How To Budget For Happiness Is Explained By Two Experts

By BARBARA S. SCHAFER
Of pointed counsel is today's world of high-cost living is Elsie Shapiro's book on family finances, "Spending for Happiness," which was written in collaboration with Estelle Mendelsohn, wife of private life in Mrs. Sol Nemkov of 925 Stuart Avenue, Mamaroneck.

Mrs. Nemkov, the mother of a grown son and fourteen-year-old daughter, has managed successfully a combined home and professional career.

It is presented in an advertiser's writer with Helena Rubenstein in New York City, she was formerly copy chief for Sherman and Maquette advertising agency and for 10 years wrote radio advertising copy for Lady Esther.

From the adept hands of Mrs. Nemkov, writer, and Miss Shapiro, budget counselor, "Spending for Happiness" was published by Post-Hill, Inc. Greater in demand because of its forthright, yet novel approach to monetary problems, the book stresses the importance of spending money to maximum happiness and full attainment of deepest wants.

It is used by Abraham and Strain in New York as the theme for a Spring promotion campaign picturing the home of a young married couple who had spent for happiness and savings, 11-19 per cent. Dentist and doctor bills, church and charity contributions, gifts, books, music and art, sports, entertainment, vacations and home furnishings are noted among the advances which may, say the authors, "in plus money, the coin of the realm, be moved into the future." On a limited income, movies and parties become fewer when meals are planned on a budget.

"Spending for Happiness" has "budget" for years a household budget is a number of "long lines" of little black figures scratching the joy out of life. It means beans instead of steak, last year's clothes, no parties.

The authors suggest that it is often not the accounted-for necessities and pleasures that cause the deficit at the end of the year but the hidden "drifts," frequent trips to the grocery for sodas, bargain clothes that are not bargains but closet hangers (they look shiny and high cost) and the like. It is only when these hidden expenses, often emotional, are revealed that sound planning results.

That a budget of spending plan is not "a pain of financial handicaps," compelling us to live on the edge of our pockets for something we'd like to buy or like to do, but rather a careful, sane, quiet, rational, best spending possible on our individual incomes, the authors urge that each spending plan must be turned to the individual of the thousands of budgets Miss Shapiro has worked out, she has found no two to be exactly alike. The Browns don't give a hoot for clothes, but spend a small fortune for classical records. The Smiths love to dress up but would not

Miss Martin will be bride of Mr. Berlingo

The marriage of Miss Florence Martin of Larchmont to Ralph Berlingo of Mount Vernon will take place Sept. 17 at St. Joseph's Church, New Rochelle.

Miss Martin, daughter of Rudolph Martin of 2 Woodland Avenue, and the late Mrs. Martin, was honored recently at a miscellaneous bridal shower given in the Orienta Restaurant, Mount Vernon, attended by 30 guests.

Hostesses were Miss Rosemary Martin of Larchmont, Mrs. Antonietta Codella of New Rochelle, and Mrs. Anthony Spanola, mother of the prospective bridegroom, and Miss Genevieve Spanola, both of Mount Vernon.

Picnic Is Held By Ladies Aid Of St. John's

All-day picnic at Savon Woods was attended yesterday by members of the Ladies Aid Society of St. John's Lutheran Church in Mamaroneck and their guests. There were 12 adults and four youngsters present.

Following lunch, games were played and hikes taken. Mrs. Henry Dietz was in charge of afternoon tea.

The picnic group was composed of Mrs. Dietz, Mrs. M. J. Keane, Mrs. William Koch and Mrs. Elizabeth and Billy; Mrs. Joseph Le Roy, Mrs. Henry Lay, Mrs. Ann Nickelsen and Mrs. Elizabeth and George; Mrs. Thelma Noke, Mrs. Amelia Reinhold, Mrs. Lloyd Rice, Mrs. Amelia Sanderson and Mrs. Edward Wahl.

The first regular meeting of the society will be held Sept. 2 at the parish house.

Auxiliary Plans Party

The Ladies Auxiliary of Davenport Club will hold a luncheon party and beach party Monday at 6 P. M. at the club. Cliff School, accordionist, will provide music.

Serving on the committee are Mrs. William P. Carroll, chairman, Mrs. Arthur P. King, Mrs. Robert C. Colwell, Mrs. Ramon Jager, Mrs. Allan V. Hanson, Mrs. Herbert Hyde, Mrs. Frederick Williams, Mrs. Randall O. Soley, all of New Rochelle, and Mrs. Edward L. Ennes of Mount Vernon. Reservations close tomorrow.

'Hats and Pockets' Playgrounds Contest

A "hats and pockets" contest will be held tomorrow at Ford Park and the playgrounds of the Murray Avenue, Central and Mamaroneck Avenue Schools. The contest starts at 2 P. M. and prizes will be awarded girls for their hats and boys for the contents of their pockets. The event is held under the auspices of the Summer Recreation Program headed by Charles Warren.

Freda E. Ruch Is Married To Mr. Revella

Miss Freda E. Ruch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Ruch of 138 Fulton road, Mamaroneck, became the bride of Andrew Revella of Byram, Conn., last night at St. John's Lutheran church in Mamaroneck.

The Rev. William Fairman performed the eight o'clock ceremony which was followed by a reception for the immediate families at the Ruch home.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballroom gown made with a white jersey bodice and lace skirt, and matching lace jacket. She wore a picture hat of white tulle with a shoulder length veil and carried a bouquet of white roses and bougainvillea.

Miss Beatrice Ruch, twin sister of the bride, was maid-of-honor, wearing an ivory satin dress similar to that worn by her sister and a matching aqua tulle hat. She carried a spray of yellow roses.

John Marcek of Byram was best man and ushers were Emil Ruch, the bride's brother, and Peter Sowiak of Stamford, Conn., brother-in-law of the bridegroom. The bride's mother was escorted to the altar by her sister.

A graduate of Mamaroneck High School, Mrs. Revella is associated with the Larchmont Branch of the New York Telephone Company.

Her husband, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Revella of Byram, attended schools in Virginia and served with the Army during the war in the European theater. He is at present in the contracting business in Greenwich, Conn.

Upon their return from a short tour of the South, the couple will live at Pine Street in Byram.

With Hostess and Traveler

BACK FROM CRUISE George B. Croll and Mohrhardt of 22 Maple Hill Drive, Larchmont, have returned from a cruise on Lake Champlain.

The four-thirty ceremony was performed by the Rev. Oscar Middaugh in the living room of the bride's home before a fire-place decorated with tall vases of white chrysanthemums and a fan-shaped arrangement of white gladioli on the mantel. A reception for the immediate families followed.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a ballroom gown of champagne satin with matching accessories and a champagne veil hat. Her bouquet was of white chrysanthemums and lilies. Mrs. James Alex of Boston, Mass., was matron of honor, wearing a sea blue gown and an orchid corsage. William J. Lash, Jr., was best man for his brother-in-law.

