who called to "respond wholeheartedly and open-handedly" when called upon to give to this cause.

"We Jews," says the letter, "have always prided ourselves on our response to those who are sick, visiting them, caring for them, and helping in their healing when pure basic matters (good religious ideals). We have also prided ourselves on our sensitivity to community obligations and responsibilities, and upon our readiness to discharge our civil and humanistic duties. In this case, our particular anxiety is to uphold our deep-rooted tradition of giving to a cause so closely linked to our religious ideals."

Speaking of the hospital's place in the community and its needs, the letter says:

"When accident strikes or health fails—and we never know when this may happen—our New Rochelle Hospital is here to serve us. The quality of its service and the adequacy of its facilities are matters of vital moment, affecting our very lives.

Today the hospital desperately needs expansion. Its facilities are crowded—patients are to be put on a waiting list for beds. The time to act is now—to add rooms and to replace out-worn facilities with new material."

The letters were signed by Rabbi Solomon Jacobson and Dr. Bert Leont of Anshe Shalom; Rabbi David Golotsky and Dr. Philip Kaskove of Beth El; Rabbi Leonard S. Schuler and Laurence J. Sobel; Rabbi Jacob K. Shankman and Charles S. Feinberg of the B'nai B'rith; Irving Koslowe and Hyman L. Feigerman of Westchester Jewish Center, Mamaroneck.

move these troops from the islands.

If Red planes attacked the U. S. forces, that could lead to an immediate clash of arms with the Communists.

Before Mr. Eisenhower's message, Vice Adm. Alfred M. Price, commander of the 7th Fleet, told a news conference in Taipei, Formosa, that use of aircraft in the Taicheng would be "a very grave move" but said the fleet was at the ready and could cope with any eventually.

Adm. Price's force includes four larger carriers—the Essex, Yorktown, Kearsarge and Wasps—along with supporting cruisers and destroyers.

The four carriers are 27,000-ton sister ships of what the Navy calls the Essex class. Each can carry about 100 planes.

Adm. Price's list is above the heavy cruiser Helena, a 13,600-ton ship making eight-hour runs to Manila from the Taicheng. A Taipei dispatch reported some civilians are already being moved from the Taicheng to Formosa. It said about 315 children were in the first movement and were due to arrive at Formosa tomorrow. There was no word whether the broken line had any part in this movement.

Mr. Eisenhower noted that the 7th Fleet was directed to act when the Korean fighting broke out, to defend Formosa against any Communist attack.

He said the reasons for that move are still valid, and told the Congress:

"What we are now seeking is primarily to clarify the policy and to unite in its application. We are not establishing a new policy. Consequently, my recommendations do not call for an increase in the armed forces of the United States or military procurement. If any unforeseen emergency arises requiring any change, I will communicate with the Congress. I hope, however, that the effect of an appropriate Congressional resolution will be to calm the situation rather than to create further conflict."

Ike's Talk On Formosa

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has agreed at least until tomorrow the sending to Congress of a special message dealing with the nation's health.

The White House announced Saturday the President would send to Congress today a message dealing with U. S. policy toward the defense of Formosa, and consequently would delay the health message, scheduled to go to the Capitol today.

Previously, specific American predictions had covered only Formosa and the nearby Pescadores. Indications here stip that if President Eisenhower sends the fleet to aid in evacuating the Taicheng the operation will be executed with maximum speed. It is assumed that the fleet would intervene if the Reds should try to take the Taicheng before they are evacuated, and that it would go into action in a big way if the Communists should attack an evacuation after it begins.

Natalie Scott Book Added At Local Library

The French translation of "The Little Stockade," called "La Petite Palissade" by Larchmont author Natalie A. Scott, is among the most recent additions to the shelves at the Larchmont Public Library.

The American version of the novel, which deals with production as a social problem, was published a year ago, and the British, Italian and German volumes are yet to appear. Miss Scott, who has resided at 43 Concord Avenue for seven years, is also the author of "The Story of Mrs. Murphy," which was a Book of the Month selection and is being sold for a movie, "The Sisters Lavinson," "So Brief the Year," "The Husband" and "Romance," all also dealing with social problems.

The 1954 edition of "Your Income Tax," by J. K. Lasser, which is an aid to the taxpayer, returns, is also among the recent additions. Another book which helps save it "Your and Your Insurance," by G. G. Connelin.

The new fiction list includes "Footman in Powder" by Ashton, "The Bridge Over the River Kwai" by Boyle, "The Bishop's Wife" by Cameron, "The Silent Women" by Hooton, "The Wicked" by Parr, "The Time Sergeants" by Human, "The Crazy Doctor" by Lasker, "The Wind Southerly" by Stevenson, "God Was Our Grave" by Wade, and "The Castle and the Seven of Calvary" by White.

Other books are "Ghost on Horseback" by Beck, "The Churchill Reader" by Churchill, "Pilot" by Le Var, "Marina White, Soldier-Patriot," "From Poetry and Prose" by Arnold, "New Poems 1953" by Lasker, "The Saturday Evening Post Treasury," "Tribute of Citizens" by Wyckoff-Joyce, "How to Be a Top Secretary" by Delano, "Success and What It Takes" by Edell, "An Elementary Latin Dictionary," Lewis, "A Handbook of Latin Literature," Rose, "Sterling Guide to Summer Jobs."

Also, "Life Planning for College Students," Kelly, "Techniques for Everyone," Epstein, "Lonely Voyagers," Frenkel, "Dance: A Living Art," edited by Baird, "Close Contact," Dewhurst, "How to Live Forever," Gray, "The Secret Light of Harold L. Ickes, Volume Three," "Selected Mistakes" from Science Digest, "Valkies and Gods" by Smith.

Nuptial Friction Isn't Rare; Face It To Triumph Over It

By MURIEL NISSEN
Nuptial Friction
Question: My high-school days were spent in a home of unappreciation and poverty. Fortunately for my morale, I had good friends in school and lived in love with one of them. Hugh, the most popular boy in the class.

The difference in our environment finally separated us. I have never ceased to love him. Hugh, however, had the good sense to marry me. At nineteen I got a job away from home, and lived with my aunt. My spirits were just about as good as when I met Hugh, and he realized he was interested in me, my response was quick. It was married to him, knowing there was no love on my part but hoping to make a success of our life together.

Such, was not to be the case. I discovered him to be a bore, unsocial, not particularly amiable, and over-dependent on his parents.

When our son was born, my husband was indifferent to the child. The grandparents on the other hand, were adoring from the start. My husband might change things for me, but my hopes were dashed.

Now, I actually dislike Owen. My mother has offered to take the child and I would like to see my in-laws threat to limit for custody of the child. My parents are unable to finance the cost of divorce proceedings, so I can't see any immediate change in my situation. If I leave on my own my husband has forced to support his wife. I stay my own chances of happiness are practically nil. What can I do?

Answer: A plea for divorce based on such grounds is unlikely to be given such consideration in most states. In those places where divorce would be granted, the cost would be high. Your situation, then, is certainly not to be solved easily. Legal technicalities must be settled by a lawyer and I don't know what he might advise. Certainly you had better consult a lawyer.

Impcompatibilities between husband and wife are not exactly rare. Planning away from them is easy—and cowardly. Facing and conquering them will be valiant and rewarding. Take your troubles to a marriage counselor, who will advise I am sure will be among these lines, from the facts presented, your marriage can be salvaged. Preserve the sale of your little boy, it should be.

Question: I am secretary to the manager of a large company and am frequently introduced to representatives from the field. I usually say, "Please to meet you Mr. or Mrs. So-and-so." It is correct, and also should extend my hand when saying this?

Answer: "Pleased to meet you" is a social fashion. "I'm glad to meet you" is in much better taste. Whether you hold out your hand depends upon the friendliness of your office. If friendly, you would shake hands; otherwise not.

Question: Four dozen assorted pastries were stolen between 2 A.M. Saturday when they were delivered at the door of the Depot Diner, 145 Madison Avenue, Manhattan, and J.A.M. when the diner opened for the day. It was reported to Mamaroneck police by Mrs. James Grew, an employee. Mrs. Grew said it was the second time within a week that food stuffs left at the door early in the morning were missing.

