TEEN-AGE TEMPEST

By DIXIE HARRIS

Tomorrow is Ground Hog Day but since such things are apt to be all too wrong, we'll just leave our crystal ball and turn around to look into the past.

It isn't the dim and dark variety of past, as a matter of fact, it's very recent, the most recent being a party Dick Ehrenberg gave for Jane Weismann, Bill Johnson, and Ann Murray. They started off the evening by playing charades with talented Bill Muldoon, Arlene Van Valkenburg, Jim Van Noppen, and Carole Fleming. After a few rounds, or whatever you call them, the doorbell rang, and in walked Joe Cleaver, Eleanor Dockett, Warren Jean, Linda Fryer, Jim Borron, Jean Fryer, Frances O'Dwyer, and Nancy Frankel. The ranks of this party were suddenly swelled about 12 p. m. when a mob of people arrived from a party given jointly by Vic Zukos, Joyce Goldfinger, Dave Gross, Malle Rice, and Paul Stanton.

That same night Carol Wilkins, Julie Mullin, Joanne Lebler, and Joan Gilbert over for an evening of relaxation. They were carrying on mental gymnastics playing Scrabble with Tee-a-a Bradley, Judy Goldstein, Sam Schmedes and Toni Kennedy who should appear at the front door but Jim Hayes, Mike Shamkin, Don Rieano, Paul Cunningham, Larry Johnson, and Lou Knapport, all of whom came in to join the going-on.

JAMBALAYA: Well, here we have some sables, in the persons of Paulette Beaudry, Pat Owens, and Claire Guillard, who bowed high score of 127. Remarkable! Out for an evening's enjoyment one night were Bill Hayes, Judy Dillenber, Arnie Tupper, and Bea Bloch, who went up to the hillside, where they bumped into Frank Ollinger, Marie Bell, Buddy Hughes, Judy Page, Willy-O Smith, and Nancy Emald. They finished their exams and then took off to go skating—that describes Robbie Weismann, Joe Reare, Charles Bloch, and Bill Shockey. After eating lunch with Marie, Charles, Judy Dillenber and Nancy Frankel went to see "Dial M for Murder," and were thoroughly chilled by Maurice Evans' wonderful performance. "More than two-geers" while Louise Holman and Steve Weismann saw "Me and Juliet." Bea Bloch was applauding "Kind Sir". Tucci's was again the rendezvous for a gang of MBers; namely Linda O'Donohue, Bob Yeomann, J. J. Wilson, Dick Stewart, Dot Flynn, Tom Keatney, and Bob Mosher.

About three somebody gave a slumber party—too many kids getting their full quota of sleep. At the one Bobbie Levanthal gave for Priscilla Smith, Betty Hill, Sue Seale, Sue Marcus, and Emily Semko, hardly anybody got enough, with the result that there were several scooped girls seen around town the next day. Then exam week, the staff of "Scraps" was typing madly in order to meet the second deadline, which was this Friday. Intellectual intelligence—Martha Phillips, editor-in-chief. Don't forget the student faculty basketball game on Feb. 4 at Bellows—come and cheer your favorites.

"Never Underestimate the Power of a Woman" is an epigram that contains a lot of truth and sense. Anyhow, when the Quill and Scroll Society decided to give a dance—their first, and maybe the first dance ever put on by any club at MB— they wisely chose to make it a Sallie Hawkins dance (this is known as unbiased writing). So when Friday Feb. 12, rolls around, the myriads of couples pouring through the doors between 8:30 and 11:30 will be there as a result of the invitation of the girl and her B.F.

Naturally, since it's a Sallie Hawkins affair, the girl will be allowed to ask the boy, to open doors for him and to get the refreshments. In short, she'll be permitted to do all the charming things that the boy is supposed to do for her.

Not all the work is being done by the girls for this dance, however. Andy Morrissette, president of Q & S, is general chairman, while helping him out will be Malle, who's hiring the band; Cox Ferrall and Judy Goldstein, who are thinking up some wild entertainment; Barbara's Hayman, who's seeing that the dance is advertised; and Judy Dillenber and Lee Calpin, who are hatching plans for the decorations. Also chattering on at committee heads are Bob Mosher, business; Arlette Merolle, dance book; Mary Evelyn Tyler and Betsy Lee, refreshments; W. J. R. O. Smith, cleanup; and Judy Baker, chairwoman.

