

Sad Sam Unpacks, Then Hurls In Relief Stint For Indians

By RALPH RODEN
Sad Sam Solak is grinning from ear to ear today. General Manager Hank Greenberg and the rest of the Cleveland Indians family are equally elated.

Zola, who had driven up 14 hits in less than seven innings in four previous outings, had no hitting record in his first game. But, in the second inning with the Indians ahead, 1-0, by virtue of Bob Kennedy's first inning homer, starter Mike Garcia of the Tribe was struck on the right arm, and the line drifted off the bat of Bobby Doerr. Garcia threw Doerr out to end the inning but failed to retire.

LADIES CONCLUDE SEASON KEGLING

The Toddlers drew abreast of Don's Four to finish first in the 1949-50 Larchmont Ladies Bowling League round at the Bowling Center last night. The Bowling Center has eight teams in the lightest finish in recent years. In fact, there were three alternate all-stars in the final standing as the Embassy and Townsies wound up with 63 and 62, respectively, to share third spot and the Mechanics copied three on closing night to deadhead the Mechanics for the sixth position.

Cards Stage Diamond Tilt

Baseball-hungry fans are expected to turn out in droves tomorrow afternoon at Harbor Island Field when the Mamaroneck Cardinals engage the New Rochelle Blue Sox, one of the country's top teams. The Cardinals are expected to share third spot and the Mechanics copied three on closing night to deadhead the Mechanics for the sixth position.

The scores:
Mechanics 21, Don's 40;
Embassy 63, Townsies 62;
Harbor 63, Blue Sox 62.

BABE LOOMS VICTOR IN LADIES GOLF TOUR

Barring a total collapse of her game, Babe Dirlzonk Zaharias seemed as the winner of the $10,000 grand prize as the field of approximately 35 pros and amateurs teed off today at the Municipal Golf Club in Elmford on the final day of the Western Women's Open Golf tournament.

MSL SCHEDULES 3 SUNDAY TILTS

If the clouds had finished their weeping by tomorrow, there'll be plenty of softball activity in Mamaroneck Avenue School field. Three rain-out tilts and one fray that wound up in a tie have kept President Bill Kuritzky and his executive board in a dither for the last few days but now, barring more inclement weather, the schedule should be straightened out by Monday.

Welters Box Next Tuesday

With Peter Donohue of Yonkers forced out of action because of an injury to his right hand, Promoter Joe McKenna has booked welterweight Tommy Barzani of Middletown, Conn., and Marco Brisson of Montreal, Canada for Tuesday's headline eight-round at the County Center in White Plains.

PRAYER FOR TODAY - Blessed be the stillness, dear Father of us all, for I have learned that there is much knowledge and wisdom to be gleaned when all is quiet and I devote a few moments to meditation.

WANT AMID PLENTY?

THE INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION has, in effect, ordered the Public Service Commission to increase commutation rates on the New Haven Railroad in New York State to bring them in line with rates the ICC has permitted for interstate commuters.

The PSC has announced it will fight the increase. It won't make the boost itself and it will object if the ICC tries to do so. Who's boss, anyhow, the PSC or the ICC?

Incidentally, the PSC has already allowed an increase averaging about 12 per cent in commuter fares. The ICC thinks that is not enough, that it should be about 25 per cent.

That, of course, is a technical jurisdictional fight, and for once we see a jurisdictional controversy aimed at benefiting the public.

We are grateful, dear PSC, for such heart-warming evidence of sympathy, dry-eyed though it may be, for the New Haven Railroad commuters.

Even if the real issue is the question of who's the top man, the rightful ruler, we are overwhelmed at the thought of having a governmental agency fighting on our side.

It's too bad we had to start this piece off with a story that makes a villain out of the ICC.

We want so much to have the ICC on our side, and for good reason, too.

The New Haven Railroad administration has been undergoing some systematic changes. A new president, Frederick C. Dumaine, is now firmly seated in the chief executive's chair and he has gotten under way what looks like a new era in railroad.

Mr. Dumaine is a hard-and-fast business man, apparently. A series of articles concluded in this newspaper Saturday gave an insight into how he runs the railroad with an iron hand, how he and no one else is the big boss—and also how he and his friends stand to make a profit, nearly $1 million out of the New Haven through a securities transaction.

The New Haven has been in the courts under reorganization. Mr. Dumaine undoubtedly has been concerned with the railroad's paying proposition.

That securities deal, however, should have exhaustive scrutiny. Mr. Dumaine wants to sell about $2 million in Boston and Providence Railroad debentures to the New Haven. He and his friends bought them in 1945 when he was a New Haven director but was not in control as now. As stated, they are in line for about a million in profit.

