PRAYER FOR TODAY—Our Father in Heaven, who knows all things, fulfill in us the attributes, which will make our every effort a reflection of your teaching. Guide us toward understanding and forgiveness, since piety and love for our fellow man are the basis of our life.

FEBRUARY'S PATRIOT
FOR a nomination as February's outstanding patriot to be inscribed on the comic pages of the nation or the rolls of oblivion we suggest the name of Ezra Ripstein, secretary of the Wage Stabilization Board and president of the CIO United Textile Workers.

THE NECESSITY, even sacredness of his mission might be realized from the fact that the inflationary spirit was not only threatening the entire economy, causing sacrifices on the part of millions of "little people" but was also menacing the success of the entire defense program.

AND how did this superpatriot fulfill his duties? When the board voted to allow wage increases of 10 per cent between Jan. 15, 1950 and next July 1, 1951, Ripstein, with other labor members of the board walked out, clouding the entire governmental stabilization program.

OF course, the fact that such a strike was a blow to the economy which had pledged himself to safeguard even the fact that some of the textiles which the strikers would not produce might have been destined for the men fighting in the bitter cold of Korea made no difference. Such considerations seldom do to a man who's "out to get his".

So, as Patriot-of-the-Month, we give you Emil Rieve for February—in the month of Lincoln and Washington.

IS THIS REALLY NECESSARY?
CIVIL Defense Administrator Caldwell announces that the Federal government intends to print and distribute to every family and individual in the United States 20 "alert cards" during what is to be an event of an air raid.

The family card is designed to hang in the kitchen and the pocket-size individual card to be carried in wallets and pocketbooks.

With 150 million people in the United States, the cost of this project will be astronomical at today's paper and printing prices. The need of individuals and families on farms in the middle of the Western prairie and in the remote areas of the country for such detailed instructions is questionable for the likelihood of air attack is remote.

Limiting the distribution of these cards to coastal and industrial areas which will be the targets of any enemy attacks would reduce the cost substantially.

Certainly it could be done until future developments demonstrate the need for the kind of distribution Mr. Caldwell contemplates.

2. Mexico and other parts of Good housekeeping helps to make hard work easier, smooths many a rough place and keeps tempers sweet while work goes forward. Good housekeeping for every active human being. Unless his house, the place he happens to be in at the time, is order, everything in his place, order in all things makes for harmony and that means peace, the peace that allows us to live at our best.

Some children learn to be orderly without pain, some find it difficult. If they do not learn to be good housekeepers when they are young they are going to be handicapped by their disorderly ways for a lifetime. All children must be trained in orderly living. They must learn to put things in their places, to keep their rooms, their clothes, their shoes, toys in good order. Beginning in the morning in their bedrooms, tidiness must be hung in the appointed place, all clothing all belongings put where they belong, the bed opened, the windows opened to air the room. In the bathroom the towels must be in place, tooth brushes in racks and the paste in its place in the cabinet. Each member of the family is to leave a clean job behind him so that the mother who does the main work, has no picking up to do.

Order is important because of its effect on the mind. Confusion of any sort disturbs the mind and lessens its clarity and its effectiveness. The room that is cluttered with sweaters hanging over chairs, shoes under furniture, the desk littered with things, cluttering the place, will cause all the mind's activities to be in disorder. Order means hygiene, and that is even more important than physical hygiene. In fact, it must precede that all-important hygiene of the U. S. 4th Army.

Cannon Regaining Of Control Of Appropriations Questioned

By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON—In the face of opposition from the Rayburn-McCormack leadership, Representative Clarence Cannon has won a one-man, dictatorial control of federal appropriations by a ruse which even his friends regard as questionable.

Chairman Cannon's inside manipulation of the Appropriations Committee's organizational procedure promises as stormy a relationship between him and his group as another stubborn Missouri Senator, Harry S. Truman, suffers from in his contacts with Capitol Hill. Intra-committee intrigues against the veteran chairman which President Truman introduced to negotiate at Mexico City.

Now, however, they have a fresh grievance against Secretary Dean Acheson. When they learned that a U. S. C. delegation planned to negotiate at Mexico City for implementation of seasonal labor in the defense effort, the APT, the CIO and railway labor executives asked that one of their men be made a member of the American group. They got a flat 'No' from Mr. Acheson.

