China Puts Gold Yuan On 20 to $1 U.S. Basis

NANKING, (AP) — The Chinese Government tonight increased the rate of its "Gold Yuan" money 20 to the U. S. dollar, from four to the dollar.

The revision was ordered in an effort to halt economic collapse. The gold yuan has fallen to nearly 40 to the U. S. dollar in the past few days.

The gold yuan was adopted Aug. 19 to replace the old yuan dollar which had blummeted from 2,500 to $1, in 1946, to about 13,000,000 to the U. S. dollar.

CHEST DIRECTORS PLAN FOLLOW-UP DRIVE FOR $5,000

Board Members to Solicit 1,500 Prospects In Try To Attain Goal

With collections in the Mamaroneck Community Chest campaign still almost $5,000 below the $22,367 goal, the Board of Directors last night took steps to reach the quota by Nov. 29 through the solicitation of 1,500 residents who could not be contacted during the one-day drive on Oct. 24.

The directors, meeting in the municipal building, decided to work with the captains in each district on a follow - up drive which will cover all residents who have not yet contributed.

An additional $2,827 has been collected since the one-day drive, bringing the present total to $17,900, which includes $371 in pledges. It was reported by Executive Director Everett T. Houghton.

With collection percentagers running about the same as last year, it was estimated that about 2,900 of the 4,400 prospective contributors have been solicited, leaving about 1,500 still to be contacted for gifts. Stormy weather and the fact that many residents were not at home when the workers called on Oct. 24 were believed largely responsible for the failure to reach this year's goal on time. After confering with captains, the following directors will canvass the unsolicited prospective contributors and report back at a Board of Directors meeting scheduled for Nov. 29:

District 1—Frank Rigano and Earl Nelson; District 2 — Mrs. Rose Constantini and Babriel Wendel; District 3 — William Johnson; District 4—H. W. Blackerill; District 5—Mrs. John Spader and Mrs. E. B. Ingraham; District 6 — Emerson O. Heyworth; District 7 — Mrs. R. A. Savage

BREWERY STRIKE PEACE HOPE RISES

N. Y. Labor Director Sees 'Solution In Progress' In 28-Day Tieup

NEW YORK, (AP)—The city's prolonged beer drought may soon be over.

Theodore W. Kheel, director of the City's Division of Labor Relations, today announced that international representatives of the CIO United Brewery Workers and the Brewers Board of Trade had reached an agreement which he believed "would constitute a satisfactory and equitable basis" for settlement of a 29-day-old strike. It must be ratified by the membership.

Seven breweries and four distributing plants in the city now are tied up by a rank-and-file strike in protest against a stepped-up delivery time schedule.

Individual settlements have been effected since 3,000-odd drivers and helpers struck originally against a dozen breweries and the distributing plants.

The seven major breweries said at a press conference yesterday that they had unsuccessfully offered to submit the dispute to an impartial arbitrator. They said their overtures had been blocked by one man, whom they declined to name.

The brewers said they had made a five-point offer, including provisions that the delivery time schedule would be discontinued pending a decision by the arbitrator, and that all the men would be reemployed without discrimination.

Breweries still struck are Ruppert, Schaefer, Liebmann, Piel, Trommer, Burke and Rubsam and Horrmann.

Britain, U. S. Wrecked Berlin Pact, U. N. Told

PARIS, (AP)—Russia charged anew today that Britain and the United States wrecked attempts to end the Berlin deadlock.

In an angry speech, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky told the 58-member United Nations Political Committee:

"We were told if we took one step in the Berlin question, then international confidence would prevail. We did take that step, —but it was wrecked."

Vishinsky said Britain and the United States "simply crossed out and pigeon-holed" agreements with Russia in Moscow on the Berlin deadlock, as well as agreements reached at Yalta in 1945.

ARTHUR BOUTON DIES SUDDENLY

Former State, County Head Of Legion Was on Way Home From Meeting

SCARSDALE — Arthur G. Bouton, former county and state commander of the American Legion and Scarsdale highway commissioner for 24 years, died early this morning in his car as he was returning from an American Legion meeting in Mamaroneck. He was sixty-two.

Mr. Bouton was driving on Mamaroneck Road shortly after midnight. Following was Mrs. Virginia Wellwood of Long Island City, who had asked for directions to New York. He had halted his car and was pointing to the Hutchinson River Parkway entrance when he slumped back in his seat, Mrs. Wellwood told police. He was pronounced dead by a physician at 1 A. M.

A native of New York, Mr. Bouton was educated at City College of New York, New York University and Cooper Institute. His first taste of military life was attendance at Plattsburg Training Camp in 1916. In World War I he served as captain and major of the 303rd Engineers. He fought with the British forces in Flanders.

TOJO MAY LEARN FATE TOMORROW

Million 'Atrocity' Deaths Blammed On 25 Jap Leaders At Trial

TOKYO, (AP) — An estimated million war atrocity deaths were blamed today on 25 Japanese leaders by an international court.

Hideki Tojo, Japanese Premier for most of the war, and his 24 codefendants sat grim faced through the reading of the court's judgment in their war crimes trial. They may know their fate late tomorrow.

To a world shocked by Nazi atrocities during World War II, the court released these comparative figures.

The Nazis and Fascists captured 235,473 prisoners from the U. S. and British. Of these, 1,348 died in captivity.

The Japanese captured 132,134 prisoners from the same two countries. Of these, 35,756 or 27 per cent died in captivity.

The court blamed the Japanese for atrocity deaths from 1931 to 1945 in the Asiatic and Pacific war.

Departed War Heroes Honored With Impressive Ceremonies

Nearly 100 persons, the majority of whom were members of Larchmont Post 347 of the American Legion, attended impressive Armistice Day ceremonies at 11 A. M. today at War Memorial Park, Station Park, Larchmont.

Following the traditional two minutes of silence in tribute to the dead of both World Wars, the Rev. Floyd E. McGuire, minister of the Larchmont Avenue Church, delivered the invocation. The Rev. J. H. Coffin, rector of St. John's Church, gave a prayer for continued peace, followed by an address by Commander Jack DeGaetani of Larchmont Post 347.

The peace was lost in 1918 and the sacrifices of our heroic dead whom we honor today were all in vain because their valorous deeds did not prevent World War II, Commander DeGaetani said. World War II would probably never have happened had we been adequately prepared, he declared.

"In this atomic age we cannot have a third war. It would mean the end of civilization," he continued. "The lesson for us to learn is to fight for preparedness in time of peace. A strong nation is our best guarantee against aggression. We, as Legionnaires are America's most powerful patriotic organization and we must get be-

DOCK WALKOUTS CRIPPLE SHIPPING

New York Port Almost Paralyzed; British Ship Diverted

NEW YORK, (AP) — A major part of America's shipping was crippled today by longshoremen's strikes on the East and West coasts.

The port of New York — foremost in the world's commerce— was almost paralyzed as thousands of men stood idle.

The blitz also hit the important harbors of Philadelphia and Boston, where other thousands joined a rank-and-file protest against a wage settlement negotiated by AFL union leaders.

Spread of the walkout to additional ports from Portland, Maine to Hampton Roads, Va., by tonight or tomorrow was feared.

A Gulf Coast stoppage has been promised if the East Coast strike becomes official and complete.

A crippling West Coast strike of CIO unions has idled ships and men from Alaska to Mexico for many weeks.

There was a possibility, however, that the East Coast walkout might be short-lived.

No dock workers were available as the liner America, queen of

VIOLATIONS COST 15 FINES TOTALING $142

A total of $142 in fines was collected by Judge John R. Cahill in Larchmont Police Court Tuesday night.

Arthur J. Ross of 724 Seney Avenue, Mamaroneck, was fined $20 for speeding at 50 m.p.h. and George H. Thorstenson of Hawthorne, N. Y., 45 m.p.h. L. J. Picke of Pawtucket, R. I., paid $10 for failing to drive to the right of the road.

Fined $5 each for driving through a red traffic signal were Charles J. Miller of 17 North Chatsworth Avenue, Larchmont; Richard V. Smalley of 8 Normandy Road, Larchmont; William P. O'Connar of New York City and Bertha Michaelson of the Larchmont Acres Apartments, William P. Palmer of 320 Caroll Avenue, Mamaroneck, paid the same fine for making an improper turn.

Serato D. Heller of New York City paid $3 for a parking violation.

Abraham Pierce of the Bronx and Mary E. Lateiner of 34 Iselin Terrace, Larchmont, each paid $2 for parking violations and Parker F. Joseph of New York City was given a suspended sentence for the same violation.

Legion Commander Urges More Prayer In Quest For Peace

New York Department Commander Corydon D. Kingsbury of the American Legion last night urged all Legionnaires to try the "power of prayer" to help bring about world peace.

Speaking at a meeting of the County Committee of the Westchester American Legion at the Mamaroneck Post 90 clubhouse, attended by more than 200 members, Commander Kingsbury said he believes the American Legion is the one organization to give to the world the stabilizing force that it needs today.

"We've tried by force of arms to bring about peace and stabilization in the world," he said, "but haven't had much luck. More recently we have been trying to bring security and stability by means of diplomacy, but still without too much success. I believe we should all try a third power that might bring about peace—the power of prayer."

He recommended that the Legionnaires spread the idea of praying for peace as a part of their community service and added that in his tour of New York State he would ask all to pray for peace.

Referring to Communism, Commander Kingsbury told the Legionnaires there is "no compromise with that gang," and added that the Legion has "got to continue to be vigilent" against any infiltration.

He warned them to watch especially for any infiltration in the educational system. "If, as I believe, there is any such infiltration," he said, "anything off color—there's no such thing as pink; it's either red or red, white and blue — report it immediately to the Federal Bureau of Investigation."

The New York Department, the commander continued, is constantly receiving resolutions from the county committees which show interest by the local posts in state and national affairs. He added, however, that some of the resolutions sent in are what he termed "crack-pot resolutions" and are a discredit to the Legion. He cautioned the local posts and county committees to give sufficient time and thought to resolutions before passing on them.

He told the Legionnaires that during the war they weren't bearing arms just for Westchester County but for the entire country. Likewise, when they propose a resolution it should not be for the benefit of a few but for the whole state or country, he declared.

Speaking of membership, he said "in membership there is strength and power. Without it we wouldn't get any place in Albany or Washington." He urged all to help build up the Legion membership. He cited the Legion's Boys State Program, Americanism Program, Junior baseball teams, oratorical con-

Taxi, Auto Collide On Palmer Avenue

An auto operated by Dominic J. Paiti of 81 Myrtle Boulevard, Larchmont, collided at 6:05 P. M. yesterday with a car driven by Mrs. Genevieve P. Philip of 25 Rocky Road, Larchmont, Larchmont police reported today.

Mr. Paitl, driver of the taxi, told police that he had halted his auto at a full stop sign at Hall and Palmer Avenues when Mrs. Philip's car struck and badly damaged the left front fender of his auto.

Mrs. Philp said that her car was proceeding east on Vanderburg Avenue and made a full stop at Hall Avenue where she looked both ways did not see any car coming, and drove on to Palmer and Hall Avenues. There she said, the Paiti car came up on the right side of her auto, striking and slightly denting the right front fender.

No charges or arrests were made.

Armies Of Million Fight Crisis Battle In Northern China

Nationalists and Reds Use Heavy Power On Suchow Line

NANKING, (AP) — The greatest battle in Chinese history — involving more than a million men by government estimate — raged north of the Yangtze today with Communist troops having a slight numerical advantage.

Government spokesman Lt. Gen. Teng Wen-yi said the battle was joined along the Suchow defense line which guards the road to the national capital.

Teng said government troops outfought the Reds during the opening phases of the giant battle but that they had made successive withdrawals to "shorten their lines."

He said Reds under Generals Chen Yi, Liu Po-cheng and Chen Keng already were throwing all available manpower into the fight, on which hinges the fate of North Central China.

The government, too, was bringing up reinforcements, Teng said, with some troops from along the Peiping-Hankow railroad line already moved into battle.

Teng said the Reds had hurled 21 armies numbering 300,000 men into the battle.

(Communist broadcasts heard in San Francisco by the Associated Press said the Reds have bottled up 350,000 government troops in the Suchow area).

The government spokesman said the Communists had already suffered 30,000 casualties around Suchow. He said that was more than three times the number suffered by government troops.

Government warplanes of all descriptions from Nanking were hurled into the battle, described by Teng as larger and more bitter than any fought during the Sino-Japanese war.

U. S. AND BRITAIN CALL RED BLUFF

Clay Vows Continued Aid; Move Seen Part of War of Nerves

BERLIN, (AP — American and British planes flew the supply route to Berlin today in the face of a Russian threat to force down planes straying from the 20-mile wide air corridors to the former German capital.

The American answer to the Russians' threat, made last night, was a terse promise from Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military Governor, that "we will keep them flying."

Both British and U. S. authorities said publicly the Russians would be held responsible for any accident they take.

The Russians, citing a long list of alleged violation of their territory, also said they would force down "all aircraft without identification marks of nationality" flying over the Soviet zone, including the three air corridors.

The second threat presumably refers to non-military planes, which do not carry nationality markers. The Russians have complained of commercial flights in the Berlin air corridors.

Some officials believe tended to discount the Soviet note as another move in the "war of nerves."

The Russians posted another warning at the Berlin air safety center that they will hold three hours of air-to-air (probably plane to target) firing practice today over a field in the British Buckeburg air corridor. At other points in the corridors, they said,

Two Autos Damaged In Collision Here

Two cars were slightly damaged yesterday morning when one ran into the rear of the other on Mamaroneck Avenue at New Street, Mamaroneck police reported.

When he slowed his car down at New Street for other traffic, it was struck by another car operated by Mrs. Elizabeth B. Sexauer, forty-four, of 203 Knollwood Avenue, Mamaroneck. The right rear fender of the Arguto car was slightly bent, while the left front fender, headlight and bumper of the Sexauer car were damaged.

STOLEN VALISE LEFT WITH STORE OWNER

A black valise, reported stolen Friday afternoon by its owner, Mrs. Margaret Redwood of 3 North Chatsworth Avenue, Larchmont, was recovered yesterday by Detective Joseph Pacheco of the Mamaroneck Town Police Department.

Mrs. Redwood reported that the traveling bag was taken from the sidewalk in front of the Hillside Arcade. Detective Pacheco investigated the stores in that building and after he gave a description of the valise to Henry Linden, proprietor of the Chatsworth Stationery store, he was shown the valise by Mr. Linden.

Mr. Linden said that a man, twenty-five or twenty-six, about 5 feet 8 inches, and fairly well dressed, gave him the valise Friday afternoon, saying, "Hold this for me, I will call back for it later. I must catch a train." Mr. Linden said that he had never seen the man before and that if the man returned for the bag he planned to call the police immediately.

The valise was returned to Mrs. Redwood.

Car's Hood Smashed By Backing Truck

WESTCHESTER VERSUS NASSAU

WESTCHESTER and Nassau counties are comparable in some respects but not in others. Both are highly developed residential suburban areas. Nassau of recent years, with construction of large airplane factories, has become more industrial and, accordingly, has grown at a faster rate. Both are contiguous to New York City. Both have relatively large commuter populations. And both have the County Executive type of government, the only two counties of the State with such form of administration.

But in other respects the two counties differ sharply. Westchester has six cities, 18 towns and 22 incorporated villages. Nassau, on the other hand, has only two cities, only three towns, but the surprising total of 63 incorporated villages.

Because of this disparity in types of municipalities, comparison between Westchester and Nassau county budgets has been difficult. Since cities and towns usually exercise many functions of government otherwise assumed by counties, the fact that the two counties differ sharply in this respect makes it of little factual benefit to consider county budgets alone. For in Nassau much of the government functions which in Westchester are borne by cities, towns and villages, are borne by the county itself. This is especially true of police work. Nassau has a large county police force; Westchester, as a county, has only a smaller county parkway force.

Nassau's proposed budget for next year calls for total expenditures of $25,700,000; Westchester's budget expenditures for this year—the 1949 budget has not yet been revealed—are set at $20,294,000.

Nassau's tax rate for next year is estimated at $10.50 per $1,000 valuation of realty; Westchester's for this year is only $6.12 but, as mentioned above, Nassau as a county, takes over a considerable portion of the functions—and cost thereof—borne in Westchester by municipalities.

Nassau proposes to raise by taxes upon realty next year $12,998,000; Westchester's tax levy for this year, including state and districts, is $11,504,000.

Nassau estimates its fiscal aid from Federal and State at $4,155,000 for next year; Westchester estimates this year it will get from such sources only $3,343,000. Further, Nassau collects, with very little overhead cost, around $3,825,000 from pari-mutuel betting at race tracks; Westchester has no such income whatever with Empire City Race Track at Yonkers closed and its meets transferred to Long Island. As against this, however, Westchester has parkway tolls which are estimated to bring in this year around $1,650,000; tolls on Long Island parkways leading to beaches go either to New York City or the State.

Nassau says it will start off 1949 with a cash balance of $2,815,000. Westchester, which lightened the tax levy for 1948 with $1,019,000, taken from surplus, will have an uncomfortably small balance for 1949, it is estimated.

Nassau reports its bonded debt at the end of this year as $30,830,000; Westchester, which once had a peak bonded debt of $106,000,000, will bring this down as of the end of this year to around $71,700,000. Naturally, fixed debt service charges, which include amortization and interest, run higher in Westchester, $5,990,000 for this year as compared to Nassau's $3,904,000 for next year.

Nassau's largest single budgetary item for next year is for public welfare and relief, $5,730,000; that item for Westchester is this year $8,614,325.

Nassau's 1940 Federal census population was 407,000; it claims it will have 550,000 this year. Westchester's 1940 census population was 574,000; modest estimates now put it at 610,000. It is evident that Nassau is growing faster. What would be of interest would be a survey to determine if it is growing along better lines.

A Glance Backward

A DECADE AGO

(From The Daily Times)

Mrs. Harry E. Bushay, chairman of the Mamaroneck Branch, American Red Cross, appealed to local residents to again support the organization's membership drive. Some 40 volunteer workers started a house-to-house canvass in an effort to make the drive as successful as the preceding year . . . At a meeting in the Village of Mamaroneck Municipal Building, the Village Officials Association of Westchester County, decided to seek extension of the probationary period for new policemen from three to six months. Mayors Livingston Platt of Rye and Harry G. Kimball of Bronxville originally suggested the extension and were prepared to place the idea before the State Civil Service Commission. The members of the association, who came from virtually every village in Westchester, gave a rising vote of thanks to Mayor William H. Johnson and village trustees for their hospitality . . . Supervisor Bert C. McCulloch, members of the Town Board and the Town Board of Police Commissioners attended a brief ceremony dedicating the new 50 - foot pistol range at the Weaver Street police headquarters. The range was built as a Works Progress Administration project. Police Chief Paul Yerick and Lieut. Paul Euller fired the first shots while officials blinked . . . Mamaroneck High School's football team was expecting victory over New Rochelle for the first time in six years as the local school prepared for the traditional struggle. The Purple and White were slight favorites over Coach Ed Rice's forces, however . . . On the other side of town, Bellows gaus but outmanned forces took a 19-0 drubbing from Harrison High. Angelo Nask and Vic Rocket on the line and Chester Gudger in the backfield performed admirably for the Panthers.

The Counselor

BIRD-FEEDER IN TROUBLE

Question: I have a neighbor who thinks he is St. Francis and he is always feeding birds — in front of my door—which makes my place look like a filthy chicken coop. Incidentally, he is feeding the rats. Is there anything I can put around that would keep the birds away from my stoop?

H. M.

Answer: A cat.

We don't know of anything that can be spread or sprinkled about to chase off birds. If your neighbor is littering your doorstep with cracked corn and bread crusts, you might want to have a talk with a lawyer. Or better still, have a talk with the neighbor and suggest he install a bird-feeding station in the back yard. If there isn't room in the front. Anything from a piece of suet tied to a tree, to a bath-bird-servance-feeding box would provide the birds with enjoyment. And keep your doorstep tidy.

GREEN TOMATOES

Question: What is the best way to ripen tomatoes? Is it better to put them on a window sill in the house so the sun will strike them all day, or would it be better to ripen them by putting them in a dark place so no sun will get at them? When do the majority of plants do most of their growing—in the sunlight during the day, or at night?

W. J. D.

Answer: A tomato man tells us the "best method of ripening tomatoes is to place them in shallow boxes (flats) in a warm room or cellar." He says "if they are placed in direct sunlight, or if the air in the place where they are stored is very dry, the fruits will shrivel. Wrapping green tomatoes individually in paper tends to make them ripen a little faster.

Fairly ripened tomatoes, however, may be exposed to sunshine and will ripen quickly."

As in your other question, a botanist says: "The majority of plants grow during daylight hours and if totally deprived of light for any lengthy period, would die."

DID SHE SERVE TIME?

Question: Where can one find out about a woman who served time in Bedford Reformatory? A friend of my family is going with a woman much older than he. This man is twenty-nine years old. His family heard about Bedford and is really sick about it I say, let them find out the facts first.

Answer: We are extremely doubtful that this man's family could—without a better reason—secure from Bedford's records any statement about a former inmate there. We are sure the Bedford superintendent would feel the records are confidential, except to authorized officials.

If the woman did serve time in a reformatory, she may have been quite young and she may not have been guilty of any serious offense. However it was, she paid for whatever she did and may be a very different person now from the one she was then. Why lump the all around her neck? Give her a chance. A man twenty-nine years old certainly should know his own mind—as well as most of us can know our minds about marriage (if that is what his family is afraid of). Instead of trying to pry into her past, the family should accept the woman as she is today. If this seems impossible, then the man's family at least should bear in mind that a twenty-nine-year old person is an adult, and must choose his own companions—and his wife.

TAPESTRY ON FRAME

Question: I have a handmade Persian tapestry and would like to put it on a wooden frame. How would I do this without harming the tapestry in any way?

Puzzled

Answer: The usual method is to stretch fine unbleached linen on a wooden frame and then fasten the tapestry to the linen by means of hand-stitching around the edges of the tapestry and also at intervals within, to prevent sagging. If you work with care, we don't see how the tapestry could be harmed.

Democratic Sweep Held Turn Against 'Moneyed' East Coast

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON—Detailed analysis of the new Democratic alignment at Washington and at important state capitals has provoked speculation to the effect that the center of the nation's political gravity has shifted from the conservative and financial Northeast to the Wall Street-hating farmers, workers and small business men of the Middle West, the Mountain States and the Far West.

The second and even more basic question is how President Truman and his new, untrammeled family of advisers will use this reapportionment of political and legislative power, which has formed the principal topic of conversation in all their post-election discussions.

In view of his campaign denunciations of "gluttons of privilege" and the "big business interests," there is a belief that it will force him farther to the left than Franklin D. Roosevelt ever stood.

As did his history-book hero, Andrew Jackson, who "drove the money-changers from the temple" more than a hundred years before FDR used that phrase, Mr. Truman's aides believe that he must act now to assure Democratic control of the Federal government for many years.

In their opinion, he needs only to consolidate his triumphs in once-Republican territory by forcing enactment of bread-and-butter legislation designed deliberately to retain their support.

MIRACLE—The miracle of the Truman sweep is that he won without carrying such states as Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Michigan, although he lost them by only narrow margins.

He won with the votes of millions in outside areas which, although dependent on the older and richer Northeastern section for the financing of industry, transportation and agriculture, still entertains a hearty dislike for its invisible benefactors.

Nor was the President beholden to any prominent politician or wealthy contributor along the Atlantic Coast, Led by Frank Hague of New Jersey, the pols tried to dump him at Philadelphia in favor of Gen. "Ike" Eisenhower.

The Bernard M. Baruchs refused to give or lend money to the corporate interests which they represent at Washington and in the State Legislatures.

REVULSION — The Truman-Barkley ticket itself reflects a trend against the East, since the leaders hail from Missouri and Kentucky. And it is generally forgotten that five New York candidates for the Presidency have been defeated since the turn of the century — Parker, Hughes, T. R. in 1912, Al Smith and Dewey.

The only exception was FDR, and in view of the proletarian policies he advocated, he proves the rule. Mr. Truman merely picked up where he quit, although he denounced the so-called "interests" in sharper language than the author of the New Deal ever used.

ADVANTAGES — Mr. Truman, who says he entertains "no grudges against anybody," may not press these advantages in view of his decision not to run again. But the men around him, who still look forward to many years in public office, are urging him to capitalize on this apparent division of "class" and "mass" for the sake of the party.

How he reacts to their pleadings will provide a measure of the man. It will disclose whether he will adopt the role of a partisan or a statesman in the next four, critical years.

PROGRAM—Briefly, here is the vote-catching program which Mr. Truman would adopt if he listens to this group of advisers as interested in perpetuating Democratic rule as they are in his personal fortunes:

He would demand reenactment of an excess profits tax to obtain funds for additional aid to Europe and national defense expansion. This extra revenue might also permit him to urge tax revision that would treat lower - bracket groups more generously than the 1948 law. He would also ask for discretionary power to fix prices and allocate materials to basic industries.

His more conservative counselors, however, argue that these moves would frighten industry, curtail production, employment and income, and have quite the opposite effect from that which was intended. He knows that he cannot afford to have a recession or depression break on his time. That would defeat the underlying purpose to keep the Democrats in power indefinitely.

SECURITY—Even more attractive to the millions of humble people who voted for him is the labor and social welfare program pressed upon him. Since it accords with his own views, he will try to wrest from Congress measures which ought to entrench the Democrats at Washington.

He will insist on federal planning for and financing of public health, housing, education and cheaper power. He will demand extension of Social Security, and a snarp increase in monthly payments.

He will press for enactment of Civil Rights measures, in view of the fact that his attitude helped him in electorally influential states and damaged him in only a limited way. For labor he will work for revision or repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act. For farmers he will advocate continued parity payments, REA expansion and larger funds for soil conservation benefits.

If Mr. Truman can force or persuade the next Congress to translate these proposals into law, the 1948 popular uprising suggests that the Democrats may enjoy a long stay at Washington.

Dorothy Sasnoff, lyric soprano, won a contest when she was three years old with a song and dance set. Dorothy was born in New York City, and until she was eleven, she concentrated on ballet; then her interest changed to the theater. At the Dalcley Institute, Brooklyn, and Cornell university, where she majored in dramatics, Dorothy starred in plays and musical productions. She is a leading soprano at the Philadelphia La Scala Opera company, the New Orleans Opera company, Los Angeles Civic Light Opera company, and St. Louis Municipal Opera. She also has appeared with many major symphony orchestras and on radio programs.