The Business Mirror

'No Pushing' Sign On Prosperity

By SAM DAWSON
A. P. Financial Editor
NEW YORK (AP)—Prosperity, however, foresees a steady gain in the year's ahead if we don't upset the apparatus by trying to shove it along too fast.

His economic report opens up a number of hot disputes in the business world:
1. Whether the business cycle has been or can be broken.
2. Whether pump priming by government doesn't do as much harm to business, in the long run, as it seems to do good at the start.
3. Whether attempts to curb speculation (as in the Stock Market) or easy money countermeasures (as in home buildings) are justified or workable.

The President's counsel of moderation will win lip service from many sides, but the American spirit in the past has been to go breakneck as long as you can.
The American businessmen tends to fret out about it business isn't better each year, or even each month. And when business turns slow, for whatever reason, many businessmen hurry to Washington to ask for various forms of pump priming.

Cautioning that trying for a boom now may be paving the way for a bust later won't be popular with those who are out you can.

Britain Hints Rail Victims

SUTTON COLDFIELD, England (AP)—Rescue workers dug through the twisted wreckage of the York-to-Bristol express today for more possible victims of the 30-minute-hour derailment which killed at least 15 persons yesterday and injured 42.

Police said more bodies, believed to be still in the pile-up debris of the train and the badly damaged Coldfield Station might raise the death toll to 18. The train hurtled off the track just as it was passing the station. The engine turned upside down, six coaches telescoped into each other and three of the four remaining cars smashed into the station building.

N. Y. Firemen Rescue Mate

NEW YORK (AP)—The roof of a three-story brick building on the lower East Side collapsed early today, pinning a fire lieutenant under a heavy wooden beam.

Despite choking fumes, two firemen freed the lieutenant. William Halperin, thirty-three, of Somerville, Queens, who is in Belton Hospital with hip and internal injuries.

The firemen who dragged aside the heavy beam while ignoring their own safety—George Perle, thirty-eight, of P. O. Park, Queens, and Bernard Wronka, thirty-nine, of Manhattan—were treated for smoke poisoning and minor injuries.

Prayer For Today
I speak my loving prayer this day, dear Loving Father, for the fact that it is my great good fortune to be a member of the United States of America...

President Eisenhower Asks for Unity and Understanding

WITHE PROPERLY President Eisenhower yesterday told Congress in his message regarding Formosa that we are not establishing any new policy. Rather, that the protection of the Nationalist Chinese forces on Formosa and adjacent islands was established in 1950 under a preceding administration and through another Congress. We are not changing that policy.

But, what the President's message yesterday was intended to accomplish is a clear-cut understanding. First, this understanding is between the United States and our enemies, Communist Russia and Red China. It is understanding that we shall fight if Formosa be endangered.

From the military viewpoint, the President's words indicate that we will remove Chinese nationalists from some islands which have no particular strategic value and let them where they will have greater impact in defense. It sounds to us like common sense. And we cannot visualize substantial opposition from Congress on either political or military basis.

What is of outstanding importance to the world is the matter-of-fact assertion by the President that "the United States must remove any doubt regarding our readiness to fight, if necessary, to preserve the vital stake of the free world in a free Formosa, and to engage in whatever operations may be required."

There is a second angle which may interest those who are for more than unilateral action. It is the President's statement that the United Nations might well call for a cease-fire between Red China and Nationalist China. We are no objection to such effort by the U. N., although the usually registered vigorous objections by both the parties would indicate little chance of success.

But let it be understood, even strongly emphasized, that reference to the U. N. of an effort toward a cease-fire does not in any sense bind the United States. If and when the time comes that we must defend Formosa and its island outposts, we do not want to fight that with one hand tied, as was the case in Korea. We learned that you can't run a war by halting it now and then.

If we must fight, let us do so with authority in the hands of military commanders on the scene and not around an or more diplomatic fables thousands of miles away.

Words and Wit

Is "Shorthand"
By WILLIAM MORRIS
A correspondent asks if I can explain the meaning of the word "cableless" which he cannot find in his dictionary.

This term, familiar to most newsmen and especially to foreign correspondents, means a sort of verbal shorthand used in cablegrams to reduce the word count of a message and thus lower its cost.

However, a lexicon which your correspondent edited some years ago defines "cableless" thus: "A condensed, succinct style of writing, notable for its use of compound words used by economists to economize on cable charges."

An example of cableless is cited in Damon Runyon's recent book about his father. It stems the elder Runyon was working on an assignment of the kind which would bring him to the city where his son was working for a rival one.

A knowledge of cableless and facility in its use is indispensable to reporters on foreign beats, but you'd better be able to show a press card if you want to get this particular brand of verbal shorthand past the cable clerks.

olio Is Still Unconquered

LEADERS who will conduct the Mothers' March for Pals in every city, village and hamlet of Westchester tomorrow night are deeply concerned over what they report widespread misunderstanding to the status of Salk anti-polio vaccine tests.

Nearly half a million children of primary school age, including several thousand in Westchester, were given the Salk anti-polio vaccine. Another large group was inoculated with a control vaccine, a substance known to have no effect on polio.

Tuna Supreme Found An All-County Dish

By ANN CHESTER Food Editor

Westchester is developing a "traditional" dish. Ubiquitous, it now up with increasing frequency out of both enjoyment and desperation, on family luncheon, supper, buffet tables, church and women's club suppers. Inexpensive filling, it is, of course, possible of many variations as Tuna Supreme.

This dish possesses the rare distinction of "waiting well" if company or club members are late. It is a good answer to the meal planner or committee mulling over "What'll we have?" It is difficult to ruin in the making, but still, should be better than it is... sometimes.

Potato Chip Base

The crisp texture which makes Tuna Supreme distinctive is created by potato chips. This American favorite, standby at ball games and outings, on king cake trays, on the cocktail table, has other valuable uses. In many recipes, the crushed potato chip replaces crushed crackers and crumbs often with improved results in flavor.

Basic Recipe

Here is the basic recipe for Tuna Supreme, for four persons. Butter a 1½ quart casserole. In alternate layers arrange two cups of tuna in bite size pieces, two cups of crumbled potato chips, 2 cups medium white sauce, ¼ cup sautéed mushrooms. Dot with butter, bake 35 minutes in a 350 degree F oven.

Or—instead of the white sauce, use a can of cream of mushroom soup, dilute with ½ can milk or light cream.

Or—instead of tuna, use canned chicken, either with the white sauce or the mushroom soup. Use the top sprinkled lightly with paprika.

New Angle on Hash

Hash-lovers are more numerous than most people imagine. For them a Potato Chip Hash is a special treat.

Boiling 1 cup cooked rice, 1 pound cooked ground beef, ½ small onion minced, salt and pepper to taste, and two well-beaten eggs. Alternate a layer of potato chips on the bottom of a greased casserole, then a layer of the mixture, then another layer of potato chips on top.

Pour ½ cup milk over all and bake 30 minutes in a 375 degree F oven.

Serves four to six, and a salad is an excellent accompaniment. So to are Frenched string beans.

Use with Tomatoes
Fry up stewed tomato recipe as customary but moist the bread cubes, and add a little more thickener than usual. Just before serving, mix in 1 cup crushed potato chips.

Lentilling dunk for your potato chips combines 4 tablespoons deviled ham with 4 tablespoons cornstarch, ½ tablespoon grated onion, 2 tablespoons or a little less of minced chives, and ½ cup curly whipped cream.

Improved packaging means the potato chip stays crisp longer. But remember a moment in a warm oven intensifies the flavor.

January's Egg Month, So Try An Omelet

By ANN CHESTER Food Editor

The egg, what would we do without it? The fact that national, local and government agencies have declared January to be "Egg Month" only points up the fact that few foods, perhaps only milk, can match the egg for both eating and nutrition value.

From the dietitian's standpoint, an egg is a combination of proteins, essential fats, vitamins A, B-one, B-two, niacin, D, E and K, and the minerals iron, phosphorus and calcium.

Egg Cooking Hints
Separation of yolks from whites is quicker and better if eggs are brought to about 90-degree temperature, so try to remove eggs from refrigerator about 45 minutes before using. Eggs beat up faster to larger volume when brought to room temperature.

