The Mamaroneck Rec Twilight Softball League managers get together again tonight and they've got some mighty lively things to iron out.

The last item will probably be the easiest one to decide although it took up the most time at last week's meeting of managers.

Other metal winners include Jim Newman, Bill Ricker and Charlie Sperry.

Whatever happens the league will be a top-notch affair with fast softball offered the many local fans.

At all events, the managers meet tonight promptly at eight o'clock at the Daily Times office.

Hasley's Plan Voted Down By School Board

A request from Jack Hasley, Bellows High School coach, that members of the baseball team be asked to pay half the price of their shoes was rejected by the Bellows School Board Tuesday night by Superintendent Alvin W. Hicks, but the board voted the suggestion.

Dr. Hicks told the board that Coach Hasley feels the boys would take better care of their shoes if they had to pay for them, but Trustee George Coffin remarked: "The shoes wear out by the end of the year, anyhow."

Five ex-servicemen are now attending Bellows High School. Dr. Hicks reported. A request to permit a student in the Junior year to complete the three months of the remaining term was granted although the student had moved out of the school district.

The School Board also granted a request made by Mrs. James Holming of the League of Women Voters of Mamaroneck, to use the auditorium of the school building April 24 for a meeting of the school board candidates.

Attending the meeting Tuesday night was Mrs. John Fox of the Mamaroneck League of Women Voters, Mrs. Herbert Livesey, ways and means chairman of the Dairy Avenue P.T.A., and Dr. John Fox and Dr. Wendell Bowman.

President James Jackson reported that next year's maintenance estimates have been received and the budget is now being prepared.

Fish And Philosophy

By PETE DOERN

When Rudolph Leppert stopped in the other day, he did some rambling. Years ago he and Phil Birch fished a lot together. They would often hook into Minnow of Mamaroneck Point across the Sound. Most folks throw them away, but they are a delicacy, our old friend says.

"There is a strip of meat down the backbone that is as fine as anything you ever ate," Leppert claims. "It tastes very much like frog's legs."

We met Fred Luke's son the other evening at Sol Zimmerman's. He says he heard the weasels are beginning to run over at Pecunia. At that rate they should soon be here in local waters, which would indicate an early season in this run of fish at least.

Speaking of Sol reminds us that we recently saw his son, Arthur, walking down Mamaroneck Avenue with a big grin. Inquiry as to the cause of his elation revealed that after diligent search he had just located and bought a small fishing boat with an outboard motor. Happy fishing, Arthur.

Robert Anderson will be soprano soloist; Burnett Cross, timpanist and Mary Gale Hafford, violinist. Elizabeth B. Cross is organist and choir director.

RECENT HEADLINES

March Was A Lamb And That's No Lion.

But all the usual weather that we would have ordinarily experienced in March was wrapped up in one hour, concentrated pill and delivered on April, and that's no fooling. Flurries of snow in the morning, chill and biting winds during the day, hail in the early evening, followed by thunder, lightning and cold rains at night constituted one of the most bizarre days in the memory of our oldest residents.

We have received a report from two of the three members of the committee we appointed last week to ascertain whether plaintive Plumpie, the pictorial puzzle, was a red carp or not. Fred Herz, committee spokesman, came in almost immediately and spoke not only about carp but about fishing generally. He wound up by telling us to read about carp in the encyclopedia. We didn't have one handy, but we do have a good dictionary, so we got out the dictionary, and this is what it says about carp, and we quote verbatim: "Goldfish: A Chinese and Japanese fresh-water fish, nearly allied to the carp—in its native waters it is brownish, but when domesticated becomes golden-yellow."

Leo Jubb, one of the other members, called. His report wasn't so scientific and so specific as Freddie's but it was definitely jubilant and quite breezy. Leo said he had just come back from a weekend on some Lake or other. He learned that no matter how fast a fish swims, it never perspires.

Furthermore, catfish do not have kittens, he said. And as he walked out he muttered something

MEET TONIGHT

Sothall managers of the Mamaroneck Red softball loop have just a week in which to get their signed rosters and entry fees into the hands of the secretary. The deadline is next Monday and the rosters plus fees may be turned in at the Daily Times office any evening after 10 P. M.

Meanwhile the leagues executive group meets again tonight to continue discussion and probably to decide on two major matters. The committee on ground rules should be ready to report and the rules will be published in full as soon as they are adopted. The second major matter to come before the group will be a roster of umpires. It has been planned to make up a regular schedule for officials as well as for teams and that will be done as soon as officials have accepted invitations to work in the league.

Three teams have thus far presented their entry fees, the Derby Foodmen and Walters outfit. No rosters, however, have been submitted. There is, nonetheless, a great deal of activity going on among the softballers with several of the squads planning to be uniformed and busily trying to get uniforms before the top starts section. The tentative opening date is April 29.