Now here's where the ICC comes in—or should come in. Mr. Dumaine's proposed transaction must have the O. K. of that Federal authority before it can go through. There has been objection to it on the New Haven's board of directors and among its stockholders. A battle may break out when hearings start before the ICC.

The ICC's demand for higher commuter fares in New York State, however, indicates it is not thinking at all about the railroad users in connection with this issue.

Maybe the ICC will stop and think up an answer to this question.

If the New Haven Railroad can afford to pay such a handsome profit to one individual and his friends, if the railroad is in such excellent financial shape and has that kind of money lying around, why is it necessary to seek to extract a few more dollars per month from each of its regular commuters, the commuters?

In other words: Is the New Haven a public utility, franchised to perform a public service at the lowest possible rates commensurate with a fair overall, systemwide return?

Or, is it Mr. Dumaine's private pot of gold?

FREE THRUWAY IN WESTCHESTER

PRESENT plans, it is announced by the New York State Thruway, do not provide for any toll charge for use of that section of the proposed new Thruway which will be located in Westchester.

As tentatively recommended, motorists may purchase a special license tag which will permit use of all or part of the Thruway between Buffalo and New York City. Such tags are expected to cost $5 for a passenger car to $25 for the largest truck. Also, it is expected there will be a toll charge for the proposed Nyack-Tarrytown bridge to carry Thruway traffic across the Hudson.

But here in Westchester, it has been semi-officially announced, the Thruway may be used without payment of any tolls whatever.

That is good news. And we hope the Authority sticks to that decision. For it may ease the situation where local criticism has risen in Westchester against the Thruway.

Certainly it will be a good thing for Westchester and its motorists to have available this magnificent thoroughfare free of toll charges for local transit.

That comes as the Buffalo Thruway. Plans for toll collections on the New England Thruway have not yet been made, except that no booths or gates are being considered. Local traffic may get a break on that Thruway, too, if the same principle is applied. And, speaking frankly, why shouldn't it?

Col. Joe Bush Says:

There was pretty bad traffic congestion along the Hudson river yesterday when Buffalo Thruway census-takers stopped motorists to ask where they were going before the jam got untangled. Lots of motorists told the traffic checkers just where THEY could go!

Which reminds us that auto liability insurance has been "blown in" up in the Big City, while they go down here in Westchester. One reason is that New York City is very "claim-conscious."

There's some opposition from Texas about admittance to the 49th State of the Union. Seems Alaska is about twice the size of Texas. So the Longhorns would be the biggest. Still, if we know Texas, the day they run out of things to crow about, that'll be the day Joe Stalin admits he's a bum.

Why do states and cities always want to be the biggest? Yorkers has always been content to admit that it's just next to the largest city in the world.

The principal difference these days between Democrats and Republicans is that the first point with pride and the latter with alarm. It sure makes a difference when you're inside lookin' out—and hopin' to stay on the payroll.

About this time of the year we get sympathetic with folks who strike for shorter hours. The 15-hour men on an average between 4 and 5 is altogether too long.

WEDDING INVITATION

Question: When sending a wedding invitation to a man and woman and their three adult children, is it proper to send the invitation to the entire family? Can you put Mr. and Mrs. John Smith and Family on the envelope, please?

Answer: Separate invitations should be sent to all grown children.

THREE IS A CROWD

Question: I am sixteen years old and go steady with a boy who is seventeen. I like him very much except that he has a very annoying habit. In the three months I have been going with him, he has never gone out alone. He always brings a whole gang of his friends along with him. How can I make him see that I like to go out with him, not with all his friends?

Answer: Be glad, Mary, that he likes to take you places with his friends. It shows that he is proud of you and wants his friends to like you as much as he does.

Another thought should be of all the other young boys you can meet that way. Who knows, if you should ever break up with this one-and-only (and it can happen, you know) you might be glad that you are acquainted with other fellows.

WANTS THEM BACK

Question: My son recently broke up with a girl in whom he was engaged for two years. During that time he gave her many nice presents. How should he return them to him? He doesn't want them back, but as a matter of principle, I think they should be returned. If I go to the police will they make her give them back?

Answer: This is strictly a matter between your son and the girl. If he doesn't want her to return the gifts, that is his business. Stay out of the situation or run the risk of alienating your son.

ENTIRELY PROPER

Question: My sixteen year old daughter insists on wearing around in ridiculously high-heeled shoes. I have tried to make her stop but it only leads to an argument. Perhaps if she sees something about it in your column she will pay attention. Don't you agree that a proper young lady wears high-heeled, open-toed shoes?