Program Held For Rye Neck Summer Group

A minstrel show and two plays, "Jack and the Beanstalk" and "The Elves and the Shoemaker" were presented yesterday afternoon in the Bellows High School auditorium by the children of the Rye Neck Summer Group.

The program was part of the Rye Neck Summer recreation project.

Members of the minstrel show were Anselia Ricci, Barbara Decker and Dave Fischer, impersonating the Andrew sisters and Bina Crosby; Dave Fischer playing a piano solo with vocal effects; Bill Black reciting "The Baseball Game"; "Comedy and jokes were provided by the boys, Edgar Burchell, Bill Black, Matthew Healey and Donald Sudol, while the chorus offered "Dixie," "Oh Suzanna," "Old Black Joe" and "Old Folks at Home."

The cast for "The Elves and the Shoemaker" was composed of Thomas Litchfield as the shoemaker, Mark Crown, his wife, Henry and Joe Ricci, the elves, and Larry Behrman, the customer. In "Jack and the Beanstalk," Barbara Miller played his mother, Betty Cutrona, the cow; Kathleen Harrington the farmer; Joan Miller, the golden goose; Edgar Burchell supported by Dave Fischer, the giant, and Kathleen Pule, a servant.

Stan Miller played the harp while Larry Behrman was in charge of the curtain. Both plays were directed by Stanley C. Nish.

Tournament winners during the Bellows week were: boys jumping; Patricia Costello, first; Alice O'Connell, second; Barbara Stanton, third; miniature golf; Mark Crown, midget boys; Barbara Stanton, midget girls; Arthur Seelenruder, midget boys; Arthur Seelenruder, midget girls.

Registration at the Rye Neck Playground totals 322 children, exceeding last year's total of 310.

PLAYS GIVEN "Sylvia, Tom and the Horse Dream" and "King Barstow Rescues Princess Imogene" were the two plays presented yesterday at Plint Park playground. The cast was composed of Sylvia Lewis who also directed the plays; Tom Lewis, Wendy Baber and Jack Dempsey. A lollipop party followed the program.

First Meeting Of Garden Club Slated Sept. 11

Final arrangements for the "twelve o'clock" meeting of the Garden Club of Larchmont, scheduled for Monday, Sept. 11, at the Larchmont Avenue Church house, were completed yesterday at a meeting of the executive board of the club at the home of the president, Mrs. Kenneth L. Stille, of 53 Harmon Drive, Larchmont.

The applications of eight residents were unanimously approved for membership following their presentation by Mrs. Richard I. Land, chairman of the membership committee.

Others present were Mrs. Robert Dickau, Mrs. Edward H. Roberts, Mrs. William G. Hunter, Mrs. Stanley Day, Mrs. V. Stewart Combes, Mrs. Thomas W. Nale and Mrs. G. Edwin Stewart.

Following a discussion of the revision of the club's constitution and by-laws, the board decided to have both brought up to date, and plans were made for Mrs. Loren R. Dodson, constitution chairman, to start work immediately on the revision which will include provisions for non-resident members and a re-wording of the objectives and purposes of the Garden Club.

The board approved unanimously the reprinting of an article in the "New Yorker" distributed by the Garden Club, entitled "The History of the Larchmont Garden Club." Written by Mrs. Stille, the article will appear in the club's September issue of its booklet "Leaves."

Phyllis Vidile Is Married To Thomas Nicoll

The marriage of Miss Phyllis Vidile, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Vidile, of 744 Old White Plains Road, Mamaroneck, to Thomas J. Nicoll, 3rd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Nicoll, of Harrison, took place last night at St. Vit's Church in Mamaroneck.

The Rev. Biagio Del Negro performed the eight o'clock ceremony with Miss Jean Conlin as organist and Miss Diane Stamen singing "Ave Maria" and "Agnus Dei." Reception for the immediate families was held at the Nicoll home.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore an orchid gown with a full skirt. Her fingertip veil of nylon illusion was attached to an ivory cloche and she carried a prayer book with orchids and baby's breath.

Miss Florence V. Vidile of Mamaroneck was maid of honor for her cousin wearing an ice blue orchid gown with a matching picture hat. Miss Sally Ann Vinkler was flower girl for her cousin wearing a yellow orchid gown and matching hat identical to those worn by the bride. The bridesmaids attended carried bouquets of yellow carnations and blue delphiniums.

Joseph Conn of Rye was best man and Robert Viner, brother of the bride, Steve Johnson, her cousin, and Francis and Kenneth Nicoll, brothers of the groom, acted as groomsmen.

The bride was graduated from Mamaroneck High School. Her husband, an alumnus of Harrison High School, attended the Citadel Military College of South Carolina.

The couple will live at the Old White Plains Road address upon their return from a trip through upstate New York.

Miss Estep Returns By Plane To Alaskan Army Library Post

By BARBARA S. SCHAEFER

"The work is hard, satisfying and not at all glamorous or exciting on the reservation which was located at the United States Army Post, Port of Whittier, Alaska.

Supplies are landed at Port of Whittier for distribution to Army personnel throughout Alaska," explained Miss Estep, a civilian employee of the Department of the Army Office of Special Services. "The inhabitants consist of the two soldiers, seven civilian women and two nurses."

"The post might best be described as a symphony of weathered gray," she continued. "It is built on grey rock with grey tarpapered barracks and quaint huts and over all a grey sky. There is no grass, shrubs or flowers; only a variety of pine which spots the slopes of the mountains. The school is a small shack housing 14 students out of an officer's wife."

In direct contrast, she pointed out the dismal post is hemmed on three sides by majestic mountains and glaciers, with the bay at the Post's doorstep. With the coming of Spring, the sun, which all winter has shone on the crests of the mountains, gradually creeps down the mountain walls and finally reaches the post, exceptionally bright and sparkling. Although the winters are not cold, she said that the average snowfall is 30 feet accompanied by winds blowing with such force that one cannot walk upright.

During a horse sale last Christmas, Miss Estep recalled, "we reached the chapel three buildings away by cringing behind four husky soldiers who walked before us breaking the impact of the wind."

In this isolated and primitive locale, the soldiers lead uneventful lives, she went on. The Army Service Club, of which the library is a part, offers the only recreation to these 18 to 20 year old men.

"An integral part of their lives, is equipped with a fine selection of books. Miss Estep explained. Books arriving some monthly augment the shelves with the latest books and magazines. The Army Service Club also runs a hobby shop where the men are encouraged to learn crafts and provide pool tables and bowling alleys.

