The President told a news conference the American photographing plane shot down by Soviet fighters off the Japanese coast on Sunday had a right to be where it was, in this country's view. ### FORD INTRODUCES SIX NEW MODELS

Ford's Fairlane models are easily recognized by a sweeping chrome trimline which starts at the top of each front fender at the headlamp and curves downward—then extends horizontally along the side to the tail lights.

Ford for the first time, is offering a choice of three new engines in its 1955 cars:
A high compression V-8 engine of 272 cubic inch displacement and an 85 to 1 compression ratio.
A powerful V-8 back V-8 engine of 212 cubic inch displacement and 8 1/2 to 1 compression ratio.

An improved 6 cylinder I-3 block engine of 223 cubic inch displacement and a 7.5 to 1 compression ratio.
Dual exhausts, which provide extra power, are standard on all Fairlane V-8 and station wagon models.

Most outstanding of the new Fairlane models are the new Crown Victorias which are only 58.2 inches high—4 inches lower than the 1954 Fords. These hard-top models introduce a completely new styling idea—a chrome arch which extends over the top like a targa. One Crown Victoria model has a transparent plastic roof over the driver's compartment while the other has an all-steel roof.

In addition to the two Crown Victorias, the new Fairlane series includes a four-door town sedan and two-door club sedan. Like all the new Fords, the Fairlane models have a flatter hood and lower rear deck. Headlamps give the high fenders a forward-thrust look and rear fenders form a reverse angle above larger tail lamps.

Added to the beauty of the new Fairlane series is a big, curved, "bullet" wrap-around windshield with 1700 square inches of glass area and narrow, set-back corner posts which provide clear, unobstructed vision for driver and passengers.

The Fairlane models offer a broad choice of specially woven plastics, luxurious decorative fabrics and plain and woven vinyls created exclusively for the new Fords. The company's search for new materials covered the entire textile industry and 35 million different developments these new fabrics. Ford also is presenting the new color scheme of exterior colors offered. There are 13 single-tone and 36 two-tone colors.

Contoured seats in the Fairlane sedans are upholstered in metal-threaded nylon with metallic bolsters in harmonizing color and door panels are decorated with modern trim motifs.

The 1955 Fords have a completely new control panel which features a new instrument with transparent hood for daylight illumination mounted on the panel in the driver's direct line of vision and new round control dials for heat and temperature controls, metallic bolsters in harmonizing color and door panels are decorated with modern trim motifs.

Harrison Gridders Hand Winless Panthers 19-13 Loss In Finale

Bellows' 4th-Quarter Surge Halted On One As 0-7 Season Ends

A yard and 30 seconds away from preventing a completely unsuccessful campaign, the 7-2 Bellows gridders failed to capitalize on this opportunity as Harrison's Huskies stymied the threat to top a 19-13 decision yesterday at the Daniel Warren Field.

The setback was the seventh in as many starts for the Panthers, and by far the most disappointing one. All other contests had been so unexciting that their outcomes were no longer in doubt after five or ten plays.

Yesterday, however, BHS was in contention to the end. A charitable second stanza had erased its 7-0 margin, and enabled the Huskies to register three touchdowns while compiling a 19-7 halftime lead. This charity was never repeated in full.

The junior varsity passing combination of Hoyce Eberwein and Lee Lyon got Bellows back into the game with a four-play 71-0 TD which narrowed the score to 19-13.

Panthers Roll Again
After Harrison fumbled near midfield with three minutes remaining in the tilt, Vin Coccolini scored many yards to spark what apparently would be the last scoring bid for the Panthers. Eberwein clicked with a 137-4 aerial to Lyon, and Bellows had first and ten situation on the forward slope with approximately 31 seconds remaining. Nemo Brady, who had opened the game as left tackle, sliced off nine yards from his half-back position to move the leader to the one. There was time for one more running play as the Panthers hurried from their huddle and into their split formation.

Brady swept wide this time, but the Harrison line broke through to spill him on the eleven. The final whistle sounded before the Panthers were able to execute another play.

Harrison took a knee in the opening kickoff and marched 55 yards to the three, where a Jolting tackle produced a fumble which was recovered by John Frenkel of Bellows. Quarterback Ken Bedenbaugh slipped away for a brilliant 45-yard run which moved the piskin to the Harrison 47-yard line. The teams exchanged possession, with Bellows taking over on the Harrison 39-yard line.

Bedenbaugh heaved a 57-yard aerial to Pete Diamond who raced 15 yards before being knocked out of bounds on the one. The Harrison line held for three plays, forcing Bellows to take to the air on the fourth play. Ben Sadoi did some intonation work as Bedenbaugh converted, and Bellows led the first time in the second period, Harrison recovering. Two plays advanced the leader to the ten, from where Vin Niccia connected with a paydirt to Harrison. The PAT failed, and Bellows still was ahead.

