Hilton Finds Prayer Is Best Investment As Mother Told Him

By CONRAD N. HILTON

On that Summer day in 1941 when my mother was seized with a heart attack, I was in the midst of some of the most ambitious negotiations of my life. Mother knew I kept a picture of an enormous hotel on my desk. I Avowed it had scrawled: "The Greatest of Them All." That day I had hoped to be able to let her that at last I had bought the Waldorf-Astoria.

Over her bedside, I know she was dying. "It may be hours," the doctor said. "Or she may linger..." Eighty-five years of vigorous, alert living finally running out! I sat down to wait and watch. My vigil was to last five weeks. They tell me that associates kept phoning that my presence at the office was vital. I can't recall any messages.

Conrad Hilton was living again my years with this stricken lady who was my child's star. Mother was the most religious person I ever knew; my father was the least. Gus Hilton made and lost fortunes; staking, claiming, working and buying land.

When Gus married Mary, he took his bride to New Mexico. It was a land of storms, where snakes, wild animals, Apache Indians, a horse under and Spanish in your mouth, were all matter of course.

Mother Raised Family Of Eight Here, my mother raised eight children. I was the first son, born on Christmas. Mother rode me 11 miles, a bodyguard riding beside us, to have a child who was my child's star.

I have heard many people say, "I just can't get to Church," but I never heard mother say that. Her program for us was religion, food and learning and in that order, while father was becoming cool king of the countryside.

"Who says Dartmouth's the best for you?" mother demanded. "Maybe the Lord knows what's best for you," mother demanded. "It didn't seem for the best. Because after two years at the New Mexico School of Mines I had to quit. Dad's money was gone. We all came back home. Our house was 10 rooms over a general store. Mother would not let us live in five rooms, so that the others could be rented. She cooked for all."

Started Him In Hotel Business That experience started me in the hotel business. I went to bed before sunset, to study the outside world of the air-traffic, pumped the strangers for news of the hustled-up eggs and bedded them down. Then I would catch a few hours' sleep before getting up again at 8 and running the store.

I toted the bags of travelling salesman, hustled up eggs and bedded them down. Then I would catch a few hours' sleep before getting up again at 8 and running the store.

How often during those hectic years, mother would say to me: "Don't talk to me about the important people you have to me." (Turn to Page 3, please)

CAFETERIA PROBE HIGHlights STORY OF SCHOOL BUDGET

Murray Ave. School Appeal Touches Off Hour's Discussion

A public probe of the Mamaroneck school budget was sidetracked for more than an hour last night in the Music Room of the Dennis High School here, as a war over provision of hot lunches in the four elementary schools of the district. More than 75 representatives of community organizations attended the informal hearing set by the Board of Education to examine a tentative $2,600,000 school budget for 1952-53.

Mr. Dunwell posed the question after Trustee Robert Duncan filled the session with a $15,000 budget under capital outlay for expansion of cafeteria space and facilities also already in the Mamaroneck Avenue School. No school now provides such a service.

On The Rocks, this craft critiqued approval before yesterday, when Tommy Manville's Town of Mamaroneck waterfront estate after the engine conked out in mid-channel of Long Island Sound. Two brothers, Norman and Clarence Burgess, bought the boat in New Jersey last week and were headed to home port in South Norwalk, Conn. Their $500 investment now lies in the mud farther off shore and salvage attempts are stymied by a cash shortage.

Council Throws Cold Water On Appeal For Fluoridation

Mrs. Paul Gerhold of 21 Crescent Road, conductor of a "women's campaign" for fluoridation of the Westchester Joint Water Board, today learned that she presented a petition to the Town Council in the West Street Fire House.

Mrs. Gerhold had presented the same petition March 19 signed by more than 100 residents urging a study of the fluoridation question here but an official action could be taken due to the absence of three of the four councilmen. At the time, however, Supervisor Owen Mandeville unofficially declared that a study would be made.

Last night Mr. Mandeville and councilmen seemed disinclined to initiate a study of the fluoridation issue. Although no official action was taken, the fact that many studies have been made by national organizations, such as the American Medical Association, American Dental Association and others.

Mr. Mandeville further contended that even if the findings of a local study group are favorable fluoridation, so far as the residents are concerned, it is a matter of demand fluoridation. The supervisor pointed out that, in any event, the Town Council represents only about one third or less of the consumers of the Westchester Joint Water Works.

No Pressure Waxed Apparently referring to the activities of an informal committee of Westchester Joint Water consumers who attended a Water Board meeting last Thursday, Mr. Mandeville declared that the members of the Water Board feel they know what they are doing and resist being manipulated into this by any minority group. They will find the proper way.

W. U. STRIKE ON MEDIATORS STALL PHONE WALKOUT

Telegraph System Hit By Almost 100 Per Cent Tie Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—An almost 100 per cent strike of Western Union telegraph workers hit the nation's telegraph system today but Federal mediators managed to stall telephone strikes in three states.

There is no connection between the two disputes. Both involve union demands for higher wages and new work contracts.

The Western Union walkout came promptly on time at our estimate after midnight, except for San Antonio, Texas, where the union postponed its walkout for 24 hours.

Mr. McGrath personally handed copies of the letter in reporters' hands and the department had declined to answer any questions as to whether Government attorneys formally approved the action.

The strike followed a series of McGrath's talks with government officials, including an apparently heated argument at National Airport here when the 50 were waiting to greet Queen Juliana of the Netherlands.

There had been some speculation that Mr. McGrath himself might be left out in the row over a financial questionnaire Mr. McGrath posed for government officials. Mr. McGrath himself on Feb. 12, a 90-day-old strike, this year-old Morris former president of the New York City Council, to ferried out country for government officials.

Last Monday, however, Mr. McGrath said he was investigating whether he would fill out his own questionnaire in the walkout and announced that he would do so.

Capacity Through Cheers 'Follies' Local Talent Scores Hit In Benefit Show For Foster Parents Plan

The curtain went up last night at the 1200-seat Mamaroneck Playhouse on a "live" show of local high school and adult talent in a variety of hit comedy, singing, dancing, and specialty numbers that brought cheers from the capacity audience and nostalgic to pre-walkout theatre-goers.

Called as "The Westchester Follies of 1952," the show was staged for the benefit of the Foster Parents Plan for War Children and featured a cast of 228 Belowhood School students, faculty members and local residents, with a backstage crew of nearly 25.

Under the dynamic direction of Frank Lloyd of the Jerome H. Carroll theatrical producing organization, assisted by Claudia Buskirk and Ruth Paulson of the Belowhood faculty, and Janet M. Karl of Greenhaven, codirector of "Theatre Made," the show set off a job-start with an easy-paced rhythm "overlaid" by George Thor and his lions and a spotlight call to songs by James Mansfield and Ruth Paulson.