Miss Estep was first stationed in Alaska at Big Delta, the Arctic Training Center. Her husband, an alumnus of Harrison High School, attended the Citadel Military College of South Carolina.

The couple will live at the Old White Plains Road address upon their return from a trip through upstate New York.

Local Children Will Exhibit In N. Y. Show

Young gardeners of Mamaroneck will compete with exhibitors from other Westchester communities and New Jersey towns in the seventh annual flower show of the National Chrysanthemum Society to be held Oct. 27-29 in the Museum Building of the New York Botanical Garden.

At the same time children from the public school system of New York City will hold their annual show sponsored by the Volunteer Associates of the New York Botanical Garden in cooperation with the Board of Education.

Mrs. Milton A. Heeseck of Mamaroneck who has worked with children of this community in flower growing and arranging, is in charge of arrangements for the show. The plan formulated by the Garden Club of Mamaroneck, of which Mrs. Heeseck is a member, has become a model for other garden clubs in the area.

"Our purpose is to arouse in youngsters a greater appreciation of plant life, love of growing things, conservation of wild plant life and respect for other people's property," Mrs. Heeseck said. "We told the children in schools that nature teaches us good government and good character, rewarding us for work well done and punishing us for neglect and destruction."

An around-the-calendar program is focused on Fall flower shows held in each school when young exhibitors, including brunias, marigolds and other blooms. Arrangements developed for them are supplied with flowers to be entered in an all-County show.

Children learn such fundamental principles of flower arrangement as Chinese symbolism in the main lines of leaves, each stem, the focal point, keeping small flowers and light colors in the top and sides with larger flowers and heavier colors at the bottom. They are also instructed in the selection of appropriate containers, children must grow their own horticultural exhibits although they may transplant from their parents' annual or perennials.

Children between the ages of 8 and 16 who wish to enter chrysanthemum plants or arrangements in the feature may contact Mrs. Bischoff of 10 Jasper Avenue, Teaneck, N. J.

The Genarians' Look Forward To New Season Of Fellowship

In Westchester, as in many other unincorporated communities in America, thoughtful persons are becoming more and more aware of the need for an organization to solve the problems of a steadily growing old-age group.

The problem has many facets, ranging from activities, the medical aspect of aging, to the problems of a social, economic and political nature.

Sympathetic understanding for the aging and especially for those who find themselves suddenly uprooted, is as important as any other, the experts tell us, and it is in this field that Larchmont offers a fine example to other communities, with its group of "Genarians."

The Genarians, composed of Larchmont's older women, began their work in the neighborhood of the Larchmont Avenue Church, under the wise guidance of Mrs. Rose E. Booth, whose keen awareness and understanding of the elderly and their special problems has created a new and pleasant kind of social life for est- ablished women.

A non-sectarian and congenial group whose membership now numbers 45 is important to all of us, the Genarians meet regularly during the year and their meetings are a fine example to other communities, with its group of "Genarians."

Members, mothers who perhaps have come to with a son or daughter, away from their homes and surroundings, have found a new social life and new interests.

The Genarians continue to be sponsored by the Larchmont Avenue Church, with the wish of the Rev. Floyd E. McGuire that the organization reveal in most any other Larchmont women of the church.

During the first year, the group met once a month in the church, but due to the small expenses, rummy and Chinese checkers, they followed, and each member contributed to the small expenses. Mrs. Katharine Lattin, secretary of the group, is the first chairman of the Genarians, giving the group its name "for the most part, we are all retired women."

Home meetings became popular during the second year, when the Genarians decided to work for a "cause." Mrs. Booth took of a cousin of her father, married to a Rev. MacKee, vicar of an Episcopal Church in Bristol, England, whose letters had depicted the hardships of the elderly folk of the parish in their old rooms, living on a few shillings a week, with only one ration card from ten on the Genarians collected canned meat, powdered milk, tea, soap, clothing, and other luxuries to soften the hard life of their Bristol friends, and in one year more than 400 pounds of food and other articles were sent abroad.

With the Fall of 1948, committees were formed and Mrs. Minnie H. Carpenter became program chairman. Her suggestion, members themselves furnished names, telling of their own experiences and lives in many places. "Anyone who has lived to the age of the Genarians has had some interesting experiences," she said, and subsequent meetings favored recipes were exchanged at another, favorite poems, during the holiday season. Mrs. Anna Sandberg invited the group to be guests at a Christmas tea at the home of her daughter. The weather was anything but good, but the Genarians arrived in full force. "Only old people would go on a date like this," they laughed at themselves and each other.

Transportation began to be a problem, so Mrs. Booth called a meeting of daughters and daughters-in-law and a new service was started for shut-ins. After a telephone call was made and a welcome assured, two Genarians were taken to visit a shut-in, and the visit was deeply appreciated. Above parties, a series of small teas, a collection of foreign dolls and a trip to Old Greenwich Point were some of the highlights of the season. Regular meetings were held on Tuesdays, and although small informal groups met socially to talk and crochet on Fridays and Saturdays. With the Fall activities were resumed, with a trip to Jones Beach, another to the Long Beach, and a party of travelers and canasta parties following. Mrs. Booth, secretary, is looking forward to their third year of pleasant fellowship in Larchmont with the cooperation of their willful daughters and daughters-in-law.

Their present help and advice of Dr. McGuire, the recording secretary keeps the minutes and the corresponding secretaries keeps birthday records and never fails to send a birthday card to a member from the group.

These are the things that help to make life a little easier and happier for the Genarians, and to longer able to continue their former routine, and particularly for those now living with sons and daughters, a way from their homes.

In a world teeming with unspokeable woes and problems, a group like the Larchmont Genarians offers a pleasant haven to the elderly among us.

Watermelon Feasts And Races Close Season At Playgrounds

Watermelon parties, races and baseball games were held yesterday at Flint Park and the playgrounds of the MAMARONECK AVENUE CENTRAL and MURRAY AVENUE SCHOOLS, closing the two-month long activities of the Larchmont-Mamaroneck Summer Recreation Program sponsored by the Board of Education.

Derby races were featured at the Murray Avenue School playground event, where Rose Cleaver took first place with his "Number Three Bumble Bee," and Richard Spothke second with "The Golden Eagle." Other contestants were Paul Jaleski with "Yellow Hackett" and Mrs. Harrison with "The American Eagle." In the second race, Kirk Sandberg placed first, Paul Jaleski second, and Bobby Harrison third.

Rose Cleaver won the final race and took first prize for the most original car, with "Marla Cooles" second.

First prize for the best constructed car went to Richard Spothke, with Vito Simponi second with his "The Captain's Local." Grand prize for the derby, a soft ball, was awarded Rose Cleaver. Other prize awards were tennis balls and candy bars.