In combining hot mixtures and eggs as in casseroles, etc. pour the hot mixture slowly into the beaten egg stirring or beating constantly. Store leftover eggs in a tightly covered jar in the refrigerator. They may be held a week or two.

Store leftover eggs in a tightly covered jar in the refrigerator. They may be held a week or two. Pour over yolks under water in a covered jar in the refrigerator. They may be held a week or two.

Four to six whole eggs, 8 to 10 egg whites, or 12 to 14 egg yolks are the equivalent of one standard measuring cup. And please, always serve eggs on warm plates.

Omelets with Chiff
Individual French omelets with hot chili are a welcome addition to our omelet varieties.

For 1 serving mix thoroughly with a fork, 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons milk, ½ teaspoon salt, dash of pepper. Avoid foaminess. Heat 1 tablespoon butter in skillet just not enough to sizzle a drop of water. Pour in egg mixture, reduce heat slightly. As the mixture at the edges begins to thicken, draw the cooked portions toward the center so that the uncooked portions flow to the bottom.

Tilt skillet as necessary to hasten flow of uncooked eggs. Do not stir, and keep mixture as level as possible. Shake skillet occasionally to keep omelet from sticking. When eggs no longer flow and surface is still moist, increase heat to brown bottom quickly. Carefully loosen omelet. Shake skillet again to be certain omelet is not sticking. Fold in half or roll.

Cooking time—despite all these directions—about 1½ to 2 minutes. Serve with hot chili.

Using this basic recipe, there are many variations. For a jelly omelet, merely spread the omelet, just before folding, with jelly. On every menu in France is "Omelet aux Fines Herbes". This means only that to the recipe is added a dash of chervil, basil, thyme, sweet marjoram, plus a bit of butter.

GUEST FOUND DEAD
NEW YORK (AP) — A man who registered at the Hotel Lexington last December as George Mickelson of Manhattan was found dead in his room yesterday. Police said Mr. Mickelson was forty-four and was associated with the Old Mickelson Co., marine supplies, in Manhattan. Police said the man's widow, Anne, lives his Manhattan address.

½ tablespoon of minced chives and parsley. Sautéed sliced mushrooms, sautéed tomatoes, broken crisp cooked bacon or tiny bits of ham, and other variations for omelets.

A Chinese Dish
The increasing interest in Oriental recipes has brought all sorts of new canned foodstuffs into American stores, especially the bean sprout, necessary to Egg Foo Young. Recipe makes 2 cakes.

Beat 6 eggs, slightly. Spoon chicken-vegetable mixture into beaten eggs, arranging out liquid in bottom of pan. Add 1 teaspoon salt. Mix thoroughly.

Four ½ cup mixture (also beaten), about ½ inch deep. Flatten in a ½-inch thick cake. Cook with crown on both sides. Drain and serve hot with the following sauce.

Combine juices from 1 vegetable above plus 1 cup water, 1 cup soy sauce, 1 cup rice wine, 1 cup hoisin sauce, 1 cup oyster sauce, 1 cup ketchup, 1 cup vinegar, 1 cup sugar and ½ cup liquid. Add to boiling juice, cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Add 2 tablespoons soy sauce.

GOD DINNER
Deviled Fried Chicken
Steamed Rice
Orange and Avocado Salad
Bread and Butter
Coffee Bavarian Cream
Savory

Deviled Fried Chicken
Frying chicken (about 2½ pounds ready-to-cook weight) ¼ cup flour

1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
¼ teaspoon onion garlic powder

Meat butter or margarine
Have chicken cut in eight pieces; save neck, giblets and liver for use another time. Wash and clean; drain but do not dry. Mix flour, salt, pepper, paprika, mustard, garlic and onion powder together well. Coat chicken pieces with flour mixture. Melt butter in skillet (about 10-inch size). Add chicken and brown brown well on both sides. Add a few tablespoons of water to pan and cover tightly. Cook over low heat until tender—30 minutes or so. Remove chicken to serving platter. Add two to four tablespoons water to skillet and stir over low heat to get up all browned flecks in pan; bring to a boil, add a few drops of liquid gravy seasoning or coloring if desired and pour over chicken. Makes four servings.

CHILD'S CHIN CUT
A child suffered slight injuries to the chin, causing slight lacerations, Frank O'Brien, highway superintendent, told town police after an accident and investigation revealed that the child is Janet Blomgren, seven of 8 Myrtle Boulevard. The cuts were treated by the child's mother.

Infant Safe, Girl, 14, Held

NEW YORK (AP) — A baby girl, taken from her home by a fourteen-year-old girl, was found unhurt and is back with her parents today after being missing 36 hours.

Several score policemen had searched a wide area of Manhattan for two-year-old Marie Eleanor Vannozzi and Lydia Pace, whose mother says she is emotionally retarded.

Two radio car patrolmen spotted the pair last night on a street corner only a few blocks from their home at 176 West 94th Street. Lydia was hooked on the charge of juvenile delinquency.

Lydia went to the Vannozzi apartment Sunday and told a brother of the baby, who was minding her, that her mother had sent for her. The brother turned over the baby to Lydia. When the mother learned what had happened, the family started a search.

Rye Neck

The old buildings reconstructed would still be below the average as far as facilities are concerned.

The comparative costs of operating old buildings in lieu of a new building were discussed by an unidentified person, who said that in the long run a new high school might be the cheapest solution.

"Industrial firms are not fools," he said, "and you constantly see them constructing new buildings rather than use old. They do it to save expense."

The operating costs of an old building may be more than the cost of a bond issue for a new building. The Barry Avenue School is still going to be expensive to run and in an effort to compromise on cost we may be in danger of choosing the more expensive plan," he said.

Wins For Beliefs

He suggested a study of comparative costs and said that it might be cheapest to build a wing on Bellows High School and use the building for elementary schools and the construction of a new high school.

Edmond Karand, of 225 Madison Avenue, stated that in touring the country as a consultant since he had seen examples of cheap construction which met the needs of a district and expensive construction which also met needs but at comparatively exorbitant costs.

"We need floor space," he said, "without regard to what surrounding communities have. We get the floor space we don't have to worry about."

Mrs. Albert Vollenweider, of 740 First Street, asked the committee to attempt to find out why the $2 1/2 million bond issue for a new junior-senior high school on the Palmer property was twice defeated.

"If we know the reason," she said, "we can go on from there." Backing her question, Mr. Vollenweider said that in the two bond issue referendums no real issue was made to the people in opposition to and to find out what the definite arguments were in opposition to the plan.

"The thousands of alternate proposals was also suggested by Gilbert Miller of 3 Normandy Street. Greenbaum was asked the committee, when it comes up with recommendations, to tell us what we can get for $1 million, for $1.5 million, for $2 million and so on."

"Our schools are passe," Mr. Karand interjected. "We've got to have more room because what we have now is definitely subnormal. We are just quibbling now on this matter."

Acquire Land
A proposition that land around the present schools be acquired by condemnation proceedings if necessary, was submitted from the floor. In that way, it was suggested, room for additional present buildings might be acquired.

Simon Rose of 40 Greenhaven Road, however, pointed out that "if we start to get into the question of eminent domain and the right of the school board to condemn we are only going to waste time."

"Let's water down the former proposal (the bond issue for a new school) and get on with it because the student population is growing and we haven't time."

Neighborhood Meetings
Mrs. Millier Kriesbaum of 731 River Street asserted that houses and halls in the district might agonize the public with the problem more fully and bring out more ideas as to its solution.

"The committee," responded Henry Tye, Jr., a member of the group, "already has 32 alternatives which, upon study will probably be drastically reduced. These proposals cover a wide scope."

"If they are reduced," said Mrs. Kriesbaum, "Notify the public. If you throw out 30 of the 32 let us why."

State Requirements
Mrs. Joseph Kirchheimer of

"Ereous beliefs," he stated, "rather than facts may have accounted for the defeat of the bond issue. We must determine what the real attitudes and beliefs of the people of Rye Neck," he concluded.

Too Much For Blood
Edward Man, a member of the citizens committee replied that he felt the bond issue had been defeated because of the economic factor.

