and referred him to the zoning Board of Appeals if he thought he had a grievance.

During the regular session Del Guercio took issue with the reasons for the Board's denial of a zoning hearing, and stated it was not a problem of zoning.

Mr. Del Guercio maintained he had a strong case with affidavits and other proof and as a taxpayer he should be granted a hearing.

To back up his case he had checked the minutes of the Board for the action of the Board to give you my whole story.

9 Killed as RCAF Plane Crashes Near North Pole

OTTAWA, (AP)—

Nine men were killed yesterday in the crash of a Royal Canadian Air Force jet-engine Learjet 400 miles south of the North Pole.

The plane, making an ice reconnaissance, crashed and burned while dropping supplies to a weather station operated jointly by Canada and the United States.

The wreckage of the Learjet 400 was reported to be in the Arctic Ocean.

The Kojang-Hyophong spearhead, pushing with an expedition movement through Red-occupied Chirye, south of Kimhoun, was reported to have been established a few miles west of Kojang.

DATE CHANGED

Mr. Truman had advised Congressional leaders at White House conference yesterday that he would ask for the $4 billion.

However, the Senate took occasion to act on another foreign aid measure, to serve which it thinks the time has come for the nations to stand up and be counted in the fight against communism.

It did this by writing into a $4.7 billion one-package appropriation bill power for the President to cut off economic recovery funds from any country that refuses help for the United Nations fight in Korea.

Trustees Alfred Weiss, Joseph Duforno and Jack Holland all wished them good fortune in their work with Mr. Weiss adding that he was glad to see them in their responsibilities as well as their privileges.

Police Chief Arthur W. Martensen then presented his good wishes to the men and presented them a series of books and pamphlets on police work and practice as well as all their 22 pieces of equipment which their supervisors also recalled.

Plans Stand For Thruway Despite War

WHITE PLAINS—

Despite an economic strain brought by the war in Korea, New York State intends to proceed with all dispatch toward completion of the Buffalo Thruway.

This was the word given to the Westchester Board of Supervisors today in a letter from Bertrand G. Tallamy, State Superintendent of Public Works and chairman of the New York State Thruway Authority.

The route of the Thruway as outlined by Mr. Tallamy shows the crossing of the Hudson near Tarrytown, although as yet test borings taken from the bed of the river have not warranted any public announcement by the authority that such site will be selected for the bridge.

The map also shows the portion of the New England Thruway, from Delham to Port Chester, as a spur of the Buffalo Thruway and it is expected that construction from the same bond sale will be used for reconstruction of both routes.

The map does not carry the proposed Westchester county-suitably link between the two routes from a point near Port Chester.

Chief Tallamy reiterated that the estimated cost is $450 million and that fees for usage are expected to produce sufficient revenues to amortize bonds and pay the interest thereon.

His Wife with Hammer Then Leaps to Death

NEW YORK (AP)— A retired fireboat captain was killed today, police reported, and then jumped to his death from the roof of a five-story Brooklyn apartment building.

The dead man was William J. Collins, sixty-eight, his wife, Mrs. Josephine Collins, seventy-one, and their two children, a daughter, Brooklyn, for a lacerated skull and returned home.

Deputy Chief Inspector Edward Mullins said Collins and his wife were engaged in a family quarrel when Collins struck his wife and was to the roof shouting "they're coming" before he leaped in a courtyard.

Pelham Board, Miller Blocking Sewer Pact, Says Mayor Matthews

Mayor Edward J. Matthews of North Pelham, last night charged the Pelham Town Board with blocking specifically Supervisor Gordon Miller with impeding progress in settlement of sewer difficulties between the Pelhams and New Rochelle.

It had been the intention of North Pelham Board to enact the recommended solution of the three Pelham Mayors, but the Town Board's position "raised the feeling that nothing could be gained at this time by our action," Mayor Matthews said.

Although Town Board members asserted they knew of no negotiations Supervisor Miller was at all meetings between representatives of the Pelhams and New Rochelle, Mayor Matthews stated.

Miller was already under contract to service that area, but the other issue, it was being threatened with a $150,000 suit, Pelham officials said.

At the first conference on March 31 New Rochelle claimed Pelham owed $100,000 because New Rochelle had been paying Hutchinson Valley sewer assessments on 200 acres which Pelham according to the contract, should have paid.

It was hinted a threatened lawsuit might be dropped if Pelham would agree to arbitrate the contract, said Mayor Matthews. WEATHER FOR TODAY—So many thousands are on the highways and the railroads, the railroads and the planes, dear God—all seeking the relaxation of refreshment from a year's labor—that they need the great blessing of safety, of self-protection, that they may return to their families and loved ones in improved health, the better able to do their work and to glorify Your purposes.

WESTCHESTER WILL NOT HOARD. WE BELIEVE that practically all Westchester citizens, excluding the "Mc Carthys," will commend the policy announced by County Executive Gerlach and Budget Director Folger that the County will not participate in any panic buying or hoarding of supplies needed for operation and maintenance of governmental functions.

Department heads have been instructed to purchase only their normal needs. They will not be permitted to stockpile items which may or may not become scarce. For it is in this rush to buy that prices rise and scarcity develops.

Public purchasing executives, it has been said, are the housekeepers for the government. We hope all housekeepers, public or private, will take the same attitude as that expressed by two Westchester officials. Let's be guided by the national rather than the individual interest. If it is wrong for an individual to hoard, it is just as bad for a county or a city or town or village.

WEAK LINK IN THE CHAIN. THESE are days when we must be sure that those who take their place with us upon the righteous battlements of Democracy are there by virtue of their beliefs and not through happenstance or cunning strategy. Few enemy infiltrations in high places can be far more dangerous than now employed by guerrillas in Korea.

There is a man who came to America to lecture and to expound Communist theories in 1935. He was held for hearings by immigration officials but voluntarily left these shores before deportation was ordered. Three years later he returned but upon the basis of information supplied by an American agent abroad he was detained at Ellis Island. Released on bail he again returned to his native country before his case was decided.

Last April there were unconfirmed reports that military leaders of the United States had requested that top-drawer secrets be withheld from him. Only a month ago he sought to scuttie the Sherman plan to integrate steel and coal production in Western Europe as a means of getting those subsidized nations back upon their economic feet.

This is the man to whom is entrusted grave responsibility by our main ally. This is the person who never fully repudiated publicly the Communist views he formerly expressed.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS. AS ALARMING as were the charges advanced by Senator Joe McCarthy of Wisconsin, with regard to the presence of Communists and fellow-travelers in government office, this investigation must probably go by the boards for the time being. We have bigger fish to fry in Korea.

But in postponement of this unfinished business, it might be well to note that the actions of Senator Millard Tydings of Maryland were as reprehensible as the counter-charges leveled against Senator McCarthy's somewhat reckless methods of prosecution.

It will be recalled that Senator McCarthy reported the loyalty files of the State Department had been tampered with. Senator Tydings replied that the FBI had investigated and had found that the files had not been tampered with at all. Thereupon, Senator McCarthy wrote J. Edgar Hoover who replied that the FBI had examined the files and could not, therefore, make any such statement as attributed to the FBI by Senator Tydings.

In other words, Senator Tydings had misinformed the American public on a very vital point. As Westchester's Congressman Ralph Gwinn puts it, Senator Tydings "chose to whitewash his party instead of proving his country."

There the matter rests. Perhaps after we have cleaned up the matter in Korea we may have time for a little hoarding in Washington.

The Counselor

SHOULD BE SPANKED

QUESTION: I have a very serious problem which I hope you will help me decide. My friend Mary has been going around for six months with a nice boy. Now our mutual friend Fran has decided that she will try to cut in on Mary. Ann has no interest whatsoever in the boy. She made a bet that she could get him to take her out and become interested in her. Mary sincerely cares for him, and I would break her heart if she knew that he had dated Ann. I forgot to say that Ann has been out with him three times. My problem is, should I tell Mary about this, or let her find out in time?

ANSWER: Girls like Ann should be spanked. What a cruel thing to do to you say she is a mutual friend of you and Mary, but what kind of a friend can she possibly be to let like that?

But you say that to Mary, take Ann aside and very bluntly tell her how selfish she is. Impress upon her the fact that she has no interest in the boy, while Mary does. If that doesn't work, then you can tell her of her friendship.

But you say that to Mary, take Ann aside and very bluntly tell her how selfish she is. Impress upon her the fact that she has no interest in the boy, while Mary does. If that doesn't work, then you can tell her of her friendship.

FINANCIAL OBLIGATION. QUESTION: I have a neighbor living with me who is now married and earns a pretty fair salary. For several months she has brought him up since he was never gives me anything out of his wages for his support. I do not wish to break the man's heart, but he would make things a little easier for me if he helped with the expenses. I realize that he is young and that he has a lot of life before him, but I could accept some responsibility? Would he be justified in asking him to give me some money every pay day?

