A presidential memorial parchment honoring the service of the late Pvt. LeRoy Raymond O. Schertz to his country has been received by Mr. and Mrs. George Schertz of 119 Beacon Road, New Rochelle, formerly of Mamaroneck.

The memorial, bearing the familiar signature of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, was sent by the War Department, at Washington.

The memorial reads: "In grateful memory of First Lieut. Raymond O. Schertz, A. C. 943023, who died in the service of his country in the Asiatic area, 1 March, 1943. He stands in the broken line of patriots who have shouldered the heaviest burden of the undertaking of most men."

The 20-year-old youth was awarded the Purple Heart, the Silver Star with two oak leaf clusters, the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal.

A right leader of a squadron, engaged in the India defense unit, he was credited with leading his unit on one of the longest overland marches in history of the Air Corps. He covered 2,000 miles one way, from his Indian headquarters of Mt. Blair in the Andaman Isles to a job at the base.

Lt. Schertz also was reported to have been the first Air Corps officer to pilot a Flying Fortress from the United States to India. He left on the long trip Jan. 16, 1942, a month after being commissioned in the service.

His death came as he was on the verge of returning home. He had made his flight to Calcutta and while there had been granted a 15-day leave to visit his parents and his 15 months of service in the theater. While on route back to his base, the ship crashed, killing him and his bombardier. Other members of the crew were rescued and was graduated from the Mamaroneck High School.

Health Record Puts Village On Honor Roll

Four Westchester communities are listed on the honor roll of the State Department of Health of the entire State. Previously the village in which at least 70 per cent of the children under five years of age have been immunized against diphtheria, according to the report of Dr. E. A. Lane, head of the communicable disease division of the Westchester Health Department.

The honored communities are Mamaroneck, Ossining, Port Chester and White Plains. Previously the State issued data showing the comparative standings of municipalities, but this has been eliminated this year because it has been found that the figures are not justified by the results. Now there is one less community in the State with a standing of 70 per cent or more. There are 13 such communities in the State.

Dr. Lane pointed out that two other Westchester municipalities are near honor standing, as Peekskill has a record of 68 per cent and Scarsdale 64 per cent.

In the listing of cities of from 50,000 to 250,000 population, Tonawanda is shown with a standing of 48 per cent. A similar percentage is recorded for New Rochelle among cities of from 20,000 to 50,000 population, while Mount Vernon is shown with a standing of 38 per cent.

County Second.

Statistics for Westchester County, showing the communities of more than 10,000, show the County in second place in the State with an score of 67 per cent. Columbia County remains in first place with a score of 70 per cent.

Dr. Lane said that health authorities believe that if 70 per cent of more of the children of a community are immunized against diphtheria the possibility of an epidemic outbreak of the disease is practically eliminated.

He urged that parents take immediate steps to see that their children receive the treatment, pointing out that if a family does not wish to have its own physical health and the health of its children, it cannot afford to rest, the public authorities are ready and willing to administer the treatment.

Reds Smashing Wedge In Poland Toward Silesia

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Associated Press Staff

MOSCOW (AP)—The Red Army tightened a noose today around German Baltic forces once estimated at more than 20 divisions—between 250,000 and 300,000 men—and smashed their wedge through Poland toward German Silesia west of the Vistula.

Three Soviet columns pressed on from the west, south and east for possibly the biggest kill of the summer campaign. Heavily armored enemy units fell back upon the Latvian capital, their offensive thrusts shattered by Gen. Ivan C. Bagramian's right wing.

The Soviet High Command announced that enemy forces are being "bled white" and "out troops are stubbornly advanced against German reserve divisions thrown into desperate counterattacks in nearly every sector of the front to keep the Russian border from German Wehrmacht troops."

The Red Army's right wing, which is pushing westward from the Vistula bridgehead, a drive that may be pointed at the Baltic coast to the south, and an advance to within 35 miles of Czechoslovakian territory.

The Russians said that to support the drive from the west, the Germans are hurling "seven tank divisions, airborne and other rear detachments" into battle. It was reported 18 new German divisions have reached the front in the past three weeks—some from the central Germany reserves, others from Western Poland, Italy, Yugoslavia, Hungary and Slovakia.

The Red Army is reported to have captured blood-soaked Monte Grillo, near the Italian front.

A BBC broadcast heard today that the Red Army was reported to have recaptured blood-soaked Monte Grillo, near the Italian front.

