Restaurant Accused

Airport Food Halted

WHITE PLAINS—Charging unsanitary conditions, the County Health Department yesterday suspended the restaurant permit of the Westchester County Airport Restaurant Inc. until further notice.

The action, made on the basis of complaints and a personal inspection by Richard M. McLaughlin, director of sanitation in the Health Department, caused the closing of the Round-the-World Room, its bar and grill and nearby fountain at the County-owned airport at River Road.

Six major charges made by the health department were: garbage and refuse disposal, flies, mouse infestation, dirty equipment and dishes, dirty floors and walls, general unsanitary conditions and food-stored in bulk.

It was understood that complaints were made to the Health Department concerning the nighttime operations of the restaurant and that the restaurant was not open during the day.

Atom, Electric Care Due At Food Counter

By ANN CHESTER Food Editor

CHICAGO — One-third of today's grocery department sales are on items that did not exist 10 years ago or were there only in token quantities.

More than 140 food editors, representing 40 million newspapers, heard Mr. Willis speak at a breakfast session.

While America enjoys a lusher table, improvements are still to come. Right now food industry researchers are working on more than 100 new products.

Atom, Electric Care Due At Food Counter

Speaking before the breakfast session, Dr. Curtis told nutrition and exercise are the keys to a longer life.

Dieters should turn green with envy over the fact that football players stay at normal weight on as much as 7,000 calories a day, according to Dr. Curtis.

Last night's reception in the Drake Hotel took the form of an "African dinner." It was presented by the McIlhenny Co., whose tobacco sauce is an American favorite.

Bronxville Trims Panthers In Season's Grid Opener, 39-0

Tennis Stars In Exhibition At Lawrence

YONKERS—Sarah Lawrence College staged its eighth annual tennis exhibition Saturday.

Playing in the afternoon's exhibition were Davis Cup captain William Talbert and Irvin Dorfman, both of New York, Edward Moynan of Trenton, N. J., and Sidney Schwartz of Brooklyn.

The final match pitted Talbert and Moynan against Schwartz and Dorfman.

Schwartz and Dorfman won the doubles, 6-3, 7-4. A high spot was the first point of the second set.

After some spectacular all-round volleying, Schwartz slipped halfway underneath the net while rushing to retrieve a difficult overhead shot.

SIMPSON IDEL
KANSAS CITY, MO. (AP)—Heavy Sumpston, Kansas City outfielder, will pass up winter baseball this season in the hope of having a better season with the Athletics next year.

Lynch Encouraged Despite Shellacking

A 39-0 defeat is usually anything but encouraging, but coach Cy Lynch of Belton was just that after Saturday's 39-0 trouncing from Bronxville at the Daniel Warren Field.

The Panther mentor was pleased with the showing of his freshmen and sophomore-stuffed squad who surprised Bronxville for a quarter before falling under its heavier opponent.

It was the second straight win for the Broncos who blasted Hastings last week, 41-4, while the setback was the debut for the Panthers. Bronxville finished unbeaten last season. F. E. Deloys failed to win a game.

Halfback Tom Williamson, after the Buck had been permitted to their 41-yard line for an off-side infraction on the first play, then broke loose for 59 yards to paydirt. The tick was missed, but Bronxville led 10-0 with only one minute having elapsed in the game.

Substitute halfback Ed Moyle plunged over from the Panther line to clinch a 75-yard drive in the second half, the extra point was the come-any-day crowd began to wonder after Tom Decker finished some fancy high-angle kicking.

Lee Lyon returned the kick yard to the Belton's 45-yard line. Sated Tom bustled through the line and into the clear for 50 yards to the Belton's 10-yard line, where he was caught from behind. On a fourth and seven set in motion, Vin Cocchi (long left) from the end in the end zone with being missed. Pete Jagger, Bronxville's big fullback, raced around left end for 30 yards to end a 43-yard drive and raise the score to 19-0. The punt kicked split the upstarts.

Before the half ended, Moyle had cracked over from the two, his second TD of the half to end a 43-yard drive and provide the Broncos with a 25-0 halftime lead.

Bronxville followed a scoreless first period with two touchdowns and conversions in the final stanza. Moyle scoring his third TD on a 15-yard jaunt around end to culminate a 51-yard drive, and Jagger going over from one yard.

Outstanding in defeat for the Panthers were Dave Derby, Bert Decker and Sudd.

Belton is scheduled to continue competition against Alexander Hamilton at Columbus Saturday. The Hamiltonians, after suffering a jolting setback from Chappaqua last week, rebounded with a 10-0 win over historic Hudson Saturday.

