect for sailing with a steady breeze coming out of the southwest, one casualty marred the proceedings as Idiot's Delight, sailed by Bill Richardson and young David Page capsized in the final race. Richardson and Page were picked up by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bissel who were sailing Mum. Ed Raymond's Zotom also was disabled when a shroud parted during the sixth race. Raymond, victor in both the fall and mid-winter dinghy series, finished far down in tenth place in the 15-boat regatta and dropped some of the points which had given him a seemingly safe lead in the Spring dinghy series. A third mishap occurred when the main halyard on Sissy snapped. D. W. Trimingham, however, later resumed competition.

The two races not taken by Etchell's Sno Fun were annexed by Corny Shields' Dainty and by Felix.

The summary:

Felix, W. P. O'Gorman	120

Blue And Black Nine Slates Fourteen Diamond Battles

The curtain will go up on the F. E. Bellows diamond season on April 23 when the Blue and Black travels to the other end of town to engage the Mamaroneck High nine. It will also be the season opener for the Orange and Black.

The Panther schedule, recently released by Jack Fearon, coach of the Blue and Black outfit, lists a total of fourteen games, all but four of them S. W. I. A. C. battles. The four non-league affairs include a pair of games against Mamaroneck and a home and home series with the Port Chester Rams. Otherwise the Panthers will meet Edison Tech, Harrison, Eastchester and Tuckahoe in home and home series and will engage Rye and Pleasantville in one game each. The game against the Garnet will be at the Rye field while the up-county Panthers will return the visit made to Pleasantville last year by the East End nine. The Tuckahoe outfit is baseball champion of the league.

Jack Fearon's charges, who expect to play their home games at Harbor Island, have been working out daily at Daniel Warren Field. With most of last year's veterans in uniform Fearon is casting an anxious eye on his pitching, the one department which will make or break the Blue and Black outfit. Husky Duke Cleary and slim southpaw Benjie Herman are expected to carry the Panther hurling burden with some backing from Joe Paonessa and Tommy Akers.

Rocky Orsino will handle most of the catching and Fearon's infield will include Bob Joyce, Wally Huntley, Jimmy Bianca and Warren Bascone. In the outer garden big Pete Laise, who has been powdering the ball in early practice, is expected to be a mainstay and he'll be flanked, on one side by Art O'Neill. Fearon is on the lookout for a third outfielder and has several youngsters who may win the spot.

The schedule:

April 23: Mamaroneck at Mamaroneck.
April 26: Harrison at Harrison.
April 28: Eastchester at home.
May 1: Tuckahoe at home.
May 15: Eastchester at Eastchester.
May 18: Edison Tech at home.
May 22: Tuckahoe at Tuckahoe.
May 25: Harrison at home.
May 29: Rye at Rye.
June 1: Pleasantville at home.
June 8: Port Chester at Port Chester.
April 27: Edison Tech at Edison.
April 30: Mamaroneck at home.

VIRGINIA K. MENDES

CATHERINE K. KELLY

Lifelong Friends Separated In Service Of Red Cross

The Red Cross probably has the rld's record for bringing together families and friends all er the world. But for Virginia endes and Catherine Kelly of rchmont, it was the agency responsible for putting almost a misphere's distance between elong friends.

Red Cross staff assistants, the rls were both graduated from e Ursuline School and were ommates at Trinity College, ashington, D. C. They spent eir junior year at the Sorbonne Paris and travelled together in ance during the Summer of 38.

They even entered the Red oss together in November, 1944, d left for Fort Meade after an ientation course at Washington adquarters.

The pattern was broken, however, when Catherine was sent to nta Ana, Cal., Redistribution ation on her way to Honolulu, awaii, and Virginia was re-routed to Calcutta, India.

Before their separation the rls were able to meet for a farewell dinner in San Francisco hen Virginia went through on r way overseas.

Describing the meeting, Miss elly wrote, "It was so wonderful see Ginny, even for so short a e, and she looked stunning in r uniform. We had quite a reunion. Being under strict security regulations, she couldn't say here she was going, but my ess is India. All the boys out re we've talked to say that the d Cross girls in India have a ally wonderful deal—their clubs e beautiful, some complete with ny swimming pools!"

Miss Kelly made no idle guess, r that's where "Ginny" is stationed—and her description of life India makes the black hole of alcutta sound like a paradise ordered by women, with "a large arble home with high ceilings, ns, attractive furniture and a ivate servant for every three rls."

"The boys come in droves," she ld her family, Mr. and Mrs. enry Mendes of 24 Glen Eagles rive, Larchmont. "I've been out r dinner and dancing every ght since our arrival," she continued, writing home for new othes.

The staff assistant shares a om with "two grand girls." heir "own servant" waits on em "hand and foot, washes out r underthings, turns down our ds and shines our shoes.

"She really is darling. Wish I uld send her home to you," she ent on, adding that the "very vely English lady" who acts as ousekeeper helps to lend "a ome-like atmosphere" to the ostel.

It's not all play for Miss Menes, however, for she attends asses every day to "learn more out our job and to familiarize s with Indian customs." Classes st about ten days, after which e girls receive final assignment some Red Cross club anywhere the theater. "Needless to say," e continued, "we are anxiously waiting to see just where we all d up."

The two-day trip to Calcutta by ain was anything but Paradise, dging from Miss Mendes' deription of "the dirtiest ride I've er taken."

"We slept in our fatigue outfits Red rolls provided by Red ross and had to cover our face, hands and legs with mosquito repellent.

"We also had to set off a mosquito bomb at dusk and then again about three in the morning. The smell was enough to kill you, so I can imagine what it did to the mosquitos!"

"As I've said before," she concludes, "it's all an experience I wouldn't have missed for the world."

Miss Kennedy, stationed in Honolulu, where her day-time duties include a shopping service for a "grand group of be-ribboned Marines," writes that her requests range "from $90 lounging pajamas to Easter cards for Dad and Mom." Overseas since February, she is the daughter of Mrs. Cornelius F. Kelly of 90 Larchmont Avenue, and the late Mr. Kelly.

Many of the boys haven't spoken to a girl in nineteen months, she writes, and "it's pretty touching when they tell you that and ask you just to talk to them. I have seen boys come back to the counter 15 and 16 times just to talk to a girl from 'Stateside'.

"They are the grandest boys, have been through so much and yet are so terribly appreciative of the smallest thing we do for them."

Describing the scene as the Red Cross girls embarked on the last lap of their journey, Miss Kelly said they "felt like walking charm bracelets without the charm," ladened down with all their gear.

"You should have seen us struggling up the gangplank," she went on. "Some of the girls had to wear what they couldn't fit into their luggage, and had on two complete uniforms, one over the other, and a couple of coats! We practically had to be pushed on to the ship, much to the delight of the onlooking G.I.'s."

The Red Cross staff assistant's enthusiasm for her work fills each letter. "I love it," says she.

Writing from the AAF Redistribution Station in Santa Ana, Miss Kennedy said the station, opened on Nov. 20, is "still young and we are the first Red Cross girls to be stationed here, so we are quite an oddity, to say the least!

"So far we have done nothing but be orientated and that will involve a couple of days more, as this is a tremendous place, three by four miles in area, and we have to work with both enlisted men and officers, totaling up in the thousands. We've been introduced to the Special Services men, who couldn't be nicer, and the Red Cross personnel, a grand group. The whole set-up here is really one of the best. The clubs are unpretentious from the outside, but beautifully decorated and furnished, with outdoor patios and flowers, to make the atmosphere as restful as possible for these boys back from months and years of living under extreme strain and tension. They are from all theaters imaginable, from every Air Force, and with decorations in such number one cannot even keep track of them."

Failure Of Power Brings Movie Show To Sudden Halt

The failure of electric power in the area serving The Larchmont Playhouse kept 300 children and parents from seeing the last six minutes of the film, "Little Lord Fauntleroy," Saturday morning at the "early bird matinee" sponsored by the Larchmont Mamaroneck Motion Picture Council in cooperation with the Playhouse management.

After the audience had waited 25 minutes Mrs. Jack Windheim, Council president, announced that since the power failure was general in the area and of indeterminate duration it seemed unwise to keep the children waiting any longer.

Apologizing on behalf of the theater management and explaining the situation, Mrs. Windheim told the story of the last six minutes of the picture, adding "I know it's not the same as seeing it but this just couldn't be helped."

She announced that the next "special for children" presentation will be April 21, when a special short subjects will be shown, including cartoons, comedies and novelties. "Let's keep our fingers crossed," she said, "against any more power failures."

"Little Lord Fauntleroy" will be shown at the Mamaroneck Playhouse Saturday, April 7, and the Mamaroneck Playhouse will present the short subjects program on April 28.

Supervising at Saturday's performance were Mills Harris, Mrs. Jake Vandervelden, Mrs. T. H. Barrett, Mrs. Jerome Lukins, Mrs. George Valentine, Mrs. George Schuler, Mrs. Maurice Schiller and Mrs. Windheim.

SNOW COMING

ALBANY, (AP)—Winter was due to make a brief return in northern New York tonight in the form of snow, while rain, which began early today in western New York, was expected to become general in most of the state.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

NOT REALLY AN AXIOM

MANY PLAYERS consider it an axiom that a hand with "ideal No Trump distribution" — one four-card suit and three suits of three cards—will take the same number of tricks at No Trumps as at a suit, if all four suits are adequately stopped. But according to the dictionary, an axiom is not merely a rule which seems to be obviously true. It is a rule which is true. And this one about evenly distributed hands is not true, since your partner's distribution may make a suit contract more desirable.

North: ♠ Q 9 6 4 ♥ 8 6 5 2 ♦ 3 ♣ Q J 10 8
West: ♠ 8 7 2 ♥ Q 9 ♦ K Q 9 6 5 ♣ 9 5 4
East: ♠ 10 3 ♥ J 10 7 4 ♦ 8 7 4 2 ♣ 6 3 2
South: ♠ A K J 5 ♥ A K 3 ♦ A J 10 ♣ A K 7

(Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
2 ♠	Pass	2 NT	Pass
3 NT	Pass	4 ♠	Pass
7 ♠

There was the top score bidding of this deal in a big pair duplicate. After getting from his partner a negative response which indicated lack of one quick trick, South interpreted North's second bid of 4-Spades as showing four-card support for his suit. So he went promptly then to the grand slam. Anyone can see it is "pat," barring freakish developments in the defenders' holdings, for two diamonds can be ruffed and the losing heart can be thrown on a club.

Players who opened with some number of No Trumps all made six-odd, whether they bid that high or not, but all of them lost a trick in diamonds. Some bid 3-No Trumps at once and it got passed. Several bid 2-No Trumps and, when North took it to three, leaped to small slam.

One player opened most conservatively with just 1-Spade, which his partner raised to 2-Spades. When South then bid 3-No Trumps, North took out into 4-Spades. That South then merely went to 6-Spades, though he had a better excuse for grand slam than the fellow who started with 2-Spades.

The useful point here is that the evenly distributed hand was worth more tricks at suit than at No Trumps, not because of its own distribution, but because of the partner's.

Tomorrow's Problem

South: ♠ K 10 6 ♥ A Q 7 ♦ A 8 ♣ J 8 6 5 3

200 Launch Hospital's Fund Drive

Lisa Sergio, Totton And Motley Open Campaign For Larchmont Area

LEADERS OPTIMISTIC

Stressing the theme of a community hospital providing the same care for returning servicemen now available in government hospitals, by the "democratic reality of people working together, caring for their own," the opening gun of the Larchmont-Mamaroneck campaign to raise $750,000 for the New Rochelle Hospital by the end of 1947, was fired Tuesday night with a dinner meeting attended by almost 200 workers at the Bonnie Briar Country Club in Larchmont.

Lisa Sergio, describing a hospital as an essential of community living, urged that "we demonstrate to our wounded and sick returning men that we have built for them and their needs, by giving money, not for the instruments of destruction necessary in wartime, but for constructive improvements for their welfare and that of our community.

"Building together, let us match in spiritual as well as physical care, what our government hospitals have done on such an enormous scale," she urged. "A hospital represents a little piece of America to our men on foreign fronts. Let them return to the comfort of a community hospital."

Presiding as masters of ceremonies were Arthur Motley, publisher and James T. Heenehan, of the hospital board of governors, pinch-hitting for William Clifton Lawton, general chairman, who arranged the program but was unable to be present because of illness.

Balanced by the wit and humor of Mr. Motley and Frank Totton, the program included speakers representing all branches of the New Rochelle Hospital, who emphasized the "vital need for enlarging the hospital and its facilities" and spoke of their pride in its reputation, service to the community, staff and volunteers. A note of optimism was sounded by all the speakers, who echoed the opinion of one that $750,000 is hard to get, but we'll get it, and when the additions are built, we can all say, 'There's my hospital. I helped build it."

"This shouldn't be called a drive," Mr. Heenehan pointed out. "It's not that, in the sense that we have some to use the word in these wartime years. This campaign to raise funds for our community hospital, serving Larchmont, the Pelhams and New Rochelle, is a chance to build a guest room for the sick of our community, a place where happy surroundings will help them recover

Teen Canteen Now Lists 509 As Members

There are now 509 members of the Teen Canteen in Mamaroneck, Earl Quick, adult president, announced at a meeting yesterday afternoon in his office.

"Our most difficult job," Mr. Quick told the other members of the committee, "has been to get the kids to work together as a team. It appears that we may have to come to adult supervision of the various committees. We have discussed this with the youngsters and they seem to be falling in line with the idea."

The art work is progressing well and great strides have been made during the past week, he said.

Charles M. Baxter, Jr., counsel for the group, presented a proposed Certificate of Incorporation under the Membership Laws of the State. Those present signed the certificate and it will be forwarded to Albany as soon as the rest of the signatures have been obtained.

Permission was granted the Mamaroneck Girl Scout Council to use the Canteen quarters Saturday, April 21, from 3 to 6 P. M. by one of the troops having visitors from out of town. William Thrasher, secretary, was instructed to notify the Council.

During a discussion of the treasurer's report, offered by William MacDonald, it was revealed that the initial financing needed to start the Canteen was provided by the Lions Club. Mr. Quick said the club last Summer appropriated $250 to meet organization expenses. The club washed publicity given to the matter, Mr. Quick said.

Other donations have been received since then, Mr. MacDonald said, include $52.41 from the Mamaroneck Junior High School Parent Teacher Association and three anonymous donations of $5, $10 and $11.

Those present included Mr. Quick, Mr. MacDonald, Mr. Thrasher, Arthur E. Martensen, Mr. Baxter and Arthur Dunn, Jr.

Woman Wins Acquittal In Forgery Case

WHITE PLAINS—Mrs. Anna Marolla, 46, of 621 Mamaroneck Avenue, Mamaroneck, was acquitted yesterday afternoon by a County Court Jury on a two-count indictment charging her with forging and cashing a check for $300. The jury, which heard the case before Judge Frederick G. Schmidt, deliberated for less than half an hour before returning its verdict.

Mrs. Marolla, who was represented by Anthony J. Sansone, testified she had been authorized by Mrs. Ruth Kruger of 77 Fellowship Road, New Rochelle, to make out and sign the check. Mrs. Kruger denied this, but Emanuel Schoenfrank, a Mamaroneck furniture dealer, testified Mrs. Marolla had tendered him the check on Oct. 16, and asked that $200 be applied to a furniture purchase and that she be given $100 in cash. He said he had telephoned Mrs. Kruger and had been told it would be all right to do so.

The defendant was employed by Mrs. Kruger as a practical nurse and testified she had signed Mrs. Kruger's name to other checks at her employer's request.

School Classrooms To Get New Lights

Fluorescent lighting will be installed in the Kindergarten and "a few other classrooms" at the Barrv Avenue School during the Summer months, it was announced last night at the meeting of the Rye Neck School Board.

The recommendation was made by Dr. Emil Verilli, district medical officer, and President James Jackson commented that plans had already been made by the Maintenance Committee to install the improved lighting before the Fall term opens.

Playhouse Movie Aids Safety Drive

The film was obtained by Charles A. Gaa, manager of the Playhouse, at the request of Police Chief Arthur W. Martensen and Lt. Pauls.

BRITISH 48 MILES FROM NORTH SEA; YANKS NEAR HIGH ROAD TO BERLIN; RUSSIANS SURGE THROUGH VIENNA

City Proper Now Within Reach Of Soviet Artillery

RIOTS IN VIENNA

STOCKHOLM, (AP)—The Stockholm newspaper Morgontidningen said today that Civil War was reported to have broken out in Vienna. "Native workers, together with foreign workers and deserters, have started action and fights are taking place both in central Vienna and in the outer fortifications on which the Russians are advancing," said the dispatch.

LONDON, (AP). — Powerful Soviet tank and infantry forces, surging through the administrative district of greater Vienna, smashed today to within six miles of the city proper, now within easy reach of Soviet artillery.

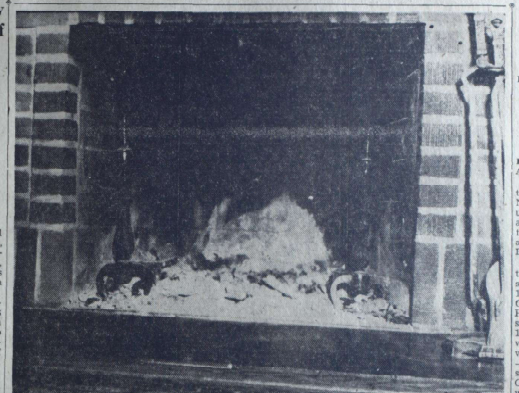
Two massive Russian armies already had deprived the defenders of Vienna of the great bastion of Wiener Neustadt, 22 miles to the south, and were closely pressing Bratislava, 24 miles east of the Austrian capital's city limits.

Main Railroad Cut

Wiener Neustadt, one of the biggest aircraft production centers of the Europe, fell to Marshal Fedor I. Tolbukhin's Third Ukrainian Army which drove on 16 miles to the southwest, capturing Neunkirchen and Gloggnitz. The Russians cut the main Vienna-Venice railroad and a trans-Alpine highway connecting the war arsenals of Austria and Czecho-Slovakia with German troops in Italy.

At Gloggnitz the Russians were within seven miles of the 3,215-foot Semmering Pass and were 137 miles east of Adolf Hitler's mountain retreat at Berchtesgaden.

Moscow announced that the Second and Third Ukrainian armies had captured 23,000 prisoners yesterday, boosting to 75,150 the total taken in Austria, Hungary and Slovakia in three days.



HOW DOES THE EASTER BUNNY COME IN? If the above evidence is an indication of where he left his mark early Sunday morning at the Rivitues home at 203 Frank Avenue, Mamaroneck, he comes down the chimney like Santa Claus! The family left a small fire burning in the fireplace all night Saturday, and Sunday morning when they examined the hearth found the above outline of a bunny, ears, eyes, mouth, furry back and all, on the rear wall of the fireplace. The fire had burned the white outline on the wall, the black surface around it being covered with soot. The peculiar phenomenon was noticed by Arthur Rivituso and his brother, Raymond, who summoned the family and then communicated with the Daily Times and "Believe-it-or-Not" Ripley.

American Tanks 133 Miles From Reich Capital

KESSELRING TRAPPED

U. S. NINTH ARMY, GERMANY, (AP)—Field Marshal Albert Kesselring is believed trapped in the Ruhr pocket between the American First and Ninth Armies.

By JAMES M. LONG
AP Staff

PARIS British troops reached the Ems River 48 miles from the North Sea today in a drive to trap up to 90,000 Germans in Holland and Ninth Army tanks pulled up to the Weser, only 70 miles from Berlin, in a thrust at Leipzig and 110 from the Czech city of Pilsen, where the great Skoda munitions works—Hitler's last major arsenal —are located. Arnstadt is 13 miles southeast of Gotha. Due east of Gotha a Patton tank spearhead was reported 133 miles from Berlin.

Lieut. Gen. William H. Simpson's Fifth Armored Division reached the Weser at Bad Oeynhausen, 183 miles from Berlin, 57 south of Bremen and 103 southwest of Hamburg. A battalion of engineers rode along to bridge the river.

The Germans said the Canadians had crossed the Waal Rhine, presumably at Arnhem, in a drive toward the Zuider Zee—less than 20 miles from Gen. Henry Crerar's vanguards.

The Luxembourg radio asserted that German divisions were being shifted from the Russian to the disintegrating western front. The Ninth Army was said to have encountered the 53 Viking Panzer division, which arrived without tanks).

Karlsruhe Taken

The French First Army today captured Karlsruhe, capital of Baden and an important once communications and industrial center of 189,000 near the upper Rhine.

The Ninth Army's Second Armored Division fought to within eight hemmed Bielefeld into Detmold, 47 miles southwest of Hannover.

The important cities of Osnabrueck, Muenster, Aschaffenburg, Fulda, Siegen and Bruchsal Fell.

Stormed and falling were Kassel, Gotha, Hamm, Heilbronn, Wuerzburg, Mengein and Zutphen.

The American Seventh Army battled to the heart of the Bavarian city of Wuerzbach and south of 14 closed to within 34 miles of Nuernberg on the front beyond the Main River. German resistance there was hardening.

Combined blows by the First and Ninth armies closed down the perimeter of the Ruhr trap to 190 miles at Dorsten. Gen. O. N. Bradley's headquarters raised the estimate on doomed German troops in the annihilation zone to between 120,000 and 150,000.

Near Russians

Little more than the width of Indiana separated Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army from Russian front lines The forces were last reported 160 miles apart nearly a day ago.

The Canadian First Army, forging a trap within a trap on the Germans once estimated at 80,000 in Holland, cut more communications to the rocket coast of the Netherlands from which the Nazis have bombarded England.

The nearest British approach to the North Sea was north of captured Nordhorn. The Guards Armored Division, advancing a minimum of nine miles overnight, reached the Ems at a point 45 miles northwest of Osnabrueck.

Showers drenched the front, giving the Germans in Holland a third successive day in which to flee without the maximum lashing of Allied air power. The Germans were doing just that; they had massed barges on coast of the Zuider Zee, perhaps for an attempted water escape.

End Not Far Off

This was the 300th day after the first invasion boats touched the beaches of Normandy, and Gen. Eisenhower declared in another demand for German surrender:

"The end is not far off."

MANPOWER BILL BEATEN

WASHINGTON, (AP).—President Roosevelt's request for compulsory manpower controls lay buried today beneath the weight of a 46 to 29 Senate death blow.

School Board To Name Rye Survey Group

Since the members of the Rye Neck Board of Education are the elected representatives of the school district, they are the only group with the authority to appoint the members of any commission from this area who will make a year's study of the city of Rye-Rye Neck school boundary problem, James Jackson, president of the board, said last night.

Replying to a question from Trustee Edgar B. Burchell, Jr., at the board meeting, as to how the appointment of the Rye Neck representatives will be made, Mr. Jackson said that only the board members have power to appoint.

"I thought the Citizens' Committee expected to have a hand in the appointment," Trustee Burchell added.

President Jackson repeated his statement and added that the Citizens' Committee had "rendered valuable assistance" during the recent fight to delete from the Rye school consolidation bill the clause which would have divorced Greenhaven and Edith Palmer estate from the Rye Neck School district.

"There's no doubt," President Jackson continued, "that the letters and telegrams from this area had a real effect. That bill was being discussed all over the state."

Trustee Benjamin Scherer, reporting for the maintenance committee, said that bids have been received for Summer work to be done on the buildings and that plans for it are under way.

Standards Maintain 3 Game Lead In Daily Times Loop

The Sports Spotter

By THE SPORTS EDITOR

BACK AGAIN

Bill Kuritzky, last year's manager of the Institute squad in the Twilight Softball League, managed to time things just about right. It's no fault of his, though. Bill was called into service near the end of last season after the Institute boys were well out of the race. But it seems that he'll be back to lead the outfit again this season. He's just received a medical discharge from the service and, although he was a bit non-commital about taking part in any softball activity, we feel that it's a safe prediction that he'll be on hand next Monday when final arrangements are made for league play and that he'll be out there either playing, managing or rooting for his Institute boys.

Ten Teams

Thinking about softball it looks as though there'll be ten squads in the loop this season. At least we've received ten tentative entries. The outfits are busy just now making up their rosters and if all can find enough players to fill up the ten rosters the squads will all compete. One serious difficulty faces the teams in that high school players will not be available before the middle of June. The league hopes to open before the end of April and that'll mean a month and a half of play with curtailed rosters. Can't be helped, though, and we kind of agree with the coaches who've ordered their boys not to play softball until the high school season is over. Although the games are played with practically the same rules there seems to be a difficulty in a player taking part in both. Hitting, in particular, appears to suffer. So maybe the trouble of getting players will force the softball loop to eight teams for the first half. And then again maybe not. At least we hope not.

Look Good

To turn to baseball. We've not seen a Bellows practice but we've heard that the Panthers look a lot better than last year. They were pretty sad then. However, with experience, particularly in the pitching staff the East Enders ought to turn in a far better record than last season's three wins and nine losses. We understand there's a hurling comer at Panthertown in young Joe Paonessa, chunky right hander, and that some of the boys, Pete Laise in particular, are rapidly developing power at the plate.

Equippers Blank Engineers As Centrals Wallop Lions; Grosso Kegles 616 Series

Team standings:

Engineers	17	67	.202
Lions	13	71	.155

The Higher Standards went on their merry way toward the championship of the Daily Times League last night as they held their three-game lead over the Equippers by shellacking the Rec quintet by 3—0 while the Equippers were turning back the Engineers by a like score. The Standards, however, didn't take their triumph without a real battle. Len Grosso of the Recs turned up with a 616 triple and garnered high single for the night when he kegled 225 in his second game. Unfortunately for the Rec outfit Jim O'Neill carded a 580 for the Standards and Sam Gianunzio, anchoring the Standard quintet, walloped the timbers for a 597. Those two scores nullified Grosso's stellar alley work.

The Equippers, meanwhile, were keeping pace with the Standard outfit although making no dent in the lead enjoyed by the front-runners. Picking on the Engineers the Equippers five had an easy time and won all three games by overwhelming scores. The final count showed the Equippers almost 350 pins better than their victims.

A third shutout went to the Centrals over the Lions. Both teams bowled with a blind but the Centrals enjoyed the higher blind score and took the third game on the basis of their bowler who just wasn't there. Otherwise, the hapless Leos, who are having trouble turning out a team now that the Lions League has closed, were just outclassed and kept their spot at the bottom of the loop.

The fourth match, the only one that didn't go by a shutout score, was won by the Victory Five over the Acres All Stars. The Acres outfit saved themselves from a shutout with an 18-pin victory in the final game.

