SERVING MAMARONECK AND LARCHMONT

ESTABLISHED OCT. 1925 — MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATION — MAMARONECK, N. Y., SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1952 — MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — PRICE FIVE CENTS

Combing The Town

On 12-Day Leave

Pvt. Benny Ricci, above, twenty-one-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ricci of 288 Madison Avenue, Mamaroneck, is spending a 12-day leave at home before reporting to Camp Stoneman, Calif., for assignment to Korea.

Pvt. Ricci was inducted into the Army Aug. 30, 1951, and has just completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C. He is a member of a heavy weapons company in a field artillery battalion of the 9th Infantry Division.

Ricci attended Mamaroneck High School and was an automotive mechanic at Blood Brothers garage before his entry into the Army.

Course For Seamen

Fresh and salt water boatmen can learn how to sail from here to there without getting lost Tuesday night when M. S. Burroughs of Hartsdale, former commander of the Westchester Power Squadron, will give a talk on "Aids to Navigation" in Room 106 of the Mamaroneck Senior High School.

The free lecture will be part of a series being held each Tuesday from 8 to 9 P. M. under sponsorship of the squadron. Sixteen persons attended last week when Arnold Manchester of 510 Stanley Avenue, Mamaroneck, opened the series with a discussion of the principles of sailing.

Mr. Manchester explained how to sail close-hauled, how to come about or gybe and how to come up to a mooring.

Talks To Mining Ass'n

Removal of Federal price controls from lead and zinc was recommended by Felix E. Wormser of 1 Acorn Lane, Larchmont, in a speech yesterday before members of the Colorado Mining Association in Denver, Colo. Mr. Wormser is vice president of the St. Joseph Lead Company, New York City.

He declared that the establishment of a price ceiling lower than the world market had dropped imports of lead and zinc from 550,000 tons in 1950 to 375,000 tons in 1951.

Mr. Wormser, who has resided in Larchmont for more than 20 years, is a past president of the Mining and Metallurgic Society of America. He is at present a member of the board of Governors of the Westchester Country Club. The Wormsers have two married daughters.

Caught In Tree

Three-year-old Frederick Maltese of 129 New Street got stuck yesterday—in a tree, not up one.

Young Maltese was playing in a yard at 104 Winfield Avenue when he discovered a tree stump about five feet tall. The spirit of adventure was high in the youth and he decided to investigate.

He got into the tree successfully but then found he couldn't move up or down. His cries brought Mrs. Gertrude Jackson of 104 Winfield Avenue who called police.

When officers arrived, however, they found that Mrs. Jackson and Juniata Wilson, also of the Winfield Avenue address, had pulled Freddy out of the stump, none the worse for his experience.

Neuburg Commissioned

Edward Peter Neuburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Neuburg of 20 Lincoln Street, Larchmont, was commissioned an ensign in the Naval Reserve yesterday upon his graduation from Officer Candidate School at the Naval Station, Newport, R. I. He has been designated a communications specialist and will report for duty to the Naval Communications Center in Washington, D. C.

Ensign Neuburg stood third in the class of 162 students in the OCS class.

A former student of Mamaroneck Junior High School and an alumnus of the Windward School in White Plains, Ensign Neuburg was graduated with honors from Swathmore College in 1948 with a bachelor's degree in mathematics and from the University of Chicago in 1949 with an M. S. in mathematics. At Swathmore he won three varsity letters in soccer and was a member of the Glee Club, the Outing Club and Delta Upsilon fraternity.

During 1949-1950 Ensign Neuburg was a mathematics instructor at the University of Vermont.

During World War II he served in the Navy for two years as a radar technician second class aboard the aircraft carrier Hornet. He was recalled to service while he was commencing work for his Ph.D. at Harvard and was first assigned to teach electronics at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station before he won admittance to the officer school.

He married the former Elaine Greene of Swarthmore, Pa.

Humphrey To Carry Truman's Banner In Minnesota Primary

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Senator Humphrey, D., Minn., said today he will carry the banner of President Truman in the Minnesota Democratic primary March 18 despite the President's comment that such contests are eyewash.

Senator Humphrey told a reporter he agrees with President Truman's statement that it he wants the nomination he can get it without entering any primaries.

Mr. Truman made this comment at the same news conference at which he called Presidential primaries eyewash.

"My own personal feeling is that Presidential primaries are very desirable," Senator Humphrey said. "In fact all states should have them."

Humphrey Slate Filed

A slate of delegates pledged to Senator Humphrey, forty-one, as the "favorite - son" Democratic Presidential entry was filed in Minnesota yesterday.

Senator Humphrey has explained that he favors renomination of Mr. Truman if the President will accept and that Minnesota delegates pledged to him will actually go to Mr. Truman if he is a candidate again.

At the same time Republican slates were filed in Minnesota for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Gen. Douglas MacArthur for the March 18 primary, second in the nation.

If Gen. MacArthur follows his previous pattern he will formally withdraw from the Minnesota contest, leaving Gen. Eisenhower pitted against Harold E. Stassen, former Minnesota Governor, for the state's 28 delegates to the GOP nominating convention.

In St. Paul, Mr. Stassen suggested that Senator Taft, (R. Ohio), reconsider and enter the Minnesota primary. That way, he said, the people would have a thorough choice.

Mac Arthur Given Outside Chance

Senator Capehart, (R.Ind), predicted last night Gen. MacArthur would win the Republican nomination if a convention stalemate develops between Taft and Eisenhower supporters.

But, he added, in the meantime "my ticket is Senator Taft for President and Gen. MacArthur for Vice President, and I think they'll be nominated and elected."

Taft headquarters here meanwhile announced state chairmen for Utah, Arizona and New Mexico and appointment of a coordinator for the Northwestern states.

Eisenhower backers got reports from Canada, and Oklahoma yesterday which raised their hopes.

Ike May Return In June

Lester B. Pearson, Canadian Foreign Minister and chairman of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, told a press conference in Ottawa that Gen. Eisenhower was expected to remain in Paris as NATO commander until June.

This aroused speculation the general may return to the United States in June to clear his sig on his views before the Republican national convention meets in July.

In Oklahoma, Eisenhower backers picked up another delegate to

FIRE DAMAGES ROOF IN WOODWORK SHOP

The roof and a small interior room of the Belsaw Circular Saw and Woodwork Shop on Heyt Street, Mamaroneck, were badly damaged by fire this morning.

The blaze started in the side room of the small stucco building and spread to the roof before it was discovered.

Firemen from the Volunteer and Mamaro companies of the Mamaroneck Fire Department, under direction of Chief George D. Perschke, were forced to chop through the roof and to clear the room of cartons of shop clothing and bedding in order to get at the conflagration.

The blaze did not spread to the main room of the shop, measuring about 12 by 15 feet, where machinery was erected, and except for possible water damage the machines were undamaged.

The shop is owned by Arrie Holland of 47 Nogh Chatsworth Avenue, Mamaroneck.

Insufficient Evidence Kills Assault Charge

Charges of second degree assault brought against Joseph Huber and Joseph Huber Jr. of 370 Mamaroneck Avenue by John Cosenda of 518 Lester Avenue, Mamaroneck, were dropped last night in Mamaroneck Village Police Court.

Judge Henry T. Hornidge ruled that there was insufficient evidence against the Hubers to warrant holding them for action of a Grand Jury.

Mr. Gondola filed the charges originally on Oct. 24 last year, after an altercation in the driveway of the Gondola home.

RED INSPECTION PLAN REJECTED AS INADEQUATE

U.N. Negotiators Turn Down Proposal To Restrict Visits To 6 Ports

MUNSAN, Korea (AP) — Allied negotiators today rejected a Communist proposal to restrict behind the-line inspections during a Korean truce to three Communist and three U. N. ports of entry.

"Entirely inadequate," said a U. N. staff officer.

The Allies have proposed inspections at 12 ports of entry on each side.

Problem Under Study

Col. Don O. Darrow, senior Allied staff officer, said the whole problem still is under study. He gave no hint whether the Allies might agree to inspections at fewer than 12 points behind the Red lines.

For the second straight day, the Reds did not answer a U. N. proposal to start work immediately on the final item of the armistice agenda—recommendations to belligerent governments.

This would permit discussion of a favorite Communist topic—withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea.

The Reds also failed to name the three neutral nations they want to represent them on neutral inspection teams. The U. N. has chosen Norway, Sweden and Switzerland.

Police Plan Reread

The staff officers completed a second reading of the U. N. Blueprint for policing an armistice and agreed on a number of minor changes.

Several points remained in dispute, however, and Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, official U. N. spokesman, said "Tomorrow they will get to the meat of the differences."

However, the staff officers aren't even discussing the key issue of whether the Reds may build airfields during the armistice.

Allied staff officers today insisted that either side be allowed to

TAB RUSH LETS UP AFTER 6-DAY JAM

Auto Bureau Staff Weathers Worst Storm In History; Some Thefts Reported

WHITE PLAINS—

The rush on the Auto Bureau for license plate tabs began to ease off today after an overstrained staff weathered the worst six-day jam in the bureau's history.

Police were inclined to be lenient with motorists who did not have the tabs on the due date yesterday, but some departments ordered arrests in cases of bare 1951 rear plates. State officials indicated they would ask for strict enforcement Monday.

The police had another worry as forearmed car owners reported thefts of 1952 tabs. Up to yesterday eight owners had paid $1 each for substitute tabs. Police suggested they be riveted to the license plate although each bears a number corresponding to one stamped on the license.

Overworked Staff Lauded

County Clerk Robert J. Field said today of his valiant staff, "I thought some of them would collapse. The air was foul and they worked both early and late handling those thousands of applies.

U.S. Price Index Stands 3.2 P.C. Below Last Year

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The government's wholesale price index today stood at 3.2 per cent below a year ago and 12.4 per cent above the pre-Korean War level.

This was revealed in the Bureau of Labor Statistics report that the index rose two-tenths of 1 per cent during the week ended Jan. 29, reaching 176.3 per cent of the 1926 average.

Increases in wholesale prices of farm products, metals and metal products were offset partially by declines in foods, textiles, building materials and chemicals, the bureau said.

MONKEY BUSINESS, perpetrated by KoKo, a trained chimpanzee, was a feature of the program last night at the annual entertainment and dance of the Westchester Shore Humane Society at the Larchmont Shore Club. More than 300 persons attended the event and the program included animal acts, vocal selections, a magic act and a musical variety team. Shown above shaking hands with KoKo is T. Roosevelt Allen, president of the Humane Society. The animal is held by its trainer, James Griebringer.

Question of the Week

Residents Give Many Reasons For Locating In Community

This is the 226th in a Saturday series of short interviews with residents on issues of the day — local and national. This week's question: "HOW DID YOU HAPPEN TO CHOOSE THIS COMMUNITY AS YOUR HOME?"

Antonio Bartolomucci, 330 Center Avenue, Mamaroneck: "I came to Mamaroneck 30 years ago from Italy, near Cassino, because my father-in-law was here. I don't know exactly why he came to Mamaroneck, except that in those days the Italian immigrants tended to move in bunches as the word would spread back in Italy. I suppose there was a lot of work here on the new roads and developments—they were opening up."

Mrs. Anthony Staropoli, 20 Baldwin Avenue, Larchmont: "We chose Larchmont because my husband had a lot of relatives and friends living here. We moved down from Bridgeport when my husband opened a car-lot in New Rochelle. Now he's working in Bridgeport again. I don't know..."

Mrs. Robert Duncan, 436 Rushmore Avenue, Mamaroneck: "I suppose we moved here because we found the house we wanted—on Melbourne Avenue at first. And we liked the harbor and being in sight of the Sound and within walking distance of the station. And I guess after you've lived here a while you get so you love it, and then you never leave."

Mrs. John Seeco, 14 Gerlach Place, Larchmont: "Well, I was born in Larchmont, and I've never wanted to live anywhere else, with Larchmont as nice as it is."

Mrs. Americo Di Russo, 120 Eliot Avenue, Mamaroneck: "Both my husband and I were born here. Our folks came here from Italy. I know that my father came because he had brothers and sisters here in Mamaroneck."

Mrs. John Soriano, 84 Weaver Street, Larchmont: "I came to Larchmont years ago with my father and mother. I was a very small child, but I think he came because there was more work in Larchmont than in neighboring communities. He worked for the village at first, doing construction and road jobs and such."

Mrs. Bruce Daybrough, 1104 Park Avenue, Mamaroneck: "I was born here and so naturally favored Mamaroneck when my husband was looking for a place within commuting distance of New York. We did consider buying a house in Connecticut, but felt we got more for our money here in Mamaroneck."

Mrs. Leonard Alt, Larchmont Acres, Larchmont: "I've lived in Larchmont all my life and liked it. I'll admit the idea of living in California has its appeals . . . I'd like to try out out there for a while."

Mrs. James Rodrigues, 146 Pelham Street, Mamaroneck: "My husband and I were both born here and both our folks were born

Recently Discharged Vets Form A Club All Their Own

A group of recently-discharged Army and Navy veterans had an idea. They were loose again but without activity to occupy their spare time after a full life in the service.

So they formed a club, naming it in honor of two Mamaroneck men who lost their lives in Korea —William P. Keery and Richard R. O'Reilly.

Their interest was athletic so as the first project they organized a basketball team. Lacking uniforms they went to Police Chief Louis Giancola for advice and in shorter time than it takes to tell it, they had been completely equipped through funds donated by the Mamaroneck Police Benevolent Association.

Although as yet no officers have been elected, Hugh A. McGinley is acting as spokesman for the group, originally made up of the following ex-G.I.'s—William Pooley, James Russo, Vincent Lanza, Frank Costa and William McNamara.

Their basketball team has been successful—winning four and losing two of the first six games. They play in the Mamaroneck Senior League and the Scarsdale Recreation Open Division League, as well as independently at home Tuesday evenings at the Mamaroneck Avenue School.

McGinley, who saw three years service with the Army Engineers in Alaska, the Aleutians and Greenland, told the Daily Times of plans for the future.

They hope first to be able to find a clubhouse, which they plan to furnish with donated articles.

"We hope to expand into a youth recreation club for Mamar-

2 TO WIN EAGLES AT SCOUT DINNER

Krezel, Pirone Of Troop 1 To Be Honored At Thursday Fete

Two Mamaroneck Boy Scouts will receive Eagle Scout rank at the 42nd Scout Birthday Dinner and Court of Honor which will be held at 7:30 P. M. Thursday at St. Thomas's Community House.

Kenneth Krezel of 401 Chestnut Avenue and Frank Pirone of 144 Fenimore Road, both members of Troop 1, were awarded the honor last night at an advancement round table of Mamaroneck district leaders in the Methodist Church. Alvah R. Small Jr. advancement chairman, presided.

A Board of Review also endorsed the advancement of six scouts to Star and Life scouts and approximately 50 boys will receive merit badges at the court of honor which will be a father and son affair. Mothers of the two new Eagle scouts have been invited to attend as guests of honor.

The round table also discussed the realignment of requirements for merit badges as well as the appointment or counselor personnel for the 15 merit badge groups. New chairmen for each of the groups will be announced within a month.

Special stress during the advancement discussion was laid on scout participation in civic, community and church activities as well as the development of personal responsibility for the care and protection of community and institutional property and equipment.

Present at last night's meeting were Oscar Birch, scoutmaster and Carmine Ricci and Herbert Birch, assistant scoutmasters of Troop 1 of St. Thomas's Church; Marcus Moore, scoutmaster, William Black, assistant scoutmaster, and Perry Andrews, advancement chairman of Troop 2, Mamaroneck Methodist Church; William McBride, committeeman of Troop 3, Holy Trinity Church; Vincent Viti, scoutmaster and Michael Fratalone, assistant scoutmaster of Troop 4, St. Vito's Church; and Sy Stern, committeeman of Troop 6, Daniel Warren School; also, Everett T. Houghton, chairman of the Mamaroneck District Committee, and Russell G. Pelton, advancement chairman for Siwanoy Council.

SAAR ISSUE TERMED UNFORTUNATE BY U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department considers it "most unfortunate" that France and Germany have linked their disputes over the coal-rich Saar region with European defense talks.

The disagreement was spotlighted again yesterday even as West Germany formally ratified a French formula for pooling Europe's coal and steel becoming the first of the six nations involved to do so.

The Bundesrat, upper house of parliament, unanimously approved the Schuman plan, already passed by the Bundestag, the lower house.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, in urging ratification, said many Germans doubt France seriously wants partnership with Germany. He cited French actions in the Saar economically tied in with French but claimed by the Germans. Gilbert Grandval was named French Ambassador there, despite German expressions of disapproval.

MORRIS SELECTS JUSTICE DEPT. AS TARGET OF PROBE

G. O. P. Lawyer To Launch Cleanup Campaign On Monday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Newbold Morris, newly-named head of the Truman administration's long - promised government cleanup campaign, launches his "let the chips fall where they may" investigations Monday with the Justice Department his first target.

Mr. Morris, a 6-foot, 3-inch wealthy Republican lawyer from New York, announced the appointment yesterday as "independent" supervisor of a projected housecleaning designed to weed out any corruption in government agencies.

Sworn in by Attorney General McGrath, Mr. Morris said promptly and bluntly, in Mr. McGrath's presence, that he proposed to start his work by looking into the Attorney General's department.

2d Investigation Announced

The House Judiciary Committee earlier this week also voted to make a separate "non-political" investigation of the Justice Department. It acted in the wake of recent tax scandal disclosures and continuing charges by Republicans that Mr. McGrath' office has "dragged its feet" in prosecutions and other wise lacked vigor in prosecutive official misdeeds.

There were indications there might be a race to see which would investigate the department first—Mr. Morris or the committee.

Mr. Morris told newsmen his work would get underway at A. M. Monday, that both President Truman and Mr. McGrath had given him a completely free hand, and that his policy would be "let the chips fall where they may".

"This is probably the most important job I will ever have," he said.

Morris Reaction Mixed

Congressional reaction to his appointment—as a special assistant to the Attorney General to investigate the "extent of venality in the Federal service"—was mixed.

Although most hailed him as a capable, honest man for the job, some Republicans voiced suspicion the Democrats were using a Republican to help pull administration acorns out of the fire.

"I hope this does not indicate a plant on the part of the administration to use Morris as window dressing while it sabotages his efforts to clean house," said Representative Bramblett, R., Calif.

Representative Keating, R., N. Y., called the selection a "13th hour maneuver" and an admission that no one in Mr. McGrath's office is "qualified by ability and character to fight corruption."

CHILD HURT IN FALL AGAINST DOOR HINGE

A gash requiring two stitches was opened in the forehead of two-year-old Lauretta Revnabel at 4:48 P. M. yesterday when she fell and struck her head against a door-hinge in her parents apartment at 181 Myrtle Boulevard, Larchmont.

The child's grandparents, who were alone in the home with her at the time, called the child's uncle, Thomas Francolin, who operates the store immediately below the apartment, and Mr. Francolin summoned passing Patrolman Louis Turco of the Town of Mamaroneck police.

Patrolman Turco told Mr. Francolin to call police headquarters and request a doctor. Meanwhile he administered first aid.

Dr. Seymour H. Fine of 1866 Palmer Avenue, Larchmont, was called and closed the gash with two stitches.

Auto Rips Across Lawn, Victim Is Rushed To Hospital

Mary Rita Gillespie, nineteen, of 9 Bayeau Road, New Rochelle, was taken unconscious to United Hospital, Port Chester, at 10 A. M. today after the car which she was driving went out of control on Orienta Avenue, Mamaroneck, and smashed through the side of a garage owned by Edwin A. Willhelf, 320 Orienta Avenue.

A witness, Gene McKiever of 206 Pelham Street, Mamaroneck, said that he heard something snap in the automobile and then saw the car carrom across the lawn with the driver still erect at the wheel and smash into the building.

A neighbor called Mamaroneck police, who responded with an ambulance.

Miss Gillespie was taken from the car unconscious and in a state of shock and taken to United Hospital.

Police Charge Unemployed NYC Men With $114,000 Jewel Robbery

NEW YORK, (AP) — A youth, 11-year-old memory of a Park Avenue apartment led to the $114,000 jewel robbery of fashion designer Mollie Parnis, according to police who cracked the case.

Three flashily-clad youths have been arrested in the holdup. About $95,000 worth of the jewelry has been recovered.

Police said they solved the robbery yesterday with admissions by Joseph "The Blimp" Paladino, twenty-four, Carmine "Toothsie" Zoccolillo, twenty-one, and Joseph "Jojo" Guidice, also twenty-one, all unemployed New Yorkers.

As a thirteenth floor laundry delivery boy, police said, Paladino once called on the designer and her husband, department store executive Leon Livingston, and made a mental note of the rich furnishings.

Recalled Lavish Apartment

When he lost an upholstery job about a month ago, Paladino was quoted as saying, he "remembered how fancy their place was. I was broke and needed money, and I knew they were wealthy."

Continuing the story, police said: Zoccolillo on Tuesday went to the apartment, posing as a laundry delivery man, and left a package. That evening one of the three phoned that there had been an error and that the lajndry would take back the package on the following day, Wednesday.

This was the day Zoccolillo called, was later joined by the other two, and at pistol-and-knife point took the jewels and about $1,500 in cash. They held Miss Parnis, her cook, butler and secretary at bay as they ransacked the apart-

TWO AUTOS DAMAGED IN REAR-END CRASH

Cars driven by the Rev. E. L. Williams of New Rochelle and Gus Nye of Plainfield, Conn., were damaged yesterday when they crashed at 4:02 P. M. on the Post Road in Larchmont.

According to Larchmont police, the Williams car, which was westbound on the Post Road, stopped because traffic ahead was halted and the Nye car, following, was unable to stop in time to avoid a collision.

Rev. Mr. Williams' car was damaged on the rear bumper, trunk door and rear quarter panel, and the front grill of the Nye car was pushed in.

Both cars were able to leave the scene under their own power, however, and there were no injuries or arrests following the accident.

On Duty in Okinawa

Corp. Stanley Miller, above, son of Mrs. Agnes Miller of 2 Fernwood Road, Larchmont, is stationed in Okinawa with the Air Force. He enlisted in November, 1949, and took basic training in Houston, Texas.

In November, 1950, Corp. Miller was transferred to Denver, Col., to the Air Force Supply School at the University of Denver. While stationed there he studied art at the university during his off-duty hours.

A 1949 graduate of Mamaroneck High School Corp. Miller was a member of the glee club there and the A Cappella Choir. He studied at the Art Students League in New York City and hopes to be a commercial artist after serving the term of his enlistment.

Partly a Mystery

Town of Mamaroneck police were quick to solve one mystery that presented itself over the week-end. At least they solved part of it.

Mrs. George Croll of 145 Palmer Avenue called the department Saturday when she found the outside padlock broken on her cellar bulkhead. She told the reporting officer that she had heard footsteps in her driveway around 10 o'clock the preceding night and thought the same person must have broken the lock in an attempt to enter the house.

"No," said the officer after a brief look at the police records, "we can rule that out. The footsteps were made by Detective Sgt. Chauncey Smith and Sgt. William Cunningham of the Town force."

They had been investigating another incident in the vicinity at the time.

Uninvited 'Guests'

Three teen-aged boys who tried unsuccessfully to "crash" a party at the home of Mrs. Walter Haeger, 21 Kenmare Road, Larchmont, on Saturday night, will probably not be invited to the next party they, either.

Mrs. Haeger reported to Town police at 9:50 P. M. that after they had been refused admittance at the door, the boys broke a front window and cracked another, and in a last desperate gesture of defiance, threw a tricycle, which had been left on the lawn, all the way across the street.

In Training

Harold R. Keech, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rexford Keech of 329 Wagner Avenue, Mamaroneck, has completed four weeks of an eight-week Air Force indoctrination course at Sampson Air Force Base, Geneva, N. Y. where he was ordered following his enlistment for a four-year period.

During his initial training he has attended classes in mathematics, character guidance and the customs of the service. In the final four weeks of his course at Sampson he will be instructed in psychological and chemical warfare and in the use of firearms.

Keech is twenty-one years old and was graduated in 1947 from Bellows High School He was employed by Happiness Laundry before entering the service.

In July, 1949 he married the former Marie King, daughter of Mrs. Marie King and the late Mr. King of 1501 Franklin Avenue, Mamaroneck.

Auto Vandalism

Three cases of auto vandalism and one of youngsters looting parked cars were reported to Mamaroneck Village police over the weekend.

Saturday at 9:30 A. M. Joseph Milone of 208 Wagner Avenue reported that the side view mirror, aerial and three windows of his car had been smashed while it was parked overnight in front of his home.

Mrs. Helen R. Fecke of Harrison reported at 11:30 A. M. Saturday that the left front window of her car had been broken while it was parked on Mamaroneck Avenue near Palmer Avenue between 10 and 10:30 A. M.

Yesterday at 3 P. M. Reuben Sirlin of 210 Wagner Avenue told police that side view mirrors of his car and the mirror and a window of Mrs. Sirlin's auto had been smashed while the vehicles were parked in front of the residence.

In the final case reported a seven-year-old was caught at about 4 P. M. Saturday searching cars parked on the upper ramp at the Mamaroneck railroad station. He implicated an eight-year-old playmate and both boys said they had taken only a pack of cigarettes The boys were taken home by police and their parents were advised to administer proper discipline.

MORRIS TACKLES CLEANUP INQUIRY IN JUSTICE DEPT.

GOP Lawyer Returns To Washington Beset By Complications

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Newbold Morris returns to Washington today to set up the investigative X-ray machinery he hopes will detect any corruption in government.

Mr. Morris, a wealthy independent Republican lawyer from New York, has announced his first investigation will center on the Justice Department headed by Attorney General McGrath, the man who appointed him.

He was formally sworn in Friday with President Truman's approval to supervise a sweeping survey of all government departments, in the wake of Congressional investigations into alleged tax scandals and other irregularities in the Federal government.

REALTY TAX SHARE TERMED 'SMALLER'

County Board Hears McGovern; Thompson Wins $750 For Ingenius Deal

By WORTH A. JUDGE

NEW YORK — Although costs of government are rising steadily, real estate is carrying a smaller percentage of the tax burden, State Comptroller J. Raymond McGovern of New Rochelle told 400 members and guests of the Westchester County Realty Board Saturday night at the Hotel Biltmore.

Mr McGovern, principal speaker at the 36th annual banquet, said eight years ago 70 per cent of the cost of government in Westchester was borne by real estate. Last year the percentage had dropped to 67, he said.

Ever - increasing demands for services are tilting the State budget, he said. He cited the budget for mental hospitals, which is $30 million greater this year.

Sees Drift to Socialism

William H. Watson of Bronxville president of the board, warned that government controls are leading the nation down the road to socialism. The Federal government now controls rents, interest rates, wages, prices and taxes, he said. "All we have left is freedom of speech and worship," he declared.

TWO INJURED AS CAR RAMS TELEPHONE POLE

Edgar Voneiff of 117 Highview Street, Mamaroneck, suffered a severe cut on the face Saturday when a car in which he was a passenger skidded in a sharp right turn on Old White Plains Road and smashed into a telephone pole. Four stitches were required to close the wound.

Bradley Randall Jr., of New Town Conn., driver of the car, was also injured slightly, suffering an abrasion of the left knee.

According to Town of Mamaroneck police, the car struck the pole with sufficient force to uproot it for more than half its length.

Both occupants of the car were treated at the scene by Dr. Seymour H. Fine of 1860 Palmer Avenue, Larchmont, who was summoned by police.

Winnie Judd Still At Large; Hunt Spreads To All Arizona

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The search for Winnie Ruth Judd, red-haired trunk murderess of 21 years ago, spread throughout Arizona today with police admitting they were baffled by her disappearance.

Officers from border to border have been alerted to watch all points of entry into the state and particularly roads leading into Mexico where some think she may be headed.

"We have no clues," Sheriff L. C. Boies of Maricopa County stated, "and none of the usual tips received have panned out."

Slew Two Women

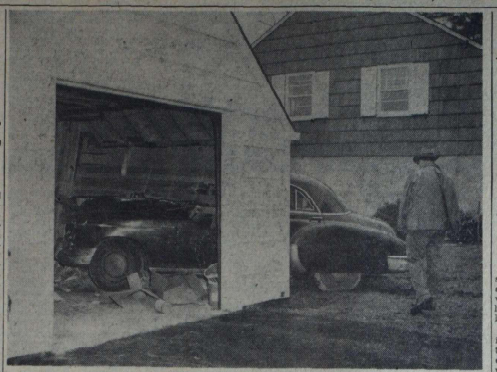
Winnie Ruth, forty-eight, dubbed the "Tiger Woman" after she killed two women and dismembered their bodies in 1931, has eluded capture since escaping from the State Hospital for Insane Saturday night.

She opened a third story tower window in her ward, slid down a 45-foot rope improvised from restraining straps, and disappeared in the night. Police are still checking reports she fled in a dark colored sedan waiting outside the nine-foot barbed wire hospital fence.

Wanted to Help Lepers

Dr. M. W. Conway, director of the hospital, said he thought she would try to get to Mexico. She once expressed a desire to be free to work in a leper's colony in South America.

"There is no doubt she had outside help," he stated in commenting on her latest bid for freedom. "About a week ago we received a tip that Mrs. Judd was going to get outside help to make another escape," he said. "We put a special guard outside the ward. He stayed there three nights before we decided it was just another rumor and took the guard off."



SIDE OF GARAGE at 320 Orienta Avenue, Mamaroneck, was wrecked Saturday morning when struck by a car driven by Mary Rita Gillespie, eighteen, of New Rochelle. Miss Gillespie, who sustained shock and a possible concussion, lost control of the car while driving on Old Post Road. The auto careened over almost 300 feet of lawn before smashing into the garage attached to the home of Edwin A. Wilhelm. —Staff Photo

Eight-Year-Old Rescues Girl From Pond After Ice Breaks

Five-year-old Paula Harris of 242 Knollwood Avenue, Mamaroneck, owes her life today to fast work on the part of an eight-year-old playmate, Frank Hers Jr., who pulled her out of four feet of water Saturday in a pond near Mamaroneck Knolls.

Young Paula, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Paul Harris, lost her footing and broke through the ice on the pond while playing Saturday.

Frank, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hers of Crown Court, was nearby when the accident occurred and hastened to her assistance. He pulled her from the pond and then led her, soaking wet, back to her home and the arms of a grateful mother.

Young Herz, whose father is president of the Mamaroneck Avenue Parent Teacher Association, is a second grade pupil at the Mamaroneck Avenue School and has recently joined Pack 2, Den 1 of the Mamaroneck Cub Scouts.

Trustees, TWU Meet To Save Third Avenue

NEW YORK (AP) — Trustees of the bankrupt Third Avenue Transit Corp. and representatives of the CIO Transport Workers Union will meet at 3:30 P.M. today to reopen contract negotiations in an attempt to avert liquidation of the transit system.

The union stated yesterday that the scheduled meeting is the result of an invitation extended by the trustees.

On Jan. 24, Federal Judge Samuel H. Kaufman gave notice that he would liquidate the transit system unless the union signed a new contract giving the company a free hand on economy layoffs and decreases in bus service. He set Feb. 18 as the deadline.

I. Howard Lehman announced yesterday his resignation as counsel of the bankrupt system after two and a half years' service.

Judge Kaufman requested him to serve until after the Feb. 18 hearing. Later T. Doyle is the remaining trustee.

ORIENTA ACCIDENT VICTIM IMPROVES

Girl Reported In 'Fairly Good' Condition After Crashing Garage

The condition of Miss Mary Rita Gillespie of 9 Bayeau Road, New Rochelle, was reported this morning as "fairly good" at New Rochelle Hospital where she was taken Saturday after her car had crashed through the side of a garage at the home of Edwin A. Wilhelm, 320 Orienta Avenue, Mamaroneck. Miss Gillespie suffered shock and a possible concussion in the accident at 10:27 A. M. which completely wrecked the side of the garage.

Before striking the garage Miss Gillespie's car went out of control while she was driving east on Old Post Road. It tore over about 250 feet of lawn in the triangle at Old Post Road and Orienta Avenue and then across Orienta Avenue where it struck the curb.

Swerving left and narrowly missing a guy wire on a telephone pole, the auto careened across about 50 feet of the Wilhelm lawn before smashing into the garage.

In its wild course the car not only damaged the lawns but also flower bulbs and a baby carriage in the garage.

Miss Gillespie was taken to the United Hospital, Port Chester, in the Mamaroneck police ambulance but at the request of her family was later transferred to New Rochelle Hospital.

Accord On 2 Issues Bolsters Hopes For Armistice In Korea

Proposal Accepted For Immediate Talks On Final Phase

MUNSAN, Korea (AP) — A United Nations Command spokesman said tonight the Allies and Communists "have moved closer to an armistice" in Korea.

He added that the Reds also may "have hopes of an armistice."

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, the spokesman, cited agreements reached by staff officers working on truce supervision and the subcommittee on prisoner exchange.

Reds Said Hopeful

He said Communist acceptance of a U. N. proposal to start immediate negotiations on the final section of an armistice indicates "they have hopes of an armistice."

Truce negotiators scheduled a full dress session Wednesday to start work on the fifth and last agenda item—recommendations to governments. And there were optimistic predictions from an Allied member of the prisoner exchange subcommittee.

"I think we can get together and write the rest of the agreement" on prisoner exchange, said Rear Adm. R. E. Libby. "For the first time, I think we are in a position to settle the nuts and bolts of the situation."

No Headway on Supervision

3 Storms Converging On Eastern Seaboard

NEW YORK, (AP) — Three storms which brought the country a wide variety of weather over the weekend converged today, boding high winds and rain for New England.

One had whipped up a blizzard in the Central Rockies Saturday that took three lives, and blanketed the center of the continent with rain, light snow and freezing drizzle as it moved east.

A second sucked dust thousands of feet into the air over much of Texas before settling it with rain, and moved on over Arkansas into Tennessee.

Winds Lash Atlantic Coast

A third, with winds ranging up to 75 mph, lashed the Atlantic Coast and drove a 2,600-ton freighter aground off Cape Hatteras, N. C., as it took a northeasward course paralleling the seaboard.

The result was rain over the middle Mississippi and Ohio valleys, southern and eastern Great Lakes regions, and most of the Middle and North Atlantic states.

The high winds of an Atlantic storm brought gusts of 44 mph to Idlewild Airport early today.

The Weather Bureau predicted the winds would diminish during the afternoon and ordered storm warnings lowered.

The storm which developed in the South Atlantic Saturday has been moving northeastward and is expected to pass off the coast here some time this afternoon.

Three-fourths of an inch of rain fell in the city in less than eight hours.

The blizzard near Colton, Utah, Saturday stalled more than a dozen automobiles and when highway crews reached them yesterday, three occupants of one buried car were dead of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Great clouds of red dust, swept up from drought-stricken plains of Western Texas, blotted out the sun yesterday. Visibility was reduced to three-quarters of a mile in eastern parts of the state before rain washed it away.

Your Income Tax:

Rules Listed For Deductions On Personal, Work Expenses

(Editor's Note: This is the sixth of 10 stories explaining how to make out your income tax return for 1951.)

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff

WASHINGTON — You may be puzzled over the problem of deductions for personal expenses and expenses connected with your work. They're not handled the same way by everyone.

A taxpayer—whether he's someone's employe, like a newspaperman, or a professional man, like a lawyer, or a man in business for himself—may have various expenses.

All three men may have personal expenses, like medical bills. If those expenses are large enough to require itemizing, all three men handle them the say way. They itemize them on the 1040 long-form and claim them in full.

Employe in Different Category

And all three may have had expenses connected with their work. In that case the professional man or the businessman can claim their business deductions separate by from their personal expenses.

But the expenses of someone who is an employe, even including expenses connected with his work are all treated as personal expenses. He can't claim them separately from his personal expenses.

HEART CAMPAIGN UNDER WAY TODAY

Collection Boxes Placed In Stores For $2,000 Village Drive

The Mamaroneck campaign for $2,000 for the United Heart Fund got under way today as plastic collection devices for the drive were placed in stores, banks and places of business.

The drive, under the direction of Mrs. William Chester, will culminate in Heart Week beginning Sunday, when letters appealing for funds will be sent to local residents.

Assisting Mrs. Chester in organizing and conducting the campaign are Romeo La Brusciano, in charge of business and industry; Harold Mitchell, publicity, and Mrs. Jacques Allerand, Mrs. Michael Barclay, Mrs. Stuart Churchill, Mrs. Frederick Meigs, Mrs. Harold Mitchell, Mrs. Jay Odell, Mrs. James Schnaff, Mrs. Joseph Salmon, Mrs. Albert Siehel, Mrs. Vito Sinopoli, and Mrs. Leon Telsey.

Mrs. Chester today pointed out that no contribution is too small in the campaign to combat diseases of the heart and of the circulatory system and that a total of $8,000,000 is needed in the nationwide effort if present plans to combat such afflictions are to be carried out by the American Heart Association and its affiliates.

MAN HURT AS CIGARET SETS MATTRESS AFIRE

Samuel Cooper, forty-six, of 620 Fifth Avenue, Larchmont, suffered minor burns early yesterday morning when his cigaret ignited a mattress on which he had fallen asleep.

He was awakened by the smoke and heat and called the Weaver Street Fire Department, which responded with Engines 1 and 2, the patrol car and chief's car. The fire was extinguished with water from the booster pump on Engine 1 and all equipment returned to the firehouse twelve minutes later at 3:20 A. M.

Mr. Cooper was taken by Town of Mamaroneck police to New Rochelle Hospital.

'OLD CURMUDGEON' ICKES DIES AT 77

Former Interior Secretary, FDR Appointee, Succumbs To 11-Week Illness

WASHINGTON (AP) — Death came quietly at dusk yesterday to Harold L. Ickes, seventy-seven, the new dealer whose sharp wit and blunt speech stormed for two decades across the national scene.

Mr. Ickes, self-styled "old curmudgeon," died at 6:25 P.M. in a coma at a hospital here. He succumbed after an 11 weeks illness following complication of an old arthritic condition.

Virtually an unknown in 1932 when President Franklin D. Roosevelt appointed him Secretary of the Interior, Mr. Ickes had become one of the most turbulent figures in politics by 1946, when he resigned in a huff to President Truman. He had been World War II petroleum administrator.

Funeral services are scheduled for 2:30 P.M. Wednesday at All Souls (Unitarian) Church in Washington, with the Rev. Palfrey Perkins of King's Chapel, Boston.

Two Autos Damaged In Parked Car Crash

Two cars were damaged on the Post Road in Larchmont Saturday evening when James Lydiard of Hempstead, L. I., swerved his car to the right to avoid being cut off in front of 130 Boston Post Road, and crashed into a parked car owned by Hyman Malinsky of 322 Richbell Road, Mamaroneck.

Mr. Lydiard told Larchmont police that as he was driving west on the Post Road an unidentified car passed him and cut sharply toward the curb forcing him to swerve to the right. As he did so, his auto struck the rear of the Malinsky car.

Flenders on both autos were smashed and cut. There were no injuries, and no arrests.

An extra effort enriched the Mamaroneck Polio Fund by $21.50 last week when nine 10-year-old Mamaroneck girls turned over to E. J. O'Neill of the County Trust Company money collected at a tea which the girls served at the home of Mrs. William R. Black of 128 Frank Avenue.

Eight of the girls, who are members of the Mahkahwee Camp Fire Group, are Margo Bergen, Virginia Black, Carol Fairman, Patty-Ann Howes, June Jordan, Kathleen Lubin, Susan McKinley and Libby Williams. Audrey Vinet of the Aowakiaya Camp Fire Group also helped prepare the tea party.

Each of the 32 guests at the party signed an autograph album which was sent to Joyce Erickson, a former member of the Mahkahwee group, who now lives in Chicago and is recovering from polio.

Yerick on Leave

Pfc. John F. Yerick, twenty-one, son of Mamaroneck Town Police Chief and Mrs. Paul A. Yerick of 93 Laurel Avenue, Larchmont, is home on 30-day leave prior to reporting to Fort Lawton, Seattle, Wash., for assignment overseas.

Pfc. Yerick is a graduate of Blessed Sacrament High School in New Rochelle and completed two years at Niagara University before he enlisted early last year.

He received his basic training at Fort Dix and then was sent to a school in Baltimore for specialized training. He was promoted to his present rank last November.

Addresses N. Y. Lions

William G. Fulcher, head of the history department at Mamaroneck High School, spoke on "A Summer's Work in 1787 and Since" at a meeting of the Lions Club of New York today in the Hotel Martinique, New York.

Mr. Fulcher told the story of the Constitution and stated that practices today are changing our government from a federal type to a national government.

He also maintained that the 16th amendment, the income tax amendment, is helping to lead the country down the road to socialism.

Mr. Fulcher is vice president of the Mamaroneck Chamber of Commerce, Town Historian of Mamaroneck, secretary and treasurer of the New York State Society of Colonial History. He has also written articles on Mamaroneck and Westchester history.

Woodcut in Show

On display in the Fifth Avenue galleries of the American Color Print Society in New York City as part of the 36th annual exhibition of the Society of American Graphic Artists, is a work by Norman Kent, Mamaroneck artist.

The picture, a woodcut, is entitled, "Majestic."

The exhibition was planned by the society as "a real cross-section of the field of American art." It was assembled from well over 1,000 etchings, engravings, woodcuts and lithographs submitted by artists in all parts of the country. The show will continue through Feb. 29.

Insurance Queries

Questions concerning insurance of members of the armed forces led all the rest last month as Harry Leikert, deputy director of the Mamaroneck Veteran's Service bureau, conducted 108 personal interviews and 85 telephone interviews.

Sixteen veterans asked about insurance while 12 asked general questions about the armed forces.

The fact that income tax returns must be filed at this time of year was reflected in 11 queries asked about tax exemption.

Other items about which veterans wanted information included apprenticeship training, bonus, business, legal and medical matters, on the job training, pension, education, housing and civil service.

Auxiliaries' Quiz

Mamaroneck's auxiliary police rated close to 100 per cent last night in a quiz session held in conjunction with the CD unit's February meeting at police headquarters. William V. Fanessa quizzed the auxiliaries to check their police procedure knowledge accumulated during last year's intensive training and practical experience.

