The story of the new approach by the company to dealer training in the future appears in the August issue of The Gasoline Retailer. A three-column illustration appears on page one and the story with two smaller pictures on an inside page.

The story states that the unusual feature of this operation is that while other suppliers operate their own training stations in company operations, Sinclair's "merchandising laboratories," which the company hopes to have set up all over the country, will be operated by independent dealers.

B. Dukes and his son have decided to work with company sales representatives in achieving a high level of retail merchandising efficiency. Every phase of the service operation, from pump maintenance to the rest rooms, has been carefully planned with the view of creating a clean, attractive, batteries and accessories.

Trend Anxiously Watched County Polio In Critical Month

By MILTON HOFFMANN
There was still an acute shortage of nurses at the hospital in the polio emergency.
Dr. Harkness said there was little change in the age groups admitted this year as in past years. Last year up to 10 years of age there were 30 children and 17 adults. This year, there have been 26 children and 22 adults.
Some county patients are being treated in New York hospitals. Cases in the first part of September usually forked out what kind of polio year this is. For instance, in 1950 there were 77 cases up to the first of September and 100 in September. In 1952, there were also 77 cases on the date and the county went on to have only 133 cases in September.

HONGKONG (AP)—British police have issued a murder charge against a Chinese coolie in connection with the crash of an Air India plane last night that killed eight British Red Cross officials on their death list.
Seven persons perished when the Air India liner plunged into the South China Sea April 10. Dr. Edwin L. Marston, director of the British Red Cross, yesterday said that cases at the hospital have been generally less serious than those that occurred in the crash. He said that 47 cases have been reported in Hong Kong since the crash and subsequently a decline in hospital cases.

Court Upholds Conviction On 'Radar' Speed

WHITELAND—The County Court has affirmed the conviction of Edmund J. Sarver of 37 Willard Avenue, Mount Vernon, of speeding while driving a truck at 36 mph in a 30 mph zone.
Sarver was convicted in New Rochelle and fined $10. His was the first speed in Westchester to a radar conviction.
Judge Francis said that radar apparatus in one of 20 police cars in the county is used to check the speed of a vehicle and that a policeman in the second car a quarter of a mile ahead made the radar after receiving radio call from the first car. The radar equipment, said the judge, is operated by a trained radar technician.
The three policemen in the two cars also estimated the driver as speeding, the judge said.
The judge said, as to the accuracy of the radar and its general scientific recognition.

Question Of The Week What To Do In Bank Holdup? Most Persons Say 'Nothing'

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the 467th in a Saturday series of short interviews with Mamaronck and Larchmont residents on issues of the day—local and national. This week's question: "WHAT WOULD YOU DO IF YOU WERE IN A BANK WHILE IT WAS BEING HELD UP?"
—MAMARONECK
Mrs. Janice Anteppe, 635 Quoin Drive—"I would certainly obey the hold-up men and, if I could, I'd try to get out of there as soon as I could."
Leon A. Bodroff, 1306 Rose Avenue—"I'd do exactly what they tell me to do. I don't think I'd ever get into a bank hold-up."
Mrs. Stanley Harris, 915 Stone Post Road—"I don't think there is very much I could do. I would stand there and do nothing."
Mrs. Alfred A. Marsella, 110 Pelham—"I'd just stand still and wouldn't do a thing."
Mrs. John J. Reiter, 313 Wagner Avenue—"I'd do exactly what they tell me to do. I don't think I'd ever get into a bank hold-up."
Mrs. Marie W. Miller, 212 Lester Avenue—"If they had a gun, I'd try to get out of there as soon as I could. If not, I'd do nothing."
Mrs. C. B. Wines, 210 Beach Avenue—"I'd give up. I'd do exactly what they tell me to do. I don't think I'd ever get into a bank hold-up."

Evils of Home Shortage Zooming Costs Of Foster Care Often Would Buy Family A House

Editor's Note: This is the last of six articles on hard-core housing in Westchester County.
N. EVERETT MACY
There are some instances where the amount of money spent in foster care while parents are fruitlessly searching for housing would have met the purchase price of a low-cost house.
This statement, made by Mrs. Betty C. Van der Vliet, director of the Department of Family Home Welfare, points up what is perhaps the best recognized factor in the whole housing situation—the neediest cost to the taxpayer.
In the first place, parents who cannot find a house for their children are often forced to live in a rooming arrangement, usually with limited or no cooking or laundry privileges.
In illustration of this, she said that in 1954 of 1,000 families who were sent to foster care, 414,300 were sent to foster care because of the lack of housing.

Geneva Goal, Says McKay

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., (AP)—Interior Secretary McKay said today he thinks Eisenhower achieved his prime objective at the Geneva summit meeting—"to inject a new spirit" into international negotiations.
In a talk prepared for the convention of the Virginia American Legion, Mr. McKay said of Mr. Eisenhower's role in the recent Big Four talks:
"He went to Geneva with the full realization that in the brief space of a week it would be impossible to solve all the world's problems."
"His was one primary purpose: to inject a new spirit into the summit discussion. In this, I believe he was most successful. The Geneva conference paved the way for the important developments which we hope will follow."