Nothing Impossible With God's Help, Sightless Man Learns

By C. DONNY DEMAREST
Sightless Business Man
"If we operate immediately," a prominent eye specialist told me in 1940, "you have one chance out of a thousand to retain your vision."

His words left me, at eighteen, sick, very frightened and terribly alone. I had heard about great dramatic cures to prayer. Could it happen to me?
In a few days the operation was performed. A week later the bandages were removed. My long-expected chance had come through. All was darkness.

"Prayer doesn't work," I told myself grimly. I was through with it. From then on I resolved that whatever I accomplished would be done through my own personal efforts. This business of turning to a Supreme Being for strength and guidance might satisfy the hollow boys, but it wasn't for down-to-earth situations and people, I figured.

Ventures Fail, Bitterness Rises
An attempt at selling life insurance was soon abandoned. Other ventures failed. I admitted to complete defeat.

Then pneumonia caught up with me, and next a complete nervous breakdown. Lying there helpless on a hospital bed in my world of darkness, I admitted to complete defeat. Life often has to knock people flat on their backs before they get any vision. In this despair once again I turned to God and asked for strength and peace of mind. If He couldn't help me now, nothing could.

In the month of slow convalescence that followed, I saw dimly how prayer was working. For me, it was by doing the next thing that came along, no matter how small or unimportant. I can see now how each little action was part of a Master Plan.

In 1942, I obtained employment in a defense plant as an inspector of radio equipment. It was a job that seemed to lead nowhere, nor did it last long. During 1944 and 1945 I attended Stamford, Conn., Business College where I mastered typing, shorthand and dictation. I was then employed in a stenographic position at a defense plant. My course also included general business subjects with emphasis on letter writing and promotional work.

Job Hunting Proves Fruitless
But my efforts to find employment were unsuccessful. All my recent training seemed for nothing, and I was no better off than before my siege of pneumonia and a nervous breakdown. The difference was that this time instead of plowing on ahead bitterly, I stopped and took stock. Perhaps it just wasn't in the cards for me to get a job. What could I do then—start my own business? Why not?

I hadn't any money, but my parents were willing to loan me $400. This was enough to rent a one-room office in the center of Stamford, to purchase several desks and a typewriter and have a telephone installed. Meanwhile, I had figured out four different categories my new business could cover.

First: I intended, personally, to act as a shorthand typographer—taking dictation in Braille shorthand from salesmen and small businessmen who did not require or could not afford a secretary of their own.

Second: I would rent desk space on a monthly basis to anyone who required a central business location, but who could not afford to did not need a private office of his own.

Third: I could start a daytime telephone answering service. My fourth and main service was to offer mimeographing, multigraphing, Robotyping and printing which I arranged to (Turn to Page 10, please)

Combing The Town

Difference of Opinion Wins Fellowship
A woman of 60, Mrs. Edmond V. of 16 Hudson Place, Larchmont, found out Sunday why she couldn't win an argument with a critic after he wrote a column about her.

Boyle Crowther, movie expert of the New York Times, calling a group of fact on the "Coca-Cola" movie. Something of an expert himself, Mr. Stern is the biographer of David Mark Griffith, the movie producer of the recent days who turned the colonial world upside down with his "Coca-Cola" movie.

Mr. Stern's pointed opinion, Mr. Stern claims to have grossed $48,000,000 to double the take from "Coca-Cola" movies which he says earned only a paltry $34,000,000.

Willing to grant a few million dollars between friendly rivals, Mr. Crowther held out for a compromise at $33,000,000 for "Coca-Cola" with the final.

Mr. Stern's letter was printed in Sunday's New York Times magazine.

Read Hot Rod
When Panfilo Santangelo of 170 Grand Street, Manhattan, borrowed his son-in-law's car yesterday, he may have thought he was getting an ordinary vehicle, but he subsequently found himself in a very hot rod indeed.

When at 6:37 P. M. he went to start the car, which he had parked on the upper ramp at MacArthur station, the battery cable snapped and set the car on fire. Mr. Santangelo leaped from the auto and called for the fire department.

Vets' Queries
A total of 175 cases, including 119 personal interviews and 56 telephone consultations, were handled last month by Harry Leckert, deputy director of the Veterans' Service Agency in Larchmont, according to his monthly report.

Twelve questions about service in the armed forces led the list of queries while 14 veterans asked about insurance.

Other inquiries were received concerning apprenticeship training, veterans' bonus, burial benefits, civil service, education, honor, on the job training, pensions, taxes and dental and medical problems.

Costello Juror Fired On 'Bribery' Charge

NEW YORK (AP)—The foreman of the jury trying gambler Frank Costello for contempt of the Senate said today, after she was abruptly excused from service, that she had been accused of agreeing to accept a payoff.

"It is ridiculous," declared Mrs. Helen Louise Mason, the jury foreman. Shortly after court opened today, Federal Judge Sylvester B. Peruchie said that two jurors had been removed from the jury. He gave no explanation. One was reported to be ill.

But Mrs. Mason said later that she was called into the judge's chambers and told that the juror had been informed she had been "approached" and had agreed to accept money.

She said reporters neither she nor her husband had been approached by anyone in the case, and that she knew nothing about any such incident.

The excusing of the two jurors, coupled with the reported illness of a third, made it doubtful whether the trial could continue.

The upset came on the day the jury was to begin considering a verdict. It was the second trial of Costello on charges of contempt of the U. S. Senate Committee last year.

Leap Year Plays $10,000 Trick On Firemen; Ford Is Re-Elected

Leap year played a $10,000 trick on the Larchmont firemen last night, Chief Joseph B. Ford noted last night at a general meeting of the Larchmont volunteers when he presented his annual report, recording $10,000 in estimated fire damage to property in the village between April 1, 1951, and March 31, 1952.

The damage total would have been $5,000 except for the $5,000, he said, for the 300th class Monday night at the job of back bone at 444 Mayhew Avenue.

STEEL INDUSTRY SERVED NOTICE OF STRIKE CALL

CIO Slates Walkout For Wednesday; Mills Cool Furnaces

NEW YORK (AP)—Formal notice was served on the steel industry today that 700,000 steelworkers will strike Wednesday for higher wages and a union shop.

An industry spokesman said mills would start cooling furnaces immediately.

David G. McDonald, secretary-treasurer of the CIO Steelworkers of America, dropped the strike notices in the mail late last night. He sent notices to the union's locals.

200 Notices Sent Out
Mr. McDonald said 200 notices were sent to steel companies—some to some companies to cover various contracts and agreements the union had with the management.