Coccolini, however, made the lead short-lived, intercepting a short pass on the 40 and breaking loose to his second touchdown.

Stevens recovered the point and the score to 19-7.

Reaching the culmination of charity, the Panthers again found a Harrison player with an aerial this time it was Niccia, and he promptly galloped 37 yards for the Huskies' third touchdown. The extra point was missed, but Harrison had a 19-7 lead.

Third-period activity developed into a tacking duel, neither being able to move with any consistency.

With Eberwein and Lyon sparking the drive, the Panthers all pulled the game out in the final period. The duo was instrumental in Bellows advancing 47 yards in eight plays, Eberwein hitting Lyon with a 44-yard pass in paydirt. The PAT was blocked.

Harrison was unable to move, and the Panthers retained, and the Huskies progressed to midfield before fumbling and setting the stage for the Panthers yard-short drive.

The results:
Bellows 19

Army Leads In Nation On Yards Gained

NEW YORK (AP)—You can argue about how the 1954 Army team compares to the Great War teams of 1914-18, but not even the Branch-Davis teams of that era outclassed their opposition by as big a statistical margin as the present Cadets, official NCAA Service Bureau figures showed today.

No. 1 in total offense and in rushing offense, Army has an average gain of 43.4 yards a play, which is 5.7 yards a game better than runner-up Mississippi's 38.6.

Included in the present West 40-yard field against previously-beaten Yale last Saturday, 438 against Duke and 344 against Michigan.

Eleven times Army has gone a third of the field or more—33 yards—for a touchdown.

Army has more total yardage in seven games than the No. 2 team has in eight, 3,174 to Michigan's 3,165. The Cadets' edge is more modest in rushing, 629 to 507.1 for UCLA and 536 for Colorado.

UCLA is tops in scoring, averaging 41.6 points a game. Army is second with 38.6 followed by Arizona with 38.3, Wichita State, Boston U. and...

Gary Glick, Colorado Star, Week's Back

By The Associated Press
It isn't unusual to raise a football player as a "one-man team," but quarterback Gary Glick of Colorado A&M came across as close as possible to earning that designation against Utah last Saturday.

Glick, rated the top all-purpose player with a perfect right hand, played almost the entire game with a painful right hand, which was stepped on early in the contest.

Here's what the 193-pound junior did as the Aggies upset Utah, the defending Skyline Conference champion 14-13:

Scored all his team's points, making a final 11-yard run for the second touchdown with a quick cutback after being hounded in. Kicked the winning point with 55 seconds left to play.

Smashed through the Utah line to block Lou Mele's extra point kick after the second tie touchdown — the point that made the difference in the game.

Passed for 63 yards in 15 attempts; ran for 46 yards in 15 rushes; and led all the defensive players with 15 tackles.

Intercepted a Utah desperation pass on his own 15 yard line as the final run sounded.

150 Confer in Rye Neck

Informing Public On Issues Held Schools' First Problem

The effective presentation of important school issues to all residents of the community was the first problem of the Rye Neck school system, during an eight-member panel discussion attended by 150 persons at the Belknap High School auditorium.

A recommendation that a public information committee of officials and laymen be appointed by the School Board to cope with the problem was offered as a possible solution by Mrs. Lewis H. Donaldson, who said the committee should be financed by PTA and community organizations rather than by the School Board.

Each of the speakers presented a different approach during the initial discussion of the Rye Neck Schools Community Council program commencing the 14th American Education Week. The program on the theme "Working Together for Better Schools" was sponsored by the Daniel Warren and Betty A. Allen PTA units and the Belknap Community Club.

Following opening talks, the meeting adjourned to separate rooms where panel discussions were held. The group then returned for a summary of the discussions.

Best None Too Good

Dr. Gerhard Wiebe, research psychologist for CBS radio, keynoted the program with a dramatic plea that the schools have to offer is none too good for today's children.

"We tell the student to get what little we can give you and then go out and face the world," he said, adding that the school has not been taught to know the important issues and how to cope with them.

Acting Judge Francis Auletta asked whether the student being prepared adequately to take his place in the world that he will willingly assume the duties and responsibilities of a good citizen.

"Good citizenship is no accident," said Judge Auletta, "it is created by the interplay of many social, political, economic and psychological forces as they affect the student."

The history and background of the citizen education program, suggested by President Eisenhower when he headed Columbia University, was presented by Mrs. Wilma Jubert, 8th and 9th grade social studies teacher at Belknap High School.