YOU BE THE QUARTERBACK

By WARREN GAER
Head Football Coach, State University

You are the 130-pound quarterback. Scouting reports indicate Pennsylvania has a team of competent veterans with good offensive backs at the halfbacks and tackle.

The Penn left half, a power runner, is 5 feet 11 and weighs 207. The right half is 5-11, 170 pounds, fast with quite a bit of spryness. The Penn left tackle, 6-5, 245 pounds, plays a "wasting game," stopping anything that comes his way. The right tackle, 5-8, 200 pounds, charges like a reactor and is very strong.

You want to upset the opposition with the first play run against one of these sophomores. Princeton is a single wingback team (all backs to same side of center) and Penn is playing a 6-3-1 defense over-all. Its linemen shifted to meet strength, two linemen shifted other way too (halfbacks, safety). You run the kickoff to your own 30-yard line, the center of the field.

SCHOOLBOY ROUNDUP

Rye, Bronxville, New Rochelle Maintain Streaks; Pelham Wins

Empathic victories by Rye and Bronxville and few results even sporting on upsets marked the first full weekend of Westchester scholastic football for 1955.

Rye rolled to No. 28 without loss, thumping Baskingstoke in a 40-0 rout. Pelham, on the other hand, lost to No. 29 without loss, 14-0, in a game that was a 12-12 tie by St. Francis before 3:00 in New Rochelle, while St. Ignace triumphed, 14-0, over Corton. In two games yesterday, Iona Prep — beginning defense on its Catholic League crown — was held to a 12-12 tie by St. Francis before 3:00 in New Rochelle, while St. Ignace triumphed, 14-0, over Corton.

Fort Chester's Lou Pirilli started in a bruising battle which saw the Rams beat Arlington, 14-0. Paul Choquette went 11 yards to clinch a seven-play, 65-yard drive to put the Crusaders in front, and later galloped 94 yards to give the Crusaders a 14-0 lead over Hastings by an unexpected margin.

HAVING THE MOST POWER OF THEIR LIVES

By all odds, the young years should be the best. By all tragic statistics, they are the worst. The faces: young people—15 to 25—have, proportionally, more accidents, kill more people, are themselves killed and crippled more than any other age group up to 65. This is a national tragedy that the young men can do most to erase.

How? By matching growth-up activities with growth-up attitudes; by learning early to expand drivers' cowboys; by making known to 'cowboys' that show-off driving is resisted, not admired.

Level-headed young people—the vast majority—do not do this in many communities.

Show of Shoes

The greatest show on Westchester earth. That would be the revival of the Westchester County Club Horse Show last weekend, back on the Westchester sports scene after an absence of 16 years, and back in elaborate fashion.

The three-day equine extravaganza, which drew 1,600 entries and some 400 horses from 12 states and Canada, comprised the greatest outdoor show ever held in this country, brilliantly conducted, expertly directed, and topped only by the National at Madison Square Garden.

"We're proud of the show's reputation and the magnificent response and enthusiasm of all concerned. It was a thrilling success and certainly well worth our efforts." These were the proud words of Ben Duffy of Harrison, general show chairman. Late in the afternoon as the colorful classic came to a close under a perfect Autumn sky, and Mrs. Duffo had every right to rave. This was indeed one of the most sports spectacles ever staged in this country. Chairman Duffy, his hard-working committee, WCC members, judges, exhibitors, riders and all concerned should be proud in having had a hand in so brilliant a promotion.

WRONG AND PAINFUL

AVOID INJURY

Precaution at the ball rack will spare you the painful experience illustrated by the sketch. Hands aren't wedged between balls very often, but a moment's neglect, and you could be the victim.

Before picking your ball off the rack, be sure no ball is spearing along the return from the pin hit. And make it a habit to pick the ball up on its sides — the outside, eliminating any chance of wedging your hand.

One more thing in connection with going to the ball rack. Don't rush in front of the bowler on the opposite alley and force him to check his stride. He might not be able to stop. In that case, the swinging ball could inflict serious damage.

The rules of etiquette are concise, and simple, and I suggest you read them through and get a good bowler is judged by how well he conducts himself on the alley.

Win Saturday Could Prove 'Spark'

Scheduled to meet Alexander Hamilton at Elmford Saturday, the Farmers of T. Z. Bellows will be seeking to snap a losing losing streak which has accumulated over the last two seasons. The streak, incidentally, was started by Elmford, who dumped Bellows 28-6 after 20 years. They had opened the 1953 season by defeating Elmford 10-0. Since that shelving, Bellows has been unable to win. The Bronx spoiled the debut of Cy Linton's charge Saturday, 1-0. Bellows, who ever has a chance to win this Saturday, is a dubious that will be Elmford, the upset could prove the spark which could make team triumphant the remainder of the year.