Sports ONCE OVER WEEKLY

by GUIDO CRIBARI

Disastrous Choice

When the Giants beat Brooklyn in the 1955 pennant playoff on Bobby Thomson's never-to-be-forgotten home run off Ralph Branca, few people realized very few knew that a slip of the pen had as much to do with the outcome as Thomson's shot heard round the world. Just before the playoffs, a meeting at which the league executives' office where a slip of the pen determined the playoff program, Jack Collins, then ticket agent for the Dodgers, won the toss, and without bothering to check with Max Charles Brown, one of the most ridiculous chokers in sports history, Collins ordered that the playoffs be held at the Polo Grounds, the site of the team's home games. The result, as to be expected, was a decisive loss in the first game of the best two-of-three playoff for the Larchmont (SoHo) League champion.

Connelly No-Hitter In 9-0 Tie Boiling Race In A.L. Spins To Big Stretch

By ED WILKS Associated Press Sports Editor

Wary but confident, that's the way four boys named Lopez, Stengel, Martin and Higgins called their shots as the front-line American League slugger spun in the stretch run today.

Manager Al Lopez, who's Cleveland Indians open their first season against Boston at the MIS Field, Oct. 1.

Since Dr. Machan was not on hand to conduct physical examinations, Coach Harrison would not allow his charges to go through any physical drills. The Tiger mentor stressed what he expected from the candidates: discussing conditioning, formations and various offenses as a defense that Mamaroneck would use during the coming campaign.

Backfield Talent Needed

A quick glance at the names of the 65 candidates revealed that Mamaroneck would be extremely strong in the backfield. Al Selzer and Tom Clark through graduation.

They may not win many ball games this season, but if early indications mean anything, Cy Lynch's seniors grooved well.

Only Bill Beldelman, who did so, came into his own until the last game of last year, promising to solidly fill one of the four backfield slots. The other players were wide open, with Coach Harrison's major problem being to choose adequate replacements.

Approximately 40 boys have been working out under Lynch since the start of the season. Present plans are to keep the squad intact for the future.

NORWICH LEAGUE ALLOWS TWO HITS DURING 7 CANTOS

Seven innings of hectic softball were registered last night at Fifth Park as Joe Connelly and Norm McGleendon, propped up two best pitchers in Westchester, clashed.

The result, as to be expected, was a decisive loss in the first game of the best two-of-three playoff for the Larchmont (SoHo) League champion.

Connelly pitched the 6th 1/2 in a pitched no-hit ball, allowing only Babe Carino, who was in the lead of the home team, to get a base safety. The Times' fan favorite, the home team, registered another sensational performance.

McGleendon, meanwhile, was almost as brilliant. Norm gave up two hits in the first and fifth, but he walked, hit first and fifth, but he walked, hit first and fifth, but he walked, hit first and fifth.

Pratt, Dillman, These coaches opened the game with a base knock, moving to second on a walk. Paul Ahe was hit with a perfect strike, but McGleendon fanned Dan Ritano and Pat D'Onofrio to work his way out of the inning.

After Joe Connelly flied out, Mike Nelsola crashed a double to first, but McGleendon was in the lead of the home team, registered another sensational performance.

The best the Franellos could do against Connelly was get Carino on via a walk to open the last of the sixth. Tom Kearney flied out to end the inning.

Donato whiffing as Kearney stole second, Tom Carino ended the night when being thrown out as attempted by the Franellos.

Community Calendar

The new community calendar covering meetings and events in Mamaroneck and Larchmont for the year ending next Aug. 31 has been completed and is now on file at The Daily Times office.

The calendar is a project of the Mamaroneck-Larchmont Parents Teacher Council and has been compiled by a committee headed by Mrs. E. Edwin Kadlin of 11 Route Lane, Larchmont, who, for the third year, in charge of editing and organizing the material.

Representatives of organizations throughout the area are invited to submit their calendar items for future events, but requests that calls for calendar information be made during afternoon and evening meeting hours.

Enrollment Up

First day enrollments at school closed yesterday and totals for 30 months in comparison with 1954 figures, it was revealed this morning.

The total yesterday was 1,200 pupils as compared with 1,120 last year.

Both the Barry Avenue School and Bellows High School showed increases as Barry Avenue had 154 pupils in comparison to the 154 first day total of 342 and 91 reported at Bellows High School with 473 last year.

Daniel Warren School showed a slight decrease with reporting as against 418. The final registration at Daniel Warren will be higher after all students register.

Pupil Registry

Pupil registry in the Mamaroneck School District will be held from 1 to 4 o'clock, it was announced this morning by T. James Allen, superintendent. Registration was also held in City.

All schools will be open during the three afternoon hours tomorrow to enroll pupils.

Tomorrow morning a general staff meeting will be held including teachers, principals and officials.

