Blame For 'Crooked Conduct'

Attributed To Many Sources
By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON—Congressional caucuses are partially responsible for Internal Revenue "crookedness" and for the kind of Casper Morris ship deals which have embarrassed special legal operators.

The blame for Washington's crooked and unethical conduct does not rest solely on the man in the white House.
The remedies enacted by Congress for these conditions constitute an admission of that fact.

Indeed, it now appears that the only charge on which the Chinese-American group may be caught is use of the mails to defraud, and there is no certainty of a conviction.

It does seem ironic, however, that the Senate must ask of President Truman a recommendation for the removal of a man whose record is so unimpressive.

Three Local Exhibitors Receive Awards At International Show

NEW YORK.—Bright-hued blossoms, exotic plants, corners of formal gardens with bits of green lawn, clear pools and the trickle of a tiny stream caused faces to brighten as throngs of Flower Show visitors pressed into Grand Central Palace for the fourth day yesterday. The Summer Club interior offered welcome contrast to the cold wind and chill March rain.

Westchester gardeners again captured honors, with first and second prizes in the "New Amsterdam" arrangement class for tulips and other Spring flowers, going to Mrs. George D. Egan and the Harrison Garden Club and Mrs. David Gordon of the Garden Club of Larchmont, respectively.

Mrs. Estelle's arrangement featured red and white tulips, sprays of purple iris and white lilacs in blue-and-white Delft jars, while Mrs. Gordon used an elegant wooden mortar for her bouquet of red tulips.

Mrs. Straub's "Shap Talk" in the "Shap Talk" class, which specified suggesting a modern New York State industry, Mrs. Robert Straub, president of the Larchmont Garden Club, took second prize for her arrangement of tulips and other flowers, which she displayed in a low rough bowl made from the flag of class, she had placed a dozen or more ranunculus blossoms in shades of pink and red.

Mrs. Milton A. Rescock of the Garden Club of Mamaroneck won honorable mention in the "Shap Talk" class, for her arrangement representing the manufacture of paper.

Against a square of dull green background with a small, dark figure, she placed white gladioli, purple white narcissus and white smayllia with sprigs of pine, using as a container a cylindrical roller from which white paper is printed.

Eighty-one-year-old Mary Houser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Houser of Peekskill, won two blue in the Little Spruce for Little People display for her entries in the "arrangement in a vegetable container" and "Come to the Zoo" classes.

An eye plant was the basis of both Mary's exhibits. For the first arrangement, she used one as a centerpiece for a bouquet of beets and heather; and for the second, an eye plant formed the body of an elephant, which had carrot legs, a parsnip trunk, and bean eyes.

Mary's mother is garden therapy chairman for the Federated Garden Clubs of New York State.

Award to Oshing Garden Club. Mrs. Eugene Potter and Mrs. Harvey W. Culp of the Oshing Garden Club received a special award for their "Daily Bread" exhibit, a corner of great-grandmother's kitchen, such as was used in Colonial days, which the flour, while just brought in by a brown loaf of fresh bread.

Other hints as to grandmother's culinary ability were a box of eggs, the flour barrel, spice boxes, a tin can, a cast-iron stove and iron pans. A hooked rug on the floor and a red-and-white checked tablecloth, geraniums and begonias plants, gave color, and a picture cut on an antique clock mirrored the class manufacturer.

People lined up seven deep to arrange the exhibits in their natural setting on the first floor, where a little stream trickled down a shaded mountain side between jungle plants, and clustered around a display of tea-caddy dolls wearing costumes made of leaves, and shellacked.

Arnold Thurm, watercolorist, sculptor and sculptor, of 33 Colonial Place, is being represented by a watercolor "Past Ten Hours," in the 1952 annual exhibition of Contemporary American Art, sculpture, watercolors and drawings at the Whitney Museum of American Art.

The show included 200 watercolorists selected from more than 2,000 entries from all parts of the United States.

An award winner for "God's Children," a ceramic sculpture, in the recent Westchester Arts and Crafts Guild exhibition, Mr. Thurm exhibited "The Fetish" in the tenth annual show sponsored by the Kishineo group, which is held in New York City.

His one-man show will open at the Creative Galleries, 18 East 57th Street, New York City, on March 31 and will run through April 12.

Faith Lights Path Through Despair, Madame Chiang Says

By MADAME CHIANG KAI-SHEK
I have often been asked what faith means to me. In my own life, faith is primarily the flame that illuminates any great venture.

Recently I saw some photographs of children afflicted with polio, demonstrating the Sister Kenny method. Just as the suffering children continue believing in God and exercise their atrophied muscles when they are prostrate and seemingly hopeless, so individuals and nations must continue to strive, even in their blackest hours.