Answer: Hold on there. You're not to have a lot of proper young ladies very mad at you. There is nothing improper in high-heeled, open-toed shoes, but let's say there is a place for them, and that place is not in school which your daughter most probably attends. Low heels should be worn by young girls in the day time. Don't deny her the fun of dressing up when she goes out in the evening.

German Mine Toll Up To 71, Still May Rise

OLESENKIRCHEN, Germany. (AP)—The death toll from Saturday's coal mine explosion rose to 71 today, as eight more victims died during the night. Mining authorities said two or three of the remaining 22 injured miners are not expected to live. Investigators blamed the blast in the Dahlhausen mine on an accumulation of gas known as fire damp.

The late Paul Armstrong, a famous playwright a generation ago by virtue of his The Deep Purple and Alias Jimmy Valentine had more trouble with his producers than Bert-Davis encountered forty years later with her studio. When The Deep Purple opened its opening-night audience, George M. Cohan and Amos T. Hall, it's great big you ought to thank George Tolan and the entire cast. "I'm not speaking to them," snapped Armstrong. "Then thank Hugh Ford for his direction," urged Cohan. "I'm not speaking to him either," said Armstrong. Later Cohan was asked why Armstrong hadn't made a curtain speech. "Didn't you know?" grunted Cohan. "He's not speaking to the audience."

Hugh Craigie Is Married In Melrose, Mass.

MRS. BARTON A. PROCTOR, Jr.

At a 4 P. M. candlelight ceremony Saturday in the Unitarian Church, Melrose, Mass., Miss Nancy-Ray Goldthwait, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Goldthwait of Melrose Highlands, Mass., became the bride of Hugh Alexander Craigie of Wakefield, Mass., son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Craigie of 46 Mulberry Road, Woods of Larchmont.

Dean Everett Baker, dean of men, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, officiated before an altar appointed with calla lilies and accessories. The church was decorated with white gladioli, tulips and stock. A reception for 250 followed in the church parlors.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a princess style candlelight satin gown with a beaded yoke, fitted bodice and full cathedral train. Her full length silk illusion veil was arranged from a Juliet cap. She carried a bouquet of Eucharis lilies, white orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Lucy P. Goldthwait was maid of honor for her sister. She wore a melon taffeta ballerina-length gown with a floral headpiece of white marigolds and carried a bouquet of matching flowers.

Bridesmaids, gowned identically to the honor attendant, were the Misses Carol H. and Ruth Goldthwait, sisters of the bride; Miss Anne H. Craigie, sister of the bride; and Miss Elizabeth Goldthwait of Melrose, cousin of the bride.

George W. Craigie, Jr., was best man for his brother. He wore a tuxedo with a white pocket square. Holmes W. Taylor of Philadelphia, Herbert A. Taylor of Cambridge, Mass., Albert R. Shelby of Melrose, Robert O. Blesoff of Boston, and all fraternity brothers of the bridegroom.

Following a wedding trip to Bermuda, the bride and groom will reside at 24 Vinson Street, Melrose.

The bride was graduated from Melrose High School and Endicott Junior College, Mr. Craigie from Westover High School, Westbrook, Maine, and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is a member of Theta Delta Chi fraternity. During the past two years he has done foreign service with the Army's 84th Division in the European Theater.

The bride's niece, Sharon Re Overholt, was flower girl in a gown of pink tulle and net and carried a basket of red and white baby's breath.

Sunday School Teachers Elect Officers Slate

Election of officers was held last night at the annual teachers meeting of the Larchmont Avenue Church Sunday School, presided over by more than 50 teachers, who elected the religious education committee of about 70 children.

The slate included Mrs. Mildred Neumann, director of religious education; E. Robert Wassman, superintendent; Mrs. P. Pass, treasurer; Robert Fallon, secretary; John C. Foran, assistant secretary; Mrs. Foran, pin secretary and Mrs. Erin Kennedy, secretary superintendent.

Newly elected superintendents are E. Watson, and the department: A. Robert MacManis, junior high department; Mrs. Charles E. Marrens, junior department; Mrs. Pollock, primary 2; Audrey Cornwall, kindergarten.

Following the business meeting, Dr. Campbell Yockoff, assistant professor of Religious Education at New York University, spoke on "The Church School's Job," stressing the importance of observing religious education through the eyes of the student.

"It is the teachers' job," he said, "to help the pupil develop a vital fellowship with God, not just constructively to the natural and social world and acquire a sense of inner unity and purpose."

Dr. Yockoff concluded by saying that religious teachers must advocate and work toward a society that will help rather than hinder development of the Christian people.