Fifty Report For Hilltop Diamond Team

Several veterans of last year's Mamaroneck High School baseball team were at hand yesterday as the squad belatedly began practice sessions for the season which will open less than three week's hence. With the first game carded for April 23 the Hilltoppers are well behind other county squads in opening their practice sessions.

Yesterday's initial drill, necessarily a light one, was held under the watchful eye of Bill Celestino who is subbing for Coach Ed Storey. Storey will take charge of the squad after the School's Easter vacation.

Celestino sent the team through a light batting drill and then organized an inter-squad game in which the pitchers, enjoying their first day of work, just tossed the ball over the platter. The game lasted three innings and Celestino used practically every man on the squad in an attempt to get a line on the various candidates.

Among those who turned out from last year's team were hurler Rocco Stingone, first-sacker Marv Mitchell and outfielders Charlie Rigano and Jim McKernan.

The team will work out regularly during the Easter vacation and is scheduled for its first game on April 23 against the Fearon-led Bellows outfit.

La Salva Takes Decision Over Pete De Ruzza

By FRED STAFFORD
Sports Staff

WHITE PLAINS—Youth and headiness had their fling at the expense of age and experience before 6,000 County Center ring fans last night as Vince LaSalva of Mount Vernon clearly and completely outpointed Pete DeRuzza of Mamaroneck.

Far from returning DeRuzza a winner, as had been anticipated in many quarters, this all-county set-to developed into a hands-down, one-sided victory for his young Mount Vernon rival who used dart-and-dance policy with resounding success.

LaSalva stuck his left in DeRuzza's face all night, relied on his vibrant legs to dance out of harm's way, blocked DeRuzza's right so completely the Mamaroneck mittman failed to land a real damaging shot through the eight rounds, and came away with a lopsidedly unanimous decision.

Ref Ed Joseph gave DeRuzza one round to LaSalva's seven but Pete didn't get even that much from Judges Sam Austin and John Palermo, each of whom tabbed seven for Vince and one even. Our score sheet duplicated these two, with DeRuzza gaining only a split in the seventh chapter.

DeRuzza, at 153½, had a six pound weight pull over LaSalva, who weighed 147½.

In the undercard Joey Gambaro, 145, Puerto Rican from The Bronx, outpointed comebacking Johnny Rinaldi, 143, also of The Bronx; Clarence (Cotton) King, one time Port Chester caddy, and Dom Yovella, Poughkeepsie middleweight, won in two sixes. King, 136½, outpointed Herbie Solomon, 135¾, Bronx Negro and Yovella, 163, decisioned Freddie Graham, 157, Harlem Negro.

In fours, Tony Mancuso, 146½, Montreal, punched out a victory over Georgie Bass, 144½, New York, and Rocco Lescio, 141, Brooklyn, knocked out Ellie Simley, 139, Harlem Negro, in 2:58 of the first heat.

Destroyer Trio Triumphs, 2-1; Takes Junior Bowling Title

Final Team Standings

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Destroyers	22	17	.564
Carriers	20	19	.513
Tankers	19	20	.487
Subs	17	22	.436

The Destroyers of the Larchmont Junior League nailed down the championship in the circuit when they outrolled the last place Subs in the league's last matches and won the title from the Carriers by a 2-1 count. With scoring comparatively low the champion Destroyer trio took the first game by plenty, eased up a bit in the second game to win by 34 pins and then, with the league title in the bag, let down in the third fray as the Subs put on a rally to eke out a 17-maple victory.

While the Destroyer outfit was clinching the championship the Carriers and Tankers were fighting a hot duel for second place. The Tankers won the match by 2-1 but had not the Carriers taken that one victory the two outfits would have been knotted up for the spot. As it was the Carrier three took the runner-up position by just one game over the Tankers.

High scores for the last matches went to Sid Nordenschild who rolled a 190 to take top string and to John Lightfoot whose 464 series led the youthful keglers.

After the matches Len Grosso of the Rec alleys gave the youngsters a blow out and provided prizes for the victors. Pins were presented to each member of the Destroyers and to individual high bowlers in the loop. Bob Wilson, who copped practically everything but was eligible for only one prize according to the rules, chose high average award. His mark was 145.51. Gene O'Callaghan of the Tankers took high game with 207 while John Lightfoot of the Carriers won high series prize with 493.

Westerner Takes National Court Scoring Honors

NEW YORK, (AP).—Big Vince Hanson, of Washington State in the Pacific Northwest, won the 1945 national collegiate individual high scoring basketball race with 592 points, a final compilation by the Associated Press showed today.

George Mikan, of DePaul, who scored 53 points in one game for a Madison Square Garden record, finished second with 558 points. Ernie Calverley, of Rhode Island State, and Fred Lewis, of Eastern Kentucky, tied for third at 549 while Fritz Nagy, of Akron, was fifth with 547.

dunked 240 field goals and 112 charity throws. Mikan rimmed 218 doubledeckers and 122 one-pointers in 24 games. He missed a possible chance of overtaking Hanson when he fouled out on personals in the first half of the game last week against the Oklahoma Aggies for the mythical national title.

Dick Wilkins, who helped Oregon beat Washington State in the playoff for the northern division title of the Pacific Coast League, scored 535 points to finish sixth, nine points ahead of Dick Hole, of Rhode Island State, the only other player to break the 500 point mark.

New York TO-NIGHT

WHEN the curtain went up at the St. James Theatre on 44th Street in New York Saturday night, March 31st, it marked the second birthday of that healthy theatrical youngster, "Oklahoma!" An idea of the things that happen when a show finds itself the most sought after in years can be gleaned from a review of figures which Bob Howard, treasurer, has compiled. In the two years "Oklahoma!" has been running, he reports there has never been an empty seat; as a matter of fact, every performance has had its full quota of standees. Quoting from the official records (based on March 31) a total of 1,336,974 seats has been sold at the St. James; 43,414 standees have also seen the show. The income during that period has been $3,182,400. Of the total seats sold, 48,288 went for half-price to servicemen and women at 32 special performances given exclusively for them.

Adding to the "Oklahoma!" mother company is the National Company, which spent 60 weeks in Chicago, playing to 842,000 persons, ringing up a healthy box-office gross of $1,830,000 to break every musical show record in that city. Adding figures of the two companies together gives the following result: Performances 1,573; tickets sold, 2,443,388; income $5,590,400.

Although he has recorded countless popular songs in his decade of popularity, Bandleader Sammy Kaye says his recording of "Easter Parade" brings more fan letters than any other tune he has ever presented. Its reappearance on juke-boxes and radio-transcriptions now is again being requested more than any of his newer tunes. Sammy brings his Orchestra "in person" to the Capitol Theatre Thursday, April 5th, with his radio personalities, including Nancy Norman, Billy Williams, Arthur Wright and Ernie Rudisill. Rosario and Antonio, featured Spanish Gypsy dancers in "Ziegfeld Follies," "Stage Door Canteen" and "Pan America," are also featured in the show, with radio's comic ventro-mimic, Paul Winchell, as the extra added headliner. On the screen, United Artists brings "I'll Be Seeing You," starring Ginger Rogers, Joseph Cotten and Shirley Temple. The current show, with "The Picture of Dorian Gray" on the screen, and Xavier Cugat and orchestra, and Lena Horne and Paul Regan, remains until Wednesday night.

Milkmen Triumph By 2-1 But Drop Into Tie For Rec League Lead

Diners Batter Soundviews; Driscoll Hits 247 String

With only three matches to go before the season comes to an end the Diners and Milkmen of the Mamaroneck Recreation league are all messed up in a tie for first place as the Diner five took a 3—0 match from the Soundviews last night while the Milkmen relinquished their one game lead when the A. B. C. quintet staged a mild rebellion by taking one of the three games from the Milkers. The victory set a record for the A. B. C. bowlers who won their fourth straight and finally got out of sole possession of the league cellar. They've got companions in the doghouse now since the Soundviews fell into a deadlock for the loop's bottom spot.

A third match saw the Recs, led by Charlie Spero's stellar kegling, top the Blueprinters by 3—0. Spero turned in the most consistent work of the night when he carded a 597 triple. The Rec anchor man, however, had to yield high single to Bill Driscoll of the Soundview quintet. Driscoll missed setting a new record for the league by only three pins when he kegled a 247 in his final string.

Big Trout Season Opening Saturday

ALBANY, (AP)—The trout season opening Saturday will be the most productive in 20 years, says the State Conservation Department.

The greatest poundage of brook, brown and rainbow trout ever stocked by the State and unusually favorable weather and stream conditions were factors cited by the department in making the good fishing forecast.

Each successful angler on opening day is urged by Acting Commissioner J. Victor Skiff to return one trout to the water . . . with the wish that it will grow and take another fisherman's lure some day—a veteran's."

Saturday's opening does not apply in 18 northern and western counties where the season starts April 21.

The daily limit is 10 trout of not less than seven inches. With these exceptions: 15 in Nassau and Suffolk Counties, and three in lakes only of Westchester and Putnam Counties. The limit of 10 applies to Westchester and Putnam streams.

LACH MOST VALUABLE

MONTREAL, (AP) — Elmer Lach of the Montreal Canadiens, was named winner of the Hart Trophy, designating him the most valuable player in the circuit.

Hurlers Shine In Hilltopper's Diamond Drill

By HANNO FUCHS

Mamaroneck High School's 1945 baseball team is slowly beginning to take the shape of a definite unit, after three days of practice sessions at Manchester Field. Under the supervision of Bill Celestino, substituting for Coach Ed Storey, the candidates have all worked out at their positions, and an indefinite picture of the probable starting nine has been formed.

When the Tigers Battle Bellows in the season's opener, the pitching chores will probably go to Rocky Stingone, although Dick Morrison put in a strong bid yesterday as he hurled four hitless innings in a practice tilt, while giving up only two walks. Receiving the slants of the Bengal moundsman, Jim Newman stood out as the number one candidate for the backstop post.

The Bengals' infield will probably shape up with Marvin Mitchell at first, Joe Cottrell at second, Ronnie Pelletier at short and "Footsie" Gironda at the hot corner. However, these boys are hard-pressed for their positions by Walt Frank, hard-hitting infielder, and Harry Brown, a veteran of last season, who may see some service before he is called for induction by the U. S. Navy.

Charlie Rigano, Jim McDermott, and Jack McKernan comprise a solidly hitting outfield. However, the status of Jack McKernan, one of last year's leading batsmen, has also been made dubious by Uncle Sam.

Yesterday morning's workout, held in a chilly breeze which threatened to put kinks into unseasoned throwing arms, was a snappy session of batting and fielding practice climaxed by a four inning inter-squad contest. Jack DuBois' nine was shut out by Dick Morrison's fine hurling which held them hitless, while their opponents, captained by Charlie Rigano, gathered two runs, one of them unearned, off Rocky Stingone, who showed plenty of speed despite the unexpected cold.

The only solid clout of the contest was a line drive down the left field foul line by Morrison, which rolled out to the wall for an inside-the-park home run. Sidney Nordenschild's single to right was the only other blow of the tight pitching duel.

GaribaldiMeets Rohde Tonight

WHITE PLAINS — The grunt and groan clan makes its third weekly invasion of the County Center tonight with a varied lineup which is topped by the first appearance here of Gino Garibaldi, most famous of the well-known grappling Garibaldis.

The Italian catch-as-catch-can master, who has been on the mat with the best in the game, faces Herman (Dutch) Rohde, handsome New Jersey contender, in the feature fray to a finish.

The 30-minute, one-fall semiwindup introduces Utica's Pat Healy against Martin (Blimp) Levy, the 640-pound, world's heaviest grappler.

Two other half hour bouts complete the lineup, with "villains" pitted against "heroes" in each of these. Ivan Kakturoff, Russian badman, engages Dave Levin, onetime champ, and Al Galento, Jersey "villain" meets Ace Freeman, popular and speedy Bronx matman.

UNANIMOUS CONFUSION

QUINCY, ILL., (AP)—Last November voters in Adams County, including Quincy, approved a county health district to replace the city district. Machinery to set up the new district was set in motion, the only hitch being that Quincy had to vote the abolition of the city district. Quincy voters yesterday rejected the proposal and officials intimated the voters didn't understand the ballot. And the officials said they didn't know what to do to straighten out the situation.

Murchison Uprising Trounces Tiger Five In County Tourney

The Tigers, champions of the Mamaroneck Recreation circuit, trekked over to the County Center last night to engage the Murchison Worms of White Plains in the opening round of the intermediate division of the County Amateur basketball tournament. The Tigers, who had won 13 straight games in league play, found themselves stopped as the Worms turned and, sparked by a fourth-quarter rally, upset the Tiger quintet by 32-24.

The game was tight throughout until the Mamaroneck five tired in the last period. The County seat outfit held a two-point advantage at the quarter but big Willy Carter's work under the basket and off the backboards evened matters at 14-all when the halftime whistle blew. The third period saw the Murchison team take a one-point lead, but a spirited fourth-canto uprising upped that by seven points and in the final few minutes the Tigers weren't in the battle.

Most of the Worms' margin was a matter of charity on the part of the Tigers as the victors scored a total of 10 points from the 15-foot line while the Tiger outfit was able to garner only four.

Bob Carey of the victors and Willy Carter of the Tigers were tied for scoring honors, each meshing four goals from the field to garner eight points.

SHORT REINS FOR OWNERS

ALBANY, (AP) — New York's Governor Thomas E. Dewey yesterday signed a bill by which any officer, member or employe of the State Racing or Harness Racing Commissions will lose his job if he "participates" in races under jursdiction of his Commission. The new amendment to the pari-mutuel revenue law defines a participant as a horse owner, a contestant or a person having pecuniary interest in the purse, prize, premium or stake of the race.

Parks Shut Out Recs In Community Loop As Clippers Win Forfeit

Jesters Turn Back Derbys; Whitman Rolls Top Series

A combination of forfeits and blinds almost ruined the Larchmont Community League last night at two of the teams gave up three games without a struggle and a total of five blind scores were counted in the totals of three squads. Offending for the third week in a row, the Larchmont Lions dropped a 3—0 forfeit to the Postmen. The Leos have failed to appear at community loop matches since the Lions League closed. They can't win the championship or get anywhere near winning, but a single victory here or there might have an effect on the title chances of the front-runners. As it is, the leonine keglers merely appear to be giving up.

The other forfeit went to the Clippers over the Misfits, while the matches which were really contested were won by the Parks over the Recs and by the Jesters over the Derbys. The Clippers, winning by 3—0, kept pace with the league leading Parks and still have a chance for the title. The Jesters, in a low-scoring match, turned back the Derby quintet by 2—1.

Whitman of the Postmen copped high triple for the night when he hit 566 and rolled high single with a 222 effort. Don Treganowan wasn't far behind with a 563 series and a 221 string.

Names Battle Wolf Five In CenterTourney

With the Mamaroneck Tigers eliminated, the last hope of a local victory in the Westchester County amateur basketball tournament at the County Center rests with the Holy Name quintet which plays its initial game tonight at nine o'clock at the County Center. The Murchison Worms knocked the Tigers out of the competition on Wednesday and the Holy Name outfit, meeting the West Harrison Wolves tonight, are the only other Mamaroneck squad entered in the tourney.

A nine game slate is on tap for tonight as the teams go into action at seven o'clock with all three County Center courts slated for action.

With the juniors already through the first round, the light juniors tonight stage four second round contests and the intermediates finish up their first swing with a quartet of games. Tonight's ninth contest is an open division clash between Yonkers at St. Mary's and the New Rochelle Demons. The other open entries, as well as the juniors, are idle until tomorrow night when six contests will be played.

White Plains and Ossining each have three teams in action tonight while the tourney's lone returning title-defenders, the Harrison Panthers of the light junior class, also are slated for play.

Tonight's slate:

Light Junior Division

7 P. M.—W. Plains Daredevils vs. Harrison Panthers, Ossining Presbyterians vs. No. Tarrytown Shawnees, Mt. Vernon Vandies vs. W. Plains Fighting Flirts.

8 P. M.—Ossining Star of Bethlehem vs. Yonkers Y.

Intermediate Division

8 P. M.—No. Tarrytown Wrens Days vs. Yonkers Y Sharks, Hastings So. Side vs. Mt. Vernon Tulanes.

9 P. M.—W. Harrison Wolves vs. Mamaroneck Holy Name, Ossining Legionnaires vs. W. Plains Central AC.

Twilight Softballers Plan Monday Meeting

Final arrangements for the Twilight Softball League's season play will be made Monday at 8 P. M. when the managers of the teams who plan to enter the loop will meet at the Daily Times office.

Last Monday's preliminary meeting showed at least ten teams interested in the circuit and tentative plans call for a league of that size with each team meeting the other nine twice during the season. The opener will probably be played on April 23 and Monday's meeting is expected to produce a schedule as well as a final alignment of teams for the league.

Charlie Lanza, league president, has called the conclave and urges every interested squad to be sure of representation at the meeting.

3 Pre-Season Tilts Carded For Panthers

Coach Jack Fearon's Blue and Black diamond squad of Bellows High is slated to get three practice games under its belt before beginning serious interscholastic competition, according to an announcement made by Fearon last night. By the time Panther fans read this the first of the pre-season tilts will be over since the Rye Garnet outfit planned to play the East Enders at one o'clock today at Harbor Island Field.

The other two training battles are both scheduled against the powerful Iona Prep baseballers and will be played next week with Iona playing host to the Panthers on Tuesday and then travelling to Harbor Island for a Friday game.

The Blue and Black squad, made up mostly of veterans, will probably line up with Bob Joyce at the initial sack, Wally Huntley at second, Jim Bianca at short, and Warren Bascome completing the inner defense at third base. In the outfield Fearon will probably start Art O'Neill, Witch Lanza, and Pete Laise. Rocky Orsino is due to go back of the bat while the genial Panther mentor will probably use Duke Cleary and Benjy Herman together with Joe Paonessa as his hurlers.

The Panther season is due to start on April 23 with a battle against Coach Ed Storey's Orange and Black Mamaroneck High team.

County Golf Courses Open On April 14

Westchester's four County-owned golf courses, with higher weekday fees, will open for the 1945 season April 14, it was announced today by George S. Haight, park superintendent. The courses are Mohansic in Yorktown, Sprain Lake in Yonkers and Greenburgh, Maplemoor in White Plains and Saxon Woods in Scarsdale.

"The courses wintered well and new grass tees have been made available on some courses, as the players seem to prefer these to the mats," said Haight. "We are also painting the buildings and expect to have the courses in excellent condition by starting day."

The fee for weekdays, Monday through Friday, has been advanced from 75 cents to $1, said Haight, to meet increasing costs of maintenance under wartime conditions, but other fees will remain at $1.25 on Saturdays and $1.50 on Sundays and holidays.

There will be no reservations. Another wartime casualty is the elimination of season tickets, as was done last year.

Browns, Yanks Annex Shore Club Matches

The Browns and the Yanks of the Larchmont Shore Club American and National bowling circuits earned the right to play off for the club's championship when they recently eliminated the Cardinals and the Cubs in matches at the Shore Club alleys.

The Browns had easy going in walloping the Cubs and played only two of the three scheduled games, taking both by comfortable margins. The Yanks, however, found the road to the final playoff round tough as they were forced to come from behind and take the final two games after dropping the first. The Yank quintet did the best bowling of the matches when it hit a 987 in its middle game with every man on the outfit carding close to the double century mark.

The finale between the Browns and the Yanks will be contested on Saturday night at the Shore Club.

Stripes Bury Red Trio, 3-0; Blues And Whites Triumph

TEAM STANDINGS

Competition in the Victory Bowling League practically came to an end last night as the Stripes, who have already clinched the championship, whipped the Reds by 3-0 while the Whites made sure of second place by taking a 2-1 triumph from the Stars and the Blues just about nailed down the third slot by triumphing over the Eagles by a 3-0 score.

Neither of the first two teams can be displaced in the final two matches, which are all the league has on its slate. The Blues, however, in third place, may fall to fourth but it will take a near miracle to do it as the Blue trio needs only one victory in six games to assure itself of at least a tie for the third position.

Last night's kegling in the loop was of the desultory sort as Mrs. Kay Rickert had high triple with a 480, based on three consistent games. The champion Stripes were the team leaders with a 1348 series while high single game went to Mrs. Gladys Sibley, also of the Stripes, who kegled a 175 in her first effort.

Destiny

with GLORIA JEAN ... ALAN CURTIS

New York TO-NIGHT

THE plush 1870's, that lush period noted for its be-ruffled and be-gemmed ladies, mauve-vested gentlemen, champagne parties and ornate decoration, serve as the background for the eye-filling musical, "Up In Central Park," producer Michael Todd's latest hit show now playing to capacity audiences at the Century Theatre in New York.

The story of "Up In Central Park," devised by Herbert and Dorothy Fields, comes virtually from the files of the history of New York. It tells how William Marcey Tweed, head man of the infamous "Tweed Ring," swindled Gotham's citizens out of huge sums of money, allegedly spent for the construction of Central Park. The climax is reached when the clean-up crusade, vigorously conducted by the New York Times and Harper's Weekly, results in the criminal indictment of Boss Tweed and his gang of political grafters. Into this background has been woven the romance of John Matthews, star reporter of The Times, and Rosie Moore, an aspiring singer.

Sigmund Romberg, dean of composers of American operetta, has contributed the score, which has been hailed by music critics as the loveliest of his long and distinguished career. Probably Romberg is best remembered for such noted musical productions as "Maytime," "New Moon," "Student Prince," and "The Desert Song."

Howard Bay, noted scene designer, has used as the basis of his elaborate settings Currier and Ives lithographs from well known private collections and print shops, and the rich and colorful costumes have been designed by Grace Houston and Ernest Schraps. The dances have been created and executed by choreographer Helen Tamiris, one of the leaders in her field.

Featured in the large cast are Wilbur Evans, Betty Bruce, Noah Beery, Charles Irwin, Maureen Cannon, Fred and Elaine Barry, Walter Burke, Maurice Burke, Paul Reed, Delma Byron, Kay Griffith, Guy Standing, Jr., and many others.

5 Firemen Injured Battling 7-Hour Beach Club Blaze; Origin Still Undetermined

Smoke still seeped today from the ashes inside the charred shell of what was once the Crescent Beach Club, later known as the Westchester Sun and Surf Club, one of Orienta Point's beach resorts, which was consumed by flames yesterday during the early hours of the afternoon.

The cause of the blaze which wrecked the structure for an estimated loss of between $50,000 and $60,000, was still undetermined today as was the exact location of the source of the smoke which Lieut. Herman Pauls and Patrolman Alton Palmer detected during their routine inspection of the building a few minutes before the blaze tore through the building.

Five firemen suffered from cuts and bruises and others received treatment for smoke in their lungs. Those who received first aid on the scene were Charles Guadagnola, Hugh Hardwick and Philip Steen of the Weaver Street department; Duncan McPhail of Larchmont and Michael Tripicco of Hook and Ladder, Mamaroneck.

Residents of the Orienta Point Apartments assisted by providing materials and stimulants as Edward Schacklinsky, Joseph Mascle and W. J. Zigmund rendered first aid. Another group of women from the apartment house served coffee to the men.

The fire was finally blown out at 6:52 P. M., more than seven hours after the general alarm was sent out.

Sgt. Joseph Palmer, at the desk at Police Headquarters when the report came, said this morning that he called Chief Edward Livingston with the words, "Well, I've got your first job for you, Chief."

He thought it would mean merely an inspection of the premises to determine the cause of the odor the police officers had detected. "I never thought it would turn into anything like that!" he added today. "The new chief had some initiation!"

Ed Livingston Becomes Chief Of Firemen

Assistant Chief Edward Livingston was elected head of the Village of Mamaroneck Fire Department Thursday night at the annual departmental elections, succeeding Chief James Duggan who has served for the last year.

Others elected were Richard Grainger, assistant chief, and Michael Orsino of the Volunteer Company, who became third assistant or "baby" chief. Following the elections at the Hook and Ladder Fire House, department members enjoyed a buffet supper at Mamaro, the new chief's headquarters. Capt. Walter Webber, Jr., acted as chairman of the affair assisted by John Pokorny, Hugh McCall and E. J. Hausler.

The new chief was installed by Village Manager William Johnson; Trustee John Withers installed first assistant Grainger, and Domenick Samela installed the "baby" chief.

Mayor B. J. Santoro presented Mr. Duggan the ex-chief's badge.

Husband Arrested On Wife's Accusation

Milford Douglass, 36, of 705 Cedar Street, Mamaroneck, was arrested late yesterday afternoon by Patrolman William Panessa on a charge of third degree assault. The complainant was his wife, Mrs. Victoria Douglass, who told the police he had hit her on the face and arms and knocked her down. He was scheduled to appear late this morning in Village of Mamaroneck Police Court.

Susie's Exploration Turns Dull Afternoon At Beauty Parlor Into Lively Affair

It looked like a dull afternoon ahead for seven-year-old Susie Thompson yesterday. There was nothing to do. Nothing but sit around a beauty parlor and wait while her mother had her hair done.

But before the afternoon was over and the hairdo completed, Suzy turned bedlam loose in the more or less humdrum confines of Frank and Dante's Shop on Halstead Avenue, giving 15 customers screaming hysterics, driving eight operators into the backyard and putting the heroic Mr. Dante on a par with St. George, the dragon-slayer.

Susie, it seems, wandered into the lot in the rear of the beauty shop to while away the time and, after a few moments of intense boredom, noticed a slithering form in the rocks of a light tan shade and about a foot and a half long. Upon closer investigation, she found there was not one but two slithering forms—and right then the afternoon took on a golden glow for Susie because, as her stricken mother later informed Frank and Dante, she is "very fond of snakes."

Whether or not the general public shares her fondness did not occur to Susie at the moment—or, did it?—and she decided to share her find with Frank and Dante's unsuspecting customers, all in various phases of beauty development.

So in went Susie with the snakes.

She turned them loose in the booth where her mother was seated and, it may have been sudden contact with the surface of the floor or the comparative darkness of the lower region of the room but, for a moment, nothing happened.

Then the pair began to find their way around the operator's feet and Susie, unable to stand the suspense any longer, finally murmured, "Mommie — look!"

Mommie looked. And that was

$1,500 Blaze Damages Home In Larchmont

Damage estimated by Chief John T. Breunich at about $1,500 resulted from a fire which yesterday damaged the residence at 4 Lyons Place, Larchmont. The kitchen was almost demolished and adjoining rooms were blackened with smoke.

Smoke was pouring out of the eaves when firemen arrived on the scene at 2:32 P. M. Pumper No. 1 of the Larchmont Fire Department, which was covering Mamaro Fire House in Mamaroneck during the blaze at the Westchester Sun and Surf Club, was dispatched to the scene by the county control center. Already in operation were Pumper No. 2, Hook and Ladder No. 1 and the Patrol Company from the Larchmont Department, and Engine No. 2 from the Weaver Street Fire House. An aerial truck from Weaver Street was sent back to the fire house shortly after it arrived on the scene.