They sent two representatives to the two outside bodies in American government, the government arrested the leaders who forced them to call off the wolves.

Instead, the Mexican government, with American acquiescence, forbade even newspaper dissemination of the labor embassies, therefore, could not inform the American public of the major Mexican unions planned to hold a welcoming mass meeting for the two outside bodies in American government, the government arrested the leaders who forced them to call off the wolves.

Chairman Cannon postponed the reorganization meeting several times in an attempt to bring a majority in his favor. When he could still no longer, he agreed to take his chair doubling that certain Democrats would dare to resist his chair doubling. Cannon was charged when they departed him of his authority to name their subcommittee and barred him from sitting on these subcommittees. By claiming and using this power he had blocked many economy moves in the past.

MANEUVER — Although this vote was supposed to be final, Cannon refused to accept it. He called a second organization meeting at which Representative W. F. Norrell of Kansas moved to restore the power that had been taken away from the man from Missouri. Again the Cannon faction lost. It seemed that the question was now settled once and for all.

But Mr. Cannon still persisted. This time he resorted to a maneuver which, although it succeeded, has made him the most unpopular chairman on Capitol Hill.

Without proper notification, he called a third reorganizing meeting for a Monday morning at a day when many members from New England, New York, Pennsylvania and other nearby states do not return to Washington. Only routine matters are brought up in the House on Monday, and many members stay home until late Monday evening or Tuesday.

TACTICS — As a result, about 10 anti-Cannon men were not present to vote against him. His friends, of course, had been given notice of the meeting. So he won what might be called a Pyrrhic victory. He has more enemies now than he ever had before and more bitter ones.

Moreover, his tactics have delayed by almost two months serious consideration of the biggest

A Glance Backward
A DECADE AGO
The Board of Trustees appointed the Rev. Arthur W. Martensen as chief of the Mamaroneck Fire Relief Department. A six-foot, 245-pound former U. S. Army staff sergeant, Martensen was known in 1941 as a disciplinarian. Trustees Harold Bozell and Frank Washburn, members of the Village Board, were recommended for reappointment by the Republican Party. Benjamin Price was in charge of arrangements for the club program sponsored by the Mamaroneck Tennis Club over radio station WYAC.

Although playing league leading Roosevelt to a 1-1 tie the fellows hove sound was eliminated by the WHI championship race. The combination gave Mamaroneck High's swimmers a fourth point to turyack Horace Mann. Patay Castallo, a former member of the Mamaroneck Players, was selected to direct three one-set plays, which were produced by three Mamaroneck societies. Alan Seymour, well known as a dramatist, gave a recital at the home of Mrs. Harvey Conroy. Steepclark Roy died another suit, charging that the Ford Motor Company had used the name of its cars since 1925 that had designed, created and manufactured the Ford Model A.

Moreover, the 29-year-old village trucker Raymond T. Mearns was elected to the GOP as a peace candidate. The village budget was adopted and Fred Smith appointed to the Town of Apponaug.

Blackfriars Theater Fans Faith's Spark In Many Audiences

By the Rev. Urban Nagle

In New York City and in Washington, D. C., the Blackfriars Theater puts on plays of moral and religious subjects. There are numerous such groups across the nation. Men and women of all faiths work together to produce shows of spiritual content. But all over the United States, talent is going unused. Have you ever thought, "I'd like to write a play." "I'd love to be in the theater, even to paint scenery." Those who do not write, direct, act, sing, compose, dance, paint, or play instruments in the theater, can be carpenters, publicity and box office cars, ushers, type, write letters, or be experts in lighting.

Well, why not—for the glory of God. But, if you start, expect criticism and obstacles. You may have fun—but it means sacrifice, setbacks, hurt pride, disappointments and risk of time and money. We know. We consider it a special mission, and we work with prayer in our hearts.

Project Began At Capital In 1931

We began in 1931, in Washington. We now have our own little plant, fully equipped, at 370 West 57th Street, New York City. I'm a little ashamed to tell the history. Always enamored of the theater, I wrote a religious play many years ago. It won a national prize, and before long I found myself on the stage.

The Rev. Thomas Carey during his deaconate years, did the sets for my play and that led to a partnership. We expanded the company into Blackfriars Guild. Father Carey wanted a training center, and founded the Blackfriars Guild at Catholic University, Washington, which became its drama school of Speech and Drama.

