no completely focus to the historic and established way of American life.

"We hope to create an awareness and appreciation of the responsibilities that are deeply imbedded in our freedom."

Mr. Brasted said he believed industry can cooperate with education by furnishing worthwhile classroom materials and speakers.

Final speaker of the evening, in a program arranged by the committee, was Dr. Milton Levine, whose subject was "Improving Education by Means of Recent Psychological Concepts."

An assistant professor of pediatrics at Cornell, Dr. Levine emphasized the importance of good physical and emotional health for pupils and teachers as the basis of a good school system.

He noted the need to treat the child as an individual as well as an important member of the group, during the ego-building years, the necessity for remedial teachers, special teachers, and instruction, and for psychiatrists, psychologists and psychiatric social workers for the assistance and guidance of both pupils and teachers.

The "pyramid of fear" which teachers experience, fearing the authority of the parents, he said, leads to the detriment of a good school system.

Dr. Levine discussed typical problem types among children, the need for emotional understanding on the part of teachers, who, he said, should be trained in physical and mental hygiene.

He also used facilities for mental testing, audio-visual, curricula, adequate pay for school education as an essentially parental duty, and the importance of proper sexual attitudes transmitted from parent to child.

The speakers were introduced by Sumner S. Kittelle, Larchmont club leader, who served as chairman of the evening program. The evening audience of about 300 parents was welcomed by Dr. Edward J. Storey, president of the Teachers Association, Hugh B. Kirkman, member of the Board of Education, and Mrs. Luman G. Hubbard, president of the Parent Teacher Council, who thanked the many individuals and groups who worked for the success of the institute.

The afternoon program featured a demonstration of the modern use of audio-visual education materials, emceed by Carlos de Zetza, Jr., Larchmont high school instructor, assisted by the ninth grade social studies class of Miss Edna Stephens of the Junior High.

Mr. de Zetza supplemented his discussion of the uses of various types of maps with a sound film, "Global Concepts of the Continent," by Wendell Shields of Cornell. In concluding his demonstration, Mr. de Zetza commended the benefits of the classroom use of films by noting that "the dramatic presentation of the subject makes a quicker, more lasting and appealing impression than even the finest textbook, creates a more accurate picture, and is a major source of variety in classroom procedure."

Extremely beneficial effect of this method of learning to the poor reader was also emphasized. Outstanding educational films mentioned were "Travelogue," "The Day Has Come," "The Day After Tomorrow," and "The Day After Tomorrow." The day has come," he concluded, "when all schools must modernize their facilities, must have the facilities for using visual aids, and the habit of using them."

A health forum conducted by Dr. Storey, director of health and physical education for Union Free School District No. 1, featured three films, the first of which, "Human Growth," made by the University of Oregon, stressed the importance of physical education for the child.

"Emotional Health" and "Human Growth" were presented to the Institute audience through the courtesy of Albert Rosenberg, Larchmont, and Mrs. Grace Hill's Text-Film, who presided during the afternoon program.

The modern trend in using films in education, as emphasized by David Ström, sixth annual Community Institute, audio-visual aids were prominent in the exhibit opening yesterday afternoon in the parish house of Trinity Episcopal Church, New Rochelle.

Help Wanted

Wanted: An empty Larchmont alone.

For the first time in more than ten years, the Larchmont committee of the New York State Commission for the Blind is having serious difficulty finding a location for the annual sale of articles which benefits the blind.

Mrs. Harry Bardin and Mrs. Gordon Reifelder, chairman of the local committee, said today that in spite of the help of the Larchmont Lions' Club which supports the work for the blind, no available store has been found for the sale, it is scheduled to open April 4.

The proceeds from the sale go to the blind persons who have made the articles.

Fever Dogs, Fever Rites

Although the total of 481 dogs registered in Larchmont during the fiscal year which ended March 1 is only two fewer than the 1947-1948 count, there were 11 fewer dog bites reported, Larchmont Police Chief Kersner's annual report said.

Fourteen dogs, twice as many as in 1947-1948, were killed by dogs during the year. Last year, a total of 24 pups marked a decrease of six below the 1935 and '36 year and the ratio of males to females shifted, the number of the latter increasing to 174, 11 more than in 1947-1948.

All Steamed Up

If you see a Mamaroneck Town incinerator truck proceeding down the Post Road, the smoke pouring from its hood don't turn in a fire alarm. The "smoke" is probably steam rising from hot incinerator ash being washed with water.

Town Engineer A. J. Foot explained today that a truck seen in this condition on the Post Road, was undamaged and carrying its usual afternoon load of furnace ash to the dump.

