"It is particularly appropriate," said Dr. Niles, "that recognition of Judge Allen's achievement will be perpetuated in the Law Center by her fellow alumni and friends, since the School of Law was the first to open its doors to women in 1891 and now is proud to number among its graduates 800 women."

West Virginia Senatorial Race Flares As Scott Aids Revercomb

By The Associated Press

West Virginia's hot senatorial battle grew fresh attention today as the Presidential candidates sparred between their final campaign rounds.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey called that state from his winthrop tour which opened Tuesday in Charleston, West Virginia.

Holding Senate control by only a six-vote margin, the Republicans may need to win the West Virginia race to retain the upper hand.

Dewey and Revercomb have not seen eye to eye on the displaced person issue, but the GOP high command said national party chairman Frank D. Roosevelt Jr. at Washington last night with a special plea for the Senator.

"From top to bottom," Scott said, the Republican Party and the national leaders want Revercomb re-elected. "And I do mean from top to bottom," he added.

"I am here to say that win or lose I shall continue to represent the people of West Virginia as a man who will not bow to outside dictation."

He did not imply the remark. During the special session of Congress.

Soviet Delays Answer As Western Powers Accept Plan

PARIS, (AP)—The six "Big Four" powers on the United Nations Security Council called on Russia today to lift the Berlin blockade at once.

The meeting was delayed nearly an hour by last minute conference amendments on the Big Four delegations directly concerned in the issue. The United States, Britain and France have opposed Russia's demand for a complete cessation of all military operations in Germany.

Russia has asserted no blockade exists and that the council has no jurisdiction. The neutral powers—Argentina, Belgium, Canada, China, Colombia and Syria—demanded a complete cessation of all military operations in Germany.

The neutrals put before the council a joint resolution which said the four military operations of Germany should be stopped by the Soviet Union and the United States.

The resolution also provided that the Foreign Ministers Council of the U. S., Russia, Britain and France should meet to discuss all questions at issue over Germany.

Foreign Minister Juan A. Brea of Argentina, acting council president, presided at the resolution and then addressed the delegates.

"We reached the hour of decision, harmonious decisions of the council," he said.

In 1941 he became the company's service manager for the Manhattan-Bronx-Westchester area and in 1942 was civilian defense coordinator for the company in this county. In September, 1943, he was appointed commercial supervisor of the Westchester Division and later was appointed general sales manager for the Manhattan, Bronx and Westchester.

Mr. Wilson began his telephone career in 1902 at the age of 14. At a clerk in the company's commercial department in New York City. He rose through various positions in the department to that of special agent on the staff of the general commercial engineer in March, 1918. In World War I, he served in the U. S. Army Signal Corps.

Rejoining the company in 1919, Mr. Wilson became an assistant supervisor of methods at the company headquarters in New York City and later held several posts of increasing responsibility until 1927 when he was appointed Westchester Division manager.

Mr. Wilson is a former president of the Bronx-Westchester Chapter, Telephone Association of America, and last year received a diamond-anniversary pin emblem from the company.

DEWEY TO SKIP WEST VIRGINIA

Associated Press Staff
NEW YORK, (AP) — Although the struggle for control of the Senate is hot, Gov. Dewey plans to skip any visit to West Virginia, scene of one of the crucial races.

Dewey's aides told newspapermen privately that Republican Senator Chapman Revere's handling of the displaced persons issue is the real reason for this decision.

The official explanation being made in West Virginia, however, is that the state couldn't be fitted into the GOP Presidential candidate's itinerary, that "from top to bottom" the national ticket wants Revere to be elected.

Ten days away from the Nov. 6 election, Revere generally concedes they are going to keep every seat they can get to keep the reins in the Senate. A loss of command there would seriously handicap a new administration's legislative program.

In line with this, Dewey has allowed some of his personal differences to campaign for the GOP senatorial candidates.

Sen. Joseph H. Ball, Minnesota, who bolted the Dewey-Bricker ticket in 1944, is a case in point.

Ball Dewey is said to feel that the Revere case in West Virginia is a different light. The background of this session enacted a bill to admit some 200,000 European displaced persons.

Revere said the bill discriminated against Jews and some Catholics. Revere asked Revere to chair a committee of a judicial subcommittee, to try to have the law changed. Revere's denial of the measure was discriminatory and unfair.