He sent me a wire: "You've made a drama school. Learn something about it." We began and borrowed used equipment from New York producers, and he did all the promotion.

Two years later, Carey died. I thought I would be the best bet. We had Blackfriars Guild members from coast to coast gathered at Nahassett, Mass. By the third week we were no longer the company we had been. We opened in 1941 and our first play lasted four nights for lack of an audience. The second play followed with a very good cast—but that week the Jews listed Pearl Harbor.

Our theme song became "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen." We still sing it as we open every night, "Spices Your Soul." But I never want to see a Jew again. I'm a Catholic. Most of our volunteer full-time helpers have been non-Catholics. But I never want to see a Jew again. I'm a Catholic.

Two plays presented on Broadway. Two of our plays were found worthy to be taken over by commercial managers and presented professionally on Broadway. Many actresses and actors have had a start through us on Broadway or Hollywood opportunities. We know they are imbued with special ideals.

Nobody's a production lasts a month or two—long enough to clear production costs. Our theater has 299 seats. A season's gross is unpredictable. Nobody receives any remuneration for his services. (Turn to Page 4, Please)

Many Live With Talents Buried

How many of us live our lives with our talents buried? How many of us have talents which we do not use for a fuller life? How many thousands say, sincerely, "I like to live—I'd love to give—but I'm not able." The people of Bluffton would smile at this now. . . . The parable of the talents has thrilling meaning for them. ### New Library Plan To Save Funds

(Third of a series about the proposed plan for the County Library Board to consolidate such services as book purchases, bindings and cataloguing under a State aid grant of $100,000.)

By MAUREEN McKEERAN Four public libraries in Westchester serve 52 per cent of the county's library needs. There are 35 registered libraries in the county and 20 non-registered. Therefore of primary interest to the patrons of the four biggest libraries—North Pelham, Monticore, Yonkers and New Rochelle—is the proposal of the County plan, drawn up by a committee headed by Anthony Cerullo, trustee of the Yonkers Public Library and unanimously approved last week by the Westchester Library Association.

Small Libraries Benefit

Of greater interest, in a way, is the plan for the rest of the county where service to small libraries, such as a children's library and a promotion expert will be made available, while in the rural areas where 10 per cent of the population now have no library service at all, a bookmobile would bring books to the door.

Motorist Picks Up Hitchhiker, Finds He Aided Fleeing Convict

WILLE BRICKHOUSE, thirty-four, of 91 North Highland Avenue, learned his boss in the escape when he was stopped by a roadblock on the return trip from Brooklyn, several hours later.

Informed of the incident, Brickhouse told police he picked up a hitchhiker answering the convict's description about 2 P. M. yesterday at Revolutionary Road, a short distance from the prison.

The driver who was accompanied by members of his family, said Brooks took a seat in the back of the crowded car and placed his four-year-old nephew on his lap, shielding his face.

Brooks said police asked the way to Brooklyn. When the car neared its destination, one of the occupants remarked that a building there resembled Sing Sing Prison. Brooks agreed that it did and added, "That's where I'm from."

As he was standing there with one of the boys in his hand, Brooks told police another truck was driving past and asked if he was doing Brooks' laundry. Brooks said he was in the business and chased Sosa away with a flash of the weapon.

He was arrested on the spot and taken to the police station. He was charged with aiding a convict to escape.

Library Autonomy Is Protected Under Proposed Consolidation

By MAUREN MCKERNAN

The strength of Westchester's public libraries is the strong community support behind each, especially in the case of the older and more strongly established.

The number of volunteers who give time and effort as trustees, advisory committee members, and in other capacities and the financial support of Town and Village Boards and City Councils as well as individuals testify to the worth of the local libraries.

Autonomy to be protected. The protection of this autonomy, the independence of each library to serve its community in the way best suited to the tastes and needs of the people, is the public library's most urgent consideration of the committee, headed by Anthony J. Cerullo.

The plan was worked out. The plan was worked out. The plan was worked out. The plan was worked out.

Therefore, consolidation has been suggested only for those services where the experiences of the past 11 years of the Westchester Library Association and the Union Catalogue have shown that advantages could be gained by cooperative action.