Comedian Jimmy Savo was once a little Italian newsboy in the Bronx, who practiced juggling in his spare time. He played amateur nights in the old Bronx theater, billed as "The Boy Juggler." Jimmy heard of a guy who could juggle 12 balls at once, while the most he had used was seven. He saw the act and two years later, now fourteen — Jimmy, still billed as "The Boy Juggler" — played the Big Time in old Broadway Hammerstein's. Jimmy's been entertaining people on the stage for 40 years. Recently Jimmy had part of one leg amputated, but he's back in the big time again, and as a sort of hobby, Jimmy, with Jane Froman and Milt Berle, are helping handicapped children learn to walk.

Tigers Battle Port Chester Tomorrow; Bellows Host Of Tuckahoe

Heavy Ram Eleven Dangerous Despite Poor Season Record

By JOHN TAUB
High School Correspondent

Football fans will get their last look at Mamaroneck's 1948 football team playing on Manchester Field at 2 P. M. tomorrow, when the Tigers play host to a heavy Port Chester squad. Coach Harry Harrison's boys will be out to keep up their second place standing in the league, but Port Chester is seeking revenge for last year's 27 - 7 trimming handed them by the Bengals.

Coach Di Buono of the Rams has been holding stiff practices daily, and is keeping the Sawpitters in good condition for this game, always a rough one for Mamaroneck teams. Di Buono has had his team using pass plays frequently, and is out for a decisive win. The Rams will consider it a successful season if they can just beat Mamaroneck.

However the Tigers are in just about as good shape as they have been all season, with only one minor injury. The entire squad is intact with the exception of Bunky Nask, third string back, who was injured in Tuesday's scrimmage. The Harrisonmen want to put on a good performance for their last home game of the '48 campaign, and expect a capacity crowd to witness the Tigers play.

By winning this game, the Hilltoppers can keep right up in the W. I. A. A. standing, just one notch behind Isaac Young, who holds first place. Also by winning this tiff, and the one next week with New Rochelle, the Tigers can equal the best record ever turned in by an Orange team; that of only one loss for the whole season.

Two years ago on Manchester Field, a favored Mamaroneck team bowed to Port Chester in one of the season's upsets. The Sawpitters came away victorious by a 14-7 count, thus ruining Mamaroneck's hopes for a mythical W. I. A. A. crown. The Tigers will be out to avenge that defeat, and will have to play one of their best games this season to do it.

For Mamaroneck fans, it will be the last time that Joe Petruzzo will be seen on Manchester Field in a grid uniform. Jolly Woodbridge, quarterback of the team, and Jimmy Bilotta, ace running guard, will also be playing their last grid game at home. Eddy Smith, Buddy Berkely, Dave Replogle, all members of the '47 squad conclude their home appearances tomorrow, along with Don Baker, Carmelo Di Cicco, Bob Wilson, wee Willie Campbell, Joe Montanero, and Stretch Corrao.

Coach Harrison will start the identical lineup which he has been using the last few games, with Red Kennedy and Mouse Bruno at ends, Tony Datino and Jim Pascal at tackles, Jimmy Bilotta and Carmelo Di Cicco at guards, and either Lou Rigano or Dave Replogle at the center spot.

The backfield finds Jolly Woodbridge at quarterback, George Fengler at tailback, Eddy Smith at wingback, and Joe Petruzzo at fullback.

Game - time will be 2:00, and adult tickets can be purchased at Larchmont and Johnson's Sport Shops, Cappus Pharmacy and Margoluis Brothers.

The Rams have a record of one win and five losses in play this season. They opened against Iona Prep and were beaten 27-6, about as was expected.

All of the contests on their schedule have been tough encounters and the Sawpit eleven has lost three of their tussles by one touchdown. Any or all of these might easily have been victories instead of defeats with a little luck.

The only pasting that Coach DiBuono's boys have taken was a 32 - 0 surprise from an inspired New Rochelle team. Figured as a close encounter, the game turned back by a 6-0 score. From all reports, the game was a dull affair and was played, mainly between the two forty yard lines.

A two hour scrimmage yesterday tappered off the Port Chester practice for this week and, according to reports from the Sawpit city, the Blue and White are in high spirits and confident of a win despite their past showings.

HOOP ACTIVITY OPENS LOCALLY

The first official report on local basketball league activity reached this desk yesterday when it was revealed that the list of teams for the Mamaroneck Senior Basketball loop had been completed. Charles Warren, director of the league for the past few seasons, originally held six spots open on the list and all were filled within a short time after the first meeting of the group. The gathering was held two weeks ago.

The eight entries have been working out every Monday and Wednesday evenings at the Mamaroneck Senior High gymnasium, where league play will be held this season, as it was in 1947. The teams are; Loafers, with Robert Zimmerman and Joe Cavaleri leading the club, Carpenters, headed by Frank Tolve, Gaels, with Gilbert Allen as captain, Firemen, C. Thomas leading, Foodmen, coached by Robert Bramm, Larchmont Americans, headed by Robert Richelson, and two teams which, as yet, have not decided on a name. These clubs are led by Vincent Rigano and Eugene Talgo.

League play will commence on Monday, Dec. 1, at 7:15 P. M. Games will be played every Monday and Wednesday evenings at this time. Each game will consist of two halves, each of 20 minutes duration.

By Jan. 1, each captain will submit a permanent roster to Mr. Warren of not more than 12 players. No additional players will be allowed to participate in the playoff which is to be held in March. Anyone living in the Larchmont and Mamaroneck postal areas is eligible to compete.

Officials of the loop have been making an effort to secure competent and qualified men to referee the games. Mr. Warren will make a report on this all progress when the first executive meeting is held on Monday, Nov. 22 at 8 P. M. in the Senior High School.

$500,000 PRICE TAG PUT ON NEWARK CLUB

NEWARK, N. J., (AP) — If you have in the neighborhood of a half-million dollars, you can buy a top-class minor league baseball club, along with a stadium and a couple of acres of ground thrown in.

That's the situation in which the Newark Bears of the International League find themselves today. The New York Yankees, which own the Bears, are eager to sell, but thus far have found no takers.

The Yanks did not specifically say they would charge the half-million for the Bears at a conference yesterday, but informed sources seem to agree that that's a reasonable price.

The meeting, as a matter of fact, did not throw too much light on the somewhat muddled relationship between the Yanks and the Bears.

For example, Dan Topping, co-owner of the Yankees issued a statement saying:

"The Yankees believe that after 17 years of operation a change in ownership might prove beneficial."

That was another way of saying the Yanks are tired of pouring money into the franchise which has been a losing proposition since the start of the war.

SOONERS' STRONG MAN - - By Alan Maver

'PRO' LABEL PUT ON COLLEGE GAME

ATLANTA, (AP) — College football has gone professional to the point that when "some of the big stars turn to professional football they have to take a cut in salary."

That's the opinion of Dr. John L. Plyler, president of Furman University at Greenville, S. C.

And the little colleges with limited athletic funds can't hope to keep pace with the big schools who have ways and means of attracting top grid talent, the educator said at an alumni meeting here last night.

"The day when you could get a good football player for his tuition and college expenses is long gone," Dr. Plyler continued.

He estimated the cost of an "average, good" football team these days at $100,000 a year. "Big time" teams run from $250,000 to $600,000 annually, he said.

"Don't think these swivel-hipped, tip-toeing quarterbacks don't cost money. The situation in 'amateur' college football is such that when some of the big stars turn to professional football they have to take a cut in salary."

Dr. Plyler, a football fan himself, emphasized that he was not complaining or criticizing — just explaining to the alumni why their team was not bowling over all opposition. The school has won two, lost four and tied one this season.

Furman is a Baptist college with an enrollment of a little less than 1,500.

LIONS-NAVY GAME AT BAKER FIELD

NEW YORK — Navy's football team, strengthened by the return to action of Bill Hawkins, and finally matched with a team in its own class, visits Baker Field tomorrow to face Columbia before an expected sell-out crowd of 35,000. The first class of Midshipmen, some 800 strong, will accompany the squad along with the Navy band, and will parade into the field at 12:45 P. M. Kickoff is scheduled for 1:30.

The Middies, who have lost seven in a row to the nation's top teams—California, Cornell, Duke, Missouri, Pennsylvania, Notre Dame and Michigan—shape up as a tough assignment for Lou Little's Lions, who have dropped four straight drama-packed last-quarter decisions to Pennsylvania, Princeton, Cornell, and Dartmouth. Little has pointed out that both Columbia and Navy lost to Pennsylvania and Cornell by identical margins. He figures today's game an even contest.

Hawkins, who ran 55-yards for Navy's score in Columbia's 13-6 triumph at Annapolis last year, will add considerable power to the Middies' running attack. He played briefly against Michigan last week after missing some three weeks with a leg injury, and now is ready for full-time duty.

Lou Kusserow, star of last year's Lion victory (he scored one touchdown and passed for the other) will be trying today for a new all-time Columbia single-season scoring record. He needs two more tallies to surpass his own mark of 15 touchdowns, set in 1945.

Victory Starved Panthers Hope For Closing Victory

By BARRY LOUGHRANE

The Bellows Panthers take on Tuckahoe this Saturday at Daniel Warren Field. The contest will mark the end of the season for Blue and Black gridders who have compiled a total of three wins, three defeats and one tie in seven starts. A quick glance at this record reveals that the outcome of this game will give the East Enders either a winning or losing season.

During this past week Coach Fearon and his squad have gone through long drills, trying to find other combinations that might click better on offense against the Orange and Black. Since this is the last skirmish of the season, the East End mentor also wants to give some of the Junior Varsity lads a chance to see action.

Three major moves have been made. Joe Costa, who has only seen limited service, will get a starting roll in the backfield. Ed Kayner will start at left tackle in place of Bill Magrino, and Kenny Dellner will play right end, although it is doubtful at this time whether Kenny will start or not.

These are some of the shifts in the Panther lineup for the Tuckahoe battle. As we have said, Coach Fearon would like very much to clear his bench if at all possible. This, of course, will depend greatly on the progress of the game.

For nine seniors, this will be their last game in high school football. Hence it is quite probable all of these boys will play in the first half and then later, at the third period, the Jayvee's will take their turn.

The Orange and Black from Tuckahoe have always been a tough nut to crack for any team and an even deadlier foe as far as the Panthers are concerned. On numerous occasions Coach Charlie Crystal and his outfit have uprooted a much stronger opponent after only a fair season. A good example of this was the Tuckahoe-Blessed Sacrament contest last year in which the highly praised Cardinals went down to defeat.

This year, the Orange and Black have a strong first string that might cause trouble. Their backfield has just about all one could want; passing ability, power and speed. Captain Al Marra is the mainstay in the Tuckahoe backfield. This burly fullback is almost always good for that three or four yards needed for a first down. This type of opponent is usually rough especially if the contest is a close one. The quarterbacking is done by Jim O'Hara, a deft passer and ball handler. He leads his club behind the 'T' formation which is ideal for his passing attack. The halfbacks, who mix up the attack with sweeps around end, are Yanci and Tyson.

In the line, we think that Bellows has the edge. Though the Orange and Black have got a good heavy forward wall, the East End chargers have gotten better and better as the games rolled by and should be able to keep up their good work. Reading the Tuckahoe line from left to right we have; Gallo, Davadi, Tabone, Tagliaroli, Coleman, Marris and Clark.

Getting back to the Panthers, the starting spots in the line will in all probability be; Panaro and either Anderson or Dellner at ends, Kayner and Thrasher at the tackles, the Skehan brothers at the guards and Cummings at the pivot post.

In the Bellows backfield, there will be; Costa at quarterback, Keegan and Vitetta at the halves and Feldt at full. These names are only tentative, however, and are subject to change.

Panther opponents in the past two weeks have poured a little black paint on a shiny record of the first five contests. Not so long ago, the East Enders were way out in front in the win column and in the number of points scored as compared with the opposition. Now, it is a much darker picture. A win is badly needed by the Blue and Black. If this is achieved, then the Panthers will have a winning season with four wins to three losses and quite possibly will be ahead in the scoring column as well. This much is certain. This is the last game of the season for Bellows and every man on the field will be trying with everything he has.

The kickoff will be at 2:15 at Daniel Warren Field. It should be a nip and tuck battle all the way.

The tentative lineups:

| BELLOWS | | TUCKAHOE |
|---|---|---|
| LE | Panaro | Gallo |
| LT | Kayner | Deradi |
| LG | J. Skehan | Tabone |
| C | Cummings | Tagliaroli |

| RT | Thrasher | Marris |
| RE | Anderson | Clark |

Mamaroneck Stars Play Sunday; Tigers Seventh In District One

Unbeaten New York Clippers Furnish Strong Opposition

Mamaroneck finally will be represented on the semi-pro gridiron this year when the Mamaroneck Stars, a well organized eleven under the guidance of Joe Tolve, take to Manchester Field Sunday afternoon at 2:30 P. M. to battle the undefeated New York Clippers, winners of five straight encounters.

The stars is a team composed mainly of men from the Mamaroneck-Larchmont area who have been playing their football on foreign soil all season. However, they have been yearning to perform before a local gathering and, through the efforts of Tolve, have been granted their wish. The local group would like to play the rest of the season at home.

The Clippers are a tremendously heavy team, boasting no less than five men on the starting line who tip the scales at 215 pounds or more. Olsen, a guard, is a former Mamaroneck High player who weighs in at a puny 220 pounds. Grove, who plays alongside Olsen at the pivot post, was named to the All City team in New York for the 1942 schedule. His weight is 225 pounds.

The heaviest man in the Clipper forward wall is Raphaelli, a tackle, who is a husky 235. Finn and Krupp at 215 and 220 respectively round out the list of bulky bruisers.

The rest of the lineup includes Bedfor and Scully at ends, Lyons calling the signals from the quarterback spot, Dolan and Watson at the halves, and Welsch in the bucking back post. Scully played his college ball with Dartmouth University, and it is said that he is as dangerous a pass receiver as any who perform in the county. Lyons is a 180-pound back who also made All City in his Senior year at high school. He is mainly noted for his passing ability.

Many of the men who will wear the Star colors tomorrow have been playing with the New York Rangers during this season. However this is not true with the entire team.

The Star backfield will be composed of Footsie Gironda, Jim Ambrose, Tommy Parker, and Don McMahon. Gironda and Parker played on Mamaroneck High's great teams of 1941-42 and also appeared with the old Mamaroneck All Stars who represented the village for two seasons.

Ambrose boasts an impressive background at Boston College while McMahan played with the All Stars during the past two seasons.

Bob Martensen, an All-County choice in 1942 when he played at Bellows, will be at his familiar left end position for the locals. Bellantoni is stationed next to Martensen at tackle with Matzinger, another city player, rounding out the left side.

Tully will operate at the center post for Tolve's club. He is an experienced ball snapper and demon line backer on the defense.

Bill "Rolly" Avery is Tolve's choice for the right guard post with Greco a 240 pounder and White playing tackles and end on that side. Avery played at Mamaroneck High and also with the All Stars, formerly.

The boys and Joe Tolve have made a terrific fight to secure the playing field and officials for the contest. They have believed from the start that semi-pro football wasn't dead locally and will be shown one way or the other tomorrow by the size of the crowd which turns out to welcome them back to a local gridiron after a lapse of more than a year.

The lineup:

Twenty-six will be represented in the freshman competition.

Michigan State, Army and Syracuse are regarded as chief team threats this year.

Agreement In Works For Indians, Stars

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A working agreement between the Cleveland Indians and the Hollywood stars is in the works.

Hank Greenberg, Indians' vice-president, conferred for two hours yesterday with President Victor Ford Collins and Manager Fred Haney of the Coast League club. At the end of the session Greenberg said both sides will consider the proposal further.

LUCKIES IN TIE FOR LOOP LEAD

The American Bowling League rolled off its scheduled matches Thursday night at the Mamaroneck Recreation Center but, due to uncontrollable events, the scores did not reach this desk until yesterday. Three matches were bowled, with the Jaybee-Roll Lucky match taking the spotlight. The Roll Duckies came through with an unexpected triumph in three straight games and tied the losers for first place as a direct result. There were no outstanding totals racked up in this match, but the consistency of the Roll Lucky's attack gained them victory. All three games were close affairs. The opening game was decided by a matter of four pins. Esther Addleman captured the high game and series for the match.

Audrey Russell of Chat's Heaters and Gladys Sibley of the Happy Girls staged an individual battle as the two teams met in another match. The Happy Girls emerged triumphant by 2-1 with Sibley leading the way with a 454 triple. Mrs. Russell captured the single honor for all matches with a 178 opening game.

The Three Musketeers knocked the Redaettes into third place by whipping them in two out of three encounters. Loretta Saunders was high lady for the Musketeers. The Redaettes were forced to use a Blind.

RECORDS BROKEN AS LADIES BOWL

Peter's Children captured practically all the glory last night in matches of the Larchmont Rec Ladies' League. They took three games from the Washington's to gain undisputed possession of first place, made the highest pinfall for a team in a single game, and totalled an 1808 pinfall for the night to establish another record in that department.

Nancy Fortunato of Peter's Children and Tessie Smirge of the Rec outfit tied for high single with equal pinfalls of 192 pins.

Midge Castaldo of Brill's Girls established another record with a 537 series total. She was the only lady to better the 500 pin mark last night.

Brill's Girls, Peter's Children, and the Recs won their matches by shutuots while Dom's Four came from behind to carve out a 2-1 victory. Betty Blume led the winners. The Florists' Stein hit a 164 single.

Steigerwald In Ninth Spot; Roosevelt Cops Team Title

By JOHN TAUB
High School Correspondent

Roosevelt High School became the 1948 District One champion yesterday, when they ran to victory in the Cross Country meet at the North Tarrytown High School course.

Frankie Egan of Roosevelt scored first, as he has done all season for Roosevelt, and team-mate Dick Kelley followed him in third place, giving the Tribe an unbeatable lead. Roosevelt compiled 68 points, while Gorton placed second with 882. North Tarrytown, the only team familiar with the new course, ran third with 101 markers, followed by New Rochelle, just 12 points behind with 113. A. B. Davis with 136, and Scarsdale High with 140 placed fifth and sixth.

Mamaroneck's cross country squad found their way to a much-improved seventh place standing. The Tigers, who finished a low sixth out of seven entries in the WIAA meet last week, bounced back, and as a result of hard practice this week, ran seventh out of the field of fourteen entries. Pelham High followed Mamaroneck with 160 points, and Isaac Young, who placed ahead of the Tigers last week, placed two positions behind them in ninth spot yesterday. Edison Tech and Hastings-on-the-Hudson provided the only tie of the day, as they both scored 244. Rounding out the field were Ossining, Arlington, and Haldane High Schools, in that order.

Since the Tarrytown course is a new one, and this is the first year that the District One meet has been held there, it could not be determined whether Egan's flashy 11 minutes and 43 seconds was a record-breaking time. However, it bests by far any time turned in by a champion since the series has been held.

Representing Hastings was Ed Peters who ran into second place, twelve seconds behind Egan, in 11:55. Kelley then crossed the line, with the second Tribe tally. Kelley's time was 12:05. Gorton sent her first runner home in the person of Walter Paul, who finished in 12:16.

Scarsdale was awarded fifth place, as Charles Ellis crossed the line in 12:20. A. B. Davis was next to send a man over as Bernie Hassel sped to a finish just one second later in 12:20. North Tarrytown's ace, Joseph Bartlow scored in eighth position in the time of 12:28.

Mamaroneck High entered into the scoring as Bill Steigerwald paced the Tigers to the tape, and crossed in 12:36, good for ninth place. Pelham pushed a man over two seconds later, as Bob Moberg ran into tenth place in 12:38. Robert Cutting, running for Scarsdale, gave the Maroon their second place, as he crossed the finish in 12:40. North Tarrytown sent its second man across in 12:41, in the person of Dominick LaCaruba. Two New Rochelle runners scored next, with Will Handelman and Jerry Utter crossing for the Purple. Davis' Jim Gillian was followed by John Covert of North Tarrytown, with John Dowd of Roosevelt right behind the third Tribe runner. John Lennen of Gorton, Henry Longo of Roosevelt, and Norman Meyer of Isaac Young all finished in that order.

Mamaroneck's second runner did not score until 40th place, after five runners had already finished for Roosevelt, New Rochelle, and Gorton. Weir Daly took this spot and was followed by Bob Corrao in 41st slot.

Carl Rapp ran to a finish in 46th position to be the fourth Tiger runner to come over the finish. Doug Stevens became number five to cross the finish line for Mamaroneck, when he sped into 53rd place. Henry Heil wearing the Orange and Black of the Hilltop scored sixth for Mamaroneck, while Bob Braddock also scored for Mamaroneck. Chubby Parisi and Ralph Henry scored in that order to complete the Tiger roster.

The season is now over, and the Tigers sport a fair record. They started off with a loss to Roosevelt, although besting Yonkers and Saunders Trade. Losing to New Rochelle in their next attempt, the Hilltoppers bounced back to beat A. B. Davis. In the counties, however, the team finished sixth, so that yesterday's showing was a great improvement for the Tigers.

Running their last race in the Orange-and-Black uniforms were Captain Bill Steigerwald, Henry Heil and Weir Daly.

GAVILAN, WINNER, OFF FOR HAVANA

NEW YORK, (AP)—Kid Gavilan, flashy Cuban contender, will leave for Havana in a day or two with the hope that upon his return in January it will be to meet welterweight champion Ray Robinson in a title bout.

Gavilan, who won a decisive, unanimous 10-round decision over tough Tony Pellone of New York in Madison Square Garden last night, is very anxious to meet the sugar man for the 147 pound crown.

The Cuban kid lost a non-title fight to Robinson in Yankee Stadium last September. Robinson weighed 150 for that scrap, and Gavilan's handlers — as well as the kid himself—believe the Cuban can lift the title at the division weight.

Tonight in New York

Betty Schalow, the skating prodigy from the midwest who skyrocketed from nowhere to a national title several years ago, attains her peak of power and coordination this season in a brilliant new "Alaskan Fantasy" solo. The flaxen-haired lass from St. Paul will present her dynamic conception of skating in the celebrated Ice Follies revue which opens a 13-night stand in Madison Square Garden Tuesday, Nov. 16th.

Most top-flight skaters begin training their muscles for the exacting executions of the sport at an early age. Miss Schalow possessed such boundless native talent that she was able to start skating in her late teens, and in two years overhauled rivals who had years of experience over her.

With the Follies in the past two years, Miss Schalow absorbed the technical training, and the fundamentals of showmanship, which make her a unique feminine skater today.

Newspaperman Tells Women Of MacArthur Regime In Japan

An over-all picture of the accomplishments of Gen. Douglas MacArthur in democratizing the Japanese people in occupied Japan, and a brief discussion of current happenings in war - torn China, were given yesterday by Weldon James, staff member of the Louisville Courier, at a meeting of the Current Events Section of the Woman's Club of Larchmont.

Speaking at the Larchmont Avenue Church house, Mr. Weldon, who has spent several years in the Far East, including trips before the war, and a recent two-year assignment in Japan, spoke on "That Other World," the Far East.

He spoke of the set-up of the military rule in Japan, and the "dictatorial, authoritative rule" of Gen. MacArthur, whose associations with his Allied Advisory Council have been purely "advisory" he pointed out. He cited the occupation as "having achieved an enviable record," and having put into effect noteworthy political and educational reforms.

Mr. Weldon mentioned specifically the land reforms, which limit land holdings to seven acres per family, or in the case of a previously wealthy landowner, "to no more than he can farm himself." This tends to do away with the previous "feudal" set-up in Japan, he pointed out.

In the field of education, the speaker told the group that, since the emperor publicly denied his "relationship to God," the school children no longer have to bow to the emperor, and use text books which have been written chiefly by Americans. He also spoke of the enfranchisement of women in Japan, and the disestablishment of the state and church ties.

Mr. Weldon described the attitude of the Japanese toward Americans, stating that they are "friendly, polite and cooperative on the surface." Quoting a Frenchman, he said that "there is a deep and hidden resentment and natural desire for revenge, if given the chance." The speaker mentioned that many Japanese are studying physics in the large universities, "obviously for the purpose of learning about atomic energy."

He cited the number of our troops and British soldiers in Japan, and said that it is MacArthur's desire to bring them back, leaving Japan to be self-reliant, following the signing of a peace treaty. Russia is a hindrance to this treaty, he stated, pointing out that they want "no economic revival in Japan," and therefore block treaty proposals.

Turning to the Chinese "mess," Mr. Weldon told members that in a nation of one half billion population, 10 per cent, or 15 in some provinces, are literate, have education, money and land, with the remaining 85 to 90 per cent living in virtual slavery as peasants, owning no land.

Speaking of the Chiang Kai Shek regime, he said that 20 years ago Chiang was "more idealistic," and now his rule is a "one - party dictatorship." The two important problems which Chiang has failed to solve, he continued, are land reform and a workable currency.

Mr. Weldon pointed out that Chinese Communism differs from the Russian type in that "the Communistic movement in China is devoted to land reform." Nevertheless, many Chinese have gone to Russian schools and have absorbed the Russian form of Communism, thereby differing from the Chinese who have an agrarian motive, he said.

He traced the spread of the Russian Communistic influence down through Malay, Java, and French Indo - China, stating that Russia has "kept those countries unsettled." Mr. Weldon, introduced by Mrs. Malcolm H. Merritt, program chairman, conducted a question period following his talk.

Tigers Blast Port Chester Eleven 26-0; Panthers Bow By 25-13

Petruzzo's Brilliant Play Sparks Orange To WIAA Win

By JOHN TAUB
High School Correspondent

In one of the roughest games all season, Mamaroneck's powerful football squad trampled a heavy Port Chester team 26-0 on Manchester Field Saturday.

Joe Petruzzo, playing his last football game at the high school field, made sure that it would be a memorable one, as he figured in every scoring play. Joe personally scored three touchdowns, passed for one more, passed for one extra point, and bucked over for the other. Petruzzo was not alone, as Eddy Smith and George Fengler contributed large hunks of yardage, with Smith taking a Petruzzo pass in the fourth quarter for a touchdown.

The Mamaroneck forward wall performed as it has all season, with few gains being made through the line. Jimmy Bilotta and Louis Rigano consistently broke through the heavier Sawpitter's line to bring down runners, and passers. Red Kennedy and Mouse Brono at the end posts, protected the flanks from end runs, while making key blocks when the Tigers were on offense, which was most of the time. Carmelo DiCicco, Jim Pascal, Don Baker, and Tony Datino, marking up the remainder of the line, aided greatly in getting the backs away for the long runs which spelled touchdowns and victory for the Bengals.

Mamaroneck's pass defense proved to be more than adequate, with more going incomplete or finding their way into the hands of Tigers, than went complete to Port Chester receivers.

Playing the entire first two periods in bright sunlight, the half found the field a muddy mess, and the second half was marked by slips and bag getaways due to the slippery condition of the field.