The Germans announced that many new eastern front at this critical juncture.

Referring to Lt. Hester's claim that the civilians "cheerfully" demonstrated on D-Day, have fighting men cold," PM MacRobert writes: "Civilians praying on D-Day were not an admirable thing."

He also described the situation in and around Florence as virtually unchanged, with only partial activity in the immediate vicinity of the great art.

There were no further reports of the Germans shelling the southern part of the city. Associated Press correspondent Loren Frenkel, who has been with the Eighth Army inside the city in recent days, said the German batteries had been directing their fire at targets outside the southern limits and there was nothing to indicate damage to the city itself.

From the Fifth Army front in recent days, said the German tanks going into action north-northwest of Arnhem, covered his plane into position, but he was not shot down. He released three charges before the enemy deck crew could fire a single shot. Although by this time the submarine had begun to submerge, explosions just off the stern, leaving wooden splinters in the sea, leaving wooden splinters in the sea, leaving wooden splinters in the sea.

Home Folks Doing Good Job, Says Navy Man In Reply To Criticism Of Army Officer

ALIENS ENTER SOUTHERN FRANCE; PARIS NOW FACES DOUBBLE THREAT; NAZIS WITHDRAW FROM FLORENCE

Italian Cradle Of Art Escapes Battle Ravages

ROME, (AP)—The Germans withdrew all their forces from Florence today and the ancient cradle of Italian art and culture was spared from the ravages of battle.

Allied troops, who had retreated from firing on the northern part of the city lying beyond the Arno river, remained on the south bank of the stream, but officers of the Military Government crossed over to assist the hungry civilian population.

It was apparent, an official announcement said, that the enemy withdrew the bulk of his forces during the night to the north of the Mugone Canal, which flows through the northern outskirts.

The Eighth Army, bringing up its lines on a front for a crossing of the Arno and an assault on the German Gothic Line beyond, reached a number of villages west and northwest of Empoli against stiffening German resistance.

An official source said Col. Puchs, who was the German garrison commander at Florence, continued fighting under his parachute, together with a number of German squads organized by the notorious "Alessandro Pavolini" (Mussolini's Minister of Culture) who infiltrated into houses south of the river as snipers.

The Allied Command announced that it now was possible for the Allies to help civilians in the northern part of the city who under the German had been short of food, water and medical supplies. Some snipers still were being countered inside the city.

Corp. Miller's Army Travels Take Him To Palestine, India, Brazil, Egypt, Libya, Africa

A NORTH AFRICAN AIR SERVICE COMMAND BASE—Visit the Navy and see the world! It is true saying, but according to Cpl. Charles L. Miller, 24-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Morton C. Miller, of 9 Byron Lane, Larchmont, the Navy has no monopoly in this travel business. The Army does a good job of getting around, too.

Corp. Miller, a graduate of Bluefield College, Va., is of the opinion that he has given him the most broadening experience of the life. Entering the Army in April, 1942, Cpl. Miller was entirely unacquainted with what life held in store for him.

Since then he has been Brazil, India, Palestine, Egypt, Libya and North Africa. His greatest thrill, he said recently, came when his unit moved across the desert in the wake of the British Eighth Army. These were the days when Rommel put his shoes on back wards, and made his great advance in the wrong direction. The amount of enemy equipment and material left behind in that great retreat, according to Cpl. Miller, would astonish the world, if laid out to end.

Americans Push 10 Miles Across Loire River

BULLETIN LONDON (AP)—The British Eighth Army has pushed across the Loire River to a point about 50 miles north of Le Mans, and has established a bridgehead for several miles.

By GLADWIN HILL Associated Press Staff

SUPREME HQRS, AEF—American Forces—still continuing vast secrecy-cloaked operations today west of Paris—have sent columns spearing 10 miles across the Loire into southern France and simultaneously tactical bombers from Italy pounded vital German targets on the Mediterranean coast.

The break south of the Loire came as the American push out of Le Mans carried on the double threat to Paris and to the Germans' already half-circled army south of Caen.

It was timed with a bomb-raid along the coast, miles of the French and Italian Rivers by Italy-based warplanes striking at pillboxes, gun emplacements and radio stations of enemy coastal defenses. This blow was reminiscent of previous air raids on the French channel area.

