Need For Equalization Cited At LWV Talk On Education Aid

The need for state and federal aid to education with an aim toward furthering the principle of equalization was cited yesterday at a discussion of "Legislation That Will Affect Our Schools," at an open meeting of the League of Women Voters of Larchmont at the Village Hall.

Speakers were Mrs. S. F. Coneybeer of Mamaroneck, president "Federal Aid to Education," and T. J. Ahern, superintendent of schools in the Mamaroneck School District, who discussed "Pending Legislation on State Aid."

Mrs. Coneybear, introduced by Mrs. Edward Helwig, education chairman, who was in charge of the meeting, opened her talk by pointing out that 65 per cent of the funds for public schools is realized by local real estate tax, with 2 per cent stemming from federal support, and 33 per cent from the state.

Illustrating her statement, that federal aid is "not new," she cited land grants which continued through the 19th Century, with the income used for education; the Hatch Bill, which provided monies for extension courses in agriculture and home economics; the Smith-Hughes Bill which was the basis for vocational education in the rural areas during the depression, and the G.I. Bill of Rights, which provided federal funds for the support of education.

In answer to the question, "Do We Really Need Federal Aid?" Mrs. Coneybear said that the question of federal aid has been posed for at least 30 years, gathering impetus between the first and second World Wars. She noted that 3 to 5 million children up to the age of 17 are "not in any school," and that in the United States, there are 10 million persons who are "practically illiterate."

Speaking of the problems of teachers, she pointed out that surveys show a lessening of the number of teachers, with a great increase of "war babies." The teachers are not ready and prepared for the added number of pupils, she stated, adding that these factors lead to the problems of schools, and the obligation to build more schools. "The money has to come from further federal aid," she said.

Mrs. Coneybear, in explaining why educational aid is the "responsibility of the federal government," said that "we are a democracy trying to prove itself," and in order to have our system continue, it is necessary to have an "educated electorate, and a background of education to carry out our responsibility."

Speaking of equalization on a federal level, Mrs. Coneybear pointed out that the principle is the same as the theory of taxation on the ability to pay, which is generally accepted by all taxpayers, she noted.

She said that although New York State "won't receive as much money as they put in taxes," they will benefit in dollars and cents. By the way of explanation, the speaker said that New York has a mobility of population, with people coming from all over the country, including the South, where there is "a very high and low level of education," to settle in New York. If these people are better educated before they come here, she continued, there will be less welfare because of bad health and living, less relief, an less cost of criminal proceedings.

Mrs. Coneybear outlined the proposals involved in the Thomas Bill, Senate No. 246, stating that it "is the best bill that could ever be gotten through." She said that this bill was passed last year by the state, but never reached the Assembly and this year is in the Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare, sponsored by a bipartisan committee, and supported by the Administration.

She mentioned the compromises contained in the bill, including provision that in states where state money goes for support of parochial school children, the plan will continue to operate. She said that the revised bill recognizes segregation, because of the Southern pressure, but says that money to the minority group will be given in the same proportion as it is now by the state.

Contrary to the belief that federal aid might mean federal control, the bill protects the right of the state, with no provisions to set up boards, control selection of teachers or determine the curriculum, Mrs. Coneybear told the group.

In discussing pending state legislation, Mr. Ahern outlined the Williamson bill, termed a "selfish money to better supported areas, but no more to the poorer supported sections. In other words, he told the group, the bill would raise funds for our county, but would provide no further money for the state, which "wouldn't help the overall picture."

The best bill for the State of New York," he asserted, is the Milmoe-Halpern Bill, which works on the principle of equalization. The bill, which is virtually the same as last year's Young-Milmoe Bill, has the support of the Educational Conference of Board of the State of New York, including the School Boards, Parent-Teacher Associations, and other groups comprising the conference.

He outlined the provisions of the bill, citing the differences between the present proposition and the Feinberg Act, now in effect.

Under the Feinberg Act, there is a foundation program of $200 per elementary school child, with $240 for the secondary school pupil. The Milmoe-Halpern bill would provide $200 per elementary child, and $260 per secondary These figures are multiplied by the average daily attendance, he pointed out. From that is subtracted a local contribution of seven dollars per thousand on assessed property valuation, under the Feinberg Act, and five dollars per thousand under the Milmoe-Halpern Bill

The minimum guarantee for each district, or the platform, under the Feinberg Act, is $30 per kindergarten child, $60 per elementary, and $100 per secondary, while the Milmoe-Halpern Bill provides for $50 per kindergarten pupil, $100 elementary, and $150 secondary, he stated.

Speaking of the principle of determining aid by means of average daily attendance, Mr. Ahern said that "this is unfair, since the school district has to pay for the remaining per cent, instead of on a basis of enrollment." This way was adopted because "it was an easy way to figure, but needs changing," he told the group.

Another necessary change, he stated, is in the assessed valuation, which is not, as the State had felt when it was adopted, a "true measure of wealth." He said that the State is at present working on a program of re-assessing the various counties, but it is a slow process," with the total of only five counties completed in five years.

Mr. Ahern mentioned other bills pending in the legislature, including the Prior Service Bill, which would allow teachers who previously did not take advantage of the retirement plan to buy their way into retirement by paying a lump sum a low per cent of their final average salary of their last five years.

Senate Bill No. 525 concerns the payment of tuition for boarding time students, and No. 262 would provide a 40-hour week for custodians, he said. The latter, Mr. Ahern said, though "it means to do good," would work to the disadvantage of the custodians since they would be called only when needed, he pointed out. A question period followed the talks.

During a business meeting conducted by Mrs. F. Warren Green, president, announcement was made of the appointment of Mrs. Walter Chudson to serve as economics chairman, following the resignation of Mrs. Lionel Robbins.

Mrs. Green urged members to write letters to State Legislators, recommending support of the Milmoe-Halpern Bill, which the League is supporting.

Mrs. F. L. Bradfute, program chairman, announced discussion group meetings to be held March 9 and 16 on the subject of "Legislation of Interest to the League." Mrs. Spencer Weart, welfare chairman, will assist two scout troops in obtaining citizens' badges in the Spring, it was announced.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs Price Topping, representing Chatsworth Avenue School; Mrs. Samuel Hand, Centeral School, Mrs. S. J. Winterberg, Mamaroneck Junior High School; Mrs. Luman G. Hubbell, Mamaroneck —Larchmont Parent — Teacher Council, and Mrs. Harry G. Waltner, Jr., president of the Woman's Club of Mamaroneck.

Chatsworth And Murray PTA's Celebrate 52nd Founder's Day

More than 50 members of the combined Parent Teacher Associations of the Chatsworth Avenue and Murray Avenue schools met yesterday in the library of the Chatsworth School, to commemorate the 52nd anniversary of the founding of the Parent Teacher's Association.

Mrs. John Brewer, president of the Chatsworth P. T. A. presided Mrs. Robert Garlock, president of the Murray P. T. A. welcomed the guests, and voiced the regrets of the many members of the group who were snowbound. Dr. Helen Long, principal of the Chatsworth School and Miss Loretta Hirshbeck, Murray principal, joined in the Founders' Day program.

Mrs. Brewer recounted briefly the origin of the Parent Teacher Association, on Feb. 17, 1897, when a handful of interested parents and teachers organized the association which now numbers over five million members. Tribute was paid to Mrs. Erik Andersen as a parent and Miss Elizabeth Fortune, teacher representative on the PTA board, who had "shown consistent interest and service," served the association over a period of years. A life-time membership scroll was presented to each, by Mrs. Brewer.

The names of the past presidents of both Associations were read, and two past presidents of Murray PTA, Mrs. Claude L. Seixas and Mrs. Thomas J. Morrison, Jr., were introduced.

Mrs. Luman Hubbell announced the date of the 8th annual Community Institute March 21, at the Mamaroneck Junior High School.

Mrs. Andersen introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Mary K. Brod, district supervisor of Westchester County Children's Court, who discussed meaning and importance of the work of the Parent-Teacher Association, and the work "still to be done to improve parent-teacher relationships." She said that it is a part of our democratic system of education for parents to have the right to express their views on how and what their children are taught.

The responsibilities of the school and the home are not the same, despite the fact that they frequently overlap, Mrs. Brod said. The school is responsible for the intellectual development of the child, and is an important factor in strengthening moral values and a sense of security to build well integrated, happy useful citizens, she stressed, but the home must be the beginning place for the qualities which too many parents consider the sole responsibility of the school. Although a good teacher may compensate for fundamental hardships and mishandling at home, it is the responsibility of the parents, father and mother, to send the child to school with a feeling of security and affection and balance, she pointed out.

Mrs. Brod said that the attitude which parents exhibit toward their children may be one of indifference, or acceptance rather than a joyful and productive appreciation of our children and a true pleasure in being parents." A sense of security and warmth is much more necessary to the child than material gadgets, which are too often substituted for spiritual and moral values, she said, and every child should be given the "strength and beauty of his own and his parents' creed or faith as well as the lesson of tolerance for those of different creeds. Children should learn to follow their own thinking seriously and honestly, with no intolerance of others."

"Nobody knows the number of teachers responsible for the healthy mental growth of children whose homes are lacking in love, security and moral values," Mrs. Brod said. "Unfortunately, the social status of the teacher is not what they, the teachers deserve, and it is the responsibility of the community to make the teachers a real unit in the community, with the high school status which they deserve."

Mrs. Brod closed by saying that the teacher, clergyman and physician, work most closely with the parents, in rearing happy, healthy, well-balanced children.

Following, the talk, tea was served under the direction of Mrs. Jerome Adler, refreshment chairman. Mrs. J. M. Van Law, first vice-president of the Murray PTA and Mrs. William Stokes, first vice-president of the Chatsworth PTA presided at the tea table. Assisting are Acierno, Mrs. Joseph Waldman, Mrs. Robert Dwyer, Mrs. Henry Benach, Mrs. Morton Krex, and Mrs. Walter J. Belino. Mrs. Jerry Shapiro was in charge of hospitality.

Spotlight On Sports

By DICK CARPENTER

Court fans and experts throughout the county spent the weekend trying to figure out how Bellows racked up that amazing 84-18 score against Rye High last Friday night and some have come up with suitable solutions. It seems that the Garnet forces lost several of their players recently when they were declared ineligible for further competition. Prominent among these players was big Jim Donovan who handled most of the team's backboard duties.

Nevertheless, with the same lineup that faced the Panthers, Rye was able to come through with a respectable showing against Blessed Sacrament three days earlier although losing by ten points. Sacrament, as most everyone knows, has compiled a record of 19 victories and only two defeats for perhaps the most outstanding mark in the county. The Rye Neck quintet holds one of the decisions over Coach Ralph Friedgen's cagers. New Rochelle court followers are drum-beating for recognition for the Cardinals.

TOURNEY HOPES

The approaching high school tournament in White Plains will be an all-champion get-together this season. Only one quintet will represent each of the county's leagues and one from the independent ranks. The final will probably make the event a two night affair instead of the usual tourney where almost any school can get its basketball team entered by filling out an entry sheet.

We're heartily in favor of the tournament being restricted to the county's best but we also think that the officials should allow room for two teams from each league. In the case of the WIAA for instance, there are three quintets of practically equal ability but only one will get into the post-season shooting as the situation stands.

Although Bellows won't be invited because of its runner-up status in the SWIAC there are rumors that the local quintet may get the nod as a Class C school entry, which it actually is.

FIGHTING TIGER

As has been the case so many times this season, Mamaroneck High's cagers ran into a superior force last Friday night and took a 65-43 shellacking from A.B.Davis in the first of the third place WIAA playoff.

From this angle it looks like almost certain elimination for the Tigers when Davis visits the Junior High gymnasium for the second and possibly last game of the round this week.

The Bengals went down but not without fighting. A more determined group never took the floor for MHS. But even the dropped in favor of the Tuckahoe Hosemen who copped the Rye Pioneer Invitation Tournament title last week. The Saints will have a chance to see how they stack up against Tuckahoe in the near future when they put on a tournament of their own. The locals defeated the Hosemen in an earlier engagement this season but Tuckahoe was without the services of Bruce Gnerke and Al Vogel who carry most of the present team's scoring burden.

The Center show should still be a success, even without the Saints. The Globe Trotters are undoubtedly one of the country's strongest quintets and they went out to prove it last night in Chicago with the Minneapolis Lakers, featuring the great George Mikan, as the opposition.

Larchmont Major Leaguers Bowl On Despite Snow Storm

"Where there's a will there's a way", said some wise philosopher and 48 members of the Larchmont Major Bowling League had both last night as they managed to get through the snow drifts to Falcara's Larchmont Bowl for the regular Monday night matches. Most of the teams were either very good or very bad as revealed by the four shutouts registered out of the five matches rolled off. Only the league leading Bert's Boys took a match win without copping all three games. The 3-0 winners were the Depot Way, Pelmerette, Motormen and Cleaners.

Pinney of the Motormen had the evening's high single, a 223 pin game while Scanga of the Pal Mar and Hurley of Bert's Boys view on a particular call by one of the officials. The referee in question either felt sorry for the Tiger mentor or simply realized his mistake because he turned right around and reversed his decision in favor of the visiting team. Thus the locals got a field goal they ordinarily would have lost and were granted a foul shot to boot. Quite a convincing line of argument Ciraco must have had!

DIAMOND DUST

The softball season is slowly coming into view even though those white flakes we see floating down have blotted it out for the moment. The Larchmont League held its first meeting last Friday in a quiet manner while other sportsmen were out shocking their lungs out at the various gymnasiums. The confab resulted in two new league officials being elected and several organization matters were discussed.

We wouldn't be surprised if the Larchmont Village Board received a visit from some of their softball league's members in reference to some financial support for the approaching campaign. There was much talk about it last season but nothing was ever accomplished.

The sport has obviously taken the town by storm or vice versa and it has so many recreational advantages that it seems a crime that it isn't given some help from village officials. What other local recreation permits as many persons to participate and is followed as closely as softball?

It's none of our business, but we think the time is now to straighten out the problem if anything is going to be done at all.

DISPOSSESSED

The St. Augustine's Saints were dispossessed from the County Center before they even got into the joint to put on their basketball show. The Larchmont team was to have played a preliminary tussle to the Harlem Globe Trotters-House of David contest next under the lights but was dropped in followed hot on his heels with 215 and 214 games respectively.

Tony Loiacono of the Depot Way snatched the series honors with 504 from Harley by two pins with a 203 total.

The Depot Way topped all teams in total pins with a 2597 mark while Bert's Boys rolled a 1° single for team honors in that department.

LOCAL SAILOR PLAYS WITH STRONG NAVY '5'

Joseph J. Fraioli of 131 Eliot Avenue, Mamaroneck, sparked a court team representing the miscellaneous USS Amphion to a victory over the USS Amphion's quintet at Eliza Lucas Hall, Navy Yard, New York City, recently.

YM3 Fraioli played forward on the Goldfinch cage outfit which copped the struggle by a 32-21 score. It was the seventh victory of the season for the local navy man's team which has downed all Mine Force ship team's of its class, both in Charleston, S. C. and Yorktown, Va.. Fraioli reported that the Goldfinch will now tackle quintets from larger ships of the Atlantic Fleet.

The Goldfinch team is managed by Lt. (jg.) William W. Bischof, USN and has been chosen from a crew of 25 men while its opponents have been from ships with crews up to 500 men. The team has notched more than 400 points as against less than 200 for the opposition. Fraioli stated. They have an average of 56 points per game.

All contests have been attended by wives, relatives and friends of team members and also the ship's mascot dog, "Maru".

The Goldfinch's five expects to encounter City College of Charleston and the Citadel soon and will also enter the Mine Force playoffs. They have been nicknamed "The Iron Men" in accordance with the Navy tradition "Iron Men and Wooden Ships".

RYE TOURNEY WINNER GETS CENTER PRELIM

WHITE PLAINS.—With completion of the Rye invitational Tournament, promoter Ed Check Ceccolini was all set today with the card for Sunday night's big double-header basketball program at the County Center.

The strong Tuckahoe Hosemen winners of the Rye event, have been matched with the Kansas City Monarchs in the opening hair of the twin bill. That gives the preliminary contest as much drawing power as the feature pitting the Harlem Globetrotters against the House of David.

The bearded team was added to the program as replacement for the Philadelphia Sphas who have pencilled out the remainder of their schedule for this season.

The House of David has appeared here the past few seasons and is expected to prove a good match for the talented Trotters. Authorized by the Colony at Benton Harbor, Mich., the bearded team collared a record of 132 wins last year, while absorbing 11 losses.

The Globetrotters will enjoy a height advantage, since no member of the team measures less than six feet. Big man in the Globetrotter lineup is Nat Sweetwater Clifton, the six-foot-seven giant who once set a University of Chicago Prep school tournament record with 47 points in one game. The House of David quintet relies on speed, yet last year two operators 7ft. and stand less than six feet. Tall man for the bearded club is Bob Wegner, a six-five center who also plays for the Colony's baseball team.

Rec Basketball Games Postponed by Warren

Weather conditions forced the postponement of last night's Senior Rec basketball games. The Sparkins and Yellow Jackets were to have tangled in an important clash to open the program and a contest between the Gaels and Carpenters was to have followed. No new date was set for the playing off of these games but officials stated that they probably would be rescheduled for sometime after the 9th of March, when the league is slated to begin its playoffs. Several other games have postponed during the course of the season and Charles Warren, loop director, is working on a plan whereby two triple headers will bring the schedule up to date. An announcement is forthcoming.

Grieve Guest Speaker At Legion Post Dinner

WHITE PLAINS.—Bill Grieve, American League umpire and "Yonkers Sports Personality of 1948," will be the guest speaker at the annual sports dinner given by White Plains Post 135, American Legion for its junior baseball team Thursday. This year's baseball team also will be honored.

The dinner, which will be at 6:30 P. M. at Dick Hayes' Place, is a combination testimonial to last year's squad and sendoff for this year's nine. Expanded plans for this year will be explained by Harold Rourke, legionnaire in charge of athletics for the PST.

Oklahoma 'U' Challenges Ky.

NEW YORK, (AP) — Oklahoma A. and M. became today the main challengers of potent Kentucky for the season's college basketball honors.

On the strength of their second victory of the year over St. Louis, the Aggie climbed into the No. 2 spot in the weekly Associated Press poll—just 36 points back of the leading Wildcats.

As an example of how close that is, six more first place votes for A. and M. and none for Kentucky would have put the Aggies on top. The poll did not take into consideration the Aggies' 35-31 loss to Bradley last night.

In commandeering the runner-up position, the Oklahomans rooted out the St. Louis Billikens, whom they tripped, 40-37, last Saturday after winning an earlier game, 29-27, in overtime.

The Billikens had never been lower than second and had led the standings through the early weeks of the poll.

6 Hackley Men Top 100 Points

TARRYTOWN—Six members of the Hackley Varsity Basketball Team have entered the Century Circle, that elite organization of Cagers who have scored 100 points or more during a single campaign.

Heading the scoring list for the Hornets is Jeff Miller who has tallied 174 points during the current campaign. He is followed by Dick Day with 115, Tony Stock, with 108; Jim McKenzie, with 102, Captain Paul Kelly, with 101 and Jim Couffer with 100. This sets a new mark for Hackley School, topping the four men who scored over the 100 mark last season.

Eagles Close Out 1948-49 Campaign With 17–5 Triumph

The Larchmont Eagles hung up their skates last Saturday night after trekking to Norwalk, Connecticut, to tackle and thoroughly trounce New Milford 17-5 in an outdoor hockey tussle. It was a fitting climax to the Westchester Hockey League champion's second successful season. As a unit they won ten games, lost two and tied one. Saturday night's contest was the only non-league game they played all season.

Jack Murphy led the Eagles' scoring parade with five goals while four other members of the Larchmont sextet tallied twice. Included in this group were Walt Lawrence, a former Bellows High School ace puck handler, Doug Morrison, Harry Van Dyke and George Copeland. Jimmy Murphy another former Bellows star, tallied the first goal of the game for the local skaters.

Joe Schaeffer was in the nets for the winners and, although bothered by the lights, managed to turn in an impressive performance. The New Milford team was handicapped by the absence of its regular net minder, which perhaps accounts for the tremendous margin of victory.

Jack Sutphen turned in a creditable job as a defenseman and racked up six assists, four of which went to Jack Murphy for conversions.

The Eagles were in front by a 5-3 count when the first period had been completed despite the fact that the tally had been knotted up three times. New Milford, with a good record in Norwalk-New Haven circles, appeared to be in the struggle at this point.

