Social Boycotting Might Help Cure Habitual Tardiness

By EMILY POST
A letter says: "I have always enjoyed and profited by your column and wish you would comment upon the selfish person who comes late to school or to work at every and all places. It is impossible to express the inconvenience to all her friends caused by her utter selfishness. Instead of blaming trying to find excuses, she had trait, he seems to improve. At least he quite tranquilly comes to school at a quarter of 10 minutes to half an hour late."

There is no question whether about the unfairness as well as discourtesy of one who is habitually late. It can happen on rare occasions that an accident will prevent one's arriving on time. But when it is known that a habit is habitually late it is to be avoided. As a matter of fact, chronic lateness is very much the fault of those who put up with it. When it is known that a hostess is very prompt and is unwilling to wait for anyone longer than the 15 minutes grace allowed by etiquette, it will be noticed that waiting even the tolerated 15 minutes is unusual.

The Sports Spotter

BY THE SPORT EDITOR

Pickin' Em

For the last time this year we've a high school game to pick. And it's a dilly.

Port Chester is still smarting over the defeat inflicted last year by a Tiger eleven which came through in the second half to overcome a 13-0 deficit. The Rams, favored with a long rest, as they didn't play last Saturday, figure to be more than tough for Harry Harrison's Hilltoppers.

So it should be some ball game and despite the Rams desire for revenge, even though the team has been rested, we look for a Mamaroneck win. Not by much, it's true, but still a seventh victory in the Orange and Black record.

Tomorrow's game, incidentally, will start at 2 o'clock and not at 3:30, as last year. Too early these days and Hilltop officials have moved up the kick-off time.

Believe us or not, this season, so there's no game there to call. As for the Stars Sunday battle against the Hackensack Ramblers, we're on the fence. We don't know from nothing about the Tanks (the Hackensack variety), so we refuse to commit ourselves.

Make It Safe
With the hunting season in full swing in many sections of the country, it is important that sportsmen and returning G.I.s cease to be warned not to carry the booty traps which may be lurking in foreign-made war-time guns and ammunition.

"There is no way for the average sportsman to tell whether his souvenir gun is safe to shoot or not for it usually shows no sign unless it's fired," says Henry W. Davis, Remington Arms Company. "The best thing to do is to send a full and detailed description of the gun on postal to General Julian S. Hatcher, Technical Division, National Rifle Association, 1610 Rhode Island Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C., and get his advice. General Hatcher is one of the world's foremost authorities on both domestic and foreign small arms, but in any case, you may not want to give your full name and address to an examination of the piece."

"It is generally recognized that before the war the Germans made good guns. And during the first part of the conflict, right standards were maintained. But if you own a German gun made during the latter part of the war, you may unwittingly be in possession of a dangerous device to handle. It is well known that the German guns produced in that period were curiously machined for speed of production was the thought of the day. And it is also known that the slave labor forced to manufacture these guns did so with a disregard for safety which makes every one of these guns a possible booby trap. It is extremely difficult for any one not an expert to tell the difference between the old and new."

"According to General Hatcher, European gunmakers do not make their weapons with completely interchangeable parts. The guns are hand fitted and the major parts of each individual gun are stamped with the same serial number. It is safe to fire the gun only when all numbers are the same."

"Perhaps the most dangerous of war-time-made guns are those produced by the Japanese. During the

Stars Slate Game Against Colored Yanks

Still bruised and battered from Sunday's game against the Port Chester 90's, the Mamaroneck Stars will take on the war against this Sunday afternoon, meeting the Hackensack Colored Yankees at the Mamaroneck High School Field.

With several additions to the squad, notably Mitch Larza, Belows High School who joined the team as soon as the East 2nd season was completed, the Stars will still be handicapped by injuries sustained last week.

A Tiger win unofficially means a first-place tie in the league between Mamaroneck and New Rochelle. However the Orange coaching staff is definitely worried about the game, the last on the 1946 schedule, as the Rams come to town loaded with a big aggressive team that has been playing for the Stars since last year's Orange game. After last year's Orange game, Jimmie Abbott is due for first place at halfback as he showed speed and shiftness in the Orange game.