"Improved Pitching Will Make '56 Better," Aston

Podres Is Brilliant In Great 2-0 Victory

By JOE REICHER
Associated Press Sports Staff
NEW YORK—This long cherished dream finally is reality, the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers loomed today as the team which will represent the National League in the 1956 World Series.

Walter Alton, first of six managers dating back to 1890 to lead the Brooklyn club to a world title, modestly predicted his team would be even stronger next year than the one which whipped the New York Yankees in the series four games to three.

"Improved pitching will make us stronger next year," the hall-of-fame pitcher said. "I am a factory ex-scholarship from Dartmouth. Ohio, and I had a quiet moment in the Dodgers' 2-0 victory celebration following their momentous 5-0 triumph in the seventh and final game of the series."

Johnny Podres who was a super in his two victories over the Yankees should develop into one of the game's great pitchers, Alton pointed out. "He has all the stuff to make a great one and he may come into his own next year. Those World Series victories should give him the necessary confidence."

There is no denying that the entire team figured prominently in the great Dodger victory of 1955, culminated by the pious-punching of Yankee Stadium yesterday that had the 62,648 rapturously enthralled at the finish. Even the 141 members of the American League die-hards could not begrudge Brooklyn's triumph over the Yankees when it happened.

Podres, who pitched the two-hour game, was brilliant. He pitched three innings and pitched the first Brooklyn pitcher to win two games in a World Series. They say the Dodger made maximum use of their five hits and married at the Dodger's brilliant defense that five times turned the Yankees back when it appeared they were about to break through.

Reason to Rejoice
As the finish when Peewee Reese, the storied shortstop, drove out Ernie Browder, the big park ricked with human emotion as the entire Dodger team raced out on the field to embrace an extraordinary scene never witnessed before, the huge crowd stood up and cheered the new champs, who were enthusiastically chanting on each other's shoulders while the proud Yankees were filing slowly into the loosing dressing room.

After four decades of trying, a Dodger team finally succeeded in winning a world title, and to sweeten the victory, they triumphed against their arch-rival, the Yankees, who had nullified them in five straight previous Fall meetings.

Numerous records were set in this full-fledged struggle but the one that Brooklyn players and fans remember most was their achievement in winning four of their last five games, including the first two. This kind of comeback had never happened in a seven-game World Series before. Another record was the joy to the victors was the total net receipts of $2,872,415, making it the richest World Series ever.

Byrne the Loser
To accomplish the tremendous comeback victory, the Yankees had to get superb pitching from Podres, their young pitcher, and they had to beat Tommy Byrne, the veteran southpaw who had given them the most trouble, along with Whitey Ford, another left-hander. The Dodger did exactly what they needed to do in the sixth inning with the help of an error and scored both runs off him to win the game.

Podres and Byrne duelled on even terms for three innings but in the fourth, Roy Campanella stepped to left and scored on a rebound single by Gil Hodges to put the Dodger ahead.

The insurance run came in the sixth. A costly error by Yankee first baseman Bill Skowron paved the way for the insurance tally.

Podres, who pitched the two-hour game, was brilliant. He pitched three innings and pitched the first Brooklyn pitcher to win two games in a World Series.

It faced the withdrawal of Byrne although it will be had given up only three hits.

Duke Snider sacrificed, but was safe at first when Skowron took Byrne's throw wide of the bag and dropped the ball as he made a futile try for the tie.

Campanella had moved the runners along with another sacrifice bunt. Yankee Manager Casey Stengel allowed Byrne to give Earl Paulk an intentional walk before tagging him out. Bob Grim took over on the mound and served a long sacrifice fly to Gil Hodges who struck down in both Dodger runs.

Thrills Three
Podres won his additional runs in the seventh and final game. He pitched three innings and pitched the first Brooklyn pitcher to win two games in a World Series. They say the Dodger made maximum use of their five hits and married at the Dodger's brilliant defense that five times turned the Yankees back when it appeared they were about to break through.

Phil Stengel Aren't Set To Hang Spikes
NEW YORK (AP)—Casey Stengel wants to keep on managing the New York Yankees in 1956, "unless they fire me," he said today.

Stengel hinted broadly he'll be back to try for another pennant when he talked with reporters after yesterday's final Series game.

