Marriage Needs Romance As Well As Companionship

By DOROTHY DIX
Dear Dorothy Dix: A boy friend of mine who is now in the service, I have both been disappointed in our love lives. We are eighteen years old and have been closely associated ever since our childhood and have never had any friends but never lovers. We are thinking that with our common background and congeniality, it would not be too bad a bet for us to marry. Why couldn't we get along so well for the next fifty? What is your opinion?

WANDERING.
Common Ties Essential!
Answer: Certainly a marriage that is founded on congeniality rests upon a solid base and the husband and wife who have the same political and religious taste in cooking are much more likely to get along peaceably together than those who have not. A taste or a habit in common and who can start at the drop of a hat.

Children Reflect Parents' Teachings Throughout Life

By ANGELO PATRI
"Seems to me Harriet is becoming crabby. Have you noticed it?"
"Why no. What makes you think so?"
"Well, for example, she mentioned had a dinner party tonight and I noticed that she had something sharp to say about them, something they didn't do to suit her. I'd hate a daughter of mine to grow up a nagger!"
"Why Stephen. What makes you talk like that? What did the child say? I didn't notice!"
"When she spoke about Mrs. Beegs, she said 'I'll be good-ness she'd stop simpering.' She can't say a word without chirping and prinking and fluttering." Now Mrs. Beegs has been mighty nice to the children and I've never seen anything the matter with her way."

"No, but she does simmer. It's the truth."
"Crabby little woman."
"Maybe I wouldn't know. What I'm trying to get at is that everything has something the matter with him. Mrs. Beegs simpered, the teacher used too much rouge, her chum used the cruelest perfume imaginable, Jack needed polish on his shoes, Marianne went to the show in her school dress and looked a trump and so on. I began to think she was just being plain crabby. I hate a crabby woman."

Harriet's mother did a bit of thinking that night. She knew in her heart that the remarks Harriet had made about people stemmed straight from her teaching. She had made Harriet believe that these little things were important and Harriet had applied the teaching to her friends and neighbors in terms of personal criticism. Now mother had to set about teaching Harriet to restrain personal criticism to herself and throw the mantle of love over the failings of others.

One Teacher Another
Children are likely to pass along our instruction to others in just such terms. Teach better to use his napkin at the table, to take small portions, to say "no" or "yes" and you will soon find him passing along the instruction to his younger brother with sharp emphasis, the sharpest accentuated by his feeling of superiority.

This rectified teaching is not serious. It is just another something we have to watch in growing children. It is right to be strict with oneself but more right to be blind to another's failings. Better be kind than caring.

'Nice' Girls Don't Go To Night Clubs Without Escorts

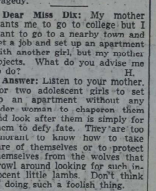

By EMILY POST
Two girls who are going alone to New York for a few days want to go to a night club. Their mother writes: "Ordinarily we would have our friends to take us. But at present we know of no one upon whom we can call. Surely it could not be improper to stop in one of the celebrated night clubs we read about for something to eat and a glass of something to drink and enjoy looking on for an hour or two there and not be to feel we had in any way lowered our standards?" You could dine and stay for an early performance in a hotel—but not a night club. New York's first-class night clubs do not admit women without men—ever! In other words, NICE girls can't go where NICE girls would want to! Dresses All Alike

Dear Mrs. Post: It is necessary that the dress worn by the maid of honor be very much like those worn by the bridesmaids? They are wearing taffeta with very full skirts and I like to wear a crepe dress that is very tailored. It is a dress of the "glamer" type and I could use this dress to best advantage after my sister's wedding.

How to clean a conscience!

EP's cleaning his conscience, as well as his furnace. He's doing his job as a patriotic American to conserve coal. He knows that just a thin film of soot in the furnace cuts heating efficiency greatly.

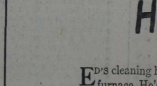

It's vital to conserve coal as never before. Not because less coal is being produced. Millions more tons are being mined this year than last—by fewer men. Mine operators and miners alike are doing a splendid job. And there are adequate rail facilities for hauling coal to your city.

But, certain grades and sizes of coal are needed for war production. And, in addition, your local dealer is handicapped by a shortage in manpower, trucks and tires. So, be patient with him. And conserve coal.

Little, common-sense precautions can make your coal pile last 10% longer—and cut that much off your fuel bill. Clean your heating system. "Winterize" your house with weatherstripping and storm windows. Close off unused rooms. Pull your window shades and drapes at night. For other suggestions see your coal dealer.