Playing in the Orange game, Tiger grid uniforms Saturday will be Orange, Green, and Red. Tom Storpelli at the guard position and Jack Sankov on the ball center.

In the backfield, the Orange will line up with John Lightfoot at quarterback, Pannessa and Joe Petruzzo at halves and Sid Nordenschild at fullback. Pete Abbott is due for first place at halfback as he showed speed and shiftness in the Orange game.

Orange Collides With Rams In Crucial League Squabble

Mamaroneck's football Tigers, after hitting the victory trail once again last week against Isaac Young, take on the Port Chester Rams tomorrow afternoon at Manchester Field in an attempt to salvage an unofficial championship rating in the mythical WIAA setup.

Stars Slate Game Against Colored Yanks

Still bruised and battered from Sunday's game against the Port Chester 90's, the Mamaroneck Stars will take on the war against this Sunday afternoon, meeting the Hackensack Colored Yankees at the Mamaroneck High School Field.

With several additions to the squad, notably Mitch Larza, Belows High School who joined the team as soon as the East 2nd season was completed, the Stars will still be handicapped by injuries sustained last week.

A Tiger win unofficially means a first-place tie in the league between Mamaroneck and New Rochelle. However the Orange coaching staff is definitely worried about the game, the last on the 1946 schedule, as the Rams come to town loaded with a big aggressive team that has been playing for the Stars since last year's Orange game.

Tolls Can Be Popular

With the unanimous decision by the highest court of New York State that Westchester is legally authorized to collect a 10-cent toll on the Saw Mill River and the Hutchinson River parkways, public interest will now center on the time when collections are to be started and the method of collection. Under the 1945 parkway law, the toll booths must be stationed in the vicinity of Woodlands Lake on the Saw Mill and near Weaver Street on the Hutchinson.

We believe the attitude taken by the County Park Commission, that collections should not start until arrangements are such that there will be no needless delay to motorists, is sound. For these reasons, we are convinced, will not object very much to the payment of the tolls but they will complain—and properly—if they are unnecessarily delayed in transit.

Where there has been widespread understanding of the requirement for payment of tolls, the public acceptance has been generally gracious. Residents of Westchester are by now aware that almost 85 per cent of the travel on our parkways is by out-of-county motorists. They will gladly pay the tolls themselves because they understand that the collections will be used for the improvement of the parkways.

As for the threat by the New York Automobile Club that new injunctions will be sought, this does not seem fearsome. Since the Supreme Court, the Appellate Division and the Court of Appeals of this State all have upheld the constitutionality of the tolls, the chances of success for the Automobile Club may be dismissed for what it probably really means is to delay the tolls.

I heard two people talking about Governor Dewey holding back funds for veterans' homes. It can't imagine anyone doing such a thing. Can you explain. Mr. L. M.

Sounds like campaign talk, which is seldom worth rehearsing. Our understanding is that New York State is presently paying something like a $50 million dollar bill to the Federal Government for the purchase of surplus war materiel. It is a very large sum of money, no matter how much he wants to because no one will touch it or other materials.

The Federal Government is up against the same same problem. The Housing Administrator has six hundred million dollars worth of surplus war materiel and is spending on housing, but so far he has been able to find only one hundred million dollars worth of lumber. That's what we hear. If we knew the explanation and the solution, we would be in Washington or Albany, and mothers and mothers-in-law would sit at their relatives out of the living room and use the couch for sitting.

Col. Joe Bush Says— We think Harold Stassen has made a mistake in tossing his hat into the Presidential ring so early. The kind of hats they're making nowadays won't last two years, especially when you consider how many Republicans have made a mistake in this regard.

And we can't exactly understand why so many Democratic leaders like Harry Truman and National Chairman Bob Hannegan and State Chairman Paul Fitzpatrick have to go away for a rest after the election. Judge from the returns, they didn't work very hard.

Some kind words were thrown at County Judge Commish Bill Folger the other day at a luncheon. Every government must have at least one "no-man," and the speaker, who reported as a member of the County Board, he added, somebody has got to be the official polecat!

One of our rural correspondents sent in this item last week: "The fire was put out before any damage could be done by the volunteer fire company."

Yonkers Max says the Petrillos, the Bridges and the Quills were "discovered" on Nov. 5.