The close relationship built between the student and the community while carrying out CEP work in Rye Neck during the three years the projects have been in effect was cited by Mrs. Jubert as indicative of the worth of the program, and she said that Rye Neck schools won in 1951 the Valley Forge Freedom Award for student participation in a project explaining the political system to community members.

New World, New Student

Richard Goodrich, 8th grade teacher at the Daniel Warren School, explained that teachers today are faced with the student of a more complex world to which tremendous changes have been and are taking place.

"Business is no longer as the arts," reported Herbert Lavery, secretary of the National Association of Parents and Teachers, who spoke on "A Common Sense of Supply."

Mr. Lavery explained the great complexity of modern business and its attendant associations as reasons for the establishment of a community CEP for the purpose of educating students in preparing for future work.

Leonard Chase, president of Betty Lee Products Corp. of Manassas, said that local service organizations and local industry can share community work.

Graham-Talbot's Forum Program

Center Edward Graham of the Larchmont Temple will give a program entitled "New Methods in Old Modes" at a Temple Lecture on Tuesday at 8:30 P. M. Preceding the forum program, Rabbi Leonard Schofer and Cantor Graham will conduct services, assisted by William J. Bentley, at the forum.

Cantor Graham will sing and instruct the congregation in new melodies for possible Temple use during his recital.

He attended New York University Music School and the New York College of Music for two years and was graduated from the Hebrew Union School of Sacred Music. He was a soloist in the St. Louis and the Albany choral societies.

who picked up the card. And so the magic goes round and round.

In other words: Contact men sold the "magic cards" for $2 to $30 and up. Such a card instructed the holder to contact a certain person, usually a woman, and to sell her one of the "magic cards" in case of further encounters with the law.

The cards purportedly accomplished two things: the first collection was somewhat less than the second, and it protected the chronic violator.

Mr. Halford said Bennett had bank books showing deposits of some $70,000 in the past few years.

Bennett's attorney has promised that the client would "sell" all his assets in connection with the racket if his client's bail should be reduced.

Kings County Judge Samuel S. Lebowitz said that if Bennett keeps the promise the court will reconsider the amount of bail when the Brooklyn Grand Jury reconvenes tomorrow.

CRASH WITH PARKED CAR INJURES DRIVER

A driver was slightly injured and two cars were damaged yesterday when one car crashed into a parked car on 30th Street, Manassas.

Roger Thomas, 501 30th Street, New Rochelle, suffered a bruise on his left leg when the car was struck by Dr. Robert Sanders. His stepson, Donald Russell, nine, riding in the front seat with him, was uninjured.

Mr. Thomas told police he was heading west on Palmer Avenue and did not see the parked car owned by Mrs. Katherine Diamond on Palmer Avenue. He struck its left rear side. The front end of his car was smashed and his car was pushed into the rear fender, wheel, bumper and front fender.

"A summons was issued for Sanders for driving without a license."

New Weapons

vegetation. They can abolish in a single night not only an army, but only a nation, but a whole civilization.

Mr. Talbot did not explain which particular weapons he had in mind. He apparently referred to the new hydrogen weapons which, in addition to a tremendous blast and fire damage area, can spread radioactive poison over a large zone.

In addition, there has been speculation that by including the element of cobalt in the hydrogen bomb, contamination capable of destroying all life for hundreds or thousands of miles could be produced.

Awful Power Described

Mr. Talbot said that in his official position he has "intimate knowledge of these weapons."

"Some of them are of such awful power that even the men who build them cannot fully visualize their use. This is not the time or place to dwell upon them, but I will state succinctly that one of these weapons can assure the destruction of all the bombing done by all the nations in the last world war."

The trouble, Mr. Talbot said, is with man, not the weapons. He said he believed that man is "however ingenious, which destroys except at the command of man."

"Through the ages," he added, "man in great danger have sought inspiration from a source higher than themselves, at one time or another. I see of modern ages of degradation and I believe that mankind needs the ancient guidance and compassion of religion."

He said he believed that the government that deals in ruthlessness in criticism and godless propaganda can long endure. It is not that we, or any nation, can face the overwhelming changes of the atomic age and emerge free, without the guidance of the wisdom that only God can give to mankind.

Veterans

at the Honor Roll in Station Park. Following blasts on the Larchmont and Town of Manassas fire whistles, the Rev. Thomas McCrover gave the invocation, followed by an address by Commander Carey.

He stated that it is proper that this day be dedicated to men who have fought for this country from the Revolution to the Korean War. They returned to their homes and participated in veterans organizations.

In the Summer of 1943 the world entered the atomic age. Years later, it is pointed out, Russia exploded the first atomic bomb, and "its bombing thrust marked the beginning of America's vulnerability in the atomic age."