ANSWER: You would be more than justified. After all, if the boy were living in a boarding house, he would have to pay for his room and board. That would take a close look at the man's income. If you wish to be kind-hearted, you might ask him to turn over to you one third of his wages. Not are you doing the boy wrong by telling him to get away from contributing toward his support. He must make up and realize that the man has obligations in life. The sooner he realizes that, the better it will be for him in the long run. You are not being selfish, and it is perfectly reasonable to expect some responsibility and help toward others.

2.—This actor of stage and screen was born in Dorset, Germany, in May, 1889. His first stage experience was in vaudeville. He became widely known for the Manhattan Comedy Four which he organized and maintained for over 15 years. He formed a comedy team and his act and his partner's names became immortalized by a song about him written with their act. On the stage he played in Princess Pat (1916), Cinderella on Broadway, The Prince of Posen, Music in the Air, The Music Master. He made his screen debut in 1930 in Chills and Fever. He died at age 61 in New York City, Aug. 12, 1949. What was his name? The Westerner? Public enemy number one?

Dean Acheson's Shaky Position Made More Insecure by Charge

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON—Secretary Dean Acheson's already shaky position has become more insecure as a result of a charge that he helped to withhold evidence from a Congressional committee.

The Michigan Senator who won fame as a one-man prosecutor of racketeers in Detroit, did not develop this aspect when he stepped on the floor to the Lyman-McMahon-Green extension of the State Department from Senator McCarthy's charges of Communist influence there.

But he told the writer that the plain and legal inference from his presentation was that Secretary Acheson and other high-level officials had deliberately not failed to apprise the Senate of the charges of Communist influence there.

President Truman insists that he will retain the Maryland squire despite the collapse of his China and Korean fronts, and it is the chief intelligence officer of Capitol Hill advisers that it would lose votes next November. But his present view is that he will force Mr. Truman to change his mind before the Congressional elections.

PLAN—In submitting hitherto confidential documents to support his contention that the Lydins committee had made only a "peripheral" investigation of the McCarran case, Senator Ferguson read to the Senate the "His Plan for Reorganization of the State Department and White House" which he declared "the man who gave the course was named Dale Carnegie."

Mr. Carnegie's siren song lured Shinkin into a state of blissful delirium. "You ought to write book for us," he declared. "And influence people," added Carnegie. The two men fell into each other's arms and hugged out for a boisterous buttermilk history was made that night.

In his various editions the book that resulted has sold over three and half million copies, and put Dale Carnegie into the same bracket with Andrew.

Col. Joe Bush Says: All this build-up that Jake Malik gave himself and his dramatic performance today in the U. S. Security Council makes me think he has a new secret. Fully world wouldn't have done a better job on a super-duper. Nor have profited because of it.

Escalator—The Senate investigators first heard of His's in connection with the Communist work in the United States and Russia were squabbling over such questions as the use of the U. N. veto, the signing of new treaties, the creation of an international police force. It was prelude to the cold war.

He resigned from the department in the Fall of 1946. It is believed that partial reason for his resignation was his failure to find adoption of his scheme, which meant a blow to his prestige and power. He had figured that his role at Yalta and his part in organizing the U. N. entitled him to this advancement and recognition.

Mr. Acheson was Undersecretary of State at this time, and had to pass on the Rice plan. In White Plains they're going to increase the legal speed limit on Westchester and Mamaroneck Avenues and some other roads from 20 to 25 mph, which is as fast as most motorists can handle on the roads for the past 25 years.

Combing The Town

First Reports

Two of Mamaroneck's six new cops made their first reports on their initial duty tours yesterday.

Patrolman John Barry picked up a 14-year-old boy carrying a 22 caliber rifle on a bike at 9:35 A. M. and after brief interrogation referred the problem to Chief Martenson.

"What do you know about gun safety?" asked the chief. "What you learn me when I get to my boy scout merit badge for safety two years ago" replied the lad. Chief Martenson, who has been Scout safety chairman for several years, discovered that the boy plans to use the rifle hunting with an adult in the Fall—now legally permissible.

Patrolman Charles Malley assisted Patrolman Anthony DiStefano on an aid case in the afternoon and in the evening was detailed to traffic duty in connection with the parade proceeding St. Vito's 23rd annual bazaar.

Back from Cruise

Mishakom Thomas Crawford Mayer Jr., USNR, and Mrs. M. Mayer, 922 Stuart Avenue, Mamaroneck, is scheduled today for return from the heavy cruiser USS St. Paul at San Francisco, Calif. After taking part in the week-long Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps Sea-Sophomore Cruise to Hawaii and San Diego.

A graduate of Bellows High school, Class of 1949, Mamaroneck, is a sophomore at the College of the Holy Cross, Worcester, Mass. During the cruise he received experience and instruction in all phases of high school work, including up to the highlight of the training program when in Southern California were midshipmen manned and fired all the guns of the ship. Places of interest visited included Pearl Harbor, Hawaii and San Diego.

Scholarship Refused

Malcolm Hewforth, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Hewforth of Park Plaza Apartments, Mamaroneck, last week was awarded a four-year $1,600 New York State Regents Scholarship. He was forced to turn down the grant, however, since the scholarship is applicable only to colleges in New York State and he has already enrolled at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

A high ranking student in this year's Mamaroneck High School graduating class, Hewforth had previously been awarded a scholarship offered by the University Club of Larchmont. He was one of the few high school students who undertook the study of calculus in his senior year.

Appeal Answered

Four twin-baby carriages were offered by residents of four different Westchester communities after the Mamaroneck Health Center had appealed through the Daily Times and the Counselor column, for a twin-baby carriage needed by a local foster family. The Center reported today.

The carriages were received from residents of New Rochelle, Yonkers, Tuckahoe and White Plains. One in excellent condition was gratefully accepted by the Center for the two twin babies who were turned over to the Welfare Department for other twin babies who may need them.

By-Laws Ratified

The Young Republican Club of Larchmont and Mamaroneck last night ratified a new set of by-laws which was distributed to members for study last week. The new by-laws are the result of more than four months study by a committee headed by former vice president Andrew Wilson III.

The next meeting of the club will be a dinner meeting sometime in October, President Anthony L. Gagliardi, announced.

Light Hit

An unidentified trailer truck going west on the Boston Post Road failed yesterday about 4:13 P. M. to maneuver around the overhead traffic light at Broadway Street and the light trailer smashed the light to smithereens, scattering pieces over the road, without stopping.

The light hangs about 13 feet, six inches above the surface of the road. Town Patrolmen Christopher Levinsky and Richard Wincicker, detailed to the scene, cleaned up the debris.

WOMAN INJURES ARM

IN FALL FROM STEPS

Mrs. Angelina Celestino, sixty-eight, suffered a possible fracture of the upper left arm about 4:10 P. M. yesterday when she fell on the steps outside the kitchen door of her home, 151 Elm Street, Mamaroneck. First aid was given by Patrolman Anthony Gianicola and Charles Healy, the latter on his first tour of duty as a rookie.

Dr. Francis R. Hunt reported that Mrs. Celestino's removal to United Hospital, Port Chester, in the police ambulance, Nicholas and two sons who live with her, Leo and James, were at home at the time. She was discovered by her neighbor from Prospect Avenue, who called neighbors at the Ruth Campbell of 151 Elm Street notified police.

A SOUTH KOREAN PORT—The first transport ship bearing Marines to the Korean War docked at 6:30 tonight and leathernecks began disembarking immediately.

They were met by their commanding general. The men looked fit and ready for action. They ranged in age from youths in their teens to grizzled veterans.

"Can you get any beer here?" some called over the ship's rail. Other cheered, "How's liberty in this joint?"

Other transports were coming in toward port shortly behind the first transport.

96 MORE CALLED FOR DRAFT TESTS

Local Board Gets Order To Send Men For Preinduction Exams

WHITE PLAINS—Draft Board 11 today received the number to be sent into military training to 96 men from New York Ave. 29 for preinduction physical tests.

It was the second preinduction call. The board will send 31 men for physical examinations Monday.

The board still has no notice of an actual induction date, or the number to be sent into military training. It appears, a board spokesman said, that the current call is for 96 men from which 31 will be sent to the military training camp at a large pool of physically fit 1A men from which the Army can draw as established.

From previous local physical checks, the board has a pool of 46 men from which the 31 will be selected for the military tests Monday. They will leave on the 8:59 A. M. train from White Plains.

The immediate result of today's call for 96 more men will be to step up the schedule of local physical tests, which probably will be held in Port Chester and White Plains, as before.