That Dewey is said to feel that if he now gives any personal help to Revere—as he has been under strong pressure to do—would be put in a position of judging on the question of opening up the immigration system for the European refugees.

Revere is opposed by Matthew M. Neely, Democratic former Senator.

Even if Revere falls by the wayside along with some other GOP candidates, the Dewey strategists feel the Revere vote will still lean to the Democrats.

The Republicans could keep control with a 48 to 42 tie, if they elect their Presidential ticket, Warren, as Vice President, would be able to break the tie in their favor.

The main hope in the Dewey camp centers on saving two Republican Senators in West Virginia, James E. Murray of Montana. Murray is opposed by Republican Tom J. Davis.

The Dewey strategists line up this way: "They are afraid they will lose three seats through defaults of Senators Ball in Minnesota, and Revere in West Virginia and Rep. Ross Bailey who is seeking the seat being vacated by Sen. R. H. Moore in Oklahoma.

That would make the Senate 48-42 in favor of the Democrats. But if Cooper survives, Davis beats Murray in Montana, and Robertson pulls through against Gov. Lester C. Hunt, his Democratic opponent in Wyoming, the Dewey wind up with a 50 to 46 margin.

The Dewey strategists seem to have little hope of defeating Democratic Senators Edwin C. Johnson in Colorado and Theodore F. Green in Rhode Island. Neither do they expect Charles E. McNair, Republican chairman, to win over Rep. Estes Kefauver, Democrat, in Tennessee.

On the other hand, they poolish Democratic contingents that there is another challenge to the reelection of Republican senators C. Weyland Brooks of Illinois, George A. Wilson of Iowa or Homer Ferguson of Michigan.

benefit to all peoples," Brangula said.

Andrei V. Vishinsky, Deputy Foreign Minister of Russia, attacked the new laws in an address at the start of the Soviet attitude toward the Little Six proposal.

Enlightened On Incidents The Little Six resolution called on the Big Four to avoid any incident which might aggravate the situation in Berlin.

The Russian blockade of the land approaches to the city—deep in the Soviet occupation zone—last June 23, soon after the Western Powers introduced their reformed currency into Berlin.

West installed the air lift to feed and supply the two million or more Germans in Western Berlin and clamped a counter blockade on the Russian zone of Germany.

Brangula, in his speech, told the Big Four to forget the president's question of world peace is more important than the question of any one power's declared.

The Argentine told the council the small powers had been working toward a "climate of conciliation" which would lead to a better fate for the world.

calls for reason, not force," he went on.

Vishinsky was reported to have told Brangula yesterday he objected to one aspect of the resolution. He added, however, he still was awaiting instructions from the Soviet government.

Vishinsky was reported to be opposed to the section of the resolution which would require the Berlin blockade before the issue of Berlin's currency is settled.

Russia heretofore has insisted that its actions must be simultaneous.

Brangula, however, was in consideration which could be overcome by the apparent desire of both sides for a settlement.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay
"The Authority on Authorities"

CLEAR LOGIC APPLIED CLEARCUT LOGIC is applied to the bridge game.

As exposed cards, for instance, the declarer is never supposed to be dealt a card, and no card of his hand ever becomes a penalty card.

Such an exposure, if he plays more than one card to a trick, he contravenes his own play and merely picks up the other.

Exposing his hand after the wrong defender's opening lead was covered yesterday. Intentionally exposing his hand otherwise causes his act to be treated as a cover or contraction of tricks.

When a defender faces a card on the table, or sees the face of a card belonging to his partner before he is entitled to such a card becomes a penalty card except that it does not constitute a revoke if a defender has two or more such cards in his hand.

PRAYER FOR TODAY—For my proud privilege and heritage—filial piety in the United States—I thank You, dear Father in Heaven, I deeply and humbly appreciate the blessings You have bestowed upon me and my family. I pray that I may be able to do Your will and bring glory to Your name. Amen.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

TWO Mamaroneck organizations are in line for birthday greetings this month. Columbia Hose Company No. 2 has just completed the celebration of 50 years' service as a unit of the Mamaroneck Village Fire Department and at the dinner held at company headquarters last week, youngsters and old timers looked back together at a half century's enviable record.

This month, also, the Boy Scouts of Mamaroneck Troop 2 will observe the 33rd anniversary of their organization. A dinner will be held Monday at the Mamaroneck Methodist Church where as many original members of the troop as can be located will meet present troop members and leaders for a gala birthday party.

