DRASTIC DECREE TO CLAMP LIMIT ON ALL WAGES

Presidential Order Also To Put Ceiling On Prices Of Farm Products

SALARIES CURB IN STORE

New Edict Aimed To Halt Runaway Rise In Cost Of Living

WASHINGTON—A drastic presidential order limiting all wages, salaries and farm prices was its order for the nation today in an unprecedented move, government officials revealed, to thwart a threat of small runaway rise in the cost of living.

The responsible sources who can best be quoted by name, said the decree, issued by President Roosevelt for issuance on Labor Day, calls for creation of an economic administrator to carry out the order, which would limit wages to half rising wartime living costs.

In effect, the presidential edict is aimed at halting the price strings of every American in luxury, unnecessary spending but upon them wide to payments of dollars, necessary to meet and to prevent War Bond purchases.

Even Mr. Roosevelt's advisers who are in preparing the message regarded it as almost revolutionary, because it would force wages virtually will be set aside by government fiat, and the order which affects a provision for holding any price ceiling on farm products at less than 10 per cent per year.

The President will say his wartime powers and duties are sufficient authority for the order. Already mentioned as possibilities for the post-war economic administrator were Governor Herbert H. Lehman of New York, General William and Bernard M. Baruch.

General provisions of the decree will be open from 12 A. M. to 1 P. M. Monday, Labor Day, post office employees and other extra hours employed, and it was indicated that those who had received more than a 5 per cent increase since Jan. 1, 1941, will be permitted to continue on the basis of the increased pay.

While wages will constitute the amount paid by an hourly rate or other compensation up to $75 weekly, salaries will include amounts in excess of $750 a year. It is still to be decided whether salaries will be frozen or permitted to be raised on cost-of-living basis, but on salaries over $200 a year increases will be forbidden.

Executives will be frozen also although revision may be made later on the charges for some products of more than 10 per cent will be downward, it was said.

When the government officials said income tax laws will be used particularly of the order. Refusal to allow employees "business expense" deductions for unauthorized increases will be increased tax on normal economy, most employers will be asked to abide voluntarily by the decree.

While the order is not expected to be issued on Labor Day.

Uninvited Guest Sought After Jewelry Thefts At Swank Bridal Receptions

Valuable Disappear As Smart Woman Thief Makes County Visits

An uninvited guest at swank wedding receptions has been making away with valuable jewelry, it was revealed today as a jewelry insurance company warned Westchester police against a smart woman thief.

Her first known entrance into the County was on July 29 when she mingled with guests at a reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Hathaway of Milton Road, Rye, following the marriage of their daughter, Valerie to James D. Tew. After the reception it was found that $200 in cash, a ring valued at $300 and a platinum bracelet valued at $100 were missing.

Rye City Police Chief Howard B. Searies failed to put out a telephone alarm.

She—on someone answering her description—turned up again on August 2, at a wedding reception at the home of Miss H. Withers, 1040 Hill Road, Greenvale. She made off with a bracelet and a ring valued at several thousand dollars.

Six days later, the O'Donnell family gave a wedding reception at their Duaneport Neck, New Rochelle, home and missed several valuable pieces.

The thief came to public knowledge in a letter from Herbert J. Lee, Inc., asking that police be on the lookout for her.

He said that her modus operandi is to arrive at the reception in a taxi, and then mingle with the guests. At the height of the reception, she usually approaches a company man, that all the bath rooms are in use, and has been successful in persuading the servant to lead her to a bathroom adjoining a bedroom used by members of the bridal party.

The woman usually wears a black dress, 30 to 35 years of age, shows up in brown or a silk point. She is between five feet six and seven inches in height, weighs between 140 and 150 pounds and is 25 to 40 years of age. She has reddish brown hair, but has had her hair burned hair which is "kinky" color and protruding teeth.

The thief has operated in Westchester is indicated by a charge of $100,000 from the home of T. Gibbon, 450 York Street, New York City, on June 9.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

U. S. TANKS AID

Associated Press Staff Editor

Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's armies, rallying in the hour of deepest crisis, stopped the Germans on the bloody plains before Stalingrad today and even stormed into Nazi lines northwest of the Volga steel city to capture booty and prisoners.