Tire Blows, Car Crashes Store Front

NEW ROCHELLE—John Mohamed, forty-five, of 151 Elm Street, Mamaroneck, was injured at 12:30 A. M. today when the car in which he was riding had a blowout and crashed into the front of a produce store at 119 Pelham Road, police said.

At New Rochelle Hospital, where he was taken in a police car, Mohamed was released after treatment for lacerations on the right eye and abrasions on the right knee.

Driver of the 1937 sedan, Saava, drove Lopez, forty, of 200 Broadway Avenue, Bronx, told police he was going west at about 30 miles an hour when the right rear tire blew without stopping.

Story Of Lanolin Development Told Mamaroneck Lions Club

The largest manufacturer of lanolin in the United States is located in Mamaroneck, the members of the Mamaroneck Lions Club learned yesterday when they heard a talk on the product by John Robinson, vice president in charge of production of Rohm and Wager & Co., Inc., 628 Waverly Avenue.

The firm started in New York City in 1892 as importers of lanolin from England. In a short time the partners, John C. Robinson and A. Wagner, decided that imports were further handicapped by their lack of knowledge of chemistry, but supplemented their meagre chemical training by wide reading of everything they could get their hands on that might apply to the manufacturer field.

PARADE FEATURES ST. VITO'S BAZAAR

Village, Church Organize, Officials In Line Of March

HUNDREDS of Mamaroneck residents lined the streets last night as a colorful parade, a feature of the 23rd annual bazaar of St. Vito's Church, wound from the Municipal Building up Mamaroneck Avenue and through Washington to the church grounds.

Arrangements for the parade were made by Alfonso Magzone, chairman, assisted by Anthony Lanza. Selections were played at the bazaar grounds by the Larchmont American Legion band and Carlo's Hill Billy outfit.

Following them was the American Legion Band of Larchmont Post 247, led by Drum Major Tommy Nisk and two baton twirlers, Josephine Ponzoni and Tully Vaughn. Then came Boy Scout Troop 4 of St. Vito's Church and the Washington Young Men's Club pulling a decorated coach with youngsters in costume.

Following were Marconi Lodge and its auxiliary, Betsy Ross Lodge; the Victory Society for Mutual Aid; Knights of Columbus; senior societies of St. Vito's Church; another float with children in carnival costume; a horse-drawn wagon with Lou Sarlo's appropriately costumed Hill Billy band and Volunteer Engine and Hose Co. 3 of the Mamaroneck Fire Department.

ENEMY CHECKED IN GRIM BATTLE

Americans Hold Positions In Flaming Struggle Near Main Port

TOKYO, Thursday, (AP)—U. S. 24th Division troops recaptured hill positions northeast of Chinju and held on today in a flaming battle 40 miles from the main port of Pusan.

The attacking battle line was marked by burning villages all the way from southern coast to Kumbhon.

Gen. MacArthur's headquarters said U. S. troops and the North Korean 6th Division were locked in a grim battle east of Chinju at the western approaches to Pusan.

No gains by the enemy have been made in this fighting in the last 12 hours, the war summary said. It was released at 12:55 A. M.

Enemy Sacrifices Thousands. Gen. MacArthur said the Reds "have thrown caution to the winds" and have sacrificed thousands of men. His statement added:

The U. S. ground force built up steadily and during the time for the offensive by United Nations forces in Korea, ground forces in the enemy line gradually running out is indicated by his last desperate all-out effort.

CHAMBER NAMES FIVE DIRECTORS

Nominating Committee Reports, Election at Meeting In Sept.

A slate of five directors to succeed those whose terms expire September 30 was presented by the nominating committee at a meeting last night of the Board of Directors of the Mamaroneck Chamber of Commerce held at the home of Mrs. Edward H. Geesels on Keeler Avenue. Elections will be held at the annual meeting on Sept. 18, at Green Haven Inn.

The slate includes Dr. J. Diforio to succeed Mortimer Matrozzini, Retail Division; Erwin Meyer and Leonard A. Thues to succeed themselves; Industrial Division; A. A. Robert to succeed himself; General Division; and Henry Munter to succeed himself as director at-large. The committee was headed by Charles A. Geesels and consisted of Edward Block.

Wind Cuts with Rain

Wind gusts accompanying yesterday's summer afternoon showers brought an electric wire down near 601 Orienta Avenue. Police were notified by Mrs. S. W. Anselvici of 244 Clinton Avenue and Patrolman Otto Veschoor and Howard Hanley stood by until the arrival of a Westchester Lightening Company emergency crew.

Patrolman Hanley reported at 2:44 P. M. that a tree had fallen across electric wires on Orienta Avenue near Delaney Court. Street department employees erected cones and used a Larchmont Company emergency crew removed the tree.

Plate Missing

James Mullin of 814 Woodbine Avenue, Mamaroneck, notified police yesterday at 11:30 A. M. that New York license plate 6V-90-62 was missing from his 1940 Packard coupe. Police issued a missing plate alarm for the missing plate.

Dogs, Beware!

It's a bit early for traditional dog days, but Mamaroneck Patrolman Edward Hanley went to work yesterday at 1 P. M. on numerous complaints about unlicensed dogs running at large. Some of the unlicensed dogs were immediately snatched by a couple of pooches yipping and snapping at his heels. What's more, he immediately found himself surrounded by a group of children who evidently had no understanding of his interest in their pets and more or less restrained that interest.

In no conciliatory mood, Hanley ascertained that the owners of the dogs were two Elm Street residents. They will have to explain tomorrow to Judge Felt how they let their dogs run at large. Felt promised they would be permitted to run at large.

Patrolman Hanley hopes that when he gets another dog, that one he'll not have youngsters as well as dogs to cope with.

Fund Aided

Eight Mamaroneck youngsters ranging in age from five to six, who made their first attempt to aid infantile paralysis victims yesterday when they handed $20 to Police Chief Arthur W. DeMeo, and asked him to see that the money got to the right individual.

All eight children, known as the Little Fish Club, appeared at headquarters and told the chief they had made the money through the sale of home-grown artificial flowers with some of it coming from spontaneous gifts of some adults. The money for the four previous donations made by the same group, came from the sale of used comic books and old-fashioned toys.

In accepting the money, the chief cautioned the youngsters against soliciting and promised to send the money to the Little Fish Club, which is the name of the group.

The children are: Joe Pezz, Carrie, Russ, Ed Minnerly and Bobby Schor all of 254 Mamaroneck Avenue, Jackie Marcus, 159 Palmer Avenue and Dorothy Konopka of 62 West Post Road.

Home from Training

First Lt. Robert Neely of 10 Ekan Road, Larchmont, returned yesterday after completing two weeks of active reserve training with the light operations section of the 171st Air Medical Battalion at Otisland Air Force Base, Middletown, Pa.

A graduate of Larchmont and a graduate of Mamaroneck High School, Lt. Neely is holder of the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal. He served a year in the European theater as pilot of the heavy bombers of the 15th Air Force during World War II. He is married and has one child.

Place Changed

The meeting place of the United World Federalists at 8:30 tonight has been switched to the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kaplan of 8 Shore Drive, Larchmont. It was announced today by the chapter. The meeting originally was scheduled to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kaplan of 437 Ocean Point Road, Mamaroneck.

Guest speaker will be John C. Holt, II, field director of the World State Branch.

Satisfactory Quality

The water at Harbor Island Beach has again been found of satisfactory quality for bathing, the office of Village Manager William H. Johnson reported today. Mr. Johnson this morning received the report from the County Health Department on a sample taken from the beach water on July 24. The county department periodically makes tests of the water at the beach and reports its findings to the village manager.

Completes Course

Thomas William Nale III of 18 Glen Lake Drive, Larchmont, was one of more than 700 Air Force cadets who last week completed a six-week training course at the Air Force ROTC at Langley Air Force Base, Va.

A senior at West Virginia University, Morgantown, W. Va., Cadet Nale will be a candidate for the commission of second lieutenant, United States Air Force Reserve, on his graduation from college next June.

Prowler Attempts Entry But is Frightened Away

An attempted burglary at the home of Mrs. Frank Ripano, 138 Pulver Road, Mamaroneck, was averted at 9:58 P. M. yesterday when Mrs. Ripano and her daughter, Diana Marie, heard someone trying keys in the rear door and phoned for police.

While Mrs. Ripano was at the telephone she heard someone running along the side of the house. Upon the arrival of Patrolman Vito Pralio and Edward De Falco no trace of the prowler was found.

Commissioner of Health and Civil Defense Office

In the first article of this series prepared on the A bomb the question of its position was taken up. Now let us consider the next question, what can I do to help the other fellow in case of an A bomb attack?