Supreme Headquarters remained quiet. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's drive across the Loire had great implications, but the possibilities of the Allies' success in this area must be speculated upon at present.

It was the first sign, however, that the Allies had not intended to base their operations on the Loire. The British army, which had been in the area since the start of the war, was now being moved to the northwest Seine-Loire corner which they now dominate.

Hoboken Pier Fire Loss Set At 4 Millions

HOBOKEN, N. J. (AP)—A 1100-foot pier in the Hudson River was almost completely destroyed by fire which raged about four hours before being brought under control early today.

Acting Fire Chief Andrew H. Keller said the fire was of undetermined origin and began on a barge which was transferring its cargo to a ship moored at Pier 4.

Keller said there was no indication of sabotage. He said there was no immediate estimate of the loss, but it was unofficially reported at $4,000,000.

Fourteen persons were taken to St. Mary's Hospital for treatment of burns and smoke poisoning, while more than 50 others, including firemen, were given first aid treatment at the scene. Keller said none were seriously injured.

Three barges and a derrick moored at the pier were burned, one of the barges sinking. A Liberty ship and a foreign cargo vessel were towed to safety in the river from the pier before flames reached them, Edward L. McFadden, Hoboken police chief, reported.

Keller said the fire began at 8 o'clock last night and was brought under control at 12:30 A. M. today. In addition to Hoboken fire apparatus, equipment was brought from New York City, Union City and Jersey City. Four New York City fireboats and a tender, as well as Coast Guard craft, battled the flames from the river. Firemen were reinforced by 900 Coast Guardsmen from Staten Island, New York City and New York City.

Police ordered Bronx Alton, standers on the pier, as saying the fire occurred when drums of oil or alcohol exploded, igniting both the pier and the barges, McFadden said a series of explosions also occurred. Other barges escaped intact.

Nimitz Visions Invading Japan

By The Associated Press
U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HQRS, PEARL HARBOR—The fourth bombing of the Philippines in five days and new air blows north and south of Japan were portents today of a war moving west an fact that Admiral Chester W. Nimitz may have to advance his headquarters to catch up with it.

Underlining the tempo of offensive, Nimitz told a press conference the war may be well under way in Japan—although occupation "would be necessary to insure a winning peace"—and mentioned the possibility of American warships bombing Japan.

The commander-in-chief of the Pacific Fleet and Pacific Ocean areas has his eye on the recently invaded Marianas, 3,000 miles away, more than 800 miles past Japanese-held Truk and within 1,200 miles of Tokyo.

It now can be disclosed that Nimitz, after momentous conferences here with President Roosevelt and Gen. Douglas MacArthur, consulted fighting leaders there, as well as his returned, determined "to put the he on as hard and fast as we can."

Larchmont Flyer's Teacher Of Recruit Days Becomes His Pupil In Combat Area

"Turning the tables" is the best description of what happened recently in England to Lt. Robert Gibson of 683 Forest Avenue, Larchmont, and his former instructor, Capt. Wilbur K. Scheible of Akron, Ohio, when they met at an Eighth AAF Fighter Station in England.

Back in Alabama two years ago, Capt. Scheible had given Lt. Gibson, then a novice, his first flight training. He trained him well, too, because in subsequent months, the Larchmont air man destroyed two planes, was decorated with the Distinguished Flying Cross with one Oak Leaf Cluster, and with the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters.

When they met in England, however, Lt. Gibson was the older and more experienced pilot. He was one of the "recruits." The lieutenant was assigned to orient the new pilots to their new work and prepare them for what they would expect to encounter when they landed with the Luftwaffe.

Lt. Gibson proved to be an able instructor because his former pupil, now the pupil, destroyed an ME 109 on his fourth mission over the North Sea. He was a technical engineer, Capt. Scheible has been in the service since Oct. 4, 1941.

Lt. Gibson began his career as a pilot in 1937, and was commissioned in January, 1943. He is the son of Mrs. Robert Gibson of 683 Forest Avenue, Larchmont.

Both men are members of the P-47 Thunderbolt group commanded by Lt. Col. Philip T. Tukey, Jr., of Cape Elizabeth, Me.

2,650 Seek Heat Relief At Harbor Island

Yesterday's continued Summer heat-blast brought the season's second largest crowd to Harbor Island, Village Manager William H. Johnson reported this morning, with 2,650 persons passing through the gates during the day.