City Judge Changes County Carpenters Win Uniform Pay Scale

WHITE PLAINS—City Judge Stewart Rowe has agreed to rescind his decision made Oct. 3 to retire from the White Plains City Court. Judge Rowe, who holds a post on the New York University Law Faculty and also has a private law practice, has served two terms of two years each. He indicated yesterday that he would probably accept reappointment by Mayor Silas Clark.

Political implications of Judge Row's indicated change of mind were discussed at a meeting of the City Bench. Flaxard was City Judge in 1942 but gave up the post to enter the Army.

DIES AT MEETING YONKERS—Donat Tolony, vice president of the Broadcasters, a social group of prominent Yonkers men died suddenly at a meeting of the group last night.

ARMY TAUGHT EVERYTHING In answer to the young sculptor who is having trouble with cracking clay, here is something we tried in the army. Instead of mixing the clay with water, we bought doctrine (most drug stores have it) and mixed it into a thin glue-like substance with water. This is used for soldering or moulting the clay and had no trouble with air holes, and cracks.

groups into the Democratic Party.
But we cannot do this by a narrow isolationism. To accomplish this result, we Democrats must demonstrate to all, that the reins of our party government will remain in hands that liberate our issues, with no danger that the party machinery that we ask them to help can be seized for wrong purposes. That it will remain free

Becker Claims
Younger Vote
Proves Value

Fifty per cent of the vote in the United States is within the 21 to 40 age group, and many members of that group already have risen to high places in the national and state governments, Captain Ralph E. Becker, chairman of the National Young Republican Federation, told the New England Conference of Young Republicans at Brattleboro, Vt., Saturday night.

Captain Becker, young Port Charter lawyer whom the Republican National Committee sent on a speaking and organizing tour through 38 states prior to the recent election, was one of three principal speakers at the closing banquet of the big Brattleboro meeting attended by Young Republicans from Connecticut,
Massachusetts, New Hampshire,
Maine and Vermont.

Among the Young Republicans named by Captain Becker as having risen through that movement to places of key importance in national and state affairs were Governor Gilson, one of the founders of the YR movement, Governor Bradford and Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Congressmen John Davis Lodge and Seelye Brown of Connecticut, U.
S. Senators Lives of New York, Knowland of California, Jenner of Indiana, McCarthy of Wisconsin, and Cain of Washington.

"We Young Republicans must continue to build new organizations in communities and colleges, appealing to first voters and veterans to join the Republican Party, thereby furnishing to them an opportunity and a forum for usefulness to their country and to their communities," Captain Becker concluded.

County Home Employes
Plan Benefit Event

WEST VIEW—A card party for the benefit of employes of the County Home will take place in the County Home Auditorium at 7:30 next Monday evening, it was announced today.

Albert I. Coombs, County Home superintendent, explained that each player will make a donation of 50 cents which will be turned over to the "Good and Welfare Committee" which sends flowers, candy, cigars and other such items to County Home staff members whenever they are sick. Mr.
Coombs also said that through this welfare fund flowers are sent to relatives of County Home employees whenever they are ill.

In addition to the bed shortage there is also a shortage of nurses with only about 15 per cent of the 41 nurses who left for the armed forces returning to their jobs in the hospitals, according to a report by the Board of Governors.

"In order to combat this situation and procure more nurses, the Board of Governors approved an increase in the nurses' salaries, effective as of Oct. 1," the report states.

The extension of the School of Nursing and Nurses' residence will provide science and dietetics laboratories, lecture rooms, nursing arts hall, recreation rooms, offices and living quarters for approximately 81 more nurses.

"A study of the nursing situation by the Hospital Administration, doctors and others qualified to judge," the building committee said in a report, "indicates that a substantial increase in facilities for housing nurses will be required in the immediate future. Additional personnel amounting to 65 graduates and 40 student nurses is required. Twenty graduates will be required to make up for present shortage, including those required for the new East Wing, and the remaining 45 will be needed for the new West Wing.
This increase in the nursing staff, for most of whom the Hospital must furnish living quarters, calls for a substantial addition to the Nurses' Home."