Playground supervisors are Mrs. Mabel Charvat, Jean Chesapeake, Inge Buchlein and Danny Thompson.

At Central playground more than 75 children attended the last Summer program of the year, featuring a watermelon party and races.

Divided into teams according to their age, the youngsters participated in relay races which included Indian races, wheelchair races, honing races, crablike duck, sack running races, and jumping, seal and potato races. Following the relay, a watermelon party was held. Mrs. Raymond Porter, Miss Trini Ripano and Dick Smalley are supervisors of the Central playground.

Parties for the junior and senior groups concluded the Flint Park program, with watermelon and popcorn featured. Miss Grace Shea was presented a gift from the group in appreciation of her work with them in the arts and crafts.

A total of 305 youngsters were present at the playground events.

150 Sex Play By Youngsters At Karl Home

More than 150 parents and friends of "Theatre Magic" attended "Alice in Wonderland" costume piece presented last night by the new children's theater group, at the out-door stage at Mrs. Janet Katz's home, 26 Normon Drive, Greenhaven, as the final production of the first Summer season of the group.

Mrs. Karl and Mrs. MORIS Mamonkey who organized "Theatre Magic" received bouquets from members of the group following the performance. The presentation was made by Enid Silver of Larchmont, who is the first chairman of the Genarians, giving the group its name "for the most part, we are all retired women."

Home meetings became popular during the second year, when the Genarians decided to work for a "cause." Mrs. Booth took of a cousin of her father, married to a Rev. MacKee, vicar of an Episcopal Church in Bristol, England, whose letters had depicted the hardships of the elderly folk of the parish in their old rooms, living on a few shillings a week, with only one ration card from ten on the Genarians collected canned meat, powdered milk, tea, soap, clothing, and other luxuries to soften the hard life of their Bristol friends, and in one year more than 400 pounds of food and other articles were sent abroad.

With the Fall of 1948, committees were formed and Mrs. Minnie H. Carpenter became program chairman. Her suggestion, members themselves furnished names, telling of their own experiences and lives in many places. "Anyone who has lived to the age of the Genarians has had some interesting experiences," she said, and subsequent meetings favored recipes were exchanged at another, favorite poems, during the holiday season. Mrs. Anna Sandberg invited the group to be guests at a Christmas tea at the home of her daughter. The weather was anything but good, but the Genarians arrived in full force. "Only old people would go on a date like this," they laughed at themselves and each other.

Transportation began to be a problem, so Mrs. Booth called a meeting of daughters and daughters-in-law and a new service was started for shut-ins. After a telephone call was made and a welcome assured, two Genarians were taken to visit a shut-in, and the visit was deeply appreciated. Above parties, a series of small teas, a collection of foreign dolls and a trip to Old Greenwich Point were some of the highlights of the season. Regular meetings were held on Tuesdays, and although small informal groups met socially to talk and crochet on Fridays and Saturdays. With the Fall activities were resumed, with a trip to Jones Beach, another to the Long Beach, and a party of travelers and canasta parties following. Mrs. Booth, secretary, is looking forward to their third year of pleasant fellowship in Larchmont with the cooperation of their willful daughters and daughters-in-law.

Their present help and advice of Dr. McGuire, the recording secretary keeps the minutes and the corresponding secretaries keeps birthday records and never fails to send a birthday card to a member from the group.

These are the things that help to make life a little easier and happier for the Genarians, and to longer able to continue their former routine, and particularly for those now living with sons and daughters, a way from their homes.

In a world teeming with unspokeable woes and problems, a group like the Larchmont Genarians offers a pleasant haven to the elderly among us.

Yacht Club Members Authors Of Article On Sailboat Racing

Two prominent Larchmont Yacht Club sailors, Mrs. Alexander Brian and Miss Marjorie Gode, are co-authors of an informative article on sailboat racing entitled "How to Win a Sailboat Race" appearing in the September issue of Mechanix Illustrated.

"There is more to racing a boat than merely climbing aboard and sailing around a five-mile course," advise the two experts, going on to offer instructions for sailors who have yet to enter their boats as well as veteran yachtsmen.

Mrs. Brian and Miss Gode, who have written a series of racing articles published in "Yachting" and "Rudder" magazines, are well qualified to give advice on this subject. Both are experienced sailors who have called their own shots since early childhood and have been consistently winners in Race Week events and other racing classes on Long Island.

The former Atlantic Sheldes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Shields of Larchmont, Mrs. Brian, who was married in July, now resides in Waterbury, Conn.

She continues to race her new 210 class "White" in the Larchmont Yacht Club. Winner of the women's national championship in 1948, with Miss Gode as a member of her crew, Mrs. Brian also has won championships in the Atlantic and 310 classes.

She has been first boat, and has won a total of six, when she was given her first boat, "Gode" in the name of her father, Mr. and Mrs. George Gode of New Rochelle and has participated in racing regattas for many years, racing her own craft as well as crewing for others, she recently sold her "Gode".

In the Mechanix Illustrated, the authors stress the importance of learning the race rules, and the small idiosyncrasies of a boat, which are not always mentioned in the "rules".

"Even in a one-design class, no two are alike and the boats, used to be upwind best, while others like the best sail and can be determined only by continuous trial. To learn all about it, Mr. H. H. on return, they stopped for their daughters, Sandra and Susan, who spent the summer at Camp Montecarlo, Lake Willoughby, Bolton, Vt.

"Finally it's time for your first race. On the boat, look at the line early. While waiting for the race to start, you should be looking at the line and the clock. The clock you've been given. Locate the position of each mark, determine which leg will be to windward, which reaching, and which run. How to tack, and how to gybe, you should run each leg.

"To find out which end of the starting line is best, you should cross, sail your boat up to the line and pull her head into the wind. The boat will move forward one end of the line than the other. This is the better end. Time yourself while making a practice run to this point so you get an idea of the time it takes for your boat to slow down slightly by tacking with your wind.

"If you have one or two boats, you can compare them. If you have two boats, you can compare them. If you have two boats, you can compare them. If you have two boats, you can compare them.

"If you have one or two boats, you can compare them. If you have two boats, you can compare them. If you have two boats, you can compare them. If you have two boats, you can compare them.

Sister Kenny Work Shown At Fire House

The achievements of the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Institute in fighting polio, with a 90 per cent cure record, were shown an audience of Larchmonters last night at the Weaver Street Fire House in a program arranged by the Larchmont Committee for the 1950 Sister Kenny Foundation fund drive which closes Sept. 21.

Speakers were introduced by Mrs. James Mancusi of Larchmont, local co-chairman with Mrs. Louis Preston, who was also introduced.