As organizations begin to look back over 30, 40 or 50 years of history, it means that the roots of the community are deepening and becoming entwined with the traditions which enrich the lives of its citizens.

Both these organizations have done their share to strengthen Mamaroneck's valuable and beloved traditions and The Daily Times is proud to say, "Happy Birthdays."

WANT TO FLY WITH THE FLEET?

IT WILL be "Operation Nav Cad" out at the Westchester County Airport at Rye Lake tomorrow and Sunday.

Which means the presence on the field of the Navy's huge Peavee patrol bomber, largest land-based aircraft which the Navy has in operation. Naval officers will be present to conduct visitors through the huge plane and to explain to interested young men between 18 and 25 what the naval aviation cadet program has to offer them.

Such program gives pilot training to accepted cadets, a chance to earn the wings of the Navy or Marine Corps Reserve and an opportunity to fly with the fleet, considered one of the prize assignments of the armed services.

The pay in good, there will be approximately 15 months of flight training, the remainder of the four-year enlistment will be served as a commissioned aviator with the operating forces of the Navy.

From an educational value, with special emphasis upon the foreign travel, the enlistment period might prove in time almost as valuable as a four-year course in college, especially when it is borne in mind that a large part of the academic training parallels that given within university walls.

At any rate, for those young men who are interested, as well as for their parents, we suggest that a visit to the County Airport tomorrow or Sunday and an inspection of this Navy-bomber might be well worthwhile.

A Glance Backward

A DECADE AGO (From The Daily Times) The Larchmont Country Club was the scene of a barn dance given by the Young Men's Republican Club of Larchmont and Mamaroneck, Ralph A. Gamble, who was seeking reelection to Congress, was among the notables who attended. Rev. Philip C. Jones, associate minister of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, spoke before teachers and officers of the Larchmont Avenue Church. A housing development was going up in the West Knolls Section of Larchmont. The property is located in the country section of West Knolls and borders on the Mamaroneck line at Malines Park. Mamaroneck Chamber of Commerce's "Coupon Day" was a tremendous success. Charles A. Martin of Forest Avenue Town, was elected president of the American Steamship and Tourist Agents Association at the annual convention in New York City. Bellows was broken by Alexander Hamilton High of Elmsford 7-0 in football. ... and just 38-0 today.

Col. Joe Bush Says: We ain't noticed it in the platforms of any of the political parties, but our idea of a good plank would be one making it felony for telephone operators to ask who's calling before they connect you. It's been our experience that it's mainly the little fellows who make it the most difficult to get 'em on the phone.

The last campaign week is just ahead and local politicians are as busy as a Billy Rose ghost-writer.

Yonkers Legion Posts To Meet on Merger Plan YONKERS — Commanders of the 18 American Legion Posts in Yonkers have been invited to a meeting Monday to discuss the possibility of merging into one Legion post.

Michael Kohoe, commander of Yonkers Post, issued the invitation to attend the meeting.

Accused Yonkers Cop Resigns from Force YONKERS — Patrolman John Glus, a member of the police force since April 1, 1925, resigned yesterday. He was suspended on Sunday by Public Safety Commissioner Patrick F. O'Hara for violation of police department regulations.

Commissioner O'Hara filed the resignation with the City Clerk and it was accepted. Pending departmental charges against Glus will be eliminated, but Commissioner O'Hara pointed out that he still can be prosecuted for the 30-minute-hour case he led to the patrolmen late Saturday night.

Glus can be prosecuted for speeding, reckless driving, passing red signal light and obstructing a license plate. Warning signs were first by policeman charging Glus after he led them on a wild ride through city streets. He was finally leaving a lot Palisades Avenue after his car had been seen leaving an uncompleted apartment house building.

BREATHING DOWN OUR NECK

The Counselor

CHILDREN'S AUTHOR

Question: I believe I could write children's story books but I do not illustrate them. Is there any way I could get more information about this? Answer: Perhaps you are hurrying things a bit and had better see if you really can write children's story books before a publisher will buy, before you begin to worry about the illustrations. Of course, some children's books do illustrate their own books, but this is the exception. An author might illustrate his own book or team up with an artist-friend and have a finished product of book and pictures to offer a publisher.