Charred and water-soaked beams with blistered paint remained of the kitchen when the fire was brought under control almost an hour and a half later. Holes made in the kitchen ceiling penetrated to the bedroom floor above and sections of plaster were chopped out of walls of the stairway leading to the upstairs rooms.

Much damage was prevented, according to Chief Breunich, by the swift action of the Patrol Company in covering the furniture with salvage covers.

Checking possible sources to determine the origin of the blaze, Chief Breunich pointed out a step-on waste receptacle with no inner pail, which might have allowed burning material to fall through, had someone thrown a flammable article into it.

The pail was badly charred and stood in the place where damage was most apparent.

Neither Mr. nor Mrs. James F. Hayes, residents of the two-story stucco dwelling, were at home when the fire broke out. The alarm was called in by a neighbor of an adjoining house on Monroe Avenue. Mrs. Hayes was located at a Red Cross workroom, Chief Breunich stated.

Three of the four Larchmont chiefs renominated for office the night before were on the scene. They were, in addition to Chief Breunich, John Haycock, first deputy; and F. M. Taylor, second deputy.

Covering the Larchmont Fire Department at headquarters, while the Village apparatus was out on the Lyons Place fire was the city service apparatus from Weaver Street.

Fight Rages For 2 Days Off Japan

391 Enemy Planes Also Destroyed In Sea Conflict

U. S. LOSES 3 SHIPS

GUAM, (AP) — Six Japanese warships, including their largest remaining battleship, the 45,000-ton Yamato, and 391 enemy planes were destroyed in a two-day battle between planes and surface units of the two fleets yesterday and today only 50 miles from Japan, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced.

Three United States destroyers were sunk, several others and some smaller craft damaged. Seven planes were lost.

Japanese fleet losses in addition to the battleship were one Agano class light cruiser, one other light cruiser, and three destroyers.

This was the long hoped for battle when the reluctant Japanese fleet at last came out to do battle with the mighty U. S. Third Fleet which has been cruising for weeks through the Ryukyu Islands southeast of Japan.

The Imperial Fleet was discovered by scouting Navy planes as it pulled out from the Inland Sea where it was heavily raked last month by Adm. Marc A. Mitscher's fast carrier forces.

Powerful Japanese air forces struck as the Japanese fleet bore down on the American fleet. On the first night of the battle, Friday, 116 Japanese planes were shot down, 35 of them by fighters and the rest by anti-aircraft fire.

They sank three U. S. destroyers and damaged several other destroyers and smaller craft.

Yanks Counter

American carrier aircraft counter-attacked Saturday.

The Yamato, an Agano class cruiser, another light cruiser and three destroyers were sunk as Yank pilots roared through heavy antiaircraft fire. They encountered no defending planes.

Damage to the enemy was inflicted 50 miles southwest of Japan itself.

Japanese warplanes based only 400 miles away pounced belatedly on the vast American invasion armada off Okinawa yesterday and at least 150 were shot down in the first major air battle since D-day. The fight likely was continuing today.

Nimitz acknowledged in his communique today that some U. S. ships received minor damage, but said "all remained fully operational." Some 1,400 ships were involved in Sunday's invasion of Okinawa in the Ryukyus 325 miles south of Japan itself.

Attack British Fleet

Japanese planes launched a concerted attack earlier on the British Pacific fleet, operating as a self-contained group in support of the Okinawa campaign, as it shelled and bombed the southern Ryukyus March 31 through April 2.

He is a member of the Harvard Club and the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Regiment of Boston, having served as a Marine Corps lieutenant during the first World War.

Before coming to Washington, Mr. Caffrey was regional director of the Boston office of the SEC. He is a member of the Larchmont Shore Club, American Legion, Friendly Sons of St. Patrick and is affiliated with the Catholic Charities Association.

Mr. Caffrey, a graduate of Suffolk Law School in 1923, succeeds Robert H. O'Brien, who has resigned.

The Sports Spotter

By THE SPORTS EDITOR

The Bellows Panthers got their first real taste of competition yesterday afternoon when Coach Warren Harvey's Rye Garnet outfit came to town. The Panthers came off second best in the practice tilt but showed definite possibilities even though they lost.

Jack Fearon's outfield appears to be just about set. O'Neill, Lanza, and Pete Laise grabbed everything that came their way and, although none of them managed to get a single in a game which saw the pitchers almost completely overpower the batters, the outer gardeners got a couple of solid smacks with Laise almost flooring Ebetino with a line drive. The Rye hurler, however, picked up the pill and tossed him out.

The East End infield appeared a bit porous on the left side and Jim Bianca's arm leaves something to be desired for a shortstop. In the first frame Bianca just managed to get the ball as far as first base on an easy chance. Tim Harvey got a bit out of the matter but a clothes line instead of a hooper to the initial sack would have earned Bianca an assist and Bobby Joyce a putout. Later on, another weak throw on a force-out at second robbed the Panthers of the season's first double play, but that toss was somewhat interfered with by the runner coming into the keystone.

As far as pitching is concerned the East End nurlers were to blame for three of the four runs scored by Rye. Cleary walked two in the second frame and both scored, although it did take an error and a solid hit to count them. Ben Herman passed Narr in the fifth and Narr counted. The runs were directly traceable to walks. Joe Pasquale, Rye backstop, scored the only other Garnet run when he managed the pellet into deep left field in the seventh. The ball was on the line and was ruled in fair territory but it rolled into foul ground and under a truck where Art O'Neill couldn't get it before Pasquale had rounded the sacks.

We shouldn't talk about the hitting. Neither team could do much with the sticks and both ended up with three safeties. Huntley, Orsino and Joyce gathered the Bellows singles while Taylor and Pasquale were the Rye hitters.

Oh, yes, the score: it was 4-2 in favor of Rye but if Coach Fearon's charges show the improvement which can be expected in the next two weeks of practice then the Panthers will end up with a far better record than the three wins and nine losses with which they finished last season.

Micas Whip Lavenders, Take 4 Game Lead In Major Loop

Woolmen Trip Clipper Five As Lodgemen And Bowl Win

In a night of desultory kegling the Micas of the Bowl Major League practically clinched the loop title yesterday when they turned back the Lavenders by 2-1 while the secondplace Clippers were taking a 2-1 licking at the hands of the Woolmen. When the matches were over the Micas had a four game lead with three matches to go, one of them a postponed affair against the Bowl. The Clippers also have a postponed setto with the Bowl keglers.

In the other two matches the Lodgemen and the Bowl five were both taking 2-1 affairs, the former nipping the Langdons and the latter whipping the Crabtrees.

The kegling was of the mediocre sort as high triple went to Whitman who won it with a mere 548 in leading the Lodgemen to their victory. Joe Masto of the losing Clippers managed to get his high single for the night and rolled the only 200 game when he eked out a 201 in his final effort.

Eagan To Tour State Giving Scoring Data

ALBANY, (AP)—Upstate boxing referees and judges will get first-hand instruction on a new pugilistic point scoring system this month from Lieut. Col. Edward P. F. Eagan of Rye, State athletic commission chairman.

Attaching at the direction of Governor Dewey, Eagan will make a survey of wrestling and boxing conditions. It will include point system seminars with boxing officials and conferences with sports writers and promoters.

The tour will open in Buffalo April 10.

The point system in boxing was inaugurated in the metropolitan area by Eagan with the approval of his fellow commissioners, Dr. C. B. Powell and Maj. Gen. John J. Phelan. It will become official April 16.

Final arrangements for the Twilight Softball League's season play will be made Monday at 8 P. M. when the managers of the teams who plan to enter the loop will meet at the Daily Times office.

Last Monday's preliminary meeting showed at least ten teams interested in the circuit and tentative plans call for a league of that size with each team meeting the other nine twice during the season. The opener will probably be played on April 23 and Monday's meeting is expected to produce a schedule as well as a final alignment of teams for the league.

Charlie Lanza, league president, has called the conclave and urged every interested squad to be sure of representation at the meeting.

La Motta Risks Perfect Slate In Center Tiff

Joe La Motta, undefeated Bronx middleweight youngster, collides with Baudelio Valencia, former amateur welterweight champion of Mexico, in the feature bout of 6 rounds Tuesday night at the Westchester County Center in White Plains.

La Motta, a younger brother of leading middleweight contender Jacob La Motta, is unbeaten in 9 professional starts and will be making his debut as a headliner when he faces Valencia. It was at this same fight club in White Plains on Oct. 7, 1941 that brother Jake made his first appearance as a main event performer by defeating Lorenzo Strickland in 8 rounds.

In his 9 pro contests young La Motta has registered eight kayo victories. Valencia is the only opponent to go the limit with belting Joe and their scrap was a close thrilling affair at Jersey City several weeks ago. La Motta received the decision in that brawl but only after one of the most hectic battles witnessed this season.

Promoter Joe McKenna has lined up a strong supporting card of four other 6's and one 4-rounder to precede the feature go.

Clarence "Cotton" King, promising lightweight from West Palm Beach, Fla., clashes with Fred Herman of the West Side in the semi-final of 6 heats.

Other 6's will bring together Billy Johnson, Wilmington, N. C. lightheavyweight vs. Amado Rodriquez of Mexico; Fernand Demers, Montreal welterweight vs. Jimmy Mills of Newark, N. J. and Tony Ferry, lightweight of Fall River, Mass. vs. Bobby Henry of the West Side.

Nick Primiani of Montreal and Jimmy McNair of Mount Vernon, lightweights, tangle in the opener of 4 rounds.

Briarcliff 4 Annexes 3 In Ladies League

Threatening to make a runaway of the Larchmont Ladies League race the Briarcliff quartet added still another game to their ever growing lead last night as they mauled the Vassar Four by a 3—0 count while the second place Radcliffe's were handing one of their three games to the Hunter outfit and dropping ten games off the pace. A third match saw the Wellesley team take Hunter by 2—1.

Mrs. Elise Rigano, although kegling in the losing Vassar cause, garnered individual honors when she hit the timbers for 402 for her three games, throwing in a 181 to take high single game.

Holy Name Five Wins, 23-15, Advances In Court Tourney

The Holy Name Society basketball five from Mamaroneck, only local cage representative remaining in the Westchester County Amateur Tournament now in progress at the County Center, won its first round game last night by taking the West Harrison Wolves by a 23-15 count.

Jumping into an early lead the Namers saw their advantage grow with each succeeding quarter. Ahead by three points at the end of the first period the lead was upped to five markers at the half, seven at the three-quarter mark, and eight when the final gun put an end to the game.

DeLitta and Stingone led the team to its triumph; with the former scoring six points and the latter meshing five. For the Wolves it was Triano who turned out to be the leading point-getter as he got a half-dozen markers on three field goals.

The win put the Holy Name outfit into the second round of the tournament in the intermediate division. They will play their second round game next Wednesday at 1 P. M. on Court C at the County Center. The scores:

Yours FOR THE ASKING!

Care of gas and electric household appliances is still very important, because there'll not be many new ones for some time.

• • •

With warmer weather just ahead, extra demands will be made on automatic refrigerators . . . many of which, under normal conditions, would have been retired long ago, because of age!

Replacement parts are scarce; there are fewer repair men. A breakdown may mean going without refrigeration for days . . . even longer. Therefore, it will pay you to handle your refrigerator with "kid gloves" . . . to treat it gently . . . in order to enjoy refrigeration in the warm days and months ahead. This folder will show you how! It's yours for the asking. Write us today for your free copy.

Hospital Benefit Bridges Scheduled At Two Churches

Plans are under way for the annual bridge for the benefit of the New Rochelle Hospital, June 13, in Larchmont simultaneously at the Larchmont Avenue Church house and at the Parish House of St. John's Church, according to an announcement by Mrs. John A. Wang and Mrs. William Clifton Lawton, co-chairmen for the Larchmont events.

At a recent meeting in the Nurse's Home of the hospital, Mrs. Frank Hermes, general chairman, told committee members that the funds raised last year were used to redecorate the Nurses' Home and to purchase furnishings.

"This is a most worthy cause and an inspiration to the student nurses," she said.

Plans for the new additions to the hospital were displayed by Alex Norton, superintendent, who pointed out the "great need, owing to an increase in patients and the enlarged clinic program."

Mrs. George F. Clow and Mrs. Wang presided at tea following the meeting.

Musical Program Concludes Department Day For Year

A program of music, featuring Alice Eaton, pianist and Margot Rebeil, soprano, concluded the final Department Day for the season at the Woman's Club of Larchmont, meeting at the Larchmont Avenue Church house with a presentation which opened with a talk on "New Trends in Decoration" by Benno De Terey and included an informal discussion by Mrs. Helen Curtis Fowle on "The Women of Turkey."

Mr. De Terey, who gave advice on home decorating and buying of furnishings, urged women "to simplify their living by discarding whatever clutters up their rooms."

Scale is of great importance in decorating a room, he pointed out, suggesting the desirability of several "conversational" groupings of furniture, when the room is large enough. Rooms should express the personality of those who inhabit them, he said, adding that collections of one's hobby make an interesting feature as a focal point for the decorative scheme. Collections of old china, pewter or maps may be used with great success, he said.

"The day of frieze, plush and mohair is gone forever, fortunately," he said. "Comfort is of the utmost importance in selecting furniture, and it is wise to have chairs made to the measure of those who are going to use them. Lighting is another factor of great importance."

Modern furniture should not be frowned upon "simply because it's modern," he said. "Remember that Louis XIV furniture and Sheraton, too, were contemporary for their periods."

He warned against purchasing furnishings now, since the quality is poor and "substitutes should not be accepted." Large pieces should be chosen with great care, since they represent the greatest outlay of money. Tapestry and needlepoint "have no place in the average home of today," he said.

"When you go out to buy furniture, know what you want, and then go to a decorator to have your ideas crystallized," he advised. Mr. De Terey was introduced by Mrs. Harold P. Cunningham, chairman of the American Home Department.

Following the American Home Department's annual Spring luncheon, served under the direction of Mrs. David A. Embury, chairman, Mrs. Fowle was introduced by Mrs. William D. Milne, chairman of the International Relations Department.

"Turkish women act and think just like normal American women," Mrs. Fowle told club members. There are sharper contrasts between the rich and poor and between the peasant and coastal city bred women, however, she pointed out.

Mrs. Fowle, who lived for many years in Turkey, described her home on a hill above the Bosporus, and called Turkey a "land of sheer beauty, with flowers everywhere." The beautiful seteting and landscaping have unconsciously influenced the people, who "have woven the beauty into their daily living," she said.

Hospitality and gracious courtesy are outstanding characteristics of the people, she emphasized, describing her neighbors and their homes and daily lives.

The limitations and restrictions formerly imposed on Turkish women for many years were lifted in 1926, when the old Moslem law gave way to the adoption of the Swiss civil code, one of the "most brilliant accomplishment of Mustapha Kemal," according to the speaker. Women were given equal property and guardianship rights at that time, followed by the right to vote in municipal elections and then the right to vote in national elections in 1935. Today there are 17 women serving in the Turkish parliament, she said, and women are employed not only as clerks, secretaries and teachers but are found in the fields of law and medicine in increasing numbers.

"They have taken hold of their new freedom in an admirable way," she said. "Many of them have attended American schools and now that the economic barriers are down, they are doing a magnificent job in their country."

The country is "strongly nationalistic," she said, urging that American women learn from Turkish women their "Kismet" calm and serenity, their philosophy of "not worrying about what you can't change." In return, Turkish women can learn much from the Americans, "instead of only being presented the Hollywood version of life in America, as found in our films."

"Let us examine what we have here that is valuable for us to pass on to them," she urged, "so that we can work together in the post war world to come. After all, our objectives are the same, whether we are Turkish or American women. We all want work, homes, and a wholesome community in which to live and play and work."

Mrs. Fowle described the customs of the country and told of an "experimental" social service center which was organized by a group of British and American women. After 15 years, it was turned over to the Turkish women to manage, and in spite of the natural difficulties, enhanced by the added one of language differences, they all "worked together for the same ends." The Center was a "testing ground" for the post war world, she said, and "proved that peoples of different backgrounds and religions and languages can work out their problems together."

Miss Eaton, pupil at the Westchester Conservatory of Music, opened the musical program with three selections, Liszt, Schubert and a "Capriccio," following the National Anthem. Her second offering included three compositions by Chopin, "Barcarolle," "Nocturne," and "Scherzo in B flat Minor."

Miss Rebeil, faculty member of the Conservatory, presented two old Italian arias, and two modern French selections for her opening group, a Debussy composition and a Ravel "Habanera," set to a dance form and without words.

Her program included a Rachmaninoff composition written for a poem by Tolstoy, entitled "O, Thou Billowy Harvest Field;" a Scotch ballad; a song with music by John Houseman, written for an old Chinese poem, entitled "On the River;" and "El Vito," written for a dance form.

Miss Rebeil was accompanied by Michael Pollan of the Conservatory. The artists were introduced by Mrs. Muir Weissinger, chairman of the Music Department.

During the intermission, Mikhail Sheyne, director of the Conservatory, spoke briefly of its program and aims, stressing the important part played by music in coordination, especially for young children.

Dance Benefit To Depict Activities Of Teen-Agers

Baby sitting, homework, pajama party—these are only a few of the activities of typical teen-agers as depicted by the teen-agers of the Stiffi Nossen Dance Workshop in the performance scheduled for May 12 at Mamaroneck Junior High School.

The Workshop has designed a program including not only an interpretation of "The Four Freedoms", widely acclaimed last year after its production at the New York Times Hall, but also a new ballet modeled after a story in Life magazine. The program, which will also be given in Pelham and Scarsdale, will benefit the Larchmont and Mamaroneck Youth Centers.

With familiar rhythms woven into a musical score, a group of girls from Westchester and New York will represent themselves in a burlesque on their idiosyncrasies. Costumes will range from blue jeans to pajamas. Dances are based on a telephone conversation that lasts several hours, a painful session with homework that competes with the favorite radio programs, and in a struggle with the baby next door when its mother goes out to a movie.

All choreography for the show has been done by Steffi Nossen. As in the New York performance, lighting will be directed by Hans Sondheimer, lighting expert for the opera company of the City Center of Music and Drama and lighting instructor at the dramatic center of the New School of Social Research, and by Miss Doris S. Einstein, who has directed the lighting for performances of Pearl Primis, Pauline Koner, and other theatrical artists. Lighting technicalities will be directed by Charles Heilich, well-known for his work at Mamaroneck High Schools.

Mrs. Albert Woodruff, Jr., ticket chairman has announced that tickets may now be purchased at the Larchmont Youth Center from Mrs. J. M. Cooper; at the Lottie Dillon Gift Shop, 1930 Palmer Avenue, Larchmont; at Murray Avenue School on Fridays from Mrs. J. M. Hosdowich; or from Mrs. Woodruff at Larchmont 2-3738. Students of Mamaroneck High School may order tickets from Ruth Juillerat, Larchmont 2-4451-W, while the Junior High School representative is Carol Shepard, Larchmont 2-4276. Mrs. G. W. Sheldon has been named ticket co-chairman.

WHITE PLAINS—To enlist the aid of the Westchester American Legion Auxiliary in the current American Cancer Society campaign, Mrs. George Norton, Wednesday appealed to the county committee of the auxiliary at its meeting at the YMCA.

Mrs. William J. McWilliams of 99 Willow Avenue, Larchmont, left Friday for Washington, D. C., where she will spend the weekend visiting her sister and brother-in-law, Major and Mrs. James Reid Parker. Major Parker, serving with the Army's Intelligence Division, was formerly editor of The New Yorker magazine.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

REALLY VERY DIFFERENT

MOST PLAYERS seem to think, when playing a No Trump contract, that if they hold the top two cards of the suit led, they might just as well take the first and third tricks as the second and third. They habitually refrain from using the hold-up on the first trick, but take it promptly, reserving their intention to let the second trick go by when the suit is led again, and then take the third. That, however, results sometimes in their defeat.

North: ♠ A 8 3; ♥ 7 5 2; ♦ A K; ♣ Q 10 9 5 2
West: ♠ Q J 6 4 2; ♥ Q 9 8 3; ♦ 9 4; ♣ K 7
East: ♠ 10 9; ♥ J 10 6; ♦ Q J 8 7 3; ♣ A 6 4
South: ♠ K 7 5; ♥ A K 4; ♦ 10 6 5 2; ♣ J 8 3

(Dealer: North. Neither side vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	1 NT	Pass
2 NT	Pass	3 NT

South had about a maximum 1-No Trump for that first call, very little below enough for 2-No Trumps. When North bid 2-No Trumps, he would have passed with a minimum, but as it was had enough over-plus to go the rest of the way to game. And he should have made it.

West led the spade 4. Seeing that he could hold up on the second round, South went right in with the dummy's A and led the club 2. East used his A and returned the spade 10. Now South held up, playing low from both hands. West over-played with the J and then led the 2 to the K, clearing the suit. When the club J was now led, West won with the K and ran his remaining two spades, the Q and 6, to set the contract.

What a difference if South had played low from both holdings on the opening spade. East would have won and returned the suit, the A winning in dummy. When a club got lost to the A, East would have had no more spades to return. Probably he would select a heart, but South would win with the A and lead a second club. When West won that, his spades would not be established. He could return a third spade to the K to set up the suit. But it would do no good. He could never get the lead again. South therefore could score a total of three clubs plus two tricks in each other suit to give him game—because he held up on the first spade trick instead of the second.

Your Week-End Question

Besides trying to figure out a defensive plan of his own, what else should a defender do in the planning line as soon as he gets a good look at the dummy?

Class Still Open For Registrants In Home Nursing

It is not too late to register for the class in standard home nursing scheduled for next Monday night from 8 to 10, at the Mamaroneck Health Center, according to Mrs. John Kadel, chairman of home nursing for the Mamaroneck Red Cross.

The course will be given one evening a week for 12 weeks and will be in charge of Miss Marie Smyth, R.N., director of home nursing for the Westchester County Red Cross, assisted by Mrs. James Shaw, R.N.

"In these days when there are not enough doctors and nurses to go around, we can each help to release a trained nurse for the fighting front by taking a Red Cross home nursing course and learning to take care of the simple illnesses in the family," Mrs. Kadel says. "The Red Cross home nursing program must be expanded regardless of the ending of the European war and we in Mamaroneck would like to see an enrollment of 20 before the opening night of the class. Won't you call Mamaroneck 1667 for an appointment?"

An exhibit of the Red Cross home nursing program will be on display all next week in the windows of the Jane Allen Shop on Mamaroneck Avenue. The work of Mrs. V. J. Boyle, display chairman of the Mamaroneck branch, it shows a figure in appropriate uniform standing beside a baby in a bassinet, indicating the child care aspect of home nursing. The figure holds in her hand a copy of the home nursing text book.

Prominent Persons Must Establish High Example For Youth

By ANGELO PATRI

The leaders of the people carry a heavy responsibility. Youth looks up to them and think that they are just what they should be, the highest and best and a pattern for them to follow. I am not speaking now of the conscienceless political leaders. Even the young folk know and scorn them in their hearts, but of the others who because of their success on the stage and screen, in their professions and trades and social position stand out in the community and the nation.

When a man becomes a leader in sports he has a great following among the boys. They follow his daily doings with eager interest. They imitate his game, his clothes, his speech. He is their hero and there is nothing but good in him to their idea.

The same thing holds good in every other field of action. The screen star, the famous actor, singer, scientist, are models for youth. Their lives become standards for the generation who follow every movement they make and imitate it in their lives. Publicity adds attraction to such people and their responsibility becomes heavier as their fame grows.

Mothers, teachers, clergymen, have no such attraction. They are not dramatic. They never shine much in the public eye. Children and youth take them for granted and they have a difficult time in competing against the famous folk when such competition becomes necessary as it must when those who lead forget their responsibility to the people's children and lead them the wrong way.

There is little any one person can do about such a situation when it appears but each father and mother can, if they will, lead their own children in right thinking and behavior. They can depend upon nobody else. The school will help them; the church will help them. Now and then one of the famous people will lend their aid. Some of them have done splendid work in this direction. But parents can depend only upon themselves and on the influence that their attitudes and behavior have created in the home.

A girl was reading a well-advertised book on the way to school. Her friend looked over her shoulder and said, "You reading that filth? I'm surprised your mother allows it. My mother wouldn't let that book inside her house." The pride in the child's voice was forceful enough to make her friend shut the book and slip it into her bag. One home had scored for one time anyway. Watch who is leading your children and take first place yourself.

Mariners Visit Haven For Seamen In New York City

Three adults and 16 mariners of Larchmont Girl Scout Troop 9 visited the Seamen's Church Institute of New York in lower Manhattan on Thursday. The Institute is a haven for seafaring men of all nationalities having sleeping accommodations for 1,600 with an auditorium, chapel, dental and other health clinics and a postoffice where mail is held as long as nine months.

The girls were particularly interested in the rooms fitted out for foreign sailers. Four countries, Great Britain, Denmark, Holland and Belgium, each have at least one room where a hostess greets the men in their own language. Literature is provided and each room is appropriately decorated and furnished.

The Dutch room contains a fireplace which had been imported from Holland for the World's Fair and the Danish room has been open only a month.

The chart room at the top of the building is an exact replica of the bridge of a ship with all the attendant instruments and chart tables. It is said to be the highest ship's bridge in the world. On the top of the building is an observation tower which has been taken over by the Coast Guard and the famous time ball which falls at exactly noon every day so that ships' captains can be sure their time instruments are correct.

The girls had lunch in the Institute's cafeteria and enjoyed a ferry ride to Staten Island and back. Adults and mariners attending were Mrs. Donald D. Blanchard and Mrs. James L. Strahan, mariner leaders; Mrs. Paul W. Euiler, leader of Troop 5; Martha Atwood, Carol Ernst, Eleanor Euiler, Joan Fraser, Emily Kantner, Mary Grant, Jean Kriss, Ruth Juillerat, Barbara Leavitt, Jill Littlefield, Sally Rapoport, Virginia Scott, Colette Vier, Mary White, Anne Woodbridge and Priscilla Wright.

Barrys Turn Back Tenpin Threat In Foursomes; Gremlins Triumph

Spero's 524 Leads Rec Four; Jerseys, Beginners On Top

The Barrys of the Mamaroneck Rec Mixed Foursome League put an end to their losing streak last night and managed to preserve their first place standing as they took the Tenpins into camp by 2-1, sending the losers to third place and giving the Rec quartet, led by Charlie Spero, the opportunity to grab off the runner-up spot. The Recs promptly took advantage of the chance by whipping the Halsteads, also by 2-1.

In other matches the Jerseys trimmed the Jamaerels and the Beginners nipped the Gardens, both by 2-1 scores.