The oral test questions covered call box locations and ringing times, post boundaries, patrol assignments and routine, traffic details, arrests, detentions and procedure in such emergencies as accidents, assaults and fires. Questions or problems propounded by the auxiliaries following the test were thrashed out in a roundtable discussion.

Auxiliary Lt. Oscar Birch presided during the business meeting when it was voted to have a social program at the next meeting. The date will be decided later.

Boot Training

Edward J. Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Campbell of 151 Elm Street, Mamaroneck, is undergoing boot training at the U. S. Naval Training Center in Bainbridge, Md., where he was sent after his induction into the service Jan. 15.

Campbell is twenty years old and a native of New York City. He attended Mamaroneck High School and was employed by Happiness Laundry, Inc., prior to his enlistment.

His older brother, Corp. William Campbell, is a military policeman with the Army on the Korean battlefront.

U. N. RULES OUT QUICK AGREEMENT ON KOREAN TRUCE

Says Recent Compromise Don't Mean Change In Red's Bargaining Inerta

TOKYO (AP)—The U. N. Command today cautioned against expecting quick agreement on a Korean armistice.

Tokyo Headquarters described Communist truce tactics as "Operation Quagmire."

"Recent minor compromises" at Panmunjom, the U. N. Command said, fit "the Communist see-saw of progress." They don't necessarily involve any change im "their main program of bargaining inertia."

The command pointed out Red negotiators "have agreed to none of the really major points of dispute. They have instead conceded in points of theory or in instances where their concessions actually cost them nothing."

Material Taken From 'Voice'

The U. N. views were expressed in an "unofficial information bulletin" containing material selected from "Voice of the United Nations Command" broadcasts to Korea.

The bulletin was released after today's negotiating sessions at Panmunjom adjourned. So little progress was made that Allied spokesmen indicated there was no need for the customary briefing session to the press.

It came on the eve of the first full meeting of the five-man truce delegations in two months. They will hold a plenary session at 10 A. M. tomorrow (8 P. M. today EST) to begin discussing the final item on the armistice agenda—recommendations to belligerent governments.

Key points of exchanging prisoners and supervising an armistice remain to be settled. Tomorrow's session would open the way for arguing over all three points at once.

Another Amicable Session

At Allied truce headquarters in Munsan, Rear Adm. R. E. Libby said "we had another very amicable session" discussing exchange of prisoners but remained "180 degrees"—exactly opposed

U. S. PILOTS RAZE RED SUPPLY DUMPS

Also Blow Up Two Communist Ammo Depots In Raids 50 Miles From Panmunjom

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — American airmen today blew up two Communist ammunition depots and razed two big supply centers, the U. S. 5th Air Force reported.

The supply centers were less than 50 miles from Panmunjom, site of Korean truce talks. F5l Mustang pilots said their bombs and rockets touched off fires that could be seen for miles.

Returning airmen said the two ecters—near Sinmak and Namchonjom—were reduced to blazing ruins.

The ammunition dumps were blown up by Marine F4U pilots.

The ground front was relatively quiet.

U. N. infantrymen on the west recaptured a hill position without firing a shot. Chinese Reds took the hill last night in a fierce attack, then vanished.

Self-Employed Pay S. S. Tax For First Time By March 15

(Editor's note: This is the seventh of 10 stories explaining how to make out your 1951 income tax return.)

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff

WASHINGTON — Several million self-employed people for the first time will pay a Social Security tax when, before midnight of March 15, they file their 1951 income tax return.

When they file that return they must pay their Social Security tax, plus any income tax they owe. Their Social Security tax is based on their net earnings—total income minus business deductions — from self-employment.

They use two forms in making their return:

1. On a separate form, Schedule C, starting on Line 25, they answer questions about their self-employment income to find their Social Security tax.

Two Figures Totaled

2. Then on Form 1040—Page 1, Line 5—under (a) they say what their 1951 income tax is and under (b) they show their Social Security tax. They add the two together and pay what's owed.

Millions of self-employed people, but not all, came under Social Security coverage Jan. 1, 1951, as a result of a change in the law

225 At Dinner Pay Tribute To Watson As 'Citizen No. 1'

Edward F. Watson, former town councilman, was extolled as a "conscientious, self - sacrificing, and untiring" public official; as a "grand person" and as "Citizen No. 1" at a testimonial dinner in his honor last night at the Washington Arms Restaurant.

A representative gathering of more than 225 persons of all faiths, all walks of life turned out to pay tribute to Mr. Watson for his "untiring service to his community" as Larchmont trustee and mayor and Town councilman.

Responding to the many glowing tributes paid him, Mr. Watson, who retired from the Town Council at the expiration of his term on Dec 31, said he felt "grossly overpaid" by the testimonial and that he had been "amply rewarded before last night in the friendships and experiences of working with others in our community."

'Blessing In Disguise'

Referring to the town's complex governmental setup as a "blessing in disguise," Mr. Watson said, "this is not a personal tribute, but an expression of triumph over our complex government and triumph also for the mutual working together which it has brought about in our community. I look forward to an expansion of that operation in the future.

"When I came to live here in 1923," he said, "this complex setup was considered a drawback. But as a matter of fact it turned out to be a blessing in disguise in that it has forced us to have mutual understanding and cooperation among the people of our three communities which since I took up residence here become amalgamated into a real township, one of which we can be proud.

HOSPITAL DRIVE LEADERS NAMED

C. D. Silleck, Mrs. Sutphen To Head Mamaroneck Campaign

Charles D. Silleck of 767 East Post Road and Mrs. John S. Sutphen of 410 Guion Drive will serve as chairmen of the men's and women's teams or volunteer workers who will conduct the public subscription campaign for the United Hospital expansion project in Mamaroneck, it was announced today by Edward J. Hughes, general campaign chairman.

Workers now enrolling in Mamaroneck will serve with others from Port Chester, Rye, Harrison and Purchase as members of a volunteer army of nearly 1,000 men and women during the public campaign, which will open throughout the area Feb. 13.

Members of all the Mamaroneck teams will meet for final instructions at 8 P. M. Monday at St Thomas's Parish House.

Mr. Silleck has reported that the following will assist him as commanders of men's teams of volunteers during the campaign: Edward Margolius, Curtis Anderson and Albert E. Tuttle. Commanding enlisted men will be Jacob Sutphen to assist here in the leadership of the women's division are Mrs. William Clark, Mrs. Harry Holden and Mrs. Leonard Chase.

As elsewhere in the area, the Mamaroneck volunteers will serve as members of teams of eight. Following their instruction meeting Monday night, they will attend the dinner formally opening the public campaign at 7:30 P. M. at the Westchester Country Club. Commanders and team captains to whom the volunteer workers will report subscriptions obtained will file their returns at interim report meetings to be held Feb. 18 and 21 at the Elks Club in Port Chester and Feb. 25 at the Apawamis Club in Rye. Team members may also attend the report meetings if they desire.

Final subscription returns will be made at a dinner closing the campaign Feb. 28 at the Westchester Country Club, to which all those active in the movement have been invited.

ADENAUER DENIES GERMAN DEMANDS

Refutes Rumors He Won't Join Europe Army Without NATO Admission

BONN, Germany (AP) — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer flatly denied today that he had threatened to keep West Germany out of the European Army and to refuse an Allied "peace contract" until German demands for the Saar and for membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization were granted.

The Chancellor was reported to have made those threats at a private caucus of his Christian Democratic Party here last night.

Says Statement 'Is Wrong'

A government communique issued today said the report of his statement "is wrong."

The communique added that Mr. Adenauer had reported on the foreign political situation and referred to difficulties which have arisen in negotiations in the last few weeks.

The earlier report of Mr. Adenauer's remarks already had touched off an angry statement in Paris by French Foreign Office sources, who said the Bonn government's "regularly bigger demands" might keep Germany out of the family of West European nations.

Made Public Demand

The West Germans first demanded NATO membership publicly as their price for European Army participation on Jan. 27, at the Paris conference of the six nations drawing up plans for the Army. At that time the demand was conceded to be a result of France's raising her High Commissioner to the Saar to the rank of Ambassador, a move Germany assailed as an attempt to further detach the Saar away from her.

The latest wrangle over Germany's demands came as the Western Big 3 — Britain, France and the United States — were reported preparing to give Mr. Adenauer a virtual ultimatum to speed up the lagging talks on the West German peace contract.

INSTALLATION SLATED BY ALERT LODGE 752

Installation of Irving Marquard as noble grand of Alert Lodge No. 752 IOOF and a full staff of officers will be held Monday at 8 P. M. at Masonic Hall, Mamaroneck.

The ceremony will be conducted by George Nichols of Mamaroneck, deputy district grand master. It will be the district's final installation of the term and will mark the home-coming of Mr. Nichols and his staff.

Guests who will be present include Benjamin Saxon, grand master of New York State; William S. Klumpen, grand secretary of New York, and George Bromfield, past grand master of Connecticut.

Mr. Nichols and his staff will install the officers of Irving Lodge, Port Chester tomorrow.

Alert Lodge plans to confer the initiatory degree on eight new members at a meeting Feb. 25.

U. N. Assembly Closes Postpones Korea Talk

PARIS, (AP)—The sixth General Assembly of the United Nations adjourned today after voting a final overwhelming approval of the Western plan to postpone discussion of Korean political issues until an armistice.

President Luis Padilla Nervo of Mexico banged the final gavel at 2:14 P. M. after receiving tributes from Secretary General Trygve Lie and many leading delegates for his handling of the three-month session.

The last formal act was to observe a minute of silent prayer.

JUKE BOX IS RIFLED, EMPLOYE CONFESSES

An employe of Cook's Restaurant at 1265 Boston Post Road, Larchmont, admitted stealing $10.20 from a juke box there yesterday morning after Mamaroneck Town Detective Sgt. Chauncey Smith found the money in his jacket that was hanging on a wall.

James Bracey, twenty-nine, of New Rochelle was arrested at 9:15 A. M. and held at police headquarters until his wife supplied $100 bail. Bond was first set at $250 and then reduced.

Irving Cook, the restaurant proprietor, reported the money missing at 8:45 A. M. and Sgt. Smith's investigation revealed no sign of forced entry into the coin box. Bracey admitted using a key which he was not supposed to have had and also confessed to having taken change from the box before. Mr. Cook did not report the total amount that had been stolen on other occasions. Trial was set for Feb. 14.

Red Cross Sets 290 Pint Goal For Joint Blood Bank Visit

A goal of 290 pints of blood for the armed forces has been set for a visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile to the Mamaroneck Junior High School March 15 under the joint sponsorship of the Mamaroneck and Larchmont branches of the American Red Cross.

Plans for the Bloodmobile visit, the first such inter-community effort for Mamaroneck and Larchmont, were made yesterday when representatives of the two branches met in the Aldo building, 1 Depot Plaza, Mamaroneck.

The Bloodmobile, one of 120 units constantly at work throughout the nation, will be in operation at the Junior High School from 10 A. M. to 4 P. M. and it is expected that the Red Cross Fund campaign, also held in March, and

ACCIDENT INJURES PASSENGER'S HEAD

Larchmont Woman Treated For Laceration After Auto Crash

Seven stitches were taken in the forehead of a Larchmont woman yesterday afternoon after she was thrown against the windshield in an auto accident on Glen eagles Drive.

Miss Hannah Rensch, a domestic in the home of William Lambard of 12 South Drive, Larchmont, was injured when the Labbard car collided with the vehicle of Arthur Cleary of 439 Beach Avenue, Mamaroneck, as it was backing from her driveway at 44 Glen Eagles Drive.

Seventeen-year-old Fred Lab hard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Labhard, was driving and Miss Rensch was sitting in the right front seat of the car. She was taken to Dr. W. J. Curtis for treatment by Town of Mamaroneck police.

In addition to a cracked windshield the Labhard auto suffered a damaged grill, hood, fender, bumper and radiator while the right front fender and door of Mr. Cleary's car were bent and torn.

Scout Week Proclaimed

National Boy Scout week became official in the Village of Mamaroneck today when Mayor Edwin B. Dooley proclaimed the observance from Feb. 7 to 13.

Mayor Dooley's proclamation reads in part, "During this week the Boy Scouts of our village will rededicate themselves to the cause of freedom, renew their oath, and hold themselves in readiness. . . During these days of celebration and during the entire year, I ask the citizens of our village to support these boys, our men of tomorrow, so our great nation, under God, will grow stronger and stronger."

Boy Scout week will open Thursday night with a scout father and son dinner at St. Thomas's Community house and the scouts will wear their uniforms during the entire week. This year marks the 42nd anniversary of the Boy Scout movement

Job Training Aired For Pupils Not Headed Toward Colleges

Proposals for a public school vocational training program using the facilities of local industries were probed last night by more than 40 residents at an open panel in the Mamaroneck High School sponsored by the Mamaroneck High School Parent-Teacher Association.

On the panel leading the discussion were Dana Billings, assistant in Industrial Cooperative Education with the New York State Department of Education; Dr. Darl Long, principal of White Plains High School, Dr. Joseph C. McLain, principal of Mamaroneck High School, Mrs. Julie Gleason, dean of girls at the High School, and John L. Sullivan, dean of boys.

Dr. McLain pointed out that of a typical high school graduating class, 70 per centare adequately prepared for college, and 10 per cent—mostly girls—are adequately prepared for stenographic work The remaining 20 per cent, he said, are mostly boys who will go into some sort of industrial employment, and whose needs are not adequately met by the current school program.

He called attention to the particular importance of this group "because of these non-college people about 90 per cent will remain to work and settle in this community. Of the college group, hardly 10 per cent will settle locally. It is, then, clearly in the interest of the community that this non-college group be given

CON ED REPORTS METERS RUN FAST

1 In 4 Large Gas Users Register High, Refund Checks Being Sent

MOUNT VERNON—

One in four of the meters of large users of gas in Westchester have been registering fast since the introduction of natural fuel into the lines a year ago, it was learned today.

Consolidated Edison has completed about one-third of the task of changing the 25,000 meters of large users of heating and industrial gas, and has begun sending out refund checks to customers who were overcharged.

Supply of Meters Short

The job of changing more than 100,000 small meters — required every seven years by law — is more difficult because of a shortage of meters.

Natural gas was first mixed with manufactured in the Westchester supply late in January 1951. Conversion of the county to

WHITE PLAINS DROPS SOAP BOX CLASSIC

The Soap Box Derby has been discontinued in White Plains after 13 years of participation.

Announcement that White Plains was dropped its Derby franchise was made today in a joint statement by Percy R. Letts of Letts Chevrolet and Benjamin R. Carroll of The Reporter Dispatch, sponsors of the annual event, and Carl E. Wahle, general chairman for many years.

The reason for discontinuing the Derby, the statement said, is the steady decline in interest of boys, apparently caused by the competition of television, model planes, Summer camps and other activities.

President to Enter Race With Kefauver in Primary

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman, in a sharp reversal of tactics, today agreed to a popularity contest with Senator Estes Kefauver in the New Hampshire Presidential primary March 11.

Only last Thursday Mr. Truman had called such primaries eyewash. But today in a letter to the New Hampshire Secretary of State, the President said he had changed his mind and "I shall not ask you to take my name off the list" of those entered for the Democratic Presidential nomination.

Both his name and that of the crime-hunting Tennessee Senator were entered there last week.

Primary Not Binding

The primary is not binding on the delegation New Hampshire will send to the Democratic convention, and Mr. Truman did not say he would be in the race when convention time comes around.

Mr. Truman said he had decided to let his name stand, after urging from Democratic National Chairman Frank McKinney and many good Democrats in New Hampshire.

Mr. McKinney disclosed last Saturday he would urge Mr. Truman to stay in the New Hampshire contest. In calling the state primaries eyewash last week, the President said they don't mean a thing when convention time rolls around. He said then his name would be removed, but that this wouldn't preclude his running for reelection if he decided to do so.

Mr. McKinney said Saturday he would ask Mr. Truman to stay in, because if he withdrew "a very serious situation could develop in New Hampshire."

Says Leaders Back Truman

Mr. McKinney said Democratic leaders in the state had entered the primary as convention delegate candidates pledged to support Mr. Truman, and added:

"For the President to withdraw would be to take them out of the race. They couldn't even participate in the national convention."

While the result of the preferential contest is not binding on convention delegates, those running "pledged" to a candidate in the separate delegate primary must have the candidate's consent.

GOP SEES VICTORY AS U. S. SAVIOR

Scores Corruption, Bungling Of Trumanites at Huge Lincoln Day Rally

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Campaigning Republicans tore into the Truman administration last night and contended only a GOP victory at the polls in November can save the nation from disaster.

With an eye on winning the Presidency and control of Congress from the Democrats, Republican leaders cut loose at a big Lincoln Day rally. They charged the opposition under President Truman with corruption and communism in government, with bungling of foreign war in Korea, and with foreign policy and fighting a stalemating inflation at home.

6-Hours of Music & Mirth

The attack was part of a six-hour program featured by $1 chicken box suppers, square dancing, group singing, and plenty of oratory and band music.

Police estimated about 8,000 persons jammed Georgetown University gymnasium. They said hundreds were turned away.

It was a night when Republican intra-party differences officially were shelved. But that didn't keep rival groups supporting Senator Robert A. Taft and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower from booming their choices for the GOP Presidential nomination.

Library Cost Up

Library service for Larchmont and the Town of Mamaroneck will cost the two communities $30,698 during the fiscal year 1952-53, according to the agreement ratified last night by the Larchmont Village Board. The $671 increase over the current year's expenses is due to $1,200 in salary increases that are partially offset by reduced maintenance expenses following the recent addition of a new wing and major repairs.

Costs are divided between the Village and Town according to population and in the next year the Village will pay $19,395.21 while the Town shares amounts to $12,302.79. This year the breakdown was $14,146.90 for the Village and $12,880.10 paid by the Town.

Scouts to Parade

Mamaroneck Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts of the Roman Catholic faith will participate Sunday afternoon in a parade up Fifth Avenue in New York to St. Patrick's Cathedral where special scout services will be held.

Preceding their trip to New York scouts of Troop Three will attend the 8 A. M. Mass at Holy Trinity Church. The scouts will meet at Holy Trinity School at 7:50 A. M. and march to church.

At 11 A. M. the boys will board busses for New York and after the parade and service in St. Patrick's will tour Radio City.

To Their Valentine

Cupid couldn't wait until Valentine's Day yesterday and the Larchmont Police Department is still mystified by the message taken to headquarters by a little girl who slipped into the station house, gave a folded paper to Chief William F. Kerecey and then departed in haste, to repent at leisure.

The decorated page of copy-book paper was dated Feb. 5 and bore the following unedited message: "Dear Chief Kerrecy, the childen of larchmont wont to tell you that larchmont police Station is the Best. Because we have you and you have all your wonderful men how helps us wone we are in ned. Why we say this is that you are a wonderful chief and we meen that frome the Bondom of are heart. Love, thee childer of larchmont."

The letter was posted on the bulletin board and the detective bureau refrained from investigation, acknowledging such love as a mystery it couldn't solve.

Abridged Addition

The wheels of government grind slowly and the Larchmont Village Board found itself giving constant attention to Pryer Manor bridge last night when Mayor Walter B. C. Washburn read a copy of a letter sent to Westchester Commissioner of Public Works James C. Harding by Supervisor Owen A. Mandeville. The letter stated that Mr. Harding meet with officials of Larchmont, the Town and New Rochelle at the site to discuss plans for rebuilding the decayed span that lies partly in each municipality.

Mayor Washburn asked, "What goes on here?" and the trustees expressed dismay that the matter should be reopened after the village, town and city had appropriated repair funds and sought enabling legislation from Albany.

Engineer Arthur Richards ducked out quickly when he was queried, stating, "I have nothing to say, I had my say months ago." The mayor retorted "I thought I did too, but it seems as if I have to keep talking."

The letter was received and filed.

Not That Hot!

Things get pretty hot sometimes in Westchester County for the Democrats—but not hot enough to warrant the presence of even the Mamaroneck Democratic Club was about to take last night.

The notice advertising the meeting to be held at Carpenter Hall announced that "insulation" of officers would take place.

It turned out to be merely a mistake in spelling rather than a pre-election precaution and the installation took place as scheduled.

The meeting turned up with some other unavoidable confusion, however, which made it difficult to tell who was succeeding whom.

William C. Fitts Jr., incoming president, came in early but then had to go out to catch a plane before Outgoing President Joseph Hunter came in.

Committee Chairman Francis P. McGeough cleared the matter up and then paid tribute to the services of Mr. Hunter and presented him a clock on behalf of the club.

CAMPAIGN PLANS were discussed last night at a meeting of the district chairmen and vice-chairmen of the Larchmont Red Cross Fund drive at the home of William C. Hyatt, campaign chairman. Participating in the planning were, left to right, standing John Adams Jr. vice chairmen of District 1; P. H. Swinchatt, District 1 Chairman, and Emil H. Fink, campaign vice chairman; and seated, Jesse D. Wolff, District 2 chairman; Mrs. Henry R. Dillon, District 3 chairman, and Mrs. Harry Roth, District 3 vice chairman. Also present were Mr. Hyatt, Albert L. Morris County Chapter fund vice chairman; Mrs. Frederick E. Liptrott, and Frank X. O'Donnell Jr., coordinator of public relations. Other drive officials include Herman D. Knief, chairman, and Herbert Baum, vice chairman of District 4; Mrs. Sidney Conn, chairman, and Mrs. William Dommerick, vice chairman of District 5; Edward P. Heiwig, chairman of District 6; and Thomas J. Finnegan and George Wilson, chairman and vice chairman of the apartment home district.

HONORED at last night's meeting of the Mamaroneck Democratic Club was Outgoing President Joseph Hunter, above, who has held the chair for the last six years. He was presented a clock by Democratic Chairman P. P. PANEL SUPPORTS FOREIGN POLICY

Democratic Club Presents 5 Speakers On Current Problems

An eloquent defense of current U. S. foreign policy by William C. Fitts, new president of the Mamaroneck Democratic Club, highlighted a panel discussion last night at a meeting of the club in Carpenter Hall, Mamaroneck.

Mr. Fitts' statement of the overall objectives of American foreign policy followed addresses by Mrs. H. G. Waltner on ECA and Mrs. Margaret Reich on Point Four. Also on the panel were R. L. Larkin, who spoke on labor's political orientation, and Paul Hoeber, who discussed Republican charges of corruption in the administration.

"Our foreign policy," Mr. Fitts began, "has been more misrepresented and more misunderstood than any government policy in our recent history.

"It is a crying shame that the current vituperation against the foreign policy of President Truman has been allowed to go unchallenged."

Larchmont To Probe Skating Rink Project

Encouraging public response to the proposal that Larchmont build a refrigerated public ice skating rink has led to creation of a special committee to study possibilities of establishing a joint project with the Town of Mamaroneck, similar to the Joint Garbage Disposal Commission.

Larchmont Trustee G. Crawford Eadie reported last night to the Village Board that he has selected three men to join him on the committee that was authorized in January when he first laid the proposition before the board.

William Eipel and Col. William Shea consented to serve and Town Councilman Jeremiah C. Waterman was appointed by Supervisor Owen A. Mandeville last month at the request of Trustee Eadie.

Trustee Eadie told the board that he has received a flood of letters and phone calls supporting the project since it was first publicized. Such a rink would be useable about four months each year, he stated, and ice could be furnished from December to March except during heavy rain or when the temperature remains above 50 degrees for extended periods.

He noted that the Taft School in Watertown, Conn., built a rink 190 by 86 feet for less than $70,000 and pays approximately $3,500

LARCHMONT PHONE OFFICE TO CLOSE

Consolidation With New Rochelle Branch Set For April 7

The Larchmont business office of the New York Telephone Company at 6 Franklin Avenue will be closed, Monday, April 7 when it will be consolidated with the New Rochelle office. It was announced today by John W. Roche, local manager, who said the move is being made "to obtain added efficiency and economy of operation."

"We have observed that comparatively few people have been calling at our Larchmont office and a high percentage of those coming to the office do so just for the payment of bills," Mr. Roche said.

He pointed out that the company has recently opened two agencies in Larchmont for the payment of telephone bills. Both are branches of the County Trust Co., centrally located in the Larchmont business district. One branch is at Palmer and Chatsworth Avenues, around the corner from the present business office, and the other at 111 Boston Post Road at Larchmont Avenue. Payment of bills may be made in person at either of these locations during regular banking

Korea Veteran Arrives Broke But Newspaper Advances Aid

S/Sgt. Charles F. Cleveland will have a real surprise this afternoon when he's greeted at LaGuardia Airport by his wife, Mrs. Josephine Cleveland, of 1 Lawn Terrace, Mamaroneck, and if the doctor permits, his two children, Maureen, three, and John, two.

Sgt. Cleveland doesn't know that his family will be on hand to welcome him after a trip from San Francisco via American Airlines. As a matter of fact he didn't expect to get home at all until Mrs. Cleveland took things in hand.

The sergeant is on a 30-day leave after more than a year and a half of service in Okinawa and Korea. He landed in San Francisco Jan. 30, one of the men sent home on the Army rotation plan.

But he was broke when he landed. His pay had not come through.

He called Mrs. Cleveland and outlined his predicament whereupon she got in touch with the New York Mirror. The newspaper arranged the trip from San Francisco to LaGuardia and home.

When he lands today Mrs. Cleveland and Maureen will be there and so will Johnny, if an ear ailment permits. The youngster had his tonsils out in December and doesn't know his dad whom he last saw when he was five months old.

Family Troubles

Mrs. Cleveland has had her troubles while the sergeant has been overseas. Last year she struggled with two sick children

SENATOR DEMANDS BREAK WITH REDS

Michigan GOP Lawmaker Urge Immediate Cut, Includes Soviet, Satellites

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Ferguson, R., Mich., called today for immediate severance of diplomatic relations with Russia and all her satellite nations.

"We should break off relations until these Communists learn how to live properly in the free world's family of nations," Senator Ferguson said.

The Michigan lawmaker expressed his views in commenting on reports—confirmed by the State Department yesterday — that the United States is reviewing the question of whether to close all American Embassies in Russian satellite countries.

"We should close them all right, but we should go further and sever all diplomatic relations with the satellite Iron Curtain nations and Russia itself," Senator Ferguson said. "We should insist that the Embassies and Consulates all those countries maintain in the United States be shut down immediately."

Dalfonso Enters Fourth Term; Johnson Lauds Association's Work

Village Trustee Joseph Dalfonso was last night installed for his fourth term as president of the G. I. Civic Association at the third annual installation dinner attended by about 75 at the Seven Pines Restaurant, East Boston Post Road, Mamaroneck.

Other officers, installed by Village Manager William H. Johnson, are Anthony Pergola, vice president; Peter DiBenedetto, recording secretary; Joseph Germani, secretary and Richard Acavell, treasurer.

In words of praise for the association which was organized in 1946, Mr. Johnson called on the members to "continue their efforts directed toward making Mamaroneck a better place in which to live.

Dedicated To Vital Task

"I think in most organizations there are members who do not realize what good can come from an organization such as yours," he said. "You are just as strong as you make yourselves. It's up to the rank and file to make this organization click.

"Each and every one of us is dedicated to the task of making our country a better place. True, we have many enemies within our gates. With all the advantages this country offers us it is no wonder that so many millions are looking at us with envy.

ELIZABETH ENTERS REIGN AS QUEEN

Popular Monarch Passes Peacefully After 15-Year Rule

LONDON (AP) — Weary King George VI died today at fifty-six, ending a 15 year reign that brought England the glory and the dregs of victory. His daughter Elizabeth, twenty-five, immediately became England's seventh Queen.

Tired and spent by disease, the King died in his sleep at Sandringham, the royal estate where he was born. He had suffered from lung cancer, but apparently a blood clot was the immediate cause of death.

More than half the world lowered flags in respect to the man who became King against his will but developed into just the steady sort of monarch Britons love.

Daughter Flying Home

The new Queen namesake of her mother and of the "Good Queen Bess" who ruled England almost four centuries ago, received word of her father's death while she was on a projected around-the-world tour, now called off. Elizabeth was with her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, in Kenya, East Africa. She received the news tearfully and then started planning her return home. She and the duke will fly here tomorrow. The formal coronation likely will be in the early Summer.

The King's body is expected to lie in state in Westminster Hall, the great hall of the Houses of Parliament, for several days next week. The funeral will take place at Windsor Castle, on a date to be determined after Elizabeth consults palace advisors and the government.

The Duke of Windsor, whose abdication for love in 1936 brought his brother to the throne, plans to come home for the funeral. He is sailing from New York tomorrow night.

George VI was the youngest king to die since William III died in

POLIO COLLECTION TOPS $5,149 HERE

Mothers' March Fund Nets $3,666 to Exceed 1951 By $2,000

The Mothers' March on Polio in Mamaroneck last Wednesday has yielded a total of $3,666.85 after late returns were compiled and was the impetus which prompted a total of $5,149.34 in the Mamaroneck drive, Mrs. Herbert Feldman, local chairman, announced today.

The total collected to date is more than $2,000 higher than the $3,141.79 contributed by residents last year. The Mothers' March alone exceeded the 1951 total, Mrs. Feldman pointed out.

The grand total includes also $1,482.59 which was turned in by mail to F. J. O'Neill, treasurer of the drive, at the County Trust Co.

Mrs. Feldman today thanked all persons who participated in the drive and said, "The fact that contributions exceeded $5,000, which was my private goal, gives me plenty of reason to express appreciation to the good people of Mamaroneck for their generosity and to the solicitors of the Mothers' March for their fine work."

Elizabeth, On Good-Will Tour, Weeps At News Of King's Death

NAIROBI, Kenya, (AP)—Princess Elizabeth wept when told of her father King George's death today.

News of the death, which made the Princess a Queen, was first given to her staff at the nearby Royal Lodge by the newspaper East African Standard.

It was decided to withhold the news from the Princess until direct confirmation was obtained by telephone from Buckingham Palace.

Later the message was received direct at the Royal Lodge and the twenty-five-year-old Princess was told.

It is understood she will travel by car to Nairobi then take a plane home.

She is the first reigning queen of Britain since Victoria died 51 years ago.

And the coming to the throne of serious gray-eyed Elizabeth revived a mild superstition — that Britain waxes fat and prosperous with a woman's reign.

The belief grew out of the found-

Eisenhower Backers

Larchmont and Mamaroneck will be represented at the Eisenhower-for-President rally at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

Nils Hanson, Henry Ako, Phil Riggano and Biehl Clarke are organizing the group and expect to recruit about 50 persons.

The program calls for part of the Larchmont-Mamaroneck delegation to parade during the rally wearing cardboard elephant ears and trunks while carrying placards.

Anyone who wishes to join the group may communicate with Mr. Clarke or Mr. Hanson.

Cemetery 'Clean-up'

Next October's Halloween spooks ought to find haunting people a tidier proposition as a result of action taken last night by the Mamaroneck Town Council to clean up and maintain the old Palmer Cemetery behind the Church of Sts. John and Paul.

The move was made in response to a request from the Larchmont Gardens Civic Association whose representative, Phillip M. Dean, declared by letter that the toppled gravestones and accumulated trash don't inspire respect for the dead in the children who play there. Mr. Dean stated the children like the cemetery's "spooky atmosphere."

Sculpture in Exhibit

Miss Betti Richard of Durham Road, Larchmont has entered two plaster figures in the exhibit which will begin Sunday at the Pen and Brush in New York City.

The works are "Beach Portrait", a sculpture of a male figure in bathing trunks and a small model of "Pieta", a six-foot statue.

Last year Miss Richard won the Medal of Honor at the Pen and Brush exhibit for a figure of Christ which has recently been sold to the Sacred Heart Rectory in Roslyndale, Mass.

Winner of the 1947 Barnett Prize of the National Academy of design, Miss Richard has exhibited at the Philadelphia Museum and her work appears in "Sculpture in Modern America" by Jacques Schnier.

She is a member of the National Sculpture Society, the Architectural League of the Municipal Art Society of New York and also serves as chairman of the sculpture section of Pen and Brush.

Testifies at Hearing

Howard M. Holtzman of 520 Oakhurst Road, Mamaroneck, a member of the law firm of Holtzman, Wise, Shepherd and Kelly of New York City testified yesterday at a hearing of the Federal Wage Stabilization Board in the Bar Association Building, New York City.

Mr. Holtzman, who is representing the steel industry in a wage dispute with the city's unions, appeared for the first time in the hearings which have been going on for a week before an inquiry of the labor side of the dispute in Washington recently. Mr. Holtzman contends that since the function of the Wage Stabilization Board is to pass on agreements arrived at between workers and management, it is not properly qualified to arbitrate in the case of a dispute.

Mr. and Mrs. Holtzman, who moved to this community recently, have two daughters, Susan, four, and Betsy, one.

You May Be 'Shot'

If somebody aims a camera at you around Mamaroneck during the next few weeks it will probably be a member of the Mamaroneck Camera Club trying to fulfill an assignment handed to him by the club.

Specific assignments were made to all members last night at a meeting in the Mamaroneck Free Library and the photographic fiends will be out trying to shoot such items as children at play, woman at work, man walking, and other subjects dreamed up by the print committee. The assignments were drawn by each member out of a hat.

The pictures will be turned in at a meeting March 3 and prizes will be awarded the best of the photos which will also be entered in the club project, "Westchester in Pictures."

William Popp, president, reported on a meeting of the Metropolitan Camera Club and Mr. Popp also won an alphabetic camera quiz, the program feature of the meeting.

Sea Scout Unit

Teen-age Mamaroneck boys will have a chance to learn the arts of seamanship as soon as a meeting place is selected for the new Sea Scout unit that has just been organized here by the Explorer Group of the Mamaroneck Boy Scout District.

Skippers of the unit will be Gordon and Robert Braunlich and the sailing fleet of McMichael's boatyard will be available for training of local boys over fourteen who wish to join.

Members of the executive committee sponsoring the Sea Scouts will be Arthur Rosenthal, Harvey Albert, Birch Pollack and one other member of the community service group that will lend its support to the program.

Boys wishing to join need not have been Boy Scouts. A place and time for enrollment will be announced shortly.

CLUB SLATES TALK BY MISS KELLEMS

Larchmont Men Will Fete Guests at Meeting Monday

The Larchmont Men's Club will entertain the Woman's Club of Larchmont Monday at 8:15 P. M. at a meeting in the Murray Avenue School auditorium.

The program will feature entertainment as well as a talk by Vivien Kellems, noted industrialist from Stonington, Conn., who attracted nation-wide interest when she fought the government on the question of the legality of collecting withholding taxes from her employes.

Miss Kellems, who owns and operates the Kellems Grip and Cable Co., is engaged in a nation-wide tour organizing the "Liberty Belles" whose purpose is the elimination of all Communism, Socialism and corruption from American life and to arouse the women of America to get this country out of the mess it is in." The ultimate goal of the organization is to pin 10 million miniature Liberty bells on a like number of women from coast to coast.

Your Income Tax:

Long Form Filers Reminded Of Benefit In Joint Return

(Editor's note: This is the ninth of 10 stories explaining how to make out your 1951 income tax return.)

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff

WASHINGTON — Remember these points before making your 1951 income tax return on the 1040 long form.

1. Besides Form 1040, you need that 16-page government pamphlet, called "How to Prepare Your U. S. Income Tax Return."

It's the instruction sheet for using Form 1040. You have to use the tax rate schedule on the back for figuring your tax.

2. When a wife has no income, a couple can't lose by filing a joint return on Form 1040. For it to be a joint return, both must sign it.

Try Both Methods

In most cases, but not all, they'll save with a joint return when both have income. Since there are exceptions, try it jointly and separately before turning it in.

If you turn in separate returns and later realize you would have saved by a joint one, you can at any time before March 15, 1953 withdraw those separate returns by substituting a joint return to get a refund.

3. Be sure, before sending your return to the collector, that you attach to it all your withholding receipts—Por W2. Form W2 given by your boss, is the proof of the money he paid you and the income tax he withheld from your pay in 1951.

4. You file the return by sending it to the Internal Revenue Collector for your district. With it you must pay in full any tax owed.

Overlaxed? Say So

If you were overtaxed in 1951 on 1951 income, note that fact on Line 8, Page 1. Indicate there whether you want a refund.

5. If you're one of the self-employed people who must pay a Social Security tax now on your income from self-employment in

Supervisor Weighs Question Of Future Uses Of Surplus

The fate of surplus funds in the Town of Mamaroneck that have made possible elimination of a general town tax since 1947 is the salient point of Supervisor Owen A. Mandeville's annual report for 1951 distributed last night to members of the Town Council.

In 1951 the TOWN'S budgetary surplus was reduced from $307,485 to $243,378 and an estimated expenditure of $94,539 from this fund in 1952 "will reduce our cash surplus to the point where a decision must be reached as to our policy with regard to its future use," the Supervisor declared.

His report poses the question, "Shall we set up the balance as a 'revolving' fund to eliminate as much as possible short term borrowing, or continue its use as a reduction of general town levies until it is completely used up?" He adds that the matter is now being studied and recommendations will be made later this year.

The general town tax covers town office expenses and its elimination in past years has freed village and town taxpayers from part of their tax burden.

Debt Reduced

Bonded indebtedness was reduced by $150,000 during 1951, the report continues, leaving $1,979,000 outstanding in bond obligations. Mr. Mandeville compares this figure to the $4,975,500 outstanding July 1, 1934, and states, "It is a great source of pride to reiterate

SMITH ANNOUNCES 'NO NOTICE' ALERT

Air Defense Force Leader Warns C. D. Delegates Of Future Exercise

NEWBURGH, (AP)—The 150,000 members of the Ground Observer Corps in the Eastern Air Defense Force will be alerted for air defense exercises without advance notice, Brig. Gen. George P. Smith, EADF vice commander, announced today.

Gen. Smith made the announcement at a two-day meeting of Civil Defense representatives from 18 states at Stewart Air Force base. He stated that GDC volunteers at filter centers and observation posts in the northeast and Great Lakes states will be called to duty "under conditions simulating an actual alert."

GDC volunteers have been given advance notice in past exercises.

"Unannounced alerts will keep the GDC on a keen edge, ready to go into operation as an integral part of our overall detection network," Gen. Smith said.

Gen. Smith also said that monthly drills have been started in the 21 filter center areas with advance notice being given. He said there was a "critical" need for an additional 150,000 volunteers.

"Mere organization alone," Gen. Smith said, "is not enough. For effective air defense, we must have fully trained observers to furnish information quickly and accurately to the Air Force. In modern aviation, a difference of five minutes can mean destruction of a vital target."

TWO SEAMEN INJURED IN WEST ST. ACCIDENT

Two seamen from the steamship Queen Mary riding in Harrison with a Mamaroneck resident at 11:30 last night wound up in the United Hospital for treatment of lacerated faces following an automobile accident on West Street between Grove Street and Union Avenue.

The injured, who were treated and released were John Lahey, twenty-four, and Joseph Crosby, twenty-six.

Francis J. Ahern, thirty-five, of 1522 Park Avenue, Mamaroneck, driver of the car, told police that in an effort to avert hitting a dog which ran into the path of his car, he swerved the vehicle and it hit a pole.

LARCHMONT POST TO BE HOST FOR LEGION PARLEY

Flint Park Club Selected As Site For County Convention

The annual convention of the Westchester County American Legion will be held at Larchmont Post 347 probably on July 11 and 12, it was announced last night by Jack De Gaetani, chairman of the post's convention committee. It will be the second time within five years that the Larchmont Post has been host to the convention. It last met here in 1947.

All convention activities with the exception of the parade will be held at Flint Park and in the club house, Mr. De Gaetani said, but no specific plans have been formulated as yet.

Preliminary arrangements will be made Sunday when the convention committee will meet at the club house.

The committee includes Grace MacWhinney, post adjutant, who will serve as secretary; William Blumgold, a past commander who will be treasurer, and Arthur Dunn JPr., in charge of publicity.

Committee Named

Past Commanders of the local post serving on the committee are Hasty T. Flinn, R. Timothy Olsson, John J. Hogan, B. F. McGrath, Cornelius J. Quinn, Frank J. Ridgeway and Michael A. Trovato.

Also the County and post chaplain, the Rev. John J. Flynn, Past County Commander Frank La Rocco, Past Department Vice-Commander George H. Stott, Past County Sergeant-at-Arms Frank O'Brien, Past County Vice-Commander Frank Webb and Past Vice-Commander Frank E. Mott.

Also the following Larchmont Post officers: Commander Herman G. Hofmann, Vice-Commanders Barry Lundy, Samuel M. Robins and Gus Sanzone, Treasurer Frederick Carey, Sergeant-at-Arms William H. Bishop and Service Officer Hugh Collins.

Other post members of the committee are Samuel Bohrer, William P. Carey, Jack E. Connolly, John M. Derwin and Gilbert R. Winant.

ACCORD SEEN NEAR ON ROTATION, DP'S

Gap Still Wide on Key Issue Of War Prisoners; Allies Yield Exchange Plan

MUNSAN, Korea, (AP) — Reds and Allies each gave ground today and narrowed the gap on troop rotation and the future of displaced civilians.

But negotiators remained as far apart as ever on key issues blocking a Korean armistice.

Allied negotiators abandoned demands that the Communists trade displaced civilians for U. N-held war prisoners.

The U. N. reiterated, however, that all prisoners must have the right to choose whether they want to be repatriated and that impartial teams must interview civilians to determine whether they want to live in North or South Korea.

An official U. N. spokesman, Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, told newsmen before the transcript of the negotiations was available that the demand for civilian interviews also was dropped. The record shows that this was not the case.

In an adjoining tent the Communists gave ground in the dispute over troop rotation during an armistice. The Allies said they would talk about the Communists' definition of coastal waters and consider dropping two demands relating to troop dispositions during a truce.

But the key issue of whether the Reds have the right to build and repair North Korean airfields during an armistice has been shelved for the time being.

Staff officers working on truce supervision and prisoner exchange will meet again at 11 A. M. tomorrow (9 P. M. EST today) in Panmunjom.

Strike Halts Business At Supermarkets Here

Employes of First National Supermarkets in Mamaroneck, Larchmont and Port Chester went on strike this morning. The stores in Larchmont and Port Chester were locked. One picket was stationed outside the Mamaroneck store.

Members of the Chauffeurs and Helpers Private Sanitation Union, Local 813, IBT, AFL have protested against recent employement by the stores of nonunion garbage collectors, according to Al Kregel, Local 813 representative. Members of Local 489 and 1500, meat cutters and butchers group, stopped work in sympathy, it was reported.