Furthermore, by taking advantage of the new library law, the plan will provide State aid funds for extension of library service to meet the expanding population trends.

Many libraries now must devote up to 50 percent of their budgets to the purchase of new books. Librarians now must give many hours of time to clerical work which could better be spent in personal service to the community.

The new provision that the County Library Board cannot function unless libraries serving 90 percent of the county's population insure general acceptance and approval of the service of the provision allowing any library to opt out of the central book order system.

County libraries and trustees will realize the very real gain offered under the plan for the establishment of a central book order house where valuable but little used books can be filed, leaving room on local library shelves for newer additions to the book stocks. The delivery service available under the plan will mean a wide extension of library service to the reader, making any book in Westchester available within 24 hours.

Close study of the plan is advised for everyone at all interested in the proposed County Library Board for only by study.

Belows Backs Edison in Title Tilt Tomorrow Night

PANTHERS VISIT EDISON FOR BIG BID

The eyes of all Westchester's basketball fans will be turned to the 1951 SWAC title-chase at the Washington Square school gym, Edison, playing on its home court and beaten only once in 14 outings this campaign, is expected to play the favorite's role in the clash which shapes up as one of the best of the season.

Both the Panthers and Teachers have notched seven league triumphs in eight outings. Belows looked to Harrison and Edison having taken his lone setback January 23 in the Belows Gym, since their first meeting, which wound up in a 42-33 tie-count, both quintets have reeled off six consecutive triumphs and contributed to the ousting of Edison from the pennant race.

The only man missing from their team's lineup who appeared in the previous clash is Ed Peterson, Edison captain, who became indisposed immediately after the Rye Neck game but has completely recovered his remaining school studies and left, but the Teachers still suffer very much from the loss. They picked up where they had been leaving before the episode at HBR and continued to churn out victories. Most of the Edison Panthers have been impressive against the SWAC's second division and after Coach R. J. Smith's Panthers took the fight out of Harrison, Edison's only chance to hammer the Truckee cougars has been to rely on their great star, "Nick" Petrie for leadership and there is little doubt but that the seven six foot court musician can supply it. With Petrie surmounting the guard and a most effective defensive sniping, Tech was claimed quite handily four weeks ago but whether or not Coach can direct his charges to another upset is a matter for conjecture.

Edison's forward Jimmy Smith has been on a point-blank of late and against Harrison's guard in 37. He is the top Tech tally-getter with 243 for 14 outings, an average of almost 17 points a game. Opposite him is Ed Peterson, 190 points, six-foot seven inch pivotman, had produced 103 marks, while Ralph Tilsland, 100 marks, counted for an even 150. George Mitchell and Bill Hedrick, 100 marks, have been the team's secondary scorers. The Jayvee ensemble will open the program at 7:30 o'clock.

deCoppet Is Victor In First Regatta Of LYC Spring Series

Defending froothite dineby racing season champion Bobby deCoppet went on a routine sailing spree yesterday at Larchmont Yacht Club to put in another strong bid toward retaining the fleet of 24 craft that sailed in the inaugural regatta of the Spring series. deCoppet came close to recording a perfect score by piloting his Zetom to five firsts and a pair of seconds for 200 points out of a possible 210.

The seven-race season was held in a strong northerly wind which carried gusts up to 25 knots, some of which threatened to toss the little craft over the top.

Depressed of the Mid-Winter title in the series just ended, with Cory Childs the victor, deCoppet was not in getting the jump yesterday. He skippered Zetom, with his wife Gladys at the helm, to the first three contests, was runner-up to Post O'Connell's craft over the next two times around the course and then closed out his performance with third and second last two races.

O'Connell, with a pair of firsts and nothing worse than second, wound up in second place on the 210-point mark. Behind him were the defending Olympic Scintilla, out of it to a shaky start, and the 1949 champion, the White Alice Keenan, in third followed with 172 and 20 Raymond Talled 168 with Scott.

The results of yesterday's regatta leave Shields and deCoppet tied for second place in the overall season tally. However, an upset deCoppet success like yesterday's in this final phase of the

Dad Didn't Have To Give Don A Pep Talk; Scanlon Picked Penn Because Of Dallmar

By DICK CARPENTER

Don Scanlon, currently starting for the Penn University quintet, need the usual pep talk to pick his father's alma mater as the place where he'd like to attend college. In the case of this young Larchmont and former Penn prep student, it was a special admiration for the basketball ability of one Howie Dallmar, and the subsequent hiring of Dallmar as Penn ease coach, that sent him wishing toward his present school's basketball variety cage.