Mrs. Leon Stowell Entertains 'Hundred Thousand' Leaders

Mrs. Leon C. Stowell, of Larchmont, director of the Fourth Assembly District, entertained group leaders of "The Hundred Thousand," a women's Republican crusade launched through the efforts of Miss Jane Todd, vice chairman of the New York State Republican Committee and Mrs. Charles W. Weis Jr., national committeewoman.

Mrs. Kitchell reported that the newly crusade is "sweeping the state and may far exceed the goal of 100,000 members."

The primary purpose of "The Hundred Thousand," she said, "is to harness the energy of countless women in the state who have not been to political organizations; to rally their active support for state and congressional campaigns and to give them a chance to say 'what they think ought to be done.' The one dollar enrollment contribution will be used to provide a fund for the Women's Division of the Republican Party for educational purposes.

Larchmont group leaders, each responsible for ten workers, are Mrs. Arthur H. Baskin, Mrs. John D. Holly, Mrs. J. M. Van Law, Mrs. Walter C. Burbank, Mrs. Ems. Twyler, Mrs. John A. Wang, Mrs. James Rayen, Mrs. T. J. Morrison Jr., Mrs. Adolph Le Moval and Mrs. Matcotte II, Merritt.

FELT'S HURTING PACES PANTHERS

Ed Felt not only hurts with poise and ability but his mere presence on the mound seems to instill potency into the bats of Bellows basemen. Yesterday the Panthers paid a second visit to Harrison and used the lovely Huskies for a doormat with eight safeties for a 7-1 SWIAC victory. Each pitcher yielded only three runs, but the southern Westchester League leadership to the East Enders' win meant a tie with the Cats for second place and a one-run margin in six starts, a half game off the pace. All three contenders have dropped two games in losses in six starts, a half game off the pace. All three contenders have dropped two games in losses in six starts, a half game off the pace.

Belmont's High Repeats In SWAC Track And Field Championship

Five Records Broken, 3 By BHS; Panther Aces Cop Twice Apiece THAT'S RICH... BY RICH CARPENTER

Pilots' Parley For MSL Slated

Embassy Shades Depots, 3-2 In Extra-Inning LSL Clash

Track brains at Rye and Harrison spent the last two weeks trying to figure out a way to prevent Belmont from retaining the SWAC track and field championship. Yesterday at the Stadium the East Enders made their best juggling of strength look foolish as the crown rode right back to Panthertown on the wings of an all-time record point total of 61 2-5.

Belmont mentor Fred Wurba-cher ordinarily has to manipulate his material to keep on the winning side but yesterday he just gave the boys a free hand and sat back to watch. The results were overwhelmingly in favor of the Blue and Black clad squad which made a joke of the meet by copying six of the 16 individual events and placing second in the relay.

In the completed picture Rye was second with 35 and a fraction points, with Harrison a distant third and Eastchester lost in the dust. Edison Tech and Pleasantville the other SWAC members, did not enter teams.

Records were set for total points when Belmont during the afternoon, which started out with overcast skies and then cleared to clear as the sun broke over the hills. Ed Kaylor, captain of the BHS unit which had a two-against-a dual meet in two full sessions and regains Section One kingship, also shattered several records with his field event, especially the shot put and discus throw. The other star was Ed Harrison's Art Trolie in the broad jump.

CLOWNS TO FEATURE P. C. BASEBALL GAME

PORT CHESTER — Samuel "Pugsy" Sands, ex-Sing Sing State star athlete, will lead the Indianapolis Clowns of the Negro American League against the Port Chester Holy Name Yankees at Corpus Christi Memorial Stadium Saturday night at 8:30.

Sands, a 6-4, 175-pound Philadelphia whose amazing baseball, football and basketball feats surpassed even the late Alabama Phil athletic achievements, was signed by the Clowns' owner and general manager, Sylvester J. Tartarotto, upon his release from Sing Sing last Christmas.

Already hailed as one of the heaviest hitters in the Negro American League, Sands is teamed with such players as Ray Nash, Henry "Speed" Merchant, Verdy Drake, Johnny Britton, Sammy Hairston, Archie Ware and plays the manager, Earl Brown.

The game with the Holy Name Yankees will mark the first appearance in Westchester of the Clowns who are fast gaining a reputation as the Harlem Globe-trotters of baseball.

Sunday the Indianapolis Club will meet the Kansas City Monarchs at Yankee Stadium. The Clowns' roster: Raoul "No-Hit" Lopez, New York Cuban hurler in whom the Giants have shown interest, in their last New York outing at the Polo Grounds May 7.