One of the biggest jobs of the C & O Lines is hauling coal from the mines along its routes, so we're in a position to understand the problem and to know how essential coal is these days.

Our Men In Service

L. Palmer Returns

Home from Italy after 16 months overseas service as a plane fighter pilot with the 48th Fighter Squadron, is Lt. John M. Palmer, Jr., of Larchmont. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Palmer of 105 Chatsworth Avenue, describe his unexpected return as the biggest and best surprise of their lives. At the end of his leave, he will report to the redistribution center at Atlantic City.

A graduate of Mamaroneck High School, Class of 1935, Lt. Palmer studied two years at the Central Art School in New York and was a commercial artist with Palmer Associates when he entered the service.

He was commissioned at the AAF base at Lubbock, Tex., after primary and basic training at Fort Monmouth and Fort Benning. Before going overseas, he was stationed at the Army Central Training School in Orlando, Fla. The lighter command with which he has been serving in the American section of the Mediterranean Allied Coastal Air Force.

With Fortress Unit

2nd Lieut. Gilbert T. Fox, 27, of 330 Beach Avenue, Larchmont, is now serving overseas with a 19th AAF B-17 Flying Fortress unit in Italy. He went overseas Aug. 10, 1944, and is serving in the capacity of bombardier.

The unit to which he belongs has recently received the Unit Citation given by the President of the United States "for outstanding performance of duty in armed conflict with the enemy in the European theater in part, by the courage, heroism, and devotion of the air crew, together with the professional skill and devotion to duty of the ground personnel, officers and men of this unit who reflected great credit upon themselves and the Army of the United States of America."

The citation was made by Major Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Commanding General of the 12th Air Force, who arrived at the colors of the unit after personally commending the organization.

No More Travelling!

A two-year trek through the South Pacific on the trail of the Japs has given Joe Nick A. Vranos no taste for world travel, he admitted yesterday. He is recovering from wounds received Sept. 15 in the Pacific campaign. When asked if he would get on a boat and see more of the world when the war is over, he shook his head dejectedly.

"No me!" he answered. "I'm going to stay right here in Mamaroneck when I come home for good. No more travelling for me!"

His last tour in the hospital, he said, had been eating so much since he came home that he has gained it back. The home-cooked food tastes "wonderful," he said, after two years of Marine Corps cooking. In camp the food was "thin" and "light" but the men get "pretty tired" of eating out of a box—even though the rations contained a few extra cans of delicacies such as ham and eggs.

Mr. Vranos, who lives at 530 Union Avenue, is a former Bellarmine High School student. He has been in the Marine since February, 1942.

Wins Rank of Ensign

Cadet-Midshipman Craig Alton Caffall, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Caffall, of 1880 Palmer Avenue, Larchmont, has been promoted from the United States Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, N. Y. He received a license as third officer in the Merchant Marine with the rank of Ensign in the U. S. Maritime Service.

Bombers Belt Reich Despite Big Snowstorm

LONDON, (AP)—Stormtroops over Germany failed to check the Allied air offensive today and big formations of bombers were reported hitting the Reich from the west and south after a gale-blasted snowstorm.

Concentrated attacks on Hannover during the night. The great Radio warning system said bombers were approaching from several westerly directions and that others were heading up over Bavaria.

The attacks on Hannover were made by RAF Mosquitoes which dropped many tons of bombs, including more than thirty 4,000-pounders, on railroads and factories.

Monopoles also hit other objectives in Ruhr.

One German plane was destroyed and one RAF fighter was shot down.

Hold Spiritual Front, Church Workers Told

Mamaroneck church workers are urged to participate in the Village-wide spiritual drive were challenged yesterday by church workers to help to maintain the "spiritual front" in the community for the victory in the present war.

He said that the church workers should be alert to the needs of the community and to the needs of the church.

Schert, who is alleged to have abandoned his wife and child now residing at 10 Oakwood Avenue, White Plains, was traced by Sheriff Edward J. Big Protest In Sluicem Prison Due

Mass Meeting Called By New Rochelle Mayor For Wednesday

GAMBLE PROBES PLAN

NEW ROCHELLE — Mayor Stanley Church today called a mass meeting for Wednesday evening in Albert Leonard High School to protest what he says are plans of the Army to convert Fort Sluicem into a prison for 10,000 Army long-term convicts.

The Mayor said he had received no reply to his telegram to Secretary of War Robert Patterson or Major General T. A. Terry, commanding the Second Service Command in New Rochelle.