However, straight from a publisher we have it that: "Many a good story has been rejected because it has been submitted with illustrations inappropriate to reproduce commercially and economically." This publisher says: "The publisher will refer the matter to the publisher to decide about illustrations."

You must like to take a course in creative writing as the first step in the way to possibly becoming a children's author.

24-HOUR JOB

Question: Can you tell me the best qualifications for a fiction editor? Answer: Three of them are education, persistence and vitality. Hear a publisher on this one: "A volume could be written on the qualifications of a fiction editor. Perhaps it would suffice to say that a college graduate who has majored in English or literature might be in a line to become a manuscript reader in a magazine or book publishing house. Any advancement from such a position would depend upon that person's willingness to put in great many hours at home into manuscript reading — the endless manuscripts which cannot possibly be read during regular office hours alone."

"It all depends upon his success in keeping the trend of public life taste and developing new writers to meet the demand for material to the house with which he is connected, never having known a successful editor who does not make it a 24-hour job and whose social life is not completely tied up with his business."

DIDN'T SIGN LEASE

Question: Can people who do not sign leases have to pay 15 per cent more rent to get the same service from the Rent Office as those who do sign leases and whose apartments become re-tenanted by the Rent Office? Answer: Yes. Tenants who do not sign leases are considered to continue to obtain service and information from the Rent Office at the rate of rent control in effect.

BASKETBALL REFEREE

Question: Please give me information concerning requirements for high school basketball referees in Westchester County. I would appreciate any information you can give me concerning the date, time and place of the next examination covering this.

Answer: We refer you to Charles Pease, athletic director of the Westchester Recreation Commission, County Office Building, White Plains. LEGION HEADS HOME AFTER ELECTING BROWN

MIAMI, (AP)—S. Perry Brown, the Legion's newly-elected national commander, and about 70,000 other legionnaires were on their way home today.

They strapped up the 30th annual national convention last Saturday with unanimous approval of Brown for the legion's highest office.

When the fifty-six-year-old Beaumont, Texas, businessman's election became apparent midway through the convention, he yielded as haltingly as the third man in the race—James P. Green, thirty-three, Omaha, Neb.—moved to make it unanimous.

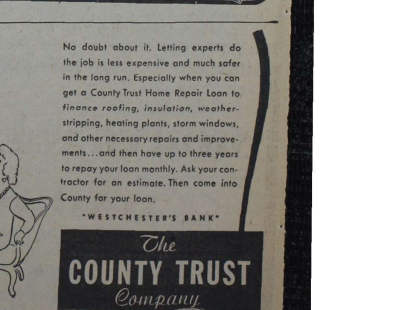

Brown is a veteran of both world wars.

Attempt To Woo Garner Shows Truman's Fears, Tucker Thinks

By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON—President Truman's unwanted wooing of former Vice President John N. Garner on his recent pilgrimage through Texas reveals vividly the White House fear that the Lone Star State's 23 electoral votes may be lost through the combined assault of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and the Thurmond-Wright States Rights ticket.

Although Mr. Truman has advocated many of the extreme New Dealish policies which led to the Republican losses between Mr. Garner and Franklin D. Roosevelt, the Democratic nominee made several desperate attempts to persuade the distinguished Texan, now 80 years old, to stump the vast spaces of the Southwest on the Presidential campaign train.

In a letter from Washington several weeks before his arrival in this territory, Mr. Truman requested Mr. Garner to ride the train from El Paso to Oklahoma City.

Besides making back platform appearances, it was hoped that the former Speaker and Vice President would give a series of helpful words for the President. Mr. Garner, who never leaves Ovada because of his asthma, did not even answer this communication.

DOUBLING—But Mr. Truman was not to be put off. In a subsequent telegram, he notified Mr. Garner that he was arriving for one of the latter's famous breakfasts.

The hospitable squire of Ovada played an excellent host serving every sort of dish from "moaning doves" to sausages and eggs. But not once did he discuss 1948 politics, or even ask Mr. Truman about the progress of his campaign.

When the President could not persuade Mr. Garner to accompany him on his Texas tour, he gathered up Rep. Lyndon Johnson, the ultra-New Dealer who defeated Coke Stevenson in the senatorial primary by only 87 votes out of almost one million cast. The shift caused some eyebrows-lifting. For Mr. Johnson represents and supports almost everything Mr. Garner detests. It is said that Mr. Truman lost perhaps 200,000 votes among Texas conservatives and states rights by doubling with the young member of the House.