East Enders Travel To Iona; Cleary Likely Mound Choice

If the weather man gives his okay and their uniforms show up, the Bellows Panthers will open their baseball campaign tomorrow when they travel to Iona Prep, play the strong Iona squad in a game which Coach Jack Fearon terms as strictly a warm-up for the important S.W.I.A.C. season.

Pinney Rolls 304 Triple In Head Pin Play

Harland Pinney copped the honors in the week-end head-pin tournament at Larchmont Rec as he rolled a 304 to lead in high series score, and kept a 111 in tie for top total in the single. Last week Ned Tallevi fired an identical total at the maples in the tournament which is to continue through the next three week-ends.

A total of seven medal winners were added this week-end to the twelve who had already won head pin games. This week's medalists included six men and a single feminine keeper, Mrs. Helen Crandon, who scored a 103.

Zotom Takes Larchmont Y.C. Dinghy Honors

Close competition featured yesterday's dinghy races at Larchmont Yacht Club as Bob De Coppet's Zotom won the honors with 110 points, edging four other boats all of which finished within six points of De Coppet.

A total of 21 dinghies, 16 of them in Class B and four in the X group turned out. One of the former class, however, managed to capsize just before the start of the initial race as Windy, skippered by Clair Farrand Jr., and crewed by Alice Jane Golden went over, dumping its complement into the Sound.

That was enough to take the regatta as Skip Ethel's Shen finished second with 107 markers winning one race, placing second once, taking a couple of thirds and an equal number of fourth places.

Ed Raymond's Checked Ice and Pat O'Gorman's Felix tied for third with 106 apiece, each of them winning once, while Cornelius Shieley's Dainty carded 104 markers, although not coming in first in any of the contests.

The four Class X boats were led by Jack Gotsche who was sailing Frank Bissella's Wet Smack. Sutphen piloted the craft five races and then proceeded to win the last four, tallying a total of 39 points of a possible 40.

Cold Snap Slows Hudson Snaf Run PEEKSKILL—Shed fishing in the Hudson slowed down this week, according to Bob Wilkie, veteran fisherman of Buchanan. Catches averaged 25 to 30 daily, as against 75 to 80 last week, he said. The cold snap was given as the reason for the "run" slowing.

Fishermen must have their shed nets out of the Hudson between noon Friday and midnight Saturday, according to law. This allows more time to get past the nets and up the river to spawn. Good shed fishing is predicted for next week.

What's so... what flavor shall I try for?" Any flavor of rennet-custards is mighty yummy when Mommy makes them with "Juniet" Brand Rennet Powder! And boy, are they a pleasant change from fresh milk. Because milk isn't something a fellow can get his spoon into... 'cause they aren't cooled. Mommy says they have all the vitamins of milk. And the rennet enzyme makes 'em even easier for me to digest. So... you see, it's really 'cause they're so easy to make... and Daddy and I like 'em 'cause they taste so good. Give your folks a rennet-custard treat—to-morrow!

Make rennet-custards with either "Juniet" Rennet Powder—46 popular flavors, already sweetened; or "Juniet" Rennet Tablets—14 flavors, already sweetened or flavored—add sugar and flavor to taste. Red Cross Charges Are Explained by Branch Chairman

An editorial from the day's edition of the New York Times explaining and defending charges by the American Red Cross for food and lodging at overseas clubs was read Thursday by Mrs. Rufus K. Alston, chairman of the Larchmont Branch at the meeting of the Production Corps at the Larchmont Avenue Church House.

Noting that they were made at the request of Secretary of War Stimson, the Times quoted a ruling of May 20, 1942 stating that it was "impractical, unnecessary and undesirable that food and lodging be furnished free" and pointed out that the minimum charges were below cost and caused the Red Cross a loss of $20,000,000 a year.

Service awards were presented by Mrs. Alston assisted by Mrs. C. Benjamin Brush, chairman of Volunteer Special Services to the following workers—First year stripes to Mrs. W. E. Batchelor of Production and Mrs. Gail Golliday, Mrs. R. T. Herz, Mrs. J. A. G'Connor, Mrs. Horace Rubenstein, Mrs. E. Snell of Hospitals and Recreation; second year stripes to Mrs. A. T. Ernst, staff assistant and Mrs. J. Lab, Mrs. D. G. Miller, Mrs. A. M. Morse, and Mrs. F. E. Mott; Hospital and Recreation corps members, a first year stripe to Mrs. W. W. Hinrichs, staff assistant.

On Wednesday at St. John's Parish House, Mrs. L. B. Eames will receive her third year stripes and Mrs. W. E. Covensalud her fourth year chevron.

Following the "minute of silence" luncheon was served by Mrs. David A. Embury, chairman of the Canteen Corps and her assistants.