Don, a six foot-two inch 175 pound case claims that the now on Dallmar's Penn squad. After picking up 17 markers against Quaker Tech at Philadelphia Saturday night, Scanlon ranks as second highest scorer on the team with almost 300 points for games. He is an exceptional athlete, with a strong left hand, and was named Penn's first presser center Ernie Beck's former honors yet does not mean for his playmate's acclaim for his playmate's prowess. He was switched to a forward but when Dallmar picked him up at the Quaker Tech game, Scanlon is rated an excellent center guard who is not only respected by Penn's opponents and his mates, but also as a team player.

Don Scanlon of Larchmont poured 17 points into the hoop from his guard position on the Pennsylvania University team in a preliminary match at the Palmetto gym. Penn came from behind to beat Georgia Tech, 63-77, in overtime.

Upset of Season By St. Luke's Stuns League-Leading Temple

St. Luke's Lutheran pulled the upset of the season in the YMCA-Kiwanis Winter Basketball League at the Huguenot YMCA Saturday night, when they defeated the league-leading Temple Israel, 41-39, in overtime after the game ended at 39-39.

Cornell and Skillen combined to score 18 points each for St. Luke's, who had more than 100 points in the high-scoring Temple game. Temple's victory was a surprise, as the team had been leading the league since the start of the season.

Furgol Takes $10,000 in Houston Golf

HOUSTON, Texas, (AP)—Golf's winter tournament troupe was on route to St. Petersburg, Fla., today with Marty Furgol, a new addition among the top money winners.

Furgol picked up a $2,000 first place check yesterday in the Houston open to run his season's take to a fifth rank, $9,800.

Just two weeks ago the thirty-three-year-old Long Beach, Calif., pro was in a three-way tie for 31st place with $480.

He began fashioning his pocket-book a week ago with a second place of $1,500 from the Hartington, open. Furgol posted a three-under-par 68 yesterday in winning his first major golf championship with a 72-hole 277.

That was 11 strokes under par for the 697-yard Memorial Park course and matched the total that Great Britain's Bobby Locke needed in winning the 1947 Houston open, also at Memorial.

A strong finish by Jack Burke, a Houston native, almost overtook the California birdie troubler on the treacherous 18th hole forced Burke to settle for a 278 and second place money $1,400.

This jumped Burke into second place among the money winners, his $4,116 being topped only by Lloyd Maxbaum of Chicago, $6,875, $6,338 includes the $600.66 he picked up yesterday for fifth place in with Les Workman of Jacksonville, Fla.

Ed "Poky" Oliver of Seattle, who has not yet had a chance to read back for a first round 68 to collect $1,000 in third place money at 276, a stroke behind him was Wesley Meyer of Cedarhurst, N. Y., who won $800.

MAY THE BEST MEN WIN

VOTERS of Mamaroneck and Larchmont are to be treated next month to full-fledged village elections. Both parties have placed complete tickets of their own choosing in the Village Board contests. That's a healthy condition. It stimulates greater interest in municipal affairs. It brings into the open issues which might otherwise remain a closed book to the electorate.

Both parties have every reason to be proud of the calibre of the nominees they are offering for public service. Particular credit goes to the Democrats who face greater difficulty in inducing qualified candidates to run because of the tremendous odds they face in this top heavy Republican community.

For Larchmont it is the first time in three years that rival parties have contested village elections. The past election agreements by both parties have assured the Democratic Party of minority representation on the Board. This system, too, has made merit where majority rule is as strong as it is an insurmountable barrier to a sizeable minority group.

There can be no question about the political faiths of the men selected by both parties to carry their banners in next month's elections. They are clearly drawn.

In Larchmont the Democrats have pinned their hopes of victory on Edward P. Moehan and Edward E. White, both newcomers to the local political scene. Opposing them are Trustees Kane and Coladisa, both of whom have long participated in Republican village activities.