Activation Of Town Auxiliaries Awaits N.Y. State Insurance Law

Impending action on insurance in the State Legislature may clear the way for reactivation of the Town of Mamaroneck's 32-man auxiliary police group, the Town Council learned last night at a meeting in the Weaver Street Fire House.

Chief Paul A. Verick announced today the approved State training program of the group was completed in May, 1951, but activities were held up pending establishment of insurance liability procedure.

A legislative group is expected to act on the problem Feb. 13 in Albany, according to a letter to the council from C. J. Quinn, secretary of the Board of Police Commissioners. He stated the men are eager to continue training on firearms and patrol duty with the regular force.

The auxiliary would be empowered to act, under state law, upon declaration of an emergency by the Governor.

Mamaroneck Village Manager William H. Johnson stated this morning, in regard to compensation insurance for the village's operating auxiliary police force, that "state law prevents towns and villages from providing the insurance even if they wish to do so and places such responsibility on the counties. To date Westchester has taken no action on this and our men have had to take out their own insurance."

Councilman Jeremiah C. Waterman told the Council last night that "it would be a shame to lose the interest and services of these men who want to render a service to the community". Investigation of insurance coverages and policies will be made pending the official action, he added.

CD Progress

In connection with emergency procedures, Deputy Director of Civilian Defense John B. Forrest reported to the council that his organization has moved from the "paper stage to the organized stage" despite lack of workers in some departments.

The rescue and evacuation division is most in need of men, he declared, and skilled personnel in construction and demolition work are required for establishment of a working group. Because the county CD organization has priority on the services of firemen and all public works employes, he stated, this resource of manpower cannot be tapped. Thirty-five men are needed to make up the three teams for which training will be begun March 4.

Staffs that are now at the working stage include the medical, communications, transportation, welfare, administration and recruiting and public information divisions, Mr. Forrest said, and the warden service and schools groups are also functioning as well as the legal division, town and village liaison and the control center.

Materals required are rescue kits for the rescue division, which are supplied through the state for $1,709 and a two-way radio for the control center which can Subsequent features in the series will appear Mondays and Thursdays.

Golliday Only Board Member Who Has No Election Worries

Trustee Gail Golliday is the only member of Larchmont's five-man Board of Trustees who will not face an election contest March 18, it may confirmed for village elections by the board.

The terms of Mayor Walter B. C. Washburn and Trustees G. Crawford Eadie and John P. Coffay Jr. normally expire in even numbered years while Trustee Edward E. White was appointed in December to fill an unexpired term that would not otherwise have terminated until 1953.

No candidates have yet been designated by either party and it is not known whether any or all of the incumbents will seek reelection.

Also confirmed was Registration Day, March 8, and polling places which will be at the Municipal Building and the Chatsworth Avenue School.

Mayor Washburn first became a village trustee by election in 1946 and was elevated to the mayoralty in 1948. He was reelected in 1950. Trustee Golliday took his post in 1944 to finish the trusteeship of Frank Washburn who successfully ran for mayor that year. He was elected in 1945 and has been reelected every two years since then.

Coffay Named in August

Trustee Coffay joined the board in August, 1951, to fill the vacancy left by George N. Gibbs' resignation and Trustee White, a Democrat, was bi-partisan choice to replace Peter F. Kane Jr., a Republican, who was elected to the Mamaroneck Town Council in November. His place on the board will have one year to run after this election while the seats now held by Trustees Eadie and Coffay will be filled for two-year terms.

Residents living south of the Boston Post Road are in District 1 and will register and vote at the Municipal Building while the area north of the Post Road lies in District 2 that will be served at the Chatsworth Avenue School.

Hours for registration will be from 2 to 8 P. M. and voting will be from 2 to 9 P. M.

Elizabeth Makes Plans For Funeral of Her Father

LONDON (AP) — Young Queen Elizabeth II returned to her home land today to ascend the throne and bury King George VI.

The twenty-five-year-old Queen of the United Kingdom and the dominions overseas reached London Airport at 4:15 P. M. after a flight from Nairobi, Kenya. It was exactly a week since she left London as Princess Elizabeth.

One of Elizabeth's first and most saddening duties is to make arrangements for her father's funeral.

Reigns As Queen

After 51 years, a woman again reigns over Britain, her colonies and the commonwealth.

Already, the dutiful Elizabeth was Queen—from the moment of her father's death.

She became so in her vacation lodge in Kenya Colony, far away in East Africa, where she had paused early in what was to have been a five-month round-the-world tour.

Before leaving the airport, the Queen said she would like to see the crew of the airliner which flew her from Africa. They lined up on the concrete apron and in a low voice she thanked them all.

Her face was pale and she was plainly under a strain. But her tears were unshed.

Formal Proclamation Tomorrow

But her formal proclamation as the new sovereign, Elizabeth II, must follow.

The proclamation, written from historic precedents by the Privy Council—hundreds of royal advisors, and representatives of commonwealth countries, and the Lord Mayor and Aldermen of the ancient square-mile city of London, will be read first tomorrow by the Garter King of Arms, Sir George Bellew.

Clad in medieval uniform, he will read from the balcony of St. James Palace, built by Henry VIII, father of the first Queen Elizabeth.

The proclamation was published in all morning newspapers today and will be repeated simultaneously with Sir George's reading at

METAL SCARCITY MAY BALK RINK

Waterman Sees Difficulty In Obtaining Pipe For Skating Pond

Defense restrictions on metal pipe may prevent immediate action on the proposed Larchmont-Mamaroneck community artificial skating rink, Councilman Jeremiah C. Waterman reported last night to the Town Council.

Mr. Waterman said he had discussed the situation with Larchmont Trustee G. Crawford Eadie who heads a committee investigating the feasibility of establishing such a rink on a self-sustaining financial basis. No definite plans have yet been made but Mr. Waterman declared the rink would require a great deal of pipe that is virtually unobtainable now.

Supervisor Owen A Mandeville pointed out that such a project would have to come before a public referendum and the Council did not pursue the subject.

Mr. Eadie proposed last month to the Village Board and again Tuesday, that Larchmont think in terms of a rink similar to that at the Taft School in Watertown, Conn., where a skating space 100 feet by 90 feet was built for less than $70,000. It costs $3,500 yearly to operate, and expenses there are partially paid by membership fees.

Marine Recruit

William D. Wells Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Well of 185 Weaver Street, Larchmont, left yesterday for Parris Island, N. C., where he will receive basic training in the U. S. Marine Corps.

Wells, nineteen, enlisted in the Marines last month after completing his high school course at Mamaroneck High School.

Born in Port Chester, he has lived in Larchmont all his life and is a member of the Mamaroneck-Larchmont Chapter of De Molay.

Training At Fort Dix

Pvt. Anthony T. Kammerer Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony T. Kammerer of 124 Spruce Street, Mamaroneck, is taking infantry basic training at Fort Dix, N. J. The twenty-two-year-old soldier was inducted into the Army in October.

Pvt. Kammerer was graduated in 1948 from Bellows High School where he played on the football team. From then until his entry into the service he worked in his father's sheet metal shop on Spruce Street.

Auto Caravan

A six car caravan will leave the Larchmont railroad station tonight at 8:45 P. M. taking 30 residents to the Eisenhower-for-President rally at Madison Square Garden, Nils Hanson announced this morning. An additional 30 who work in New York will join the local delegation when it arrives at the Garden.

Mr. Hanson this morning invited any additional residents to join the group at Larchmont station. "The more cars, the better," he said.

The local rooters plan to parade during the rally

Carrier Wins Honor

One of Larchmont's new Eagle Scouts is Warren Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie C. Smith of 85 North Chatsworth Avenue, a former winner of The Daily Times Star Carrier Award.

Warren won a trip to Washington last Spring for gaining a record increase of customers on his paper route. He won his Eagle award at last night's Father-Son dinner at the Mamaroneck Junior High School.

Troop prizes were as much in order as individual honors and Robert Moore, chairman of Larchmont Scout Activities, gave a blue ribbon to Troop 7 for its first place for the window decoration at William Russ' photo studio and Troop 8 came in third for its arrangement at Zuñaro Brothers shoe shop.

Prowling for Scrap

The G. I Civic Association of Mamaroneck will be on the prowl Sunday for all kinds of scrap metal and rubber in another in its series of scrap campaigns.

All kinds of metal are wanted and the bigger the item the better. Stoves, refrigerators, car bodies and any other large items will be collected as well as smaller pieces of pie and worn-out electric irons.

Residents who have any scrap metal are asked to call MA 9-9757 between 9 A. M. and 1 P. M. and a truck will be dispatched to collect the material.

All scrap collected will be sold by the Association for the benefit of its club house and welfare funds.

The committee in charge of the drive is headed by Anthony Pergola and includes Joseph Frattarola, Fred Degina and Anthony Bavtelle.

Honorary Member

Former Larchmont Deputy Fire Chief Rol B. Woolley of 40 Mayhew Avenue was elected an honorary life member of the International Association of Fire Chiefs Wednesday at a meeting of the association's board of directors in New York City.

Chief Woolley, Westchester County fire coordinator, was honored "in recognition of his outstanding service in the field of fire protection and fire prevention."

The association authorized him to write a text book on "Mutual Aid in the Fire Service" which will include the accounts of the Fire Chiefs' Emergency Plan of Westchester. The plan was termed the "outstanding mutual aid setup of the nation." Chief Woolley was president of the group for four years.

The association directors also received the report of the Committee on Communications which Chief Woolley has headed for the last six years and approved continuing study of radio and other fire service communication methods.

1 Day Strike at Finast Ends, Business Resumed

Business was resumed today at First National supermarkets in Mamaroneck, Larchmont and Port Chester after a one-day strike which closed the three shops. The stores were picketed yesterday by members of the Chauffeurs and Helpers Private Sanitation Union, local 813, which charged the First National Company with employing non-union garbage disposal help.

All clerks and butchers at the three stores respected local 813's picket line and no business was transacted yesterday at any of the stores. The other unions involved were the Meat Cutters and Butchers, local 489, and the Grocery and Produce Clerks, local 1500.

CAPITAL CIRCLES PREDICT TRUMAN WON'T RUN AGAIN

President Seen 'Happy To Retire'; No Definite Decision Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman's announcement that he is going to let the political river take its course, with a little steering now and then, was interpreted in some administration circles today as indicating he does not plan to run again.

It has been learned authoritatively that some of Mr. Truman's closest friends now do not believe he will seek renomination—barring unforeseen developments.

One of these friends, who cannot be named, said that while the President apparently hasn't confided his decision to anyone, the inner circle of his associates looks for him to step aside at the proper time and name his choice for the nomination.

He's Chances Seen Weaker

The President was said to feel the chances are diminishing that the Republicans will nominate Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Believing as he does that Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio is the likely GOP choice, Mr. Truman was reported to feel that the Democrats have a good chance to win next November's election. If that looks reasonably certain, friends said, Mr. Truman will be happy to retire from the scene.

The President was depicted as realizing that some other Northern Democratic candidate would be likely to command more support in the South than he could because of the antagonism over his civil rights program.

On the other hand, Mr. Truman apparently is fully cognizant of the widespread view among Democratic leaders that he is their best candidate — as of now.

As part of his program of letting the political river take its course, he seemingly is giving some other Democrats their chance to demonstrate what they can do. This may apply to Senator Kerr, D., Okla., in a limited way, and to Governor Adlai Stevenson of Illinois.

Police Lose 'Rocket' Car At City Line

A stolen Connecticut car that rocketed along the Boston Post Road Tuesday evening at speeds estimated from 65 to 90 miles per hour as its operator eluded Rye, Mamaroneck, Larchmont, New Rochelle and Pelham police, was recovered early last night.

The 1940 light blue coupe, a "souped-up" job, was reported stolen early Tuesday evening in a State Police teletype alarm from Hartford. At 8:05 P. M. Rye patrolmen "flagged" the speeding car on the Post Road between Barlow Lane and Rye Road.

When the unidentified driver "poured on the coal" and was fast outdistancing the police car, Patrolman Leonard Schindo radioed ahead to Mamaroneck's Post Road patrol passed in the opposite direction. Rye headquarters successively notified Larchmont, New Rochelle and Pelham to intercept the fleeing speeder, who passed Richbell Road, Mamaroneck, at an estimated 90 miles an hour.

Pirone, Krezel Receive Top Rating at Dinner In Mamaroneck

Two Mamaroneck Boy Scouts, Kenneth Krezel and Frank Pirone won Eagle rank, scouting's highest rating, last night at a Mamaroneck district Court of Honor in St. Thomas's Community House.

The honor court followed a dinner celebrating the 42nd anniversary of scouting and was attended by more than 300 scouts and their fathers.

The Eagle awards were made by Alvah Small, advancement chairman of the district, who was assisted by Carmen Ricci, assistant scoutmaster of Troop 1 of which both boys are members. The Eagle badges were pinned on the boys by their mothers, Mrs. John Krezel and Mrs. Nicholas Pirone.

The Court of Honor was won by Troop 1, headed by Scoutmaster Oscar Birch. More than 50 merit badges were presented to boys and promotions in scout rank were announced. Scoutmasters of the various troops awarded the badges and certified the appointments.

Scoutmaster's Key

A feature of the dinner was the presentation of a scoutmaster's key to Mr. Birch who has completed a three-year training program in scouting leadership.

Also honored by the scouts was eight-year-old Cub Scout Frank Herz Jr. who last Saturday rescued a playmate when she fell through the ice in a pond back of Mamaroneck Knolls.

New Rochelle Man Arrested After Crash on Center Ave.

A twenty-three-year-old New Rochelle driver was held in the Mamaroneck Village jail at noon today on charges of damaging a village tree and fire hydrant, leaving the scene of an accident and driving while his operator's license was revoked. Bail was set at $100.

Harold T. Baldwin is alleged to be the driver who careened off a fire hydrant on Center Avenue near Old White Plains Road at 7:30 P. M. yesterday and then left the scene after scraping a tree.

Patrolmen John Rowan and George Mulcahey of Mamaroneck Town Police spotted the battered vehicle on Myrtle Boulevard in Larchmont shortly after midnight and took Baldwin to headquarters for questioning when he could not explain satisfactorily how the car had been damaged.

The front end was almost totally wrecked and the car was scarcely operable, the police reported. Patrolman Rowan stated it looked as if it had been crushed between two box cars.

He was transferred to village headquarters when Town Police learned of the damage on Center Street and Judge Henry T. Horridge this morning adjourned the case until Feb. 15.

Judge Horridge also fined Harrison Kleinman of New Rochelle $15 for speeding and levied $10 against Mrs. Katherine Gray of 238 Center Avenue, Mamaroneck, for driving without a 1952 registration tag. Mrs. Margaret Sleuber of 490 Bleeker Avenue was charged $2 for a parking violation as was Howard P. Walden Jr. of Rye. David Woolman of 594 Alda Road and Waldo Root of Harrison were taxed $2.

A $3 dog violation was charged to Mrs. Ruth Campbell of 151 Elm Street, Mamaroneck, and Nick Garito of 191 Palmer Avenue, Larchmont, and Jack Blutiman of 708 Munro Avenue, Mamaroneck, each paid $1 on the same offense.

British Red China Recognition Defended By Visiting Students

Britain's diplomatic recognition of Red China did not condone Communism, a member of England's Conservative party told the Mamaroneck Rotary Club yesterday at the Green Haven Inn as he shared the platform with a fellow Englishman who spoke from the Laborite point of view.

William Reed-Mogg, the Conservative, and his companion, Richard Taverne, are graduates of Balliol College, Oxford University, now on tour of the United States. Mr. Reed-Mogg is a grandson of Daniel Webster, for whom the Daniel Warren School is named.

Amplifying his remarks on China, Mr. Rees-Mogg said that the main reason for Britain's recognition of China was political and not economics.

Winston Churchill said it was absurd to recognize Russia and not the Chinese Communist government, he went on, because that government is the power in full control of the country. Withdrawal of this recognition now, he maintained, would jeopardize Korean truce negotiations.

Labor Rule Cited

Mr. Taverne maintained Britain's post-war Labor government was responsible for pulling the nation up from a point of near-bankruptcy. It was the policy of this government, he said, that brought England to a position that it could give up Marshall Plan aid.

The present economic distress there stems solely from rearmament required by the Korean conflict, he concluded.

Mr. Taverne attributed failure of the Iranian oil negotiations to the peculiar set-up of Iran's governmental system, or lack of system, and defended British policies in the Near East giving Indian independence as an example. Only this action prevented India from falling to the Communists, he declared.

Visiting Rotarians were Jack Cox, Alfred Tucker, Arthur Sammarco and Robert Goodwin of Port Chester; Mark Lellek and Dr. Morton Heide of Larchmont; Alex Henry of Greenwich and Irving Davis of Pelham.

James VanWeelden was guest of Souren Avedikian and Anthony Spampinato and Pat Angarano were guests of Reese Brower. Judge Henry D. Holden presided.

GEORGE REPOSES AT SANDRINGHAM

Royal Servants Pay Tribute; King Wears Uniform of Naval Admiral

SANDRINGHAM, England, (AP) Senior royal servants tiptoed past the candle-lit bier of King George VI today, paying last respects to their dead sovereign.

On the bier in a dimly lit downstairs bedroom of Sandringham House was a plain oak coffin in it was the King's body, clad in the uniform of an admiral of the fleet.

Of all the uniforms he wore it was the one he loved best, symbolic of his long association with the naval service in which he served under fire at the Battle of Jutland.

Will Repose In Old Chapel

Late today, after Queen Elizabeth II drives from London and pays homage to her father, the body will be carried 200 yards to the little 16th Century royal chapel of St. Mary Magdalene. There it will be guarded by the eight gamekeepers and beaters who served the hunt-loving King longest.

At the chapel the King's people —his farmers, gamekeepers, woodmen and villagers from West Newton, Dersingham, Sherbrooke, Flitcham, Wolferton, Castle Rising and Hillington, which nestle under the royal walls—will take their last leave of the man they called their squire.

There will be a short service in the chapel today. Then the coffin will be placed on a gun carriage and a guard of honor of 20 grenadiers will draw the cortege slowly down the two-mile-long

Winnie Judd Returns After Fifth Escape

PHOENIX, Ariz., (AP)—Trunk murderess Winnie Ruth Judd, scrubbed and battered looking, returned voluntarily to the State Mental Hospital under mysterious circumstances last night.

She surrendered at the home of the hospital superintendent with the brief comment:

"Well, I'm back."

It was the fifth escape for the fading "tiger woman" who 21 years ago killed two girl friends and dropped their dismembered bodies to Los Angeles.

Dr. M. W. Conway, the hospital superintendent, said she acknowledged she had received outside help in fleeing last Saturday night.

He also said Mrs. Judd appeared to have had "a face lifting." He did no elaborate on her appearance.

Dr. Dean Archer, clinical director, said later Mrs. Judd was "scrubbed and battered looking." He said her eyebrows had been plucked and her already dyed red hair had been newly tinted.

P-T Council Pushes Campaign Against Air Rifle, BB Gun Use

The Mamaroneck - Larchmont Parent-Teacher Council will enlist the aid of all parents and local organizations in a drive to ban the use of air rifles, BB guns, sling shots and other dangerous items by local children, according to plans formulated yesterday at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Lincoln Paige of 14 Shadow Lane, Larchmont.

Mrs. Paige, safety and health chairman of the Chatsworth Avenue School PTA and acting safety chairman of the Council, will send letters to all parents to emphasize the law which prohibits the discharge of any air gun or other instrument for the projection of missiles by minors.

Men's organizations in the community will be contacted by William Celestino, safety chairman of Mamaroneck Avenue School, and the Town and Village police departments will be asked to send representatives to schools and explain the dangers of such weapons to the pupils.

Scout organizations and women's clubs will also be asked to back the drive.

The PT Council also emphasized the importance of the bill now before the Legislature which would add air pistols to the list of dangerous weapons.

Attending the meeting were the following PTA safety chairmen: Mrs. Edmund H. Purits, Central School; Mrs. Joshua Morrison, Murray Avenue and Junior High Schools; Mrs. E. J. Bowler, Senior High School; Mrs. Loren P. Kannenberg, Chatsworth Avenue School; Mr. Celestino; Mrs. Paige, Mrs. John D. Brewer, vice president of the Parent-Teacher Council; and Mrs. Edward A. Lew, council public relations chairman.

Elizabeth Proclaimed Queen Of The Realm; Reaches King's Bier

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman has announced that Secretary of State Acheson will represent him at the funeral of King George VI, next Friday.

Mr. Acheson originally was scheduled to be in London for a two-day conference beginning Wednesday, with British Foreign Secretary Eden and French Foreign Minister Schuman on German problems.

The purpose of this meeting was to see if the three powers could resolve some of their differences on German policy. If successful they planned to invite German Chancellor Adenauer to join the talks.

Mr. Acheson told a news conference he did not know whether this conference would be postponed because of the death of King George of England.

The London meeting was scheduled to be completed next Thursday.

REDS ASK 60 DAYS TO DELIVER POW'S

Seen Ready to Gear Swap to Allies' Rate; Renege On 30-Day Offer

MUNSAN, Korea, (AP) — Allied spokesmen said today the communists apparently plan to gear delivery of war prisoners to the Allied delivery rate.

The U. N. communique said there were indications the Reds "will no longer adhere to their previous offer of completing the return of U. N. prisoners within 30 days after the armistice."

Instead, the Communists said the two-month time limit included in their prisoner exchange proposal of last Sunday applies equally to both sides.

Last Monday Rear Adm. R. E. Libby said the Allies would need 90 days because the U. N. has 116,000 prisoners. U. N. spokesmen indicated the Allies subsequently cut 30 days off their figure and asked the Reds, who have only 11,559 prisoners, to do the same.

Chinese Col. Tsai Chang-wen replied, "We cannot agree to different time limits for each side."

Col. George W. Hickmen told newsmen, "They don't want to give them all of ours."

Armistice negotiators will hold a full dress session tomorrow to hear the Allies' answer to a Communist proposal for a high level conference to settle all Asian questions related to peace in Korea.

Weyland Says Commies Can Build Jet Armada

TOKYO, (AP)—Lt. Gen. Otto P. Weyland says if Allied air strikes are halted the Reds could mount a tremendous jet armada from their North Korean airfields within 30 days.

The Far East Air Forces commander said in an interview yesterday the Communists have 15 good airfields which could be put into shape without much engineering effort.

All are located near supply points such as railroads or seaports, he added.

The Reds have insisted on the right to rebuild airfields during an armistice.

Londoners Hail Queen In Historic Rite At Palace

LONDON, (AP) — Young Elizabeth II humbly promised today to "always work as my father did" for the happiness of her people and was proclaimed Queen of the British realm, territories and commonwealth. Then she left London to go to the bier of her father, King George VI.

A triple fanfare of trumpets signalled the accession of a new Queen to packed thousands in a ceremony dating back to the days of chivalry in front of historic St. James' Palace.

As a medieval-clad figure finished reading the proclamation from the balcony at 11 A. M. the sombre thousands, in mourning for the late King George VI, stood at attention and sang the majestic national anthem—now "God Save the Queen."

News Spread by Heralds

Artillery salutes boomed, and a clattering pageant-like procession of heralds spread the news.

In a moving little speech to her councillors at the accession ceremony a few minutes before, the twenty-five-year-old queen said:

"My heart is too full for me to say more to you today than that I shall always work, as my father did throughout his reign, to uphold constitutional government and to advance the happiness and prosperity of my peoples, spread as they are all the world over. I pray that God will help me to discharge worthily this heavy task that has been laid upon me so early in my life."

Thus began the reign of the second "Good Queen Bess."

En Route to Visit Bier

Then she and her thirty-year-old husband, the Duke of Edinburgh left Clarence House, their home for the 130-mile trip to Sandringham to visit for the first time the bier of her father whose death early Wednesday called her back 4,000 miles from East Africa and to a royal tour.

As the royal limousine rolled through the palace gates the new Queen smiled for the first time since her return and waved to a waiting crowd.

The dead King's coffin will be carried along a garden path behind a sackcloth screen from Sandringham this evening to the little parish church nearby. There in the centuries-old church the King's own gamekeepers, dressed in tra-

CHAMBER SLATES 3 SHOPPER-DAYS

25 Merchants In Mamaroneck To Participate In Sales Event

Twenty-five merchants are participating in Shopper-Tunity Days Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, Albert J. Lombino, chairman of the retail division of the Mamaroneck Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the sales event, told the Board of Directors at a meeting last night in the Chamber meeting room.

A recent addition to the list and two not previously reported are Crown Radio Stores, 314 Mamaroneck Avenue, Ditman's, 332 Mamaroneck Avenue, and Mamaroneck Gas and Electric Appliances, 421 Mamaroneck Avenue.

Participating members expect to hang the sales material in their stores and windows during the weekend, Mr. Lombino said, and the street pennants will go up over the weekend.

Exposition Planned

The matter of another Exposition in 1953 was discussed briefly but Thom Jr., executive secretary of the Chamber, showed the directors new floor layouts and explained

SERVING MAMARONECK AND LARCHMONT

ESTABLISHED OCT. 1925 — MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATION — MAMARONECK, N. Y., SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1952 — MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — PRICE FIVE CENTS

The Weather

Fair and windy this afternoon, high temperature 35 to 40. Clear and colder tonight, low in upper 20s. Mostly fair and a little warmer tomorrow, high 35 to 40.

Combing The Town

Traffic Detoured

Local motorists Rye-bound from 9:23 to 9:40 last night are probably wondering why they were detoured off the Post Road through Keeler Avenue and Harrison.

Mamaroneck Police explained this morning that a truck caught fire in front of the Lewis and Valentine Nursery and the Rye Police Department requested that all eastbound traffic be detoured away from the Post Road while the Rye Fire Department put out the fire. The all-clear came at 9:40.

'Burn 'Em Up

Local commuters who have been carefully husbanding refund-vouchers on commutation-tickets purchased in the last eight months can light their cigars with them this morning.

Mrs. Hazel Ehler, relief ticket agent at the Mamaroneck station, announced this morning that formal word had been received from the railroad's passenger traffic manager to the effect that rate increases put into effect provisionally eight months ago have been approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Reed To Be Honored

Adrian M. Reed of 321 Tompkins Avenue, Mamaroneck, completing 50 years service with the New York Telephone Company, will be honored at a testimonial dinner by his fellow employees Monday night at the Hotel Hartley, Mount Vernon.

Mr. Reed, who is now with the Mount Vernon Central Office, joined the New York Telephone Company Feb. 11, 1902. He was employed in the old Columbia Manual Central Office in New York, and went to Mount Vernon in 1923. He will retire March 31. He is married and has five children.

Wildlife Preserve

Bees, birds and butterflies hereabouts will have a renewal of their lease on the undeveloped land behind Rouken Glen near the Hutchinson River Parkway if the Garden Club of Larchmont is successful in its effort to procure the land from the county for preservation as a natural woodland habitat for native wildlife.

A letter to the Mamaroneck Town Council from Mrs. Mansell L. MacLean, corresponding secretary of the club, states "the rapid growth of this community, and many housing developments under construction, require that responsible authorities recognize the necessity for a continuance of the natural features which have distinguished Mamaroneck."

Heads Alumni

M. Francis Cavallon of 45 Eton Road, Larchmont, was elected last night president of the Alumni Association of George Washington High School in New York City at an organization meeting in the auditorium at 192nd Street and Audubon Avenue.

Mr. Cavallon is vice president in charge of sales for the Alexander Smith Inc. carpet division and has lived in Larchmont since 1926. He is a graduate of Colgate University and New York University Law School and was in the merchandising field with R. H. Macy and James McCreery before joining the Alexander Smith Company.

Self-Help Courses

Techniques for life saving and prevention of suffering will be the subjects of self help first aid courses to be given in Larchmont during February and March under the sponsorship of Larchmont Civil Defense.

To meet the schedule of even the busiest person, the course will be given in three separate sections that will meet Monday and Thursday evenings and Thursday afternoons for those whose evenings are not free. Mrs. Charles Weiler will instruct the Monday group from 8 to 10 P. M. Feb. 18 and 25 and March 3 and 10, while Mrs. Kimly Holpp will lead the Thursday section at similar hours on Feb. 21 and 28 and March 6 and 13.

Mrs. Louis Pritz is to be instructor of the afternoon class that will assemble at 3:30 on Feb. 21 and 28 and March 6 and 13.

Registration for any section may be made in person at the Civil Defense Headquarters or by telephone to Le. 2-4621 until a week from today, the final deadline.

Sund vs. Candy

It hardly seems necessary for 30 kids to need a trained psychologist to tell them things about candy but that's just how affairs stood when a Mamaroneck High School graduate did research for her Master's Degree at Emory University, Ga.

Ruth Lynch, who lived at the home of Mrs. William H. Weiher at 14 Cedar Avenue, Larchmont, before she entered Randolph-Macon College in Georgia, found in her experiments that 'unconscious influences' were at work when the children tried to guess the comparative weights of similar jars filled with sand and candy. They invariably thought the candy jars heavier though in some cases the sand jars weighed more.

Miss Lynch was graduated from high school here in 1946 and earned her degree at Emory after she won a scholarship on the basis of her work at Randolph-Macon. She is now associated with the University of Virginia Hospital at Charlottesville.

Villagers Honor Dead Monarch At Sandringham

Countrymen File Past Bier In Humble Church

SANDRINGHAM, England (AP) —Humble villagers filed through their hushed country church today to pay last homage to the man they called squire — King George VI.

Farmers, carpenters, woodsmen and servants sorrowfully stopped before the candle-lit bier to look for the last time on the coffin of their sovereign and friend.

Inside the big mansion nearby, where the King was born and where he died, Queen Elizabeth II—proclaimed throughout the land yesterday as the new ruler of the British realm—remained closeted in deep mourning with her mother and sister and others of the royal family.

Queen's Flag on House

The new Queen's flag flew high over sandringham House. It was raised there yesterday when finally she was reunited with her bereaved family after first performing the first heavy and solemn duties of her queenly station. Her father's standard, which had flown over the mansion until his quiet death in sleep Wednesday, now covers his oaken coffin.

The body of the fallen monarch lay in the nave of the little gray-stone 16th Century church of St. Mary Magdalene, 200 yards down a winding garden path over which it had been carried last night in the eerie moonlight from the big residence.

A village policeman stood guard at the wrought iron gates near the chapel. Only the 300 odd villagers whom he could recognize as the King's own workers were admitted. During the morning, mainly the wives came.

In their Robin Hood-like attire.

GERMAN DEMANDS STALL ARMY PLANS

High Priced Conditions Set Back Peace Settlement, Europe Defense

BONN Germany (AP) — Allied officials said today West Germany's high priced demands for joining Western defense will set back a peace settlement with the ex-enemy and stall plans for welding German troops into a six-nation European army.

The price includes an end to Allied occupation, full sovereignty for Germany, an equal voice in Western strategic councils, and freedom for many German war criminals.

The windstorms, with gusts up to 86 miles an hour, swept parts of Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Maryland last night. Property damage and power failures were reported in several cities in the storm belt.

Rain accompanied the high winds in Southern New England and snow fell from Northern New England westward to the Eastern Great Lakes and Northern Appalachians. Strong winds also were reported along the Atlantic Seaboard to the Carolinas.

Light snow fell in parts of Minnesota and the Lake Superior region.

Temperatures continued above seasonal levels in most areas. Some colder weather spread into the northeastern states. However, no subzero temperatures were reported in any part of the country.

Airline Pilot Found Bludgeoned To Death

NEW YORK, (AP)—Leo Hartunian, twenty-seven-year-old copilot of Capital Airlines, was found bludgeoned to death last night in his Forest Hills apartment, and police believe a golf club may have been the death weapon.

Mr. Hartunian was found nude, lying on the floor near his bed. The bedroom was blood-spattered and there were indications of a fierce struggle.

TRUCK KILLS GIRL IN NEW ROCHELLE

5-Year-Old Child Struck Crossing Street To Buy Candy

NEW ROCHELLE—

A five-year-old girl carrying two nickels for candy was killed instantly at 1:45 P.M. yesterday by a huge oil trailer truck as she was crossing Maple Avenue at Main Street, only a few doors from her home.

The child, Vivian Frances Graves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward K. Graves of 618 Main Street had taken a few steps off the west curb and presumably turned to wave to a companion. Witnesses said she did not see the slow moving truck round the corner. Her head was crushed.

Warren P. Berry, twenty-eight, of 51 Mount Joy Place, driverof an Esso Standard Oil truck, told police he could not see the child because the particular construction of the new truck's cab obstructed his view. Police said no criminal charges would be filed against Mr.

Police said that at 2:15 P.M., just a half-hour after the tragedy, a patrolman would have been on school crossing duty at the intersection, Vivian, a member of the kindergarten class at Blessed Sacrament School, had not gone to class yesterday because she was suffering from a mild cold.

First highway fatality in this city this year, it raises the county's toll to six compared with seven on this date in 1951.

Strong Winds Batter East, Rain Follows

NEW YORK (AP) — Strong winds, rain and snow hit wide areas in the eastern part of the country today after thunderstorms which struck a five-state area last night killed two persons and injured 17 others.

The windstorms, with gusts up to 86 miles an hour, swept parts of Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Maryland last night. Property damage and power failures were reported in several cities in the storm belt.

Rain accompanied the high winds in Southern New England and snow fell from Northern New England westward to the Eastern Great Lakes and Northern Appalachians. Strong winds also were reported along the Atlantic Seaboard to the Carolinas.

Light snow fell in parts of Minnesota and the Lake Superior region.

Temperatures continued above seasonal levels in most areas. Some colder weather spread into the northeastern states. However, no subzero temperatures were reported in any part of the country.

Ground-Breaking Set Tuesday For New United Hospital Wing

Ground will be broken on Lincoln's Birthday, Feb. 12, to start construction of United Hospital's new, four-story Memorial Pavilion, one day before an area-wide public campaign for subscriptions to the hospital's $1,000,000 building fund is launched, it was announced today by John C. Andresen, president of the board of trustees.

Simple ground-breaking ceremonies will be conducted at the hospital site at 11 A. M. Tuesday. Among those participating besides Mr. Andresen, will be the Rev. Wendell Phillips, rector of Christ Episcopal Church in Rye, Samuel H. Cooley, treasurer of the hospital, and Edward J. Hughes, chairman of the general public campaign.

Mr. Andresen emphasized today that all residents of this area are invited to be present to witness the actual initiation of United Hospital's long-needed enlargement program. The public campaign for the building fund will open at 7:30 P. M Wednesday at the Westchester Country Club.

"The fact that both the ground-breaking and the start of the public campaign will occur within the same week is no coincidence," Mr. Andresen said today in his announcement. "It is solid evidence to the people of this part of Westchester County that the enlargement program to which they are asked to subscribe is actually under way."

The ceremonies on Tuesday will signalize the start of construction of the major part of the program, the four-story Memorial Pavilion, extending toward the Boston Post Road from the present Memorial Wing. In addition to making room for 48 additional beds for medical and surgical patients, both semi-private and private, it will offer space for a more adequate clinic department and contain nurseries for the newborn.

The second phase of the building

HIS SECOND Oak Leaf Cluster to a Bronze Star Medal was awarded to Col. Roswell K. Doughty, left, of 1001 Grove Street, Mamaroneck, before his return to the United States late in January from 3rd Division Headquarters in Korea where he was an assistant chief of staff.

Col. Doughty is a veteran of the North African, Italian and European campaigns of World war II and was with the General Motors Acceptance Corporation in New York City before his recall to active duty in September, 1950. Brig. Gen. Thomas J. Gross presented the award.

V. A. Bribery Charged In G.I. Bill Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Congressional committee said today "an excessive number" of Veterans Administration employes accepted bribes, gifts, unusual loans, gratuities, services and ownership in schools" in connection with educational programs under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

These employes, the committee said, yielded to temptations offered by "certain unscrupulous schools" and individuals."

The committee, a special House group headed by Representative Teague, D., Texas, made its comments in a lengthy report which recommended writing of a new law to extend educational benefits to veterans of the Korean conflict.

It has been investigating the World War II G. I. program since early last year.

Conclusions Listed

Among its conclusions were these:

1. For several years, new schools started after 1944 were permitted to levy "unreasonable and excessive charges" which the government paid.

2. Some schools falsified cost data and attendance records, overcharged for books and tools, and billed the V. A. for students not enrolled.

3. At the college level, the training program "has been carried out successfully."

4. Many veterans took courses "for the obvious purpose of securing subsistence payments rather than a bona fide interest in training."

5. "A minority of veterans have conspired" to obtain benefits to which they were not entitled and "engaged extensively in the practice of selling or pawning the tools issued them for training purposes" at government cost.

6. The Veterans Administration did not exercise adequate control over "irresponsible veterans."

7. A majority of states have carried out effective approval programs but there has been "serious failure in some states, particularly Pennsylvania."

8. Many V. A. employes owned interest in or derived profit from schools under contract with the V. A.

9. Many institutions "in all field or education took advantage of the lack of regulation and supervision to adopt unreasonable supply requirements and excessive charge practices."

10. A majority of the seven-and-a-half million veterans who availed themselves of V. A. training benefitted from the program.

LLOYD RICE DIES, DESIGNED PARKS

Village Employe Since 1932 Succumbs In Hospital At 61

Lloyd T. Rice of 323 Sterling Avenue, Mamaroneck, a member of the village Park Department since 1932, died last night in St. Agnes Hospital, White Plains, of coronary thrombosis. He was sixty-one.

Born June 24, 1890, in Woodbury, N. J., Mr. Rice was the son of Frederick and Elizabeth Heaton Rice of that city. He was educated in the Woodbury public schools and took extension courses in agriculture at the University of Pennsylvania.

In 1906 he joined the U. S. Navy and was a member of the famous White Fleet, first American fleet to circle the globe.

He married Freida Heugel in 1916 after his term of service with the Navy expired in 1916 and he re-entered the Navy during the First World War and achieved the rank of warrant officer in command of the Sevilla II, an anti-submarine net-tender.

He has done landscape forestry and park supervision for Bronx River and Westchester County Parkway Commissions, and helped design, lay out and supervise all the parks in Mamaroneck, including Florence Park, Station Plaza, Orienta Park and Harbor Island.

Mr. Rice has also been active in community affairs as a member of American Legion Post 30 and a Past Grand of Alert Lodge of Odd Fellows. He was also a member of the Church Council and former treasurer of St. John's Episcopal Church here.

Mr. Rice is survived by his wife and a son, Lloyd P. Rice, a teacher at Mamaroneck High School, both of the Mamaroneck address. He also leaves four sisters, Mrs. Miriam Sheets, Mrs. Ray Key, and the Misses Alice and Elizabeth Rice, all of Philadelphia.

Services by officers and members of Alert Lodge 753, Oddfellows, will be held at the Rice home at 8 P. M. tomorrow and the body will repose there until noon Monday.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 P. M. in St. John's Lutheran Church, Mamaroneck, with the Rev. William Fairman and the Rev. T. O. Possett Jr., officiating.

Interment in Woodlawn Cemetery will follow.

9 U.S. AIRCRAFT DOWNED IN KOREA, REDS LOSE NONE

7 Destroyed by Communist A.A. Guns; We Claim Damage to 9 MIG's

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Nine U. S. 5th Air Force warplanes were lost in Red Korea in the week ending Friday. The Communists lost none.

The Air Force in its weekly summary, said Red anti-aircraft batteries protecting vital Red targets shot down seven U. N. planes. One F86 Sabre jet was lost in a jet battle, and one plane crashed after a mechanical failure.

Losses Average 10 a Week

Last week the 5th Air Force lost 14 planes. The weekly average is about 10.

Allied pilots claimed damage to nine Russian-made MIG15 jets during the week, but the Red planes all managed to limp back to their Manchurian sanctuary.

In Tokyo, Far East Air Forces said 355 Communist planes of all types have been destroyed since the war began. Another 102 were listed as probably destroyed and 403 damaged. This included 220 MIGs destroyed, 53 probably destroyed and 343 damaged.

Allied losses were given as 488 planes, including 186 jets. This includes some Marine losses but none for the Navy.

The report came as U. S. Sabre jets damaged three Red MIG15s and probably destroyed another in two clashes over Northwestern Korea today.

175 MIGs Sighted

Fifth Air Force said at least 175 MIGs were sighted after morning snow flurries and thick clouds cleared away.

Twenty-six Sabres tore into about 30 MIGs in one action. Twenty-six other Sabres battled about 50 Red jets in the second fight.

Watchdog Unit Is Set To Study Central Buying

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House "Watchdog" subcommittee turned from machine tools to pillows today in a campaign against waste in military buying.

Chairman Hebert, D., La., of the Armed Services subcommittee on procurement said open hearings will begin Monday on the costs of maintaining three different military catalogues.

The catalogues are something like mail order catalogues, only several times as large. They list items on hand, or on procurement. Each service has its own, leading to numerous duplications.

The hearings are on a bill to establish one central purchasing agency for the government — and possibly one central catalogue for the use of all services.

Committee officials say as much as $100 million might be saved by eliminating duplication and competitive buying on items from pillows to electronics equipment.

The subcommittee quizzed government officials all day Friday and Saturday on a $69 million war contract for special lathes.

The lathes for 737 42-inch turret lathes from the Fisher Body division of General Motors was canceled Thursday.

Cancellation will cost the government between $5 million and $6 million, witnesses said.

They told the subcommittee reduced aircraft production goals and increased availability of other equipment had eliminated the need for the Fisher contract.

2 NEW SNOW TIRES MISSING FROM CAR

Two nearly-new snow tires were stolen from the car of Pord Anderson of the Alden House Apartment, Larchmont, sometime between dusk and 9 P. M. yesterday when the car was jacked up behind Flinn's garage on the Boston Post Road. The two rear wheels were removed.

William Becker, a Flinn Motors employe, stated this morning the two tires had been bought and installed on the 1942 sedan last week. The car was parked behind the garage, out of sight of the Post Road, and the thief apparently used his own jack for all the company tools were under lock and key.

Another customer of the garage who drove through the parking lot at 9 P. M. reported the jack had been removed at that time and the rear of the car was resting on the brake drums. Mr. Becker found it that way this morning.

