Acute Coal Shortage Hits County
Local Dealers Report Only Few Days' Supply Left In Yards
SITUATION 'VERY BAD'

A survey of local coal dealers yesterday afternoon revealed a serious shortage of coal in Laramie and Mamaroneck in company with every other community in Westchester County.

A few days' supply at the most is expected throughout Westchester County as a result of the coal shortage which has been reported in the past few days by the Retail Coal Merchants Association of Westchester County when members voted to ask the Board of the county's municipal government to issue an appeal to the State Fuel Administrator Harold J. Miller.

The E. J. Connor Company said yesterday there was enough coal left to last about a day and a half, that the supply had been coming in "in dribs and drabs" and the situation is "very bad."

The same report came from Goodwin Brothers, who said "hardly any coal at all" on hand with very little prospect of getting more. The retail difficulty was becoming grave.

The G. Brewer Company declined to make a public statement.

The only dealer with an encouraging report was the Chateaufort and Oil Company in Larchmont, where it was stated that a supply of coal was on hand in quantities of 500 tons of West Virginia soft coal. The company expects to obtain a further supply of soft coal throughout the season and is supplying apartment houses at the regular rate. A spokesman at the office stated that the company has two large trucks of coal in its garage and no one to drive the two men were serving on shift yesterday.

Unless there is immediate government action to relieve the situation, the dealer expects a resultant transportation difficulty to be a serious problem.

Westchester faces a serious shortage within a week. Only small quantities of fuel now in transit from the mines, it is reported.

In an effort to alleviate the situation the dealers decided to petition the State Fuel Administrator in conservation and to make use of subsidies wherever possible until the shortage begins to cooperate in the present deliveries will be made only in containers in which the amount of stretching the limited supply on hand, and customers are asked not to use more than one barrel.

The dealers also pointed out that all production and distribution of fuel in Westchester is under government control and there is no prospect of increased supplies until production is under government control and normal. W. D. Dockert of the New York office of the State Fuel Administration, in charge of the Westchester area.

Future Navy Officers
Robert M. Parker, A. S. son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Parker of 24 Pinebrook Road, and Henry B. Stahl, A. S. son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Stahl of Chateaufort Avenue, have joined 300 cadets at Midbury College where they are training a commission in the U. S. Navy under the V-12 program.

Both trainees are graduates of Mamaroneck High, where Parker won a school letter on the tennis team.

Lions Hear War Vets
Two service men returned on active duty in the Mediterranean area described their experiences yesterday before the Mamaroneck Lions' Club at the regular meeting of the organization at the Eliza B. Smith home.

Matthew Solomon was with the United States Navy at the battle of Salerno at the same time Sgt. Charles Delaney was there but the two men were serving on different ships.

Pfc. Delaney described a ship high on the beach at Salerno, and responding with the story told two weeks ago to the Lions by Capt. Frank Battisone, who was wounded in the battle above there when an ammunition vessel received a direct hit.

Other visitors at the meeting were Mayor Santoro, Mayor of El Dorado, and Frederick Kline of the New Rochelle Lions Club, a guest of President James Hewson.

Public Inited
A program originally planned for a group of air raid wardens has been considered of such widespread interest that the general public has been invited to attend, according to an announcement made from the Chateaufort Gardens Apartments where the program will be held Friday night.

James W. Brown of New York, a member of the staff of the International Y.M.C.A., will speak on his war experience in eastern Europe. He recently received the highest decoration of the Polish Government in appreciation for his work with Polish refugees in Romania. Named assistant director by the State Department, he will soon return to Europe to continue his work there.

The meeting is scheduled to start at 8 P. M. in B lobby of the apartment house. Mr. Brown will be introduced by James Hewson.

Honor Roll Enlarged
Two more are being added to the Village Honor Roll on laws of the Municipal Building to contain the names of service men and women who have left to enter the armed forces since the original list was filed.

The repair work being done at Village headquarters also includes a storm entry at the entrance to the police station to prevent the men at the desk from being blown through the open door.

Lost Jewelry Found
The box of jewelry reported missing from the home of George G. Bennett on Shore Acres Drive Saturday has been recovered in the house, according to a report from the police this morning.

Furlough Over, Soldier Leaves Grieving 'Pal'
ALBANY, (AP)—Pal, 17-year-old aristocrat, was sent to his death last night.

The dog and his master, Sgt. Fred Franklin, were separated last night when the soldier returned for Camp Crocker, Me., to end a special furlough granted so that he might cheer the dying soldier's last hours.