The Sawpitters started off the game with two fumbles in as many plays. Taking Petruzzo's opening boot on their own 31, the Rams ran the oval back 19 yards to the mid-field stripe. On the next play from scrimmage, Cicoria fumbled, but the ball was recovered by Port Chester with a four yard loss. Another fumble followed on the next play, an Forman was forced to punt.

Following Petruzzo's runback to the 35, Eddy Smith plowed through the line for nine yards. Petruzzo unleashed an aerial to Red Kennedy, who ran down to the Sawpitter 21 before being pushed out of bounds. Fengler and Petruzzo, alternating, carried the oval all the way to the one-foot line, where the Port Chester line could not hold. Petruzzo bucked over, and passed to Bruno for the extra point, giving the Tigers a 7-0 edge.

A timely interception by Fengler paved the way to the second Mamaroneck TD. Taking the kick on his own 10, Cicoria sped to the 26 on the runback. Forman pulled off a neat run of 23 yards before being brought down on the 49. Cicoria sped four yards around end, but on the next play, Suppa passed right into the hands of Fengler who was tackled on the spot. Petruzzo, Fengler and Smith collaborated in bringing the pigskin up to the Tiger 45.

Petruzzo took the snap from center, and cut around his own right end. Evading four certain tacklers, he was about to be pushed out of bounds, when Bilotta made a key block, enabling Big Joe to go the 54 yards to pay dirt. Petruzzo's pass went into the ground, but 13 points to the visitors' zero proved to be more than enough to sew up the game.

Play for the rest of the first quarter, and all the second period was mostly between the 30 yard markers. However the Tigers appeared headed for a third touchdown in the half, when Petruzzo ran back a Forman punt 35 yards to the Rams 45 yard line.

Petruzzo counted for six more yards through tackle but on the following play, an attempted Petruzzo-to-Kennedy pass was intercepted by La Bella, and the threat ended abruptly. The half ended with the Orange pushing deep into Blue territory, with the pigskin resting on the 29 yard line.

Following a downpour during half-time, play commenced once again. Cicoria ran back the kickoff, but a fifteen yard holding penalty against the Rams forced them to punt. Buddy Berkeley and Petruzzo brought the ball to the eight, but the Tigers had to punt to get out of danger. Petruzzo's boot went out of bounds on the Bengal 30 due to the high winds, and the Rams took over.

Cicoria traveled to the 18 in two plays, and La Bella, Cicoria, and Suppa carried the oval to the one-yard line, where a touchdown seemed certain. However on the next play, Cicoria fumbled after going over for the would-be touchdown, and Smith recovered for a touchback, giving the Tigers the ball on their 20.

Neither team was able to get very far in the few minutes left in the third canto, and the quarter ended with the Rams in possession of the ball deep in their own territory.

Mamaroneck won the ball on downs, and commenced a drive that appeared headed for a TD. Petruzzo smashed his way through to the 39 yard line of the Rams, and Smith sped to the 20. However another Tiger pass went astray, Santora intercepting for the Blue.

Port Chester seemed to be out of that fix momentarily, but on the next play Smith intercepted a Suppa pass, and touchdown march number three began for Mamaroneck. Petruzzo, unable to be stopped at any time during the afternoon, crashed his way down to the 34, from where Fengler raced to the 18. Petruzzo unleashed his mighty throwing arm, and completed a pass to Ed Smith, who stepped over the goal just a second before being pushed out of bounds. The attempt for the extra point was unsuccessful, but Mamaroneck now held a 19-0 lead, and no doubt was held as to which was the superior team.

Forced to punt after several losses, the Rams' Forman kicked to Petruzzo on his own 40. Petruzzo and Smith carried the ball to the oppositions' 40, from where Wee Willie Campbell jogged to the 36. A Petruzzo-to-Bob Wilson pass clicked, giving the Orange a first down on the 21. Petruzzo passed to Smith on the one-yard line, but he was driven out of bounds before he crossed the goal. Petruzzo took the ball, and with no apparent trouble at all, went over for the final Mamaroneck score. Petruzzo bucked over for the extra point, making it Petruzzo-19, Mamaroneck-26, Port Chester-0.

Mamaroneck's third string staved off a last minute goal-line rally by the Rams, to maintain the shutout.

Coach Harry Harrison used every man on the team in the final minutes of the game, and despite the overly-rough tactics employed by the Sawpitters, only one man was injured. Jolly Woodbridge was hurt in the first quarter, and was reported to have a spine injury. Petruzzo was taken out in the second quarter with a bruised arm, but returned in the last half as good as new.

The lineups:

DEFENSIVE DEMON — Joe Petruzzo (41), Mamaroneck High's outstanding fullback, is shown above batting down a second quarter pass intended for Briggs (60), Port Chester flankman. Through the Mamaroneck star's effort, the toss was ruled incomplete. This action occurred during Saturday's big game at Manchester Field, which was won by the Tigers, 26—0. ## Tyson Leads Tuckahoe Club; Fearon's Team Ends Season

By BARRY LOUGHRANE

The 1948 Bellows football season came to a close at Daniel Warren Field Saturday, with the Blue and Black bowing to Tuckahoe by a count of 25 to 13. Trailing 13 to 0, at the half, the Panthers staged a driving rally, hoping to catch their crafty opponents. Henry Tyson, flashly halfback of the Orange and Black proved to be the deciding factor in the contest however as he outlegged the entire Panther squad for two scores on 50 and 79 yard runs. The East Enders took to the air and struck back in the second half as Steve Johnston heaved two long ariels to Don "Gump" Anderson on the little-used sleeper play for the Bellows touchdowns.

This defeat for the Panthers gave them a final record of three wins, four losses and one tie for the year. This is by no means a poor record considering that last year the East Enders dropped seven straight without a victory.

The Tuckahoe game was much closer than the score indicated. The Orange and Black's only real march down the field was their first drive from the opening kickoff. In that offensive, they rolled from their own ten all the way for a touchdown, a total of ninety yards.

Jim O'Hara took the kickoff from Anderson on the ten and ran the leather up to the 46 yard marker before he was finally stopped. Henry Tyson and Al Marra alternated the ball carrying duties as they advanced the pigskin to the Bellows eight yard stripe.

On the following play, Yanci, the other halfback, piled through the left side of the line for the first six-pointer of the day. The attempt for the extra point was no good and the count remained 6 to 0, with Coach Charlie Crystal's lads in the lead. In the ensuing five minutes of play nothing much happened. Both teams drove for a first down and then were forced to punt.

Activity began again near the end of the first period when Tyson punted to Bob Keegan on the Bellows 12. Bob moved diagonally up the field and was hit and driven back to the 17. Two plays later, Panky Vitetta pulled just about the best Panther run of the day. Panky took a direct pass from center about fifteen yards behind the line of scrimmage and started to fade back as if to throw a pass. When the Tuckahoe chargers saw this, they backed up to cover all possible pass receivers. This was Panky's cue to turn on the speed, and he actually advanced 40 markers, although only half was in front of the line of scrimmage. A pass from Feldt was completed to Keegan for a gain of nine more yards. Two more running plays and the East Enders had reeled off another first down and seemed to be on their way. The Panther attack failed to materialize at this point and Feldt had to kick to the visitors.

Tuckahoe took over on their own 21 yard marker, and on the first play, Henry Tyson really went to town. He tried an end run around his right side but the whole left side of the Panther line loomed up ahead of him, so the swivel-hipped scatback turned a round and ran in the opposite direction hoping to find a better hole. At one time or another every Blue and Black defender managed to get his hands on the agile ball carrier only to be shaken off. Tyson galloped the remaining 79 yards making the scoreboard read 13-0 Tuckahoe.

In the first minute of play in the third period, Tyson went on the rampage once again. This time it was a line buck through the center. He passed, like a streak of lightning, between the arms of many would-be tacklers and went another fifty yards for a score. The kick was no good and the score then read 19 to 0.

Barely two minutes later the Panthers retaliated with a touchdown pass from Johnston to Anderson on a sleeper play that was good for 60 yards and a touchdown. It was on a sleeper play that Bellows scored its lone touchdown against the Huskies and in the New Canaan and Rye contests the same play would have been good for touchdowns had the passes been accurate. The Bellows attempt to score the point after touchdown was no good and the count now stood at 19 to 6 with the East Enders on the short end.

Just when the Panthers seemed to be on their way to another badly needed score, Pagliaroli, the pivot man for Tuckahoe intercepted a Johnston pass and reeled off 30 yards before he was nailed by Vitetta. This was a tough break for the Panters. Had Pagliaroli missed his interception, Anderson would have caught the oval with no one between him and the goalposts. As it was, the Orange and Black had the pigskin on the Bellows 30, first and ten. A few plays afterwards, Yanci, with the aid of brilliant blocking, got a clear field and went all the way to make the score 25 to 6.

With but three minutes left in the contest, the Johnston to Anderson combination on the sleeper play was good for 35 yards and pay dirt.

In the third and fourth quarter particularly, the East Enders were playing the way they are capable of. If the Bellows defense against Tyson in the first half was even half as efficient as it was in the second, the game would have been as close as everyone thought it was going to be. Anderson went over for the extra point and the final score was; Tuckahoe 25, Bellows 13.

During the course of the season, the Panthers improved by leaps and bounds. In the Rye contest, the offensive was almost dead. Against Tuckahoe, however, the boys were blocking better than they had been all season. Both line and backfield played good ball all the way to the final whistle.

Bill Fitts and Ed Kayner were tough men to try and get through. Frequently they thwarted an enemy attack. Bill Magrino played his best game of the season making many hard stops, especially in the second half. Deegan and Vitetta were running well and the ariels of Johnston and Feldt were effective although there were scrambles for the oval that resulted in incomplete passes.

Vladenides, Thrasher, Panaro, DiRoberto, Mayers and Connor. They will certainly be missed because of the fine job they did this year.

Next year the Panthers will have 24 of this year's squad on the team.

Mamaroneck Stars Tripped By New York Clippers 20-0

The Mamaroneck Stars opened their local campaign at Manchester Field yesterday afternoon against a strong semi-pro leveled New York Clippers and the local outfit came off the field on the short end of a 20-0 count. It can be said that the Mamaroneck team was not outdone on the ground as far as offense was concerned but the Clippers presented one of the most effective passing combinations seen in these parts in many a season and used it to good advantage.

A tricky quarterback, Lyons, was the big difference in the two ball clubs. Lyons tossed aerials for all three touchdowns, flipped a forward for one of the extra points, and botted the other himself. His three payoff pitches were caught by Scully and Bedford with the former gathering a brace of the pitches.

On the Star side of the game, Vin Molle, a lineman who performed at end yesterday, played the most outstanding game. Vin is well known for his ability at guard and tackle. In this encounter, however, he took the flank position at the outset and remained there throughout the contest.

Mamaroneck Stars take 2

Johnny Ambrose and Tommy Parker did most of the leather lugging for Mamaroneck. Ambrose made a big impression on the fair sized crowd with his slashes off tackle and bucks through the middle of the weighty New York forward wall. Parker handled the end-around maneuvers and handled them well.

The winners tallied their touchdowns in the first, third and fourth periods. All were racked up via the pass after running plays had failed when they advanced into Star territory.

In the opening frame, the New Yorkers took the kickoff and promptly romped into Mamaroneck territory. After three running plays had failed to advance the oval sufficient yardage for a first down, Lyons faded to the midfield stripe and tossed an arcing flip to Scully who made a miraculous catch on the goal line and stepped over into pay dirt. The same two players combined to produce the extra point.

After a scoreless second frame, the Clippers broke the ice once again. This time it was a 20 yard aerial but was engineered by the same pair. The extra point was ruled no good and left the count at 13-0.

In the fourth and final period, both teams threatened but the Clippers were the only one to capitalize. Needless to say, it was again Lyons who played a major part in the score, but the left end, Bedford, caught the fling this time to chalk up six markers for his club. Lyons himself added the extra point via the conversion route and the score was 20-0, never to change.

Mamaroneck racked up eight first downs to seven for the winners but just weren't able to muster together enough gains to merit a six pointer.

A Mamaroneck highlight of the game was Don McMahon's 65 yard quick kick in the fourth period. This boot caught the opposition flat-footed and took the Stars out of trouble after they had held the Clippers for four straight downs on the five yard line.

Mamaroneck's only real scoring threat of the day occured during the final canto when they brought the ball to the Clipper 20 yard stripe. However, a desperation pass was intercepted and with it went the local's last scoring opportunity.

The Stars are in the process of scheduling other Sunday contests for Manchester Field and are hoping for the support of local fans.

Plan Offered For Peace By ORT Speaker

John Holt, New York State Branch field director of World Federalists, discussed a "Practical Plan for Peace," at a meeting of Cross County Chapter, Women's American Ort, yesterday at the home of Mrs. Benjamin Mood, 39 Bradford Road, Scarsdale.

Defining "practical" as actior based on practice not theory, Mr. Holt said that "through the year peace has been achieved by governments, not treaties or alliances. We can't do away with differences but can accompiish peace throug! world government," he said.

"The weakness of the United Nations can be blamed on citizens because our law-making body feels we are not ready for world government. To convert the United Nations into a world governing body would only mean minor mechanical changes, including creating a law making body, a system of courts, a world police force and a world armed force," the speaker stated.

"World government would handle things of world-wide concern with each nation guaranteed practice of social and economic customs as they see fit. This far this hasn't been done," the speaker said in conclusion, "since Russia and the United States are unwilling to write a world constitution."

Mr. Holt urged members to write letters to representatives and senators asking for world government and "not tolerate any substitutes, but build up the public demand for World Federalism." A question period followed.

"All A Board," a skit showing the work of the executive board, was presented. In the cast were Mrs. Leslie Jacobson, Mrs. Herbert Greenberg, Mrs. Monroe Messinger, Mrs. Victor Wolder, Mrs. Henry Stammleman, Mrs. Frederick Weschler, Mrs. Moed, Mrs. Mitchell Kleckner, Mrs. George Reed and Mrs. Louis Aburn.

PRAYER FOR TODAY—We thank You, dear God omnipotent, that You have made and preserved our Nation. Grant that we may never fail to know the true price of freedom, that we may always recognize the precious down payments of life and sacrifice that were made for liberty. May we never forget the installments that have been made since the Republic was born. May we know full well the price that must yet be paid to retain and hand on these freedoms.

SOMETHING IS WRONG SOMEWHERE

THE taxpayers of this nation contribute heavily to the United States Weather Bureau which operates under the Department of Commerce. The purpose for which the substantial sums are expected is to secure reasonably accurate forecasts of the weather, which can exercise a tremendous influence upon economic and business affairs.

To aid in obtaining data upon which forecasts may be made, the Weather Bureau has close working arrangements with the armed forces, under which it secured late readings as to temperature, humidity, force and direction of winds and other factors. These allied agencies are scattered over the entire nation and over ships on the seven seas; they include airports, storm-warning centers, and 415 local bureau offices. Enough information is available for the most scientific determination and prognostication of weather.

Yet, so frequently is the U. S. Weather Bureau wrong that cities in Westchester and elsewhere—even New York City—are now contracting for Winter storm prediction service with a private Boston firm. That contract provides much more detailed and specific information than is given by the official bureau.

Here, it seems to us from the sidelines, is something which should concern the U. S. Department of Commerce and its Weather Bureau. If we are not getting the taxpayers' money's worth from the bureau—as indicated by these private contracts—something is wrong somewhere and the public has a right to know what it is.

VICTORY BY DEFAULT

THE New Deal, which shrewdly prepares its alibis in advance of expected defeat, so that it may have a springboard upon which to start running again, had one ready-made this year. Long before the election the New Dealers had declared that they would win if 60 million voters went to the polls. But if less went they might be defeated.

As a matter of record, considerably less went to the polls, barely 48 millions in fact. And yet the New Deal won. We know now that the New Deal won by default of Republican voters who believed the polls and accordingly felt their own votes were not needed. But the labor unions and the subsidized farmers and the federal pay-roll gang, with their families, all voted and we now know the result.

Can you imagine the outraged cries which would have risen to the skies had the Republican ticket won with less than 50 million voters going to the polls! It would have been "minority government," and there would have been charges that the GOP deliberately held down the vote in order to win. But now that the New Deal has won through the same set of circumstances, we don't hear those charges and alibis, do we?

Had Mr. Dewey won with the unexpectedly small turnout of 1948 voters, the New Deal would have made it seem a heinous cri that a President should be elected by such a small percentage of the population. But having won themselves through such default, they appear peculiarly content with their unexpected good fortune and not at all inclined to criticize those who defaulted.

A Glance Backward

A DECADE AGO
(From The Daily Times)

Countess Hilda Heriot, enjoying her first visit to America, was staying at the home of Miss Marie K. Neary in Shore Acres.... The Town police raided an illegal whiskey still on Mamaroneck Avenue. Two Home Owners Loan Corporation agents gave the police the lead when they reported peculiar odors as they were checking on the property. . .. Larchmont's Legion Post No. 347 celebrated its sixteenth birthday with melody, music and mirth when about 200 veterans made merry at the annual dinner in Larchmont Lodge. The only serious note of the affair was struck by the Rev. Thomas J. Deegan, DD pastor of St. Augustine's Church, who, in his benediction prayed that the wave of intolerance abroad never be permitted to enter American shores... The Mamaroneck Lions Club heard Post Office Inspector Edward Lovern speak. Mr. Lovern, a guest of Larchmont Postmaster Frank Egger, said that Larchmont was the prettiest village he had ever seen. He also praised Mr. Egger for the efficient way he had been conducting postal service locally.... Mrs. Mary Holton and Mrs. Mary O'Neill were in charge of a Dutch supper given by Unit 90, American Legion Auxiliary in the Legion Hall on Barry Avenue... and just 35 years ago today, the Mothers Club had scheduled a musical tea in Kindergarten Hall. The guest musicians were: Mrs. Alisha P. Lynch, pianist; Miss Eleanor Donahue, soloist; Miss Clara Beach, violinist; Miss Anna Hernkenrath and Mrs. Katherine Terrase, esthetic dancing.

Col. Joe Bush Says:

Telephone subscribers in lower Westchester are to have the option of a flat rate or a lower charge limited to 66 calls a month, shucks, any married man knows that won't be enouch. There's more calls than that to Momma-in-law alone, not to mention the load when the Thursday afternoon Bridge and Gossip club meets and all the gals call up their houses to say they'll be late, and, please, tell Dad when he comes that he'll have to walk home from the station.

There useter be three ways to spread news but now we have got four. To telegraph, telephone and tell a woman we can now add television.

What the married men of Westchester really need ain't new rates for callin' but a different schedule at their offices for lis tenin'!

Bronx Borough President Jimmy Lyons calls us "snobs" here in Westchester because we ask the right to get into our own county parks and pools and golf courses on weekends and holidays. Listen, Jimmy, we like you as neighbors fine, and all that, but what can anybody do except lock the door when there's so many uninvited guests keep comin' over that we ain't got a place left to sit down in our own livin' room?

Things break even in this world as a rule. Even if our dreams don't come true, there's some consolation in the fact that our nightmares don't, either.

The Counselor

SHE'S OUR BABY NOW

We have an announcement to make today. We want to tell you of the birth of what we are referring to among ourselves as "our Counselor Column baby." Here is a letter we have from her mother:

"I am the woman who wrote you a few months ago, asking if you would give me the name of a midwife. I'm the one that has such an easy time having children that I thought I would just have a midwife at hand for the delivery of this third baby.

"The advice you gave me was to get in touch with the Visiting Nurses. I want you to know I took your advice and things turned out wonderfully. Thank you very much. By the way, I had a girl, seven pounds, six and three-quarter ounces, born on my husband's birthday in October."

Well! We're proud of the whole thing, even if our own part was only to say "Visiting Nurses. We guess the Visiting Nurses are prouder still — with good reason. It's another Red Feather in their cap!

GAELIC GROUPS

To P. L., who asked for information about the "Gaelic League or Gaelic Society": We refer you to the Gaelic Society of New York at 216 West 68th Street, New York, and the Bronx Gaelic League at 420 East 149th Street, New York.

SISTER IS D. P.

Question: I have a sister in a Displaced Persons' Camp in Germany. U. S. A. zone, at Ellwangen, Wurtenberg (a Czech refugee). She is forty-nine years old and a ladies' dressmaker. How does one go about getting her to this United States?

Dorothea

Answer: Under the Displaced Persons Act of 1948, to gain admission to the United States the 2,000 Czech refugees included in the Act must be natives who fled Czecho-Slovakia as a direct result of persecution or fear of persecution since Jan. 1, 1948; and also have been in Italy or in the Western Zones of Germany or Australia on the effective date of the act. In addition, they must be qualified for admission into the United States under immigration laws and regulations of the United States... Assurance must be given that each person admitted will be suitably employed without displacing some other person."

For further specific information, we suggest you write to the Displaced Persons Commission at 718 18th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

SPIKE YOUR SHOES

For those readers who write us from time to time about weather forecasts, we are ready now to speak of this coming Winter. Our authority on what to expect is the 1949 edition of The Old Farmer's Almanac. The cold facts are, according to this weather prophet, that the Winter will be "icy." But it "will not be as cold on the whole as the Winter just past," we are told. However, it will last longer into March, and there will be frequent storms of rain and sleet, as well as snow, which will create unusually icy conditions."

ON HER OWN

Question: Even though twenty-one is the legal age in New York State, when a girl of eighteen marries, does she remain in the custody of her parents?

Father

Answer: No. Parental custody continues until the age of twenty-one, unless the daughter marries, which she may do without parental consent in New York State after she reaches the age of eighteen years.

Norway Without Snow Forecast by Science

OSLO, (AP)—In 50 years there may be no fields of eternal snow left in Norway, if present climatic conditions continue.

Scientists say the edges of Svartisen, the Black Glacier, one of Norway's largest and most famous snowfields, have crept back nearly a mile in the last 12 years.

This year alone, Svartisen receded 60 to 90 feet. There are similar reports about shrinking snowfields and glaciers from all parts of Norway.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, aching up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

ROOSEVELT HOSPITAL WORK BEATS SCHEDULE

PEEKSKILL—Work on the Franklin D. Roosevelt Memorial Hospital for Veterans at Crugers Point was reported way ahead of schedule this week. Some workmen have been laid off because there is not further work for them to do at the present time.

The rapid progress of the construction points to opening of the hospital next November, according to Howard E. Fuller, acting state deputy administrator for the Veterans Administration. He said 1,500 will be employed there when the institution is in operation.

Atomic Energy to Guard Valuables, Says Expert

NEW YORK (AP)—By putting a tiny dab of atomic energy on them, valuable paintings can be caused to ring a bell or blow a whistle when thieves touch them.

This new use of radioactive atoms is told by I. Yaffe, of the Atomic Energy Project National Research Council of Canada at Chalk River, in the new scientific journal, Nucleonics.

The rays from atoms placed somewhere on the paintings, would fall continuously on a circuit in the wall behind the work of art. Removing the picture would break a circuit and start the alarm.

Ninth Graders Problems Are Panel Subject

A committee to meet with ninth grade representatives for the purpose of discussing the fraternity-sorority problem was appointed yesterday at a panel discussion on student problems by ninth grade parents and teachers of the Mamaroneck Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association in the cafeteria.

The committee, appointed by Mrs. John Stahr, includes Miss Marjorie Wheaton, Mrs. Darrell Nordwall, Mrs. R. W. Schabacker, Mrs. Thomas Morrison and Hoyt D. Smith, principal.

The committee was formed following a discussion of fraternities and sororities as they affect senior high school students, by Miss Wheaton, French instructor at the Senior High, Mrs. Nordwall, parent of a MHS graduate, and Mrs. Walter Fehr, parent. Mrs. David Neville sugegsted discussions by a committee with ninth graders.

During the panel, Miss Eileen Bennett, English instructor, stressed the importance of setting a regular time for study, "preferably after outdoor exercise, with no distraction from the radio or refreshments," she said.

Discussing homework with children, instead of doing the work for them was suggested by Miss Roxie Hall, a member of the English staff, and the harmful effect of copying other children's work was emphasized by William Hance, Latin and social studies instructor.

Mrs. Thomas Morrison, ninth grade parent, suggested an earlier dinner hour for children whose parents arrive home late from New York City, as a means of securing better study conditions. She analyzed methods of adapting suggestions of teachers to practical home conditions.

Miss Marguerite Shea, dean of girls, and Robert Gingrich, dean of boys, explained the curriculum requirements of the Senior High School in preparation for academic as well as business careers.

Preceding the meeting, refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. Lester Gutterman, Mrs. Thomas Kearney and Mrs. David O'Dwyer.

Don Vollmer's Painting Chosen For International ARC Exhibit

A Westchester Junior Red Cross artist is among 50 youngsters from all parts of the United States whose paintings have been selected for kodachrome slides as examples of the international art exhibit sponsored last year by Junior Red Cross in cooperation with the Eastern Arts Association.

He is Don Vollmer of 93 Hickory Drive West, Larchmont, an eighth grade student at Mamaroneck Junior High School, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. B. Vollmer.

His painting, "The Second Alarm", was among the slides shown yesterday afternoon at Red Cross Chapter Headquarters in White Plains to the county chairmen of Junior Red Cross. The national project yielded 3,629 paintings, 100 of which were sent to Czecho-Slovakia, Sweden, Venezuela and France for exhibit.

Mrs. Earle W. Tee of Larchmont, director of Junior Red Cross, announced that the project will be continued this year and that eventually the Red Cross hopes for return exhibits from the countries where the pictures have been shown.

Reporting on the current enrollment drive in the schools, Mrs. Tee stated that the Nathan Hale Elementary School in Mount Vernon was the first to reach 100 per cent membership and that the Scarborough Branch was the first to report completion of the drive in all schools.

An appeal was made by Mrs. Harry G. Wilcox of Mount Kisco, chairman of Junior Red Cross for the Chapter, for 400 cakes of soap for the gift boxes to be packed Nov. 26. She also announced that the Motor Service will pick up toys Monday for the Junior High School workers to repair at their "Toy Shop" Dec. 4.

Mrs. Wilcox told the group that Junior Red Cross work is increasing in significance in Westchester schools this year and that the personnel, including pupil- representatives and teacher-sponsors, is one of the most efficient type.

Miss Carol Hayden, supervisor of art in the White Plains schools, was a guest at the meeting.

Approximately 200 members of Westchester Chapter, B'nai B'rith from New Rochelle, Larchmont and Mamaroneck attended the chapter's initial donor luncheon held yesterday in the Hotel Pierre, New York City, and later a matinee of "Bravo" at the Lyceum Theater. Mrs. Lincoln Rosen and Mrs. Bernard Flaster were co-chairmen.

Following the luncheon, during which Mrs. Ben Eisenberg conducted a candlelight ceremony, Mrs. Rosen thanked the committee for its cooperation and urged non-members present to join "the ever growing chain of ardent workers." In a brief talk, Mrs. Harvey Bright, president, told members that they should derive satisfaction as part of the organization "which has made the world a better place to live in," and announced that the funds donated will be used to carry on the work of the group's various projects.