UN Accepts Red Proposal In Part But Limits Talk

Allies Approve Date For Negotiations; Asia Out

MUNSAN Korea (AP)—The United Nations today accepted a Communist proposal to begin negotiating a Korean settlement within three months after an armistice but rejected a Red suggestion that the talks cover Far Eastern questions beyond Korea.

The Allies endorsed two-thirds of a Red-proposed three-point agenda for a high level conference, but told the Communists they would discuss no Asian question other than that of Korea.

The U. N. command agreed to discuss (1) withdrawal of foreign troops from Korea; (2) peaceful settlement of the Korean controversy and (3) other Korean questions related to peace.

Wants Asian Problems Settled

The first two points were proposed by the Reds last Wednesday. The Communists also suggested that the high-level conference settle "other problems in Asia related to the Korean question." Presumably this would include such thorny subjects as Formosa.

In rephrasing the third point, the U. N. would limit debate to problems connected directly with the Korean conflict.

The Allies also insisted that South Korea be given a voice in the peace talks. The Communists ignored President Syngman Rhee's government.

30 Burglaries Admitted By Yonkers Men; Police Find $20,000 Loot

YONKERS—

Four Yonkers men who police say have admitted at least 30 burglaries from Westchester to Troy, were arrested yesterday by Yonkers Police worxing in conjunction with State Police.

The four were identified as Ernest Wikel, twenty-seven, of 37 Palisades Avenue, his brother Everett Wikel, thirty, and George Tausek, both of 1 Cottage Place Gardens, and Alvin Johnson, thirty-one, whose last address was at 386 Roberts Avenue but who had been living recently with Ernest Wikel.

Police say they found a wide variety of loot at the Palisades Avenue address. They estimated its value in the neighborhood of $20,000.

Game Warden Spotted Loot

Credit in the break in the case has been given to Edward Kurka, of 218 Jessamine Avenue, a New York State game protector. Police say Mr. Kurka stopped at Ernest Wikel's apartment on January 23 to investigate reports that the brothers had taken deer out of season. He saw the loot piled all over within the house and reported the quantity and variety to State Police.

State Police then notified local authorities and both joined in an investigation. The brothers were away in Florida at the time and the arrests were postponed until yesterday.

After questioning and booking at police headquarters, the four were

Question of the Week

Readers Oppose Experiments On 'Pound Dogs' By 11–7 Vote

This is the 227th in a Saturday series of short interviews with residents on issues of the day—local and national. This week's question: "DO YOU FAVOR THE HATCH-METCALF BILL TO PERMIT USE OF UNCLAIMED DOGS IN MEDICAL EXPERIMENTS?"

Dr. V. J. Curtis, M.D., 1860 Palmer Avenue, Larchmont: "I think you'll find that anyone in the medical profession would favor such a bill. A great deal of progress in medicine has depended on experimenting with live animals. For example, Dr. Banting in Canada developed the insulin treatment of diabetes from experiments on dogs. . . . Take all the recent developments of dental care, they have to be tried out, and their value and toxicity determined, before they can be used on human beings. I see no objection to taking animals from pounds, animals that would only be destroyed anyway, and using them in experiments, if the results are applied to the relief of human suffering."

Mrs. Roy H. Zimmerman, 327 Palmer Avenue, Mamaroneck: "I'm definitely not in favor of it. I've read too much and seen too much of the inhumanities those poor animals have to suffer. . . . They say they don't suffer, but they do."

Frank Leo, 76 Wendt Avenue, Larchmont: "Sure, I'm for it. It's for the health of the public."

Mrs. Thomas E. Gough, 308 Fourth Street, Mamaroneck: "Well, I have a dog and I'd hate to think of him suffering the tortures they have to use sometimes in those experiments. But I've been pretty crippled with arthritis recently, and I guess if they could put out a cure for it from experimenting on dogs, I'd be in favor of it."

Mrs. Alexander Sanders, 99 Gerlach Place, Larchmont: "I've often thought of it. It's so necessary and yet so cruel. No. I think I'd be against such a bill. Let them use rats and mice . . . and save the dogs."

Dr. Al Finelli, D.D.S., Evelyn Court Apartments, Mamaroneck: "Medical science depends on experiments with living animals. I remember dissecting live cats when I was a student at Tufts. The

VALENTINE SENT TO REFORMATORY

Youth Who Spoke On Anti-Crime Program Must Finish Sentence

WHITE PLAINS—

County Court Judge Arthur D. Brennan yesterday elected to send Alfred D. Valentine, nineteen-year-old car thief, back to Washington, D. C. where the youth once appeared on an anticrime radio program with President Truman.

Valentine who lives at 9 Cleveland Court, New Rochelle, isn't expected to see the President again, however. The youth is being returned to the National Training School for Boys, a Federal reformatory, as his sentence for a series of car thefts here.

Yesterday was not Valentine's day. St. Valentine's Day comes next Thursday. Yesterday Judge Brennan sentenced Valentine to finish the last two years of the three-year term under which he was committed to the reformatory two years ago, for transporting a stolen car across state lines.

Crime Does Not Pay'

During his hitch there, he appeared on a nationwide radio hook-up with President Truman on which they advised juveniles that "crime does not pay."

He had another big day, however, Sept. 26 when New Rochelle Police arrested him on the car theft charges. It was found that Valentine had 75 ignition keys in his possession. He blandly explained that he wanted to teach motorists that it doesn't pay to leave keys in ignitions.

The charges alleged Valentine stole cars owned by Easchester Ptl. Albert Bodnar of 10 Oakridge Place and John E. Peters of 25 Woodlot Road, both Eastchester, and Mrs. Patricia Williamson of 7 Lee Court, New Rochelle.

He was allowed to plead guilty to one of the charges, which was reduced to petty larceny, and was sentenced on this charge.

The other two charges, alleging first degree grand larcenies, will stay open on the book.

SERVING MAMARONECK AND LARCHMONT

ESTABLISHED OCT. 1925 — MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATION — MAMARONECK, N. Y., MONDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1952 — MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — PRICE FIVE CENTS

The Weather
Mostly fair and windy this afternoon, high temperature in the 40s. Fair and slightly colder tonight and tomorrow; low tonight about 30, high tomorrow near 40. Fresh to strong west-northwest winds.

Combing The Town

We'll be on Tap

Schools in Mamaroneck and Larchmont started a two-day Lincoln's Birthday recess today, with the holiday falling on Tuesday youngsters were given an extra day off and schools won't reopen until Wednesday morning.

Banks and municipal offices will be closed tomorrow in observance of the birthday of the Great Emancipator.

Post Offices ill go on a half-day schedule with one delivery of mail in both Mamaroneck and Larchmont and all windows for stamps, parcel post, money orders and other postal services open until noon. The lobbies in both post offices will be open all day.

The Daily Times, however, will take no holiday and the paper will be published as usual.

Chief to Match Wits

Chief Louis Giancola of the Mamaroneck Police Department will appear on the "Strike It Rich" TV program over CBS tomorrow at 11:30 A. M. on behalf of Edward Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thomas of 713 North Barry Avenue, Mamaroneck, who has been a sufferer from infantile paralysis for many years.

The chief will be substituting for Patrolman Otto Verschoor of the Mamaroneck police who has assisted in arranging the appearance but is unable to participate in the program.

"Strike It Rich" is a daily feature over CBS-TV and winners through the program receive a variety of gifts donated by manufacturers.

On TV Program

James Juller, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Juller of 446 Beach Avenue, Mamaroneck, will appear on the "Magic Door" television program over station WJZ-TV at 5:30 P. M., Saturday, under the auspices of the MacLevy Talent Studio of White Plains.

James is one of several MacLevy pupils who were chosen after competitive auditions to appear on the all-children program. He will appear in a choral rendition of "Camptown Races."

Board Actions

The Boy Scout Village Board which ran Mamaroneck Saturday took one definite action and heard a plea to help stop vandalism at Harbor Island park.

Stewart P. Park Jr., assessor for the day, asked that the youthful board grant permission to erect Red Cross flags on the poles on village sidewalks March 1 to mark the beginning of the 1952 Red Cross Fund drive. It was so granted.

Acting Police Chief Peter Pimentel then said that much of the vandalism at Harbor Island and the destruction of lawns and property was caused by careless residents who drive their cars on the grass with no regard for the beauty of the park. He asked that the practice be stopped and appealed to residents to care for municipal property.

Wrong Car to Hit

When Jacob Goldstein, a milk truck driver, of New Rochelle pulled away from the curb on Richbell Road, Larchmont, at 8:25 this morning, he should have signaled his intention.

Not only did a northbound car collide with his truck as it nosed out into the road, but that car was the property of the Town of Mamaroneck Police Department and the driver was Patrolman John Caputo.

Both vehicles were damaged slightly in the accident.

Mr. Goldstein's worst fears were dispelled however as the officer declined to press charges.

Near Drowning

Quick work by Mrs. Lewis Pudney of 317 Murray Avenue, Larchmont, Saturday, saved three-year-old Timothy Rodriguez from possible drowning when he wandered from his back yard at 114 North Chatsworth Avenue and fell into a three-foot pond at the rear of the William Cory residence, 122 North Chatsworth.

Mrs. Fudney saw the child struggling in the pond shortly before 4 P. M., and pulled him, soaked and frightened, from the water.

When the child was able to tell where he lived, Mrs. Pudney called Town of Mamaroneck Police who wrapped the child in a police blanket and managed to locate his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Rodriguez.

Mrs. Rodriguez said this morning that aside from a slight cold Timothy was no worse for his experience.

Contest Finalist

John O'Neill, owner of O'Neill's Service Station at 427 East Boston Post Road, Mamaroneck, is among 28 "brand name" dealers in the finals of the fourth annual nation-wide contest for the "Brand Name Retailer of the Year."

The contest, conducted by Brand Names Foundation, Inc., is based on the manner in which dealers convey to the public "the responsibility, pride and good values back of America's brand names." Mr. O'Neill's entry was chosen for the finals in the gasoline service station field.

Winners in the contest will be announced April 16 when "Brand Names Day" is observed at a dinner in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York.

FUNERAL CORTEGE REACHES LONDON

3 English Queens Accompany Body to Westminster; Crowds Line Route

LONDON, (AP) — King George VI came back to London for the last time today and England's three queens—his mother, his wife and his daughter—saw the body carried reverently into age-old Westminster Hall for three days' homage from the nation.

The body came by train from Sandringham, where the King died and was carried on a gun-carriage from King's Cross Station the three miles to Westminster. A cold rain beat upon the coffin, surmounted by the heavily jeweled crown, as the horse-drawn gun carriage bearing it made its slow way along silent streets lined with sorrowing subjects.

His train, bearing Queen Elizabeth II and her family, edged noiselessly into King's Cross Station in a downpour of rain and sleet at 2:46 P. M. after a private funeral service at the Sandringham estate where he died Wesneday.

Despite a drenching, thousands lined the three-mile route to Westminster Hall where the body of the late monarch will lie in state until the burial at Windsor on Friday.

Windows all along the route, many engaged by enterprising rental agencies, were crowded.

Chamber Of Commerce Erects 'Shopper-Tunity' Day Markers

Street pennants announcing Mamaroneck Shopper-Tunity Days Thursday, Friday and Saturday were put up on the light poles along Mamaroneck Avenue, Halstead Avenue to the railroad station and around the Post Office during the weekend.

Shopper-Tunity Days are the second in a series of sales events planned by Mamaroneck's merchants, Albert J. Lombino, chairman of the retail division of the Mamaroneck Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the event, said yesterday. Merchandise offered during the three sales days is

SCOFIELD QUITS DRAFT BOARD 10

Larchmont Resident Resigns Because of Business Responsibilities

Lawrence S. Scofield of 137 Beach Avenue, Larchmont, has submitted his resignation to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey as a member of Draft Board 10 which covers the Village of Larchmont and the unincorporated section of the Town of Mamaroneck.

Mr. Scofield gave as his reasons for resignation "increased business and personal responsibilities."

Mr. Scofield has been associated with selective service since 1941 when he became a member of Boardale-Larchmont Draft Board 743. In 1945 he was elected chairman of that board and was later assigned to the Mount Vernon Board when Boards No. 743 and 10 were combined.

In his letter to Gov. Dewey Mr. Scofield said:

"I regret to advise you that because of increased business and personal responsibilities it is necessary that I tender my resignation as a member of selective service Local Board No. 10, Mount Vernon, New York.

"I have been in Selective Service since 1941 and have had a great deal of satisfaction in working with those with whom I have been associated. The other board members have been and are, without exception, men of the highest caliber and unquestioned integrity whose only objective has been the application of Selective Service regulations without fear, favor or prejudice. I sincerely regret that circumstances prevent the continuance of this association as in the past.

"Will you please accept my resignation effective immediately."

Town Police Arrest Youth After Chase

Joseph Landina, 16, of West Haven, Conn., was charged with driving without a license and summoned to appear in Town of Mamaroneck Police Court Feb. 14, after a game of hide-and-seek with Town Police early Saturday morning.

According to Patrolman George Rowan, Landina was first spotted at 6:55 A. M. driving a panel truck east on the Post Road without lights. The police car signalled to the truck to turn its lights on but the truck only accelerated and disappeared, still without lights. The police car gave chase but lost the truck in the darkness.

The police then systematically checked all the side streets off the Post Road, and finally located the truck as it emerged from the driveway at 24 Dean Place, where it had been hiding. In the truck were Landina, the driver, and three teen-age companions, all of West Haven. The boys told conflicting stories of how they happened to be in the locality, some claiming they had become lost, while others indicated that they were familiar with the area.

A check from headquarters revealed that the boys were not wanted by the West Haven police, and the three passengers were released. The driver was charged with operating without a license and released at 1:30 P. M. after his father, Joseph Landina, owner of the truck, posted $25 bond at 1:30 P. M.

FORBES HONORED AT ELKS DINNER

Former Larchmont Resident Was Founder of N. R. Lodge

New Rochelle Lodge 756, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, honored its exalted ruler, past exalted rulers and the only living charter member still in the lodge Saturday night at its 50th anniversary dinner in the Glen Island Casino.

The ceremonies were highlighted by the presentation of a wrist watch to Past Exalted Ruler George P. Forbes, formerly of Avon Road, Larchmont, the oldest living past exalted ruler and the only one of two persons still alive who signed the original charter in 1902.

Mr. Forbes, former editor and publisher of the Larchmont Times and The Daily Times, now resides in Spring Lake, N. J., where, until recently, he was engaged in the newspaper business as publisher of The Spring Lake Gazette and the Coast Advertiser. He founded the Larchmont Times in 1900 and The Daily Times in 1925.

Accompanied by 3 of 4 Children

Mr. Forbes was accompanied to the dinner by three of his four children, George Jr., of Larchmont, Richard of Stamford, and Miss Mary Alice of Spring Lake. Another son, William R., of Manasquan, N. J., general manager of The Coast Advertiser, Belmar, N. J., was unable to attend, as

119-Pound Girl Is 'Samaritan' Totes 125-Pound Deer To Doc

BRONXVILLE—

State Game Protector Edward Kurka of Yonkers was summoned here yesterday to take charge of 125-pound deer which a 119-pound Connecticut girl lifted into her automobile to take to a veterinarian after it was struck by another car on the Hutchinson River Parkway.

The deer regained consciousness while Miss Lucy Prendergast, twenty-one, of Old Mill Road, Greenwich, was tying its legs on the rear floor of her convertible said Mr. Kurka said it was remarkable she was not seriously injured by the struggling animal. It took four men later to untie the doe's legs at Armonk and release it in the woods.

Miss Prendergast came on the scene between Lincoln Avenue and Ridge Street in Rye about 12:45 A. M. after a buck in a family of three deer crossing the parkway had been struck and killed by a car driven by Emilio Dens of Stamford. The doe was grazed by his automobile and knocked to the pavement. Another doe escaped.

Miss Prendergast was accompanied by Miss Marjorie Barrett, also twenty one, of 41 West 87th Street, New York City, but she herself hoisted the unconscious deer into her car, hind feet first. At a gasoline station on the Merritt Parkway east of King Street she asked for rope with which to tie it and was given a heavy towline.

Connecticut State Police were notified and held Miss Prendergast for Westchester Parkway Police because she possessed a deer out of season. At Parkway Police headquarters the law was explained to her and she was released. Meanwhile the doe had recovered completely.

ELIZABETH CRASH 3RD IN 2 MONTHS

Newark Airport Is Closed By Port Authority; 40 Injured

ELIZABETH, N. J. (AP) — A crippled airliner veered down into this frightened, crash-plagued city today, sliced into a big apartment house and blew up—the third major air disaster within the city in less than two months.

There were 29 known dead, and three persons unaccounted for, making a possible death toll of 32. At least 115 have perished in the three, successive residential district crackups.

Engine Failed 1,000 Feet in Air

The National Airlines DC6, disabled by engine trouble at a thousand feet in a clear midnight sky, nosed over—and like two others before it—plunged down into the city, as residents cringed before the familiar, oncoming scream.

The plane rammed into the 22-family dwelling, and exploded into flying fragments and fire.

Twenty-eight of the 63 persons aboard the Miami-bound plane, including three of the four-member crew, were dead or missing. At least four apartment house residents were killed. Forty persons, most of them the plane's survivors were injured, about one third of them seriously.

'Umbrella of Death'

The new tragedy forced a hasty shutdown of air traffic at nearby Newark Airport, one of the busiest in the east. The field's operations, in the words of Elizabeth's Mayor James T. Kirk, had placed this city under an "umbrella of death."

The airport's traffic was diverted to Idlewild and LaGuardia air-

U. S. Weighs Limited Action In Red China

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Some United States policymakers were reported authoritatively today to favor limited military action directly against Red China if the Korean truce talks collapse.

This course, however, has by no means won general acceptance at top levels. In fact, there is understood to be considerable difference of opinion as to what policy should be pursued.

Some officials are reported holding to the view that the United States should avoid any wider conflict with the Reds in the Far East than that to which it is already committed in Korea. This is understood to be the policy favored by Britain and France and other United Nations Allies.

Abbott Describes Production Of Newsreels In Forum Talk

The mechanics of newsreel production from the "shooting of a story" until it appears on a theater screen was described last night by Gregory Abbott, chief commentator for Paramount Newsreels, at the Second Sunday Forum at the Mamaroneck Methodist Church.

Mr. Abbott explained that when a story breaks, the news comes into the newsreel editorial office from the Associated Press and the assignment editors immediately communicate with the office nearest the event to be covered and a photographer is dispatched to the scene.

He first chooses his camera and equipment, Mr. Abbott said, either a sound camera or a flexible, portable hand camera—depending upon the type of event to be covered. Another important choice is that of a lens, he added, explaining that lenses actually are telescopes some of which can watch a closeup of a man's head and shoulders 200 feet away.

HOSPITAL CANVASS WORKERS TO MEET

Volunteers to Be Briefed Tonight; Ground Breaking Tomorrow

Final preparations for Mamaroneck participation in the area-wide subscription campaign for the United Hospital building fund which opens Wednesday will be made at a meeting of volunteer workers at eight o'clock tonight at St. Thomas's Parish House.

Charles D. Silleck and Mrs. John S. Sutphen, local chairman, will issue campaign instructions and the volunteers will choose the names of the Mamaroneck families on whom each will call for subscriptions.

Ground will be broken to start United Hospital's expansion program at 11 A. M. tomorrow and the public subscription campaign will open at a 7:30 P. M. dinner meeting Wednesday at the Westchester Country Club. Mamaroneck building fund volunteers have been invited to attend both the ground-breaking exercises and the opening campaign meeting.

Throughout Mamaroneck, Port Chester, Rye, Harrison and Purchase, nearly 1,000 volunteers, organized into teams of campaign workers, will invite those who live in the area and rely on the facilities of United Hospital to subscribe to the fund for its expansion. The drive is scheduled to end Feb. 25.

He attended the Rye Country Day School and was graduated in 1950 from Choate School in Wallingford, Conn., where he was captain of the football team. He then attended Nichols Junior College in Dudley, Mass.

Recalled to Service

Seaman Joseph Giordano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Giordano of 118 Palmer Avenue, Mamaroneck, has been recalled to active duty with the Navy and will report to the U. S. Naval Receiving Station in Brooklyn tomorrow for reassignment.

Seaman Giordano joined the Naval Reserve in 1947 when a student at Mamaroneck High School and went on three Summer cruises in the reserve program, sailing twice to Miami aboard the Destroyer Escort Tayne, and once to Newport, R. I., aboard Patrol Craft 1201.

He was a member of the Mamaroneck High baseball team, and since his graduation in 1949 has been employed in Larchmont's Post Road branch of the County Trust Company as a transit clerk.

Wins Seaman Rank

Vincent Tomassetti, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Praioli of 80 Old White Plains Road, Mamaroneck, has been promoted to seaman while serving aboard the Aircraft Carrier USS Saipan, stationed in Norfolk, Va., after a cruise in North Atlantic waters.

Seaman Tomassetti entered the Navy June 26, 1952, one day after his graduation from Mamaroneck High School where he was a varsity back in football.

He received his boot training at Great Lakes Naval Training Center, and from there was transferred to Norfolk and assigned to duty aboard the Saipan.

On Winter Maneuvers

PFC Robert S. McCarthy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. McCarthy of 88 Rockfield Avenue, Larchmont, is participating in exercise "Snow Fall", the Army and Air Force Winter war games at Camp Drum, N. Y., as a member of the 11th Airborne Division, 503rd Regiment.

PFC McCarthy enlisted in the Army shortly after his graduation from Mamaroneck High School last February. While at school he was a member of the cross-country team and the German Club.

He was assigned to Campbell, Ky., with the 11th Division and is among 10,000 troops learning techniques of Arctic warfare and testing Winter equipment in northern New York's sub-zero temperatures.

Cop Rescues Dog

Being a policeman may not be a dog's life all the time, Mamaroneck Patrolman Alton Palmer could testify today, but occasionally a cop gets involved in a dog's affairs.

At noon yesterday, Patrolman Palmer could be seen climbing out of the Mamaroneck River behind Chestnut Avenue, trying to keep his balance on a ladder with a full grown springer spaniel in his arms.

The dog has become stranded on a mud bar at a point where the stream is contained between high stone walls, and Mrs. Richard Cunningham of 507 Chestnut had noticed the dog's plight and called the police.

After effecting the rescue, Patrolman Palmer took the animal to Humane Society headquarters on Harrison Avenue, where it was still unclaimed this morning.

TRUNK YIELDS THIEF $200 IN SILVERWARE

Six sets of silver flatware valued at $200 were reported stolen yesterday from a trunk in the basement of the Orienta Apartments, Mamaroneck, belonging to Mrs. Ralph G. Risley.

According to Mrs Risley, the silver was inside the trunk wrapped in a cloth when she opened it two weeks ago, but was missing when she opened the trunk yesterday.

The missing silver consisted of a dozen butter knives, a dozen forks, a dozen spoons, a dozen ice cream spoons, a dozen coffee spoons and a dozen regular knives, all monogrammed with "R".

ZONING CHANGE ASKED TO BALK TAX EXEMPTIONS

Orienta Pl. Residents Seek To Block Sales to Schools, Churches

An appeal was made last night to the Mamaroneck Village Board to change the zoning ordinance to prevent the use of Residence Triple A property by tax exempt institutions.

Rumors some time ago that the Westchester Jewish Center was eying the Constable property on Orienta Point apparent roused the residents to a consideration of the effect upon the assessment rolls of the exemption of so large a tract from taxes as well as the traffic hazard if the narrow Orienta streets were taxed by institutional traffic.

Although they did not mention the Jewish Center by name, Jerome Heffer and Henry L. Fleischman told the board that projected use of any large estate on the Point was a threat to the assessment rolls as well as to the highways and urged the board to put residents on notice that the zoning ordinance would be enforced.

Law Explained

Attorney Anthony Sansone told Mr. Heffer and Mr. Fleischman that there is nothing in the present zoning ordinance which prohibits schools and churches in Residence AAA neighborhoods. The only use prohibited which is permitted in other residence zones is two-family houses, he stated.

What the residents wish, the board agreed, is a change in the zoning ordinance which would

TV Program, Chief Assist Polio Victim

A television program and Mamaroneck Police Chief Louis Giancola cooperated this morning to bring more than $500 in cash and merchandise gifts to Ward Thomas of 713 North Barry Avenue, Mamaroneck, for many years a victim of infantile paralysis.

Chief Giancola appeared on the "Strike It Rich" program over the CBS-TV at 11:30 A. M. today and hit the jackpot as he correctly answered all the questions put by Warren Hull, the master of ceremonies.

Immediately after the Chief's appearance, calls began to be received at the studio offering more aid to Thomas, including a Cadillo convertible chair from the Castro Company on the Post Road, a 17-inch television set including service from Brower's Radio Shop, sheets and pillow-cases from Happiness Laundry, a $100 cash gift from Leather Jewelers, $25 from Fritos, and $5 each from the Texas Diner, Mamaroneck Diner, and the Hillside Service Station.

The gifts were the beginning of an avalanche of aid which is expected to descend upon Thomas.

Unexpected

Chief Giancola, until yesterday morning, had not expected to appear on the program as arrangements had been made for Patrolman Otto Verschoor to appear.

At the last minute, however, Patrolman Verschoor found it impossible to appear and the chief, at Verschoor's request, substituted.

The chief didn't come away from the program empty-handed as he received a box of soap powder from the sponsors of the program and also a promise from Hull, the master of ceremonies, who closed the interview by stating: "Even if I know the Chief, now, I'm still going to go slow when I pass through Mamaroneck."

Dog Fight Looms As Resident Begs Relief From Nuisance

The perennial problem of what to do about dogs digging up residents' well-kept lawns was revived again last night at a meeting of the Mamaroneck Village Board by Fred Grefrath of 1521 Park Avenue who declared that the situation has become "unbearable."

He told the board that his front lawn and that of his neighbor have been dug up by dogs who run loose all over the vicinity. The police officers have done their best to cope with the situation, he added, but the nuisance still persists.

Mayor Edwin B. Dooley agreed that it is a difficult problem to control dogs without adopting an ordinance which a great many dog lovers would object to.

Only by a system of joint control which he suggested several years ago can the situation be remedied, Village Manager William H. Johnson stated, since dogs do not respect boundaries and run from Harrison and Larchmont in and out of Mamaroneck. The joint system would provide for increased vigilance by the Humane Society whose employes would have power to enforce the law, he recalled.

Chief Louis Giancola stated that the policemen do as much as possible to enforce the ordinance which forbids dogs to roam unmuzzled but added that there are many more important duties for them to take care of. The muzzle ordinance will not prevent a dog from tearing up a lawn, he said, adding that, although he is a dog lover and would like to have a dog for his children, he does not have one because of the problem with neighbors' property.

Mr. Grefrath offered a graphic description of the dog nuisance in his neighborhood and urged the board to devise some kind of effective relief.

Trustee Alfred Weeks advised Manager Johnson to dig out his recommendation for joint dog control and see if neighboring municipalities would favor the project now. Manager Johnson stated that they favor it until they find it necessary to provide funds for it. Mayor Dooley promised Mr. Grefrath that the board would consider the problem.

Daily Times Awarded Citation For Promotion Of Kathy Fund

The Daily Times was among five Westchester newspapers "saluted and cited" yesterday by the New York State Society of Newspaper Editors at the organization's banquet in the Hotel Syracuse, Syracuse, N. Y.

The citations were "for outstanding community service" and were made by the state president, Hugh W. Robertson of White Plains, vice president of Westchester County Publishers Inc.

The award to The Daily Times was received by H. Richmond Campbell, editor and general manager, who attended the convention.

Kathy Story

The citation was the result of the story of Kathy Kryder, four-year-old leukemia victim, for whom The Daily Times conducted a fund campaign which raised a total of $3,733.88 among the residents of Mamaroneck.

The campaign started Sept. 29, 1950 and ended only when young Kathy succumbed to the disease on Feb. 23, 1951. In that period hundreds of residents contributed to the fund.

BOARD REJECTS 2-YEAR-OLD BID

Village to Retain Parcel Pending News Of Thruway

A bid made nearly two years ago for a village-owned parcel on Mamaroneck Avenue near Bryant Circle was finally rejected last night by the Mamaroneck Village Board upon recommendation of Village Manager William H. Johnson and a deposit of $150 returned to Leslie G. McArdle of 1403 Shelbourne Avenue, the bidder.

Manager Johnson explained that action on the bid had been deferred pending news of the route of the thruway through Mamaroneck and that now, although the route still has not been disclosed, it seems advisable to reject the bid and take the property from the list of available land.

Mr. McArdle asked to be notified if the parcel should be placed back on the in rem list. He had offered $1,500 for the plot.

Two Lots Sold

The board accepted a bid of $1,350 from Vincent P. Cozzolino for two lots near Keeler and Jensen Avenue.

A bid of $360 from Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Magrino for three lots on Fourth and Franklyn Streets was referred to Manager Johnson.

A letter of commendation was received from James McKenna of New Rochelle for the work of Sgt. Joseph Palmer and the Mamaroneck Village policemen who assisted Feb. 2 when a car driven by his granddaughter, Mary Rita Gillespie, also of New Rochelle, crashed through a garage on Rushmore Avenue.

A request from Norman Pennicuik of 408 Rushmore Avenue to purchase a lot adjoining his home was referred to the village manager. Trustee Alfred Weeks asked that he check an agreement made with the town of Mamaroneck in which he believes the town renounced its share of taxes from the property on condition that it be used for public purposes.

Trustee Ralph Mann moved resolutions of sympathy to the widow of Lloyd T. Rice, village employe who died Friday; and to Mayor Edwin B. Dooley upon the recent death of his wife.

IRVING MARQUARD INDUCTED BY IOOF

Alert Lodge Fetes Nichols, District Deputy, On Homecoming

Irving Marquard last night was formally inducted noble grand of Alert Lodge 752 of Mamaroneck and homecoming festivities were held for George Nichols, district deputy grand master, and his staff who conducted the installation at Masonic Hall, Mamaroneck.

More than 225 members and visiting Odd Fellows witnessed the ceremonies at which Benjamin Saxon, grand master, commended Mr. Nichols for his work as deputy in promoting the lodges throughout the district.

Installed with Mr. Marquard were Clifford Scofield, vice grand; Harold Radcliffe, recording secretary; Donald Seavey, financial secretary, and Edward Hennessey, treasurer.

COUNTY APPROVES LAND FOR THRUWAY

Board Authorizes Transfer Of Holdings For Pelham-Port Chester Route

WHITE PLAINS—

With but one dissenting vote the Board of Supervisors voted yesterday to turn over to the state land acquired for the Pelham-Port Chester Parkway for use in construction of the New England Thruway.

Supervisor Gordon Miller of Pelham was the only one to oppose the measure which authorizes County Executive Herbert C. Gerlach to make conveyances of the property as the state desires.

Supervisor Richard H. Levet of White Plains, chairman of the committee on Parkways, Highways and Thruways, defended the measure as carrying out committments previously made by the county.

Mr. Miller contended there is nothing to prevent the state from setting up a toll station in Pelham or some other part of the county, or from using some of the land for weighing stations or other installations.

Mr. Levet replied there has been no indication as to whether or not there will be tolls on the highway. He said studies show the necessity for the highway to carry mixed traffic.

Supervisor Salvatore Tocci of New Rochelle said he will seek legislation to make provision in public housing projects for persons who will be displaced from their homes because of the Thruway.

Airport Curb Urged By Aroused Officials In Wake Of Disaster

HST Quoted As Ready To Make 'Sacrifice'

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Representative Sabath, D., Ill., quoted President Truman today as saying he may be willing to make the "sacrifice" and seek reelection if he feels it will be necessary to speed the peace.

Mr. Sabath talked with reporters after a call on the President.

He said Mr. Truman told him the President's work "is a killing job" but that if he "actually felt he would be of aid and help to America and the world in bringing about a peace," in that case he would be willing to "sacrifice" himself and possibly shorten his life expectancy.

Mr. Sabath, eighty-five years old, is the chairman of the House Rules Committee.

THOUSANDS PAY HOMAGE TO KING

Crowds Wait Hours to Enter Westminster Chapel; Bow Curtsey Before Bier

LONDON (AP) — Through the hushed dignity of great Westminster Hall, the somberly-clad people of Britain shuffled in reverent homage today past the body of King George VI.

Silent men bowed before the coffin and passed on. Silent women curtsied to the sovereign in death as they would in life.

High in the towers of the palace of Westminster, Big Ben chimed its resounding notes.

As 8 A. M. tolled, the heavy iron-studded doors of the hammer-beamed hall swung slowly open.

The first to bare his head beneath the freezing wind and walk solemnly into the big stone hall was A. A. Puch of Liverpool. He had waited on the steps for 18 hours to lead the mourning procession.

REDS TO PRESENT NEW TRUCE PLAN

No Indication Given On Proposal Contents As Bid Is Awaited

KUNSAN, Korea (AP)—Communists promised today to come up with a new plan for patching up the latest truce trouble spot—recommendations to governments for a final Korean peace.

The Reds did not indicate when it would be ready or what it would be like.

Truce negotiators adjourned their full dress meetings until the new plan is ready. Presumably it will come from Pyongyang or Peiping.

Communists made two concessions today in another truce tent where staff officers are trying to work out machinery for supervising a truce.

Reds offered to boost limits on monthly rotation of troops to 30,000 and establish four ports of entry for incoming troops and war materials to be inspected by neutral teams. The Allies said the figures are not high enough. They are asking a 40,000 rotation limit and eight entry ports.

The previous Red proposals were 25,000 troops and three ports.

Staff officers working on the third unsettled point of an armistice remained split on two issues and a number of "minor places and wording," said Col. George W. Hickman, Allied staff officer.

The major differences are voluntary repatriation of prisoners of war and the scope of work to be done by joint Red Cross teams.

Today's session was devoted mostly to the second question. Col. Hickman said the Reds indicated they want Red Cross operations "considerably restricted."

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS SET IN LARCHMONT

Democratic candidates for mayor and three trusteeships in Larchmont will be selected at a caucus at 9 P. M. Feb. 21 in the Larchmont Municipal Building, E. P. Meehan, chairman of Democratic Village Committee, announced today.

The election is to be held March 18 when Larchmont voters will choose a mayor and two trustees to fill two-year terms and the third trustee for a one-year term.

Edward E. White is now the only Democrat on the village board and he took the post by appointment to fill the position left open by the resignation of Peter F. Kane Jr. The last Democrat to be elected to the board was George N. Gibbs, since resigned, who won the nomination of both Republicans and Democrats.

Idlewild and LaGuardia Hum With Diverted Flights

NEW YORK, (AP) — Officials and civic leaders today pressed for curbs on New York City's two airports, Idlewild and LaGuardia—even as the fields hummed with flights diverted from disaster-closed Newark, N. J., Airport.

One of the victims of yesterday's plane disaster was E. J. Nichols, fifty-three, of Coral Gables, Fla., who had spent the weekend with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Olsen of 754 Tuckahoe Road, Yonkers, who recently became parents for the first time.

Four crashes within the New York metropolitan area in the past two months have stirred up the fears of many of the three million persons living in the shadows of the three air centers, used by more than 1,000 planes daily.

The latest tragedy, yesterday's crash of a National Airlines plane in Elizabeth, N. J., brought an immediate chain reaction.

Residents in Queens Aroused

Newark Airport was closed within three hours. There were demands it never be opened again. Flights moved to Idlewild and LaGuardia in New York's Borough of Queens, whose own residents and officials were aroused.

Airline officials were to meet with the Port of New York Authority this afternoon to discuss the problem. The Authority, a New York-New Jersey agency, operates the physical facilities at the three airports.

County 'Port Expects Boost In Customers

WHITE PLAINS—

County and airport officials today were expecting an influx from airline officials for possible increased use of Westchester County Airport at Rye Lake as a result of the closing of Newark Airport.

The possibility will probably be decided at this afternoon's meeting in New York City between officials of the airlines and the Port of New York Authority.

County Public Works Commissioner James C. Harding said today after a conversation with airport manager Robert W. Galloway, that the closing of Newark Airport probably will result in some additional business for the County Airport, "but we definitely don't expect any terrific increase."

John Remmert, manager of the aviation department of the Gulf Oil Corp., which leases the airport from the county, asserted airport officials have been trying for two years to bring additional business to the County Airport.

Better Administration Of Boys At Children's Village Is Urged

ARDSLEY—

Chief of Police Henry Raab said yesterday he has asked the attention of county and state agencies toward effecting "better administration of the boys and young men at Children's Village by the authorities of the institution.

"Most local crimes are committed by runaway boys from Children's Village. While the matter poses a problem for us, I know that Dobbs Ferry and Hastings Police experience greater difficulties in endeavoring to deal with the institution," said Chief Raab.

As a result of six local burglaries during the past month, he added, the matter was referred to District Attorney George Fanelli, Children's Court Judge George W. Smyth and the Westchester Chapter, Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

Cites Frequent Escapes

Yesterday Chief Raab addressed the State Commissioner of Social Welfare and the Governor's Executive Committee outlining his case against Children's Village.

"There is no apparent effort on the part of Children's Village to watch over the boys, most of whom are committed there from courts in all parts of the country," said Chief Raab. "A total of 601 escapes was listed by police in 1951 and there have been 82 escapes so far this year," he added.

"We have arrested numerous Children's Village boys in connection with burglaries, and in every

Combing The Town

Curb Exchange Officer

John J. Mann of 10 Wildwood Circle, Larchmont, has been re-elected to the chairmanship of the board of governers of the New York Curb Exchange, according to an announcement by Edward T. McCormick, market president.

Mr. and Mrs. Mann and their two children Jonn Jay, fourteen, a student at Mamaroneck Senior High School and Monica Vincentia, seven, who attends St. Augustine's Parochial School, recently moved from Brooklyn where the family had resided since 1931.

Mann began his Wall Street career as a page with the Curb Exchange during the Summer of 1925. After receiving his A.B. degree from Fordham University in 1928, he became one of the first specialists' clerks on the Curb's trading floor. In 1933, he became a member of the Curb Exchange and has functioned since as a stock specialist.

Mann has been an active member of the exchange and has served on most of the market's outstanding committees. He was elected a governor of the nation's second largest securities market in 1942 and became vice chairman of the board in 1950. Elected chairman of the board in 1951, he now begins his second term in that office.

The newly reelected chairman is an active member of the Montauk Club and the Flatbush Council 491, Knights of Columbus. He also is a member of the board of governors of St. Agnes Seminary, Brooklyn.

No Soap!

Although Chief Louis Giancola of the Mamaroneck Village police department won the jackpot on the "Strike it Rich" TV program yesterday, he didn't quite come clean after all.

The chief appeared on behalf of Edward Thomas of 713 North Barry Avenue, a polio victim, and after he won the $500 top prize he was given a massive box of soap powder by the sponsors of the program.

He meant to bring the soap home and as far as the train but when he alighted in Mamaroneck he left the box on the train and came home without it.

Animal Lover

Mrs. Helen T. Goeckler's answer to last Saturday's "Question of the Week" in The Daily Times elicited several responses from local readers but the one she liked best came from young Charles M. Fitch of 1120 Grove Street, Mamaroneck.

Charles commended Mrs. Goeckler's stand against the Hatch-Metcalf Bill, currently under discussion in Albany. The bill would permit public health officers to requisition unclaimed animals from pounds for use in laboratory experiments.

To make amply clear whose side he was on, Charles added, "... I have two dogs, one cat, one rabbit and 14 ducks."

Rye Neck Faces Cost Of $350 Per Student To Farm Out Classes

The Rye Neck school system could hold classes at the Mamaroneck Avenue School at an estimated annual charge of $350 per pupil, Mamaroneck School Superintendent T. James Ahern reported last night to the Mamaroneck Board of Education.

The Rye Neck School District has considered use of empty classrooms in the Mamaroneck Avenue School as a temporary solution to overcrowded conditions at the Barry Avenue and Daniel Warren Schools pending erection of a new building that is now in the planning stage.

Rye Neck Superintendent Alvin W. Hicks stated this morning that space for the classrooms must be found outside the Rye Neck school buildings and termed the negotiations with Mamaroneck as "exploratory." Transfer of classes to space at the Mamaroneck Methodist Church is also under consideration and final determination will be based on cost and transportation factors, he said.

Based On 25 Pupils

Superintendent Ahern said last night that the $350 figure is based on one class of 25 pupils and that the charge would be less if more pupils were to make the switch. There are ten empty classrooms at the Mamaroneck Avenue School now and eight are expected for next year.

Mr. Ahern also observed that overtures have been made by Scarsdale District Two for use of this space but transportation problems blocked further development of this prospect.

If Rye Neck pupils were to use the Mamaroneck Avenue School, they would have their own teachers, but the teachers would be paid by the Mamaroneck District at their regular salary. They would be on leave of absence from Rye Neck and considered as probationary in Mamaroneck. No mention was made of the affect this might have on retirement and pension rights.

Among the factors considered in arriving at the $350 estimate are proportionate charges for salaries of the principal, reading, music, physical education and art instructors, and the school psychologist and clerk under the heading of institutional charges.

Also included are plant operation and maintenance, fixed charges of insurance and debt service and auxiliary services such as library and cafeteria costs and miscellaneous expenses.

Mamaroneck would charge only (Turn to Page 4, please)

ZIONIST LEADER SEES TRUMAN AS LIKELY TO RUN

President to Make Up Mind In 10 to 15 Days, Browdy Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Benjamin G. Browdy, president of the Zionist Organization of America, said President Truman told him today he will make up his mind "within the next 10 to 15 days" whether to run for reelection.

Mr. Browdy, after a call at the White House, also told reporters:

"Judging by his remarks, I'd say he will run again. I personally hope he will."

Only yesterday, Representative Sabath, D., Ill., quoted the President as telling him he might make the "sacrifice" and seek reelection if it would serve world peace.

Truman Popularity Noted

Mr. Browdy said that in two tours of the country recently he sensed strong sentiment for Mr. Truman. He said he told the President of this, adding:

"I urged upon him to run for reelection.

"He said he would make up his mind within the next 10 to 15 days. I think he's going to run again."

PTA LOSES FIGHT ON CLASS CHANGE

School Board Amalgamates 3rd Grade; 58 Pupils In 2 Classes

The Mamaroneck Board of Education held to its present policy on class sizes last night when it denied the request of a PTA committee to retain three third grade sections at the Mamaroneck Avenue School.