POLL—Many Texas Democrats, including politicians friendly to the President, are making small bets that the President will not obtain a majority of the Nov. 3 vote, and therefore, will lose the shift. They make this prediction in face of the fact that Franklin D. Roosevelt always swept the state, and that it went Republican only in the 41 51st year of 1928.

Their question: recent public opinion poll shows 61 per cent for Mr. T., 16 to Dewey, 8 to Thurmond, Wallace and 3 undecided.

In their opinion, a more accurate estimate would be at least 30 per cent for the Republican nominee, 15 or more for Thurmond and possibly 3 for Wallace.

In such a lineup, Mr. Truman could easily lose the state, if there is a large number of Democratic stay-at-homes.

GOP strategists have taken note of this anti-Truman threat, and will route their lipotouch speakers into Texas in the closing days of the contest. Their star speaker will be Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, whose anti-federalist attitude may find sympathetic audiences. Moreover, since the days when his father sat in the White House, the Tafts have always been popular in Mr. Garner's ranch country.

PENSION—The two men whom the Democrats have assailed most violently in the current campaign—Herbert Hoover and Senator Taft—happen to be the principal advocates of a pension for former Presidents, with a defeated Mr. Truman's possible need for a steady income after Jan. 20 as the main reason for their immediate interest in the project. Here is the story:

At a recent arid dinner the program had a skit referring to the White House shortage of funds, meaning political cash. But Mr. Truman took it as a reference to his own status, and confided to a friend that at that moment he was $17,000 in debt.

This word was relayed to Mr. Hoover at a luncheon in connection with the arid dinner, and he promptly declared himself in favor of a severance pension. He pointed out that he did not need the money, and it is understood that he turned over his salary to charity. But he added that in these days of high taxes only a wealthy man could afford the Presidency, which he regarded as unprofitable and undemocratic. There is talk that Mr. Hoover may include this provision in the report on government reorganization which he will submit to the next Congress.

SAVED—Senator Taft has not introduced a pension measure, but he is understood to have discussed it with Capitol Hill colleagues. The only proposal of recent years was submitted by Rep. C. Jasper Bell of Missouri, but it has gathered dust in the House Judiciary Committee. It provides for $50,000 a year, retroactive from the date of enactment.

Contrary to general belief, Mr. Taft does not favor the idea because of his father's financial difficulties. William Howard Taft declined an offer by Andrew Carnegie to establish a trust fund that would give a life annuity of $25,000 to ex-Presidents and their widows on the ground that it would prove embarrassing to a Chief Executive during his tenure of office.

Former President Taft, however, did not have to pay heavy Roosevelt-Truman taxes. In only four years he saved $100,000 out of his salary. He also had $150,000 in notes and mortgages, which brought him an annual income of $8,000. Washington property worth $15,000 and $60,000 in life insurance. His salary as a Yale professor gave him an additional $5,000 a year.

Democrats resent this pension-for-Truman talk on the ground that it makes good Republican propaganda. But the fact is that Mr. Hoover and Senator Taft agreed on the scheme at a time when the President's popularity was at its peak.

Dawdling Child, Slow Youngster Different Types

By ANGELO PATRIZI
Every child born into this world is set to his own rhythm. He grows in that rhythm, learns to work, moves to that rhythm and nothing on earth can change his beat. You cannot make a naturally slow child into a speedster, and it would be too bad if you could, for he is always best in his own character.

There is a difference between dawdling and slowness. Slowness, such as I am talking about is a characteristic. Dawdling is behavior. The child who is slow may dawdle and he may not; the fast child may dawdle too. Dawdling is getting down to it, may be the expression of dislike for the job. Or dread of what comes after this job. If a child knows that as soon as he finishes getting dressed he must go to the dentist, he may dawdle. If he hates school and knows that he will start for it right after he swallows his breakfast, he will delay as long as he can. Keep himself late for the bus, if he can. Make father lose patience and go without him so that mother has to drive him to school. Later, and allow him to escape the arithmetic lesson. All such little schemes cause dawdling.