Mayor Church said he had been wrong in his reports that several hundred prisoners of war would be sent to Fort Sluicem, but added that convict soldiers would be "much worse" for the safety of the city.

New Rochelle's Mayor said he also would call a meeting over the weekend at Madison, N.J., before being stationed at Selman Field. Lt. Gary is married to the former Rita O'Neil of Troy who is at present residing with her parents.

'Rather Ticklish' Job

Home disposal officers in charge of a squad of six volunteers, including Alexander Heid, Jr., of Larchmont, serving in France, are also known as "rather ticklish." He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Heid of 7 South Hill, where his wife, Mildred, also resides.

"We don't get very bored with our type of work," he writes, "for we must always be alert. We have many times as we allowed to make a second guess."

The squad constantly encounters new types of bombs, mines and booby traps left behind by the retreating enemy and also found a few of our bombs which did not explode and were left behind. Lt. Heid and his squad had extensive training in England before going to France.

Prior to entering the Army two years ago, the bomb disposal officer was an insurance salesman for the John A. Eckert Company in New York. He attended the University of Pennsylvania, where he was a member of the Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society.

Return Home Biggest Thrill Of All, Says Veteran Of 50 Air Missions In 4 Months

82 Volunteers Needed To Fill Blood Quota

Coming back home after flying 80 missions in four months is "the greatest thrill of all" according to Sgt. Tony Carpio of Larchmont, who arrived here last night on a top gunner with the crew of a B-24 in the 10th Army Air Corps.

When Sgt. Carpio talks like that, it's something to listen to because he's an authority on the subject. He's been in the air for 12 months and has flown 80 missions in that time.

When his plane fell and he was injured, he was hospitalized for a month.

He landed on his feet in a field near a rest camp in Italy. He was wounded in the back, an injury which kept him hospitalized for a month.

The rest of the crew came down without serious injury although the bombardier broke his arm. The rest of the crew were hospitalized for a month.

When the plane crashed, about eight miles from their base, Sgt. Carpio said, Italian natives helped them out of the crash site and along the road and took them to the hospital. He spent a month in a rest camp in Italy. He was wounded in the back, an injury which kept him hospitalized for a month.

Yanks Smash 3-Way Jap Ormoc Blow

MACARTHUR'S HQS., PHILIPPINES (AP)—Japanese attempts at counterattack and reinforcements failed today, all around the Ormoc perimeter on Leyte Island.

On the north, east and south, American troops broke up the enemy's desperate moves without losing a foot of ground. In some cases they even advanced slowly in the face of Japanese efforts.

The most important of these advances was the capture of an evacuation movement by units of the 24th Infantry south of Linao, four miles from Pimpunan. They threw a roadblock across the Ormoc Highway, 14 miles south of Linao. Japanese supply columns moving north along the road toward bloody Linao Village were destroyed.

Outlook Now Seems Dark And Murky For Feasting On Thanksgiving Turkey

The blizzards residents of Larchmont and Mamaroneck will give thanks for next Thursday won't include the good, old traditional Thanksgiving turkey dinner, if the dark predictions of the most astute of the community come true.

"The outlook was described yesterday in terms ranging from 'doubtful' to 'dramatic' when a Daily Times reporter asked a survey of the prospects. One establishment went so far as to say that people will have to content with 'fried turkey' this year.

"Fish turkey" we asked about to place an order.

"Sure—corned beef and cabbage" he replied.

The manager of the Quality Market in Mamaroneck said he is in the dark about two things: first, will he get any, and second, if so, how many. His final comment ("and you can quote me please") was, "personally, I hope we don't get a one and I'll save us a lot of trouble."

The Fenimore and Prospect Markets reported a similar situation, one manager adding, "If we do get any, the prices will be so high nobody will touch them."

At Jim's Market the report was "So far we don't have any and there's no prospect of getting any."

"George's Market" the report was, "The outlook is very, very dark. Even if we should get any, it would be only about 25 percent of what we had last year."

The situation is about the same in Chicago, Lansing and Detroit where it is reported that the turkey is "not so hot" but "not so hot" as at present, at least, they are not planning for turkey at all.

The A and P "doubts very much" that they will have any and the First National "may have a few" but the manager is taking no chances.

"Conditions are no brighter in Larchmont where Gracie Brothers' store expects none and has been told not to take any orders. He is hanging in the air," the manager added.

The Grand Union manager doesn't know what to expect. He "might know more Monday" but the outlook is reported "not so good."