Spero turned in the best kegling of the night when he scored a 203 in his first game and finisher up with 524 for his series. Bill Strosahl of the Recs, however, had high single as he led the team to its second win with a 208.

LaMotta Another McKenna Hopeful

WHITE PLAINS—Joe McKenna, boxing inpresario at the County Center, has had more luck than any other fight promoter in elevating young fistic prospects into stardom.

Among the many fighters who received their first start from McKenna at White Plains are Jake La Motta, Young Kid McCoy, Steve Belloise, Georgie Kochan, Phil Terranova, Johnny Greco, Vic Dellicurti, Lee Q. Murray and Al Hart.

Tomorrow night at the County Center, McKenna will present young Joe La Motta of The Bronx in the latter's first main event. La Motta, brother of leading middleweight contender Jake, is undefeated in nine professional contests. It was in this same ring on Oct. 7, 1941 that Jake made his debut as a headliner by trouncing Lorenzo Strickland in eight heats under the McKenna banner. Young Joe faces Baudelio Valencia of Mexico for six rounds in the feature tomorrow.

Browns Annex Kegling Title At Shore Club

A last frame spare in the third game of the match decided the season team champion of the Larchmont Shore Club Saturday night as Tapley, with the game, the match, and the championship riding on the ball as it went down the alley, got his spare and added enough pins to give the Browns a 2-1 victory over the Yankees.

The match was the deciding affair in the season's play at the Shore Club since the Yankees and Browns had won the title in their respective leagues. The first of the two battles went to the Brownies by a matter of 12 pins but they dropped the second and then proceeded to eke out a five-pin triumph in the finale. The Yankees, however, managed to take total pin honors by 36 maples.

High series for the match went to Loucks of the winners who carded a 584 and high single was taken by Yoder, also of the victors, who rolled a 204 in the final fray.

Twilight Softballers Make Plans Tonight

Representatives of all teams interested in forming a Twilight Softball League have been invited to the organization meeting of the loop which will be held at eight o'clock tonight at The Daily Times offices.

The loop, headed by Charlie Lanza, is expected to be composed of ten outfits and plans to start play on April 23. Tonight's conclave will is expected to decide on the final makeup of the teams which will compete in the circuit and will probably authorize the drawing up of a schedule. Team rosters may also be presented at the meeting.

Last year's twilight loop consisted first of six, then of eight teams, and intense interest this season forced the league to limit the number of entries to ten. The circuit plans to play at Mamaroneck Avenue field with games Mondays through Friday each week during the season.

Oldsters Whip Youngsters In CYO Cage Tilt

The Old Timers, led by Lynch's 20 points, gave the CYO Boys Club a lesson in basketball Saturday night when they whipped the youngsters by a 44-33 score. Dominating the game in all but the final canto the Old Timers went into a four point lead at the first quarter, added to it in the second and third periods, and then proceeded to tire in the last few minutes to let the youngsters pick up a few points.

The game was a climax to the CYO jamboree presented Saturday night at Holy Trinity School. The program included table tennis matches which featured former national champion Bill Gunn and former national doubles titlist George Bacon. Also on the card were four boxing bouts, pitting Hugh McGinley against Don Sheehan in the middleweight division, Harold Grune vs. Joe Giordano, lightweights; Ken Downer and George Milliott, flyweights, and finally the lightweight twins, Tom and Pat Colling, engaging in a slugging match.

Sissy Victor In Larchmont Dinghy Races

Larchmont Yacht Club's dinghy skippers were looking for the wind most of yesterday afternoon during the weekly dinghy races which were sailed in such a light breeze that the dimunitive yachts managed to get in only three races. The winds were light and de F. W. Trimingham, skippering Sissy, came out on top for the first time in his two seasons of dinghy racing when he took a second, sixth and fourth to eke out a two-point triumph over H. L. Reichard's Mephisto. Nancy Cullen was Trimingham's crew.

Mephisto, which finished in second place, won the first and third races but finished far down in the second which was taken by Pat O'Brien's Frappe.

A pair of protests, which didn't have anything to do with the final result, marred the proceedings. Skip Etchells, skippering Sno Fun, protested O'Brien and O'Brien countered by protesting Trimingham in the final race. The first was sustained but the second protest was turned out. Had it been sustained Trimingham would still have piloted Sissy to a victory as only a single point would have been taken from him.

Herman Kegles 545 Triple As Misfits Win On Forfeit

Despite the fact that they rolled with a blind, the Misfits, front-runners in the Larchmont Doubles League, had an easy time whipping the Mardoms last night as the losers failed to put in an appearance and lost on forfeit. The Gremlins, meanwhile, were handing the Dee Bees a shutout to take second place, while the Caporitos, Standards, Happy Duo, and Vernonites all won by 2—1 margins.

Herman of the Soundviews turned in top rolling for the men of the loop, hitting a 217 single and a 545 series. For the feminine keglers it was Elise Rigano who led the Gremlins to their shutout victory, rolling 523. Her 188 single game was matched by Mrs. Jaye Radcliffe in the third game of the Standards match against the Belvederes.

Sterlings And Richbells Triumph By 2-1 In Acres League Matches

Disbrows Take Fifth Place; Poillon Smacks 593 Series

Palmers	15	21	.417

The Larchmont Acres League rescrambled itself last night as the evening's bowling ended with only two of the teams, the Sterlings in first place and the Richbells in second, holding the same places which they possessed at the beginning of the competition. All other six outfits experienced some upward or downward movement in league standings.

The Disbrows for instance, seemingly buried in the cellar, broke out in a rash of good bowling and hopped all the way from eighth to fifth place in the loop, passing the Bassetts, Motts and Palmers on the way up. Bob Poillon was the chief operative as the Disbrows won a 3-0 victory from the Palmers. He carded a snappy 593 series, rolling a trio of consistent games. Only in one string were the eventual victors in danger, and they managed to take that one by just 17 pins.

Up at the top of the league things were a bit more sedate as both the Sterlings and the Richbells won their matches by 2-1. The front-runners topped the Motts while the Richbells were taking care of the Fenimores.

A final match saw the Tompkins move into a toehold on third place with a 2-1 triumph over the Bassetts. The Tompkins had shared the spot with the Fenimores.

Almost anything can happen in the two weeks of play remaining in the circuit. Only seven games separate first from eighth place and every team except the Palmers still has at least a hope for the championship.

Rename Frantz Commodore At Larchmont Y.C.

Leroy Frantz of New Rochelle was recently re-elected commodore of the Larchmont Yacht Club as the members met in their annual meeting. With Frantz the club chose Philip S. Patton as vice-commodore, and Thomas F. Russell, Jr., as rear-commodore. Glover Johnson and Vincent Cullen were elected secretary and treasurer respectively.

Other elections included the choice of Drake H. Sparkman and Cornelius Shields as trustees for three years and the naming of a nominating committee made up of Alfred V. Amy, Jr., W. S. Chesley, Jr., Donald M. Laflin, Alfred J. Betts, Louis M. Hann, Robert A. Goeller, Harold S. Morse, Brownrig L. Norton, Willy A. Olsen and Louis Carreau.

S Class Meets

The S class owners, with a record list of 26 boats, also held a meeting to discuss new by-laws prepared by a committee under the chairmanship of Joseph Curren. With Willy Olsen, chairman of the class presiding, the S boat owners also decided on the election of a measurer and chose W. J. Donovan of Mamaroneck to fill the position.

Also discussed was the granting of permission to winners to hoist special pennants after each race.

The group challenged the Atlantic class skippers to a team race between boats of the two classes. The Atlantics promptly accepted the challenge for a match whose date is still undecided. S boat owners suggested the morning of Memorial Day while the Atlantics proposed July 21, preceding the special regatta which is scheduled for the Horseshoe Harbor Club.

R. F. Nelson of Larchmont, owner of the S boat Eaglet which last year sailed under the name Flying Colors, was appointed to direct publicity for the class.

Fireman Quintet To Meet Acres 5 In Annual Match

The Town of Mamaroneck Fire Department keglers will meet the Larchmont Acres alley operatives in a special match on Sunday at Larchmont Recreation and will attempt to keep possession of the cup which the smoke-eaters won last year. The trophy, donated by the management of the Acres, is in competition each year until one or the other of the two teams takes it three times. The Firemen won the first leg last season and are out for the second this year.

Teams have already been chosen for the match and the Acres squad will be composed of Al McMillan, Larry Templeman, Harland Pinney, Wes Messersmith, Max Gossweiler, Bob Poillon and Bill Campbell.

Against this array of alley talent the firemen are expected to send a team chosen from Marty Bach, Joe Masto, Bob Johnston, Chick Conte, Joe Torre, Dom Li-Brandi, Dom Ianello and John Tortorella.

County Basketball In Semi-Finals

WHITE PLAINS—Ossining Kilbrook, North Tarrytown Rams and North Tarrytown Trojans gained the junior division semi-finals, as the county amateur basketball tournament began to get into the decisive end of its prolonged schedule at the County Center last night.

Kilbrook and the Rams will square off tomorrow when the tourney resumes after tonight's boxing layoff. In the other junior semi-final, the Trojans will meet Mount Carmel CYO of White Plains, which reached that bracket Saturday.

Ten Softball Squads Enter Twilight Loop

Final arrangements were made last night for the opening of the Twilight Softball League as the managers and representatives of ten outfits met at the Daily Times offices. Slating the start of the season for April 30, a week later than originally planned, the league plans to run games Mondays through Fridays throughout the season.

Two new outfits, the C.Y.O. squad under the leadership of Steve Johnston and the Holy Name outfit, represented by Gene Santoro came into the league in addition to the teams mentioned which were represented at last week's organization meeting. The remaining eight squads are the defending champs, the Larchmont Postmen, managed by Harry Alpiar, the Derbys under Harvey Derby, the Institute headed by Jack Belowich, the Highlanders with Joe Pooley at the helm.

Also the Elks managed by Walt Recher, the Bears under Jim Amoruso, the Penguins captained by Jack Rose, and the Hilltops with Adolph Goodliffe as their leader.

Rules Adopted

The league also adopted the regular softball rules as the guide for play in the loop and voted to divide the season into two halves with one round of play in each half. A week in which no games are scheduled will intervene between the halves in order that any postponements may be played off. At the end of the season a playoff will be held between winners in each half. The play-off will be for the possession of the trophy now held by the Larchmont Postmen and which must be won three times before any team can take it permanently. If the same team wins both halves of the competition a series will be held between the second place teams to determine the runner-up.

Team rosters, which are limited to 18 players, must be filed with the sports editor of The Daily Times next week. However, any service man on leave may play, but only with one team and a discharged service man may be entered on the roster at any time, provided another player is dropped.

Umpires Named

Umpires for the games are expected to be Bates and Fred Rainaldi and probably Tony Perry, all three of whom have several year's experience in the loop.

Several prizes, the donors of which will be announced in the near future, will be up for competition, including a trophy which the winning team may keep in addition to the three year trophy which must be surrendered next season, a trophy for the runner-up outfit, medals for each member of the winning team, a trophy for high batting average and another for second high in the batting department.

MGA Cards Beers Memorial Tournament At Winged Foot

NEW YORK—With the golf season just around the corner, the Metropolitan Golf Association today announced dates for its annual amateur championship, one of the oldest golfing events in the country, and six other tournaments which it will sponsor during the year, leaving only three more tourneys to be arranged.

Among those scheduled was the Beers Memorial tournament, named after the former editor of Golf Illustrated, who lost his life in an airplane accident while en route to the National Amateur championship at Pebble Beach, Calif., in 1929. This competition will be held July 20 at the Winged Foot Golf Club.

The amateur championship tourney will start Sunday, Aug. 5, according to President Isaac B. Grainger of the Association, and qualifying rounds will be held in each of the three districts which comprise the MGA. Long Island golfers will qualify at the Seawane Harbor Club, Hewlett, L. I. and sites for the Westchester and New Jersey district tests will be announced shortly.

Qualifiers from the three districts will gather at the famous Garden City Golf Club, Garden City, L. I., scene of many important golf events in the past and home course of the late Walter J. Travis, one of golf's immortals, Aug. 11 and 12, for the first and second, also the quarter final and semi-final rounds. These will be 18-hole affairs, while the final to be played Aug. 19, will be over the 36-hole route.

Defending champion will be Eddie Driggs who, playing over the Sleepy Hollow Course, his home lay-out, last year defeated John Dolan of the Crestmont Club in New Jersey, 9 and 7, to regain the title he won 17 years before.

The Amateur-Pro Championship, a 36-hole medal play affair, will be staged at the Montclair Golf Club, Montclair, N. J., July 1, with the proceeds from admissions going to the Red Cross.

The tournament committee, headed by Percival E. Furber, has also arranged for four of the five one-day 18-hole tourneys to be held during the year. The first is scheduled to be played at the Pelham Country Club June 13, the second at the Fresh Meadow Country Club, Flushing, L.I., June 26; the third at the Glen Ridge Country Club, Glen Ridge, N. J., July 10. There will be another at the Echo Lake Country Club, Westfield, N. J., Sept. 6, while still another is in process of being scheduled.

Senior and Public Links championship dates will be announced later.

BRIBERY A FELONY

ALBANY, (AP)—The Wilson-Moritt bill making bribery in amateur sports a felony was signed into law today by Governor Dewey. The measure, an outgrowth of the Brooklyn College basketball bribery scandal, amends the penal law prohibiting bribery of, or acceptance of bribes by, participants in professional sports to include participants in amateur basketball, baseball, football, hockey, polo, tennis, boxing and horse racing. Violation is punishable by a $10,000 fine and imprisonment from one year to five years.

THE largest Easter weekend attendance in Radio City Music Hall's entire history, and second largest for any weekend, was recorded by the Spencer Tracy-Katharine Hepburn hit, "Without Love," and the theatre's gala two-part holiday stage show in the four days ending Easter Sunday. The screen success and the Music Hall's big stage program were seen by an audience of 92,138 during the period.

Hailed as one of the season's brightest romantic screen comedies, Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer's "Without Love" is based on the Philip Barry play and was prepared for the screen by Donald Ogden Stewart.

Accompanying "Without Love," the theatre presents its celebrated stage spectacle, "Glory of Easter," being given for the thirteenth consecutve year, and a lavish new footlight revue by Leonidoff, "Spring Is Here!"

"Spring Is Here!", a gay holiday revue, features the Rockettes Corps de Ballet and Glee Club with ten soloists in scenes to which the magic of the great stage lends many spectacular effects. Guest artists include Gil Maison, comedian; June Forrest, soprano; Lee Fairfax, baritone, and Edward Reichert, tenor.

—o—

Broadway playgoers are still echoing the praise that has been bestowed by the critics and public alike upon "The Glass Menagerie," the new play by Tennessee Williams, starring Laurette Taylor and Eddie Dowling and co-featuring Julie Haydon and Anthony Ross, which opened the other night at The Playhouse.

Rarely in the history of the theatre have such reviews been bestowed upon a production. At the end of a magnificent performance on opening night the entire audience rose and cheered the cast, the author, the directors, and everyone else concerned with the production.

"The Glass Menagerie" is the simple story of Amanda Winfield (Laurette Taylor), a former Southern belle now residing in a St. Louis flat, with her daughter, Laura (Julie Haydon and her son, Tom (Eddie Dowling). Laura is a backward sort of girl and Ma Wingfield is trying to marry her off. Tom has a friend who works with him at the warehouse and invites Jim to call upon Laura. It later develops that Tom's friend, Jim, has matrimonial plans of his own, and this proves to be a terrible blow to Mrs. Wingfield and to the rest of the family.

But "The Glass Menagerie" cannot be described by its story. There is the acting of Laurette Taylor, Eddie Dowling and the rest of the cast, of whom the critics have been most unstinting in their praise.

Our Men In Service

Arrives From Pacific

Clifford R. Oviatt, Jr., S 1/c, USNR, above, who recently arrived from the South Pacific, is spending a leave at his home on Knollwood Avenue, Mamaroneck, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford R. Oviatt. He has been returned to the United States for officer's training and after taking a two months' refresher course at Princeton University, where he will report April 15, he will be assigned to a college or university for his training and college work.

He enlisted in the Naval Reserve May 15, 1944, and was ordered to active duty early in July. He received his boot training at Bainbridge Naval Training Center, Bainbridge, Md., after which he was sent to the navigation school at Newport, R. I. He was assigned to a Naval supply ship and has been serving in the quartermaster's division on the ship since it was commissioned early in December of last year.

Seaman Oviatt was graduated last May from St. Paul's School, Garden City, L. I., where he was prominent for three years as a student and athlete.

Davidson Promoted

The office of the Surgeon General has announced the promotion of Sidney Davidson, formerly of the Brompton Apartments in Larchmont, from the rank of major to lieutenant colonel in the Medical Corps of the United States Army.

Lt. Col. Davidson has been in the service since April, 1941, when he returned to duty at Mitchel Field after previously serving as director of medical training at the Officers' Training School at Miami Beach, Fla. He formerly held the post of flight surgeon at West Point. He was assigned in June, 1943, to an Army air base in the Pacific area.

New Officer

Robert D. Green of Knollwood Avenue, Mamaroneck, is in the Officers' Candidate class which will graduate Saturday from Fort Knox, Ky. The commission of second lieutenant will be granted the new officers.

A former student at the New York Military Academy and the Hanover-Clark Preparatory School where he took a post graduate course, he entered the service 10 months ago and received training at Fort McClellan, Ala., before going to Fort Knox. He will serve in the mechanized cavalry.

Formerly a resident of Larchmont, he and Mrs. Green are the parents of two children, Jeffery, two years old, and Patricia, four.

Wins Citation

Lieut. Col. George H. Wilson of Larchmont Acres, Larchmont, has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal by Major General E. R. Quesada, commanding general of the Ninth Air Command of the Ninth AAF.

Under his supervision British and American type telephone and teletype equipment were combined to "provide adequate service for every unit of the Ninth Tactical Air Command," his citation read. Before entering service Col. Wilson was with the Bronx-Westchester Division of the New York Telephone Company. His wife, Mrs. Margaret J. Wilson, resides at the Palmer House.

Awarded Bronze Star

Corp. Edward W. Leach of Freskill, formerly a resident of Mamaroneck, was recently awarded the Bronze Star for going to the assistance of several wounded men and protecting one seriously wounded man from further harm with his own body.

He is the son of Mrs. Florence Leach of 626 John Street, Peekskill.

The citation reads as follows: "While employing his anti-aircraft gun to support an infantry attack on Feb. 7, 1945 this position was shelled and four members of his crew were wounded. Going to their assistance, Corp. Leach was caught in the open by another concentration. Refusing to take cover in a foxhole he protected a seriously wounded man with his body so as to help him avoid further harm. He later assisted in evacuating the four men to the collecting station. The courage, initiative, and constant devotion to duty displayed by Corp. Leach are in keeping with the finest traditions of the armed forces of the United States."

Sgt. Datino Missing In Aerial War

Gunner On Liberator Bomber Reported As Lost In Austria

HOLDS AIR MEDAL

S/SGT. JOHN L. DATINO

S/Sgt. John L. Datino of Mamaroneck has been missing in action in Austria since March 23, according to a War Department telegram received Sunday by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pietro Datino of 513 Fayette Street.

The 20-year old airman has been serving since last August as nose turret gunner on a B-24 Liberator bomber with the 15th AAF in Italy.

He graduated from Mamaroneck High School in 1943 and entered the service the following July 22, receiving training at Tyndall Field, Fla., and March Field, Calif.

S/Sgt. Datino holds the Air Medal "for meritorious achievement in aerial flight while participating in sustained operational activities against the enemy" and belongs to a bombardment group which received the Distinguished Unit Citation for an attack on the Herman Goering steel works at Linz, Austria, July 25.

He spent last Thanksgiving Day with his grandparents who reside at San Massimo Campobasso Abruzzo, Italy.

Auto Club Sees Secret Accord In Tolls Move

WHITE PLAINS—Charges of a "secret understanding" verging upon a conspiracy of silence were laid at the doors of Westchester County, the state and federal governments today in a hotly-worded statement from J. R. Crossley, vice president of the Automobile Club of New York, attacking Governor Thomas E. Dewey for signing the Westchester Parkway Toll Bill. At the same time County Executive Herbert C. Gerlach struck back at the club's spokesman and declared: "The charge is ridiculous."

"Governor Dewey has attempted to justify his approval of Westchester parkway tolls," said Mr. Crossley, "by citing an agreement with the U. S. Commissioner of Public Roads. He thus confirms the charge made by the Automobile Club of New York that a secret understanding had been negotiated by New York State officials to permit tolls legislation."

Question Governor

The club head went on to ask why Governor Dewey had not announced the Federal Government agreement on the toll bill before it was signed, and why public hearings were not held.

"It is quite apparent," he continued, "from the method of procedure followed by County, State and Federal officials, that in effecting the agreement to abrogate the rule against tolls, it was necessary to keep the public from learning of these plans. Now that this matter is to be threshed out in the courts, we will find out if the public can be taxed in direct violation of what was supposed to be a rigid requirement by the U. S. Government."

In reply county executive Gerlach accused the New York club of "acting with very bad grace" and pointed out that the County has spent $45,000,000 of county money on parkways which have only 15 per cent local use.

Tolls would at best, he added, pay only about one-fourth of the annual carrying charge of $4,000,000 a year on the parkway bond amortization and interest and on the maintenance costs of the parkways.

"The Automobile Club," he said, "has charged that a secret agreement exists between State and Federal officials to permit the Westchester tolls. The charge is ridiculous. In 1930 and 1931 the Westchester parkways were illegally listed as State highways by the then State Superintendent of Public Works.

"The only agreement now is between Federal and State officials to withdraw the parkways from the State highway system and have the State Superintendent of Public Works provide alternate routes."

Speeder Forfeits $15; 2 Fined For Parking

Bail of $15 was forfeited in Larchmont Village Police Court last night by Charles Christopoulos of Meridan, Conn., arrested for speeding. Marjorie Doerge of 16 Walnut Avenue and Viola E. Posner of 8 Bishop Place, were fined $2 each for parking violations at Larchmont and Palmer Avenues and Joseph P. Keller of Rutherford, N. J. paid $5 for driving with expired license plates. Judge John R. Cahill heard the cases.

Sutton Resigns Post In G.O.P.; Sullivan Named

Thomas B. Sutton, treasurer for the last two years of the Town of Mamaroneck Republican Committee has resigned from the post, it was announced last night at a meeting of the committee at Republican headquarters in Larchmont. The resignation was accepted with regret.

The executive committee recommended Arthur W. Sullivan of Larchmont for the post and upon Mr. Sutton's motion, he was unanimously elected.

Mr. Sullivan, who resides with his wife and one child at 34 Munro Avenue, Larchmont, is associated with the American District Telegraph Company in New York. A native of Boston, he is 39 years old and has lived in Larchmont seven years.

Burton C. Meighan, chairman of the committee, said today that Mr. Sutton's resignation had been received some time ago but that he had continued to serve at the request of the committee until a successor could be named.

In a statement to The Daily Times today Mr. Sutton said that "being a committeeman and treasurer at the same time" meant that one of the jobs had to be neglected. He also pointed out that the balance of $800 in the treasury at the present time is more money than has been on record since 1938 and added that between the years 1938 and 1943 there was a deficit every year except one.

By a vote which was two short of being unanimous, the committee referred the recommendations for the post of the town councilman to replace the late Edward C. Griffin back to the Village Committe for further consideration. During recommended the names of Harry C. Goeckler, Harold V. Bozell and Mr. Sutton to the Town Committee for consideration for a recommendation, in turn, to the Town Board, the village committee will be asked to "give additional thought to the matter."

The name of Mrs. Erik B. Andersen of 36 Howell Avenue, Larchmont, will be recommended to the Town Board as school director to succeed the late Miss Emily Lindley. If the Town Board acts favorable on the suggestion, Mrs. Andersen will serve in the post until the voters have an opportunity to vote at the next general election. The same procedure applies to the selection of a councilman.

Miners Win Boost After Pits Are Seized

WASHINGTON, (AP).—Wage negotiations wound up six weeks of contract talks with broad concessions to bituminous miners today even as the Government took over 235 strike-closed pits in seven states.

Last night's Presidential seizure order came hours before announcement of agreement on a contract to supplant the one which expired March 31. Reportedly the operators acceded to a basic daily wage of $10 for inside miners now receiving $8.50 after United Mine Workers President John L. Lewis abandoned his 10-cent-a-ton royalty demand.

Rockefeller Center Expansion Seen

NEW YORK—Northward expansion of Rockefeller Center as one of Manhattan's first post-war building projects is indicated in an order to vacate issued to tenants in a number of four and five-story buildings on 51st and 52nd Streets, between Fifth and Sixth Avenues.

Hugh S. Robertson, executive manager of Rockefeller Center, said that a 60-day cancellation clause in leases held by stores and apartment tenants in the buildings had been invoked by the Center, which owns the property and that tenants must leave by June 1.

It is expected that the site will be cleared in preparation for erection of a 16-story store and office building to cost $1,750,000. Plans for the structure were filed with the Department of Housing and Buildings last July.

4 Larchmont Men Leave To Enter Service

Four Larchmont men left this morning from draft headquarters in Scarsdale for induction into the armed forces with the April group from the Larchmont-Scarsdale area.

They were Robert S. May of 11 Winslow Place, Ross E. Cornwell, Jr., Robert H. Pratt of 26 Hillside Way and George P. Denecke of 24 Graystone Road.

The men met at the Weaver Street Fire House where they were greeted by representatives from the Larchmont Lions' Club and the Larchmont Branch of the Red Cross.

Eugene Riviere, chairman of the Lions' committee, presented them with utility kits and wished them good luck "in the important job which lies ahead" urging them to communicate with the local organizations if there should be any service they wished performed.

Mrs. Rufus K. Allerton, chairman of the Red Cross Branch, and Mrs. Conrad R. White, representative of home service, accompanied the men to Scarsdale where they met the group from that area.

The men answered to roll call and received final instructions at Draft Board headquarters at the high school and then proceeded to the Scarsdale station where they boarded the 8:47 A.M. train for the induction centers in New York.

Accompanying them was another group of men scheduled to take pre-induction physical examinations for induction for possible future induction.

Contagious Disease Level About Same

WHITE PLAINS—Contagious diseases reported last week in the County Health District remained on a level with the preceding week, according to the report of the Westchester Health Department division of communicable diseases.

There were 18 cases of streptococcal sore throat, a decrease of one, including two cases in Port Chester, and single cases in Mamaroneck Town and Rye Town. Whooping cough dropped from five cases to three, while there were three cases of measles in the Tarrytown district, after none had been found the week before. There were 17 cases of pneumonia, a rise from eight in the previous period.