Then the dam broke and the Larchmont team splashed the nets with six goals with only one return for the Milfordites.

The losers tallied once again in the final fifteen minutes but gave away six more in doing so.

New Milford, despite its goalie's absence, had a 20 player squad on hand for the engagement. The Eagles used VanDyke, Sutphen and Jim Murphy as defensive operatives with two forward lines, Doug Morrison centered the first group with George Copeland and a newcomer, Bob Davis, at the wings. Lawrence was the center on the relieving group while John Dowling and Jack Murphy handled flank assignments.

DEBACCO, SURBATIS SET 6-DAY PACE

NEW YORK, (AP)—The team of Angelo De Bacco, of Newark, N. J., and Henri Surbatis, of Greece continued to set the pace in the 49th International Six-Day Bike Race at the 22nd Engineers Armory, at 6 A. M. today.

Several hair were made in overtake the pace setters but all were unsuccessful. Fans saw some unprecedented wild riding for this stage of the grind.

In the early morning hours, Antonio Bevilaqua, of the Italian team, blew a front tire and went crashing to the boards in front of the referee's stand. Unable to avoid the spilled rider, Roger DeCorte, the Belgian ace, went down too. Bevilaqua suffered head injuries, necessitating 24 stitches while DeCorte injured his left shoulder. Both riders continued in the race after medical attention.

The 13 remaining teams had covered 551 miles, three laps at the end of the 33rd hour.

Glenn Dobbs' fancy 49.1 punting average last season for the Los Angeles Dons is the highest mark ever posted in major league pro football.

Scarsdale HS Five Becomes Bellows' 11th Court Victim 56-38

Panthers Coast To Victory After Piling Up Early Lead

By BARRY LOUGHRANE

In a court contest that Bellows used more or less as a warmup for Friday night's return SWIAC engagement with Harrison, Scarsdale's Raiders became the local high school's fourth straight victim in bowing by a 56-38 count at the Bandbox yesterday afternoon. The Panters looked most impressive in the first half, hitting with set shots from the outside of the visitors defensive setup. However, as the game progressed, the East Enders tapered off and hit the height of their wild passing, crazy shooting offense in the final quarter. Scarsdale had been expected to and did furnish little opposition to the Blue and Black quintet which has now taken 11 games out of 15 attempts.

FISCHER HIGH MAN

George Fischer paced the winners in scoring with 14 points. The Panther center was closely followed by Ed Feldt (10), Mayer, Hanfelt (9), and Ted Talleyi (6). Most of this quartet's point making came in the first half when the local cagers racked up 35 markers and practically stowed the victory away before the contest reached its mid-point.

The Maroon also looked good in the first half, which was when Walt Kenny jammed in most of his 12 points. Kenny dropped in his goals on hooks and lay-ins while Dick Reeves was responsible for eight of the Maroon squad's markers.

POOR FOUL SHOOTING

Both teams were pitiful from the foul line, and the East Enders also led in this department by netting only two of 11 tries. The Haslevmen made up for their poor average from the free toss line by committing a few first half infractions themselves but later in the tilt resumed the fouling antics which plagued them in several crucial games this season.

In the first quarter it was a battle between the set shooting of the Panthers and one handers by the Scarsdale Raiders. Talleyi continued his unusual knack of starting the scoring in Bellows contests by driving in for a layup on the first play of the game. Reeves countered for the Raiders with a one hander from the side. Fischer, fighting hard under the boards, tossed in a jump shot, but Reeves evened it up a few seconds later by jumping with a one hander from the foul line. Walt Kenny tapped in a loose ball and gave Scarsdale a lead of two points and Feldt, Harriott, Fischer and Talleyi all counted with lay ups in an attack that put Bellows ahead to stay.

Reeves added another pair of one handers and seemed to be keeping his team in the game by himself. Dehlendorf, however, found the range and split the nets with a long set. Ed Feldt matched this with a set and Walsh added a jump shot. Kenny scored twice from in close to put the Raiders within two points of the Panthers and the rest of the first period turned into a see-saw struggle. Petrie counted with a long set, and follow up by Fischer gave the locals a good margin again. A pair of shots by Dave Grogan, brought the game up to a 20-18 status with Blue and Black on the long end.

FIRST HALF FAST

The accurate shooting continued into the second quarter when Feldt and Talleyi hit twice apiece with long set efforts. Fischer and Petrie also contributed in this frame as the Panther widened their margin. In the middle of the quarter, Dehlendorf scored the first free throw of the game, which indicates the fast, clean type of basketball that was being played. Mahler and Grogan added baskets for the Raiders, but Ed Feldt drove through the Maroon defense and slid up a two pointer that gave the Panthers a half time lead of ten markers, 35-25.

In the second half, both teams lost the hot streak that they had in the beginning of the struggle and the game slowed down considerably. George Fischer hit with three consecutive push shots and Walsh scored with his patented lunge shot at the outset of the canto. The highlight of the quarter however, was stolen by Vogel and Kenny of the Raiders who worked some perfect plays around the pivot post. Near the end of the period, Harriott and Steve Johnson started to fast break and their plays resulted in simple layups. This was the first time in the game that the locals had been able to drive through to any great extent.

With the East Enders ahead by 14 points going into the last quarter, the outcome of the game was clearly forseen and so both mentors placed their substitutes in the contest, which made the game slow and sometimes sloppy.

Harriott and Vitella did all the Panthers scoring in the final period, the former netting a pair of layups and a foul while Vitella meched two more goals from in close. The visiting forces managed to collect only five markers in the fourth quarter three of which were gained from foul shooting. Grogan, with a successful push shot, was the only Raider to tally from the field.

In the preliminary tussle between the schools' Jayvee aggregations, the Panther Cubs were again trimmed by a taller and more experienced quintet. Nevertheless, the Bellows Junior Varsity five was in there plugging until the final whistle left them two points short of a tie. The final was 27-25 with Jim Hogan showing the way for the winners with 10 tallies. Bill Cummings collected seven for the losing force.

PRUDEN-HARDEN MEET IN CENTER 'EIGHT' TONIGHT

On May 6, 1947, Frittie Pruden of St. Catherine, Ontario, and Nat Harden of the Bronx, fought in one of the four-round preliminaries at the County Center in White Plains. Tonight almost two years later, the young welterweights meet again. This time they're scheduled for eight rounds and are the main-eventers.

When they last met, Pruden, because of his added experience in 20 fights to Harden's five—won on a technical knockout. Harden had suffered a fractured nose forcing the ref to intervene midway of the last round.

Of course, Harden will be seeking revenge for that defeat-to-night, and he can get it too, for he is regarded as one of the most dangerous punchers in his division. Nat's most recent kayo win was over tough Tony LaRua. Le-Roy Center of Mount Vernon can also attest to Hardin's punching power, having been soundly trounced by the Bronxite.

Pruden, however, has been coming along at a much faster rate than Harden. The Canadian has fought some better fighters than the Bronx belter. In Pruden's last two starts he whipped Terry Young and gave Billy Graham a rough going over for 10 rounds, only to lose by a narrow margin. Expected to be at the Center tonight to root for Frittie will be heavyweight title contender, Lee Savold, his stablemate.

Two six-rounders will pit Farrest Norman, hard hitter from Mount Vernon vs. Billy Patterson from New York's East Side, and Tommy Warnock of Brooklyn vs. Tony Viserto of the Bronx.

Three four-rounders will complete the weekly fistic program arranged by Promoter Joe McKenna. Tommy O'Connor of the East Side meets Frank Delarde of the Bronx; Andy Viserto's brother, Tony faces Jimmy Fredricks, another Mount Vernonite, and Jimmy Stark of Valley Stream, L. I., mingles with Paddy McNeil of Toronto.

Spartans Play CYO 5 At Local Gym Tonight

The Rye Neck Spartans will engage the Rye CYO basketball team tonight in the Bellows High School gymnasium.

The CYO cagers have many former Rye High School stars on their roster and should furnish the Spartans with some tough competition as they seek their fourth victory in games played outside of the Senior Recreation League.

The game is slated to start at 7:30 sharp and all members of the local team are requested to be on hand.

THROUGH THE MIDDLE goes Gene Doherty of the St. Augustine's Saints as Ralph Branca of the Gun Inn quintet moves up to try to snatch the leather away before Doherty can get his shot off. The game was played at the Saints' gymnasium recently and the locals copped the duke despite Branca's point pouring. Both teams will be certain starters in the Second Annual St. Augustine's Invitation Tournament which will start on March 28th and run for four nights and one Sunday afternoon.

MARATHON RETURNED TO YONKERS IN '49

The Yonkers Marathon will return to the Terrace City this year and to its original sponsor, the Chippewa Club.

Scheduled for Sunday, May 15, the 26-mile National and Metropolitan AAU Championship street derby, is expected to follow its original route forsaken only last year when the AAU awarded the race to the Jefferson Democratic Club on Long Island.

The first Yonkers marathon was held in 1935 and sponsored that year and all other years since with the exception of 1948 by the Chippewa Club. The event went to Long Island last year as an official AAU concession to New York's Golden Jubilee.

Present plans of the sponsors call for sending the runners over the original course—starting and finishing at Empire City Race Track and negotiating along the way up Central Avenue to Ardsley and back down old Saw Mill River Road. Uncertainty of the situation at Empire with respect to its impending sale has led the race sponsors to map out an alternate route—just in case. The alternate would take the runners from the club at 116 Lake Avenue in Yonkers, up Central Avenue to White Plains, thence to Tarrytown by way of Tarrytown Road and down the Hudson Shore through numerous villages along the Post Road, back to the club again.

Last time the race was held in its hometown, it served as an Olympic trial and was won by Ted Vogel. Last year, over the course from Idlewild Airport to the World's Fair grounds, the marathon field was topped by Johnny Kelly of the Boston Edison A. C. Both Vogel and Kelly are expected to exercise their buttons in the race again this year.

For the time being James F. McCrudden, Yonkers recreation director is acting as marathon chairman and is arranging for early distribution of entry blanks.

Turkey Shoot Delayed One Week by Weather

The sudden change in the weather has brought a week's postponement for the turkey shoot planned for this Sunday by the Federation of Flish and Game clubs of northern Westchester. Federation president Lester Nunaman announced today that the heavy snowfall had caused the organization to move to March 13 the shoot which had been slated for Whitehall Corners, Amawalk.

Nunaman said the trap would be open, however, in the event any marksmen cared to practice.

Eggers Tops Times Rollers; 2-1 Scores In All Matches

Dick Eggers bested Charlie Lanza in an individual duel in the Architects-Mike's Five scrap on the Daily Times Bowling League card last night at the Larchmont came out on top in single and series scores. The Architects' ace crashed an opening single game of 245 pins that wasn't bested the rest of the night and when his pin-all had been totalled to 602, no other bowler could boast of a better mark. Lanza fared pretty well himself with a 233 single and 595 three game tally.

The Architects took that match by a 2-1 count while other winners all by the same split score, were the Skyscrapers, Mamaro and Equippers. The latter team, league leader, could use last night's win because they had been in the grasp of a string of defeats.

There were only nine games that went over the double century figure and only the two aforementioned ones went over 225 pins. Sid Anton came the closest of the remaining seven with a 222 effort. Sid had the only score with two games over 200 pins but his total was one maple shy of Eggers' leading figure.

The Skyscrapers rolled a final game of 934 pins which was the team high for last night. The team triple score laurels went to the Automotives who rolled down 2562 maples.

TIGER-IONA SWIMMING RESET FOR MARCH 22

Mamaroneck High's swimming team was barred from an attempt at its sixth victory of the current campaign by bad weather and illness yesterday. The Benral natators were to have engaged Iona Prep's mermen in the New Rochelle YMCA pool but the meet was cancelled by mutual agreement yesterday morning.

Officials of both school's immediately agreed on March 22nd, a Tuesday afternoon, as the date for swimming off the postponed meet. Thus New Rochelle will be the next opponent of the MHS tankmen when they tangle next Tuesday in the Huguenot city. The Bengals have been turned back twice in their quest for win number six on the season, White Plains' YMCA team being the latest to conquer them.

Besides the weather conditions yesterday, Mamaroneck decided on a postponement when four of the team's most consistent winners turned up on the sick list. Don Simon, captain, and undefeated backstroke ace, would have had to sit on the sidelines as would John Glover, sensational sophomore freestyler, Weir Daly and Gordie Nichols, the team's diving event mainstay. Glover turned up with an injured finger while the other three had colds and various other minor ailments.

Ski Club Hopes May Come True

SILVER LAKE—Stymied in every attempt to stage a sanctioned ski jump here this Winter by lack of snow, the Norswirt Ski Club today was working on plans for an exhibition jump Sunday.

Fifteen metropolitan jumpers who have no plans to attend a sanctioned event this week-end, will appear in the exhibitions, scheduled to get under way at noon.

MHS Frosh Cagers Cop, Varsity Drills; Firemen, Heathcotes Win

Early Season Loss Avenged As Sacrament Yields 32–22

Mamaroneck High School's basketball future was brightened 100 per cent yesterday afternoon when its freshman cage outfit avenged an early season loss by frosh reeling with a 32-22 victory, their first in four games this season. The Tiger Freshmen showed signs of developing into a strong aggregation in losing to Isaac Young last week but hit the peak of its season yesterday in racking up the Sacrament forces that had easily trounced the locals last time out.

Coach Orlando Ciraco used all 13 players on his squad and came away perhaps even more pleased than when his varsity quintet has won this season. The genial Bengal mentor has worked with the freshmen two activity periods a week, hardly a sufficient practice schedule, and yet the team is definitely beginning to round out shooting outfit.

Johnny Dooling was the top scorer for the game with nine markers and played an equally defensive contest. Although he didn't get into the scoring column, Tony Donato was setting up a good percentage of the Bengals' plays and his presence was vital as the local team increased its lead throughout the game.

Jim Guinee, who earned himself a starting berth for yesterday's encounter with an outstanding showing against the Knights last week, continued to impress with his set shooting. Guinee ended up with seven markers as did Ted Neff, who regained his shooting eye while alternating with Lou Giancola at a forward spot.

Although they did not really have a height advantage, the MHS frosh quintet controlled the backboards because of its tremendously aggressive play. Every man who went on the floor in an orange and black uniform battled off the boards. Of course Al Mitlehner, starting center, grabbed most of the rebounds with his height advantage but Al really was a terror in the rebound department yesterday when he showed new life while playing his roughest game of the season. Don Schmidt, six-foot-five Tiger, also demonstrated his steady improvement inspelling Mettlehner at the pivot post.

Both teams made 10 foul shots in 22 attempts which isn't a bad average for players who are short on experience. In fact it's a better average than either of the local high school varsity outfits have made at times.

The Tiger Freshmen will complete their schedule next Monday afternoon when Rye's first year men visit the Junior High court at 3:30 P.M.

MAMARO KEGLERS STILL ON MOVE

The Mamaro Foxes, led by Tom Parker, Sr., and Walter Webber, moved within reach of the Fraternal Bowling Lead with a shutout triumph at the Mamaroneck Rec last night. While the Foxes were pounding out their victory, the Manzoni entry was whipping through three straight games also and went back into a tie for first place with the Odd Fellows "B" team, which won two out of three games. The IOOF bowlers dropped their one game margin in the standings when the Rotary copped the middle game of the set by winning a roll-off.

Parker and Webber were more closely matched last night than any two keglers in the loop have this season. The former snatched away both individual laurels by margins of two pins in single game scores and a lone pin in the series class. His marks were 228 and 634.

In the fourth and final match, the Legion nosed out the Lions by a 2-1 count.

FIRST LOSS FOR LOCAL RIFLEMEN

In an ironsight rifle match at the Mount Vernon Range Tuesday night, the Mamaroneck Rifle Club went down to its first defeat of the season by a technicality when the Fordham ROTC team won by the margin of a better mark in the offhand position. The count was knotted at 910-all when the final cards were turned in, thus the decision was left to the respective teams' "high five" scores in the offhand position. The Fordham sharpshooters got the best of their opposition 206-196 in that department and were given credit for the win as a result.

The engagement was non-league affair and the use of the ironsight hampered the local team no end. Having participated in a match with the Fordhamites earlier in the season, Mamaroneck Pfc. Joseph Kolb was unable to repeat the triumph.

Kolb saved the individual honors for the Mamaroneck riflemen by turning in a 192 card, the only score in that category during the entire match. Reres Proctor matched any mark made by a member of the winning team with a 185, but after these two, the eventual winners took over and were more consistent all along the line. Virginia Rye became the first female shooter to smash the locals high five this season when she posted a 178 score.

Wrestling matches at the County Center in White Plains has been called off indefinitely, it was announced today by Promoter Ed Chick Ceccolini. The Thursday night grappling shows on the Center mat has been losing in attendance for the past few weeks, and may not be brought back this season, according to the promoter. Ceccolini added, however, that he may bring Gomez or George to the Center for at least one appearance if it can be arranged.

FIREMEN'S SOFTBALL LOOP BEING FORMED

Larchmont Fire Headquarters will be the pot for a county wide confab of fire department officials tonight with the idea being to found a Westchester fire department softball league. First Deputy Chief Hugh J. Collins, who orginated the idea some months ago, will call the meeting to order and preside throughout unless there are enough departments represented to elect officers and get something basic done about the suggestion.

About two weeks ago, Chief Collins mailed out letters to 50 fire department officials, 49 of which were within the county and the remaining one in East Port Chester group which is actually in Connecticut. The Larchmont chief has received many favorable answers but hasn't any guess as to how many of the interested organizations will send representatives to the confab.

If tonight's meeting doesn't pan out, the Larchmont group will follow up by calling another gathering in hopes that they can accomplish something before the season gets any closer.

Bellows' Court Victim Gets Tournament Spot

NEW ROCHELLE — Blessed Sacrament High, which closed out its finest court campaign Tuesday, today accepted an invitation to the Eastern States Tournament starting March 17 at Glens Falls.

Brother R. B. Citter,, Athletic moderator, announced that the Cardinals had chosen the Glens Falls bid when an offer for another post season tournament in Rhode Island arrived at the same time.

The Redbirds finished the season with one of the most impressive cage slates in the county. Only two setbacks marred a 23 game schedule, one of the two losses to Pelham Memorial was later avenged in a return engagement. The other was to Bellows in an early-season contest.

Before the 10-man squad leaves here for Glens Falls, coach Ralph Friedgen's charges will participate in the Westchester private parochial schools athletic association torunament at White Plains.

The players making the upstate trip will be Larry Hennessy, John Dolan, Harry Khuger, Don Sheehan, Tom Collins, William Spellman, Tom Durkin, Robert Delaney, Don White and Raymond Cassidy.

DAVIS FAVORED TO END PLAYOFF TOMORROW NIGHT

Possible elimination in the WIAA third place playoff faces the Mamaroneck High cage quintet tomorrow night when it faces A. B. Davis in the second round. Davis holds a 1-0 edge on the MHS team as the result of its 65-43 triumph last Friday night.

Although the visitors are installed as top heavy favorite for the clash, Mamaroneck isn't going into the tilt with any ideas of losing. Coach Orlando Ciraco expressed satisfaction with the drills that have been held this week and gave his veterans a vote of confidence by naming them to start this important fray. If the Bengal coach sticks to his word, Bill Cunningham will jump center on the opening tap-off with Don Dockerill and Nick Condro behind him at the guards while Eddy Smith and Joe Petruzzo will be stationed at forward spots.

Cunningham and Petruzzo had no trouble scoring against the Mt. Vernon quintet last week but the locals' trouble was in the defensive department. They simply must stop the driving Davis forwards and break up the visiting foxes' zone defense. Condro and Dockerill have heavy defensive loads on their shoulders in this contest as will Al Eckhardt and Schacklinsky, who will be the main reserves.

The Jayvee game will also have more than the usual significance since Ciraco claims that he may use the players who perform capably in the preliminary for substitutes in the varsity contest. The Junior Varsity game opens the program at 7:30 P.M.

Weakened RN Spartans Succumb to Rye CYO 5

Playing minus the services of three of the regular starting five, the Rye Neck Spartans put up a game battle last night at the Bellows gymnasium before slowly sinking to an 81-54 pasting that was administered by the CYO courtsiers of Rye. The Spartans had a seven point lead at the end of the first quarter but had dropped all of that margin and one point more by halftime. Rye sped out into a 48-40 spread in the third stanza and flipped in shots from all angles in the fourth to make a run-a-way of it as the tired Rye Neck quintet floundered helplessly.