The statement, in part, reads as follows:

"The campaign committee is fully cognizant of the magnitude of the task to which it has set its hand. The area which the hospital serves is composed of about 20,000 families. To raise a fund of $2,000,000 from this relatively small neighborhood will be a challenging undertaking, but I am confident that the objectives can and will be attained.

Hospital area, which includes New Rochelle, Larchmont and the un-number of beds required for that population is 24,000.

Last year, 1,091 babies were

Suppliment Rap Celex Quintet By 2-1 Count

The Suppliment No. 1 outfit came up with a 2-1 win last night in the New Rochelle Major League as Dan Goetz, ably abetted by Johnny Smirge led the Mamaroneck squad to its victory.

The Celex outfit got going in the third game and managed to salvage only one fray as the Suppliment took the first strike in a close squabble, then really walloped their opponents in the second game. That middle battle was won by 191 pins but the Supply squad fell down in their third effort and missed an opportunity to take a shutout.

Goetz's 583 series was high for the losers with Steers of the losers carrying a 214 to take single game honors.

Eagles Annex 6-4 Triumph As Lawrence, Briell Shine

The Larchmont Eagles got hot last night and carded their first win of the young hockey season as they downed the Greenwich Hawks by 6-4 in a wide open game on the Playland Ice.

Walt Lawrence and Bill Briell provided the spark which brought the Eagles their first win in three starts as they each scored twice and constantly harassed Johnson, the Greenwich goalie, who finished up the evening with a total of 26 saves, five more than Bernie Shea of the Eagle squad was forced to divert from the net.

The Eagles took an early lead in the fray as MacConnell pushed the puck past Johnson after only a minute and a half for the Father, who stood out for five minutes and fifty seconds to tie single game honors.

Goetz's 583 series was high for the losers with Steers of the losers carrying a 214 to take single game honors.

Walt Lawrence, center on the Eagle second line, dominated the early part of the second game, showing in the early part of the period and taking a pass from Briell to score a second goal just four minutes later. Palmer, another Hawk standout, weighed in with a score which made the tally 4-2 before Briell again came through with a second goal.

The Hawks were pounding the Eagle net through the final session and managed to score twice but before Jack Stuphen soloed in the final frame, and lost via a decision to the Brooklyn brawler.

How Follows Rose Bowl Ban Of Army Team

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Pacific Coast Conference officials here today privately expressed disappointment over the Berkeley Rose Bowl decision, but the public at large was not so discreet.

Interested observers, alumni spokesmen, sports experts and literally hundreds of fans didn't wait to ask for an opinion on the Pacific Coast-Big Nine Bowl pact, which slammed the gate on Army.

There was a healthy minority of an agreement might be all right and unofficial dickering between the two, it could have been dated a year later, leaving the way open for Army to play in the Pasadena game next New Year's Day.

Stars For Yank 11

A stiff drill with emphasis on passing, in the order of the day as the Mamaroneck Stars get down to work tonight at Harbor Island in preparation for the benefit game Sunday against the Hackensack Grid Yanks.

Joe Tolve, star coach, intends to get his team particularly high for this game as the Yanks will come to town with a squad almost as heavy, if not heavier than the Port Chester squad which whipped the spangled squad a week ago last Sunday, breaking a six game Star win streak.

They Cost Little, Do So Much

INTO the mails of Westchester over the past weekend went $3,000 worth of Christmas seals...

Last year Westchester responded generously, advancing $85,000 against a goal of $80,000. This year $90,000 is asked for the national campaign...

What can Christmas seals do about this? They can fight the year round although you may give only once...

The obvious need is for prevention and control, if tuberculosis is to be eradicated. It is for that specific purpose that a large percentage of the Christmas seal money is spent to educate the individual...

For the first time in the history of the human race, the goal of complete eradication of tuberculosis is actually in sight...

They cost so little—those Christmas seals—and yet they can do so much. Won't you help?

A Glance Backward—

A DECADE AGO (From The Daily Times) Department requests indicated that both the Mamaroneck Town Police and Fire Departments would cost more in 1947 than in 1936...

Col. Joe Bush Says— Col. Joe Bush says that he's glad, when he drags John L. Lewis into court, but it's been our experience that when you want something accomplished in a hurry, the faster you stay away from lawyers and judges...