Pal has been grieving since his friend's induction into the army and a veterinary had said there is no hope for the dog.

C.P.T. Quiet Raps Clippers, Goes Into Second Place Tie

The standings at the top of the Larchmont Community League suffered a thorough going over last night as the C. P. T. outfit, led by Alpar, plastered a 3-0 shutout on the second-place Clippers, and the cellar-dwelling July Five rose up and smote the Rinkies by 3-1. When the smoke had cleared away the Clippers, who had a chance to take over the league lead, found themselves down in fourth place and the Rinkies, who had been third, discovered that they were tied with the C. P. T. for second. The real winners in last night's matches didn't even play, for the Centers, in first place, found that a full game had been added to their lead by the activities of the C. P. T. and July Five. It was really an underdog's night as the C. P. T. aggregation took on the Clippers. The Clippers had been in first place up to Wednesday night when the Centers drove the Bees and took over the spot. When the C. P. T. team, riding on Alpar's 3-2 triple and Knief's 2-1 single, took three games, the erstwhile leaders found themselves down in fourth. The first and last of the two games were close as the initial encounter went by 17 runs and the final one by 32. But the middle game was a massacre with the C. P. T. winning by 188 margins.

Bellows Basketball Team Schedules Eighteen Games

A tough eighteen-game schedule has been arranged for the Bellows High School basketball team, according to an announcement made yesterday by Jack Halsey, the Blue and Black coat mentor. The last four contracts on the card were just recently signed and the Panthers have already begun practice for their first game on December 19 against Salestia High School.

Twelve of the 18 games are S. W. I. A. C. league contests. The seven teams in the top play a home and home schedule and the Panthers will naturally meet each of the other squads twice.

The only teams on the schedule who are not in the southern Westchester circuit are Maranoeck, Port Chester and Salestia. These, too, will be met in a home and home series.

About 40 students are now competing for places on the Panther varsity squad. Halsey, who will lead the team for all 40, is planning to cut the squad today. It will be a difficult task to make his cut for some of the candidates has been particularly impressive in the three workouts held thus far. These workouts have consisted mainly of light scrimmages, together with drills on fundamentals.

The squad as at present constituted has several experienced lettermen. But it looks from here as though it will take a tip of a job to determine the best Panther combination. It will not be surprising to find some of last year's V. V. squad in the opening lineup against Salestia on December 19. Last year's second team, which last only once, is not to be discounted. Bob Joyce, Walt Reicher, Ray Cobb and Chandler Pratt,

William "Billy" Andrews, whom they are calling the "all American water boy," is shown above with Barney West 4 feet and 10 inches. Billy provided the thrilling climax to the game between the Texas Longhorns and Texas Christian University Saturday when he went into the game to score with two perfect drop kicks after touchdowns. The Longhorns lifted TCU 48 to 7. Billy is four feet eleven inches.

At a later meeting it was proposed to divide the Village into 17 sections, and a Supervisor was appointed for each section to give aid to new gardeners.

Later in the season a Victory Gardens survey was made of the gardens by boy and girl scouts...

Over 800 victory gardens were judged twice during the month.

Even The Waterfall Turns To Dust Cloud

GALLUP, N. M. (AP)—It's no dry on the Arizona desert that a 600-foot waterfall turns into a dust cloud.

Water trailing from the Navajo and Hopi reservations, says J. M. Cooper and Paul Phillips, Indiana service officials, is so heavily laden with silt that it builds up a muddy spray as it pours over Grand Falls. The moisture evaporates quickly in the dry air, leaving particles of silt suspended in a dust-cloud.

of August and September by Judges James Roar, Thomas Alford and Loyal T. Rice. The judges are thanked and commended for their laborious and efficient work.

In spite of a cold, wet Spring, the 2,000 had a very successful season and raised a bumper crop of vegetables and fruits, which were later eaten.

The committee decided to celebrate the occasion with a Harvest Show. After permission was given by the War Council, the Harvest Show was held at the St. Thomas Community House on the afternoon and evening of Oct. 7, supervised by Dr. Louise C. Ball, who was appointed Vice Chairman of the Committee and Chairman of Arrangements for the Harvest Show.

Both afternoon and evening sessions of the Show were attended and the exhibits of fresh vegetables and of the year's canning were attractively displayed around the hall, which was decorated in appropriate autumn festiveness.