Chivalry Moves for $ At Haver de Grace

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md. (AP)—Chivalry has had to get out of the new in the outdoor arena de Grace horse racing track. After 47 years the track has closed a private betting ring for women. The betting windows "for ladies only" were opened in 1923. "We figured that the main use was no place for a lady," recalls James Ross, track superintendent. "I guess you can say it was a chivalrous gesture.

However, "it didn't pay its way with just women bettors." So the windows were opened this spring to men, too.

LADIES REGGING ROLL-OFF

JAMES ROSS, track superintendent of the Larchmont Reg Centre for the 1949-50 championship of the Larchmont Ladies Bowling League. The match was a roll-off and was decided in the final game.

The other star was Ed Harrison's Art Trolie in the broad jump.

There were three individuals who carried off two of the handsome titles trophies each. They were Belmont's undetested sprint ace Bob Keegan, Kaylor and Trolie, who added the high jump to his smashing broad jump success.

The other victors were, Les Gittens of Belmont in the quarter-mile dash, Bill Miner of Harrison in the mile, Gene Glancio of Belmont who captured the pole vault and the Rye relay combo. The Garnets took a larded title there since observers claimed they had committed fouls in the battling on the turns. But the judges stuck to the finish which was a more careful check showed they had packed the 56 markers that Rye racked up in 1948. It was indeed a gratifying triumph all around.

Keegan was his best in either spring but his 22.9 clocking in the 200 was his best time of the year. He is now the best in the century and was runner-up in the longer dash. Gittens fought for the lead on the first turn of the quarter, finally took over on the far side of the track and widened the lead as he progressed. This event was run in two trials but Les' 54.2 was more than a full second better than King of Rye recorded in the second heat.

Paul Fairfay, Rye coach sent runner, Tom Moore to the half mile instead of his usual mile grind. It was a two-man relay with Bellos of Ed VanPelt extending the winner despite his painful back muscles. The Garnet was timed in 1:59, a new record and the best Westchester showing at that distance this year.

Burt Clauson and Bobby McDaniel placed behind Giancola in the pole vault. Giancola went to 11 feet 2 inches in an effort to snap the school standard but couldn't quite set over the bar. Walters Horst, winner all season by a weak ankle injury, was struck with his paces without complaint.

Don Anderson in the shot put, Lou Bertone in the high jump and Bobby McDonald in the broad jump garnered seconds for Belmont. Mark Romani was 1951 trophy, symbolic of the Westchester PGA pro-president championship. Hoyt placed third in partnership with Dan Galgano, Woodway.

Although last night's contest was postponed because of wet grounds, the Mamaroneck Softball League got some important announcements off its chest during the last meeting held at the Mamaroneck American Legion clubhouse tomorrow night at 8:30 for the second vital meeting since the opening of the campaign.

It took extra-innings to settle last night's Larchmont Softball League play at Belmont Park and a lightning decision to attempt a long throw to home plate finally broke up the skunk on the ninth frame. Johnny Belletti tripled and an error on the relay peg home gave the Embassy a 2-1 lead and a share of first place with their vanquished foe, Depots.

PRAYER FOR TODAY—Give us the personal courage, dear Lord, to work for those things which represent just values...

A SPLIT IN THE TEAM

PASSAGE of the compromise Foreign Aid Authorization Bill for economic aid to foreign nations, was accomplished last Thursday by a vote of 47 to 27 in the United States Senate...

Such difference of opinion in the Senate, as in laymen's ranks, can well be considered entirely honest. It is not the intention now to debate that point.

There were 23 Republican Senators who voted against the bill as drawn, while nine voted with it. Among these nine were New York's Senator Senator Irving M. Fein, who has shown repeatedly a purposeful distinction to follow the leadership of Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, the Republican spokesman and strategy committee chairman of the Senate.

Mr. Fein is looking upon generally as a close political associate of Governor Thomas E. Dewey. May, in fact, credit Mr. Fein's presence in the Senate to the Governor's insistence at Saratoga Springs four years ago that he be nominated.

That brings us to the point we wish to make: The attitude which the Governor takes at Albany on any split in his (G.O.) legislative team is well known, especially here in Westchester where in the last two years there have been differences between Mr. Dewey and our nine legislators.

But if this is orthodox in Albany, why not in Washington? And if Governor Dewey has influence with Senator Fein, as he is generally credited, why does he not urge Senator Fein to stick with the team in Washington?

Certainly it is difficult to comprehend why any minority can hope to turn itself into a majority without teamwork.

WE ARE led by officials that the merger of the Westchester Lighting Company and the Yorkers Electric Light & Power Company into the parent Consolidated Edison Company will make little or no difference as to continued friendly service and intimate contacts between management and customers.