CIO leader Philip Murray, who also heads the steelworkers union, intended to leave today for Pittsburgh with Mr. McDonald and other union officials who negotiated unsuccessfully here with representatives of major steel companies.

The union insisted the industry comply with the wage and other (Turn to Page 10, please)

The village's share for dredging the West Basin was $50,000. Mr. Johnson said and also expressed a communication received by Philip Joseph O. McLean from Mrs. Joan McIntyre Repp, a Larchmont Scout leader, of the Larchmont High School resident of a Larchmont Scout leader.

Federal Judge Called To Take Over Anti-Corruption Drive

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Truman administration's new clean-up - the government-organized program - as organized two months ago - has now set its sights on the cabinet of his old friend Harry Truman yesterday with a few years, a statement that he was paying the penalty for doing his duty as he saw it and a tip to his successor: "Bring in the pants with you."

Newbold Morris, Republican "cleanup chief" for the administration, Mr. McGrath fired Mr. Morris with rare abruptness last night, saying that he was firing himself, Mr. Morris had picked from a party bench for a while, then averred he was fired because he wouldn't turn his corruption-investigation into a whitewash.

"Resignation" Announced by HST

Home in New York goes Mr. Morris. And in his own good time, Mr. McGrath was going back to Providence, R. I., after a public career that once seemed poised toward the Supreme Court bench. (Turn to Page 10, please)

POLITICS AIRED AT GOP SCHOOL

'Who Runs The Party?' Draws Two Answers At Fire House

The question "Who Runs the Republican Party?" drew two distinctly different answers last night at a "school of politics" session held at the Weaver Street Fire House under sponsorship of the Republican Club of Larchmont and the Larchmont-Mamaroneck Young Republican Club.

The speakers, State Senator Frank S. McClintock, Assemblyman Hunter Meighan and Charles Hollender, Republican City committee chairman of New Rochelle, declared that the members of the audience represented those who meant the cleanup-up drive.

Bible Clark, moderator, presented a different view before he introduced the speakers when he asked the group to answer several questions.

More than half of the 80 persons in the audience knew which election district their homes were in, even fewer knew the names of both district committee members and no more than 20 claimed knowledge of the Republican district chairman of New Rochelle.

Mr. Clark declared that the party and the people who are not here are doing even less. "Mr. Clark declared.

He listed Republican Town Chairman Burton C. Meigan Jr. and Supervisor Owen A. Mandel.

Gunn Annexes Table Tennis Senior Crown

Bill Gunn of Mamaroneck has lost none of his touch in the table tennis ranks. At Mamaroneck, Cleveland, last weekend the local net was teamed with Thor Hazi of Washington, D. C. to retain the national senior doubles title by tripping the St. Louis tandem of Bill Price and Fred McKewen.

It was the sixth time that Gunn has captured the crown. He has won three times with Thor Hazi of New Rochelle, once with Leo Lasko of New York City and has won six times with the doubles team of Hazi.

John Varas of South Bend, Indiana, and Bernard Koch of New Albany, Indiana, bowed to the duo in the final round of the tournament by scores of 21-16, 19-21, 21-19 and 21-14.

In the senior singles division, Gunn was ironically ousted in the quarter-finals by Hazi. He then won 19-16, 21-18 and 21-14 in a hotly contested match. Hazi later bowed in the semi-final round to Gunn's singles double team, who defeated the duo of Hazi and Leo Lasko in a five-game match won over Dick Mills of New York City.

Flaggery thus resumed its reign in the field to date successive years until losing it a decade ago. Gunn has won over Miles, who had been reigning for the last half-dozen years and appeared unbeatable.

The women's singles title went to Leah Neuberger of NYC, who downed Floyd Goltz in five straight games to win the crown for the fourth time.

Port Chester Man Rolls 290 In Met Finish

Despite a 290 four-day high game by Phil Scappatone of Port Chester and two other handicap doubles teams, the leaders in all departments retained top spots at the 24th annual Metropolitan championship bowling tournament which ended a 29-session, five-week run at the Heights Recreation last night.

Walking off with top prizes were Team event handicaps—Bonds of Brooklyn with a gross, 3,329. Net champions, M. Blatt of Manhattan, 2,681.

Doubles, handicap—Lou Gerardo, and Bob Liska of St. Albans, 1,415. Net—Charles Brown and Sid Gools of Bayonne, 1,281.

All-events, net—Ben McNevery of Staten Island, 1,849. Among Westchester teams to break into the top 10 were Larry and Nick LaRocca of Ossining in doubles; Nello Prego and Al Pessini of White Plains; and Al Henegs and Ed Behrman of Mount Vernon, fifth in net rankings.

Six of the top 11 in the singles handicap were from Westchester. They included Doublets, Ed Koopson of Bronxville, Joe Benedetto of White Plains, Sal DeLuca of White Plains, Jim Federico of Mount Kisco and Clyde Soravilla of Tarrytown.

County bowlers High Four of the five net leaders were county regulars, Valente, Sam Mandel of Mount Vernon, Soravilla, and D'Angelo.

Following McNevery in All-Events rankings is Wilbur Schmidt of 1895 total, who finished just five pins behind the leader with an 1895 total. Gerry Credenford of Mount Vernon finished fourth with 1,887.

Scappatone began his 290 with a spare, then followed with 11 strikes. It was the finest individual leading in the tournament.

The second highest series in the tournament was 728 by Art Holches of Double Perry II club in team rolling, however.

The event attracted the biggest crowds ever to witness the sport in Mount Vernon.

Between winning the Havana Open, the Bing Crosby Invitation and a return through the South, Jimmy Demarec found time to accept an invitation to play in the 1952 Palm Beach Round Robin golf tournament.

Smiling Jimmy's acceptance marks the seventh received for the annual classic to be played May 15 to 18 at the Wykagyl Country Club for the benefit of the New Rochelle Hospital.

Jimmy stands alone for regularity of attendance. Coming into the tournament in 1949, he hasn't missed since.

Strangely, although this links him with unparalleled charm and ability captured the Masters Open three times between 1949 and 1950, he has yet to finish among the top three in the round robin.

Demarec was second in "World Championship" last year. On the season he won $9,237.15, a drop from 1950 when he was fifth among the Vardon Trophy leaders with $16,288.16. In the Ryder Cup singles, Jolly James won a tough match with Dai Rees, 2 up, and with Ben Hogan defeated Daily and Boudfield of Great Britain, 5 and 4.

Shields Cops Lone Contest At Manhasset

More shuffling of the frothy diamond sailing schedule was necessary yesterday when strong southeasterly winds blew up to 40 miles an hour and forced postponement of the Manhasset Bay YC Shields in Dairly wet. The regatta was staged on Saturday as gusty winds wiped out the rest of the program and the area skips were forced to go back to Long Beach on Sunday to complete the event.