At the evening session of the show, the first prize of a $25 War Bond was awarded to Frank Gifford, chief of Pine Knoll Lane for the best amateur garden. The three other prize winners in this group were awarded War Stamps.

First prize of a $25 War Bond was awarded to former Mayor James Corrigan for the best veteran garden. Three other prizes were also awarded in this group, all in War Stamps.

Dr. Louise C. Ball won the beautiful silver cup donated by Mayor E. J. Santoro as first prize for the greatest effort in that group was at the exhibit for fresh vegetables and garden canning.

At the Victory Garden program has been carried to a successful conclusion. I feel that those responsible for its success should receive proper recognition.

From the very beginning we had the wholehearted cooperation of the great majority of our citizens. It is a pleasure to commend the Victory Garden Committee for their efficient and splendid work. Also, due credit is given to the supervisors covering the 17 sections of the village in that regard.

Dr. Louise C. Ball, as Chairman of Arrangements for the Harvest Show performed a splendid task and her untiring efforts resulted in a final program that received commendation from the press and the public. Her able and most physical effort which Dr. Ball put into this program, the public should know that she was not alone.

As the curtain is now rung down on the Committee's work for the 1943 season, it takes this opportunity of tendering my resignation as Chairman of the Victory Garden Committee for 1943.

I wish to thank the War Council for the excellent cooperation throughout the year.

Guy Vromam, Chairman, Victory Garden Committee. PRATT ACKNOWLEDGES: Mr. Guy Vromam, Chairman, Victory Garden Committee, Village of Mamaroneck.

This will acknowledge with thanks, your comprehensive report on the activities and accomplishments of the Victory Gardens Committee for 1943.

many months of conscientious, selfless effort and time on your part. We are indebted to all members of your committee and to the gardeners who advised and aided new gardeners in the seventeen sections into which you subdivided the village.

The scope of your undertaking and this record is best understood when it is realized that there were 3,000 amateur gardeners in the village this year. We believe this experience, with its attendant publicity, should stimulate increased local interest and activity in home gardening and canning for years to come.

Your resignation has been accepted as you requested, with the understanding of the 1943 Victory Gardens Committee. You and your associates are entitled to honorable discharge at the completion of the most successful program. Our thanks are a worthwhile community service, well done.

Rathbone Fete Was Tribute To Every Boy

By MARGARET DONALDSON

It was more than a homecoming celebration to honor Capt. Rathbone at Lawrence Inn last night. It was more than a testimonial to the achievements of the three decorated bombardier on a flying fortress.

When he roared to acknowledge the tribute and began the most, referred to what it was like to fight for 10 months in the center of the war area, everybody in the crowded dining room was seeing other faces besides his and hearing other voices through his ears.

Pfc. Jimmy, Sgt. Ed., Lt. Richard, Seaman Harry; Pharmacist Mate Joe; Gunner George; Corp. Victor—they were all there and it was every mother's son who had eaten here three times a day and slept on a hard bed in Africa and felt the shock of an exploding ammunition ship five miles away.

When he looked down from a height of 15 or 20 thousand feet and saw the Mediterranean full of ships and the landing barges creeping up for the invasion of Sicily, there were boys from Mamaroneck who jumped out of the barges and ran up to the beach. The boys and the bad food and the bargaining with the dirty Arabs in Africa—they've been there, too.

He Was A Symbol It was Capt. Rathbone's night, there is no doubt of that. Audience heard the story of his life.

Capt. Rathbone Given Dinner By Residents

"Can we look this man in the eye knowing that we have done what we should have done?" There is still time, he told the guests, for everyone who has not done his part in the war effort "to get in and back these men up."

Mr. Hornidge quoted an excerpt from the yearbook at Cortland State Teachers' College of which Capt. Rathbone is an alumnus on his rapidly football playing. "Rathbone was fast, hard hitting and in every play," the tribute reads. "As a footballer he was a star, that statement might have been enlarged upon," he said, "but it couldn't have been improved."

He gave a brief history of Capt. Rathbone's educational and athletic career as a boy and the dates of his entrance into and progress with the air force, referring to his occupation of a doctor years ago as "almost forgotten memories of better days."

Two speeches presented by James Ingraham were "an original one with drawings" and "a guest of honor, including the signing of his home by the stock flying low over St. Nicholas Avenue, his link to the wilderness of Mamaroneck at the age of eight in a Model T Ford, his sojourn at boarding school and several other eye witness accounts of his high school days."