Jack Curran of the winners, a big six-foot-four inch cager, flipped in 13 field goals and a foul shot for high scoring honors in the fray with 27 points. Curran was most deadly from the pivot and on tap-ins while Charlie Ebetino sank 22 markers in a set shooting role.

The local team reported to long heaves in the first half and, with Art O'Neill hitting, managed to stay in the ball game. However, their flings failed to hit the mark with any consistency in the second session and it led to their third independent court defeat of the season.

BOMBERS NOTCH 5TH; WILDCATS ALSO WIN

Mamaroneck Avenue School Rec League basketball started a series of games that were orginally postponed during different points in the season with a double bill last night. The Bombers opened the program in auspicious style by slamming their fifth victory in the faces of the Wildcats, 47-31 and as a result tied the idle Crusaders for second place in the standings. The second game was copped by the Brothers 27-13 over the Rams although George Lanza scored every marker the losing team gathered.

The Rams dropped their sixth game of the season in seven starts by sinking only four field goals and five fouls during the entire contest. Lanza tallied them all while Ricci paced the Brothers to their second win of the campaign with 12 points.

Piacenti dropped 18 points for the victorious Bombers and Nask followed with 15, also for the winning team. Ianerelli and Pinto each hooped 11 for the Wildcats, who were beaten for the fourth time in six outings thus far.

The growth and development of daffodils was discussed yesterday for Central School pupils by Mrs. Richmond S. Barton of the Garden Club of Mamaroneck, in a program on informative talks on rounds the calendar planning sponsored jointly by the Parent-Teacher Association and the club's junior section.

Mrs. Barton illustrated her talk with cultural specimens and colored slides. She also discussed the development of the narcissi family.

Preceding Mrs. Barton's talk, Mrs. Milton A. Hesock outlined for pupils the necessary steps for successful forcing of branches and ornamental leaves. She illustrated her talk with branches of cherry, pear and apple blossoms in full bloom, forced indoors.

The program, which was recently given at the Barry Avenue School, will be repeated soon at Daniel Warren and Mamaroneck Avenue Schools. Mrs. Hesock is chairman of the junior section.

Pupil-Teacher Ratio Topic Of Board Meeting

Mrs. Herbert Amsel, president, read a letter from New York State Commissioner of Education Francis D. Plans were announced for the Community Institute March 21 at Mamaroneck Junior High School, and other topics under discussion were the Milmoe-Halpern bill for state aid to education, the March and April meeting of the PTA and the first film bulletin of the Larchmont — Mamaroneck Motion Picture Council.

3 Bellows High School Juniors Inducted Into Honor Society

Three Bellows High School juniors, representing five per cent of the junior class, according to the provisions of the Honor Society charter, were inducted into the Bellows Chapter of the Honor Society yesterday at a joint junior and senior high assembly, in a ceremony conducted by Rocky O'Connell, chapter president.

The new members are Carol Garfunkel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Garfunkle of 513 Carroll Avenue. Jane Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Martin of 515 Wagner Avenue, and Josephine Marino, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Marino of 1325 Halstead Avenue, all Mamaroneck.

Principal William McAloon congratulated the new members and presented Honor Society pins, noting the requirements of scholarship, with a 92 per cent average, leadership, character and service.

Following the ceremony, with piano accompaniment by Virginia Cluck, Frederic Checksfield, English exchange teacher at Mamaroneck High School, spoke of the 400 year old history of his high school near London.

During times of stress, as during World War Two, he said, students continued the ideals and traditions of the school which are symbolic of those of the Honor Society, he pointed out.

Preceding the ceremony, the orchestra offered several selections under the direction of J. Ellsworth Olson.

Initiation of the three new members took place last night at the home of Betty Morehouse, Carroll Avenue, Mamaroneck, with Joan Malkowski as co-hostess. Guests included Miss Frances M. Larmon, sponsor of the Bellows Chapter of the Honor Society.

Plans for the April 27 bridge, to raise funds for the senior gift, were discussed following the initiation ceremonies, and refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Few Changes In Court List; Bellows Moves Up 2 Notches

By BILL ROACH

Last week's top 15 Westchester area teams jockeyed around a bit but no new faces appeared in the top brackets today as the next-to-last week of regular season play roared to its end.

Only one team—Mount Kisco—from the previous list failed to make another appearance, but four quintets maintained their 100 per cent records by appearing for the 10th time in the list.

NYSD, which was first on the original list the last of December, returned for the 10th time in the 12th spot; Hastings, second originally, appeared in seventh; Irving School, ninth in December, topped the list this week for the fourth straight week, and White Plains, a regular since it first appeared in the ninth slot, was in the eighth position today.

All told, besides the four regulars, Pelham has been named to nine; Ossining, Port Chester, Yonkers Central, and Edison Tech. on eight; Hackley, Brewster, Davis, Irvington, Blessed Sacrament, to seven, and Katonah to five.

Again there was no change in the top leaders. Irvington returning in second and Blessed Sacrament in third for the second straight week.

Biggest shuffling happened to Edison Tech and Hackley, both of whom dropped four notches. Edison from ninth to 13th and Hackley from 11th to 15th.

Pelham, Yonkers Central, Ossining, and Davis all moved up three places. Pelham jumped from fourth to seventh, Yonkers from 12th to ninth, Ossining and Davis from 12th to 10th still tied.

No major league games have been played since last Friday, but the finale for most of the school loops comes tonight.

Irvington, in the western Westchester, and St. Mary's, in the Putnam-Westchester, are the first champions to be decided in the six leagues. The northern Westchester and Hudson River loops will crown their champions tonight, while the SWIAC officially ends its season next Tuesday.

In the northern Westchester loop, the standings now show Briarcliff leading with a 5-2 mark, Katonah (5 3) second with league play completed, and Chappaqua third with a 4-3 record. Briarcliff meets dangerous Bedford Hills tonight in the game that will decide the league title. Chappaqua plays Somers, 1-6 in the league. A Briarcliff win will sew up the title, but a loss coupled with a Chappaqua win would throw the

In the scrambled Hudson River sector, Hastings and Washington Irving are deadlocked with 5-2 marks, while Ossining is breathing on their necks with a 4-3 record.

Hastings plays North Tarrytown at the County Center and Ossining meets Washington Irving in two of the top battles in the county. If Hastings and the Authors win, they will be tied.

Should Ossining and North Tarrytown win, there will be a three-way tie between the current top three. The league has ruled that, if necessary, the teams will play off for the title.

In the SWIAC, defending champion Edison Tech has already made an 8-0 record, assuring them of at least a tie. A win over Pleasantville tonight will give them the title. Harrison has to take Bellows and hope for two more losses for Tech in order to tie for the laurels.

Other top tilts for tonight include Croton's finale of the season against the champions of the loop, Irvington; the Putnam-Westchester all-star game with St. Mary's in the role or the defender.

Katonah and Mt. Kisco, two of the top independent teams, wind up their season in a re-match while Blessed Sacrament is host to a rugged Stamford quintet in their final tilt of the regular season.

Tournaments take the limelight for the next couple of weeks. The Eastern Deaf tourney, already under way at NYSD, winds up tomorrow night with the private-parochial tourney starting Monday at the County Center. March 18 and 19, the Section One in its new slimness makes a brief stand.

Locals Beaten Again In Finast Encounters

Mamaroneck and Larchmont, Finast Bowling League entries, were on the short end of 2-1 scores Wednesday night at the Larchmont Rec Center. White Plains was Mamaroneck conqueror while Larchmont bowed to the fast rising Harrison keglers. In the other loop match, New Rochelle retained its league by topping Bronxville, also by a split verdict.

Nick Colotti of New Rochelle's team rolled the nights' high series, a mark of 547 pins but he stepped aside in the single category as Tenzca of Harrison ripped over a 220 effort in his final game. Colotti and another Harrison roller, Franza, followed with even 200 pin games.

Larchmont salvaged one game behind the effective bowling of of Smith while Mamaroneck's leader was Spiecher.

SAINTS TO MEET CONGRESS OWEN

Perhaps the strongest team to visit the St. Augustine's gymnasium this season will furnish the opposition for the Saints Sunday afternoon in the form of the Congress Owen Knights of Columbus five of NYC. This week's visitors have Jumbo Lyons, former North Carolina State University center and Ed Bartels of NCU in their lineup as well as two former University of Pennsylvania players, Al Kohlburg at six-feet-five inches is an inch taller than Bartels and Lyons, which should furnish the Congress Owen team with a height advantage.

Jim O'Brien is the other Penn man while Tom Souran, NYU frosh, Frank McKenna and John Morris round out the seven man squad.

The visitors will be extended a bid to the Saints' tournament later this month if they prove worthy opponents.

2 CLEAN SWEEPS IN ACRES LOOP MATCHES

Monday night's snow storm didn't prevent the Larchmont Acres' keglers from going at it per usual but the tally sheets must have disappeared and weren't to turn up until yesterday. There were two sweeps out of the four encounters and they were garnered by the Richbell and Palmer Houses. The Sterling and Mott teams came out on top by 2-1 scores.

Maurice Bleiweis opened up with a 202 single that wasn't bested the rest of the night. Ed Green baum was the most consistent, however, and walked off with the high series at 546.

BHS Can Cop 'Little Three' By Beating Huskies Tonight

Bellows and Harrison, with two victories and a loss apiece in "Little Three" competition, go at it tonight at the Harrison High gymnasium in a contest that will establish this season's king in that mythical loop and also may have a bearing on the SWIAC standings. In the Southern Westchester league, Harrison currently runs second to Edison Tech with a six and two mark while the Panthers have copped five in eight outings. Thus, a win for the East Enders would give them a tie for the runner up spot.

Since the Huskies must face Edison again and Bellows plays a weak Eastchester quintet in its only other game, the locals would be almost certain of copping the duke.

Of course, the Huskies will probably be installed as a slight favorite because of their 44-42 triumph over Bellows earlier in the campaign. Coach Abe Rosenthal's cagers gave an overall record of eight wins and seven losses, having flirted with the .500 mark all season. Their most recent showing was a 64-59 triumph over Pleasantville in an overtime game.

Herb Stiegler, who has chucked in 164 points in 14 games for Harrison, missed the Pleasantville test because of an ankle injury but is expected to start tonight's fray. Coach Rosenthal hasn't as yet named the rest of his opening array but it will be chosen from the ranks of Tony Vevers, Art Troillo, Johnny Castiglia, Ernie Basso, Tony Marchione and Ernie from. None of these players has made more than 66 points this season. Venezisno having exactly that many in 15 games. The Huskies came very close to staging a stunning upset over Port Chester High, having led 25-18 at the half before bowing to a sharper shooting Sawpit five, 47-37.

Bellows puts its 11 and four record on the line tonight and last week, Yost and Pooley came out top men with 19 points apiece while the Huguenot team was led by Donofrio and Colotti who netted 18.

By slapping a 3-0 defeat on the Four Roses, the Y-Bowl again took over first place in the King and Queen Club's bowling league standings, according to figures released by Mamaroneck Red officials yesterday. The Alley Cats were able to enjoy the loop's loftiest spot for just one week dropping one game behind by losing a 2-1 decision to the Four Hundred.

Yale Gets First Bid To NCAA Cage Tourney

NEW YORK, (AP) — Yale University was selected as the first district representative in the Eastern regional basketball playoffs of the National Collegiate Athletic Association at Madison Square Garden March 21 and 22.

NEVER AGAIN will you get so much for your used car—Sell it through a Want Ad.

Kingsbridge Midgets To Welcome Andy Furci

NEW YORK—The Kingsbridge Armory midget race program will welcome another newcomer tomorrow night with first appearance here this season of Andy Furci, Brooklyn. Furci has returned from Florida midget tracks.

This week's schedule will find the field still gunning for Vernon Land and his hold on first place in the championship point standings. He has accumulated 191 points to date, to top Larry Bloomer, second with 170.

ROLLS HIGH SERIES

MOUNT VERNON — Lillian Ellis registered the highest series score in league competition in Southern Westchester this year when she rolled 214-103-206 612 in the Women's Westchester Merchants League at the Vernon Heights Recreation Alleys here last night.

Guad Sets Community Mark; LRT Keglers Sweep To Lead

A new single game mark was recorded on the Larchmont Community slate last night when Johnny Guad climaxed a 600 pin series with a 268 game. Guad was forced to strike out in order to break the old standard. Naturally, his scores were good enough to cop both individual laurels.

In winning a 3-0 victory, the LRT keglers moved into first place, a game and a half ahead of the Uncle Carls who drew a bye last night. 2-1 wins were racked up by the Hook & Ladder and Myrtle Five while the third place Clippers posted the second shutout.

Oddly enough, there were only five other games over 200 pins and none of them were of the spectacular variety. Dave Burns of the Patrol rolled a 212 single while Simpson, Dom Ianello and Stevens were still farther back although still in the double century class.

The Clippers had far and away the best team single by closing out their victory with a 960 pin game. Their 2618 total pinfall also took top honors.

Tigers Determined But Davis Favored

Coach Orlando Ciraco is hoping for a fine local turnout for tonight's important WIAA third place playoff battle with A. B. Davis at the Junior High gymnasium. Ciraco believes that, with some support from the fans and a "team" effort, his Mamaroneck High representatives can knot up the playoff and create the necessity for a deciding encounter. Davis won the opening round last Friday by a 63-43 count on their Mt. Vernon hardwood.

As is the usual custom, a Junior Varsity game will start the night of basketball rolling at 7:30 P. M.

MT. VERNON BOWS TO MAMARONECK RIFLERS

With Jim Lenney and Otto Kolb posting 197 score cards, the Mamaroneck Rifle Club returned to Southern Westchester Inter City League action at the Mount Vernon Range last night and defeated the home team by a 970-932 margin. Every member of the local force's "high five" had a 190 mark or better with Beres Procelo following the co-leaders with a 194 total. Kolb was perfect in the prone and sitting positions but dropped one while firing from the kneeling spot and two in offhand firing. Proctor also was flawless from the first two positions but dropped three in each of the more difficult styles. Chas Papas and Irwin Tokulsky also five". Lora Heiland led the women shooters with a 185 card.

Two 1st Round Upsets In Deaf Cagers' Play

WHITE PLAINS—The 17th annual Eastern Deaf School cage tourney got underway at New York School For Deaf last night with two early favorites victims of first-round defeats.

Western Pennsylvania, the defending champion, toppled St. Joseph's Deaf School of the Bronx, 61-47, in the highlight of last night's play. St. Joseph's listed as much stronger this season was runner-up to the Pittsburgh five last year.

In the first game of the tourney, New Jersey School For Deaf was eliminated by American School of Hartford, Conn., in a mild upset, 49-40. The New Jersey school has won most of the past titles.

In the third game last night, Rhode Island School For Deaf overwhelmed Maryland in a high-scoring, 65-51, game. The Rhode Islanders have appeared in only four previous tourneys and have yet to place.

Tigers Upset Davis In Overtime 55-52; BHS Quintet Humbled

Ciracomen Knot Up Playoff With Surprise 'Team Effort'

By JOHN TAUB

President Truman wasn't considered to have a chance before last November's election and, according to pre game predictions, neither did Mamaroneck High School's basketball forces before last night's second game of the WIAA third place playoff with A. B. Davis. But when the teams met face to face on the hardwood it was a different story as an inspired Tiger quintet battled through a blistering four quarters and a three minute overtime before settling the count at a 55-52 victory.

The Bengals amazing triumph, which came as a complete surprise to everyone but the players and Coach Orlando Ciraco, was due not only to a water-tight defense but also to the fact that the MHS team was consistently accurate in its shooting. Joe Petruzzo and Bill Cunningham turned in fine jobs of point pouring in direct contrast to their previous poor performance against the Mount Vernon team which topped the opening round by a comfortable 22 point margin.

Team Victory

But even this does not completely explain the sudden reversal of form by the locals for it was as much a team triumph as ever has been displayed in the game of basketball.

Cunningham, although facing taller men in the persons of Don Johnson and Harvey Billingham, consistently outjumped his taller adversaries and made some of the shots that he had been missing in past games.

Donny Dockerill and Nick Condro played sparkling defensive games, accounting for 11 points between them. Condro hit for four field goals, while Dockerill's field goal and four shot proved important in the final score. Dockerill's foul toss came in the closing seconds of the overtime period, and just about clinched the game for the home team.

Eddy Smith scored two points before fouling out and was valuable as a playmaker. Mouse Bruno and Larry Collins also gave sterling performances, with Collins sinking two crucial foul shots in the final minutes of play.

From the opening whistle, it was evident that it was not the same Tiger team that lost a 65-43 battle to Davis in the opener. The Bengals stopped Davis practically cold in the first half, with their improved defensive setup, while scoring 21 points. They were bothered in the third quarter, when they were outscored 16-10, but in the high scoring fourth quarter the lead changed hands so often that by every time a basket was made. A 48-48 tie was the score at the end of the regular time, but in the overtime, Mamaroneck thoroughly outplayed and outscored Davis, 7-4, and came off the floor with the game that will necessitate a third game to determine third place in the final league standings.

Scoring honors went to Petruzzo and Cunningham who tied with eighteen markers apiece. Petruzzo and Cunningham proved invaluable throughout the entire game, playing in fighting style off both boards. Petruzzo went out in the fourth period on personal fouls, but only after he had accounted for his important points.

Small Crowd

The one regrettable part of the game was the sparse crowd that witnessed the Bengals in their finest-played game of the year.

With this victory, Mamaroneck assured themselves of two more games before their season draws to a close. A second battle with Gorton Tuesday night will be followed by the third playoff game.

Five points was the margin by which the Tigers led after the first period of play, and from the way Mamaroneck was playing it looked like a Ciraco victory was inevitable, even though only eight minutes before Davis was a heavy favorite to win the game and take the series.

The Orange increased its lead to 21-13 at halftime, and if they could avoid their third-period jinx, looked certain of easily attaining victory. The third period, however, brought its usual troubles and Davis whittled down the Bengal lead to a meretwo points, 31-29. The fourth period was nip-and-tuck all the way through, with the lead changing hands no less than 12 times. Leading at one point by three points, Mamaroneck saw the Maroon and White gradually catch up, and knot the game at 48-all. That score remained until the end of the fourth period, and the Tigers went into their first overtime period of the season.

Three straight points by Cunningham to start the three-minute overtim egave the Bengals the edge 51-48, but Shannon brought the visitors to within one point by putting in a layup. However, Condro swished a set shot, and Larry Collins meshed his second foul toss, giving the Tigers a four-point lead 54-50.

Shannon, who scored all of his eighteen point in the second half, sank a hook shot, bringing the Davismen to within striking range of the Tigers, but Dockerill threw in his foul toss to round out the scoring for the evening, with Mamaroneck on top.

Harbey Billingham gave the Tigers trouble all evening, scoring 17 points, mostly on rebounds which he had no trouble with. Don Johnson, tall center of the Mount Vernon team, used his superior height to good advantage and wound up with 14 points. However, the big gun for Davis was Dick Shannon, who, although playing little more than a half, tied with Cunningham and Petruzzo as top men.

Petruzzo Hot

The game started out as everyone had expected with Davis taking the lead on a foul shot by Johnson. However eight minutes later the score read Petruzzo 8, Davis 3, with Joe hitting for three field goals and two foul tosses to do the only Tiger scoring in the first quarter.

Mamaroneck increased its lead in the second period, staying at least six points in front of Davis all the time. Six of the seven Tigers who saw action scored in the second quarter, while Johnson, Billingham, and Shannon took care of the Davis scoring. Eight points separated the two teams at halftime, with the Orange in front by a 21-13 count.

The third quarter almost proved to be the downfall of the Orange, as they were outscored 16-10, and their lead was whittled down to an insecure two points. Johnson put in two foul shots, and was followed by Billingham, who accounted for three quick points on a foul toss and layup. Petruzzo put Mamaroneck back in front by five points with a pivot shot, but Shannon's layup made it a 23-20 game.

Petruzzo and Cunningham scored four points, but Billingham was present with one of his numerous rebound shots, and the Tigers led by only five points. Lou Cervero's set shot brought the Orange lead down to three, but Johnson meshed five points to the Tigers' four, narrowing the Tiger lead to only two points, 31-29.

The nerve-racking fourth quarter found both teams fighting desperately to hold on to slim margins. Davis caught up to the Orange with Shannon's opening hook shot, but Cunningham and the Bengals ahead by one point, with a foul toss. Shannon and Petruzzo traded field goals, but Davis netted three points to the Tigers' two, tying the game up once again. To the end of the game, the lead see-sawed back and forth, with Shannon sinking a layup in the final 30 seconds to force the game into the overtime period.

