Woman Dies When Storm Upsets Boat

Mrs. Fordyce Drowned as Sloop Capsizes in Squall On Sound

FIVE OTHERS RESCUED

Mrs. Catherine Fordyce, 20 Seneca Place, Larchmont, was drowned yesterday at Mamaroneck when the 14-foot motorboat in which she was sailing with five other persons capsized in the swollen storm which swamped Long Island Sound about 5 P. M.

Mrs. Fordyce was drowned when she became exhausted after having clung to the overturned craft more than an hour. Her body was recovered several hours later off Mattineck Point, Glen Cove, L. I.

The party had left the shoreward end of the Sound at about 3 P. M. Mrs. Fordyce said that the sloop was overturned by the storm and its occupants escaped injury in the capsizing boat as it was tossed about in the stormy weather.

AMERICANS CAPTURE THREE KEY CITIES IN ADVANCE WITHIN 35 MILES OF PARIS; ALLIES HOLD 50-MILE FRONT ON RIVER

Invaders Drive Near Toulon And Cannes

BY LORNA G. ALLED Associated Press Staff Writer. ROME—Allied troops have punched out a solid front 50 miles broad and about 30 miles deep along the coast of southern France, Maj. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's Seventh Army headquarters announced today.

On the west invasion forces have within 10 miles of the historic fortified naval base of Toulon. On the east they were within 10 miles of the picturesque resort of Cannes. The invaders, spearheaded by three veteran American divisions and supported by heavily armored French forces, had seized an area of approximately 20 square miles.

The Germans commingled with the Allies already had penetrated Cannes. German prosecutors reported airborne troops had landed northward of Cannes and entered the town from the coast at Cap Lauro, about 20 miles east of Cannes. The German forces were shelling the town from nearby heights. A German spokesman indicated they had little hope of holding the town where Napoleon landed in 1815 to begin his famous 100-day campaign.

The Allied announcements indicated other Allied bands—the coastal towns of St. Tropez, St. Raphael, Fréjus, and La Seyne, and the inland communities of Le Muy, Le Luc, Lorgues and Collobrières. The farthest inland is 27 miles from the coast at Cap Camarat, near St. Tropez in the approximate center of the beachhead.

It was probable that the Allied advance was well beyond all these points, and there was a possibility that the assault on Toulon might already have begun, since the enemy still was offering only limited resistance. The Germans may have concentrated considerable forces in that sector along beach for a desperate stand.

E. D. R. Pledges Occupation Of Berlin, Tokyo. WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt returning to Washington today from a 15,000-mile war trip said he would declare that Germany and Japan will not be able to use the Allies' own goal—unconditional surrender—to keep our forces out of their homelands.

Mr. Roosevelt made the statement in a news conference at his special train as it approached Washington at a time when Allied forces were pushing ahead in powerful new landings on the southern coast of France.

Nazi Troops Driven From Capital After 4 Days Of Street Fighting; Germans In 'Rout' On Lower Seine

Allies Now Only 160 Miles From Reich Frontier

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff

SUPREME HQRS. AFF—Allied columns hammered a tightening trap today on Germans falling back on a "rout" on the steel-wheeled Lower Seine, and spared deep below Paris in menacing new drives only 160 miles from the German border.

One U. S. armored column plunged beyond Paris, 80 miles southeast of Paris. It stood but 80 miles from the Reich's frontier.

Between Sens and Paris, Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army was essentially in woods near Pontaléon. In this sector the Americans had thrown a bridgehead over the Upper Seine.

Canadian and British troops crossed the St. Denis river in the chase of the battered German Seventh Army toward the Lower Seine from the distant Falaise trap. On the coast Canadian battled seven miles across the Seine Estuary from the Falaise. Germans in that part hid their shells across the water.

U. S. units hit down the river between Sens at about 20 miles east of Paris. The city is a suburb of the city. They marched Etroux and Vernon, toward the sea, bringing in the 500 miles from the Seine's mouth.

Allied armor declared the German retreat had begun on Aug. 23. By ferry and rubber boats the enemy attempted to escape the Falaise. The Germans fled at 20 points, under a hail of bullets and cannon shells from low-slung Allied planes.

Supreme Headquarters declared 40,000 to 50,000 Germans had been captured in the Falaise pocket with the Nazi dead still uncounted.

Only was reported yesterday that the bridgehead across the Lower Seine—presumably referring to the Falaise—was still being held by the Allies.

Supreme Headquarters declared that Paris had been liberated, with its own citizens rising to expel the enemy.

While Paris is in French hands it likely there still are German rearguards at Rambouillet and Etampes to the south which are engaging American tank units.

The French Capital itself fell under its own weight aided by heavy rain from the French sky.

Supreme Headquarters this evening said that the city had been liberated by the Allies.