In spite of threatening clouds during the afternoon, the crowd was more than twice as large as the throng of 1,300 who sought relief at the beach Saturday when James Reynolds, 38, of 49 Elm Avenue, was overcome while walking past 50 Larchmont Avenue. Reynolds was taken to the hospital and took the last victim to Dr. John Polak for treatment.

Reynolds, who lives at 50 Larchmont Boulevard in Philipshurst, N. J., died at the Elms Street address, according to the police.

Russians Mass In Large Arc Near E. Prussia Mancini Risks Life To Save Ammunition

By DANIEL DE LUCA Associated Press Staff
MOSCOW—The zero hour for an all-out Soviet assault on East Prussia appeared to be approaching rapidly, as German troops massed in a great threatening border to the borders of that German province.

Russian units to the south were 15 to 17 miles from the East Prussian frontier, while the east coast forces were seen to 20 miles away and to the north 30 to 35 miles.

Red Army forces apparently striving to rip Nazi defenses in East Prussia were open from the south, massed in the vicinity of Lomza, vital communications center that line embattled Warsaw with the Junker province. Great tank battles continued west of 100 miles south of Warsaw and within 35 miles of Krakow, the last great Polish bastion guarding industrial centers of German Russia.

German forces were advanced to the Polish coast, where the Russians were planned just outside the Polish coast on the eastern side of the broad and vital Vistula. Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky still was bringing up tanks, supplies and reserves and building communications.

Since Friday the Russians have been deep into German lines, capturing 350 prisoners and forcing 37,000 to the Narew, the upper Bug and the Bzura, crossed Sunday. Progress here was one of the major strategic victories of the Summer campaign for the Germans had mounted massive counterattacks in an attempt to destroy this threatening wing of Rokossovsky's forces.

Confused Enemy Appears Doomed As Allies Gain

SUPREME HQRS. AEP—American tanks and infantry advanced 7 to 12 miles toward Canadian armored infantry leaped forward in a new offensive today, striking for the destruction of the cream of Germany's forces in northwestern Europe, caught in a closing ring with an escape hole less than 16 miles wide.

Palisades Park Closed, Loss $1,500,000

PORT LEE, N. Y. (AP)—Most of Palisades Amusement Park was a smoldering ruin today after a fire in which 100 or more persons were injured or affected by smoke and a Sunday afternoon crowd estimated at 25,000 was sent stampeding.

Several spectacular rescues were effected as flames swept the popular resort atop the Palisades opposite 125th Street, New York City. Scores of those injured or overcome were treated at three hospitals, and a Sunday afternoon crowd estimated at 25,000 was sent stampeding.

Irving Rosenhall, the proprietor, estimated damage to the park at $1,500,000 and said it would be closed for the remainder of the season.

Fires from 14 municipalities fought the blaze which destroyed about 85 per cent of the property and a half hour yesterday afternoon.

Fire Chief continued: "Meanwhile, three men were killed as missing in the pier and ship explosion and fire which broke out Friday night in Hoboken on the Hudson riverfront south of town and continued to smolder today."

Hoboken police chief Edward J. McPhee said the three men who died under fire fighters, were last seen Friday night and had not returned to their homes.

The toll of those injured or overcome by smoke in the multi-million dollar Hoboken fire rose to almost 700 yesterday as 128 additional persons, including firemen, longshoremen, Coast Guardsmen and Red Cross canteen workers were treated.

Two other major weekend fires in the New York City-New Jersey area destroyed a block of buildings along the boardwalk at Wildwood, N. J., with a loss estimated at $250,000 and injured ten persons early Saturday, and destroyed part of Luna Park at Coney Island, New York, Saturday afternoon, with loss estimated between $250,000 and $500,000.

The Palisades Amusement Park fire separated many family groups and circles of friends, and there were frantic scenes as parents searched for children. Most of the 4,000 persons who had sought relief from the 100-degree heat in the summer had sought refuge around in swimming suits before they could get their belongings, which eventually were saved. Between 75 and 100 automobiles in the parking lot were destroyed, and the explosion of gas tanks led to the terror.

Washburn Calls on Park Society To Open Beach

Mayor Demands Action Now To Benefit Children

Mayor Frank S. Washburn this morning sent an urgent letter "by hand" to Edward H. Talum, secretary of the Larchmont Manor Park Society, calling upon the society to open the beach to the children of the Village of Larchmont at once.

