AC Co-Champion - Tigers Bow At Yonkers

Bellows Quintet Panthers Bury Tech, 91-32 For New Mark

The all-time scoring record for a Bellows quintet in one game went down the drain last night as Tech's Panthers buried the Tech team 91-32 before the customary packed-house gathering in the Bandbox. The season-end victory—12th in the season and 15th of the year for the East Enders—left some of its glitter when the news came out. Harrison, who had whipped the Hawks and thereby created co-champions for the Southern Westchester circuit in 1950.

While trampling the bewildered Techmen, Bellows' eye-popping passwork around the basket produced another single-game BHS scoring record holder. It was George Fischer, senior center, who dunked in 32 markers, one more than the standard set earlier this campaign by Ed Petric. Petric collected for 27 last night to make his season total reach 253 for 16 games. However, the sophomore forward took a back seat to no one in playmaking or defensive contributions and had the crowd all on his side at the finish.

Not to be neglected was the great backboard handout of Steve Johnson, another last-year man who was the key which aided Bellows in holding control of the ball and scoring at better than two and a half markers a minute.

Johnson clipped out the balling too with 15 points while Dickson, who played for the Hawks last year, scored 11. The M. Vermillion hit the ball on foot in the final quarter, but the Panthers were too busy hitting the crowd to bother hitting anyone.

Edison, champ in the SWIAC for two campaigns previous, had nothing to offer this time and proved to match Tech's play. The coordinated outfit, the locals connected first at the outset and after a 4-4 tie, emerged to score and never ceased. It was just a matter of time before HASKY's frequent substitutions throughout the second half did not box down the BHS. The Blue and Black cards held a 12-point margin at the end of a quarter, added it to 23 by

FADER TIPS 650 IN MCL KEGLING

With Marty Fader whacking the pins for a sensational 650 triple, the Taverners polished off three straight in Mamaroneck Community League bowling at the Harry Avenue MRC last night. The Friendly Servicemen stuck to the pace by sweeping three in another match while the Mamaro Colts and Jets were hard pressed before securing 2-1 triumph.

Fader poured out three of the ten games in the double century bucket, but even with his blazing triple, teammate Chas. Raffelle jumped through for the top three—high of 525. Fader was the runner-up in that category with Russ Mals of the Bolleimers.

Another feature of the evening's alley-aid was the final effort of the Taverners' unit which yielded 1021 pins, a seasonal high for Community Leaguers.

Tables for Bowling scores: Mamaro 21, Mamaro 21, Mamaro 21, Mamaro 21, Mamaro 21, Mamaro 21, Mamaro 21, Mamaro 21, Mamaro 21, Mamaro 21.

RENS '5' RUINED BY GAELS, 50-39

The Gaels discarded their fast-track for an another stand-still, deliberate play at Mamaroneck Avenue School gym last night and it paid off as the Ossining Bengals were tamed 50-39 before a large crowd. The home team drove hard from spots on the court and out of the play on the point to unusual the court as the second half.

Both sides had two men at the ten-point level. Also Mitchell and Gil Allen hit double figures for the winners while Big Lee Morris and Hank Spencer scored the top figures for the Ossining invaders.

Thicker Lard finished off this season with the Gaels before taking one for the college, casing only one point but operating effectively throughout the second half of play.

Beckmen Even Loop Record By Trumping Locals, 54-45

Yonkers acted the role of brute last night on its own court and took out on Mamaroneck's bruised Tigers, 54-45, the sixth win in 12 WIAA bouts for the Beckmen crew. The Hilltoppers, who had beaten the Yonkers last night in the season, then rocketed backward and stayed in the league cellar on 10 defeats over 20 regular season triumphs.

The winners were in front all the way and only had one near scare. That was just after the three-minute, automatic time had sounded when the MHS squad produced a foul shot to make the score 44-41. However, with their goal in sight, the local cagers then lost aim and were sent reeling by a final surge on the part of the victorious aggressors.

A sharp thorn in the side of the Bengals was scrawny Joe Mamaroneck, who was everywhere. Mamaroneck, lipped the Beckmen, he, Jacobs rendered the Tiger backcourt into a floundering, flailing and terrific defensive move and also was in on the scoring.