No one can doubt the political sincerity of Mayor Donoy and Trustee Mann, closely identified with Republican politics and beliefs. Both John Haggerty and Francis P. McGoough have been Democratic stalwarts since the start of their voting days.
Mr. Haggerty, who is a well known and respected member of representation can be depended upon to wage a vigorous and patriotic campaign for the Democratic line. Mr. McGoough is a stolid party man. He has been the popular leader of Mamaroneck Democrats for a number of years. Although somewhat conservative, both men led their party's fight for no endorsement of Republican nominees; no acceptance of so-called independents and no nomination of questionable political affiliation as has unfortunately happened in previous election battles here.
They insisted on an out-and-out Democratic fight, win or lose.
For that they deserve the admiration of both parties.

Regardless of the outcome of either election, Mamaroneck and Larchmont residents are assured of capable, conscientious public officials in the men now running for seats on the Village Boards.

We reserve our decision until the issues are more clearly drawn.

A TRIAL AND A TEST

QUERIES are being made of proposed alternate routes to replace Sprain Brook Parkway "blow-off" in Yonkers.
When the County's engineering and planning experts complete their compilation of land-acquisition and construction costs, potential property-damage and family-development factors in each of the alternative plans, their comprehensive report will go to a special committee of the Board of Supervisors and eventually to the latter body itself. Then there will be a public hearing, as a basis for the ultimate route decision.

In other words, every effort is being made to do this big and important job economically and with a minimum of injury to the property owners who will be immediately affected.

But none of those involved in this situation, nor any of those who will be involved in similar situations which are certain to arise as other arterial highways are planned in and for this county, should lose sight of two considerations:

First, no matter where a new highway is placed, some people must be inconvenienced and displaced in order for the continued growth and development of Westchester, for the benefit of all Westchester people, depends on wise highway planning.

Advisers Censure Truman Credit Policies; Decline Of Businessmen's Confidence Cited

WASHINGTON — President Truman may soon duplicate his earlier credit policy, which has aroused in the Reconstruction Finance Corp. Equitable by compromising the latter credit policy with the Federal Reserve Board over the inflationary use of billions of dollars of bank credit throughout the nation.

His more sensible advisers have warned him that his lending and credit policies were destroying the confidence of business and industry.

The White House has been impressed and shocked — by the way in which the banking community has reacted to the credit policy of the Reconstruction Finance Federal Reserve, which will warrant an increase in the interest rate on government loans, to raise the cost of money generally.

There has been hardly a whip-per of support for the earlier credit policy, which was in effect for the last 95 per cent rate for Federal securities.

OUTVOTED — The extremists
in both camps have been slaved into the background by the pragmatic majority. The latter group W. Snyder, who has been the chief champion of the inflationary 2 1/2 per cent figure, is in the hospital for a few weeks. His disappearance may help toward a settlement.

YOU'RE TELLING ME!
BY WILLIAM RITT
Central Press Writer

Egypt is having trouble with unrested, demanding voters of women. Tip to King Farouk—better give in now, kid; they are bound to have the last word.

A Burlington, N. C. house, we read, is built of one-pair legs. It sounds like an ideal spot for a party.

Three thousand Detroit kids watching a circus saw a lion attack and kill a circus bear. He read, 2,999 thought the fight a fake.

Everytime a New York City
resident inhales he absorbs 185, 000 specks of dirt. And these statistics were gathered before that recent basketball scandal broke.

A music-playing "robot" in an English farmhouse turned out to be just a mouse frolicking about a piano. But that robot has a big TV future.

The "pencil look" is a new male fashion for women. Every man who's worn a dinner jacket achieved that years ago.

It's an old-fashioned sparrow who still hangs around telephones and telegraph wires with all those shiny super-modern television antennas sprouting everywhere.

Federal Reserve Governor James K. Vardaman Jr., who carried the Truman torch within that agency, has been outvoted twice by members of the board and the Open Market Committee on the question of backing down from the White House demands.

With his group almost solidly behind him, Federal Reserve Chairman Thomas B. McCabe has sent two letters to Mr. Truman, explaining the problem's implications in simple, elementary terms.

COMPROMISE — The progressive compromise contemplates raising the interest rate approximately 3 per cent instead of the 2 1/2 inaction on by the Treasury. Arranging the details for applying this figure to present, future and refunding issues may be difficult, but it is believed that it can be accomplished without too much trouble.