School will open Monday morning.

Maneuvers Named

Mr. James Mansueti of the Town of Mamaroneck Police Department was selected by the Town Police Commission to attend the Traffic Institute at Northwestern University from Nov. 28 to Dec. 3, Chief Paul Vercia announced today.

He will attend on a $353 scholarship donated by the American Automobile Association. Only four scholarships were given in Westchester County, Chief Vercia said.

The grant covers $100 for tuition, $15 for room and board and $100 for transportation.

Requirements include three or more years of police work, a good knowledge of traffic direction, accident investigation, records and reports.

TURKEY ASSURES NATO OF MOVES

Greece Reported Out Of Joint

PARIS (AP)—Turkey assured the North Atlantic Treaty Organization today that all possible measures are being taken to prevent recurrence of anti-Greek rioting.

This came as reports from Athens said Greece was conducting negotiations in NATO headquarters as a result of anti-Greek violence which erupted in the Turkish cities of Istanbul and Izmir Tuesday night.

With relations between the two NATO nations at their lowest point in years because of differences over Cyprus, NATO Secretary General Lord Ismay announced the NATO Council's special session to discuss the Greek situation arising out of the riots.

Delegates representing 15 nations in the Western European Organization met for almost 10 hours behind closed doors.

No communication was issued, but persons who attended said Mehmet Ali Tiryaki, Turkey's permanent representative on the council, informed fellow members his country was taking all measures to prevent any new violence.

George Kallistris, the prime NATO Greek representative to NATO, reported on the latest report by Greece's Prime Minister, as well as Greek officers at Istanbul headquarters of NATO's south-east command.

Hicks Greet 15 New Rye Neck Teachers

Fifteen new teachers were greeted yesterday by Dr. Alvin Hicks, superintendent of the Rye Neck School System, at a general teaching session in the Bellows High School auditorium. He also called attention to one transfer in assignments.

In his talk before the group, Dr. Hicks said his hope was to give a continuing and excellent service which the staff has consistently given the district. He told the new teachers what the school expected of them, what they should expect from the school, and what the district expected from the new staff.

He stated that the School Board expected all of the new teachers to attend the Staff Conference, make a number of announcements, and to be available to the public. He also mentioned that he would be available to the public to answer questions and to help them get settled in their new positions.

Board Gets Building Plans $50,000 Earmarked For Town Hall Site

The Mamaroneck Town Council last night set aside $50,000 to acquire land on which will be erected a new Town of Mamaroneck police station and general town offices.

The money is to come out of the Town surplus, estimated by Supervisor Owen A. Mandeville at $150,000.

The plans were presented by the architectural firm of Rogers and Higgins of Larchmont, which also presented plans for a proposed town swimming pool, $250,000 structure.

The building would cost $250,000, plus hardware, gas, electric, furniture, according to David Rice, town engineer.

It would be located, according to the plans which are subject to change, at the southeast corner of Palmer Avenue and Weaver Street.

The structure would include full facilities for all town clerical and assessing offices, extra storage and minor offices, police station, a judge's chamber, and a town women's hall, and be cause of its location.

ARCHITECTS SEE RYE NECK COSTS NEAR $2 MILLION

New School-Expansion Figures Recommended To Citizens Panel

The Rye Neck School System building and remodeling program will cost the district from $2,000,000 to $4,000,000 more than the $1,600,000 and $1,800,000 cost advanced last spring by the Rye Neck Citizens Committee after extensive study, according to architect's figures released last night.

Equipment, 1954 estimate $48,000; land acquisition $1,000,000; construction $1,500,000; $1,600,000 and $1,800,000 are not included in the figures, presented at a special public meeting of the Rye Neck School Board last night.

These cold cash figures revealed during an hour-and-a-half discussion brought murmurs of disapproval from the largest group of attendees of the public hearing, which began in March with the Citizens Committee, and ran through six before the School Board ending last night.

The Citizens Committee will be asked to question whether anything would be gained by recommending the extension.

Injunction Sought To Halt Crippling Dock Walkout

Commission Acts To Halt Port Strike

NEW YORK, (AP) — The New York-New Jersey Waterfront Commission moved today for an injunction to halt a longshoremen's walkout that has crippled the Port of New York.

This is the agency set up by the legislature of the two states two years ago to clean house on New York Harbor piers, long the scene of strife and racketeering.

The walkout is aimed at the commission and union policies, and not at workers.

The commission's action came as the dockers today are estimated to be losing an estimated $1 million a day in New York, and to be making an estimated $1 million in Philadelphia and Boston.

It was the second court action intended to get the men back to work. They walked out yesterday.

Hasn't Order, Says Bradley

The New York Shipping Association, employer group, sought a restraining order in State Supreme Court yesterday.

William V. Bradley, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, today said that he had not yet received a copy of the restraining order—and the walkout went on.

Mr. Bradley told a cheering group of dockers today he would not recommend a resumption of work until Governor Averell Harriman of New York and Robert Wagner of New Jersey met with him in Trenton, Mr. Meyer recalled.