Combing The Town

Big Catch

Many Larchmonters have been eating succulent mackerel all week as a result of a bounteous catch last Friday by four Larchmont fishermen.

The fishing party included Neil Van Bureu, Spence Crosby, John Von Stein, and Arthur Sanford who embarked from Freeport, L. I., aboard the "Sailfish."

The mackerel were biting as quickly as the men could put their lines into the water and no one stopped to take time out for lunch. By the time they started home, their catch added up to 140 fish weighing more than 300 pounds. The fishermen handed out mackerel by twos and threes all over the Village.

An article on the technique of kicking, written by the Rev. Arnold A. Peulson, "The Kicking Parson," rector of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, Mamaroneck, appears in the November issue of "Sports View", a national magazine for football coaches writers and radio commentators.

One of Rev. Mr. Penton's local protege's is Eddie Peldt, ace kicking fullback for Bellows, who has been under the instruction of the "Punting Parson" for the last two seasons. An authority on kicking, Rev. Mr. Penton recently went to Princeton where he checked the kickers.

'Feudin' On Over County Park Decision

YONKERS — The first act of attrition by New York City following the Board of Supervisors action in denying use of Tibbetts Brook Park in Yonkers and Saxon Woods Golf Course in White Plains to New York City residents has occurred.

Robert Moses, New York City Commissioner of Parks, has denied Yonkers application for use of a small portion of land in Van Cortland Park for an athletic field.

According to Yonkers City Manager Thomas V. Kennedy negotiations for the land had proceeded to the point where New York had indicated willingness to loan one and one-quarter acres of land to Yonkers.

Then came the Supervisor's action and without explanation the application was denied.

VILLAGES HERE TO GET REFUNDS ON STATE TAX

$5,113 Goes to Mamaroneck And $4,705 To Larchmont

A switch of $62,332 in State mortgage tax refunds from Westchester towns to Westchester Villages has been ordered by the State Tax Commission. The transfer is to adjust improper distribution of such tax refunds in the period between 1929 and 1947, due to an error in the arithmetical formula under which such refunds were apportioned among towns and cities of the county.

The error was discovered earlier this year and brought to the attention of State and County authorities. An investigation followed improper distribution of the $62,-332 back to 1929. A further survey will be made beyond that year, at which the present study halted, because prior to 1929 the mortgage tax refunds were mixed with taxes on personal properties. It will be necessary in adjustment of refunds prior to 1929 to get a breakdown between refunds on personal and realty mortgage taxes.

The order filed today on the County Supervisors, with copy sent to Mamaroneck Village Counsel Anthony Sansone, secretary of the Westchester County Village Officials Association, requires that deductions be made in amounts specified from the towns' share of 1948 mortage tax refunds, and the aggregate credited to villages which have been injured through the improper distribution.

Towns which will suffer deductions are: Bedford, $365; Cortlandt, $1,267; Eastchester, $7,811; Greenburgh, $4,593; Mamaroneck, $8,586; Mount Pleasant, $2,786; New Castle $724; Ossining, $6,994; Pelham, $5,878; Rye, $10,533; and Scarsdale $13,828.

Similarly, villages which will benefit in the same total amount are: Ardsley, $74; Briarcliff Manor, $1,025; Bronxville, $6,674; Buchanan, $123; Croton, $1,139; Dobbs Ferry $913; Elmsford, $167; Hastings, $1,196; Irvington, $699; Larchmont, $4,705; Mamaroneck, $5,113; Mount Kisco, $1,990; North Pelham, $1,014; North Tarrytown, $1,948; Ossining, $5,376; Pelham, $604; Pelham Manor, $4,359; Pleasantville, $831; Port Chester, $9,299; Scarsdale, $13,828; Tarrytown, $1,542; and Tuckahoe, $1,136.

SUCHOW VICTORY EASES TENSION

City Is 'Impressed' By Report; New Drive By Reds Awaited

NANKING, (AP) — Tension eased in Central China today. The government's news of a complete victory in the battle of Suchow gave fresh hope to the unnerved capital.

The city obviously was impressed by the military spokesman's triumphant statement yesterday: "The battle for Suchow can be considered as concluded." People who had begun to talk of Chiang Kai - shek's possible abdication, looked up to the generalissimo with new respect.

Few sources, however, expected the Communist commanders to take the reported setback without planning another fight to open the road to Nanking.

When this might happen was a subject of conjecture here. It might depend on the extent of Communist casualties and the drain on supplies in the 10-day battle, and how long the Red commanders will need to regroup their weary armies.

Weather A Big Factor

The weather was another factor—and a big one in view of the decisive part it played in the government's operations. The clear days and moonlit nights favored government air strikes against Communist troops deployed without cover on the exposed plains.

For that reason, Communist losses likely were heavy. Maj. Gen. Shang Liu - shih, government military spokesman, estimated 130,000 Red casualties to 40,000 for the Suchow defenders.

On the Nationalists' side were these points:

The government air force was intact — no mention has been made of any losses—and it knew what it could do against massed troops without cover.

The government halted the Red advance without the use of reinforcements and supplies stalled at Pengpu, midway between Suchow and Nanking. These pressmashy would be available in the next phase.

700 Drink Recipes Feature New Book By David Embury

By RUTH R. TAUB

David A. Embury, distinguished member of the New York bar and Councilman of the Town of Mamaroneck, has long been known to his Larchmont neighbors as an amateur magician and amateur chef of no little prowess.

With the publication yesterday of "The Fine Art of Mixing Drinks" under the Doubleday imprint, he will become well known to a wider circle, for his lively and informative first book provides entertainment and guidance for both novice and expert.

Although it contains more than 700 recipes for an amazing variety of drinks, the neatly planned, practical, Embury volume is no mere "how to" book. It combines an urbane wit, and a tremendous fund of knowledge with a highly readable style and a large dosage of common sense, and the result is probably the most comprehensive book in its field on the market. Certainly the most comprehensive one that has come our way.

Covering all phases of its subject, including an analysis of the basic liquors, "The Fine Art of Mixing Drinks" also clarifies and explodes a number of popular misbeliefs and misconceptions, which is all to the good.

Several chapters are downright mouth-watering, and all of them are of interest. Chapter headings indicate the scope of Mr. Embury's book, among them "Glassware, Gimmicks and Gadgets", "The Use and Abuse of liquor," "Food and Drink," "Judging Liquor," and "Pickers-Uppers."

His recipes include every drink we ever heard of and plenty we never have, with such captivating names as "Alamacoolum," "Betsy Flanagan", "Brainstorm" "Captains's Blood," "Coronation," "Sweet and Lovely," "White Velvet," "Knickerbein," "Pussyfoot," and "Zoom."

Mr. Embury has words of wisdom on the social effects of over-

Help Flanagan Drive's Fund Reaches $275

More than $275 has been collected from private donations to help defray the hospitalization costs of Thomas F. Flanagan, Larchmont youth whose right leg was amputated Nov. 4 at New Rochelle Hospital following an auto accident in which he nearly lost his life.

A total of $123 in cash was deposited in "Help Flanagan" containers placed about Larchmont in various strategic spots, including Johnnie's Bar and Grill, Bergin's Tavern, the Larchmont Pharmacy, and the Larchmont Sport Shop.

More than $150 in private contributions was collected from residents of the Alden House Apartments in Larchmont, where Mr. Flanagan's father is employed as a porter and gardener. Both contributions were given to the parents of the 21-year-old youth.

John Ditore, owner of Johnnie's Bar and Grill, who counted the container of contributions and turned them over to the parents, said that all the containers, except the one in his restaurant, have been turned in. He said he will leave that one there for another week or so.

EARLY PEACE DIM DOCK STRIKE HOPE

Negotiations Open As New York's Ryan Threatens Reprisals Against Halifax

NEW YORK, (AP)—First joint negotiations in the crippling East Coast dock strike open today against a backdrop of events that punctured hopes for an early settlement.

These were the late developments:

1. Joseph P. Ryan, head of the 65,000 striking AFL dock workers, threatened future reprisals against British Queen liners being diverted from paralyzed U. S. ports to Halifax, N. S.

2. He also called on Halifax longshoremen "not to act as strikebreakers," and said the union local there agreed to reconsider its decision to work ships rerouted there. Dock workers at St. John, N. B., pledged cooperation in the waterfront tieup.

3. William N. Margolis, top Federal mediator, said negotiations probably will continue into next week. He saw no chance for a quick end of the strike that has made deepening inroads into the nation's economy.

The meeting today between negotiating committees of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association and the New York Shipping Association, representing stevedore employers, is the first joint session since the strike began ten days ago over a dispute.

On the eve of the meeting, Ryan said his union would exclude from any future agreement the Cunard White Star Line, operators of the big British Queen liners, if the company continued to try "to break our strike" by using the Halifax port.

At the bustling Halifax port, dock hands continued to work all ships, after reversing an earlier

FLOOD PROGRAM CITED AS COSTLY

Bill For Adequate Control Would Reach $1,000,000, Vroman Tells Rotary

Any adequate plan for flood and drainage control in the Village of Mamaroneck would cost in the neighborhood of a million dollars, Guy Vroman, former Village Engineer, told members of the Mamaroneck Rotary Club at a luncheon meeting yesterday at the Blue Haven Inn.

He added, however, that the cost of such a program would be halved with government help. A proposed program, he said, calls for: 1. Blasting out river rock in the Mamaroneck River from the railroad tracks to Tompkins Avenue; 2. Cleaning out river beds; 3. Building a rectangular tunnel from Barry Avenue to the railroad tracks to cover heavy flows; 4. Building a tunnel for flood waters of the Sheldrake River.

Mr. Vroman stated that a plan has been suggested for a drainage project down Barry Avenue, but this and a reservoir project were considered inadequate.

The guest speaker was introduced by Judge Henry D. Holden, President Mortimer H. Margolin presided. Guests included Rotarians Harry Frost of New Rochelle, A. Norman Klein and Joseph Smedick of Larchmont, Joseph McCarthy of Yonkers and Les Havender of the Bronx. Also Willie Campbell, Domenick Fortuna, Theodore DiMando and Carmelo Di Cioccio of Mamaroneck High School and Harvey Harriott and Thomas Walsh of Bellows High School.

County Valuations For 1949 Tax Rate Up By $40,000,000

Hospital Head Asks Grant From Town And Village To Offset Dispensary Deficit

To help relieve the financial burden of the United Hospital in maintaining special clinics which serve the people of the Village and Town of Mamaroneck, an appeal has been made by Eugene H. B. Watson, president, for a voluntary budgetary grant from both municipalities.

A program calling for an annual appropriation of $1,000 from the Town of Mamaroneck and $1,500 from the Village of Mamaroneck, to help offset the dispensary operating loss, which last year amounted to $10,284.31, is outlined in a recent report to the hospital trustees.

The following ten clinics are maintained by the United Hospital Dispensary for the benefit of the people of the Village and Town of Mamaroneck as well as those from Port Chester, Rye and Harrison: allergy, cancer, dental, eye, ear and throat, medical, pediatric, pre-natal, skin, surgical and urology.

The indigent sick of these communities during the last hospital year made 5,763 visits to these clinics. Dispensary visits made by the people of the Village and Town of Mamaroneck numbered 750 or 13 per cent of the total number of visits.

"The cost of maintaining these clinics is approximately $11,000.00 a year which does not include the cost of special drugs furnished free," President Watson explained. "All 62 doctors on the hospital's attending staff, including department chiefs, give their services free. Clinic patients receive the same careful attention and nursing care as do regular hospital patients.

"For this clinic service the admitting clerk endeavors to collect a token payment of 25 cents from each patient per visit, if payment

NIGHT PARKING BANNED IN TOWN

Three - Month Prohibition To Aid Snow Removal, Yerick Announces

All-night parking will be banned in the unincorporated area of the Town of Mamaroneck during December, January and February, Police Chief Paul A. Yerick announced today.

The action has been taken in an effort to expedite the task of snow removal since the Highway and Fire Departments worked under dangerous handicaps last year.

"We realize this will inconvenience many car owners" Chief Yerick said today, "but it would inconvenience them even more if the Highway Department should again be unable to remove the snow from the streets."

"The Police Department is responsible for the protection of life and property in the Town of Mamaroneck. After the terrible snow storm last Winter, it would have been impossible for the Fire Department to reach any of the Larchmont apartment houses where the cars were snowed in. We don't intend to have this happen again."

The action marks the first time such a parking prohibition has been in effect in the unincorporated area.

Santa To Come To Larchmont Next Friday

Plans for the arrival of Santa Claus in Larchmont next Friday were made yesterday at a meeting of the Larchmont Fair Trade Association at the Pal Mar Restaurant. The organization will sponsor a theater party for the children of the village in connection with Santa's visit.

The youngsters will assemble on the corner of North Chatsworth Avenue and Myrtle Boulevard where they will hail the arrival of Santa Claus and then march to the Larchmont Theater. Two Christmas shows will be held, one at 9 P. M., and another at 11 A. M. to accommodate all the youngsters. Following each show, Santa will distribute gifts.

The Christmas light decorations in the business areas this year will consist of two four-foot evergreen trees on each pole interlaced with strings of Christmas lights.

Gene Foley of Foley Brothers Hardware Store is in charge of making the strings of Christmas lights which will become the permanent property of the association. The evergreens are being supplied by the Larchmont Nurseries.

It was decided this method of Christmas decoration would be the most attractive since it would be noticeable not only at night but during the daytime as well.

Several members reported difficulty in collecting money from other merchants for the Christmas Light Fund and expressed surprise that so many merchants could not see the value of such decorations.

A store window display competition will be held during December which will be open to all merchants of Larchmont whether they are members of the association or not. Five judges, who are not merchants, will be appointed to judge the windows. No prizes will be awarded but the names of the winners will be published in The Daily Times.

President Harold Eisner reported for the committee which met to discuss the Hoxie Plan for a Community House.

Alan Krutsch and Milton Weintraub were appointed to represent the association at the meetings of the Education Workshop sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Larchmont, to study the needs of the Mamaroneck School District.

A committee of five was appointed to make plans for a party for members of the association to be held after the holidays. Sally Ryan was named chairman, assisted by Lorna London, Mrs. Stanley Lehigh, Sylvia Cluxton and Louise DelHagen.

Flowers were ordered to be sent to Lucille Ford who is recuperating from an illness.

U. N. ASSEMBLY VOTES ARMS PLAN

Russian Block Is Defeated On 43 to 6 Ballot— Red Plan Up

PARIS, (AP) — The United Nations assembly rejected today a Russian proposal for a one-third cut within a year in the armed forces of the big five powers, but adopted a western-backed resolution looking toward reduced world armaments.

The assembly also voted down Russia's demand for an immediat ban on the atom bomb.

PARIS, (AP)—The United Nations Assembly approved today a Western-supported plan looking toward reduced world armament. In so doing it ignored Russian protests that the United States and Britain are in a "mad armaments race" aimed against the Soviet Union.

The vote was 43 to 6, with the Russian bloc of nations voting no.

The Assembly then began a roll-call vote, paragraph by paragraph, on Russia's demand for a one-third cut in the armed forces of the five great powers within a year and for a ban on the atom bomb.

PARIS, (AP)—Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky told the United Nations today the United States is building up a Western European system directed against the Soviet Union.

He charged also at a full session of the General Assembly that the United States and Britain are carrying on a "mad armaments race" against Russia. In both countries, he said, there is a "war psychosis" against the Soviet Union.

The Russian spoke after John Foster Dulles of the United States attacked the Soviets' proposal for a one-third arms cut as "almost irresponsible" and a "cruel deception."

Russian Resolution Rejected

Dulles urged the Assembly to approve unanimously a majority proposal calling for further study of steps toward arms limitations.

Russia attacked that proposal

Assessments Figured At $1,585,715,886 By Tax Commission

By HUGH W. ROBERTSON

The total assessed valuation of real estate in Westchester County for 1948, upon which 1949 tax rates will be levied, is $1,585,715,886, it was announced today by the Westchester County Tax Commission.

The total represents an increase of nearly $40 million over last year's total—$30,746,320 to be exact—and places the valuation at approximately the 1940 total of $1,584,844,099. Values dropped during the war because of lack of new construction and because of depreciation and demolition, only now regaining the pre-war aggregate. But the 1948 total is still far below the Westchester peak, reached in 1932 before the full effect of the depression hit the county, when the total was for that year $1,828,715,477. At that time, equalized valuations showed the total value of realty in Westchester as almost exactly two billions.

Net Increase 2.57 P. C.

The net percentage of the increase in values this year is 2.57 per cent.

The table of valuations by towns and cities, tabulated by Charles E. Stahl of Yonkers, Secretary of the Tax Commission, will be utilized for establishment by the commission of the 1949 tax equalization table of the county, upon which the 1949 tax levy of the county will be apportioned among 18 towns and six cities.

Members of the commission are George M. Waugh Jr., Scarsdale, chairman; Edward J. Murray of Yonkers, Harry E. Colwell of New Rochelle, Christopher Lennox of North Tarrytown and Clarence Martens Jr. of Mount Vernon.

New Assessments $29 Million

New construction for the year totaled $25,894,463, which with an increase in special franchise valuations of public utilities gave an overall total of new assessments of $29,119,348. From this figure, however, must be deducted $765,-943 in demolitions and $1,283,215 for properties which became tax exempt during the year, leaving a net gain on new assessments for the year at $27,070,190. To this is added $2,675,139 representing the increase in old assessments, for the grand total increase mentioned above of $30,745,329.

An analysis reveals that the increase on old assessments was at

HOW MUCH FOR A TELEPHONE?

IN THE complex, hurried social and business life we now lead, the telephone is no longer a minor luxury but a practical necessity. Its presence in the home or office is not of personal desire but of real need. Consequently, when the New York Telephone Company applies to the Public Service Commission for increased rates the application is one which will naturally affect in one manner or another the pocketbooks of all.

The application is of two phases. In one the company asks for new rates which will result in an average 15 per cent increase in revenue although some subscribers will pay far higher percentage increase if the request be granted in full. In the second phase, the request is for an "interim" 10 per cent across-the-board base increase, which would benefit the company's revenues pending final determination by the PSC of the first long-range request.

Altogether, by the company's figures, the overall 15 per cent increase would bring an added yearly return of $49 million. The "interim" rate increase, it is figured, would result in about $25 million annually. Some 4,400,000 subscribers throughout New York State would be affected and of this total 3,100,000 are in the Metropolitan Area, including Westchester. It is easy to see that the requests, because of heavy financial aspects and widespread effect upon the population, must receive the closest and most painstaking scrutiny of the commission before a final decision is handed down.

This newspaper has endeavored in news articles to portray as much in detail as space will allow exactly how the proposed new rates will affect each family and each business. However, because of the complexity of the problem and the varied uses of the telephone by different subscribers, no overall picture to fit each case is possible. In general, here in Westchester, rates will increase from $1 to $1.25 a month for homes in Northern Westchester, $1 for some homes in the lower part of the county, with smaller increases where there are party-line subscribers, and as much as $1.50 in some other areas. For the first time, residents in the lower half of the county would get the option of a new rate on a certain number of calls monthly. Because of such varieties of use it is difficult to give each reader the effect of the new rates upon his own situation. All business telephones in the lower half of the county would be on the message-rate basis and generally at $1.25 increased rate.

Offsetting to a degree the increased rates is the expansion of calling areas from the present boundaries so that many subscribers will find it possible under the new arrangement to call without extra cost a larger number of friends and business acquaintances than at present.

The question is whether the new rates should be permitted, either wholly or in part, is of such complexity and of such devious character that only those well versed in the science of public utilities can give an honest, accurate answer.

It cannot be denied that any large public utility must produce earnings in such degree as to invite investments, if it is to expand and improve the service. And while earnings of the telephone company have increased in recent years, figures submitted show that the operating costs have grown by a larger amount. Westchester is aware from observation of expansion of service, in new buildings in Yonkers, New Rochelle and White Plains, and in either installation or plans for the dial system.

It is true, too, that with the exception of minor adjustments, no general rate increase has been asked by the company since 1930. And in that period supplies and materials, and especially personnel, have mounted steadily and hugely, as is known to every reader. Since 1940, while telephone earnings have risen 80 per cent, operating expenses, including taxes and wages, rose 96 per cent. Salaries and wages alone went up in that time 129 per cent, says the company's president.

Against these economic trends must be weighted the bounden duty of the Public Service Commission to protect the subscriber public against possible imposition of higher rates than are actually needed. It is human nature, even in large corporations, to exaggerate one's plight and to ask for greater relief than is really essential. That is why we have the state agency, to weight one factor against another, to evaluate the true merit of applications, and to decide upon a basis which is fair both to the utility and to the public.

That is what we expect of the Public Service Commission in this case.

The Counselor

AIR RIFLES

Question: I am a fourteen-year-old boy and am anxious to own an air rifle. My father does not agree with me because of the great number of tragedies caused by people having guns in the home. However, he is willing to abide by your decision.

W. M. Jr.

Answer: There is a state law prohibiting the use of air rifles. In communities such as ours, they are doubly dangerous because people live so near together. I think your father is right and that you should wait until you are older. Then you might get a real hunting rifle and during hunting season, with a proper hunting license, go into the nearby counties, such as Sullivan, where hunting is permitted.

OLD FATHER-in-LAW

Question: I have cared for my eighty-year-old father-in-law for five years. For the past two years I have had to go to business and have worried myself sick about leaving him alone at home all day. This causes me and my husband to quarrel constantly because I say his father should go to live with one of his brothers or sisters who are home all day and can well take care of him. What do you think? Am I not doing my share? A Reader.

Answer: It's pretty bitter to be old and unwanted, isn't it? Does your father-in-law mind being left alone all day? If you feel that in all justice to both the old gentleman and yourself, he should leave your home, why not call a family council and talk the matter over honestly and without any bitterness. Perhaps you could arrange to have him spend a little time with each of you in turn so that you can all equally share the burden of his care.

STILL IN

Question: When did Secretary of the Interior Krug resign?

R. M.

Answer: He hasn't — as of today, at least.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Question: I am over sixty-five. I have been unemployed for nine years, last working for the WPA. Do you think I am entitled to Old Age Benefits? M. T.

Answer: You probably are entitled to Old Age Benefits and should consult the County Welfare Department for advice. Go to the old age division of the Department of Child and Family Welfare in the County Office Building, White Plains, or to the branch office nearest your home. This address you can secure from the telephone book or by phoning to the welfare department, White Plains 9-1300.

SONG SWINDLES

Question: I have written many songs to be published and sent them to several different companies. They swindled me. Can you give me the name of a company I can trust? E. L.

Answer: You should consult the Songwriters Protective Association, RCA Building, 1250 Sixth Avenue, New York City, 20. We do not feel qualified to recommend any specific song publisher but feel assured that you'll gain the advice you need at the above address.

Belgian Car Radio Tax Leads to Confusion

BRUSSELS, (AP) — The Belgian Ministry of Communications has launched a campaign against motorists who have not paid the tax on their car radio. And that goes for most of the motorists on the roads of Belgum today. Under Belgian law each radio owner must pay a yearly tax of about $3.20 for the radio in his home. It doesn't matter how many sets he has around the house, because the law says a man has only one pair of ears so can only be listening in on place at a time. This goes for his car radio too, and as long as the car is in the garage the radio is held to be "at home."

Asked how the confused situation affected the owner of a portable radio, an employe of the Ministry said: "Well, er, actually you are supposed to give us notice each time you take the set out. That's the rule." But he declined to say how many portable radio owners called to report their outings.

Still Scanning The Election: Tucker Credits Women's Votes

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — The final check on President Truman's surprising victory in the face of overwhelming political and popular odds gives credit to the women for keeping him in the White House. It is, perhaps, their greatest public achievement since they were given suffrage almost 30 years ago.

One group alone, consisting largely of women, is regarded as Mr. Truman's principal ballot-box benefactors. They are the school-teachers of America. For some reason they got the impression that the President was more favorable to them than Governor Dewey was.

In particular, they liked the administration's expanded educational program, which points toward higher salaries, more buildings and smaller classes, and Federal subsidies through at least two years of junior college.

WOMEN—The teachers alone, assuming that they influenced and propagandized a friend or two—and few groups have a richer field for making and influencing friends—could have turned the trick, in view of Mr. Truman's narrow margin in such key states as Ohio, Illinois, Iowa, West Virginia and other commonwealths that provided him his Electoral College dividend.

These post - mortem pollsters, however, think that the President got a far larger vote among women generally than his opponent did. Possibly because they are more susceptible to personal and emotional pressures, they seemed to prefer the homely Missouri personality to the New York glamor. It is figured that many voted for Mr. Truman out of sympathy, a sort of motherly complex.

And every reporter and traveller on the Truman train now concedes that Mrs. Truman and Margaret made votes for the head of the family.

THEORY—Bolstering this logical but unprovable conclusion is the fact that the 81st Congress will have the largest quota of women in political history, and the only feminine member of the Senate elected in her own right—Margaret Chase Smith of Maine.

Mr. Truman apparently agrees with this theory. For it is understood that if a new cabinet department of social welfare is created, he will name a woman to head it. He may also appoint several of the helpful sex to diplomatic posts.

FOREIGN—President Truman has taken complete command of the handling of foreign problems for the first time since he entered the White House.

His election has given him enough confidence to break from the spell which Secretary Marshall and Under Secretary Lovett exercised over him, and to disregard the extremely pro - British group inside the State Department.

Mr. Truman deferred action on numerous foreign questions until after the election for political considerations alone. He changed front several times on the matter of Palestine, shocking both Messrs. Marshall and Lovett, not to mention National Defense Secretary Forrestal.

They had played along with the British, who argued against any solution that might offend the Arabs. The President has now thrown this country's influence on the side of the Jews.

PARTICIPATION — Mr. Truman will also press for full American participation in a Western European alliance, and in this project he has the enthusiastic support of Secretary Marshall.

The post-election decision to finance rearming of three French divisions, a form of aid which will be extended eventually to other anti - Moscow allies, marks the first assertion of Truman power in the field of foreign affairs.

The President has also asked his state and national defense advisers to make a fresh canvass of the Chinese situation. Unless events of the next few weeks prove that it is too late to bolster the recognized government with funds, arms and civilian supplies, Mr. Truman plans to sponsor a minor Marshall Plan for the Orient.

The Chief Executive's assumption of authority in this field is based on his study of the election returns. In displacing such "isolationists" as Sen. C. Wayland Brooks of Illinois, "Joe" Ball of Minnesota and Harold L. Knutson of Minnesota, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, the voters declared for an aggressive, heavily financed around-the - world program, in White House opinion.

POLLS — Legislative proposals to kill off such supposedly "scientific" polls of political sentiment as those conducted by Messrs. Gallup, Crossley and Roper will get nowhere in the next Congress.