China's epic defiance of Japanese domination between 1937 and 1945 is a striking instance of the efficacy of faith. When Japan hurled its military machine upon us in 1937, opinion in the outside world gave China little more than a few weeks of possible resistance.

But the unshaken faith of my husband and his loyal co-workers galvanized China to achieve the unbelievable. The miracle of Chinese resistance was prolonged for eight years, four of them unaided and alone, and in the end, it was Japan that failed.

Points out to us that the one irrefutable attitude for men and for nations is the attitude of passivity and fatalism. If we accept defeat as inevitable, we are already lost.

Thus, in the present awful struggle of my country with the evil forces of communism, the Christian attitude is not—as some Christians have mistakenly believed—of submission and expedient compromise. One cannot compromise with evil and remain unscathed.

Reborn China Will Arise
In China today there are countless instances of unpublished Christian martyrdom at the hands of communists.

Christian faith means that we must and can fight for our principles even at the risk of temporary setbacks, perhaps death. There can be no opportunistic bargaining, anytime, anywhere, between right and wrong.

Only this indomitable determination of man to make the supreme sacrifice for the substance of his faith has kept Christian history alive in this world through tortuous zigzags of human misery. And because there are men and women ready to live.

Tough Text
FBI use code in the Manhattan police blotter this morning, one can reasonably conclude that they must give a pass to the Reddish course over there at St. Stephen's High School in White Plains.

Local police, investigating a complaint by Sgt. George Burns of the New Haven Railroad Police at 10 A. M. yesterday, found that one stepwise student had taken an English text from a companion and, as a joke, laid it across a track yard west of the Manamorneck station.

The book gave the first passing train a severe jolt, jarring several of the passengers and forcing the engineer to make an emergency stop.

There was still enough left of the tough text for police to trace the crookster by the name written inside.

Question of the Week Educational Programs On TV Favored In Poll Of Residents

This is the 23rd in a Saturday series of short interviews with residents on issues of the day, local and national. This week's question: "DO YOU FAVOR A RECENT NEW YORK STATE PROPOSAL TO SET ASIDE 1% OF TELEVISION CHANNELS IN NEW YORK STATE FOR EXCLUSIVE EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS?"

Mr. Mary Carpio, 315 Chateaufort Avenue, Larchmont: "Yes, I would. I think such programs could be used to advantage both at home and in the schools."

Mr. R. G. Harris, 314 Livingston Avenue, Manamorneck: "I think it sounds like a good idea. I don't watch television myself as I couldn't say whether it would mean any improvement over what is now being presented."

Mr. Albert Marcus, 200 Rockledge Avenue, Larchmont: "Yes, definitely. So many interesting programs now are mediocre and sub-standard — and yet television is really such a wonderful educational medium. Children could learn so much about music, art and other cultural subjects from quality presentation programs, that I really cannot think of such programs now."

Mr. J. J. Cortese, 212 Melbourne Avenue, Manamorneck: "Yes, I think it would be a very good idea."

Roger Yassen, 3 Gulon Lane, Larchmont: "Yes, I think it would be a good idea."

Joseph B. Evans above, of 49 Fenwood Road, Larchmont, has been appointed to the Regional Advisory Committee for the State of New York and New Jersey. Small Defense Plants Administration, a government agency established to help small business participation in the national mobilization program.

Mr. Evans is vice president of the Textile Chemical Corp. of New York City and has been actively engaged in the paint, dye, and chemical manufacturing industries for the last 18 years. During World War II, he was president and technical director for the Cellulose Corp., a firm which produced pigment dyes for the armed forces in the United States and Canada.

He holds directorships and executive posts with Evans Brothers, Inc. and the David L. Moss Co. He is a member of the Board of Trustees of the State University of New York and secretary and member of the Board of Governors of the Hampshire County Club. Mr. Evans is also a member of numerous business and professional organizations, among which are the American Chemical Society, the Textile Chemical Association of Textile Chemists and Colorists. He is a graduate of Fordham University, with a degree of Bachelor of Science.

The petition, which also seeks permission to charge 2 cents for transfers, free transfers outside of New Rochelle, was presented to H. M. Olmsted, PSC hearing officer, by Frank W. Kelly, attorney for the company.

Deficits Since 1949 Shown
Holla Coyle, cost analyst for the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, parent organization of the bus line, a witness at the hearing, said he supervised compilation of the bus line's financial statements for 1949, 1950, and January, 1952, and stated that deficits in net income were shown for those years.