The chief executive of New Jersey doesn't know under what conditions to grant a resumption of work, especially when it is in controversy of a statute which was passed almost unanimously by both houses of the legislature.

Vote Follows Stormy Session

Guadagnolo Loses Plea For Downzoning

Members of the Larchmont Hills Association were preliminary successful last night in forcing a vote on the Town of Mamaroneck Council to vote on a plan to downzone the area of Frank Guadagnolo's storm water tank at Madison Avenue property. The Council voted 4-3 to reject the application.

It was only after a stormy session that the Council voted to refer the matter to the Planning Board for recommendation to the Citizens Committee.

Mr. Guadagnolo's argument was that zoning would be accomplished by voting on the application since the applicant could promptly later with the Planning Board.

However, toward the end of the long and windy session during which frequent third and fourth readings were made, Mr. Guadagnolo's argument was that zoning would be accomplished by voting on the application since the applicant could promptly later with the Planning Board.

COUNCIL TABLES ZONING CHANGES

Wanshel Opposes Town Planners' Suggestions

Opposition to four town planning Board recommendations for changes in the present zoning laws was presented last night by Jerome Wanshel, attorney in the Town Council at the Waverly Street firehouse. Mr. Wanshel said he represented six detached lots.

The Council tabled action on recommendations by the Planning Board until the next Council meeting, Sept. 28.

Mr. Wanshel asked that the law calling for corner lots of 15,000 square feet be amended to require that the lots be 10,000 square feet. He also asked deletion of the recommendation that five per cent of any subdivision be set aside for play areas.

Lopez Held For Grand Jury Action

Angelo Lopez of 703 Mamaroneck Avenue, Mamaroneck, who confessed to checkering a $10,000 diamond necklace, was held for grand jury action yesterday when he appeared before Justice Henry T. Horowitz in Mamaroneck Police Court and was arrested had for return of the Grand Jury.

Mr. Prall charged that Lopez entered a room at same address Aug. 7 and stole a pair of trousers from Frank Melton, police said. Mr. Melton told police that there was $3 in the change in a pocket of the trousers. Lopez returned the trousers next day when Mr. Melton was out. He told police there was no money in the pockets.

Lopez is on parole from Gray Meadow Correctional Institution on Long Island, Mamaroneck, he reported, with a year and a half sentence remaining. The officer has filed a warrant at the County Court where Lopez was arrested to insure that he will be in the County Jail until he is paid over to him, police said.

Gardening Hints

Weeding Now Will Lessen Effects Of Storms On Lawn

By WALTER ANDRUSO
And DONALD B. LACEY
County Agricultural Agents

Extreme weather causes considerable hardship and suffering. This fact was proved over the past few weeks. But variations in weather, even much less extreme than hurricanes or tropical rainfalls affect our entire economy, our comfort and food supply.

Weather affects us all in many ways; the weather this year has not been conducive to good gardening. The extreme high heat, drought in some areas, high winds and excessive rainfall have been combined to make gardeners and gardeners record a poor showing this year.

The excessive heat combined with sparse rainfall in some areas resulted in parched lawns. Large areas of lawns failed leaving dead areas which were soon occupied by crabgrass and other weeds. The hot, dry weather also encouraged chinch bug which further contributed to dead areas.

Lawns have recovered since the return of cool weather and the recent rains but too many lawns are so filled with crabgrass that desirable lawn grass cannot compete.

Flowers have also been affected, especially flowers exposed to high winds and in flooded areas. Some flowers died from rot, not induced by flooded conditions and lack of air in the soil. Flowers suffering from root rot will wilt; upon examination they will show soggy, soft, browned roots with stem rot at ground level.

Tomatoes have shown the effects of adverse weather conditions more so than most garden vegetables. Tomatoes affected from the high heat with many fruits showing sun blight and stem rot. They are now slowed down growth so that the skin lost its elasticity and now when the fruits are growing rapidly there is a large amount of cracking and splitting.

Weather conditions are now ideal for late tomato blight so that this disease should become a problem if cool, humid, foggy night continues. Late tomato blight can be controlled by applications of copper fungicides at 10-day intervals or of the new fungicides at weekly intervals.

To make the tomato picture even less favorable there are late prospects for a good crop of late tomatoes. Normally at this time there should be some blossoms which in a long season would produce ripened fruit in about six weeks. There should also be an abundance of small green fruits which would ripen in the next few weeks. Because of above 90 degree heat tomato pollen did not pollinate blossoms so that instead of forming fruit most blossoms dried up and fell.

Deep Planting Often Fatal For Shrubs

By FLORA GARDEN

In planting broadleaf evergreens and dwarfed, be sure not to put them into the ground below the groundline at which the shrub has grown. Too deep planting, rather than too shallow, often is the cause of death for these young trees, or shrubs. Death from too deep planting may not occur for two or three years.