Bills already introduced to bar them from the mails would undoubtedly be held unconstitutional by the Supreme Court, assuming that they could be enacted, as "class discrimination."

The fact is that many Truman politicians attribute his victory to these "samplings" of the voters' mind. They were so confidently and unanimously pro-Dewey from the start that they tended to keep Republican voters from the polls and to induce heavy contributors to zipper their pocketbooks. The GOP's lack of cash accounts, partially at least, for their failure to carry Congress.

Inasmuch as many Democratic members of House and Senate figure that they owe their election to these polls' prediction of a Dewey triumph, with the resultant Republican indifference, it is hardly likely that they will put their statistical benefactors out of business.

Teachers Consider Textbooks At Barry Avenue PTA Panel

The method of presentation of the material is of prime importance in selecting textbooks, especially history texts, was a point agreed upon by the three speakers in last night's panel discussion on "The Men Behind the Pages of Our Children's Textbooks" presented by the Barry Avenue Parent-Teacher Association.

Robert Zimmerman, head of the history department in Bellows High School, said, "We satisfy ourselves that the material is presented factually and not in an attempt to indoctrinate for any special interests." Richard Pearson, managing editor of the textbook division of the MacMillan Publishing Company, commented further that "history books cause the trouble. . .for all history really is an interpretation of facts." Miss Marie Haggerty, principal of the Barry Avenue School, third member of the panel, said that a teacher examines a prospective textbook, then may use it as a supplementary book to see if it will fit in with the course of study, with the teacher having the final choice in selecting the texts.

James Bernard, teacher of social studies, history, and English in Bellows, fourth member of the panel explained that he "looks for a text having the story-telling technique, rather than presentation of bare facts." He stated that in social studies texts a point of prime importance is the basic philosophy of the book.

A brief business meeting preceded the program, presided over by Mrs. Herbert Amsel, PTA president. Mrs. Marjorie O'Rourke, Junior Red Cross Chairman, reported on the clothing and used toys drive for the benefit of Belgian orphans now being conducted by the children in the school, and Mrs. Gertrude Folin, school nurse, invited the parents and teachers to attend a film on cerebral palsy to be given Nov. 30 at the Mamaroneck Health Center. Textbooks now in use in the school and new library books were on display.

The speakers were introduced by Mrs. Bradford Howes, program chairman, and a question period followed their talks. Refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. David Kahn and Mrs. A. J. Samela, hospitality co-chairmen.

The car was badly damaged but Forman was uninjured, Mamaroneck police reported.

Both cars were proceeding east on the Post Road, police said. When Forman saw the sign, he told police, he jammed on his brakes and cut in toward the curb to avoid hitting the sign, but in so doing collided with the rear left fender of the truck. The truck was operated by Jacob Hatcher of Yonkers.

TEMPLE GROWING, LEADER REPORTS

Larchmont Group Numbers 350 Members, Kaufman Tells Group

The membership of the newly organized Larchmont Temple now numbers 115 families and more than 350 individuals, Jerome Kaufman, president, reported last night at a progress meeting. More than 120 children are attending the Temple's religious school classes on Sunday, he added.

Urging members to participate in the work of the various committees, Mr. Kaufman announced the chairmen, as follows: Mrs. Jerome Shapiro, hospitality; Bernard Kovner, music; Harry W. Grossman, program; Kalman B. Druck, publicity; Harold Frankel, finance; Mrs. Jerome T. Adler, religious school, and Jerome Seizel, membership.

Mr. Kaufman also announced that a Brotherhood and Sisterhood are being formed and general meetings of both groups will be held in the near future.

Preaching on "The Renaissance of Judaism," Rabbi Leonard Snoter outlined the three periods in Jewish history when major crises necessitated a rebuilding of faith and religion. The first crisis was in 587 B.C., the period of the Babylonian exile, he said. The second crisis occurred in 70 A.D. when the Jews revolted against and were crushed by the Roman Empire. And the third crisis began during the French Revolution in 1789, when modern ideas of citizenship were evolved. Feudalism disappeared, and secular authorities took responsibility for justice and other matters formerly administered within the framework of the religious communities.

Following the sermon, members took part in an open discussion, with Leon Vyner acting as moderator. Refreshments were served by the members of the hospitality committee.

GRAND JURY INDICTS IN LARCHMONT CASE

Theodore A. Roemer, twenty-five, of 204 Union Avenue, Mount Vernon, who was shot Nov. 4 while allegedly fleeing from a Larchmont house was indicted yesterday by the Grand Jury on a charge of burglary third degree.

Roemer was wounded by Detective Sergeant Thomas Doyle when he is said to have bolted as the officer arrived at the home of William G. Dosher at 94 Stuyvesant Avenue, Larchmont, in response to a call that someone was breaking into the house.

Police said Roemer told them he used money obtained in burglaries to bet at Long Island race tracks and claimed he had won $200 the day before his arrest. On May 28, 1946, he was sentenced in County Court in White Plains to serve from one to one-fourth to two and one-half years for burglary. At that time he was said to have admitted 27 house burglaries in Yonkers and at least a dozen others in the Fieldston section of the Bronx.

More Recreational Facilities Wanted For Teen-Age Set

(Editor's Note—This is the 57th in a Saturday series of interviews with citizens on important subjects. Suggested topics from readers are invited. Today's question is: "Do you think Mamaroneck needs more recreational facilities?")

Mrs. Sherman Downer, 520 Orchard Street, Mamaroneck: "I think they do. They need some sort of recreational centers, particularly for the teen-agers, where they can hold dances, play basketball and other games. There seems to be nothing for the children after they reach 15. If Bellows, Holy Trinity and other schools would open one night a week for recreation, where the children wouldn't have to travel too far at night, I am sure it would help solve the problem."

Carmen Fasolo, 632 North Barry Avenue, Mamaroneck: "I thing they need more recreational facilities for high school students to keep them out of trouble. Community teams might be organized according to age groups and hold competitions with prizes awarded to the winners. For a prize, I suggest that they take the winners to watch a radio program. Many youngsters listen to the radio but few get the chance to see a broadcast. The whole catch to it seems to be to get the students interested in taking part in such a program as well as having a place for it and the correct supervision. They would need an energetic director of recreation as it would take time to develop. There isn't enough in Mamaroneck to keep the students occupied."

David Britt, 302 Hunter Street, Mamaroneck: "The children should have more places to play to keep them from the streets. They play football and baseball in the streets and if they had some fields about the village where they could play I think it would be swell."

Mrs. William J. Toohey, 520 Fifth Street, Mamaroneck: "The children need more playground facilities while I believe the grown-ups could use more facilities for bowling and basketball."

MORE

Mrs. Charles J. Stoldt, 210 West Street, Mamaroneck: "In one way we do while on the other hand the more recreational facilities we have the higher our taxes go. I

3 BANDIT-SLAYERS GUILTY OF MURDER

Jury Convicts Trio In Yonkers Fireman's Death—Make Mercy Plea

Three New York bandits were convicted last night of first degree murder in the slaying of Fireman Joseph Polito during a holdup in a Yonkers political club last Dec. 1, with the jury recommending that they be sentenced to life imprisonment.

The jury, made up of nine men and three women, which had heard evidence in the case since Oct. 19, found John O'Hara, twenty, who is alleged to have fired the shots which killed Fireman Polito and wounded Patrolman Raymond F. Carruzza, John Simmons, twenty-seven, and Thomas G. Stack, twenty-two, guilty as charged in the indictment, but recommended clemency.

Although the law allows the court to ignore such a recommendation, there has been only one instance in this state in which a judge has imposed a death penalty after a jury suggested life imprisonment.

The jury announced its verdict to County Judge Elbert T. Gallagher at 11:15 P. M., after slightly

KANSAS BLIZZARD RESCUES PUSHED

Snow Drifts 3 to 20 Feet Deep to Slow Trains, Maroon Cars

KANSAS CITY, (AP) — Plainsmen in three states today were cutting through deep snowdrifts to rescue stranded travelers and livestock.

Winter's first swoop across Eastern Colorado, Southwestern Nebraska and Western Kansas had ridged the land with drifts from three to 20 feet deep. Trains, buses and motor cars were stalled. Telephone and power lines were down, and many communities isolated.

One death was reported. A fifteen-year-old girl died at Hutchinson, Kas., of diabetes when efforts blocked efforts to get her to a hospital.

Lack of severe cold lessened the hardships.

Trains on the Santa Fe, Union Pacific, and Rock Island lines were coming slowly today but snowplows rammed the tracks clear. Some trains were delayed as much as 20 hours Friday.

National guardsmen in Kansas, using half - track vehicles, were hauling stranded motorists to shelter.

Two airplane pilots, flying separate routes from Kansas City to Denver late yesterday, reported seeing more than 200 motor cars stalled near the Kansas-Colorado border. They saw no distress signals, however.

World On Road To Recovery, Dr. Joosten Believes After Globe-Circling Trip By Air

By BURNHAM M. LEWIS

Home from a two-month trip around the world by air, Dr. Hugo J. Joosten of 79 Harmon Drive, Larchmont, is convinced that people are working hard to return to normal after the war and that most countries are on the road to recovery.

He left Larchmont Sept. 4 to visit the overseas operations of E. R. Squibb and Sons International Corporation and, before he arrived home Armistice Day, flew 26,000 miles over 28 countries and territories using four different air lines and as many types of planes. He spent 117 1-2 hours in the air flying 65 per cent of the way over water and, as director of his company, made extended visits in Holland, Greece, Egypt, India, Indonesia, Malaya, Siam, the Philippines and Hawaii.

Conditions differed, of course, and some of the countries he investigated are making a more rapid economic and political resurgence than others.

"I was quite impressed with Singapore during the short time I was there," he said this week in an interview. "Life was more normal there than in any of the countries I visited. Practically anything could be bought at reasonable prices; many articles are smuggled into Singapore from Hong Kong. Definitely the strong point of the British empire in the East, Singapore was practically unbombed during the war," he added.

In Bankok, the capital of Siam, he was also surprised to see that the government imposed no import restrictions; almost everything you wanted you could have at reasonable prices. The Siamese have plenty of dollars due to their export of agricultural and mineral products to the United States, he explained.

Mr. Joosten spent his longest sustained flight on the non-stop leg from New York to Scotland. Crossing the Atlantic on this 12-hour flight in a Constellation, he flew most of the way in a pressurized cabin at 20,000 feet.

He arrived in Holland in time to view the coronation ceremonies and visited his family in Haarlem. Holland is doing a pretty good job of recovery but success depends to a great extent on the outcome of the recent civil strife in the Dutch East Indies. Much of the national income of Holland depends on her trade relations with her colonies there, he explained.

In Holland the economic situation is better but many items are still rationed and life is still far from what it was before the war," he said.

Belgium has made the most remarkable recovery of the post-war European countries, he believes. Prices are high, but trade is flourishing.

In Greece, life is influenced by the proximity of the Iron Curtain and the communist-led bandits create great difficulties for the people in the northern part, he continued. He visited the "preventorium" a sanitorium", which provides medicinals and shelter for some 700 children evacuated from the bandit-held territories in Macedonia. This "preventorium" was organized by the Queen of Greece and is supported by private donations from United States citizens, he explained. These bandits are well organized by Communists and many of them are imported from Yugoslavia, Albania and Romania.

The Greeks are deeply grateful to the United States for everything we have done for them, according to Mr. Joosten, who added that he saw "an enormous number" of American military personnel there. While he was there the Greeks were hoping to celebrate the end of the civil war, but since then the Communists have recovered some of their formerly held territories, he said.

In Cairo, Mr. Joosten found himself in a nation which considers itself at war with a country it doesn't recognize. A bomb exploded close to the Squibb office which is near the Jewish section and killed eight persons. The Egyptian explanation of such incidents has often been that the Jews were making bombs which accidentally exploded. Mr. Joosten stated that he believed that United States' airlines will not take Jewish passengers to Egypt because they are seized on landing in Egypt by the government. One needs a visa to fly to or over Iraq, Egypt and Iran and to secure permission to disembark in Cairo Mr. Joosten had to state that he was not Jewish. Business in Egypt is bad because the Egyptians do not have many dollars and consequently cannot secure the needed American exports, according to Mr. Joosten.

"In Calcutta there is still an unsettled situation though it is not as bad as a year ago," he explained. Many Britishers still remain in the city of four million inhabitants and it is very calm

LOCAL MAN HURT IN TRUCK CRASH

Ledner and Passenger Are Treated For Cuts After Accident

A Larchmont driver and a passenger in his car were treated early this morning in New Rochelle Hospital for lacerations of the head following a crash with a trailer truck on the Boston Post Road near the Sagamore Inn.

John C. Ledner, twenty-three, of 115 Harmon Drive, told Mamaroneck Town Police that he and four passengers, James Burnham, a Dartmouth College student; Kenneth Sutherland, Bart Mitchelle and Jack Newkirk, all of New Rochelle, had been in the Sagamore Inn and when they left at 2:07 A. M. he attempted to make a U-turn in front of the Inn and did not see the truck until just before it collided with his auto.

He was treated for a lacerated left ear and Burnham for a laceration of the forehead which required five stitches. They were released from the hospital after treatment.

Arthur Crocco of Fairfield, Conn., driver of the truck, told police he was proceeding east on the Post Road and was approaching the bottom of the hill outside the Sagamore Inn when he saw the Ledner auto make a U-turn in front of him. He attempted to avoid hitting the car, but struck the left rear wheel. The truck stopped immediately and was not damaged. Mr. Crocco estimated his speed when he first noticed the auto as 20 to 25 m.p.h. and 40 m.p.h. at the time of impact.

The left rear fender of the Ledner auto was demolished, the trunk and left rear doors were sprung and the gooseneck of the gas tank and the left rear body were damaged, according to police. It was drizzling at the time of the accident. No charges or arrests were made.

LARCHMONT YOUTH INDICTED IN THEFT

New York — A grand larceny indictment was handed up by the New York County Grand Jury yesterday against John J. Deedy, 23, of 6 Locust Avenue, Larchmont, and Joseph Horme, 22, of 150 West 46th Street, New York.

The two youths are accused of stealing a taxicab parked at Third Avenue and 56th Street here at 4 A. M. Nov. 6 by Patrick McGinley of Long Island City. Queens McGinley reported the disappearance of his cab to police of the East 51st Street Station and the two youths were spotted shortly afterward at a midtown street corner, allegedly riding in the cab.

Doody is free in $1,000 bail, while Horme is being held in default of the same bond. Both will be arraigned for pleading to the indictment before General Sessions Judge George L. Donnellan Dec. 1.

Six - year - old Donald Giammarino of 6 Fifth Street, Mamaroneck, suffered a laceration of the left side of the forehead and an abrasion of the right knee at 3:15 P. M. when he was struck by a car on Melbourne Avenue, Mamaroneck.

The youngster was treated by Dr. Emil Verrilli and released.

According to the police report, Donald was walking on the side of the street when suddenly he ran in front of a car which was proceeding south on Melbourne Avenue. The car was operated by Francis A. Lynch of 155 Mamaroneck Avenue, Mamaroneck.

JEWISH CONSENT NEEDED IN SHIFT

Dr. Jessup Tells Political Committee We Accept Bernadotte Plan

PARIS, (AP) — The United States told the United Nations today the Negeb Desert area of Southern Palestine should not be taken from Israel without full consent of the Jews.

The United States, in a long-awaited statement on Palestine, also told the 58 nation Political Committee it looks forward to admission of Israel to the United Nations.

Dr. Philip C. Jessup, the American deputy, said the government in Washington generally is in accord with the conclusions of the assassinated mediator, Count Folke Bernadotte, with the exception of certain principles concerning boundaries.

Bernadotte proposed that the Negeb be turned over to the Arabs and that the Jews take Western Galilee in exchange. The Israelis, now in control of the Negeb through a successful military offensive against the Egyptians, reject this. The Negeb was allotted to them under the original U. N. Partition plan.

The Political Committee scheduled this special session on the Bernadotte plan after having intended originally to adjourn for the weekend.

TRUMAN TO FLY TO CAPITAL TODAY

Ends Vacation As Rayburn Sees No Depression Unless 'Man-Made' One

KEY WEST, (AP) — President Truman let it be known today through one of his closest associates that he believes his administration can avert another depression.

Rep. Sam Rayburn, speaker-to-be of the House, laid the administration position on the line here before flying back to Texas.

"If a major recession or depression should come — which I do not expect—it will not be justified by our economic situation, but will be man-made," Rayburn told a news conference after emerging from two hours with President at the temporary "White House" here.

This jibed with Mr. Truman's position in his talks in which he contended another depression could be avoided only by a Democratic victory because of his party's position that the GOP would look after the rich and not all classes of the economy.

Mr. Truman's vacation drew to a close today.

He flies back to Washington tomorrow for a heavy schedule of conferences highlighted by his meeting Monday with Secretary of State Marshall and roving ECA Ambassador Harriman. They will review the threats to peace in Europe, China and elsewhere.

OSSINING DRIVER DIES AS CAR CRASHES TREE

SCARBOROUGH — J. Lester White, twenty-six of 14 Maurice Avenue, Ossining, was killed early today when his car went out of control on the Albany Post Road and struck a tree.

Mr. White was alone in the car, driving north, when the accident occurred near the Scarborough School, about 4:20 A. M.

Briarcliff Manor police also reported a sideslight to the accident, when a car, approaching from the south, stopped about 75 yards from the scene. The driver jumped out and fled into the woods.

Investigation revealed that the unsociable driver was operating a car stolen from Frank Torresti of 7 Valley Avenue, Elmsford. The auto thief apparently mistook the police flares and activities for a roadblock.

It was the 33rd automobile fatality in Westchester this year compared with 45 a year ago, and the first in Briarcliff Manor in two and one-half years.

WHOSE "MANDATE"?

THE number of groups within the U. S. A. which claim the election of President Truman was solely due to their own efforts begins to approach the number of houses in which George Washington slept.

The CIO-AFL union leaders say they alone are responsible for Mr. Truman's election and, therefore, the election represents a "mandate" for the repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor reform law.

The farmers of the Middle West say they provided the votes which elected Mr. Truman and he, therefore, has a clear "mandate" to continue high subsidies and keep the price of foodstuffs at exorbitant levels.

Groups which are interested in the establishment of a strong Israeli Government in Palestine insist that it was their weight which pushed Mr. Truman into the lead and, therefore, there is a "mandate" to support such efforts.

Ex-Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes, who woke up about two weeks before the election and made a few speeches, says it was his influence which brought into the Democratic column many Conservationists and therefore there is a "mandate" to conserve natural resources.

Negroes of Harlem and elsewhere in the Industrial East declare they swung the balance and Mr. Truman has, therefore, a clear "mandate" to push through the entire civil-rights program he espoused last Summer.

Remnants of the New Deal, discredited leaders who had sought valiantly to displace Mr. Truman as the candidate at Philadelphia, say they swung him into the winning column, and there is, therefore, a "mandate" to restore New Deal policies.

Altogether, there are so many groups which modestly admit under pressure that they and they alone deserve credit for Mr. Truman's election that it is doubtful if they can all be properly recompensed. And certainly there are so many "mandates" that Mr. Truman will have little time for any other activities during the next four years.

What is most remarkable is the revelation that the success of Mr. Truman was due wholly to the support of these varied and assorted groups. There had been some credence heretofore in the theory that at least a part of the Truman victory had been due to votes from members of the Democratic Party.

"IF"

ANALYSIS of the Presidential election in pivotal states now reveals that if 35,300 voters strategically placed had switched their votes from Mr. Truman to Mr. Dewey, the latter would have been elected.

The switch of Ohio, Illinois and California from the Truman to the Dewey column would have elected Mr. Dewey. That switch would have required a change of votes of 3,444 in Ohio, 15,599 in Illinois and 16,257 in California, or a total of 35,300.

There is no practical benefit in dealing in possibilities at this time. Mr. Truman has, undeniably, been elected. And Mr. Dewey knows that a miss is as good as a mile.

But these figures may profitably and properly be borne in mind for refutation of the claim that the recent election constituted a "sweep" for Mr. Truman and his party. It was an exceedingly close election, sober analysis now reveals, and any other interpretation is plain partisan propaganda. The next time any such claim is advanced, the figure mentioned above may be quoted to show how baseless is the claim.

Any President elected upon such a thin margin of only 35,300 cannot crow too loudly over the victory.

TRENDS IN GROWTH

BETWEEN 1940 and 1947, the growth in population in the New York Metropolitan Area was 1,062,000, announces the Regional Plan Association.

There are two outstanding points in this survey which should be stressed:

(1) The suburban counties of the area, including Westchester, are growing three times as fast as New York City itself, and

(2) New York City for the first time in its history received no net population gain from movement of people into the city.

These isolated trends do not by themselves prove the theory, but they add considerable weight to the growing belief among economists that the trend of the last century is now being reversed and we are proceeding away from urban concentration to suburban decentralization.

TO BUILD UP CITIES an age is needed, but an hour destroys them. A forest is long in growing but in a moment it is reduced to ashes.—Lucius Annaeus Seneca.

The Counselor

PRESIDENTIAL SUCCESSION

Question: Should President Truman die, who would succeed him? The Speaker of the House or the Secretary of State?

J. B.

Answer: Should President Truman die before Jan. 20 while there is still no Vice President, he would be succeeded by the Speaker of the House, the Hon. Joseph W. Martin Jr., R., Mass., who would serve until the end of the term. After Jan. 20, of course, the newly elected Vice President, Sen. Alben W. Barkley, will be the next in line. The old law, recently repealed, would have made the Secretary of State next in line should President Truman die before the expiration of this term.

CHAMOIS WASHING

Mrs. L. J. L. writes to correct a recent statement here that there is nothing to do for a stiffened chamois except wetting. "If soiled chamois is well washed," Mrs. L. writes, "using a mild soap and rubbing the soiled places, and rinsed in a sudsy water allowing the soap to dry in, it can be softened up by rubbing it between the hands after it is dry, using the same motion needed for washing, but being sure not to have damp hands. The dried in soapsuds does the trick." Thank you, Mrs. L.

Phone Mr. Delaney, White Plains 9-6518, for an appointment. He is extremely helpful for those engaged in small business ventures as well as to larger businesses.

BOTANICAL DILEMMA

Question: Some friends and myself are in a furious debate over whether a squash is a fruit or a vegetable. We'll settle the argument by accepting your decision.

Mrs. S. C.

Answer: You are both right, in a way. Botanically speaking, any seed container is a fruit, be it a squash, an English walnut or a banana. This is on the basis that any plant, be it tree, vine, grass or herb, is made up of roots, stem leaves and fruit (or blossom). On that basis the squash is a fruit. But in the everyday practical sense, thinking in terms of the difference between tomatoes, plants, plum trees or pecan trees, the squash is a vegetable. Does that satisfy both sides in your argument?

Extension Of Calling Areas Main Offer In Phone Rate Rise

By THEODORE B. GOETZ

Chief advantage held out by the New York Telephone Company to Westchester subscribers in asking higher rates up to 70 per cent for residence and to 157 per cent for business lines is the extension of the Metropolitan local calling area to include the lower and more populous half of the county. The company says this step is necessary now to get ready for complete dial switching throughout the area within a few years.

The subscriber who has customarily made a large number of toll calls would benefit under the proposed schedules of rates. However, the Northern Westchester subscriber who has a telephone to receive incoming calls and makes few outgoing would be charged a much higher rate for availability of service he might not use.

On flat-rate service he would be able to reach without toll charge a number of exchanges which he recently has had available at $1 to $1.50 a month additional. On message-rate service, in Lower Westchester only, an even larger number of nearby exchanges would be available (except from Elmsford) as local calls.

Lower County 2 Messages

The measured subscribers get 66 calls a month to start with on residence telephones and 75 a month on business lines. All points in Lower Westchester may be reached from any other for a maximum of two message-units.

Telephones in Yonkers, Mount Vernon, Pelham and New Rochelle can reach the Upper Bronx on measured service for one unit, the rest of the Bronx to Central Manhattan for two, and the rest of Manhattan for three.

The middle zone of Manhattan is from Southern Harlem to about 60th Street, and from there to The Battery is the first zone. The Metropolitan local calling area is measured on an arc from The Battery which cuts Westchester on the Tarrytown - White Plains-Port Chester line and Long Island almost on the Nassau-Suffolk line.

In the Westchester zones those next to each other would call for one message - unit and next beyond for two.

Some calls to Long Island would be reduced, for instance, White Plains to Glen Cove four units for five minutes instead of the present 35 cents for four minutes.

Overtime to Use Units

After an initial period of five minutes overtime would be charged by using message-units depending on distance. For instance, a call from White Plains to Rockefeller Center would cost five units for five minutes and each one minute of overtime. Conceivably a subscriber might use up all his 66 units on two long calls to New York.

Additional local calls beyond the 66 a month for residences and 75 for business would be charged at five cents each for the next 400, four and one-half cents for an additional 400, four cents for a third 400 and three and one-half cents for all over 1,266 or 1,275.

Flat-rate subscribers would be charged outside their smaller toll-free calling zones at five cents per message-unit in the Metropolitan area, and overtime would be charged accordingly.

The Metropolitan zone extension would give Westchester flat-rate subscribers from 23,000 to 98,000 more telephones available for one message-unit, and message-rate subscribers an additional 11,000 to 81,000 depending on locality according to the following table in which thousands are omitted.

2 Envelopes Held Needless In College Bids

By EMILY POST

The sales representative for the X Engraving Company writes: "I often am asked if it is correct, or at least socially acceptable, to use only one envelope with high school and college commencement invitations or announcements. Will you please advise me? Since the extra envelope adds materially to the price, if it is not socially necessary, we can save scarce paper and at the same time help to keep prices down."

Answer: Certainly you can save this extra expense. In fact, only formally engraved wedding invitations require two envelopes.

Question: When staying on the same train for a number of days, may one go into the dining car without a hat?

Answer: Certainly. On a long journey very few women leave their hats on.

Question: I have been with my employer a number of years and have spoken to his wife on the telephone quite often. I do not know her personally, but I am beginning to feel self-conscious about announcing myself to her on the telephone as Miss Blank. I feel that I should say "Mary Blank." What is your opinion?

Answer: "This is Miss Blank" is best business form unless you know her very well and she calls you "Mary."

Question: Sometimes, you will agree, there are logical reasons why one does not wish to accept certain people's invitations. If these people continue to invite me even though I have been refusing by explaining that I was busy for that time, how can I refuse with the same excuse when asked far in advance of the date?

Answer: You might say that you are sorry but you can't make an engagement so far ahead because you are not sure of being in town. This is the answer many busy people have to give, since it is a definite breach of etiquette to break an engagement after having made it.

75 Million Americans Hold $50 Billion Bonds

NEW YORK, (AP) — More than 75 million Americans now hold U. S. savings bonds with a total value of more than $50 billion.