In an emergency, Commander Carey continued, every able-bodied man will be called upon to serve on duty. The American Legion, he pointed out, has prepared for universal military training for 34 years, and in 1955 commenced a program.

The service was closed with a benediction by Father McGovern.

"It is fitting," Mr. Pulcher said, "that this ceremony be held today because the trees have been present of the memory of veterans who have sacrificed their lives in the service of their country. One such has been presented just today by a widow of a Korean War veteran."

He praised the enthusiasm that resulted in the planting of the trees and praised Mrs. Harvey Conover, president of the Manassas Advisory Council, and Mrs. Clarence Litchfield, his chairman, for their "enthusiasm and spontaneous program."

In introducing Mr. Pulcher, Mrs. Conover stated that the trees have been presented by 13 organizations, 22 businessmen and 193 citizens. On behalf of the Manassas Advisory Council she said that they have contributed generously, and all who cooperated in the undertaking. She paid special tribute to the Manassas Village Board which agreed to plant and maintain them.

In response, Mayor Doyle expressed the thanks of the Village Board to the Advisory Council, the Chamber of Commerce and all who have participated in the program. The accomplishment of your program," he said, "is a symbol of the spirit of cooperation found in our friendly village."

Prior to the presentation of the certificate Susan McKelvey sang five civil war songs and a poem "Trees" by Joyce Kilmer.

QUANTY BUDGET UP $4 MILLION; TAX RATE DOWN

Hopkins Asks $34 Million; Value Gain Reduces Rate 11 Cents

A county budget of $24,135,783 for 1953 was proposed today by County Executive James D. Hopkins in a message to the Board of Supervisors. Despite a $4 million increase in spending over this year's budget, a $12 million jump in assessed values has permitted a 11-cent drop in the tax rate.

Assessed values have reached an all-time high in the county at $2,004,000, Mr. Hopkins pointed out. Exclusion of districts valued at $3,823,432 and a $7 million increase in the value of the county's real estate has brought total assessed gross value up to $4,569,417 and a net of $4,671,944.

Anticipated revenues of $11,689,106 applied against the budget leave $13,746,678 to be raised by real estate taxes for county and state purposes. The tax rate will be $5.35 per $100 of assessed value compared with this year's $5.47.

WATKINS HIT A 'DERELICT' BY 'PARTY'

STERILITY CITED IN SHEPPARD CASE

Policeman Tells Jury Of Rumor; Illegitimacy Knowledge Denied

CLEVELAND (AP)—A suburban policeman testified today at the murder trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard that he once heard a rumor the young otologist's path was sterile.

Under questioning by Sheppard's chief counsel, William J. Corrigan, Dr. Fred Drenthak denied, however, that he ever heard other police say Sheppard was a seven-year-old son, who was illegitimate.

Dr. Drenthak of Sheppard's suburb, Bay Village, was the first policeman to examine the Sheppard home the morning the otologist's wife, Marilyn, was shot to death in her bed.

Mr. Corrigan was cross-examined by Dr. Drenthak for the second day, seeking to shake the story that so far as he could tell, the otologist's wife had been murdered in the Sheppard home in Bay Village.

Mr. Sheppard's husband, William J. Sheppard, Jr., was a member of the Ohio State Bar Association. The state says Sheppard murdered his wife during a quarrel over Susan Hayes, a hospital technician, and other women.

Dr. Drenthak was questioned Saturday by Mr. Slater and Douglas L. McGuire, Assistant District Attorney, after Bernard S. Silver, Kings County District Attorney, asked his appearance before the jury.

Mr. Falte declined to say what was learned from the questioning, other than it sought to determine any knowledge on the part of the policeman with the alleged fact.

Dr. Sulick, unimpaired and a member of the Parkway Police since August, 1951, as a motorcycle policeman, Mr. Slater said, was assigned to duty on Nov. 10, 1951, at various County Parkway Police stations.

Mr. Slater said no date has been set for any departmental hearing of the officer.

Rate Slips Down On Equalization

Schools Seen As Benefited By New Tentative Tables

The tentative equalization rate for 1954 real estate assessments worked out by the New York State Board of Equalization and Assessments for the Town of Mamaroneck is 90 as compared to 96 for 1953, according to tables for New York State forms released Friday.

In a memorandum accompanying the tentative rate tables, the board stated that the decrease in town equalization rates will result in more revenue being available to these towns generally over their next five fiscal years.

The board also has a debt limit of $100,000 for the town of Mamaroneck, according to the memorandum states, "but (Turn to Page 2, please)"

In proclaiming this week as Retarded Children's Week, Mayor Joseph P. Casavola yesterday called upon residents to support the local campaign for funds to improve the facilities and services for the retarded.