Tree roots take up a lot of moisture as long as they have leaves. Newly planted grass and grass near trees can take a lot of watering in the Fall if the ground surface becomes dried out. Not that that seems likely now, but one can never tell.

For lawns like a putting green sown bentgrass.

Fill in weed spots after weeds are cleared away, with new lawn grass. Matted this Fall it will choke out weeds next Spring.

In matted patches of the lawn make necessary to remove all matted grass. Give the resulting thin grass some fertilizer and mow it repeatedly this Fall and a good new stand of grass will result.

If you have perennial aegerium in bloom now, set markers in the ground by clumps you want to kill out. Perennial aegerium does not appear above the soil surface until the tulips are in bloom and early Spring season is often destroyed by early Spring weeding unless the gardener is reminded where this Fall nearby is located.

The bidding:
East South West North

Pass Pass Pass

Since South announced the equivalent of an opening bid by cue-bidding the heart suit at such a high level, he should have been quite content to bid only five spades over his partner's forced response of five diamonds.

South's actual six-spade bid was excessively optimistic. North certainly could not be blamed for assuming that South had at least one suit more than he had and, with such splendid support for spades, going on to the grand slam.

The opposing bidding made West feel that a heart lead would be a waste of time, so he tried the desperate opening of the diamond jack. This was indeed desperate since East, if void of diamonds, would have doubled seven spades to call for that. East, South won with the queen, drew trumps, and discarded two clubs on dummy's high diamonds. He saw that the diamond suit could not be established for an extra discard, so he then ran off the rest of his trumps, hoping for a miracle.

West discarded the three and five of hearts as soon as he could, but this did not help East as it should have. When South led the last trump, East, holding the king-queen of hearts and the king-queen of clubs had to decide which suit to unguard—and he guessed wrong. Thereupon, South cashed in the ace and nine of hearts.

East should have realized that his partner was trying to help him. West would not have discarded two hearts and kept one—he would have let go the third heart if he had had it, to give the count on that suit. This, East should have known what to hold.

Ike, Radford Talk Security

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower arranged to discuss national security problems today with his top military adviser, Adm. Arthur W. Radford.

Adm. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, arrived here by plane from Washington last night with a report for the President on a National Security Council meeting held at the White House earlier in the day.

That meeting, Adm. Radford's conference with Mr. Eisenhower today, and Mr. Nixon's Denver meeting with the President last Monday all deal with the same security matters.

3 Die, 30 Hurt In Air Crash

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—A four-engine transport, in trouble after takeoff, tried to limp back to Lockheed Air Terminal yesterday but crashed short of the runway, killing at least three persons and injuring about 30.

The big DC-4 cut a power line, mangled a fence, struck a parked Air Force C-54, killing a civilian who was working on a wing—and smashed into a hangar.

The starboard engine exploded and burned but the flames were quickly extinguished. Passengers scrambled out and fled, fearing a fire. The nose of the DC-4 was broken off.

The nonscheduled airliner, operated Oakland, Calif.

SHOSHONE PROVIDED SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A couple of youngsters approached actor Van Johnson beside a hotel swimming pool and asked for autographs. No one had a pencil. Then a brunette woman dived nearby reached into her bag and came up with one.

"Thanks, lady," said one of the youngsters—to Rosalind Russell.

Mam, Panther Grid Potential????

Bulk of MHS's Material Lost In Graduation

With graduation losses having taken the bulk of Mamaroneck's undefeated grid team, Coach Harry Harrison is confronted with a difficult problem as he attempts to mold his Tigers into a team for their Oct. 1 opening season.

Mamaroneck opened workouts Wednesday after Tuesday's lengthy skull session, with emphasis placed on conditioning and fundamentals. The turnout of approximately 45 candidates was encouraging for the future, but the majority of these youngsters do not have to help MHS this season.

Coach Harrison has already weeded out the potentially top material, which he claims have started serious work with line duties. Initial indications cause Harrison to believe he will use again have to depend predominantly upon 13 or 14 players to carry the Mam through the difficult part of the campaign.

As usual, the Tiger spirit is proving instrumental in creating enthusiasm and confidence. It will be especially "Go-Go" for those 13 or 14 candidates, however, who will see again have to depend predominantly upon 13 or 14 players to carry the Mam through the difficult part of the campaign.

Coach Harrison rates this squad as the "greatest" he has ever coached. "There is tremendous work to be done before Oct. 1," stated the Tiger.

The Mams were scheduled to continue workouts at the MHS Field this morning, continuing conditioning work at fundamentals, blocking, play, punting and passing.

Since school opens for Mamaroneck at 8:30 A. M. daily until the season opens.

Wodehouse, Nazi Aid, Asks U. S. Citizenship

RIVERHEAD, (AP) — P. C. Wodehouse, seventy-three, year-old English novelist, has filed a naturalization petition.

Wodehouse, who has lived in the United States for seven years, made several broadcasts for the Germans in 1941 from Berlin, and was given a limited amount of freedom.