The proceeds aren't going to merely fill up the coffers of the Q & S, instead they will be used to foot the bill for linoleum prints and photographs for this year's issue of Ousser and Black Leaves (the literature mag of MB).

All things considered, this dance should be quite a success—so get a date, girls. It seems funny to be suggesting that a girl ask a date for a dance—! See you all next Monday.

Broken Collarbone Feared As Kenney Is Again Injured

GUERIN NETS 38 AS IONA CRUSHES FAIRFIELD, 77-62

BRIDGEPORT—Rochie Guerini, one of the nation's top scorers, last night got an Iona College mark by tallying 38 points to spark the Gaels to a 77-62 triumph over Fairfield University at the North End Boys Club gymnasium.

The Gaels captain's previous high mark was 39 against Marshall on Jan. 2 at Madison Square Garden.

Fairfield had battled the New Rochelle outfit on even terms until the 6-foot 4-inch Guerini embarked on an exciting scoring crusade late in the third period.

Four minutes of the quarter remained when Bob Markovic of Iona's reserves converted a free throw to break a 47-47 deadlock.

Bob Scott then hit on a jump shot and Andy Rice scored two foul line losses and Iona led 45-43.

Guerini then took over and caged 12 markers while the Fairfield squad could manage only seven and the Westchester team 11.

Former Eastchester M athlete Henry P. Schmitt, who scored 15 points for Fairfield, did not relax his pace and averaged 11 points more in the fourth quarter.

A breakdown of his record performance showed Guerini had 14 of 17 ability plays and netted 12 baskets on set shots and driving layups.

He received a tremendous ovation from the crowd of 500 when he hit the contest a minute before the final buzzer. Guerini has compiled 324 points in 11 titles, an average of 25 per game.

Coach Jim McDermott's basketball team whipped Fairfield in all five games of the series played to date.

McDermott was handicapped somewhat yesterday when two key men—Wally McCarroll and Scott—were sidelined for most of the second period because both had incurred three personal fouls.

Next game for the galling Gaels is Saturday at the Jersey City Armory against St. Peter's.

Mike's Coadunado notched games of 158 and 162 for a 320 as Alley Kattaloff Black Hawks 1-1.

Young Caps Honored

However, Hawk's Jack Young scored sizzles scores of 200 and 181 for a total, thereby guaranteeing pin laurels of the star.

Winning Dimples were led by Bill Putter, with games of 150 and 154 for 304, Royaling Royal's Diamond Lucky Strikes in final game.

The results:

NEW YORK (AP)—Philadelphia's Bill Johnston held the most comfortable lead of the season in the National Basketball Association's individual scoring race today—110 points over Ed Maroney of the Boston Celtics.

Teaching In Sunday Schools Scored By Diocesan Educator

The confusion existing in the parishes of the Episcopal Church in the Sunday schools was the subject of a talk given last night in St. John's Church by the diocesan educator, Mr. J. Stuart Wetmore, director of the religious education for the diocese, addressing 100 Sunday School teachers, parents and members of the Evening Guild of the church.

Stressing that the church has been in error in considering that it can in 40 minutes on one day develop a Christian personality, that the chief factor in the growth of a Christian personality is the home and that therefore the aim in Christian education should be directed at the adults in the church, Mr. Wetmore advised a concerted educational program to develop mature adult minds.

"The Church," he said, "for far too long has been satisfied with purely intellectual, rote learning. There are too many people who know the right answers but do not make any difference to them. We have been aiming at the wrong target." Mr. Wetmore went on to point out that many Sunday School teachers are "text-books wired for sound" and that "you can't teach religion from a text-book." It is dry rote eating at the heart of the Episcopal Church, he emphasized, with "many members who have a childlike concept of God."

Mr. Wetmore's talk followed a meeting of the Evening Guild held in the Chapter Room of the Evening Guild Meets.

Mrs. George Charles Richard, 2nd Guild president, opened the meeting with a prayer and committee report on business session. The budget was accepted and $100 was voted upon to help the Guild.

Mrs. Ralph Phelps, Camp Fire Council president, announced the Regional Conference to be held in Reading, Penn., April 28 to 29. ## Bellows Dumps Bronxville For Sixth Conquest, 58-44, As Clowe, Hayden Set Pace

For 3rd Loss In Row; Muench Stars Again Little Tiger Skins Hits 7

Sparked by the heads up play of Oliver Clowe and Gene Hayden, F. Z. Bellows' improved basketball team surprised Bronxville with a one-sided 58-44 setback yesterday at the Bronxville High school gymnasium.