Elihu E. Harris, advertising director of the Treasury Department's Bond Division, gave the figures yesterday at a meeting of advertising executives.

He said present bond sales exceed redemptions, and that there are now more outstanding bonds than at the end of the war.

Tucker Likes Truman Modesty In Upset Victory At Election

By RAY TUCKER

Question: How has President Truman reacted in his personal behaviour and political planning to his defeat of Governor Dewey?

M. T.

Answer: Personally, President Truman's modesty in victory has been refreshing. He has not gloated. He has shown no vindictiveness against party bosses and prominent Democrats who opposed him both before and after his nomination.

Save for ringleaders among the Wallace and States Rights rebels, he plans no such "purge" as Franklin D. Roosevelt ordered, and as Eleanor Roosevelt now suggests.

How long he will remain a honeymoon sort of bridegroom is questionable, however. When he entered the White House in April of 1945, his outstanding characteristics on his elevation were awe, humility and gratitude.

But within a few months he was quarreling bitterly with his old friends on Capitol Hill. It is always difficult for a President to keep his temper and head when legislative leaders of his own party balk him. Few do.

TROUBLE — Another favorable factor is Mr. Truman's decision not to run again. Unlike FDR, who usually had his eye on the next election, the Missourian may feel himself free to abandon the partisanship which he felt called upon to display in his one-man campaign for reelection.

But this very plan to retire at the end of four years may make trouble for him. He will be subjected to the pressures and demands of almost a score of ambitious Democrats who will begin to scheme for the 1952 Presidential nomination before they have warmed their chairs on Capitol Hill or at several state capitals.

Indeed, some of his friends were surprised that he spoke so plainly on the question of 1952. While none expects him to make another try, for he will be 68 four years hence, they thought it might be smarter politics if he had kept the boys guessing. It would have given him more bargaining power in controversies with Congress.

GROUPS — In the last analysis, Mr. Truman's personal attitude and administration policies may be influenced most deeply by the men around him. They consist of two groups—those who regard him as a conquering hero who slayed a Goliath all by himself, and those who figure that he scraped through because of his own luck and courage and the Republicans' mistakes in the campaign.

The first faction tell him that his victory was entirely personal, and that he is beholden to nobody. In the interest of future party triumphs, they want him to go ahead with what is known as the "new New Deal." They would have him move far to the left.

VOTES — They bulwark these arguments by pointing out that, if it had not been for the presence of Wallace (in New York) and the Thurmond - Wright ticket in the race (four Southern states with 38 electoral votes), his electoral total might have soared to around or above 400.

More sober advisers argue that there was no "landslide," in view of the closeness of the vote in so many states. A shift of approximately 40,000 ballots in the three states of Ohio, Illinois and California, they note, would have elected Governor Dewey.

These are the factors which will determine what kind of a President Mr. Truman will turn out to be in the next four years.

Question: I have read that almost everybody at Washington except President Truman and a few White House friends expected his defeat. Is there any evidence of his pre-election sentiment?

R. O.

Answer: I think so. For one thing, a special Secret Service man had been assigned to Albany to stay with Governor Dewey "through inauguration." Only a President-elect is accorded that protection.

Ironically, Mr. Truman's good friend, John W. Snyder, heads the Treasury, which has jurisdiction over the S. S. But it is doubtful if the matter was ever brought to his attention.

It is also known that the Council of Economic Advisers, which must submit its next report on business conditions in January, was framing a document on the basis of an Albany victory.

Many heads of key agencies tried to destroy or suppress evidence of their Democratic background and sponsorship, and had already interceded with highup friends for reappointment.

"The Authority on Authorities"

WHO HAS THE LENGTH?

IN A QUESTION of finessing against one defender or the other, when able to essay either direction, your problem is often reduced to a simple fundamental. It is the matter of which defender is more likely to have length in the crucial suit. Part of the answer is indicated if one opponent had shown length in other suits than the one under consideration.

North: ♠ J 8 4 ♥ A K 7 3 ♦ 10 7 ♣ A 10 9 5

West: ♠ 10 7 ♥ J 9 4 2 ♦ 9 5 2 ♣ Q 6 3 2

East: ♠ A Q 9 5 3 2 ♥ None ♦ K Q J 6 4 ♣ 8 4

South: ♠ K 6 ♥ Q 10 8 6 5 ♦ A 8 3 ♣ K J 7

(Dealer: East. North - South vulnerable.)

| East | South | West | North |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 ♠ | Pass | Pass | Dbl |
| 2 ♦ | 3 ♥ | Pass | 4 ♥ |
| 4 ♠ | 5 ♥ | | |

Having lost the opening trick on the spade 10 lead to the A and having won the second when the diamond K came to his A, South saw that he was sure to drop a diamond trick. He therefore could not afford to lose any in clubs and hearts. What would be the best way to play those suits? Begin with trumps, of course. But what then is the best way to play the hearts?

South gave himself a ready answer. He had learned from a book that, if you have the three top honors, you should take the first trick in the hand which has two of the three. So he led the heart 5 to the A. When East discarded a diamond on that, he realized he was sunk. There was now no way to shut out the heart J.

In this situation, South's only risk of losing a heart rested in the chance that all four missing trumps were in one hand. East's single-handed bidding of two suits to the level of four had made it virtually certain East had eleven cards in them, so could not possibly hold four hearts. But West might. So South should have taken the first heart with the single honor in his own hand. When East showed out, the finesses against West would have been marked.

If South had followed trump success by playing clubs also to protect himself against West, he would have made his contract.

Seniors At Bellows Score With 'Ten Little Indians'

The Senior class at Bellows High School distinguished itself last night with a crackerjack performance of Agatha Christie's 'Ten Little Indians", a murder mystery that held a large audience tense and expectant until the final curtain.

Expert direction and some uncommonly fine acting roused such sincere and excited audience reaction that several times the lines were halted until the audience quieted down.

Ten guests find themselves invited to an island mansion by hosts which turn out to be non-existent. They hear a gramophone record recounting a death caused in the past by each one of them and then, one by one, they begin to die off until only two are left facing it out in the final scene.

At least two members of the cast turned in performances better than most adult amateurs and certainly head and shoulders above what anyone expects of high school performers. William Fitts as the flatfoot put on a broad and ample piece of acting that could land him in the final term of a good dramatic school - if there were any talent scouts in the audience. His loping gait, sneering mouth and rusty-saw voice put life and punch into the play all the way through.

Another outstanding job was done by Elaine Trottier as a teetotaling, old maid who looked and sounded so mature that it was hard to believe she was a high school girl.

Robin Donaldson was decorative in the part of Vera Claythorne, one of the survivors, and let go with one of the most authentic screeches of the evening. The solid thread of character was carried throughout the play by Barry Loughrane with the aid of a "Bald" wig. He was excellent as the old judge teetering between senility and dementia and certainly made the most picturesque corpse of the evening.

Larry Litchfield was forceful and convincing as Captain Lombard who was sweet on the pretty secretary and did one of the best sequences of the play with Fitts in the final scene. Jack Skehan was properly nervous as the jittery Dr. Armstrong and Bart Thrasher really crumbled before our eyes as the old general caught in a crazy house.

The maid was ably played by Elizabeth Morehouse and her voice were so well suited to the acoustics that it was disappointing to see her killed off so soon. Arthur Henne was a good butler, Sphinx-like as the part required, and Robert McBrien contributed not only good acting but excellent facial expressions in the small part of Anthony Marston. Gerald Redford did an efficient job delivering the groceries in the first act.

The production had several attributes one does not expect to see in a high school play. Except for two brief interludes, the voices could be heard clearly in the last row of the auditorium. The set was a picturesque English drawing room with a balcony which actually seemed to overhang a cliff. The sound effects of wind and thunder were spine-chilling and the actors put their terror over so well that even the adult members of the audience were seen to clutch the backs of the seats on several occasions.

Stanley D. Cornish, the director, is to be congratulated upon an excellent choice of play, for picking actors to suit the parts and for logical stage direction which kept the action moving at a rapid pace as the excitement mounted. When you can go to a high school play and forget it's a play, it's good stuff.

Joan Flaherty was the stage manager, Patricia Bowman the prompter, Roy Saunders in charge of sound effects and Tom Mayers manipulator of the curtain. Properties were provided by Anne Brown assisted by Judy Alter. Vincent Codella was in charge of lighting which contributed directly to the eerie atmosphere of at least two of the scenes. The make-up was done by Miss Frances Larmon.

The program names the following committee in charge: Carol Ann von Spaeth, Muriel Russell, Barbara Cahill, Jean Fausett, Margaret Meier and Teresa Orsino; and the following students responsible for the set: Vincent Codella, Roy Saunders, Arthur Henne, Mary Hood, Larry Litchfield, Robert McBrien, Arlene Minichello, Joan Malinowski, Gerald Redford, Helen Lorys, Francis DiRollo and Richard Hill.

Jane Gunn and George Vladenides handled the ticket sale and Frances DiRollo, Beatrice Miles, Richard Hill, Arlene Minichello and Jerry Katz served as ushers.

The orchestra under J. Ellsworth Olsen's direction played "Chippiwa Chant" by Grant, "Hungarian Dances" by Brahms, "East of Suez" by Streber and 'Spirit of America" by Underwood.

Fathers Hold Discussion At PTA Meeting

Despite the existence of codes, censors and ethics, our children are exposed to good and bad influences in comics, movies, radio and books, and it is the duty of parents to take constructive interest in their child's contact with these media, was the conclusion of the "Stop, Look and Listen" Fathers' Night Forum conducted last night at Murray Avenue School auditorium.

With Jesse M. Van Law as moderator, four present and former fathers of Murray Avenue students discussed the problems in their respective fields. Robert Kuwahara discussed comics; Leon Shimkin, books; Gregory Abbott, movies and William Hedges, radio, followed by individual analyses.

Robert Kuwahara, who as "Bob Kay" creates and produces the syndicated cartoon strip, "Miki," traced the evolution of comics from "simple, funny stories to the blood and thunder type" which he said is the result of our present-day speed and tension. He pointed out that "all men have suppressed desires to be greater than they are," and in seeing themselves as the hero, enjoy such comics as "Superman." "Many are objectionable and it is high time that the house of comics has a good, thorough cleaning," he said.

The popular conception that a person must be widely read in order to be cultured is not a sound one, declared Leon Shimkin, executive vice president of Simon and Schuster. Pointing to the so - called classic nursery rhymes, he showed how they were simply the news of their times, told by wandering minstrels and without moral or social significance today. He said that "writing which can be understood by the juvenile mind, will have more effective influence and won't create frustration."

Mr. Shimkin suggested that a parent should study his child to discover his interests and aptitudes and then try to find the right book to meet these requirements: consult librarians and teachers for information on books which pertain to these needs; and finally expose a child to these books."

The third speaker was Gregory Abbott, commentator for Paramount Newsreels, movies and radio, who discussed the influence of movies on children. He pointed out that many movies are intended "strictly for adults" and urged all parents to investigate pictures before giving their children permission to attend. Helpful information can be obtained from movie reviews which guide parents in their selections of worthwhile pictures in all fields, he said. "Although there is censorship for all movies, censors judge only from an adult viewpoint," Mr. Abbott condluded.

"Radio, like children, was not born with a fully developed conscience," said William S. Hedges, vice president of NBC in charge of planning and development. "Instead, controls have gradually developed primarily though the adoption of ethics and codes, and radio fully recognizes its responsibility," he stated.

Mr. Hedges pointed out that no child be "arbitrarily forbidden to listen to any program which a parent may deem undesireable," and suggested that the parent listen along with the child and call particular attention to the story line, pointing out obvious weaknesses and probable solutions."

BOOK WEEK PROGRAM

Anna Carroll's Life Presented In Dramatic Review Of Novel

A dramatic interpretation of the book, "Woman With a Sword," by Hollister Noble, was adeptly presented yesterday by Kathryn Turney Garten at the Club Day program of the Woman's Club of Larchmont at the Larchmont Avenue Church house.

Mrs. Garten, who has presented book reviews for clubs in various parts of the country, pointed out that the main character, Anna Ella Carroll of Maryland, was "a real person, who played an important role in shaping the history of our nation."

She emphasized that the novel was based on historical fact, and spoke of the origin of the author's interest in the heroine. Mr. Noble, while reading Sandburg's biography of Lincoln, came across the name of Anna Caroll, and embarked on a long period of research on her background. "Woman With a Sword" was the result, she stated.

The speaker set the locale and time for the story, Washington, D. C., 1860, several days after the election of Abraham Lincoln to the presidency, but before the final result was determined by electoral vote. Possessing a well-trained voice, and remarkable articulation, Mrs. Garten related the plot of the book, and traced the rise of the political career of Anna Carroll.

A lawyer, interested and well-versed in constitutional and corporation law, Anna Carroll, incensed by a speech made in Congress by the Hon. John C. Breckinridge, wrote a reply to the senator's talk, and thereby received the recognition of Abraham Lincoln, Mrs. Garten told the group.

The heroine, she continued, then became a government agent, sent to the mid-West to investigate the possibilities of the so-called New Orleans Plan, a military proposal for defeating the South in the Civil War. While on her errand of proving the impossibility of the plan, she devised one of her own, which, famed as the Tennessee Campaign, was "what sent Grant through the South, brought about the defeat of Lee, and ended the Civil War."

Her part in planning the Civil War strategy was not told the public during the war, the speaker said, for military leaders, who could not draw up a satisfactory plan, "would not have appreciated that a woman did the work," and the government felt that the "people should not know that the military was incapable of devising the plan," she said. Lincoln had planned recognition for her, Mrs. Garten explained, but his sudden death prevented his efforts.

Mrs. Malcolm H. Merritt, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

Mrs. Ross LeB. Daggett presided at the business meeting preceeding the program. Guests at the meeting were Mrs. William Dickinson, regent of the Larchmont Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution; Mrs. F. Warren Green, president of the League of Women Voters of Larchmont; Mrs. Robert Hallock, representing the Garden Club of Larchmont, and Mrs. Walter Burbank, chairman of the Larchmont Branch of the American Red Cross.

Tea was served following the program under the direction of Mrs. Walter C. Reich, hospitality chairman. Presiding at the tea tables were Mrs. James W. Anderson, Mrs. William E. Baldwin, Mrs. Edward F. Watson and Mrs. William C. Welsh, with Mrs. A. Sterling Smith pouring at the president's table. Flowers were arranged by Mrs. Edward A. Keeler.

Guild Hears Activities Of Health Center

The organization and numerous community services of the Mamaroneck Health Center were stressed yesterday by members of the staff at the annual ingathering of the Needlework Guild at the Health Center, with Mrs. Alfred Weeks, Guild president, conducting a business meeting.

Mrs. Weeks expressed the appreciation of the Guild for donations made by the Sisterhood of the Hebrew Institute, and the Auxiliary of American Legion Post 90, who contributed a complete layette. She introduced Mrs. Thomas Heatley, executive president of the board of directors of the Health Center.

An expression of thanks for the 1081 garments donated by the Guild, including 95 made by the Camp Fire Girls and Blue Bird groups, was made by Mrs. Heatley, who said that the articles will be distributed by staff nurses to needy families.

Mrs. Mildred Burns, county supervising nurse, introduced new nurses on the staff, including Mrs. Winifred Taylor, Mrs. Kathryn Dolan, Miss Rosalyn Lefkowitz and Miss Rita Chisholm, who directs the weekly mother's classes at the Center.

Describing the facilities of the Health Center, Mrs. Burns said that the staff is "now equipped to carry out a complete program of public health nursing for the community." She spoke of the mother's classes, emphasizing that any relative who may care for mother or baby can receive instruction.

Mrs. Arthur F. Callahan, chairman of public relations for the Health Center, introduced Mrs. Grace Harold, director of health education for the Westchester Tuberculosis and Public Health Association. Mrs. Harold described the work of the mobile X-ray unit, and its meaning in the community. Purchased by the Westchester TB Association last year, the X-ray will determine the presence of tuberculosis, cancer, abcess, spinal deformities, and enlarged hearts, a service free of charge to the individual, she pointed out. The unit is supported by the sale of Christmas seals.

A discussion of the work of the social service committee during its first year was given by Mrs. George Brown, committee chairman. She said that her committee worked with school nurses to determine needy children, and expressed appreciation for the cooperation of the nurses and volunteer Fire Department, who provided funds for the camp work.

Mrs. Linden Morehouse, assistant guardian of the Ehwawee group of the Camp Fire Girls, led her group in singing traditional songs, and the Blue Birds sang their "Blue Bird Song."

Miss Caroline Olsen, president of the Ehawees, led the girls in a skit explaining the aims of Camp Fire Girls, assisted by Ruth Peyser, Jo Ann Hogan, Margaret McGourty, Carole Silleck, Mary Lou Warren, Maxine Clements, Margaret Bunkosky, Patty Walsh, Marcia Bairs, Ann Ciraco and Barbara Haghenbeck.

Refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. Emerson O. Heyworth and members of her committee.

Rollicking Comedy Features MHS Junior Class Production

Mamaroneck High School rolled up another hit in its long line of successful student productions last night when the Junior Class presented a hilarious version of the ever-popular Henry Aldrich tale, "What A Life," written by Clifford Goldsmith, and produced under the guiding hand of Miss Wanda Mitchell.

Staged in the principal's office of Central High School, the play brought together some superior acting, including excellent character portrayals, on a stage setting designed to make even the most frequent visitor to Broadway take notice. All this under Miss Mitchell's expert able direction, brought tremendous response from the parents and friends who filled the Senior High School auditorium.

In the role of the mischievous, fun-loving Henry Aldrich, who is never out of trouble (or the principal's office) was Michael Severin, playing his part to the hilt. He finds himself in all sorts of predicaments, not the least of which is being accused of stealing instruments from the band of Central High.

Mr. Bradley, the pompous principal, well-played by Albert Stern puts into practice his belief that a principal should "catch everyone he can," and Henry is his unwitting target, more often than not.

As the comedy opens, Miss Shea, Mr. Bradley's secretary, portrayed by Mary Jane Fritzinger, is shown trying to keep her patience in the midst of student problems, complaining teachers, and the arrival of one of the pupils' father, an Italian junk dealer, humorously played by Gordon Nichols.

Henry appears in the office, a not-uncommon sight to the efficient and uncompromising secretary, and confesses his removal from the study hall for a slight "disturbance." Henry hints to Mr. Bradley that George Bigelow, a "big wheel" in the school (a fact which no one knows as well as George himself), is the culprit.

Bigelow, a swaggering, well-built athletic star at the school arrives in the principal's office—at the latter's request—in the person of Ed Borschow. Upon questioning, he points an accusing finger at the hero, and furnishes a far from flattering picture which Henry has drawn of the history teacher, Mr. Patterson, which turns out to be "the root of the disturbance."

Mrs. Aldrich, played by Ann Merritt, arrives at the school at an inopportune moment, after Henry has just confided to Mr. Bradley that his "mother is very ill, and can't leave the house." Things then really start popping, and in rapid succession, Henry goes on probation; is accused of cheating on an examination by Mr. Patterson, (described by Henry as a big fish floating upside down); is suspended from school, and, to cap the climax, is accused of taking band instruments from the school and "hocking them."

Poor Henry is finally vindicated, chiefly through the efforts of Bill, a student played by Roy Moulton, when it turns out that George Bigelow put the instruments in the pawn shop and signed Henry's name to the ticket. The paly ends on a happy note, despite the entanglements and shattered nerves Henry's escapades have left in their wake.

In supporting roles were Walter Moeller as the compassionate assistant principal, Mr. Nelson, the only member of the school staff who shows any tolerance and understanding of the vagaries of young boys; Malcolm Hepworth as Mr. Patterson; Judy Simpson as Miss Pike, the botany teacher who is "always cold"; and Joan Van Valkenberg as Miss Eggleston, study hall teacher, who started the ball of Henry's misfortunes rolling.

Barbara Pearson, Henry's new-found heart throb, for whom he cheated on the exam so he would get a good mark and thereby receiving his parents permission to go to the school's Spring dance was appealingly played by Jean Durling. Gina Guttmann played with conviction the part of the music teacher, Miss Wheeler. Mr. Ferguson, a detective, was portrayed by Michael Zeiler, and Gertie and Mary Deeter, both students, were played respectively by Sandra Wanderman, and Ersaline Alexander.

A character who appeared only briefly at interludes on the stage, but who added to the atmosphere of the production (with a basketball under her arm) was Miss Johnson, physical education teacher, played by Sharon Kelly, who "fairly oozed physical education."

Extra teachers were Nancy Baker, Peter Greenman, Arlita Holt, George Klein and Lois Pope, with extra students played by Wren Bizzard, Sandra Croll, Arlene Fuccillo, Steve Gibbons, Edith Hall, Alex Hausler, Anne Hayes, Ralph Henry, William Hutchinson, Carol Lightfoot, Patricia McCauley, Caryl Posner, Jill Schiller, Barbara Steinmann, John Taub and Sue Van Noppen, all of whom contributed to the success of the play.

Musical interludes were played by the Mamaroneck High School Orchestra, under the direction of Harland F. Pinney. Miss Mitchell was assisted by Joanne Sanborn and Caroline Soper.

Eagles Battle Rye Hawks; Salasin Tops Major League

Spotlight On Sports

By DICK CARPENTER

Yonkers Central High, undefeated in WIAA play this season and conqueror of Isaac Young last Saturday, must be content to rest in a tie for second place in the final standings for 1948. The Young Knights have won the "championship" already, having 11 points under the scoring system, although tieing one game and losing one. Mamaroneck's Tigers brought their total up to ten last week with that memorable triumph over New Rochelle's bulky but outplayed Purple Wave.

If something isn't done about making the WIAA a league, in the true sense of the word, after all the abuse handed out by county sports writers, then it appears that the Westchester loop is doomed to permanent jeers and Bronx razberries from here on in.

There are many local fans who Black clad warriors would have easily beaten Isaac Young if the engagement had been later in the season.

The 13-6 score of the Young-Tiger battle was far from impressive from this viewpoint with nine fumbles squirting out of Mamaroneck players' hands being the deciding factor.

Joe Petruzzo added 19 points to his scoring total as he closed out his high school football career in a blaze of glory. Joe wound up with 87 points to trail both Ernie Fiore of Harrison and Ralph DiMicco of Mount Kisco for the over-all leadership of the county. Fiore had 108 points, six of which were scored Saturday when Rye spoiled Harrison's dreams of an unblemished record by tieing the Maroon 12-12. DiMicco was three ahead of Petruzzo at 90 markers.

BASKETBALL

The Saints of St. Augustine's started off their season with an easy triumph over St. Paul's of Yonkers. Gene Doherty & Co. has lost none of their touch from last season. The visitors were panting away after the first period, trying to keep up with the fast breaking Saints. From midway in the second quarter, it was a loaf for the locals, who appear to be in for another good year. They have a two year record of 51 victories in 59 outings.

STARS COME THROUGH

Joe Tolve's Mamaroneck Stars came through with a victory Sunday afternoon at Manchester Field after having their homecoming spoiled two weeks ago by the New York Clippers. Another New York eleven, the Bears, were the Star's victims Sunday.

Tolve stated yesterday that his boys were going to make one last attempt to break out of the red by engaging a strong team to come to Manchester Field to help bring down the curtain on local semi-pro football activity.

The spangled outfit looked vastly improved as they grounded out two touchdowns to handily whip the Bears. Bob Martensen played a bang-up game at end for the locals and booted both extra points.

Locals Out For Third Win; Opponents Sport Fast Men

The Larchmont Eagles, defending champion and owners of an unblemished record this season, again take to the Playland ice tomorrow night to battle the Rye Hawks in a regularly scheduled Westchester Senior Hockey League battle. The Eagles will probably be billed as favorites for this contest by virtue of triumphs over the Bronxville Rockets and Harrison Maple Leafs. Rye has not been able to come through with a win yet this year, having bowed to Harrison by a 7-5 count on opening night, and then coming back strongly against Bronxville, only to lose out by a 2-0 count.

Despite the Larchmont six's prestige, the game could very well turn out to be the closest of the year. Rye has the services of two former Yale University varsity stickmen for this contest and will put a fast skating combination on the ice. Goalie John McIlwayne and forward Fred Pearson are the Yale men, with the latter appearing to be an almost sure bet to lead the team's scoring efforts. Pearson has shown the fans some of the best hockey at Playland this year with his driving, aggressive type of game. It was mainly through his stickwork that the Hawks looked so well against strong Bronxville. But for a brace of goals in the second period, the Rye six actuaally outplayed Bronxville. The two tallies were scored within one minute's time.

Larchmont Coach Orison MacPherson will stick to his forward line of Bill Briell, Ken Braun and Gene McDonough for tomorrow night's clash. This line tallied two goals and eight assists in the 7-2 rout of Harrison's Maple Leafs last week.

The starting defensemen will probably be Whitey Campbell, former Dartmouth flash, and Chuck Safaric. Ed Bearden will be at his usual net minding spot.

The rest of the Eagle roster should see plenty of action, as usual. Pete Taylor, leading scorer in 1947, will lead his line into the fray. Harry VanDyke and Walt Lawrence round out the combination.

Jim Murphy and Lanny Holmes another defensive combine, will share the back ice with Campbell and Safaric.

The third and final line of Jack Sutphen, Bill Sweeney and Bob Tobin will be on hand for duty. This trio has been working well together and also brought in two goals last week.

The contest is the first of a double bill and will start promptly at 8 P. M. The second game brings together Bronxville and Harrison. This game will commence at 9:30.

MANY UPSETS IN MIXED BOWLING

Upsets were plentiful in the King and Queen Mixed Doubles Bowling League matches Sunday night at the Mamaroneck Recreation Center. The Y-Bowl and Four Hundred, generally figured as the teams to beat, were both turned back. The Four Hundred was really trounced, losing three straight to the up-and-coming Alley Cats while the Y-Bowl took its third and fourth losses of the year at the hands of the Four Roses. However, it must be remembered that the King and Queen loop is a handicap one, with both losing teams giving away large pin totals.

Other victories were recorded by the Go-Getters and Unlucky Four. These two teams scored their triumphs by virtue of three wins out of an equal number of attempts.

Bob Havlicek took care of the high single with an opening game of 189 pins. Bob Schreyer of the Unlucky Four had a 181 pin game to his credit while Lillian Hall led the women keglers with a 180 single. Paul ones put together a 182 single toward the Four Hundred's cause while Lillian Radcliffe of the Y-Bowl rolled off a 171 opener.

The Alley Cats received a 47 pin handicap from the Four Hundred and used it to win three games. In the opening tussle, the Cats didn't even need the advancement, but were thankful for the pins in the last two encounters. Havlicek led the men with a 189 game while M. J. Downer paced the ladies with a blistering 177 effort.