Table for Basketball scores: Beckmen 54, Yonkers 45. Team Seniors: Beckmen 54, Yonkers 45. Team Juniors: Beckmen 54, Yonkers 45.

Saint Cagers Get Restless, Vinegar Hill 5 Quells Them

Playing some of their best ball while tuning up for two hours due to the opposition's travel difficulties, the Lamonts were defeated 5-0 by the Vinegar Hill cagers in the first round of the St. Augustine's court. The Saints, who were second straight in that particular metropolitan area quietest and their worst looking of the entire campaign.

Despite the huge gap between the teams at the final buzzer, the Vinegar Hill team was actually a tight ball game for three quarters. However, the Saints were at no time their usual crafty selves. They passed up what was the usual sharp playmaking was absent and most of all, the locals couldn't hit with any consistency on pops at the basket.

The Lamonts actually were in front during the first half holding a six-point margin at the shooting.

George Wenz and Artie Gray sparked the Vinegars in scoring with 15 markers apiece while the rest of the team was equally as busy as Mike Woods who rapped in 13.

But, though they were held out of double figures, the little lads on the visiting outfit roared — meaning Joe and Phil Barrows and Jack and Jerry Rooney. Barrows played big parts in the tempo with their steady up front as the Saints were often easily tricked into mistakes. However, Gray was particularly brilliant on his end in shooting.

Latest hurdle placed in the path of George Donahue is Tommy Mack (above), who forces Donahue to miss a shot in tomorrow night's eight-round feature at the County Center in White Plains. The hard-punching Mack holds a knockout victory over Tommy Bazzano.

The Junior Rec basketballers can teach their own counterparts a few things about court to court officials on the court. It just don't pay off to sound off and we can verify that from experience.

Furthermore — being one of those guys who has and never will be known for his patience on the hardwood — well, fifty state that this unhealthily angry man which has surrounded man during contests this season will not to anyone or anything any good including the League itself. Last year the problem was to just get into the game on the court and worry about a good one. This complain the officiating has been almost consistently good. The complaint box has swelled instead of deflated and at least two kinds of the current abuses have no intention of letting themselves in for this kind of verbal abuse in another form. What's more we don't think many persons blame them.

To break it all down, and not in the form of a tear-session or a crusade; the sentimentality has entered and, although they never professed to be of top-notch ability, should be responsible for making the effort. Let's give 'em a break and show the community that this recreation program is appreciated.

Don't Go Away

Wait now, before we finish this subject of basketball officiating, let's discuss briefly the interferences and fouls of the game. I'm a pro cager, collegians, high school and even the fabulous Brotherhood operate this year. I'm a classification the blocking and charging rule has been handled, I see a foul on the court has a flat definition of charging and one for blocking. Donahue In Feature Bout

The attention of all Westchester fans will be focused on Royce Donahue when he meets netic Yankee middleweight referee at the County Center in White Plains tomorrow night.

Donahue, who has won seven of his 17 fights, is the best fighter of the year, Donahue has scored 15 straight wins since turning pro and has won seven via the knockout route. The popular Donahue has fought once since dumping Donahue here and that a decisive triumph over Kid Parnell, who was a two-time champion. Parnell had fought two draws with Tazio Portuogese.

Mack may prove to be the best that Donahue has yet been called on to face. The Springfield, Mass., fighter has won 11 of his 17 bouts and has won seven via the knockout route. The popular Donahue has fought once since dumping Donahue here and that a decisive triumph over Kid Parnell, who was a two-time champion. Parnell had fought two draws with Tazio Portuogese.

WRESTLING FANS TO SLEEP EARLY

By VIOLET SQUIRES

Like Cinderella, Westchester is apparently still a stepchild as far as wrestling goes, as evidenced by Saturday night's flicker at the County Center in White Plains. The highly-touted Antonio Russo, who usually puts his best foot forward here, was disappointed Tuesday night when he was scheduled to wrestle against the Irish Joe Corbett after only 4 minutes and 22 seconds.