Rizzuto, thirty-seven, was positive about his personal plans as he sat in front of his locker after playing a record-breaking 50th game. Nobody not even the great Joe DiMaggio, had played as many games as Stengel.

"I want to play next year," he said. "If they don't think I can help them, they can fire me. I'll be somewhere else."

Mohr About Fashion

By Berta Mohr

The Daily Times, Mamaroneck, N. Y.—Fri., Oct. 7, 1955 7

NEW LENGTH suburban sports coats cut across the city limits with perfect aplomb whether behind the wheel of a car or not. First left, the camel-hair, slightly longer than finger-length, is made of a blend of imported cashmere and wool in tones of camel, cashmere, mocha and chagray. A new lighted charcoal, spruce lining is sporty, and wool. Second, the Berry Tweedcoaster represents a new color dimension as in traditional Donegal tweed is a lighter color tone, in finger-length with side vents, coat lined with quilted acetate, as is third, the Bonnie Tweedcoaster, also finger and also in Donegal tweed but with an alternately deep and light wave that makes it rugged, soft and thoroughly travel worthy. Fourth, the Eldorado, a herringbone tweed coat in lighter shades of gray and brown, tall, wrap-up collar provides protection from the wind, huge pockets can tote home minor purchases, and coat is lined in a blend of nylon and wool. Far right, the genuine version the way De La Johnson of California does it, a shawl draped in café brown wool flannel topped by a short coat in giant houndstooth checked and tweed.

State Department Career Girl Describes Buenos Aires Stay

Langues a r r begun early in the Buenos Aires schools, says Miss von Spaeth, and therefore to speak several tongues. And all education is free through the university level.

American Technicolor and Cinemascope films are greatly appreciated by Argentines, observes Miss von Spaeth. The citizens are also very sports-minded, she says, and enjoy football, much like our soccer, tennis, polo, and a game called "patito," the latter is basketball played on horseback and is considered a dangerous sport. Television programs are not up to our present standards, and comparatively few sets are in use.

Sports Car Proves A Boon To Style Trends In Coats

NEW YORK—The sports car, credited with so many new fashions, is merely a symbol.

Relatively few Americans own or drive sports cars. But all Americans, or so it seems when you and I are trying to get anywhere on highways, by-ways, or city streets, drive cars. We have not only our own parking conditions to vouch for it, we have an all-time high automobile production and a record import of foreign make cars. And they're all going somewhere all at the same time.

Contract Bridge

The High-Card-Conscious Some players who demand "sound" (in this case meaning excessive) high-card values for their opening bids have two faults in one: the fault of paying too much attention to high cards and too little to distribution; and the fault of not considering the ace and king values they themselves would have in his place.

If this seems somewhat involved, it will be clarified by the following case:

North dealer. North-South vulnerable.

♠	J 10 7 6 2
♥	A 5	♣	Q 8 5 3
♦	10 4 3	♠	9 8 2
		♥	A 7 5
		♦	Q 2
			♣ K 10 8 6 4

The bidding: North East South West
1♠ Pass 3♠ Pass
2♥ Pass 4♠ Pass
4♠ Pass 6NT Pass

There was no chance worth mentioning for the slam contract, and the actual result was a spectacular defeat.

South, highly disgruntled, commented caustically about North's opening bid "in only two aces and one jack—like high-card points." South insisted that since he himself had bid two aces, three kings, and an excellent club suit, his own bidding had been beyond reproach.

Well, South was entitled to his opinion, but he would have trouble finding an expert who would agree with him. North's opening bid, based on a very fair distribution, was light of course, but it was a great deal sounder than South's bidding sequence. Certainly, North's which were not encouraging, so after South announced his substantial holding by making a jump takeout to three clubs, he could well afford to go slowly.

With any one card of value removed from his hand, South would not have been justified in his first response, hence it is obvious that with North making minimum bids at all times and "fencing" support, for clubs, South could have been dubious of relying up to even five clubs, let alone six tricks.

Beidleman Tallies 3 TDs; Bulldogs Score With 30 Seconds Left

Sparked by high-stepping Bill Beidleman who smashed through, over and around the Yonkers line for three touchdowns on Cotton's muddy ground Saturday, the Mamaroneck Tigers scored a 28-6 win over Yonkers.

It was the second triumph of the season for the Tigers, who opened with a 10-0 conquest of Ossining last week, and ninth in succession. The Mams finished undefeated in seven games last year.