Yisar in Japan

FEDERAL JURISTS TOLD OF RED PLAN FOR REVOLUTION

Prosecutor at Trial Reads Briefing Paper About Program

NEW YORK (AP)—A "manual of organization of the Communist Party" was admitted into evidence at the trial of 11 high U. S. communists today despite vociferous defense objections.

Louis F. Budenz of Crestwood, prosecution witness, said today that he had a duplicate of one given him by Jacob Stachel, a defendant.

Defense counsel said the defendants will be called upon to deny that they had seen the document, which should be excluded because the indictment covers a conspiracy which began in 1945 and ended in 1948.

Defense Judge Harold Medina overruled the objections. He said a warning that it defies the court's order to make lengthy statements on such points would be made to the defendants in making objections.

The judge also rebuked a defense lawyer, Richard T. Glavin, for creating a "fog of disquiet" in the courtroom. The attorney had interrupted the prosecutor, who was making an objection.

Glavin said he meant no disrespect. "Then stop it," Medina snapped.

The government unfolded yesterday to the jury a communitarian master plan for general strikes and revolts "according to the rules of military science."

Demanded Loyalty to Stalin. Budenz testified that the party had demanded his loyalty to Premier Stalin as the leader of communist revolution in all countries, including the United States.

The witness said some of the defendants, being tried on charges of conspiracy to advocate overthrow of the U. S. government by force and violence, had taken such a loyalty pledge in Moscow.

CASINO FEATURES 3 LOCAL SKATERS

Three local members of the Rye Figure Skating Club will participate in the club's Ice Carnival at Playland Ice Casino tomorrow and Saturday at 8:15 P. M.

Larchmont Residents To Fill Food Bags For French Town

The first week in May has been the time when Larchmont residents will be called upon to donate 6,000 bags of food to the people of Abbeville, France. Dr. Daniel G. Karvel, chairman of the Lions Club committee in charge, announced yesterday.

The program established between the two communities, the contribution by residents of food and other items in short supply will implement the enlarged plan proposed earlier this month by Dr. Karvel's committee.

Dr. Karvel and firemen will distribute empty bags May 1 which Larchmonters will fill with items needed by the French. One week later, the bags will be picked up and shipped to France.

The donation of the 6,000 bags of food, however, will be only one part of a rapidly expanding program. In accordance with suggestions made by the Lions Club, the town of Larchmont grammar schools will this week turn over soap and rice to the Lions who will arrange for its shipment through American-Aid-to-France.

Each child attending Murray Avenue, Chatham Avenue, St. Augustine's and the Dominican Day Schools will have contributed one cake of soap and a box of rice each when this facet of the program is completed.

Disaster Unit Praised By ARC Director

Mamaroneck was complimented last night on its Red Cross disaster unit in Mount Vernon and Port Chester during and after major fires in January and February, respectively, explaining how the various units would function should a similar tragedy occur in this community.

Everett T. Houghton, disaster chairman for the Mamaroneck Red Cross explained that the new department to be known as "Communication" has been added to the organization under the leadership of Lt. Herman Pauls of the Mamaroneck Village Police Department. A detail will be ordered to the medical unit, Mr. Nathan Schick.

Defendants were the M.H. Fishman Company, Inc. operator of a Mamaroneck store where Mrs. Riley purchased the milk, represented by John J. Dillon; a Mamaroneck store, represented by Bert Steinberg, and Vorce Company, Inc., represented by Thomas Cunniff.

SCHOOL PLANNERS STAY AT FACILITIES

Rye Neck Education Group Plans Three Spring Meetings

The Rye Neck Community Educational Planning Committee advanced another step last night at a meeting of the Rye Neck Education Group.

The preliminary report discussed at a five-point program discussed at a meeting of the Rye Neck Education Group.

The reports on the present facilities and programs in the school will be compared with desirable standards established by other members of the planning committee who have been studying practices recommended by the State Department and other educational agencies.

Several members of the committee operation of libraries and cafeterias have assisted in the preparation of the reports.

Mrs. Herbert Amey, president of the Barry Avenue P.T.A. and Mrs. James Weatherly, co-chairman of the Bellows Community Club, were welcomed as new members of the steering committee. They will provide the liaison between the committee and their organizations.

The next meeting of the Steering Committee will take place April 11 at 8:15 P. M. at Bellows High School.

COMBOS COMMEMORATED BY LARCHMONT BOARD

Retiring Trustee Arthur W. Coombs has been commended by the Larchmont Board of Trustees for "his intellect, integrity and kindly human compassion which has always been an inspiration and guiding light to this board."