Citing the "intense heat wave" and the "oppressive temperatures" frequent between now and the middle of September, the mayor declares: "This is a matter that calls for action before the season of the children of the Village of Larchmont at once."

The Larchmont Board received an inquiry several weeks ago from Miss Lucia Ernst, a teacher in the Larchmont schools, asking why the beach could not be opened at specified hours under proper supervision for the Manor Park Society. Mayor Washburn replied that the beach is the property of the Larchmont Manor Park Society and that the village has no jurisdiction over the beach.

The village of Larchmont and the Town of Mamaroneck are at the present time engaged in litigation on the subject of tax exemption for the Manor Park property.

The claim of the society to tax exemption was upheld last year by the State Tax Commission, but the society was chartered to provide public playgrounds.

The case is being argued and will appear in the Appellate Division this fall.

Mayor Washburn's letter to Mr. Talum follows:

"Because of the intense heat wave which will probably continue and because of oppressive temperatures, it is requested that you, as secretary and as chairman of the beach committee, to open (Continued on Page Three)

VFW Urges Armistice Day Liquor Ban

A resolution addressed to the Liquor Dealers' Association of Westchester County requesting that no liquor be sold in the county for 24 hours following the signing of an armistice was passed last night by the David Potts Jr., Post No. 102 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

With the end of the war believed to be a matter of months, the idea of suspending liquor sales for a day has become "fairly widespread," a VFW Post member explained this morning.

Two new members, Don serving with the 101st Airborne Division, were initiated into the post. They are Staff Sgt. William Perry of 35 Cabot Road, and Pte. Ed. Louis M. Turf of 106 Myrtle Boulevard, both of Larchmont.

Village Declines To Sell Property To Humane Society, Now Facing Lack Of Shelter

The Humane Society, housed for the last several years on the property of Dr. H. K. Miller on Harrison Avenue, Mamaroneck, will be without a shelter after Sept. 1, unless one of the five municipalities served by the organization agrees to sell or lease property for the care of the animals.

Dr. Roscoe Allen, president of the society, said he had been back last night in his search for a shelter for the animals when the Mamaroneck Village Board turned down an offer to purchase property on Hoyt Street in the industrial area.

Accompanying the board's rejection of the offer was a vigorous protest against being left "holding the bag" by Larchmont, the unincorporated area, and the Town of Harrison.

A bid from Anthony Anastasiadis of the Bronx for $4,000 was accepted for the Seaboard property at 622 Monahan Post Road. Assessed by the Village for $14,000, the property measures 160 by 152 feet and is improved with a house and barn. Another bid for $3,500 from George B. Viochak of Harrison was recommended by Village Manager William H. Johnson since it involved no broker's fee, but Edward J. Payne, who represented the trustees of the property, said that they would anticipate every bidder in Mamaroneck. If they rejected his bid, Trustee Edward J. 800 Ships Land Armies Opening Fourth Front

ROME — The Army of France and a great force of battle-hardened Americans and British, struck Hitler on a fourth major front today, invading Southern France and successfully completing all their landings along a broad section of Mediterranean beach around Toulon.

A special communique a few hours after the blow was struck said beaches along a considerable length of the Riviera had been seized by mid-morning according to schedule with scarcely any ground opposition and no air opposition.

The great stab into the "underbelly of Europe," bringing the battle for France to full fury, was backed by more than 800 ships—some of the biggest fleets ever to churn the waters of the Mediterranean.

The troops swarmed ashore with the avowed purpose of linking their Mediterranean theater with their front west of Paris where the Allies apparently were on the point of scoring a great victory which might speedily result in the liberation of most of all France.

The Army of France is in being again, fighting on the soil for the liberation of its country with all the traditions of victory behind it. Remember 1918? It was the ringing declaration of the commander-in-chief of the invasion force, Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson.

During other sunrise, seven waves of infantry advanced in the first two hours and seized their initial objectives with great rapidity at many places along a 125-mile stretch of the Riviera between the great port of Marseille and the Alps.

Shortly before dawn a large airborne combat force descended into the rugged hills which rise from the coastline and went into a group with the German defenders for possession of key communication points and commanding vantage points.

The invasion was accompanied by the signal from the French National Committee and Allied commanders to all Frenchmen to rise up against their German oppressors and indications were that the well organized underground army of southern France had responded.