But there is a kind of child who is slow, and who dawdles into the bargain. Instead of deliberately proceeding to dress he will take off his pajamas, then go to the window and stare out for a few minutes, until somebody calls to him to get busy. He goes to the bathroom and dips his hands, takes a long thought and reaches for the washrag. He will pick up a picture book and turn its pages when he has one shoe and one stocking on and no garters fastened. That's dawdling, not slowness.

A slow child will proceed with deliberation, one step after the other. The pace may madden the onlooker who is fast but the child will arrive at his appointed place in his own time. What he does he will do well. He needs time to turn a question over in his mind, to gather his background of experience to enlighten him, but when he answers the answer will be right.

Both sorts of children must be trained to work within a time limit. Begin where the children are and work on toward the standard set. Give the slow child three examples of the same kind instead of five—he will do better and learn just as much. Gradually increase the amount he is to do within the time set.

Two local boys are among the candidates for the first football team representing the New Archibald Stearns High School in White Plains. They are Andrew Scantoro of Mamaroneck and John Collins of Larchmont. The former is a fullback hopeful while Collins is showing for a starting guard position.

Athletic Director Nat Volpe announced that the school would play a five game schedule this season, opening the campaign against the Fordham Prep boys as stepping plate on October 25th. Only seven games will be played this season because the White Plains school has only freshmen and sophomore classes for the first year of its existence.

The Blue and Gold have been practicing regularly and Coach Volpe stated that three complete teams are ready for the opening tussle. All games this year will be played on Stephens Field, Hesperia Park.

When the Mamaroneck Softball League completed its season activities in September, there was some talk of organizing a basketball league in connection with that organization. However, the move seems to have been lost in the storm of football activity. A committee was named at the annual dinner of the softball league to look into the situation but evidently nothing developed.

We like to hear from someone who has any information on the idea. The softball league was run so well this year that we feel a basketball league might attract some interest shown by fans at Mamaroneck Avenue School Field during the Summer.

The first actual step toward the organizing of basketball was taken by Charles Warren, Ed Warren will hold a meeting on Monday night at 8 P. M. at the home of Mrs. Warren with anyone interested in entering a team in the organization that he started last season. The meeting will be held in the Mamaroneck Senior High gymnasium. Players will be chosen from men who are in the post-high school age bracket.

Mamaroneck Hill-And-Dalers Downed By New Rochelle

Handleman Finishes First; Steigerwald Close Second

Taking five of the first seven places, a powerful New Rochelle team today soundly trampled the Hill-and-dalers by a score of 20-5 at Tibbets Brook Park yesterday. Again it was the old story of inexperience as 12 of the 15 starters were from ninth to twenty-second place.

Joe Handelman of the Purple finished first, breaking out Mamaroneck's captain, Bill Steigerwald, by eight seconds. Handelman's time was 13:08 and Steigerwald came in at 13:16. From them it was all New Rochelle. Purple runners came in third, fourth, and fifth, literally sweeping the meet. Don Titter, followed Steigerwald in 13:30, and was in turn followed by Greene and Billings, with times of 13:41 and 13:0 respectively.

Doug Stevens came in second for the Orange but stalt in scoring in 14:10, improving his time three seconds over last week's meet. However any Mamaroneck hopes of pulling the meet out of the fire ended abruptly when Ollman crossed the line as the 15th New Rochelle runner, close on Stevens' heels in 14:03.

Running 7 in further, Riocho, also of the Queens City, scored eighth in the time of 14:08. Riseley in was the sixth New Rochelle to finish before three Tiger runners had come in. From this point on, the Queens City, New Rochelle victory, Hilltoppers swarmed across the line. Henry Hill came in at 14:10 and was followed by Bob Corcoran, with the Mamaroneck Avenue School Field during the Summer.

The first actual step toward the organizing of basketball was taken by Charles Warren, Ed Warren will hold a meeting on Monday night at 8 P. Victories by Mamaroneck and Pelham last Saturday were more or less expected but both teams did little better than was anticipated. The Panthers had little difficulty with New Canaan and used the forward pass to good advantage as they romped home 21-6. The Hilltoppers also coasted to their third win by using some play on the part of the line and consistent punting by the ball carrier.

Roosevelt Prep
Henry Harrison stated in the middle of last week, that he believed Roosevelt was capable of repeating an upset on his rivals. Despite the fact that Mamaroneck easily won the encounter, the Yonkers team looked like a good ball club at times. They had a dangerous passer in their line-up and a strong attack that routed 19 1/2 yards rushing. Ordinarily this would bring a team close to victory but on Saturday it was far from adequate.