Anthony Zola, a British Foreign Secretary, said Wodehouse had lent his services to the German propaganda machine, and Wodehouse on this release admitted the broadcasts had been a "terrible mistake."

The British government, looking for no action against him.

Bellows Team Young, Small, But Inspired

The Tigers and Panthers both open at home, Mamaroneck's straight offense on the road will be the Yonkers, Palmyra, Gortons and Bellows meeting Bronville on the David Warren Field at the same time.

First letters from last year's Panther squad which failed to win a game are back. Whether these vets can even find their way to the field is dubious at the moment. Lynch and Bob Poley, his assistant, are starting from the bottom, trying to build a system which will produce winners in the future. They are concentrating on youth, hustle and determination to play and win.

Yonkers Dies In Tokyo Field

TOKYO (AP) — A U. S. Submarine crashed in a paddy field seven miles northwest of Komaki Airbase near Nagoya today. The pilot was killed.

The Far East Air Force said the pilot was killed in a landing attempt as the plane failed but this chute did not open. His name was withheld.

"NOT A SEASONAL AFFAIR"

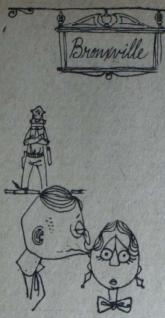

The Daily Times:
Your editorial "Now Please Move Careful" in your issue of September 7th was a good one as far as it went. I should like to see you have published something similar at this time of year for the past 20 or 30 years. I should like to point out here, ever, that the subject of safety on our local streets is not a seasonal affair. If you were to spend a Saturday or Sunday at any time during the year observing the traffic passing in front of our house on The Parkway, you would be stunned at the criminal stupidity of many of the drivers who pass through our purely residential neighborhood. A local street whose only excuse for being to serve the houses along it is no place for driving at speeds in excess of 30 or 40 miles an hour, particularly when the street is divided by an expansion of side, which serves to a great extent as a children's play area, which means that they are constantly crossing the street. Yet such speeds are commonplace through our neighborhood. Many times my neighbors and myself have taken it upon ourselves to shout at drivers to slow down when they were obviously fully-grown so-called adults acting in a manner which would be answer to such a shout. Not long ago our daughter's Dachshund puppy was killed in front of our home by a driver who must have been speeding. I also think that a concerted effort to point out to various outside groups who use our streets, such as the divers of delivery trucks and club members, that these areas and other such areas of our town and village are residential, not commercial areas, almost always filled with children at play and that common courtesy alone would dictate more than ordinary caution. It might also be pointed out to such that courtesy in some of the evidences of maturity, and the lack of it one of the strongest indications of immaturity.

Church Guild Holds First Fall Meeting

About 35 new members of the church of Sts. John and Paul's Women's Guild were welcomed and introduced yesterday by Mrs. Theodore Huntington, membership chairman, who presented them courses at the first meeting and reception of the season, held in the church auditorium.

Mrs. James S. Kirby, president, conducted the business meeting preceding the reception, presided at the table.

Mrs. Edgar Cambere, school mothers' group gull chairwoman, announced the formation of a committee to act as class mothers.

Mrs. Anthony Postero reported on their first meeting and it was recommended by Mrs. James Kennedy that members participate in the junior music council which will stage concerts for children this year at Mamaroneck Junior High School.

Plans for the sixth annual desert, card party and fashion show were announced, the event to take place Tuesday, Oct. 4, at 7 P. M. in the church auditorium.

Pen League Hears Florida Artist Speak

Mrs. Mae Clinefitt of St. Petersburg, Fla., well known oil and water color artist who has exhibited her paintings throughout the United States, was guest speaker yesterday afternoon at the opening meeting of the Westchester branch of the National League of American Pen Women held at the home of her niece, Mrs. Wendell Clinefitt of 20 Iselin Terrace, Larchmont.

The speaker discussed the early difficulties in her career in understanding contemporary art. While studying with the artist Romano, she traced the learned contribution of "brilliant color, simple line and abstract shapes."

Another of her teachers, Robert Soreau, she continued, taught the "analysis of paintings for their design principles." Surprisingly enough, good moderns, like old masters, follow the same basic rules.

Mrs. Clinefitt is a member of the National Association of Women Artists, is art chairman of the St. Petersburg branch of the National League of American Pen Women and a member of other art clubs in Florida, including the Florida Artists Professional League.

Film Council Opens With 22 Present

Another year of activities was outlined for the Larchmont Mamaroneck Motion Picture Council yesterday by Mrs. David Pagan, program chairman, at the opening meeting of the season at the Mamaroneck Avenue School.

Mrs. John D. Brewer, president, conducted the meeting and introduced new officers to the 22 attending members.

Mrs. C. W. Robertson, Mamaroneck chairman of Early-Bird Matinees, announced the next performance in Larchmont, Oct. 1 and in Mamaroneck Oct. 8.

Mrs. Alvah Sweating was appointed chairman of a committee to study local ordinances and state laws pertaining to the admission of unaccompanied young people under sixteen years of age to motion picture shows.