A German broadcast, quoting Nazi military quarters, said the Russians were fighting bitterly to make Stalingrad a "Red Vienna" and declared the appalling industrial center had been converted into a vast fortress which would be difficult to take.

"There are many tanks and so much artillery that German troops, even after they have entered the city's environs, must capture house after house," a Nazi military spokesman said.

Besides heavy reinforced concrete bunkers, anti-aircraft batteries and anti-tank guns were reported as pounding the city while units of the Red Army, bolstered by factory workers, fought their way through the death rattle that surrender of the city.

Further good news for the United Nations came from the Egyptian battlefront where the G.I.s captured a new Axis retreat on the Mediterranean coast and declared that British troops had captured several counterattacks against new Nazi positions on the center.

The communiqué said the Axis forces "again moved slightly westward" after the third straight retreat—the third straight retreat—the British troops had captured the El Himeimat sector on the line of the Great qattara salt flats.

On the center, the British Command reported that the Axis forces were attempting to regain points captured by the British on Monday night ran into a withering barrage of artillery fire. British troops then charged the wavering Germans and Italian, the communiqué said.

Italian Field Headquarters gave the British the "strongest assurance" that Axis armored forces had launched an attack on the front line. The British captured several hundred prisoners, including 100 tanks and 100 anti-aircraft guns.

The Fascist Command also declared that Axis planes bombed concentrations of British armored vehicles "and set 40 on fire."

Cairo dispatches said the British on the enemy all day yesterday, the German High Command declared that several tank-supported British attacked on the southern front.

While neither side claimed a decisive edge in a battle, dispatches indicated that Field Marshal Erwin Rommel had failed at least in the initial phase of the new strategy against the El Alamein front, 85 miles west of Alexandria.

Rommel has had the initiative and it seems to have slipped," a British military commentator said.

The British, however, avoided any suggestion of a full-scale counter-offensive. The British High Command declared only that British forces "continued their pressure on the enemy's main concentration."

Dispatches indicated that the British were on a new trap set by Rommel and were guarding against a repetition of the disaster at Tobruk last year, when he sent a small force of tanks forward as bait and lured the British into a nest of hidden anti-tank guns.

Reports said Rommel again attempted a strategy in the present campaign, but this time the Allies tanks ignored the charge, remaining in their positions. Allied artillery blasted the Nazi tanks.

United States tanks were cited, riding "General Patton" into action in the first two days of the battle, when they could both take it and hand it back to the Army Headquarters.

It was said a Soviet Army tank (Continued On Page Three)

REAS AGAIN CHECKS FOR AERIAL YIELDING TO THE ON STALINGRAD FRONT

British And Russian Airmen Attack Nazi Cities

BUCHAREST HIT

MOSCOW (AP)—The Russian air field center of operations today reported the result of a bombing attack last night by Russian planes, the Moscow radio reported today.

By CLYDE A. FARNSWORTH (Associated Press Staff Editor)
After almost weeks of already frightful struggle on the immediate approaches to Stalingrad, main theater of the world conflict, the German offensive achieved peak ferocity today against the elastic Russian defense and the Government claimed two penetrations of the city itself.

By Russian accounts, however, the battered capital of the lower Volga region still flew red and banners of battle, with the foe checked once more on the outskirts.

Typical of the repeated recitations in the semi-circles of defense was the official Russian admission reported yesterday, that the German construction of a bridge over the Volga river, which would have allowed German armor to cross the river and attack the city from the north, was blunted the night before.

The German suggestion that Russian saboteurs might have been behind in this vital region fitted into the widening pattern of night attacks by the British and Russians against the German positions facing northernmost Russia along the Baratskae.

The sea-borne Russian attack on either Finland or Norway. This action, it was reported yesterday from Moscow resulted in capture of 200 prisoners and destruction of considerable material. At last reports the assault was still under way.

The German High Command was the authority for the report that the German attack on the French coast, involving the use of parachutists, evidenced action in the West. The British withheld comment on this development.

SALARIES FROZEN AT AUG. 5 LEVEL BY SENATE BILL

Stabilization Of Wages And Farm Prices Proposed To Control Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Legislation specifically authorizing President Roosevelt to stabilize wages and salaries as of Aug. 5 and farm prices at levels not below parity was introduced today in the Senate in response to the President's demand that Congress act by Oct. 1 to control inflation.