"As Mayor of the Village of Larchmont, I hereby proclaim the week of November 14-23, as Retarded Children's Week. Let us pledge our support and understanding so that these forgotten children need no longer be overlooked by our schools and social problem."

"Our local chapter of the National Association for Retarded Children should be commended for its efforts in bringing before the general public the essential facts about mental retardation, and for inspiring public cooperation for a broad, concerted attack upon this major and social problem."

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE By Shepard Barclay "The Authority on Authorities"

MUST READ HIS MIND
IN ORDER to fathom the card-holding of a particular player—be it your partner or an opponent—you sometimes just read the mind of a particular player. Why did he do this and not that? Would he have done that if he had only a certain number of cards in a particular suit? Or would he have done this or that to even consider such a play? In effect, you must just yourself in his position and decide what kind of holding would have been necessary for you to do as he did.

(Dealer: North, East-West vulnerable.)
North East South West
1♣ 3NT
Many a good player, with that weak South hand, would have passed and left his partner in the 1 Diamond. Not this chap, however, who rates himself a cerebral and sound card player while not considering his opponents of the moment anything special. It developed that he had to make good use of his meager assets and of his defender's ineptitude.
Noung only two sure entries to his own holding, he decided to use them for trying diamond finesses, so left the opening club 3 bids to his J. The diamond 10 finesse led to the Q and his club A took the return. Now the diamond J finesse worked, the A raised the K and want the new 25-year retirement plan for its police and firemen.

Another increase is an appropriation of $1,000 for the newly formed Planning Commission, an item which was passed after discussion as to whether the commission should receive an additional $1,000 for preparation of land use and street maps.
Mr. Mandeville, however, stated that such maps could be prepared in the town office.
New Equipment
Following the pay-as-you-go plan Mr. Mandeville proposed the purchase of a new ladder, three-inch pump, hand sprayer, and portable generator for the Highway Department at a cost of $9,273 and an appropriation of $2,281 for a new garbage truck equipped with a load-packer body.

Councilman Peter P. Kane Jr. questioned whether such equipment costs could not be spread over a period of two or three years, and Mr. Mandeville explained that many items of equipment are purchased each year but not all equipment is "it so happens," Mr. Mandeville said, "that this year we were to spread payment of these for some years and next year spread payment for capital equipment in some other department over a couple of years we would come out the same in the end."
Another capital expense proposition of $2,500 for the purchase of equipment for the Fire Department and Mr. Mandeville stated that a policy of partial replacement each year has been instituted.
"We cannot afford," he said, "to gamble with old and outdated tools and other necessary equipment required to properly protect our citizens. Here are our property."
Engineering Drop
The Engineering Department, in one of the few decreases in the budget, was dropped, and an item of $1,000 for engineering services on a fee basis was transferred to the miscellaneous budget and $4,400 for a junior engineering aide was transferred to the Town Office budget.
Placing the services on a fee basis saves $7,500 for a town engineer, Mr. Mandeville pointed out and an additional $100 for fees and engineering supplies.
It was also suggested that the justices of the peace use the courtroom at police headquarters rather than hold hearings and trials in other places and thus eliminate courtroom rent and allied expenses.
Budget Summary
In his summary of the budget Mr. Mandeville stated in part: "The proper compensation to be paid our employees is still the most difficult one we face. It is our conviction that we have employees of very high caliber who serve our community in a manner second to none and whose ability, loyalty and devotion to their tasks must be recognized.
The great majority of our employees have served us for a very great number of years and the experience they have obtained over this period is one of our most valuable assets to us. We must take into consideration the fact that we are in one of the highest and most competitive labor markets in the State. Our population is approximately 30 per cent in the peak 10 years. In order to provide service to the Town, these additional men are a necessity."

By SOPHIA PERRY
WHITE PLAINS—Principal emphasis in the 29th Eastern States antique fair, which opened yesterday at the County Center, is on Americana, but items from other countries are to be found in the show. The doors are open from 1 to 11 P. M. and the show closes at 6 P. M. Saturday.

An 18th Century apple press is shown by Mrs. Joan Morris of White Plains, who specializes in brasses, coppers hardware and china.
Cooking methods of Colonial times are recalled by the Dutch oven, shown by Mrs. Virginia Lee N. Wood of Quawtuck, Conn.
The show contains a large assortment of early American furniture and furnishings. Many of the pieces shown this year are in "the rough", in the current do-it-yourself trend. The purchaser is thus able to refinish the piece himself.
A blacksmith bellows, converted into a coffee table for use in the modern home furnished on a Colonial theme, is shown by Robert C. Eldred of Cape Cod. Also in this display is a chippendale kneeable desk with original finish. It is fitted with a dressing drawer for men. The desk has one long drawer and six small drawers.
Mr. Eldred is also showing scrimshaw engraving on ivory, done in the first half of the 19th Century.
Country Center Antiques of New York is showing the traditional item of cobblers' benches converted into coffee tables.
Mary Allen of Southampton, Conn., is showing a Christmas tree, decorated with authentic ornaments. The tree is also trimmed with a silver medal ordered through

County Baker Loses $440 In N. Y. Holdup

NEW YORK (AP) — A bake shop owner, Alexander Pines, was robbed of $440 he was taking to deposit in a bank yesterday by two men who got into his car, forced him to drive a short distance and then got out.