The Y-Bowl ignored the 55 pin handicap to take the first game from the Four Roses but didn't have the steam to win the final two. Lillian Radcliffe's 171 game bested all bowlers in this match with Jack Clausen's 165 pacing the males. Sue Rushmore at 146 and Evelyn Heithaus at 145 were high for the winners.

Ed Paolucci and Bob Schreyer sparked the Unlucky Four to a rousing triumph over the Irish. Ed O'Brien's 152 was the best game for the Irish.

Babe's Aces took a going over from the Go-Getters. Lillian Hall hurled a second game total of 180 pins at the Aces and came right back with a 175 effort. Babe Etre paced his club with a 165 concluding game.

PANTHER PUNTER Ed Feldt, above, one of the outstanding players on the East End eleven that recently completed its season with a record of three victories, four losses and a tie. The Bellows ace handled all of the kicking duties for Jack Fearon's 1948 eleven, and handled them well. His season average approached 40 yards a try, putting Feldt well up among the county's leaders. Ed also is an accomplished passer and might have ended up the year with an even better record but for a finger injury early in the season which prevented him from gripping the leather properly for the remainder of the schedule. A sophomire, Feldt, will see plenty of action next year when the Blue and Black hope to produce another of its strong contenders for county honors. —Photo by Harry Cohn

NEXT CHAPTER SEEN IN GRAZIANO PUZZLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The next chapter in the mystery series entitled "Rocky Graziano and the Coast" will be unfolded today—maybe.

The former middleweight champion, as undecided as a woman trying on hats, reversed his stand again last night. He was supposed to hop on a train for Oakland, Calif., and resume training for his Dec. 1 fight there with Fred Apostoli.

But a couple of hours before train time rough Rocky changed his mind and said he wasn't leaving that night.

Irving Cohen, co-manager of the New York boxer, said "Something has come up. I can't say anything further right now except that I will have a statement on the matter Tuesday."

Muir And Cocke Top Bowlers In Larchmont Acres League

Larchmont Acres League bowling last night resulted in team victories for the Tompkins, Palmer, Richbell and Bassett Houses with the Tompkins team remaining at the top of the league pile. The league leaders and the Richbell five gained their triumphs by virtue of three straight victories while the other wins were by 2-1 scores.

High series last night was racked up by Dick Cocke of the Tompkins team and was a figure of 541 pins. The Palmer House club had two men who closely pursued Cocke for the lead, Don Harper at 529 pins and Bob Reiter with 520.

The best single game effort of the four matches was garnered by Jack Muir, a member of the Tompkins House team. Muir, one of the league's most consistent rollers, opened up with a 210 game which netted him the honor.

There were only two games of more than 200 pins in the entire bowling with Bob Reiter gaining the other one when he hit 201 pins in the second game of the Palmer-Mott battle.

The Bassett club gained a two out of three triumph from the Sterlings with John Wedda bowling a 181 single and 496 triple. Williams and Breen paced the losers.

The Fenimore Cooper five bowed the Richbell team 3-0 although Crisman took the high game with 183 pins. Swenson racked up 182 on the winners' side of the ledger.

The Disbrow team was given a two pin handicap but needed much more and thus the Tompkins' were able to hold onto the lead with three wins. Dick Cocke's triple and Jack Muir's single paved the way for the decisive triumph.

Bob Reiter and Don Harper combined to help bring two victories to the Palmer House over one Mott win. The Motts were paced by Perce Hall.

NYAC SIX OPENS WITH EASY WIN

The New York Athletic Club opened its 1948 hockey season on the Playland ice Sunday night by meeting and defeating the Westchester Senior Hockey League All Stars 9-2. The game was a hard fought affair with neither team being able to dent the cords in the opening session. However, the the contest developed into a high scoring game in the second period with the All Stars drawing first blood. Before the period was over the NYAC had blasted the Star cords with five goals. The Stars also added another in this stanza.

The New York six came through with four more goals in the final period to put the game beyond reach of the All Stars.

Outstanding for the winning team was the forward line of Bill Briell, Ken Braun, and Gene McDonough and also Pete Taylor's brilliant shot making an all-around play. The starting line was responsible for five scores while Taylor tallied once himself and passed directly for another.

There were only two penalties in the entire contest, both being dished out to Chuck Safaric of the NYAC for high sticking.

The first period was featured by the outstanding work of the two goalies. Ed Bearden for the NYAC and Joe Schafer, a Bronxville net minder playing for the Stars, were brilliant in turning back all scoring attempts.

The All Stars drew first blood when John Taylor of Rye beat Bearden with a close shot after two passes had set up the play. However, the game was quickly tied when Pete Taylor blasted a low line drive past Schafer after a solo dash. This was the first of four straight NYAC goals. Doug Morrison got the tie breaker with a neat angle shot after taking a Harry VanDyke pass.

Ken Braun made the score 3-1 by again beating Schafer from short range and Gene McDonough increased the margin on another solo dash and well placed lift.

The All Stars got back into the game momentarily when John Burkhart, another Rye forward, beat Bearden after a tricky play had given him the opportunity. However, this was to be the last Star goal of the game.

Chuck Safaric again increased the spread to three goals and the score to 5-2 with a backhand blast that lit the red light.

The final period was all NYAC as Bill Briell, Ken Braun, Gene McDonough, and Bill Sweeney dented the scoring volume. McDonough and Braun took scoring honors with two goals apiece with McDonough being the top man by chipping in with two assists.

Position Night Matches Run According To Form In DT Bowling

Malz Rolls 638 Pin Series Team Single Mark To Mamaro

The second "position night" of the year was held in Daily Times League bowling at the Larchmont Recreation Center last night and the results of the matches were just about as was expected. The league leading Equippers took two games out of three from Mike's Five to retain their substantial margin over the loop flock while other triumphs were registered by Mamaro, the Skyscrapers, and Rec No. 1 teams. The latter five accomplished its victory by virtue of three straight wins and was the only team to do so last night.

Russ Malz of the Rec No. 1 outfit was the big man as he took all individual honors for this, the tenth week of activity. Malz captured the series award with a grand total of 638 pins, second only to Lou Pekrul's 646 season high, which was set a few weeks back. Russ took the high single title also, getting 224 pins in his opener. Malz's three games all totaled over the 200 pin mark.

The Mamaro five made a victory secure and also set a new team single high for the year when they racked up 990 pinfall in the concluding game of their match with the Oilers. This score was two pins higher than the original leading figure.

In all, there were 16 games of 200 pins or more rolled last night. This also ties a record set earlier in the year. The Rec No. 1 outfit led all teams with no less than six games in this category.

The Skyscrapers gained a two out of three victory from the Architects in a battle for third place. Lou Pekrul and Johnny Smirge led the winners with 527 and 529 series pinfalls. Smirge's even 200 game was the best single effort. Don Eggers had a 209 game for the losers.

The Rec No. 1 five trounced their No. 2 namesake in three straight with Malz being the big gun. "Molly" Lanza, Al Reid and Bill Pekrul all had one game in the 200 class for the winners while the No. 2 team was paced by Carino and Johnson.

Dan Goetz rolled games of 208 and 203 for the Mamaro cause while mate Walt Webber had a 213 single and Bill Rickert a 201 mark. Roger was high man for the losing Oilers at 212 pins.

Oddly enough, the league leading Equippers didn't have a single man over the 200 mark last night. However, Mike's Five wasn't able to break that figure either and the loop leaders came out of the encounter to the good in two games. Mike's Five's Jim O'Neill and Loiaconi had 195 and 196 games, respectively. Larry Templeman at 192, and Marty Fader at 190 contributed most to the victory.

GOLF CLASSIC SET FOR WINGED FOOT

Amateur golfers from England and the United States will compete in the Walker Cup matches over the Winged Foot Course at Mamaroneck, on Aug. 19 and 20, 1949, the United States Golf Association said today.

The USGA, as host organization, recently challenged the Royal and Ancient Golf Club, ruling body of golf in Great Britain. The R. & A. accepted the challenge today and the USGA then quickly accepted the bid of the Winged Foot Club to use their course.

The coming matches will be the second since World War II. The United States forces won the 1947 event at St. Andrews, Scotland, eight points to four. That was the 10th victory for the U. S. since the matches were inaugurated at Southampton, in 1922. Great Britain's amateurs have triumphed but once.

Except for the war period of 1938-1946, the matches are held every two years with the sites alternating between the two competing countries.

As is customary, the 1949 matches will be just prior to the amateur championships of the host country. The U. S. amateur is carded for Rochester, Aug. 26 to Sept. 3 next year.

Players who made up the U. S. team in 1947 are Willie Turnesa of Elmsford, Bud Ward of Spokane, Wash., Ted Bishop of Dedham, Mass., Skee Riegel of Upper Darby, Pa., Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, Fred Kammer Jr. of Detroit, Smiley Quick of Los Angeles and Richard Chapman of Pinehurst, N. C.

George Hamer of Columbus, Ga., and Robert Sweeny of New York and London, were alternates and did not play.

BROOKLYN (Broadway Arena)—George Small, 161½, knocked out Charlie Dawson, 157¼, Atlanta, 4.

Stars Book Bronx Navajos; Tolve Adds Two To Roster

Joe Tolve, coach of the Mamaroneck Stars, announced last night that the local gridiron eleven will close its season on Manchester Field Sunday against the Bronx Navajo AC. The Navajos have an outstanding record this season, having won seven games while dropping only one against major opposition. Tolve will scout the Bronx aggregation tomorrow when they tangle with the New York Clippers in a turkey day meeting.

Since returning to Mamaroneck the Stars have won one and lost one. Competing as the New York Rangers for a good part of the season, they compiled an enviable record but yearned to play more before more friendly fans. Their opener at Manchester Field was spoiled by the New York Clippers, but last week, with the addition of several key men, the Mamaroneck eleven came through with a 14-0 triumph over the New York Bears.

The addition of Wes Keller as punter and Jim Rodriguez as buckling back, appears to have put the Stars back on the winning trail. Keeler kept the Bears away from the local goal last Sunday with his booming kicks while Rodriguez played a standout game at fullback.

There is a possibility that the Stars will be further bolstered when they take the field in an attempt to wind up the campaign with a victory. Al Herman, former Bellows High tackle and present member of the Penn State team, has expressed a desire to get into action locally. Herman, a gigantic 275 pounder, is a familiar figure, having played with the Stars last season. The addition of Herman would give the Mamaroneck eleven a bulky forward wall and increase their chances for victory.

Tolve has also contacted several other men who have been playing their ball elsewhere this season, and may be set to release further information on Friday, it was reported by a Star official.

The Mamaroneck backfield will be changed slightly for the coming battle. Footsie Gironda still holds down the quarterback slot but Jim Rodriguez may start at fullback in place of the injured Johnny Ambrose and Bill Donovan will probably break into the starting combination at tailback. Ambrose the most consistent ground gainer for the locals, was the victim of a head injury in the Bear contest and definitely will play no more football this year.

The visiting Bronx eleven is coached by Jake Levin who starred at quarterback for the old Hollywood AC, a team which met the All Stars annually before the war. Chippy Valinate is the assistant coach, a former Van Neck Steamroller.

The Stars will have to be at their best on Sunday because the Navajos sport a squad of former high school and college standouts. Chips Lagonia at right halfback is the scatback that the Stars will have to stop if they are to win this one. Vince Messina at fullback, Dave Mazziatta at left half, and Tom Galloway at quarterback round out the starting backfield.

Captain Chick Vitizian will start at left end for the Bronxmen with Dick Emhart at left tackle and John Schier at right tackle being the outstanding linemen. Vitizian is billed as a glue fingered pass catcher and deadly tackler on defense. The tackles are big, charging linemen whom have been used to operating for the entire 60 minutes.

Optimists Take First Place In Friendly Village Bow[ling]

The Optimists, after knocking at the door of first place in the Friendly Village Bowling League for three weeks, finally were admitted to that spot last night when they defeated the Markettes in two out of three games while the Halstead Centers were taking another licking, this time from the Rummies. The Centers and Optimists had been tied for the loop lead, with the former breaking down slowly after holding a wide margin after the first five weeks of activity in the league.

Other team victories last night went to the Barettes, who trounced Jubbie's Gals 2-1, and the Bakerettes who handed over a beating to Chappie's Four by a similar score.

Mary Jane Downer, who gets better as the weeks roll by, captured high series for last night's matches with a respectable mark of 481 pins. Mary Lou Tervala of the Markettes was close behind with a total of 476 pins.

Elise Rhoads captured the high single by rolling 183 pins in her second game. Tervala came close in this category too at 176 maples.

M. J. Downer rolled a 170 single to highlight her match high series as the Optimists took their important triumph over the Markettes. Elise Rhoads' high single, combined with Downer's scores, provided an unbeatable combination as the Optimists took over the league's top position. Mary Lou Tervala paced the losing Markettes with Mary Cipolla also rolling well.

Ethel Heyer put together a 429 series to lead the Bakerettes to a two out of three game victor[y] over Chappie's Four. Phelm[a] Parker was outstanding f[or] Chappie's outfit.

The Rummies' four bowle[rs] combined to knock the Center[s] out of first place with a 2-1 wi[n]. Midge Castaldo's 166 single f[or] the Centers was the high mar[k] of the battle.

The Barettes continued t[o] make it hot for the league team[s] when they pounded out a victor[y] over Jobbie's Four. Lillian Rad[cliffe] had the best game of th[e] match when she hit 172 in he[r] concluding effort. Betty Ruch'[s] 165 was high for the losers.

Tonight in New York

"Hills of Home," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's Technicolor romance, starring Edmund Gwenn, Donald Crisp, Tom Drake, Janet Leigh and Lassie, will have its premiere at Radio City Music Hall tomorrow, accompanied by "Happy Days," a spectacular holiday stage revue by Leonidoff, featuring Hal Le Roy, popular tap dancer, and the great Music Hall company.

With a distinguished cast of players headed by the memorable star of "Miracle on 34th Street" and "Apartment for Peggy," and directed by Fred M. Wilcox, who brought the unforgettable "Lassie Come Home" to the screen, "Hills of Home" tells the dramatic, human story of a dauntless, salty-witted country doctor and his rugged life among the down-to-earth people of a remote glen of the Scottish Highlands.

"Happy Days," the gay holiday extravaganza which Leonidoff will produce on the great stage, will be presented as a spectacular version of an old-time variety show, complete with roller curtain and announcement placards changed on stage by the traditional page girls.

For the Overture to the show, the Music Hall Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Alexander Smallens, will play "Dance of the Hours" from Ponchielli's opera, "La Gioconda."

* * *

"Miss Tatlock's Millions," the 715th film to play the New York Paramount since its opening in November, 1926, will be the screen attraction for the theatre's 22nd anniversary celebration starting today.

The new film, co-starring John Lund, Wanda Hendrix, Barry Fitzgerald and Monty Woolley, is a comedy produced by Charles Brackett. Comedian Richard Hayden, in his new role of director, brings to the screen his own sure sense of comedy timing and characterization.

Headlining the in person birthday show is Stan Kenton and his "Artistry in Rhythm" featuring June Christy. Others appearing are Red Buttons, Raul and Eva Reyes and Nellie Lutcher.

Woman's Club Sees Color Film Of Grand Canyon River Trip

The exciting hazards and picturesque beauty of a trip down the Colorado River rapids of the Grand Canyon in a 15 foot, 50 pound collapsible boat, were depicted in a color film Wednesday for the November program of the Woman's Club of Mamaroneck, accompanying a talk by explorer Alexander Grant of Bedford Village.

Known as a "river rat", Mr. Grant, a Harvard graduate, Navy veteran and water sportsman, made the 350 mile trip shooting 366 rapids when the Colorado River was at its highest point in 20 years, accompanied by Norman Neville's expedition of two larger Coast Guard type boats and crew of five, including the first woman to shoot the rapids.

His film, "High Water in the Grand Canyon" showed the assembling of the expedition at the Neville ranch in eastern Utah and the trip in the tiny kayak through the rapids of the Canyon, amid scenes of great beauty. Mr. Grant, introduced by Mrs. James McGrotty, program chairman, gave a running commentary along with the film, describing the two thousand foot drop of the river and the entire trip from Lee's Ferry to Boulder Dam.

Preceding the film, the guest speaker gave the historical background of the Colorado River, first explored in 1869 by Major John Wesley Powell, a one-armed Civil War veteran, and since explored by only a handful of successful expeditions.

Mrs. Harry G. Waltner Jr., president, conducted a business meeting before the program. She and Mrs. McGrotty first vice president, reported on the recent 54th convention of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs held in New York, with their reports including the presentation of a second place award to Mrs. Paul Mack, club member, for her story "Citation" and the honoring of Mrs. Philip Holden as a retiring district chairman.

Other reports were given by Mrs. R. B. Kinsey, Mrs. Arthur Howe, Mrs. S. Charles Hanna, Mrs. William Hornidge and Mrs. Martin Hegeman. New members, introduced by Mrs. Albert Herman, membership chairman, and presented corsages by the president, were Mrs. Fred Marschner, Mrs. Alex Reid and Mrs. Isabelle Conkling. Mrs. Harold Trottier and Mrs. Clifford E. Swensen were announced as new Evening Section members.

Announcement was made by Mrs. Edward H. Benedict, ways and means chairman, of a dessert bridge Dec. 3 at the club house, and Mrs. McGrotty announced the Dec. 1 Union party at 8 P. M., with John Dickson Carr as guest speaker on "Readers Like Murder."

Mrs. Waltner announced the forthcoming Dec. 4 production of "Hay Fever" by the Fenimore Players, and the newly organized Community Concert Association, urging the club's support for both.

Stars Set For Season Closer Against Bronx Navajos Tomorrow

Raneiri New Backfield Ace; Herman And Nask To Start

Mamaroneck will bid old man football his 1948 goodbye tomorrow afternoon on Manchester Field when the Mamaroneck Stars tangle with a strong Bronx Navajo eleven at 2:30 P. M. The Navajos arrive in Mamaroneck with an outstanding semi-pro record of seven victories in eight tries and are loaded with college and high school gridiron standouts.

The Stars gained their first local victory in two outings last Sunday when they downed the New York Bears by a 14-0 margin. A closing victory tomorrow would enable the year to be termed successful although a majority of it was played under the New York Rangers banner.

Tomorrow's battle should be the closest and possibly the best played of the year. Coach Joe Tolve, in an effort to raise the caliber of play, has scouted around the county and finally came up with three additions to the Mamaroneck lineup. The newcomers are far from unfamiliar to local fans, however, all having played either on one of the high school teams or with the original Mamaroneck All Stars.

Two of the additions are in the forward wall while one backfield man has been lured to local surroundings. Billy Raneiri, an outstanding scatback for the All Stars in past seasons, will don a Mamaroneck uniform for the first time this season in tomorrow's game. Bill has been playing his ball so far this year with the Port Chester 90's and Mount Vernon Giants. Both of these teams have outstanding records, with the 90's suffering their first defeat in three years by a 6-0 tally last week. Raneiri led the Star scorers in the first post-war season and should solve Tolve's backfield problems.

Frank Nask and Alvin Herman are the new linemen. Both are former Bellows High School aces who were mentioned in all-county voting for the 1942 and 1943 seasons. Nask has been operating with the Port Chester 90's and Mount Vernon Giants, also this season. Herman has reported to Tolve in good condition, having played college football in Pennsylvania for the past three years. Nask is a guard and Herman a tackle who tips the scales at a mere 270 pounds.

Coach Tolve released a tentative starting lineup last night which had Bob Martensen, another former all-county choice at Bellows, and Vin Molle at the flanks, Herman and Beanie Greco at tackles, Nask and "Rolly Avery" at the guards, and Sandy Costelli over the ball. Molle was involved in an accident this week and may be unable to play. Should he report on the injured list, Bill White will open at his end position.

Fronfele Gironda is the Mamaroneck choice at quarterback with Tom Packer at the wingback post, John "Bobby" Rodriguez in the bucking slot, and Raneiri handling the fullback duties. Gironda and Raneiri are old teammates and have worked as a tricky unit in the past.

The reserve list is also loaded with capable performers. Al Postiter will spell either one of the ends, Tony Ballantoni is the tackle replacement and Meizinger will see plenty of duty at a guard position.

Bill Donovan, Don McMahon, Wes Keeler, Jack Keen, Bob Kennedy are used mainly for defensive duty. McMahon will alternate with Rodriguez in the fullback post and Donovan is a tailback with fine running ability. Keeler has been restricted to punting duties by Tolve and probably will be used only for this phase of the game.

Coach Jake Levin brings a heavy line and fast backfield with him to cope with the strengthened locals. Captain Chick Vitisian and Walt Speranza will open at ends, Dick Emmardi and Tony Cannoti will be at tackles, John Schier and Joe Buonaiuto are slated for guard spots and Al LaRocco handles the pivot post.

Tom Galloway will start at quarterback, Chips Lagonia at right half, Don Mazziatta at left half and Vin Messina at full. Other Navajo players include Bill Binns, Zamprelli, Conway, Endico, Sachar, Pieraro, McCormack and Castaldo. Assistant Coach Chips Valimate plans to bring along about 15 substitutes to bolster the starting eleven.

Three busloads of fans will travel from the Bronx in support of their charges tomorrow. In response, the Mamaroneck players are hoping for a good turnout to cheer the local eleven to a closing victory.

Bill Celestino of Mamaroneck, Frank Salazo of Harrison and Al Covino of Greenwich will officiate the contest. It is a most capable group.

Hollows AC Visits Saints; Pericus Makes Local Debut

St. Augustine's Saints will be out after their second win of the basketball season tomorrow afternoon at 3 P. M. when they encounter the Hollows AC of Yonkers in the St. Augustine's gymnasium. In addition to their usual capable roster of ballhawks, the Larchmont five will be further bolstered by the services of Fred Pericus, former Iona College star and captain of that school's basketball varsity for the past two seasons. Pericus is a deadly shot beside being one of the cleverest ball handlers in Westchester hoop circles.

Tony Loiaconi, Saint coach, will probably start his usual combination of Joe Cullen, former Rhode Island State scoring ace and Dave Latimer, Seton Hall mainstay, at the forwards, big Gene Doherty, Fordham's gift to the Saints, at center, with Joe Connolly of Iona College at one guard and Tom Miller, another Seton Hall man, at the other guard spot. Pericus and Johnny Ryan will probably be held in reserve but there is a possibility of Loiaconi inserting either or both in the opening five.

Loiaconi, himself a polished performer, is planning on resting his injured ankle as long as the Larchmont team continues to perform without trouble. Tony may break back into a player-coach status later on in the season, however.

The Saints came out on top in the 1947 clash with the Hollows club and are looking forward to another triumph tomorrow to fit next to last week's 84 -43 lacing of St. Paul's, another Yonkers five. However, the Hollows team has other plans and will be out to put a dent in the Larchmonters' hopes for another truly great year.

The Yonkers lineup will pit Vince Feeley, a gifted pivot man, against Doherty in a center scoring duel. Feeney will match Doherty's heighth but there is some question as to whether he can hold Gene down under the boards. Only time will settle this argument.

The Hollows' forwards will be Jim O'Donnell and Steve Redeak while Dan Beena and Paul O'Donerick will operate at guard posts.

The battle between these teams last year ended in a seven-point victory for the Larchmont outfit. The Saints are expected to repeat the triumph tomorrow, perhaps by an even larger score, and make their three-year record stand at 32 triumphs out of 40 attempts.

Pat Bulucci, last year's coach and business manager for this campaign, stated yesterday that the Larchmont outfit would play regular Sunday afternoon contests on the local court with even more outstanding teams visiting than have been presented in the past.

The probable starting lineup:

| Saints | | Hollow Ac |
|---|---|---|
| Cullen | RF | O'Donnell |
| Latimer | LF | Redeak |
| Doherty | C | Feeley |
| Connolly | LG | Beena |
| Miller | RG | O'Donerick |

Bea Ruch rolled on the Jewelers' five and her high single was a 185 game. Castaldo accumulated a 490 series while performing for the Brill's Girls combination.

Viola Dumato of the Jewelers and Elsie Stein of the Florists had good games of 181 pins apiece.

Bonaventure College Declines Bowl Offer

OLEAN, (AP) — St. Bonaventure, beaten only once and tied once in nine football games, will play in none of the bowls.

Rejection of a bid from the Cigar Bowl at Tampa, Fla., was announced last night by the Rev. Silas Rooney, O. F. M., athletics directors. He explained college authorities felt any bowl game would mean "too much lost time" for the players.

STATE TOURNEY JULY 9

WICHITA, Kan., (AP)—President Ray Dumont of the National Baseball Congress announced yesterday that the annual New York State tournament will be held each year at Medium, starting July 9.

The first football uniforms were sleeveless jackets of canvas, laced in front and drawn tight to fit the body. Navy first used them in 1879.

Bono And Spero Top Bowlers As Fraternal League Rolls

The Mamaroneck Community Bowling League continued operations at the Mamaroneck Recreation Center last night with three of the four matches ending in shutout victories. The Garagemen, who now lead the loop by five full games, Pincers and Community Five gained victories via 3-0 scores while the Mamaro Colts were triumphant to the tune of 2-1.

Individual honors were bestowed on two members of the Pincers, an all southpaw team, with Fred Bono nailing down series awards with a 570 pinfall and Charlie Spero bowling the best single at 210 pins. Bono's 204 gained runner-up honors for him in the single class.

The Automotives lost some more ground in their race with the Garagemen by bowing to the Mamaro Colts in two out of three games. Cunningham rolled a 204 single and 527 triple to lead the Mamaro team while Larry Mullnare hit a 561 triple which had two games of more than 200 pins in the pinfall.

The Garagemen romped over the Diners as Reid's 201 game sparked the winners. Lombardi had a 197 effort for the Garagemen with Paul Jones' 534 series leading the winless Diners.

Bono and Spero were the big left handers for the Pincers in their winning 3-0 effort over the Rees. Patone paced the loosers with a 190 single and 505 triple.

The Community Five gave the Odd Fellows a mauling as Harry Vinet racked up 520 pins in the series category. Vinet's 191 opening single was also high for the match. Bill Pekrul sparked the losing scores with 196 pins in single play and 530 for a triple figure.

CADETS, MIDSHIPMEN TO FIGHT MUD BATTLE

PHILADELPHIA, (AP) — Mud apparently will be the order of the day when Army and Navy meet at Municipal Stadium today before an expected 103,000 football fans, including President Truman and his family.

It has been raining hard here since shortly after midnight and the latest Weather Bureau forecast says it won't stop until sometime after 1 P. M.

The rain should bring joy to Middie followers who feel the slippery underfooting will help slow down the fast breaking "T" formation attack of the Cadets. Army is a three touchdown favorite.

Resident Asks Used Clothing For Italians

A plea for used clothing for needy Italian children abroad has been made by Joseph Pittera of 30 Lester Place, Larchmont, who has recently returned from a visit to his native Italy.