Winter weather has been the only reason for the postponement. There had been a delay of almost two hours before the last race was started.

Ed Raymond, also of Larchmont, finished third in his Sport and George Himmans' Pika of the boat club fourth.

To the smaller prismatic class the LXXC had no entries. The winner Wilcox aboard Buplet was the victor.

Waits Tandem Crown-Wearer For Handball

Jack Weiss of Larchmont teamed with Al Schwartz of Yorkton Saturday night to cart off the Westchester Varsity Handball doubles championship via victory in the tournament final at White Plains.

The Larchmonters and his mate downed the Vassar-Carmine Fenoglio of White Plains by scores of 21-10 and 21-15.

The opening game was deadlocked at 10-10 but that proved to be an incentive for the duo. Schwartz, who really turned on in the second set, was able to pull away to a 21-10 victory.

Snead Champ But 4 Others Brew Changes

AUGUSTA, Ga., (AP)—It could be that Sam Snead didn't win the 1952 Masters of Tournament, but that four others lost it.

That's what a lot of folks were saying as they left the Augusta National course late yesterday after Snead lunged up a mediocre 286 and out another softer could get close to it.

His final round was a par 72. There was between 15,000 and 20,000 spectators.

Record High Winless Score. That 286 was the worst four rounds of consecutive golf ever shot in a Masters, but good enough to give the mountaineer from West Virginia a four-stroke margin over Jack Burke Jr.

Burke played the finest golf of the history, windy day in shooting the 1952 "Sunday par" on the 6,959-yard National—par 290.

Behind Burke came Jim Ferrier, Tommy Bolt and Al Bousclink with 291 and then Lloyd Mangrum with 292.

Five More Changes. Before the final round opened, five men had chances to win—Snead, Ben Hogan, Benji Sorensen, Bob Middlecoff and a chance at one of golf's greatest titles and all "blies up."

Hogan, the guy who doesn't blow up, blew as he hasn't blown in years—a 79 for a 293 and a tie with three others for seventh.

Doug Foy had a 79, 75—399 to the top of South Africa and another Harvey Ward Jr. of Tarboro, N. C.

PRINCETON SHOT PUT MARK SET BY LYONS

CHAPEL HILL, N. C.—Mount Vernon, N. Y.'s Lenno Lyons, former Princeton High School star, set an all-time Princeton University record in the shot put Saturday during the seventh annual Carolina Relays.

Lyons heaved the iron ball 50 feet, 9 1/2 inches to retain his title in the event, more than four and a half feet over his nearest rival.

During the New Rochelle, N. Y. event, Lyons also was a county champion in the shot put and high jump. He is an end on the Princeton varsity grid squad.

Lyons, who is a member of the Princeton club, or so many people think, that would be fresh money.

How They Look: St. Louis Browns

By BOB MYERS Associated Press Staff Writer. BURLINGAME, Calif. (AP)— Fresh money, plus what may be the most unusual team of executives in the major leagues, may pull the ailing Browns out of the doldrums.

The Browns can hardly be expected to travel from the bottom of the American League to the top in one short season, but there is no doubt that the general tenor of the club is sealed upward.

The executive twosome, of course, consists of the new manager, Bill Veck, and the new manager, Rogers Hornsby, left, is out to get results for owner Bill Veck.

Veck at St. Louis faces the same problem, about as little serious, that he encountered when he moved into Cleveland soon after the war.

Sportsman Bill's success there. Hornsby's Bill's success there.

Strictly Business Here. But the training camp atmosphere is strictly business, and the club shapes up as a lot better prospect than in many a year.

Many an observer has predicted the partnership will not last too long. Veck and the Italian great, though with a shrug of their respective shoulders.

They point to one highly significant fact. Both have an almost fanatic will to win. Neither is happy with anything less.

'Miracle' Transforms Barren Georgia Farm into Orphans Paradise

By H. V. JENKINS President and Publisher of the Savannah Morning News and Journal of the Evening News

The Georgia Baptist Children's Home at Ravley, Ga., housed 126 orphans in 1946. It also owned 1,000 acres in timber land and hog, plus 300 in cultivation.

When J. L. Fortney was selected as manager of this children's home, nobody could possibly envision that the entire state would turn out to work for him and his orphans.

Mr. Fortney, Kentucky born, would stand before the 1,300 barren acres, close his eyes and see the other rolling acres of Kentucky lands rich with green grass.

Then he read about some outstanding soil conservation demonstrations being put on in certain states. Here could be the answer!

At one meeting of farm machinery people, there were seven sales managers who were former students of Mr. Fortney's.

Representing one of the largest manufacturers of farm machinery, they decided that with the faith they had in Mr. Fortney, the only solution was that he go to Chicago to the main offices and plead the cause.

Fortney put in long distance calls to the homes of two of the manufacturers.

'Breath Of Spring' April Show Follows Soil Management Talk

Soil and soil management were discussed in detail yesterday for the April program of the Garden Club of Larchmont by Thomas H. Everett, N.D., horticulturist on the staff of the New York Botanical Gardens, in a talk on "Garden Soils and Composts" at the Larchmont Avenue Church home.

Understanding, preserving and manipulating the soil is basic to good gardening, Mr. Everett stressed, describing soil as made up largely of rock fragments, humus, or dead and decayed matter, minerals, water, air and living matter. He noted today's renewed interest in soil from the horticultural and the conservation point of view and said that the phases of soil management have been too long overlooked in favor of emphasis on the mechanical and physical condition of soil.

Soil is highly complex material, he went on, describing the various sizes of rock, gravel, sand, silt, and the colloidal clay. Soil particles remain throughout exposure to weathering and time, and are kept apart if it when wet, he said.

Many of the claims of organic gardeners in recent years are "mostly nonsense," the guest speaker continued. Fertilizer should be chosen with the same care, he advised, and other methods of soil improvement are elimination of superfluous humus, and loosening of soil mechanically by frequent shallow tilling. Mr. Everett suggested the addition of sand and coal cinders, to earth soil, and the use of wood chips and sawdust on modification of soil for indoor plants. A question period followed the talk, during which he gave specific suggestions for various types of problems. Mr. Everett was introduced by Mrs. Austin Phillips in the absence of Mrs. Robert N. Graham, program chairman.

Best in the Land

Very few members (weather permitting) of the "Keep Out" signs will be replaced with white mats as Westchester's four beautiful public golf courses are opened for the season.

Transcend up and tailored to perfection, the layouts—Saxon Woods, Maple Moor, Sprain Lake and Mohanic—offer county links enthusiasts four of the best such sites in the land.