Mr. Pines, thirty-five, who operates the City Lane Bake Shop at 470 White Plains Road, the Bronx, and lives at 39 Laurel Place, Yonkers, said he had just gotten into his automobile parked near the bakery when two other men got in also, one sitting beside him, the other on the back seat.

Hands shoved in their pockets as if they had guns, they told him: "This is a stickup, start driving."

At 260th Street and Bronx Boulevard they ordered him to stop the car, then got out and walked north. The car had been driven north. Then they drove off, Mr. Pines told police.

County Costs Increase For Handicapped

WHITE PLAINS—Increased costs of aid to physically handicapped children require a $33,000 transfer from surplus to this year's budget, the Board of Supervisors was told yesterday.

After Supervisor John H. Downing of Yorktown Budget Committee chairman, explained there has been an increase in children requiring care and expenses have jumped over estimates, the board unanimously approved the shift of funds.

Mr. Downing said that statistics show an increase of more than 17 per cent in the number of cases requiring aid, and an increase of 24 per cent in costs, largely due to higher charges for hospitalization.

CED Backs Extension Of Reciprocal Trade

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Committee for Economic Development, a private research organization of business leaders, today urged a five-year extension of the reciprocal trade program and a policy of "gradual and selective tariff reductions."

The CED issued a policy statement last night in the main support of President Eisenhower's foreign trade proposals. In some respects, the CED went further than Mr. Eisenhower, who has asked Congress to cancel the Trade Agreements Act for only three years and to grant him broader tariff-cutting powers.

Law to End in June
Mr. Eisenhower settled this year for a one-year extension of the old reciprocal trade program without change when it became apparent Congress would not take up his recommendations at its legislative session then drawing toward a close.

Tariff Swaps Proposed
The President should be authorized, CED said, to reduce import duties by up to 5 per cent a year and to swap tariff cuts for "other kinds of benefits" such as removal of quotas or port limitations on U.S. goods or concessions to American investors abroad.

Mr. Eisenhower asked Congress for authority to cut tariffs by as much as 5 per cent a year

The towns where dreams come true

TODAY'S A BIG DAY IN FLINT, MICHIGAN.
For, of a Flint assembly line, in all its bright beauty of modern line and contour, rolls the fifty millionth car built by General Motors in the U. S. A.

No wonder Flint has closed all schools for the day. And crowds line the street to cheer a huge parade honoring the big event.

After all — this is an achievement without parallel in history.

It's something the people of Flint can understand. They saw it happen. They helped it happen. So it's something that they can celebrate with pride.

But this is something that also calls for celebration in all manner of other towns and cities, spread across the landscape from coast to coast.

Not just in GM plant cities — although in all of them there will be open house for the families and friends and townsmen of our 473,000 employees.

This could well be called an occasion for open house to all America. For an automobile is made up of more than 17,000 separate pieces and parts, and the making of one obscure little part, such as a bushing or gasket or fastener, can become the basis for a thriving local business.

So — throughout the length and breadth of the land — are thousands of independent manufacturers who have shared in making this celebration possible.

In another Midwest village, a supplier of molded rubber parts for GM cars has grown from 70 to 600 employees, with a current payroll of $2,600,000.

In another town, two men cleaned out a barn, installed war surplus machines bought with borrowed money, and started making "fasteners" for General Motors. At last report, their volume of business had climbed to more than $3,000,000 a year, with GM their principal customer.

And so it goes — from an electrical manufacturer in California, to a textile mill in Georgia, or a tack factory in New Hampshire.

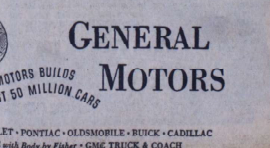

Fact is, the roll call of those who shared in the building of our first 50 million cars and trucks includes more than 21,000 businesses, engaged in supplying materials and parts to 121 GM plants throughout the country. And beyond those 21,000 direct suppliers are countless thousands of other businesses which are in turn suppliers to them.

But we still haven't taken account of the raw materials, such as asbestos from Arizona, bauxite from Arkansas, beeswax from Wisconsin, copper from Montana, flux from Minnesota, manganese from Tennessee, sulphur from Louisiana, tin from South Dakota, tung oil from Florida, tungsten from Nevada, wheat straw from Nebraska — something, in truth, from every state in the union.