"It was a little too rich for our blood," he said.

Mr. Pitts concurred and stated that the committee's objective is to try to find some way to meet the expense problem.

Mr. Vollenweider then said that they must "evaluate opinions in the district in comparison with expert advice."

"Get a consultant," he said, "and get one who will ride herd on the architect and who, in preparation of any proposal will, through an expertly phrased questionnaire, get the pulse of the community."

They held public meetings on each aspect of the problem in order to keep people informed of the facts and give them an opportunity to voice opinions.

"When a proposition is finally approved, it is not adequate and what part constitutes what some people call 'frills.' And give figures on each so we have some choice."

Choices Sought
The thousand of alternate proposals was also suggested by Gilbert Miller of 3 Normandy Street. Greenbaum was asked the committee, when it comes up with recommendations, to tell us what we can get for $1 million, for $1.5 million, for $2 million and so on."

"Our schools are passe," Mr. Karand interjected. "We've got to have more room because what we have now is definitely subnormal. We are just quibbling now on this matter."

Committee makes its recommendations. Discussing the defeated plan, Milton Decker, of 604 Oakhurst Road said that in the two referendums there was a "hard core" which consistently voted for the plan.

"If you come up with any stop-gap measures," he said, "this hard core will be against them because this group wants good stopgaps, but better schools on a permanent basis."

Alfred B. Winslow of Greenhaven Road asked about the possibility of consolidation with other school districts and was told by Walter Heithaus, chairman of a sub-committee to probe alternatives to building plans, that centralization might be the answer to the problem but that the committee, in exploring all possibilities, had not yet concluded its studies and was not ready to report.

Summarizing the lengthy discussion, Mr. Pitts and Malcolm Brown, chairman of the sub-committee on statistics, stated that there seemed to be a feeling that the Rye Neck District is a "poor" district financially and that present education is sub-standard.

"Let's be perfectly clear," Mr. Pitts said, "this is not a poor district. It is a 'poor' district in the sense that the means are here to meet our needs and the question is only as to the best way to meet them."

"This is primarily a space problem," Mr. Brown said. "Our educational standards are of the best and we are trying to keep them so."

Dr. Alvin Hicks, superintendent of schools, closed the discussion, with the remark that "we are providing good training and what we are looking for is a chance to make our schools even better."

T. James Ahern, school superintendent, added that the Mayor's Committee had asked for complete elimination, but the Authority feels it must have some sort of ingress and egress out of the Mamaroneck and Barry Avenue, and is now studying what must be done and where.

Toward this end, six or seven different plans have been suggested, he pointed out, adding that the Authority will not let the Thruway think and won't for several weeks yet."

Plan On Tuition
A request from a high school senior that he be permitted to finish his year tuition-free came under considerable discussion and was put over to the next meeting.

The senior stated in a letter that he has gone through the entire system, and that in December his parents moved to Florida. His father, he said, paid the January tuition, but he feels that he should not be asked to pay for the final session beginning Feb. 1.

Mr. Ahern pointed out that the rule now is that a student may complete his year without charge if the family moves from the district on or after May 1, and added that the Board might wish to extend this to include the last semester.

Cecil W. Barton, board member, favored some leniency. Dr. Francis E. McIntyre, secretary particularly in the case of a student who has been through the entire system. Vice Luciano said he felt that there should be a fixed policy.

PTA Plans
Mrs. Paul Stern and Mrs. John D. Brewer reminded the Board in a letter that they had served as a parent during a Feb. 16 meeting of the Junior and Senior High School PTAs at the Junior High School. The discussion will be led by Dr. J. Wayne Wrightstone, director of the Bureau of Education of the Board of Education of New York City. The Board agreed that it would be good to have experts from the teaching and administrative staffs sitting in.

A request of the Mamaroneck Kiwanis Club for the use of the Junior High School auditorium April 29 for a benefit performance for funds to purchase uniforms for their junior league baseball teams was put over until the next meeting when a complication that such benefits must accrue to all students of the system might be cleared up.

Mercy Plane Burns: Pilot Co-pilot Killed

EAST HAMPTON, Conn. (AP)—A twin-engine air-ambulance plane, returning to its base after a Texas-Boston flight, plunged into a state forest last night and burned. Its two crewmen were killed.

The crewmen, whose bodies were burned beyond recognition, were identified by the air-ambulance service of Mineola, N. Y., as Frank Steinman, the pilot who celebrated his 33rd birthday yesterday, and Thomas G. Fay, thirty-nine, of Freeport, N. Y., copilot.

The plane was returning to its home field in Amityville, N. Y., after flying a quadruplet paralyzed from the waist down and chained in a plaster cast, from Beaumont, Texas, to Boston.

It fell into the Meshonogone State Forest shortly before 10 P. M. in the Clark Hill section of this middle Connecticut town. Mrs. Ebel Flannery, who lives about a mile from the scene, reported the crash to State Police. She said she saw the plane fall into the forest and then heard an explosion.

LaPolla Pacing Area Cage Tiger, Panther Fives To Resume Schedule Competition Friday

With approximately a third of the 1954-55 basketball season already in the record books, Nick LaPolla, good-rebounding center of Mamaroneck High, is pacing the scholastic careers of the area with 89 points in six games. The fact that Mamaroneck has scored 225 points in six games, with 89 tallies in six games, while Charlie Decker of Bellows has scored as many points as Rigano, but has played only two more contests.

Norm Brady of Bellows is fourth with 71 points in six games, while Charlie Decker of Bellows has scored as many points as Rigano, but has played only two more contests. Mamaroneck's Don Rigano is second in the point-producing department with 89 tallies in six games, while Charlie Decker of Bellows has scored as many points as Rigano, but has played only two more contests.

The fact that Mamaroneck has scored 225 points in six games, with 89 tallies in six games, while Charlie Decker of Bellows has scored as many points as Rigano, but has played only two more contests. Mamaroneck's Don Rigano is second in the point-producing department with 89 tallies in six games, while Charlie Decker of Bellows has scored as many points as Rigano, but has played only two more contests.

A 3-3 record has resulted from the combination of these offensive and defensive statistics, but the sad aspect of this record is that the three setbacks have occurred in WIAA play, while two of the victories have been non-league.

Bellows, meanwhile, has experienced more than its share of court difficulty. The Panthers have copied only one of eight outings. They have been limited to 308 points in eight games, with their opponents scoring 430 marks.

Back to averages: that's 33.8 to 35.5 a game against Bellows. The sole win for BHS was a 25-36 triumph over Bellows. Decker and Brady, incidentally, have registered over half their team's total in eight games.

Activity Set Friday
Hoping to improve these marks the Tiger and Panther fives are scheduled to combine competition Friday when Mamaroneck travels to Mount Vernon to meet A. B. Davis in a WIAA encounter, 8:30 P. M., and Bellows enters Blessed Sacrament in a non-league affair at the same time. Mamaroneck hopes to regain winning ways Friday, if we leave to step a leader.

Area Schools Priming For Indoor Meet

WHITE PLAINS—A record entry for the annual Westchester indoor track and field meet is expected for the games to be held at the County Center on Friday evening, Feb. 4, according to the Westchester Track Coach's Association, Association, sponsors of the meet.

Entry blanks have been mailed to all schools in Section 1 of the New York State Public High Schools Athletic Association, which has sanctioned the meet, and to members of the Westchester Private and Parochial Schools Athletic Association. Entries close Feb. 4.

William H. Elder, A. B. D. Davis, High School, Mount Vernon is director of the meet, which will include eight open, six non-league and one freshman event. Three of these will be relay events, one in each division. The meet measures approximately 125 yds. to the lap.

By FRED LUKS
Hunting and Fishing Editor
In the latest of his long parade of stimulating meetings, the Sportsman's Club of Northern Westchester heard a talk on herpetology by a naturalist and science instructor, Stanley Grierson of Katonah.

The talk was accompanied by projections of color pictures made by Grierson on his reptile-hunting trips throughout Westchester. The audience, which nearly filled the Memorial House at Katonah, heard the nature student debunk some misconceptions about snakes.

Speaking at times almost affectionately about the creatures that have given man a case of goose pimples since the dawn of history, he described the habits of the snakes found here. Westchester has 12 harmless and two poisonous species.

