PRAYER FOR TODAY—As a new year approaches, dear God eternal and gracious, my heart quickens with expectation. Will the next twelvemonth be the one that will bring total peace, permanent peace, that understanding among all men that have been warring and fighting and die for it? O God, make this the time. Let war and talk of war be banished forever. Your grace has made us strong and confident; now let us have a great fulfillment, make us rich with achievement in the kingdom of Your power and glory.

GOD BLESS US EVERYONE CHRISTMAS is where the heart feels most at home. Christmas is when we are with those we love. Christmas is what we make it.

That as it is so giving which empties the purse, so it is never loving which empties the heart. And this is the one season of the year when we particularly associate loving with giving. It represents renewed recognition of the precept that the donor benefits just as much as the recipient.

Said Bunyan: "A man there was, and they called him mad: the more he gave, the more he had." It is in this spirit of friendliness toward all of unselfish giving, of the universal striving for peace among all men, that we wish one and all a Merry Christmas.

And for those who have the time and wish to recapture the spirit of youthful happiness, we recommend around the family hearth this evening a careful reading of a portion of Dickens' Christmas Carol. If you wish, begin at the point: "Then up rose Mrs. Cratchit, Cratchit's wife, dressed out but poorly in a twice-torn gown, but brave in ribbons, which were cheap, and make a goodly show for six pence; and she laid the cloth, assisted by Belinda Cratchit, second of her daughters, also brave in ribbons; while Master Peter Cratchit plunged a fork into the saucepan of potatoes."

And go on from there, through the simple, unaffected but heroically brave account of the economic trials and domestic tribulations of this little family. Its counterpart can be found in every community of our own nation.

Go on, we ask, to the scene ends with Bob Cratchit's (lost) over his homemade punch in tumbler and mustard-curd without handle, but serving as well as would have golden goblets: "A Merry Christmas to all, my dear, God bless us." And then to the last of all, "My Tim and his." "God bless us every one!"

That is our wish tomorrow for all who agree with us that this is a good world, after all, and that we can and will make it better.

PRIVACY OVER PROFIT WE ARE inclined to the theory that the squabble between parents and the Grand Central Terminal management over use of canned music and commercial advertising messages involves more than the terminal's right of private management to do what it pleases with its own property.

Transpiration, like other utilities, has long been recognized as subject to regulation as to rates and adequacy of service, since it impinges upon the field of commerce. And service might easily include the question of comfort, which involves the auricular as well as other physical senses.

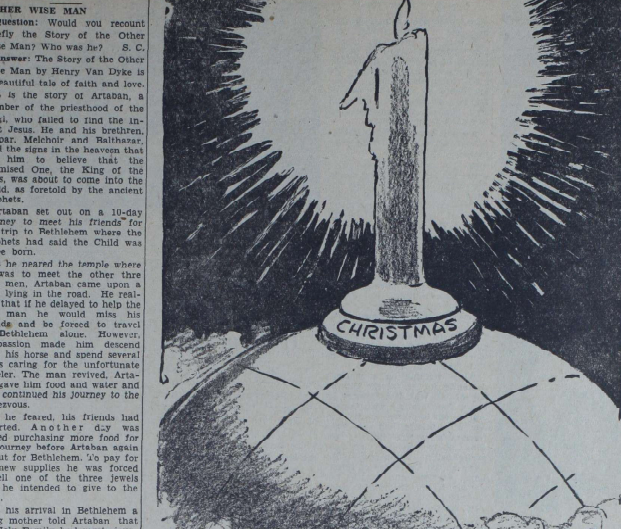

Certainly in this mad world wherein so much of old-time courtesy and good manners has already been sacrificed for speed and commercial profit, it is disturbing to learn that another small industry is to be invaded. Granted that a railroad terminal is not always a place of quietude for meditation, nevertheless that is no reason for intruding the turmoil.

Crossword Puzzle grid with clues and answers.

Joy and Happiness TO YOU ALL! At this happy season we wish to express our best wishes for your joyful Holidays, and our appreciation for your patronage.