Nor have we mentioned the 18,000 local businessmen, our GM car and truck dealers, and their 200,000 employees, who sell and service the vehicles GM factories have produced.

So it's a big day in Flint — and a big day in every town where men with practical dreams, and the courage it takes to make dreams come true — continue to make this a better land to live in.

Our thanks go out to them, and to the spirit they represent, for making this big day possible.

Children Hurry From School If Homecoming Is Pleasant

"I'm having trouble with my thirteen-year-old son. He is a good boy as boys go but he doesn't come home from school promptly. It doesn't matter what I say. His teacher says he is good in school and always obeys cheerfully. Why doesn't he come home then? I have two other children and I need his help."

Make his homecoming pleasant. I have noticed that children do not come home promptly when they feel there is something to go home for—for them. Few thirteen-year-old children have the maturity to enable them to think of other people first. That comes in time and through experience.

Each boy and girl has his own set of values. Most of them are closely related to themselves. Their wants and their feelings are the first and foremost. If they know that waiting for them at home will be something good to eat, if they can take a friend along to share it, they will lose no time getting there.

Children work hard in school. After a session of study and work they are tired in mind and body. A misunderstanding on this can cause friction between parents and school children.

When a pupil is released from the pressure of a school day he must relax. He needs to stretch his body; fill his lungs with fresh air and get the taste of school out of his mouth. He is not in a mood to run home to wash a stack of dishes or do the errands.

Of course there are chores that he must and should do but they can wait their turn. A child's attitude toward his home is more important than any chore. Home should be a place to come back to and unless the memories connected with homecoming are pleasant there will be no such feeling.

Maybe the thought of the sympathy and affection that waits for him is pulling him home. Maybe the memory of his pet waiting at the gate or the cheerful orderly room that is his refuge is uppermost in his mind. Maybe it is his mother's face and her welcoming smile that give speed in his feet.

If he is met by "Where have you been? What kept you? I've plenty for you to do," he is not going to strike fire on the stones getting home.

Shipping Birthday Proves A Complete Day

New that it is more than two weeks behind me and I can view it with amusement. I should like to announce that never again will I earnestly pre-empt my closest friends to covert my birthday.

In advance this seemed like an excellent idea. I was sure I wanted my birthday to be like any other day of the year. If not one else remembered it, I realized, I wouldn't have my usual unobtrusive thoughts about the creeping years, 50, for weeks.

Maybe I felt the way I did because I came from a long line of people who were sentimental about birthdays and the creeping years, 50, for weeks. I variably made a fuss. My mood, or used to say that birthdays are especially one's own, while Christmas and Thanksgiving are for everybody. She always fixed an especially good dinner with our favorite charitable ruse for dessert and waiting at the table was the one present each of us had looked for.

Perhaps it is just as well that one friend did forget this year. She has lately fallen in love an Army surplus store and she's been showering her friends with such fascinating-to-her things as sleeping bags, knitted wooden handwarmers, leather and cloth windbreakers, storm coas, reversed gait boots and other gear usually found in the luggage of arctic explorers.

She's not the only person I know who pinches herself by her sits. I have a weakness for a particular brand of bath oil which has a rather heavy, long-lasting, feminine fragrance. I never buy it for myself and my sister is well-known to my friends. But for six years regularly (until this birthday) another friend has given me another brand that I detest and never use. It just occurs to me that I might and

Extra-Special Menus For Christmas Week

With the holiday season rapidly approaching, thoughts turn to Christmas week menu plans, with emphasis on that extra-special menu which has found favor in the family over the years.

Such a recipe is that for steamed pudding, a traditional Christmas dessert at the Frank W. Wilmarth home, 30 Beechtree Drive, in Mrs. Wilmarth's mother's family. The steamed pudding is one of the most inexpensive and best-tasting items in Mrs. Wilmarth's festive cookery file. It serves 20 to 25 people, she says, and costs so little to make it is bound to be a welcome addition to anyone's file, these days of high costs. It can also be made ahead of time and reheated, another important asset.

Ingredients are as follows: one cup of flour, one half cup of chopped raisins, one half cup of molasses, one half teaspoon of salt, one half cup each of raisins and currants, one half cup of milk, one half teaspoon of soda, one teaspoon each of cinnamon and cloves, one fourth teaspoon of nutmeg, and three fourths of a teaspoon of ginger.

Mix stout with flour, raisins, currants and spices, and add to the first mixture. Add milk and fill greased mold half full, steaming for three and a half hours. Serve hot with hard sauce or creamy sauce, depending on the family's taste.