At the point of explosion of the bomb and for a radius of one mile, little can be done for the victim. As the distance increases from the point of explosion the death rate drops rapidly until five to five miles area is reached and here but few are killed.

Within the five mile area from the blast there will be many injured people, suffering either burns or broken bones who are unable to travel or help themselves. These are the ones who will need your care. It is estimated that by following the advice of the position article about 20 per cent of the deaths can be avoided.

Little aid can be given in the radius of one mile of the explosion and under no circumstances should you enter this area for a period of up to four days, and there only when told by the authorities you do so. There is a definite danger here from the effects of radiation to those who enter, especially in the early hours of bombing.

In the outer area, three to five miles, cases can be removed by rescue squads in safety. While in the area of one to three miles some caution may be necessary, in most instances rescue teams can go to work at once. The danger in this area is when there are gas leaks or underground fires. The ground burst causes radioactivity to last longer. The wind velocity is also a factor. If there is a strong wind the radioactivity is carried away. This area may be in its contamination and it would be well to wait for official

HOUSE TO PASS ALL-OUT CONTROLS

2 Bills Offered For Programs As Senate Unit Weighs Own Measures

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The House appeared set today to give President Truman powers to control virtually every phase of the nation's economic life.

As demands mounted for across-the-board controls to curb inflation and provide what's needed in the Korean War, the early question was the form the Presidential powers would take.

An automatic device for invoking price-wage-rationaling controls—designed to get them in motion whenever the cost of living reaches a certain point—is being worked out by the Senate Banking Committee. Government statisticians were called in to recommend a formula.

Members of the committee disagreed today, however, as to whether the group had formally

Fresh Troops For American Battle For Crucial Tank Unit Fights Way Deep Inside Red Line

By DON WHITEHEAD
By The Associated Press

U. S. COMMANDER POS—This is the amazing story of a U. S. battalion that fought the way 23 miles behind the enemy lines, battled and saved a vital command post from destruction in a savage struggle this morning.

There has not been anything quite like this daring adventure in the Korean War. The officers called it "a reconnaissance in force" and it proved for the high command.

1. That the enemy line can be breached by a hard-hitting tanked force.

2. That the enemy is building up strong forces around Chinnju to drive the Americans out of Muan and the vital port city of Pusan.

The enemy dropped leaflets behind the American lines near Muan, this morning urging natives to join their forces. The leaflets said the Red forces were preparing to attack in great force and drive the Americans out. "We will liberate you," the Reds said.

The battalion's thrust into the enemy lines left no doubt the Reds have a strong force in the area.

Britons See A New Favorite In Guess-Game

LONDON, (AP)—A handsome young commoner whose stepfather is an American Communist has become Britain's favorite guessing game.

Who will marry Princess Margaret?

He is twenty-six-year-old William Wallace, son of the late Capt. Sean Wallace, a sometime Minister of Transport.

His widowed mother married Herbert Agar, American newspaper editor and publisher, in 1943. Lack of royal blood would not disqualify him as a suitor for Margaret, since she is not herself to the throne.

Young Wallace made his latest bid for the crown when he appeared as a member of a party of four last night at the Palladium.

REDS AGGRESSORS SINCE '46—PAULEY

Hearing On Korea Features Ex-U. S. Aide As A Chief Witness

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Edwin W. Pauley, former special ambassador for the President, held the line today that the "Soviet Union has been a deliberate aggressor in Korea as far as May 28, 1946."

Mr. Pauley testified before the Senate Armed Services Committee in a special hearing on Korea. He was called to the witness stand by Sen. Wm. L. Roth, former head of the U. S. military mission in Korea.

John Starnes, tanks and four armored cars were abandoned by the Americans as they withdrew from the area. The last U. S. defensive position near Wunbong village, about 10 miles northeast of Chinnju.

The Reds pulled out after the Reds had got behind them and set off in the dark. The Red Koreans started the first tank and the last one with immobilized tanks. The last crews and most of the armored crews escaped.

The Americans then fanned out to the North and South and fought back. The U. S. defensive position near Wunbong village, about 10 miles northeast of Chinnju.

U. S. Must Use World War 2 Tank In Korea

WASHINGTON, (AP)—American troops will have to fight the "hot phase" of the Korean campaign with World War 2 tanks as most of them improved since 1945.

They may get some really new tanks by the time the substitute Army can shift from the defensive and start the long way back to the 38th Parallel.

This is the substance of what Congressional watchdog committees in the transition period have called up to explain how the Korean crisis caught the United States in the transition period between old and genuinely new armaments.

Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army Chief of Staff, stated in a speech in Feb. that "except for prototypes we have not purchased a single new tank since the end of the war."

In a report for the last half of 1949, Secretary of the Army Grant Blackham said that three light units of the "postwar tank family" were in the final steps of completion prior to an exhaustive series of tests.

In his February speech, Gen. Collins said that the Army had the prototype of a new medium tank and "design" for a heavy tank.

Gen. Collins then emphasized that the Army would not build any heavy tanks until it was "sure that we cannot knock out the heaviest of heavies with the improved guns and ammunition of our new light and medium tanks."

Engineers Take Over Custody Of Slocum, No Plans Disclosed

NEW ROCHELLE—When and if the former First Air Force base at Fort Slocum will be reactivated remained an enigma today despite repeated reports that some use will be found for the island in the heightened defense program.

Member Church quoted a spokesman there, however, as saying that no definite use of the property is planned and so indicating that none was likely in the immediate future. General services may get the island at some time still undetermined, the spokesman said.

The island base, which can accommodate 1,000 men, is being guarded by a lieutenant and staff sergeant of the First Air Force and about 15 civilians.

404 Korean Red Names Listed As War Prisoners

SOUTH KOREA, (AP)—The South Korean government will send a complete list of 404 Communist prisoners to the International Red Cross. Despite the names of the prisoners that their capture not be reported.

Col. Paik Won Kyu, commander of the prisoners-of-war camp, said the prisoners were afraid their families will be persecuted by the Communists in North Korea if the list is published.

Col. Paik reported all the men said they had been told to "fight or die" and not to surrender under any circumstances.

MISSING CAR FOUND ABANDONED IN LOT

Stolen from its parking place outside her real estate office at 138 Halsted Avenue, Mamaroneck, yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Jane Cornell was found abandoned in a lot owned by Mrs. John Cornell at the rear of the old Westchester Bath Club south of East Boston Post Road, Mamaroneck.

The keys were found tucked above the windshield as also by Patrolman Otto Verschoor and John Barry, who brought the car to police headquarters.

Mrs. Cornell, claiming the car at 9:50 A. M., told police she had hidden the keys in a door pocket. She had parked it unlocked at noon yesterday and returned at 5:15 when she started to return to her home in Glenville, Conn.

Coast Marshes May Trap Tanks If Reds Continue Pusan Drive

By RUSSELL BRINKS
By The Associated Press

The Communist power drive along Korea's south coast toward Pusan, the main highway junction, may be stopped by the Chinnju River, its main artery, 40 miles to the south.

A map shows that the map does not show, however, how much reinforced American and South Korean forces intend to throw at this Red drive.

Two Red divisions, and maybe added elements of a third, are in the southern thrust, which is believed to be the main drive as of "major importance." Much of the tank force is now on along the coast toward Muan. Muan is less than 30 miles west of Pusan, the American port.

Reds and their armor already have spilled through mountains to verge on a coastal plain leading toward Pusan. Flat lands are generally unimpeded to the attacking tanks. There are, however, rocky Red. There are, however, rocky Red spots which American experts say can slow down Communist tanks.

The spots is fairly favorable to the Communists.

Local Girl Scouts Participate In New Projects At Rock Hill

By MAUREEN McKEERAN MAHOPAC—

Fans of useful energy will strike the hearts of former Girl Scouts of Westchester at the new that the Foresters at Rock Hill Camp are making toward new projects and new private waterfront of their own far removed from the younger girls' camp.

About 50 Larchmont Girl Scouts are attending Rock Hill Camp this summer, with a smaller Larchmont Staff members include Miss Catherine Broderick, junior aide and Miss Janet Turner, counselor.

Older Girl Scouts may be expected to return this year to their families with new and impressive knowledge of tree chopping, three-plate building and an ability to make all sorts of housekeeping equipment out of lengths of tree limbs lashed together with bark. All these skills are being employed by the older girls at Rock Hill, the Westchester Girl Scout Camp at Lake Mahopac, in clearing a hilltop about a half-mile from the field in which Foresters have camped for many years.