It was suggested that the board, in a resolution adopted Monday night, the board praised Trustee Coombs for every his time and efforts unparagonably toward the betterment of the town.

"We extend to him and to his family our very warm and warmest wishes for continued health, happiness and success."

Mr. Coombs was appointed to the Larchmont Zoning Board in 1940 and was elected to the board of Trustees in 1945.

Rankin Bill Is Shelved By One Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—By a one vote margin, the House today shelved the Rankin veterans pension bill.

A roll-call vote of 298 to 297 sent the measure back to the veterans committee for further study.

It is possible for the veterans committee to write a new bill and send it back to the House at a later date.

But Chairman Rankin, told the House the vote to recommend meant his bill, Mary Lammear, 29-297.

"That kills this legislation for this Congress," Rankin said.

Rankin's bill already has been so amended that it bore little resemblance to his original proposal for $90 million pensions at age 66 to all World War I and World War II veterans.

The vote to throw it back to committee was a series of maneuvers on the floor.

Wife Reported Missing From Larchmont Home

Saverio Campicchio, 39 Larchmont Place, Larchmont, told Town of Mamaroneck, police yesterday that his wife, Mary Lammear, 29-297, was being missing from home since the morning of March 20.

Described at five feet six inches tall and weighing 120 pounds, Mrs. Campicchio left the house about 8 A. M. and had her car parked in her husband's garage.

Police sent out a teletype alarm.

Program To Earn European Credits Sanctioned

Kirkpatrick Replaces Budenz As Anti-Red Forum Speaker

Because of his appearance as a star witness in the conspiracy trial of 11 U. S. communist leaders in New York City, Kenneth M. Kirkpatrick will be able to earn credit for his first term in May 1947. Its ending is non-hypothetical and the organization has maintained a vigorous campaign and unprejudiced policy.

Counterattack's sources of information are its own. It has no affiliations with any governmental agency whatsoever. However, the information contained in the files of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other governmental agencies are not available to the public. Counterattack's information is prepared specifically to bring the facts regarding the Communist menace before all the American people.

Counterattack is located at 85 West 42nd Street, New York City. The organization is not subsidized and has no political or religious affiliations.

Members of Mamaroneck Post 90 will attend in a body tomorrow's forum which starts at 8:45 P. M. Commander William Kirkpatrick today issued a large turnout of Legionnaires and their wives, for whom a special section of seats has been reserved. Hearing the Legion delegation will be a 25-page hand-out color card.

Mr. Kirkpatrick, former special agent for the F. B. I. was born June 1910 in Columbus, Ohio. He was graduated from Marietta High School, Marietta, Ind., as an honor student in 1928, attending Earlham College, Richmond, Ind., for two years.

While in college he was a member of the varsity football team and participated in track, was president of the student body and a member of the business management of the college year book and participated in various other campus activities.

From 1933 until 1943 Kirkpatrick held several positions with Mechanical Management Corporation, which capacity he worked in various cities in several states throughout the country.

He was in the United States Army, where he was stationed in Youngstown, Ohio for several months during the Spring and Summer of 1942.

In August 1942 Mr. Kirkpatrick accepted an appointment as special agent in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation which position he held until he resigned in November, 1943.

Since resigning, Mr. Kirkpatrick has been actively engaged in collecting facts regarding the Communist menace in the United States and disseminating them to the American people. These men at the present time are engaged in publishing Counterattack, the news letter of facts to combat Communism.

Assembly OKs Unanimous For Tarrytown Charter

ALBANY—The City of Tarrytown Charter, providing for a new form of government for North Tarrytown, passed the Assembly today by a unanimous vote.

Assemblyman Fred Graber of Tarrytown, sponsor of the bill, said that passage is expected in the Senate.

The measure provides for a charter; and if Governor Dewey signs it, there will be a special election in 42 town villages May 17. Then if the voters of Tarrytown and North Tarrytown approve the measure, the new city officials will be named in the November election.

The new community would have an assessed valuation of approximately $40 million and would occupy roughly eight square miles of territory. It would have a population of 21,000, making it the fifth largest city in Westchester.

More Withdraw From Peace Talk

Group Opposing Meeting Lists Names of 7 Heeded By 'F.P.A.'

NEW YORK (AP)—Withdrawal of seven more prominent persons from the controversial cultural and academic conference for world peace was reported today.

American Intellectual Freedom group opposing the conference listed seven persons they had withdrawn. Their list was headed by Franklin Pierce Adams, newspaper columnist.