They are expertly prepared and maintained and a credit to Westchester. Park Commission Superintendent George Haight and his staff deserve considerable praise for the excellent direction and operation of the courses. Now, if only something could be worked out to alleviate the congestion that develops later in the season, particularly on week-ends, Commissioner Haight and his workers will have attained perfection.

But perfection is a long, a long way off. Suffice it to say that what we have is second to none and the recreation and enjoyment available cannot be measured. It's just a case of too little for too many. Perhaps some day another course will be built to alleviate crowding on the present public courses. But until then, suffice themselves could help ease the congestion by speeding up play, refraining from too many practice shots and putting and permitting faster play through.

From tomorrow until late Fall some half a million rounds of golf will be played on the four public courses. That's a load of aggravation and represents a good hunk of moola. And speaking of money, Commissioner Haight tells us the playing rates are the same—$12 week-ends and $2.50 week-days. That's for 18 holes, no more. Season tickets are $25 and lockers available at Maple Moor and Mohanic at a nominal fee, a quarter a day.

Remember, the public courses are available at Maple Moor and Mohanic at a nominal fee, a quarter a day. Remember, the public courses are available at Maple Moor and Mohanic at a nominal fee, a quarter a day.

Major Lengters How They Look: Pittsburgh Pirates

By Bob Myers
NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates are making their first try for the "Pirates" permanent roster.

Manager Billy Meyer not only thinks the third time will be the charm, one, but he's charmed as well over Merson's prospects.

The youngish vet, of course, made a tremendous impression on the Pittsburgh general last summer when he was brought up from Indianapolis.

In the 19 game he played, Merson swatted a resounding 360.

Exhibition Of Quilts Welcomes Mrs. Waltner's Easter Message

New dignity in all of life's activities was emphasized yesterday by Mrs. Harry G. Waltner in an Easter Quilt exhibition at the April meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service at the Mamaroneck Methodist Church.

"All of life becomes nobler when lived with a consciousness of God's spirit," Mrs. Waltner said in discussing the application of this concept to dignifying the tasks of the home. She noted the devotion of a Chinese laundrywoman, "Mother of the Year" for her unusual success in bringing up eight children. Mrs. Waltner also stressed the potential influence of women directly and indirectly in a democracy, where she said, "We believe each human relation and develop healthful character."

Announcement was made during the business meeting of three forthcoming events including the May meeting which was made in 1951, a "New Women's" theme, the April 23 tea and food sale in Stamford, Conn. for the benefit of the Methodist Home for the Aged in Danbury, and the May 1952 assembly at the church from 7:00 P. News of Yachting, Boating and Fishing Activities Along the Mamaroneck and Larchmont Shore

By T. O. POSSELT JR.

It doesn't ever pay in this fishing business around here even to indicate that something might happen.

The minute a chap writes that "this weekend the flounder might be inside the harbor" he gets tagged with a "prophecy" and everybody, despite poor weather, adverse tides, high winds, low temperatures and whatever else can happen weather-wise to hamper a fisherman, goes out in the harbor to see some flounder.

Result: because of the poor weather, adverse tides and the other above mentioned etcetera—nobody gets any.

No foolin', last weekend the fishermen got out in force. They came back forcefully certain 'as out because we said the flounder might be in close to shore.

The flat fish were still far out, but when as stayed in close can be thankful anyway—as witness the harrowing tale that follows.

Marmaronck
The story starts early Sunday morning when a pair of fishermen started out in an outboard.

They got near Scotch Caps when suddenly wind and wave combined to smack their little craft. The stern of the boat was lifted out of the water by the wave and the racing motor just about crawled by the transom of the little boat and fell off.

Into the drink went the motor and the pair were marooned. The wind didn't leave them alone, however, nor did the waves, and they began to drift, they were landing ashore up around Milton Point in what Barney Ehret calls "Whalebone Cove."

They managed to drag the motorless boat ashore and the phoneless Ehret that they were stuck without means of transportation.

Around 1 P. M. Ehret thought went out to pick up the doleful fisherman, but his boat was still ashore and had to be retrieved.

So Tarzan Ehret and Howard Wahl, a pair of brave souls, were dispatched in another outboard job to pick up the motorless craft.

Derelet
Tarzan and Wahl got the boat off the beach and started back home.

They got half way when the motor in their boat conked out, believe it or not.

By this time the tide and the southwest were pushing the motorless craft ever farther out into the Sound and while the pair tried to get the motor going they were proceeding in the general direction of Great Captains Island, or if the worst happened, toward the eastern end of the Sound.

They tried to anchor, but the doggone hook was missing one of its flukes and wouldn't hold. So Tarzan, with the only other cast net available, gets into the boat salvaged off the beach and starts to row to get help. Meanwhile Wahl keeps tryin' to get the motor going. No luck.

They finally found Wahl and got his boat, plus the craft retrieved from Mamaroneck in tandem fashion.

And then "Sally Sea" ran out of gas! That, however, was anticlimactic since Verbois had an extra can of gas aboard and the whole shooting match finally got back safe, but oh, how damp!

Catches
After that one who doubt whether any of the unsuccessful fishermen feel so sad about the fact that they didn't venture too far out last weekend.

The fish were out there, however, as Verbois and a couple of others can readily attest. A complete list of catches of about 50 fish were recorded, but them as caught 'em sure earned 'em.

And for those chaps who got nothing well predict that one of these days there will be fish in closer to shore!

Certificates
Two mother and daughter duos were among the 11 women who received small boat piloting certificates Saturday at the 36th annual regatta.

The regatta includes George Hinman and Samuel Barton from the Long Island side of the Sound and A. E. Leders Jr. and Corry Shields from the Westchester side.

Sales
There's been one made down at McMichael's that kind of mystifies us. The Colonial Nursery School on Harmon Drive in Larchmont has purchased a young and a daisy.

Boat
Some weeks ago we mentioned several books on sailing that more or less interested us.

Another one, called "The Small Boat Skipper and His Problems."

Written by Eugene V. Connett III of Bellport, Long Island, it's considered a sprightly volume for the chap who likes to sail weekends or for a fortnight.

From 49 years of sailing experience Connett portrays the joys as well as the headaches of a small water cruiser. He attempts to give solutions for problems like stowage, cooking and sleeping in tight quarters, as well as adequate planning to provide the maximum of fun with a minimum of trouble.

The volume has an introduction by William H. Taylor of Yachting Magazine, with illustrations by Darrell McClure and Hervey Garrett Smith.

Buying
"It's something" to watch the consumption of a boat sale!

That steam dials a little when the price is considered and the down payment has to be laid on the line.

Buyer to meet their price, back out of the deal because they happen to love the boat so much.