When the project is finished, Foresters will be able to live an almost entirely independent life under tree camping conditions. The idea of setting up a brand new camp for the older girls had not just set their themselves went off to the forest with the first encampment, in July. Now the third encampment has, carried the project far enough for the Foresters to sleep in pup tents, when they so desire, cook over their new campfires. They hope that the last encampment, moving in August 16, will be able to prove the tent from the dead meadow and put the finishing touches to the brand new camp. Tents Filled Despite Rain

Despite the rainiest season in the 30 years of camping at Rock Hill, the full camp program continues between showers with enrollments of 185 Girl Scouts for each encampment filling the tents to capacity.

Under the influence of the new director, Grace Caswell, a new pioneering spirit is blossoming at Rock Hill, as indicated by the new pioneering project of the Foresters and even the Brownies, it is reported, as less stricken with homesickness than in former years.

Being, some of the campers confide, continues as the most popular event of camp life but a new element of adventure has been injected by the nurses and the overnight hikes on Petrie Island. Even Brownies have their day on the island. Older girls sleep out in their sleeping bags, advance their skill in camp crafts and outdoor cooking against the romantic background of the island.

'Health Week' Is Observed At Playground

A doll show was held for the girls of the DeLows playground yesterday afternoon in the school gymnasium while the boys participated in athletic badge tests as part of the playground's "Health and Fitness Week."

Doll entries were judged by Angela Ricci, Helen Horn and Barbara Decker, playground teachers. Winners were Sandra Goulding with the suggest doll; Mary Lou Veretti with the smallest dolls (twins); Dolores Emigh, prettiest doll; Judy Wade, most original doll; Barbara Stanton, prettiest attractions.

Chinning the bar tests were passed by Jerry Elston, Eric Adams, Dudley Golden, Arthur Seifreund, John David and Alan Howe while requirements for the standing broad jump were met by Dick Clark, Jerry Elston and Peter Luis. The baseball throw record was reached by Jerry Elston and William Schonefeld.

A playground circus is planned for next Wednesday in the DeLows gymnasium. Booths, a slide show and special acts in the ring will feature a circus atmosphere. Clown acts, dancing and singing numbers, trained animal acts and acrobatics are being rehearsed for the performance under the big top.

Herbert Taylor is in charge of location. Mrs. Housa, posters and decorations; Stanley Cornish, address and set construction; Angela Ricci, Charlotte DeBoussie, Dave Fischer and Jack Haasley, main attractions.

Tickets will be distributed free of charge to all registered playmates of children. Parents are invited.

Dance Is Held In Blue Room Of Shore Club

About 50 teen-age members of the Larchmont Shore Club and their guests attended last night's informal dance, held in the Blue Room of the club, with music for dancing provided by "The Stardusters."

Bill Slater, radio and television performer, was present at the Shore Club during the Summer. Slater presided as master of ceremonies, advancing prizes to Jerry Dwyer and Lee Corby as winners of a lucky number game.

A program of entertainment featured Joe Quadrim of Mamaroneck, who offered two hours of accordion music and Lew Thompson, singer.

The arrangements committee was headed by Mrs. Joseph V. Blake as chairman. She was assisted by Mrs. Philip Corby, Mrs. William Sullivan, Mrs. William Watson and Mrs. Edward Stine.

A "small fry" beach party will be held Aug. 15 at the club from 4 to 7 P. M.

Goodwin-Mayer Duo Cops Medal In Winged Foot's Anderson Golf

The Westchester Country Club duo of Tommy Goodwin and Fred Mayer bested the elements and a huge field of 101 teams in announcing medalists honors in the qualifying round of the 14th John C. Anderson memorial tournament played in a steady down-pour yesterday at Winged Foot.

Melting their games superbly, the Westchester duo of 33-34-67 to win the qualifying medal by two strokes.

Goodwin, former Met and New York State amateur champ, who spends most of the year in the Bahamas, helped greatly in producing the medal triumph by holding four long putts for birdies.

3 SUNDAY GAMES FOR MAMARONECK

Last night's Mamaroneck Softball League raised its season total to 100 games. The game was played at M. A. S. Field Sunday afternoon and evening. For some reason tonight's contest should have to be postponed. These league officials would make every effort to squeeze one into the Sabbath picture also.

Thus far the weekend date shows two league tussles and the already advertised "regular" engagement between the now defunct Cubs and Poodman, who represented the power of Mamaroneck softball for almost a decade.

Both clubs have escaped together most of their personal and will battle it out just the old time on the local diamond beginning at 6 P. M.

The other top game will pit up for 1 P. M. and will pit the Holy Name against the Hibernians in their 13th annual game.

At 3 P. M. the Heathcotes go out after their 13th, but against an even more dangerous foe for the third place Sportsman, who still entertain championship ideas.

Braves, Local Kiwanis King, Play MV Paramounts Sunday

An exhibition baseball contest, featuring the Mamaroneck Kiwanis and the Mount Vernon Paramounts, Bronx Kings of the Junior League, was held at Paramounts yesterday.

The contest was held at 11 A. M. Although the Braves will naturally be giving the contest their all, it has been booked as a warm-up for the Kiwanis state playoffs which are to be held later this month.

The Paramounts will be automatically the toughest opponent in the local league survival has put for a birdie-3 at 14th. Campbell, a student at Stuyvesant, dropped in a 66-foot hole for a birdie-3 at 14th.

A double-bogey six at the first hole marked their return. Both caught traps and three putted.

A stroke back at 70 were Billy Blythe and Kenyon. Blythe, a former Westchester champion, and Kenyon, a former Westchester champion, were the only two to finish in the top 10.

Four of the eight outstanding softball organizations that are to compete in the second annual YMA YCA meet this month have been selected, and two of them are from the Mamaroneck area.

Montreal, a former Westchester champion, and Kenyon, a former Westchester champion, were the only two to finish in the top 10.

Ridzik and Garbowski To Be Honored in N. J.

It will be Yorkers Night at Roosevelt Stadium, on Friday, Aug. 18 when the Terrace City honors its two International League players Steve Ridzik and Alex Garbowski of the Toronto Maple Leafs.

A committee of Yorkersites, headed by Bill Choly, have completed arrangements for the Yorkers-at-Jersey City celebration.

Ridzik, a twenty-year-old pitcher, is expected to hit for the Toronto club that night against the Little Clans. The hard-luck moundman, who broke his leg last year, has an 8-6 win and lost record this season.

Garbowski, twenty-year-old infielder, is expected to hit for the Toronto club that night against the Little Clans. The hard-luck moundman, who broke his leg last year, has an 8-6 win and lost record this season.

Panthers Top 49ers Before Rain Arrives

Just when the teams involved had warmed to their tasks, rain intervened in yesterday's playground junior clash at Bellows Field with the Panthers holding a 4-4 advantage over the 49ers.

The Panthers, who were leading 4-4, were held to 10 men on base during the four innings that got under the wire while the 49ers' Neck squad stranded only four.

The Panthers' scoring in the first half frame for an early margin. However, the visiting team picked up two in the second and added another pair in the top of the third to assume command.

That lead was short-lived as the Panthers' pitcher, who pitched three more around the sacks in the bottom half and the lone correct inning proceeded to the start of an all-day shower.

The Sox score: 49ers 14, 49ers 14. Runners 14, 49ers 14. Hits 14, 49ers 14. Errors 14, 49ers 14.

APPTITUDE TEST

Question: Will you please tell me when an adult not a school child, can go to take an aptitude test? I believe that is what they call the test that is supposed to tell if you have any talents for earning a living. H. B.
Answer: The primary purpose of an aptitude test is to determine which field the candidate is best suited for. The Vocational Advisory Service, 66 Madison Avenue, New York City, conducts such tests, as will your local State Employment Service.

DISABILITY LAW

Question: Please tell me where I can obtain a copy of the N. Y. State disability law which became effective on July 1. Where may I apply for the benefits? Mrs. E. O.
Answer: Write to the chairman, Workmen's Compensation Board, 60 Centre Street, New York 13, N. Y.

MAN TOO OLD

Question: In a recent column wherein a man from a fifteen-year-old girl who goes out with a man of thirty-one, thinking not one of the reasons in their age, I am eighteen years old, entering college this September, and even I would not go out with a man so much older than myself. Even though Justice appears not to favor her age, she should go out with boys in her own age bracket. I agree entirely with the girl's mother about going out on school nights. I go out every Friday and Saturday night on an occasional early Sunday date. I don't think Justice's sister is "making trouble" for her. She is only trying to guide her daughter. For this reason, Justice does not appreciate her parents or what they are trying to do for her. If I were her father, I would not let her frequent a fiction fellie at a tea party.
Answer: We felt that Justice and girls in a similar position might benefit from reading the physical therapy treatments are the only treatments that help in my illness. Will you please let me know the names and addresses of places giving such treatments in Westchester? A Reader
Answer: If your doctor has prescribed such treatments, ask him to recommend some place. If it is merely the diagnosis of a well-meaning friend, consult a doctor before you go there.