Major Louis Tepp, Westchester County chairman, spoke of the humanitarian appeal of the work and urged contributions to continue the fund. Donations may be sent to Mrs. Mancusi, 82 Weaver Street, or Mrs. Preston, 17 Hillside Avenue.

Two films depicted the work of the Institute which originated in Mamaroneck. There are now seven Sister Kenny hospitals in the United States which give the Kenny treatment and which to this area located in Jersey City, N. J., plans for the construction of another in New York City next year now under way.

One hundred trained technicians, registered nurses and two and a half years of specialized Kenny technician training are permitted to give the treatment which is free of charge to all without regard for race, color or creed.

Volunteers are needed for the duration of the fund drive. Mrs. Mancusi said, urging interested residents to notify her or Mrs. Preston.

The films were presented by John McCarthy, Westchester County director for the Foundation. The program, welcoming the audience, was followed by a question and answer period followed by the films.

Crowley Honored

More than 40 employees of the Larchmont Post Office gathered for a party Tuesday night at Hook and Larchmont Company headquarters in the Larchmont Fire House in honor of P. Vincent Crowley, Jr., of Mowbray Street, Larchmont, who has recast in the Shmelter Corps of the United States Army. He will leave today.

Crowley is a veteran of three years' active service in World War II and was in the Battle of the Bulge.

He and John Dooling of New Rochelle, a navy veteran of 12 years' service who transferred to the Navy as an aviator, first class, are the first to enlist from the Larchmont Fire Department.

Mrs. P. Warren Green, postmaster, presented a certificate on behalf of the post office employees. Among the speakers was Police Chief William J. Karsner of Larchmont.

The committee in charge included William J. Peterson, Ralph Steiner, George Kohloff and William Carey.

'Ships That Pass'

Boats that pass in the night have always had a special meaning for poets. But a couple passed in the daytime in Larchmont Harbor which proved to have a practical result for the Mamaroneck Community Chest.

John Withers, executive director of the campaign, was seen surveying his craft through the harbor when he heard a voice from a passing boat.

"Need help on the Community Chest?" It was Miss Helen and her husband, Mr. William J. Karsner, of 1313 Harrison Avenue. You bet! answered Mr. Withers.

"OK. You've got a volunteer!"

The Chest thereby signed up its first worker for the 1936 drive.

Clee Club Starts Year

The Mamaroneck Clee Club will launch its second year Sept. 12 at 8:15 P. M. when the first rehearsal of the Fall will be held in the Bellevue High School auditorium, Carl Bergida, conductor, announced today.

The Clee Club, which held its first concert last spring with 35 male voices, is seeking to expand its membership and applicants are asked to meet the music committee Tuesday, Sept. 12, at the home of Miss Anna Herzog, 293 Beach Avenue, or telephone Herbert L. Karsner, secretary, at GU 9-2215, if unable to attend the meeting.

The club's officers are Charles D. Burkhardt, president; Mr. Leonard, secretary; Mr. Karsner, treasurer and Eugene Clarke, alternate.

Off for Camp Gordon

One of the local men who left yesterday for Camp Gordon, Ga., for training with the 101st Signal Battalion of the National Guard was Corp. Louis Joseph Preston, 21-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Preston of 17 Hillcrest Avenue Larchmont.

A graduate of Mamaroneck High School where he was active in bowling and baseball, Corp. Preston has been associated with his father in the oil burner business in Larchmont.

He is the National Guard's second year associate.

Alert Fireman

Danger to the tinder-dry buildings near Mamaroneck and East Prospect Avenues was averted about 3:30 P. M. yesterday by the alert action of Poughkeepsie volunteer fire department, who rushed a silver-vented fire engine, the first of highly inflammable materials which it fell from a truck rounding the bend.

When the activated truck driver, Joseph Arata of 118 West Boston Post Road, Mamaroneck, discovered the 25-pound container missing upon his arrival at his New Rochelle destination he telephoned Mamaroneck police and was relieved to learn of the safe recovery of the treacherous cargo he had loaded at Larchmont.

Amphibious Training

Gen. P. Armstrong, DSN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Armstrong of 8 Harrison Drive, Larchmont, has week participated in the current COMBAT operation which included a full scale assault landing on a beach in Virginia.

Armstrong is a crew member of the patrol craft USS 877. The ship served as the amphibious control vessel for landings which are part of basic joint amphibious training operations for the 25-pond and midshipmen of the U. S. Military and Naval Academies.

A graduate of Mamaroneck High School where he was a member of the basketball team, Armstrong enlisted in the Navy in 1944 and has taken special courses in the study of Diesel engines.

Linber From Bombay to Rome Burns After Falling in Nile Delta Area

CAIRO, (AP)—Fifty-five persons, 23 of them Americans, were believed to have perished today in the crash of a Trans World Airlines Constellation plane in the Nile Delta area, 40 miles north of Cairo.

The plane, the Star of Maryland, en route from Bombay to Rome, burned after it crashed.

Five of the seven-man crew and 16 of the passengers were American. One of the five crew members, an Egyptian movie star, was also aboard, as well as two American tourists.

Another passenger was William C. Gist, chief of the U. S. Embassy in Cairo.

TWA said other passengers included Francis Pope, a TWA pilot; Mrs. B. B. Bower, a Washington, D. C., resident; and two children, Mary Louise and Paul P. They were believed to be on a vacation.

Their home addresses were not given.

TWA spokesman said a search plane which sighted the wreckage reported the plane was completely burned and there was no indication of any survivors of the Bombay-to-New York jumbo liner.

Hills, Mass., also was listed aboard the plane.

WINGED FOOT GOLF CLUB

PICKETS started a protest march yesterday at the entrance to the Winged Foot Golf Club as union leaders strive to gain recognition by the management.

The club is located on the north shore of Long Island Sound, near the entrance to the harbor.

The club is a private club and has a long history of exclusivity.

The picketers are demanding that the club recognize the union and allow them to work on the club grounds.

Series Of Articles To Explain New Social Security Pay-Off

How will the Social Security law's amendments, just adopted, affect you?

A series of explanatory articles, compiled by the New Rochelle office of the Social Security Administration, starts today in The Daily Times.

The articles will explain the changes in benefits, and all other general phases of the amendment.

Increased benefits, as revealed in The Daily Times today, will lift the total payment in Westchester from $300.23 to $414.51 monthly.

Alan Sack, New Rochelle manager, pointed out today that the New Rochelle-Larchmont-Pelham area, which has 1,774 beneficiaries on the rolls, will receive $33,800 more money beginning with September. The total will then be $75,800.

There are 13,000 in Westchester receiving Social Security benefits.

This timely series of articles may answer your questions—and when it comes to Social Security, everybody has at least one question.