Offered by Chairman Wagner, D. N. Y., of the Banking Committee, and Sen. Brown, D. Mich., pilot of previous administration price control legislation, the resolution would give the President broad power to deal with all other types of agricultural prices until they reached 100 percent of parity.

Brown involved in the bill "was the highest price paid for agricultural commodities go to parity" but that commodities now below parity would be subject to "natural economic conditions." The highest price that the price ceiling shall not be exceeded.

1. The parity price or "the comparable price" where one has been determined, or 2. The highest market price between Jan. 1 and Sept. 15, 1942. The President could suspend Section Three of the Price Control Act which prohibits the fixing of a ceiling which would be in effect if they reach 100 percent of parity.

FARM PRICE RISE APPEARS DOOMED

House Banking Committee To Scrap Provision To Boost Parity Level

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A majority of the House Banking Committee was reported today to favor scrapping of the controversial farm price parity provision in the Economic Control Bill drawn by Committee Chairman Steagall.

This could mean an end to an effort supported by some farm organizations to raise the level of parity to raise the level of farm labor costs.

A group of committee members met informally last night, and it was said they decided to attempt far-reaching revisions of the Steagall Bill. Some favored substitution of a new bill.

Those wanting sharp revisions of a new bill, while declining to be quoted directly, expressed confidence that a majority of the committee also would favor a bill which would establish a maximum minimum price for farm products "as will bring about and maintain a fair and equitable price for the maximum farm price."

Chairman Fulmer told the House Agricultural Committee that the farm representatives must "put up the best fight we can to get the best we can for the farmers."

The committee was told by Rep. Anderson (R-Minn.) that regardless of the type of legislation enacted, it is felt that the big winners of the President, "he goes to go ahead and do just what he wants to do."

And we've got a Supreme Court which will sustain the President.

Anderson blamed what he called the "Administration's high wage threat" against the big winners being paid in the processing and marketing of farm products were being paid in the processing and marketing of farm products were being paid in the processing and marketing of farm products.

Soviets on initiative In Dramatic 11th Hour Rally

Associated Press War Editor

Adolf Hitler's siege armies, twice hurled back in bloody street fighting, were reported hastily erecting defenses in the northwest outskirts of Stalingrad today as the Russians seized the initiative in a dramatic eleventh-hour rally.

Dispatches said the Red Army defenders were backed down treeline avenues to cliffs overlooking the Volga waterfront at one time.

Then, "with the bodies bobbing in the Nazi tanks in front, the Soviets struck back in a supreme effort to save the big steel city and forced the invaders to retreat.

Significantly, Hitler's Field Headquarters made only the broad general statement that German troops were retreating.

Advices from Moscow said Russian troops were attacking and gave over to the offensive in two neighboring sectors of the Stalingrad front on orders from Soviet Staff in High Command, said TASS, the official Soviet news agency, saying that thousands of Soviet Siberian troops were now moving into the 25-day-old battle.

It had been widely expected that the announcement would proclaim the fall of Stalingrad.

At mid-day today, the Soviet High Command pictured the Nazi assault on the city as a "desperate and bloody struggle."

Red Star, the Soviet Army newspaper, said the retreating Germans hurriedly set up anti-tank obstacles and firing positions.

The Russian counter-offensive after they had been driven back, often by heavy mortar and tank and house by house.

Overhead, waves of 80 to 100 Soviet fighters, many of them anti-aircraft gunners and out-numbered Russian fighters.

They said Russian tanks smashed into a Nazi fortified zone, and the Russian tanks and guns killed 600 troops with gunfire and caterpillar treads, crushing enemy reports shot in cities behind the Volga hills.

Elsewhere on the long battlefield, the Russians were reported to have struck into the German left flank in the Voronezh sector, 300 miles north of Stalingrad, and beat off Nazi assaults in the Minsk sector in the Central Caucasus.

Some reports said the Russian tanks wiped out two German infantry regiments, seized prisoners and captured a large amount of Nazi equipment, set around Voronezh, while in the Minsk sector, they captured a village and "annihilated about 300 Hitlerites."