He said that in 1951, the total operating expense of the bus line was $568,616.23, the total operating expense was $542,486 plus a deficit of $26,130 in operating expenses. Truce Teams Agree on 5,000 Prisons; Dutch Plane Crashes, 44 Killed, 4 Escape

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Forty-four persons perished today in the landing wreckage of a Royal Dutch (KLM) airliner in a Frankfurt suburb. It was West Germany's worst plane disaster since the war.

Four of six persons aboard escaped death, but two were hurt so badly they are not expected to survive. The death toll was announced by U. S. Air Force officials who suspect direct rescue work. They said the plane, a four-engine DC6 inbound from Rome on a flight from Johannesburg, was carrying 38 passengers and a crew of 10. A partial passenger list released in Rome carried the name of an American, John Bickford, but no address.

The crash occurred two miles from Frankfurt's big mainline airport base, where the plane was scheduled to land. Cause of the crash was not determined. The day was gray but not foggy and the plane—named Queen Juliana was making an instrument landing. The ship was one Queen Juliana had intended to use on her flight to Washington, where she is to start a state visit April 2.

Department informants said the shutdown yesterday of a magazine published by the Polish Embassy was intended partly as a warning to other Red governments.

Behind the American attitude appears the basic policy belief that the maintenance of U. S. diplomatic missions behind the Iron Curtain is desirable but not at all price.

Secretary of State Acheson ordered the Polish Embassy to cease publishing its magazine Poland Today, which comes out every two months, and to issue no more press releases the State Department considers improper.

In his rebuke to Ambassador Joseph W. Wisniewski, Mr. Acheson indicated further decisive steps would be taken if the order is not followed.

The American report was a sharp denunciation of this country's hearing on the Katyn massacre, which the Polish magazine called a "farce."

New Crackdowns Slated For Reds State Bureau Threatens 'Iron Curtain' Group Over Propaganda

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department today threatened more crackdowns on Iron Curtain embassies and legations in this country which distribute abusive propaganda against the United States.

Department informants said the shutdown yesterday of a magazine published by the Polish Embassy was intended partly as a warning to other Red governments.

Behind the American attitude appears the basic policy belief that the maintenance of U. S. diplomatic missions behind the Iron Curtain is desirable but not at all price.

Reds Turn Over Maps, Appear to Meet U. N. Demands

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Truce negotiators virtually wrapped up an agreement on parts of entry to the Communist-ruled zone, over detailed maps of five North Korean cities through which they would funnel troops and supplies during an armistice.

An Acheson aide officer said the maps appeared to meet U. N. specifications and looked in general like the following one pattern. A second group of U. N. staff officers told the Communists their "new approach" to the proposed armistice problem meant a "complete amount of adjustments."

The Reds again made it clear they have no intention of abandoning the principle of forced repatriation of all war prisoners.

The U. N. Command submitted maps of its five points of entry yesterday, but the Communists refused to discuss them until they had agreed to accept the proposed point dock areas, airports and other facilities in their ports to be checked by neutral inspectors.

U. N. staff officers made slight modifications in their maps overnight to conform to Communist requirements.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The emergence of Paul G. Hoffman as one of the strong men of the Eisenhower Presidential campaign stirred speculation today about his political future.

Mr. Hoffman apparently has taken over the job of trying to convince business leaders of the country they ought to get behind the drive to make Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower the GOP candidate.

Mr. Hoffman's nominal boss is Walter Williams of Connecticut, Wash. Just named to replace Arthur H. Vandenberg Jr. as chairman of the Citizens for Eisenhower Committee.

Mr. Williams already is reported in trouble in his home state because of his apparent intention to resign on his job as Washington State GOP chairman while campaigning actively for Gen. Eisenhower.

Mr. Hoffman, former Economic Cooperation Administrator, has a personal relationship with Gen. Eisenhower not shared by some of the other supporters.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Western Bureau said today it would say "has new areas in Kentucky, Tennessee and Alabama this afternoon, reaching western parts of Virginia and West Virginia tonight."

Property damage and livestock losses were tentatively estimated at $100 million and will run into millions of dollars.

Cold Adds to Misery

Covering Our Waterfront

Notes of Yachting, Boating and Fishing Activities Along the Mamaroneck and Larchmont Shore

By T. O. POSSELT, JR.

Wrote weekend for boat owners and fishermen!

Almost everybody who likes to work on his craft and all the fishermen were figuring on the first weekend of Spring to get in some action.

Then the skies practically fell down and the boat owners spent two days of unvarnished rest just gnashing their teeth and thinking what they might have been doing while the fishermen, most of whom anyway, wisely stayed ashore.