Clowe, area's leading scorer, registered 15 points to raise his scoring total to 165, while Hayden, a reserve unit Net Captain, added his writ in the fast-breaking contest. Two weeks ago, supplemented Oliver's effort with 14 markers.

The triumph was the sixth in 11 starts for the Panthers and also extended their winning streak to the longest of the season—a large "two". The defeat was the sixth in eight outings for the Broncs.

Hayden, who had clocked for only eight points in Bellows' first eight contests, has set the pace into his own with fine ballhandling and accurate shooting. He closed yesterday's game, he has recorded 21 points in his last three titles for a better than 10-point average.

Evincing a sharp fastbreaking attack, Coach Jack Haley's charges scored on a 20-0 second period lead against the Bocs' 2-2-2 zone. The Panthers, meanwhile, played an effective 1-3-1 zone at Bronxville.

Despite dominating the boards in the second game, the Broncs still fell further behind with Penalties costed to an easy victory.

Bronxville's Conny Krak was off his shooting, as were all his teammates except Dick Bellows who recorded six field goals and four fouls for 16 markers. Krak, average of 12 points a game, was limited to a field goal and foul.

The Blue set sprained his ankle at the start of the final quarter, and reports are that he will be out for at least two weeks. Krak, average of 12 points a game, was limited to a field goal and foul.

SERVING MAMARONECK AND LARCHMONT

MAMARONECK, N. Y., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1954

ESTABLISHED OCT. 1925

DEWEY SUGGESTS PERMANENT RAISE

Cost-Of-Living Increases Would Be Kept
ALBANY (AP)—Governor Dewey asked the Legislature today to make permanent the $31 million in cost-of-living pay increases granted the state's 80,000 employees in 1951 and 1952.

In addition, the Governor indicated another boost was in the offing for several thousand state workers in low salary brackets, to correct inequities. It was believed unlikely that there would be any across-the-board raise.

Mr. Dewey's plan to freeze the temporary raises into the regular salary schedule, certain of approval, highlighted a special message to the Legislature in which he also proposed:

- 1. Broadening and strengthening the pension and social security protection of civil servants.
- 2. Retirement credit for Korean War veterans.
- 3. Amending the state security law to permit the Civil Service Commission to adopt the findings and determinations of supervisory organizations made by other authorized state and federal agencies.

Mr. Dewey said his recommendations represented "an effort to enhance the dignity and security of public employees in this state" and "are measures of our determination to attract to the public service the best talent and imagination and competence."

With reference to a possible pay boost in the fiscal year beginning April 1, Mr. Dewey said the first order of business was to correct inequities in the salary schedule.

He referred presumably to the state employees in the low-pay brackets. Among them are stenographers and attendants at state institutions, totaling about 10,000.

4-Way Break-Up Raised Barriers Against Approval

WASHINGTON (AP)—A four-way break up in the Senate raised new barriers today against approval of any Constitutional amendment on treaty powers.

The week-long maneuvering used as a tool and showpiece moved up on a proposal by Senator Bricker, R., Ohio, to limit the scope of treaties and to provide for Congressional ratification of all international agreements.

Senator George D. Ga. leader of one of the largest of four blocs with conflicting ideas, said the chances are "very poor" that Mr. Bricker's proposal, strongly backed by President Eisenhower, will die in the Senate or pass by a committee vote.

Mr. Bricker himself led a group which fought the Knowland amendment, acceptable as far as it went, but still called for additional broadened congressional authority over treaties and Presidential agreements which now are not subject to Senate ratification.

Korean's G.I.'s Letter Stirs Interest In M.H.S. Classrooms

Sometime ago an American G.I. serving in North Korea penned a letter to Louis Bromfield taking the famous author to task for his criticism of the Korean War effort.

Does that letter with its simple and direct expression of the responsibilities of citizenship in this country, has found its way into American History classrooms at Mamaroneck High School.

The letter is being patriotically studied by Juniors and Seniors entered in the Citizenship Project Awards contest for which annual prizes of $200 for the first three places have been offered.

Mr. Bromfield charged that American boys were "conscripted into enthusiasm" and sent overseas to defend a backward and despotic regime. He said that some of the "best" of our people were raised to the highest refinement and sent abroad to any iterate people.

Actually, the letter was conscripted and sent abroad to be read by the students.