BERLIN NOW 90 MILES OFF AS YANKS TAKE BRUNSWICK; RUSSIANS ENCIRCLE VIENNA

Ukrainian Army Enters Province Of Moravia

LONDON (AP)—Russian forces completed the encirclement of Vienna and with tommy-guns and grenades compressed the doomed Nazi garrison into the eastern one-tenth of the tottering Austrian capital, front dispatches to the Moscow press announced today.

These accounts also said that the right wing of Marshal Rodion Malinovsky's Second Ukranian Army had invaded the central Czechoslovak Province of Moravia at points less than 35 miles from the great city of Bruenn (Brno).

Farther north, the Germans said other Soviet forces, in an allout assault to reduce the Oder River fortress of Breslau, had stormed into Richthofen Square in that Silesian city.

Inside Vienna, the rag-tag Nazi force, including schoolboys, pilots and sailors fighting as infantry, had been pushed back on an island against the Danube by Russian storm units sweeping forward in hand-to-hand fighting. Complete elimination of this enemy holdout group appeared likely in a matter of hours.

There was no indication that the Germans yet had blown the four bridges over the Danube, one of which probably already is in Russian hands, a Moscow dispatch said.

Soviet front dispatches reported that German artillerymen surrounded in the famed Vienna woods, fired shells into the city's ancient Ring, smashing buildings and stores before they finally were liquidated.

Missing Flyer Seen Bailing Out In Austria

Further information about the conditions under which Lt. Robert R. FitzGerald of Larchmont landed in enemy territory when he bailed out of his plane Feb. 19 has been received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ogg FitzGerald of 7 East Boston Post Road, in the form of a letter written by one of his tentmates in the same flight to Lt. FitzGerald's sister, Elizabeth, a student at Penn State University.

The first report came from the War Department that he was missing and, a few days later, his parents received word from Maj. Gen. Twining of the 15th AAF that he was seen to bail out near Melk, Austria.

The following letter, signed by Lt. Robert Greiner, sheds further light on the circumstances:

"None of us in the tent has written to your parents as we do not know whether you have heard of Fitz's tough luck as yet. I do imagine by this time you have heard from the War Department and this won't be the shocking news.

"I believe Fitz went down Feb. 19. His plane was hit by flak and he bailed out safely. He landed OK and was last seen when a 51 went down to see if he was all right. Fitz was on his feet and waved to the pilot.

"He was pretty far up in enemy territory so his chances of escaping are rather slim. We never do hear just what happens to those who go down unless they escape and come back. We still have hopes that he will walk in on us one of these days but if he doesn't it is some consolation to know he is safe even though a prisoner which perhaps won't be for long."

Board Of Education Plays To Full House As 12 P.T.A. Delegates Attend Meeting

PAUL H. SHEATS

The Mamaroneck School Board played to a full house last night as a group of 12 representatives of Parent-Teacher Associations under the leadership of the Larchmont-Mamaroneck Parent-Teacher Council attended the brief open meeting.

President Philip O. Moynahan welcomed the group and read a letter from the Council which stated that a resolution was recently passed authorizing the attendance at board meetings of delegates from the various Parent-Teacher organizations. The letter stressed the fact that the delegates were interested in matters which pertained to the good of the schools and were eager to cooperate in any way with the school board.

The resolution, as quoted by the secretary of the Council to the board, reads as follows: "The Council and each local unit will send one permanent and one rotating delegate to the public meetings of the Board of Education." The letter further states, "From the general discussion of this motion, it was apparent that for some time it has been the feeling of many members of our Parent-Teacher Associations that some of the members should attend the public meetings of the board."

At the conclusion of the superintendent's monthly report, T. James Ahern explained the new state aid law as it differs from the original formula and said that during the coming year, no district will suffer a loss since the funds which districts in highly assessed communities such as Larchmont and Mamaroneck stand to lose under the new plan, will be made up by the state during the first year the new plan is in operation.

Joseph Curren, attorney for the school district, reminded the board of a new law which permits minors who have vacation working permits to work in the cafeterias of the schools they attend.

Superintendent Ahern reported the sale of 7,500 obsolete books from the system to a salvage company for $75.

1st Army Moves Within 120 Miles Of Red Lines

BY JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press Staff

PARIS — The American Ninth Army advanced to within 90 miles of Berlin today, captured Essen and fought the last Germans in Brunswick in armored advances ranging up to nearly 30 miles.

The swift moving First Army sped across the Thuringian Plain south of the Harz mountains to an unspecified point 120 miles from the Russian lines in a supreme effort to cut Germany in two beyond Leipzig and bar access to the Alpine redoubts from the north.

Essen, a blackened ruin in which 650,174 persons lived before Hitler loosed his armies, is the home of the sprawling Krupp munitions and iron works. It was the sixth largest city in Germany.

Unconfirmed reports reached Supreme Headquarters after 4 P. M. that Brunswick had been captured.

The Old Hickory (30th) Division fought into southern Brunswick. The Hell on Wheels (2d) Armored Division crossed the Oker River in force south of the aircraft manufacturing center and the fifth armored division crossed in strength to the north. The Oker flows through Brunswick.

Maj. Gen. Leland S. Hobbs, 30th Division commander, issued an ultimatum for surrender of the city and attacked when the German commander asked 24 hours in which to surrender.

Five miles due south of Brunswick the Second Armored Division encountered heavy opposition in the Hermann Goering Steel works, but captured the town of Salzgitter where the plant is located.

Resistance Collapsed

The nearest approach to the Russians was at an unspecified point 19 miles southeast of the supply base of Nordhausen, 113 miles from Berlin. Gen. Eisenhower said "German resistance in the west has collapsed."

Inside Brunswick, the Ninth Army was 48 miles from the Elbe River, last barrier before Berlin, and, the city of Magdeburg. The ninth at Brunswick was 156 miles from Russian lines on the Oder River northeast of the capital.

Progress of the First Army, reported 57 miles from Leipzig almost 24 hours ago, was almost completely masked because the advance was so swift that stretched communications brought back no word.

Cities such as Hannover, Deventer, Salzgitter and (by German account) Wanna Eickel fell.

Supreme Headquarters said 283,668 Germans had surrendered on the western front in the final nine days of April and that yesterday's total unofficially swelled the figure beyond 300,000. That would bring the total of Germans captured since the cross-Rhine offensive March 23 to almost 500,000 since 194,374 were bagged before April 1.

The German communique said of the Ninth Army had broken into Bochum (303,288), a coal, steel and rail center in the Ruhr trap. The enemy asserted that the Seventh Army had been driven from Osnabrueck, 94 miles from Munich and 42 from the Danube.

The Third Army was about 110 miles from Berlin.

The British Second Army beating toward Hamburg and besieging Bremen was 123 miles from Berlin on the outskirts of the Aller-River town of Celle.

The actions of nine charging armies made it appear that the battle of Germany in its west had become a mopping up operation.

The center of the German front was shattered, the north and south flanks were laid open to annihilating attacks.

The border of Czecho-Slovakia was 48 miles away, Canadians were within 10 miles of the North Sea and driving hard within the British fo spring a new trap on 200,000 Germans in Holland and northwest Germany.

Clothing Bins In Larchmont Drive 'Full Up'

Larchmont's five depots set aside for the Clothing Collection are "full up," it was reported by Mrs. Herbert Rogers, campaign chairman, and Claude Seixas, packing and shipping chairman, following a tour of the depots yesterday, and removal of the clothing.

Mrs. Rogers said that most of the clothing brought in was in "fine condition." She emphasized that "only felt hats" should be included, and "no evening gowns, tuxedos, high-heeled or open-toed shoes." Rags, too, should be omitted from the bundles, she added.

Clothing may be deposited in a bin at the Larchmont Post office, across the street from the Consumer Information Center, during the hours when the Center is closed.

Larchmont's quota is 65,000 pounds of clothing and bedding, but Mrs. Rogers "hopes to go way beyond that amount." Weekly pound reports at the five depots will be available "very soon" according to Mr. Seixas.

Standards And Equippers Maintain Pace In Times Loop

Gest To Head Race Committee For 6th Year

Alex Gest of Larchmont was recently named race committee chairman of the Larchmont Yacht Club for the sixth successive season. Gest, who took over the club's committee chairmanship five years ago when yacht racing on the Sound began to suffer because of wartime demands, has effectively served throughout a period when the sport suffered from restrictions of all kinds. It is to a great measure due to his efforts that Long Island Sound yacht racing survived the first war years since the Larchmont race committee officiated at most of the regattas in 1942 and 1943 when other clubs were unable to muster suitable committees.

Gest will be assisted on the Larchmont committee by Jack Ramsay and Clinton Bell, both of whom have been committee members for several seasons. Bell also is the present chairman of the dinghy race committee which will be in charge at the national dinghy championships scheduled at Larchmont this weekend.

Also on the 1945 committee are Bill Byrnes, Chester Bentley, and Eli Rogers.

Engineer 5 Upsets Recs, 2-1; Gossweiler Hits 583 Series

The Higher Standards and the Equippers, leading The Daily Times League and the only outfits with a real chance for the loop's championship, kept pace with one another last night as the first place Standards walloped the Centrals by 3—0 and the Equippers managed a like victory over the Victory Five.

The Standard triumph was almost marred in the last game when the Centrals came within six pins of victory. The first two frays, however, were almost no contest as the league leaders, despite the necessity of rolling with a blind, walked away with both strings.

The Equippers had an easier time but despite their shutout win over the Victory Five gained no ground in their chase of the Standards.

A match that had absolutely nothing to do with the league championship turned up the best bowling of the night when Max Gossweiler, mauling the maples for a 224 in his first game, finished with a 583 series. Gossweiler led the Acres All Stars to a 3—0 shellacking of the cellar dwelling Lions Club. The Leos were never in any of the games and lost out by over 600 timbers in the total pin score.

The only squabble which wasn't won by a shutout went to the Engineers over the Recs. The Engineer quintet pulled a mild upset by whipping the Rec five by 2—1. Scores were low in the match as none of the ten keglers managed to card over 498. The dubious honor of being high scorer for the set-to went to Bill Verny who not only rolled the high series but hit a 211 in his last game.

Bellows Nine Raps Iona In Practice Tilt

With Bobby Joyce wielding a big stick and garnering three safeties and Joe Paonessa and Tommy Akers flashing some good hurling the Bellows Panthers yesterday turned back the Iona Prep nine in the second of the three practice games which Jack Fearon has scheduled for the team prior to the season opener.

The rookie moundsmen, Paonessa and Akers, turned in some impressive mound work when they held the Iona squad to a total of four hits and one run, meanwhile garnering four markers on a total of six bingles, half of them by Joyce.

Only two of the Panther runs were earned as the East Enders garnered a pair in the third and another pair in the fifth. In the third Huntley and Orsino hit in succession and Joyce followed with a fielder's choice on which all hands were safe. Laise forced Huntley at the plate and a strike-out followed. Another bingle scored a pair and the Panthers were in front by 2-1, more than matching the run scored by Iona in the third when Golden hit, advanced on Smith's walk and tallied when Morris whacked a safety.

The last Bellows runs came in the fifth when Huntley and Orsino both got on via misplays by the Iona infield and tallied when Bob Joyce smashed a solid double into right center.

The work of the East End pitchers was particularly encouraging and the stickwork of the outfit showed considerable improvement. Joyce, beside walloping three safeties, showed some good form around the initial sack and also swiped three bases.

La Motta Kayos Valencia In Third

WHITE PLAINS—Stiff-punching Joey La Motta, celebrating his first main event, waited through two rounds for an opening, finally found it after a minute and 55 seconds of the third chapter, and wasted no time once making the discovery. The promising Bronx middleweight crashed a left and right to the face of Baudleio Valencia to send the Mexican down for the count, thereby racking his fifth straight Center victory, 10th anywhere without setback since turning pro, and second over his rugged rival from the Rio Grande region.

Bobby Henry, 130, New York, outpointed Tony Ferry, 128, Fall River, Mass.; J. C. Wilkins, 162, Bronx Negro, outpointed Billy Johnson, 167, Wilmington, N. C., Negro, and Fernand Demers, 150, Montreal, and Jimmy Mills, 144 1/2, Newark Negro, went to a draw.

Everything Happens In Links Tournament

ATLANTA—All happened in the $10,000 Iron Lung Golf Tournament here:

Denny Champayne of Orlando, Fla., scored a hole in one. He missed another by a breath.

Tommy Filmore of Springfield, Mass., drove righthanded and putted lefthanded.

Yonkers Schools Affected By Lack Of Ball Equipment

YONKERS—An acute shortage of baseball equipment—specifically balls and bats—caused by government allocation of all available sporting supplies to rehabilitation and recreation for servicemen overseas and in this country threatens curtailment of the national pastime in Yonkers.

Hardest hit by the scarcity are Commerce High School, Saunders Trades School and more than 50 teams organized under the Yonkers Recreation Commission. The remaining public high schools, Yonkers, Gorton and Roosevelt, although not seriously threatened for the present, will undoubtedly feel the pinch.

The Recreation Commission, which normally provides bats and balls for recreation league, parochial league and pickup teams using Glen Park, Trevor Park and Prescott Field, has two dozen balls left over from last season and no prospects, according to Maurice E. Moore, deputy superintendent. The recreation program becomes "doubtful" since consumption of baseballs in recent years has averaged 2 1/2 dozens a week throughout the Summer months, Mr. Moore said.

New York To-Night

JOSEPH COTTEN and Ginger Rogers comprise the screen's newest team of romancers to bring a thrill to Broadway, where United Artists present "I'll Be Seeing You" for its Broadway premiere at the Capitol Theatre. Shirley Temple has her first grown-up and important role in it, aided by Spring Byington, Tom Tully, Chill Wills and Kenny Bowers. William Dieterle directed from a story by Charles Martin and a screen play by Marion Parsonnet. Martin originally wrote the story for the radio network show featuring Gertrude Lawrence and Jimmy Cagney, and because of its wide popularity, rewrote it for the screen.

Toscanini, the great international symphony conductor, is the discoverer of Rosario and Antonio, youngsters whose Spanish gypsy dancing has delighted millions and adds brilliance to the stage show. First cousins, Rosario and Antonio have danced together since they were seven years old. They appeared in "Hollywood Canteen," "Ziegfeld Girl" and "Pan Americana" on the screen and in "Sons O' Fun" and other Broadway shows, including a Carnegie Hall concert. As extra added headliner Paul Winchell, radio's famous ventro-mimic and his dummy "Jerry Mahoney" add mirth to the program, highlighted by Swing-and-Sway Sammy Kaye's Orchestra and radio personalities, including Nancy Norman, Ernie Rudisill, Arthur Wright, Billy Williams and the Three Kayedets.

Our Men In Service

Company Commander

Commanding Company A of the 45th Armored Battalion (Medical) with the Third Division in Germany, is Capt. Thomas F. Jacobs of Larchmont. Mrs. Jacobs, the former Anne Brennan of Larchmont, and their two sons, Thomas, Jr., and George, reside at Larchmont Acres.

When the division was preparing to exploit the bridgehead across the Roer River—and eventually take Cologne — task force commanders were surprised to find that they were not the first units to cross.

Already set up in Duren and waiting for the tanks to pass was Capt. Jacobs' Company A. They had bounced over the pontoon bridges shortly after the attacking Infantry.

Overseas 19 months, Capt. Jacobs served in England, France and Belgium, and was with one of the first medical units to enter Germany early in September.

He entered the service in September, 1941, while interning at Geisinger Memorial Hospital in Danville, Pa., following his graduation from Rush Medical School, Chicago. He is a graduate of Dartmouth College, and received specialized Army training at Carlisle Barracks, Pa.

"Medical spearheading" is a specialty of the 3rd Armored medics, so the tankers were not too surprised to see them. Experience in France and Belgium had taught combat units that when the spearhead medics were not liberating a town themselves they were generally within whistling distance.

Capt. Jacobs is the son of Capt. and Mrs. George F. Jacobs of Minneapolis, Minn., formerly of New Rochelle.

Wins Oak Leaf Cluster

The Bronze Oak Leaf Cluster has been awarded to Pfc. Robert O'Brien of Mamaroneck to be added to his Purple Heart previously awarded for wounds received in action.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. O'Brien of 122 Sunset Road, he is recuperating in a hospital in France from wounds received March 7 in Germany.

Pfc. O'Brien entered the service three years ago and has been overseas nearly two years. He was first wounded last August shortly after his parents received notice that his brother John E. O'Brien, Jr., was listed as lost at sea after being missing for a year.

Home From Pacific

Capt. Harold F. Jennings is at home after nearly three years' service overseas with the United States Marine Corps. He holds the Silver Star Medal for gallantry in action against the Japanese at Cape Gloucester and was wounded last Fall.

A former Mamaroneck High School athlete, he entered the service while he was a student at the University of North Carolina. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Jennings, reside at 182 Mount Pleasant Avenue.

Scouting Pilot

Lt. George A. Feeley, whose sister, Edwin B. Dooley, resides on Fairway Avenue, Mamaroneck, is serving as a scouting pilot with the Field Artillery of the 11th Armored Division of the 3rd Army in Germany.

A resident of South Orange, N. J., he is a graduate of Seton Hall and has been in the service since before Pearl Harbor. He graduated from the Field Artillery School at Fort Sill, Okla., and then went to Laredo, Tex., to coordinate flying with his artillery training.

His brother, Corp. John Feeley is stationed with an Army medical detachment at Camp Kilmer, N. J.

Sgt. Brueski Wounded

Rye Neck School Budget Boosts Tax Rate $1.43

Pay Increases And Recreation Add To Costs

The addition of $16,240.34 to the Rye Neck School budget for increases in teachers' salaries, a $2,069.37 increase in estimated operational costs, and a $1,500 item for Summer recreation are the main factors in an increase of $1.43 per thousand in the 1945 tax rate for the district, according to the proposed budget posted by the Board of Education yesterday.

The sharp boost from $10.865 to $12.29 results from an increase of $23,601.22 from $198,782.52 to $222,383.74, in the amount to be raised by taxation after the estimated credits have been deducted from the total budget of $273,508.68. The gross figure shows a $23,171.37 jump over the $250,737.31 total expenditure of last year, whereas it is estimated that the credits will fall from $51,954.79 to $51,524.94.

Appearing in the budget for the first time is the $1,500 appropriation for a Summer recreation program included at the request of the Rye Neck Recreation Committee, which handled the program last Summer with the financial aid of the service clubs plus payments by the parents of children who participated.

It was pointed out by School Board President James Jackson this morning that an increase of $72,619 in the assessed valuation of the Town of Rye last Fall brought the tax rate of $11.03, as estimated at the annual meeting, down to $10.86. The assessed valuation upon which the tax rate is figured at the present time is also tentative, he emphasized and by the settlement of certiorari actions or adjustments by the assessor, may be changed before September, resulting in a few cents difference in the estimated rate as announced at the present time.

Mr. Jackson has computed the estimate on a present assessment of $14,139,564 in the Town of Rye, $3,812,238 for the portion of the City of Rye in the school district, and $138,170 for the portion of the Town of Harrison in the district. The rate is estimated by dividing the net budget amount to be raised by taxation by the total assessment of $18,089,922.

Other items showing a shift in the figures, in addition to the salary raises and operation expenses include a drop from $16.165 to $15,600 in the general control appropriation; a $2,476 increase, from $6,942 to $9,419.11, in the cost of maintenance; a slight drop from $14,401.25 to $14,271.56 in fixed charges; another decrease from $40,598.25 to $39,629.25 in debt service; a rise from $1,620 to $2,426.40 in capital outlay; and an increase of more than $3,000 from $14,098 to $17,340.15 in the estimated expenditure of "auxiliary agencies." That item includes the recreation expense and other items connected with the library, health program and athletic supplies and equipment.

No provision has been made in the new budget for additions to the instructional staff," President Jackson said today, "the entire increase be devoted to salary rises."

Under the heading of anticipated credits, it is estimated that the balance on hand will fall from $6,000 to $5,000 plus $363.32 additional state aid received over last year's provision; that there will be an increase of $100 from $29,500 to $29,600 in the state aid expected; a drop from $15,254.79 to $15,161.62 in receipts expected from the state retirement fund; and a rise from $1,200 to $1,400 in refunds and miscellaneous receipts.

The annual meeting will be held at Bellows High School May 1 at 8 P. M. for the vote on the budget and two trustees will be elected the following day. The only candidates now in the field are George E. Coffin and Everett H. Smith who are running for reelection.

989 Nazi Planes Lost In 6 Days

LONDON, (AP)—German plane losses in the last six days mounted to 989 today when 11 American thunderbolt pilots strafed two airfields near Leipzig where 350 gasless aircraft were parked.

The Thunderbolt pilots attacked until their ammunition was exhausted and at the end counted 74 planes destroyed and 18 others damaged.

Allied planes raked Berlin with bombs again during the night, dealt punishing blows to German shipping and pressed their methodical program of reducing the enemy's aerial defenses.

Clothing Drive In Apartments Slated Sunday

A one-day drive for used clothing, shoes and bedding for the apartment houses only will take place Sunday, it was announced by the committee in charge of the United National Clothing Collection in Mamaroneck at a meeting yesterday afternoon in the Volunteer Office in the Municipal Building. The list of captains in charge of each apartment house is almost complete.

"But many more volunteers are needed," Mrs. Mary Ingraham, secretary of the committee, said yesterday. "The collection of the used clothing has been pretty well arranged. But after the collection comes the work.

"Volunteers are urgently needed to assist in sorting, bundling and packing. In the sorting our women of Mamaroneck can be very helpful, for their knowledge of materials and quick estimates of genuine sizes would speed this part of the work.

"Then we need men to help in the packing. And we need packing cartons. Letters were sent to 10 merchants requesting large packing boxes and so far only three have answered our request.

"This is a big job and a very important job. To put it over and get the desperately needed clothing to the suffering peoples of liberated countries we must have help. Please call the Volunteer Office, Mamaroneck 1660, and leave your telephone number.

"Help will be needed beginning April 15 and until about May 10.

"As to the one-day apartment house drive on Sunday, captains of the apartments will alert their tenants at 1 P. M. and the trucks will begin to roll at 2 P. M. The Volunteer Office will be open at 2:30 P. M., and will stay open as long as necessary."

Leo Heithaus acted as chairman of yesterday's meeting. He stressed the law against unauthorized persons picking up anything from the cans which has been put out for collection.

Clean-Up Week Opens Monday In Larchmont

Larchmont's annual clean-up week, the third week in April according to the established policy of the village, will open Monday, and will follow the regular garbage collection schedule, Arthur Richards, village engineer, announced today.

Trucks will call at residences and business places south of the Boston Post Road Monday, Wednesday and Friday; and north of the Post Road Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Mr. Richards, in a card mailed to all householders in Larchmont this week, advises those in the business district to "keep your business clean," cleaning sidewalks and curb each day and placing sweepings in regular garbage cans.

"Your full cooperation is essential to preserve the health and attractiveness of Larchmont," the card states, and members of the Department of Public Works ask that the regulations be carefully read, since they will be "strictly enforced."

The schedule for the collection of Winter ashes and rubbish from Oct. 15 to May 15 is the same as the garbage collection.

Summer ashes and rubbish will be collected from May 16 to Oct. 16 on Tuesday, north of the Post Road, and Wednesday south of the Post Road.

Directions and regulations include the following:

"Containers: all garbage, food waste or matter which will decay must be placed in water-tight covered metal containers of not less than 10 nor more than 20 gallons capacity. This provision must be strictly followed. Containers shall not be placed on the side-

2 Larchmont Boys Become Air Officers

Larchmont members of the first class to complete the new 20-week navigation curriculum at Hondo Army Air Field, Hondo, Tex., now spending leaves at home before reporting for further assignment are Second Lt. Jeffrey A. Greene and Flight Officer Stephen W. Leavenworth. Both ir Corps men are 1943 graduates of Mamaroneck High School.

Son of Major and Mrs. Horace Leavenworth of 17 Bayard Street, Flight Officer Leavenworth received pre-flight training at Maxwell Field, Ala., where he was awarded the expert's medal for proficiency in shooting. He received previous training at Greensboro, S. C.; Amherst, Mass. and Bainbridge, Ga.

Lt. Greene entered the service while a freshman at Colgate College and also trained at Greensboro. His two brothers, Philip and Braddock are serving with the Air Corps. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley R. Greene, reside at 50 Kane Avenue.

The navigation school's newest class has just completed 20 weeks of strenuous air and ground training at Hondo Field, first U. S. air base built exclusively for training navigators. The original 16 weeks' course was stretched to 20 weeks in order that lessons learned from combat returnees might be incorporated in every phase of the training program.

Advanced training at Hondo Field now embraces many valuable aspects of combat flying learned earlier in the war by American airmen in all theaters of combat. A new ally commissioned officer at Hondo Field is thoroughly skilled in guiding a bomber to enemy targets in all kinds of weather. He has flown more than 13,000 practice miles in twin-engined training ships.

The new graduates received, in addition to their navigators' wings, commissions as either flight officers or second lieutenants. They now await initial assignment as AAF officers.

Doctors from the hospital staff contributed $300 additional last night and the hospital employes another $200, while $600 was reported as contributed from the volunteer ambulance drivers.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday in the second floor dining room.

YANKS SPAN ELBE AND OPEN 57-MILE DRIVE TO BERLIN; REDS PUSH BEYOND VIENNA

Russian Armor 115 Miles From Berchtesgaden

LONDON, (AP)—Marshal Feodor Tolbukhin's Third Ukrainian Army has punched a big hole in German defenses west of Vienna, Moscow dispatches said today, and Berlin reported Soviet armor had reached a point between Krems and Melk, 115 miles from Berchtesgaden.

Soviet troops virtually completed the occupation of Vienna, and dispatches from the Russian capital said "Moscow's guns may salute the freeing of the ancient Austrian capital tonight.

Northwest of Bratislava the Russians were fighting within sight at least of the Vienna-Bruenn highway, last escape route for the Germans northward out of the capital. Moscow dispatches said the encirclement had been completed. Berlin said Soviet flamethrowers were putting tommy-gunners ashore in the rear of German troops still fighting in the nine-mile long island in northern Vienna between the river and Danube canal.

Zhukov Drive Ready

The German commander on the Berlin front was reported by the German radio to have issued an order of the day to his troops warning that the zero hour for the push by Marshal Gregory Zhukov's First White Russian Army from its bases along the Oder could be expected at any time.

Soviet air reconnaissance heralding such an assault already is "exceptionally brisk," a Berlin military spokesman said.

"In the Oder bend from north of Gueben (50 miles southeast of Berlin) as far as Kuestrin enemy motorized and rail movements continue and indicate a growing Russian readiness for the offensive," he said.