As we understand it, Lewis is willing to do anything reasonable except order his men back to the mines. Reminds us of the divorce court judge who told the husband that the best thing for him to do was to become reconciled to his wife.

At any rate, different folks have different ambitions. And John L. Lewis will go down in history as the man who turned out the lights on the Christmas tree!

When a man is ready to go out, he puts on his hat and coat, opens the door and walks out. A woman puts on her hat and coat, goes to the kitchen to turn down the gas burner under the stove, slips a button on the coat, straightens the seams on her stockings, pumps up the pillows on the couch, writes a note to stick on the door if the delivery man comes, prings in front of a mirror, runs upstairs to get her purse, turns up the gas burner a little more—and then goes out wondering 'what she's forgot to do before leaving'.

2200 SHIPS PRESERVED By scrapping ships not slated for the active fleet, the Navy could realize less than one percent of their original cost. Instead, the Navy will preserve 2,200 ships at approximately the same cost as the scrap value.

Thanksgiving—

WE said the word "Thanksgiving" dozens of times a year all our lives, but not until we read the plans of three Mamaroneck churches for Thanksgiving morning did the word take on a bright light.

The offering to be received at the Union service to be held at St. John's Lutheran Church next Thursday will go to the people overseas who are in desperate need.

"Thanksgiving. Why don't we just say 'Thanks Day'?" We have thoughtfully appended the word "giving" to the word for generations and most of us have just taken it to mean "giving thanks."

But there is nothing so hollow as a mere verbal giving of thanks—nothing that passes into the ether so quickly and nothing which makes so little impression on the mind.

"Thank you," we say, when somebody holds a door open or passes the salt or picks up our paper. It's one of the most thoughtlessly flipped off words in the language.

But when thanks for some profound gift is deeply felt—it leads to action. It leads to an expressive outpouring of the spirit.

That's what our thanks for a peaceful world should lead to this year. . . actual giving. Giving to help the tortured people all over the world who bore the brunt of the conflict that kept us free and well fed.

We saw someone do a great favor one time for a friend who found it impossible to reciprocate and when he said as much, the man who had done the favor replied, "Forget it! You'll have a chance to do something for somebody else sometime and that'll keep the good deed moving."

We can seldom give material thanks to the people who have saved us from the horrors of war, but we can pass the help to somebody else and keep the good deed moving.

If you cannot be at St. John's Church Thursday when the united congregations meet for their morning service, at least send a contribution to your minister to be put into the collection plate.

Remember there are two parts to the word "Thanksgiving." And each gives the other its real meaning.

Col. Joe Bush Says—

The time to get worried about the coal strike is when a chap by the name of John R. Steilman moves into the picture. John R. is a specialist in surrender to John L. Last time he gave him the closed shop. This time he'll probably give him the whole shop. While what the country wants is to give him the whole shop.

Most people would like really to see in the two soldiers who carried Sewall away out of Montgomery-Ward's office, baggie Lewis the same way into a mine. And the picture would look better if John L. had a pick in each hand.

The Counselor—

Don't Spoil the Party

What chance does a temperance girl have of keeping her convictions if when she is visiting at a house, the hostess serves highballs and no temperance drinks? (Can she be a dud and spoil the party? Or should she enter into the drinking and forget her temperance?)

ANXIOUS. Unless she is naturally a dud, not taking a drink won't make her one. She can either accept the drink without drinking it and forget it on the piano or window sill, or find some bibulous friend who will drink it for her and give her back the empty glass. She can keep her convictions without spoiling the party, if she does not look down her nose at the other guests' conviction that drinking is joyful. Members of Alcoholics Anonymous have been known to be the life of some dripping wet parties!

MARRIED ARE A DEMENT. Can a man who has been discharged from the Marines and has a touch of malaria join the Army?

He can try. Whether the Army takes him depends on the physical examination and the type of malaria. An Army recruiting sergeant admitted, "Being in the Marines would be a benefit rather than a hindrance, because he might have a specialty that would give him an Army rate."

MEOW. How long does it take a cat to have kittens? READER. The gestation period is from 33 to 38 days, or sometimes it runs to 60 days. This was a hard question to get an answer on. Families with female cats were inclined to say, "Our cat seems to have a litter every other week!"