REACTION TO THE DEWEY BUDGET
AS MIGHT be expected, the 1954-55 budget proposed for the state by Governor Dewey has brought forth differing interpretations and opinions. To various persons it means a variety of things.

To the Democrats there is an outright abandonment of the pay-as-you-go policy. To taxpayer organizations there is articulate anguish in that the figures again reach a record peak. To the Republican organization there is pointing with pride in that higher expense is met without any tax rate increase.

Certainly the budget, in its making, presented to Governor Dewey and Budget Director Norman Hurd a series of complicated problems. For one, there was the necessity of raising supplementary funds for capital projects. For another, there was the sharply defined limitation on the area in which money could be effected. For it must always be borne in mind in discussing the State budget that 96 per cent goes to localities as state aid under a fixed formula. That leaves only 44 per cent for State operations wherein cuts may be made.

On the capital expenditures, which are outstanding items in the new budgets, the Governor proposes a 10-year $350-million program of mental-hospital construction, another $350-million fund for completion of the four State Thruway "spurs", including our own New England Thruway, and in addition the Governor wants a start at least on an arterial and highway construction program which may cost in the next decade as much as $3 billion.

These are admittedly staggering sums. It is no wonder, then, that to a degree there must be a departure from the pay-as-you-go policy. But there is a limit to which this pattern may be stretched and we appear to have reached that limit. So, before the people, in referendum form, will go the question this Fall of whether the $350 million mental-hospital program shall be on a bond-issue basis.

There is one item in the budget on which there may well be honest disagreement. This applies to the proposed use of "temporary" World War II bonus money for the mental hospitals. This bonus money, it will be recalled, was raised from a 1-cent-a-pack tax on cigars and a 10 per cent jump on individual income taxes. The bonus is now pretty well paid off. Governor Dewey proposes to continue the bonus taxes, using the excess of about $27 million next year to help out on the mental hospitals, and thereafter the whole $60 million yearly to help meet the hospital bonds as they fall due.

This is, in a sense, a repudiation of the understanding that when the bonus was completely paid, these "temporary" taxes would cease. But instead they will probably continue. That indirect shift is subject to criticism.

In general, disregarding any bookkeeping "magic" in the Dewey budget, it seems sound. But, overall, it is based upon the Governor's assumption that "there is no reason for anticipating a serious recession."

Should he be wrong, and should his high estimates of continued high earnings and income tax payments therefrom prove wrong, we will be in trouble.

Try And Stop Me

Despairing of finding an able-bodied man to help him with the harvesting, Farmer Tertius had to settle for a pretty feeble character, a scrawny fellow, 3'10" tall. The first evening, he required a hand around an enormous duster without volunteering more than a satisfied grunt or two. The next day he had to hit the stack. Come 5 A. M., while it was still pitch black outside, Farmer Tertius pulled him out of bed and led him to breakfast. Again he ate a whopping meal, pushed back his chair, and cracked happily. "This sure is the place! I've been looking for two big supports in one night!"—and headed back to his bedroom.

6 MHS Swimmers Suffer First Loss

All good things must come to an end, and so did P. E. Bellows' two-game winning streak (longest of season) last night as Pleasantville dished the Panthers, 6-4, in SWIAC competition at the Pleasantville High School gymnasium.

Other league action found Eulichter and Rey notching their sixth triumph in seven matches.

Lack of reserve strength, evidenced even while Mamaroneck High School's swimming team was coasting to three easy victories, proved costly yesterday at the New Rochelle YMCA pool.

Co-captain Bill LeMoult got the Tigers off to a quick start with the 50-yard freestyle, but the Panthers finished second and third, and Mamaroneck only edged the winners.

Barry Hankinson put the Pleasantville team in the fourth consecutive meet, splashing the 100-yard breaststroke in 2:04.2 time. Pulci finished second as Mamaroneck took a 12-6 deficit.

Later in the meet Hankinson won the 100-yard breaststroke in 2:04.2 time. Pulci finished second as Mamaroneck took a 12-6 deficit.

"Please," we said anxiously over the phone two hours before the column's deadline. "Please let us hand it in late!" Permission was granted with the hope of a scoop held forth across a telephone wire. However, one scoop was scooped, and another, by our very own paper—on the sports page, to be exact. Yet the Daily Times took their first bite of the story of the Police-Varsity-Faculty game last Thursday night, but devoted only one sentence to the said Leaders Club vs. the faculty faculty game. We'll give you a fill-in.