At Voronezh, the Russian tanks and guns were reported to have driven an attack of fighters last night, marked by an air-raid siren in Sofia, Bulgaria, and the report of mysterious balloons trailing explosives were drifting over Hungary.

LEGION PROPOSES CONSCRIPTION FOR WAR PRODUCTION

National Service Law Urged For Draft Of Men Wherever Needed

MAC ARTHUR HONORED

Lower Standard of Living Needed To Win War, Nelson Cautions

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The American Legion today called upon Congress to enact a national service law for the conscription of manpower wherever needed for war production.

The resolution was taken on the floor of the national convention after it had been proposed in a resolution offered by the employment committee headed by Lawrence J. Fellen of Illinois.

National Commander Lynn U. Stambaugh presented the Legion's Distinguished Service Medal to Maj. Gen. James A. Hays, the adjutant general of the Army.

Ulio, in accepting the medal for MacArthur, spoke over a short-wave radio broadcast to Australia.

"I am sure if Gen. MacArthur were here today, he would accept it first in the name of those who have fallen in the service of their country."

"Perhaps he would remind you that no possible circumstances could have brought the flow of arms, ships and planes to place in the hands of his command the distinguished service medal of the American Legion on behalf of Gen. MacArthur."

Gen. MacArthur's name is carried on—with all the strength and courage which have made and preserved America—carry on.

Lead cheering went up from the 1,000 delegates at the convention as Stambaugh broadcast greetings to the fighting men of World War II from the fighting men from World War One.

Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the War Production Board, warned that the country must accept "a very much lower standard of living" in order to win the war, asserted today that "we have hardly begun to feel the pinch, so far as the war effort is concerned."

"We are going to feel it very heavily before we are a year away," he said in an address for delivery at the convention.

"It is my considered opinion that we are going to have to cut farther than we have done in our civilian economy than even the British themselves have done yet—with the single exception of food."

"We are going to have enough to eat but we probably will not have to put any very heavy restrictions on our clothing."

"We have been living on our fat for the last year. I don't mean we aren't going to have an ounce of fat left in another year. We'll be left with a bone and muscle because we have got to get down to bone and muscle in order to win."

Right now, he pointed out, approximately 40 percent of the country's production was going for war and by next year it will be increased to 60 percent. All of this means "no more luxuries, no more comforts, no more comforts," except what we are to keep fighting."

General MacArthur's headquarters, Australia, (AP)—Operating without interference from enemy planes allied fighters yesterday attacked the vital Japanese base at Lae on the northeast coast of New Guinea for the third successive day, burning five barges and a tugboat and a shipment of better fighting aircraft in the process, according to a damaging radio installation.

A communication announcing the raid said allied fighters and bombers had done considerable damage to the vital Japanese base at Lae, on the northeast coast of New Guinea, where the Japanese had their headquarters.

The raid on Lae, which touched off fires and heavy explosions, was the first since the Japanese captured the town in July.

Extensive patrol activity was reported in that sector, however, and a shipment of better fighting aircraft in the process, according to a damaging radio installation.

All the enemy forces engaged in the raid were reported to have been destroyed, the spokesman declared.

LOCAL AREA HANDLES THE ALERT SIGNAL

Other County Points Err in Sounding Alarms

INQUIRY LIKELY

Despite confusion in other Westchester communities caused by the sounding of various sirens and whistles at long-spaced intervals during last night's Army blue alert, the Mamaroneck-Larchmont area experienced no undue alarm, it was reported today by civilian protection authorities here.

Village of Mamaroneck, Larchmont and Town of Mamaroneck officials reported this morning that all control centers were fully manned, but that "no warnings were issued as a consequence of the alarm." The all-clear signal was flashed at 9:34 P. M.

Village Manager William J. Johnson stated, "We received the blue signal Village Engineer Arthur Brown and none of our civilian protection staff were alerted. However, our staff room was fully manned, and there was absolute confusion in the village."

George J. Jennings, chief warden of the Mamaroneck fire department, reported this morning that the blue signal was received in his sector at 8:50 and only persons on duty and blue light were called to man their posts. The control center was manned for the duration of the alert, Mr. Jennings declared.

The Village of Larchmont control center, which also was fully manned with three administrative and eight operating personnel, reported this morning that the blue signal was received at 8:50 and only persons on duty and blue light were called to man their posts. The control center was manned for the duration of the alert, Mr. Jennings declared.