Mrs. Kurt Offenberger, whose walnut cake found an admiring audience last week, contributes two more recipes this week, having taken the trouble to translate her Viennese measurements into English for the benefit of our cosmopolitan cooks!

Spinach Roll
An unusual first course, which Mrs. Offenberger calls a spinach roll, or omelet, was high praise whenever served. It requires one cup of milk, three eggs, one package of frozen spinach, strained, two tablespoons of flour and one quarter of a stick of butter. Heat half the milk and stir flour with the other half of the milk (cold), until smooth. Then add the mixture to the hot milk, stirring well. When cold, add six pieces and about a half teaspoon of Parmesan cheese. Take the spinach, boiled in salt water, and butter and add the entire mixture to three egg whites beaten stiff in a covered pan in lined with tinfoil, buttered and floured. In a very hot preheated oven and bake ten minutes on a low flame. Roll immediately and fill with cut up chicken or beef (left overs do very well) fried with butter, onion and an egg. This also makes an excellent luncheon dish, and is most attractive when garnished with stewed tomatoes.

"Gypsy Head"
The "gypsy head" is a pot roast, a popular Hungarian dish. Take a pot roast of approximately four pounds, and cut along the meat, not across it! makes three deep cuts more than half way through the meat. Roll bacon slices in paper and insert one or two into each cut, fastening a cord around the roast. Try one slice in Crisco with an onion, salt and turn. Add a cup of hot bouillon and place the meat in a covered pan in a 400 oven for two hours, basting often. Take it out of the oven for five to eight minutes. Now take the beef bones and fry them well in Crisco with an onion and a tablespoon of sour cream, decorating with two or three cloves punched into bay leaves, add bouillon and let simmer for half an hour. Combine the meat juice and boil with half a tablespoon of cornstarch, diluted with a ¼ cup of cold water, and add to gravy.

Something different in the way of a vegetable dish is the recipe of Mrs. Anshah Citron of 200 High View Street, Mamaroneck. It is simplicity itself, and produces a mouth-watering result. Slice half a pound of mushrooms thin, and saute in butter with one package of frozen peas.

Butter cookies that will keep fresh from now right through the holiday season are the recommendation of Mrs. Rufus K. Alton of 74 Lehigh Lane, Larchmont, who has not only her own child to keep well satisfied, but a group of Larchmont Camp Fire Girls as well.

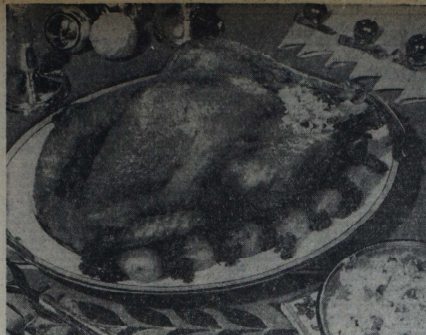

Mrs. Alton's tasty recipe is for Mexican Wedding Cakes. For four dozen cakes, the necessary ingredients are one-half cup butter, one cup sifted all-purpose flour, one-half cup finely chopped pecans, one-quarter cup confectioner's sugar and one teaspoon vanilla.

First cream the butter with sugar. Add the flour gradually, beating well after each addition. Add nuts and vanilla, blending well, shape the latter into crescent and place on an ungreased cookie sheet. Bake in slow oven for 15 to 18 minutes.

Another of Mrs. Alton's old stand-by favorites is brownies, which she makes with one cup sugar, one-half cup melted butter, two eggs, two squares un-sweetened chocolate, one teaspoon vanilla, two-thirds cup flour, a pinch of salt and one cup of coarsely chopped nuts. Add the sugar and beaten eggs to a saucepan in which the butter and chocolate have been melted together. The flour, sifted with salt, is now added, and then the chopped nuts. Cut in brownie squares and bake in a 300 degree oven for thirty minutes.

ers were stuffed, ripe and green. The boys really ate Thanksgiving day at the U. S. Naval Training Center, Bainbridge, Md., according to a menu sent by Commissaryman Raymond C. Dahlgren, son of Mrs. John W. Dahlgren of 216 Jensen Avenue, Mamaroneck. His service includes a tour of duty in the eastern Mediterranean and at the Yorktown, Va. Naval Base.

TIP ON ANGELFOOD
When you use an electric mixer in making angel food cake, beat the egg whites with the mixer at high speed until they are stiff enough to stand in peaks but not dry. Mix the sugar into the egg whites with the mixer on low speed; but fold the flour into the egg-sugar mixture with a spatula or wide spoon.

QUICK, EASY, light-as-a-feather rice stuffing is not only a happy choice for the pictured turkey but will provide a welcome change and "accessory" for other birds, meats and fish on the Fall into Spring menu.