Russo, who is appearing tonight at Madison Square Garden, apparently decided not to exert himself in the ring. He was scheduled to wrestle against the Irish Joe Corbett after only 4 minutes and 22 seconds.

2-MORE CHANGES FOR THE CAGERS

The times have just two more changes to be made before the basketball season ends. The first change is to be made tomorrow afternoon in a battle which will undoubtedly settle just which outfit will occupy the WIAA cellar. Both have lost to Yonkers and have managed to lose to each other in their previous encounter. Mamaroneck surprised with a 46-40 triumph.

In 17 tries thus far the Bengals have brought in just two touchdowns as Coach Orlando Cicco believes it's about time for some experiments. The young Bengal member will be looking at the list of sophomores on the team when at least MHS will be represented by a quarter with experience. The list of sophomores probably won't see any variety action at all this term but many of the first string reserves have been riding the bench since the beginning of the season into action while the regulars take their turns on the splintered squad.

100 Westchester Truckmen Vie In NR Snowbird Event

By BILL WEACH
One hundred Westchester scholastic truck and field men from nine county high schools will compete in the first New Rochelle Snowbird Invitational meet at the New Rochelle High School track tomorrow.

Starting at 3:30 P. M., the competitors will vie in seven events and three novice races. Fifty-one of the scholastic scholastic athletes are listed for the four races in the open section of the program, with 16 slated for stock pit and high jump events, and seven teams vying for the gold medal in the four-lap relay race. The remaining 23 are entered in the novice half of the program.

The meet under the direction of Rippenstein mentor Dan O'Brien, will officially wind up the area indoor track season, although it will be held on the outdoor board track.

Shot May Go Indoors
If the ground proves solid, the shot put will also be staged outdoors, whereas a lead- or javelin-throw will be put in use and the competitors will join the high jumpers in the school's gym.

The schools entered besides the host team are Blessed Sacrament, Tona Prep, P. E. Bellows, Mamaroneck, Bronxville, Pelham and Ford Chester.

Closest of the 10-event program rooms in the shot put, the national champion Durham Lawche of Bronxville is favored, but team are Blessed Sacrament, Tom Breunich and Bellows Ed Kayser are all highly rated. The latter three are in the seventh and eighth in the recent national championships.

COMETS ON CAP FOR GAELS' FIVE

Despite the fact that they have been setting the late, the Gaels' week break their string of Friday night court attractions at Mamaroneck Avenue School and have a good snap on tap for this week. The local club's opponent is to be the Greenburgh Comets, a unit that won a 100 percent record on the season and a third place standing in their circuit.

The Gaels have been installed as slight favorites on the court, and also because they have been more active.

The Comets continue themselves to be a team that has been in the time but, despite the comparative slowness of their schedule, promise to make trouble for the Gaels.

The visitors have Al Magriven and Gordon Reid, former Greenburgh High School stars, and are expected to be the chief trouble makers. The locals have scouted the Comets and seem to think that they will breathe easier all the while if those players are kept out of the game. However, the Comets are well-rounded and may be deeper than the Gaels anticipate.

Tomorrow night's battle will present Al Pulliam, the Gaels' guard with the opportunity to appear against his old mates. Pulliam has been seen in 100 percent of the 48 games of the season but in 48 of the tall-hulk career was the property of Greenburgh.

With the departure for school of Tucker Lord, Gil Allen has had to inject another face into the starting array. The main candidates are Pat Murray and Jerry Peller, both of whom are capable of the assignment. Pulliam will team with Horace Ritchell at the guards, with Able Mitchell holding down the bucket slot and Allen with one of the new men up front.

Coach's Season Facts
With less than a month to go, the Gaels have topped 11 and lost seven for a 17-18 record of 70. They have a few Senior Rec games to take care of in March. Horace Brittain has moved up rapidly in the scoring race until he is now only 18 points behind leader Allen. Gil has collected 247 marks while Brittain's guard has carried him to 241. Mitchell sports 202.... In final shooting Murray is still the team's top scorer, with 100 points in 10 games. Little guy is good on 10 of 22 tries for close to 600 on the average. Steve Mitchell, center, has been a foul-potting player, being stamped with 47 while Murray has been detected 48 times.... In the scoring a unit has racked up an average of 124 in 24 starts for an average of 5.16 points per minute. That position has recorded 1941 marks for a pre-recorded mark of 42.