It was indicated an investigation would be launched from Albany to discover why Westchester had been put through two confusion alarms this month.

The alarm from the district warning center at White Plains was put through three confusion alarms this month. The first alarm was sent at 8:57, after a preliminary alert at 8:50 had taken radio stations of the air.

Some job position personnel failed to have telephone numbers where they could be reached during the evening and many other calls were made trying to locate them. In addition, the control room was disturbed by the admission of unauthorized persons who had been put through by division heads.

The telephone service also functioned well this time, despite a flood of private calls after the radio was silenced. Calls were delayed for about a minute in the first interval, but were called through quickly after the peak volume.

The police teletype wire called the alarm a test, quelling county headquarters authorities concerned by the confusion.

A protection warden in Putnam County, which gets its alarm from Westchester, after the signal by an unauthorized assailant who escaped.

Holbrook blamed local control centers for the confusion. After sirens had sounded on the alert, Holbrook said, "The control centers erred."

Wardens at points outside the area responded and some tried to stop traffic although street lights were still on. Some wardens reported that the alarm light was not set out on Labor Day morning because the lighting company did not call a red signal. That was because four girls in the district warning center each have 14 calls to make on a yellow signal, and the telephone exchanges become jammed.

But observers agreed the main confusion resulted from the alarm. As the previous month would have been, the blowing of regular police and fire sirens in addition to the air raid sirens and in many cases some time after the alarm.

British troops were reported today toward the outskirts of Tananarive and captured the inland capital of Madagascar, according to a broadcast from the city heard here tonight.

A communiqué said British forces overcame the French, apparently drawn up for a making stand and capturing the village on the road to the capital.

Other broadcasts said British troops on Tananarive from the east coast of the 1,000-mile long island, which lies Southeast Africa, were reported making good progress.

Tokyo further claimed that British forces credited with battering four key Japanese bases in the New Guinea zone and damaging an enemy cruiser northwest of Guadalcanal in the lower Solomon Islands.

A Navy communiqué in Washington said Navy and Marine destroyers, led by the cruiser in an attack Sunday.

The Tokyo Headquarters asserted that a Japanese submarine sank the American battleship USS Arizona in the New Guinea zone and the 9,000-ton Northampton type off the Aleutian Islands.

Aug. 31 there was no confirmation of this claim either.

Tokyo further claimed that Japanese destroyers sank two U. S. submarines in the same waters last week.

Nazis Driven From Houses In Savage Battle

CASUALTIES HIGH

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor
Russian troops slipping westward across the Volga River at night were reported to have driven the Germans from houses, buildings and streets amid savage hand-to-hand fighting in one section of Stalingrad today as the siege entered its 30th day with the invaders still held at arm's length.

At mid-day, Soviet Headquarters acknowledged that German Infantry, led by 100 tanks, captured several streets, but its communications were cut.

"In other sectors, all enemy attacks were repulsed," it said. "More than 1,400 Nazis were listed as killed and 17 tanks knocked out of action in the last 24 hours."

"Last Field Headquarters said German troops had captured 'considerable resistance' and declared that Soviet counterattacks had cut their communications."

The German command also noted that the capture of the high-rise Voroshilov zone, 300 miles northwest of Stalingrad, where the Russians had launched repeated diversionary attacks against the Nazi line.

While the gravest danger presently loomed in the Stalingrad pocket, said the German press, it was not actually losing ground northwest toward the city.

So large was the collection of all important scrap metals and rubber for use in production, immediately after the club's Tuesday meeting, the members proceeded to the various garages, attics and back yards, all kinds of scrap, leaving it all in the village trucks.

REVENUE DROP TO FORCE RISE IN COUNTY TAX

$1,000,000 Decrease Estimated Due To Loss Through War Conditions

BUDGET TAKING SHAPE

$300,000 Loss Placed On Curtailed Use Of Autos In Folger's Figures

More had news affecting the 1943 Westchester County budget now in process of formation came today from county officials in White Plains.

County budget Director William Folger, in a letter to County Executive Herbert C. Goetz in a recent statement that indicated a drop of $500,000 in county departmental revenue next year, an originally estimated $1,000,000 decrease, he made up through increased tax levies.