Sir Stafford Cripps made the charges in Britain, in which he discovered that the 2 1/2 rate had a distressingly inflationary effect on the national economy—higher prices, living costs generally.

COUNCIL — It now develops that two of the backstage powerhouses of the Truman-Snyder theory of "cheap and easy money"
were the ultra-liberal members of the President's Economic Advisory Council. They are Louis H.
Kueperling, chairman who wrote many New Deal reforms as secretary to former Senator Robert F. Wagner, and John D. Clark, a lawyer-professor from Wyoming.

They have long advocated the idea that the government should take advantage of its control of the steel industry. If private interests did not increase capacity in accord with his specifications.

Their insistence on a cheap-by-rowing rate for the government absolutely would strengthen the long-range program for Federal control, operation and possible ownership of plants under the rearmament program.

"BONANZA" — The Keveling-
Clark antagonism toward Wall Street has been reflected in the classical of Federal interest rates in the nation and the Eastern Board and the Open Market Committee. They are now 2 1/2 per cent, and the rate is 3 per cent, Mr.
Clark retorted.

"All you need to do is to make money for New York and Chicago banks. A 3 per cent return would be a bonanza for them."

"FEDS" — "I don't care what the rate is," barked a prominent but angry banker of national repute. "All I want is a rate that will make banks, life insurance companies, investment trusts etc.

hold their 'feds' instead of selling them to us, so that they can go out and make more loans.
It's 3 per cent will do that, Tim for it. If a zero rate will do it, Tim for that. We've got to stop this dangerous and damnable inflation!"

As a matter of fact, many economists doubt whether even a 3 per cent rate would induce banks to hold onto their 'feds.' But representatives of many insurance firms, trust funds and similar ventures have told Federal Reserve that this return would satisfy their actuarial and investment needs, at least for the present. With continued inflation, all lets would be up.

Wife, Separated From Mate, Asks Name Question

BY EMILY POST
A reader explains her situation:
" My husband and I will I believe, eventually get a divorce.
Right now through, we're just living apart by mutual agreement.
I suppose by every legal right I own I'm still Mrs. John Jones. Naturally there would be no continuation of my continuing this name as long as there can be no second Mrs. Jones. But there is continuation of another sort. People who don't know the real situation assume that when there is a Mrs.
John Jones there is bound to be a Mr. Jones in the house. It does not embarrass me to explain that my husband and I are separated.
But I know it does embarrass some of them who bring up the subject of a husband unknowingly. Whisk leads me to ask,
Should I change my name even though there is as yet no divorce? What shall it be?"

If you would like to have people know that you are separated and you would like to call yourself Mrs. (your own family name), Jones which you would do if you were divorced. There is no rule governing the use of this name which actually means permanence of separation.

Question: At the wedding reception (let's down collation) should the parents be seated at one table? Who else at this table with them? Would it be pleasanter if each family had its own table and best friends seated with them?

Answer: There is no fixed rule, but it is most usual—especially when the groom's family are strangers—for the bride's parents, as hosts, to seat the bridegroom's parents at their table.
Any grandparents would be seated at this same table, and possibly the clergyman and if he is married, his wife.

Try And Stop Me!

The death of Frank Phillips in Atlantic City last August ended the success story of one of the most colorful figures in American industry. Phillips began his career as a barber in Creston, Iowa.
He had been a successful artist wearing striped pants when he was a boy, and then and there resolved to have a pair like them for himself.

In a few years he owned all the barber shops in the county, and had married the leading digging for oil in Oklahoma, and brought in eighty barrels in success! With his first million he had all the pipes, faucets and door knobs in his house changed to solid gold. He lived to see his Phillips Petroleum Company become one of the greatest oil pro-

Phillips had a bluff, hearty sense of humor and supplied a his most original sallies. Typical was his explanation for a few

Yankees Take Tense Battle To Repeat Over Tech Cagers; Petrie Offense-Defense Ace

Coach Jack Hasley pulling out every conceivable trick out of his hat and the Petrie at the helm of the attack Bellows last for 42.

It convinced the county that as the best the 1951 EWAC loop has to offer by taking him out of his hat and the Petrie at the helm of the attack Bellows last for 42.