QUINTETS IN P; TOURNAMENT MOVING

Wholesale disappointments at the gate have just about stung the Larchmont Quintets for the last time, and the basketballers, who have played each Sunday afternoon at St. Augustine's gym, may be forced to call a halt to their schedule for a while.

Official announcement came last night that the Saints probably would be inactive this season because of the attendance at the last three games. The Larchmonters, who have been having their share of work on the court, have continued to bring only the classiest quintets in and yet do not get out of the top three places last Sunday there was an all-time low number of fans present and that number even then dipping deep into the pocket, most of the cash customers were higher than the regulars, and some of the court enthusiasts in this area have either given up on amateur basketball or have something more interesting to do.

Anyhow, the outlook is bleak and there is a slight possibility that the Quintets will play the remainder of the season at the Larchmont Rec Center, 830 Park Avenue, where they have been playing on Tuesday night, March 28, 1950. They have listed the regular players as follows: Coach, Chester Duns, Ron Pioneers, 1949-50, and 1950-51, and 1951-52, and 1952-53, and 1953-54, and 1954-55, and 1955-56, and 1956-57, and 1957-58, and PRAYER FOR TODAY—Let me set my sights high, dear God ... I will live and work and do in accordance with my own capacities.

STILL IN POLITICS
THOUGH the details are yet to be clarified, New Yorkers are tending rent control at least until March 1, 1951.

With the report of the State Temporary Rent Commission recommending adoption of a State residential rent control law, Governor Dewey has criticized administration of Federal rent control laws.

And, by implication, he endorsed the recommendations of the Republican members of the State commission as promising "stability, competence and a high degree of integrity in the administration of rent control."

But an examination of the proposed State law raises a very strong suspicion that both the Governor and the Democrats in the Legislature are playing politics with rent control in exactly the same manner that the Democratic administration and Congress have done in Washington.

The Republican proposal, for example, would affect only those residential quarters now subject to Federal or New York City control. There is no provision for re-controlling upstate areas where Federal controls have been dropped.

Also the language of the bill would make it appear that there are two loopholes under which landlords could obtain rent increases after Dec. 1, 1950, or a month after gubernatorial election is safely over. One loophole would allow rent increases where taxes or "other operating costs" bring total costs above rental incomes.

On the other hand, the Democrats are trying to decide whether to support the Republican measure or introduce one of their own. Their tentative draft would put all rental dwellings under control immediately and would make the rent freeze date March 1, 1949, as opposed to the Republican bill's date of March 1, 1950.

However, there's pretty definite assurance that some kind of rent control law will be enacted before the Legislature adjourns next week. Undoubtedly it will be better than nothing and will keep some Westchester tenants, from shooting up to $35 or $40 per month, the level of new uncontrolled apartment rentals in this area.

But there's not much hope that State Administration is going to take rent control out of the political arena in which Washington has kicked it around for so long.

READER'S CORNER

Question: Recently you said that the proffered advertisement of "bureaucracy" was "ROCK-RUH-see." But my Webster's shows the third syllable only as "ree." How about it?
Answer: If you will examine your so-called "Webster's," you will find this notice on the frontispiece: "This dictionary is copyrighted by the original publishers of Webster's Dictionary and their successors." All accepted authorities, except Funk and Wagnall's New Standard, show preference to "ROCK-RUH-see."

Question: How is the name Garand (rifle) pronounced?
Answer: The Army's semi-annual bulletin, adopted in 1938, is erroneously called "GAR-RAND," even in the Army itself. The mispronunciation apparently results from the mistaken idea that "gar-RAND" is the French pronunciation of the name Garand. Not so. The French would say: sa-RAN(n) with the nasal sound and the "r" silent.

WHAT ISSUES?
The Daily Times reports that at the Democratic meetings held Monday evening in the home of William C. Pitts, Jr., that the Republicans appear to be so completely confident of the voters that they refuse to discuss local issues.

"No one knows how they (the Republicans) came to stand on housing, on development of recreational facilities, on promoting industrial development or on strengthening the independence of the village manager system."