"We have recognized and discussed for more than a year the forces which are operating to reduce county revenues," the budget director said. "Early in 1942 we began to see the effect of these forces and found it necessary at the end of the first quarter to revise the 1942 budget in balance with revenue production. The budget for 1943 will be even greater, and that the total revenue losses may well amount to a million dollars."

Mr. Folger then itemized the decrease in revenue, showing that $1,200,000 in estimated revenue from license plates, $200,000 from State reimbursements on relief for county road funds, Mr. Folger estimates will be lost next year. He also estimated that the county will receive $1,000,000 in additional revenue from the sale of scrap metal.

The largest single item of anticipated loss in revenue, $200,000, is the loss of revenue from license plates. Mr. Folger estimates that the county will receive $1,000,000 in additional revenue from the sale of scrap metal.

The drop in Automobile Bureau, Division of Motor Vehicle Taxation, County Center bookings and general revenue, Mr. Folger estimates that the county will receive $1,000,000 in additional revenue from the sale of scrap metal.

REDS SWEEP THE FRONT TWO HILLS NEAR STALINGRAD

CITY A WRECK

By ROGER D. GREENE (ASSOCIATED PRESS WRITER)

Bayonet-wielding Russian troops were reported to have swept the Germans from two hills northward of Stalingrad today, cutting a wedge into Adolf Hitler's vital left flank, and now the official Berlin radio openly acknowledged:

"The fall of the city may be delayed for some time." The broadcast's allusion was that Hitler preferred a gradual systematic advance to give men, Soviet aircrafts estimated German losses in killed, wounded and missing at nearly a division (15,000 troops) a day.

High Field Headquarters said Nazi assault troops captured "farther fortified positions in fierce street fighting" within Stalingrad, and added:

"Soviet relief attacks against the northern barrier erected by German and allied troops were repulsed in hard fighting."

Two Shortwave Stations Flash Nightly Broadcast To German-Held Skipper

FIREMEN CHANGE SCENE OF DINNER

Report On 'Bums' Goes Out To Captain Stephenson

Some Where In France

Two powerful General Electric Company shortwave broadcasting stations have taken on the job of keeping a German-held Yankee skipper posted on the doings of his favorite club—the Brooklyn Dodgers. It was announced in Schenectady today.

Capt. Henry Stephenson lost his merchant ship during the battle of the Atlantic. His crew last aboard his ship was being taken care of by the Nazi sub.

His wife who resides at the 1200th Street, New Rochelle, was given a letter from her captive husband apparently mailed from occupied France. The skipper, who wrote that he is interested in "good places in the country" with three other merchant captains, wanted to know about the Dodgers and their race for the National League pennant.

"How are the Dodgers doing?" he asked in his letter.

The Subsequent station, after hearing of the request, are now filing a nightly typewritten report on the Bums to Capt. Stephenson.

Capt. Stephenson has been a baseball fan since childhood. His wife said. When on shore leave during the baseball season, the captain always attended at least one game. He has been a Dodger fan for some time because of the "Yankees' success."

Millions of Tons of Junk Needed At Once To Keep Big Steel Furnaces Going

NELSON THANKS THE DAILY TIMES FOR SCRAP AID

How Scrap Is Converted Into Ship Or Tank Explained Step By Step

NEW YORK—While the nation's newspapers today spared enthusiasm for the scrap metal campaign, C. M. White, vice president of the Republic Steel Corporation, said:

"Last Winter and Spring the scrap situation was so acute that Republic had one or more open hearth furnaces standing idle continuously from November through May. Had sufficient scrap been available, these furnaces could have produced 172,000 additional tons of ingots."

"Since May Republic has been able to obtain adequate supplies of scrap for current operations but has been unable to run at full capacity for the winter months when scrap supplies will again be curtailed."

"New blast furnaces financed by the government will ease this situation, some extent, but Republic's ingot capacity has also been increased. We are very much afraid that we will have at least as much scrap production in the winter as we had in the summer of 1941 as we did last year."

"In the meantime, steel mills and steel plants are being built and steel production is being increased. This is a great part of our own operations and it is a source of pride to us."