Sponsors of the three-day conference, the National Council of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, said, however, that two on the list had sent them no notice of withdrawal. They said the withdrawal of the other five was announced recently by the Chamber and has taken the lead in most of the civic activities sponsored recently by the organization.

Also elected were Peter G. Doerflinger, vice-chairman of the General Division of the Mamaroneck Chamber of Commerce at a meeting of the directors room at the Mamaroneck Playhouse. Mr. Doerflinger was appointed vice president of the Chamber and has taken the lead in most of the civic activities sponsored recently by the organization.

Program To Earn European Credits Sanctioned

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top economic officials have told the United States possesses enough resources, manpower and industrial capacity to undertake such rearmament as rationing and allocation to government controls and without causing any further inflation.

The National Resources Board and other key government agencies reported a general study of all factors, officials disclosed today, that an arms program of that scope would not upset the nation's economy.

"The study found that the United States possesses enough resources, manpower and industrial capacity to undertake such rearmament as rationing and allocation to government controls and without causing any further inflation.

Officials said the cost study now is being revised to take into account increasing price drops in the United States, which are expected to increase the "margin of safety" noted in the earlier conclusion.

Assistant Secretary of State Ernest Green currently is drawing up a foreign military aid program calling for Congress to approve from $1.1 billion to $1.5 billion for the North Atlantic countries for the year starting in July.

About $500 million more would be required for the year starting in July. Electric Railway Company, which has been a major contributor to the country whose security was believed essential to the United States.

THE DAILY TIMES, MAMARONECK, N. Y., THURSDAY, MARCH 24, 1949

PRAYER FOR TODAY—Each day, dear God, inspire me to be loyal to my beloved United States of America and all its laws and freedoms which I hold so dear. May I be privileged to find the secret joy of patriotic service, the special path of purpose which it will be my privilege to tread so that I may travel as You have appointed.

'FAILER'

SENATE Senate Majority Leader Benjamin F. Feinberg, who is not without influence in the Legislature, as his position would indicate, is reported as having altered his views upon the basic method by which the added $40 million in State funds is to be distributed among the public schools of this commonwealth.

Hereafter, that method has been based upon an almost archaic formula which rewards taxpayers of those counties wherein properties are assessed low and penalizes those communities wherein a proper assessment is made, or where for one reason or another land assessments are high. The old formula was apparently adopted upon the fraudulent assumption that if real estate values are high, residents thereof must be wealthy and capable of bearing heavy taxes.

According to an Albany dispatch of The Associated Press, Mr. Feinberg now favors a distribution of the $40 million on a per pupil basis, rather than upon the antiquated formula mentioned, which takes into account the assessed valuation of real estate in a school district.

Instead, now says Mr. Feinberg, the administration is coming around to the viewpoint that the per pupil distribution would be "fairer" to New York City and Westchester and Nassau counties, which have suffered badly during the last quarter-century in this type of State-aid distribution.

We are glad that common sense has at last prevailed in Albany over outworn traditions. For the original reasons for this discrimination have long disappeared.

As Westchester's Senior State Senator Piny Williamson wrote Governor Dewey last month, when the formula was adopted many years ago agriculture was at a low ebb, upstate farm districts were in some cases actually impoverished, and there were no tax funds available locally in those areas for proper administration of public education.

But times have changed greatly. Now rural districts are even more prosperous than urban areas. The average farmer lives far better than does the average city-dweller. He sets a far better table, has a far more comfortable home, and usually has a larger bank balance at the end of the year.

There is another factor, which Senator Williamson mentioned to Governor Dewey. It has to do with the realty assessments upon which the old formula is based. In the metropolitan districts not only is the assessed valuation kept relatively high, but the State Tax Department equalizes such valuations to reach a truly comparable basis. In the rural districts not only does the rate of assessments run extremely low but there has been recent upward revision by the State Tax Department, through lack of personnel, to equalize such assessments and thereby bring them to a level of true value.

Where such equalization has been made, some upstate assessments have been raised tenfold. As a result, heretofore in some of these school districts the State aid has actually been more than 100 per cent of the school expenses.

Now, if Mr. Feinberg holds firm, this discrimination is to end. We shall watch Albany closely to ascertain whether the actions of those in authority are to match their words.

QUESTION: Is there any place where I can take square dancing lessons? This type of dancing seems to have become the vogue and, since I know very little about it, I would like to try to pick up a few of the dances.

ANSWER: Square dancing lessons are held on Saturday afternoons from 2:30 until 5:00 at the County Center, White Plains. These lessons are open to all young people of Westchester and are conducted under the auspices of the Westchester Youth Club Council.