Grierson values the snake as a controlling influence of rodents. The pit viper, he said, can do the work of a dozen poisons. Some interesting evidence of the mousing abilities of a snake was depicted in a slide showing a black snake killing a field mouse.

Comments are fairly common throughout the county. This bite is poisonous, but not necessarily fatal. A rattlesnake bite, if not attended to, invariably results in a nasty rattlesnake bite. Milk snakes do not milk cows. Grierson stated in rebuttal to a

Coaches Hit Free Throw Bonus Rule

NEW YORK (AP)—Something too high? No defense? Burn officials? Take your pick. You'll find supporters for any of the charges. But after you consider some of the arguments, you find just about everyone winds up with a swipe at the bonus rule. The cad who threw the overalls in Mrs. Murphy's shower didn't cause half the commotion as the free throw rule last March.

About the only officials connected with the sport who favor the rule are Ozark Coaches of Minnesota and, presumably, Bruce Drake of Oklahoma, chairman of the committee that put the bonus rule into effect. The rule was intended to cut down fouls, and according to Drake, the machinery to do the job. It puts a total penalty on fouling by paying off for foul out-of-excellence—a bonus attempt to the player who sinks his first free throw.

Coaches say you can't fight it, you just have to make the most of it. It penalizes fouls, so why not make the most of it? The Minnesota coach has stressed practice, practice and more practice on free throws, and it's paid off more than once for the Gophers this season.

But the majority of coaches—as well as writers and fans—are against the rule. Henry Cooney of Illinois says basketball is sick and the bug that did it is the bonus rule. He's fed up with a system that often gives a victory to the team with the best foul time success rather than field goal artistry and accuracy. It's turned basketball into a free throw exhibition.

Iris Ronaldo's 541 Garners FVL Honors

Two games off the pace, Mamaroneck Prep has won the 541 series of Iris Ronaldo, defeated Carl-An's last night at the ABC arena. The prep team, led by Terry Reilly, 36, hoisted the trophy on the ABC Keplers in the Friendly Village League. The Keplers, however, dumped species is likely to be found around a rook barn, but only because it's looking for its dinner in the form of a mouse or rat. A relative of the king snake of the South, the milk snake sometimes grows to a length of three and one-fourth feet. It kills by constriction.

Dianne edged the Krugers, 2-1, and the Ditmans, despite a 442 score by Mary Saunders, were defeated by the Paramounts, 2-1. The results:

Puff adders have a fearsome reputation. They are often killed in mistake for copperheads, which they resemble. Adders strike with a lightning-like speed, and spreading their necks cobra-fashion. When cornered, they'll play possum and roll over on their backs.

Snakes take a long time to digest food. A red copperhead Grierson owned ended up in the interior of another pet copperhead. In true scientific fashion, Grierson brought the question to a doctor and even by X-raying it to X-rayed.

It was noted that digestion was completed in 12 days. Happily, some of the patients in the waiting room were not the contents of the innocent little box brought in by the pleasurably satisfied visitor.

DiMag Wins Vote Poll For Hall Of Fame

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe DiMaggio, long recognized as one of the greatest New York Yankees, will find out today whether he has become a member of baseball's immortals in the Hall of Fame.

Today's count of votes by 10-year members of the Baseball Writers Association marks the third try for entry by DiMaggio. The Yankee centerfielder retired after the 1951 season.

He missed by 14 votes last year, being named on 175 of the 392 ballots cast, just short of the three-fourths vote needed. The actual counting of the ballots could be an all-day affair.

They've been coming into commissioner Ford Frick's office since last January, where they have been kept under lock and key.

The writers vote for 10 men and the order in which the names appear on each ballot doesn't matter. The number of ballots varies from year to year with the changes in the seniority of the members.

In order to be eligible for selection a man must have been active in the last 25 years but have been out of organized baseball as player, manager, coach or umpire for at least five years.

No one has any advance information on the voting, but since DiMags missed by such a small margin last year he seems likely to be chosen this time.

Concordia Prep hoopers kept their season record unblemished with an easy victory in one of the highlights of yesterday's county schoolboy basketball schedule. League action was sparse because of mid-year excursions.

Concordia's Paul Brown, continuing his bid for all-county honors, netted 20 points, turned in an excellent defensive game with many interceptions, and again did plenty of rebounding. Teammate Bob Benson chipped in 10.

Trinity Girls Cop 23-20 Tilt

With Jean Goodfellow and Kathy Holm scoring 12 and nine points, the Holy Trinity girls' basketball team edged Blessed Sacrament yesterday in New Rochelle, 23-20. Holy Trinity surged to a 17-10 first-half lead and then clocked the way to a three-point decision.

Mamaroneck Cagers At A.B. Davis; Bellows Hosts Sacramento '5' Tonight

Area Quintets Hope To Hit Winning Ways

With regents examinations having passed and possibly having completed better fortune than some students, the Mamaroneck and F. E. Bellows cagers tonight will attempt to improve their passing and shooting when they resume activity tonight.

Mamaroneck will travel to Mount Vernon and clash with A. B. Davis at 8:30 in WIAA play, while the Panthers are slated to host Blessed Sacrament at the same time in a non-league affair.

Tonight's competition could spell the difference between good and mediocre campaigns for the locals, who have already absorbed several severe court setbacks. MHS is 3-3, while Bellows is 1-7.

If they can hit winning ways tonight, and there is a good possibility that they may, Mamaroneck and Bellows could gain enough confidence and poise to upset a few of the mightier opponents of their schedule.

Cruel Games Ahead
However, if A. B. Davis and Blessed Sacrament should emerge victorious, the situation would appear rather gloomy for the Tigers and Panthers.

Highly important any potential conquest for Mamaroneck is that it stop David's Ray Leary, leading scorer in the WIAA. Leary, who tallied 23 points as Davis knocked off Yonkers last week, 65-6, has been named one-man team for the Maroon Hoopsters.

The sharp-shooting Davitte has compiled 90 points in five WIAA contests, three of which Davis has won.

MHS's quietest, damped by New Rochelle in its last start, 44-46, is 1-3 in league play. The Tigers have copped two non-league scrimmages. Expected to start for Coach Bob Sampson's charges are Graham Best, Don Rignano, Nick LaPolla, Lew Raparot and Ray Nollett.

The Panthers will enter tonight's game with an identical 1-7 record of Blessed Sacrament, which followed its starting 45-44 defeat of Iona Prep last week.

Highly Blessed Sacrament are Jerry Reilly and Sal Cesario, who have been averaging about 16 points a game. Charlie Decker and Norm Brady have been the most potent of the Panther point producers, accounting for over half of the Bellows' point total.

600 Honor Golf Stars At Writers Banquet

NEW YORK—Greats of golf, both national and metropolitan, young and old, were on the date as night as some 600 golfers and enthusiasts jammed the main ballroom of the Plaza Hotel for the Metropolitan Golf Writers' banquet.

The gathering was thrilled by heart-warming talks by "Mr. Golf" himself, Robert Tyre Jones, and Billy Joe Patton of Morganstown, N. C., who was honored by the writers as "the outstanding personality of golf during 1954." The respected younger charter was presented the writers' "Gold Tee" award by Jones, last year's recipient.

See Award as Challenge
"I sure don't deserve this award," Patton drawled in acceptance, "but I will accept it as a challenge to live up to the faith you have placed in me."

The North-South champion stole the show with his pleasing hill-billy delivery.

Other speakers included U. S. Open champion Ed Purcell, National PGA champion Charles H. Hart, four-time U. S. Open champion Ben Hogan, who presented the Ben Hogan trophies to Ed Purcell and Mrs. Bebe Derricks Zaharias, National PGA resident Harold Moffitt, and USGA president Isaac O. Grainger.

3 From County Honored
All the local awards were presented by Metropolitan Golf Association president Willie Turnesa of Elmford. They went to three Westchesterites—New York State women's champion Barbara Bruning of Whippany; Metropolitan women's champion, Mrs. Sophie Kleiter Meyer of Century; and U. S. Open champion J. Ellis Knowles of Apawamis.