GUESS THE NAME
1. A morbid, sensitive, quarrelsome and suffering soul was he. Nevertheless, through all his poverty and stormy experience, he persevered. He was born in Aug. 1836 on the island of Santa Maria, one of the Ionian islands west of Greece. When he was six years old, his parents separated and he remained with his mother. He learned Greek and Latin and excelled in English composition. He also lost the sight of one eye when hit with a piece of rope accidentally in a game. He came to America in 1869. A printer taught him the rudiments of his trade. He went to New Orleans in 1877 to go to work for an American magazine. In Japan he taught school, married a Japanese girl and he wrote constantly. His last work, besides his book "Japan: An Interpretation," he died Sept. 28, 1904 in Japan, and was buried in Tokyo according to Buddhist rites. Who was he?
2. Born in Newburyport, Mass. in 1818, he was apprenticed to a shoemaker there and in Baltimore he started a calenderman. He learned the printing trade, became an expert compositor and also wrote for a newspaper at first acquaintance. He was an enthusiast for liberty, in New York, as a newspaper editor, he became an anti-slavery advocate. He was once sent to jail in Baltimore for his denunciations of the tariff, being prosecuted and fined. He was the author of "The Liberator" and also wrote for a newspaper at first acquaintance. Rickenbacker Says He Found God While Flying On One Wing

By EDIE RICKENBACKER

Edited by NORMAN VINCENT PALE

Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, a Westchester resident, is high on the list of American heroes. A man of inspired and demonstrated faith, he has become in his lifetime almost a legendary figure. He is president of Eastern Airlines, Inc., and one of the country's most vital and active business leaders.

THERE ARE a lot of things about the human mind and soul that we don't know much about. We get glimpses of them when in times of danger or suffering we cross a little way over the line of ordinary thought.

As I roared down the last stretch in an automobile race years ago I felt that I could control that machine with my mind, that I could hold it together with my mind, and that if it finally collapsed I could run it with my mind. It was a feeling of mastery, of supreme confidence. But it was not.

If I had said such a thing then, the boys would have called me crazy. Even now I can't explain it.

I believe that if you think disaster you will get it. Brood about death, and you hasten your demise. Think positively and masterfully, and faith and life become more secure, more fraught with action, richer in achievement and experience.

Perhaps such thoughts as the control of mind over matter and the transmission of thought waves are tied up together, part of something so big we haven't grasped. It's part of us and part of something that is looking after us. It's one of the things that make me believe in personal protection and in life after death. I don't know how to put it into words.

Another strange thing happened to me. Several years ago I was flying to Chicago. It was a Sunday afternoon in the middle of December, and the weather was miserable. We suddenly lost the radio beam. For a long time we cruised back and forth trying to pick it up. Fog was all around us.

Flying Blind on the 'Big Radio'

WE WERE LOST, off the beam, and flying blind. Our two-way radio went out, and I lost all communication with the world. For seven hours we flew—where, we didn't know. No body knew where we were; nobody even knew we were lost.

Darkness was coming on. Then, suddenly, we saw a break in the mark. The pilot brought the ship down to within 100 feet, and we saw lights glancing by on a four-lane highway.

Then we saw a red glow away off to the right, headed for the road. We saw a river gleaming. We saw that river, and out of the dusk of winter sprang a town—Toledo! I saw the Toledo-Edison sign flashing as we swept over the bridge tops. Skimming the roofs, we circled and landed at the airport a moment later. We had just enough gas left for 11 minutes of flight.

We had found blind without a beam, but we were on a beam, just the same. I like to think it was the "Big Radio" that kept us going—the thing that keeps all of us flying safely through the fog and night toward our destination.

The "Big Radio" is a two-way job. You've got to keep tuned with it, and you have to talk back. I believe in prayer. I learned to pray as a kid at my mother's knee.

One day in France, with only one magnet on my Neoposit biplane functioning, I was attacked by three German Albatross planes. I came out of a dive so fast that the terrific pressure collapsed by right-hand upper wing. No matter what I tried I couldn't come out of that whirl of death. I often wish I could think as fast under normal conditions as I did during that drop.