By a score of 51-26 the faculty team was roundly trounced by the students, including Jackie O'Neil, Connie Battista, Jack Hertz, and Nancy Thompson. Although Nancy White Carson, Katherine Poley, Gwen Kahrlie, and Carol Sillick can't make a basket, they played a good game (obviously) with the help of Mary Savage and Betty Jordan.

The match consisted of four quarters, but the faculty team's teachers were so very attractive, they were not allowed to play. The game was officiated by the faculty, and the girls' routines in gettup straight from the Moving Violation.

And while we're on the subject, do you know that the Varsity squad had a very attractive girl for their captain? Her name is Jeanne Bradley Jarrold. She is a very attractive girl, and she is a very attractive girl. She is a very attractive girl, and she is a very attractive girl.

JAMPALAYA. When I saw my daughter and her friends, I was very surprised. They were very surprised. They were very surprised. They were very surprised.

Mary Margaret Says Bragging Contest Results When Missourians Meet

When writer Homer Crox, who originated a 10-cent annual Missourians' contest, came anywhere within talking distance of me, we would exactly like children in a bragging bout as we reminisce.

Washington Correspondent... The House took two roll-call votes on a measure diverting some of the waters of Lake Michigan through the Chicago sewage barge canal.

Both of Westchester's lives Ralph W. Gwin of Bronckville and Ralph A. Gwin of Larchmont were recorded against the measure, which would adversely affect the Lawrence Seaway project.

Both voted for an amendment which was defeated 202 to 177, which would have delayed the diversion until the Army Engineer survey of the entire Great Lakes water level was completed.

Vote Slated March 11 On School Expansion

A referendum on the proposed $2.1 million expansion plan for the Ryer Neck School district will be held March 11 at Bellows Falls High School, it was decided last night at a meeting of the Ryer Neck Board of Education in a meeting at the Barry Avenue School.

The referendum will be held at 7 A. M. on March 11, 1954. The school board will be open from 7 A. M. to 9 P. M.

In preparation for the vote, a public meeting will be held at Bellows Falls on Feb. 23 at which questions will be discussed and a brochure will be ready next week explaining the plan.

It is proposed, Russell Pelton, chairman of the board's planning committee, said, to distribute the brochure to all line school voters in the district. A pamphlet, according to Mr. Pelton, will be more complete than the plan and is more complete than any we have seen from other districts to give the facts.

The board last night also designated the Palmer site as a school site. The Larchmont property which was purchased on authority of a referendum held Dec. 10 had already been so designated.

A 60 per cent affirmative vote on the part of the electorate is required if the plan is to be approved. The board also designated a referendum held Dec. 10 had already been so designated.

The proposed plan envisages the construction of a Junior-Senior High School on the Palmer-Larchmont site and alterations to both Bellows High School and the Barry Avenue School so that both may be used for lower elementary grades.

Ryer Neck Pupils To Visit Albany

After lengthy discussion, the Ryer Neck Board of Education last night approved a split three to two vote approval of a proposed Albany field trip for seventh-grade pupils to visit the Capitol, State Office Building, Museum, Library, Education Department and other buildings of interest.

The trip was recommended by Superintendent of Schools Avin W. Hicks and had the approval of William McAloon, principal of Bellows High School.

According to the proposal the trip will be for two days and one night to be spent in the capital and will require the supervision of three teachers. Arrangements will be made for make-up opportunities in other classes and attendance on the trip will be counted as "present in school" for participation in an educational field trip.

Cost About $22

The idea would be approximately $22 for each pupil and it is estimated that approximately 80 of the 89 seventh-grade students would take the trip.

Reluctance to approve the proposal was voiced because not all children in the grade would be taking the trip, because of the extra cost in hiring substitutes, teachers to be free for the classes and because some board members felt that more trips to take in the educational opportunities in New York City might be more beneficial than a trip so far afield as Albany.

In essence of the proposal it was said that the trip would be the seventh grade study of the State government with actual experience and that the return to page 2, please.

Child Help Bill Urged By County

$120,000 State Aid For Neglect Cases Is Sought

WHITE PLAINS — The county's representatives in the State Legislature were urged yesterday to seek passage of a bill that would permit state reimbursement for neglected children committed by a child's court.

The Board of Supervisors approved a resolution urging the necessary amendments of the State Social Welfare Law that could bring between $10,000 and $120,000 in State aid to Westchester.