13.9 Average By McCarvill Sparks Iona

Wally McCarvill of the Bronx and LeRoy Scott of New Rochelle are providing the one-two punch among the Iona College basketball team's scorers, according to official statistics released today.

McCarvill, team captain and 6-7 senior, has scored 138 points in 11 games for a 13.9 per cent average. He has scored 48 field goals and 37 free throws.

Scott, 6-5 junior, has tallied 137 points for a 12.4 average, clicking on 54 goals and 29 fives.

Andy Risoli of the Bronx is the only other great cager with more than 100 points. Andy has 127 points for a 12.0 per cent average, and also boasts the best shooting percentage, a 46.6 mark hitting on 49 of 89 shots.

Best foul shooter is Dick Barry with a perfect 14 for 14, while McCarvill is the team's top rebounder with 208 for an 18.9 average, sixth best in the nation among the major colleges.

Bonnies Meet Greenwich '5' In WBA Test
A seven-game slate confronts Westchester Basketball Association members this weekend. Every team will swing into action and all but the two fall-ers, the Mount Vernon Patriots and Ossining's Warriors, will battle twice.

Tomorrow night's bill includes four games, top clash will find New Rochelle's Bonero Club (18-1) striving to strengthen its grip on top position against Shee's Shamrocks (6-3) at Greenwich.

The challenging Immaculate Concept Big Five of the Bronx, seeking to improve its 6-2 record, will visit Mount Vernon, Larchmont Saints to face Ossining and the Port Chester team. Passaic play neighboring Rye's Pioneers at Rye.

Ossining Wins 9th Despite 27 By Maru TAREYTYU
Ossining High School's undefeated cagers rolled over Washington Irving High, 77-58, last night for the season's ninth victory and fourth in the Hudson River League. The Authors scored their seventh setback in eight starts, and are nestled at the bottom of the MHL at 4-4.

Tin Coonias with 29 points and Harry Hansen, 19, led the Indians to the decision. However, it was W. J. Ralph Maru, an exceptional courtman and ball-handler, who snatched the scoring honors. He hit for 27 points and Joe Huxer had 17 for the losers.

Marquette '5' Beats Loyola For 14th Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Even Marquette coach Jack Nagle must be surprised over the Warriors' basketball success this season after their mediocre showing last year.

Marquette, the nation's 11th ranking team, has put together a 14-game winning streak—longest in collegiate circles this season—after an opening loss to Michigan State.

The Warriors got a 73-70 victory over Loyola of the South last night. The streak will be on the line when the teams meet again in New Orleans tonight.

17 MBL Contests Set In 4 Gymnasiums

Competition in the Mamaroneck Basketball League is scheduled to continue tomorrow when 17 more games will be conducted in the Mamaroneck-Larchmont and Rye Neck divisions at four gymnasiums in Mamaroneck.

The list of unbeset quintets will also be reduced at the conclusion of tomorrow's play. Probably the most important of the unbeset teams clashing will be the powerful Knicks.

Other teams with unblemished records are the Lions of the MHL Junior division, the Nats, Cubs and Tigers of the mid-set section.

Adult Support Needed
A special drive to secure additional adult supervision, especially in the junior divisions, is the objective of the MBL this week.

Uniforms may add to the color and interest of a league, but of greater importance is the guidance of the youngsters. It is desired that they learn the correct fundamentals of the game, but again of greater importance is that they gain the proper outlook and spirit toward life.

The Ongoing Basketball League, under the direction of Ralph A. Wilke, has continued its advance surge toward helping the youth. Wilke, who has established a set of rules the youngsters must follow to play, has made it imperative that all players of the OBL attend Sunday school classes each week.

It is the purpose of the MBL to also develop our youngsters mentally as well as physical; however, to do this, adult supervision is needed.

Tomorrow's schedule:
R.N. Midset League
8:45 A.M.—Jets vs. Nats, Cou A, Lakers vs. Tigers, Court B
9:45 A.M.—Nats vs. Cou A, Cou A vs. Cubs vs. Eagles, Court B

Blessed Sacramento Nips Bellows, 44-40

BLESSED SACRAMENTO failed to use a substitute as its iron-man point guard signed a 44-40 non-sporting defeat on P. E. Bellows gym last night.

Most potent of the five cardinal hoopers was Earl Caserio, who scored 29 points while leading his mates to their second victory in their last three starts. Blessed Sacramento had not registered a win in its first seven outings.

The loss was the eighth in nine games for the Panthers. It was also their fourth successive setback after a 37-36 win over Safford.

Decker Paces BHS

Charlie Decker once again set the pace for Bellows, scoring 12 buckets on three field goals and six foul shots. Decker's 12 points pushed his point total to 101 buckets in nine games.

The only other player to hit double figures was Kent Woodward, who after missing two games due to illness returned with a 10-point performance.

Rebounding From A 9-6 First-period deficit, the Panthers gained a 20-20 half-time tie. They then fell to a 23-25 third-quarter disadvantage which they were unable to overcome.

Ed Murphy added 12 points while leading the Blessed Sacramento junior varsity to a 29-20 decision over Bellows. Nick Durchel was high for the Little Belknapers with 11 markers.

Bellows is slated to continue WIAA activity against Pleasantville on the road Tuesday, 10 P.M.

MOUNT HOPE boys and adults were commended in a colorful spectacle here last night as many of the 100th anniversary's foremost curlers—125 members—gathered at St. Andrew's Curling Club for the 100th anniversary banquet of the New York Caledonian Curling Club.

The centennial celebration was the highlight of the three-day Caledonian banquet which opened tomorrow and which has attracted curling rinks from many sections of this country and Canada.

A portion of the centennial festivities was devoted to celebrating the memory of one of curling's greatest names—Willie Cuthbertson—former president of the N. Y. Caledonians, who died a month ago. Cuthbertson, during a colorful career of 48 years of curling, won 32 Grand National competitions—a record that has never again been equaled in the sport.

Baker Presides

Frank S. Baker of Yonkers, president of the N. Y. Caledonian Club, presided over the major portion of the program, and in capsule form reviewed the 100-year history of the Caledonian club, the oldest in the world.

Baker read excerpts from the original minutes, the minutes which he compiled on Jan. 3, 1833, recalling the club's struggle for existence and the fund-raising involved in securing "ice" in the Central Park area of New York.

Among the curling officials and members reviewed were the following: many presently participating in the three-day banquet.

John Joy, president of the Grand National Curling Club of America; Richard Woodard, president of the Canadian Curling Club; the Royal Caledonian Club; Dick Walsh, past president of the Caledonian; Ad Hastings, past president of the United National; Dr. Deering Smith, second vice president; and Charles Woodhouse, secretary of the United National.

George McMillan of Yonkers served as toastmaster.

Stepinac Dumped By MHS Natators

Mahoney's Finish Decides

With the final 200-yard freestyle event worth seven points and unbeaten Mamaroneck holding a slim 35-33 lead, the situation appeared rather gloomy as Tiger swimmer Mornay Mahoney took off in pursuit of Stephanie's Al Voigt, a body held behind yesterday at the New Rochelle YMCA pool.

Mahoney, however, even bettered the first-place performance he had constituted for the Tiger by taking Voigt at the turn and providing Mamaroneck with a 42-33 triumph over Stepinac.

The smooth-looking Voigt had registered a 59.2 time to also defeat Voigt in the 100-yard event, thereby gaining an additional five points for MHS.

It was the third victory for the Tiger tankers.

Depth Pays Off

Despite only taking three firsts in regular competition, the Tigers posted enough points to enter the first of two medleys at a 33-30 deficit.

Stepinac surprised the Warriors by handing Bill Johnson his first setback in the opening 50-yard freestyle event. Dave Manger copped the 100-yard breaststroke for the Crusaders, and Al Collier finished first in the 200-yard freestyle as Stepinac gained an 18-9 advantage.

MARY McNEIL, with a decisive triumph in the 100-yard backstroke, and Mahoney, with his 100-yard freestyle conquest, gained first-place finishes which enabled Mamaroneck to battle into contention, 28-20.

Bill Pollock's win in diving closed the margin to 28-26, before Manger's decision in the 150-yard medley provided Stepinac with a three-point advantage with two medleys remaining.