Mr. Pittera spent nearly two months visiting his mother, Mrs. Santa Pittera, in Trecastagni, Province of Catania in Sicily, and visited Rome, Messina, Naples and Milan in Italy. The trip was his first visit in 30 years to his native country.

In an interview Saturday, the resident emphasized the impoverished condition of the people, pointing out that they are financially unable to buy clothing. He said that the few articles they own are old and "so mended and patched that they are unrecognizable from their original color and material."

Mr. Pittera pointed out that although the cost of living is comparable to that of the United States, wages are unbelievably lower. Laborers receive approximately $1 a day, while mechanics receive a maximim of $1.50 per day, he said. In families of three or four, the wage earner has a "difficult time providing food, and there is no money left with which to buy clothing."

In requesting donations of clothing, Mr. Pittera said that residents should contact him by telephone at home, and he will arrange to pick up and mail the garments. A list of families who will receive the articles will appear in a later edition of The Daily Times.

Mamaroneck Stars End Local Pigskin Season With 38-0 Victory

Six Players Share Scoring; Tom Parker On 47 Yard Dash

In the last football game of the local season, the Mamaroneck Stars mangled the Bronx Navajos under a 38-0 barrage at Manchester Field yesterday. The contest was marked by superb running plays on the part of Star backs and a fine passing game with Bill Raneiri doing the chucking. The locals took a 7-0 lead in the opening quarter, added another six points to this in the second and put the game beyond reach of the Navojos with two more touchdowns in the third quarter. A brace of tallies in the fourth period were anti-climatic.

The scoring was distributed among six Mamaroneck players. Bill White, Footsie Gironda, Wallace, Tommy Parker, Bill Raneiri and Bob Martensen all had one six pointer to their credit. Martensen was the top scorer of the game by adding two extra points to his total via placements.

The decisive Mamaroneck victory was marred by two injuries, one of a serious nature. Don McMahon, star fullback, suffered a shoulder separation in the first quarter and was forced to leave the game. The other injury was suffered by Tom Parker, Mamaroneck scatback, who was carried from the field in the forth quarter with a leg bruise. The latest report from United Hospital in Port Chester revealed that Parker's leg was not broken.

Footsie Gironda, local quarterback, played his best game of the year in the Mamaroneck backfield. Gironda's blocking was both accurate and effective. He also got into the scoring column by snaring a Billy Raneiri pass for one of the five Star touchdowns. When Tom Parker ran 47 yards with a reverse in the second half, Gironda threw the key block which enabled the Star speedster to go all the way.

After an exchange of kicks had opened the battle, Mamaroneck rolled to its first score of the day. With all the Star running backs ripping off consistent gains, the touchdown was inevitable, although it was notched via the air waves. Raneiri flipped a 20-yard aerial to Bill White, who took it over his shoulder for the initial counter. Bob Martensen's conversion made the count 7—0.

The remainder of the period was played between the two 40-yard lines with neither team being able to start a sustained drive.

Mamaroneck added one more touchdown to its first half total when Gironda tallied. Again it was a Bill Raneiri pass, this time a 15-yarder which Footsie snared on the goal line and stepped across the last white marker for the score. The conversion attempt went wide, leaving the count 13—0, Mamaroneck in front.

Wallace, a lineman, blocked Ruth's kick early in the third period and fell on the oval for a touchdown. The Navajos had been forced to attempt a punt after the Stars had driven them back to the Bronx outfit's 10-yard stripe. The extra point try failed and the score was up to 19—0.

The Stars again took possession after the Navajos were unable to gain, either passing or running. One running play by Raneiri brought the oval to the Navajo 47 from where Tom Parker took off on the longest run of the day. Gironda handed Parker a reverse and the Star speedster outdistanced half the Bronx eleven, diving into the end zone for the fourth Mamaroneck touchdown. This time Martensen's placement was true and the tally had risen to 26—0.

The Stars stopped a Navajo drive at midfield and proceeded to drive for their fifth and last tally of th econtest. A sustained running march was temporarily halted on the 10, but Raneiri again took to the air and this time Martensen speared the ball in the end zone. A pass attempt for the extra point was dropped and the tally read 38—0.

Shortly thereafter, Parker was injured while backing up the Star line on defense. The game was halted to permit the stretcher bearers to carry Parker from the field of play. At this point darkness intervened and the contest was called by mutual agreement.

Both Parker and McMahon were released from United Hospital last night after x-rays had been taken. Parker left the hospital on crutches and was advised to rest the leg for two weeks. The x-ray pictures revealed no break, but badly bruised muscles. McMahon's shoulder is also banged up and will require special attention.

The curtain on local football activity was brought down before about 200 fans who turned out to view the one-sided affair. Officials of the local team announced that expenses had been met and the organization was out of the red for the first time this season.

Saints Cop 52–43 Victory From Hollows AC Of Yonkers

An unexpectedly strong Hollows AC five of Yonkers extended the St. Augustine's Saints, for the first time this season, yesterday afternoon before finally bowing to a Saint scoring splurge in the final six minutes. The Larchmont hoopsters found themselves behind at the half by a 29-21 margin, tied the contest up just before the third quarter ball, and sewed up their second win of the campaign, against an equal number of starts, in the final quarter. The final tally read 52-43.

Dave Latimer, a Seton Hall ace experiencing his second year with the local team, took scoring honors by racking up 10 field goals and a foul for 21 points. Latimer's brilliant set shooting in the third and fourth periods helped the Saints' cause tremendously, allowing them to take a lead that eventually proved to be safe.

The Saints' floor leader yesterday was Fred Pericus who was performing in the Green and White uniform for the first time. Pericus, captain of the Iona College varsity for the past two seasons, played a tremendous game under the backboards and added eight points to the local cause with his scoring. Fred is a rather small man but makes up for his deficiency in height by an uncanny amount of spring which enables him to capture rebounds that would ordinarily go to bigger men.

The Hollows AC club was originally booked for the contest because they believed they could give the locals a good battle. And battle they did with the scoring being equally divided among all the starting five and even a substitute chipping in with a good total. Gene Doherty, who usually carries the scoring burden for the St. Augustine's five, was held pretty well in check by a six foot five inch center, Sullivan, and was only able to gather eight markers. Doherty did a defensive job himself as Sullivan only totaled two field goals and a foul. Benna' O'Donnell and McFarland each had eight points to share top point production on the Hollows five.

The engagement started at a comparatively slow gait with the locals taking a 12-9 lead because of their foul shooting ability. The Hollows' team shifted from a man-to-man defense to a zone setup which baffled the Saints all during the contest.

After the time out between quarters, the Yonkers team started to click and went to the fore with a flurry of long set shots. Tony Loiaconi, Saint coach, tried several combinations in an effort to stop the splurge but the Hollows AC held a nine point bulge at halftime, 29-21.

Unable to penetrate the Hollows' defense again in the third period, the St. Augustine's club started to throw up long set shots in the third quarter and they paid off. Dave Latimer took matters into his own hands at this point, hitting with four field goals himself as the game was knotted up going into the final canto.

The rebound ability of Pericus and Latimer's consistent scoring gave the lead to the locals with six minutes remaining in the encounter. With Fred grabbing every loose ball in sight and Dave converting sharp passes into field goals, the Saints started to pull away and sewed the game up with an outburst at the ten minute mark.

Joe Connolly play his usual bang-up game at guard for the Saints and chipped in with three field goals and an equal number of charity tosses for a nine point production. Joe Cuslen was two points behind Doherty and Pericus at six points.

Because of their good showing, it is possible that the Yonkers five will return to the St. Augustine's Gymnasium later in the season for a return engagement. Next week's opponent will probably be the Tuckahoe Robbins, one of the county's strongest fives in 1947. Pat Bellucci, who handles the booking arrangements for the Saints, will make a formal announcement later in the week.

Deadlock at Manhasset

Jack Potter and Harvey and Walter Voelbel in Tick Tock shared honors in yesterday's frostbite sailing at Manhasset Bay Yacht Club, deadlocked with 55 points each at the end of the competition. James B. Moore Jr.'s Lure won the Penguin honors.

LARCHMONT AVE. BEATS NR FIVE

In the first game of the New Rochelle YMCA-Kiwanis Club Church Basketball League play, the Larchmont Avenue Church five gave the St. John's Episcopal Church of New Rochelle a complete going over and ended the contest on the long end of a 49-14 count.

Bill Day was the big gun of the Larchmont attack, meshing 18 markers on nine field goals. Doug Stevens netted 11 points from his guard position to annex runner-up honors for the Larchmont Avenue five. Warner Herlyn played an outstanding floor game for the locals and also meshed eight points on three field goals and two fouls.

Gray and Secord paced the St. John's five with four point productions apiece. John and Jeff Spangler played well for the losers.

Tonight in New York

Arnold Saint-Subber and Lemuel Ayers announce that the Century Theatre will house their production of "Kiss Me, Kate," the new Cole Porter-Bella Spewack musical which co-stars Alfred Drake and Patricia Morison. Directed by John C. Wilson, "Kiss Me, Kate" will have its Broadway premier on Thursday evening, December 30th, after a three and a half week engagement in Philadelphia.

Constance O'Hara, author of "The Magnificent Heel" which Brock Pemberton tried out a year or so ago, has notified Mr. Pemberton's office that she is now working on a new comedy, "The Human Element." She describes it as having a political background and involving a high-powered newspaper woman and a newly elected senator.

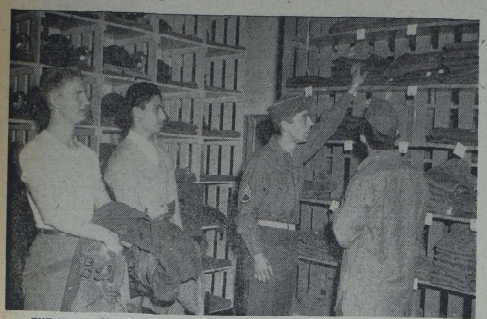
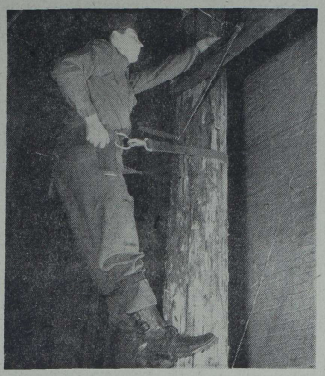
101st Signal Battalion Of N.Y.N.G. Gives Training To New Recruits



THE FIRST STEP in the life of a "citizen-soldier" is to be completely outfitted. Here in the supply room of Company C of Yonkers' 101st Signal Battalion, NYNG, Supply Sgt. John Drahan selects clothing and combat boots for the new men, who next go to a drill platoon for "basic training." Captain John R. Bonforte of Tuckahoe commands this company.



SGT. MICHAEL SIMKO of Company A, commanded by Captain William B. Taylor of Yonkers, works on cross-arm supports for telephone communication wire from a lofty perch on a pole inside the Yonkers Armory. All of these photographs were taken by Staff Photographer Dante Raffaeli, through the cooperation of First Lt. Gordon A. P. Waters, battalion public relations officer.

A TASTE OF SWITCHBOARD OPERATING is given these Company C trainees by Master Sgt. Patrick Ryan, standing extreme left. The unit operates switchboards for the routing of telephone messages and communications during field training and for Armory practice. In addition to operating, the men must have a thorough knowledge of switchboard maintenance and installation.

TYPING INSTRUCTIONS, among many technical classes offered trainees of the battalion, are given on the Armory drill-floor by Master Sgt. Eugene Scherer, who, in civilian life, is assistant chief teletype maintenance man for the Western Union Telegraph Company in New York City. This class not only gives the battalion a pool of highly trained typists, but starts off potential teletype operators. A large number of men in the battalion are ex-servicemen from virtually every branch of the Army, all eager to get technical training for appliance to civilian fields.

THE 30 CAL. CARBINE, nicknamed the "Jungle Gun" by American fighters in the Pacific, is the subject of this class, conducted by Lieutenant William Skultety of Company A, left. As part of their instruction before becoming signalmen, trainees must have basic training, including close order drill and the nomenclature of infantry weapons. The Carbine is the battalion's standard weapon.

Eagles Try For Fourth Straight WSHL Win Tomorrow

Spotlight On Sports

By DICK CARPENTER

The local pigskin season has vanished with the last cleatmark on Manchester Field. It was the Mamaroneck Stars who wound things up and they did it with a lusty scoring exhibition as the Bronx Navajos offered little opposition. The Navajos tried their best but just didn't belong on the same field with the local eleven. Sunday's result gave Joe Tolve's boys a record of two wins and a loss for the season. The Stars didn't organize until the season was fading.

Although they received little encouragement from the Mamaroneck fans, Tolve revealed that the Stars have decided to organize next year and play all games at home. Tolve was successful with the All-Stars for several seasons and should do all right in 1949 if he can gather together the outfit he has plans of securing. At any rate, we can expect semi-pro football activity from the the start of the campaign when the athletes dig their moleskins out of the mothballs next year.

What should be our final report on locals in college football, we'd like to relate today. The first note comes from Miami, Fla., where the Rev. Theodore O. Posselt Jr. is lounging in the sun. The Rev. Posselt, former sports editor of this paper, dropped yours truly a line yesterday and was quite hepped-up over the fact that the Smith twins, former Eastchester High aces, were members of the Miami University football varsity this season and have made quite a name for themselves in Southern pigskin circles. Frank Smith is at present tied for the most valuable player award on the squad with 33 points while brother Elmer has three. Both Smiths are familiar to Bellows basketball and football players of recent years.

Dick Doyne of Larchmont, sophomore halfback at Lehigh, has set the Pennsylvania school on fire with his long runs. Dick galloped 71 markers against Lafayette in a traditional struggle.

Pete Bucklin turned in a good job at guard for Dartmouth and saw plenty of action against Princeton in the closing game. The Green romped in with a hard-fought 33—13 victory. Clint Boxhorn of Rye was in the Princeton lineup.

Nichols Junior College of Dudley, Mass., announces that Mathew Murphy of Mamaroneck, and a senior at that school, has been awarded his varsity football letter at the annual football banquet. Nichols won the New England junior college football championship this year by losing only one game.

George Vladenides, who developed into an outstanding running back for Bellows during the season, is believed to be having trouble with the leg he injured in the Panther-Irvington game in the middle of the season. An unconfirmed report has it that George may be forced to undergo an operation. We hope this report isn't true and wish the East End speedster a complete recovery. Vladenides was being counted on to see plenty of service on the Bellows basketball team this year, having performed on the jayvee squad in 1947.

HARDLY A STRANGER

DETROIT (AP)—Halfback Earl Maves, who joined the Detroit Lions of the National Football League, midway in the 1948 season, hardly came as a stranger to Lion coach Bo McMillin. In 1946, Maves sprinted 70 yards for a touchdown that enabled the University of Wisconsin to tie McMillin-coached Indiana U., 7-7.

Bronxville Out For Revenge; Harrison-Rye in First Game

The Larchmont Eagles will attempt to gain a two game lead in the Westchester Senior Hockey League tomorrow night when they tangle with a strong Bronxville Rocket six on the Playland ice. The two teams opened the season against each other four week's ago with the Eagles pulling the game out of the fire in the final minutes. The score was 2-1.

At this point in the race, a victory would insure at least a tie for the Larchmont team, when this particular round of play is completed. The Eagles have won all three of their starts so far this year, beating Rye and Harrison on successive weeks after the Bronxville victory.

Bronxville came out of the Eagle defeat in a very good frame of mind and proceeded to whip Rye 2-0 the following Wednesday and then give Harrison a going over last week by a 7-4 tally.

Tomorrow night's games will be the last league game for two weeks since the loop's all-star team meets the Yale Varsity on the Playland ice Tuesday, December 7th. Because of this match, the December 8th games have been postponed.

Chuck Safaric and Whitey Campbell will replace Murphy and Holmes on defense when the situation arises. The two combinations alternate during each game.

Pete Taylor leads his line from the center spot with Bill Sweeney and Walt Lawrence at the wings. The third Larchmont line has Doug Morrison as the lead man and Jack Sutphen and Harry VanDyke holding down forward positions. Nick Starapoli, former Mamaroneck High skater, will fill in on any of the lines. Starapoli has improved tremendously since the beginning of the year and has become a steady performer.

Joe Schaefer will again be in the nets for the Rockets. Schaefer is one of the best net minders in the loop and is always a tough man to get the puck by. Larchmont found the Bronxville goalie in good style in the first encounter and will probably see a lot of him tomorrow night.

The Bronxville defensive unit pits Jim Whiston and Bob Kelly as mainstays with Whiston being the outstanding checker of the two. Copeland is captain of the team.

The first game on tomorrow night's program pits the Harrison Maple Leafs against Rye's Hawks in an 8 o'clock clash. The Eagle-Rocket battle will begin at 9:30 P. M.

The league's all-star team will take on the Yale varsity next Tuesday in place of the originally scheduled game with Princeton. The New Jersey college has been having difficulty in getting its club started this year and wired league officials that the team into a regular game yet. A quick into a regular game yet. A quck call to New Haven ended successfully as Yale agreed to replace the Orange and Black for next week's battle. Four players from each WSHL entry will comprise the all-star's roster.

The lineups for tomorrow:

| LARCHMONT | Pos. | BRONXVILLE |
|---|---|---|
| Bearden | G | Schaefer |
| Briell | C | Hatrick |
| Braun | RW | Burkhart |
| McDonough | LW | Copeland |
| Murphy | RD | Whiston |
| Holmes | LB | Kelly |

Y-Bowl, Alley Cats in Tie After Mixed Doubles Play

The Alley Cats and Y-Bowl remained in a tie for the lead in King and Queen Mixed Doubles bowling by taking 2-1 victories at the Mamaroneck Recreation Center Sunday evening.. The Irish and Unlucky Four also were victorious by the same count.

Paul Jones rolled the high series with a 550 pinfall, although his team, the Four Hundred, were downed by the Y-Bowl. Chet Russell, a teammate of Jones' and Al Hanrahan of the Alley Cats had 504 pin totals.

High single ended in a dead heat between Al Hanrahan and Jones. The top mark was 211 pins. Lillian Hall's 184 game took third place.

The Y-Bowl was advanced a 10 pin handicap but really didn't need it as they downed the Four Hundred in two out of three games. Elmer Jones was the Y-Bowl sparkplug with a 485 series although Paul Jones of the losers was the best individual performer.

The Alley Cats took the third and deciding game of their match with the Four Roses by 19 pins and thus retained the tie for the loop lead. Al Hanrahan's kegling paced the Cats while Harry Westfall was top man on the Roses' side.

The Go-Getters took the opening encounter from the Unlucky Four but then proceeded to lose the final two games, bringing a victory for the Unlucky outfit. A 26 pin handicap was the big factor as the winners annexed the last game by a mere five pins. Lillian Hall was tops among the lady bowlers for the entire night by rolling a 184 game for the Go-Getters. Her series mark was 457 pins. Plumb also came through with some good rolling for the losers. Bob Schreyer had the best pinfall in the Unlucky Four's column but Paolucci was high single winner with a 164 game.

The Irish took their win from Babe's Aces with Gus Pennetta showing the way. Pennetta rolled an even 500 pin triple and was holder of the best single at 183 pins. Babe Etre led the losers.

First Hoop Practice Held at Mamaroneck

The first basketball practice of the year was called by Coach Orlando Ciraco of Mamaroneck High yesterday and 50 hopefuls answered the Tiger mentor's invitation by appearing on the Senior High Court.

The turnout was not the entire group of boys that Ciraco will choose from, however, since the members of this year's football team have been excused from the first few practices in order that they may attempt to rest up some of their gridiron wounds.

Ciraco, who was assistant to Head Coach Harry Harrison during the pigskin schedule, will be on his own in basketball and is blessed with the return of four varsity players from last year's club. All of these athletes participated in football during the recently completed season and will appear for their first hoop session some time this week. They are Joe Petruzza, Eddy Smith, Buddy Berkely and Mike Bruno.

UNDERTAKER BY TRADE

BUFFALO (AP) — Tom Rocky of the Buffalo club in the American Hockey League is an undertaker in the off-season, but before his teammates discovered it they got quite a scare. Rocky drove up to the Buffalo training camp in a hearse he uses in his business. The squad was sure hockey was not quite that rugged a game.

George Sella to Lead Princeton Grid Team

PRINCETON, N. J., (AP) — Princeton named wingback George Sella of Cliffside Park as captain of its 1949 football squad last night and awarded the Poe Memorial Football Cup to tailback Val Wagner.

Wagner, twenty-three, of Upper Darby, Pa., a senior pre-medical student, received the Poe cup "for ability, loyalty and sportsmanship."

Lambert Trophy Given To West Point Again

NEW YORK, (AP) — For the fourth time in five years Army has been awarded the Lambert Trophy, emblematic of Eastern football supremacy.

Writers and broadcasters gave Army 112 votes compared with six for Penn State and one for Cornell.

Earl Blaik, Army coach, will accept the trophy Thursday.

Detroit Lion Quarterback Clyde LeForce, in three seasons of college football at Tulsa, scored in all but one of the 27 games played by the Golden Hurricanes.

Hasley Cuts Panther Squad For Third Week of Practice

With the furry and excitement of the pigskin season stacked away in the record books, all thoughts up at the East End school have turned to basketball. Coach Jack Hasley welcomed 42 hopefuls when he signaled for the first practice session two weeks ago. Now the squad has been cut to 23 and is rapidly shaping up for the first game on Dec. 17.

Basketball has always been the most successful sport at Bellows, and Hasley hopes this year is no exception. Fourteen members of last year's team, including six varsity lettermen, are back to the wars for the 1948-49 cage contests.

Tom Walsh, Red Tallevi, Harvey Harriot, George Fischer, Ed Feldt and Ed Petrie, who were all on the Blue and Black varsity in 1947, are looking better than last year and will definitely be the backbone of the squad.

Don "Gump" Anderson, Art Henne, Rocky O'Connell, Panky Vitetta, Joe Benedict, Steve Johnston, Danny Evangelista and Ed Kayner have all returned to action and will surely play a lot of ball this season. Only the efforts of the boys themselves and another few weeks of practice will reveal the members of the varsity.

There are two other boys who weren't on the team last year. They are Stuart Schaefer and Kenny Dellner. The former is a newcomer to the Bellows district. He has just recently arrived from Wisconsin and looks quite impressive on the court. Dellner, who has improved enormously over last season, also has a good chance to make the grade.

The remaining seven lads, all members of last year's Freshman team, are now experienced enough to be moved up to the "select twenty." They are Joe Costa, Don Dahlgren, Bill Cummings, Bill Weissauer, Dave Fischer, Gary Wellman and Jimmy Dunn.

The manager is Dave Hacket, who worked as an assistant last year. Sal Failace will handle the duties of trainer and Stuart Gintel and Mike DeFonce will be assistants to the manager.

Only five boys on the 1947-48 team will be missing this year. Bill Block, Stan Bonelli and Steve Evangelista were seniors and have graduated. Tony Fasola is now smiling his way through in the U. S. Navy, and George "the Greek" Vladenides cannot play because of a knee injury suffered during the football season. George will have to undergo an operation before he can compete in any more sports.

The team as it now stands looks very promising. The Panther cagers will have height, speed, experience and all-around team players. An example of what the writer means by heightt: if Coach Hasley were to put Walsh, G. Fischer, Henne, Evangelista and Kayner on the court at once, he would have a quintet that averaged a little better than 6 ft. 3 inches.

In basketball, Bellows returns to SWIAC competition. The Panthers have discontinued gridiron connections with the Southern Westchester League but will continue to compete in basketball, baseball and track.

The schedule includes the same teams that were met in the '47-48 season, with two additions. Bronxville and the New York School for the Deaf are the newcomers, the former engaging the East Enders in February and the latter being met at the New York School's gymnasium in January.

The Blue and Black quintet won 11 games and lost 9 last year, came in fourth in the SWIAC, and won the "Little Three" title. Since basketball is THE sport at the East End school, Coach Hasley is hoping for an even better season, with possibilities of breaking into some of the post-season invitation tournaments.

Tonight in New York

Today, with seventeen of the biggest hits of the past decade to his credit, Michael Todd, a resident of Irvington, Westchester County, has followed in the footsteps of the great Flo Ziegfeld, another Westchesterite, to become the master showman of today's Broadway shows. Todd's latest production, the lavish "As The Girls Go," currently appearing at the Winter Garden, is the most recent example of the "extravaganza extraordinaire" that both he and Ziegfeld were so adept at producing. Mr. Todd has fulfilled every early promise of his success, and, as a matter of fact, just two seasons ago he became the first producer since Ziegfeld to have four shows running simultaneously on Broadway.

Since his first venture as inventor and operator of an ingenious concession at the Chicago World's Fair, known as "The Flame Dance," Mr. Todd has constantly expanded the scope of his theatrical enterprise. This act consisted of one huge flaming prop candle and one young lady clothed in an asbestos zipper costume with flash paper wings, enacting the classic legend of the moth and the flame. At an appropriate moment, the wings would catch fire and the young lady would un-zip to step from her protective covering and provide the charming little production with a stirring finale.

Patrons found this dramatic moral lesson so satisfying that Mr. Todd was able to project himself into show business proper the following season as proprietor of a traveling unit show called "Bring On The Dames." Its star was a trained penguin and, in fifty-three weeks of trouping it netted its twenty-seven-year-old producer sufficient profits to finance his invasion of New York where, in no time at all, he managed to produce two failures — the first "Call Me Ziggy," which closed (as Mr. Todd says) during the third act of its premiere performance — and the second "The Man From Cairo," which ran for six weeks.

Searching for ways and means to remain in New York and continue his favorite work, Todd obtained the initial financing for "Hot Mikado" by a gadget called Kute Kris Kringle which netted him a quick profit of $130,000. None of the millions who saw it will ever forget "Hot Mikado" with Bill Robinson tapping his way through the title role in golden shoes.

Hal LeRoy, popular tap dance star, heads the huge cast taking part on Radio City Music Hall's great stage in the spectacular holiday revue, "Happy Days," with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's Technicolor romance, "Hills of Home," starring Edmund Gwenn, Donald Crisp, Tom Drake, Janet Leigh and Lassie.

Produced by Leonidoff and presented as a spectacular version of an old-time variety show, complete with roller curtain and announcement placards changed on stage by the traditional page girls, the revue features LeRoy in a lively college scene of long ago, introduced by song favorites sung by the Glee Club.

Also highlighting the show will be "Gypsy Caravan," a brilliant ballet spectacle in which, before settings by Bruno Maine, Rabana Hasburgh, ballerina, Norman Thomson, premier danseur, and the Corps de Ballet will appear in an exciting interpretation of Liszt's Second Hungarian Rhapsody, with choreography by Florence Rogge.