Charles De Gaulle reported that Paris had been liberated, with its own citizens rising to expel the enemy.

Paris, the city of light, was drawn up around the capital.

A special communique from Gen. Charles De Gaulle's headquarters in London announced the liberation after four days of street fighting that recalled scenes of Bastille Day when the mobs of Paris once before struck an historic blow for liberty.

The time, the communique said, the fight was by 80,000 organized French forces of the interior, bolstered by hundreds of thousands more who joined in with whatever weapons they could find.

The dramatic announcement touched off broadcasts to Frenchmen everywhere as the triumphant strains of "La Marseillaise" sounded again to the news of a French victory.

"This was no word immediately that American troops had entered the city.

But De Gaulle said they had entered at public buildings, won complete control of the situation, and captured all the city's radio and television stations.

White Plains—New cases of infantile paralysis reported to the health authorities yesterday brought the total number in Westchester this year to 46. The third death from poliomyelitis in the county was reported yesterday.

Glenwood Hospital in 1895 there had been 53 cases in a similar period.

Nine-year-old Joyce Virginia Powell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pasch of Croton Falls, died yesterday. She contracted the disease on Aug. 11. The new case reported involve a 25-year-old Mount Vernon man, who was taken to Glenwood on Monday afternoon; a 10-year-old boy in Mount Vernon; an 11-year-old New Rochelle boy, and a 10-year-old Mamaroneck girl, who were taken to Glenwood yesterday, and a six-year-old North Terry town boy who was taken to a New York Hospital.

With the increase in cases of poliomyelitis various groups are contributing their services to help overcome the personal shortage for the packed used in the Kenny transfer treatment.

Employees of the Yonkers Army, working during parts of their lunch hours and after completing their day's work, have built two mobile units for use at Glenwood Hospital as emergency equipment in the preparation of hot packs.

Subscription rates: Single copy 5c, Month $1.50, Six Months $8.00, One Year $15.00.

The Counselor—

Pls. settle this dispute for me. My friend claims he is a "junior" even though his middle name is not that of his father's...

Maybe you can... You can help me to track down a story published over 1915 or 1917. The title, I believe, is "I Know I Got More Than My Share."

The publisher was Leo Feist. Possibly you can get a copy through the publisher's office in New York if your local mailman has one or can't get it for you.

TRY WATER... Will you please print how to remove airplane glue from boots by washing with warm water.

MRS. R. S... If the trousers are washable, you should try to get the glue off with warm water.

STILL THERE... Is it possible for you to tell me if there is a Medium Avenue in the Bronx? It is a street that has been there for years since I have been there...

GET APPLICATION... Could you possibly tell me the requirements for a young man to be a State Trooper or some other position...

THE LITERARY LIFE... I have been experimenting with writing about Hitler. I am interested in knowing how you go about getting a story published.

PROMOTED... WASHINGTON (AP)—The War Department has announced the temporary promotion from captain to major of Capt. E. M. Ewert of Yankee. The War Department also has ordered to active duty Lt. Gen. Irving Jackson of New Rochelle.

Too Much Food?

Authoritative sources close to Washington reveal that the national government will find it hard to believe—namely, that we now have on hand in this country so much food that it is difficult for those in charge of our economic future to see what we can do to get rid of it.

This food of which we speak is not that which is earmarked for our Armed Forces. It is not that which is earmarked for our Navy warships; nor is it food now in storehouses of private food industries...

Let us not then, berudge the 2400 tons of food being shipped daily into Paris, even if we are told by reliable correspondents that there is little or no evidence of malnutrition in that city...

Job Placement Record Set During July

NEW YORK—The United States Employment Service of the War Manpower Commission broke all previous monthly records in July by filing more than 163,500 jobs in New York State, according to Joseph R. O'Connor, acting regional director.

Quick Results

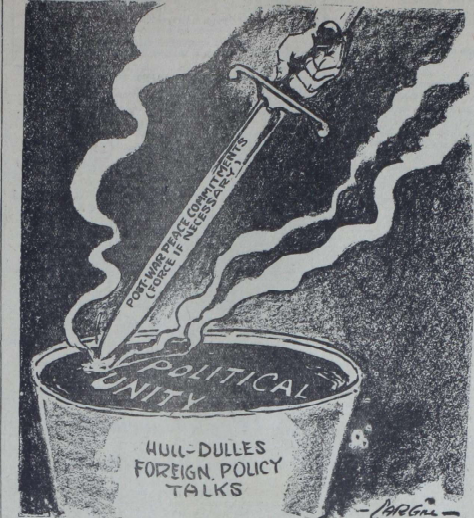

KANSAS CITY (AP)—This was the largest of the "top ten" columns of the Kansas City Star. A room, 25 foot private bath, entrance, garage, $12,000. Call after 6 P. M. One hundred and fifty applicants answered the advertisement personally.