Sparked by the 496 legging of Jay Radcliffe, the Mickeys halted the Norma-Jeans last night at the recreation alley, 2-1, in their third game behind the league-leading Stars in the Ladies Pin League.

Current kings edged the Mickeys as winners in two contests, remaining half a game behind the second-place Mickeys.

LaPolla Posts 28

Clicking with nine of 12 shots, Mamaroneck High School's basketball team scored a 22-14 first-period advantage, then protected its margin during the final three quarters to hand A. B. Davis a 69-54 WIAA setback last night in Mount Vernon.

Nick LaPolla once again did most of the clicking for the Tigers, prouting nine field goals and 10 free throws through the cards to compile 28 points. The effort raised his point total to 125 in seven games.

Also instrumental in the conquest was Charlie Capabo, who did an excellent job in limiting Davis' sharp-shooting Ray Lumdy to three field goals, capitalizing on his 11 charity flings to accumulate 15 markers.

Wants Scoring Cards

Mamaroneck's scoring potency was reduced to nothing by Capabo's fine defensive play during the initial contest, the Tigers missing six shots and committing an error to gain an eight-point margin.

LaPolla's 22-17 advantage of Mamaroneck was reduced to 37-32 as Lumdy as Jerry Fishback found the hoop with regularity during the final minutes of the half.

LaPolla's brilliant rebounding and scoring was the third stanza enabled Mamaroneck to widen its lead to 45-28, but Lumdy's jump shot and Fishback's set placed Davis into contention at the end of the first half.

After an exchange of baskets, substitute Nite Thaldal connected with two shots and a shot Mamaroneck's Jim Patton rebounded with a free throw. Plied back by Thaldal, Lumdy closed the margin to 51-48.

Best Proves Best

Here, Knute East, who had been limited to two foul dips, swished the cords with two 10-foot shots and Mamaroneck was ahead 55-48.

Backed by Fishback and Ward were offset by Don Rignano's free throw and LaPolla's jump shot and Mamaroneck finished in double figures for the sixth time this season.

LaPolla's 28 points, his 15-point total at this point, providing Mamaroneck with a 61-52 lead to finally wrapped up the affair.

Sparked by the 11-point scoring of Lumdy, Mamaroneck's Nite Thaldal is slated to continue activity at home in a non-league affair against Pelham Tuesday, 8 P.M. The Tigers halted Pelham two weeks ago, 45-20.

Gaels Host To Ithaca Here Tomorrow; Frosh Play Tonight

Coach Jim McDermott's Iona College Gaels take to the basketball court for the first time in 10 days tomorrow afternoon when they meet Ithaca College in their first Sunday game of the season in O'Connell gym at 4. The Iona Freshmen will play the Bronx Union YMCA in a preliminary game at 7 P. M.

The Frosh also will play tonight when they meet the CCNY Freshmen in a 6:30 contest at CCNY.

Iona has a record of seven wins and four losses going into the contest while Ithaca stands four and six. The only team met by both clubs is St. Bonaventure, which defeated both Ithaca 35 on four through the Metropolitan area and will play St. Francis of Brooklyn tonight before tomorrow's encounter here. Iona also will meet St. Francis later in the year so that at least two teams on the schedule of both schools will be mutual foes.

Little Known About Ithaca

Not too much is known about the Ithaca style of play but it is a recognized fact that the team will be hurt by the loss of two key men, Dick LaGuna and Ronnie Gonder. LaGuna quit school and Gonder decided to quit the team to concentrate harder on his academic work. His absence will be felt by the Bombers because he was a regular who stood six feet six inches. Coach Carlton Wood has promoted Dick Harrington and Paul Hess from the Junior Varsity to replace these two men.

Bob Burnell, a six foot five inch boy, will be the Ithaca center with Walter Judd and Al Chadwick at the forwards and Jim Meyers and Don Kern at the guards. Chadwick is the leading scorer on the team with a 45 average to place him in 17th position among the nation's small college scorers.

Two of the starting Iona players will look like "The Lone Ranger" and his sidekick "Tonto." Wally McCarvill, the center, and LeRoy Scott, one of the forwards, will appear as "Masked Men." Both will be wearing the face contraptions to protect noses they fractured earlier in the season. Otherwise, McDermott will reward Dick Barry for his splendid performance against St. Bonaventure with his second start of the year and Marty Patterson, with his first. Andy Padian will combine with Marty O'Connell at the forwards.

Iona plays Major League college basketball so why not stop off at O'Connell gym tomorrow afternoon and take in a first afternoon of entertainment?

Saints Hope To Continue Win Streak

The Larchmont Saints, victorious in their last four Westchester Basketball Association start-up four consecutive setbacks, will attempt to continue their winning ways tonight and tomorrow.

Hoping to post their fifth WIAA win, the Saints will clash with Ossining Warriors tonight in Larchmont.

Mickey O'Hagen and his neighborhood will then continue WIAA competition Sunday against the strong Shea Shamrocks at Larchmont, 7 P. M.

The Shamrocks, sporting a 6-0 mark, are headed by such one-liners as Dick Korr, Bill Osborne and Bill Jensen. Barry Sullivan is the leading Saint point producer, and one of the top scorers in the WIAA.

Larchmonter Is Engaged To Alan Savory

The engagement of Miss Louise Marshall Burrows to Alan Savory of Vestal, N. Y., has been announced by the bride's father, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Burrows, of the Alden House Apartments, Larchmont.

Mr. Forma Will Discuss Abstract Art

"The Arts and You" will be discussed by Warren Forma at the February meeting of the Women's Club of Larchmont Art Department at 111 Westchester at the Larchmont Avenue Church house.

A resident of Larchmont, Mr. Forma is a qualified expert in the advertising field. As a manager of commercial art and advertising agencies, he lists among his accounts, Chobrichs, Cole bathing suits, RCA Television and Magazine covers. In his lecture Mr. Forma will investigate the problems of advertising as a master plan, bringing fine arts to Larchmont and understanding what abstract art has to say. Special attention will be given to Miss Van der Rost and the influences of Modern Art and Alexander Calder on his work.

The lecture will be accompanied by a color movie narrated by Burgess Meredith, on the works of Alexander Calder and his work through the eyes of a ten year old boy. The film, from the library of the Museum of Modern Art, will be shown with professional movie equipment through cooperation of the First National Bank of New Rochelle.

The guest speaker studied advertising and design at NYU night classes, financing his studies by working for the W. R. D. Baking Company and playing in a dance band. In World War II, he was a navigator and bombardier in the U. S. Air Force, he completed his 65 missions over France and Germany with 21 decorations to his credit. His tour with the Air Corps finished in Iceland. He was in the 3rd Army and was credited with knocking out the last bridge over the Seine.

Miss Mary Louise Kelly daughter of Mrs. William A. Kelly Sr. of 39 Cleveland Avenue, New Rochelle, and Alan Savory, who has been honored at a bridal shower by Mrs. William Kelly Sr. and Mrs. Joseph Keeler at the Kelly home, Alden House Apartments, Larchmont.

The prospectus bride and her fiance, James Richard McIvor, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McIvor of 101 Fifth Avenue, New Rochelle, will be married Feb. 19.

Psychologist To Speak At Bellows Panel

Featured speaker for Thursday night's Bellows Community Club program will be Dr. Robert N. Goldenson of Seaside, psychologist and author of "The Ins and Outs". Dr. Goldenson will serve as moderator for the program scheduled in the Bellows High School auditorium. A student panel will discuss the subject of teenage popularity and the speaker will also lead a parent discussion to conclude the program. A play entitled "The Ins and Outs" performed by a cast of Bellows High School students, will also be presented.

A graduate of Princeton, Dr. Goldenson received his M. A. from the University of Pittsburgh in 1934 and his Ph.D. from Harvard in 1936. He is a past president of the "Tri-State Council on Family Relations" and former member of the Mental Health Education Commission of the International Congress for Mental Health.

Consultant and speaker on multiple radio and television programs, including "It's A Problem—Keep Up To Date," "The Search," "Lull, Lull, Lull" and "Weekend," Dr. Goldenson is the author of articles in "The Saturday Evening Post," "The Ladies Home Journal," "The New Yorker" and others, and co-author of "Understanding Children's Play."