The few sliders that did go out caught nothing in the way of fish but they did catch themselves plenty of colds. Most who dared to attempt fishing just dropped a line or two and decided to get back ashore pretty quick to dry out their outside and to warm up their insides.

Everybody's hoping for better luck come this weekend because it's getting time for the boats to begin running and for the boatmen to start sprucing up their craft for new season.

FISH

We understand, however, that there are some flounder being caught on the South side of the Sound. Got no definite news of catches, but rumors are around here that some flounder boats have been crossing the Sound and picking up a few of the flat fish. They were party boats out of City Island and New Rochelle, we're located there.

For the hardier folk who like to leave their is, of course, fishing off the South shore of the Sound, that is, the ocean side. Must be a cold matter, though.

Around here, the boat yards which had hoped to rent some dinghies this last weekend to fishermen, are pretty much ready. Most of the boats are in the water, particularly down at Ehrhart's at the foot of Mamaroneck Avenue, where a break from the weather man, they'll be out this weekend.

Silver Anniversary

Frank H. Sparkman, president of Sparkman and Stephens, naval architect and yacht brokers of New York, next month is celebrating his twenty-fifth year as head of the firm.

During the quarter-century Mr. Sparkman has headed up one of the leading concerns of his line, a firm which has sold and chartered thousands of yachts of all sizes and types and has designed all kinds of pleasure craft from the smallest motor launch to the largest motor yachts of the America's Cup, as well as all naval and commercial vessels.

Among the yachts produced by the firm have been the America's Cup defender, Ranger, of which the co-designer was W. Sterling Burgess; the six-meters Gooze and Ylancris; the "Tommy" Yim; the eight-meter Conewago; NYVC 22-footers; Lightnings Class craft; and such internationally known yachts as Dorado, Stormy Weather, Edna, Elitza, Baruna and Bolero.

Mr. Sparkman has a long family history in yachting. His grandfather was active as far back as 1868 in the old Atlantic Yacht Club and owned the 85-foot schooner Myrtle, a well known yacht on New York Bay in those days.

Mr. Sparkman is president of the Yacht Architects and Brokers Association and is a trustee of the Marine Museum of the City of New York, an organization of which he was formerly president.

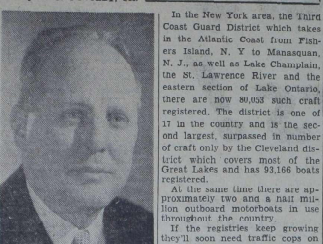

He was chairman of the Coast Guard committee for the enrollment of yachts and participated in the last war and has long been active in international yachting circles.

He is a member of the Larchmont Yacht Club, the New York Yacht Club, the Indian Harbor Yacht Club, and the Racquet and Tennis Club.

Not Too Good

We mean the mooring situation in Mamaroneck Harbor. Not that the moorings aren't good—they're the best on the Sound, just that there aren't enough of them, and that isn't good!

We talked to Village Manager William H. Johnson Monday afternoon and he says there's simply no parking space for more boats in the harbor. People who have had moorings in past years are holding on to 'em as though they were eye teeth," according to Mr. Johnson.

He reports, however, that the boats yard has somewhat made space for slightly more than a score of small boats, how small he didn't say.

Others, however, will have to go outside the sheltering harbor and the moorings are creating up on Hen Island yard by year. We sympathize heartily with those poor folk who can't get a mooring, but we do feel sorry, too, for Mr. Johnson who's not to say "No" to requests for moorings when he'd done on being able to say "Yes." There simply is no room, however.

It's a wonder how many people realize how much the development of Mamaroneck Harbor has contributed to boating recreation. That's a subject for future research!

Traveling

We've a couple of good sales which took place recently and are among the many reported to us this week.

The McMichael Yacht has two interesting ones. First, there's the sale of the Atlantic "Sally" to Hugh Pearson of Beverly, Mass. That craft has quite a history, she used to belong to Bill Betzig and while under his command once sailed in the Canada-Peopel Belle her papers passed to Peter Skackole and from Skackole to Pearson. The interesting part is, I believe, the sales were all consummated by the same yard and Hugh Pearson intends to sail the boat to Canada again.

Goats digress here for a moment. Talking about early launches here, there was a particularly low tide, there was a poor, lousy boat sitting in the East Basin. Couldn't get near enough to see her name and couldn't find out who owned her, but she sure looked almost devilish as she was sitting almost on the mud and her mast wasn't stepped at all.

Directions aside, another racing boat recently sold by McMichael's was the six-meter "Wellington II" designed by R. C. McNeill II of Bridgeport from Bob Herpich and Robert Oost of Newark, N. J. If memory serves us correctly she's one of the largest racing craft sold through a local broker for many a moon.