Get the seller's tearful consent, and you've got papers to sign, plenty of 'em. Then there's Coast Guard certificates to get, plus the bill of sale, plus financing, plus insurance.

But when it's all over, there's your boat and b'gosh, that stevia in the optics comes back full force. It's yours now—and all you've got to learn is how to run it and, what's more important, how to navigate.

We watched a sale setting made this week. The buyer came all the way from Washington, D. C. on his vacation to purchase the boat. When he finally got it there was rampant joy in his countenance, a joy that quite evidently made all the trouble worth while.

Frankly, we envied the chap—and we promised not to mention his name. It's trouble, but it's fun of fun buying a boat.

Whit 'Em Luck
In a couple of days a quartet of International Class skippers of the Long Island Sound fleet will engage in a team race against Bermuda yachtsmen.

It'll be the Bermuda boats in the series of races which will start a week from Monday.

The races include George Hinman and Samuel Barton from the Long Island side of the Sound and A. E. Leders Jr. and Corry Shields from the Westchester side.

Help they will!
The last one should keep in busy all Summer. Two 'em are in the works right now and we hope to get 'em all.

Of course, should those fishermen who didn't have any luck last week really get going' well have plenty to write about next week!

NYS THRUWAY ROUTE REVISED IN ROCKLAND
ALBANY, (AP)—The State Thruway Authority today announced a realignment of the superhighway route through Western Rockland County.

The new route will cut through the northern part of the Village of Suffern, instead of the south. The original plan would have required the demolition or relocation of at least 10 dwellings.

The new right-of-way will cause little or no residential damage in the village, an authority source indicated.

The new route will continue to run through the village of Hibernia, north of Suffern. It will dip south of Spruce Valley, north of Nanuet and parallel State Route 59 into Nyack.

The route differs from the authority's original line through Southern Suffern and from the so-called "banker" route, which would have carried the Thruway over the Ramapo Mountains, north of Hibernia and Suffern. This plan was proposed by Mayor Charles Banker of Hibernia.

His Ordeal At Sea Started Flier On Way To Missionary Post

By JULIE C. SPACH World War II Bomber Pilot It is Feb. 15, 1951 as I write this. Tomorrow my wife, two children, and I sail from New York to Brazil on the liner Marmorek. We are to be Christian lay missionaries in the northern part of Brazil in a town called Garanhuns.

Many people have asked me, "Why, at only twenty-seven years of age, do you want to be a missionary?" Now is a good time to trace back through the years to the answer.

As far back as I can remember, thanks to devout parents and grandparents, the teachings of the Bible and the word of God have been present in our lives. But the older I grew, the more I drifted from my faith and the more I seemed to doubt the existence of God.

I joined the Air Corps at eighteen. By my twentieth birthday, I was a pilot of a B-24 with the 460th Bomber Group stationed at Sinaozola in Italy. On Aug. 1, 1944, we took off on our fifth mission, which was to bomb the Genoa dockyards.

The weather was perfect, enemy resistance nonexistent as our planes winged over the Mediterranean to northern Italy. Suddenly an oil line broke. In a matter of minutes all four of our engines had "conked out."

Crete Bails Out Into Sea After pulling out of formation, our entire crew of 10 bailed out about three miles off the coast of Italy. My parachute bailed past as I struck the water, and I quickly slipped it off.

Exhausted from my struggle with clothing, the only thing I could do was to start swimming toward shore which I saw dimly. Then, like so many others who ignore God and prayer until in a desperate situation, I began praying that He would help me. I really talked to God, almost shouting the words, for fear He might not hear.

Then it seemed that in one moment all the planes went away the shooting stopped, and everything was dead still.

Confidently Begins Sea To Shore That was the assurance I needed to know that God was near. Convinced that I had nothing to worry about, I relaxed, talked to myself, whistled, and sang. After this relaxation, I realized that this section of the Mediterranean was shark-infested, or that German patrol boats were about, or that bullets from one boat had already killed other crew members, or that five others of my crew had already drowned.

I was for nearly six hours before reaching the shore. The amazing thing is that I do not recall being tired and never once doubted that I would make it. I was actually, I think, more than amazed that I had ever doubted the existence of God.

The coast was under German control, so I hid for the rest of that day in a shallow cove. After this experience, I know that women discovered me, but instead of calling for help, they gave me their shawl to cover my nearly-naked body, and the others brought food. I know, finally, several Italian men got wind of my arrival. One jammed a gun in my back and marched me to a nearby German military unit.

My nine-month prison in German prison camps was fortunate. (Turn to Page 4, please)

TRUMAN WEIGHS WAGE DEAL WITH STEEL STRIKERS

Floundering Negotiations May Lead to Fixing Of Pay Levels WASHINGTON (AP) — Floundering negotiations for a settlement of the steel labor dispute led to reports today that the administration may go ahead and make its own wage deal with CIO president Philip Murray.

Any such move is certain to provoke another quick court attack from the steel industry. At the moment the industry is under government operation, there is no steel strike, the steel companies are managing their own plants and finances under nominal federal rule, and the vital defense metals are flowing.

Steel Industry Busy Industry already has lost two attempts for fast, court review of the legality of President Truman's seizure orders, and attorneys are making new moves.

While talking to the industry and Mr. Murray under supervision of acting Defense Mobilization John R. Steelman appeared so far getting nowhere. A prominent union official said yesterday: "We're still on dead center." This was taken to mean there had been no progress since industry union talks collapsed before Tuesday night's session.

LIGHT INDUSTRY VARIANCE DENIED

Mamaroneck Zoning Board Grants Two Other Applications The Mamaroneck Zoning Board of Appeals last night denied a variance permitting light manufacturing in the building occupied by Cascade Diaper Service, 222 Valley Place, and owned by Frank A. Gonzalez, Mr. Gonzalez applied for the variance in order to be able to sell the building to a processor of plastic material, vital plastic material, after the expiration of the building's lease this month.

The board denied the variance after a public hearing in which 20 residents of the area affected opposed granting the variance. Conrad Hens, chairman, Mr. Gonzalez told the board that while plastics, although inflammable, are not explosive and that the proposed use of the building would not be a hazard to the neighborhood. He said that the building is an ordinary frame building.

His prospective buyer is technical in nature and it remains a gravity-tyed process from large drums into smaller and that the only machinery used would be fractional horsepower motors and strippers. He said that the previous use of the building as a frozen food plant actually involved much greater hazard.

Trucks Roll 11 Times To Brush Fires The three fire departments in the area had a busy day yesterday as brush fires threatened to spread out of control in several grass and wooded sections. Town firemen were called out eight times, Mamaroneck Village firemen twice and Larchmont once.