In September the third grade there had 63 pupils and three sections were established in accordance with the policy to have no more than 30 students in any one class division. By January the class registration fell to 58 pupils and one of the three teachers assigned, Mrs. Alice W. Donegan, requested a leave of absence.

Superintendent T. James Ahern planned to merge the three groups into two divisions upon the effective date of Mrs. Donegan's leave and a committee of the Mamaroneck Avenue PTA headed by Frank F. Herz petitioned the board for retention of the present three groups and assignment of a substitute teacher for the remainder of the school year.

'Psychological Disturbance'

Mr. Herz disclaimed any wish to disrupt school board policies but based his appeal on the "psychological disturbance" it might cause the children to have their present class organization changed. "Mergers might upset achievement levels gained thus far," Mr. Herz maintained, "and create confusions and (Turn to Page 16, please)

ART AWARDS SCORED BY LOCAL RESIDENTS

NEW YORK—Five local artists are among 608 persons who have authorized the National Sculpture Society to attach their names to a letter attacking the $8,500 prize awards made recently by the Metropolitan Museum of Art to winners of its contemporary exhibition of art, it was revealed here today.

The five signers are Isabel Harriss Barr of 68 Valley Road, Allan Gleckman, William R. and Florence B. Jurth of 1815 Palmer Avenue, and E. H. Richard of Durham Road, all of Larchmont.

The letter, which reflects the disagreement in the art world between the modernist and classical points of view, charged the museum with giving the awards to "work not only of extreme modernistic and negative tendencies but mediocre left wing work at that."

Local Doctors Join Research Group In Backing Pound Bill

TARRYTOWN

The Westchester Committee of the N. Y. State Society for Medical Research stated today that pet owners in the county have been misinformed as to how the Hatch-Metcalf Medical Research-Pound Bill affects their rights and the security of their pets.

In attempting to clarify the bill now before the State Legislature, the committee, headed by Dr. Charles Kenaver of Tarrytown, says the bill provides that only unlicensed, unwanted or unclaimed animals may be requisitioned by the State Commissioner of Health for use in medical research.

The committee contends that pets would not be used in research unless the owner so desires. The bill states, "Licensed dogs surrendered to private organizations or municipalities shall not be requisitioned without the written consent of the owner at the time of surrender; other animals shall not be requisitioned if the owner so requests in writing."

The medical group points out that ordinarily most pounds keep animals for about five days before killing them. The Hatch-Metcalf bill provides that any animals intended for research use must be kept three days longer, to insure that the animals are strays and not pets.

The bill also provides that the impounding agencies be reimbursed for the extra time the animals are kept.

The State Veterinary Society and the Westchester County Medical Society have already endorsed the proposed bill.

Others on the committee, urging interested persons to ask State legislators for passage of the bill, are Dr. Alfred Gilman of White Plains, Dr. Walter Modell of Larchmont, Dr. Richard Block and Dr. Charles Ragen of Scarsdale, and Dr. H. Clark Dalton of Mamaroneck.

Shopper-Tunity Sale To Run For 3 Days

Shopper Tunity Days, a three-day sales event, will get under way tomorrow in Mamaroneck as 25 local merchants offer a wide variety of stock items at prices cut to the bone.

The sales jamboree, heralded by pennants erected on lighting poles throughout the village and sponsored by the retail division of the Mamaroneck Chamber of Commerce, will continue through Friday and Saturday.

Among the merchandise on sale at prices which will yield savings from pennies to dollars are hosiery and furniture, drugs and jewelry, lingerie and clothing, hardware and house furnishings, piece goods, home aquaria and children's wear and toys.

JUDGE GEORGE SMYTH

Dr. Jacobs to Address Club on Heart Disease

A talk by Dr. Thomas Price Jacobs of New Rochelle on "Coronary Heart Disease" will be given tomorrow at the Green Haven Inn for the Mamaroneck Rotary Club.

The speech is timed to coincide with the Heart Campaign now under way in Mamaroneck under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Chester, who will also be a guest at the meeting. The local campaign seeks to raise $2,000 for research into the causes and cures of heart disease.

The local campaign is being conducted largely by mail and residents of the village will receive requests for contributions this week, Mrs. Chester said today.

Veteran Movie Star Bridges Gap Between Silent Film Era And Contemporary Pictures

BY BERNARD Z. FRIEDLANDER

The great American success legend has been told with so many twists and variations it's hard to imagine a new gimmick, but Cullen Landis of 17 Pryer Lane, Larchmont, can top them all when he tells how he became a leading Hollywood star in silent movies and then went on to greater accomplishment as one of this country's foremost directors of educational, training and documentary motion pictures.

"It all began in Nashville, Tenn., when I was a little shaver," Mr. Landis recounted recently in a quiet voice that still shows traces of a Southern boyhood. "when I had my head cut off three times a day—day in and day out until my parents put a stop to it by sending me back to school."

After the shock of this revelation subsided, Mr. Landis went on to establish the connection between repeated decapitation and cinematic fame.

"People think movie-making is just one great beautiful chunk of glamour," he began, "but in one way it's like everything else. You've got to get started somewhere and I got my start at a little country carnival where the impresario had the crowd convinced he was cutting off a little boy's head. Of course I was hidden under a big piece of canvas with a cabbage where my head should have been, but when he whammed down that two-foot butcher knife the folks could practically see my blood spouting. After that, they couldn't resist and flocked into his tent like sheep. He had a good show his self too, but I can't remember what it was."

A Long Jump

It's a long jump between country carnivals and the Preston Foote Foundation prize Mr. Landis won for his direction of the film "Communism", but he's made the leap and to hear him describe it you'd think it's like walking around the corner to buy a newspaper.

Buying newspapers is in the story, too, for Cullen Landis was (Turn to Page 14, please)

PSC CONSULTANT CUTS GAS COSTS BY $30 MILLION

Goldthwaite Says Edison Co. Estimates Depreciation Too High

By JOSEPH W. SHANNON

NEW YORK—A Public Service Commission consultant testified today that the Consolidated Edison Co. estimates of depreciation on its plant installations should be reduced by $30 million in setting gas rates.

George E. Goldthwaite was a witness at a resumption of hearings on a schedule of rates for Westchester, now being served with natural gas and paying higher rates put into effect in 1948 on manufactured gas.

Commission policy has been to allow "a fair return" of profit on the company's investment. Rates are set to yield this return and the company has argued that rates in effect have not produced the promised revenue. Consumer groups are contending that with much lower costs of natural gas lower rates should be granted Westchester.

Difference in Depreciation

Mr. Goldthwaite said his study was based on figures more than a year old, running to Dec. 31, 1950. He accepted the company's book value on its entire plant of $228.2 million for his computation.

The company had introduced an exhibit claiming that depreciation on that valuation was $36.2 million.

Mr. Goldthwaite said today that the depreciation figure should be $66.5 million, leaving the plant $30 million less valuable.

FORUM TO PROBE YOUTH PROBLEM

Smyth and Cohen to Discuss Responsibility For Delinquency

The problem of juvenile delinquency will be discussed at a meeting of the Larchmont Forum for Public Opinion, Feb. 20 at 8:30 P. M. at the Chatsworth Avenue School when Judge George W. Smyth and A. Alfred Cohen, two widely known experts on youthful offenders will share the platform.

Judge Smyth has been Judge of the Westchester County Children's Court since 1930 and Mr. Cohen is superintendent of the New York State Training School for Boys at Warwick, N. Y. where youthful offenders from Westchester are sent for corrective training.

The forum will deal with the subject "Children in Trouble—Whose Responsibility?—Yours, the Children's Court or the Reform School?" and the discussion is planned to emphasize the part that the average parent plays, or neglects to play in the overall picture of delinquency, the problems faced by the Children's Court and those with which the Reform School is concerned.

Three-Quarter Mark Reached In Hospital Drive, Lions Told

About three-fourths of the $1,000,000 needed by United Hospital in Port Chester to build a new hospital wing has been raised, Peter C. Doern Jr. told the Mamaroneck Lions Club yesterday at the Green Haven Inn.

Most of the funds raised by the hospital so far have come from memorial gifts and contributions from corporations within the territory served by the institution, Mr. Doern pointed out. He cited contributions of $137,500 each from Russell, Burdsall and Ward Bolt and Nut Company and Life Savers Corporation, both of Port Chester. These two contributions alone represent over one-fourth of the needed million dollars, he added.

Mr. Doern emphasized the need for the new wing for which ground was broken yesterday, and praised the work done by Charles Silleck and Mrs. John S. Suppen Jr., heads of the men's and women's fund-raising committees in Mamaroneck.

"When solicited," Mr. Doern advised the Lions, "remember that this is not a yearly drive for operating funds. It is a drive for capital funds that will happen only once in a generation, maybe not again in our life time.

"Make your contribution with the idea that it is the last you will make for such a purpose. Make your contribution generous. Spread over a three-year period, any one of us can give a lot more than we think we can at the minute."

Albert Vollenweider urged support of the five-point program for compulsory automobile inspection now before the State Legislature.

Charles M. Baxter Jr., an authority on Abraham Lincoln, closed the meeting with a few stories about Lincoln and his wife.

Eugene Merritt was the guest of Mr. Vollenweider. President R. J. Diforio presided.

UN Also Makes Offer To Compromise On Truce Demands

MUNSAN, Korea (AP) — Allied negotiators today accepted a 60-day limit on exchanging prisoners and offered to compromise their demands for supervising a Korean truce.

The Communists had proposed the 60-day limit. The exchange period is to start when an armistice is signed. The agreement does not touch the key question of voluntary repatriation.

The United Nations Command, holding 132,000 prisoners, had wanted 30 days more than was allowed the Reds to complete the exchange. The Reds list only 11,559 men in Red POW camps.

Compromise Offered

Allied staff officers negotiating details for supervising a truce offered a two-point compromise:

1. If Communists agree to rotating 40,000 troops a month in addition to men on temporary leave, the Allies will drop two demands the Reds oppose.

One of these would forbid shifting troops during a truce in a manner that could constitute an offensive threat. The other would require weekly reports on the location of all major military units.

2. Both sides "meet halfway" on the number of ports of entry through which troops and arms (Turn to Page 19, please)

STOCKMAN LEAVES WAGE BOARD POST

Larchmont Resident Quits After Four Months' Service

The resignation of Abram H. Stockman of 1 Colonial Lane, Larchmont, as vice chairman of the New York Regional Wage Stabilization Board was announced in New York today.

An attorney and labor arbitrator and mediator, Mr. Stockman resigned because of the press of private professional affairs. He was a member of the 12-member tripartite body composed of industry, labor and public representatives since the Board was activated Oct. 3, 1951.

He was graduated from Cornell University in 1930 and received his law degree from Harvard University in 1933. From 1935 through 1942 he was research director of the New York Law Institute. He is the author of several volumes on the administration of justice and consultant on labor-management relations.

During World War II Mr. Stockman held a number of important government posts including that of regional enforcement chief for the Office of Price Administration and chief enforcement attorney for the National War Labor Board. He is a former executive director of the National Wage Stabilization Board and during 1947 was vice chairman of the Regional W. S. B.

Active in bar association affairs, his memberships also include the American Arbitration Association, the National Mediation Board, the Panel of Arbitrators-Federal Mediation and conciliation service, the New Jersey Board of Mediation and the New York State Board of Mediation and the National Academy of Arbitrators. His office is at 26 West 44 Street, New York City.

A reception in his honor will be given tomorrow at the Ritz Towers in New York by his former colleagues on the Stabilization Board.

Magazine Editor

Irving Stone of Larchmont Acres, above, has been appointed industrial production editor of Business Week magazine.

Long a specialist in the aviation field, he has been associated since 1944 with aviation magazines published by the McGraw-Hill Publishing Company. Mr. Stone earned his mechanical engineering degree from the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn in 1924 and the degrees of Doctor of Jurisprudence in 1926 from N. Y. U.

During World War II he was supervisor of training literature at the Air Force Technical School at Chanute Field, Ill; chief of instructional materials and assistant chief instructor at the Air Force Technical School at Seymour Johnson Field, N. C., and administrator of the Department of Plans and Training at the Air Force cadet course at Yale.

Mr. Stone is a member of the Institute of the Aeronautical Sciences and the Aviation Writers Association.

A Larchmont resident for eight years, Mr. Stone is married and has a nine-year old daughter, Judith, who is in the fourth grade at the Central School.

Cheers Up Patients

Paul Terry of Larchmont, creator of movie Terry Toons, yesterday helped cheer up children in the wards of Bellevue Hospital, New York, at a Valentine's Day party held for the youngsters.

Terry decorated the wards with his cartoons and also showed several of his Terry Toons.

In addition the children were presented with lollipops and other gifts.

Shoppers Turn Out

The first of the three Mamaroneck Shopper-Tunity Days got off to a good start this morning under fair skies, contrary to yesterday's weather predictions. Early reports from some of the 25 participating merchants indicated that before the last one closes his place of business tonight, all will have had a busy day.

Albert J. Lombino, chairman of the Retail Division of the Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the sales days, stated that if the weather stays even moderately good, "a successful three-day sale can be predicted."

Valentine for Santa

Davey Pugh of Mamaroneck believes in keeping in touch with Santa Claus.

So fair-weather or December friend of St. Nick is Davey. He knows that the Christmas Saint works in February to prepare for the holiday season 10 months hence.

Davey knows, too, that today is St. Valentine's Day so he dispatched a Valentine to Father Nick at the Mamaroneck Post Office.

Santa Claus managed to let The Daily Times know that the Valentine reads "Rollin' in with a message just to you To be Mine, Dear Valentine."

Young Davey is doubtless high up in Santa's christmas list as a result of his thoughtfulness.

Noisy Welcome

Columbia Hose Company's new 1,000-gallon pumper will receive a noisy welcome tomorrow evening as it crosses the Mamaroneck Village line on the Boston Post Road. It was announced today by Fire Chief G. Dewey Perschke.

The fire siren will be sounded at about 7 P. M. as village officials and fire chiefs greet the new piece of apparatus at the old Post Road intersection and equipment from all other companies will join the procession up the Post Road and down Mamaroneck Avenue to Columbia's headquarters where firemen will celebrate the arrival of Mamaroneck's newest piece of modern fire fighting equipment.

Supervises Survey

Glenn O. Carter of 3 Hall Avenue, Larchmont, is in Pittsburgh, Pa., supervising a survey being made by the United States Steel Company regarding use of compressed gases in the steel industry. Mr. Carter is associated with Percival Robert Moses and Associates, New York City consulting engineers.

A graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., Mr. Carter was a Naval officer for 12 years and during World War I he was chairman of the National Helium Board which supervised the construction of helium manufacturing plants. He then joined the Union Carbide and Carbon Company and was with that firm for more than 30 years until his retirement in 1949.

He has been president of numerous trade groups in his professional field and is now president of the Navy Alumni Association. Mr. and Mrs. Carter moved to Larchmont from New Rochelle in 1944.

ADVANCE GIFTS TOP MILLION IN HOSPITAL DRIVE

500 Volunteers Launch Two-Week Campaign For $1,250,000

More than $1,000,000 in advance gifts was announced last night as 500 volunteer workers attended the opening dinner of the building fund campaign for United Hospital at the Westchester Country Club.

An intensive two-week effort to reach the new goal of $1,250,000 to meet the full construction costs occasioned by rising prices got under way with speakers stressing the urgent need for additional hospital facilities.

A large representation of Mamaroneck leaders and workers in the campaign which will be conducted here under the co-chairmanship of Charles D. Silleck and Mrs. John S. Sutphen, was present at the dinner meeting.

John C. Andresen, president of the hospital, who reported the total of $1,000,659 obtained for the building fund by advance campaign committees, said the full expansion program, designed to increase United Hospital's facilities by about one-third, is now expected to cost about $1,250,000. Edward J. Hughes, general manager of the Daily Item and chairman of the general campaign, expressed full confidence that the volunteer workers will be able to obtain subscriptions for the entire additional amount by Feb. 28, when the public phase of the campaign comes to a close.

In his report on subscriptions already made, Mr. Andresen disclosed that $100,395 has been contributed by 78 doctors on the staff of United Hospital, $177,312 by 31 corporations in the area, and $406,474 by 143 individual and family subscribers, many of whom established memorial units in the enlarged hospital as memo-

Red Cross Need Cited For Lions

The increased needs of Larchmont's 1952 Red Cross campaign were explained to the Larchmont Lions Club yesterday at the Larchmont Shore Club by Alma Kitchell of 68 North Chatsworth Avenue.

Mrs. Kitchell is a nationally known radio and TV personality who won an award in 1947 for "the most beautiful voice and most perfect diction on the air."

"This year's goal of $18,000 is 10 per cent higher than the 1951 demand," Mrs. Kitchell said, "because the normal surplus that is usually carried over for coming years was devoted to relief of last Summer's Missouri Valley flood."

The Red Cross spent more than $13,500 for flood relief, she stated, and since the outbreak of hostilities in Korea one-third of all Red Cross funds has been spent directly for aid to servicemen and their families.

Blood Needed

Another Red Cross need pinpointed by Mrs. Kitchell was the blood donor program that supplies whole blood and plasma to battlefields casualties. The ever-

Ashes To Ashes, Dust To Dust? Adage Defied At County Trust

Anonymous bards of 1952 who write of their deathless loves on Valentine's Day may be closer to the truth than they think, if their poems get the same treatment accorded several now on display in the Palmer Avenue branch of the County Trust Company in Larchmont.

Featured in a glass show-case just outside the bank's vault are several faded valentines dating back more than a century. The oldest was written on Valentine's Day, 1843.

Whether the value of the verse is literary or historical can best be judged by the following example, which incidentally, poses an additional riddle that might be harder to answer:

Sever'd from thee, in memory
I have Thy form, the well known features of thy face
Thy voice, thy sentiments, and fondly ask,
Isn't love which prompts me to the pleasing task?
Still as I ask, this answer
still returns:
Sincere affection in my bosom
burns.

On recollection, you'll perhaps divine
The name of her who send this Valentine.

Cpl. Pautke Is Killed; Pal Injured In Korea

CPL. HEINZ PAUTKE

PFC. JAMES F. DIAMOND

Within a period of 18 days in Korea, one of two Mamaroneck boys who were close friends was accidentally killed and the other wounded in action, according to telegrams received by their parents.

Cpl. Heinz Pautke of 3 Greenmeadow Road, Tuckahoe, formerly of 305 Richbell Road, Mamaroneck, was killed Jan. 20 and Pfc. James F. Diamond of 124 East Prospect Avenue, Mamaroneck, was wounded Feb. 7 while in action with the First Marine Division.

The circumstances in connection with Pautke's death are not known but it is believed that it did not occur in action.

Boyhood Friends

The two Marines grew up together in Mamaroneck and recently spent a Sunday together behind the lines.

Cpl. Pautke was twenty years old and was the son of Mrs. Henrietta Pautke. He was born Jan. 9, 1932, in New York City and had lived in Mamaroneck for eight years.

After graduation from Mamaroneck High School, he enlisted in the Marine Corps in October, 1950, and received his boot training at the Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C., where he climaxed his training by winning the Marine Marksman silver badge.

He was sent to Korea last April and was on active service until the time of his death.

In addition to his mother he leaves a brother, Walter Pautke, who is a veteran of three years' Navy service in World War II.

Diamond in Korea

Pfc. Diamond is twenty-one years old and was not evacuated from the Korean area after he was wounded, according to the telegram received by his mother, Mrs. Lillian Diamond. He enlisted in the Marine Corps Feb. 6, 1951, and also received basic training at Parris Island, S. C. He was also winner of the Marine Marksmanship silver badge and was sent to Camp Pendleton, Calif., before assignment to Korea last July 13. He was on active duty until he was wounded and, according to Mrs. Diamond, expected to be sent to a rest camp soon.

Pfc. Diamond is a former student at Mamaroneck High School.

CON ED GAS RATE TERMED TOO HIGH

Expert Calls Depreciation Estimate Nearly $1.5 Million Too Much

By JOSEPH W. SHANNON

NEW YORK—Annual depreciation estimates of the Consolidated Edison Co., were termed almost $1.5 million too high by a Public Service Commission expert witness today in the PSC inquiry to determine the effect of natural gas on the utility's rates.

George E. Goldthwaite, PSC consultant, said that annual depreciation, on the basis of the company's plant in service Dec. 31, 1950, should be $4,282,865, instead of the $5,700,000 claimed by Con. Edison. Earlier Mr. Goldthwaite had testified that accrued depreciation listed by the firm should be increased by $30 million.

If his findings should be accepted by the commission, the effect would be to reduce by $30 million the amount of plant on which the utility would be entitled to a return, and to cut by almost $1.5 million a year the amount it could charge to operating expense for depreciation.

Shows Graphs in Testimony

Mr. Goldthwaite presented an exhibit including detailed graphs showing the basis for his assertion that $66,559,165 in accrued depreciation should be deducted from the $228,269,067 book cost of the utility's gas property. Company witnesses earlier in the case had fixed accrued depreciation at $36,-230,705.

Cross-examination of the witness was deferred to allow Con. Edison experts to examine his testimony. The case will be continued before Hearing Examiner Ernest A. Bam-

FLAMES DAMAGE LARCHMONT AUTO

Loss Estimated Near $700 As Car Flares In Driveway

Flames swept through a late model sedan parked in the driveway at 6 Pryer Lane, Larchmont at 6:45 P. M. yesterday, wreaking damage estimated at $700.

Larchmont firemen under the direction of Deputy Chief William Collins used 120 gallons of water to quell the blaze that burned out all the upholstery, blistered the paint and cracked the auto's windows. Hyman Haber of the Pryer Lane address is owner of the vehicle.

The emergency truck was recalled to fire headquarters at 7:25.

At 9:59 A. M. yesterday the emergency truck was called out when grass at Chatsworth and Forest Avenues became ignited.

SCHOOL ABANDONS 'FARM OUT' PLAN AS TOO EXPENSIVE

Rye Neck Board Continues Quest For More Room Within District

The prospect of paying an estimated $360 per pupil to farm out the Rye Neck overflow to the Mamaroneck Avenue School set the Rye Neck School Board back on its heels last night and Superintendent Alvin W. Hicks was asked to turn his sites back into his district to try to locate supplementary space for elementary school youngsters.

Commenting upon the report of the estimated cost from the Mamaroneck School District, Board President Edgar B. Burchell Jr. declared, "It's just out of the question. We haven't got that kind of money."

"No matter how we have to squeeze, let's stay in our own backyard." Trustee George Garfunkel stated.

It was pointed out by Trustee Arthur E. Allen Jr. that, according to the neighboring school district's estimate, each class of 25 pupils would cost $9,000 or a net of $4,500 allowing for about $4,500 which the Rye Neck Board would have to pay in any event for the teacher's salary.

Too Near Tax Limit

Former Trustee Malcolm D. Brown, who was in the audience, pointed out that it was clear during the budget discussion last Spring that the district is drawing close to its tax limit. The Board agreed and added that automatic salary increments due next year will "just about eat up the margin."

Dr. Hicks was asked to continue

WATER EXPENSE REMAINS STABLE

1952 Water Board Budget Puts Estimated Income At $468,285

Water service for the Town and Village of Mamaroneck will cost no more in 1952 than in previous years, according to the statement of estimated anticipated revenues and expenses of the Westchester Joint Water Works No. 1 made public following Monday's meeting of the water board at the Halstead Avenue offices.

The Town of Harrison, which shares with the two other municipalities in administering the water works, is subject to a slight increase in rates that will bring its water charges in line with those of the other communities.

Anticipated revenues for 1952 are placed at $468,285 and the actual operating receipts during the last year were $459,112, significantly above the estimate of $419,415 rendered at the beginning of 1951. Assistant Superintendent George Straub attributed this steady rise in receipts to increased building in the area and relaxation of water conservation habits learned during the 1949 drought.

Increased usage is to the benefit of the water company as long as the supply remains good, Mr. Straub pointed out because costs remain constant regardless of consumption and decreased use does not lower expenditures. During the 1949 dry spell revenues drop-

Decision a Difficult One, President Says At Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Truman said today the question of whether to run for reelection confronts him with a difficult decision.

He told a news conference he is not yet ready to make any announcement and that it will not be made through any third person.

It was the first time in many months that the President has indicated there was any indecision in his mind about the matter.

Nearly a year ago he said he had made up his mind but was not ready to announce what he would do.

More Speculation

Today's statement spurred speculation that he had meant he had made up his mind what he would do under certain circumstances.

The President would not say what questions he is debating in his mind that are causing the difficulty.

In a serious tone, he said he knew the reporters were very much interested in this situation, but he did not want to comment.

He added that it is a difficult decision for him to make.

Some one then asked whether he had urged W. Stuart Symington, retiring RFC administrator, to seek the Democratic nomination for the Senate in Missouri.

No Comment on Symington

The President said he would not answer that yet, but would give his views when the time comes.

At another point, Mr. Truman replied indirectly to one criticism

Allen Wants Parents' Opinion Of Teachers Up For Tenure

Increased vigilance by the Rye Neck School Board when teachers become eligible for tenure was urged last night by Trustee Arthur E. Allen Jr.

The superintendent of schools has freedom in the hiring of teachers and in their retention during the three-year probationary period, he pointed out, but he termed tenure "a pretty permanent step" and asked the other trustees what they thought of inviting expressions of opinion from parents before deciding whether or not a teacher should be placed on tenure.

The suggestion did not draw a favorable response from the other members of the board, however.

Administrative Job

Trustee Ralph Cronquist said he thought the hiring of teachers is an administrative job and that the board should have enough confidence in the superintendent to leave the tenure question to him.

Trustee William C Pitts Jr. said he thought it would be a mistake "to encourage individual gripes or a trial of each teacher."

"It seems to me," Trustee Pitts added, "if anyone has a serious complaint about a teacher he should make it to the principal or superintendent."

Trustee Garfunkel agreed adding, "If a teacher's shortcomings are sufficiently great, it seems to me a parent should come with the complaint during the teacher's first three years."

Board President Edgar B Burchell Jr. stated that the procedure would be "dangerous if not handled properly."

'Popularity Contest'

Superintendent Alvin W. Hicks, who had submitted the board a list of probationary teachers whose status will be reviewed in March, said he had prepared the list a month ahead so that the trustees would know which teachers will be up for tenure, but that he did

Teacher At Sarah Lawrence Linked To Reds, Legion Says

NORTH TARRYTOWN—

A report of the Americanism Committee of the Westchester American Legion last night charged that the name of Mrs. Helen Lynd, teacher at Sarah Lawrence College, Yonkers, was used by organizations cited as "Communist front" groups by such government agencies as the House Un - American Activities Committee, the Attorney General's office, and the Senate's McCarran Committee.

The report was delivered at a County Committee meeting here by John Saunders of Mamaroneck, chairman of the Legion Americanism committee, and Emmett Burke, the Committee's secretary. It is part of a larger dossier prepared by the group.

The document runs eight and a half pages. Four and a half are devoted to listing the organizations with which Mrs. Lynd is said to have been connected, and the source material from government files naming these groups as "Communist fronts".

ARCHBISHOP PRAYS AT KING'S COFFIN

Windsor Asks to Stand Guard At Bier; Doors to Stay Open Until Tomorrow

LONDON, (AP)—The Archbishop of Canterbury, Britain's foremost Anglican churchman, stood in bowed prayer beside the closed coffin of King George VI today as the people by the thousands filed silently past on cold-numbed feet.

This was the third day of the King's lying in state in Westminster Hall. Tomorrow the body will be taken by train to Windsor, the burial place of kings both good and bad.

Sorrowing Britons continued to pay their respects in such numbers that palace officials decided not to swing shut the great iron-strapped doors of the nine-century old hall until 6 A. M. tomorrow.

This is only three-and-a-half hours before the ceremonial cortege starts for Paddington Station amid the dirges of massed bands and artillery salutes of the state funeral. Originally, it had been planned to close the doors at 10 P. M.

Duke Asks to Stand Watch

Before that hour, it was reported without confirmation that the Duke of Windsor has asked to be allowed to stand a watch at the candle-lighted bier, as he and his three brothers did 16 years ago for their father King George V.

The duke was said to have besought Queen Elizabeth II for the royal permission to stand beside

Heart Collection

A total of $37 was collected for the Mamaroneck Heart Fund campaign in Mamaroneck this morning as members of the Sub-deb Section of the Woman's Club of Mamaroneck solicited commuters at the Mamaroneck railroad station.

The girls, who worked under the direction of Mrs. Jacques G. Allerand, confined their activities to the station proper rather than the ranged down to 15 degrees.

Working on the project were Julia Bustin, Barbara Coan, Betie Hughes, Audrey Hutchins, Barbara Kenny, Florence Kevser, Joan Lombardi, June Recher, Virginia Scheuff, Nancy Thomas, Joy Schlapprizzi and Patricia Williston.

Somehow three nothings got left out of a Red Cross story in yesterday's Daily Times when it was stated that the Red Cross spent more than $13,500 for flood relief.

It was more than $13,500,000 that the organization spent for relief in last Summer's disastrous Kansas-Missouri flood.

That total was the major part of the $19,367,000 total spent by the American Red Cross for its program of relief in disaster areas.

Buying Active

Sales increases during the first of the three Shopper-Tunity Days in Mamaroneck range all the way from "considerable increase" to "100 per cent", Albert J. Lombino chairman of the Retail Division of the Mamaroneck Chamber of Commerce, reported this morning after a survey of the 25 participating merchants.

There seemed to be more activity on Mamaroneck Avenue this morning, he said, predicting a much better sales day than yesterday. The sale will end tomorrow.

Cops Go to School

The first session of a basic in-service training course for all members of the Mamaroneck Village Police Department was held yesterday in the board room of the Mamaroneck Municipal Building.

The course, designed to increase departmental efficiency, according to Chief Louis Giancola, will cover such subjects as public relations, observation, laws of arrest, accident investigation and reports, note taking, writing reports and also in the new method of artificial respiration.

Instructors in the course, which will be held each Thursday afternoon, will be FBI agents and, for artificial respiration, George Billzard of Mamaroneck.

The final session will be devoted to a moot court at which it is expected Judge Henry T. Hornidge will preside and FBI agents will act as lawyers while officers of the department give testimony.

McLain at Parley

Dr. Joseph C. McLain, principal of Mamaroneck Senior High School, left for Cincinnati, Ohio, today where he will attend the 36th annual convention of the National Association of Secondary School Principals. Dr. McLain, who is second vice president of the association, will participate in preconvention executive committee meetings of the four-day conference that has as its theme "Better Citizens Through Better Schools."

The conference will consist of a series of general sessions and round table panel discussions when the 3,000 educators who are expected to attend will divide into small groups to consider special phases of school administration.

Dr. McLain will be chairman of a general session Saturday afternoon when the topic to be discussed will be "Is education in danger from attacks on public schools by irresponsible critics?" He will also preside at the Sunday Vesper Service when Dr. Raymond Walters, president of the University of Cincinnati, will speak on "Religion in our Lives as Educators."

Others who will address the convention are Representative Walter H. Judd of Minnesota and Harold Benjamin, professor of education at George Peabody College in Nashville, Tenn.

Any Price a Bargain

Four dollars a minute is a high price for conversation but Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Preston of 17 Hillcrest Avenue, Larchmont, won't balk at paying the $44 charge for an 11-minute talk they had yesterday with their son, Cpl. Louis J. Preston Jr., who telephoned home all the way from Japan where he was on a five-day rest from the Korean Front.

Mrs. Preston said this morning her telephone has been jinxed since Tuesday when the operator told the family a call was coming through from Japan. Bad weather closed the radio circuits to the Far East for two days and after an equal number of sleepless nights the connection was finally completed at 6 A. M. yesterday—Valentine's Day.

Cpl. Preston told his parents he would return to duty in Korea early this morning, Larchmont time, where he serves with the 101st Signal Battalion under Lt. Col. William V. Norton of 8 Mayhew Avenue, Larchmont.

A 1949 graduate of Mamaroneck High School, the twenty-two-year old soldier joined the 101st in June, 1948, when it was a Yonkers National Guard outfit. The unit was called to Federal service in August, 1950, and was assigned to Korea in April, 1951.

Rye City Again Eyes Greenhaven As Board Approves Annexation

The Rye City Board of Education voted unanimously last night in favor of annexing the Greenhaven area of the Rye Neck School District if it can be legally accomplished with the approval of the State Commissioner of Education.

The trustees agreed that the move would depend upon complete dismemberment of the Rye Neck District with the rest of the territory going to the other municipalities in which it is located—Harrison and Mamaroneck.

The proposal is a revival of a question explored in 1945 when the State Department of Education tabled it pending an exhaustive study of district boundary problems throughout New York State. It was conceded at that time that Rye Neck District could not survive as an entity if the Greenhaven area and its rich tax land were divorced from it.

Last night's move was inaugurated at the request of the Greenhaven Association and the board action followed a report by Wendell Hoover, superintendent of schools, in which he stated that the Greenhaven Association wanted the board to go on record for or against the proposed annexation.

Pointing out that the assessed valuation of Greenhaven property is $4,500,000, Don T. Brennan,

$8,000 COST SET FOR FLUORIDATION

15 Cents Per Person Per Year Estimated As Ultimate Price

It would cost about $8,000 to install fluoridating equipment at the Westchester County Water Works plant in Mamaroneck and help prevent tooth decay in local children, R. M. McLaughlin of the County Health Department, estimated yesterday at a meeting of the Mamaroneck Rotary Club in the Greenhaven Inn. The plant supplies water to 45,000 persons in the Village and Town of Mamaroneck and the Town of Harrison.

Mr. McLaughlin, director of the department's division of sanitation, stated that after the original installation were made it would cost about 15 cents per year per person to supply the fluorides, which health authorities maintain can reduce tooth decay in srgving children 65 per cent. He also said water fluoridation is recommended by the National Research Council and the American Medical Association.

Fluoridation would not put dentists out of business he added, because estimates show only 25 per cent of all Americans get proper dental care.

Visiting Rotarians at the meeting were Harry Redstone, Evan E. Jones and John Mellors of Port Chester and Carl C. Miller and Benjamin Leon of Larchmont.

Senator Vows To Tell More In Tax Case

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Senator Lodge (R-Mass) said here today he will tell the senate committee next week about Joseph D. Nunan Jr. and a tax case involvin the Indianapolis Brewing Co.

VIVISECTION BILL SEEN HEADED FOR LIKELY APPROVAL

Legislative Group Due To Favor Measure After Stormy Hearing

ALBANY (AP)—A controversial vivisection bill, called both "monstrous" and "life-saving" at a stormy public hearing, probably will be approved next week by the Legislature's Health Committees.

The Metcalf-Hatch bill was denounced and praised yesterday at a four-hour hearing that drew a large, noisy crowd.

The bill would permit State and New York City Health Commissioners to requisition unclaimed dogs and cats and allocate them to approved laboratories for medical research. It is sponsored by Senator George R. Metcalf of Auburn and Assemblyman A. Gould Hatch of Rochester, both Republicans.

GOP Leaders Favor Bill

The measure is known to have the support of Senator Arthur H. Wicks and Assemblyman Lee B. Mailler, leaders of the Republican-controlled Legislature.

Testimony at the hearing was interrupted frequently by applause and cat-calls.

At one point a Humane Society lawyer shouted to medical researchers:

"Go get your own dogs! Don't ask us for ours."

The highlight came when a Fordham University priest and a woman antivivisectionist clashed over the validity of a letter on the use of dogs for cancer research.

Fare Increase Sought On Local Bus Lines

A petition for a general fare increase from 12 to 15 cents within present zones has been filed by the County Transportation Company with the New York Public Service Commission. Provision would be made, according to the petition, to sell five tokens for 65 cents, thus effecting a savings of 10 cents on five rides.

The proposed increase would raise the fare, as a sample from Mamaroneck to New Rochelle to 30 cents instead of 24 cents as at present. It would also raise the fare to Playland from 12 to 15 cents.

Within the City of New Rochelle the increase would boost cash fares from seven cents to 10 cents plus a two-cent charge for transfers.

School tickets would be affected in that the fare for each ride would be increased from the present five cents to seven and one-half cents. T. F. Smith, County Transportation manager, said this morning.

Reasons For Request

Explaining the reasons for the proposed increase Mr. Smith, stated, "Inflation has had its influence on the cost of public service transportation in the same way it has affected the consumer, in practically everything he buys.

Since the last fare increase in 1949 increases have been granted to all employes, the most recent being to operators, effective Jan. 1, 1952.

"These increases have been within the limitations of the rules of the Wage Stabilization Board.

"The cost of practically everything that goes into furnishing transportation in addition to labor, such as repair parts, tires, and taxes on fuel, has increased in the last two years.

"The County Transportation Company is practicing all reasonable economies consistent with furnishing adequate service, but cannot continue to do so at the present rate of fare.

Similar petitions for increases will be filed with the Connecticut Public Utilities Commission and the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Mr. Gabriel received his education at the College of the City of New York and at the New School for Social Research. He began his journalistic career on the old New York World and first concentrated on business, commerce and financial reporting.

During World War II he was an advisor on European affairs to the Office of Facts and Figures and to Office of War Information.

Entertainment at the meeting will be provided by the Four Breezes, a male quartet of high school students including Roger Englander, Robert Garlock, Richard Kuntz and Alan Welty. Ivan Flood will preside.

Natural Gas Pipe Explodes None Injured

ANDOVER, Conn., (AP)—A natural gas pipeline exploded while being tested here last night, showering dirt on nearby houses and rocking the neighborhood. The blast was heard in a 10-mile area.

State Police said the line was owned by the Algonquin Gas Transmission Co., and was being tested with compressed air under 800 pounds pressure.

Frank Heineman, office manager of the Anderson Constructors Co., said the pipeline "contained air under pressure — much more pressure than will ever be exerted by the gas later. This was to test the line for weak spots."

The explosion occurred several hundred yards from a highway and no one was injured.

The Anderson company has the contract for laying the pipeline through this area.

Algonquin plans to construct a pipeline across Northern Westchester and lower Putnam Counties in New York, from the Hudson River near Peekskill to the Connecticut state line.

Safety Inquiry Ordered For All Gas Companies

PSC Calls for State Probe as Result Of Explosion

NEW YORK (AP)—The Public Service Commission announced today it has ordered a statewide safety investigation of gas companies.

Chairman Benjamin F. Feinberg said the investigation grew out of a probe of the Sept. 21 gas explosion at Brighton, a residential community near Rochester.

Mr. Feinberg noted that three persons lost their lives, 18 homes were demolished and 26 others heavily damaged in the Brighton blast.

In the course of the Brighton investigation, he said, engineers under his direction conducted a preliminary survey of conditions in the distribution systems of a number of other gas companies. The engineers' conclusions led to the general investigation.

44 Firms Supplying Gas

There are 44 companies supplying gas to approximately 3,700,000 homes, businesses and industries, Mr. Feinberg said.

The PSC will investigate the transmission and distribution systems of all the companies, to determine whether the facilities and installations are in safe operation condition.

Hearings will be held "at an early date," the announcement said.

The Brighton investigation ended Wednesday with a commission order directing the Rochester Gas and Electric Corp., which serves the area, "to undertake immedi-

BRITISH THRONGS SAY FAREWELL AT FUNERAL OF KING

New Queen Leads Nation In Final Homage to Her Father

WINDSOR (AP) — Britain said farewell to George VI today in a great outpouring of sorrowful appreciation, and buried him here at Windsor with a hymn of triumphant faith.

Elizabeth II, a Queen at twenty-five, led the nation's final homage to her father. For two and one-half hours she rode in a horse-drawn carriage behind the coffin to the dirge of 10 bands, while more than a million Britons, packed tightly along the chill streets of London, bowed in reverence.

Then she entrained for Windsor with the body and saw it laid to rest in a crypt of royalty already holding George III and nine other sovereigns.

The Queen, tight-lipped but composed, sprinkled earth on her father's coffin as it sank from sight beneath storied St. George's Chapel in Windsor Castle.

At the close of the 26-minute service the royal family left the chapel by a side door. Elizabeth II and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, kissed the Queen Mother on the cheek just before they stepped into a waiting limousine.

Dowager Queen Waves

The King's mother, Mary, stayed in London with the weight of her eighty-four years, and waved her farewell from a window of Marlborough House. But the widowed Queen Mother Elizabeth was here with Princess Margaret to hear the choir sing the hymn she and the King and Queen chose—a hymn of victory, often sung at Easter: "The strife is o'er, the battle done;

"Now is the victor's triumph won"

The Archbishop of Canterbury voiced the committal the Church of England assigns to king and commoner alike:

"Earth to earth, ashes to ashes."

INFLATION DANGER TOLD TO OFFICIALS

Village Association Hears Bank President Warn To Prepare Now

Communities must plan for the time when the "inflationary bubble" will burst, John W. Agnew, vice president of the First National Bank warned the Westchester Village Officials Association last night in Pelham Manor Village Hall.

"Municipalities can go broke, as many did in 1933, unless they make plans based on ability to pay during the worst economic years, not during inflated periods," Mr. Agnew stressed.

When the present defense spending stops and conditions change the ability to pay will be gone but the services will still be needed, he stated. "I'm worried about the ability of communities to pay when the cycle is over," Mr. Agnew said.

Describes Economic Collapse

Citing the causes of economic collapse, Mr. Agnew said "Welfare costs will go up, and there will be more outgo than income. There will be unemployment and people will move away."

To avoid municipal bankruptcy during lean periods, Mr. Agnew suggested that local groups study their communities to determine what they have to work with in the event of a depression.

SENATORS DIVIDED ON HST CANDIDACY

Opinion Poll Shows Split On Advisability of Another Term

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A sampling of Senate opinion indicated today Democrats are sharply divided on whether President Truman should run again.

Mr. Truman's statement at a news conference yesterday that he faces a "difficult decision" on this question emphasized the uncertainty within his party about his future plans. He is generally credited with being able to get the nomination if he wants it.

Of nine Democratic Senators interviewed, two said Mr. Truman, dent ought to run again, one called him "the most logical candidate," two said he shouldn't seek the nomination, two said he won't run, one said he preferred Senator Russell, D., Ga., and one wouldn't comment.

GOPer Wants HST to RUN

Among Republicans, Senator Martin of Pennsylvania said he hopes Mr. Truman runs so as to draw the issues during the campaign but Senator Bridges of New Hampshire said it doesn't make much difference — that the Republicans are going to win anyway.