The contest was a clean penalty affair with few penalties marking the action. Line play was furious with players charging each other long after plays had been completed. It was a fine game to watch from the stands, especially from the local angle. Joe Petruso added another tally to his county leading total. Joe has lived up to all expectations so far this year and appears headed for a national season in the high school career. He received substantial support from the Pelham team but the Pelham department this week. In fact Smith scored twice to snatch away honors for the contest.

The usual disputed play of the season occurred in the contest with furious protests coming from the Mamaroneck coaching staff. As usual it was all settled with the officials calling back George Fenger's 70-yard romp to Davy Clark.

Bellows News
The East Enders scored three touchdowns against their Connecticut foe but had as many more called back for infractions of the rules. Backfield in motion was a common call during the battle. The Bellows team didn't quite understand the ruling and were sent to New Canaan.

It seems to this scribe that Ed Peah has developed into one of the outstanding punters in the league. Field continually boots the piskin 45 yards and more each time with an average well above that figure. Several of his kicks last week were within a couple of feet of the coffin-cornor. The home team seldom got an opportunity to run them back.

Added by a series of penalties, New Canaan managed to score their second touchdown of the season late in the game. They were a band of little boys who had plenty of spirit but little football ability. However, the Connecticut outfit did not disgrace themselves at any time Saturday and many fans went away from the field singing the praises of the Catalina and White.

The next team win without a doubt but the big game of the year for Bellows will take place this Saturday against a strong and well balanced Harrison Hurley eleven.

Leaders Retain Positions As Larchmont Majors Bowl

All three leading teams in the Larchmont Bowl Major League won matches last night to remain in the top of competition through the season play. The leading Bert's romped to a 3-0 victory over the Cleavers while the Depot West and Pal Mar teams took wins to keep deep in the race.

The only team to falter was the Palmarites who were soundly thrashed by the Pal Mar. A victory by the Motormen moved them ahead of the Palmarites in the standings.

Kuel of the Colony took their single win in a mark of 2-1. Hurley and Ward of Bert's boys both pulled off a game while White, the Cleavers while the Depot West and Pal Mar teams took wins to keep deep in the race.

Consistent knocking was prominent as the Motormen shut out the Cleavers. Kozan had the actual high scores for the winners. Motormen went on to romps to lead the Pharmacists to a close 2-1 victory over the Sport Shop. His 8-0 triple was the high tally of the match. Reeves and Penning rolled off a pair of 3-0's.

Bono's efforts went for naught as the Depot West rolled to a 2-1 victory over the Lumbermen Joe Masto and Whitman had high scores for the Depot West.

Johnny Guad's bowling paced the Cleavers but they were unable to take a single game from Bert's boys. Ward, Hurley, and Nolan turned in fine scores for the winning team.

Chilli of the Pal Mar bowled a 2-1 triple as that team whitewashed the Palmarites 3-0. Scarzo and Hogan trowed worthy team-mates. Mulligan and Hoffman were high for the losers.

Greenbaum Hits 231 Single In Larchmont Acres Bowling

Tompkins House held firm to its top spot in Larchmont Acres Bowling last night by whipping the Bassett Five 2-1. The Palace House also came out on top in their match with the Sterlins to win with striking distance of the league leaders. Other victories went to the Penmore Co. and Mot teams.

Ray Tompiens and Kurt Loyard of the Palmer IV shared high series honors by rolling identical totals of 569 pins. Jerry Blewett of the Mot's third in this department with 521 mark.

Ed Greenbaum, rolling for the Lucie Richbells, copied the high single with a game of 223 pins. Blewett, Thomas, and Reiter all bowled single games in this department.

Although Bob Pollon carried off individual honors, the Penmore Cooper team scored a 2-1 victory over the Disbrow Five. The match was high for the winners.

Greenbaum's efforts were in vain for the Sterlins started off a pinball rally to triumph. Jerry Blewett led the winners with his assist from Tompiens.

The Tompkins fourth victory in a row was scored at the expense of the Bassett and Al-Macmillan rolled the outstanding scores of 444 in the match. His 14 triple hits helped that category while Dick Cooke's 200 pin final game gained some honor for him.