Read the first article on Page 16 today.

News of Yachting, Boating and Fishing Activities Along the Mamaroneck and Larchmont Shore

By T. O. ROBERT, JR.

Two weeks of mountaineering and blue-berried picking in the wilds of northern Pennsylvania are a good thing for a waterfront chap. It makes him appreciate the waterfront around here. We found that out during the vacation we just finished. There's something about the Mamaroneck Waterfront and its people which we couldn't help missing and with two weeks of inactivity we found on much more along the waterfront that its difficult to decide just where to begin.

Somehow we can't help but report one item from that vacation even though it doesn't concern the waterfront but it can be dragged in because it does have to do with water. Up there in the mountains you've got to get water and the water pump is the most ornery cuss in creation. Like an old model Ford it's got to be cranked, and the cranking is a back-breaking process.

It begins by feeding gasoline into the one-gallon tank atop the motor. It continues by choking the motor for just three turns at the crank. It keeps on continuing for quite a while while the crank gets crankier by the minute. Suddenly, after a man or woman cussing out in a couple of languages, the cranker explodes into Spanish. The pump seems to understand Caramba, and it commences a steady, putt-putt which means that there'll be water for drinking from the spring at the back of the pump house.

It's easy to ston the pump; all that's necessary is to short circuit the single spark plug.

It really is quite a process!

Fish
We could indite a whole column on that bloom'g pump but there's news around here, too, and a lot of it concerns fish. George and Albert Greer together with Chick Olsey went angling last week off Babylon, Long Island. They had lots of luck with fluke as they boated 38 of 'em. The biggest one, tipping the scales at almost eight pounds, won the ship pool for George Greer.

And then there is a pair of New Rochelle residents who have Mamaroneck striped fishermen in a dither. It seems that Edward Labbe and Jon D. Havard, both of New Rochelle, have been catching strippers in almost unbelievable quantities.

Barney Ehret says that one of the pair got a 38-ponded last week but didn't bring it in to be weighed. However, they did turn up Tuesday with six bass, one a 21-ponded and then came in yesterday with five, one of which weighed 16 pounds.

Them bass is out there!

Contractors
This is about one cruise we wouldn't want to be on. A couple of New York City misses recently bought a nine-foot sailing dink at a local yard.

They started Tuesday to sail the boat from New York, where it is moored, to Fisher's Island, about more than 100 miles by water. The Misses Margaret Rowson and Elizabeth Sherman got as far as Mamaroneck on the first leg of the trip when Tuesday's thunder storm hit. The pair arrived here in the downpour and found overnight accommodations through a local skipper who made us promise not to reveal his name.

Anyway, they slept aboard the Romney Girl Tuesday night and left yesterday aboard their cutter-boat, still determined to get to Fisher's Island.

Lessons
The fact that in-landers appreciate the Mamaroneck Waterfront was brought to our attention recently when we learned that the Purchase Community Center is sponsoring a course in sailing at a local yard.

Mr. William Lettner, director of the center which was founded in 1926 in memory of William A. Reid, started the sailing course as an experiment. He found that there was plenty of interest and a dozen Purchase teen-agers have been taking sailing lessons for the last two months. They'll hold their final session today and their certificate of the end of the course by racing against one another in Ghost sloops from Michael's yard.

Their instructor has been Stanley Bell of Larchmont and Mr. Lettner was also assisted in the project by Arthur Knapp, skipper of the International Class yacht rummage sale, and Mrs. Alicia Knapp Murri who has held many sailing titles in her own right.

The Purchase promoters, who took the course included Ann Carpenter, Harold Douglas, Roger Gedney, Ernest and Roy Janesen, Jeffrey King, James and John Lafferty, Helen Martin, Sandra Schaal and Edith and Lillian Tolan.

Advice
A recent release from Sparkman and Stephens, Inc., yacht brokers, should be of interest to anybody who's thinking of selling a boat. Written by Drake H. Sparkman and times a just for this time of year when owners are thinking of putting up their boats for the winter. It is very important that sales take place in the off season and it is very important that a person wants to sell a boat, that he had laid up accessibly for inspection.

Team Race
The S Class will be busy this weekend with a team race against yachtsmen from Narragansett Bay. The races are scheduled for Larchmont for Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

The S class, incidentally, has been busy with team races against the 21s and the Atlantics. Now the Narragansett sailors will provide the competition and yachtsmen in the local S class will have another holiday from YRA racing. Incidentally, one new owner has entered the class as J. Kenneth

Boats
The ideal condition of course is to store a boat in a shed with just a dust cover, but as inside storage is limited, when a boat is stored outside it is very important that the opening of the winter cover be accessible to the cockpit or other point of entrance below.

"After a boat has been stripped for the winter, she should have a thorough housecleaning and left for inspection in shipshape and well ventilated—in other words laid up in Bristol Fashion.

"In selling a boat that is laid up for the winter, a picture of that particular boat is really essential. Most pictures are taken under way, but it is surprising how effective pictures taken at anchor can be in illustrating a boat.

If a person is going to sell a boat and does not have a good picture, one should be taken by all means before the boat is laid up.

"Boat buyers want to know what they are getting with a boat and it is always wise to make an inventory of a boat's equipment while she is being laid up. This is also a good time to take the yacht's papers ashore, as they have to be used in connection with any sale.

"When a person has made up his mind to sell a boat, regardless of the time of year, she should be listed with a broker or brokers. A broker makes no charge for listing a boat and his commission is payable only when he effects a sale. Some people prefer to give one broker an exclusive listing; others list her with many brokers, and this procedure has its advantages.

"The important function of the broker, after the terms have been agreed upon, is to see that all papers are in proper order to convey title, and that all Government regulations have been complied with.

Catamaran
We've got a 'Hula' in Mamaroneck. It's a catamaran which has been shipped here from Waikiki.

Owned by Essensen Blanchard of Starsdale and Carl Capes, vice president of Yachting Magazine, the Hula is ashore now at a local yard getting fitted up after its long trip from the Waikiki Beach Comber Co. in Hawaii.

The raft is twenty and a half feet long and its two pontoons are two by seven and a half feet. The cockpit between the pontoons has enough space for a half-dozen people and the craft draws only six inches. It carries 165 square feet of sail.

It's the first craft of its kind to come into this country from Hawaii and was shipped by steamer, via the Panama Canal. We hear it came in comfortably, resting on a cargo of pineapples.

Mr. Blanchard, co-owner of the affair, is co-author of "Cruising Guide to the New England Coast" and author of "Cruising Guide to the Chesapeake Bay". He is a member of the American Yacht Club in Bay.