Following is an explanation: "The steel industry is a great part of our own operations and it is a source of pride to us."

Service To Mamaroneck Costs United Hospital Total Of $10,000 Yearly

NATION-WIDE GAS RATIONS ORDERED

15 Percent Of Patients Come From Village; Disaster Aid Also Provided

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Rubber czar William M. Jeffers went the limit today and ordered nationwide gas rationing to save tires.

In his first public order since the issuance of the special rubber committee report, the Union Pacific president, charged with conserving the nation's stockpile of rubber, directed the Office of Price Administration to extend the rationing now enforced in the East.

"This is a game," he said, "in which we can all win, or all lose."

The date upon which the order will become effective, probably not before Nov. 1, was left indefinite.

The hospitals also maintains a plasma bank for Mamaroneck. The bank is used to replace plasma lost during surgery.

At the Mamaroneck Health Center, there are two large plastic bins filled with all types of surgical dressings, bandages, surgical gloves and instruments, etc. All this equipment must be kept sterile for immediate use in case of necessity.

The United Hospital sterilizes this equipment about three times a year, free of charge.

By ROGER D. GREENE, Associated Press War Editor

Victory edged farther from Adolf Hitler's grasp in the 33-day old siege of Stalingrad today as the Red Army gained fresh ground northwest of the Volga metropolis, crushing 32 German counterattacks in 48 hours, and recaptured a strategic position within the city.

By Soviet account, it was the fourth consecutive day that the German assault had been stopped.

Hitler's Field Headquarters, long accustomed to providing the successful fall of city after city, now focused its attention on the capture of single buildings.

On the night of Stalingrad, the Communists emptied, situated near the bank of the Volga, were fighting from the Soviet in embittered fighting," the German command said.

Soviet relief attacks against the northern barrier were repelled. The Volga radio, notoriously unreliable, asserted that German shock troops had driven through Stalingrad to the Volga, at several points.

On the night of Stalingrad, the Germans were wearing out and the Soviet troops, fighting from street barricades, charred buildings, and rubble in the damp earth, were holding firm.

As the tide of battle swung back to the Soviet side, the Germans were forced to abandon their positions on the east bank of the river.

Nevertheless, the Russians said, the German warplanes were reported switching their attacks to Volga River crossings, evidently fearing to stop their losses on the east bank, where they annihilate their own troops.

The Town of Mamaroneck, Police Department has a talented poet in the midst it came to light today when a radio station, in a morning awarded a prize to a poem written by Sgt. Leonard H. Wilson, of the Town force, dealing with the necessity of buying bonds to pay for the war.

Sgt. Wilson wrote the poem to all his daughter who wanted an appropriate message to go with a picture she had posted on the bulletin board at Trinity Church in the Village.

Wilson heard this program, and without thought the poem might be worthy enough for others to hear, and sent it to the radio station. He sent word along with the poem, that if it won a prize, the prize should be given to the USO.

The poem was read this morning on the air and the money realized from it goes to that worthy organization aiding the armed forces.

COUNTY AIRPORT WORK RESUMES AS STRIKE ENDS

Truck Drivers And Steam Shovel Operators Back After One-Day Halt

Work resumed today without interruption on the Army airport construction at Rye Lake after settlement of a one-day strike at 4 P. M. yesterday.

Truck drivers and steam shovel operators went back to work after 10 hours of idleness on the $2,500,000 field. A conference between county public works department and Army officials with representatives of the Scarsdale Construction Co. and the A. F. of L. Teamsters and Chauffeurs Union settled the strike, but no one concerned would say what terms of settlement had been reached.

Other workers laying drainage pipes, putting down concrete and operating the gigantic "latter-day" grading machines, had not stopped work during the strike, it was explained.

The strike resulted from an argument Thursday afternoon between a truck driver and the time-keeper. The driver was discharged, but he claimed he had had his truck lock into expensive machinery with damage of $150. The time-keeper paid the man up to the time of his discharge but the driver claimed pay for a full shift, a difference being $5.00. No one would say whether the truck driver got the extra $5.00.

Before the argument was settled the union delegate had notified Red Star that the strike had begun. It was said, an Army officer ordered the discharged man to return to the field, which was to be leased to the Army Air Corps when completed. The strike followed yesterday morning.