As a matter of fact, the utilities say there may be economies effected. If this happens, naturally there will be gratification on the part of consumers.

Nevertheless, it is a matter of regret that even the titles will disappear and the two will become, we assume, the Westchester Division of Consolidated Edison. Regretful, we repeat, because Westchester is somewhat unique in this respect.

We like to feel that our utilities are in our name, at least, and although it is true that for many years the two local corporations have been unified with Consolidated Edison, yet there is found to be a nostalgic sadness in the dropping by these two public servants of their own names.

Westchester is a very county-conscious community. We are distinctly averse to any suggestion that we are a mere appendage of the metropolis.

Therefore, we hope earnestly that as few changes as possible accompany this corporate, legalistic maneuver. For, we repeat, there is bound to be a touch of sadness in the passing of those we have known and admired for a half-century and more, even if they remain with us under different nomenclature.

ONE-WAY PRECEDENTS IT MAY be recalled that at the recent $100-a-plate Democratic dinner in Washington, the party was exempted from any tax liability on the $420,000 proceeds of the cabaret entertainment.

That saved for the coming campaign 20 per cent. And by the same token that amount was lost to the public treasury.

Out at Chicago more recently, merchants were solicited to "contribute" $250,000 for the expenses of the "non-political" appearance of President Truman and members of his Cabinet. Those who contributed were informed that the amounts could be deducted from their income taxes either as legitimate business expenses or as gifts to a civic cause.

We may be old-fashioned and unnecessarily critical, but we can't help wondering why it is these favorable rulings from the Treasury Department always seem to run in one direction.

BRIDE PAYS Question: I would like to know who pays for the bridesmaids flowers at a wedding. Is it the groom or does each usher pay for the girl he is with? T. K. Answer: The bride pays for the flowers for her attendants.

HOTEL REGISTER Question: With reference to your answer about giving names for hotel registers, I believe you will find it very check further that your answer was wrong. As a traveling salesman, I have been asked for a room when checking in at hotels. E. J. V. Answer: We find that giving the street address depends upon the hotel. Thanks for calling this to our attention.

SECOND WEDDING Question: Would you please advise me about the proper way to word a wedding invitation? My daughter is divorcing and has a son. She is marrying a divorced man and wants to have her parents' names on the invitation. (Don't know if I have advised her to have a quiet wedding.) Mrs. J. L. Answer: You are right. Every-tbody should be kept simple as possible. Printed invitations should not be sent. Your daughter should send handwritten notes to members of both families and a few intimates, inviting them to attend the wedding. She should not have a large reception. If you do, she should invite to the wedding to go to your house for simple refreshments after the ceremony.

CURRENCY Question: When did the present six dollar bill replace the larger bill? Curious Answer: The change was made in 1929.

FOUR FREEDOMS Question: What were the four freedoms as outlined by President Roosevelt? Mrs. B. Answer: They were freedom of speech, freedom of worship, freedom from want, and freedom from fear.

After all that talk for weeks and weeks, nothing's much happened in the west end in Berlin except a lot of kids marching round. And youngsters are rather parade even in the rain than go to school so that don't mean much. Now, when's the next message?

If it takes rain to make pants, we could sure put on a lot of 'em here in Westchester. Anybody who works to cut the grass has got to hilen a mower. He handles his mowin' machine. We don't know how full the reservoirs are, but our backyard is runnin' over.

And out in New Mexico they're prayin' for rain! That's sound like our situation, when we've got it here to spare. Just goes to show we are a wistful people, don't you? Such things wouldn't happen in a republican administration, would they?

Even Limited Rental Control May Not Get Through House

BY RAY TUCKER WASHINGTON, Legislation calculating real controls has now become the most controversial issue before Congress, with no assurance that it will pass because of Southern Democrats' desire to punish Northern colleagues for their attempt to force enactment of a permanent FEPC bill on Davis committee.

The Senate measure, which has been reported favorably by the House Banking and Currency Committee but still faces a floor fight, is the key issue. It does not meet white House demands for semi-permanent controls. It retains rent ceilings until June, 1951, for cities and states which ask for them, but it lets them die next December 31 for the rest of the country. In any event they cannot be continued beyond June 30, 1951.

Even this limited extension may not get through the House if the Southern Democrats and Republicans line up against it, as they did against a compulsory FEPC. It will face even more difficulties in the Senate Banking and Currency Committee and on the Senate floor.

As from their willingness to torment and rebuff the White House again, many members on the House side are convinced, believe that the restrictions are needed in view of record on streets of homes in 1949-1950 and the government's own building projects.