GUESS THE NAME
1.—This once popular American author was born near Lexington, Ky., in 1849. His first book was titled "Fruit and Vain," published in 1891. The Blue Grass Region and Other Sketches of Kentucky came next. The Kentucky Cardinals, The Choir Invisible (which was afterwards dramatized), The Doctor's Christmas Eve, The Last Christmas Tree, The Cathedral of Sinners, Kentucky Warbler, were fortunate. Many fine traits and others. He died in New York City Feb. 10, 1923. Who was he?
2.—This is another actor of stage and screen who has been making pictures very recently. He was born in New York City in 1926. His first motion picture was "Mary Regan." The Blazing Trail and The Magnificent Duet were made in the twenties. His latest were "British Intelligence Flowing, She Couldn't Say No." In 1942 he made "The Male Animal," "Gentleman Jim," and in the following year—Mysterious Doctor, Last Ride, The Great Mystic, The Strange Mr. Gregory. Can you name him?
YOUR FUTURE
Your industry, initiative and foresight should be rewarded during the next 12 months. Today's child will, in all probability, be possessed of exceptional talents. For Sunday, Aug. 6, the prognostications are: The day is excellent for relaxation and friendships. Your next year should be a Frank Mayo.

A Glance Backward

A DECADE AGO

(From The Daily Times)
The question of bathing facilities for those Larchmont residents who could not afford membership in private clubs was discussed by the Larchmont board. Trustee Harold Botz once again suggested the erection of a municipal pool and the matter was tabled for future consideration because of the absence of several trustees. ... Harold T. A couple of golf nuts were indulging in post mortems at a Monday luncheon. "Yesterday was blue Sunday for fair as far as I'm concerned," moaned one. "First I took an eleven on that three par water hole. Then I hit my wife with a driver on the nineteenth and sent her to the hospital for a month at least. Then my son called to say he had flunked out of Wesleyan. And finally my house burned down."

PRAYER FOR TODAY

I pray, dear God, for a United Nations victory in Korea. Let there be a lesson for all the world—when the crimson deeds in peace-time nations of good will can rise together to maintain decent respect for the life and property of their neighbors, even as good men and women do in a well-ordered community. Bless the United Nations. Give it the strength and the will to face its gravest problems squarely and courageously. Let it be a dependable place of sanctuary and support for every nation or people beset unfairly by those who would disturb the peace.

THE CAR THAT LASTS LONGER

WE ARE NOT aware of any automobile manufacturer who uses the caption of this article as an advertising slogan. And yet we think it might be a good one.

Not that we are aware of any person buying a new car whenever he wants it, and has the price, but, on the other hand, the average owner may not be aware that cars which are carefully maintained and safely operated have much longer life than their counterparts.

For example, consider these facts: Of all cars junked in 1947, the latest year for which authoritative figures are available, the average mileage accumulated was 103,000. Yet in that same year, the average mileage of all cars in use was only 57,000 miles.

Too, in 1949 the average age of cars in use was 8.4 years. While before World War II the average age was only 5.6 years. Obviously, Americans are keeping their cars longer and driving them more miles than before.

These are facts, we think, which might well be borne in mind by any citizens who are worried over the possibility that the Korean War may bring a setback in automobile production and perhaps, eventually, in automobile maintenance. It is conceivable, be of some solace to the anxious would-be purchasers who are worrying dealers these days almost to the point of nervous breakdowns on the question of deliveries.

With production now at a high million-unit annual rate, and with cars which live longer and run farther, we may not be heard after all, with repetition of the stringencies of World War II in this field of transportation.

HISTORY IN THE MAKING

WE WISH that the women of every Westchester community would do what Mrs. Reed Waterman of Tarrytown has done for her village.

Impressed deeply by the gripping telecasts of the United Nations debate at Lake Success, Mrs. Waterman secured around obtained use of the Civic Center, got cooperation from a local TV dealer in the loan of a large-screen television set, and spread the word that everybody was welcome. In addition, she induced other TV dealers to tune in their display models to the U. N. program.

Here, we agree, a unique opportunity for young and old to watch history in the making. Around that table at Lake Success, as being decided the future of the world and the lives of millions in years to come. No telecast entertainment is so tense in suspense or so exciting in the contest of wills of great nations.

We hope that the idea spreads and that every Westchester city, town and village will be available to all view this magnificent spectacle. It is international diplomacy in the raw and those who are certain to be vitally affected by the outcome should have the privilege of visual participation.

Combing The Town

Mountain Climber
John Sack, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Sack of 44 Maybaw Avenue, Larchmont is serving as public relations man for a group of seven mountain climbers two of whom scaled four-mile-high Mt. Yurupaja in Peru, highest previously unclimbed peak in the Americas.

The two, Dave Harrah of Seattle, Wash., and James Maxwell of Brimley, Mass. were marooned on the mountain through a night of sub-zero weather and a result Harrah was badly frost bitten and may lose his feet.

On the descent Mr. Sack and W. V. Graham Matthews walked ahead of the party carrying Harrah to Lima and arranged for horses and mules for transportation at each village. They were unable to procure transportation for themselves and had to hitch out their trail with a flashlight. They walked for 16 hours to keep ahead of the party carrying Harrah.

In Far East
Seaman Joseph L. Galvano of Mamaroneck, USN is serving in the Pacific Theater aboard the flagship of Vice Admiral C. D. Struble, commander of the Navy's Seventh Fleet which is spearheading US forces against the Korean Communist forces and, in addition, is carrying out special missions of preventing an invasion of Formosa. During recent months the Seventh Fleet has visited Tokyo, Yokosuka, Keelung, Saigon, Hong Kong, Jesselton, Sandakan, Singapore, Hilo, Zamboanga, Olongapo and Manila.

A graduate of Mamaroneck High School, Galvano enlisted in the Navy in 1945 and immediately served aboard the heavy cruiser Rochester for three years. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Galvano of 170 Rockland Avenue, Mamaroneck.

Transportation Trade
They're not exactly "Yankee Doodle" but three members of The Daily Times circulation department consumed 100-hour automobile trades yesterday. They had the other staff members highly dizzy.

Jack Coetz started it all by selling his 1946 Dodge. He planned to buy a new sedan but a hitch in plan developed. He made an offer to George "Vladimir" for the latter's 1937 Plymouth for stop-and-go transportation.

George who wanted Joe Prati's 1941 Buick, accepted quickly and a moment later offered to remove the cabinet and install his roll to pay Prati for the Buick.

Prati, who had been casting nervous glances toward a 1950 model better suited to the roads, called it a deal and expects to blossom out any moment now with the latest model. Coetz at the other end of the deal, will also be at the wheel of a new model as soon as arrangements can be made.

Invitation Issued
Private club players as well as public court racketeers were invited to compete in the 1950 tennis tournament which is to be held under way Aug. 26 at the Harbor Island courts, it was announced today by J. J. Doorn, chairman of the sponsoring Lions Club tennis committee. Doorn has issued an appeal to all private clubs to stimulate interest in the event which has already been held in almost a decade.

The tournament will be run by men and women's singles and divisions plus boys' and girls' divisions.

Entries in the tournament may be made with Tom De Rosa, at the Harbor Island courts, Curt Anderson of the Lions Club, or with Mr. Doorn.

Driver Training Ends
Sixteen Mamaroneck women ranging in age from twenty-four to more than fifty today ended adult auto driving training given them since July 10 at Bellows High School by Instructor Herbert Lidstrom.

With four and one-half hours each a tally behind the wheel of an American Automobile Association dual-control car, as well as at least 20 hours of basic classroom instruction they finished the course by learning to turn in State accident reports. Although Mr. Lidstrom said none of the 70 High School girls' automobile trainees who have passed his courses since 1946 have ever been involved in an accident sufficiently serious to be reported.

Thanks to Chief
Mr. Richard Korman, vice president of the Sixth District Home Owners' Association, yesterday thanked Larchmont Police Chief William J. Kersey for his part in helping safeguard pedestrians at the corner of Chateaufort and Forest Park Avenues.

Mr. Korman said the Chief of the Sixth District Home Owners' Association wishes to thank you for your part in helping safeguard pedestrians at the crossing you and we have named categories.

"We think the new three-chance traffic light at Forest Park and Chateaufort Avenues will be a boon to everyone, and especially the Chateaufort children."

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman said today he does not contemplate a revival of the War II OPA.

Mr. Truman told his news conference that old-time federal agencies will handle any economic and other emergency controls which may be necessary as a result of the Korean crisis.

He said, too, that all-out mobilization is not yet in sight.

The President said he expects to leave to the Senate and House this week a bill on economic controls but not naming a decision on Civilian Control.