Berlin said Tolbukhin's forces had reached the Danube bend 42 miles west of Vienna and 12 miles west of St. Polten.

Northeast of Vienna the Russians slashed one of the last German escape routes a second time, the railroad running north to Lundenburg and the Czechoslovak city of Brueun (Brno).

A great tank battle raged in that area as the Germans tried desperately to check the westward drive of Marshal Ivan S. Malinovsky's Second Ukrainian Army for a linkup with Marshal Feodor I. Tolbukhin's Third Ukrainian troops sweeping through and beyond Vienna from the south.

In Czecho-Slovakia, meanwhile, the Second and Fourth Ukrainian Armies linked up in the Carpathian mountains and cleared a supply road from Poland to the Vienna front.

Larchmont Resident Serves On Hospital Ship Carrying Wounded To Pearl Harbor

A member of the staff of the Navy hospital ship, "Samaritan", which carries the wounded from the South Pacific Isles to the Aiea Naval Hospital at Pearl Harbor is Lt. Commdr. William P. Reed, a resident of Larchmont. He recently mailed home the first Red Cross flag flown on Saipan.

A graphic picture of one of the Samaritan's trips from Iwo Jima is contained in an article written by Meyer Berger in The New York Times. He roamed the deck of the ship with its blaze of protective lights steamed through the South Pacific darkness, hearing the moans of men deep in the throes of heavy drugs. An excerpt of the story follows:

"Aboard the Samaritan twenty-two nurses and the white-clad surgical staff worked tirelessly over the wounded under strong white glare. The operating rooms were heavy with morphine odor and with sickening emanations from other heady drugs.

"Marines and sailors out Iwo, in every conceivable state of mutilation, most of them stubble-bearded and haggard, stared at the nurses' flushed faces, as at something new and rare. To sick men's eyes the faces swam, as in a dream.

"Morphine created some of the dream effects during the Samaritan's three-day voyage to Saipan, but the ship's engine purr and the assurrant backwash added hypnotic illusions.

"There were other strange aspects. It was not merely that the wounded, under effects of the drugs, moved as in a vacuum. There was little actual sound.

"The recently amputated slept deeply, without moan or groan. There were occasional deep-chested sighs, the metallic clink of surgical instruments, muffled remote shipboard sounds.

Lt. Commdr. Reed, U.S.N.R. has been serving on the Samaritan for a year and a half. He formerly was a practising physician with offices in the Colony Apartments, Mrs. Reed and their two sons, Peter and Christopher, reside at 43 Vine Road.

A graduate of the University of Wisconsin and Harvard Medical School, Lt. Commdr. Reed entered the Navy in July, 1942, and was stationed at the Great Lakes, Ill., Naval Training Station before going overseas. He was formerly associated with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

Okinawa Fight Has Cost 2,695 Yank Casualties

GUAM, (AP)—Southern Okinawa's grim, no-quarter artillery battle went into its eighth day today as the Navy announced American casualties of 2,695 for the first nine days of the campaign. The Yanks were killing 11 Japanese for every American.

Japanese in the bitterly-contested southern sector hurled four determined and well-prepared counterattacks against Maj. Gen. John R. Hodge's 24th Corps doughboys yesterday after tiring 4,000 rounds of mortar and artillery fire.

Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz again reported "no substantial changes in the lines in the southern sector."

Maj. Gen. Roy S. Geiger's Marines in the north ran into organized resistance for the first time as they pressed toward the end of the tip of the Motobu Peninsula. Other Marines advanced into the mainland of northern Okinawa against only slight opposition.

Carrier and land-based planes as well as naval guns gave close support to the ground operations. Fighters wrecked 14 Japanese amphibious tanks and 15 camouflaged boats along the southern shore. A shore battery was silenced.

Admiral Nimitz announced the 2,695 American casualties included 452 dead, 2,103 wounded and 140 missing. This count was up to midnight on Monday.

The last report of Japanese dead showed 8,500 by midnight Sunday, but much heavy fighting has been under way since then. The ratio of better than 11 to 1 still is considerably under that of Iwo Jima and Saipan. The ratio at Iwo Jima was around 20 to 1.

Bombers Blast Troop Train In Indo-China

MANILA, (AP)—Fifth Air Force Liberators ranging far from their Philippine base over Indo-China exploded a 14-car Japanese troop train with direct bomb hits Monday, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today.

Fellow pilots bombed Hong Kong's Victoria Docks, two radio stations and rail installations on Hainan Island and sank six small freighters in the China Sea.

U. S. 14th Corps troops in south Luzon, where MacArthur announced organized Japanese resistance had been broken, secured road nets south of Tayabas.

The Japanese still were sternly defending northern Luzon, where the fighting has been bloody. The Yanks inched along, reducing hillside defenses one by one.

Americans Force Final River On Way To Capital

BULLETIN

PARIS, (AP)—A report attributed to French sources and without immediate confirmation said tonight that Allied parachute troops had been dropped at Brandenburg, barely 20 miles west of Berlin.

By JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press Staff

PARIS—The American Ninth Army crossed the Elbe River today and began beating down the last 57 clear miles to Berlin.

The last river before the German capital was forced by the Hell on Wheels (Second) Armored Division which blazed more than 50 miles to Magdeburg in a 12-hour dash yesterday. The precise site of the crossing was not announced.

The Second Armored Division "can be at the Brandenburg Gate in Berlin by tomorrow night or Saturday morning" if ordered to attack and occupy the capital unless the Germans shift forces from the Russian front, AP correspondent Robert Eunson reported from near Magdeburg. The German defenses were crumbled. The Elbe had been crossed by a conqueror for the first time since Napoleon.

To the South, Third Army tank divisions broke loose again and thundered forward up to 40 miles on the approaches to Leipzig, Czecho-Slovakia and the Red Army lines.

Big Cities Fall

Large and important cities toppled. Among them were Essen, Weimar, Coburg, Nordhausen, Schweinfurt, Halberstadt, Aschum, Emmen in Holland, Neustadt, and, by German account, the Ruhr coal and steel center of Bochum.

Besieged and falling were Brunswick, Dortmund, Heilbron and Erfurt. The Germans said Bremen was under all-out British assault, the Ninth Army imminently threatened Magdeburg.

One report placed American tanks near Halle, 15 miles from Leipzig.

Infantry following the swift tanks of the Third Army beat to within 40 miles of Leipzig and 95 of Dresden. A junction with the Russians may come between two great Saxony cities within days.

"The phantom Sixth and Fourth Armored Divisions of the Third Army are striking deeper into what remains of the great heart of Germany," AP Correspondent Thobum Brooks was allowed to report through the Third Army Security blackout. "It can be said that the present armored stabs are much like those made by the Third Army in the past—sudden, swift and sensational."

At one point the tanks were a bare 43 miles from Czecho-Slovakia and possibly closer. The censorship ban suggested that the Third might be veering southward to cut routes into the national redoubt in the Bavarian Alps, where Hitler has planned his last "operation Gotterdammerung."

All the North German ports were menaced. The Canadians launched a drive into Western Holland against thousands of trapped Germans. Ninth and First Army divisions whittled down the Ruhr pocket and its garrisons of up to 100,000 German troops.

Heinrich Himmler, German gestapo chief, issued a decree saying "every German town and every house must be defended."

In the south, Sandow (42d) Division captured Schweinfurt, ball bearing capital of the Reich, and moved to within 39 miles of the Nazi shrine city of Neurnberg.

The 83d Motorized Division raced 38 miles east of Goslar and captured Halberstadt (50,000) and Wegeleben. The Fifth Armored Division driving north of Brunswick reached Helmstedt 5 miles northwest of Magdeburg.

Lieut. Gen. William H. Simpson's Ninth Army has penetrated the city of 334,358, whose bombed out industrial area includes the Gruson Werke armor plant, a subsidiary of Krupp.

Only a handful of Nazis still were fighting in Brunswick, one-time headquarters of the railroads Lion Hearted. The capture of Halberstadt gave the Ninth Army an important junction of railroads just north of the Harz Mountains.

The Germans said British Second Army troops had opened an all out attack on Bremen.

Kiwanis To Buy 2 Overseas Kits

The Kiwanians also appointed a committee at the request of Earl Quick, adult president of the Teen Canteen, to confer with the Canteen members about the anticipated visit of the Life Magazine photographer to the youth center.

William G. Truesdell of 540 Alda Road, Mamaroneck, was welcomed from the Kinawis Club of Elkhart, Ind., and Harold Saunders was also voted into membership.

President, Artur W. Martensen presided.

By THE SPORTS EDITOR

A coaching change, one which has been in the wind for some time, finally came about down at Mamaroneck High when Coach Howard Smith was named to succeed George Mooney as mentor of the football and basketball outfits. It's been generally known for some weeks that Mooney would leave the Hilltop, the third basketball or football coach in a row to last only one season at the school.

Smith not only takes over the coaching duties but will have the responsibility of scheduling all games (something Mooney wanted all season) and will also be in charge of all athletic equipment and have general supervision of all coaching activities.

All of which we think is all to the good. Smith will be, in effect, if not in name, a general director of athletics and the interscholastic athletics of the school will be concentrated in one person. That's one thing Mamaroneck High has needed for some time.

We hope that the arrangement will last for some years and will give the Hilltoppers some continuity in coaching. One of the reasons for poor athletic results at the Orange and Black school undoubtedly has been the fact that the football and basketball teams have had to adjust themselves to so many different types of play. It'd be one coach this season, another mentor next, and the holdover players just had to change their ideas and their methods.

We wish Coach Howard Smith all the luck in the world and the same goes for George Mooney, who, even though the teams didn't win as many games as had been hoped, nonetheless turned in as good a job as could be done under the circumstances.

Orange And Black Ball Squad Slowly Rounding Into Shape

The Storey-led Mamaroneck High School baseball squad, with a week of practice behind it, is slowly assuming some semblance of form and the Hilltop mentor is beginning to get some line on the 58 players who reported to him recently. Yesterday the squad held a short game in which the coach tried to use every player with any chance of making the first team. An even half-dozen hurlers, four infields, four outfields and a trio of catchers saw action.

Although the season has not yet begun Storey appears to have uncovered a hurling find in youthful John Oliver. Only a sophomore Oliver has impressed with his ability to put the pellet where the catcher wants it as well as with his speed. He rates right behind Rocky Stingone, who figures to be the pitching mainstay of the club, and Al Dodenhoff, both of whom are veterans of last year's campaign. Other hurlers who are showing promise include Ted Herlyn, Bill Emerson, Eugene Samter, and Emanuel Rothenberg.

It's in the outfield that the Tigers seem almost set to go. Charlie Rigano in center field and Jack McKernan in left, both veteran operatives, appear certain starters when the Hilltoppers take the field against Pelham in a pre-season tilt next Tuesday.

Right field, however, is wide open with Joe Palmer currently having the inside track although Ike Euiler, Sid Nordenschild and Art Hogue are putting up strong battles for the spot.

The infield, according to Coach Storey, is still in its experimental stage. With at least four players trying out for every position Storey is having trouble watching them all and getting a complete line on each. At first base it looks like a choice between Jack Beall and Marv Mitchell, although they are being pressed by Joe Constantini, Panke and Dick Borton. Three fancy fielders are out trying to fill the keystone position, a spot held last year by Tony Loiaconi. They include Bill Pooley, Cocciolone, and Bill Coughlin with the latter an all around man who can play at almost any spot in the inner defense. Bob Kiley and Ted Weeks are also in the competition for the spot.

Brown at Short

It'll probably be Harry Brown at the short-stop position, although there is a chance that the service will take him soon. He handled the difficult assignment well last year, flashing a rifle-like arm and some good hitting. Joe Cottrell, Hank Rosenberg and Ronnie Pelletier are other possibilities, although Brown appears to have the inside track right now.

Completing the infield there is a battle among Footsie Gironda, Walter Frank and Walt Palmer for the hot corner. Gironda worked there in 1944 and seems set to repeat this year.

As for catchers, the Hilltop mentor has five. Pete Ahern, Jim Newman, Bob Lane, Larry Rosenstadt and Jack DuBois make up the candidates. DuBois is out for the first year and has shown some good possibilities but aside from that there appears little to choose among the quintet and it will probably be a matter of hitting strength which will decide the issue.

The team will play a practice game next Tuesday against the Pelham team on the Pelican's field.

Williams of the Legionnaires was the chief cause of the downfall of the Holy Name group as he meshed six field goals for a total of 12 markers. De Litta was high for the local squad with 11 points, five two-pointers and a foul shot.

Tumbos Rap Irish; Russell Hits 264

Witmer Russell, rolling a 264 string and finishing with a 598 series, led the Mamaroneck Tumbos to a 2—1 win over the Irish House last night in a New Rochelle Major League match. Russell carded his big game in the middle string in which the locals just missed hitting 1,000 by four maples.

Best in the match however, was Kade who roolled a 617 series, but still saw his team drop the last two games after handily winning the opener.

The two top teams, the Diners and Milkmen, tied for the lead in the Mamaorneck Rec kegling circuit, collided last night and after the battle was over the Milkmen found themselves in possession of first place by virtue of a 2-1 victory. Led by Tommy Parker the Milkers sandwiched a loss in between two wins as they copped the first string by 31 pins, lost the second by 10, and then came back to take a 29-maple victory in the third fray. De Maria of the losers had high series for the match when he beat Parker's total by rolled a 545, beating out Parker by just one timber.

The A.B.C. outfit, evidently not enjoying the high altitude in fifth place, crash dived back into the cellar when they dropped a shutout to the Recs. Charlie Spero and Blumenscheid were the chief reasons for the defeat of the Alerts as the former carded a 227 game and the latter rolled the night's high series with a 564.

A final match saw the Soundviews turn back the Blueprinters by 2-1 in a low scoring affair. Roellecke's 536 was tops for the match.

Robins Upset Orioles To Tie Ladies League

Team Standings:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Orioles	38	34	.528
Robins	38	34	.528
Wrens	36	36	.500
Larks	32	40	.444

The battle for the top spot in the Acres Ladies' League got hot again last night as the Robins and Orioles met with the second place team taking a 2—1 victory and drawing up into a deadlock for the lead.

It was Mrs. Francesca Van Heusen who led the Robins to their victory as she broke both single game and series records for the league. Made up of new recruits to the alley, game the loop had never had a 200 game and had never imagined a 500 series. Mrs. Van Heusen busted 200 by two pins when she kegled a 202 in her first effort and went on from there to finish up 32 maples over the 500 mark. Curiously, the Robins, anchored by Mrs. Van Heusen, dropped the game in which she hit her high string.

In the second match it was the Wrens pecking a 2—1 victory out of the Larks. The Wren outfit split the first two games and then won the last by just two timbers.

Robins (2)	474	451	498—1423
Orioles (1)	480	404	453—1337

ARCHERS LOSE

WHITE PLAINS — The newly-organized Westchester Archers, though offering a stiffer resistance than expected, dropped their initial match against outside competition to the New York Archers, 4,182—4,094, at the County Center last night.

New York TO-NIGHT

A GIRL making her debut on Broadway in a featured role isn't exactly news these days, but when the girl happens to have already been a star on Broadway who had to move to 45th Street to become a Broadway star, well, that's making news in a Lewis Carroll sort of way.

It's like this: Dorothie Littlefield, of the famous Philadelphia family, now featured in "Song of Norway," at the Imperial, is speaking lines on a stage for the first time in her career. Yet only a year ago she was a guest star with the Ballet Theatre at the Metropolitan House which happens to be right on Broadway.

"I'll never forget that night when I took over Alexandra Danilova's role in 'Norway.' I was as nervous as I was the first time I danced professionally. That was in Philadelphia many years ago before I was even in my teens.

"I had studied my lines for several days, but the day I was to have had a rehearsal, Irra Petina was busy getting married, so I went on 'cold.' Everything went swell, but the next day when I did get a rehearsal, I drew a blank—couldn't even remember the first word. Thank goodness that hasn't happened at a real performance."

Besides playing the temperamental ballerina in the operetta—and dancing, too, of course—Dorothie has charge of the ballet dancers. That's not a new experience for her, "even though I'd much prefer just dancing." Even now Dorothie is teaching at the American School of Ballet.

Dorothie has had a long and successful career as a ballerina. After dancing with the Philadelphia Opera, she went to Paris to study with Egorva and Balanchine. She danced with Nijinska's ballet in Paris and the south of France, and later distinguished herself in ballets all over Europe.

She has appeared with the Littlefield Ballet (headed by her sister, Catherine), with the Chicago Opera, Hollywood Bowl and Robin Hood Dell in Philadelphia, Paris, Belgium and London.

Middle-AgeCraving For First Romance Can Be Remedied

By DOROTHY DIX

Strange and curious and past all understanding are the ways of married people. Among the most inexplicable of their vagaries is that they so often react emotionally toward the sweethearts of their boyhood and girlhood as they do towards the little red apples that grew on Grandpa's farm, or the doughnuts that Mother used to make. They get a craving for them that gnaws at their hearts night and day, and that spoils all of their peaceful, comfortable, home lives.

In the course of a year I get hundreds of letters from both men and women telling of the anguish they are enduring at discovering that they are not in love with the wife or husband they have been married to for 30 or 40 years, but that their one and great passion has always been for their adolescent romances. True, they never suspected it at the time. The boy went away from home to seek his fortune, fell in love with a pretty girl, or thought he did, and married her. A dashing youth came down the girl's street, caught her fancy, and she became his happy bride.

Love In Retrospect

Both couples made homes, worked together, had children, and never doubted their affection for each other, until suddenly, along towards middle life, it occurs to them that they don't love their Marias or their Johns, and that they are pining for the Angelinas or Percivals they did not marry.

It seems unbelievable that sensible men and women would drag these dead loves out of their graves and hold wakes over them and shed tears over them, but they do, and thereby they give themselves much unnecessary sorrow. For, after all, they are bound by the ties they have made and there is always the good wife and the good husband and the children and the business and their places in society that they can't dump just because they didn't diagnose their emotions correctly when they were kids.

It is a situation that has both comedy and pathos in it, but fortunately, there is a very simple cure for it and one that never fails to work. That is for the one who mourns a lost love to crack out his dream man or girl and take an appraising second look at him or her. For in our memories of our early sweethearts we always see them untouched by time. They are forever young and slim and beautiful, bubbling over with the joy of living. There are no wrinkles on their faces. No gray in their hair. No rheumatism in their joints.

But, alas, in real life Romeo doesn't always stay Romeo, and Juliet sees him paunchy and bald, with a conversational line that runs from the stock market to baseball, she wakes up from her girlish love dream forever. And when Romeo beholds Juliet with a middle-age spread and triple chins and listens to her babble about Junior cutting a new tooth, his is glad enough to return to his Maria whose curves, or angles, and disposition he is so accustomed to he doesn't even notice them.

For the red apple is the symbol of life. *It was youth that gave its flavor to it and that never comes back to us.

Invitations Should Be Mailed Out To Each Individual

By EMILY POST

It had not occurred to me that invitations in some way add to the quaint of a party much as flowers add to the decoration of the room in which the party is given, until I received this question:

"Is it necessary to send out invitations to a tea my husband and I wish to give in honor of our son and his wife, or could we simply post the invitation on the bulletin board of the Officers' Club?"

As already noted, it certainly would be more pleasing to receive an invitation than to read it on the bulletin board. Also, I wonder, would everyone see the bulletin board?

Bridegroom's Rank On Wedding Invitation

Dear Mrs. Post: Please tell me how to have the wedding invitations engraved when the bridegroom is a Lieutenant (j.g.), a dentist?

Answer:

John Henry Molar
Lt. (j.g.) Dental Corps, U.S.N.R.

Applause Sometimes Proper In Church

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it improper to applaud in church at a concert? Our town is very small and one of the two churches is the only adequate place for concerts and, in fact, all large gatherings requiring an auditorium of any size.

Answer: I should say that in churches which are at times used for non-religious gatherings, it would be proper at these times to applaud either artists or speakers to make them welcome or to show appreciation or agreement.

Thank You For Wedding Presents

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter imagines that "thank you" said to each one personally at the wedding reception in return for wedding presents is sufficient. Perhaps it did give her a longer time to wait to write thank-you notes, but now that she is home from her wedding trip and has plenty of time, I think she should follow up the verbal thanks with short notes. Will you put something in print, please?

Answer: The brief "thank you" said at the wedding reception is not considered appreciative or polite. When someone has gone out and taken pains to choose and send her a lovely present, the least a bride can do is to send a note or else go to see the giver to say thank you personally.

FRENCH CONTEST

The French III class sent three students to New York University to the Annual Concours of the Westchester Chapter of the American Association of Teachers of French. The students were Justin Gerstle, Clare Dufault and Viola Beecher. The contest consisted of writing a composition of 200 words in French on "The Most Interesting Person I Have Met In the Past Year." Clare Dufault was the one that passed the written part and will go back for an oral on May 12.

LOST AND FOUND

Placed in the showcase in the main floor corridor is a collection of lost and found articles which the office has displayed with the hope of their being claimed. Students claiming articles must sign for them in the office.

In the group are rings, earrings, bracelets, tie pins, watches, eye glasses, pens, pencils, wallets, keys, war stamps, war stamp albums, school and reading books, and gym uniforms.

SENIOR GIRLS MODEL

On Saturday from 9 to 5:30, girls will model Arnold Constable's Spring fashions at the New Rochelle store. This the first time that a group from Bellows has been asked to model. The six girls, all seniors, are Viola Beecher, Laurie Petrie, Viola Latimer, Catherine Holland, Talma Timmerman and Ethel Sheppard.

EASTER ASSEMBLY

The Easter assembly of March 27 was an enjoyable success. The student band, under the direction of J. E. Olsen, opened the program by playing "the Connecticut March."

The major part of the affair was presented by the Junior and Senior Glee Clubs. The Junior Club presented the following selections: "Cherubim Song," "Spring Breezes," "Who Did" and "Careless Caballero." The Senior Glee Club showed excellent ability and talent through the following presentations: "Holiday For Strings," "The Cloths of Heaven," "So's I Can Write My Name" and "When Johnny Comes Marching Home."

The concluding portion of the program was given over to Coach Hasley, who presented the athletic awards and also formally inducted the new members of the Varsity Club with the assistance of Dick Joyce, the president.

Broiled Shad

Have shad cleaned and split down the back for broiling. Wash and dry with a clean cloth. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Place the fish, skin side down on a well-greased and preheated broiler rack. Dot generously with butter or margarine. Broil about three inches below broiler flame until well browned and done (10 to 15 minutes). If you pull the flesh apart carefully with a fork in its thickest part you can tell whether it is done through. Be sure to have plenty of butter or margarine on it so that the broiling will not dry it out. Serve on a hot platter with lemon slices or wedges.

Creamed Carrots And Peas

One cup canned or cooked peas
One tablespoon butter or margarine
One tablespoon flour
Three-quarter cup light cream
Salt and pepper

Melt butter or margarine in saucepan. Remove from fire and add flour. Mix to a smooth paste. Return to flame, add cream and stir constantly until sauce thickens. Season to taste. Add peas and carrots and simmer until vegetables are well heated.

Another officer said he was stunned and sat quietly for some time, then repeated over and over: "It just can't be true."

Young Roosevelt returned to his headquarters, called a meeting of his staff at 3 A. M., and informed them he was leaving at once for Washington. He was able to make connections on a special Army plane leaving this morning.

Flags At Half Mast As Local Villages Join In National Tribute

SCHOOLS PAY HOMAGE

The flags of Larchmont and Mamaroneck hung at half mast today as Governor Dewey declared a 30-day period of mourning throughout the state in memory of President Roosevelt.

Village Manager William H. Johnson and Supervisor Owen A. Mandeville announced that the offices of the Village and Town of Mamaroneck will be closed tomorrow in honor of the memory of the late president.

Sgt. Levy Wins Bronze Star For Heroism

An award of the Bronze Star Medal has been made to Sgt. Harold J. Levy of Mamaroneck, who distinguished himself by heroic or meritorious achievement or service in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States" at Tavernaux, Belgium, Jan. 17, 1945.

Sgt. Levy, who is the son of Mrs. Marie Levy of 204 Travers Avenue is a tank commander with Company "I" of the 67th Armored Regiment. He also holds the Good Conduct Medal and a certificate of merit awarded Oct. 18, 1944.

"On Jan. 17, 1945, Sgt. Levy was in the attack in the vicinity of Tavernaux, Company I was supporting the attacking forces of 'H' Company, 67th Armored Regiment. Enemy artillery fire had ranged in on positions to the north side of town. During the enemy fire, Sgt. Levy located direct fire 3,000 yards to the east and swiftly maneuvered his tank to a suitable position from which he neutralized the enemy weapon. Upon completion of this task a request from an 84th Division OP was received by Sgt. Levy and his platoon leader, to assist in observing enemy fire due to the limited visibility. Thus in the face of heavy enemy artillery fire, Sgt. Levy dismounted from his tank and in a courageous manner of dodging artillery shells, arrived at the OP. While at the OP he was quick to notice an enmey column to the east. Without a moment's hesitation he ordered the gunner of the tank to fire on the column, but due to poor visibility the gunner could not locate the column; thus Sgt. Levy again resumed initiative by ordering the gunner to dismount and observe fire while he himself operated the gun. When this manuever was accomplished, Sgt. Levy succeeded in liquidating one enemy vehicle which blew up and probably disabled several more. This quality of quick-thinking and accurate choice of decision under fire is in keeping with the highest traditions of the service and deserving of worthy recognition."

Lt. Bibas Wins Two Clusters To Air Medal

Word was received today that 1st. Lt. Frank P. Bibas of 124 Palmer Avenue, Larchmont, has been awarded two Oak Leaf Clusters to the Air Medal for his work in last August's invasion of southern France and the September invasion of Holland.

Pilot of a paratroop hauling glider towing C-47, Lt. Bibas was awarded the Air Medal following the invasion of Normandy last June. The Oak Leaf Clusters were presented for "meritorious achievement" and for demonstrating "exceptional airmanship and resolution" in carrying out his assigned task in the operations.

Lt. Bibas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy M. Bibas of the Palmer Avenue address, attended Mamaroneck Junior-Senior High School in Mamaroneck, and Winwood Prep School at Long Island, New York. He also attended Brown University at Providence, R. I., and Columbia University at New York City. Prior to his entering the service in January, 1942, he was employed by the National Screen Service Inc., at New York City.

His unit, which is a part of the U. S. Troop Carrier Forces, has played an active role in World War II, having spearheaded the invasions of Normandy, Southern France and Holland by dropping paratroopers and gliders into enemy territory.

U. S. Troop Carrier Forces, headed by Major General Paul L. Williams, form the air component of Lt. General Lewis H. Brereton's new First Allied Airborne Army, which made its battle debut on the German northern flank in Holland.