Scarcely an hour had passed when big transport planes and gliders which put the air-borne troops down.

American, British, French, Canadian, Netherlands, Polish, Belgian and Belgian warships covered the entire coastline, their guns carrying American veterans of Italy, and French forces which had fought in Italy and North Africa. Most of the air-borne troops were believed to be British.

The prodigious invasion effort, involving hundreds of thousands of men and mountains of supplies and equipment, was not far from the end of the Rhone River.

Rush Cuts Odds On End Of War

LONDON, (AP)—Allied success in France has caused a rash and mounting of supplies and have cut the odds against the European war ending by the last of October.

The current popular odds are 100 to 15 compared with 200 to 7 three months ago.

Woman Dies When Storm Upsets Boat

Mrs. Fordyce Drowned as Sloop Capsizes In Squall On Sound

FIVE OTHERS RESCUED

Mrs. Catherine Fordyce, 29, 29 Seneca Place, Larchmont, was drowned yesterday on Mamaroneck Sound when the 18-foot sloop on which she was sailing with five other persons capsized in the sudden storm which stranded Long Island Sound about 5 P. M.

Mrs. Fordyce was drowned when she became exhausted after having clung to the overturned craft more than an hour. Her body was recovered several hours later off Matinecock Point, Glen Cove, L. I.

Her husband, William K. Fordyce, 50, their six-year-old daughter, Jean, a friend, Mrs. Ina Jordan, 38, of New York, and her daughter, Jean, 11, were rescued by three veteran American divisions and supported by heavily armed French forces.

Mrs. Fordyce said that the sloop was overturned by the storm and its occupants escaped injury in the capsizing. She said she was clinging to the capsized boat as it was tossed about in the stormy weather.

The party had left the shore at about 4 P. M. and was returning to the Sound at dusk. The wind was blowing from the east and the sea was choppy.

It required more than half an hour for the rescue. Harry Saul, 40, who was in the cutter, dove overboard to swim to the overturned sloop and help the survivors.

Shortly before 8 o'clock, Joseph Healy, 40, of Glen Cove, who had been fishing from his cruiser, telephoned the police to report the accident.

Healy said that he had seen Mrs. Fordyce's body near the overturned sloop. He said that he had seen the other survivors were allowed to go home.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 1:30 P. M. at the residence of T. Davis Memorial in New Rochelle.

AMERICANS CAPTURE THREE KEY CITIES IN ADVANCE WITHIN 35 MILES OF PARIS; GERMANS HOLD 50-MILE FRONT ON RIVER

Invaders Drive Near Toulon And Cannes

By NOLA ALLEGRI Associated Press Staff

ROME—Allied troops have punched out a solid front 50 miles broad and about 30 miles deep along the coast of southern France, Maj. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's Seventh Army headquarters announced today.

On the west invasion forces were within 10 miles of the historic fortified naval base of Toulon. On the east they were within 10 miles of the picturesque resort of Cannes.

The German communique said the Allies already had penetrated Cannes. German prisoners reported air force troops had landed northwest of Cannes and entered the town from the east.

The Allied announcements listed other Allied units—the coastal towns of St. Tropez, St. Raphael, Fréjus, and La Seyne, and the inland communities of Le Muy, La Luc, and Collobrières.

It was probable that the Allied tanks were well beyond all these points, and there was a possibility that the assault on Toulon might already have begun, since the enemy still was offering only limited resistance.

The German staff has concentrated considerable forces in that sector along the coast for a desperate stand.

The annual Manufacturers Chamber of Commerce board meeting was extended an hour beyond schedule yesterday when the 60-foot power boat which took the party to Lion's Neck I. I. early in the afternoon detained in Stamford in an attempt to maintain a steady pace through the sudden storm which hit the Sound shortly after 5 P. M.

More than 50 members and guests had lunch, went swimming off Lion's Neck and enjoyed a program of games during the afternoon.

The storm broke just as the boat headed toward home and, as the course was changed toward Stamford, the party continued playing games and enjoying a program of music on the long ride home. The boat docked about 7 P. M. without mishap.

U. S. TROOPS BATTLING THROUGH SUBURBS OF PARIS; GERMAN INVASION REPEATED

Toulon Flanked As Invaders Push 32 Miles Inland

By EDWARD KENNEDY
Associated Press Staff

ROME—Maj. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's Seventh Army, extending its southern France beachhead to 1,000 square miles, has spearheaded westward to within 51 miles of Marseilles in a drive flanking Toulon and has plunged 32 miles inland, Allied Headquarters announced today.