The Byrum may have a few, "but very few" and the small independent markets report, "There isn't such a thing as this year."

The Larchmont Shore Club on the other hand, is planning to serve Thanksgiving dinners with turkeys that money can buy.

One Mamaroneck dealer said the scarce is due to the fact that the government is paying the packers one cent more per pound than the selling price allowed by the OPA in order to supply the turkey to the government committee of the Board of Supervisors.

Duties of the county commissioner would include regulating the construction of new houses, buildings, bridges and other obstructions within the flood limits of a stream.

According to William F. Moran, chairman of the legislative committee of the Westchester County Board of Supervisors, his association has presented a draft of this proposed legislation to the State Legislature. He requested that it take steps to have this legislation enacted. This is important legislation and affects all streams in the County.

It is the legislative committee of the Board of Supervisors that Board powers not now lying with County jurisdiction.

War Bond Drive Gets Under Way

$2,250,000 Sales Goal Of 6th Loan In Larchmont And Mamaroneck LOCAL BUYING URGED

Campaign to raise a combined total of $2,250,000 in war bonds this morning as Larchmont and Mamaroneck launched their sixth War Loan drive.

Opening gun in Larchmont's drive was a minimum goal of $1,250,000 under the chairmanship of Richard B. Bevier, with the next collection on Monday, Sept. 18, at James Aver, superintendent of schools, addressing commuters at the Larchmont station over a loudspeaker system.

The executive committee, composed of representatives of men's and women's groups, has adopted the slogan "A Larchmont for Every Squadron Over Berlin and Tokio."

To attain this end a minimum goal of $1,250,000 for the purchase of ten light bombers is required.

The complete program as outlined by the committee follows:

(1) From our own funds to purchase as many bonds as possible and to set, at least, one bond purchased in the name of every member of the family.

(2) To request that the firms which you either control, are interested in, or work for place a part of their subscriptions through Larchmont, rather than the firms among other channels.

To request other firms where you have close personal contacts to place a part of their subscriptions through you, and to tell them why you want their subscriptions.

(3) To cover every family, so that each will know the program and its objectives, and to make it truly representative of the entire community.

(4) Each purchaser of a $100 bond, or a $200 bond, or a $500 bond, to be entered on one list, on which the name of your Larchmont boy in the service may be printed.

(5) At the termination of the drive, a mass meeting will be held at which Mr. James E. Curtis, chairman of the women's division, will draw the names of ten boys to be honored.

(6) To request that the firms which you either control, are interested in, or work for place a part of their subscriptions through you, and to tell them why you want their subscriptions.

FRENCH BREAK ENEMY'S BREACH; ALLIES STAGGER GERMAN DEFENSES

Nazis' Southern Flank Unhinged At Swiss Border

LONDON, (AP)—French troops broke through the historic Burgundy Gap at Belfort and reached the Rhine, it was announced today as five other Allied armies broke through German defenses along all the other historic routes of invasion into Germany. It was the week's greatest promise since the Normandy breakthrough.

French troops and armor unhinged the entire German southern flank at the Swiss border and surged into the outskirts of the by-passed fortress city of Belfort in a break-through announced by Gen. Jean De Latre De Tassigny of the First French Army. The Rhine was reached by nightfall yesterday, he said.

American and French forces seized the entrances to four of the six main passes through the Vosges mountains, they are battling 97 miles from Strasbourg, 21 miles from Colmar and 10 miles from Mulhouse, all important anti-air bases on the French side of the Rhine.

100 High School Students Protest 'Unfair Accusation' Against History Instructor

Protesting against what they term "the unfair accusation" made Tuesday at the Mamaroneck School Board meeting that William G. Fulcher "missed his mark" in a lecture in proclaiming the Republic dead as a result of Roosevelt's election, 100 students have signed a statement claiming that "it was entirely clear that the statements he made were his own opinion," advanced "to stimulate thought" rather than influence the pupils.

The declaration from the pupils, which was mailed to The Daily Times, refers to a protest made by Henry P. Rubin of Larchmont who told the members of the Board that parents had objected to the statement made in class and had asked that names be withheld for fear of possible retaliation.

Superintendent of Schools T. James Abern, to whom the statement was forwarded, said Wednesday that Mr. Fulcher had apparently made a statement of opinion as though it were a statement of fact and that the superintendent regretted that the statement had been a half mile from the German border and 20 miles from Dusseldorf.

In a telephone call to The Daily Times this morning, Mr. Fulcher said he had received many calls and messages expressing confidence in him and his work which were "very warming to the heart."