While I fought the controls and tried to get the engine going, I saw all the good and bad things that ever dawned, and most of them were bad. Then I began to pray.

"O, God," I said, "help me get out of this."

As a last desperate act, I threw my weight to the left-hand side over the cockpit and jammed the rudder pedals to the floor. The engine wide open. The thing suddenly sputtered and vibrated violently, and sailed away on her one good wing for France. I held it that way all the way home.

WEATHER DAMAGE FEARED IN COUNTY

Rain and Freezing Temperatures Seen Forerunner to New Ice Formations

Utility crews were ordered to stand by for an emergency as the weather bureau officials forecast continued freezing rain and snow-freezing temperatures for this afternoon and tonight.

Wire maintenance men feared an anniversary repetition of the disastrous "silver freeze" of March 4, 1949 which did $2 million worth of damage in Westchester.

Neither officials of the Westchester Lighting Co., nor the New York Telephone Co., had reports of any wire down. But the temperature was still 29 degrees at the Westchester County Airport.

Trees throughout the county were becoming heavy with ice. Conditions were worse north of White Plains and driving was extremely hazardous.

The "Catastrophe Plan" of the telephone company was taken out for review at a special meeting of key personnel this afternoon. Colby Kalbow, division manager, said the plan provided for calling repair crews from as far west as the Mississippi if necessary.

The Westchester Lighting Co. was alerting engineers to watch for trouble and to call for outside repair help when needed. Crews can be sent from as far south as Washington, D. C. if called.

Temperatures at the county high towered around 30 degrees (Turn to Page 11, please)

McCarthy Calls Ex-Naval Officer An Avowed Red

Scientist Holding Top Secrets Branded Communist

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator McCarthy, R. Wis., told Senators today that he has learned that a former Navy scientist familiar with the country's topmost defense secrets is an admitted Communist. He proposed an investigation.

McCarthy named the man as Joseph Brunner, a former U.S. Navy commander. He accused Brunner of white lying off to a Senate Foreign Relations Committee the names of State Department employees he says have divulged Communist sympathies.

McCarthy has charged the State Department is sympathizing with Reds and hampers Communist activities. He has denied that. The Senate group is a living McCarthyian opportunity to produce what, proof he has.

McCarthy named Haldore Hanson, thirty-seven. (Turn to Page 11, Please)

Tax Exemption Protest Looms

Shore Acres Trustees Plan Move to Oppose New Co-Op Project

Trustees of the Shore Acres Property Owners Association acted Friday night to notify the Mamaroneck Village Board of their unanimous opposition to the proposed tax exemption for the Friendly Village Homes veterans' cooperative housing project at Barry and Mamaroneck Avenues.

Expressing the belief that further increase in tax exempt property adds another burden upon the taxpayers, the board is receding the tax exemption at tonight's meeting.

Raymond Whitney, former village manager of Mamaroneck, is president of the Shore Acres Property Owners' Association. Frederick M. Meigs is vice president and Michael Barclay is secretary-treasurer.

The trustees are Matthew J. Conroy, Joseph M. Currie, Lewis Gilman, Arthur Ernst, Robert E. King and Joseph H. Salmon.

The civic affairs committee for 1950 is made up of Kenneth H. Savage, chairman; F. B. Laublin and Leon J. Padesky. The tax committee includes William C. Pines Jr., includes Jacques G. Allard and James J. Padesky. The finance committee includes L. A. Quintana, chairman; Robert B. Rescher and Joseph H. Salmon.

Other committees are safety, composed of Milton E. Becker, Mrs. M. J. Conroy and Gilbert R. Lawton; neighborhood improvements, made up of Sidney Seney, G. Gardner Prechtel and G. W. Hobson; and membership, with Leonard O. Carson, chairman, assisted by Mervyn H. Connor and J. W. Kirchheimer.

Rotary Joins Fight for Lower RR Rates

The Larchmont Rotary Club will open record Friday as opposing a continuance of the temporary commutation rate increase for the New York State Electric and Railroad Railroad following a table by Herbert Askwith at a meeting in the Larchmont Shore Club.