QUESTION: Does the United Nations have its own police force?

ANSWER: The United Nations has a small group of uniformed guards, about 40 in all, who serve at the United Nations headquarters. It is expected that when the matter comes up for consideration at the next meeting of the General Assembly, that somewhere between 800 and 1,000 men will be allowed for such a force. It is also expected that these men will be given small arms and will be used to protect United Nations personnel who are sent into the field on missions, such as in Korea and Palestine.

QUESTION: At the time of my husband's death in Sept. 7, 1947, I received and filed a form with the Social Security Board, and then have had no further word. At the time of his death he worked for the Central Railroad for four years and got a small pension from that source for my son. Previous to this, my husband had paid Social Security taxes while working for other employers. I would like to know if I am entitled to any pension or a refund for money which I had paid into the Social Security fund.

ANSWER: The pension that you received now is based upon the wages earned by your husband from the railroad, and the wages he earned in employment covered by the Social Security Act. In the event of a wage earner's death, benefits are always based upon the combined wage records of railroad employment and employment covered by the Social Security Act. Only when a wage earner dies at the age of twenty-five and is fully insured under both systems, it is possible to receive benefits under the Railroad Retirement Act and the Social Security Act.

QUESTION: I am to be married in the rectory of my parish church. Is it proper for me to wear the traditional wedding gown and veil?

'AH, THERE'S GOOD NEWS TONIGHT!'

Col. Joe Bush Says:

These new autos look awful pretty. But for the sake of the sleep which Westchester's new Medical Examiner needs, this is to advise that they crack up just as easy as the old ones can't too fast round a curve with one arm around a curved bond.

One of our pals who owns a television set and who has always been reliable up to now swears that when he was fired over Westchester County Airport last Sunday he saw a sign on a cloud: 'Coastal Cable Crossing—Do Not Anchor.'

We can't see why no many people think it is a disgrace to die poor. It's just poor that is hard to take.

In County Court it don't make no difference whether a burglar is short. He gets sent away for a long stretch.

Our idea of strength of character is the traveler who sets to Honolulu and don't allow his picture to be taken for the newspaper papers with a string of flowers around his neck. It's got to do what folks think Hawaiian babies are born with 'em.

You don't have to sweat out an affidavit before a notary public any more on income tax returns. But it's still a question of whether you sweat or sweat the most.

Maybe he has something there. A diplomat too full of hamberger meat reasonably be a bit cross.

Meat - eating enviers. Mr. Ehme fears, much too easily regard to his much squab ready for toast.

The man at the next desk says, however, it's only natural that TIN enviers be big to taste and strifons. Aren't they usually playing for big steaks?

The Soviet delegates ought to string along with the vegetarian idea since those babies are so partial to this tea.

To a Moscovite food does and winners might seem faint-ed with western capitalism.

Hot King thinks the no-meat idea won't make the grade, with the Lake Success Jads, since, as he points out, every single diplomat to constantly straining to bring home the bacon.

The Forum A Glance Backward

URGES OPEN HEARING Editor: The Daily Times: The affairs of the Mamaroneck School District are ordinarily not feature news of The New York Times, but apparently they are when the proponents of sex education can score a coup on the rest of the community. Apparently the officials of the school system are not certain that they have the backing of a majority of the citizens in the program of sex education in the schools, and they have now announced that a referendum on the subject was to be taken, and that the officials of themselves justified in their program of sex education by this conduct "note of confidence." Such conduct is "definitely contrary to the concept of "due process" in community affairs.

There are undoubtedly many who agree with the writer that the public schools are not the proper place for sex education since they can teach only the physiology of sex and the ethical and moral problems are necessarily neglected.

Parents have the right to give their children a balanced instruction on the entire subject and to return. But there are many who represent the usurpation of their proper function by school officials with a penchant for witty sayings.

In all fairness to the opponents of the plan, an open hearing should be held with due notice to the entire community.

LOUIS C. SMITH, JR. 30 Barnum Road, Larchmont.

THANKS The Camp Fire Girls Council of Larchmont appreciates very much the fine publicity you gave the organization during its birthday week celebration. We are especially pleased with your editorial of March 11. Inasmuch as we are both headed in the same direction, we are gratified to have the friendliness existing between ourselves and our sister organization, the Girl Scouts, recognized editorially.