Statistics

There's a dozen or so figures can talk about this item.

Last week we promised to mention the racing clubs which had the largest number of craft registered. It's even money that few folks guessed it's the George Chas. Numbered among the "small fry" in Long Island Sound racing is the Stupe group lists a total of 3,922 boats in 337 chartered fleets throughout the world. That's a lot of boats and a lot of fleets. William F. Cooney of Pelham Manor is secretary of the Stupe Class Association. That's a long name for a class made up of such small boats.

If you want more statistics, this time use automobiles, we report that there are now 463,018 numbered motorboats, inboard craft of 15 feet or longer, in use on federal waterways and its possessions. Those are Coast Guard figures.

TWO VIEWS of the new 12-foot outboard powered cruiser developed by Douglas Cooper at the McMichael Yacht on Mamaroneck Avenue, Mamaroneck. The lines of the sleek craft are shown above and in the photo at right the roomy cockpit and cabin which sleeps two are situated in detail together with an outboard motor (clamped on to the transom). The craft, designed in full, is a need expressed by many boat lovers who can't afford plus motor, lifting and equipment.

At the same time there are approximately two and a half million outboard motorboats in use throughout the country.

If the registries keep growing they'll soon need traffic cops on the water.

More Sales

Rudolph Schaefer of Larchmont has sold his 24-foot Sea Beaver, "Helen" to N. Y. Ritchie of Darien, Conn. . . Dr. Walter Newman of Scarsdale, through April at the Hotel Statler, Spectator "Sitzmark" (shades of skiing) to Philip Morehouse of Brewster. Mr. Newman turned right around and bought Isabel, an Oyster Yacht, from the yard.

Then there is Dr. Morton Heide of Larchmont who sold the "Elmer Daler" to . . . Robert Peeverly of Old Greenwich. . . and lastly L. N. Van Nest of Mamaroneck who purchased the 110 "Dunk" from Dr. L. E. Schaefer of Bardonia. Dr. Schaefer owned the craft it was sailed on the Finger Lakes out of Hites.

Puzzled Teenster Warned To Forget 'Wandering' Beau
By DOROTHY DIN

Question: Last Summer, when I was eighteen, I spent part of my vacation in Washington, where I met a very nice young man, Douglas. He asked me out quite a few times and I became very fond of him. He offered to drive me home, when it was time for me to return here, and I accepted. Mother and father both thought he was very nice. We wrote each other for a while, and soon I realized I was in love with him, and he told me—by letter and on the telephone—that he loved me, too.

He came to New York to see me, and called a few times—then I didn't hear from him for a month. My mother told me to try to forget him, but I couldn't. I didn't even enjoy going out on weekends. Then when I was back in school, he wrote me and called, saying he was in New York and wanted to see me. So every-thing came back—all the feelings I had for him that I tried to sub- duce. He asked me to marry him, and though I tried to evade the subject, I finally admitted I did. We went back to Washington, and I haven't heard from him since. Should I give up hope completely, or write and ask why I haven't heard from him? He says he's not much of a letter-writer.

Answer: The answer to Douglas's behavior is simple enough to talk on, but the solution to your personal problem is not so easy. Douglas, if he would appear, has a heart that wanders, rather than grows fonder, with absence. His last visit to your city was probably made in the hope that he would find you no longer in love with him, and with his conscience alive, could return to Wash- ington to take up whatever heart interest he has acquired there. This is not a pleasant outlook for you to face, but it would be foolish to fool yourself into believing that he may possibly come back.

After all, Douglas is far more likely to find himself on the way home grounds; in fact, he may even have had one before he met you. While it is interesting to you, undoubtedly genuine while you were around it, wasn't strong enough to outlast separation. It's better to know a man's incon- sideracies before it's too late to do anything about them? You'll have a heartache for quite a while, but hearts at kitchen need much faster than you think. There'll be other boys along, and one, at least, will be fascinating enough to un- til I thought of Douglas from this very subject, because he has been honest had he told you exactly

ALBANY (AP)—Mayor Vincent DuPellitti today had Governor Dewey's approval of New York City's fiscal-relief program one with an implied blast at Council President Rudolph Halley, the Mayor's bitter critic.

GOVERNOR Dewey signed seven bills yesterday implementing a $23,800,000 stop-gap program de- signed to balance the city's new budget without boosting its in- cent transit fare.

The program calls for contin- uation of the City's 3 per cent sales tax, expanded City authority to levy sales tax on "luxury" goods and a series of fiscal "shortcuts" that will give the City millions in extra revenues or savings.