Jayvees Win

The MHS Jayvees avenged a previous defeat by the Davis juniors, eking out a 25-22 win over the Davis team. The local five put on a good last half rally, and outscored Davis 13-10 to earn their victory. This win by the Jayvees gave Mamaroneck its first double victory of the year, with both the Varsity and Jayvee squads winning their games.

Dave Cvaniara and Tommy Carino played good all-around ball and came out with scoring honors, eight points each. Larry Collins and Leroy Carter scored nine points between them, and added much to the Orange's victory, while Miller and Goodison each scored six for Davis. The box scores:

RAMBLERS, CRUSADERS COP REC CAGE WINS

The Ramblers and Wildcats made it a two team race for the Mamaroneck Avenue School Rec League crown by racing to victories last night. The Ramblers retained their unbeaten status by beating out an inspired Bombers aggregation 30-22 for their closest call of the winning season. The Bombers were thus mathematically eliminated from further contention because of their two defeats. The Crusaders still have a chance by virtue of their 38-24 victory over the Wildcats in the aftermath. It was their sixth triumph of the season against a single loss.

Pignano of the Ramblers was high man in a game where all but one player who entered the contest scored. He had nine markers while Nask of the losing forces ended up with eight.

Johnny Glennon paced the Crusaders to their win by netting 12 markers while Joe McManus, also of the winning forces, and Harrington of the Wildcats hooped nine apiece. It was the sixth trouncing of the campaign for the Wildcats. They have won twice.

Washingtons Increase Ladies Bowling Lead

A comfortable first place margin was awarded to the Washingtons of Larchmont Rec Ladies Bowling League fame last night when they registered a shutout over the Florists to sink Peter's Children another full game back. Currently the hottest team in the loop, the Washingtons have added three matches in a row and eight out of the nine games in that string were copped by them. Peter's outfit was able to gain two out of three from Dom's Four but nevertheless lost in the team race.

Brill's Girls racked up another shutout over the Jewelers while the final of four matches was a close affair, Stitch the Rees be snatched by a one game margin.

Congress Own K. of C. Meets Saints Tomorrow At 3:15 P.M.

Basketball fans who visit the St. Augustine's gymnasium in Larchmont tomorrow may get a preview of the kind of opposition the Saints plan to have on hand for their second annual tournament which is slated to start rolling on the 28th day of this month. The Congress Owen Knights of Columbus quintet will furnished the opposition in this week's Sunday afternoon fray and they are billed as one of the strongest teams ever to take to the local team's hardwood. With many former college stars scheduled to definitely make an appearance, the New York City based quintet may even be a slight favorite before game time. However, this will probably depend on the one uncertain starter, a tremendously accurate pivot man.

Those members of the visiting team who have played college ball include, Jumbo Lyons of North Carolina State, Tom Sourian of New York University, Al Kohlburg and Jim O'Brien of Pennsylvania, and the outfit's star, Ed Bartels of North Carolina University. Bartels is the only doubtful member of the group and his appearance will depend on the outcome of a tournament game tonight in which he is participating.

Bolstering the "name" players will be John Botts and Frank McKenna, NYU nigh school stars who have been less publicized but are not lacking in ability. Lyons and Bartels are both six-feet-four inches while Kohlburg stands at six-five and will open at center. This trio will give the Congress Owenites a pronounced height advantage which will be helpful since the Saints seem to be a tough nut to crack on their own floor.

The local team has gotten past the supposedly unlucky 13th victory and will be gunning to keep its record clean of a second defeat. Walt Cibrowski, high scoring center from Seton Hall will probably have his hands full in the pivot with such tall guards, Dave Latimer, Cibrowski's buddy from the Jersey school, will open up at forward with Joe Cullen a certainty at the other. Gene Doherty is Coach Tony Loiaconi's choice for the right guard spot while Joe Connolly, the team's playmaker, is another sure opening choice. Loiaconi himself leads the reserve list with Jack Spencer, an Army lieutenant who is stationed at Fort Slocum, being added to the roster for some assistance in the rebound department. Spencer saw action with the Saints in one early season game and made quite an impression on the fans. He is a driving type of player and is steady off both boards.

The contest is slated to start at 3:15 sharp and will be played on the St. Augustine's hardwood on Larchmont Avenue.

Shocking 66–36 Win Posted By Harrison In SWIAC Test

By BARRY LOUGHRANE

Harrison made a farce out of a supposedly crucial SWIAC contest last night as they swamped the local Panther quintet by a count of 66-36 at the Huskies' gym. Harrison heaved nearly everything but their uniforms at the basket, and strangely enough they couldn't miss from any angle.

The East Enders stunned the capacity crowd, making only 11 shots from the floor, and their feuling was distributed throughout the entire game. The Huskies threw up 40 charity tosses, 22 of which counted.

As the game progressed, it began to look more and more like a football game. Both teams committed 25 fouls apiece and the team play and passing was extremely sloppy. In the middle of the fourth quarter, the contest was halted because of a hot argument that ended in the exchange of a few blows. The referees and other officials stepped in to squelch the uproar before it had a chance to spread, however, and thus kept the contest from getting completely out of hand.

Locals Off

The Bellows attack was stopped cold. There was absolutely no fast breaking at all, and the set shots that the Panthers finally resorted to fell way short of the mark.

In the scoring department, Tony Veneziano was high man with 12 markers. Castiglia Steigler and Troilo all chimed in with 11 tallies apiece to lead the Maroon offensive. For the Panthers, Harvey Harriott was top man with 11 points.

The Huskies were constantly shooting. It was the same story last night, as in the first encounter between the "Little Three" foes. Some of their shots were wierd and wonderful. The Blue and Black, to a large extent, kept passing the ball and waiting for an opening that never came.

Harrison also completely outclassed the Panthers in the control of rebounds. When the Panthers did get the ball off the boards, an ever alert Husky was there to steal the ball.

The game started out well for Bellows as Harriott drove in and scored with a lay up, and in the next two minutes added three free throws. After this mild attack though, the Red and White got rolling and tossed in 11 consecutive points, five of which were tallied by Tony Marshone from the foul line. Veneziano and Castiglia also sparked the first period drive, hitting with one handers and sinking up plus that resulted in two pointers, Fischer and Evangelista converted from the foul line for the Panther cause, but at the end of the first quarter, the locals were behind 17-7.

Finishing Fast

The second period was no brighter as the Huskies dumped in 20 markers to the East Enders 11. Troilo and Steigler paced this attack with six tallies each. Veneziano's brilliant passing gave the fans the only good example of team play in the whole game. Tom Walsh's two jump shots kept the Panthers barely within striking distance. The score at half time was Harrison 37, Bellows 18.

In the third period, it was Steigler again who bottled up the Panther offense with his good defensive play under the boards. The lanky center from Harrison managed to score six more points in this frame and gradually the Bellows cheering section died down, realizing the contest was all over for all intents and purpose. Troilo, with a pair of hook shots, raised the Harrison total to 50, which exactly doubled the Panther output.

In the fourth quarter, the Panthers stayed more or less even with the Harrison forces, who at the time were nearly all second stringers in a dull, see saw exchange of baskets. Basso ended the game with a charity toss giving the Huskies a 30 point triumph over the local five.

Cubs Win

The jayvee contest was also an amazing struggle. The Panther cubs finally gained a victory as their small, inexperienced squad upended the Huskies 22-18. Oddly enough, the East End jaylors were beaten by this same Harrison team on the Bellows' court. Joe Costa led the pointmen with eight tallies, while "Skippy" Dunn racked up seven. At the end of the first quarter the locals were behind 7-2, but later in the game came to life to give the Panther fans a pleasant opening to an otherwise dismal evening.

GAINS MADE BY 3 REC OUTFITS

Three teams made outstanding gains in Mamaroneck Community League bowling at the Mamaroneck Rec last night. The Automotives managed to top the league leading Garagemen 2-1 and thus steadied their hold on second place as well as advanced toward the top at the same time. The Odd Fellows shut out the Mamaro Colts and moved into a third place tie with the Pioneers, who were also winning, but only by a 2-1 score, in the onner match the Community Five surprised by beating the Recs by a split decision.

Harry Vinet had his best night of the season and it gained him all individual laureis for the evening. Vinet, who helped the Community Five with his steady kegling, opened up with a 223 game which was not topped all night. He slumped to 188 pins in his second effort but then bettered that mark by ten maples to end up with a 610 total pinfall. Chet Russell didn't bowl a game in the double century class but still was second best in series tallies with 573.

The league as a whole didn't have too impressive an evening with only eight games of more than 200 pins rolled Besides the leading game, Charlie Spero followed with a 216, and Lou Pekrul rounded out the top three with a 213.

The Pineers used three games of 200 pins or more in their opener to run up the highest team score of the night, a 915 total of blasted maples.

Literary Contest Prize Awards Presented At Department Day

The Literature Department of the Woman's Club of Larchmont presented prize awards yesterday for the literary contest which it sponsors annually, with first prize in the short story class won by Mrs. Flora Levant of 18 Pryer Lane, Larchmont, for her story entitled "It's A Small World."

Awards were presented at the Larchmont Avenue Church house where the March Department Day program of the club featured presentations by the Music, Literature and International Relations Department.

Second prize short story winner was Mrs. Eloise Welsh, whose story was entitled "Love My Dog Love Me."

In the poetry competition, Miss Patricia Arscott, 17-year-old Mamaroneck High School senior and daughter of a club member, received first prize for her poem, "Web," with the second prize awarded Eva Bathon Lucas for her "Unrest."

Mrs. Levant is the mother of author Merriam Modell, whose most recent books are "The Sound of Years" and "My Sister, My Bride."

Judges were Mrs. Raymond A. Robinson and Mrs. L. J. Kavanaugh of Larchmont, and Mrs. Paul W. Mack of Mamaroneck. Awards were presented by Mrs. Leonard G. Reichhard, chairman of the Literature Department.

Guest speaker at the morning session was Miss Betty Finnin, fiction editor of "Woman's Day" magazine, who told the group that "like most editors", she was looking for "good stories with a touch of humor."

"Just plain corn, in a well told story, is always popular," Miss Finnin said, "because after all, life is pretty corny!"

Miss Finnin discussed the "genuine and thoughtful consideration given each contribution coming to her desk, and said that she received as many as 100 manuscripts a day.

A question period, and the department's contest prize awards, followed her talk.

A large audience of members and guests was present for the final event of the day, an outstanding program by Constancia Stefanik of Hawthorne Gardens, Mamaroneck, distinguished Canadian soprano, given under the auspices of the Music Department.

Accompanied by Kathryn Child club member, and teacher of piano, Miss Stefanik offered during her interpretive program of selections, "Christe", dedicated to the singer by its composer, Elizabeth Ball.

Miss Stefanik opened with three Richard Strauss pieces, "Allerseelen", "Morgen" and "Cacilie," continuing with the aria, "Suicidio" from "La Gioconda" by Ponchielli.

Her program included "The Bitterness of Love" by James Dunn, "Enchantment" by Vera Kitchener and "The Heart Worships" by Gustav Holst and concluded with Richard Hageman's "At The Well."

About 140 members of the club attended the International Relations Department's program following luncheon, featuring a talk on "The Netherlands and the Indonesian Problem" given by Marinus Lourens, labor expert for the Netherlands Information Bureau of New York and former labor expert for the War Labor Policies Board in the Netherlands.

Mr. Lourens, representing the federal point of view of the Dutch government, stressed again and again the desire of the Dutch for the eventual establishment of a United States of Indonesia, rather than rule by the Republic of Indonesia, which he noted has a considerable amount of infiltration of communists and Moscow-trained propagandists.

The Dutch government and the Dutch people, including working classes and intellectuals, he pointed out, realize that Indonesia belongs to the Indonesians, and should have their own management.

Mr. Lourens reviewed the accomplishments of the Dutch government in the East Indies, and its attempt to control the country through native chiefs, acting as regents. He spoke of the Dutch protection of rice farmers against the natives, the increase in productivity, through better irrigation, the importation of coffee and tea, the successful efforts in combating the bubonic plague, and the bringing in of quinine to fight malaria.

Through lake drainage and the building of seven tunnels, he said, a volcano in Java, which previously killed between 50 and 60 thousand persons on eruption was made safe.

Mr. Lourens was introduced by Mrs. Ervin Kenmore, chairman of the International Relations Department.

160 See Film At Supper Of Couples Club

Mrs. Wellman described her work with Puerto Rican population living in upper Harlem with thousands coming here from Puerto Rico each month, since their recent status of citizenship, she said.

Describing the Puerto Rican migration here as a major problem of New York City, Mrs. Wellman spoke of the crowded conditions under which the people live, with as many as eight families living in one room, and the serious lack of church contacts and affiliations.

Religious education and guidance is especially needed for the children, she pointed out, terming the Puerto Ricans a kindly people, and anxious to return kindnesses of others, despite their temporary poverty.

Mrs. Brosnan Named Officer Of CNR Group

Mrs. Amedeo Giordano of New York City has been elected president of the Alumnae Association of the College of New Rochelle for 1949-51, it was announced at the annual business meeting of the Association Saturday on the college campus. She succeeds Mrs. Joseph T. McNamara of Mount Vernon.

Elected also were Mrs. Lorenz Brosnan of Larchmont, vice president; Miss Helen Scott of Bronxville, secretary, and Mrs. Joseph F. Hoey of Brooklyn, treasurer.

Shea, pastor of Blessed Sacrament Church, is the alumnae association's representative on Cardinal Spellman's Coordinating Committee, and a trustee of CNR. She also serves on the boards of the Psychiatric Division of Bellevue Hospital, Home Nursing and Nurse's Aide Committees of the New York Chapter of the Red Cross, and is a member of the organizing committee of the Girl Scouts.

Speaker at the annual meeting Rev. Joseph F. Donceel, S.J., professor of psychology at Fordham University, discussed "A Catholic Psychologist Looks at Psychoanalysis and Freudianism."

"There are valuable elements in psychoanalysis," Father Donceel stated, "but they are generally connected with errors, exaggerations and distortions. The system as a whole, in its pure Freudian form, must be rejected.

"But as it is nowadays presented by some of Freud's successors and disciples," Father Donceel asserted, "it becomes gradually acceptable. Lifted out of their materialistic context, pruned of their exaggerations, a number of Freudian discoveries can be reinterpreted in a sense which befits them neatly in our concept of man, and this not only a confirmation of what we knew before, but as a new and deeper insight into some aspects of his nature. Freud is blind to the spiritual, the highest aspect of man's nature."

Spotlight On Sports

By DICK CARPENTER

This scribe got one of his biggest thrills of the court season on Friday night when an inspired band of Mamaroneck High School cagers outfought, outhustled (what else could they have been) and finally outscored the A. B. Davis quintet which had beaten the Tigers by a mere 22 points in the first game of the WHAA playoffs. We, and the other fans who attended were slightly moved when the Bengals showed no respect for the visitors by taking an early lead. But then the locals had done the same thing in the first playoff tussle. However when the game had reached the end of the fourth quarter and the teams were in a deadlock, we came very close to falling off the chair which gave us such a wonderful vantage point of the struggle.

The overtime period in which the MHS team proved its superiority in the game, was anti-climatic as far as we were concerned. The fact that they had been able to show such a complete reversal of form was enough for us.

Bellows Pitiful

Up at Harrison where Bellows was playing, it was apparently just the opposite type of game. The Huskies had one of their best nights of the season and the Panthers their worst. Coach Jack Hasley gave us a tip several days before the struggle when he said, "My boys will have to play better than they did in beating Scarsdale if they are to even give Harrison a good game." The East Enders didn't play better, in fact they are reported to have missed shots by almost unbelievable distances. The Panthers are a much better ball club than that 30 point loss seems to indicate but you'll have a tough time proving it to Harrison's followers.

Big Rhubarb

The coach of the Davis team, Irv Halstead, was in a lather throughout Friday night's game. He became so enraged over a call by one of the officials that he spat some remarks in the ref's general direction. A rhubarb developed which ended in a technical foul being called against the visiting team. Just goes to prove that you "can't fight city hall."

Few Faithful

Like most other fans, the followers of the Tiger cagers like to see winning ball and this probably explains why there were so few of the faithful at the playoff encounter. Still they seem to pack them in at the Bellows Bandbox or Daniel Warren Field even though the Rye Neck school may have a sub-par basketball or football aggregation. Anyway, it would have made the victory complete if more local fans had been in the stands to watch Coach Orlando Ciraco's forces rise to meet the greatest challenge of their 1948-49 campaign.

Congress Owen Wins 54-53 Court Duel With Saints

Knights Cop See-Saw Battle; Locals Suffer Second Defeat

Three seconds isn't enough time to make up a one point deficit in a basketball game, except when you don't have complete possession of the ball. That's what the St. Augustine's Saints found out on their Larchmont Avenue hardwood yesterday afternoon when the Congress Owen Knights of Columbus quintet won as tight a struggle as has been seen locally all season, 54-53. The game was witnessed by approximately 200 fans, about half of which must have been rooting for the visiting team as judged by the rounds of cheers which went up after each basket by a Knight player.

A pair of long set shots by the visiting team with about three minutes to go actually "cooked the goose" for the local quintet which has now lost twice in 16 games this campaign. With the Saints down by one point and frantically trying to gain a piece of leather, first Johnny Kolberg and then John Botts meshed braves from the outside which advanced the Congress Owenites out into a 54-49 spread. Joe Connolly gave the locals a ray of hope by hitting from mid-court and Walt Cibrowski lined a one hander through the rim, but after that the Saints never had a shot at the hoop.

Two jump balls were called in the final sixty seconds of play, but unfortunately for the locals, their smallest players were involved in the pileups that led to the whistle blowing.

Earn Bid

The winning forces were playing right to a bid to this approaching the contest to prove their St. Augustine's Invitation and they certainly earned it. In beating the Saints on their home court, the Congress Owen team played a confusing style of ball which had the Orcos and White players baffled at times. The winners started out by fast breaking and when that failed to net a substantial lead, they decided on a deliberate attack. Neither of these efforts gained them much of a lead in the first half although they did manage to leave the floor for the halftime intermission with a 20-18 bulge.

Since the Saints were matching them basket for basket the Knights continued to alternate their attacking style and it eventually paid off. Both teams used man-for-man defenses and they worked as well as could be expected since the shooting was tremendously accurate by both teams.

Walt Cibrowski saved some of the laurels for the home forces by coming out of the struggle as high scorer, having drilled in seven field goals and six fouls for an even 20 markers. Dave Latimer was the only other Saint to hit double figures, his total being 12.

Lyons Standout

Jumbo Lyons, a former North Carolina State University standout, was more responsible for the triumph than any other visiting player. Lyons used his jump shot to good advantage in racking up 18 points. Although starting at a guard position, Jumbo was stationed in the pivot all afternoon where Gene Doherty did a creditable job of guarding against his hooks and jump flips. Botts ended up with 15 points and was exceedingly valuable as a playmaker. Buck Ingram netted 12 markers in a set shooting role.

The first quarter was a battle of fast breaks but neither team's swift drive's were clicking. With Lyons hitting twice from the bucket, Pete Flynn adding a foul, Ingram a foul and goal, and Rolberg and Botts curling in layups, the visiting team had a 10-9 advantage at the end of the period. Cibrowski scored twice from the field and once from the free throw line for five of the locals points.

The lead then changed hands four times before the end of the half, Connolly, Lyons and the Saints with three points while Botts was adding four of the Knights' tallies.

Ingram scored first in the second half, swishing a one hander, but Cibrowski's foul and Latimer's set made it 22-21. Lyons soutpawed a hook cleanly through the cords but Cibrowski drifted under for a layup and Latimer duplicated to give the Saints a one point lead.

Botts turned the tables with a layup which lasted only for a few seconds as Latimer scored from far out and Cibrowski from the foul line. Colberg's long set more than matched a foul flip by Joe Connolly and Botts knotted the count up again with a free toss. Cibrowski scored on a jump shot but Lyons added two fouls which preceded his tap in. Ingram tallied from the charity line but Dave Latimer broke the long string of points by the visitors with another of his long set shots.

Jumbo had no trouble hooking one in after faking Doherty out of position and Doherty did a creditable job of guarding against his hooks and jump flips. Botts ended up with 15 points and was exceedingly valuable as a playmaker. Buck Ingram netted 12 markers in a set shooting role.