Mr. Askwith, who said he has waged an almost single-handed battle with the railroad over higher commutation rates, declared that the temporary increase granted the railroad last summer comes up for a hearing April 30 before the P. S. C. in his opinion, the rate increase is unjustified and the rates should be returned to the previous rate structure.

A petition signed for lower rates was signed by Rotary members and presented to Mr. Askwith by the Rotary Club. Copies of the petition will be forwarded to all other clubs in the local area by the Rotary Club, asking for immediate action.

Victory included Mamaroneck's Austin Erwin of Genesee, N. Y., Frank Yanofsky of Mamaroneck, and the Rev. William Fairman of the Broom, Conn. club. Guest was John Burke and Joseph Reed.

SCHOOLS FISCAL FREEDOM ARGUED

By MAUREN MOREKMAN
While practical for small communities, fiscal independence for schools in cities, by giving a blank check to education executives against the city's treasury, would be an ever-present threat to the taxpayers, new industries and the city's credit structure.

This was the opinion stated by Daniel I. Kurshan, director of the Citizens' Budget Commission of New York City, speaking yesterday on the Sunday afternoon Westchester Newspapers Radio Forum which was broadcast at 6 o'clock from Station WFAP and WFAP-PM. The subject was "Should Our Schools have Fiscal Independence?"

"As a community group," Mr. Kurshan said, "it is our duty to see that the school system is not so heavily burdened as to become more important to it than the central government view of the city as a whole. Education is singled out for special treatment in the fact structure, what about health and hospitals? What about police, fire and welfare? Will they get a proportionately balanced share of available funds? If the school budget is made without relation to the city's total requirements, how can we be sure the other services won't be short changed?"

Debt Limit Increase Urged
A spendthrift board of education, elected by popular vote and independent of general city responsibility, could make school financing a political football. H. Crockett, president of the Taxpayers Organization of New York City, said, supporting Mr. Kurshan's viewpoint. The city's financial structure is being endangered because an independent school financing system in a city would allow the real estate taxes to reach dangerous proportions. For his own city, Mr. Crockett said, the debt limit should be increased from 2 to 2 1/2 per cent but such a limit should be set within the general financial structure.

Leroy Thompson, former school superintendent of Tarrytown and now director of educational services for the Wall Street Journal and Barron's magazine, argued that public budget hearings give the taxpayer control of school expenditures. The plan is a fiscal independence such as exists in villages and towns. He stated that when the school funds are part of the city funds money allocated for schools can be diverted to other city needs. When school funds are separate, school administrators are personally responsible for school funds. They respond to public criticism, are kept on their toes, and are free from political pressure.

Proof of Economy Lacking
There is no actual proof that either system is more economical than the other, John B. Chapman, acting principal of the Chateaufort School in Larchmont, said. But there are indications, he said, that in schools having fiscal independence the cost per pupil has not been greater. Under fiscal independence, he said, the school stay closer to the plan and the board of education is able to make long-range plans without interference from other governmental departments. Fiscal independence, Mr. Chapman said, gives the school board authority to close the school and eliminates "back passing."

Miss Frances Marlati of Mount Vernon, member of the Board of Supervisors of Westchester County, is permanent moderator of the forum which is broadcast each Sunday afternoon from 4 to 6 p.m. Next Sunday's topic will be "Can Privately Endowed Colleges Survive Without Federal Aid?"

LEOPOLD AWAITS CABINET MESSAGE

BRUSSELS, (AP)—Belgian politicians met secretly today to consider the critical situation which has arisen in the wake of a referendum showing that 57.69 per cent of Belgium's voters had voted against King Leopold III returned to his throne.

Belgians awaited a statement from their harbinger King, who has been barred from the throne since surrendering his army to the Germans in World War II. Premier Gaston Eyskens met with the cabinet, then prepared to leave for Brussels, Belgium, to confer with Leopold. The monarch said earlier he would abdicate if he did not win 55 per cent of the vote.

Wife Urged To Respect Spouse's Family

By EMILY POOT
A reader tells me: "When my first husband (father of my three grown children) died, his relatives were simply wonderful to me. All these years they've helped me through some bad spots. I've married again and my present husband is kind and good and yet he seems to resent my affection for this first family; also my referring to them as in-laws. He thinks my family alone is in that category. What can I do about this complicated problem?"