Plane Lands Safely
As Brakes Go Bad

PHILADELPHIA, (AP) — An American Airlines twin-engine plane with 23 aboard made a 119-mile-an-hour landing at the International Airport last night after the craft's hydraulic system failed.

The pilot, Gordon Pierce, said he noted the hydraulic failure at New York, where he prevented a landing after a trip from Indianapolis.

Boes has purchased Twister from George Hoffmann. Widson, owned by Clarence Roxby, has been offered for sale.

And finally, Skip Ethells of Rocky Point, Conn., a member of the Larchmont Yacht Club, sailed to third place in the recently completed world's championship races of the National Star Class Racing Association. Robert Lippincott of Riverport, N. J., won the event in San Rafael while Lockwood Pirie of Wilmette, Ill., took second. Ethells, naturally, sailed his Shillash.

CONVICTS' BRIBES BUY PRIVILEGES IN JAILS

CHICAGO, (AP) — Some prisoners at the big Cook County (Chicago) Jail, says State's Attorney John S. Boyle, have been getting women, liquor, narcotics and tin food—by paying a few dollars to the right person.

Mr. Boyle termed the jail "rotten from top to bottom," and said a grand jury will investigate the "shocking conditions." Mr. Boyle said he had received a report from an assistant, James Condon, who has been investigating jail conditions since an escape plot was thwarted last month.

THRUWAY BRIDGE REPORT SLATED

NEW YORK — State Public Works Superintendent Bertram D. Tallamy, chairman of the New York State Thruway Authority, announced today that a decision will be made shortly on the location of the bridge which will carry the State Thruway across the Hudson River.

Bozinas have been taken for several months at a point between Grand View in Rockland County and Tarrytown in Westchester County. However, there was nothing in Chairman Tallamy's statement today to indicate whether the bridge is to be built at that point.

On the other hand, officials pointed out, there have been no large-scale tests made elsewhere and in view of the statement by Mr. Tallamy that a decision will be made later this week, observers believe this may indicate acceptance of the Tarrytown crossing point.

Mr. Tallamy has given notice of a press conference at the Hotel Astor tomorrow, at which full details on the bridge will be released for publication.

Engineers in Westchester were said today to be confident that the Grand View-Tarrytown location for the bridge will be officially accepted.

Committee is Formed For Aylesworth Service WHITE PLAINS—

The Westchester Bar Association is forming a committee to set a date for a memorial service in Supreme Court for the late Ray W. Aylesworth, former president of the association, who died in Louisville a week ago.

OUR 55th YEAR WE DELIVER

LABOR DAY 'RIOT' IN AMERICA

Some 60 million strong, we bread-eaters are taking a holiday—celebrating our rights as free American workers, and, unless an over-excited fan beans the umpire with a pop bottle, our only riots will be of food and fun.

But rights beget duties—we continued safety as free workers depends on our willingness to put in 365 days a year at being good citizens. That's a whole-time job—our freedom, our security, our very lives depend on it!

Probably most of us think that we are already pretty good citizens—but let's take a look at the record.

The right to vote is fundamental to freedom. Yet in the last presidential election 45 million did not take the trouble to go to the polls. Almost half of us didn't value freedom enough to walk a block or two and cast our ballots.

Let's look ourselves over some more. It took thousands of years and a lot of wars to set up our right to trial by jury. Yet, too many regard dodging jury service as a very smart thing to do. Those same duty dodgers yell their heads off when they think some injustice is done in our courts.

Then there are folks who can't spare the time to attend P.T.A. meetings. Others who think their sole duty as Union members is to pay dues—let some one else attend the meetings. There are stockholders who draw dividends, but don't vote.

Let's remember this! We'll hold on to our right to celebrate Labor Day only as long as we hold on to freedom. And that's a full-time job—it takes 130 million good citizens working 365 days a year to do it right.

EVERY HOME SHOULD have this guide to the Rights and Duties of an American.

Do you know your rights? Do you know the laws that govern your citizenship? . . . the law and who it affects? Child Welfare Coal Realized At Dedication 24 Years Ago

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the fourth and final article on the early history of the child welfare movement in Mamaroneck written by Estelle H. Shonout, who was chairman of the building and publicity committee for the erection of the Child Welfare Building which is now the Mamaroneck Health Center.

The New York State Law Chap. 196 was drawn by the village council, Edgar L. Howe, in collaboration with the writer and presented in the Legislature by Senator Westall and Assemblyman Shonk Empowering the Village of Mamaroneck to appropriate $10,000 yearly for child welfare work its passage was hailed with great enthusiasm.

After nine years of valiant struggle for maintenance, the workers were happy indeed in the knowledge that child welfare work was at last recognized as an invaluable health service worthy of public support.

New impetus was given the building project and on a blustery day, March 26, 1926, the faithful assembled on Stanley Avenue to witness the laying of the cornerstone.

The following from the speech of the writer, on that occasion may be interesting from the human standpoint, which owing to lack of space has perhaps revealed itself too little in this rather stark account of the child welfare project.

"The raising of a building is the materialization of a vision. A year and five months ago, a few dreamers tried to visualize a child welfare building, an adequate building, simple, spotless, charming. Many scoffed a few realized, but the closer we here and their blessing and went forth to make the dream come true.

On the toil and struggle of the effort I need not dwell. And now we find the sturdy building of our dreams turning into a real building of steel and stone, mortar, brick and wood.

This frame stands on a foundation of faith, courage and hope. These stones are bound together with love, tenderness and helpfulness. In these walls will be enshrined the joys and sorrows of mothers and children, the softness and clucking of tiny infants.

And through these windows generations yet unborn will look out upon processions moving ever forward, processions of all faiths and all nations and of all colors with hands clasped together, ever forward to their destiny of universal brotherhood.

"This building which you see rising before you is 40 feet wide and fifty feet deep exclusive of the entrance steps and vestibule. It will consist of one story and basement and will include a large clinic, playroom, nurse's office, doctor's office, reception room, kitchen, bathroom and several lavatories. The building completely equipped and furnished, and the grounds graded will cost approximately $30,000.

The later merging of its work with that of the Mamaroneck Society for Lending Comforts to the Sick enlarged the sphere of its activities and gave ever greater opportunities for public service.

In this outline of the early history of the child welfare work in Mamaroneck, the names of those who performed great service may have been unwittingly omitted. The writer craves pardon. She has availed herself of the source material within her possession.

On July 12, 1951, the Child Welfare Building will have completed 25 years of service and it is hoped that the occasion will be suitably observed.

Although the record may seem dry in its recital, the knowledge of having contributed to the future life and better citizenship of the community will ever bring a thrill of joy to the hearts of those who participated.

May the Mamaroneck Health Center in all the years to come fulfill in ever increasing measure the vision of the founders of the Child Welfare Association of Mamaroneck.