Mr. Truman made clear that he would like discretionary powers to fix prices and wages but that he still feels his original modified recommendations should not be delayed by debate over stronger executive weapons.

The House was on the point of passing a bill giving him discretionary authority much along the lines he asked—but with some additions.

Still to be decided was how much authority Mr. Truman should have to restrict credit and control commodity market speculation.

In rejecting the idea of a new Office of Price Administration, Mr. Truman said he had spent most of his years in the White House trying to improve the departmental and administrative structure so it could do whatever it is necessary.

There is no reason, the President said, why existing agencies, improved by reorganization plans, can't operate successfully in any crisis.

The House was driving toward a vote today on the control bill.

Marines Enter Kosong After 14-Mile Push
Down Coast

BY TOM LAMBLE
Associated Press Staff

ON THE PENTAGON FRONT: Korea — American Army units joined forces east of Clinchu today, driving a 14-mile advance on the south coast of the Korean peninsula.

Marine patrols are now on their southward drive.

These represented the greatest gain since the American southern offensive started.

Kosong is 20 miles southeast of Clinchu and represents an advance of about 14 miles in the Marine drive down one of the many small peninsulas on the south coast of Korea.

The junction was made between the 35th Regimental Combat Team pushing westward toward Clinchu and the 3rd Regimental Combat Team driving northwestward along a narrow highway.

The roads the two combat teams are following join at a point about 12 miles east of Clinchu.

The junction embraced an area estimated at 100 square miles. It is the largest area of Communist bastions.

The 3rd Regiment and the Marines, both of the 8th Division that served, began to roll forward today, after smashing a bottleneck on the highway west of Clinchu.

In a Gen. MacArthur's spokesman said, patrols of the 35th Regiment had reached the North River, about five miles east of Clinchu.

The advance by the 5th and 35th Divisions captured dominating high ground which runs to the west of Clinchu.

BOARD POSTPONES VARIANCE ACTION

Decision Deferred On Rezononing Hommocks Lot For Driving Range

The Mamaroneck Town Board last night deferred decision on Sept. 20 on the rezoning of an area of land at the Boston Post Road and Hommocks Road from residential Class A-1 to a business Class C Zone as notified residents of the Hommocks Road section objected in person and through a signed petition with 20 names presented by Zimny P. Giddens of Hommocks Road.

The hearing had been requested by William and John Pannessa who wanted the property, now owned by the town, rezoned in order to erect and maintain a golf driving range.

James H. Caruso, an attorney from White Plains, representing the Pannesses, explained that the property is suitable for residential or building purposes because of its location and maintenance of a desirable suburb. His clients plan to install a driving range.

Soviet War Industry Threatens U. S. Lead In World Production

(First article in a series)

BY RICHARD WILSON
Washington Bureau Chief for the Des Moines Register and Tribune

American experts in a dozen different fields have been able to pierce the Iron Curtain and gauge some of the basic trends in Soviet Union.

The Russia they see is steadily growing in strength.

She is progressing industrially at a rapid pace.

Today, according to one expert, she threatens America's position as the world's greatest producer of the machinery of war.

Government Against Par Strength

A basic decision has been made by the Government, nevertheless, that this country need only prepare for war in a limited way.

Many experts agree that Russia probably is not adequately prepared for the long and terrible war which would follow a comprehensive clash of Soviet and American interests.

"This is at the base of American policy, and accounts for the limited preparations now being made. Though the sum appropriated for the year for direct military expenditures may rise to the astounding total of $20 billion, we will not even approach our World War II peak. Since the end of World War II, costs of the machinery of war have increased greatly, partly due to expensive new weapons, partly due to the increased cost of everything.

As an example, it now costs $200,000,000 to equip one average armored division. That is merely the initial cost.

Still, the Government has determined that the risk of an all-out war with Russia this year is not great enough to justify the expenditure of funds which would put us on a par with her in volume of armed forces.

MAN-FINED $250 FOR GIRL'S CHARGE

Larchmont Also Draws Suspended Sentence In Assault Case

A Larchmont man, married and the father of an infant, was fined $250 today for an assault upon a 15-year-old girl in Mamaroneck almost a year ago.

The fine, together with a suspended sentence of 30 days in the Westchester Penitentiary, was imposed upon Peter W. Holmberg Jr., twenty-one, of 4 Wildwood Circle, Larchmont, on his plea of guilty to a charge of assault. Third degree, a misdemeanor.

Sentence was imposed by Judge J. P. Donohue, who took charge of the case following the arrest of Mr. Holmberg, who was arrested Oct. 22, two days after the girl complained that a man had molested her.

BLASTING COMMENCES ON SPENCER PL. LOT

Work on Spencer Place Lot

Mamaroneck village employees today began blasting a huge rock ledge to increase the capacity of the official Village off-street parking on Spencer Place from 25 to 60 or more automobiles. Village Manager William H. Johnson disclosed this morning.

With an appropriation of $1,000 provided in the annual budget by the Village Board of Trustees, excess earth up the rock outcroppings has already been removed by the Village Manager explained.

The increasing use of the free off-street parking lot has made his enlargement necessary, Mr. Johnson remarked. The Village Board also contemplates establishing a new off-street parking facility adjacent to the Mamaroneck Avenue business area.

HEARING SCHEDULED ON REZONING OF LOTS

On Spencer Place Lot

In answer to a request for a hearing on the rezoning of property on Old White Plains Road from Class A residential to Class B, which permits multiple dwelling, the Mamaroneck Town Council last night set Sept. 20 as the date for a public hearing.

The request was made by John Doorn, Westchester architect of New York City, on behalf of his clients, the Johnnet Realty Corporation, who asked for an opportunity to present hardships involved in the development of the property unless the zoning reverts to Zone B which the area once held.

The land in question consists of two parcels, one 7.76 acres and the other 4.8 acres on the west side of Old White Plains Road near the intersection with Mamaroneck. It is being developed by a section of Saxton Woods Park.

Tempers Flare As Town Board Hears Report On Lot Clearing

Today tempers threatened fiery words for a brief moment last night at the Mamaroneck Town Board meeting during a discussion of clearing land of trash and other assorted objects on a parcel on Thompson Street belonging to Phil Librandi and on an adjoining lot belonging to the town.

The angry exchange between the Town Attorney John Dellus, who had been ordered to take necessary action to clear up the junk pile reported that the Librandi had begun to dump and do business on the property unless it had been done prior to the position of the zoning code more than 20 years ago.

The position of the zoning code inspected the 30 rabbits on the Librandi property and gave them a clean bill of health; the town engineer had taken all the limits of Librandi's property and had begun "putting red ink on the stuff," according to Mr. Dellus.

Mr. Librandi explained that even before the stables had been lost he had begun to move objects from the town property to his own property. "I'm getting rid of it unless refuse as I work it out," he said.

It was in the process of discussing an old truck and other junk he wouldn't be able to use that he said to a junk dealer, and the body of his brother's truck.

Glover Snaps 2nd Pool Record; Bereswill, Cunningham Victors

John Glover of the Larchmont Shore Club continued to steal the spotlight, turning in the second record-breaking performance in the 25th annual Westchester swimming tournament last night in Pleasant Pool.

Glover, who broke the 100-meter free style junior record Tuesday, set the only new individual mark last night when he won the 100-yard back stroke for junior boys in 1:07.7, erasing the 1:09.6 standard which he himself established last year.

Larchmont Shore Club's Team "A," made up of James Trayner, Virginia Gammon, Lynne Corby and Gerry Dwyer, won the 200-yard free style relay for junior girls in the record-breaking time of 3:34.1. The old mark of 3:40 was set by Crescent Beach Club in 1942.

Barbara Cunningham of Harbor Island Park Swimming Club retained her 100-yard junior back stroke title. It was her second 1949 repeat victory for Miss Cunningham who successfully defended her 150-yard senior and 100-yard championship Tuesday.

Champion of the 100-yard freestyle swimming association and Joan Bereswill of Orienta Beach Club captured the 100-yard breast stroke senior title.

Juniors crowned last night included Leigh Corbett of Bonnaire and Mary Elizabeth McGrath of Wykaway in the 50-yard free.

Dockerill, Englander Score In Jr. Davis Cup Net Tourney

FORREST HILLS — Westchester took a commanding lead in the Junior Davis Cup round-robin tennis tournament being conducted at West Side Club by bowling on Long Island, 8-1, here yesterday. It was second win in a row for captain Vincent Kelly's unbeaten squad, and second defeat for the Islanders.

In the day's other match, New Jersey trimmed the Metropolitan squad, 7-2, to land both teams in tie for second with 1-1 records.

As in Tuesday's 7-2 victory over Jersey, the Westchesterers were paced by a strong-armed top performer, Richard Squires of Bronxville.