The study is to be conducted at the request of the Bronxville Motion Picture Council in cooperation with local theater managers.

Following the business meeting three past presidents of the Council, Mrs. Clyde L. Seitz, Mrs. Norman D. Waters and Mrs. Julian S. Gagner, outlined the structure, origin and purpose of the Motion Picture Council. It started as an outgrowth of the Parent-Teacher Association's visual aid program and has now grown to a full community organization working closely with the local theater managers.

One of the first projects were the Early Bird matinees and live plays to supplement the movies. Previewing continues as one of the main functions of the Council.

The next meeting of the Council will be held Oct. 6 at 9:30 P. M. at the Mamaroneck Avenue School. The program will feature a discussion on how to preview a motion picture by Mrs. Leonard Lewis and Mrs. Norman D. Waters, both active in previewing motion pictures for many years.

Judging Club Opens Season In Levy Home

The Westchester Horticulture Judging Club opened its season yesterday at an all-day session at the home of Mrs. A. Levy, 65 New Rochelle, featuring talks and displays by the hosts and by Mrs. Austin Phillips of Larchmont.

Mrs. Levy exhibited a dahlia collection and stressed the importance of size and color in judging dahlias. Mrs. Phillips, speaking after luncheon, displayed about 80 herbs which she grew during the summer and described their culture and propagation.

New members elected during the morning business meeting conducted by Mrs. Hato S. Sharp, president, were Mrs. Raymond Carter of Poundridge, Mrs. Howard H. Shreffels of Larchmont and Mrs. Fredrick McElhan of Fisham.

Mrs. Esther Case Williams, executive secretary of the Stamford County Skidmore Club, will speak.

Mrs. Charles Bilek of 761 East Boston Post Road, Mamaroneck, is among 20 freshmen who will be participating in a week of orientation and evaluation before the start of the college term Monday.

FLORIDA VACATION
Michael Godel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Godel of 560 The Parkway, Mamaroneck, who had spent the summer as a camp counselor at Androsburg in Wayne, Me., has returned from a two and a half week vacation in Florida. On Art Museum Faculty

Herman Roth of the Larchmont Club Apartments Larchmont, has been appointed to the teaching staff of the Museum of Modern Art, New York City. One of America's 33 recognized contemporary silvermiths, Mr. Roth will instruct a class in the engraving and making of modern jewelry.

Mr. Roth is president of the New Rochelle Art Association. His pieces appear in American Jewelry and Related Objects exhibition being circulated in museums throughout the United States by the Smithsonian Institution of Washington, D. C.

Bible Week Leader

George J. Schaefer of Oak Bluff Avenue, Larchmont, will act as honorary chairman of the Motion Picture Industry for the forthcoming 15th Annual National Bible Week observance Oct. 19 to 23 on behalf of all faiths. The announcement was made by William J. Grede, national chairman.

Mr. Schaefer is president of selected Pictures Corp. and distributor of "Day of Triumph," a film based on the New Testament. National Bible Week is planned as an idea to encourage daily reading and study of the Bible and to encourage frequent attendance at church services and Sunday school.

The campaign theme this year is "The Bible is the source of our Republic rests," taken from the message of Andrew Jackson.

Mr. Schaefer has been a Larchmont resident for 23 years, moving from New Rochelle. He is a member of St. John's Episcopal Church and a Knight of Malta. He was recently elected president of the United Service Organization. He is a member of Wyness Post 607 of the G. A. R. He is married to the former Miss Agnes Toney of Brooklyn. They have two children, George J., Jr., associated in business with his father, and John J. Cahill of Cleveland, Ohio, and six grandchildren.

To Attend Air Academy

John Alfano of 107 Villa Avenue, Mamaroneck, and his wife, Mrs. Alfano, are among 24 Westchester County students attending this fall at the Academy of Aeronautics at Le Centre, Fort Rucker, Fla. They are among the largest number to start from the county during the school's 25th year history.

More Metropolitan area residents than ever before, the school announced, are attending classes in aircraft, design and aircraft maintenance. This is the result of the growing interest in flying, the school officials said.

School Staff Handbook

A new staff handbook, the first of its kind published for the entire school system, has been prepared by the administrative staff distributed to the entire teaching staff of the Mamaroneck system.

The 31-page book deals with school policies and includes a list of personnel. It is foreworded by Dr. T. James Albert, superintendent of schools. It describes the organization of the system, the work of the Board of Education, the duties of the administrative personnel, and special services.

One section is concerned with teacher personnel policies and details such matters as teacher attendance, salary, sick leave, and professional development. Teacher responsibility for pupil attendance, care of the classroom, collection and handling of monies, educational trips, the philosophy of discipline, pupil safety, operation of the school cafeteria and the procedure for making budget requests and securing materials are explained in another section.

A summary of the provisions made in the Mamaroneck System for supervision and control of participation in professional activities and education as well as general professional improvement, attendance at conventions and substitute leaves is contained in the final section of the handbook.