The letter, which contains the signatures of several students whose parents protested against the history teacher's classroom exclamation last week, reads as follows:

"We, the pupils of William G. Fulcher of Mamaroneck High School, protest the unfair accusation made by Henry P. Rubin to the Mamaroneck School Board on Tuesday, Nov. 14, that Mr. Fulcher has missed the position of the statements he made were his own opinion and to be regarded as fact by the students. The statements were to stimulate thought rather than influence the pupils. We believe that freedom of speech is one of the most important privileges of a free democracy and that any attempt to stop free discussion would be detrimental to our rights as American citizens."

On the upper end of the 65-mile front moving on southern Slovakia, Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Second Ukrainian Army drove to within two miles of Miskolc, Hungary's fifth city. Seizure of Miskolc, six miles east of Miskolc, put another Russian front on the broad Hernal River valley leading into Slovakia.

In the Baltic, the Russians were reported by Berlin to have thrown three divisions of 30,000 men and 100 tanks against the German Sworbe Peninsula, southwestern tip of Sauer Lake, dominating the entrance to the Gulf of Riga.

Chimney Fire Leads To General Alarm

A blaze around the chimney in the kitchen at Mrs. Edith Manning's residence at 653 Mamaroneck Avenue, Mamaroneck, brought out the Mamaroneck Fire Department shortly before 10 P. M. last night on a general alarm.

The fire, apparently caused by an overheated fire, was extinguished in about a half hour. Mrs. Manning reported that the house is owned by Ralph M. Blood of 733 Penrose Road.

The Sports Spotter

BY THE SPORTS EDITOR

We give you today what we think is one of the hard luck teams of the current county grid season: the Mamaroneck Tigers. Starting the season with a brand new coach who had never before of his game before the first practice, and with a power-laden schedule which didn't have a breather on it, the Tigers managed to win only one game out of eight. On the face of it, this is a poor season.

The schedule was the nub of most of the trouble in our opinion. Bellows closed in their best game and Isaac Young might have been taken. But even these other factors outside of the size of the school and the ability of grid teams enter into the matter. For instance, there's the fact that the Panthers turned in their best game of the season against the Tigers merely because the East Enders would rather win that particular game than any other, and there's the fact that the Isaac Young game came after the Hilltoppers had played a pair of fine games against New Rochelle and Port Chester, two powerhouses. They lost both games, but were far from humiliated, since both contests could have resulted in victories with a break in luck. But aside from the Panthers and the Youngmen, the Tigers are about every top team in this end of the county except White Plains and Eastchester, a tough schedule if there ever was one.

BUILDING
To go a bit farther, this was also a year of building down at the Orange and Black School. We like to think that only four of the starting lineups won't be back next year. They are Football: Guy, Bill, Bob, and Tom; Basketball: Bill, Bob, and Tom; and Soccer: Bill, Bob, and Tom.

The Equipppers and Higher Standards, the two top teams in the Daily Times League, collided last night at Larchmont Recreation and when the battle was over the Equipppers had thrown themselves into the victory lead by muddling the Standards in a 2-1 match. Studwell was the major cause of the Equipppers' victory, as he came along with a series which took the cool 987 and included a 225 string, both high for the league's longest last night. The winners, who started evening out in front by a single game, took the first contest by a mere 15 pins, walked away with the second by well over 100 maps and then succeeded in the third as the Standards finally came to life. Sam Giannino, with a 513 total, led the losing Standards.

P.G.A. Seeks Links For All Army Hospitals
CHICAGO (AP)—A roll call for every military hospital in the United States is the aim of the Professional Golfers' Association. Impressed with the report of the value of the sport in reconditioning of a hospitalized serviceman, the P. G. A. unanimously approved the plan and designated its 20th annual convention to the project which will extend throughout the nation.

The association already has participated in construction of a number of courses at government hospitals, and it was the success of these enterprises, as reported by Captain Orval Bradford of Denver General Hospital, Memphis, Tenn., that prompted P. G. A.'s approval of the project at its convention yesterday.

The P. G. A. will seek approval of the Surgeon-General and the War Department for its program and hopes to have its members placed in charge. Funds for construction of the courses would be raised by membership and subscriptions, Frank Simpson of Grand Rapids, Mich., P. G. A. secretary said. Equipment for the courses, he said, would be obtained in the same manner.

Owen will show football to the school elevens and Dooley will have a share in the program which has been arranged by the Rotary Clubs of both villages at a meeting of appreciation for the boys' efforts on the gridiron.