The only shutout of the night was rolled by the Palmarites against the Sterling five. Reynolds and Tompiens combined to lead the winners to a 2-0 pin total, high team score last night.

The Mot team was the only one to win with the assistance of a handicap. The Racette, Sterlins, and Disbrow were given a 100 pin handicap.

LARCHMONT RECS TOP YONKERS' 5

The Larchmont Rec entry in the State Town Bowling League scored an impressive 2-1 triumph over the defending champion Yonkers team last night. Russell had the best triple total of the match with a 3-0 series. The Yonkers team was led by their ace, Ed Peah, who rolled a 2-1 triple.

Johnny Guad scored a 2-1 triple for the Larchmont team. He received substantial support from the Pelham team but the Pelham department this week. In fact Smith scored twice to snatch away honors for the contest.

The usual disputed play of the season occurred in the contest with furious protests coming from the Mamaroneck coaching staff. As usual it was all settled with the officials calling back George Fenger's 70-yard romp to Davy Clark.

Bellows News
The East Enders scored three touchdowns against their Connecticut foe but had as many more called back for infractions of the rules. Backfield in motion was a common call during the battle. The Bellows team didn't quite understand the ruling and were sent to New Canaan.

It seems to this scribe that Ed Peah has developed into one of the outstanding punters in the league

Drivers Call Meeting For Decisive Vote On Walkout

NEW YORK (AP) — Lattin leaders of a CIO union surrendered today and advised all workers to return to their jobs after the bitter bus strike in the city's history.

Threat of a renewal of the Third Avenue bus and trolley strike in Westchester late today came with a call to a union meeting in New York tonight and appearance of squads of strikers trying to persuade trolley operators to return their vehicles to terminals.

Yonkers trolleys will return to the barns at 4 P. M., it was announced.

How many bus drivers will respond to the meeting call was not known.

The meeting in New York City was announced for the purpose of taking a vote on continuing between 5 and 9 P. M. to continue work or resume the strike.

The White Plains division of the Third Avenue said its buses struck yesterday and the union's return-to-work order at noon, complete service was resumed at 3:25.

After yesterday's 4-hour strike of trolleys in New York City, Mr. Hall called all service off the streets at 4 P. M. yesterday and it was not resumed until 11:35 P. M. to "avoid trouble" here.

Tenants will probably be able to move back into the apartment building, damaged by fire in the Addison Building, by the end of the week, Joseph Ginsburg, owner of the apartment, revealed yesterday afternoon.

Damage to the Addison apartment building and three stores in the same building gutted by fire Aug. 19 was placed at between $70,000 and $100,000 by an unidentified claims adjuster.

Mr. Ginsburg stated yesterday that many of the rooms of the building have been repaired, their floors scraped and sanded, and general repairs made where necessary.

He also said that electric gas and plumbing facilities have been restored and that the oil burners probably will have been installed by the end of the week.

Work on the building is now the only difference to living in the apartments, he added.

William Fulcher, chairman of the Social Studies Department, discussed the significance of Navy Day, and outlined reasons for the selection of Oct. 27 for the celebration.

Mr. Fulcher's talk follows: "Today, Oct. 27, has been observed as Navy Day each year since 1922. This day has a two-fold significance for the Navy. Oct. 27, 1775, was the day on which the first resolved to authorize American warships in defense of the colonies which introduced into the Continental Congress, Oct. 27 was also the birthday of Theodore Roosevelt, president devoted in establishing a naval policy for the United States of America. Theodore Roosevelt first achieved national prominence by writing a naval history of the War of 1812. Later, as Assistant Secretary of the Navy, and finally president, Theodore Roosevelt devoted his tremendous energies to improve upon the American Navy, and the necessity for an adequate Navy, and endeavored through his leadership to realize this ideal.

"Youthful Americans should be informed and fully appreciate the independence of our nation, and our freedom as individuals. Recognition of our Navy as a force for maintaining peace is one of the essentials of citizenship.

"Modern sea power includes all elements of the Navy, including its combat ships, submarines, auxiliaries, merchant marine, and naval aviation. It also includes numerous shore stations, yards, schools, gun factories, research and testing laboratories, hospitals and air stations. The United States Navy stands ready to do its part. With the continued support of the American people, it will not fail in its mission.

"And so to us on our Navy Day, 'Victor in war-cruelty in peace, over the sea, under the sea, in the air above the sea.'"