The town department answered the first call of the day at 10:25 A. M. for a brush fire on Dante Road, which was extinguished by a Rockland AFD, and at 11:30 to a brush fire on the corner of Wood Street at 510 P. M. The call to Bonnie Way, at 1:10 A. fire at Durwin Road, and at 2:10 P. M. the original Bonnie Way fire kindled again, summoning the department.

Two brush fires were reported in Mamaroneck, one at 4:17 P. M. off Taylor's Lane, and another at 4:30 P. M. on Wood Street at 510 P. M. The fire on Wood Street was extinguished by the Larchmont Fire Department.

MICHIGAN PAVES WAY TO SETTLE PHONE WALKOUT

Strike Ends In Key State, Setting Pattern For General Peace DETROIT (AP) — Michigan's strike of 18,000 telephone workers was settled today, apparently opening the way to peace nationally by the telephone industry.

The Michigan Bell Telephone Co. said the CIO Communications Workers of America jointly announced the settlement.

Full details were not revealed immediately, but the basis for agreement was reported by the union as a 17-cent hourly wage increase.

Any settlement in Michigan, key state in negotiations, was expected to form the pattern for agreements in Yonkers and Scarsdale.

Company Offer Accepted A union spokesman said the company's last general increase offer with adjustments of 300,000 telephone workers was accepted. The offer included a 17-cent hourly wage increase.

Upward of 200,000 telephone workers in Yonkers and Scarsdale were held in the strike. The majority of these non-strikers who also are in the respect of strikers' picket lines, Bell System employees have been on strike since Monday in Michigan, New Jersey, Northern California and Ohio in wage disputes at the same time the union members have been on.

TAFT FORCES SEE 8 KENTUCKY VOTES Six Delegates Lined Up: 14 Held In Line Now GOP Choice LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Robert A. Taft won six GOP national convention delegate votes in Kentucky yesterday, and his forces predicted he would grab eight more today.

Kentucky Republicans will send 16 delegates to their national convention in Chicago July 7. Sixteen of the delegates are being chosen in district conventions and four will be named in the state convention here Saturday.

The six delegates already pledged to support the Ohio Senator by the Republican nomination for President as long as he has a chance, were chosen in the 4th Congressional District convention at Bardonia, the 5th at Newport, and the 6th in Lexington.

Republicans met today in the 1st District at Princeton, the 2d at Owensboro 7th at Paintsville and 8th at the metropolitan St. Louis (Louisville) will meet tomorrow, but their leaders already have agreed to give one delegate to Senator Taft and one to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The state convention, which will elect four delegates to the national convention from the state at large.

New Jersey Editor See Kio As Winner NEWARK (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will win New Jersey's preferential primary Tuesday in the opinion of New Jersey newspapermen — but Senator Robert A. Taft, who tried to withdraw from the election, nevertheless will poll a sizable vote.

Eisenhower To Quit As Europe Defense Commander June 1

White House Releases General to Enter Political Battle WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House announced today the release of Gen. Eisenhower as Supreme Commander of Allied Powers in Europe effective June 1.

It made public an exchange of letters which disclosed that Gen. Eisenhower vied Secretary of Defense Louis C. Austin Jr. to "consider that the specific purposes for which I was selected to duty have been largely accomplished."

That same day, Gen. Eisenhower notified the chairman of the standing group of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to the same effect.

Mr. Lovett, in a letter dated April 10, wrote Gen. Eisenhower he was taking appropriate action to secure your release from assignment as Supreme Commander, by approximately June 1, and that I be placed on inactive status upon my return to the United States.

President Not Mentioned In his letter, Gen. Eisenhower made no reference to the fact that he has agreed to accept the Republican nomination for President if it should be tendered him.

The letter simply said: "I request that you initiate appropriate action to secure my release from assignment as Supreme Commander, Allied Powers Europe, by approximately June 1, and that I be placed on inactive status upon my return to the United States. A relief date fixed this far in advance should provide ample time for your appointment." (Turn to Page 2, please)

'Hit and Run' Picketing Fails To Disrupt County Service

In the second day of "hit and run" picketing of New York Telephone Co. exchanges at Westchester Western Electric Co. workers formed lines early today at exchanges in Yonkers and Scarsdale, but service continued almost unimpaired at Westchester plant department.

Workers, who include telephone installers and repairmen, met last night several hundred strong at the Kamp restaurant in Yonkers and were reported to have voted 500 to observe CIO picket lines along the line to work, in Scarsdale most of the operation refused to work.

Western Electric pickets were on duty in front of the County Parkway office from 7:30 to 10 A. M. Despite the pickets, Yonkers electric company employees in all departments reported for duty and "service was normal," according to G. W. Caldwell, area manager.

WEST TO REJECT TALK ON GERMANY

Big 3 Due To Veto Russian Demand For Conference On Unification WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomats predicted today the Western powers very probably will reject Russia's new demand for a four-power conference on unifying Germany.

British diplomats also took a dim view of the Russian efforts to arrange a four-power conference on Germany. One British official in G. A. R. P. commented: "There doesn't seem to be anything in this (Russian) one that could make a four-power talk possible."

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer studied the note at his home and arranged a prompt meeting with the three Western Allied High Commissioners, to give them his views for use in preparing a response to Russia.

Officials here, in predicting rejection of the latest Russian move, emphasized however that the final decision will be reached in talks just starting between representatives of the American, British, French and German governments.

A flat rejection poses a tough problem. Russian efforts to be phrased in such a way as to convince Western Europe that the Russian offer for Germany unity is a phony but dangerous propaganda move, and that the West actually wants a unified Germany, but understands that they will safeguard their own communitarian.

Rec Camps Described To Rotary

The part played by the Mamaroneck Health Center in operation of the Westchester County Recreation Camp at Croton Park was described yesterday to members of the Mamaroneck Rotary Club at the Owen Brown Inn by Mrs. George W. Brown, director of the Health Center.

Children from communities throughout Westchester are selected to attend the camp, he said, from among those who would profit most from a camping experience. They remain at the Croton reservation for periods of two and four weeks, enjoying all the activities of camp life. The camp is under professional direction, he said, and supported by the Recreation Commission and community service groups in the county.

Mrs. Brown noted that the camps have proved to be an effective means of raising health levels among the county's children and have been an excellent agency for relieving family and home problems in many cases.

Arnold H. Halden, president and Program Chairman William Delk introduced Mrs. Brown. Vice President Joseph J. Merriam and Paul Fischer and Leo Unwin, president of the Croton Park Camp, were guests of Frank Crockett.

HOUSE FEATURED BY 'ANGLED' ROOM

Stuccoing was completed this week on a custom-built flat roofed house on Durham Road in Mamaroneck, being built for Wendell Sether of New Rochelle. Mr. Sether is director of Public Information for the Association of Fire Underwriters in New York City.