U.S. Carries On Despite Loss, Students Told

The strength of a democracy to carry on in the face of the loss of its leader was stressed this morning by Hoyt D. Smith, principal of Mamaroneck Junior High School, in a brief address of tribute to the late President, delivered over the public address system of the school.

"Today we mourn the passing of our great First Citizen," he told the students, "our Commander-in-Chief, the President of our United States. Having served as our leader longer than any other President, he chose no easy path in his old age.

"How ever much we may have disagreed with his political views and criticized his faults, (for he had faults, even as you and I) we can admire President Roosevelt's great devotion to duty, his steadfastness to the very last hour of his life.

"Handicapped as a cripple from early manhood, he asked for no sympathy. On a cold rainy Saturday, last before election day last November, I stood on a street corner in New York City and saw President Roosevelt ride past in an open car taking physical punishment which few of us could take, or would if we could.

"The 12 years of his service in the White House have been the most difficult years in the history of our country under his leadership."

Ninth Army Presses Ahead Within 45 Miles Of Berlin And Approaches Red Lines

PARIS, (AP). — The Ninth Army closed within 45 miles of Berlin today in a 60-mile armored advance which reached the already crossed Elbe River on a wide front.

BY JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press Staff

PARIS — The American Ninth Army pressed within 48 miles of Berlin today in a 60-mile armored dash to Tangermuende outflanking Denmark, Hamburg and Luebeck.

The swift advance of the Fifth Armored Division to Tangermuende, where the Nazis announced they had blown Elbe River bridges, placed the Ninth Army within 93 miles of Russian lines facing Berlin from the east.

The Third Army in the center beat down the last 18 miles to the great Saxony city of Leipzig in a drive east to bisect Germany, join the Russians and bar access from the north to the national redoubt in the Bavarian Alps. The Germans said American tanks were fighting in Haile, 15 miles from Leipzig, after bypassing the medieval cathedral city of Merseburg.

Lieut. Gen. William H. Simpson's Ninth Army closed up to the Elbe along a 65-mile front.

The Fifth Armored Division reached the river at Seehausen and the 83d Division closed up to the stream at Barby, outflanking Magdenburg 14 miles to the northwest. Barby lies 58 miles southwest of Berlin.

German reports said Ninth Army tanks were driving in the Elbe valley on both sides of Brunswick, which American troops were last reported mopping up.

For behind the lines menacing Berlin, the Ninth Army captured Duisburg, a Ruhr city of 431,256.

Third In Jena

The Third Army racing across eastern Germany virtually unopposed advanced within 24 miles of Czechoslovakia and a bisection of Germany, drove into the streets of Napoleon's old battlefield city of Jena, and captured Erfurt (166,661).

The First Army moved on Leipzig from the northwest.

Reports of revolt in the German Air Force, reduced to impotency long ago, come from headquarters of the Third Army and the 12th Army group of Gen. Omar Bradley, who commands the Ninth, Third, First and 15th Armies.

The Old Hell on Wheels Division, proudly bearing a Presidential citation from Franklin D. Roosevelt, was meeting stiff resistance in the manufacturing center of Magdeburg (334,358) which was not yet cleared. Across the Elbe, the Second Armor Division also encountered strong opposition—suggesting that the Germans had shifted troops from the east.

400 Endorse 2 For School Board Posts

Petitions signed by about 400 names endorsing Mrs. Ida A. Hughes and Walter F. Brady as candidates for election to the school board were filed last night with Kenneth Van Sciver, clerk. The deadline for filing petitions is Monday.

At a recent meeting of representatives of the Unincorporated section at the Weaver Street Fire House with W. S. H. Hamilton presiding as chairman, 16 members present, describing themselves as a committee of public minded citizens", proposed and endorsed Mrs. Hughes for re-election and Mr. Bary for election to the school board.

The petitions were filed by Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Richard Staelin. Others serving with the group are Louis Bucklin, campaign manager and Anthony A. Russo, publicity chairman, assisted by William Bowers.

At the meeting, the committee unanimously reaffirmed the following principles:—

"2. That there shall not be less than one woman on the Board.

"3. That no member of the Board shall serve more than two terms.

"4. That candidates shall be nominated and endorsed by the committee only in accordance with the geographical distribution outlined in paragraph 1.

"5. School policies and candidates shall be non-partisan."

A resolution was passed praising Philip O. Moynahan, who has served on the Board for the past six years.

Mrs. Hughes, who resides at 7 Gerlach Place, Larchmont, is a graduate of Winona State Teachers College and has served on the school board for the last three years. She is a former teacher in the school system.

Mr. Brady, of 132 Valley Stream Road, Town of Mamaroneck, is endorsed to succeed Mr. Moynahan. He is chief executive and director of the Merchants Fire Assurance Corporation of New York and a past president of the Larchmont Gardens Association. He formerly served as a member of the Advisory Recreation Council of the Town of Mamaroneck.

Qualifications of voters were stated by Mr. Russo, who urged registration on Saturday, April 21, in order to vote on candidates as well as the annual budget.

The method of collection has been worked out and all tenants have been advised of the procedure through mimeographed instruction sheets distributed by the captains.

"It is of greatest importance," Mr. Ficke said this morning, "that the tenants should have their used clothing in the collection rooms by 1 P.M. so that the cartons will be packed and ready when the trucks arrive. Cooperation in this respect on their part will save countless minutes which might seriously delay the collection.

Truman Confers With Leaders On World Situation

FRIENDS ESCORT BODY

ABOARD ROOSEVELT FUNERAL TRAIN, (AP) — The body of President Franklin D. Roosevelt was en route on a 23-hour run to Washington today for funeral services in Washington and burial Sunday at Hyde Park, N. Y.

The ten car special train, full of friends and associates, who hurried here when news of his death spread, got under way at 10:15 A. M., (EWT).

Two thousand soldiers from the Fort Benning infantry school under the general command of Maj. Gen. Fred L. Walker arrived in the early morning hours to provide an honor guard.

Also on hand at the depot was the 99th Army Ground Forces Band from Fort Benning.

By JACK BELL Associated Press Staff

WASHINGTON—Harry S. Truman seized immediately on the grim problems of winning the war and securing the peace today as he shouldered the responsibilities of the Presidency.

3—Issued a proclamation setting aside tomorrow as a National Day of Mourning for Franklin D. Roosevelt.

6—Announced he will attend burial services at Hyde Park Sunday for Mr. Roosevelt, whose body was en route to Washington from Warm Springs.

Heartened by a formal pledge of support from the Senate Republican delegation, Mr. Truman began the day by declaring: "My schedule will be a busy one every day."

Secretary of State Stettinius, whose knowledge of the international situation was second only to that of the late President Roosevelt, arrived to join Mr. Truman at 10:15 A. M. Top military commanders followed.

The military chieftains summoned were fleet Adm. William D. Leahy, the late President's military adviser; Fleet Adm. Ernest J. King, chief of the Navy; Gen. George C. Marshall, Army chief of staff; Secretary of War Stimson, and Secretary of the Navy Forrestal.

These grave conferences dealt with a question mark raised throughout the world by the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt—indimate of Allied war leaders—and the intricacies of international relations: What of the new chief of state, Harry Truman of Missouri?

The new President announced at the outset that he would try to carry on the Roosevelt policies. He asked the Cabinet to stay on, gave assurance that the United Nations Conference will open in San Francisco April 25 on schedule.

There were reports at the White House, not yet official, that Mr. Truman may address a joint session of Congress next week, possibly Tuesday.

After a 30-minute conference with the new President Stettinius left hurriedly for the State Department. Striding through a crowd of reporters, Stettinius said:

"No comment. Sorry. No comment!"

Mr. Truman's first conferences apparently gave immediate direction to his statement after taking the oath last night that one of his prime tasks would be to prosecute the war vigorously on all fronts.

The White House said no other callers had been scheduled officially yet and the assumption was that the new chief would devote the major portion of his day to familiarizing himself with military conditions all over the world.

As one of his first official acts, President Truman was putting the finishing touches to a proclamation calling for a national day of mourning tomorrow in tribute to the memory of his predecessor.

Calls Lawyer Friend

As Truman began his first full day in the office to which he ascended from the Vice Presidency, he summoned Hugh Fulton, New York and Washington lawyer, to work with him in the executive offices.

Fulton, former counsel for the Senate War Investigating Committee of which President Truman once was chairman, has been mentioned for the attorney generalship if changes are made in the Cabinet.

President Truman arrived at the White House at 9 A. M., EWT today to begin his first full day as the nation's Chief Executive.

Solemn groups which had gathered near his residence and in the vicinity of the Executive Mansion watched him as he made the trip from his apartment at 4701 Connecticut Avenue.

Truman went to the White House accompanied by Lt. Col. A. E. Holland of the Office of Inter-American Affairs, an old friend.

President On His Last Trip To Washington

TRUMAN TO HYDE PARK

WASHINGTON, (AP). — President Truman will attend burial services for President Roosevelt at Hyde Park Sunday, the White House announced today.

Presidential Secretary Jonathan Daniels said Mrs. Roosevelt had expressed the wish not to have flowers sent. He explained there is a profusion of flowers available both at the White House and Hyde Park.

WARM SPRINGS, GA. — Franklin Delano Roosevelt's long and colorful public career is at an end.

A tragic though painless death halted it abruptly yesterday as the nation's 31st President seemingly was about to see the fruition of his plans for bringing lasting peace to war-ridden world. He was 63 last Jan. 30.

Mr. Roosevelt came here March 30 for one of his periodic visits to seek rest and to bask in the sun. He had planned to stay another week, then return to Washington, spend a day and start out again for a cross-country trip to San Francisco to open the World Security Conference April 25.

All this now is up to his successor, Harry S. Truman of Missouri, with the aid of a sympathetic Congress.

The President's body, prepared during the night, was to be taken back to Washington by special train on the Southern Railroad, leaving here at 11 A. M. The train will reach the national capital at 10 A. M. Saturday.

Mrs. Roosevelt arrived last night from Washington. She flew in an Army plane to Fort Benning at Columbus with Mrs. Stephen T. Early, White House secretary, and Vice Admiral Ross T. McIntyre, White House physician and Navy surgeon general.

Services Saturday

Funeral services are to be held at 4 P. M. Saturday in the historic East Room of the White House.

The body will not lie in state. Burial will be at the family home at Hyde Park, N. Y., Sunday.

Presidential Secretary William D. Hassett said the funeral services would be of the same "utmost simplicity" the President decreed for his mother, who died in 1941.

He said that six hours after the services in the East Room the body will be entrained for Hyde Park, to arrive at the family estate on the east bank of the Hudson at 9 A.M. Sunday.

Burial will be at 10 A.M., in the family garden between the rambling stone and stucco house and the Roosevelt library.

Parks Take Larchmont Community League Championship

The Sports Spotter

By THE SPORTS EDITOR

Here and There

If Charlie Spero is able to work out an idea of his there will be an all-southpaw team next year in one of the bowling leagues. Spero, a port-sider by inclination, has drawn himself a list of other keglers who toss from the left side of the alley and might just possibly get up a squad. Wouldn't be a hard matter either, if the keglers are willing. Aside from Spero we can think of Jake Schmidt, Lou Preston, Carl Steinacker, Dom Santomenna, Al Templeman, and, of course, Len Grosso. Those seven will give anyone a battle.

Alec Gest at the Larchmont Yacht Club is already looking forward with trepidation to the long series of regattas he'll have to run this Summer as race committee chairman of the club. He expects larger fleets than have been out during the last few seasons and looks forward to a big job. We've a suspicion that Gest's trepidation is unnecessary. There'll be larger fleets but Gest will handle them with his usual efficiency and good humor.

Finally, both track and baseball drills at Mamaroneck High were broken up yesterday by the necessity of taking team pictures for the year book. We understand Ed Storey had a lot of fun issuing baseball uniforms to his big squad.

Clippers Annex 2nd Place Despite 2-1 Loss To Rec 5

Final Standings

	W	L	Pct.
Parks	69	12	.852
Clippers	59	19	.756
Postmen	51	33	.607

Derbys	39	45	.464
Jesters	33	51	.393
Misfits	19	65	.226
Lions	15	66	.185

To all intents and purposes the Larchmont Community League came to an end last night as the Parks turned back the Postmen and added another game to their already overwhelming lead when the Recs landed one on the chin of the Clippers, also by a 2—1 score. It was the league's last scheduled bowling and although two postponed matches remain to be played off neither of them will have any effect on the final result. One of the deferred squabbles is between the two leaders, the Parks and Clippers, while the other involves the Clippers and Lions.

The Parks, eight and a half games in front, therefore take the loop's championship and no roll-off of postponed games will dump them into second place. The Clippers cannot fall any lower than second even if they lose all six of their postponed games, so the standings printed above are virtually the loop's final standings with a game or two changed here or there.

The league's last night of bowling turned up scores which made it appear as though the keglers might just as well have stayed home. Only one 500 series was rolled when Don Treganowan kegled a 509 for the Parks. A couple of good games were kegled with Loiaconi hitting a 223 and Brennan carding a 221, but neither bowler was able to get anywhere in the other two strings.

Just for the record, the Jesters took a shutout from the never-present Lions Club outfit as the Leos failed to appear for the fourth straight week, and the Misfits manhandled the Derbys by 2—1. The closest game of the night was the finale between the Clippers and Recs with the former saving themselves from a shutout by a three-pin win.

The scores:

Add Four Games To Hilltop Card

The 13-game schedule of the Mamaroneck High School diamond outfit was recently increased to 17 games when it was announced that Pelham, Scarsdale and Greenwich had been added to the slate. Two of the four games will be played next week, both of them away from home. Both will precede the originally scheduled season opener against Bellows on April 23.

Pelham will be met next Tuesday and the Tigers will do battle with Greenwich a week from today. The Hilltop outfit will travel to Scarsdale on May 16 and will meet Greenwich at Manchester Field on May 21.

The completed Tiger schedule includes six non-league games and 11 contests against W.I.A.A. foes. The first league game will be played against White Plains on April 27 at Manchester Field.

Saw Mill Club Schedules Dog Show April 22

With the clarification of the market areas as defined by the War Committee on Conventions, Office of Defense Transportation, the Saw Mill River Kennel Club has decided to hold its regular yearly show at the County Center on Sunday, April 22.

Only those located within the New York area, as defined by the War Committee on Conventions, will be able to exhibit. Although this will mean a limited entry, club directors felt that breeders and exhibitors had supported this show so well in the past—it being second only to Westminster in the number of entries at indoor shows in this rear—that it was their obligation to give these supporters an opportunity to exhibit as they have in the past.

The area from which entries may be made is within the boundaries of a line drawn from Westport, Conn., northeast to the Connecticut State line, to Katonah, to Croton-on-Hudson, to Haverstraw, to Tuxedo, to Wharton, N. J., to Bernardsville, N. J., to Plainfield, N. J., to Rahway, N. J.; all of Staten Island, and that portion of Long Island within a line drawn from Patchogue to Port Jefferson, to Westport, Conn.

Entry blanks will be mailed by the show superintendent to exhibitors of record within the boundaries outlined above, or may be obtained from the show committee.

Rigano Named Captain Of Tiger Ball Team

Coach Ed Storey of Mamaroneck High School's baseball team yesterday announced that Charlie Rigano, husky outer gardener of the Tigers had recently been chosen to captain the team through the 1945 season.

Rigano, a veteran of last year's outfit, a letter-winner in football and a member of the basketball squad, turned in some good outer gardening last season and is rated one of the better hitters on the outfit.

Cinder Squad Working Out At East End

Faced with the first meet next Wednesday, a practice meet against Rye, the F. E. Bellows track team is slowly rounding into shape in daily drills at Daniel Warren Field under the watchful eye of Coach Jack Hasley.

Thus far Hasley has uncovered some promising new talent but the squad seems to be particularly weak in the distance events and to lack some strength in the field events. The loss of miler Dick Carpenter and half-miler Tom Beebe, both of whom were certain point-getters, will be keenly felt at the East End. Hasley, however, has some up and coming youngsters in Hugh and Bill Dresser, Dale Shaw and Tom Akers in the mile run and Dan D'Antonio, together with Jay Williston the expected starters in the half-mile affair.

As far as the sprints are concerned the 100 and 220 will be run by Marty Gallotti while Bob Gudger, Alex d'Arbeloff, and Ted Thompson are also expected to see some action. Gudger has rapidly developed in the past week and looks as though he may be going places.

A pair of newcomers, Irv Austin and Dean Couch, are expected to carry the Blue and Black colors in the 440-yard race.

In the field events Bob Gudger has been standing out in the broad jump while Bob Joyce and Pete Laise have been working with the shot. Hasley is also attempting to make a discus thrower out of Laise.

The team will open its season April 25 with a meet against the championship Eastchester outfit on the Eagles' track.

Red Trio Turns Back Blues As Stars Drop 3 To Eagles

With only one more week to go and the championship already in possession of the Stripes, the Victory Club kegling circuit turned its attention last night to the occupants of the bottom slots in the loop. The Stars and the Reds, fighting it out for the dubious honor of finishing in the cellar, ended up last night's kegling in an absolute tie for the position as the Reds trounced the Blues by 3-0 to gain three games on the Stars who were taking an awesome shellacking from the Eagles. The battle for the booby prize will reach its climax next week when the Stars and the Reds are scheduled to fight it out against one another.

With nothing to lose or to gain the champion Stripes put on a lackadaisical match with the second place Whites. The Whites came out on top, chiefly through some good kegling on the part of Mrs. Lucy Brodbeck who hit 471 for her night's work. Mrs. Brodbeck and Adelaide Wrede tied for high single with 190 strings.

Top triple, however, went to Evelyn Wrede of the Eagles who carded a 488 on three consistent games. Never hitting over 168 Miss Wrede led the Eagles to their shutout triumph which dumped the Stars into a tie for last place.

The final match saw Mrs. Esther Addleman cop a 475 series as the Reds downed the Blues.

Local Villages Join Nation In Mourning

At the Mamaroneck Junior High School Principal Hoyt Smith spoke for five minutes early this morning over the public address system in honor of the President. A formal flag ceremony was held at 2:30 P. M. during the assembly period when excerpts from The New York Times editorial were read by Robert Riegel. The Lord's Prayer was sung by the girls of the 9th grade Glee Club and Handel's Largo was sung by the entire 9th Grade Glee Club. The audience sang "Now the Day is Over" and the service closed with a moment of silent prayer and the sounding of taps.

Members of the Teen Canteen decided early this morning that the Canteen will remain closed tonight and tomorrow night, according to an announcement from Anthony Iannarelli, president.

The meeting of the Larchmont Council for the Promotion of Peace Planning will be opened tonight by the Rev. Floyd E. McGuire, pastor of the Larchmont Avenue Church, who will offer prayer for the nation and in tribute to the late President.

The National Dinghy Championship Series of races scheduled for tomorrow and Sunday have been postponed until April 21 and 22, the Larchmont Yacht Club announced, and the Saturday dance has also been put off one week.

The Court of Honor planned by the Mamaroneck District Boy Scouts for tonight at Bellows High School has been cancelled.

The bridge planned by St. Thomas's Guild in Mamaroneck will be held according to schedule but the group will observe a moment of silence in tribute to the President's memory, Mrs. Alvah K. Parents, president, said this morning.

A number of local stores will remain closed tomorrow while the President's funeral is in progress, Barney Epstein, president of the Mamaroneck Chamber of Commerce, announced.

The Mamaroneck Lodge of Elks was one of the first organizations to express public tribute this morning to the memory of the President who, for many years had been a member of Poughkeepsie Lodge No. 275. The flag on the Elks' Club was at half mast today and the building will remain closed Sunday, Exalted Ruler Walter Ficke announced this morning.

"Mamaroneck Lodge B. P. O. Elks, No. 1457 joins our nation in its great hour of sorrow at the passing of our esteemed president and brother Elk, Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

"His entire life exemplified the cardinal principles of our order.

"His virtues of charity were greatly expressed in his love and interest in relieving the sufferings of those afflicted with infantile paralysis. He fulfilled the traditions of justice by his untiring efforts to promote freedom and afford protection for all small nations and peoples. In the interest of brotherly love, his good neighbor policy can be pointed out as a lasting inspiration of that principle. His stewardship of all the important works he performed proved that he ruled with fidelity.

"The order of Elks has lost a great member and Mamaroneck Lodge will indicate its feelings by having the clubhouse closed all day Sunday and the flag flown at half mast for the next 30 days."

HOLLYWOOD, (AP) — Three daughters-in-law of President Roosevelt were en route to Washington, D. C., today in a chartered two-engined plane.

U. S. Carries On Despite Loss, Students Told

"History will acclaim Franklin Delano Roosevelt as one of the world's great men who, like George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, guided our Nation through trying and perilous years of war to an honorable victory.

"People in axis countries will expect the loss of our chief executive to interrupt our national life and our war efforts. They will not understand the undisturbed way in which we shall carry on. When Mussolini was deposed, the government of Fascist Italy folded up. If Hitler were to die now, the Nazi government of Germany would fall to pieces.

"Ours is not a one man government. The world will see that even the loss of our President who has been the most powerful man in the world, will not leave us helpless and disabled. Herein lies the strength of our democracy. This ability to carry on, with little disruption under different leadership is one of the strengths of democracy. That is what we mean by government of the people, by the people and for the people.

"As he labored diligently to the very last, so should we all devote our lives to the great unfinished tasks before us."

agencies, a representative group of senators and representatives, members of the family and friends will accompany the funeral party from Washington.

The East Room services will be conducted by Bishop Angus Dun of the Washington Episcopal Cathedral; Rev. Howard S. Wilkinson of St. Thomas Episcopal Church, and the Rev. John G. Magee of St. John's Episcopal Church across Lafayette Park from the White House.

The President prayed each March 4 at St. John's until the inaugural date was changed to Jan. 20. In the last two years, however, he attended inaugural church services in the White House.

Conducting the burial service at the graveside in Hyde Park will be Rev. Dr. George W. Anthony, new rector of St. James Episcopal Church, where the President was senior warden.

Mrs. Roosevelt Brave

Mrs. Roosevelt, Early and McIntire were driven immediately to the President's cottage after they arrived by car from Fort Benning shortly before midnight.

Mrs. Roosevelt was described by officials as bearing up "very nobly—heroically."

Warm Springs village and its nearby Foundation for after-treatment of infantile paralysis—which Mr. Roosevelt helped found after he had been stricken and crippled by the disease — were stunned by the news of the passing of the Nation's 31st President and its first Chief Executive to serve more than two terms.

He was elected to a fourth term a little more than five months ago and was inaugurated Jan. 20, ten days before his birthday.

Many had tears in their eyes as they passed the word of Mr. Roosevelt's demise among polio patients and Foundation officials. The patients were looking forward to a visit from the President early last night. They were to put on a minstrel show for him, then re-do the act tonight for others.

Also cancelled, just as it was about to get underway, was an old-fashioned Southern barbecue at the hilltop cabin of Mayor Frank W. Alcorn of Warm Springs. Mr. Roosevelt, who was to have been the honor guest, was due at the barbecue around 4:30 P. M., yesterday. When he was not there close to 5:00 o'clock inquiries were made by the three reporters who came here with the President from Washington.

"Come down to the Carver Cottage (headquarters of Secretary Hassett on the Foundation) immediately," cried Louise Hackmeister, veteran chief telephone operator at the White House. She did not relay the shocking news. She left that to Hassett.

Jumping into a car, the representatives of the Associated Press, United Press and International News Service—only reporters here on what was a war-time-off-the-record trip—rushed to the cottage. Each immediately sensed something was wrong when they saw Hassett's sad countenance.

"It is my sad duty to announce the President died at 3:35 P. M. of a cerbral hemorrhage," said the tall, gray-haired secretary, his voice quivering. "Dr. Bruenn (Commander Howard Bruenn, on the staff of the Navy Surgeon General, here in the absence of Dr. McIntire) will give you a medical statement later."

The newsmen immediately put through long distance calls to their offices and hardly had time to supplement the death announcement made in Washington before Dr. Bruenn, young New York heart specialist entered the cottage.

He told the story calmly: that the president was in excellent spirits at 9:30 A. M., but at 1 o'clock complained of a "very severe occipital (back of the head) headache."

"Within a very few minutes," the doctor added, "he lost consciousness. He was seen by me at 1:30 P. M., 15 minutes after the episode had started. He did not regain consciousness and died at 3:35 P. M."

Hassett pieced the story together later as he picked it up from those at the "Little White House."

Miss Laura Delano, a cousin of the President who was in the cottage at the time, told Hassett Mr. Roosevelt was sitting in his leather chair in the living room beside the fire place. A New York artist, N. Robbins, was sketching the President when Mr. Roosevelt put a hand to the back of his head and said: "I have a terrific headache."

Those were the last words he uttered. He lost consciousness almost immediately.

Miss Delano at once summoned Arthur Prettyman, the President's Negro valet, and a Filipino house boy. The two lifted the stricken Chief Executive and carried him to his bedroom, adjoining the living room. He lay there on a maple bed.

In the bedroom at the time of death were Dr. Bruenn, who had been summoned from the Foundation swimming pool; Dr. James E. Paullin, internal medicine practitioner hurried down from Atlanta, 85 miles away, and Lt. Comdr. George Fox, White House pharmacist. Fox for years had been at the President's side before he retired each night, helping to relax Mr. Roosevelt's muscles by massage.

Miss Tully There

Also in the cottage besides Miss Delano was another cousin, Miss Margaret Suckley of Hyde Park, and Grace Tully, confidential secretary to Mr. Roosevelt.

Legion Plans Novel Drive For Clubhouse

Funds to complete the rebuilding and redecorating of the Flint Park Clubhouse of Larchmont Post 347, American Legion, to be raised through the Post's annual Spring show and dance on May 26, will be augmented this year by a novel money-raising plan to be announced at the May 15 meeting of the Post.

Building Fund committee members have emphasized that "when the veterans of World War 2 return to Larchmont, they are going to have one of the nicest and finest clubhouses in the country, free and clear of all debt."

Remodeling to date includes the foundation, roof and plumbing, and improvements already completed feature the extension of the side porch. Plans are under way for enlarging the ladies' powder room, with the work already begun, and the installation of a "clean, up-to-date kitchen."

The surprise plan to be announced May 15 requires the services of 72 willing volunteers," to whom notices are being mailed. Serving on the Building Fund Committee are R. Timothy Gibson, Louis E. Robbe, Cornelius J. Quinn and J. P. Coughlin.

Rotary Hears Talk On Free Enterprise

The importance of free enterprise in the solution of post-war employment problems was stressed yesterday by Joseph Calahan of New Rochelle who addressed the Mamaroneck Rotary Club at the luncheon meeting at the Elks' Club.