Larchmont Saints Extend Streak To Six

County Golfer Takes 1st In Del Rio Play

BRAWLEY, Calif. (AP) — Mike Fetick handles his $1,000 winner's check with the same deliberation he showed in the final round of the Imperial Valley open golf tournament there's no telling when he'll get it cashed. The tall pro from Searsdale, N. Y., was the epitome of carelessness as he shot a three-under par 67 for a 72-hole total of 206.

"I knew I was well up in the money and I didn't want to make any mistakes," Fetick said after copping the top prize. Always a slow player since he found he tended to overplay the ball when playing rapidly, tall Mike was all caution yesterday.

But it paid off with five birdies on the short 6,000-yard Del Rio course on which a misplay would cost strokes on the heavily trapped layout.

Fetick finished two strokes ahead of Bob Kay of West Hartford, Conn., who turned in the day's lowest round—a 64—by the Chicago, and Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Texas, both had 69 and 69. Wesley Ellis of Westwood, N. Y., and Al Mengert of Mamaroneck, N. Y., each had 70.

Rookie Goalties Keep N.H. Teams Fit

By The Associated Press

Two young rookie goalies, Long John Henderson of the Boston Bruins and Hank Bassen of the Chicago Black Hawks, are giving the other National Hockey League teams fits.

The twenty-one-year-old Henderson posted the fifth shutout of his 59-game NHL career as the Bruins blanked the Toronto Maple Leafs 3-0 last night. Meanwhile, twenty-two-year-old Bassen, maintained his unbeaten big league record as Chicago defeated the New York Rangers 4-2.

Montreal Curlers Halt Mahopac As Caledonian Centennial Ends

MOUNT HOPE—

The New York Caledonian Curling Club's centennial bonspiel championship crossed the border to Canada yesterday. The Thistle Club of Montreal was victorious with amazing ease as the three-day anniversary celebration came to a close on the indoor ice at E. Andrew's Golf Club.

Dick Walsh skipped the Thistles.

The Dominion rink needed only 13 ends of a scheduled 11-end final to secure the decision, 19-5, against Mahopac's curlers under direction of John "Jock" MacFarlane, a former Caledonian president.

The Montreal rink, one of five showed no favoritism, in their opening semifinal the Thistles defeated the Caledonian president, Frank R. Baker, and the No. 1 Caledonian rink, 14-4.

MacFarlane's semi-final was considerably closer. The skip got one stone in the 12th and final end to insure a 12-10 Mahopac triumph over Duce's contenders, led by Ward Murray.

Rink Personnel

The winning rink had Phil Martin at lead, Robert Perrault as No. 2 and Dr. E. Russell Ward as No. 3. MacFarlane's mates were Pete Walsh, Tony Caputo and Ty Halsted. Bill Terry, Watson Thomas and Arthur Blanchard curled with Baker.

Baker managed to place three stones in the second end against Walsh for a short-lived 3-1 lead. But the Caledonians didn't score again until the final end.

The Thistles played mainly draw shots and threw no fast stones. Walsh guarded well and was content simply to push with accurate shots.

SULLIVAN NETS 32 AS SAINTS DEFEAT SHEA '5, '79-71

Larchmont's Saints proved themselves worthy contenders still to be reckoned with in the Westchester Basketball Association chase with a pair of victories over the weekend. An 84-65 conquest of the Ossining Warriors Saturday at Ossining was followed by a 79-71 decision over Shea's Shamrocks of Greenwich, Conn., at Larchmont yesterday.

The Saints have won six straight in their semi-circuit for a 6-4 league mark and they boast the WBA's hottest scorer. Excitement started early: Sullivan poured 30 points through the hoop in the two games—29 Saturday and 32 yesterday. Ossining was led by Mario Chialli at 23 while Lew Grando hit 19 for the Shamrocks.

The Greenwicks club surprised New Rochelle's pace-making Profpos in Greenwich Saturday night, 81-72. The Bonnies had control of the game until Dick Bunt fouled out. Then the Sham burst through with a 21-point 7-10 chapter. Dick Kor sparked the surge and totaled 25 points; Al Ryder and Jim Lutz each notched 23 for the Bonnies.

Last night, with Bunt missing for 24 and Jim Lutz for 20, New Rochelle regained its lustrous ways, 87-67, over the Don Bonics at Port Chester, to keep securely in first place with a 10-2 record. The loss was second of the weekend for the Donics, who covered, 11-79, 49 Rye's Pioneers at Rye the previous night. The Donics also edged 22 and 24 for the Don's. Sonny Di Carlo led Rye with 23.

The Pioneers also captured a double and a tie for second place at 7-0 with the Immaculate Conception Big Five of the Bronx. Last night on the Bronx team's floor, the Shamrocks squeaked through, 91-89. Ray Rudzinski had 28 for Rye and Ed Grindell 27 for the losers.

Out of the spotlight to help you

Hortense McInerney has been meeting the public all her life. Perhaps you've heard her on radio, or seen her on the stage. These days you'll find her at The New York Times Information Center in Yonkers. She's one of the hostesses there, eager to serve you.

Mrs. McInerney's life in the spotlight began soon after college in her hometown of Dallas, Texas. She had her own radio program... talked about women's fashions and played records. But music was her first love, and she came to New York to study voice. Here, she landed a contract as understudy for Helen Morgan in the Kern-Hammester musical "Sweet Adeline." She substituted for the star many times during the Broadway run. Then came marriage and a stint in the stage show at the Paramount. Johnny Green played the piano while she sang his hit tune "Body and Soul."

In 1944, Mrs. McInerney was heard over WEAF three times a week as Kay Foster in a fifteen-minute program of songs. Since then, she has spent most of her time at homemaking and bringing up her son. He's 20 now and stationed in Japan with the Air Force. You'll find Mrs. McInerney and other hostesses at our Information Center throughout the week, ready to help you with food or garden information... answer questions about the news... take classified ads... and arrange for delivery of The New York Times. That's why we think you'll find a visit to our Information Center worthwhile. Come see us, won't you?

PANTHERS, TIGERS PLAY TOMORROW

F. E. Bellows and Mamaroneck Hi's cage teams are scheduled to continue competition tomorrow when the Panthers meet Pleasantville on the road in a SWIATCH tilt while the Tigers clash with Pelham in a non-league game at the Mamaroneck Junior High School. Game times are 3:30 P. M.

Bellows will be attempting to avenge a 62-59 setback suffered from Pleasantville in its debut while also trying to improve its 1-8 record.

Unbeaten in non-league play, Mamaroneck will be seeking its fifth in eight starts against the Pelicans.

Friday's results found Bellows losing a 44-40 decision to Blessed Sacrament. Pleasantville halting Edizion Tech of Mount Vernon, 71-51; Mamaroneck downing A. B. Davis, 65-54; Pelham blasting Tuckahoe, 90-60.

Princess Off For Calypso

LONDON (AP) — British royalty headed in strength today for London airport to say bon voyage to Princess Margaret, off by plane for her first transatlantic flight and month's good-will tour of the Calypso Isles of the British West Indies.

The twenty-year-old princess and Queen Mother Elizabeth returned today from Windsor Castle to their London residence, Clarence House, before assembling with other members of the family at the airport's royal enclosure.

The weatherman promised ideal weather for the British Overseas Airways strackeruler tour. The takeoff was at 3 P. M., with bright sunshine and 11-15 conditions predicted across the Atlantic via Gander, Nfld., to Montego Bay, Jamaica.

OVERDUE BOOKS

BREITENDORF Irma (AP) — A plea by Bettendorf school officials for return of some 50 overdue books at the junior high library prompted a girl student to bring back 70 books and a board of education member to return two which he had overlooked.

FENDERS SMASHED) The left rear fender of a car driven by Anthony Paldino of Mount Vernon, and the right rear end of one operated by Robert Rodgers of the Bronx, were damaged in a crash at 4:30 P.M. yesterday at Palmer Avenue and West Avenue. Levebans police report, Mr. Paldino told police he had stopped for another car while heading west on Palmer Avenue when his auto was struck by the Rodgers car.