A front 20 miles broad has been driven to the north and behind Toulon, the French naval base, which American bombers yesterday blasted, the beleaguered French battleship Strasbourg in the harbor.

Latest announcements put American and French forces only six miles northeast of Toulon, but other advance units spreading over a network of inland roads, were pointed directly toward the Rhone Valley through the passes which by Pass Toulon and Marseille.

The latest news came from the coast and 35 miles northeast of Toulon. The advance units were led by the 1st and 2nd Divisions, 14 miles north of Toulon.

Other towns taken were Solliès-Po, Gargas, Vain, and Brignoles, all within 20 miles of Toulon.

In the approach to the Allied base along the coast the invaders encountered some stiff German resistance, but the invaders, by inland, the opposition was less.

Petain's Regime Fleeing Vichy To New Capital

BILLETEN (AP)—A Reuters dispatch from Stockholm today quoted the Berlin correspondent of Aftonbladet as saying three American columns were now fighting their way through the Paris suburbs.

LONDON, (AP)—Marshal Petain's government is moving from Vichy to a new, undisclosed location, a Reuters broadcast said today. A German foreign office spokesman was quoted as saying Petain had already fled Paris.

Berlin broadcasts said a direct thrust of American forces on Paris is not on "the day moment" with French in flight from Paris were German forces in the area and all personnel of the German Embassy, Berlin Radio said.

FRANCE reached its last stage today—pursuit and annihilation of one German army and part of another fleeing northward toward Rouen and the almost bridged Seine.

Allied airmen reported the destruction of 3,800 enemy vehicles forced onto roads in daytime in an effort to escape. The German columns were coming under the most terrific air bombardment in any battlefield ever has further word on the advance of Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army.

Patton's army opened the bombardment of Paris in several directions and in some cases had withdrawn.

A senior British staff officer at the front predicted that Field Marshal Gerd von Rundstedt's battered 15th Army would not stop at the Seine River but would fall back even farther to a shorter front.

Super headquarters announced that Allied troops had reached Dunkirk and were 100 miles west and slightly north of Calais and 25 miles west and slightly south of Bouen.

British Second Army troops captured elements of 18 German divisions yesterday. Germans still caught in the Normandy trap were declared to be abandoning chaotically to escape eastward.

Enemy forces that freed themselves from the pocket straggled north toward the Seine after Patton's men virtually had donned their new way of falling back toward Paris.

In the first advance along the Normandy coast since D-Day, the Canadian First Army reached the edge of Caen and Dives-Sur-Mer in an area some 35 miles northwest of Caen and 15 miles south of Le Havre on the Seine.

The supreme command said there would be a temporary block-up of new in some sectors, since the Germans were so close to confusion they did not know where they were going. Any announcement of Allied positions which they could hear by radio would help them.

While the American Third Army private army "Village of Larchmont" are you thinking of the political boundaries of the village, or do you also include children of summer tenants?

Their appearance in World War II, had a "sobering impression" on the delegates.

The Legion also opposed plans of existing education legislation requiring education, submitted by the Government, to attend "regular" or full-time courses. This, he said, would hamper those veterans who want an advanced education but who cannot devote all their time to it.

"If the purpose of the Government is to help veterans such as I, to eliminate some of the able but not alone those who have not been able to do so far as I am concerned, I am in favor of it," Mr. Seely said.

July Paper Pickup Totals 101,348 Lbs.

The next 8-day in the Village of Mamaroneck for an all-out drive for waste paper will be Sept. 17, according to reports from Charles D. Sillick, chairman of the drive under the Village Solid Waste Committee, announced this morning.

The day will mark the third Sunday afternoon set aside for the collection of the streets of the Village by a fleet of trucks which will be used to transport all paper to freight cars at the station for incineration to the mill.

The total figures for the month of July, according to reports, are 101,348 pounds, nearly 70,000 less than the month before but still over the 90,000-pound monthly quota for the Village.

The extraordinary record set by the first pickup in time, the chairman attributes to the fact that residents packed stacks of accumulated papers and magazines out of cellars and attics wherever they were, the paper salvaged and saved and stored the former pickup.