Goeckler Gives Guest Sermon in Larchmont
Mayor Harry E. Goeckler was guest speaker Sunday morning at the Episcopal Church at 65 Byron Place, Larchmont, at the request of the rector, the Rev. Robert E. Du Val.

The sermon, delivered to a capacity audience, was in the words of Mr. Du Val "a great help; an hour of real joy, and much inspiration."

The meeting was held under the auspices of Troop 18 of the Boy Scouts of New Rochelle, of which Mr. Martin is the leader. A violin solo was played by J. Armstrong, who was also master of ceremonies, and a song service was conducted by the Young People's Church of Larchmont.

Mayor Goeckler took for his text, "Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth," and declared:

"In those words lie the secret of success, accomplishment and happiness in the life of every boy, every girl, every man, and every woman. For it is the knowledge of our Creator in the days of our youth that, we shall, indeed, leave our footprints on the sands of time—footprints that others passing down the way of our lives will see and follow and take heart again. So let each one of us hold true to his great needs, and to the Creator who is in reality the foundation of all that the boy does and the partner in this of his life."

"Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth," teaches in the words of the Bible, "for the days are evil. For they will seek after their own hearts, and they will be proud, and they will despise their Creator, and they will be angry with their Creator, and they will be angry with their Creator, and they will be angry with their Creator."

"Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth," teaches in the words of the Bible, "for the days are evil. Turkeyless Menus Due For Holiday
Meat Markets Reveal Scarcity, Reporting Reduced Shipments

OTHER MEAT ON HAND
Thanksgiving turkey will be checked for most of the residents of Mamaroneck and Larchmont according to today's reports from dealers.

Meat markets in Mamaroneck are either completely out of turkey, or they haven't had them at all. One notable exception is Gratiot Bros., Inc., on 257 Main Street, who has only 81 turkeys to fill 130 orders.

In Larchmont, the outlook is scarcely brighter, with these stores expected to take care of the demand of the entire Village. Baymore Market, on Palmer Avenue, received one third of the year's quota of 500, and has only a few dozen left. Astor Meat Market on Chatham Avenue, got only one per cent of its ordinary shipments from New York City and Stamford, and Gratiot Bros., Inc., of Larchmont also admits to having no more than a fraction of its usual supply.

"There is a fraction of it, definitely not any," says the attention holder for Thanksgiving, "are some of the best turkey in the market, but with regard to Thursday's dinner."

Among the interesting reports which have come in as a result of a survey of the turkey situation, says, "Turkey is available in about a half a dozen places, but I won't touch it." Another one won't touch it. "I can get at least 75 turkeys, I'll buy them, but had best not get into them until the 15th of the month, as I have to fill my orders, so I don't expect to handle any."

At least half a dozen dealers in the two villages have hopes of getting a few turkeys before Thanksgiving comes around. In the event of a turkey shortage, the consumers' hopes are shattered, they say.

Well, rumple my rompers, here's more Beech-Nut!

WHAT A NICE SURPRISE! I was afraid there might not be enough for dinner. My Beech-Nut baby food is so delicious. I'm particular, I can't eat the meat dishes and vegetables picked at the time and place I want food that's just what I need. I packed in GLASS Beech-Nut STRAINED AND CHOPPED FOODS.

60 Young Dance of Attending People At Church House

About 60 young people met Wednesday in the recreation room of St. Thomas' Community House for a dance in the holiday spirit.

Decorations were in brown and yellow, consisting of paper streamers and the room was arranged to resemble a night club, with candle-lit tables grouped around a central space.

Groups of members gave spontaneous song demonstrations during the show, and a corps of volunteer waiters served soft drinks and doughnuts.

Miss Edith Dressel was in charge of general arrangements for the affair; Richard Anthes and Leonard Conlon supervised the decorations.

The black and red costumes of St. Thomas' Church composed of boys and girls, respectively, are planning a party Thursday at the Community House. This will be the first in a series of monthly socials.

Tomorrow, a covered dish supper is scheduled by the Young People's Group of the church, for members and friends. A speaker is expected. Games will follow.

Trooping With The Girl Scouts

It would seem as though this column should be titled "Dear Readers," and be signed "Very much a French-Breton," but we were asked to report troop activities and not tell you how very much we miss Pat Brown.

Our first step, therefore, would be to visit the home of Mrs. Brown. For this week, however, we are reporting for the boys to be given to the poor children and to the needy.

In Mrs. Thomas Hartley's warm kitchen Troop 21, mostly wadded with our own faces, commenced its first meeting of the year.