HAWKS DEFEATED BY BUCS 51-30

Although the game was marred by the personal fouls, the Bucs compiled a double triumph on Saturday by stopping the Hawks 51-30 in an independent basketball contest at the Central School gymnasium.

The frequent trips to the free toss line slowed the pace down in the first half and for a while the Hawks had a small margin to work with. However, the Bucs started to click shortly after the halftime intermission and swept to the front, never to be headed again.

Teamwork was the main factor in the winners' drive and fine passing, shooting and dribbling also contributed to the Hawks' tallies.

Top scoring honors were shared between Zeh and Cowl of the winners who each drilled in 14 points. Hunter of the Hawks paced that team's scoring parade with 12 while McLean of the Bucs and Guthrie of the losing quintet had 10 each.

Lac Cagers Split 2 Games; Place 2nd In Church League

The powerful but unlucky court operatives of the Larchmont Avenue Church split two encounters over the weekend. Fortunately, the one they came out on top in a New Rochelle "Y"—Kiwanis Club Church League tilt boosted them up to undisputed possession of second place in the loop. Prior to the more important fray, the LAC cagers had dropped a heartbreaker to the Irving Trust team 39-33, although putting on a strong rally at the finish. In the contest with Temple Israel, the local outfit was never headed in wrapping up an 18-14 victory.

Irving Trust, a New York City team, advanced into a 20-11 bulge at halftime over the LAC men. Despite the fact that they were on the defensive throughout the second half, the NYC quintet rung on to its margin and came home a winner.

Warner Herlyn of the local team took top scoring honors with 15 markers while Don Spinger of the Trustmen hooped 12. Don Davis and Joe Brady turned in sterling performances for the winners while meshing eight points apiece.

Temple Israel and Larchmont Avenue Church were tied with nine wins and three loss records at the outset of the league fray on Saturday. LAC's representatives got off on the right foot by speeding to a six point spread in the opening quarter and had a 13-3 lead at halftime. The eventual losers began to hit from the field in the second half but lost out despite the fact that they held the Larchmont quintet to a measly five markers in the entire half.

The low scoring game saw all but three men who entered into the action score. Doug Stevens of the locals collected six points while Herlyn was good for five. The Temple Israel point making was divided among six players.

Next saturday afternoon the Larchmont Avenue team will again travel to the New Rochelle "Y" and this time their mission will be an even more important one. Their opponents will be the league leading First Methodist team and this time first instead of second place will be at stake.

Combing The Town

Compass Discussed

The mariner's compass was discussed last night at the fifth in a series of lectures on junior seamanship at Mamaroneck High School, by Gordon Atwater, curator of the Hayden Plantarium, under the auspices of the Westchester Power Squadron, Women's Auxiliary.

With a registration of 45, the couse is open to students from ninth to 12th grades. "Boat Handling" will be discussed by Edward Werden, past commander of the Power Squadron, at next Tuesday's lecture at 7:30 P. M. at the high school.

Following the lecture the Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Haskel Blair of New Rochelle. Among those attending were Mrs. Alfred W. Naumann and Mrs. Louis Zingesser of Mamaroneck, and Commander Virginia McGuire of Yonkers, chairman of education in charge of the seamanship series, who presided.

Old Man Winter

Winter has had a double-edged effect upon the Mamaroneck school system, the School Board decided last night.

The weather has caused a drop in the attendance record and snowball pranksters have damaged a number of windows, Superintendent T. James Ahern pointed out.

Trustee Waller F. Brady questioned the manner in which residents are notified that there will be no school as the result of a storm and Superintendent Ahern explained that, if there is to be no school, the whistle blows before 7:30 A. M.

Mr. Brady suggested that since the hopeful children are sometimes suffering a "nervous breakdown" waiting for the whistle to blow, it might be better for the fire departments to blow 14 blasts if school is to be held—just to break the suspense.

Clergymen Aid Drive

Four local clergymen joined hands yesterday to help the directors of the Mamaroneck Health Center attain their goal of 4,000 free chest x-rays in April. The assistance of other local clergymen and all Mamaroneck doctors is also being sought this week so that no person will remain unaware of the opportunity which will be available during the visit of the mobile unit, April 18 through 28.

The clergymen who offered today to help in making appointments are: the Rev. C. P. A. Kirton of Barry Avenue A.M.E. Zion Church, the Rev. T. G. Garland of the First Baptist Church, the Rev. Mark McCray of the Church of God in Christ, and Elder I. A. Brown of the Strait Gate Church of Christ.

Too Young to Vote

It's unfortunate for Larchmont Trustee Gail Golliday that Larchmont Girl Scouts of Troops 3 and 4 aren't old enough to vote.

He's probably receive a solid block of votes from the girls, judging by the introduction he was accorded by Mrs. F. Warren Green, president of the League of Women Voters of Larchmont, who arranged for the two troops to attend the board of trustees meeting Monday night.

Mrs. Green referred to the Republican trustee as "the handsomest man on the board!"

Movies While You Eat

Breakfasters at the Village Lunch on Mamaroneck Avenue had an unusual treat yesterday morning. A cigarette salesman showed an eight-minute movie of his product and distributed free cigarets to the customers.

The film was shown by a portable projector through an attached screen.

To Show War Film

A motion picture, "The Five Sullivan Brothers", will be shown tomorrow at 8 P.M. at St. Vito's Church Hall on Madison Street, Mamaroneck, by the Rev. William F. Guido.

There is no admission charge and the public is invited.

RYE NECK BOARD RENEWS DR. HICKS' 3-YEAR CONTRACT

Brown Votes In Opposition; Also Hits Teachers' Salary Proposal

By a vote of five to one, the Rye Neck School Board renewed Superintendent Alvin W. Hicks' contract last night at its monthly meeting in the Barry Avenue School auditorium. Trustee Malcolm Brown opposed the renewal.

The contract, which will run for three years, becomes effective July 1. It calls for no increase in salary.

Dr. Hicks, who was appointed by the board in August, 1942, as acting superintendent to succeed Dr. Samuel Engle Burr, was first given a three-year contract in 1946. Prior to that time, he was employed on a year to year basis. Each subsequent year the Board has extended Dr. Hicks' contract for three years despite the fact the contracts had not expired.

The Board also rehired Clerk Edward Juller, Treasurer Albert Kuritsky, and Council Henry T. Hornidge at their present salaries. William C. McAloon, Bellows High School principal, was voted a $200 annual increase.

The granting of provisional increments to teachers undertaking further instruction was discussed by the board. The sum of $1,800 in this year's budget provides for the reimbursement of teachers for 90 college credits at the rate of $20 per credit.

Dr. Hicks reported 19 teachers taking 137 college credits. The board voted to disburse the $1,800 on a pro rata basis, paying about $13 per college credit instead of $20, so that all teachers involved may be partially reimbursed.

A survey of teachers who planned to apply for the provisional increment next year revealed 163 college credits could be taken, Dr. Hicks told the Board. At the rate of $20 a point, he said, this would mean a $3,260 allotment in next year's budget.

After a short discussion, the Board decided to defer action until it could ascertain how much money would be available for this purpose next year.

"We have no right to give out $20 a point," said Trustee Brown in registering opposition to the full allotment of $3,260. "It is not a question of $3,960 this year, but that amount plus more next year," he added.

Trustee Mrs. Herbert Livesey went on record as favoring the granting of the full amount.

PARKING VIOLATIONS YIELD $18 IN FINES

A total of $18 in fines was collected by Judge Henry T. Hornidge in Mamaroneck Police Court this morning.

Fined $3 each were Pietro Montecelvo of 609 Mamaroneck Avenue and Kenrick Clifford of 1502 Sterling Avenue, both Mamaroneck, for parking all night on Mamaroneck Avenue, Mrs. Helen Colored of 604 Tompkins Avenue, Mamaroneck, for parking in a crosswalk, and James Mathieson of 842 Underhill Avenue, Mamaroneck, for overtime parking.

Clarence Neuman of 210 West Street, Mamaroneck, was fined $2 for his second parking offense.

Fined $1 each for overtime parking were Sidney Semzer of 513 Alda Road, George Numerick of 1413 Arlington Avenue, Amos Treat of 115 North Barry Avenue, all of Mamaroneck, and Joseph C. Fusillo of White Plains.

Snowstorm Absences Caused State Aid Loss, Ahern Says

When about one-third of the pupils in the Mamaroneck school system stayed home the day after the year's worst snow storm Feb. 28, the district lost "several hundred dollars" in state aid funds, Superintendent T. James Ahern told the school Board last night.

A great many excuses of "illness" are received following a storm, Mr. Ahern stated, adding that snow-shoveling is a profession in which many of the absentees indulge, cannot be considered a very good excuse.

The trustees agreed that residents do not realize the extent to which the school district is penalized by a deduction of state aid when pupils are absent and suggested that the matter be publicized.

The board discussed the circumstances which lead to a suspension of school because of weather conditions and it was pointed out that the condition of the streets for bus travel is a major consideration.

Mr. Ahern explained that it was his responsibility to "wade around" local streets to ascertain whether they are too dangerous to permit transportation of children to school after a snowstorm. He said he contacts police departments and school principals before making the decision. NBC and station WPAS are notified if schools are to be closed and they broadcast the fact at regular intervals from 6:30 A. M. on, he added.

The board approved Mr. Ahern's request for $120.55 for "emergency glass work." Mr. Ahern explained that many of the broken windows in the school buildings are occasioned by snowballs and described as "disgraceful" the fact that "almost every window in the new apartment building at this end as you drive into the school is broken."

Answering queries from board members as to whether police could rectify the situation he explained, "I'm afraid the police are there at the wrong time. It looks silent."

STULMAN HONORED BY DAY SCHOOL

Chairman of Dinner Dance For Rabbi Golovensky Guest at Supper

Julius Stulman of Larchmont, chairman of the March 20 Waldorf-Astoria dinner dance honoring Rabbi David I. Golovensky as founder of the Westchester Day School, was guest of honor last night at a supper meeting of the board of governors at the school.

Recently returned from an extended trip to the west coast, Mr. Stulman reported that more than 220 reservations for the $125 a couple dinner dance have been received to date. Louis M. Brown is chairman of arrangements for the event honoring Rabbi Golovensky, spiritual leader of Beth El Synagogue in New Rochelle. Others reporting included Mortimer J. Propp, tickets, and Charles Pindyck, entertainment, both of Mamaroneck; and Max Kettner, music, and Lester Lyons, program, both of New Rochelle.

Surgery is Decreed For England's Monarch

LONDON. (AP)—King George VI will be operated on—probably within a week—to get more blood flowing into his endangered right foot.

Six doctors in an announcement from Buckingham Palace last night said they understood that meant next week and the surgery probably would be done at the palace.

This was the first official word that the ailing fifty-three-year-old King would undergo surgery for the arterial condition that was made public last Nov. 22.

New Haven Line Adopts First Of 13 Commuter Proposals

Adoption of Daylight Saving Time by the New Haven Railroad for its Summer timetables marks the end of a two-year campaign by the Westchester Commuter Group, according to Herbert Askwith of Larchmont, chairman, who said today that the group first presented the proposal to the railroad in 1947.

It is also the first step in an elaborate 13-point program for commuters, both in the stations and on the trains" for which the group he heads has campaigned, Mr. Askwith said.

At the same time, Mrs. Askwith paid tribute to Lawrence Whittemore, president of the New Haven, for "his open-mindedness and willingness to listen to his suggestions for the improvement of the line."

The Westchester Commuter Group will continue its efforts to have the New York Central change its clocks and train time at gates in the Grand Central Station so that they will conform with the Daylight Saving Time schedules adopted by the New Haven, Mr. Askwith added.

As a result of suggestions submitted by the commuter group, new bright signs, visible by day and night, will soon be installed at all commuter stations on the New Haven Line, Mr. Askwith revealed. He added that it would be the first change in the railroad's stations in 25 years.

Other proposals to make the stations more attractive will also be forthcoming, he said.

Among other conveniences for the commuters suggested by the commuter group, which the railroad has indicated a willingness to adopt, Mr. Askwith said, is the serving of breakfast on early morning commuter trains either in a dining car or by trays carried through the cars by porters.

LEGION SUPPORTS ANTI-RED FORUMS

Post 90 to Attend In Body; Color Guard to Take Part In Program

Post 90 of the American Legion at its meeting last night in the Legion Clubhouse, Prospect Avenue, voted unanimously to lend all possible assistance to the series of four weekly anti-Communist forums starting Friday night at Holy Trinity School Hall.

The Post's colors will be present at the meetings under control of the crack Ninth District color guard and Commander William Kuritzky announced that efforts are being made to obtain the services of a Legion band.

A three-day telephone campaign will be conducted to bring out a high attendance of Legionnaires at Friday's forum. Post members will be instructed to meet at the clubhouse at 8:29 P. M. sharp, wearing caps, to join Auxiliary Unit 90, with members in uniform, and proceed in a body to the school hall. Those whose work prevents them from meeting at the clubhouse will proceed directly to the church.

The 25th Legion paper drive will be conducted Sunday, March 20, starting at 1 P. M. sharp for the benefit of the building fund.

Vice Commander Roger Harper was accorded a vote of commendation by the post for the successful Red Cross Fund campaign, of which he was chairman.

Four new members were admitted. They are Miss Audrey Lane, Agatino Rizzo, Philip LaGiudice and Paul A. Colasacco. The membership now totals 328.

OIL SAVING SET FOR HOME USERS

Oil Trades Group Sees $40 Saved Under New Distributor Plan

The Socony Vacuum Oil Company today became the first major distributor in Westchester to schedule a price differential between large and small users of domestic fuel oil, and announced a price cut 10 to 15 per cent under the price of a year ago.

The average small home owner will save about $40 on his fuel oil heating bill this year, compared with the previous heating season, the Westchester Oil Trades Association announced.

Socony posted a price of 11.5 and 11.9 cents a gallon today. Other distributors are expected to follow suit. The lower price is for deliveries of 300 or more gallons at a time, the 11.9 for deliveries under that amount.

Westchester independents introduced the differential last Fall, on the basis that delivery costs have risen to a point where it is necessary to charge more for small deliveries. Socony is the first major supplier to accept the change.

At the beginning of the heating season last June the average price was 12.8 cents. The latest quotation represents a slash of nearly 10 per cent. A year ago the average price was 13.5, with some smaller distributors charging as much as 14 cents a gallon.

The average home owner paid about $215 for fuel oil during the 1947-48 heating season. His bill this year will be about $175, the association estimates. And more reductions are certain, it was said.

The price drop is due to the shift from a shortage economy to what one dealer today described as a "coming-out-of-our-ears" economy. The surplus supply is due to the combination of a substantial increase in production and a mild Winter.

Charles J. Goyert of White Plains was reelected president of the association at yesterday's meeting at the Roger Smith Hotel. Other officers named were: James Lynch of Larchmont, vice president; Romo Lombardi of Rye, secretary; Charles Martin of Mount Vernon, treasurer.

SANTORO BRANDS FITTS' FEARS ON ZONING 'FALLACY'

Mayor Sees No Danger Of Industry Encroachment On Home Areas

Mamaroneck residents need have no fear either of the encroachment of industry upon residential districts or the stifling of industry to the damage of local employment, Mayor B. J. Santoro assured a group of Republican voters last night at a reception in the home of Trustee and Mrs. John Withers.

Replying to an address last week by William C. Fitts, Jr., his Democratic opponent in the March 15 election, in which Mr. Fitts appealed for strict zoning to limit the geographical boundaries of the village's desirable industries, the Mayor declared, "A quick glance at the zoning map and the statistics concerning it will readily disclose the fallacy of any concern along these lines."

He explained that the industrial area is confined to a small section near the freight depot with two small, isolated parcels north and south of Mamaroneck Avenue.

"The figures indicate," he continued, "that the village is comprised of three and a half square miles. Of this, the AAA section (Orienta Point) comprises 22.55 percent of the area; AA district (Shore Acres) 11.28 percent; Residence A districts 23.68 percent; Residence B 12.69 percent; Business 5.64 percent. Finally, the industrial area about which he expresses so much fear comprises but 1.97 percent of the village. The remainder is made up of parks, 2.26 percent; under water, 11.84 percent; railroad property, 5.27 percent; Westchester County Park Commission, 2.82 percent.

"With respect to our zoning in the village, we were very fortunate in having a very able and conservative group of men of both political parties when the zoning ordinance was prepared and put into effect, and this ordinance has been administered under a very capable bipartisan Board of Appeals ever since.

"Now with respect to this industrial area, I would like to call attention to the following: that because of the varied make-up of our citizens, and the repression period was on us, many persons both young and old were out of employment and had either to seek work elsewhere or go on relief. To prevent such a situation occurring in the future, to use the words of former Trustee Howard Meighan, the board took steps to "depression-proof" the community, and it is true that to accom-

TEEN AGERS WARNED FOR OBSCENE CALLS

Two fourteen - year - old boys were apprehended by members of Mamaroneck police last night for using obscene language over the phone. They were warned this morning by Chief Paul Yerick.

Mrs. A Glass of the Larchmont Acres, Larchmont, lodged a complaint with the police last night. She supplied the police with their address and phone number and said they used profanity in making a hoax phone call.

Police questioned the boys who admitted making four or five calls to different people, asking them if a certain street ran by their house. If the answer was yes, the boys said, they told the person to "go chase it." They admitted asking another such question which did involve the use of an obscene word.

They were ordered to report to headquarters with their parents this morning at 9 A. M.

50 Boys Already Studying Derby Rule Book—Got Yours?

Soap Box Derby racers are already abuilding although entries for the big Daily Times-Luby Chevrolet classic are not yet open. About 50 boys have already secured the new 1949 rule book and most of them have their Derby plans under way.

Competition will be keener than ever in this year's event as many boys from neighboring communities are expected to enter and give the local lads plenty of scrap for the big prize, the trip to Akron and a chance at the national championship. One boy from Pelham has already got his rule book and the Pelham Lions Club is expected to help secure many more entries from that community.

The Mamaroneck Lions Club which annually conducts the Derby is sending a committee to every Lions Club between Port Chester and Pelham in an attempt to enlist cooperation in the Derby and to get boys interested in competing.

So local boys will have to look to their laurels this year and it behooves them to get their rule books quickly and to begin planning their racers particularly since the rules have been drastically changed from the 1948 regulations.

Derby hopefuls, boys between the ages of 11 and 15 may get their books by applying at the offices of The Daily Times or of The Larchmont Times. Possession of the book does not constitute an entry but it will give all the boys a chance to get an early start of planning and building the racer which will represent The Daily Times at Akron in August after winning the race on Mamaroneck's own Derby Downs late in July.

Dewey's Aides Held Ready To Slash Budget

Compromise With Rebel Forces Reported As Near

CLARENCE K. STREIT

ALBANY, (AP) — Republican wrangling over cutting Governor Dewey's record high $936.2 million budget continued this afternoon as legislative leaders strove for compromise settlement.

It was obvious from behind the scenes scurrying that GOP leaders still sought agreement among themselves on a definite plan of action. Republican rebels, who created the impasse with demands for elimination of a proposed additional one cent per gallon of gasoline tax, and a higher income tax, held a late morning conference with Benjamin P. Feinberg Republican Senate leader.

Following their meeting, they would say only that "we discussed our problems."

D. Mallory Stephens, chairman of the Assembly Ways and Means Committee explained "there still is no agreement by anyone" on a settlement plan.

An indication that majority Republicans hope to push through a budget bill this week, was given by Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck. Consideration of Dewey's budget bills, which were on the Assembly calendar, was postponed until tomorrow. After this was done, Heck told members of the Assembly to be prepared to remain in Albany over Friday.

It was understood in one source that Republican legislative leaders were prepared to accept a $20 million budget slash which would eliminate need for Dewey's proposed gasoline tax increase.

As the day wore on it was decided the Senate would stand in recess until late this afternoon in order to give leaders opportunity to confer further.

Any compromise with the Erie and Westchester County GOP tax rebels apparently would be ac-

Bellows Courtmen Trim Eastchester 68-25; Bengals Trounced

Panthers Prep For Tourney By Routing SWIAC Opponent

By BARRY LOUGHRANE

Coach Jack Hasley's Bellows High School basketball quintet closed its regular season in fitting style yesterday by proving its superiority over the Eastchester team 68-25 at the Rye Neck school's handbox gymnasium. The victory was the East Enders' 13th of the season in contrast to only four defeats and with this record they establish themselves in a spot high in the ranks of the county's cage picture.