Beidleman hit paydirt in the first, second and final stanzas with Ed Falciano, who tallied twice against Ossining producing a third-period score for the Mams. While the Tigers' backfield was rolling in high gear, it was the line which stole the show. Linebacker Art Metrolas, center, Moore, Don Albert, Larry Coleman, Ben Sande, Jerry Moore, Al Beede and Jim Pradol paved the way for the backs to bulldoze through the Yonkers defense, meanwhile, this stout mass also superb.

Yonkers' Spauls Shutout

With only 30 seconds remaining in the contest and Mamaroneck holding a 28-0 advantage, the Bulldogs coasted back with a touchdown. Quarterback Alex J. Morelli fired a 37-yard pass to Larry Litterfield, the play resulting in one of the few Tiger defensive mistakes.

The Mamaroneck defense kept the ball, but instead of knocking it down, he blocked it.

BHS Eleven Play Today Huskies Roll Up 4th, Loom As Bowl Threat

By ED CORRIGAN
Associate Press Sportswriter
The show is just starting, folks, but for most of the nation's college football teams it ended almost before it began.

Perhaps eight teams still were in the running for the mythical national championship today with the season only one-third completed. This is the earliest many could finish their season.

For the likes of Army and UCLA, disappointment came early in the Rose Bowl, of course, but it is eliminated from consideration for the national crown because of its defeat by Maryland two weeks ago.

The big boy on the Coast right now is Washington, which has won four games without a defeat, including a stunning 70 conquest over Southern California, the club link was supposed to give a battle for the title, last Saturday.

Huskies to Meet UCLA
Washington is a team that had a miserable 24 record last year and was completely overlooked in pre-season estimates of the PCC. But the Huskies still must meet UCLA on Nov. 12. That one could settle the Rose Bowl question.

As for Army, Red Cross had to few seconds earlier. The official is Gene Hodges, Frank Leonard (15) and Jack Wilson (44), both of whom were directly. Prep copied by his first start photo by Paul Byrne.

A one-touchdown squeaker for Rye, 27-6, his game and Mamaroneck's victory by 27-6. The game was a double score in getting both Rough Rider touchdowns, traveling the 27-yard line in 13-14 which bettered his 1954 time 29 seconds.

George Verdico of Stepien again held down runner-up position. Verdico improved his 34 clocking by five seconds, bringing the tape to 12:11.

Sacred Heart, which trailed 10 points, was paced by Johnny Meier who came in third in 13:28.

A pair of Rye's Holy Grails, Billy Wisard and Clarence Berry, nailed down fourth and fifth slots, respectively, in times of 13:20 and 13:35.

Stepien's B squad finished with point total of 21. Steep Hollow was fourth with 91 tallied by Mamaroneck, 113, Rye 131, Stepien C, 175 and Arlington, 181.

In freshmen competition, Stepien again headed the field, taking first place honors with team total of 28 tallies. Sacred Heart, followed by Steep Hollow, 31.

Bill Treco of Sacred Heart led the pack, leading Steep Hollow's Jim McCartney by three seconds.

The minor high school three-quarter mile event went to Steep Hollow with 31 points as the Legends' Charlie Hayes won in 4:58. Sacred Heart was second with 40 markers and Arlington, third, with 31.

Stepien Triumphs
Stepien High opened its season for football and celebrated with a 19-0 verdict over its home Fairfield Prep eleven from Connecticut. Paul Chevalier carried the brunt of a powerful running attack and made two touchdowns.

Stepien halted an early Fairfield bid on the fire.

The wind took its toll of equipment and sails and forced 11 of the 24 starters out of the race. Blossom blew out a stay and had her 100 tons of sheets, Non-Stopper, Feral, blue and jenny and Al Boarman put her into Bridgeport Harbor. J. A. Kelly's yawl, another which withdrew, broke a spreader.

George Comanitar's 42-foot yawl, Baccarat was second to finish, three quarters of an hour after Blossom, but failed to catch up on corrected time by 7:18.

Tom Watson Jr. of Scotch Cape, of Indian Harbor, fourth to finish, was placed third after adjustments in 7:24. Falken moved past Jakob Iversen's Tervy which, as Lovell Sun, led won the 1954 race, staged by her former New Rochelle Y.C.

Quarterback Answers
1. Out-and-down pass. Worst call. Not a good chance of completing it. Stay on the ground.
2. Hook pass. If you get into the air, there's a better chance of a TD.
3. Off tackle. You need a bigger gain than this can be counted on to produce.
4. Pitchout best call. You've done well on the ground. Stay there. You've got to get a TD. You've done well on the ground. Stay there. You've got to get a TD.