CAMPING CLOSED BY BOY SCOUTS

The most successful season in the history of Boy Scout Camp Sivanac, closed Sunday when the last of almost 600 campers during the summer packed up and left for home. Average of over 230 Scouts per two-week period made the season's registration the highest since the opening of Sivanac.

Impressive was the ordeal ceremony of Chappaqua Lodge, Order of the Arrow, Saturday evening, when the fourth period class was dedicated to Cedric Clatsworthy of Pelham in honor of his 25th anniversary in Chappaqua Lodge. Members of the national Scout campers honor society elected were—John Blawie, Troop 1, Pelham, Joe Therrien, Troop 4, Pelham, Edward Avers, Troop 16, David Adamson, Troop 21, Eric Dreyfus of Troop 11, Richard Koehler of Troop 2, Charles Berber, formerly of Troop 10, Terry Idler of Troop 3, Larchmont, Stuart Spencer, Troop 2, Mamaroneck, Robert Pimrose.

The weight league picnic was presented to the Chappaqua Tribe by Bill Coughlin. Another special feature of the court was a musical guessing game conducted by Julie Kohn. At the close of the program, Camp Director Mark Hyman thanked the staff and campers for a successful season. Executive Reno Zuccaro led evening songs and taps.

Neighborhood Commissioner Mamaroneck, Richard Gregory, Postmaster, and the new Sivanac Council President, Charles Y. Haviland.

Highlight of the final week was the annual camper banquet and staff show Wednesday evening, with a turkey dinner. Members of the staff set up and waited on the tables, and cleaned up after the meal. In the evening, the staff show included a one-act play with specialty numbers, arranged by Donald Cole and Bill Travert.

Saturday, the Larchmont and Mamaroneck Districts conducted a Board of Review and a Court of Honor under Alvah Small and William Dixon. One special award presented for the first time in the history of Sivanac was a 25-cent veteran's pin to Francis E. Becker.

CORONER VERDICT SETS 7 AS SHIP DEATH TOLL

TADOUSSAC, Quebec, (AP)—A coroner's verdict last night ruled that six, or possibly seven, persons died accidental deaths in the Aug. 14 fire aboard the cruise ship Quebec.

The ship on St. Lawrence River cruise, caught fire 20 miles west of here and burned after resuming the coast.

The identified dead were Gertrude Toib of Tarrytown, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. Norma Shiguro of Mount Royal and their son, Leonard, and Mrs. Pickens Smith Colburn of Clamton, S. C. Missing and presumed dead are Miss Toub's sister Eva and Mrs. McCollum's husband, a doctor.

At least all was ready for the dedication, and on July 12, 1926 a great assemblage attended this function. The writer presided and turned the key of the building over to the president, Mrs. Evan S. Thomas. A specially made gold key was presented Nathan Straus whose initial contribution of $1,000 made possible the launching of the project.

Mr. Straus in the excess of his pleasure at the success of the undertaking stated that there was no other building of its kind in the country and declared his intention of using it as a model for a child welfare building which he proposed to erect in Palestine.

The dream had come true. A great project had been completed in the eight years since Mrs. Louis I. Dublin had conducted the child health survey which demonstrated the urgent need for the work.

The later merging of its work with that of the Mamaroneck Society for Lending Comforts to the Sick enlarged the sphere of its activities and gave ever greater opportunities for public service.

MURDER ATTEMPT FUGITIVE SEIZED

KEARNY, N. J. (AP)—James Joseph Sweeney, forty-eight, operator of a candy store here, will be evaluated today on a charge of being a fugitive from New York where he is wanted for attempted murder.

Westchester County police have charged him with trying to kill Robert Visconti, eighteen, when the two got into an argument on the way home from a tavern in Cortlandt, N. Y.

The ran lab store here under the name of John Joseph Kelly. Sweeney was sentenced to life imprisonment 20 years ago in a $150,000 Elizabeth payroll robbery, but was later freed.

"I guess this is it," Sweeney said meekly as police entered his candy store with drawn guns yesterday.

New York state trooper Harry Broadbent, who came here to confirm the identification, said Sweeney was accused of shooting the car in which he and Visconti were riding, forcing the youth out, and shooting at him twice. He said one bullet went through Visconti's left hand and the other tore off two fingers of his right.

He was awaiting trial in Westchester County on charges of attempted murder and sodomy when he jumped $15,000 bail. Lt. William Sharratt, head of the Kearny Detective Bureau, said, "Sweeney's arrest here came after an anonymous call to police from someone who had recognized his photograph in a newspaper."

Break Expected Soon In Crete Love Feud

HERAKLEION, Crete. (AP)—A possible break within 40 hours was rumored today in the mountaineers' feud over Crete's missing Romeo and Juliet.

The couple vanished amid the fatness of mythology-famed Mount Ida last week after swarthy Constantine Kephalyouanni abducted the sultry-eyed beauty for whom he yearned, nineteen-year-old Pasoulia Petracoqori. An obstacle to their dashing romance was the ancient feud between their powerful families.

Someone described as highly respected by the two Cretan clans was reported trying to smooth over the fiery animosities, intensified by the snappings, before they blazed into gunfire.

BIG FIREMEN'S PARADE SET IN TARRYTOWN

TARRYTOWN—One of the largest firemen's parades ever held in Westchester will be put on by the Tarrytown Fire Department Labor Day in honor of the 50th anniversary of Riverside Hose Co. here.

Twenty-five thousand spectators are expected to witness the parade which begins at 1:45 P. M. and will climax a week of festivities.

More than 40 organizations, including visiting fire companies from Poughkeepsie, Okauchee, N. J., and Danbury, Conn., are entered in the parade.

'ALL ACCIDENT,' SAYS FLIER IN BATTERY CASE

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—William Jesse Newton, who landed a seaplane beside the Polish liner Batory and was taken aboard to Europe, told federal officers last night that it was all an accident.

Newton, twenty-six, was quoted by Assistant U. S. Attorney Charles J. Tyne last night as saying that "my instruments were off and I was forced to land near the Batory when my gas ran low."

The Batory is the ship on which Communist Gerhart Eisler jumped bail and fled the United States.

Boy, 12, Shoots Self With Gun from Closet

YONKERS—A twelve-year-old boy who found a pistol and cartridges in a closet at his home, accidentally shot himself in the left hand yesterday. Roger Malcolm of 122 Downside Street was treated at St. Joseph's Hospital.

ARMY AWARDS CONTRACT YONKERS—Receipt of an Army contract for 40,000 pairs of wool glove inserts is reported by the Mega Knitting Mills of South Broadway. It is believed to be the first Army contract to come to Yonkers in two years.