Words of Wisdom
To judge human character rightly, a man may sometimes have very small experience, provided he has a very large heart. —Rivaro.

Hints on Etiquette
At any club, fraternity or house party, formal introductions are not necessary. You are all supposed to be friends and your presence is introduction enough.

Today's Horoscope
If this is the anniversary of your birth, you are kind and generous, upright and capable of great self-sacrifice. You are a favorite among friends and dearly loved by your family. You have a strong magnetic personality and many warm friends. Anger may be a great emotional outlet for you today, but think of the other fellow, too. If you would get ahead under this aspect, give up self-centered

News Behind The News—

BY PAUL MALLON
THE COAL STRIKE—More clinkers than carbon were produced in the coal propaganda dispute which practically obliterated life. Before the courts asked that it was agreed for instance that John Lewis was on sound legal ground and the Government could not detect him. On this or other assumptions, other unions threw forward suggestions for Lewis as the power of the whole union movement was involved. This action was not unmixed with coal gas, it was seemed to be a legal melee.

The obliterated truth behind the master was simply this: The contract forced upon the Government last May by John Lewis specifically provided it covers for the period of Government possession of the mines, which were under Government possession. Anyone however it other party can terminate a contract at will, there is no contract. But the May 29th unanimous coal agreement between Lewis and the Government was specific even to providing for the settlement of disputes. It said upon petition of the miners for adjustment of grievances, the Government would direct the mine operators to put in effect the prevailing grievance procedure in the industry.

This is the agreement of last six months ago, by which the miners won an 18 1/2 cent per hour wage increase ($3.68 a day), a welfare fund tax of five cents a ton on coal, and practically everything else they wanted—after a strike which lost the country 80 million tons and an estimated 18 million tons of steel.

Lewis then said at the White House when he signed the agreement: "This settles for the period of Government operation of the mines, all questions and issues."

What other people then said was that Lewis had forced the Government to take over the mines in order to win extreme demands at a time of a hot congressional campaign. The operators were not even consulted by the Government, although they thoughts and work with others. Deceit may be obvious through-out your environment, so be forewarned and act accordingly.

Why Lewis has gone to such extremes against the Government just at this time, is not quite clear. He may have wanted an other increase through cutting hours. He may have tired of Government operation, but if he had any real grievance he kept it to himself. Possibly also, he read the newspapers and realized the election was going Republican and thought this was a good time to strike against the Democratic Administration. Whatever his motives, they have not yet been clearly developed.

Actually then, Lewis seems to be in an unreasonable if not unjustifiable position. He has been running away with the publicity by brandishing such phrases as the Government "cannot mine coal with bayonets", which mean-still owned the properties. Everything went as Lewis asked.

Now Lewis has terminated his own agreement, which had no provision for termination. He did so under an obscure construction of Paragraph 1 which provided the terms of his previous agreement with the operators would continue in effect, except as changed by an agreement with the Government. This old agreement provided for 10 days notice of negotiation for discontinuance. In other words, he dug back into an obsolete agreement with the operators for justification to discontinue an agreement with the Government without continuing in effect, except as changed by an agreement with the Government.

In doing this Lewis was no longer dealing with the operators whom he had been pushing around for nine previous years. His contract was one which he had forced on his own Government and the non-legal question seemed to be whether Lewis was trying to establish the right to push the Government around as he had the operators. No great moral issue was raised by Lewis. He mentioned only long working hours in some mines in his complaint, but did not reveal his demands. His group also wanted to collect its tax on dirt washed out of the coal. But the only popular question involved, was whether Lewis was bigger than the Government when he signed his own contracts at will, dictating terms, ignoring the Smith-Connally Act on coal strikes, etc.

The other clinkers widely distributed imply Lewis did not call a strike but only terminated the contract so it could happen. A contract without a consent is proposed to be a tradition in the mines. Lewis had another tradition advertised formerly, namely that he never broke a contract. Well, he certainly broke this one. Elimination of responsibility for the strike is purely a technical subterfuge, as everyone knows Lewis is responsible for it.

by sought to cover from public gaze his apparently desperate maneuver to get the mines back from the Government. . . of some similarly undisclosed purpose—a maneuver in which he has assembled the most favorable working contract he ever had, one which would never be accepted by the operators. Frankly, I suspect the other unions have seen the desperation of the Lewis plight and have rushed to his assistance for that reason, because the issue did not really involve any other union right—and could involve the industry, excepting one seized and operated by the Government (meaning practically no one).