Senators Lehman, D., Lib., N. Y., and Murray, D., Mont., who like to be classed in what they call the "liberal" wing of the party, said they want the President to run again.

"I am in thorough sympathy with the President's domestic and foreign policies," Senator Lehman said, "he applies those policies better than any other Democrat. I hope at the same time he takes vigorous steps to wipe out corruption in government and punish the guilty."

Senator Murray said the Democrats can't afford to discard Mr. Truman's "experience and background" in such troubled times.

Senator Kerr, D., Okla., who

En Route To Hood

Corp. Dennis J. Farrell of Mamaroneck, above, is en route to Camp Hood, Texas, with the 82nd Airborne Division to participate in paratroop war maneuvers.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis J. Farrell of 107 Mamaroneck Avenue, Corp. Farrell is twenty years old and attended Mamaroneck High School before he enlisted in the service Jan. 3, 1949.

He received basic training at Camp Picket, Va., and was graduated from the jump school at Fort Benning, Ga., before being assigned to Fort Bragg, N. C., the home camp of the 82nd Division in which he is now an instructor.

He recently reenlisted for a six-year hitch in the paratroop division.

Hunter 'Bags' Lion

Most local nimrods leave town for the hunting season on the theory that the big game is way out in the woods, but someone made a rewarding safari on Flagler Drive in Mamaroneck two nights ago.

Archie Petrucci, caretaker at the home of Benjamin Levy, 1444 Whaler, reported to Mamaroneck police yesterday the removal from the front lawn of a 520 stone lion.

Feature On Lentz

Col. Bernard Lentz of 39 Oak Avenue, Larchmont, encountered many surprises in his many years in the U. S. Army but he probably never had any experience to prepare him for seeing his own life and achievements narrated in the musical criticism column of the Washington Sunday Star.

The Star music critic, Alice Eversman, devoted her entire article last Sunday to the story of "Sound Off", the Dockworker's drill chant that Col. Lentz fostered while he was base commander at Fort Slocum. The ditty has now spread to juke boxes, radio commercials and drill fields around the world and Miss Eversman treats it as a serious example of a song of the people.

Top honors came for Col. Lentz' brain child on Sunday when the New York University Chapel Choir sang "Sound Off" during a concert at the National Gallery of Art in Washington.

Paper Pick-Up Day

It'll be paper pickup day in Mamaroneck tomorrow as Post 96, American Legion, conducts the 47th in its series of paper collections.

Residents who have been saving old newspapers and other waste paper are urged to get their paper out on the curb in front of their homes by 10 A. M. when the fire siren will signal the start of the drive.

Special pickups of large quantities of paper will also be made, Frank L. Wright, chairman of the drive, announced. If residents will call MA. 9-9711. Residents who are late in getting their paper out are also asked to call the clubhouse.

Workers on the drive will be served a dinner of roast pork, sauerkraut and all the extras at 1 P. M. at the clubhouse. Clam chowder will also be served later in the day. Charles Harms is in charge of preparing the meal and will be assisted by John Horan and Michael McCrystal.

Document On Display

Portrait of the Read branch of the County Trust Company in Larchmont will have a 200-year view of local history next week when they cash their checks within a few hundred feet of the spot where an important local document was signed Feb. 23, 1752.

Mrs. William Harvey Smith of 53 Edgewood Avenue, Larchmont, curator of the Mamaroneck Historical Society, has lent to the bank for a week's display the indenture by which land for the old Palmer Cemetery was transferred from Solomon Palmer to Nehemiah and Benjamin Palmer, John Griffen and William Mott "their heirs and assigns forever."

The cemetery is still in existence on the north side of the Boston Post Road near Mayhew Avenue but Mrs. Smith points out, the Quakers buried there did not believe in marking gravestones and we'll never know whose remains lie in the historic plot.

Real estate transactions had more sanctity in 1752 than they have 200 years later, as evidenced by the final statement of the document that "Soloman Palmer doth further covenant and bind himself, his heirs, executors and administrators firmly by these presents to warrent and defend the said Nehemiah Palmer, John Griffen, Benjamin Palmer and William Mott, their heirs and assigns in quiet and peacable possession of the said granted premises against any just and lawful claim of any person or persons whatsoever."

G.O.P. DESIGNATES EPSTEIN TO ENTER RACE FOR TRUSTEE

Village Committee Also Names Holland and Dalfonso Again

Barney Epstein of 514 Stanley Avenue, Mamaroneck, was designated as Republican candidate for the Mamaroneck Village Board when the Republican Village Committee met last night in the Mamaroneck Chamber of Commerce office on Mamaroneck Avenue.

Village elections will be held March 18 to select three trustees and the Republican committee also designated incumbent Trustees Joseph Dalfonso and Jack Holland to succeed themselves on the board.

A formal slate of Republican candidates will be nominated Tuesday night at a caucus in the American Legion Hall. Village Democrats will caucus to select their candidates on Feb. 20.

Mr. Epstein, a life-long Mamaroneck resident, was designated for the seat held since 1946 by Trustee Alfred Weeks who declined to run for re-election. Mr. Holland and Mr. Dalfonso were elected to the board in 1950.

The three designations were made unanimously.

A Mamaroneck real estate dealer since 1925, Mr. Epstein was born here in 1904 and attended local schools as well as extension courses of Syracuse and the American Universities. He is treasurer of the Mamaroneck Rotary Club and chairman of wardens of Mamaroneck Civil Defense. Past offices he has held in local organizations include the presidencies of the Westchester Jewish Center, the Mamaroneck Realty Board, the Mamaroneck Chamber of

DETECTIVE BOOKED ON THEFT CHARGE

Termed 'Louse' by Police Commissioner; Three Others Arrested

NEW YORK, (AP)—A city detective — described as a "louse" and a "rat" by Police Commissioner George Monaghan — was booked early today as an alleged member of "the best band of burglars in town."

The detective, thirty-three-year-old Seamen Fox, and three other men were charged with acting in concert in an attempted burglary and with the possession of burglar tools.

Police said they picked up the four with burglar tools yesterday after watching them go into two buildings, where they allegedly tried in vain to gain entrance to three separate apartments.

Mr. Monaghan, who tagged the quartet as the "best" and "very big league" burglars, was white with anger and disgust when he faced Fox.

"Look at this bum," Mr. Monaghan roared. "Six years in the department, three years in the Detective Bureau and he's lousing up the entire department. He's worse than these other thugs."

Fox used his hands to cover his face as newspaper photographers took his picture. The angered Mr. Monaghan barged at him shouting: "Put down your hands, you louse." Another police official stepped between the two.

The college-trained detective and the other three—identified as Max Birner, thirty-nine; Seymour Sickind, thirty-seven, and Joseph Gans, forty-two, were booked today. Police said the latter three have records of burglary arrests.

Elizabeth At Clarence House Before Tackling Queen's Job

LONDON (AP)— Young Queen Elizabeth II hid lingering grief for her father behind her Clarence's secluding walls today, before grappling with a host of duties and taking the long rest her advisers are urging upon her.

Within Clarence House she rested amid the comforting presence of her handsome young husband, Philip, the Duke of Edinburgh, and her two children, three-year-old Prince Charles and four year old sister, Princess Anne.

Before she takes a holiday to recover from the strains imposed upon her by the death of her father, King George VI and her sudden ascension of the British throne, she must make the decisions that only a sovereign can make.

Must Choose Philip's Title

One of these decisions comes only to a queen, and never in a king—the choice of rank and title for her husband.

Palace sources believe he will receive the title of Prince Consort and be raised in precedence to rank ahead of all in the kingdom except the sovereign, Queen Victoria, the great-great-grandmother of both Elizabeth and the Duke, got the precedent by conferring this title and rank to her husband, Albert.

The Duke now is outranked by his son, who, as eldest son of the sovereign, became Duke of Cornwall the moment the King died.

Philip also will probably be promoted to senior rank in all the Commonwealth Navies, which he has been an active lieutenant commander in the Army and the Royal Air Force.

Summer Coronation Seen

Elizabeth must also consider plans for her coronation. A likely time for it is early Summer, inasmuch as she decreed mourning only until June 1, in place of the customary nine months to a year.

She now has to select more than 20 senior members of the staff to run the royal household, and arrange to move into Buckingham Palace, London seat of the monarch, from her present residence nearby in Clarence House.

EXPLOSIVE sweaters went up in smoke yesterday as Mamaroneck police destroyed 15 picked up here in recent weeks. The inflamable sweaters, ranging in price from $5 to $15, are shown above being fed to the flames by (left to right) Police Chief Louis Giancola, Fire Chief G. Dewey Perschke and Village Manager William H. Johnson. —Staff Photo

ELKS LEARN HOW COUNTY OPERATES

Gerlach Gives Startling Westchester Statistics On Administration

Although known as the wealthiest county in the world, 40 per cent of Westchester's gross budget is devoted to welfare and relief, according to County Executive Herbert C. Gerlach who spoke last night at the round table session of the Mamaroneck Elks Club.

Mr. Gerlach illustrated his talk on county administration with a State Department movie entitled "Democracy in Action," filmed in Westchester, and which is being shown in 50 foreign countries and has been interpreted in 27 different languages.

To demonstrate the size of the county's administrative work, Mr. Gerlach pointed out that Westchester has more autos than any one of nine states; a greater population than 10 states; a higher budget than 12 states, an assessed valuation greater than 31 states.

The county, he said, maintains 16,500 acres devoted to parks, beaches, and golf courses; 1,000 acres in building sites with 380 buildings for which Westchester is responsible. County property, he added, has an estimated assessed value of $150,000,000.

A total of 3,400 children are wards of the county, he said, with 3,000 receiving old age assistance, 400 receiving aid for disabilities, 500 on veterans relief, more than 800 in county hospitals, 700 in the county home and an average population of 200 in the county penitentiary.

The County Health Department provides 185,000 clinical examinations a year and 65,000 receive free chest X-rays.

Although the recent Newark air tragedies have not yet brought more traffic to Westchester's airport, Mr. Gerlach predicted that it would ultimately become one of the most important airports serving the metropolitan area.

The county has an investment of $60,000 in parkways, he said adding that $2,500,000 was collected last year in parkway tolls at a cost of $300,000.

The county executive was introduced by Lawrence A. Quinlivan, round table chairman, and Exhausted Ruler Philip Kuritzky presided over the dinner meeting.

Question of the Week

Readers See British Monarchy Vital To Solidarity Of Empire

This is the 228th in a Saturday series of short interviews with residents on issues of the day — local and nation. This week's question: "DO YOU THINK THE BRITISH OUGHT TO ABOLISH THEIR MONARCHY AS AN UNNECESSARY EXPENSE?"

Mrs. William Walker, 407 Carroll Avenue, Mamaroneck. "No. The monarchy may not be necessary, but it is something for the British people to look up to as a tradition. There are so few great popular traditions left in the world now, I would certainly not like to see the British Monarchy abolished. Besides, it's not just a nominal royalty. They have done a lot toward building the greatest empire in history."

Mrs. Edwin K. Beauchamp, 8 Birchfield Road, Larchmont: "No. I don't think so. I think the people of England have amply shown the importance of the monarchy by the respects they've paid to the late King. It's a traditional thing for them, and England wouldn't be the same without it."

Mrs. Ernestine Anderson, 76 Grand Street, Mamaroneck: "Well, I'll go along with most people. I think it's a good idea to keep it."

Mrs. Arnold Belchetz, 125 Woodbine Avenue, Larchmont: "No. I think it means a great deal to the British people and they should keep it."

Mrs. William Eigert, 510 Jefferson Avenue, Mamaroneck: "No. I don't think so. It's always been a very real tradition in England and serves a good purpose."

Mrs. William Hegeman, 404 Carroll Avenue, Mamaroneck: "Well, I feel that that's a question for the British people to decide. I listened to the king's funeral on the radio and for my part I will say it was like a touch of the Middle Ages in the present. There are so few things today tying us to the past that the British monarchy seems worth the expense . . . I suppose that's the way the British people feel."

Mrs. Kenneth Brown, 295 Murray Avenue, Larchmont: "No. It seems to me that the king or queen in England is more than a figurehead. The monarch represents security, solidarity, and tradition, and I think it's well worth the pageantry, which is the expensive part of it—especially since the people find it so satisfying."

Mrs. James Gillies, 714 Orienta Avenue, Mamaroneck: "No. I don't think so. The monarchy means a lot to the British people."

Mrs. T. P. Hepworth, Park Plaza Apartments, Larchmont: "Definitely not. The royal family represents family life in England, and perhaps that's why there is more tranquility on the whole, in English family life than in American. They have a pattern to follow."

Mrs. Justin Gerstle, 14 Shore Road, Mamaroneck: "It might be an unnecessary expense these days, but it gives a certain glamour. I'd be in favor of keeping it."

Mrs. Alfred Guttman, 10 Mayhew Avenue, Larchmont: "No. I think the monarchy is valuable

MAGICIAN FEATURES CEREBRAL MEETING

Feats of magic by Clayton Hawson, writer and amateur magician of 219 North Barry Avenue, Mamaroneck, highlighted last night's meeting of the adult planning group of the Cerebral Palsy Association of Southern Westchester, meeting in the Church In The Highlands, White Plains.

The business meeting featured a discussion on the subject "Finding Employment for Persons Afflicted with Cerebral Palsy." Also discussed were a bill to aid the handicapped, sponsored by New York State Senator Butler, and the advisability of sending delegates to the New York State Cerebral Palsy Convention, March 8 and 9.

The meeting was conducted by Miss Catherine Waller, chairman.

Feature of next month's meeting will be a ceramics demonstration by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rathbone Jr. of 504 Jefferson Avenue, Mamaroneck.

Legion Post Arranges For Cherry Tree Ball

The first annual Cherry Tree ball of Mamaroneck Legion Post 96 will be held Saturday, Feb. 23, starting at 8:30 P. M. with music by Bud Maxwell and his orchestra, it was announced today by Vice Commander Charles Lazzara and John Spader, co-chairmen. Professional entertainment is being arranged by Vice Commander John Saunders.

The public is invited and tickets may be obtained at the clubhouse during the week or at the door Saturday night. Post 96 Auxiliary is assisting in arranging prizes and decorations.

FIRE DEPARTMENT and Village officials last evening greeted Columbia Hose Company's new 1,000 gallon pumper as it arrived at the Mamaroneck line on the Boston Post Road. In addition to the rest of Mamaroneck's fire fighting equipment there to extend a welcome to the new piece of apparatus were (left to right) Deputy Chiefs Thomas Palliace and Lawrence Cetrone, Village Manager William H. Johnson, Village Trustee Jack B. Holland, Chief Dewey Perschke and Capt. Marshal Seelen. With sirens sounding, the new truck was then escorted to Columbia's headquarters where an official reception was held. —Staff Photo

UN Vetoes Russia As Neutral Nation In Korea Armistice

Second Fire Damages Pryer Lane Residence

The Larchmont Fire Department put out the second blaze in two days at the Hyman Haber residence at 6 Pryer Lane, Larchmont, yesterday afternoon where $100 damage was caused by a burning bed.

Four pieces of apparatus and 32 firemen under the direction of Deputy Chief William Collins responded to an alarm at 2:25 P.M. an discovered heavy clouds of smoke billowing from under the roof of the brick and tile home. The fire was located in the second story bedroom after firemen stretched more than 950 feet of hose and raised 92 feet of ladders to the second story window.

At 6:45 P. M. Wednesday the firemen extinguished a blaze in the Haber automobile that was parked in the driveway. Damage to the car was estimated at $700.

Mrs. Haber was in the house during yesterday's fire with her two children, nine-year-old Mark and Clare, seven. The fire was in Clare's bedroom and its origin is not known.

The Fire Department reported this morning that the intense clouds of black smoke seeping out the house roof line gave the appearance that the fire had made its way into the attic and roof beams.

Engines No. 1 and 2 and the aerial and patrol trucks returned to headquarters when recall sounded at 3:28.

STOLEN CAR CRASH KILLS CONN. YOUTH

Dies As Auto Leaves Road; 2 Others On Serious List At Hospital

WHITE PLAINS—

A thirteen-year-old Connecticut boy was killed last midnight when the stolen car in which he was riding went out of control and crashed on Mamaroneck Avenue near Manor Avenue, police reported.

The dead boy was identified as Anthony Picheco of 168A Chestnut Street, Bridgeport.

His brother, Robert, fifteen, and three other Bridgeport teen-agers were also in the car. Two of the survivors were on the serious list at Grasslands Hospital, East View, this morning.

Sgt. George Hoffman and Lt. Edward Joyce reported they were traveling south on Mamaroneck Avenue at Chatham Place about 11:45 P. M. when they noticed the car with the youths in it.

Youths Flee Police

They attempted to stop the car to question the youths but the car sped away, attaining a speed of 80 MPH. When it reached a point opposite West Street, the officers reported, it went out of control, jumped the center mail, crossed Mamaroneck Avenue, and struck a light pole on the east side of the road.

The car bounced off the pole and crashed into the east embankment

MRS. R. K. TURNER

Mrs. Turner Gives 34th Blood Pint

Mrs. R. K. Turner of 6 Oak Bluffs Avenue, Larchmont, made her 34th blood donation in nine years, February 4, at the Red Cross Blood Donor Center in New York. Of the 34 donations, 22 have been to Red Cross and 12 to various hospitals. She has made her contributions in Charleston, West Virginia, New York City and Westchester.

Mrs. Turner explained that in recent years she has given blood five times annually, the maximum amount allowed by Red Cross, and follows a definite schedule to be sure to make her full quota. Admitting that it is probably mere coincidence, she says she has never felt better than during these years.

She is also a nurses' aide and following a reactivation course will fill a regular schedule of duties at the New York Blood Donor Center.

In urging liberal donations to the coming Red Cross Fund Campaign, Mrs. Turner said "There is considerable expense connected with processing the blood which is badly needed in Korea. If those unable to give at the coming Blood Bank will plan to make their contributions a little larger this year, I am sure Larchmont will meet its quota and our men at the front be benefitted."

BABY SUFFERS SHOCK IN STROLLER MISHAP

A thirteen - month - old Larchmont boy was treated for nervous shock yesterday afternoon after the stroller in which he was riding became involved with a car at Chatsworth Avenue and the Boston Post Road. Mrs. John A. Rudolph of 7 Thompson Place, Larchmont, took her son, Michael to Dr. R. E. Machan for treatment after the accident at 3:45 P. M. As it she reported to Larchmont Police headquarters that the car driven by James J. Devlin of 241 Main Street, New Rochelle, struck the child's stroller when it started to roll against a red light as she was crossing the Boston Post Road.

Immediately after the accident, Mr. Devlin told police he had stopped for the traffic light, headed west, when Mrs. Rudolph left the north curb and pushed the stroller against the right front fender of his car. He said no damage was done to either the car or the stroller. In her report, Mrs. Rudolph claimed there was a large dent in the carriage. She also said she turned the stroller in an attempt to avoid the moving car.

150-Foot Flames Spout From New Gas Well Fire

RENOVO, Pa., (AP)—Fire seared the sky above a newly-brought-in natural gas well near here today, as expert fire-fighting help was awaited from Texas.

The size of the flame, shooting 150 feet into the air, brought a guess that the well in the famed Leidy field might be the largest in the world.

Eugene Seifert, official of the New York State Natural Gas Corp., Pittsburgh, voiced that opinion although there was no gauge to measure the flow.

Allies Accept Two Red Satellites For Truce Inspection

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—The U. N. Command today vetoed Communist nomination of Soviet Russia as a neutral nation to help police a Korea armistice.

The U. N. accepted two Soviet satellites — Poland and Czechoslovakia—as the other Red representatives on an neutral behind-the-lines inspection teams.

An Allied staff officer said the reason for rejection of Russia should be obvious.

USSR Chief Red Supplier

He did not elaborate. But the Russians have supplied Communist Armies in Korea with fighter planes, tanks and other war materials, and Russian officers trained the North Korean Army before the outbreak of war.

The action came in a staff officer meeting after a full dress session by top negotiators in which the Reds offered a revised proposal for a top level Korean peace conference.

The Red draft made no mention of non-Korean problems—but it was worded in such a way that almost anything could be included.

The Allies turned down part of the original Red plan which called for settlement of sweeping Asian problems.

Joy Objects to 'Etc.'

The new Red proposal said only that a "higher level" political conference should be held within three months after a truce is signed to discuss withdrawal of foreign troops and "the peaceful set-

10 AIRLINES VOTE TO DIVERT PLANES

Plan Will Channel Flights Over East River and Jamaica Bay

NEW YORK, (AP) — Ten airlines using LaGuardia and Idlewild Airports have approved a plan for "materially" diverting traffic from over densely populated areas of the boroughs of Queens in New York City.

The plan would channel flights to and from LaGuardia over waters of the East River. Planes using Idlewild would fly over Jamaica Bay, an arm of the Atlantic Ocean.

John Groves, local manager for the Air Transport Association, announced the plan yesterday after a meeting of representatives of the airlines with officials of the Civil Aeronautics Administration and the Port of New York Authority, which operates Idlewild and LaGuardia.

(There was no information from yesterday's meeting as to what steps, if any, would be taken to use airways over Long Island Sound instead of over the New Rochelle area for LaGuardia Field traffic.)

Another conference also was held yesterday by a special industry committee set up after Monday's third recent summer crash into crowded Elizabeth, N. J., with a total death toll of 118. Capt. Edward V. Richtenhecker heads this committee.

Mr. Groves said the plan to divert LaGuardia and Idlewild traffic over waters would be submitted to a Queens citizens' committee Monday night.

Newark, N. J., airport was closed after Monday's Elizabeth crash, and its traffic was diverted to LaGuardia, Idlewild, and Teterboro airport in New Jersey. All four airports are operated by the Port York Port Authority.

Combing The Town

Gould Firm Cited

An unofficial E for excellence has been won by the Jerome Gould Corp., of Brooklyn, headed by Jerome F. Gould of Brevoort Lane, Greenhaven, for plans submitted to the Federal Civil Defense Administration on a First Aid pack that is to be distributed to civil defense shelters throughout the country.

Mr. Gould's firm, which specializes in functional packing for long term storage and overseas shipment, has been performing a research and development contract for the Armed services Medical Procurement Agency that requires design of medical assemblies to be parachuted into battle areas. Among the items designed was a complete 36-bed hospital, complete with beds, operating tables, X-ray equipment, instruments and drugs.

Mr. Gould and his family have lived here since Dec., 28.

At Exercise Snowfall

Two soldiers from Larchmont are participating in Exercise Snow Fall, the joint Army-Air Force Winter maneuver now in progress at Camp Drum, N. Y.

They are Sgt. 1cl Robert A. Schneider, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Schneider of Larchmont Acres, and Corp. Charles L. Crowley of 675 Weaver Street.

Both men are members of the 11th Airborne Division's 511th Regiment, a highly-trained unit which also took part in Exercise Southern Pine last Summer.

The current exercise, involving more than 30,000 soldiers, is designed to teach techniques of Arctic warfare and test Winter equipment.

Schneider, a member of Headquarters of the 511th's 1st Battalion, entered the Army Sept. 20, 1948. He is battalion counterfire non-commissioned officer and was graduated from Parachutist school at Fort Benning, Ga., Feb. 17, 1949. He attended Mamaroneck Senior High School.

Crowley is a member of Company D of the 511th and a squad leader. He entered the Army in September, 1950, and was graduated from Parachutist school March 26, 1951, at Fort Benning. He also attended Mamaroneck High School.

Wash Looted

Clothing and household linen valued at about $20 were stolen sometime between 7:30 and 10:15 P. M. Saturday from a clothesline at the home of Frank Camardo, 632 Mamaroneck Avenue, Mamaroneck.

Mr. Cammardo told police the line slipped from its hook and the clothing fell to the ground. When a member of the family went to bring in the wash, two new sheets, five sets of long underwear, six pair of bloomers, two pair of sheets, two white shorts, three brassieres, and two pair of woolen stockings were missing.

Recreation Aids

Red Cross supply chairmen throughout Westchester County have received new aids for recreational articles for service men about to be sent overseas, Mrs. Norman Pennicuik of the Mamaroneck Branch announced today. She urged that pocket novels, playing cards and small games be taken to the Mamaroneck Free Library, where she will collect them for forwarding to the U. S. Naval Base at Norfolk, Va.

This collection is distinct from the book collection which is a regular feature of Mamaroneck Red Cross activity under the chairmanship of Mrs. Paul Vaughan.

Other requests are for used household appliances such as toasters, fans, and percolators for use in the therapy courses at the Franklin D. Roosevelt Veterans Hospital. Patients who are taking repair courses can use unlimited numbers of such articles. They need not be in working order, but should have all their parts.

The County Welfare Department also asks for table model radios, to be used in nursing homes and for old age assistance clients.

Jerked to Ground

Robert Dudley, twenty-six, of the Orienta Apartments, Mamaroneck, escaped serious injury Saturday when he was knocked to the ground as his coat caught in the door of a car from which he was alighting.

Dudley alighted from the car driven by Harold De Leo of 121 Prospect Avenue, Mamaroneck, and when De Leo started was pulled to the pavement. He refused medical attention, police report.

RESIDENTS FIGHT BOND ISSUE FOR SCHOOL BUILDING

2 Greenhaven Associations Ask Referendum On Consolidation

Members of two property owners' associations in the Greenhaven section of Rye have turned thumbs down on a bond issue in the Rye Neck School District, it was disclosed today by Frank W. Begrisch, chairman of the executive committee for the Brevoort-Lake Shore and Greenhaven Rye Associations which held a joint meeting Thursday at 51 Milton Road, Rye.

The associations also called for a referendum in the school district to determine the sentiment of the residents regarding possible consolidation with Rye or Mamaroneck—or maintenance of the status quo.

"Falling short of consolidation or any other satisfactory solution to the overcrowded school conditions," the statement from the associations reads, "which the community could provide and sustain, the membership voted to seek the same relief provided the residents of Harrison, namely for those residents within the City of Rye to become annexed with the Rye City School system."

Reasons for Protest

The associations list three reasons for their protest against the prospective bond issue as follows:

"1. The smaller bond issue would not provide complete facilities and only be the opening wedge at a later date for the entire issue, which would in effect impose a back breaking mortgage on every

Norway Skiers Score Double Olympic Win

OSLO (AP) — Norway's skilled, durable skiers scored a brilliant double victory today in the 18 kilometer cross country race. The Nordics combined to vault into first place past Austria and the United States in the team competition.

Uncle Sam's forces finished far in the rear in both events as Halgeir Brenden captured the cross country race in the brilliant time of 1:01:34—the fastest time ever made for the distance in the history of the Winter Olympics—and Simon Slastvik annexed the gold medal for the combined event with 451.821 points.

The best the U. S. could do in the grueling cross country event was the 42d place taken by Ted Farwell, an Army private from Montague City, Mass.

Slastvik, winner of the ski jumping half of the combined event yesterday, finished 15th in the cross country run in 1:05:40 but his big point lead in the jumping enabled him to win the combined over defending champion Heikku Hasu of Finland, who was runnerup.

DEMOCRATS TOAST TRUMAN AT DANCE

600 Honor Three Party Mayors at County Dinner

By JOHN POWELL

NEW ROCHELLE—

Six hundred Democrats Saturday night climaxed the annual dinner-dance of their County Committee with a rousing toast to President Harry S. Truman.

Glasses were raised — wine, water, liquor and beer—as County Chairman Harold T. Garrity proposed the toast with the declaration that "we are all glad to be Democrats." There was prolonged applause, and shouts of "to the next President."

The affair at Glen Island Casino was in honor of the three Democratic Mayors, the Vice Mayor of Yonkers, and other party candidates elected at last November's elections. Speakers were unanimous in expressions of their belief that the time was near when the Democratic Party would "take over" all of Westchester County.

County Victories Cited

Mr. Garrity reviewed progress under the national Democratic administration, and the victories which the party has won in recent years in Westchester. He declared 73 new officials were elected by the Democrats in the past year, "more than ever before in the history of Westchester County."

Westchester's Democratic participation in the coming national convention, he said, "will influence the electoral vote in New York State and the entire outcome of the Presidential election."

"I fervently hope," Mr. Garrity concluded, "the President will run again because I believe that our country needs his continued leadership, and if I go to Chicago (the national Democratic convention) I shall do everything humanly possible to assure his renomination

Rain Or Shine, Snow Or Sleet, Village Whistle Means Action

When the fire siren in Mamaroneck sounds the residents cooperate fully in whatever event it's supposed to signal, members of Mamaroneck Post 90, American Legion, learned yesterday.

Legionnaires, braving sleet, SNOW and wind, collected 11 tons of paper in a paper drive which was officially called off about 9 P. M. when Post officials saw the conditions the weather man had provided.

But they forgot to inform the Police Department of the cancellation and at 10 A. M. the fire siren, official signal for the start of the drive, sounded. Residents put their paper at the curb, and about an hour after 10 o'clock the phone at headquarters began to ring insistently.

"We've got our paper out and it's getting wet!" came the intelligence from several parts of the village.

When the phone calls began to pile up Legionnaires and coworkers donned windbreakers and rain-

Paper Drive Set Sunday By Post 347

Legionnaires of Larchmont Post 347 will conduct a waste paper drive Sunday from 10 A. M. to 5 P. M. under the direction of Harold Hamilton.

Residents are asked to save their paper and magazines and tie the bundles so that the ground will not be littered with blowing paper. Persons who find it inconvenient to place their paper at the curb in time for the pick-up are asked to telephone LA 2-9746 and a crew will make a special call.

NARCOTIC EXPERT TO SHARE FORUM

Cohen to Discuss Drug Use Among Teen Agers On Opinion Platform

A Alfred Cohen, superintendent of the New York State Training School for Boys, will share the Larchmont Forum for Public Opinion platform with Judge George W. Smyth at 8:30 P. M. Wednesday at the Chatsworth Avenue School in a discussion on "Children in Trouble—Whose Responsibility—Yours, the Children's Court or the Reform School?"

A member of the New York committee on the Use of Narcotics among Teenage Youth, Mr. Cohen has had wide experience with the delinquency problems that cause and result from the use of narcotics by teenagers.

Engaged in institutional and child-care work for 21 years, Mr. Cohen has dealt with behavior problems of young people in administrative, management and social welfare positions. He became acting superintendent of the New York State Training School in 1948 and was appointed superintendent in 1949. He has also been associated with the National Jewish Welfare Board, the United Farmen's Service Bur., the Greatsville Cottage School in Westchester and the Welfare Council steering committee.

Mr. Cohen is a graduate of New York University and earned his master's degree in social work from the New York school of Social Work at Columbia University.

Among the professional organizations of which Mr. Cohen is a member are the National Association of Training Schools and the National Conference of Superintendents of Training Schools.

Blood-Smeared Body Found by Larchmonter

WILLIAMSTON, Mass. (AP)—The blood-smeared body of a young man was found today in a seldom-used bedroom on the third floor of the Beta Theta Pi house at Williams College.

Police Chief George A. Royal declined any details pending the arrival of the District Attorney and a Medical Examiner.

John M. McMath of Larchmont, N. Y., a Williams senior, discovered the body on a bed when he entered the room. He called police.

There was a rifle in the room but it could not be learned if it figured in the death.

Young Republicans Ask Golf Link Curb

By WORTH A. JUDGE

WHITE PLAINS—

A resolution urging restriction of all Westchester County-owned golf courses, swimming pools and beaches to county residents was approved at the 19th annual convention of the Westchester Young Men's Republican Clubs Saturday at the Roger Smith Hotel.

Other resolutions included a full scale investigation of corruption and graft in the Federal government, repeal of the State ban on sale of colored oleomargarine, enforcement of John E. Hoy for Sheriff, and a demand that young Republicans be "seriously considered" for public office by the Republican County Executive Committee.

P. Boice Esser of Hartsdale was elected president, succeeding Julian Hyman of New Rochelle.

McCullough Gives Talk

State Senator Frank S. McCullough of Rye was the keynote speaker, substituting for William R. Kunzig, president of the Pennsylvania Young Republicans. County Executive Herbert C. Gerlach was guest at the evening banquet.

The delegates voted to ask the Board of Supervisors to take legislative action to restrict golf courses and pools to county residents. Facilities are overcrowded due to the large numbers of non-residents who flock to the county, and Westchester residents who pay taxes to support the facilities are being crowded out, the resolution declared.

The probe of graft and corruption should be coupled with adoption of Hoover Commission recon-

New Rochelle Man Subdued In Attempt to Snatch Detective's Camera

Charges of reckless driving, disorderly conduct and third degree assault were filed Saturday by Mamaroneck police against Robert A. Nelson, twenty, of 26 Lafayette Road, New Rochelle, as a result of a fracas on Hall Street, Mamaroneck, in which Nelson allegedly attacked three officers.

The policemen, Sgt. Samuel Bryant, Sgt. Hugh Downey and Patrolman Anthony Giancola had just finished taking pictures about 11 A. M. at the rear of the home of Andrew Micalizzi, 817 West Post Road, whose property goes through to Hall Street.

Police say that they were preparing to drive off after taking the pictures when Nelson came rushing up in a car and almost struck Detective Bryant who was carrying the camera.

Wanted Camera

Nelson, without inquiring as to the identity of the officers who were in plain clothes, demanded the camera and when it was refused lunged at Detective Bryant, according to the officers.

He made a second attempt to get the camera after his first try failed, and then, police report, he was subdued by Sgt. Downey and Patrolman Giancola and taken to headquarters and held until he posted a bond of $25 on each of the three charges.

This morning he appeared in Mamaroneck police court and pleaded not guilty to all of the counts. Trial of the case was set for 7:45 P. M. March 4 before a jury. Nelson was represented today by David Kubanow, a New Rochelle attorney.

Sgt. William Pannessa of the Mamaroneck police said that the officers had been detailed to take the pictures because of an alleged unsanitary condition at the rear of the Micalizzi building.

Reds Protest Allied Rejection Of Russians As Truce Police

MUNSAN, Korea (AP) — The Communists today challenged Allied rejection of Russia's nomination to a neutral inspection commission which would help police a Korean truce. The Reds declared that by every standard the Soviet Union qualifies as a neutral.

Minutes earlier the Communists called off a full dress meeting of truce negotiators — just as Allied delegates prepared to leave for Panmunjom to learn whether the Reds had accepted United Nations terms for a Korean peace conference.

There was no explanation. But the Communists asked for another plenary session at 10 A. M. tomorrow (8 P. M. EST today).

U. N.' Asked for Reasons

Red staff officers demanded the U. N. Command explain its objection to Russia's nomination. The neutral nation commission would make behind-the-lines inspections during an armistice.

The Communists argued that Soviet combat forces have not fought in Korea and that if Russia cannot be considered a neutral "there would be no neutral nation at all existing in the world."

Soviet experts trained the North Korean Army before the outbreak.

4 Political Leaders Linked To 3-Million Profit On Ship Deal

Senate Probe Digs Into $101,000 Investment In War Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Hoey, D., N. C., told his Senate investigations subcommittee today a group of U. S. political figures ran a $101,000 investment in war surplus ships into a $3.2 million profit in three years.

Senator Hoey made the statement at the opening of public hearings on the deal. He said the purpose of the hearings is to determine whether the deal (1) was "consistent" with law; (2) "whether Federal taxes were avoided" on the profits, and (3) "to inquire into the legal, brokerage and other fees involved in the transaction."

Senator Hoey's statement was the first public mention of ever $3 million as the profit on an eight-ship deal.

Joseph E. Casey, Washington lawyer who has acknowledged headed the group which got the rich return, had spoken previously of a $2.8 million profit on five of the eight oil tankers involved.

Mr. Casey has named as others who shared with him in the profits Adm. William F. "Bull" Halsey, World War II hero; the late Edward R. Stettinius Jr., wartime Secretary of State, and Julius C. Holmes, Minister to the U. S. Embassy in London.

Morris Firm Got 3 Ships

The subcommittee chairman indicated he also had made checks into how some of the ships finally wound up as a gift to a firm headed by Newbold Morris, President Truman's corruption on-government investigator.

Mr. Morris has said three of the ships were given to a nonprofit organization he heads, and that

50 Extra Private Flights Seen With Transfer From LaGuardia

RYE LAKE—

Westchester County Airport will be able to handle 50 additional private flights in the immediate future, Robert W. Gallaway, airport manager, confirmed today.

Mr. Gallaway said that although no definite date for transfer of executive aircraft flights or planes from LaGuardia has been set, their addition would not hamper the field's present operations or necessitate provision of new facilities or equipment.

At the present time the field handles about 250 flights daily, including three inbound and outbound to American Airlines schedules, and private, student and military planes.

Work On Skedules

NEW YORK, (AP)—Airline officials, spurred by four recent crashes in the metropolitan New York area, are working on new schedules to trim by almost one third the flight traffic at busy LaGuardia Field.

Full details of the reduced flight plan have not been announced, but there are reports that some planes may use other fields as far away as Philadelphia and Bridgeport, Conn.

Combing The Town

Back from Korea

Seaman James Robinette, above, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Robinette of 136 West Post Road, Mamaroneck is home on a 30-day leave after service aboard an oil tanker in the Korean theater.

Robinette is twenty-one years old and attended Mamaroneck schools. He worked at Barney Ehret's Marine Station before enlisting in the Navy July 28, 1950.

He received boot training at San Diego Naval Base in California and then was stationed aboard the tanker Kankakee which visited the Mediterranean area and Alaska before its service in the Korean area.

Robinette's leave will expire next week and he will leave Sunday for California to rejoin his ship.

Vandals at Work

Postmen have plenty of trouble getting the mail delivered, listening to complaints about delivery, ducking dogs on their delivery routes without the addition of a different sort of vandalism which has appeared in at least one mail box on Richbell Road.

Postmaster Isadore Linehan yesterday reported to police that some benighted vandal was putting lighted matches in mail boxes.

The complaint came from James V. Ahern of 328 Richbell Road who filed it with Mr. Linehan.

Mamaroneck police, who are investigating the matter, warn that it's a serious offense to tamper with the mail in any manner.

Will Help Ives

In response to the statement in a New York City newspaper that Mamaroneck Town Supervisor Owen A. Mandeville may "spread" the Westchester GOP drive for reelection of U. S. Senator Irving M. Ives, the Supervisor declared this morning he would be "glad to help the Senator in any way I can."

Mr. Mandeville disclaimed knowledge of the article or what led to its appearance, but stated "the Senator is an old friend of mine, a fine man, and it's a shame we don't have more like him."

Senator Ives will be running for his second term.

Prize-Winner

A Greenwich Village writer's studio is one step closer for Ardis Ann Stein, fifteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Stein of 315 Carroll Avenue, Mamaroneck, who has just won a $100 third prize for a story, "Paul World Goodbye," in Seventeen Magazine's short story contest.

The subject of Ardis' World Goodbye" is a secret between Ardis Ann and Seventeen's editors but it will become a matter of public record in June when it is to be published in the magazine's fiction section along with the prize-winning work of other contestants.

A sophomore at Bellows High School, Ardis Ann writes continually, according to her mother, but has never before had any work accepted for publication. Last Spring she was a winner in the Mystery Writers Contest sponsored by Bellows and Mamaroneck High Schools. She is on the staff of the Bellows "Student Observer."

Token for a Ride

Larchmont's Mayor Walter B. C. Washburn was offered a free ride on the 36-year-old-fire patrol wagon last night at the Village Board meeting when Trustee G. Crawford Eadie forwarded the request of the fire department that the antique apparatus be replaced with a new machine. "A mile ride in the present truck will convince any of the need for a new one," Mr. Eadie declared.

The question arose upon presentation of a letter from Fire Chief Joseph Ford setting forth the need for the equipment and estimating the cost between $18,000 and $22,000. The Mayor thanked the department for the proferred transportation but stated his impression the Fire Department had been brought up to date when the new aerial truck was purchased in 1950.

Village Engineer Arthur Richards then suggested the Mayor ride a mile in the water company truck to be convinced of the need for its replacement. The Mayor again gave thanks and noted a mile ride would take him outside the limits of the village where he would not have legal power to act on any municipal business.

BIG THREE CLEAR WAY FOR GERMAN ENTRY INTO PACT

Foreign Ministers Report Obstacles Removed For Europe Army

LONDON, (AP) — The Foreign Ministers of the three Western powers and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of Western Germany said today they have removed obstacles to Germany's entrance into the European community.

United States Secretary of State Dean Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman listed in a communique seven points which they said assured a successful conclusion of talks now going on in Bonn and Paris.

The three Ministers and Mr. Adenauer have been confering here since Saturday in an effort to smooth out German-French relations, open the way for creation of a European army in which German and French armed forces would be unified, and pave the way for a "peace contract" between Western Germany and the occupation powers.

COAST GUARD AID RUSHED TO TANKER

Rough Seas Batter Crippled Ship; 9 Believed Lost From Pendleton

CHATHAM, Mass. (AP)—Rough seas of the Atlantic boiled anew today under freshening winds as the Coast Guard Cutter Eastwind moved toward the stern of the severed tanker Port Mercer, which has 33 survivors aboard.

Nine men were believed lost from the tanker Pendleton, which suffered the same fate as the Port Mercer in yesterday's blinding snowstorm. Nine others are unaccounted for. Thirty-two were saved last night.

At 8 A. M. the Eastwind reported she was only 10 miles from the drifting wreck of the Mercer which was more than 50 miles off Cape Cod. Three hours later, the Eastwind had not reported again.

Job May be Tried

At Coast Guard headquarters it was considered probable the Eastwind might throw a line aboard the Mercer's stern and tow it into Boston rather than attempt a rescue in the rough sea.

Meanwhile, the cutter Yakatat took two men from the bow section of the Mercer bobbing in high waves 60 miles from the stern.

Rescued were Capt. Frederick C. Paetzel of Houston, Texas, and Purser Edward E. Turner Jr., of New York City.

The Yakatat reported the weather was "worsening" and that she was unable to remove two other survivors by boat. She said she would try to shoot a line aboard and use a raft to effect a rescue of the other pair.

The task of saving those on the Mercer's stern is in the hands of Capt. Oliver Peterson of Winchester, Mass., who was named officer in charge of the tactical operation.