Question Of The Week

Poll Indicates Local Need For All Types Of Housing

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the 40th in a Saturday series of short interviews with Mamaroneck and Larchmont residents on issues of the day—local and national. This week's question: "WHAT TYPE OF HOUSING IS MOST NEEDED IN YOUR AREA?"

Walter Melbach, Soundview Gardens Apartments: "More apartments for the medium income group like those now existing at the Boston Post Road and Denison Avenue."

Wain Carver, 855 Jefferson Avenue: "A low-rent housing project, it's so hard for a Negro to get a house in Westchester County because the landlords won't rent to them. The only homes available are the knock-down buildings. The average working man, while he may have a salary of $2,000 a year and can pay from $75 to $100 a month for rent, he has a difficult time finding places to rent or buy. A substantial program is needed to build more housing."

Loyal Troops Crush Rebel Strongholds

NEW YORK, (AP)—The telephone circuit from Buenos Aires faded out today as Associated Press Correspondent Sam Summerlin was dictating a bulletin which began:

"A thunderous explosion rocked the Buenos Aires port area today as military planes . . . There was no way of knowing whether the plane had crashed, dropped a bomb or been shot down."

Buenos Aires—Argentine troops loyal to President Peron claimed today to have crushed two major rebel strongholds in the Argentine and said a strong force was at the gates of a third. The tide thus appeared to be swinging sharply to the side of Argentina's strongman in his bloody revolution he has faced in nine years.

The key points reported seized by the loyalists were the big naval base at Rio Santiago in southern Argentina and the Entre Rios Province about 225 miles north of Buenos Aires. A few hours later, the province war machine was reported to have pulled out. The rebels captured two rebel strongholds, strategic city of 20,000 and 40 miles north of Buenos Aires.

Claims Control of Cordoba—Last night the rebels claimed they were in control of much of South Argentina and the strategic Cordoba Province in the center of the country, about 400 miles northwest of Buenos Aires.

Important military troops which are advancing to suppress rebel centers continue to progress with the support of military aircraft. There was no accurate report of the fighting but the toll was expected to be high. The rebels were reported to have been in the area of Cordoba, the capital of Buenos Aires province, since 45 miles from the capital. Buenos Aires province was reported to be in the hands of the rebels.

Wain Carver, 855 Jefferson Avenue: "A low-rent housing project, it's so hard for a Negro to get a house in Westchester County because the landlords won't rent to them. Woman's Club of Larchmont Begins New 1955-56 Season

The Woman's Club of Larchmont opened its new season yesterday at the Larchmont Avenue club house, featuring a talk by Federal Law Enforcement showing the enforcement of laws conducted by Mrs. Perry B. Ryan, president.

Sixteen new members were welcomed during the business meeting introduced by Mrs. John Warden. A sterling silver tray presented the exam by the president, represented Mrs. Theodore N. Dyer.

Introduced by Mrs. Martin Mack, program chairman, Lloyd MacMahon described the operation and problems in administration of the Southern District of New York, until recently his province as United States attorney. He is now with a New York law firm.

The Southern District comprising New York, the Bronx and Westchester, is the largest and busiest in the country from the point of view of federal criminal law and enforcement, ranging from petty larceny to espionage and from minor collisions to tax evasion, in criminal and civil cases.

Problems of the Southern District last of with undersecretary Mr. MacMahon said. The district with the responsibility of handling the biggest and most important cases in the country manages with the same staff of 55 as it did 25 years ago, despite a three-fold increase in the number of cases.

The solution, he said, lies in increasing the number of young school graduates interested in professional service, with high professional standards, willing to work literally day and night for the public, and public affairs, largely, to the undersatisfying profession.

Next on the program last night was the discussion of gathering evidence to convict in court, and here is where the public spirited, citizen of the American citizen is important, he said. It calls for vigilance for the average citizen to inform the public prosecutor, and to testify in court in the face of the modern gangster's intimidation.

Another serious problem is the means of obtaining evidence for use in the courtroom in a case involving organized crime. Mr. MacMahon made clear his personal feeling that wire tapping evidence ought to be allowed by federal authorities where serious crime is suspected and pointed out that such a procedure of evidence would not be a fine woman today, had such evidence been permitted.

The shocking Henry Grunwald tax fix case, he said, is an excellent example of the government letting the murderer go to catch the whales, making a deal based on giving immunity.

Final problem listed by the speaker was the difficulty of obtaining a speedy trial, with 10,000 civil cases now pending in the Southern District. Fifty more judges are needed to solve this problem, he said.

The answer to the problem depends largely on the conclusion on an informed citizenry. Mr. MacMahon urged citizens to read the annual law enforcement report, watch trials, lawyers and judges, as well as bills and legislation. The public is urged to contact to try to get the "blood and sex," he pointed out. He also recommended that active part in politics.

Effective law enforcement is possible only with the help of all who believe in law and order and in the rule of law.