I wonder if the reason can be that you talk about this first family more than you realize you do and perhaps with what seems to him to be greater affection than you are feeling for his family. You are perfectly right to continue loving your first husband's family. It would be very cruel if you didn't. However, it would be better to avoid emphasizing your affection for them and to learn to show greater appreciation of the family of your present husband.

Question: We're having a family wedding at home. There will be about 25 guests. In this setting, don't you think it would be rather stiff for the guests to wear hats and gloves? They wouldn't at any other family gathering.

Answer: So far as hats and gloves, hats are not required for any who are wearing indoor dresses. Whether you wear one is a question of becoming especially to the other members of the family. Gloves are not necessary, but are proper for any who find them becoming.

Question: What was so wrong about my having sent printed cards to some of my fiancé's relatives who sent me engagement presents? I thought they were polite, at any rate, and better than my stilted expressions. What was the thing to say thank you promptly?

Answer: I'm sorry to have to tell you that a printed thank-you card with not a word handwritten on it is the extreme of rudeness. Had you added a personal message of thanks, this might have made it quite all right. Even so, a written note, no matter how awkwardly worded, would have shown much greater appreciation.

PROTESTS CANCEL ROBESON PROGRAM

NEW YORK—Hundreds of protests against the scheduled appearance of Paul Robeson in celebration of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt next Sunday caused cancellation of the program yesterday.

Announcement of the left-winger as a guest in a discussion of "The Position of the Negro in American Political Life," as the close of Mrs. Roosevelt's program last Sunday, resulted in an immediate "influx" of telephone protests, according to a spokesman for NBC. When these evolved into "several hundred" the network "immediately postponed."

The objections were reminiscent of the protests which followed the announcement last Sunday that Robeson was to appear at "concerts" in the vicinity of Peekskill and other places which have been visited subsequently because of his political activities.

Robeson is co-chairman of the Progressive Party and was active in that party's campaign for Henry A. Wallace in the last Presidential campaign. He has long been critical of American democratic practices and loud in his praise of Soviet Russia. Last year he was quoted as denouncing the SSS as "my second mother-land."

The first "concert" which was to have been held Aug. 27 was canceled when veterans and others objecting to his political statements staged a patriotic demonstration. The second, held Sept. 4, ended in a melee.

The Westchester Grand Jury is now investigating the circumstances of the two meetings. The panel has heard hundreds of witnesses and viewed many exhibits. Its work is continuing and it is expected will require a month or more to complete.

Sects are Described By Ethical Leader

"The emphasis of the Ethical Society is on deeds, not creeds; on morality, not metaphysics," said J. F. Hornback, leader in his monthly address on American religions at the Westchester Ethical Society last night.

Speaking on "Our Neighbor's Faith: The New Revelations," Mr. Hornback described religious sects which have given new creeds or metaphysical interpretations to the Western religious tradition: Mormonism under Joseph Smith; Christian Science, under Mary Baker Eddy; and Spiritualism, Theosophy and Dalai, under mystics of the East.

Henry B. Herman, New York Society leader who was scheduled to speak last night, will be heard next Monday night in the same series.

RYE NECK SCHEDULES DISTRICT ENUMERATION

A special census of the Rye Neck school district will begin March 20 to secure detailed data for a long-range education and building program. All residents will be given a census form to fill in before 150 volunteer enumerators begin work.

The information is desired from all residents regardless of the number of children in the family. The census will provide data on the number and type of dwellings, the district's error in both population and homes, the arrival rate of new families, the ages of all children, the turnover in families since 1938, the comparative size of new and old families and birth rate data. The census will make the usual Summer census unnecessary this year.

Directed by A. Norman Davis of the Bellows Falls School commercial department, the special census will be taken with the cooperation of Mrs. Ruth Amos, president of the Barry Avenue PTA; Mrs. John H. Dellinger, president of the Daniel Warner PTA, and the Bellows Community Club members, Mrs. John Skelton and Miss Mary Palmer, heads of 50 volunteers from each group.