Thank you very much for your good co-operation, now and all through the year.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CIEP

When Almo Stone was one of the country's outstanding football coaches, he kept substitutes on the bench constantly alert by suddenly popping questions at them while a game was in progress. One afternoon he turned to a fourth-string sub who had played the role of human tackling dummy in practice all season, but had failed to get into a single game, and demanded: "You, Cartmel... What would you do if we had possession of the ball one minute to play, the score nothing-to-nothing and we only had four yards to go for a touchdown?" "Ole, coach," stammered the substitute, "I'd slide down to the end of the bench so I could see better."

In the hill-billy district of eastern Arkansas, a student of the county school was promoted with due ceremony from the second term to the third. "Wasen's sure 'd made it," he confessed to the teacher. "Fact is I was so plumb nervous last night I could hardly shove."

AJC Speaker Urges D. P. Law Extension

Recommendation for an extension of the "cut-off" date for entrance to this country of displaced persons, to January 1950, was made by Philip Baum, staff member of the Commission on Law and Social Action of the American Jewish Congress, during his discussion of D. P. legislation at the Spring meeting of the New Rochelle Chapter, A. J. C. yesterday in the home of Mrs. Harry Margolin, 223 Rockingstone Avenue, Larchmont.

Mrs. Baum also suggested that ten per cent of the D. P. quota be granted to persons outside D. P. camps, and that the clause restricting those of "pure German" birth be eliminated. She stressed that there is no "pure" race. The camps must be cleared out and taking children from them is most important. Mrs. Baum continued she suggested that the law and fearfulness of the American West trained the D. P. persons, and that also there are many of them who are skilled as dress-makers and watchmaking who would come in the cities.

The act must be rephrased in order to be administered properly. Mrs. Baum stated. Films of conditions in the D. P. camps, and of life here and in Israel for the D. P. person were shown.

A musical program featuring Mrs. Edward Stern, soprano, violinist, and Mrs. Irving Koslowe of Mamaroneck, interpreter of Jewish and Hebrew songs, followed. Mrs. Myron Klempner of Larchmont, accompanied.

Mrs. Stern played a Hebrew Melody (Anonim) and "Nigun" (Rosh) by Mrs. Koslowe followed by "A Diddle" (Lower) by Mrs. Stern. Tea was served with Mrs. William Mushkin of Larchmont in charge of hospitality. Mrs. Edward Handelman is program chairman.

National Budget Is Analyzed At Panel Program By LWV

An analysis of the national budget, including an outline of the budget expenditures and the factors which affect the stability of the economy, were presented yesterday by the League of Women Voters of Larchmont, in a panel discussion entitled "Uncle Sam—The Spender" at the home of Mrs. Spencer West of 14 Echo Lane, Larchmont.

The panel script was written by Mrs. Paul Brissenden, economic welfare chairman of the New York State League, who was a guest at the meeting. Participants were Mrs. Claude Stevas, Mrs. Somerset Waters and Mrs. Charles Jacobson, Jr., with Mrs. Walter Chudson as chairman of the meeting.

The text of the panel attempted to show the picture which is being made of the federal budget in regard to economic stability. Defining economic stability, the speakers pointed out that it is achieved when our economy is in balance, or when the "peaks of inflation and the valleys of depression are ironed out."

The desired supply and demand relationship which is a large part in our free enterprise economy, they stated, means having a high level of employment and good wages, so that all people have money to buy goods; good profits so that there is money for investment and expansion; and a demand so that prices are not too high.

Assuming that inflation and deflation, the panel speakers said that we have inflation when the amount of money being spent is increasing more rapidly than the volume of goods and services, and prices continue to rise. In such a time, they continued, taxation and fiscal policy must be used to deal with the immediate problem. Deflation, the reverse of inflation, is indicated when the amount of goods and services available are increasing more rapidly than the volume of goods and services, and prices continue to fall.

YOUR STATE INCOME TAX Allowable Deductions Listed For Taxes, Insurance, Charities

Fourth in a series. Deductions for Taxes. Some taxes may be deducted in figuring your net income for State income tax purposes; others are not deductible.

Here are some of the allowable deductions for taxes: Automobile registration fees. New York State gasoline tax (four cents a gallon).

Federal taxes on telephone and telegraphic messages, on transportation, on safety deposit boxes, on club dues and on other automobile accessories, airplanes, checkers, guns, candy, cigars, watches, soft drinks, jewelry, fur, radios, phonograph records and other articles which, in the same general category, for the same reason, the State circuit tax is not deductible.

Neither Federal nor State income tax payments are deductible. Gifts, substance taxes and other non-deductible taxes are not deductible because they are imposed upon the manufacturer or distributor and are not levied directly upon the purchaser or consumer.

Foreign interest on government securities, including the same for the year in which the interest is received, is deductible. The Federal estate tax is not deductible.