The Panthers regained their poise in returning to the home floor after putting up such a miserable showing against Harrison last week. The local team made a tremendously high percentage of its shots in coming close to tieing the school's all time scoring record for a single contest. The only black spot in the entire picture was found in the personal foul column. The East Enders committed more than 20 infractions for the third straight game.

Petrie Top Scorer

Every one of the ten players Hasley sent into the game scored. Three players went into double figures with Ed Petrie, speedy forward, leading the pack with 11 markers. Harvey Harriott and Ed Feldt each netted 10 points. The visiting Eagles' playmaker, Lerps, was also the teams high scorer. He missed a total of nine.

In a way, the BHS cagers proved their worthiness to the bid they received and accepted from County Invitation tournament officials.

Capice began the contest by sneaking between the Panthers' tall men and hitting the net with a jump shot. The Panthers retaliated, however on set shots by Red Tallevi, Feldt and Harriott. A layup by Harriott forced the Eagles to take time out.

Visitors Switch

The visitors came back using a man to man defense and this seemed to work, for the locals fourth stanza's scoring. Danny were held in check while the Eagles meshed four points to bring the count to 8-6. Coach Hasley's boys were not stopped for long though, as Feldt got good protection and hit the hoop with another pair of sets. Tallevi and Lerps then exchanged one handers and the first canto ended with the locals in the lead, 14-8.

In the second period, the Panthers mixed up their offense, concentrating more on the pivot man. Tom Walsh responded with three jump shots while George Fischer scored from the side with a one hander. Lerps hit with a long one hander to give his team its only two pointer in the second quarter. Petrie and Feldt worked together nicely on the fast breaks and each scored a layup. Four Panther free throws, two of them by Harriott, brought the half time total to 30-11.

Locals Brilliant

The Panthers played brilliantly in the third period, scoring 20 markers and holding the Eagles to nothing from the field. All five of the visitors' tallies in this stanza were gained through visits to the free toss line.

Harriott and Petrie zipped through on fast breaks to score two each on short shots. George Fischer gained almost complete control of the boards for the locals and chipped in with six points during the drive.

Harding Handcuffed

Carol Harding, who had turned in the third highest total, 27, made by any Panther opponent this season when the teams met the first time, was handcuffed through a co guarding job by George Fischer and Tom Walsh. Harding's only scores were three measly foul shots.

Steve Johnston's two set shots in a row brought the Bellows total to an even 30 markers as the period closed. Eastchester had 16 at the time.

Panky Vitetta drove through for two easy layups to start the fourth stanza's scoring. Danny Evangelista swished one handers from two spots on the side which preceded foul tosses by Lerps, Harding and Bouci. The Panthers rolled on as Petrie tallied two driving layups and a foul. Walsh garnered three for himself with a chalky heave and a twisting jump shot.

Try for Record

With the fans roaring in approval, the Panthers steadied their attack in an effort to reach the 70 point mark. George Fischer left the game via the personal foul route but his replacement, Don Anderson, kept the drive alive by netting a goal from short range. With time running out, the Blue and Black players tried to gain possession of the leather for another shot at the hoop but the final fun sounded, preventing them from further denting the scoring column.

Cubs Hapless

The Panther Cubs, otherwise known as the Javvees, continued to create the impression that they are carrying some sort of jinx with them by dropping a 31-30 thriller to the Eagles reserves. Ferone of the visitors topped the scorers with 10 points while the hapless Cubs were led by Angelo Evangelista and Gary Wellman who dropped nine and seven tallies, respectively.

The local Jayvees rolled through with their usual second half rally but, when it came time for the payoff, their scoring guns were silent.

CAGE BENEFIT GAME TOMORROW AFTERNOON

The MHS faculty will form a basketball team and play a quintet of students tomorrow afternoon at the high school gymnasium. It was learned yesterday. The event has been scheduled as a benefit affair with the proceeds going toward the purchase of a projector for an Italian school. The game will start at 3:30 P.M.

The faculty team will be composed of Mr. Ed Puritz, Mr. John Sullivan, Mr. William Howell, Mr. Orlando Ciraco, Mr. William Marts, Mr. Robert Shuman and Mr. Frederick Checksfield. The cheering section for the faculty team will be led by Mr. Robert Hanna and Miss Wanda Mitchell. The school's G.A. revealed that the choices for the student team will be left to Joe Petruzzo and Eddy Smith.

The need for a projector for the Italian school was learned through a letter to the G.A. from Mr. Walter Ludwig, exchange teacher to Britain. In Ludwig's tour of Europe, he visited the school to which Mamaroneck High had sent CARE packages and learned of their need for the machine.

Gorton's Second Half Spurt Sinks Tiger Quintet 70–52

After making a battle of it for a half, the Mamaroneck High cage outfit wilted in the third quarter and ended up taking a 70-52 licking from Gorton's swift quintet last night at the winner's gymnasium in Yonkers. The locals took the lead on Joe Petruzzo's opening layup goal and were in the van twice more in the first half. They never trailed by more than four points until the speedy Yonkers team opened up its fast break and then the Bengals fell apart at the seams. It was the second time this season that Gorton had whipped Mamaroneck.

During the stretch when the MHS forces had their shooting eyes, Joe Petruzzo and Bill Cunningham kept the leather pouring through the hoop. Petruzzo tied with Vail Taylor for top honors with 24 tallies while Cunningham hooped 21.

Faster Offense

The home team actually decided the game with a much faster offense. The Tigers' shooting was all that prevented Gorton from making a run-a-way of it in the first two quarters. When the Yonkersmen started clicking in their passwork, easy layup chances resulted and the leading bulge mounted as the game progressed.

Coach Orlando Ciraco, realizing the game was lost, sent in some of his reserve power in the fourth period. Mouse Bruno, Roger Schacklinscky, Al Eckhardt and Dick Smalley sank action in that frame. All four will probably be used against Davis in Friday night's final WIAA playoff encounter.

After Petruzzo opened the scoring with his first two pointer, Howard and Johnny Moyle hit for Gorton that gave them a spread they never relinquished. Eddy Smith and Cunningham tied it up twice thereafter with goals that sandwiched Cowles' tan-in but Moyle dropped a foul for a one point margin. Cunningham sent the locals to the front with a push and the lead changed hands twice more on Taylor's first layup and Cunningham's tap in. Howard's set shot started a sting of five Gorton tallies and they led by 15-11 at quartertime.

Don Dockerill, Cunningham and Smith kept the tally clooc with some early in the second quarter. After Taylor clicked on two free tosses, Moyle and the MHS center swished set efforts that made it a 24-20 game at halftime.

Mamaroneck gave away two goals for every one it made in the third stanza and dropped out of contention as a result. With Taylor banging in layups on the end of fast breaks, the eventual winners were ahead by 16 when the quarter had been completed.

Lapchick Hits

Joe Lapchick, son of the famed coach of the N.Y. Knickerbockers slammed in a layup at the start of the fourth period and all other varsity players took the cue to fatten their scoring totals.

The Mamaroneck Jayvees, although putting up a stiffer battle than their varsity teammates, also came out on the wrong end of the tally, Gorton's reserves coping by a 35-20 count. Matte of the victors was the high point man with 13 while the Tigers were led by Larry Collins who meshed five.

Tonight on New York
Esther Williams has made good all those forecasts made when she seemed only a beautiful swimming star. In her latest film, "Take Me Out To The Ball Game," MGM's Technicolor musical at Loew's State Theatre, beginning today, she proves her versatility by dancing with Gene Kelly and singing with Frank Sinatra.
Esther was born in Los Angeles, and her love of swimming came to her naturally. When she was eight, a public playground pool was built near her home. Esther earned her swimming time by counting towels.
When she was fifteen, the Los Angeles Athletic Club coaches saw her swim and suggested that if she would work very hard they thought she could become a champion in four years.
"I can't wait that long," replied Esther, "I'll do in two or not at all." And she did, winning the women's Outdoor Nationals at Des Moines in the 100-meter free style, and was a member of the champion 200 and 400-meter Medley relay teams. She also set a record for the 100-meter breast stroke that year.
She decided she couldn't eat medals and promptly got a job modeling at Magnin's. Soon thereafter Billy Rose, planning the Aquacade at the San Francisco World's Fair, heard about the lovely champion swimmer. He made her such an attractive offer that she decided to turn professional and for the entire run of the Fair was star of the show.
Esther soon had movie offers galore.
But one day a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer representative offered her a contract which assured her a chance to study and prepare herself before facing the cameras.

Cunningham WIAA 2nd Choice; Gaels Clinch Senior Cage Crown

Tiger Center Only Junior Of 11 Selected By Scribes

By BILL ROACH

Three Western division players and two from the Eastern sector make up the 1948-49 All-WIAA Basketball Quintet voted by Westchester sportswriters and broadcasters.

The voting which took place over the past weekend was the first all-star court aggregation picked by the experts in several years. In the final analysis seven of the 10 WIAA schools had players named on the first team ballots. Also, the selectees included 10 seniors and one junior. No player received a unanimous vote.

The first team shows five schools represented in that many positions. The honored players, schools and positions are:

Cas Iasillo of Port Chester, forwards; Dick Johnson of A. B. Davis, Mount Vernon, center, and Tony Colangelo of New Rochelle and Joe Inman of Yonkers Central, guards.

Six On Second Team

The second team lists six players. Vail Taylor of Gorton and George Reis of White Plains, forward; Bill Cunningham of Mamaroneck and Dick Bunzo of Port Chester, centers, and Irwin Amdur of Yonkers Central and Ted Ramsey of Davis, guards.

It is noted that four teams in the league—Port Chester, White Plains, Yonkers Central and A. B. Davis—each had two players named to the squad.

The first team, comprised of all seniors, averages six feet one inch in height and four of them are high scorers for their respective school. As a unit they averaged better than 150 points per season per man; with only Redd the defensive star falling below that mark.

Redd, however, garnered the most votes in the balloting. Although not the Tigers' high scorer, the White Plains' captain was the defensive star of his team which finished second to the champion Port Chester cagemen. Gene, towering six-feet, four-inches, performed at center and forward for Glenn Loucks, coach of the Bengals. He also played football for the Tigers.

Iasillo, the first-team's other forward, was Port Chester's leading scorer during the past season, his third year of varsity competition. Iasillo, also a standout in baseball, was on the 1946-47 Ram championship team. Only five-feet, 11-inches, he sparked the Rams to their current title.

Johnson, the A. B. Davis center, is the tallest man on the first team, six-four-and-a-half. A veteran of two years on the varsity, he was top man in the scoring column for Davis this season.

Colangelo, New Rochelle forward, is the smallest man on the first squad, at five-feet, 10-inches. A cage veteran at New Rochelle, he was the top scorer of the team which finished fourth in the WIAA and was almost a one-man offense.

Inman, flashy forward from Yonkers Central, led Les Beck's third-place team in point-getting this season. Only five-feet, 10½-inches, Inman has played three years of varsity ball at Yonkers and at Gorton High.

The second team, averaging an even six-feet, also rates about 150 points per.

Taylor, Gorton's high scorer, is a veteran of three years of basketball. The star forward, an inch shy of six-feet, also was a standout at baseball.

Reis the six-six forward at White Plains High, was runner-up to tall Foster Cooper in scoring for the Bengals. Reis' specialty was hooks and rebounds in his first and last full season of varsity ball.

Cunningham, Mamaroneck center, is the lone junior on the squad. Cunningham set a new Mamaroneck scoring record this year, not timid of cage competition. He's played one year each for Bellows, Blessed Sacrament and his present school. Also a football player, he stands six-feet, three-inches.

Buzzeo, Port Chester's veteran center, who scored over 100 points this past season while turning in some of the best defensive play at his position, is a one hand set-shot artist. Buzzo is six-three.

Amdur, Yonkers Central's playmaker and captain, displayed set-shot artistry this past season. Only five-seven, the Yonkers guard is also a baseball player as well.

Ramsey, A. B. Davis' speedy guard, is a three-sport star. Besides basketball, he also plays baseball and football. Ramsey along with Amdur the smallest men on the squad, is also five-seven.

As a whole, the team fulfills a coach's dreams. The men on the 11-man squad represent height, speed, defensive ability and sharpshooting. Individually, they specialize in every type of shot, and also have shown marked offensive and defensive ability. The men were chosen, not only for their individual play, but for their team play as well.

In actuality, six forwards, three centers and two guards were named to the team by the writers.

BILL CUNNINGHAM, Mamaroneck High pivot ace, who was chosen to the all-WIAA basketball second team yesterday by vote of the county's sports and broadcasters. Cunningham is the only junior in the list of 11 players who received votes. A six-foot-three incher, big Bill is experiencing his first sports season at the Hilltop after attending two other Westchester schools previously. By meshing 21 points against Gorton on Tuesday night, Cunningham broke the all-time cours scoring record for one season by a MHS player.

MHS-DAVIS MEET IN FINAL TEST

Final decision from WIAA officials yesterday set the Mamaroneck — A.B. Davis playoff tussle for tomorrow afternoon at the Junior High School gymnasium. An unofficial coin flip, shortly after the Tigers' victory last Friday night had necessitated the deciding game to be played, set the contest for the local gymnasium but the league's official stamp was needed before the announcement could be made. The game will start at 3:30 P.M.

The Bengals got their first real workout since the glowing playoff triumph when they met Gorton on Tuesday. Several of the players gathered for a short drill after the freshmen's game with Rye on Monday but Coach Orlando Ciraco was acting mentor of the first year cagers at the time and couldn't devote his efforts to the varsity team. The MHS mentor, extremely optimistic about his quintet's chances on Friday, has slated drills for today and tomorrow afternoons with the accent again on defense. It was this phase of the game that contributed most to the Tigers' upset over Davis last week and they must again sparkle in that department if they are to capture the third place championship.

As the situation stands, Bill Cunningham will be in there to jump for Mamaroneck on the opening tap-off. Joe Petruzzo and Eddy Smith will start at forwards with the tremendously improved duo of Nick Condro and Donny Dockerill at the guards.

Hasley Directs East Team In ALL-SWIAC Tilt Tomorrow

When the SWIAC All Star game is played tomorrow night at the Eastchester High School gymnasium, T. A. (Jack) Hasley, Bellows basketball mentor, will handle the coaching duties of the East team. Edison Tech's coach Mike Manganiello will be in charge of the West quintet which copped last year's encounter by a 61-42 score. Each of the six schools which are represented in the Southern Westchester League have nominated three players to participate in the contest.

Tickets for the tilt have been on sale today and will also be available tomorrow for the local fans who wish to attend. Each school has been allotted 100 tickets and, if they are all sold prior to game time, there will be no sale at the gate. Coach Hasley revealed last night that a booth has been set up at Bellows High School to handle the sale of the 100 ducats which have been sent to BHS officials.

The varsity players of each school took a vote to determine which members of their group would play in tomorrow's game. Bellows' team, which completed its regular season on Tuesday, nominated Tom Walsh, Harvey Harriott and Red Tallevi, all Seniors. Harrison's representative and three from Rye will be under Hasley's wing while Manganielli will have players from Pleasantville and Eastchester as well as members of his championship aggregation.

The list of chosen players follows: Harrison Herb Steigler, Tony Marchone and John Castiglia. Rye: Mike and Ted Kirby and Charlie Hoag. Bellows: Walsh Harriott and Tallevi. Edison: Jim Delieto, Bill Leviness and Bob Messio. Pleasantville: Bob Gallo, George Henf and Jim Ciofredi.

FIREMEN'S SOFTBALL LOOP IS ORGANIZED

Nearly fifty persons attended the initial meeting of the Westchester County Firemen's Softball League which was held at Larchmont Fire Headquarters with 1st Deputy Chief Hugh J. Collins of the Larchmont Department presiding.

Not all of this number were officially representing their departments, however. Due to approaching company and departmental activities throughout the county many department representatives were unable to attend but the small shown interest in the organization.

Officially represented were departments from Valhalla, Port Chester, Town of Mamaroneck, Pelham Manor, Larchmont, West Harrison and Irvington. Those attending the meeting were instructed to contact departments in their respective areas and have them request representation at the next confab, which is to be held on Thursday evening, March 24th at Larchmont.

The group which was on hand for the opening gathering discussed played qualifications and limits, American Softball Association rules, umpires, the possibility of home-and-home game series, playing fields, entry fees, officials prizes and the schedule.

It was decided that entries for the league would have to have their application blanks in by April 15th at which time the schedule committee will start to prepare the circuit for the approaching season.

T. A. (JACK) HASLEY, Bellows athletic director, smiles after learning of his selection as coach of the East team for the annual S.W.I.A.C. East-West game which will be played at Eastchester High School tomorrow night.

PENNETTA HIGH IN FRAT LOOP'S POSITION NIGHT

Gus Pennetta, who can be seen in action on one of the local alleys almost every night in the week, was high man among Fraternal League keglers last night at the Mamaroneck Rec Center. However, despite Pennetta's high series of 560, the Manoni Lodge dropped two out of three games to the Odd Fellows B forces and fell two full lengths back of the leaders as a result of a "Position Night" match. The Legion jumped into third place tie with the Mamaro Foxes by taking a split decision while the Lions Club was establishing itself firmly in the fifth spot by thrashing the Odd Fellows A team 3-0. The Rotary sank deeper into the league dungeon from the seventh place Kiwanis Club bowlers.

Besides his leadership in the three game category, Pennetta also took the high single by blasting over 223 maples. Lanza had two of the six games which went over the double century mark and appeared headed for a 600 pin series until he dropped out of contention before the final game.

Playoff Schedule Released; Americans Top Carpenters

Clinching the Senior Recreation Basketball title was an easy matter for the Gaels last night as they swamped the Yellow Jackets 65-35 in the second game of a double header at the MSHS. The Jackets lost not only the game but also any mathematical chance of tieing the Gaels for the title. The new champion gained that position by winning 11 out of the 12 games they played during the course of the season.

However, the Gaels do not automatically represent the league in the county invitation tournament. They must first compete with the other three top outfits in a playoff which starts on Monday night with two games. The playoff will be a elimination affair. The Spartans, who hold the only decision over the Gaels this season, will tangle with the Yellow Jackets in the first game at 7:30 since they ended up in a tie for second place with 10 victories and two losses apiece. In the second game the Gaels will meet the fourth place team, which will either be the Heathcotes or Carpenters. The winners of these struggles will then meet Wednesday night in the final game for the right to represent Mamaroneck in the Recreation Tourney at the County Center, White Plains.

In the first game last night, the Larchmont Americans edged the Carpenters 36-30 with a fourth quarter rally. It was the third successful outing of the campaign for the Americans while the Carpenters could have clinched a playoff berth if they had won. Buddy Lutz, Vic Buckett and Freddy Lutz each tallied eight points for the Americans while the losers featured the 1 point total of Shaw.

Gil Allen and Bob Scott were red hot in their shooting and turned in 21 and 17 point marks, respectively as the Gaels sewed up the regular season title. Scully paced the Jackets with 12 marks. The new champions had a 25-18 bulge at halftime and were ahead by eight markers at the three quarter mark. Shortly after the fourth period started, they put together a string of tallies which cinched the duke.

Further information in regard to the playoffs will be revealed by Director Charles Warren tomorrow.

Pruned, revised and with some changes in text and music, "All For Love" has begun what it calls its Broadway run at the Mark Hellinger Theatre, partially it has granted that theatre since Jan. 22, when it opened "cold." The judgment on that opening and Sammy Lambert and Anthony B. Farrell, the producers, to order the changes. The intervening period has been regarded as "road weeks," since the show has undergone the doctoring customary on tryout tours.

Grace and Paul Hartman and Bert Wheeler continue in starring roles, with Patricia Wymore, Milada Mladova, Dick Smart, Leni Lynn, Kathryne Mylroie, Milton Frome, Paul Reed, Budd Rogerson, June Graham and Richard D'Arcy as principals.

QUINLIVAN CALLS ON GOP TO BACK HORNIDGE IN 1950

Raps Democrats For Using Non-Partisan Name; Mayor Cites Record

"We hope and confidently expect to reach our goal and we want the coverage in Larchmont to be as near 100 percent as possible, it was stated today by A. L. Morris (above) member of the 1949 fund campaign committee, now conducting a mail drive to raise a quota of $12,515.

Mr. Morris, veteran of World War II and participant in the 1947 and 1948 Red Cross campaigns in Larchmont, points out that every resident has an opportunity to make a donation and that every gift means a friend for the Red Cross.