While the Brownies were freshening up the dolls, Mrs. Robert's Troop 2 practiced Christmas carols with equal fervor. They were to have a social in the hospital.

Not all the Scouts are taking their own in Christmas and play day. Mr. Hickey said the interesting days with the recent singing.

Junior Red Cross Gets 100 Per Cent School Enrollment

Schools in Larchmont have enrolled 100 per cent of their Junior Red Cross Chapter of Larchmont, according to an announcement by Mrs. Elmo C. Wilson, chairman of the branch.

The Junior Red Cross sent 650 trays covered to Grandlands Hospital for Thanksgiving and a total of 1,200 more will be sent on New Year's Day.

In addition, a project is underway to decorate Christmas boxes for the service men at Camp Shanks, Oysterburgh, N. Y. They will be filled by the senior members of the chapter.

Toru Matsumoto Speaks On Japan At Public Library

The historical background of Japan was the subject of a group discussion led by Toru Matsumoto, staff member of the International Y.M.C.A. at the Larchmont Public Library last night.

In a series of three meetings on Japan, under the auspices of the Larchmont Council for the Promotion of Peace Planning, Matsumoto, who is a member of the Council, addressed the audience.

The third meeting of the series will be held in the library next Friday evening at 8:30 P. M. on postwar Japan in relation to the Larchmont Council for the Promotion of Peace Planning.

Wium J. McGuinness, chairman of the Council, announced that Mr. Matsumoto, member of Parliament and leader of the United Nations, will address the regular general public meeting of the Council on Friday, Friday, Dec. 10, at the Chatham Square School, at Postover. An English translation will be given.

With Rationing Let Whole Family Share With Pets

Children and their pets—the dog and the cat—live in homes of affection deeper and stronger than the unthinking people understand. To the child his pet is his friend and companion.

There is nothing and nobody to take the place of a boy's dog, when he is about ten-difficult years of age when he needs his pet this much. The table on him is so sacred that he is not to be touched.

Youth Fellowship Schedules Study Of Race Relations

The second study of race relations is scheduled for tomorrow evening at 8:30 P. M. at the Youth Fellowship of the Mamaroneck Methodist Church in the church parlor.

Delegates are expected to attend from the A. M. E. Zion Church and the Hammond Hebrew Institute. Exchange of jobs versus how to get along among the races and attitudes. Donald Burgess will be sponsor and George Watson, leader, in the discussion.

The Young People's Group of the church is planning to present papers on "Plans for Our New World as Youth See It." Sometime in December, the best paper will be read at an I. I. M. Youth Worship Service.

Each Sunday under the supervision of Donald Burgess and Howard L. Lister, Virginia J. Cummings leads the youth in the Christmas carols for the annual Christmas visits to the aged and shut-in Christians.

War Casualties To Be Replaced By WAC Recruits

New York State wants at least one woman to take the place of every man of the state who is listed as a casualty or missing, according to a bill introduced by the Women's Army Corps.

The quota of women who will be recruited by the WAC during the all-state recruiting campaign is based proportionately on New York's population as compared with other national units.

Each state will have its own WAC Company to represent it, bearing the state's flag and name. Miss Gould was graduated from Valley Forge Military Academy, Tarrytown, N. Y.

Last Place Bazookas Wallop Clippers As Parks Down Insulators

Post Office Nips Printers; Johnston Rolls High Series

The Bazookas of Larchmont won their second game of the season by a 10-0 victory over the Clippers of the same name at the Madison Square Garden last night. The Bazookas, who were last place in the league at the end of the first game, were again in a better position than they were in the first game. They were now in a better position than they were in the first game. They were now in a better position than they were in the first game.

SANTA IS KING!
LONG LIVE THE KING!

His Royal Highness reigns supreme, a gliver of toys and unending joys to this land of desiring girls and boys. To know him is to be imbued with his spirit of generosity. . . and to make an acquaintance you just have to send him an entry to his "Question Box Contest"—which might lead to the receipt of one of his gift certificates, that he is so anxious to give away. Surely you could make use of one of these free gifts, which are as good as cash when presented to a merchant who is advertising in the Christmas Shopper's Notebook.

Seek Removal Of Decoy Ban

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON—A Congressional proposal to remove the ban against using live decoys, declared ducks seldom are fooled by the artificial variety, with the result that hunters fly from a distance and frequently miss the birds. They then fly a short distance and drop down to die, out of retreating range.