The law now stands, reimbursement is received on child cases permanently discharged to care of public welfare commissioners or other agencies but reimbursement for neglected children is temporarily committed.

A bill would bring reimbursement in both instances, it is committee in the Assembly and Senate.

Four Super Ways Urged By Dewey

Governor Asks Study Of Proposed Routes By Legislature

ALBANY (AP) — Governor Dewey today proposed that the Legislature begin study of four new superhighways.

In a special message to the Legislature, Mr. Dewey said the State was in "striking distance" of completing the main trunk of the New York-Buffalo section of the Thruway and that attention should be given to other arterial routes.

The routes he proposed are: north to the Canadian border, serving Springs, Glen Falls, Lake George, Plattsburgh and the Adirondacks.

"Economical Super Highways" would be a southern bypass from the Elmira-Binghamton to the St. Lawrence River opening what he called new "economic" routes to the Adirondacks, Elmira, Binghamton, Oneonta, Cortland, Syracuse, Watertown, the Thousand Islands and other communities along the route.

PRAYER FOR TODAY: In humble acknowledgment of Your will, dear God of righteousness, I ask the personal strength and courage to deal with adversity. I am aware that difficulties—such as many occasions for rejoicing and gladness—will come my way through the coming months. I see only that I be blessed with spiritual understanding, with patience with hope and with faith. May Your ever-available Presence assist me in every time of need, that I may be able to deal with adversity with confidence. Amen.

Justice Delayed—Is Denied

PERIODICALS here are reports that congestion of our court calendars here in Westchester prevent speedy trial of the issues.

Sometimes the reports are officially denied. At other times, the delay is admitted, and thereupon a cry arises for more judges, as consequently heavier costs to taxpayers.

We suggest that there are other alternatives.

One would be for the courts to work longer hours—and throughout the Summer months.

Another would be for the courts to prohibit any one or more popular law firms from piling up such backlogs of clients that trials must be postponed for months.

This recommendation is particularly applicable to firms specializing in negligence cases involving property loss and personal injury.

For example, we read of a woman injured in a taxicab accident on May 2, 1951.

The case reached trial only on Friday, Feb. 6, 1954.

That's not good, is it?

Deposits of the savings banks rose from $315,093,000 to $334,533,000.

THE GOP IS A CENTURY OLD

AS LINCOLN DAY comes again on Friday, traditional occasion for forensic pointing with pride and viewing with alarm by Republican spokesmen, it might be pertinent to note that at the end of this month that party will observe its 100th birthday.

It was on Feb. 28, 1854, that bitter opponents of slavery held a mass meeting in Ripon, Wis., and proposed a new party to be called Republican. The name itself was not entirely new.

Madison, Monroe and John Quincy Adams had been so designated to identify them as anti-Federalists. Adams, in fact, ran for the Presidency in 1828 as National Republican. But that shorthanded party, as such, yielded to the Whigs in 1832.

Lincoln himself was not too quick to leap into the arms of the new party in 1854. Although his political philosophy was much nearer the democratic than the Whig, Jefferson, he entered politics not as a Democrat but as a Whig. It was as a member of that party he ran unsuccessfully for U. S. Senator from Illinois in 1855.

But in 1859 Lincoln became a Republican, only two years after the party had been formed. That year he tried for nomination by the new party as Vice President but failed in the effort. Again in 1858 he ran for the Senate, only once more to taste defeat. But Lincoln, like the new party, thrived upon setbacks. And in 1860, he became the first Republican to serve as President of the United States.

Following the inheritance of succession of Johnson after the assassination of Lincoln, four Republicans successively entered the White House. They were Grant, Hayes, Garfield and Arthur. In fact, from formation of the party in 1854 until the era of the New Deal in the 1930's, Chief Executives of the nation proudly wore the GOP label.

There is, we submit, a parallel between the GOP of a century ago and a party of today. It is that in each instance, although separated by a century of history, the leader was greater than the party. Lincoln outshone the new party then as Eisenhower does the 100-year-old organization today.

And, we think, still another parallel may be noted. Lincoln, in 1855, campaigning for the Senate, said: "A House divided against itself cannot stand."

His reference was, of course, to the issue of slavery. But his words might well be taken to heart by members of his party today, as referring to their own problems.

The Republican Party, as it faces Lincoln Day, 1954, must realize that divided against itself it, too, cannot stand.