The yellow stucco house, which was planned by Mr. Sether and Edwin A. Tafel, New York City architect, incorporates several radical features of design, among which are a potential living room, reminiscent of a style of architecture advocated by the Austrian mystic, Rudolph Steiner, in the twenties.

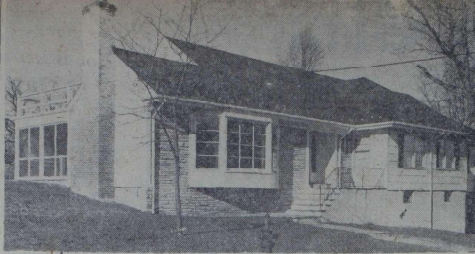

Quered this week as to whether the design actually incorporates Steiner's ideas, Mr. Sether explained that the odd plan of the living room stemmed from practical causes. The layout of the building was calculated to take the maximum advantage of the sun but they found that the original plan would carry the west end of the building over the "setback" line specified in the zoning law. So the living room was angled over to the north, giving an unusual effect to the interior.

Interest for Sun

The south side of the house has many long single-paneled windows which admit the light to the living room, kitchen, and one large L-shaped bedroom which forms the east end of the house. A second bedroom and bath lie on the other side of the building across a corridor which separates them from the kitchen and an adjoining bath.

Outside, the house presents an unusual appearance, as it is situated on a knoll with the garage forming a projection from its basement-foundation at an angle of about 45 degrees. The roof of the garage forms a sun-deck opposite the entrance which will eventually be reached by a stairway rising from the driveway level to the central door by a series of landings. This stairway will occupy the 45-degree angle between house and garage.

OWNER RENOVATES ADJACENT STORES

Being renovated this week by the Tyler Trading Corporation of New York City is the store section of the Deluxe Apartments consisting of three adjacent store spaces on Mamaroneck Avenue at 214, 216 and 218.

The first two stores are being offered for rent by the corporation. The third is occupied by Smith's Delicatessen. All three stores are being remodeled with aluminum trim and plate glass display windows.

The property at 214 was originally occupied by Towne Radio-Television which has relocated, and the property at 216 was the former Thrift Shoe Center, which is no longer in business.

An attractive contrast to the light yellow stucco of the walls, Mr. Sether hopes to see the building completed in June.

Two Ranch-Type Dwellings Completed On Mohegan Rd.

Two new houses on moderate sized plots have been completed this week by C. G. Williams, builder, of Mamaroneck, on Mohegan Road in the unincorporated area. Standing on a hill opposite No. 21 Mohegan Road, the houses are of similar construction, being slate-roofed ranch-type buildings with shingle siding, ficoidene, wood and white trim.

DOGWOOD TREES SURROUND HOUSE

In the plastering stage this week is a new seven-room ranch-type house on Fenimore Road, opposite the Avon Road entrance in Mamaroneck. A. Pooica and Son are the builders and expect the house to be completed by the end of May.

The house stands on an acre plot which has long been known to local botanists for the profusion of wild dogwood that blooms there in the Spring. Mr. Pooica says that none of the dogwood was destroyed when the foundations were laid with the result that the house stands in the center of a grove of more than fifty flowering trees, as well as many tall hardwood shade trees.

The new dwelling will have vertical cedar siding, red cedar hand-sold shingles, and fieldstone veneer. And its seven rooms include living room, dining room, kitchen, library, screened porch, and three bedrooms. There are two baths, an oil hot-water heating system, and a two-car built-in garage. In the basement there is space for an additional maid's room and bath as well as a playroom. The roof is of Vermont colored slate. The property borders on the Wined Foot course.

Building outlays authorized in the village of Mamaroneck totaled an estimated $29,000 this week.

Joseph Stracuzzi received permission to erect a block building at 414 Halsted Avenue for use as a store and apartment house. The building will have two stories and will cost an estimated $15,000.

A permit was issued to Concetta Giordano for the construction of additional living quarters at 89 St. derhill Avenue. The frame addition is expected to cost $7,000.

A third structure, also at an estimated cost of $7,000, was approved and a permit issued to John Daris for the erection of a block building at 1123 Morgan Street, to serve as a one-family dwelling.

Activity was light in Larchmont with only two permits issued for small construction jobs. Fred Starford received permission to erect an open car-port at 18 Chateaufort Avenue. Estimated cost of the project was $200.

Ellis Quimby received permission to roof an existing flagstone terrace at 22 Irwin Terrace at an estimated $350.

No permits were issued in the Town of Mamaroneck.

HULLS MOVE HERE FROM MID-WEST

Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer E. Hull, formerly of Lake Forest, Ill., are now occupying their new home at 408 Edward Place, Mamaroneck, recently completed by Michael Rose, builder of Mamaroneck. Mr. Hull is assistant manager of the Equipment Division of American Cyanamid Company, New York City.

Standing on a plot of 55 by 102 feet, the house has seven rooms with a modern kitchen, living room, dining room combination, den, and two bedrooms and a bathroom on the first floor. On the second floor are two bedrooms and a bath. The house is heated by oil-hot water and has a one-car built-in garage.

Mr. and Mrs. Hull have a son, Henry, a student at Bellows High School, and a daughter, Ann, eight, a pupil at Daniel Warren School.

Sale of the property was negotiated by Bob Payne Inc., Mamaroneck and Harrison.

RANCH-TYPE HOME NEARS COMPLETION

Nearing completion on Fenimore and Avon Roads in Mamaroneck this week is a new nine-room modern ranch-type house being built by Guy Proano of Mamaroneck.

The house sits on an elevation in the middle of a rising acre-and-three-fourths plot and is white with shingle siding and fieldstone veneer in the center section.

The nine rooms include living room, dining room, kitchen, library, maid's room and bath, and four bedrooms. Large thermo-pane windows provide views over the descending slope of the lawn toward Fenimore Road. The house has a slate roof, two-car attached garage, and is heated by oil-burned hot water. Several large hardwood trees from the original forest tract shade the house and plot.

Mr. Proano estimates the house will be completed in about seven weeks.

Girls taking part in the cruise have experience in seamanship through the market they have covered under the direction of Mrs. Booth and her assistant, Miss Nancy Cullen. They are earning a part of the cruise expenses by spending some of the Easter vacation stenciling white house numbers on the automobiles of businessmen.

Mrs. Booth said that the girls are painting the numbers on the houses of the following: Mrs. Frank Booth, Mrs. Margaret Bishop, first mate; Inge Brodersen, nurse; and Nancy McVilly, scribe. Beside their work in stenciling, the senior girls take part in community projects sponsored by the Girl Scouts.