Don Dockerill of Larchmont and Alan Englander of Mamaroneck each posted a second triumph yesterday, as did Ed Moran of Scarsdale, the squad's No. 6 performer.

Long setback for Westchester was in the No. 5 singles match where Artie Eppanich of Tuck-

DEPTOS, AMERICAS DEADLOCK FOR 3

The meeting that the Larchmont Softball League has scheduled for this evening is even more necessary than ever since last night's game at Pleasant Pool. The meeting is planned to turn the circuit over to someone else for a couple weeks, reached for the aspirin tablets when no victor could be established after the Deptos Way and Americans had played each other through nine full frames. Now the league is overruled with postponement and simply no date available to play them off.

Getting back to the contest itself, there were two scoring innings as both sides bunched their bats and they put the account on defensive play. The Americans, who could use a good boost, continued to make two-runners in the opening stanza on three safes and one double, but scoreless and hitless the rest of the way by Nick Staropoli. Joe Gibbs tied the club for the Americans and had allowed only one single until he weakened in the eighth and permitted three additional hits and both Depot leads in the final frame. There were three individual batting stars, although Larchmont won the game.

The champions conclude tonight when individuals and team trophies and three plaques will be awarded.

DOCKERRILL, ENGLANDER SCORE IN JR. DAVIS CUP NET TOURNEY

Don Dockerill of Larchmont and Alan Englander of Mamaroneck each posted a second triumph yesterday, as did Ed Moran of Scarsdale, the squad's No. 6 performer.

Long setback for Westchester was in the No. 5 singles match where Artie Eppanich of Tucker bowed to Frank Picciotto, 6-3, 7-5.

Squires defeated Earl Schachtel, 6-3, 6-3. Dockerill dropped Leslie Pollock, 6-2, 6-1. Englander scored by 6-2, 6-3 over Barry Murray, and Siers triumphed over Westchester singles win by defeating John Appel, 6-3, 6-4.

In doubles play, Squires and Dockerill received a forfeit from Schachtel and Pollock. Englander and Siers outlasted Murray and Picciotto, 3-6, 11-9, 6-0, and Eppanich and Carl Rubens of Mamaroneck trimmed Appel and Bob Ains, 6-4, 6-0.

Final matches today pit Westchester against Metropolitan, and Long Island against New Jersey. An all-star lineup from this tournament will represent the Eastern Lawn Tennis Association in the Aug. 17 at Adelphi Country Club in Westchester.

ETCHELLS, OGLIVY TO FIGHT FOR STAR CUP

GREAT RIVER, L. I. — E. W. "Bep" Etchells called his challenge to victory today in the Great South Bay to the C. Stanley Ogilvy and Flame for the Corry Cup. Both are Western Long Island Sound Star fleet members.

Shillash took yesterday's race with Flame second, reversing the finishes in the first day's race. Both have 39 points in the standings.

Bronxville Boy Named To Junior U. S. Team

NEW YORKER—Dick Squires of Bronxville today was named to the 11-man U. S. Junior Davis Cup tennis squad which will compete in the International Cup match at the Rockaway Hunt Club in Cedarhurst on Tuesday, Aug. 22.

Squires, who is currently competing with the ELTA Junior Davis Cup unit, is one of two New Yorkers named to the squad. The other is Bill Long of Jackson Heights.

LOCKE IS FAVORED AFTER 7TH WIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Tom O'Shaney's bewildering golf circuit today launches its grand finale, the four-day, $53,000 "world" championship of golf.

The affair, a 72-hole medal chase by 32 top professionals, 16 men amateurs, eight women pros and eight women amateurs, opens a real pot of gold at the end of a gaudy 10-day rainbow of golf.

Favored in pro elite richest tournament, carrying an $11,000 winner's purse, was Bobby Locke, the British visitor, who yesterday spanked Lloyd Mangrum for top money of $2,500 in the All-American pro match.

Locke's methodical 4-stroke ended over defending champion Mangrum in 18-hole playoff, decided the preliminary phase of the Tam sweepstakes which starts a week ago today.

HIBERNIANS GET MOUND AID FOR TOURNEY GRIND

Unless they turn to the use of adrenalin, the Mamaroneck Hibernians are going to be one batch of rest softballs by the middle of next week and, if they should be in a winning mood the fatigue could be even greater by about this time seven days hence. The reason of course is activity for the locals in the Westchester County Softball Championship over the weekend. They played their regular season games on Monday, plus their regular responsibilities in the Mamaroneck League. Currently they are in a first place tie, so no relaxing on the local job will be advisable either. Altogether it adds up to seven days, at that, in the very least.

The AOH lads begin their mercy duty tonight in a regularly scheduled MSU tussle to night, which they figure to win easily Friday they get a chance to start for the big push which starts at Hutchinson Field.

Mount Vernon, host park for the county title event. That tourney will continue Sunday after then the Pioneer event gets rolling Monday evening under the Fire YM-CA spot-lights. Before it even gets dark though the Hibernians will have to tackle the Heathbrotes in the Mamaroneck League's "game of the season."

Another duty will naturally call for hurting and the Hibernians certainly have lined up their own hard-hitters. Paul Kewence, the curve and change-up artist from Port Chester, and Chick Kelly, another Mamaroneck product, has been okayed for service at Fire. Wes Kiebel has been signed as a reserve catcher and for pinch-hitting in-

CONVENTY SOFTBALL TOURNAMENT SET

1949 finalists and a trio of newcomers will make the 11th annual Westchester International Softball tournament beginning here Saturday an interesting affair.

The champion Sues of Pelham and runner-up New Rochelle Royals are proven clubs, but the outsiders in the field of 32 entries are strictly unknown quantities. Apparently no more than one team will be needed to see how these teams stack up, however.

The three teams from New Rochelle are the Royals, Bronson, and Calabrians.

The Poughkeepsie Cardinals are matched against the rugged Mount Vernon Standards on Hutchinson Field's No. 1 diamond, and the Newburgh Imperials face the White Plains Mudheads in the opening round.

The Royals' first opposition will come from Armonk Recreation, a complete pairing for the first round gets under way at a quarter-10, P. M. this Saturday.

White Plains Royals vs. Mount Vernon Royals; Yonkers A. C. vs. Mamaroneck Hibernians; Mount Vernon Cops vs. Scarsdale Night Owls; Pelham Imperials vs. Newburgh I. T. C.; Mount Vernon Rangers vs. Larchmont Depot Way; Tarrytown Glenview Freeman vs. Yonkers North End; Mount Vernon Jags vs. Five Thunders; Detroit and Armonk Recreation vs. New Rochelle Royals.

The Derby, a free-for-all mix and a half pace, will feature the Raceway's 12-night net meeting, starting next Tuesday. Among the 31 nominees are Scottish Penn, Jerry the First, Indian of Cup, Highland Lander, and Good Time.

Mr. Wolf, the donor of the Derby, a free-for-all mix and a half pace, will feature the Raceway's 12-night net meeting, starting next Tuesday. Among the 31 nominees are Scottish Penn, Jerry the First, Indian of Cup, Highland Lander, and Good Time.

Garden Club Enthusiasts Turn Glorified Hobby To Decorating

Two heads are far better than one, when it comes to creating intricate, decorative arrangements for specific homes, two Larchmont Garden Club enthusiasts have found.

Mrs. Kenneth Stille of 53 Hamden Drive, president of the Garden Club of Larchmont, and Mrs. Loren R. Dodson, 29 Mohrman Road, past president, have been making distinctive arrangements for three years for a White Star decorator, and their creations now grace several hundred homes in Westchester.

There is a "glorified hobby," as they call it. Veteran blue ribbon winners and International Show exhibitors as well as practical decorators, Mrs. Stille and Mrs. Dodson have made arrangements for all types of homes, deriving the same sort of satisfaction as the artist paints a picture for a home.

The two Larchmont women specialize in dried arrangements and are quick to note the practicality from the point of view of the decorator-problem in a home. Photographs of several of their outstanding dried arrangements appear in the new Fall-Winter issue of the magazine entitled "Popular Gardener." Their table settings were photographed last winter for "The Complete Book of Table Settings" by Amelia Leavitt Hill, who is the author of the McCall article entitled "Past Their Prime?" which describes Mrs. Stille's and Mrs. Dodson's dried arrangements.

The two Larchmonters have been giving local lectures before a number of garden clubs including such distant ones as those at Dove Plains, N. Y., and Silver Hill, N. J., and are scheduled to present the November program for the Garden Circle of New Rochelle.

They grow many rare plants in their gardens which provide them with unusual materials not available in greenhouses and florists. "The glorified hobby," an out-

are the specialty of two of the Garden Club of Larchmont's best known flower show exhibitors, who have turned their hobby to the field of decoration of homes in Westchester County.