Yule Decorations Subject Of Garden Club's Program

Evergreens and red berries, silver and gold-tipped branches and satin ribbons, all the bright trappings of Christmas, used to make attractive holiday decorations for the house, were discussed and demonstrated yesterday at the Mamaroneck Woman's Club house for the Garden Club of Mamaroneck.

"Decorations for the Holidays" was the subject of Mrs. Latimer's talk, featuring an exhibit of photographs of various decorative effects, and an explanation of the techniques to achieve them. She was introduced by Mrs. Richmond S. Barton, program chairman.

Materials for use in making the decorations included many types of evergreens, rhododendron, red-berried holly, boxwood, hawthorn, especially the juliana, leucothoa, which the speaker termed the most graceful of all, junipers, plumosa, arbor vitae and epinephile. She urged constant pruning and cutting back of evergreens, at any time, to ensure strong, new growth.

Artificial red berries, cones large and small, wire frames filled with spagnum moss as a wreath base, tiny spool trees and bells of all sizes among the decorative accessories and methods suggested by Mrs. Latimer. She also demonstrated swags, bias table and mantle decorations for the winter months.

Among her photographs were a variety of wreaths of boxwood, easiest to handle, she noted, Southern huckleberry with sleighbells, a child's wreath with Santa Claus and toys, shellacked ivy with silver bells, juniper and eucalyptus with seed pods, and various types of yule logs.

Need For Increase In Teachers' Pay Told To Council

The need for "immediate cost of living" increases for teachers was described by O. S. Krebber, welfare chairman of the Mamaroneck Teachers Association, at a special meeting of the executive board of the Mamaroneck-Larchmont Parent-Teacher Council yesterday at the home of the president, Mrs. Edward Helwig, 1 Seton Road, Larchmont.

Mr. Krebber graphically demonstrated the rise in cost of living and compared it with teacher salary increases during the last few years. He discussed present day salaries and deductions and stated that it is impossible for teachers to meet their financial responsibilities—teachers are inadequately compensated in terms of present day value of the dollar.

"The Mamaroneck-Larchmont area," Mr. Krebber said, "has been known for its good schools," adding that "salary schedules must be adequate to attract and keep teachers of the high caliber desired by this community."

Members of the executive Council, who had requested Mr. Krebber to give the board the "teacher angle" of the problem, treated the discussion as a round table conference and, through question and answer, gained facts which they will take back to their respective boards.

Among those attending the meeting were Mrs. Helwig, Mrs. Edith Alexander, Mrs. John J. Hillisley, Mrs. Arthur Reuter, Mrs. Earl Nelson, Mrs. Richard Turner, Mrs. Arthur Hamilton, Mrs. John B. Coffinberry, Mrs. W. E. Simpson, Mrs. S. V. Hirschman, Mrs. C. Hubbell, Mrs. H. C. Walker, and Mrs. Philip D. Wesson.

In Brief

A Canadian railroader drove off a car by kicking it in the face. We can't think of a more turning claim to the football season.

Whatever became of that old-fashioned fellow who used to complain that "The Lord" had taken up too much space in his favorite newspaper?

Soon we will have windows which permit the householder to see out but prevent outsiders from seeing in. This is going to be tough on relatives who like to make surprise visits.

Vast spots on the sun were noticed during the recent partial eclipse. Zedok Dumkopf wondered if they were caused by the shadow of our planet, Earth.

Lions and tigers started a fight in a Perion, Ill., zoo. The battle, we understand, was about as exciting as a Columbia-Princeton grid game.

Chile and Argentina may lay joint claim to Antarctica. Leasing of Chile's territory is undisturbed possession of the North Pole.

What, asks a Canadian newspaper, is the pleasure of the old-fashioned family photo album? It has been replaced by the movie taken during vacation and which a guest finds 10 times more boring.