Corpse Found By N.R. Youth Killed By Gun, Chief Rules

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass. (AP)—A William and College student found the blood-spattered body was found yesterday — in a fraternity house room chief of gunshot wounds, police chief George A. Royal said today.

Police identified the victim as Millard Romaine Jr., nineteen, a sophomore from Cincinnati. His father, Millard Romaine Sr., is the company president.

The body was found by a fraternity brother John M. McMath of New Rochelle, N. Y., on the day following a gay Winter "carnival weekend attended by male guests from five other New England colleges and 350 girl guests.

Chief Royal said State Police would make a ballistics check on the gun. He withheld any opinion of who fired the weapon. He had been shot in the head.

The question of an inquest was to be considered at a meeting later today of investigating officials.

Police said there were blood stains about the room, letters and papers were strewn on the floor and a pillow was crumpled across a corner as though thrown there.

A 22-caliber rifle was found, partially hidden under a rug, about six feet from the body.

Police said young Romaine's body was sprawled face up on a couch, the feet dangling to the floor.

Romaine did not live in the fraternity house where his body was found but had access to it as a member, college men said.

The official program for the carnival listed Patricia Sweeney of Vassar College as a guest of Mr. Romaine. Assistant District Attorney Samuel E. Levine said their parting after the carnival had been without incident.

Young Mr. Romaine's father is vice president of the Cincinnati milling Machine Co., largest machine tool firm in the world. He was reported by friends as being in Europe.

Hospital Drive Fund Soars To $1,025,109

RECENTLY NAMED to the operating committee of American Radiator and Standard sanitary Corporation was William A. Bauer of 18 Bonnie Briar Lane, Larchmont, general manager of the firm's foreign division. Mr. Bauer has been with American-Standard since 1924 and has served in the Berlin and Paris offices. He moved to Larchmont a year ago after a four-year assignment in Paris.

The United Hospital building fund today stands at $1,025,109, following an enthusiastic report meeting of volunteer public campaign workers held last night at the Elks' Club, Port Chester, when team members turned in 345 subscriptions amounting to $24,520, representing an average family pledge of $71.07.

With the original $1,000,000 objective of fund already subscribed, the public campaign workers are seeking an additional $250,000 to enable the full expansion program to be completed at United Hospital in the face of higher construction costs than previously estimated.

Building fund team workers in Mamaroneck who will make their first complete report at the next volunteers' meeting, at 7 P. M. Thursday, also at the Elks' Club in Port Chester, last night made a preliminary return of $1,303 in 27 subscriptions obtained by women workers under the chairmanship of Mrs. John S. Sutphen. Both Mrs. Sutphen and Charles D. Silleck, men's chairman here, expect that, with early organizational delays now overcome, each team in the area will file a report Thursday night. Workers who have obtained subscriptions are asked to turn them in to their captains in time to be filed at that time.

Widespread use of the six-payment system for the completion of pledges was evident. The highest community total was reported by Port Chester teams, who turned in 197 pledges amounting to $13,130. The highest average for subscriptions obtained in a single community was that for Rye.

Dooley Urges Full Support Of Red Cross

Mayor Edwin D. Dooley of Mamaroneck Village today designated Saturday and Sunday as Red Cross days in Mamaroneck and urged all residents of the village to give their support to the 1952 fund drive for $8,900 within the village.

In his proclamation Mayor Dooley said:

"Whereas the American Red Cross has constantly and repeatedly provided aid to the afflicted in war and peace, in flood and fire, in hurricane and blizzard, and

"Whereas this great charitable agency has given assistance to all segments of American citizenry without regard to station or inheritance, and

"Whereas the works of the Red Cross are known to all,

"Therefore, be it resolved that the days of February 23 and 24 be designated officially as Red Cross Saturday and Red Cross Sunday by virtue of this proclamation,

"Furthermore, it is respectfully requested that all citizens of our village lend their fullest possible support to this worthy drive and that the merchants, apartment dwellers, store owners and others give generously to aid this cause when they are contacted one day in the last week of February."

ERICSON NAMED TOWN FIRE CHIEF

Mirandi and Ianello Elected Deputies at Annual Meeting

Leonard W. Ericson of 736 Forest Road in Larchmont, was elected chief of the Town of Mamaroneck Fire Department last night at a meeting in the Weaver Street headquarters.

Chief Ericson succeeds Harold O. Thomsen who has served for one year as head of the department.

Elected with Chief Ericson by the 38 members who were present at the meeting were Anthony Mirandi, first deputy; Dominic Ianello, second deputy; Arthur Brown, secretary; Irving Schaefer treasurer, and Dominic Libranci, sergeant-at-arms. All officers except the chief succeed themselves in their positions.

The new chief, whose election is expected to be confirmed tomorrow at a meeting of the Town Council, has been a member of the department for more than 10 years and served as first deputy in 1948 under former Chief George Burton.

Installation of the chief and other officers will be held Saturday at a departmental dinner in the Weaver Street Fire House.

THOMAS F. MOORE Jr.

MOORE IS NAMED COLLEGE TRUSTEE

Larchmonter Follows Ives On Hamilton Board In Clinton

Thomas F. Moore Jr. of 334 Weaver Street, Larchmont, has just been elected a trustee of Hamilton College in Clinton, N. Y., and in June will be installed to fill the post now held by Senator Irving Ives. Mr. Moore is first deputy industrial commissioner of the New York State Department of Labor.

A 1930 graduate of Hamilton, Mr. Moore took his law degree at Fordham Law School in 1936 and was appointed an assistant district attorney of New York County in 1938 by Thomas E. Dewey. During the five years he was in that post he participated in smashing the milk racket and helped secure indictments in the Joe Fay extortion case.

In 1943 Mr. Moore won a Naval commission and served aboard the USS Barnes, an aircraft carrier, as radar officer. Upon his discharge in 1946, he became counsel to the State Public Works Department in Albany and assumed his present post in 1947.

A Larchmont resident since 1950, Mr. Moore is married and has three daughters, Valerie Anne and Ursula Joan who attend Murray Avenue School, and Elaine Judith, two years old.

Bridge Replacement Cost Put At $100,000

A gold plated bomb burst over the Pryer Manor bridge last night when the Larchmont Village Board heard a $100,000 estimate for total replacement of the 100-foot span that crosses the Premium Mill Pond and lies in Larchmont, New Rochelle and the Town of Mamaroneck.

The estimate was contained in a letter to Town Supervisor Owen A. Mandeville from James C. Harding, Westchester Commissioner of Public Works, that had been forwarded to the Larchmont Board.

Mr. Harding further advised that the town take no part in a partial restoration or reconstruction of the decayed masonry span and placed the cost of such repair at $25,000.

The Pryer Manor bridge, which lies south of the Boston Post Road where it has carried the overland route between Larchmont and New Rochelle along the Sound shore, was barricaded May 22, 1951, by New Rochelle engineers who termed the crossing no longer safe for passage. A light steel and lead barriers was revealed when municipal efforts began to get the bridge repaired and a bill was being prepared in Albany to gain state approval for tri-community action on the project.

Letter A Surprise

Receipt of Mr. Harding's letter came as a complete surprise to Larchmont officials and Trustee Gail Golladay commented, "I get more confused on this thing all the time." Village Engineer Arthur Richards estimated the bridge could be repaired for any price between $5,000 and $100,000, "depending on what you want," and each municipality has already declared willingness to proceed on equal shares to a maximum of $10,000.

Legal opinion has not been secured on whether or not Mr. Harding's recommendation is legally binding since the bridge itself and roads leading to it are not directly under county jurisdiction.

The letter will be presented to the Mamaroneck Town Council tomorrow night as a "communication." Supervisor Mandeville said today. In 1946 the County Public Works Department took over the Larchmont Gardens Lake bridge repair job, he added, although these streets were not county highways.

Three Courses

If the Town were to follow Mr. Harding's recommendation, three courses would be left open in the Pryer Manor bridge question, Larchmont and New Rochelle could proceed along lines already drawn for repair of the bridge at minimum cost, if the enabling legislation is secured from Albany, or agreement could be sought between the three municipalities for undertaking a full-scale relocation and reconstruction of the span. The third possibility is that the matter be dropped altogether and the bridge left in its present state.

When efforts to reopen the bridge were lagging in August, Sam Dembow Jr. of 1 Pryer Manor Road, New Rochelle, threatened to secure rights to the bridge, repair it at his own expense and reimburse himself by charging tolls. "They cannot draw an Iron Curtain around the Pryer Manor bridge," Mr. Dembow said in an interview.

Larchmont Dogs Stay Under Village Control

The Larchmont Village Board decided against a change in the handling of its dog problem last night when it declined to enter into a proposed agreement with six other Sound shore communities that would more than double the budgets and facilities of the Westchester Shore Humane Society.

The Humane Society provides animal rescue and control service now under a $7,950 total budget by contractual arrangement with Larchmont, the Town and Village of Mamaroneck, the Town of Harrison, the City and Town of Rye and Port Chester.

The alternate plan, proposed by Mamaroneck Village Manager William H. Johnson upon instruction of his trustees, is a revamped version of an expansion program first proposed in 1949 when cooperative action could not be secured.

Under the present contracts Larchmont pays $850 for Humane Society services-and the Town and Village each pay $1,300. Per dog population at the latest count were 599, 899 and 1,099 respectively. The new plan proposes that the three communities raise their contract payments by $900, $1,500 and $1,900 each. Other communities in the arrangement would also be called upon to increase their contributions in proportions to their canine population.

Would Increase Facilities

In return for the increase, the Humane Society would increase its service by purchase of another ambulance and employment of two more men and guarantee that within six months the streets of each municipality participating would be free of any dogs running at large. The society would also take direct responsibility for issuance of violation summonses, now handled by the police.

Trustee Gail Golladay stated there were "dogs all over the place" when Mayor Walter B. C. Washburn asked if Larchmont had a canine problem, but the trustee said he didn't see how the board could justify spending $3 per dog owned in the village.

Dog license fees are now $2.25 for males and $5.25 for unspayed females and a village ordinance requires dogs to be held on leashes at all times. When Village Engineer Arthur Richards stated his dogs are a nuisance all the time the board agreed that control of the problem could not be left entirely to the Police Department.

Trustee G. Crawford Eadie revealed the full extent of the canine situation when he described how his own dog, a wire-haired terrier, darts out of the house every time a door is opened. He predicted an abrupt end to this state of affairs, however, when he noted in passing that the animal

Avalanche Of Gifts, Letters Follows Appeal For Thomas

Shares of stock and a TV set, laundry and a promise of free medicines, books and almost $100 in cash, letters of appreciation and appeals for help: all have been received as a result of the CBS television program last week on behalf of Edwin Thomas of 731 North Barry Avenue.

Chief Louis Giancola of the Mamaroneck Village police has been deluged with mail and gifts for Thomas ever since he told the story of the Mamaroneck polio victim on the air and managed to answer all the questions on the "Strike It Rich" program.

Probably the most unique of all the promises of gifts came from a dentist in Mattapon, Mass., a chap who probably never heard of Mamaroneck before but whose name happens to be Dr. Edwin M. Thomas. The polio sufferer's namesake wrote Chief Giancola that he was sending some shares of stock which would yield six per cent interest and would give the Mamaroneck boy "something for his future."

Other Gifts

Then there was a $5 gift from the Naval Station at Newport R. I. It came from Lt. Comdr. Henry Sheridan, owner of the Sheridan Towing and Salvage Service in Mamaroneck. In an accompanying letter Sheridan wrote that he is proud to have as my home town a place where people and officials are always ready to help less fortunate than themselves."

The local response also amazed the chief. Not only did two residents, Mrs. David Wollman of Aldo Road and Jerome Barry Jr. of the police department, go to New York in anticipation of appearing on the program with the chief, but residents and firms contributed cash and gifts in astonishing numbers.

Chief Giancola tabulated the

ALLIES AND REDS AGREE ON FINAL CLAUSE IN TRUCE

High Level Conference Set But 2 Major Hurdles Block Settlement

MUNSAN, Korea (AP) — Negotiators agreed today on the final clause of a Korean armistice, but two major hurdles still blocked a truce settlement.

Today's agreement; To recommend that belligerent governments hold a high level political conference within 90 days after an armistice to consider "withdrawal of all foreign forces from Korea, the peaceful settlement of the Korean question, etc."

Agreement was reached in a full-dress session.

No Date Set for Meeting

Staff officers were assigned to the job of incorporating the recommendation in the armistice. No date was set for the first staff meeting.

Other staff officers are working on two other uncompleted clauses. But they are skirting around the two big unsettled questions:

1. Voluntary repatriation of prisoners of war.

2. Rebuilding of Red airfields during a truce.

The wording of the political conference recommendation was drafted by the Communists, including the "etc."

Reds Insisted on Meeting

The third staff conference meeting was a Communist idea. Red negotiators insisted on it when the United Nations Command accepted the Communist wording for the political conference recommendation, right down to the "etc."

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, head of the U. N. delegation objected at first. He said "there is nothing for the staff officers to do."

Later, however, he agreed. But, a U. N. communique said, Admiral Joy stipulated "the staff officers would not be empowered to make any substantive change or addition to the draft recommendation."

MOORE PROPOSES NEW SCHOOL AID

$1.6 State Fund Would Help Construction In Growing Areas

ALBANY, (AP) — Lieutenant Governor Frank C. Moore's State School Building Commission proposed today a $1.6 million program designed to help growing communities construct new schools.

In its third annual report to Governor Dewey and the Legislature, the 12-member agency said that all cities, including New York, had sufficient local financial resources" to build essential schools "at least during the next four years."

Legislation to implement the commission's recommendations was introduced immediately by Senator Earl W. Brydges of Niagara Falls and Assemblyman Wheeler Milmoe of Canastota. Republican chairmen of the Education Committees in both houses.

The measures would:

1. Appropriate $700,000 for the 1952-53 fiscal year to continue the emergency program under which the State advances money to help financially pressed school districts meet debt service costs on bonds for emergency school construction.

2. Revise the formula under which school districts receive State financial assistance, to provide that a district whose average daily attendance for the latest year exceeds a three-year average by 10 per cent or more shall receive financial aid based on the last year's attendance daily, less an amount equal to a tax of $1 on each $1,000 of full valuation of local real estate. It was estimated this would cost about $900,000 in the coming fiscal year.

3. Encourage school districts in cities under 125,000 population to consolidate with suburban districts to form enlarged city districts which could receive special State financial aid.

5-YEAR HUNT ENDS IN SUTTON ARREST

2 Young Cops Nab Nation's Most-Sought Bank Robber In Brooklyn Street

NEW YORK (AP) — Notorious Willie "The Actor" Sutton, fifty-one, pleaded innocence to bank robbery charges today, and was ordered held in prison for a hearing Feb. 29.

Assistant District Attorney Lawrence J. Peirez referred to Sutton's reputation for "disappearing" from police custody, and urged that not less than $250,000 bail be set.

Magistrate William Groat, of Queens County Court, reserved decision on granting bail to the elusive Sutton.

Sutton was arrested yesterday in Brooklyn, where he had been living the role of an obscure miner in a $6-a-week room, after being sought for years as one of the nation's top bank robbers and escape artists.

Queens authorities had him under indictment for the $64,000 robbery of a Sunnyside bank in 1950.

Linked With Brink Case

Sutton, whose exploits and disguises have become criminal legend, also has been mentioned by police in many other recent big jobs—including the $1.5-million-dollar

Turning Car in Crash With Auto on Post Rd.

A car driven by Frank Nask Jr. of 351 English Harbor Road, Rye, sustained damage to the front end and right front door yesterday at 3:45 P. M. when it crashed into a car making a U-turn on the Boston Post Road near Mount Pleasant Avenue, Mamaroneck.

Nask reported he was driving east on the Post Road when a car, operated by Albert John D'Amato of Yonkers suddenly turned in front of his auto. The D'Amato vehicle was not damaged.

SERVING MAMARONECK AND LARCHMONT

ESTABLISHED OCT. 1925 — MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATION — MAMARONECK, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1952 — THE ASSOCIATED PRESS MEMBER OF — PRICE FIVE CENTS

Combing The Town

Educators Name McLain

Dr. Joseph C. McLain, above, principal of the Mamaroneck Senior High School, was yesterday elected first vice president of the National Association of Secondary School Principals in Cincinnati, Ohio, at the association's 36th annual convention. He was second vice president and a member of the executive committee before the election.

Dr. McLain presided at a general meeting of the 3,000 educators Saturday afternoon during a panel discussion entitled "Is education in danger from attacks on public schools by irresponsible critics?"

Hits Jackpot

Mamaroneck Patrolman Frank Paonessa hit the jackpot yesterday about 11:15 A. M. when he got a detail to go down to Old Post Road and investigate a complaint that unmuzzled dogs were running at large.

When Patrolman Paonessa arrived, he found a quintet of canines cavorting and promptly pulled out his summons book and wrote five tickets.

The complaint about the pups was made to police headquarters by Mrs. Edmund Lowery Jr., of 803 Old Post Road.

Druck to Moderate

Kalman B. Druck of Larchmont, a member of the Executive Board of the Larchmont Forum for Public Opinion, will serve as moderator at tonight's program at the Chatsworth Avenue School in place of William J. McWilliams who is ill.

A. Alfred Cohen, one of the speakers on the subject "Children in Trouble—Whose Responsibility?" is quoted at length in an article entitled, "Criminal in the Kindergarten", in this month's issue of the Woman's Home Companion. He will share the platform tonight with Judge George W. Smyth of the county Children's Court.

Forsythia Vanishes

If one of your children came home yesterday with a large bouquet of blooming forsythia, it belongs in the Mamaroneck Free Library and the vase is the property of Mrs. Fred Parr of 310 Prospect Avenue.

Mrs. Parr had forced the blooms for a library display for the Mamaroneck Garden Club. She was on her way to the library with the sprays and had reached her car opposite her home when the telephone rang. She set the container down between the curb and the car and returned for a brief telephone conversation and when she went back to the car, the advance herald of Spring had vanished. The flower lover may keep the blooms, she said this morning, but she would like to have the container back.

Leaflet on Institute

Pupils of the six schools in the Mamaroneck school district are delivering to their families today a 1950 pamphlet describing the Ninth Community Institute to be held at the Junior High School March 3. It is one of nine "Know Your Schools" series published by the Parent-Teacher Council under the direction of Mrs. Richard Fiske.

Representative community leaders will speak to panel discussion groups at an afternoon and evening session on a wide range of school problems and the institute will be sponsored by the Mamaroneck-Larchmont Parent-Teacher Council, the Mamaroneck Teachers' Association and the Mamaroneck Board of Education.

The pamphlet sets forth the full program of the institute.

Connolly in Europe

One of the busiest men now in Europe is Jack E. Connolly of 18 Forest Park Avenue, Larchmont, newsreel and special events director of the international Motion Picture Division of the U. S. State Department.

Mr. Connolly, whose assignments have taken him to every corner of the globe, has within one week covered the Olympics in Oslo, the funeral of King George in London and is now in Lisbon for the meeting of the North Atlantic Council.

Aboard Mine Sweeper

Seaman John L. Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Walker of 1518 Urban Street, Mamaroneck, is serving aboard a mine sweeper, USS Seer, stationed at the U. S. mine craft base in Charleston, S. C.

Walker, who is twenty years old, is a native of Mamaroneck and was graduated from Mamaroneck High School in 1930.

He enlisted in the Navy last October and recently completed boot training at the Bainbridge, Md., naval base.

Before entering the service he was employed by Kimble and Strothkamp Dental Laboratories of Mamaroneck.

G.O.P. Names Epstein, Holland and Dalfonso For Village Trustees

Barney Epstein, real estate and insurance broker, received the unopposed Republican nomination for Mamaroneck village trustee last night in a party caucus at the American Legion Hall on Prospect Avenue. He is the party's choice to succeed Republican Trustee Alfred Weeks who will retire from the board this year after serving three successive terms.

Also unanimously nominated were the two Republican incumbents, Joseph Dalfonso and Jack Holland.

James A. Gillies, in a brief nominating speech, praised Mr. Epstein for his character and independence and for his past services to the community. Edward Juller, seconding the nomination, recalled his childhood acquaintance with the nominee and added that he was proud to second Mr. Gillies' motion.

"Mr. Epstein," he said, "is no yes-man."

Mr. Epstein thanked his supporters and promised to "do the best I know how."

Dalfonso Named

The nomination of Mr. Dalfonso was made by B. J. Santoro, former mayor of Mamaroneck. Mr. Santoro gave a brief biography of the nominee, referring to his academic record which included the degree of chemical engineer from Pratt Institute. He praised his record in the Navy in the last war and his activity in civic affairs. He was one of the chief organizers here, the former mayor said, of the G.I. Civic Association.

Bernard Peterson seconded the nomination, adding that "besides being likeable, Mr. Dalfonso is capable, sincere, and a credit to the community and I feel assured he will do, as he has done, his best to give this community an efficient, honest government."

James Jackson nominated Trustee Holland as "a resident of this community for 25 years and prominent in the development of the Greenhaven section".

Dewey Perschke seconded the nomination, remarking that Mr. Holland was "one of the original organizers of the Young Men's

LITTLE WAR TALK HEARD IN EUROPE

Strengthen U. S. Democracy, UN Commentator Urges University Club

There is little talk in Europe about possible war and the people there do not like to hear talk of possible war, Alexander Gardiner, noted analyst and commentator, said last night at a meeting of the University Club of Mamaroneck in the Seven Pines restaurant.

Mr. Gabriel, who has recently returned from the United Nations conference in Paris, recounted the most important and significant developments of the conference and pointed out that the thought of self-determination is growing among the nations of the UN and that the United States faces the job of selling itself among world nations. Democracy, he maintained, must be built so strong here that the whole world will want it. A weak democracy will not attract the world to our way of life, he added.

Entertainment at the dinner was supplied by the Four Breezes, a quartet of High School students.

David L. McCarroll was welcomed as a new member and President Ivan Flood presided.

13 SAILORS STICK TO BROKEN HULK

Pass Up Rescue During Night Hoping to Salvage Part Of Split Vessel

CHATHAM, Mass. (AP) — Thirteen weary seamen, true to the tradition of the seas, stuck it out today on the derelict stern of a broken tanker—hoping to salvage the hulk.

Crewmen of the Fort Mercer—torn in half by the Winter's worst storm two days ago—passed up rescue last night. Twenty-five of their mates were taken off the wreck by Coast Guardsmen.

Eighteen of them reached Boston this morning aboard the cutter Acushnet, while tugs and other cutters hovered around the bobbing wreckage mapping out salvage plans.

Stern May be Blasted

It was hoped the stern section could be towed to port, but the vessel's owners in New York, the Trinidad Corp., said a decision might be made today to sink it by gunfire. The Coast Guard had said the wreckage is a menace to navigation.

The Fort Mercer, loaded with fuel oil for New England ports, was one of two 10,000 ton tankers torn in half in the vicious northeastern storm off the Cape Cod fishing community.

Both halves of the other tanker, the Pedleton, were washed aground yesterday. The bow section of the Fort Mercer still floated in the seas some 30 miles from the stern. All crewmen had been rescued from those three sections.

57 Saved, 6 Dead

The latest batch of survivors brought to 57 the number rescued from the four drifting sections.

Six are listed as dead and eight are missing and presumed dead.

Thefts Up In 1951 But Loot Declines, Town Police Report

Major thefts in the Town of Mamaroneck in 1951 tumbled to less than a third of the value of all articles stolen during 1950 while arrests and violations doubled, according to the annual report of Police Chief Paul A. Yerick filed with Supervisor Owen A. Mandeville.

During the year just completed the value of listed thefts was $4,723, while in the previous year thieves made off with $12,538, exclusive of the value of stolen cars.

In the automotive category, two cars valued at $3,700 were stolen during 1951 while seven cars slipped their moorings during 1950 to the tune of $9,000. Both the stolen cars in the past year were recovered within 24 hours, while in 1950 only three of the missing vehicles were returned to their owners.

Arrests Rise

Despite the sharp dip in major crimes as revealed by these figures, arrests for violation of traffic laws and town ordinances showed a sharp rise and 1109 cases were brought to court in 1951 compared to only 612 in 1950. A breakdown of these totals shows a jump from 372 to 550 in traffic cases while ordinance violations went up from 216 to 539 cases. Offenses against the penal laws remained below 25 in both years.

The animal population of the town occupied the police on almost an equal basis as the human element here although beasts of the hearth, barn and field showed less imagination in their trouble-making during 1951 than in 1950. Nothing in the more recent report matches Chief Yerick's cryptic notation for 1950 of "bat in bedroom —3" and the one lone tame crow that was found in 1950 was without a counterpart in 1951.

Raccoons continued their invasions of garbage cans from one year to the next, although four secured beachheads in 1951 as against only two in 1950. Bees and hornets continued to swarm, to citizens' annoyance, with equivalent vigor. Four horses managed to get lost in 1951 while only two turned the same trick in the preceding year, which also saw a deer killed by a truck.

Although 99 lost dogs were re-

Westchester County Airport Among 5 Studied To Handle Flights Diverted From LaGuardia

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman today appointed a special commission to investigate air crashes and crowded airports.

He named the famed flier, James H. Doolittle, as chairman Mr. Twoolittle, a retired lieutenant general, led the first World War II raid on Tokyo.

Charles F. Horne, Administrator of Civil Aeronautics, and Dr. Jerome C. Hunsaker, head of the Department of Aeronautical Engineering at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, were named to serve with him.

NEW YORK (AP)—Five out-of-town airports will be screened to determine whether they have sufficient facilities to handle some of the 226 daily flights to be diverted from LaGuardia Field here.

The five airports, all of which have offered to handle the planes, are the Westchester County Airport at Rye Lake, and fields at Bridgeport, Conn., Baltimore, Philadelphia, and Millville, N. J.

A spokesman for the National Air Transport Coordinating Committee, made up of airline and government representatives, announced the survey of those airports yesterday.

Meanwhile, the White House in Washington said a special commission was being considered to in-

HARRIMAN SEEN POSSIBLE VEEP

State Democratic Leader Hints Nomination For Truman Lieutenant

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Signs were seen today that W. Averell Harriman may get some backing for a place on the Democratic Presidential ticket this year.

In view of the fact that President Truman has not announced his own intentions, the speculation was that Mr. Harriman, sixty-year-old diplomat, administrator and Truman lieutenant, may be pushed for the Vice Presidential spot if the idea catches on.

President Truman yesterday was asked to attend a dinner for Mr. Harriman.

Later, outside the executive offices, Mr. Pitspatrick was asked again whether he thought Mr. Harriman was a possibility for the nomination in New York.

"Yes," he replied. "I think he's a possibility for a nomination even nationally."

The New York party leader was off before he could be asked to elaborate. Earlier, however, he had said he believed Mr. Truman should be the Democratic Presidential candidate.

DEAN RUSSELL D. NILES

NILES HONORED BY NYU ALUMNI

Dean of Law School Cited For Distinguished Service To Profession

Dr. Russell D. Niles of 841 Taylor's Lane, Mamaroneck, dean of the New York University School of Law, was honored by the Law School Alumni Association last night at a dinner in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York.

The citation lauds his work as teacher and administrator and states that "he has borne with outstanding distinction the special burdens which have been placed upon him in connection with the creation of the Law Center".

Dr. Niles became dean of the Law School in 1948 after serving as assistant dean in charge of the graduate division. He has been a member of the faculty of the school for 23 years.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Niles of Seattle, Wash., he is a native of Twin Valley, Minn., and a graduate of the University of Montana.

MOTHERS LEARN 'HELP' TECHNIQUE

CD Class Teaches Measures For Emergency Relief In Disaster

The first course of a series of five "Self-Help and Neighbor Help" classes giving instruction in disaster relief techniques will near its completion when the fourth lecture begins at 1 P. M. tomorrow in the library of the Mamaroneck Avenue School.

The course is being taken by 20 Mamaroneck Avenue School PTA mothers and two public health nurses, Miss Frances Kneeland and Miss Ann Ansonalli, are instructors. The final lesson will be given at the school Feb. 28 when a motion picture on the atomic bomb is to be shown.

The course is designed to give instruction in measures to be taken immediately after a disaster and teaches life saving procedures that can be followed by household officers to work out technicalities on the final truce clause—recommendations to governments.

Atlantic Allies Face Huge Task, Acheson Warns

Action Will Strain All To the Utmost, NATO Told

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — A grave-faced Dean Acheson told the Atlantic Allies, opening their ninth council session today: "We must take actions that will strain all of us to the utmost."

"It is a task for governments and for peoples," the U. S. Secretary of State said. "We must develop the concrete military strength which alone can insure our people against the destruction and suffering of another war."

Portuguese Foreign Minister Paulo Cunha, in the role of host, broke into the usual welcoming pleasantries with a plea for the admission of Spain to the alliance.

He said the defense of the Iberian Peninsula was indivisible and that Spain's exclusion from the alliance was a strategic absurdity. Portugal is allied with Spain.

For the first time two new members, Greece and Turkey, joined the 12 Western Allies in a council meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Delegates included the Foreign, Defense and Finance Ministers of the 14 members.

BILL SEEKS LINK FOR 2 THRUWAYS

Condon, Hill Introduce Plan To Build Connection Across County

By Staff Correspondent

ALBANY—A new state highway would be constructed across Central Westchester from a point west of Elmsford and through White Plains and Rye City to link the New York and New England thruways under a bill introduced yesterday by Senator William F. Condon of Yonkers and Assemblyman Theodore Hill Jr. of Jefferson Valley.

The highway would follow generally the route of the Central Westchester Parkway for which Westchester County acquired most of the needed lands a quarter of a century ago. The bill provides that the road be constructed through or northerly of White Plains and along or southerly of the Central Westchester Parkway route.

Exact Route Not Known

Because of possibilities of changes in the prospective routes of the two thruways the exact route of the new highway is not defined in the bill. The route of the portion east of the terminal of the Central Westchester right of way will be dependent upon the location of the New England thruway. This in turn is dependent upon Connecticut's decision as to

'NEUTRAL' RUSSIA BOGS TRUCE TALKS

Allies Reject Soviet Claim To Supervise; Offer Cut In Rotation Plan

MUNSAN, Korea (AP) — Communist insistence that Russia be invited as a neutral nation to help supervise a Korean truce stalled armistice talks today.

The Allies offered "in the interest of progress" to pare their troop rotation figure from 40,000 monthly to 35,000. But the Reds would not even talk about it.

No specific progress was reported from another truce meeting on prisoners of war. And up date was set for a third committee of staff officers to work out technicalities on the final truce clause—recommendations to governments.

Red negotiators were insistent that the Soviet Union be the third neutral nation nominated by the Communists. The United Nations Command already has approved Poland and Czechoslovakia.

The Allies said that Russia, as sponsor of Red Korea and Communist China, was "not acceptable" as a neutral supervisor.

PEDDLER CLEARED IN WOMAN'S LEAP

Mamaroneck Girl Unable To Identify Man As Her Assailant

NEW YORK — Charges against John Joseph Byrne, of 309 West 94th Street, Manhattan, who had been arrested in connection with injuries suffered by a young woman found lying in a courtyard near his apartment were dismissed by Magistrate Benjamin Brenner in Felony Court yesterday for lack of evidence.

Byrne, twenty-six-year-old fruit peddler, was arrested Feb. 9 after Miss Arlene Conte, twenty-three, of 731 North Barry Avenue, Mamaroneck, was found injured in a courtyard below a broken window of Byrne's apartment. He was charged with felonious assault, attempted rape and illegal possession of a .32 caliber revolver.

Police said Miss Conte, who suffered a broken pelvis and was permitted to leave St. Vincent's Hospital to appear in court yesterday, either jumped or was pushed through the window at 4:30 A. M. on Feb. 9 as she resisted an alleged attempt at rape.

She was unable to identify Byrne, and the charges were dismissed after a hearing. The peddler had been held in city prison in lieu of $10,000 bail.

He was taken into custody near his apartment, but insisted he was then returning home and had not been in the apartment earlier that morning. He denied all knowledge of the case and said he merely saw a crowd gathered near his home when he returned there after a visit to taverns.

Miss Conte had been quoted by police as saying she had gone to the Byrne apartment to see a third person and that the peddler threatened her with the gun.

Larchmont Boy Fined As Cigarette Smuggler

Thomas A. Dillon Jr., twenty-one year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Dillon of 49 Locust Avenue, Larchmont, was fined $50 and costs yesterday in Niagara Falls, Ont., Canada, after pleading guilty to smuggling 6,800 cigarets into Canada. Customs officials found the cigarets stuffed into the upholstery of a car.

A senior at the University of Toronto, Dillon is a graduate of the Iona Preparatory School in New Rochelle.

No Paper Tomorrow

Tomrrow is a red letter day for school children, municipal employees, bankers, postmen, and employees of The Daily Times.

Thanks to George Washington who was born just 220 years ago, Feb. 22 is a legal holiday.

Schools, banks and municipal offices will be closed, post office lobbies will be open but there will be no delivery of mail and no window service. The Daily Times will not be published.

Come Saturday, however, everything will return to normal.

Attends Convention

Sidney D. Blue of 66 Knollwood Drive, Larchmont, was among 2,-300 mining and metal engineers convening at the Hotel Statler, New York yesterday who heard reports that the mineral industry of the United States has embarked on its largest expansion program.

J. K. Richardson, mining executive, declared at the 123rd Annual Convention of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers that the United States and Canada would spend more than three and one-half billion dollars to expand mine production through 1955.

Follows Own Advice

Mayor Walter R. C. Washburn gave a faultless recipe last night at the GOP caucus for an effective speech. Then he followed it.

When the Mayor was introduced by Caucus Chairman William Eipel, he said, "I am deeply gratified to receive the nomination for a third time and I appreciate your confidence. I am glad to work with a board that does its best to make Larchmont the kind of village where we all want to live."

Then the Mayor added that to make an effective speech there are three rules: "Stand up to be seen; speak up to be heard; then shut up to be appreciated."

That ended his address.

Welsh at Home

Pfc. Michael Welsh, brother of Mamaroneck Town Patrolman John J. Welsh Jr., is on a 10-day leave at home after participating in Operation Snowfall at Camp Drum, N. Y., with the 11th Airborne Division.

A graduate of St. Augustine's School in Larchmont and Mamaroneck High School, the twenty-three-year-old soldier lives with his parents at 8 Locust Terrace, New Rochelle.

Pfc. Welsh entered the army in February, 1951, and took his basic and jump training at Camp Campbell, Ky. He has made 12 jumps and was in the coordinated attack at Virginia Beach, Va., when his outfit worked with the Marine Corps to secure an operational beachhead.

He will return to duty at Cams Campbell when his leave expires Wednesday.

Honored by ROTC

Albert R. Schreck, twenty-one-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Schreck of Larchmont Acres, was recently elected to the Arnold Air Society, an honorary group within the Air Force ROTC unit at Williams College in Williamstown, Mass. Schreck is also a cadet major in the corps and executive officer.

In his senior year as a major in languages at the college, Schreck is president of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity and a member of the Gargoyle Society, an honor group to which 20 juniors are elected each year. He was graduated from Mamaroneck High School in 1948 where he played football and then earned his letter on the Williams freshman team.

He will be commissioned a second lieutenant in the Air Corps when he graduates from Williams in June.

Palmer Enlists

Clifford Palmer, seventeen-year-old son of Mamaroneck Village Patrolman Alton Palmer and Mrs. Palmer of 546 Jefferson Avenue, Mamaroneck, is stationed at Camp Kilmer, N. J., awaiting assignment for basic training in the US Army.

Palmer, whose brother Alton Palmer was inducted into the Army Nov. 9, enlisted Feb. 9.

A native of Roselle, N. J., Palmer was born Oct. 5, 1933, and was a sophomore at Bellows High School when he enlisted.

His older brother is now undergoing basic training at Fort Dix, N. J.

Home on Leave

Thomas W. Sharp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Sharp of 6 Oxford Road, Larchmont, arrived at the home of his parents recently on a two-week leave from the Navy following completion of "boot" training at the naval training center, Bainbridge, Md.

A graduate of Proctor Academy, he left Colby College in 1950 to enlist in the Navy, but was not called to active duty until Fall of the following year. He will next be assigned to Communications Training School.

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The American Sabre jet pilots shot down two more Red jets today bringing their toll this week to 10.

The two MIG15s eliminated today were blown out of the air during a 20-minute battle in cloudy North Korean skies between 37 American Sabre jets and 20 MIGs.

The 20 Reds swept into battle out of a formation of 80 Russian-type jets. The other MIG pilots watched the fight but didn't get mixed up in it.

G. O. P. NOMINATES WASHBURN, EADIE, COFFAY AND WHITE

Mayor Runs For 3rd Term A Caucus Accepts Fusion Ticket

Walter R. C. Washburn was nominated last night for his third term as mayor of Larchmont and the village was assured of the continuation of a bi-party government as Edward E. White, a Democrat, was nominated by the Republican Party caucus to succeed himself as trustee for a one-year term.

Also nominated for additional two-year terms were Trustees G. Crawford Eadie and John P. Coffay, Jr.

The Democratic caucus, slated for 9 o'clock tonight in the Municipal Building is expected to name the same slate to provide Larchmont with its first fusion ticket since 1950 when Trustee Eadie, a Republican, was nominated by the Democrats.

Mayor Washburn was nominated by Lawrence S. Scofield who described the Mayor's educational and professional background and pointed out that he had been active in Red Cross, Community Chest and other philanthropic and civic activities. He served as a member of the Zoning Board of Appeals which Mr. Scofield termed "a proving ground," before his election to the Village Board. He has served the village faithfully as Mayor for two terms, Mr. Scofield declared.

The Mayor's nomination was seconded by Paul Gunsalus.

'A Good Neighbor'

Trustee Coffay was nominated by James Hayes who described his candidate as "a good friend and a good neighbor who has done more than his share to support civic and charitable activities."

"We know what it means to serve as a trustee," Mr. Hayes concluded. "We don't elect a man to honor him. It's a tough job. We do it because we are thinking of the people. Jack Coffay is SPLINTERED GLASS and crushed metal were left in the wake of a wild-cat truck wheel last night at Luby Chevrolet on the Boston Post Road in Larchmont. The wheel tore loose from an eastbound truck and piled into this new convertible after crossing six lanes of Larchmont's most heavily traveled highway. No one was injured in the accident and the shattered plate glass was quickly boarded up. Joseph Greco, left, Luby general manager, and Stephen Wawak, service manger, assess the damage.

HOSPITAL TEAMS REPORT TONIGHT

Hampshire Country Club Subscribes $3,500 to Fund Drive

Mamaroneck volunteers in the area-wide public campaign for subscriptions to the United Hospital building fund will make their first complete reports at a meeting at 7 P. M. today in the Elks' Club, Port Chester. The local teams are serving under the chairmanship of Charles D. Silleck and Mrs. John S. Sutphen.

On the basis of returns to date, the fund stands at $1,625,109, surpassing its original $1,000,000 objective, but not yet within striking distance of the additional $250,000 which higher building costs have made it necessary to obtain for the completion of the entire enlargement project.

John C. Andresen, president of the hospital, reported that the Hampshire Country Club of Cove Road, Mamaroneck, has subscribed $3,600 to the fund. He disclosed that this subscription, received at building fund headquarters just before the public campaign opened last week, was an important factor in enabling the original objective to be attained.

"The action of the officers of the fund is a striking demonstration of the loyalty and dedication of sound, community-minded thinking," Mr. Andresen said of the gift.

Samuel E. Magid, treasurer of the Hampshire Country Club, forwarded the subscription to Mr. Andresen, saying the club, "as a part of the community, is happy to join its friends and neighbors in contributing to the enlargement of United Hospital."

The officers of the club felt obligated to vote this subscription in the interests of our members and for the welfare of the community as a whole," he added.

CHURCH COUNCIL REBUKES LEGION

Yonkers Group Supports Sarah Lawrence College In Controversy

YONKERS—

An expression of confidence in Sarah Lawrence College and a corollary rebuke to the Westchester American Legion were issued today by the Yonkers Council of Churches.

The communication, in the form of a resolution, was adopted by the council directors at their February meeting Tuesday, after his discussion of the recent crossexamination of the college attempted by the Legion's Americanism Committee.

Stating the college has "a fine reputation as a progressive school and must draw consolation from the fact that Yale University has had to face a similar attack," the directors write, "We feel that the

Portrait Night Slated

The Mamaroneck Camera Club scheduled a "Portrait Night" on March 3 at its meeting last night in the Mamaroneck Free Library.

Members of the club will bring their cameras to the meeting and take photos of a posed model. The model will be entered in a competition.

The club also tentatively planned a field trip to northern Westchester in the Spring.

Span May Head For Archives As Repair Effort Bogs Down

The Pryer Manor bridge situation drifted near the orbit of the Mamaroneck Historical Society last night when Town Attorney John Delius reported to the Town Council that chances are slim for the authorization of repair work on the span before the next session of the State Legislature convenes in January, 1953.

That probability developed when Mr. Delius told the council of a long list of impediments which prevented his bill, authorizing bridge repairs, to be submitted to the current legislative session before Feb. 25, the last day on which new legislation could be offered in Albany.

Because the Pryer Manor bridge lies partially in the town, Larchmont and New Rochelle, an enabling act is required before the three communities can enter into a cooperative arrangement for its repair. The bridge was closed May 22, 1951, by New Rochelle engineers who claimed it was not safe for traffic. Larchmont and the town were not advised before the barriers were constructed but the three municipalities have met since to consider its reopening. Each community has also expressed willingness to share equally in the cost of the job if it were not to cost more than $10,000.

In assessing the town's share of responsibility for pushing action on the bridge, the council agreed that Mr. Delius took the last steps to be expected from the town when he did not get direct replies to his letters of inquiry from Larchmont and New Rochelle corporation counsels.

County Designated

Under Mr. Delius' projected bill, the county would have been designated as agent to act for the three municipalities and hold title to the reconstructed span although funds would have come forth under a trip-party arrangement from the municipalities involved. The major barrier to actio nwas an estimate by James C. Harding, county commissioner of public works, that a proper job of replacement might

HUGH A. OWENS, above, fills a double role in the coming Larchmont Red Cross Fund campaign. He is chairman of the businessmen's group and also display chairman directing the placement of flags, posters, and other materials decorating the windows of local merchants. He will be assisted by members of Boy Scout Troop 7 of which he is a committeeman. Explaining that his main interest is today's youth, he said today, "It is such a short time ago that our men now fighting in Korea were high school students and scouts that I believe that they still need much of the help and guidance we gave them. Now it is the Red Cross director who stands by in emergencies and I feel every dollar we can raise will help the morale of these youngsters at the front."