In addition to the 59,000 pounds of paper collected during the one-day drive, the Village reported an additional 42,348 pounds of paper collected as follows toward the 101,348 pound total.

Schools, 4,600 pounds; Salvation Army, 4,600 pounds; A. P. Market, 4,000 pounds; First National Market, 4,000 pounds; Camotone, 7,000 pounds; Pure Food, 2,791 pounds; Taylor Bros., 440; apartment houses, 4,000 pounds; incinerator, 500 pounds.

The committee urges all residents to bundle their papers by the date of pickup and to bring them before the drive. All papers must be securely tied with string.

Ten Injured In 3-Alarm Yonkers Blaze

Lt. CHARLES C. BEALL

YONKERS—An explosion, the cause of which has not yet been determined, wrecked a war plant and caused a three-alarm fire in Yonkers which at least ten persons were injured shortly before 6 o'clock this morning.

The blast occurred in the long one-story building of Sontag, Inc., at 909 Saw Mill River Road, and threatened the adjoining warehouse. Ambulances were called from the house of A. Sika and sons, filled with highly inflammable paints, varnishes and similar products.

It wasn't a very good place to land, said the sergeant. The paint and other underpinned people were good to see, and tried to take care of it.

Chocolate sodas and milk, and other of the boys of being home again, are putting back the weight lost during the long trek to safety.

"It's great to be home and to have had old 'America's' opinion once more," he added.

Lt. Beall was enthusiastic about the recent enlistment of his sister, Barbara, in the WAVES, which he described as "a very good deal." Miss Beall was sworn into the Navy July 26, in "managing" for her brother's return.

Explaining the difference between the Red Cross and the Yonkers, Beall said that a sortie is a trip over the target, while missions are made to the distance into enemy territory.

Lt. Beall had high praise for the Red Cross in Italy where he described its activities recently to Mrs. Frederic G. Barrett, chairman of public relations of the Larchmont Branch of the American Red Cross.

There were always Red Cross girls, all young and attractive, he said, to meet the flyers returning from a mission with doughnuts, cookies and coffee. Everywhere there were servicemen, there were young girls for officers, and young girls for sergeants and other ranks. The clubs were always staffed with Red Cross girls whose duties were to provide comfort, entertainment and dancing partners.

At the hospital and rest camp to which Lt. Beall was sent following his return to his base, the Red Cross girls were in daily attendance, helping with letter writing when necessary, and building up the men's morale by their encouraging presence.

He told of tours conducted by the Red Cross in various Italian towns and cities and of their great popularity. "There were always more applicants than could be accommodated," he said.

Lt. Beall really stressed the value of the kit bags which he had lost in the crash. "Men who have bailed out as I did, they would have been in a fix, if they are fortunate enough to get a kit bag," he declared, "and small comforts is what we appreciate most."

At the end of his 23-day leave, he will report to the Rehabilitation Center at Atlantic City, N. J., where he further orders await him.

Beall, before commencing his service, had attended Brown University, before enlisting in the service on Aug. 2, 1942. He was graduated from August from the hospital after the crash of his plane, where he received his commission.

Dewey Wants Labor Curbs Off After War

ALBANY, (AP)—In a Labor Day proclamation, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey asserted today that it warrants restrictions on labor that left in the hands of the Government after hostilities cease, they could "totally end the right of collective bargaining."

The Republican Presidential nominee, who was criticized recently by Philip Pearl, American Federation of Labor publicist, for declining to furnish the APF with a special Labor Day message, said his proclamation 10 days ahead of the holiday. Aides said such advance releases were not uncommon.

Declaring that there had not been a major strike in New York since Pearl Harbor, Dewey said that "the fruits of this peace on the hour-fort are being harvested on the plains of Tuxedo, Normandy, Brittany and Provence, as well as on the far-flung islands of the Pacific."

"Let us make sure—not pausing for a moment in our efforts to provide the fighting fronts with all they need and more—that by next Labor Day we would have peace on the wartime restrictions which have been imposed on labor," he said. "These restrictions, if left in the hands of Government, could destroy the institution of free American labor movement and totally end the right of collective bargaining."

The other arrested identified themselves as Matthew Bachman, 25, of White Plains; John J. Parnish, 30, of John Park, 21, John Rice, 44, of Guido Avenue, 41, Karl Boush, 43, of Joseph Terrace, 15, and Harry J. Caspi, 31.