EASIER — Ironically, Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York has made it easier for foes of rent control extension, albeit indirectly. Ordinarily, the great majority of legislation to keep rents down stems from the most influential New York delegation in the House. Even Republicans from crowded cities are a result of Mr. Dewey's former support.

But New York has its own law as a result of Mr. Dewey's former support. He obtained passage for protection of renters against the day when the federal government would cut this field. Therefore, the New Yorkers are somewhat different in the current controversy.

The Democrats the Southern Democrats are in the present opposition are Senate Majority Leader Scott Lucas of Illinois and Senator Francis P. Matthews of Pennsylvania, a Democratic whip. Their pro-FEPC activities return to their true nature.

BATTLES—Both Senators Lucas and Movers face hard battles for reelection next November. Both represent states in which there are many large cities that demand rent control. Both led the White House struggle to obtain extension for consideration of the FEPC proposal.

Although the Illinois and Pennsylvania are well liked by their colleagues, the Southern Democrats feel that they should rise above friendship in this matter. It is doubtful if they want to nurse the two Senators' defeat, but they would like to throw a good scare into them.

HARASSED—Even enactment of the Senate program may not help Movers and Movers. It will require either a majority referendum or legislative action by a city or state to prolong rent controls after December 31 under the Kentucky plan.

It is possible that the Springfield and Hartford Legislatures may not vote for extension. If they don't, many large cities may fall back on state legislation to take this safeguard for renters.

As a result, these two prominent Democrats may lose time because their loyalty to Mr. Truman in the civil rights scrap led them to protect the bread-and-butter interests of their constituents. Anyway, they are two of

Anne Zagaroli Becomes Bride Of Ray Giorgio

The wedding of Miss Anne Zagaroli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Zagaroli of 716 Allis Street, Mamaroneck, to Ray Giorgio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Giorgio of the same address, took place yesterday afternoon at St. Vito's Church.

The four - thirty o'clock ceremony was performed by Rev. Eladio Del Negro followed by a reception for 200 at Lawrence Inn. "Love You Truly" was among the selections sung at the wedding by Miss Diane Stamegna of Mamaroneck.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Regina styled gown of white satin and lace with mandarin collar and lace insets in the train. Her finger-ropes of French illusion fell from a tulle of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white carnations, roses and lilacs-of-the-valley.

Miss Olga D'Andrea was maid-of-honor, wearing an orchid gown of mauve-ette with matching picture hat and mitts. She carried a cascade of yellow lily-of-the-valley.

The bridesmaid, Miss Alice Zagaroli and Antoinette Biondi, the bride's cousins and Louise Giorgio, cousin of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids in silk gowns of color similar to that of the maid of honor. They carried cascades of tall-tapered roses.

THE BIG ISSUE
 TRYGVE LIE, Secretary-General of the United Nations, returning from Moscow and other European capitals, is forthright in his assertion that the Chinese Communist government must be accepted in U. N. as the representative of China.

His attitude is apparently based on his belief that only through acceptance of Communist China can Russia be prevailed upon to refrain from further boycotts of U. N. sessions.

However, President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson appear equally determined to oppose the compromise which Mr. Lie seeks. And undoubtedly, there was a poll taken of the nation tomorrow a large majority of Americans would support Truman and Acheson and oppose Mr. Lie.

The issue then resolves itself into whether Messrs. Truman and Acheson can reach some agreement with Mr. Lie which, in the latter's opinion, will preserve the United Nations in its present form and restore Russian participation.

That is the point on which Americans and all others, in fact, who strive for peace should keep their eyes during the next few months. It may be of tremendous influence upon all our lives.

TWO MEMBERS PER BILLION
 OCASIONAL reading of the Congressional Record is illuminating.

Upon a recent date when the House of Representatives was considering passage of the $20 billion appropriation measure, Congressman Ralph Gamble of Larchmont rose to a point of order to determine if a quorum was present. House rules provide there must be 100 of the 435 members present.

At the time there were exactly 55 members on the floor of the House.

That works out at the rate of two members for each billion dollars under discussion. By messenger service enough members were rallied to bring the total to 110, and business then proceeded.

Now, let's see, just what was it, Mr. Truman said about the preceding Republican-controlled Congress?

THANK YOU
 Editor, The Daily Times:
 The Mamaroneck Community Center frequently has cause for gratitude for your great help for our work — both in news coverage and editorial support. May we thank you once again?

You were of invaluable assistance to us and to Mamaroneck's less fortunate youngsters by publishing our appeal for our camp fund. Your efforts brought a happy solution to our problem.

We are also very appreciative of your generosity in giving so much column space to the story of our organization. We have heard many expressions of praise for you lately.