Following the program refreshments will be served. Coach George Mooney of the Hilltop aggregation also announced yesterday that football refreshments will be distributed to the Hilltop All Stars at a school assembly on Thursday, Nov. 30.

BY FRED STAFFORD
WHITE PLAINS — The War Bond salesman ran his sales to $208,000 and featherweight Fred Russo ran his undefeated string to 55 straight bouts with a clearcut, eight-round decision over game but outmanned Pete Virgin at the County Center before a storm-stimmed crowd of 2,100 last night.

Spurring the bond sales were overseas veterans of the "Here's Our Infantry" combat team which is touring this sector during the Sixth War Loan and which displayed from the ring baroque mortars, Garand rifles and machine guns at the opening of the program.

Later, Russo, native of Rahway, N. J., put his own guns on display to clearly outpoint his fellow Jerseyite from Carlisle and win his second center bout.

Boy Dying After Fall In Furnace

Elmsford Youth Burned Seriously By Drop Into Village Incinerator

PULLED FROM FLAMES

A Thanksgiving Day holiday visit with friends in Fort Chester resulted in a tragedy today for Herbert Whitcomb, 16, of Hillside Avenue, Elmsford, when at 8:45 A. M. he fell into the Village of Elmsford garbage incinerator and was possibly fatally burned. He was rushed to the United Hospital, Fort Chester, and at noon hospital authorities said the possibility of his recovery appeared "very slim."

The Whitcomb boy was 16 when the Thanksgiving school holidays with George Wesley, of 109 West Avenue, Elmsford, and a private garbage collector who contracts to remove refuse from chain groceries and other large stores in this section.

This morning young Whitcomb volunteered to help two of the Wesley boys and their father collect the trash from the Wesley route and after the truck was loaded, Mr. Wesley drove to the incinerator at Fayette Street and Northrup Avenue.

There, according to Wesley, he ordered the boys and their father to get out of the truck and assist them to "stay away from the incinerator. Load up the truck and get out of here."

Whitcomb, who was 16, was pulled from the furnace.

The truck had been dumped and was being when Whitney heard to scream, Benny Rialdi, attendant at the incinerator, raced down two flights of stairs, yanked open the furnace door and slipped into the furnace.

Neither Mr. Wesley nor either of his sons was able to account for the accident, except to say that young Whitcomb had attempted to get on the rear of the truck immediately after the load was dumped and slipped into the furnace.

Whitcomb is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Whitcomb, they were notified and immediately taken to Fort Chester. He is their only child.

U.S. ARMADA BLASTS TOKYO RECORD-BREAKING RAY; BREKTOP UP STRASSBOURG

'Relentless' Air Attack On Japan Homeland Begun

By The Associated Press
A Japanese Imperial communiqué reported about 70 superforts participated in the raid on Tokyo today (Japan time) and claimed three were shot down.

The communiqué, recorded by the Federal Communications Commission in a Tokyo broadcast, said the B-29's raided Tokyo for about two hours, starting at 12:30 P. M.

"Our damages have been slight," the Imperial communiqué said, "and the war result confirmed up to now is three."

Twenty-first Bomber Command, Saipan, (AP)—A mighty armada of B-29 superfortresses blasted Tokyo today for the 3,000 mile flight which marked the initial attack on Japan's homeland.

An undisclosed number of superforts roared from newly-completed airbases here at dawn for the 3,000 mile flight which marked the initial attack on Japan's homeland.

Brig. Gen. Emmett "Rosie" O'Donnell, of Jamaica, L. I., 38, former West Point football coach, led the historic daylight assault, believed to be the largest attack yet made on Japan's homeland.

The aerial task force was under the command of 21st Bomber Command of the 20th Army Air Force, operating from Saipan, Marianas Islands.

Two-way Bessie
The first official announcements of today's raid merely said a "strategic" attack on Japan's industrial targets in Tokyo.

Another communiqué was promised when further details were available.

Ky's great sprawling industrial area, fringed by airports and anti-aircraft defenses, recent lone B-29 reconnaissance flights showed. Shipping and shipbuilding yards are located in nearby Yokohama.

Enemy Not Surprised
They departed from here well aware that the raid would not be a surprise to the Japanese, long accustomed to reconnaissance flights and practice B-29 bombing missions against Iruk and the Ryukyu Islands. Use of bases in the Marianas solved a major logistics problem in that they are within range of the 20th Air Force planes in China.

Foe Frustrated In Try To Seize Rhine Bridge