There wasn't a point made in the first four minutes of the game as the boys got their court feet but Bellows took a 4-1 jump on Angelo Evangelista's three-point play after Joe Costa's foul. Then Edson scored with three quick baskets and the home forces were on top, 7-4 at the end of the slightly wind first session.

Locks Trail At Half Evangelista, Delmer and Petrie hit from in close to send the visiting team on top by 14-11 at the end of the first half. In the first minutes of the first half there came a 14-14 tie to nurse during the intermission.

Petrie had been held to one point by the entire first half but he took the wraps off his vaunted shooting eye in the third quarter. Petrie hit a pair of the Panther sparking, then Ken Delmer and a pair of the Blue-Black swished a set before a shot by Frank Pokorny turned in with a short set of his own to settle the score at 20-17.

Tommy Bazzano, the old ball player from Middletown, Conn., who has bounced rather loudly at the County Center the past two seasons, was reduced to a mere squeak at the local light arena. Jack Keough, who had done a fine job throughout the game, treated an ankle and had to be taken out of the game at one point.

Edson made best use of his strength on the night of the game. He was completely outclassed last night, but even Keough was able to admire his gutsy, game struggle.

Tigers Tossed By Yonkers, 57-42, After Getting Off To Fast Start

A photograph of a basketball game in progress, showing players from Yonkers and the Tigers on the court.

Yonkers' 57-42 defeat for Mamaroneck High's quiet on its home court was typical of the 12 setbacks the Tigers suffered this season. Yonkers' Paulson handed out the lead-lagging court medicine in this latest episode of MHS hoop vulnerability and only a slim crowd turned out for the afternoon tussle. Even some of the "regular" fans were missing and perhaps it was for the best because the manner in which the Bengals collapsed would have tested the strength of the best.

With rebounding-regulars Larry Collins and Dick Koch on the sidelines, Mamaroneck began the tilt with a small but speedy crew that dumped 30 points in the first 10 minutes of play. Before even Yonkers' highly respected coach, Les Beck knew what happened, he had conceded that many spectators who had come to watch the game were likely to nod any kind of a lead, and sure enough, by halting the host club was limping on just a one-point edge. It took about three minutes of in-banking ball before Yonkers to spear the front-end and they didn't relinquish it the rest of the way, nailing on the cushion points in the fourth quarter.

Yonkers, which isn't any better or worse than any of the other WIAA entries this season, used the rebounding of Pete Milano to supply the difference in the contest. The bulky Bulldog based the bonus for 25 points while Tommy Carro, having difficulty getting into play, drove in with an even 20 tallies. The figures show that the Orange cagers stayed in the ball game with their foul shooting. Ordinarily swept from the 15-foot charity line, the Tigers suddenly found the range to flip 18 out of 24, probably the best percentage by a Westchester quonnet this campaign. Yonkers wasn't exactly outdone, however, since the backmen summed 25 out of 41, which will be acceptable to any coach you can name. There were the dreary fray, the Orange drawing 30 of them and getting the raw end of numerous calls.

US, Argentina In Scrap For Pan-Am Title

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — As expected, the first Pan American games are shaping up as a scrum between the always powerful United States and up-and-coming Argentina.

With six final events completed, the U. S. led with 40 points in unofficial standings, against 36 for Argentina. As in the Olympics, no official point total is kept, but on a basis of 10, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1 for six places, others in the scoring column are:

Mexico 21, Peru 14, Brazil 11, Chile 7, Cuba 4 and Guatemala 3. Here are the six champions at the closing:

Women's discus—Inebrod Melendez, 126 feet 5 inches. Men's 100-meter run—Curtis Stone, USA, 11:08.5. Men's high jump—Virgil Stevens, USA, 6 feet 4 1/4 inches. Team foil fencing—USA, 50-meter free pistol, individual—Edo's Vaques, Cuba, 449 points. 80-meter free pistol, team—Mexico.

As these are the first games of their kind, many winning performances stand as a record. The U. S. won its first basketball game in the round-robin series, defeating Ecuador, 74-32, and arch-rival Argentina, defeated Mexico easily, 84-45.

In baseball, the Wake Forest College team representing the U. S. crushed Argentina, which is unaccustomed to this sport, 9-1, but later on must face first class clubs of Venezuela and Cuba, both favorites.