AN APPEAL FOR HELP
 Editor, The Daily Times:
 We have just received this cable from John C. Almonrouse, our representative in Greece: "Just Returned From A Tour Among Indigent Families. Condition Unbearable. Children Almost Starved. Sleep With Scanty Thin Bed Covers On Damp Earthen Floors. First Stages of Active Ty. Would to Meet Humanitarian Societies Working Day And Night. Unable to Include Them All. I appeal To You For Urgent Shipments of Food And Clothing."

According to Mr. Almonrouse, Greece has never been in such bad condition since the war of independence of 1821. He appeals to us for help especially for children of Greece who are the innocent victims of a war and a foreign aggression which is entirely beyond their understanding.

MOTHER IN STRAIT
 Question: What do you think of a woman who insists upon treating her nineteen-year-old daughter like Cinderella? Every weekend the girl must be home by midnight. If she stays a few moments late, her mother beats her. She has to get up at 5 o'clock every morning. It's getting to a point where the girl is becoming a nervous wreck. Does she have a nineteen-year-old young lady should be allowed to stay out later or than midnight?
 Interested

Answer: Are we wrong in assuming that you are the daughter? And again, are we wrong in assuming that perhaps things are not as bad as you imagine?

We do believe that a nineteen-year-old girl should be allowed to stay out later than midnight for special occasions. However, midnight is not a very late hour for a girl of her age. Do not forget that you still need a lot of rest even though you may be almost twenty. And the rest you don't get while you are anxious, will catch up with you in later years.

Explain to your mother that you will be home by midnight on nights if she will let you stay out later for special events. Talk to her calmly. Don't create a scene. If you are really in tears, act mature and perhaps she will come to realize that you are no longer an infant.

A Glance Backward

A DECADE AGO
 (From The Daily Times)
 The United States should abandon its policy of neutrality in the European war, Capt. Miles C. Bennett declared at Memorial Day services in Larchmont. In Mamaroneck, Dr. Samuel E. Burr, principal speaker at the Harbor Island excursions, made a plea for unity between the two major political parties in the United States insofar as a program of preparation for the emergency.

The Village of Mamaroneck contributed $200 of its $1,000 quota toward the Red Cross Emergency Fund. A house to house canvass was planned to raise the remaining $700. Larchmont Yacht Club planned its 60th opening, with attendant ceremonies and an opening ball. Nine local students, among them Herbert F. Leighton, Orlando Crisco, Michael Aletta, John F. Schroeder and Louis LaPointe were to receive degrees at the graduation exercises of New York University. Mamaroneck High School put on a display of fireworks in the field of the Bellows nine by 11-7. The Tigers celebrated their first football win by 11-7. The football team to win the game. Home relief in Westchester dropped the Yankees according to figures released by the Welfare Department. The case load was lower and average cost per case fell from $4.65 to $3.95 for the month. Mamaroneck American Legion, 701 N. 9th, was preparing a move, "Movie Faces" public presentation. Local features were featured in the film, and just 25 years ago Mary Imley Taylor, well known writer who lived in Mamaroneck, had a Memorial Day story published in the columns of the Youth's Companion.

London corset maker Alexander Watson is on the outs with Paris dress designer Christian Dior for what Dior calls the "vertical line." The corset maker wastes curves to stay.

Dior wants to get women straightened out.

But you can't blame Watson for plumping for curves. They are the foundation his business.

At any rate, he doesn't want them all to go to waist.

straight or bent, women will still be creatures of mystery. There's too much authority in a vertical line than there is in a whalebone line.

The way things shape up, it'll still be the woman who pants. She'll either have her ups and downs or her ins and outs.

Cheerio, and hip, hip!

Try and Stop Me
 By BENNETT CREEP

Whitney Davis, 32, the famous cartoonist, met his bride in the editorial sanctum of a magazine. She was running an entertainment department when Young Darrow spied her and demanded of some underling (the best possible), "What's the name of that attractive girl?" "Mildred," was the answer. "How's that?" said Whitney. "Mildred" repeated his informant "as in blouse" so for three weeks Whitney wooed her in the belief that her name was Mildred Ambrosine.

A leading magazine sent a trustee operative to visit the dedication ceremonies of a new amusement center in Miami Beach this winter. There was all the hoopla once reserved for successful Channel swimmers. A couple of thousand good-natured kibitzers even consented to learn a special song for the occasion. It was called in Miami Beach the Sun is Shining. Unfortunately, the rendition of this song was delayed by a slight technicality—A territorial Algonquian Native was invited to sing the song, but he had something to do with it.