Of the Westchester county Chapter quota of $332,600, the sum of $193,000 is retained in Westchester to meet the county budget, Mr. Morris explained, and the balance of $139,000 sought will go to the national organization.

As director of the mail campaign, Mr. Morris is the originator of the slogan subscribed to the Larchmont letter of appeal "Humanity needs the Red Cross . . . The Red Cross needs you."

Lawrence Ar Quinlivan of Shore Acres, Mamaroneck, chairman of last year's Non-Partisan group which helped elect Henry P. Hornidge village police justice, last night urged a group of 45 Republicans at a public rally at the Elks Club to endorse Judge Hornidge, a Democrat, for election next year to a full term in office.

He made it clear that the non-partisans "went out of business" last year immediately after Hornidge's election. "It was for Henry Hornidge and for Henry Hornidge only," he declared, adding that he was not addressing the rally as a representative of the group. He said the Democrats were bringing the non-partisan name into their solicitation of votes for Candidate William C. Fitts, Jr., and added, "if this is a sample of what we can anticipate from the Democratic Party then all I can say is it has started to deteriorate spiritually as well as politically a whole lot quicker than I ever thought it could and I am wondering if the New Deal atmosphere enters into it."

Calling for the re-election of Mayor Santoro and Trustee Ralph Mann at the village elections Tuesday, Mr. Quinlivan declared, "I believe with all my being that never before has it been so essential that the Republican Party be enlivened as the only possible bulwark against the further penetration of socialistic, communistic and bureaucratic thought into our home life. To me it is not a question of Republicanism; it is down right Americanism at its best. I believe the Republican Party has never had as good an opportunity to sell itself to the people of this nation as it does at this very minute. An unselfish and enlightened Republican Party, dynamic in its action, is the only means of ridding ourselves of the catchall political expediencies and practices, and quasi-socialistic thinking of the "New Deal", or "New Fair Deal", whatever you wish to call it. Republicans must recognize this, but having done so must effectively do something about it. There must be a purge

Matzoh Fund Grows

The Hias Matzoh Fund drive in Mamaroneck is entering the fourth week of its $3,000 campaign with more than $500 raised so far by a committee headed by Harry Freides, and assisted by Rabbi Irving Koslowe, Barnet Prakin, and Max Prakin.

Contributions may be mailed to the Institute office, 273 Halstead Avenue, Mamaroneck, or left with Mr. Freides, 357 Mamaroneck Avenue. The campaign will close in two weeks since all monies and supplies must reach European shores by that time to insure delivery.

More Vandalism

A house under construction in the rear of 1327 Flagler Drive, Mamaroneck, has been damaged, apparently by youthful vandals, Mamaroneck police reported today.

Anthony Gazzetta, a Mount Vernon painter contractor, reported that workmen had left and locked the house at 4:30 P. M. Wednesday and returned yesterday morning at 8:30 A. M. to discover damage inside. The house is owned by Mrs. J. Picker, he told police.

Carpet Course

George A. Porto of 360 Mamaroneck Avenue, Mamaroneck, has completed a course in the principles and installation mechanics of carpet laying conducted by Yonkers Alexander Smith & Sons Carpet Company.

Mr. Porto is employed by Halbert's Lino. Arts of New Rochelle.

The carpet laying school was established early in 1947 to provide specialized training to employes of retail stores in modern workroom techniques.

Finger Print Exhibit

A demonstration of finger printing was given Wednesday night for the members of Mamaroneck Boy Scout Troop 1 at St. Thomas's Church by Detective Samuel Bryant of the Mamaroneck Police Department. He exhibited the equipment and showed the boys the procedure involved in taking prints.

Donald Demas was awarded the Troop Committee Trophy for the month of February.

To the Rescue

Two ducks in Larchmont Gardens Lake were found with their heads in the water and apparently half-dead yesterday morning, according to Town of Mamaroneck Police.

Paul Meyers of 85 Garden Road, Larchmont, reported the condition to headquarters and told police he would keep the ducks in his cellar until they revived.

Bales Litter Pavement

Two large bales of rags fell off a truck as it travelled south on the Boston Post Road this morning and littered the wet pavement near Mayhew Avenue, Larchmont.

With a tow truck crane, the bales were removed and Larchmont police stood by to make sure the driver cleaned up the mess.

No Blizzard Today

There was no repetition today of the blizzard of 1888 which blew in on this date 61 years ago, as the morning's light snow drizzled out into rain. Temperatures will remain low, the Weather Bureau said, no higher than the middle 30s today and down to the upper 20s tonight.

ROBERT S. DONALDSON

RESIDENT PROBES ECONOMY FORCES

Robert S. Donaldson Holds Field Director's Post For Organization

Helping to promote a program designed to shed light on economic problems is the job of Robert S. Donaldson of 343 South Barry Avenue, Mamaroneck, field director of the Committee for Economic Development which last week held its first national "laboratory" session at the Waldorf Astoria in New York.

Mr. Donaldson who became affiliated with the CED during the War, has spent time with businessmen and educators at 12 college centers throughout the country, aiding in the establishment of study groups to further regional economic research and education.

Working on the premise that economically healthy communities produce a healthy national economy, the CED is endeavoring to provide better-informed leadership which can offer the benefits of objective thought on economic problems ranging all the way from land use to international trade.

In forming committees composed of businessmen, educators, and labor leaders, the CED hopes to have each understand the other's view in solving problems. Last week's conference followed more than a year and a half of experiment in the study of regional problems by these committees.

Mr. Donaldson, a native of Wisconsin, was educated on the West Coast. He is a graduate of Occidental College and has served as a member of its Board of Trustees.

A former public relations director for Lockheed Air Craft, he became West Coast manager for the Committee for Economic Development during the War. He was transferred to the East and his present position two years ago. He has lived in Mamaroneck for one and a half years.

Mr. Donaldson is married and has one daughter, Gail, a sophomore at P.E. Bellows High School.

Plans For 72-Family Building On Palmer Avenue Reported

Plans are under way for the erection of a 72-family apartment building between the Colony Apartments and the A and P market on Palmer Avenue, Larchmont, it was reported today.

Ralph Roleini of 1188 Old White Plains Road, Mamaroneck, reports that he and Patsy Iacenice of Shore Acres, Mamaroneck, are planning to finance the building with the assistance of John V. Daly of 17 Addison Street, Larchmont, as broker.

Mr. Daly said plans and financial arrangements for the apartments had not been completed and that is is "just a dream" but Mr. Policini reported that clearing operations on the property have started.

Mr. Daly said that no building permit application has yet been made.

Tenants of the two-family stone and stucco house at 23 Woodland Avenue, on the site of the proposed apartment building, were told that they would probably not have to move out before the end of May. The house will either be torn down or moved if the apartment is erected, they were told.

The project is awaiting federal *Housing Administration "608" ap*proval, it is reported, and the builders are said to face the removal of a considerable amount of rock on the property.

HAGANS OUTLINES POLITICAL STAND

Candidate of Independents Refuses to Run 'Mud-Slinging Campaign'

Running for Mamaroneck trustee as one who "thoroughly understands the problems of the working man and shares as well as the employer and landlord," James Opie Hagans said today that he refused "to engage in a mud-slinging contest or criticize maliciously the past administrations which have acted to the best of their abilities."

He stated that a man who understands these problems should be a member of the board and that he has "no criticisms to make of Mr. Mann and Mr. Hunter, the Republican and Democratic candidates."

"Working up from a chauffeur to a business man I feel that I understand the problems of both the employer and employe," he said. "I am highly respected and attribute my success to the wonderful cooperation of my wife, Mrs. Gladys C. Hagans.

"I am in favor of light industry in areas where it will not detract from our fine home sections," the independent party candidate continued. "I have carefully selected a platform that I think will be beneficial to the Village of Mamaroneck as a whole."

Mr. Hagans described his platform as "seeking to modernize village affairs, carrying out the slogan of a friendly village with understanding and cooperation among all peoples, advocating light industry instead of relief, low-rent housing, eliminating fire traps and modernizing unsanitary housing, working for less politics and more sound business management."

STOVE BLAZE ROUTS FIREMEN AT 2 A. M.

All companies responded to a general alarm at 1:59 A.M. today when an oil stove overheated in the first floor apartment of William Coleman of 739 Old White Plains Road, Mamaroneck. The kitchen wall and floor were slightly damaged, Fire Chief William Lemon reported.

Recall was at 2:48 A. M.

Rubbish in the rear of Washington Inn, at 631 West Post Road caused Chief Lemon to call out Mamaro at 8:01 P.M. yesterday. No damage was reported.

Mamaroneck police extinguished a brush fire, caused by boys, on Penimore Road near the railroad bridge at 10:10 P. M. Wednesday.

At 5:50 P. M. that day Chief Lemon ordered out a volunteer truck on a still alarm to cover a fire at Gedney Pond.

RECORD' AWARDED NATIONAL HONORS

M.H.S. School Paper Wins First Place Prize In Columbia Contest

NEW YORK.—Competing with other school publications in a nationwide contest sponsored by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, "The Record," the newspaper published by the students of Mamaroneck High School, took first place honors here today

The announcement of winners marked the high spot of the three-day convention that has attracted more than 3,500 budding journalists from all parts of the country.

The Mamaroneck High School publication competed in the division for printed newspapers of high schools having between 750 and 1,000 pupils.

In judging the entries, consideration was given to such factors as story content, features, news coverage, makeup and typography.

Before the close of the convention tomorrow, marked by a luncheon at the Waldorf Astoria hotel, the student editors will attend a series of conferences, meetings and clinics at which prominent professional journalists will appear. Among them will be Turner Catledge, assistant managing editor of The New York Times.

TOWN FIREMEN CALLED TWICE DURING DAY

An oil burner blaze and a brush fire were extinguished by Town of Mamaroneck firemen yesterday. Both required general alarms.

A faulty ignition caused the oil burner fire at the home of James D. Mayer, 12 Bonnie Briar Lane at 4:45 P. M. Firemen put it out in 20 minutes using foamite and carbon dioxide. Smoke damage to the interior of the house resulted.

At 7:35 P. M. the fire department was called to a lot on the Boston Post Road near the Avon-more Apartments where water was used to extinguish the brush fire. The recall sounded at 8 P. M.

PACT IS SIGNED BY TRANS-JORDAN

Agreement With Israel Is Prelude to a Full Armistice

RHODES, (AP) — Israel and Trans-Jordan signed a formal cease-fire agreement today for their entire front in Palestine.

The agreement is a necessary prelude to a full armistice. It pledges Israel and her neighbor across the Jordan not to attack one another.

There was no immediate indication of the effect of this upon the Aqaba situation. United Nations observers were intensifying a check into reports from Amman, Trans-Jordan's capital, that Israeli troops were attacking in the area between the Dead Sea and the Trans-Jordan Red Sea port of Aqaba. Israel has denied this.

Reports from Amman quoted the Trans-Jordan government as saying early today that fighting still was in progress in the Aqaba area.

The cease-fire agreement signed here does not include the triangle of Eastern Palestine, the Nablus-Tulkarm-Jenin area, where Iraqi troops were stationed. U. N. officials here still awaited a reply from Iraq whether Trans-Jordan's delegation is authorized to negotiate in Iraq's behalf.

The Iraqi Premier said in Bashdad Monday the Trans-Jordan delegates did not represent Iraq at the talks.

No map accompanied the agreement, but it is understood that it freezes the present lines in Palestine. The Arab Legion holds the old walled city area of Jerusalem, and the Jews the modern city. The Trans-Jordan Arab Legion controls the area east of Jerusalem and the Trans-Jordan frontier.

SETTLEMENT ENDS 8-WEEK STRIKE OF GRAVEDIGGERS

Compromise Made On Terms Advanced By Spellman Early In Dispute

NEW YORK, (AP)—An eight-week strike of gravediggers at Calvary Cemetery in Queens ended today on terms offered by Francis Cardinal Spellman some weeks ago.

The settlement also ended a strike at Gate of Heaven Cemetery, Hawthorne. Both cemeteries are operated by trustees of St. Patrick's Cathedral.

The settlement came only two days after the workers had withdrawn from the CIO Food, Tobacco and Agricultural Workers Union which the Cardinal had described as communist-dominated. They formed a new local affiliated with the AFL Building Service Employes Union.

A week ago Cardinal Spellman personally led a group of priests and seminarians from Dunwoodie to bury the dead at Calvary Cemetery, a Catholic burial ground. The original force of 100 later was increased to 200 young men to dig graves for the more than 1,000 coffins which accumulated in temporary trenches since the

DEPOT PICKETS THREAT OF UNION

Expressmen Say Move Will Halt Operations At NYC Terminals

NEW YORK, (AP)—A union threat to tie up New York's two biggest railroad passenger stations added new complications today to a dispute that has snarled Railway Express shipping here.

A union official said picket lines may be thrown around Pennsylvania and Grand Central Stations — a move which he said would halt operations at the two big terminals.

Daniel J. Sullivan, general chairman of the express division of the AFL Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, made the threat yesterday in reprisal for what he called a "lockout" by the Railway Express Agency.

He said 3,000 employes in freight terminals, depots and sorting stations in New York and Northern New Jersey have been locked out as a result of a "work slowdown" by express workers. An embargo on express packages to and from New York followed.

The slowdown started three days ago in protest against what the union terms "bargaining stalling" in contract negotiations now going on in Chicago.

Claiming employes were failing "to carry out their assigned duties," the company yesterday laid off 1,177 men and said the unemployment of some 7,800 other package handlers and drivers would be terminated by tomorrow.

Sullivan said 3,500 others had been laid off in Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia.

Although the company did not confirm this, an official said it was thought the layoffs would result in cities throughout the country as a result of the paralyzing embargo here.

An embargo has been clamped on all less-than-carload express shipments into and out of the metropolitan area, which handles 25 per cent of all express shipped in the United States. This means that points outside New York can not accept packages for delivery here, nor can parcels be accepted here for delivery elsewhere.

Sullivan said the threatened picketing of the two big passenger stations for which no date was set, was contemplated to force the railroads' to "bring pressure" against the agency. The agency is owned by major railroads.

He said the picket lines would be respected by ticket sellers, office workers, baggagemen and some maintenance men, all brotherhood members. The plan must first be approved by a council of local unions and by international officers, he said.

LT. WILLIAM B. CROLL

LT. CROLL'S BODY DUE BACK HOME

Larchmont Man, Killed In Action Over Germany Long Missing

Lt. William B. Croll, U. S. Army Air Force, who was killed in action over Germany, is being returned to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Leslie Croll of 27 Stuyvesant Avenue, Larchmont, the Department of the Army announced yesterday.

Second Lieut. Croll is being returned from Europe aboard the U. S. Army Transport Barney Kirschbaum.

He was reported missing in action March 24, 1945. He enlisted in March, 1943, went overseas in November, 1945, and was awarded the Air Medal.

He was graduated in June, 1945, as an Army Air Force pilot at Altus Army Air Field in Oklahoma, receiving his wings and commission as second lieutenant. He received basic training at San Antonio, Texas.

A graduate of Fairfield, Conn., schools, Lt. Croll was a maintenance engineer on a dairy farm in St. James, L. I., before he entered the service.

He is survived by his father, his stepmother and his half-sister, Margery, all of 27 Stuyvesant Avenue, Larchmont.

STRAIN FORESEEN ON SCHOOL PLANT

Bellows Survey Anticipates Need For Six More Classrooms

Anticipating a Bellows High School enrollment which may put serious pressure on the present plant by 1953, Trustee Edgar B. Burchell, Jr., told the Rye Neck School Board Tuesday night that some strain may be felt even more next year. Trustee Burchell, who is chairman of the board's Planning Committee, based his statements upon a survey conducted recently by Principal William C. McAloon and Miss Annie McPhee which shows that the eventual addition of six classrooms might be anticipated.

The board had assumed, he explained that because the school handled an enrollment of 508 in 1941 and that a similar enrollment would not be reached again until 1955, the size of the plant was adequate. Mr. McAloon and Miss McPee had tested the assumption by fitting probable enrollment figures into the curriculum, he said.

In giving a report of inspection, Trustee Mrs. Herbert Livesey said the 49 fifth grade students at Daniel Warren would overflow the 30-seat sixth grade classroom next year.

Pressure at Daniel Warren has been felt in the past, but the board, using a free-transfer system between Barry Avenue School and Daniel Warren, managed to balance the load.

But Mrs. Livesey reported Barry Avenue will not be able to take the sixth grade overflow after this year.

The planning committee had thought Trustee Burchell admitted, that on the basis of the free-transfer policy, there was no shortage of classroom space. The committee would have to make revisions, he added.

It was suggested that perhaps

Girl Pleads Innocent To Three Accusations; Trial Set April 1

NEW YORK, (AP)—A Russian engineer accused of espionage today refused to answer questions at his arraignment in Federal Court and claimed diplomatic immunity.

Valentin A. Gubitchev, the Russian indicted yesterday with Judith Coplon, U. S. Justice Department employe, declared the prosecution against him was "to pursue certain aims."

However, Judge Simon H. Rifkind answered sharply:

"Let the defendant know if he is under the illusion that he is going to be punished without first being convicted by due process of law, he is lamentably mistaken in idea."

The Judge continued Gubitchev's $100,000 bail and declined to accept the statement of the suspended United Nations employe that he did not want counsel.

Rifkind said he would assign a lawyer to represent Gubitchev He then put off until Monday the pleading on the indictment.

Miss Coplon pleaded innocent to the three counts of the espionage indictment in which she is named. Her trial was set for April 1.

The court declined the government's request that the $20,000 bail for the Brooklyn-born girl be increased to $50,000.

After the formalities, Miss Coplon's brother, Bertram, furnished bail.

Gubitchev and Miss Coplon were accused by the Grand Jury yesterday of conspiracy to pass to a "foreign power" U. S. defense and intelligence data.

They met this morning for the first time since they were seized together last Friday night by FBI agents after a cloak-and-dagger chase through Manhattan streets.

Miss Coplon gave no sign that she noticed the Russian as she stepped into a van in which both were driven to Federal Court.

The engineer told Judge Rifkind through an interpreter, "I consider myself a foreigner and a member of the diplomatic profession and I consider the accusation leveled against me as provocation to pursue certain aims. Therefore I will refuse to answer the questions of the court."

Gubitchev also said he could not afford a lawyer and was not going to have one.

Rifkind replied that the charge was so grave that he would not permit the defendant to stand trial without counsel. He said two U. N. representatives had visited him expressing an interest in seeing that the Russian had a lawyer. The judge said he would confer with these representatives later.

USAF Boasts A-Bomb Fleet

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Air Force has been quietly building up its special fleet of atom bombers.

No longer, officials disclosed, does the air arm have all of its atomic bombing skill and planes in one basket, as it did during the war—when B29 Superfortresses dropped A-bombs on two Japanese cities—and for some time after.

The only unit formerly geared for A-bomb dropping was the 509th Group, based at Roswell, N. M. Its planes participated in the Bikini tests of 1946, in which a B29 dropped an atomic bomb above a target fleet of naval craft.

In answer to a reporter's question, an Air Force official offered this laconic reply: "The specialized quality once attributed to the 509th no longer prevails; there are now other groups." He didn't say how many.

Spotlight On Sports

By DICK CARPENTER

Yale's Ivy League champion, possessor of one of the outstanding basketball records in the country, has been chosen to represent New England in the NCAA Tournament in Madison Square Garden later this month which means that Dick Joyce will be the first player to see action in one of the famed post season court events. Joyce, the kingpin of the 1943 -1944 Bellows SWIAC championship quintet, is a junior at the New Haven University and has been on the varsity cage team in all three years. Although generally outshone by the versatile Tony Lavelli, Joyce has occasionally taken the glory away from Tallyin' Tony and is as certain a starter in the tourney opener as the country's leading pointmaker. Dick, as well as the entire Yale team, had a bad night when they met and lost to NYU early in the campaign on the Garden hardwood. Sinde that encounter they have come a long way, however.

New Records

Two local basketball scoring records were broken almost without anyone's knowledge this week. On Tuesday afternoon Bellows' powerful five came out of a short slump by rolling up a 68 point total against Eastchester. A check into the minty old record books reveals that this surpasses the old mark by one field goal, a mark that was co-held. In 1941, the Rye Neck school's team went berserk in running up 66 markers against Tuckahoe and that standard stood pat until the East Enders tied it this season against Bonnaville.

Although we always seem to see records broken, (because that's what they're made for) we must continue to believe that the standard that was made in '41 is the more remarkable of the two since the accent at that time was more on defensive play than shooting. Nowadays the fans aren't satisfied unless the cords are almost worn out with use. Few of the fans enjoyed the Mt. Kisco-Catona 15-6 game this season but one old timer we know got a real bang out of it.