Speaking on the topic, "Do We Want Free Enterprise?" Mr. Calahan described his experiences as a defense worker during the last war, and the employment problems which followed the signing of the armistice and added that it had been proved that humane treatment of all employees yields better results than "holding the whip."

He was introduced to the Rotarians by Joseph C. McLain, program chairman for the month. President William J. Kuhn presided and introduced the following guests: Ernest V. Derks of New Rochelle, F. Colwell Conklin and Adrian Henigson of Larchmont.

He spent most of the 15-minute trip to the Pennsylvania Avenue mansion chatting over the ever-whelming problems that he faces.

By THE SPORTS EDITOR

The Bellows Panthers played their third pre-season practice tilt yesterday and dropped it to the Iona Prep team by a 6-1 score. After the first two innings the Panthers looked good, although a little anemic in their hitting.

The crux of Jack Fearon's problem at the East End seems to lie in pitching. Yesterday's battle was practically given away with the Bellows hurlers handing out seven bases on balls in the first two innings, forcing in one run, and yielding only a single hit over that span. Result: four tallies and the ball game.

After those two frames Joe Paonessa, who came in with the bases loaded and one out in the first after Duke Cleary had walked four of the five batters who faced him, settled down and pitched good ball. He had only one run charged against him and allowed only one hit over three and two-thirds innings. Tommy Akers came in to start the fifth frame and gave up a tally in the sixth, while the sixth Iona run was charged to Benjy Herman who southpawed his way through the seventh.

In that last frame the Panthers dented the rubber for their only score. Bascome opened with a long, high wallop to left, Herman followed and really tagged the pill but the Iona center gardener caught it near the flag pole in deep center. Up came Art O'Neill and pulled a tremendous smack down the foul line in deep right field. By the time the ball came back O'Neill was waiting for it at home plate, having completed the round of the sacks for Bellows' first homer of the year.

Micas Whip Lodge Keglers By 2-1 In Bowl Major League

Woolmen Wallop Crabtrees, Menace 2d Place Clippers

With the Micas taking a 2—1 victory from the Lodge last night the race for the championship in the Larchmont Bowl Major League was practically settled. Only two matches remain to be played by the Micas and Clippers, each of whom have a postponed battle to roll off against the Bowl five. The Mica outfit needs only three games of the six to clinch first place and two games will assure them of a tie, if the Clippers win two shutouts in their remaining battles.

The scrap for second place is hotter with the Woolmen, who massacred the Crabtrees by 3—0 last night, breathing right on the heels of the Clipper five. The teams are tied in the win column but the Woolmen are still a game and a half back since they've bowled all their matches to date and must await the result of the Clipper-Bowl postponed affair before they really know where they stand.

The top battle, however, is the fight between the Lodgemen and Bowl for fourth place. Currently only a few percentage points mark the difference between the two teams and the Bowl can pull into the bottom spot of the first division with victories in the deferred squabbles. Last night both teams involved in the battle were handed 2—1 trouncings.

With the season at its fag end the keglers appeared just about fagged out last night. 539 was the high triple for the loop and that was garnered by Wes Messersmith of the Lavenders. Messersmith also rolled one of the three 200 games kegled when he hit 201 while the others went to Carraturo of the Bowl who also notched one pin over the double century and to Russo of the Micas whose 211 was top string for the night.

Briarcliff Blanks Mt. Holyoke; Elise Rigano Hits 527 Series

Mrs. Elise Rigano copped the honors in the Larchmont Ladies circuit last night when she led the Vassar team to a 2-1 triumph over the Hunter aggregation. Mrs. Rigano's 527 was far and away the best individual kegling of the night and her 187 string in the third game copped high game honors. Curiously, the Vassar squad dropped the third set to after taking the first two.

The league leading Briarcliffes turned back the Mt. Holyoke outfit, but the match was far closer than the 3-0 score indicates. The Briarcliff's largest margin in any of the three games was 19 pins and they just managed to eke out a 2-pin triumph in the second fray. The victory added a game to the Briarcliff lead which now stands at 11 games over the Wellesley four.

The latter team, on its part, turned back the Radcliffes after a hard struggle. The score was 2-1 and the losers came out on top in total pins but trailed in games. A close five-pin victory in the second game and a 21 maple win in the third gave the Radcliffes the match after they had dropped the first string by 46 pins.

Sports World Cancels Events Set For Today

NEW YORK, (AP).—With few exceptions, the sports world took time out today to join the nation in mourning for the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

All Major League baseball exhibition games were canceled, as were the Pacific Coast League's contests scheduled for tonight.

Yale, Columbia, New York and Notre Dame Universities called off their baseball games.

Tia Juana race track at Agua Caliente, Mexico, canceled its program and will resume Sunday. From South America came word that the track and field carnival would be set back until tomorrow at Montevideo, Uruguay.

LARCHMONT—The National Dinghy Races, slated for the Larchmont Yacht Club, this week-end were postponed to April 21-22, out of respect to the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

20-Lb. Trout Taken At Lake

WHITE PLAINS—A lake trout weighing 20 pounds, reportedly largest ever caught in southern New York, was landed by an Ossining fisherman at Rye Lake yesterday after a 30-minute struggle. George Partelow of 105 Spring Valley Road, Ossining, was the lucky angler.

The largest lake trout previously recorded in this area weighed 16 pounds, 12 ounces, landed in 1940 by Arthur Hendershot of Thornwood.

Partelow caught his prize from the shore of Rye Lake by the big bridge on Route 22. He used a spoon with a feather-treble and had been casting for about half an hour.

Archers Can Take Antlerless Deer

ALBANY, (AP) — Antlerless deer may be taken by long bow again this year in Westchester County, under terms of a bill signed recently by Governor Dewey.

A measure signed yesterday struck out a provision of the conservation law which permitted hunters to shoot does, as well as bucks, in other counties last year.

Concerning the Westchester measure, which permits each archer to take one deer of either sex during the open season from Nov. 15 to Dec. 15, the State Conservation Department said:

"There is a sizeable population of deer in Westchester County, especially in the northern half where their numbers have increased to the extent that crop damage has occurred. . . .

"The extension of the season to one month (from two weeks) means nothing from the conservation point of view because, since only bow and arrow may be used, the take . . . will be insignificant. A longer season will provide an additional measure of sport for the modern Robin Hoods. . ."

Elm Quartet Upsets Birches As Maples Trounce Oaks, 3-0

Ably assisted by the fourth place Elms the Maples of the Mamaroneck Ladies League just about put the clincher on the league championship last night when they took a shutout from the Oaks while the Elms were slipping horse-collar on the second place Birches.

The Elm quartet did the night's best bowling when they carded a 1670 triple and needed their 31-pin handicap in only the first game. Malinowski garnered both high single and high triple for the loop as she led the outfit with a 173 string and a 471 series.

The Maples, meanwhile, took full advantage of the humiliation of the runner-up Birches as the Oaks fell easy victims to the kegling of Mrs. Marie Harvin and Co. Mrs. Harvin was high for the match with a 460.

The third affair saw the Firs trim the Pines by 2-1 in a battle in which neither team did any real damage to the pins. Mrs. Helen Strosahl was high with 421 and the pinboys enjoyed an easy evening.

Our Men In Service

Carries Arms To France

Cadet-Midshipman Robert N. Strompf of Alden House Apartments, Larchmont, was in a French port recently, his ship, a freighter bearing munitions to Allied fighting forces having docked there, according to information from the War Shipping Administration.

Born in New Rochelle, he is a graduate of Mamaroneck High School. Cadet Strompf is a cadet-midshipman in the United States Merchant Marine Cadet Corps, which educates young men to become officers of the United States Merchant Marine just as Annapolis and West Point produce officers for the Navy and Army. As part of his education, he is required to serve a minimum of six months at sea. While on sea duty, he not only gets practical experience in the duties of a deck officer, but also is obliged to devote an allotted number of hours each week to his academic courses. His practical and academic work was graded by a foreign supervisor of the Cadet Corps while he was in port.

Upon completion of his sea duty, Cadet-Midshipman Strompf will be assigned to the United States Merchant Marine Academy, Kings Point, New York, to complete his education. Upon graduation from Kings Point, he will return to sea as a commissioned officer to serve in the United States Merchant Marine.

Wins Commendation

Sgt. Thomas B. Russam of Larchmont, who has completed a year of service overseas with the 361st P-51 Mustang Fighter Group has been commended by his group commander for his meritorious work during the year at an Eighth Air Force Fighter Station.

The 24-year-old Eighth Air Force Intelligence draftsman is the son of Mrs. Sue Russum of Park Plaza Apartments.

V-E Celebration Slated By Club

V-E Day will be celebrated at the Bonnie Briar Country Club with dance music and bar service, according to a letter dispatched last week to the members.

If victory is announced before 3 P. M., the celebration will be held the same night, the letter states, but if the news comes after 3 P. M. the festivities will be held the following night.

The celebration will not be confined to club members, but to their families and friends as well, according to the announcement which adds, "Food will probably be impossible, due to the impracticability of securing adequate help and food on such short notice. However, such an occasion as "victory" calls for what undoubtedly will be the greatest celebration the world has ever known."

Roosevelt At Rest In Hyde Park

TRUMAN AT FUNERAL

HYDE PARK, (AP).—Franklin Delano Roosevelt, world traveler in search of lasting peace, slept today in the spot on earth he loved above all others—the garden of his family home in the peaceful Hudson Valley.

In burial rites majestic in their simplicity, the four-term chief executive was laid to rest Sunday behind the hemlock hedge which borders the century old garden, a cherished pride of the Roosevelt family.

His modest-mannered successor, President Truman, joined other high Government dignitaries in the ceremony—then sped back to Washington to shoulder in earnest the crushing task which fell his lot Thursday when a cerebral hemorrhage killed President Roosevelt.

With President Truman went Mrs. Roosevelt, back to the White House to terminate the first-family housekeeping she began March 4, 1933.

All Pay Homage

Simple neighbors of Hyde Park mingled with cabinet officers, Supreme Court justices, congressional and military leaders and foreign executives to pay final homage to the man who gave up the country squire life he wanted, to lead an embattled nation through its greatest conflict.

Among the funeral guests were Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada, who placed his own floral offering at the green-carpeted graveside—and Alfred Clay, son of a farmer on the Roosevelt estate and boyhood playmate of the late President.

The Presidential train—in a funeral role for the first time since the death of Warren G. Harding—rolled into the Roosevelt estate for the last time at 8:40 A. M. Sunday after traversing Westchester. It was a beautiful day. A warm spring sun reflected off the waters of the placid Hudson River.

The booming thunder of a 21-gun Presidential salute started the burial services a few minutes before 10 A. M. between the reports only the startled chirping of birds in the trees and hedges disturbed the quiet of Krum Elbow's 1,100 acres.

At 10:02 A. M. a Marine captain snapped "present arms" to the military guard of honor down the valley came the muffled roll of drums. The body of President Roosevelt began the short, slow journey to the final resting place he chose.

A military band broke into the brisk strains of "Hail to the Chief," then turned to the somber, mournful chords of a Chopin funeral dirge. Formal-clad cadets from West Point, 35 miles away, marched into the garden and stood at attention before the grave-banked by floral condolences from all over the world.

At 10:36 A. M., ten body bearers from the armed forces lifted the heavy, flag-draped casket from a gun caisson and carried it inside the garden to the graveside. Behind the caisson stood a horse draped in black, carrying only the boots and saber of a symbolic rider.

Family At Grave

Mrs. Roosevelt and two of her children—son Elliott, an Air Force brigadier general, and the daughter Anna—stood dry-eyed before the grave. To Mrs. Roosevelt's right were the top military commanders of the nation, members of the Cabinet and of the Supreme Court. To her left stood official delegations from both branches of Congress.

White-bearded George W. Anthony, 78, rector of St. James Episcopal Church in Hyde Park, walked slowly to the grave to intone his church's burial service. His voice came sharp and clear on the morning air:

"To almighty God we commend the soul of our brother departed—"

A baby cried. Its father gathered it in his arms and walked outside the garden.

"Grant unto him, oh Lord, eternal rest—"

Mrs. Roosevelt lowered her head momentarily.

"Rest in peace. Amen!"

Nine West Point cadets marched briskly to position behind the high-banked flowers. Rifles raised they fired three quick volleys into the blue sky. The body bearers carefully folded the flag which draped the President's casket and presented it to Mrs. Roosevelt. She, in turn, handed it to Elliott.

The service was over at 10:50 A. M.—less than an hour after the opening salute.

Doern Leads Elks In Tribute To Roosevelt As Lodge Holds Candlelight Memorial Rites

More than 80 persons gathered last night at the Elks' Club House in Mamaroneck for a candlelight memorial service in tribute to Franklin D. Roosevelt. The occasion marked the first time in the history of the local Lodge that a special memorial ceremony has been held for a departed brother Elk.

In a brief address in honor of the late President, Peter C. Doern, Jr., declared, "The nation has lost an inspiring leader. The world has lost its most able and distinguished statesman. The common man throughout the world has lost his truest friend. Elkdom has lost a brother whose life was the spirit and embodiment of the cardinal principles of Elkdom—brotherly love, charity, justice and fidelity."

He stated that "the strong virile democracy" in our nation today is a rich heritage from Roosevelt and added, "The greatest tribute that can be paid him is to remember that he found our democracy apprehensive and faltering and he carried it through every crisis leaving it strong and unwavering. The spirit of Roosevelt will pervade the gatherings of the nations and will guide them toward a just and lasting peace."

Mr. Doern concluded his remarks with the following prayer: "O, God, we pray that the great soul of Franklin Delano Roosevelt may rest in peace with thee, and in the troubled days and years ahead may his living spirit guide us and strengthen us in peace forever and ever."

Exalted Ruler Walter Ficke presided and introduced the speaker stating that it was fitting the leave, not only a brother Elk, but the chairman of the March of Dimes drive in the Village, deliver the memorial talk.

He was assisted in the ceremony by the following chair officers: Esteemed Leading Knight Leo Heithaus, Esteemed Loyal Knight Fred Yankocy, Esteemed Lecturing Knight Allan E. Bachman, Esquire James Steen, Secretary Joseph Muller and Inner Guard Alban Hartung.

Mrs. James A. Gunn led the members of the lodge and their guests in the singing of "America" and sang several hymns including a portion of one of the late President's favorites, "Saviour, Again to Thy Dear Name We Raise." She was accompanied by Mrs. Jessie Boyce at the piano.

The Elks' toast in commemoration of the President, who was a member of the Poughkeepsie Lodge, was delivered by Past Exalted Ruler B. J. Santoro.

Memorial tributes were also paid in the churches of Larchmont and Mamaroneck with observances of silence and prayer. During the singing of the Junior Choir anthem, "O, God, Our Help in Ages Past" at the Mamaroneck Methodist Church, taps were played in the distance by Harvey Harriott.

Among observances Saturday was a service at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, at 4 P. M. The music included "America, the Beautiful", "O, Gentle Presence", "All Power is Given Unto Our Lord", "O Life That Maketh All Things New" and "America". There was a period of silent prayer followed by the Lord's Prayer.

The service, conducted by John Andring, First Reader, also included the reading of the Scientific Statement of Being from "Science and Health" with correlative readings from the Bible.

Ton And Half Of Clothing Sent On Way

More than a ton and a half of clothing, shoes and bedding was packed Saturday afternoon at the Village Yard in Larchmont, and taken to the Hartsdale Warehouse designated by the U. S. Treasury Department for shipment from this area. Claude Seixas, Warren Green and Herbert Rogers, with the cooperation of Frank Monahan of the village yard, spent the afternoon packing the clothing, handicapped by a lack of large cartons and strong cord, which are "desperately needed."

Volunteers with 50 cars are needed for the house to house canvass next Sunday, starting at 1:30 P. M. Mrs. Herbert Rogers, chairman, emphasized that "only a thimbleful of gas" will be needed, since Larchmont has been divided into 5 districts for the purpose of making collections. Boy Scouts will assist the drivers of the cars.

The following groups will serve as volunteers: Lions Club, under the chairmanship of David Goldman; Howell Park Association, William Knieser, and Men's Club, Mr. Seixas. Other volunteers who can assist are asked to register with Mr. Seixas by calling him at Larch. 2-1312 or by calling the Consumer Center, Larch. 2-1050.

Mrs. Rogers again stressed the need for supplying laces for shoes, and tying them together in pairs. A great quantity of boleos and

Hitler Orders Death Battle

LONDON, (AP)—Adolf Hitler in an order of the day to German soldiers on the Eastern Front declared tonight:

"For the last time the Jewish-Bolshevist arch enemy has launched his massed attack. He is trying to destroy Germany and to wipe out our people."

"Soldiers in the East, you yourselves know what fate threatens, particularly the German women, girls and children," Hitler asserted. "While old men and children are being murdered women and girls are being reduced to the status of prostitutes. The remainder led away to Siberia."

"We have expected this offensive and since January everything has been done in order to build up a strong front. A tremendous artillery concentration is meeting the enemy," Hitler continued.

"This time the Bolsheviks will suffer the old fate of Asia—they must and will perish in front of the German Capital.

"Whoever at this moment does not fulfill his duty is a traitor to our nation."

ROOSEVELT STAMPS

WASHINGTON, (AP). — A special memorial stamp in honor of President Roosevelt — long known as the nation's number one stamp collector — appeared likely. Post Office Department officials said no steps yet have been taken but that it is likely such a stamp will be considered.

WAR STRATEGY UNCHANGED, TRUMAN INFORMS CONGRESS; REDS LAUNCH BERLIN DRIVE

Russians Swing Into Action On 60-Mile Front

LONDON, (AP)—The German High Command announced today that the Russians had launched their long awaited large-scale offensive from the east side of the German waist at Berlin.

Earlier Berlin broadcasts had made similar announcements, but this was the first confirmation by the formal communique. The High Command declared the big Soviet steamroller swung into action along a 60-mile front from the mouth of the Neisse southeast of Berlin to the Oderbruch, a low plain on the west bank of the Oder northeast of Berlin.

German broadcasts reported that a new bridgehead across the Oder had been forged by the Russians in the first hours of the offensive in the Schwedt area, 30 miles south of Stettin and 44 miles northeast of Berlin.

However Russian and American forces were even closer to a junction north of Berlin, German broadcasts indicated. The Russians were reported attacking close to Wriezen, 24 miles northeast of Berlin and 91 miles from the American Ninth Army on the Elbe at Tangermuende.

By German account the Russian offensive was being directed by Gen. Vassily Sokolovsky, formerly chief of staff in the Ukraine. The enemy said he had replaced Marshal Gregory Zhukov as commander of the First White Russian Army.

This report on a change of commanders had not been confirmed by Moscow, nor had the report of the new offensive. Moscow dispatches said, however, that if the attack had not started the zero hour was at least near.

AS A MARK OF RESPECT from New Rochelle, Mayor Stanley A. Church put a wreath on President Roosevelt's funeral train as it stopped at New Rochelle station for switch-over shortly before 6 A. M. yesterday en route to Hyde Park burial services. A porter is shown here taking the floral tribute aboard. It was placed in the car with the casket. —Staff Photo

Apartment Collection Yields Vast Clothing Assortment As Prelude To Sunday Drive

The prelude to the mammoth clothing drive to be launched Sunday in the Village of Mamaroneck took place yesterday with the collection of bundles from all the apartment houses in the vicinity under the direction Leo Heithaus and a group of volunteer workers who manned four trucks for the job.

At the close of the day, Mr. Heithaus, who is general chairman of the drive in the Village, said that he was well pleased with the results and considered the apartment houses collection complete.

Assisting with the collection yesterday were Co-Chairmen Walter Ficke of the Elks and Chief Arthur W. Martensen of the Kiwanis Club. The Volunteer Office was manned from 12:30 P. M. on by Mrs. Mary Ingraham who signalled all captains that the trucks were ready to be dispatched. The captains "alerted" the families to each house, then gathered all clothing in a central place notifying the Volunteer Office and the trucks were immediately assigned for the pickup. The clothing was taken to the Best and Company building where the garments were sorted.

Volunteers who assisted were Allan Bachman, Hugh Grace, Walter Ficke, Alban Hartung and William Kuntzky of the Elks; Chief Martensen, Thomas Sweatt, Thomas Spero, Walter Littlefield, and William Brady of the Kiwanis Club; Paul Bono and Joseph Carducci of the Manzoni Lodge. Tommy Heithaus assisted Mr. Heithaus and Mrs. Ingraham.

Two Village Trucks were driven by Lloyd Rike and Jimmy Vizz and two Individual Laundry trucks were driven by Alban Hartung and Edgar Gedney.

Captains in the apartment houses were Mrs. Herbert Livesey, Evelyn Court; Mrs. Arthur L. Howe, Franklin; Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Larault, Halstead Arms; Mrs. Douglas McIntosh, Hawthorne Gardens; Henry Harmeyer, Heathcote Apartments; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Rock, Sound View Gardens; Mrs. J. Purcell, Winfield; Miss Judith Kuritzky, Hillcrest; Graham O'Brien, De Luxe; Mrs. Isadore Lee, Graymore; Mrs. Thomas Egan, Arthur Court; Mrs. Alma Helms, 415 Tompkins Avenue; Mrs. Chester Gudger, Marable House; Mrs. J. A. Hunig, Orienta Point; Mrs. George Flynn, Maple Court; Mrs. Charles Daymon, Prospect Arms and Herman S. Dobson, Carolyn Court.

Mr. Heithaus stressed today that the house to house pickup will be conducted next Sunday rain or shine. The bundles should be at the curb if the weather is fair, and on the porch if it is raining, he added.

Volunteers are badly needed, the chairman said, adding that 32 tons of clothing "means a gigantic task of sorting and packing."

Unwelcome Guests Abuse Little Garden

Disapproval and regret were expressed by the Mamaroneck Garden Club recently at the abuse to The Little Garden on Mamaroneck Avenue by "irresponsible persons" picnicking and picking the flowers, according to Mrs. John DeRaismes Storey, chairman of planting and improvements.

"The Garden Club welcomes and invites enjoyment and inspection of The Little Garden," Mrs. Storey said, "but wishes to stress that the garden has been planned for everyone's pleasure. When you enter The Little Garden please be as considerate as if it were your own."

5 Brush Blazes Call Out Firemen

The Patrol, Indian brooms and booster of the Town of Mamaroneck Department were in conduct use yesterday, with Weaver Street firemen answering five calls for brush fires between 2 and 8 P. M. No damage was reported.

The first brush fire at 86 Briarcliff Road, extinguished at 2:20 P. M. was followed by another at Dillon Road and Gaillard Place at 3:08, and broke out again just before 5 P. Yanks Drive 7 Miles From Czech Border

By JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press Staff

PARIS—Third Army infantry advanced to within seven miles of Czechoslovakia today and virtually bisected Germany, whose western front already has been split into northern and southern commands.

The Germans rushed troops and tanks from the eastern front and Berlin to oppose the grave threat to their ruined capital, 45 miles from the Ninth Army elements north of Magdeburg. Three Nazi divisions stamped out the original 2d Armored Division Elbe River bridgehead at Magdeburg, but another east bank salient at Barby was deepend to five miles to within 52 miles of Berlin on the open Brandenburg Plain.

Some 3,000 Germans were surrendered by their commander in the eastern segment of the severed Ruhr pocket. Already 146,349 German prisoners have been counted from the Ruhr and hundreds more were filing to prison cages from the great industrial region.

The British opened an assault on Bremen and moved to within two and a half miles of that port. The U. S. Third Army besieged the big Saxony center of Chemnitz from the same distance, while the First Army tightened its grip on Leipzig and cleared the northern third of Halle, and fought within two miles of Dessau, 52 miles southwest of Berlin.

Canadians and Poles reached the North Sea within five miles of Emden, pocketing 200,000 Germans. The First and Ninth Army formed another trap in the Harz Mountains of 350 square miles.

Nation To Follow Roosevelt's Plan, President Says

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Truman promised today that the grand strategy of the war will remain "unchanged and unhampered" by his accession to the presidency.

Making his first address to a joint session of Congress, the new President declared that this nation, along with its Allies, must shoulder the "grave responsibility" of making secure future peace.

To accomplish this objective, Mr. Truman said, the United States must join in punishing those guilty of bringing on the war.

"Lasting peace can never be secured if we permit our dangerous opponents to plot future wars with impunity at any mountain retreat—however distant," the President said, in apparent allusion to reports that Hitler may attempt to seek refuge in the Bavarian mountains of Germany.

Speaking only one day after the burial of Franklin D. Roosevelt, President Truman paid high tribute to his predecessor.

"The armies of liberation today are bringing to an end Hitler's ghastly attempt to enslave the world," President Truman said. "Tokyo rocks under the weight of our bombs.

"The grand strategy of a United Nations war has been determined—due in no small measure to the wisdom of our departed Commander-in-Chief. We are now carrying out our part of that strategy under the able direction of Admiral Leahy, General Marshall, Admiral King, General Arnold, General Eisenhower, Admiral Nimitz and General MacArthur.

"I want the entire world to know that this direction must and will remain unchanged and unhampered."

"Tragic fate has thrust upon us grave responsibilities," he said. "We must carry out them."

"Our devoted leader never looked backward. He looked forward and moved forward. That is what he would want us do.

Confers With Eden

Mr. Truman went to the capitol after two early morning conferences on international affairs. The first was with Secretary of State Stettinius; the second with Stettinius, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, and Lord Halifax, the British ambassador.

Speaking from the rostrum where he heard President Roosevelt on March 1 describe the accomplishments of the Yalta Conference, Mr. Truman said that American policy remains "unconditional surrender."

Declaring that the nation is "deeply conscious" that much fighting remains, the President said:

"Having to pay such a heavy price to make complete victory certain, America will never become a party to any plan for partial victory . . . we will not traffic with the breakers of the peace on the terms of the peace."

Noting that little more an hour after he took office last Thursday he had announced that the San Francisco United Nations Conference would proceed on schedule, Mr. Truman said the nation must face the problems of peace "with the same courage that we have faced and mastered the problems of war."

"We must work, and if necessary, fight for it," he declared.

The task of creating a sound international organization is complicated and difficult. But the President added that "machinery for the just settlement of international differences must be found."

"Without such machinery," President Truman said, "the entire world will again be plunged into an armed camp. The world will be doomed to deadly conflict, devoid of hope for real peace."

Appealing to all Americans for support in efforts to build a strong and lasting United Nations organization, the president said:

"You, the members of Congress, surely know how I feel. Only with your help can I hope to complete one of the greatest tasks ever assigned to a public servant. With divine guidance and your help, we will find the new passage to a far better world, a kindly and friendly world, with just and lasting peace.

"With confidence, I am depending upon all of you."

Departing briefly from his war and peace theme, President Truman said that America has labored long and hard to achieve a social order worthy of its great heritage.