If the taxpayer elects to itemize his deductions rather than take the 10 per cent allowance for them, he should not overlook the deduction for life insurance premiums. This is one of the more valuable features of the State income tax law.

The taxpayer is allowed to deduct up to $150 for life insurance premiums paid or incurred during the taxable year. Naturally, the deduction may not exceed the amount of premiums actually paid, if less than $150.

Your deduction should represent net premiums—after subtracting any dividends received. And the only premiums which are deductible are those on life insurance or endowment policies upon the life of the taxpayer.

Foreign interest on government securities, including the same for the year in which the interest is received, is deductible. The Federal estate tax is not deductible.

Contributions. Other Deductions. In computing your net income, for State income tax purposes, deductions are allowed for contributions actually made—within certain limits and under certain restrictions—if you do not elect to use the flat 10 per cent allowance for deductions.

The contribution deduction must not exceed 15 per cent of the net income, and a statement must be offered to substantiate each claim. Within this limitation, deductions may be taken for contributions made to a corporation or trust, community chest, fund, or foundation, organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary or educational purposes; or to the United States, or any state or territory, or any political subdivision thereof; or to posts or organizations for war veterans, except membership dues. Amounts contributed to individuals are not deductible.

Assistance is Offered In Making Out Returns. Examiners for the New York State Tax Department have established temporary offices in the County Office Building at White Plains to assist Westchester County taxpayers in making out their income tax returns.

The offices are open 9 A. M. to 4 P. M. on weekdays through Friday, through April 15.

allowed as deductions under any circumstances. In the case of non-resident taxpayers, contributions may be deducted if the losses were incurred in trade or business or in a transaction entered into for profit. Capital losses, however, may be deducted only from capital gains. In this last class would be losses sustained through sale or exchange of "capital assets."

Losses, other than capital losses, arising from fire, shipwreck, theft or other casualties or from theft, may be deducted from gross income.

The law specifies that certain losses are not deductible. These, in general, are personal, family or living expenses, for improvements to property, and expenses incurred in the production of non-taxable income.

The Counselor

MUST MAINTAIN HEAT. Question: We live in a furnished room in converted private house. The advertised rate is with steam heat. The heat we get is only on the morning around 8 o'clock until 9 o'clock, and then about from 7 until 9:30 at night. The rest of the day the heat is turned off, and in this inclement weather it certainly creates an uncomfortable situation. All the while the rule to have the temperature not less than 78 degrees not more than 82 at the most? We are mostly old people and would appreciate a warmer room more than anything else. Is there no redress in this instance?

Answer: No state law applies in this county. Various local ordinances and health regulations exist within the county which establish the sanitary code required of the person responsible for furnishing heat to provide 63 degrees F. between the hours of 6 P. M. and 9 P. M. whenever the outside temperature falls below 50 degrees F. except in occupational and industrial buildings where temperatures are "essential or unavoidable."

Question: My Department of Health says that Section 2040 of the Penal Law states in essence that when a landlord rents a room to a tenant he is required to furnish heat which under the terms of the lease he is supposed to furnish, such as the case of a misdeamant. The law courts have interpreted this law as meaning that if the landlord does not furnish heat in the winter months (7 A. M. to 10 P. M.) he is liable for 63 degrees. There are no seasonal limits on this ruling; that is, if it gets unusually cold in July, the landlord is supposed to maintain temperature of 63 degrees in the rented room or rooms.

Question: A few years ago a friend of mine wrote you that she was applying for her citizenship papers. She asked you could help her. As I understand from your reply that you could help her. Where she could get a list of sample questions and citizenship aids. Now I am applying for my citizenship papers and I was wondering if you would be so kind as to send me these names.

Answer: The Public Library has books with sample questions for citizenship. Upon receipt of 15 cents the American Citizenship Book is mailed to the applicant. The book is written by William Shakerly. 1732-2424 of birth of Franz Joseph Austria, Austrian composer. 1808-1872 of Edward Fitzgerald, English poet. 1847-1918 of great statesman between the United States and France, of peace, anti-war and commerce, by Commodore Matthew C. Perry 1791-1858—United States took formal possession of the "Gulf Islands" purchased from Denmark. 1921 "Knut Rockne, famous football coach of the University of Notre Dame, killed in an airplane crash. 1947—Draft Law created and many war-time controls discontinued.

YOUR ADDRESS PLEASE. Would the lady who wrote to us about the cats signed herself An Ardent Reader who would give her name and address. We have had several answers to her query.