The other splashed mark was the Mamaroneck High individual one season total which Bill Cunninghan shattered with a 21 point production against Gorton. Big Bill, recent second team choice for ALL—WIAA honors, has 245 points thus far with one game to go while Tony Loiacoui and Joe Petruzzo were the co-holders of the previous record which was 226 points.

Hilltop Swimming Team Defeats New Rochelle 40-26

Hanna Directs MHS Tankmen To Win At Huguenot Y Pool

By JOHN TAUB

Winning five out of the eight events, Mamaroneck's natators beat New Rochelle yesterday 40-26 in a meet held at the New Rochelle YMCA. Under the direction of Robert Hanna, the tankmen made their next to last home meet a successful one.

Don Simon, John Glover, and Weir Daly all won first places in their respective events, while the relay events were split, mamaroneck winning the freestyle but losing the medley.

Glover easily beat out two New Rochelle entries in the 50 yard freestyle, swimming to a finish in 29.2. In the 100 yard free, Glover also placed first while Ted DiMande copping third place. Second place went to McFee of the losers, while Glover's winning time was a swift 1:01.2.

In the 100 yard breast stroke, Daly showed good form and led most of the way to finish first in 1:20.8. Leo Van Dijk garnered second place, while third went to New Rochelle's Willock.

Charlie Tretzger made a gallant effort to win the 200 yard freestyle, but fell short by inches, losing to Loeffler of the Purple. Weiss took third place with Loeffler's winning time 2:20.7.

Captain Simon proved to be his consistent self again, as he won the 100 yard back stroke in 1:14.0 while Paul Gerard of the Orange swam into second place. The Queen City's entry of Tim Dunkels snatched third place.

In the fancy diving event, Gordy Nichols lost first place by a mere point and a half to Casagari of the Purple, whose teammate, Romussen placed third.

The medley relay team of Gerard, Daly, and Jerry Scniier lost out to the New Rochelle entry of McFee, Rivers, and Weiss. However, in the 200 yard free style, as he out paced Bunkels in the final leg of the race and finished a split second before his New Rochelle opponent. Swimming the other three legs were Simon, Van Dijk and DiMando.

The summaries:

50-Yard free—Glover (M), BARNES (NR), Stewart (NR). Winning time: 29.2.

100-yard breast Daly (M), Van Dijk (M); Willock (NR). Winning time: 1:20.8.

FOUR SHUTOUTS IN LC BOWLING

Shutouts were the fashion in Larchmont Community kegling at the Larchmont Rec Center last night as four teams breezed through league matches. The LRTS had little trouble with the Patrol and held its slim lead over the Uncle Carls who also were victorious. The Plumbers drew a bye and lost possession of third place as the Clippers came through three games unscathed The Hook and Ladder copped the other win at the expense of the Fingers.

Joe Masto turned in the top scores in single and triple tallies, his 224 featured a 615 pinfall which also was helped by a 201 effort. There were nine games over the double century mark, four of which were rolled by Uncle Carl's members. Bud Walsh of the Hooks with a 213 and Joe Torre of the Clippers with a 212 were Masto's closest pursuers.

SAINTS BOOK STARS IN TRY FOR REVENGE

After taking their second defeat of the season last Sunday, the St. Augustine's Saints go out to avenge loss number one tomorrow afternoon at their Larchmont Avenue gymnasium when they tangle with the All Stars from the Manhattan area of New York City. The Stars stamped a ten point licking on the local team in December and naturally the Saints have been living with the idea of gaining some measure of revenge.

The visiting force will be seven strong, all of them with collegiate experience. Bill Woods is the team's playmaker and he will open at a guard slot along with Hank Poppe, another good set shot and driving type of operative. Mike Joyce will again be the center, being some three inches taller than any player the Saints can send onto the floor. Joyce was one of the main reasons that the Stars won the first encounter so handily.

The Green and White colors will be worn by the usual capable six. Walt Cibrowski will be given the job of handling Joyce's pivot tosses while Joe Cullen and Dave Latimer form a fast breaking forward combination. The reliable Joe Connolly and Gene Doherty are the starting choices at guard spots. Coach Tony Loiacoui will sub for any of the five. When Cibrowski comes out of the fray, Doherty will switch to the pivot post.

The contest will start at 3:15 P.M. promptly.

Seniors 'Tutor' Faculty Five 28–22 In Benefit Cage Game

An afternoon of basketball fun-making yesterday in the Senior High gymnasium gave 1. the Seniors a 26-22 triumph. 2. the creaky limbed faculty a workout, and 3. an Italian school will probably get a projector as a direct result. A capacity crowd squeezed into the confined quarters of the MHS gym to view the frolic and were given their money's worth by the players, cheer leaders and officials.

The Faculty quintet was only behind by an 8-7 margin at the halftime, mainly because they put on a 'freeze' by running out of the scholo with the ball. They actually led in the third quarter but were suddenly sent down to defeat on three consecutive layups by members of the Senior team.

The crowd enjoyed the pre-game warmup as much as they did the actual playing. Harry Harrison, athletic director, was carried onto the court on a stretcher by Orlando Cirnco and Ed Puritz. John Sullivan accompanied them, all three wearing fencing masks with Sullivan sporting a pair of boxing gloves. Ed Storey then made an appearance bearing a spraying outfit and promptly brought the faculty members to life with a series of blasts from his spray gun.

When the teachers finally started to toss the ball Frederick Checksfield, exchange teacher from England stole the show with his rugby tactics. The Englishman soon learned that one's head and feet don't very often help in making the ball go through the hoop.

The Seniors, who had entered in their girls' gymnastic suits, were plagued by walking and double - dribble violations that were called frequently by referees Tony Loiaconi and Mike Trippico when fouls were drifting in for sure scores. The officials called "faculty out", referring to which team was to take possession of the ball, so often that the enthusiastic crowd soon took up the chant.

In the second half, the tutors used six men in an effort to pull the game out of the fire. In a countermove, the student brain-trust sent in Alfred Smith, who is between five and six feet tall (far closer to five). Smith heaved the leather every time he put his hands on it but simply had left his shooting eye at home.

Eddy Smith and Joe Petruzzo co-coaches of the Seniors, drew penalties for walking onto the hardwood without proper permission from the refs. Dr. Storey and Mr. Checksfield attempted the ensueing foul shots.

Warner Herlyn scored the game high of eight points while Harry Harrison made six for the teachers.

Larchmont Softballers To Plan for Loop Play

The executive committee of the Larchmont Softball League will meet tonight in the courtroom of the Larchmont Village Hall at 8 P. M. to discuss plans for the rapidly approaching season. Bill Dimond, newly elected secretary-treasurer of the softball loop, made the announcement last night and stated that President Charles "Chick" Conte would be presiding over the group for the first time since he succeeded Harry Alpiar by a landslide vote two weeks ago. NTS NIP RAMBLERS ON BISTER'S TALLY

One of the highest scoring games of the season was played last night at the Mamaroneck Avenue school with the Nats coming out victorious 48-46 on the wings of Johnny Bister's tap-in a few seconds before the final buzzer. The Ramblers were the losing quintet, having led only through the first ten minutes of play. The Nats were behind by 18-21 as the second canto started but went wild to earn a 48-34 halftime spread. After that they weren't pressed until the very end.

Three players scored more than 50 points apiece. Joe Pooley of the victorious quintet was high man with 35 markers while George Yost tallied 33 for the Ramblers. Bister ended up with 21 points.

Tonight New York

The Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's Technicolor screen romance, "Little Women," starring June Allyson, Peter Lawford, Margaret O'Brien, Elizabeth Taylor, Janet Leigh, Rossano Brazzi and Mary Astor, is the feature at Radio City Music Hall.

Based on Louisa May Alcott's famous novel, and produced and directed by Mervyn LeRoy, "Little Women" boasts not only seven of motion picture's most engaging stars, but also a great supporting cast. Brought to vivid life with color by Technicolor, the picture will present Miss Allyson in a characterization of the famous tomboy Jo, with Peter Lawford as Laurie, Margaret O'Brien as Beth, Miss Taylor as Amy, Janet Leigh as Meg, and Miss Astor as the devoted "Marmee."

On the stage in "Curtain Time," Patricia Bowman and Paul Haakon, celebrated dancers will star in a brilliant romantic pantomime with the Corps de Ballet and Frank Scalioi in a featured role. Entitled "The Flirt," the elaborate ballet will be danced to a special score of music by Johann Strauss, with chorcography by Florence Rogge.

Saint Subber and Lemuel Ayers, solicitous producers of "Kiss Me Kate," in their zeal to make everybody at the Century Theatre happy, have commissioned Saki Oura, the acoustical expert, to install a new sound system throughout the theater, so that not a decibel of Cole Porter's lyrics and music and Sam and Bella Spewack's script will be lost in the auditorium at 7th Ave. at 59th St.

In "Alias Nick Beal" now at the N. Y. Paramount, Ray Milland has his most intriguing role since "The Lost Week End." As Nick Beal he is vicious and incarnate in pitting his evil against the seductive charm of Audrey Totter and Thomas Mitchell as a man dedicated to political reform. John Darrow directed.

In person the Paramount presents The King Cole Trio, Larry Storch, Helene & Howard and Elliot Lawrence and his orchestra.

Bengals Drop WIAA 3rd Place Playoff Finale To Davis 67-42

Raiders Subdue MHS Quintet With Fast Breaking Attack

The roof caved in on a determined Mamaroneck High School basketball team yesterday afternoon as A. B. Davis heaped a 67-42 landslide on the Tigers in the season finale for both squads. The Bengals, who had forced the WIAA third place playoff into the deciding game with a stunning upset last Friday night, were not the same band of courtmen yesterday. At no time were they ahead and, after making a struggle of it for a quarter, went out of contention when Davis piled the score up in the second quarter.

Including the playoff tussle, the MHS quintet earned a mark of five victories and 13 losses this season. Although far from being a basketball powerhouse, they showed improvement over the 1947-48 outfit which took only one game.

In the scoring department, Bill Cunningham saved some of the laurels for the home team by smashing 23 points, most of which were racked up in the second half.

Although he scored one point less than the Mamaroneck center, Ray Ramsey was the game's outstanding all-around player. He tallied on left handed hook and set shots and was constantly getting in the Tigers' hair with aggressive defensive tactics.

The Red Raiders went out in front by a 16-5 count in the first quarter and, despite a slight improvement by the local team, walked off the floor with a 32-17 spread at halftime. The visiting quintet left no doubt as to the outcome when they ran the score up to 51-26 in the third quarter and breezed in from there.

Coach Orlando Cirace substituted freely in an attempt to hold the score down but Irv Halstead, Davis coach, continued to use his regulars in running up the count. Joe Petruzzo had a bad day, missing numerous shots and couldn't get started in the right direction. The Bengals took a terrific beating off the boards as Dick Johnson, recent All-WIAA choice, hauled in every rebound in sight. The visitors were also much speedier than the Tigers and had their fast break clicking throughout.

Ramsey, Harvey Billingham and Ramsey again tabbed before the locals broke into the scoring column. Donny Dockerill split the cords with a push shot but Billingham's foul gave the Raiders the lead, 7-2.

Cunningham's layup was the only other Mamaroneck tally of the period as every member of the Davis starting five got into the act before the stanza had been completed.

Petruzzo netted a foul and Cunningham dropped a short set that gave the partisan crowd a ray of hope but Billingham popped in two rebounds and Johnson rapped a tap-in and set shot before Dockerill broke the string with a toss from the foul line. Cunningham's layup made it 11-24 but, after Petruzzo dropped a nook shot, Johnson and Billingham swished layups. Eddy Smith jammed in his first points with a layup and followed two Johnson fouls with a long set shot just before the halftime buzzer.

Ramsey and Cunningham traded layups after play had been resumed. The Raiders' scoring ace tallied on a push shot but again Cunningham matched it from the pivot. Fouls by Cerrone and Slaughter started a string of Davis tallies that was not to subside until the score had risen to 44-21. It was Nick Condro who cut the spurt off with a set shot from mid court but the Bengals again went on a famine until Petruzzo scored from in close. But by that time that game was lost as Davis led 51-26.

Petruzzo fouled out just before the third period ended and Mouse Bruno took his place. Cunningham used the fourth period to run up 12 of his points, one foul, one set shot, a driving push and four layups. Davis gave no quarter, however as Cerrone scored twice from in close. Three more easy layups were netted by the Mount Vernon team before Cunningham's foul shot brought an end to the one-sided game.

The Mamaroneck Jayvees had two clear shots at the rim in the final seconds of the afterm ath but missed both of them and came out on the short end of a 22-21 score. The Bengal Cubs only scored one point in the first quarter but only trailed 12-8 at halftime. After staying behind by three markers in the third stanza, the MHS Jayvees unleashed an attack which sent them out in front for a few, short minutes. Notorgiacomo's layup and a successful foul shot that followed gave the visiting reserves a small margin that they held onto. The Tiger Cubs were led in scoring by George Carl who had six points.

Alley Cats Have Lead In Sunday Night Loop

The Alley Cats go into tomorrow night's mixed doubles matches at the Mamaroneck Recreation Center with a slim margin over the Y-Bowl as the result of their 2-1 victory over the Four Roses last week. The third place Four Hundred gained a notch on the leader as well as foiled the Y-Bowl's attempts to tie up the race by copping a victory by a similar score. The steadily improving Unlucky Four was a shutout winner over the Go-Getters while Babe's Aces topped the Irish in two out of three encounters.

Gus Peniciila of the Irish and Jack Clausen of the Y-Bowl tied for the honor of bowling the week's high game by rolling 232 through with 212 pin singles. Peniciila's total pinfall of 509 beat out the Y-Bowl ace by three pins for the best three-game tally.

The female keglers engaged in a tight race for top single game honors with Sue Bushmore of the Four Roses winding up on top with a 104.

SAINTS TANGLE WITH ALL STARS IN RETURN GAME

Despite their loss to the Congress Queen Knights last week, the St. Augustine's Saints still have an impressive record of 13 victories in 15 games and intend to get back on the winning trail tomorrow afternoon when the Collegiate All Stars from the Manhattan area of New York City return for a second encounter with the local cagers. Early in the season, the Stars administered a fairly easy ten point beating to the Saints who were woefully weak in the backboard department at that time.

Despite the fact that the visitors will still enjoy a height advantage, the capable Walt Cibrowski and Joe Connolly are in much better condition for this one and may make up for the few inches they lack by playing their fighting style off the boards. No player that has visited the Saints' Larchmont Avenue gymnasium this season has been able to prevent Cibrowski from hitting consistently with his two handed jump shot. Big Walt has perfected the toss and will undoubtedly give the Star' ace, six-foot-seven inch Mike Joyce, a rough time tomorrow.

Joyce is the scoring threat that the Saints were unable to cope with in the December meeting and they will have to stop him if they are to notch win number 14. However, Hank Poppe is also a point making wizard and will not let the locals rest even if they are able to prevent Joyce from tallying. Bill Woods, a familiar face to Larchmont court fans, is expected to set up most of the plays for the visitors, on a bit of set shooting and try his southpaw driving layups that have been so effective this season.

With Cibrowski taking care of the local cagers' pivot duties, Gene Doherty will be moved to a guard spot to operate with Joe Connolly. Joe Cullen and Dave Latimer will open at the forwards. Both are deadly shots from any angle but the team's real eagle eye, Coach Tony Lolaconi, will be the only reserve available. The former Mamaroneck High set shot artist will remain as a guard with Doherty replacing Cibrowski if Walt should be forced to take a rest.

The game will start promptly at 3:15 P. M.

West Wins Second Straight SWIAC All-Star Court Game

The West team captured the second successive year by beating the East quintet 64-56 at the Eastchester High School gymnasium last night. Coach Jack Hasley of Bellows was at the helm of the Eastern cagers and his outfit was in the van for three quarters of the contest. However, the West quintet rallied to take the lead, saw the East tie it up again and then romped off with the duke by stealing three loose balls in a row and converting them into easy scores.

In an impressive pre-game ceremony, SWIAC revealed the result of its six coaches' voting for the all league five. Three members of the champion Edison Tech team were chosen with one each from Eastchester and Harrison. Bill "Peanuts" Levinesss and Bob Moccio of Edison were the forward choices. Jim Delieto of the Techmen was the center with Johnny Castiglia of Harrison and Carol Harding of Eastchester as the guards.

Delieto was the game's big point maker tallying 18 markers as compared with Moccio's 16. Herb Steigler of Harrison led the East representatives with 13 while Tom Walsh of Bellows racked up 11.

Other Panther players who saw action were Harvey Harriott and Red Tallevi. Both scored and many observers considered Harriott's performance one of the most outstanding in the game.

The East held a slim 14-13 lead at the end of one quarter of play and were ahead by three markers at halftime. They controlled the ball in holding that margin throughout the third session but fizzled out in the fourth. About the middle of that session was when the West quintet tied it up and immediately romped five points in front. The Halsey-coached team put on a drive of its own and again knotted it up. It was then that Moccio stole three cross-court passes and dashed in for layups. Before the final bell, DeLieto also tallied from in close.

The game was witnessed by an overflow crowd which looked on as both coaches used all nine players at their disposal.

BOWL-ETTES' RECORD MAY BE BROKEN SOON

There is going to be a feminine invasion of the Rogers Bowling Center alleys in New Rochelle here this weekend that will make an old-fashioned gold rush appear tin-plated.

Crowning the remainder of team competition into a two-day period, the Westchester Woman's Bowling Association will push 62 teams through the grist mill between 6 P.M. tonight and the last pinfall Sunday night. Which means 310 feminine keglers will take turns on the lanes in an effort to roll their clubs into the association's tournament title seat.

Eighteen of these five-woman teams are scheduled to compete tonight with eight units rolling in the first wave. Ten more are booked for 9 P. M. starting times. The other 44 teams open fire Sunday.

Directly in line of fire will be the 2,788-pin total registered last week by the Juke Box Five of Rye, currently leading the team event. A weather eye also will be kept on the tourney high of 2,867 by any team that belters the Juke Box figure. The record was written into the books last year by the Bowl-Ettes of Larchmont.

A side issue will find most of the women seeking strikes and spares in an effort to better two individual totals posted last week. Esther Twomey of White Plains went into an early lead for high single game honors with 210, while Agnes Sawyer of Mount Vernon contributed the best three-game mark with 541 pins.

TOURNAMENT CHAMPION—Robert H. Goffe gained the laurels in the same event in 1939 when the group last played. The Larchmonter trounced Cook in the first round, downed Walsh in the semi-final and then gained the title with a triumph over George Uhe of NYC.

BUSCHEL PAVES WAY FOR WASHINGTON WIN

On the wings of the night's high single and series scores by Helen Buschel, the Washingtons retained their lead in the Larchmont Rec Ladies Bowling last night by taking a 3-0 victory from the Towners. Dischell's marks were 218-581, both of which are close to stopping the season highs.

Peter's Children also won a shut out as did Dom's Four. The Recs dropped two out of three games to the Florists in the other match.

MAS Rec Hoop Championship Won By Unbeaten Ramblers

The Crusaders came within breathing distance of knotting up the Mamaroneck Avenue School Rec Basketball League race last night but faltered in the final minute, permitting the Ramblers to cop the league title with a 20-18 victory. The crucial contest opened a triple header program which wound up the season for the MAS League. The Ramblers ended up with an unblemished record in eight games while the Crusaders closed out their campaign in a triple tie for second place.

The Strawberry Five pounded the Rems into submission 41-15 to end their season on the right foot while the final game turned into the highest scoring fray of the entire season. The Bombers hooped a total of 94 markers in sinking the Rockets, who made 52 points themselves. The win gained a second place tie for the Bombers.

Andy Senatore was a standout for the new league champions, both in the scoring and playmaking departments. Senatore led the Ramblers with nine points while the Crusaders were paced by Ally Glennon's seven.

The middle contest's top scorer was Mike Colletti who racked up 12 markers for the winning Strawberry Five. Shirley Cunningham tallied 10, also credited to the winning team.

In the high scoring finale, Colletti returned as a fill-in for the Bombers and drilled in 32 points. Bill Shaw contributed 30 to the bombers impressive total while the losers featured the 30 point total of Jim Puglisitti.

The leading playmakers last night were Senatore, Cunningham, Nask and Datino.

Walt Ficke and George Yost officiated the games.