Col. Joe Bush Says: Another one of our peculiar coincidences happened this week down on the Big City. On the very day the "Wanted" poster was shown up for me, it was discovered that the man I was looking for failed to answer previous mail, as he was in the East Indies. He was out-fitted with five vests. After a stormy passage through the South American straits (now named after him) he eventually reached the island of Cuba in the southern Philippines where he was killed in a fight with natives in 1921. Survivors of his expedition continued westward and in 1922, returned to Seattle, Spain, their starting point. Name him.

GUESS THE NAME. 1. Crediter with belief the first man to circumnavigate the earth, his ship was actually built in Portugal, so though part of the expedition under him did manage to a Portuguese noble, he easily saw service at sea. When he fell in favor with King Manuel the Fortunate, he entered the service of King Charles V of Spain. He proposed to the king to find a western route to the most distant in the East Indies. He was outfitted with five vessels. After a stormy passage through the South American straits (now named after him) he eventually reached the island of Cuba in the southern Philippines where he was killed in a fight with natives in 1921. Survivors of his expedition continued westward and in 1922, returned to Seattle, Spain, their starting point. Name him.

2. He attained fame as pianist and composer when he was a young boy. Born Jan. 27, 1756, in Salzburg, Austria, he and his sister, — both small children—played before most of the sovereigns of Europe, and the Archduchess Maria Antonette, afterwards Queen of France, who married her, whereupon she said, "You shall be a great man, and I will marry you." When he was 14 he was commissioned to write an opera, but as he grew older he found that a talented young man would be a far more successful composer than he could be. He died at the age of 35 on Oct. 27, 1791, in Vienna, Austria.

3. He was a famous statesman and diplomat. He was born in 1748 and died in 1829. He was a member of the French Academy and was a member of the French Academy of Sciences. PRAYER FOR TODAY.—Forgive my sins and blot them out, dear Father of all mercies. Inscribe me in Your book of remembrance. Drink me, when I have achieved a life of cleanest heart and purified mind, to that ultimate joy of Your own blessed immortality.

GIVE IN WESTCHESTER. IN ADVANCE of the formal opening of the 1949 campaign for funds by the Westchester County Committee, upon whose justified requests for aid we expect to speak more fully later, it is pertinent to stress that monies which may be collected in New York City are not shared with Westchester.

In other words, it is not fair but to our own self-interest that we comply with the 1949 slogan: "For Westchester."

Of the amount which is to be collected in this County, 60 per cent remains here to finance projects which are exclusively planned to serve Westchester residents. Of the remaining 40 per cent, 20 per cent goes for research, 15 per cent for public education, both on a national scale in which, naturally, Westchester shares the benefit.

Outstanding in the local projects is the establishment of cancer detection clinics, highly important to our County health picture since it is now recognized that cancer detected in its early stages can be cured. In this one item alone is clear evidence of the need that we give to this campaign here in Westchester and not from offices which some of us may have elsewhere.

We mention this point now so that those who expect to give—and generously we hope will be—will be sure that their dollars will do the most good for their own interests. THE WHIP CRACKS AT ALBANY

IT IS not pleasant news to read that Governor Dewey, in order to push through several of his less popular bills, resorted to the legislative device of a "caucus" in Albany.

Ordinarily, when the dominant Republican Party legislators meet for discussion of policy upon bills, no member is bound. This is called a "caucus" and members are free to vote as their consciences and their constituents dictate.

But when a "caucus" is designated, every member remaining within the conference room is, by tradition and unwritten law, bound to vote as a unit. According to the tradition, obviously, is a political mechanism to impose the will of the administration upon the individuals who may be in the minority.

For our part, we don't like the "caucus" system and we are distressed that Governor Dewey, for the first time in 10 years, has had recourse to this gag rule form of legislation.

It doesn't sound to us either in the traditions of the Republican Party—or democratic with a small "d."

A Glance Backward

A DECADE AGO. From The Daily Times. A survey of the benefits or disadvantages of Rye Neck second. The town of Mamaroneck and becoming a part of the proposed City of Rye was ordered by the Village Board of Trustees. Trustee B. J. Santoro requested that Corporation Counsel Anthony Sansone conduct a study. Clerk Frederick H. Buller, Jr., made a detailed study of the situation with reference to the questions such as: "How Rye Neck would resolve police and fire protection, and how it would retain or surrender Harbor Island privileges." It is an interesting study that detailing the conditions of the West Basin would be resumed in April, 1949. The study returns of a base holding valuable equipment had delayed the operation. Larchmont and the Town purchased an incinerator for the village of the railroad tracks and Fifth Avenue near Byron Place. The County Board promptly granted permission for construction.