Red Cross To Seek $8,900 In Day Drive

A one-day campaign will be held March 2 by the Mamaroneck Branch of the American Red Cross to raise the $8,900 quota set in the 1952 fund drive.

The quota, higher by 10 per cent than in 1951, was raised because no emergency campaign was conducted last Summer for disaster and flood relief in Midwestern communities.

The quota for each district and its captain are listed as follows: District 1, $150, Mrs. Adeline Gingold; District 2A, $250, Mrs. Charles J. Rigano; District 2B, $175, Mrs. H. R. Peterson; District 3, $425, Mrs. Arnold A. Fenton and Mrs. Frederick Krause; District 4A, $850, Mrs. Alfred Albelli; District 4B, $600, Mrs. Frank J. O'Donnell; District 5, $600, Mrs. Joseph O'Neill; District 6, $450, Charles Warren; District 7A, $1,000, Norman Coach; District 7B, $600, Bernard Corbett; District 8A, $376, Ted Brooks; District 8B, $500, Sylvan Cole; District 9, $675, Pierre De Baun. Quota for apartment houses is $1,000, David B. Chisholm; retail and industry, $600, Everett T. Houghton; organizations, $100, Dominick Santomenna.

The following women typed the lists to be used for the Red Cross fund drive: Mrs. James Ahern, Mrs. Edward Benedict, Miss Bettina Brown, Mrs. Albert Canil, Mrs. Hunter Meighan, Mrs. Melvin W. Searls, Mrs. John Tank, Mrs. Henry Toy Jr. and Mrs. Hiller Kreighbaum.

2 BOYS ADMIT THEFT OF $2.80 FROM HOME

A pair of thirteen-year-old boys yesterday admitted to Mamaroneck police that they entered the home of Harold Becroft, 821 West Boston Post Road, Saturday about 8:50 P. M. and stole $2.80 from a cookie jar.

The boys said they climbed through an unlocked window and appropriated the change. Restitution will be made by the boys' parents, according to police.

Mr. Becroft reported the theft early Monday morning after he returned home from a weekend trip and found the window open. At the time he estimated that there was about $5 in the cookie jar.

Restricted State Aid Dampens Spirit Here

A wave of disappointment filtered through Rye Neck last night with the disclosure yesterday that the bill introduced into the Legislature by Senator Earl W. Brydges and Assemlyman Wheeler Milmoe limits the state aid to schools seeking consolidation with fully school districts to less than $20,000.

The Rye Neck School Board suspended plans Jan. 22 to conduct a campaign to approve two bond issues totaling $2,950,000 for a school building program until the fate of the proposed bill was determined. It was hoped that the legislation would provide the Rye Neck District with sufficient state aid to make it attractive to the City of Rye as a prospect for consolidation.

Procedure Outlined

Designed as an amendment to the State Education Law, the bill seeks to encourage city school districts to become enlarged by taking into their fold "areas contiguous to such city school districts" which the commissioner considers suitable. The procedure necessary for such consolidation involves approval by the commissioner following a favorable vote by the school board of the city district and of a majority of the qualified voters of the area to be merged with the city district.

The rub for Rye Neck, however, appears in the clause which provides financial aid. A sum of $100 is allotted for each student but a ceiling is set at 200 students. A deduction of $3 on each $1.000 of assessed valuation of property is also called for which means that the maximum amount available is less than $20,000.

CHEST CONTINUES JOINT-DRIVE TRY

Committee Named to View Prospects of Fund Consolidation

An attempt at consolidation of charitable drives in the Village of Mamaroneck will be inaugurated by a special committee of the Community Chest, it was decided last night at a meeting of Chest directors following a meeting of local service and civic organization representatives in the Municipal Building.

The committee was empowered to make a thorough investigation of the possibility of consolidating all charitable campaigns and to consult with representatives of natural health and research groups looking toward the holding of a single annual campaign which would include all charities. The committee will report at the April meeting of the Chest.

An alternative proposal would set up a double drive with present Community Chest beneficiaries making their appeal in the Fall of the year and all others conducting a Spring campaign, was turned down after lengthy discussion.

NO INSURANCE YET FOR CD AUXILIARY

Police Aides' Reactivation Awaits County Action, Council Told

Insurance coverage for Town of Mamaroneck auxiliary policemen is still an open question, town Attorney John Delius told the Town Council last night since no agreement was reached at a recent meeting in Albany on how protection is to be secured.

At the Feb. 6 meeting of the council a means was sought to reactivate the 35-man auxiliary police force after training was halted pending establishment of a liability program. The first stage of the approved State training course was completed in May, 1951, and the group is now eager to continue training on firearms and patrol duty with the regular force, according to the Board of Police Commissioners.

Mr. Delius said auxiliary police were not included in State Workmen's Compensation insurance coverage because their activities are not uniform in communities throughout the state. In some places they perform many duties of regular police, he noted, and in others their "duties" are confined to marching in parades.

Love And Understanding Held Vital To Cure Of Delinquents

The problems of juvenile delinquency were discussed from two points of view last night as Judge George W. Smythe of the Westchester Children's Court and A. Alfred Taubman, chairman of the New York State Training School for Boys, spoke to more than 50 persons at the Larchmont Forum for Public Opinion in the Chatsworth Avenue School.

Giving what he called "a bird's-eye view" of the work done in the Children's Court, Judge Smyth touched briefly on the function of the court in three different categories of juvenile cases. In 1951, he said, the court handled 539 cases involving criminal offenses, 16 involving wayward minors who were beyond their parents' control but not criminal, and 262 neglected children. The children's court also handles a number of adults every year in non-support cases, the judge said. He explained that a 1942 law specifies that a wife may file a petition in children's court alleging non-support by her husband. In handling these cases, Judge Smyth said, the court gains a great deal of insight into the home conditions of juvenile problem cases as well doing valuable work in keeping many homes together that would otherwise be broken up by separations and divorces.

Tells Anecdotes

The judge told several anecdotes of recent case-histories to illustrate his point that "if you love and understand a child you can help him." He traced briefly the development of this attitude as opposed to the vengeance-type treatment of juvenile offenders in courts and correctional institutions prior to 1899, when the first modern - type correctional institution was established in Chicago.

"Today," the judge said, "the court regards each juvenile problem as an individual case and tries through social and sometimes psychiatric study to determine the cause of the rebelliousness in the child, rather than the extent of his

NATO APPROVES 50-60 DIVISIONS FOR EUROPE ARMY

Foreign Ministers Meet Behind Closed Doors For Soviet Study

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — The 14 Atlantic Foreign Ministers met behind closed doors today for an up-to-the-moment study of the Russian problem.

Spokesman said U. S. Secretary of State Acheson and his colleagues heard and thrashed over top-level reports on the Soviet and its latest policies toward the free world.

French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman told the closed door session about the situation in Indo-China. Problems of the Middle East, including Egypt, were gone over.

60 Division by End of Year

Earlier, Allied Defense Ministers in less than one hour approved a military committee report calling for 50 to 60 divisions to be in the field by the end of 1952.

The report now goes to the council. There the full-dress assembly of Foreign, Finance and Defense Ministers must settle a conflict between the Allied Chiefs of Staff and W. Averell Harriman's temporary Council Committee.

The committee says the 1954 target of 100 divisions on active duty or in immediate reserve must be scaled down 12 per cent because the European economies cannot afford the full goal.

The military wants to keep the 100 division target, planning production so that many divisions could be armed and supported.

Working on Air Bases

Meanwhile, the top military and financial brains of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization were hard at work on the problems of how defensive air bases can be strung across Europe before the 1952 building season is lost.

Before the Defense and Finance Ministers lay blueprints for the air bases, their communication lines and control headquarters. With these completed, the 14 Western Allies could breathe easier despite the dangers of Soviet Russia's Korea-proven jets.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, boss of the alliance's military establishment in Europe, sent down the outline of his needs. What the Defense and Finance Ministers are pondering is: Who will pay how much of their cost?

SENATE PROBERS ADVISED ON BASE

North Pole Project Cost $3 Million Before Work Was Begun

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate investigation heard today that workers on a super-secret air base construction program near the North Pole collected more than $3 million in wages before even reaching the job.

Lt. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, Chief of Army Engineers, defended these payments as well as salaries at a rate of $13,000 a year for laborers and $17,000 a year for mechanics on the project.

Questions by Downey Rice, counsel for the committee—which was set up as a watchdog group on military spending — brought out the salary figures.

Mr. Rice did not indicate how many workers shared the $3 million, but said they drew the pay while en route to the job by ship and airplane. He said some of them left Norfolk, Va., by ship, expecting to be on the job in 15 days but actually were 42 days on the way.

Mr. Rice said this project and another air base construction job in North Africa, known by the code name of "Atlas," already involved expenditures of about $100 million.

Cherry Tree Ball

Mamaroneck Post 90 of the American Legion will hold its first annual Cherry Tree Ball tonight at the Legion clubhouse on Prospect Avenue, starting at 8:30.

Entertainment features will include card tricks by Eugene Healey and M.C. antics by local television personalities Anne and Bill Russell. "Bud" Malinowski's band will furnish music for dancing.

Charles Lazzara, vice-commander of the post, is chairman of the dance committee, with John Spader cochairman. On the committee are John Saunders, Isadore Linehan, Frank Wright, Joseph Bronchella, Herman Fitzner, John Paul, Paul Dowdell, John Popson, William Kuritsky, James Vitelia and Michael McCrystals. Members of the Post Auxiliary assisted in the preparations.

Two films, "The Toy Maker" and "The United Nations In World Disputes" will be presented by the Mobile Film Unit of the United Nations with commentary by Delbhine Kreilsheimer, national director of the unit, and a special program of international folk songs will be presented by Jean Mural, singer and guitarist.

The public is invited to the program free of charge.

Pig-In-A-Bag

Larchmont Democrats may have had their eyes open when they adopted a fusion ticket at their caucus in the municipal building Thursday night, but chairman Edward Meehan still managed to sell three of them a pig-in-a-bag.

One of the items on the brief agenda called for nomination of a "credentials committee."

"Who knows what a credentials committee is?" asked the chairman.

Although no one seemed to have the precise answer, nominations went ahead anyway and Mrs. Merle Hinrichs, Mrs. Claude Seixas, and Miss Adelaide Cahill found themselves on, as Mr. Meehan put it, "a committee of undetermined function."

Mr. and Mrs. Schachter, who moved to Larchmont last May, have two daughters, Judith, ten, and Ellen, six, both pupils at the Murray Avenue School.

Double Paper Drive

It's scrap paper day tomorrow in both Mamaroneck and Larchmont.

Larchmont Post 347, American Legion, will hold a paper drive under direction of Harold Hamilton and Mamaroneck Post 90 will conduct the second instalment of its 47th campaign which started last Sunday by mistake and will be completed tomorrow with another village-wide collection. Frank Wright is the chairman for the Mamaroneck drive.

In both communities residents are asked to bundle their paper securely and place it at the curb for pickup by Legionnaires.

Larchmont residents who find it inconvenient to get their paper out are asked to call L.A. 2-9746 and a special truck will be assigned to pick up the scrap.

In Mamaroneck, where a 10 A. M. blast from the fire siren will signal the start of the drive, residents may call MA 9-9711 if they are unable to get the paper out on time.

Last week workers of Post 90 collected 11 tons of paper in inclement weather and hope to double that total tomorrow if the elements are reasonably cooperative.

De Venuta, Sutton Pal, Rumored 'Confessing'

NEW YORK (AP) — Authorities say the statement obtained from John De Venuta, accused bank robber pal of Willie Sutton, may or may not be a confession, but reports persist that De Venuta is 'singing.'

ASSISTANT DISTRICT Attorney James P. McGrattan, after talking further yesterday with the thirty-year-old ex-convict, said the statement "could just as easily be a denial as a confession."

Fusion Ticket Wins Democratic Support

Larchmont Democrats meeting in the municipal building Thursday night, endorsed the fusion ticket nominated by the Republican caucus on Wednesday, consisting of incumbent Democratic Trustee Edward F. White, and the Republican incumbents Mayor Walter D. C. Washburn and Trustees G. Crawford Eadie and John P. Coffay Jr.

In a brief acceptance speech, Mr. White, the only candidate at the meeting, thanked the party for its support and for the work in the past which had enabled him to become a village trustee.

"I'm on the board to represent you people," he told his audience, "and will do my best to uphold the traditions of the Democratic Party and to make Larchmont a better village to live in."

Edward Meehan, chairman, praised Mr. White and declared that "Larchmont Democrats can feel encouraged if we can attract people of Mr. White's caliber to our party and to stand as our candidate."

Referring to the fusion ticket, he said, "After all, our primary interest is the well-being of the village. As long as the Republican incumbents have this same basic interest in its welfare, it's proper that we go along with them."

He urged the committee-members to vote however, and to get out as many Democratic voters as possible, even though there could be no doubt of the outcome of the election.

A large Democratic vote, he said, would indicate the party's approval of the action of the committee in adopting the fusion ticket, and their commendation of Trustee White.

"The habit of voting is a healthy thing if we want a strong active party," he said, and we ought to develop and keep that habit. . . The right of franchise isn't easy to come by everywhere."

HOSPITAL DRIVE HERE TOPS $6,000

167 Pledges Reported For Mamaroneck As Total Hits $1,059,939

Augmented by 167 subscriptions from residents of Mamaroneck whose pledges amount to $6,228, the United Hospital building fund rose to $1,059,939 Thursday night, as a handful of campaign leaders ignored perilous driving conditions imposed by a freak snowstorm to attend a report meeting at the Elks Club on Westchester Avenue in Port Chester.

Further pledges by Mamaroneck families will be turned in Monday night at the third, and semi-final, report meeting of the campaign at the Apawamis Club in Rye.

On the basis of returns filed at the first two meetings of the campaign workers since they began their activities on Feb. 13, the average family subscription being made to enlarge the seriously overcrowded United Hospital is about $60, campaign leaders pointed out today.

The building fund movement reached its original objective of $1,000,000 on Feb. 13 at the campaign opened, when it was explained that an additional $250,000 would be needed to complete the entire enlargement program, as a result of price increases since the drawing of the project plans, about a year before. With nearly $60,000 of the additional $250,000 now pledged, building fund leaders are counting on substantial reports—based on an intensive weekend of activity on the part of members of the volunteer teams—to put the fund within striking distance of its new objective Monday night.

KEFAUVER, KERR SHOWDOWN NEARS

Former Is In Race to Finish; Latter's House in Order For Any Action

WASHINGTON, (AP) — With other Democrats predicting President Truman won't run again, Senators Kefauver, D., Tenn., and Kerr, D., Okla., appear to be headed for a showdown battle in their fight for the Democratic Presidential nomination.

Almost every Democrat but Senator Kefauver seems convinced Mr. Truman can have the nomination if he wants it. The Tennesseean is challenging Mr. Truman in the March 11 New Hampshire primary and says he is in the race to the finish.

Senator Kerr, who says he will back Mr. Truman if he runs, appeared today to have put his house in order in Oklahoma for a full fledged attempt to get the nomination.

Kerr, Kefauver Collide

Senators Kerr and Kefauver will collide head-on in the April 1 Nebraska primary, but which time some of the Oklahoma Senator's friends say they hope Mr. Truman will have announced his intentions and Senator Kerr will be running entirely on his own.

Senator Monroney, D., Okla., who predicts Mr. Truman won't seek another term, has said he would not oppose Senator Kerr's efforts to get the 24-vote Oklahoma delegation behind him as a favorite son at the Chicago convention.

Carl V. Rice, Kansas National Committeeman and a Kerr booster, has claimed the Oklahoman will pick up 200 delegates before the convention open in Chicago. But there appears to be no White House backing indicating the Oklahoman has anything like a good chance to be tabbed by President Truman as his choice if Mr. Truman doesn't run himself.

McMahon Opinion Noted

Senator McMahon, D., Conn., a staunch supporter of Mr. Truman, says he thinks the two leading alternates to the President for the nomination are Governor Adlai Stevenson of Illinois and Vice President Barkley.

GARAGE THIEVES GET $75 IN LOOT

Cash, Clothing and Liquor Missing After Burglars Smash Window

Two thieves stole $75 in men's clothing and two bottles of liquor from the Mayflower Nash garage at 325 Boston Post Road, Larchmont, sometime between 3 and 6:30 A. M. yesterday, according to Larchmont police.

Entry to the premises was gained from a low roof overhanging a storage apartment on the second story above the garage through a smashed window, Detective Thomas J. Boyle said this morning. The clothing and liquor were stolen from the apartment itself while the cash was removed from two cash registers in the garage office. The registers are of a type that cannot be locked.

Chief William J. Keresey and Patrolman Walter Verdick who also worked on the investigation found footprints of two men in light snow near the garage and tire marks of a car that had been driven near the building from Deane Place. Attempts to get impressions of the prints failed when the snow melted.

The burglary is belived to have been committed between 3 A. M., when a routine police check was made on the building and 6:30 A. M. when the garage proprietor David Trachtenberg, discovered the loss.

A check of the business inventory is now in progress to determine if any merchandise was stolen. Among the missing clothing were two suits, one raincoat, a sport shirt and jacket, a pair of slacks and four neckties.

LARCHMONT HOME LOOTED OF $1,000 IN FURS, JEWELRY

Burglars Enter Residence By Ladder As Family Attends Funeral

Furs and jewelry valued at more than $1,000 were stolen from a locked Larchmont home last night while the family was attending a funeral.

Robert Beck of 69 West Brookside Drive, reported to Town of Mamaroneck Police at 10:21 P. M. that he discovered a 10-foot ladder lying on the ground near his house when he and Mrs. Beck returned from the New York City funeral of Mrs. Beck's father, Herman Wiebke, who died in Larchmont Monday morning.

Panels of two bedroom doors had been smashed open, apparently with a 30-inch brass pipe found in one bedroom, police report. Missing from the closets were a full-length mink coat valued at $700, a squirrel cape valued at $250, and a three-carat diamond ring, with diamond chip on the mounting, valued at $200.

Mr. Beck noticed the ladder as he drove his car into the garage. The family had left the house at 5:45 P. M.

Louis Reid, a neighbor living at 71 West Brookside Drive, told police he had seen the house lighted up with shades drawn at about 9 P. M. When Mr. and Mrs. Beck left home to go to the funeral they had left lights burning only in the hall and living room.

In their search of the house, Sgt. Eugene DeVeau and Patrolman Louis Turco found that entry had apparently been gained through a window opening into a second floor hallway. Two bedrooms were ransacked while a third appeared to be undisturbed, as did the first floor of the home. A rear door off the kitchen was found unlocked and Mr. and Mrs. Beck stated this door had been bolted when they left for NEW York City.

Police also discovered foot prints at the rear of the house and these were protected as possible means of identification.

ELECTRICITY OFF AS POLES TOPPLE

65 Homes Without Power For Two Hours; Traffic Also Halted

Sixty - five Larchmont homes were without electricity for more than two hours Thursday night after two steel electric wire poles toppled onto Palmer Avenue between Chatsworth and Larchmont Avenues at about 7:30.

Motor traffic was halted for about a half hour and pedestrians were momentarily trapped between strands of crackling wire. Passersby cleared the fallen power cable from the road and sidewalks before Consolidated Edison Company emergency crews arrived.

A spokesman for the power company said today the poles were believed to have fallen after a passing car snapped a guy wire supporting one of them. The weight of this pole brought down the second one with the wires, he said. Larchmont police arrived at the scene at 7:57 to control traffic and road blocks were set up by the Larchmont Fire Department.

Electric service was restored at 9:30 P. M. through temporary connections and 137 street lights blinked on again at the same time. Consolidated Edison emergency crews worked until 2 P. M. yesterday to replace the poles.

The right front window was broken on a car driven by Harold M. Kaze of White Plains, but no other damage was reported from the incident.

Question of the Week

Should All Dogs Be Leashed? Divided Opinion Evident Here

This is the 229th in a Saturday series of short interviews with residents on issues of the day — local and national. This week's question: "DO YOU THINK THE COMMUNITY SHOULD FORCE ALL DOG OWNERS TO KEEP THEIR PETS ON A LEASH TO PREVENT THEM FROM DAMAGING PROPERTY?"

Results: yes, 8; no, 8; undecided, 2.

W. J. Kuhn, 1414 Henry Avenue, Mamaroneck: "Yes, I feel that all dogs should be kept on a leash or at least muzzled."

Mrs. Bernard Simon, 45 Iselin Terrace, Larchmont: "I certainly do not. I have a dog myself and I'm in court more than I'm out on his account, but I still think dogs have to be left to run at large. It's what they're for. They have to run to stay healthy."

Mrs. E. J. Congdon, 305 Claflin Avenue, Mamaroneck: "Well, I have a lot of trouble with dogs upsetting my garbage cans, but I still think it would be cruel to keep the dogs tied up."

Mrs. Harriet Tannenbaum, 8 Hall Avenue, Larchmont: "We've had to get rid of quite a few dogs because they tore up lawns and cost us a lot in fines. On the whole, though, I think the problem should be handled as each invidual case comes up, rather than by a law that forces all dogs to be kept on a leash."

Mrs. Viola Gledey, 136 Pelham Street, Mamaroneck: "Well, it's hard on the dogs that don't tear up lawns, as many of them don't, but for the sake of people who put a lot of pains into keeping up their lawns, I'd be in favor of leashing all the dogs."

Mrs. Philip Morrison, 58 East Brookside Drive, Larchmont: "Well, as a dog-owner I'd like to feel that the dogs could be turned loose for a run once in a while, but when I look out on my lawn and see a pack of dogs on it I must say I wish they were all tied up somewhere. I'm still undecided."

Mrs. Lindart Smit, 216 Rockland Avenue, Mamaroneck: "Well, I'm a dog-lover and for that reason I'd rather see them tied up. So many dogs get killed by cars

POSA HEARS TALK BY JUDGE BAXTER

Mamaroneck Camp Holds Anniversary Celebration At Supper

Sixty members and friends of Mamaroneck Camp No. 53, Patriotic Sons of America, celebrated that organization's anniversary at a candlelight supper Thursday night at Masonic Hall.

Judge Charles Baxter, guest speaker and authority on the life of Abraham Lincoln gave the main address. His talk centered around the life of Lincoln, his wife Mary and those who played an important role in Lincoln's term of office and was highlighted by many humorous anecdotes.

President Archibald Ross welcomed the guests and National Conductor Bente of New York City and State Deputy President Robert Montgomery also spoke.

President Fred Schuler and Burton Gedney, who was a charter member of the Mamaroneck Camp, were introduced.

The dining room was decorated in a patriotic motif and illuminated with red, white and blue candles.

Mr. Gedney, well known Westchester musician, with a group of friends provided a program of musical entertainment.

Members who assisted Mr. Bouton included George Brower, Ernest Bouton, Walter Cornell, David Cuyler, Grover Harms, Charles Harms, Edwin Moody, Charles Ross, Ralph Spuehler, John Landsiedel and Herbert Schultz.

Rye Democrats Wait Reaction On Town Chairman's Ouster

Democratic leaders of the Town of Rye are awaiting decisions from higher party authorities on the action last week which resulted in a vote of no confidence in Frank E. McGrath, who has temporarily been replaced as town chairman by Anthony Posillipo, member of the Port Chester Democratic village Committee.

Mr. McGrath refused to resign but told the committee he would take the request "under advisement." He is expected to consult with County Democratic Chairman Harold T. Garrity of Yonkers before announcing his decision.

Action followed the appointment of Frank E. McGrath Jr., as acting postmaster of the Port Chester Post Office, a move which brought the wrath of Rye Town and Port Chester Village Democratic leaders who declared they were not consulted.

The resolutions asking the removal of McGrath and protesting the manner in which the acting postmaster was appointed were passed unanimously by the district leaders and forwarded to the county, state and national party leaders.

'Resentment' Expressed

Port Chester Village Chairman Fred Flynn said the action "does not represent an intra-party fight but is just resentment against one man who used the powers of his office arbitrarily."

Mr. McGrath who has been active in the Democratic party since moving to Port Chester about 22 years ago, and who has been chairman for approximately 16 years, asserted that some of those members who were causing trouble have only been in the party one year, while some others have not been very active."

In noting that this was to have been his last term anyhow, The chairman said, "It would only be fair after my service to the party, that I be given some time to think the matter over."

BILLIONS PROGRAM TO COVER 3 YEARS

Nations Believe Money Can Be Secured Without Economic Ruin

LISBON, Portugal, (AP) — The Atlantic allies lay down today a carefully-drawn plan to tap Western taxpayers $300 billion for anti-Communist arms—a sum they believe can be scraped up without bringing economic ruin.

The cost will be spread over the three years ending with 1954 and is equal to $750 apiece for each of the 400 million people in the 12 original Atlantic Pact nations.

During the morning the Western Defense reached final agreement on several amendments to the draft plan mostly in the wording union which W. Averell Harriman, temporary council committee and the Allied Chiefs of Staff already had agreed.

The council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is expected to give final endorsement to the plan today.

Months of intense study by economic experts—the so-called wise men headed by U. S. Mutual Security Administrator W. Averell Harriman—went into its preparation. All the governments involved were consulted repeatedly.

Tough Job for Europeans

The plan forms an economic tightrope for many of the hard-pressed European nations. Many had to increase their arms spending, and the 1954 armament goals were reduced slightly, to make ends meet under the plan.

It set down ways and means to finance an army that is meant to

CAMP 'MASSACRE' CHARGED TO U.N

Riot in Which 69 Were Killed Injected Into Peace Talk—As Expected

MUNSAN, Korea, (AP) — The Communists today accused the United Nations of "barbarously massacring large numbers" of prisoners in the UN prison camp on Koje Island.

The latest massacre fully testifies to the brutal inhumanity with which your side treats our personnel captured by your side," said Col. Tsai Chen-wen.

The Reds had been expected to inject into the truce conference the Monday riot in which 69 Korean civilian internees were killed and 142 wounded.

Rotation at 35,000 Set

In an adjoining tent at Panmunjom the Reds accepted the U. N. proposed monthly troop rotation ceiling of 35,000. Previously the Communists had insisted 30,000 men was sufficient.

However, the Reds clung to the demand that only five ports of entry on each side be open to inspection by neutral teams during an armistice. The U. N. Allies insist on inspection at six entry ports.

The staff officers aren't even discussing the biggest issue of all in the truce supervision controversy—whether the Reds may build and repair military airfields during an armistice.

Reds Still Offer USSR

Communist staff officers again demanded that the U. N. accept Russia as a Communist representative on the neutral inspection commission.

SERVING MAMARONECK AND LARCHMONT

ESTABLISHED OCT. 1925 | MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS | MAMARONECK, N. Y., MONDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1952 | THE ASSOCIATED PRESS MEMBER OF | PRICE FIVE CENTS

The Weather

Some cloudiness this afternoon, highest temperature in the 40s. Fair tonight, lowest in low 20s and around 15 in Northern Westchester. Fair tomorrow, high in the upper 30s. Gentle to moderate northeasterly winds.

Combing The Town

Democratic Caucus

Mamaroneck Democrats are expected to place three candidates in the field for the Village Board election next month at a party caucus scheduled for 8:30 P. M. today in the Elks Clubhouse, Boston Post Road.

The Republican Party has already nominated Trustees Jack Holland and Joseph Dalfonso, incumbents, and Barney Epstein.

"All enrolled Democrats of the Village," the announcement of tonight's caucus says, "may participate in this caucus and we hope to see a large turnout for this one thing that counts in this country of ours, the free and uncontrolled selection of candidates for public office."

Baseball Night

It will be "Baseball Night" tomorrow at 8:30 P. M. at the meeting of Mamaroneck Post 90 American Legion in the clubhouse on Prospect Avenue.

Films of the 1951 World Series and of the Giant-Dodger playoff for the National League championship will be shown and Harry Rodriguez of White Plains Post 133 will explain the Junior Baseball program sponsored by the Legion under its Americanism program. Rodriguez was manager of the White Plains Junior team which got into the national finals last year.

Also appearing on the program will be Len Dillon, sports announcer of WPAS, White Plains, who each week presents the Con Edison sports award to a county high school student selected by a special sports panel and conducts a daily sports broadcast, "Today in Sports".

The public is invited.

Chance Meeting

Two aviators of World War II whose paths had crossed eight years ago in Hawaii held a surprise get-to-gether Saturday at the Cherry Tree Ball sponsored by Mamaroneck Post 90, American Legion.

When Eugene "Bud" Healey walked into the party at which he entertained with an expose of methods used by card sharps, he was introduced to John Hebron of White Plains, a guest at the party.

One look at Healey was enough for Mr. Hebron who said, "The last time I saw you was out at Barber's Point, Hawaii 'round about 1944 where you were doing card tricks."

It developed that Mr. Hebron and Healey were both naval aviators in night fighter squadrons at Barber's Point. They had never met personally but their paths had crossed several times as they learned when they recalled old friends and experiences.

The incident was a high point in the Cherry Tree ball attended by more than 125 persons with entertainment by Ann and Bill Russell and by Healey.

Old Bible

George Washington headed the subscription list for a Bible used yesterday at the services in the Mamaroneck Methodist Church.

The Bible, printed in 1792, was found among old books in the parsonage by the Rev. Edgar N. Jackson, pastor of the church, and he used it yesterday in the service as one means of stressing the anniversary of Washington's birth.

In addition to Washington's name the subscription list includes many names being connected with Mamaroneck, among them a Mrs. Hannah Brewer who is identified as a resident of "Yorktown."

Peanuts Back Home

Town of Mamaroneck Police are apparently just as ready to act in a matter of "peanuts" as in any other emergency. Mrs. Jean Gschwind of 729 Grand Street, Larchmont, was gratified to learn Sunday.

Last sometime Sunday morning, Mrs. Gschwind reported, was her brown and white spotted dog, "shaped something like a dachshund and answering to the name 'Peanuts'".

The police promised to be on the lookout for "Peanuts", who, however, returned home this morning, after spending the weekend with a young boy in the neighborhood.

32 Tons of Paper

About 32 tons of scrap paper was collected yesterday in Mamaroneck and Larchmont as Legion posts in the two communities conducted drives.

In Larchmont, workers from Post 347 collected 14 tons under the direction of Harold Hamilton. Residents were thanked today by Mr. Hamilton for their cooperation in helping make the pickup easy by placing the paper, securely bundled, at the curb in front of their homes.

The Mamaroneck drive, the 47th conducted by Post 90, netted approximately 18 tons which upped the total for February to 20 tons as the post had conducted one "unofficial" pickup a week ago when weather caused the drive to be officially postponed but many residents still put out their paper.

Lenten Service

The first union Lenten Service in the series cosponsored by the Larchmont Avenue Church and St. John's Episcopal Church will be held Wednesday at 8:15 P. M. in the Larchmont Avenue Church and not at St. John's Church as was announced Saturday in The Daily Times. The preacher at the service will be the Rev. Eugene C. Blake and the service will be preceded by a 15-minute organ recital.

MORRIS TO PROBE PRIVATE INCOMES OF ALL OFFICIALS

Cleanup Chief Takes First Step In Hunt For Misconduct

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration's cleanup chief, Newbold Morris, said today he is planning to ask officials throughout the Federal service for full details of their private income sources.

This announcement came as the Senate Judiciary Committee voted unanimously against giving Mr. Morris the power — requested by President Truman — to grant immunity to some witnesses in his search for corruption in government.

The committee postponed action on a further request by the President that Mr. Morris be given the authority to subpoena witnesses.

Mr. Morris said a questionnaire, now about complete, is expected to be in the hands of the Government Printing Office by the end of this week and will be distributed to government officials as soon as it is printed.

This will be the first step in Mr. Morris' search for any official misconduct in the government—an inquiry ordered by President Truman in the wake of Congressional disclosures of tax collection scandals and other irregularities.

Named McGrath Assistant

Mr. Morris, a New York Republican, was appointed a special assistant to Attorney General McGrath to undertake the task.

A Congressional inquiry into Mr. McGrath's own income sources was demanded last week by Harold E. Stassen, candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination, who said he had heard the Attorney General himself became a millionaire after taking public office.

Mr. McGrath issued a statement thanking Mr. Stassen for the compliment but declining further comment.

Mr. Morris told reporters his survey of "outside" income is not intended for rank and file government workers but is aimed at upper level officials.

MUGGER SOUGHT IN 2ND ATTACK

Victim Beaten On Head While Walking Along Center Avenue

A Mamaroneck resident was attacked and beaten about the head Saturday at about 11:30 P. M. as he was walking on Center Avenue near Fenimore Road.

Gaetano Fraioli of 417 Center Avenue suffered a five-inch laceration in his scalp when he was grabbed by an unidentified assailant and struck with a club.

It was the second "mugging" attempt within eight days in the vicinity as Fioramenti Scotto was attacked Feb. 16, also while walking on Center Avenue.

Fraioli told police that he was walking along the street when a tall man, dressed in working clothes, suddenly grabbed him. He managed to break away after he was clubbed and said that the attacker made off down the driveway at 335 Center Avenue.

He ran to the Tumble-Down Shack at 616 Fenimore Road and asked that Patrick Amodio, the owner call police.

According to investigating officers, Mr. and Mrs. Libro Recchia, who live at 325 Center Avenue, heard the fracas in front of their home and hear Mr. Fraioli scream for police. They also told officers that they heard the assailant run down the driveway and through their yard.

Mr. Fraioli was taken home in a Mamaroneck Village police car after treatment at the United Hospital, Port Chester.

The attack was similar to the attempted "mugging" of Mr. Scotto, Feb. 16. Mr. Scotto was also walking on Center Avenue near Fenimore Road and managed to break away from his assailant without any physical harm.

In neither case, however, was it possible to gain an accurate description of the attacker.

Smoldering Rag Blaze Extinguished in Market

A smoldering rag fire in George's Market, 252 Mamaroneck Avenue was extinguished early yesterday morning by the Mamaro Engine and Hose Co.

At 5:20 A. M. Garritt IV. Schoff of 254 Mamaroneck Avenue reported that smoke was coming out of the market. When firemen responded to a company call they found that a pail of rags had been left on a hot plate and were smoldering, according to the police report.

NEW YORK — Westchester has become the second county in the metropolitan region outside New York City to become fully protected by zoning, it was announced today by the Regional Plan Association after receipt of the new zoning ordinance of the Village of Buchanan issued in printed form on Jan. 24.

According to Henry Fagin, planning director of the RPA, "Westchester follows closely on the heels of Bergen County where all land came completely under zoning controls late in 1950 when the last unzoned Bergen municipality, Upper Saddle River, adopted its ordinance.

"Of the reamining 15 counties comprising the New Jersey - New York-Connecticut metropolitan environs," he continues, "three are on the verge of being entirely zoned with only one municipality in each remaining unprotected: Winfield Park Township in Union County, Saddle River Village in Nassau County and Caldwell Township in Essex County (where an ordinance is now under preparation)."

The Buchanan ordinance was adopted in October a few weeks after the Westchester Town of Cortlandt, in which the Village of Buchanan is located, passed its first zoning ordinance. The Buchanan provisions were derived largely from pertinent portions of the Cortlandt regulations, which apply to the unincorporated ter-

3-TIME SPEEDER LOSES LICENSE

Youth Also Pays $50 Fine; Second Offender Draws $60 Penalty

David H. Willis, twenty, of Old White Plains Road, Mamaroneck, paid a $50 fine and had his driver's license revoked this morning in Mamaroneck Village police court when he appeared to answer a charge of speeding 53 miles per hour on the West Boston Post Road.

The speeding charge was the third in less than a year against Willis who had been convicted in New Rochelle last Feb. 27 and again on July 17.

A second speeding offense cost $60 for John Schneider of White Plains who was summoned for driving too fast on Mamaroneck Avenue.

Other speeders who contributed to the $276 collected today by Judge Henry T. Hotaling were Edward F. X. Gallagher of Newburgh, who paid $25, Ludlow P. Strong of New York City who was charged $20 and John M. Weaver of Rye and Anthony Cerone of Port

ALLIES TO DROP NORWAY IF REDS GIVE UP RUSSIA

U. N. Negotiators Move To Break Deadlock Over Neutral Truce Aids

MUNSAN, Korea, (AP) — U. N. truce negotiators moved to break the deadlock over selection of a neutral truce supervisory commission today by offering to withdraw their nomination of Norway if the Reds would give up Russia.

Under the Allied proposal, behind-the-lines inspections during an armistice would be made by representatives of only two neutral nations for each side rather than three.

The UN would be represented by Switzerland and Sweden; the Communists by Czechoslovakia and Poland.

Enemy Delegate Objects

The only immediate reaction came from Chinese Col. Pu Shan who declared: "You have no justification to object to the nations nominated by our side which are in compliance with the definition of neutral nations."

Staff officers working on prisoner exchange made no headway during a 58 minute session. Col. George W. Hickman called it a "completely fruitless" meeting.

The Communists complained that four Allied aircraft flew over the Neutral Panmunjom conference site yesterday. The Reds demanded an investigation.

Inspection Change Offered

FERGUSON BLASTS TAX RULE STRETCH

Senator Hits Treasury Dept. For Authorizing Nunan To Represent Clients

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Ferguson, R. Mich., today accused the Treasury Department of "stretching its rules" to let a former Internal Revenue Commissioner represent tax-troubled clients.

A Treasury official called the contention "somewhat far-fetched."

Senator Ferguson said in an interview the Treasury "had no business whatsoever", authorizing Joseph D. Nunan, former chief of the Revenue Bureau, to represent clients in tax difficulties with the government.

"I think the department was stretching its own rules when it did that and I am thinking about introducing legislation which would prevent it in the future," Senator Ferguson said.

Treasury Welcomes Move

Treasury officials said yesterday they would welcome a move in Congress to clamp rigid restrictions on former government officials seeking to represent clients before government agencies.

In fact, a spokesman said, the Treasury urged a sweeping bar against the practice in 1938, but Congress did nothing about it.

As a result, the Treasury said in a statement, it worked up its own restrictions which "go far beyond the prohibitions imposed by Congress."

The Treasury said the only law on the subject, basically un-

KHARTOUM, Sudan (AP) — The lights went on as the sun went out this morning here in the capital of the Sudan. The moon covered Old Sol completely—for just over three minutes in a total eclipse shortly after 11 A. M.

Seventy scientists from 10 countries had waited here for weeks to record the phenomenon with a mass of complicated astronomical, photographs and electronic equipment.

They hope to find out more about what's around and behind the sun, whether Einstein was right about relativity and how wrong are some of the world's maps.

Income Tax Evaders Beware! Nosy Neighbors Are Tattling

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you're fudging on your income tax return this year, better watch out for nosy neighbors.

The business of tattling to the government on income tax evaders for a fee—is booming as never before.

The Revenue Bureau reported today it paid out half a million dollars last year to informers who tipped the government to tax violations by business associates or neighbors.

As a result of the tips, revenue agents picked up $9.6 million more in taxes for the fiscal year which ended June 30.

Big Year For Informers

All signs indicate this will be an even bigger year for informers. Citizens pouring in tips on recurring revenue scandals are likely to uncover even more tax evasion.

In the past three years, payments to informers have averaged $480,000 a year, a tremendous increase over former years.

For 13 years ending in 1946, payments averaged only $71,921 a year. And the $9.6 million collected last year because of informers' tips compares with an average of only $3 million during that 13-year period.

Envy, Revenge Top Motives

A revenue official said the chief motives for informers are: envy of wealthier people, revenge against a former boss, to cash in on informers' feeel and just plain patriotism.

Fees up to $80,000 have been paid for detailed and specific information leading to collection of up to $2 million in taxes in a single case. The smallest regard is likely to be at least $25.

In one case in Alabama, an informer gave details on the location of an illicit still. He seemed unusually anxious to catch the operator.

Asked why, he replied—"that's my still—the crooked so and so stole it from me, and I want him caught."

Then there's one case where an informer got a sizeable fee but made the mistake of failing to report it on his own income tax return next year. He paid back most of the fee in penalties and interest.

2 Problems Remain As Allies Map Plan For Europe Defense

Taft Expects Backing Of Gen. MacArthur

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Taft of Ohio has told colleagues he is entirely confident Gen. Douglas MacArthur will give him wholehearted support in his Chicago convention bid for the Republican Presidential nomination.

While Senator Taft himself would not comment, associates said the Ohioan remains unworried about report that Gen. MacArthur might be thinking of himself as a possible nominee if a deadlock develops.

Gen. MacArthur made it clear last week, in an exchange with a magazine, that he is not supporting Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the nomination. Gen. MacArthur said he has no "personal hatred" for President Truman, who fired him last April as Pacific commander.

While Gen. MacArthur said nothing about Senator Taft, the latter's friends said they regard it as significant that Gen. MacArthur didn't refute in any way Newsweek magazine's statement that the general's preference was for Senator Taft.

Keynote Speech Urged

Senator Taft said yesterday he favored Gen. MacArthur making a speech at the Chicago convention and added "if he makes a speech it would probably be the main (keynote) speech."

LEGION DEFENDED IN 'RED' DISPUTE

Acting Bronxville Mayor Lauds Sarah Lawrence College Action

BRONXVILLE—

Acting Mayor James D. Miller today strongly endorsed the American Legion's right to make an inquiry into alleged Communist influence on the Sarah Lawrence College faculty but pointed out that the Village is unable to take an official stand in the matter.

Bronxville's Leonard Morange Post, American Legion, and the County Legion Americanism Committee, which submitted inquiries to college authorities following publication of an article by Louis P. Budenz in the November issue of the American Legion Magazine have been sharply criticized in petitions and public statements for the "methods" in which they have been conducting the inquiry.

LWV HEAD SCORES PPR'S OPPONENTS

Mrs. Kelly Raps 'Entrenched Politicians'; Terms Plan 'A Voter's Issue'

ALBANY (AP)— The head of the State League of Women Voters said today that the "entrenched politicians" were the enemies of a proposal to establish Personal Registration for voters.

Mrs. William J. Kelley of Scarsdale told delegates at the opening session of the league's annual two-day legislative conference that such politicians were more interested in their political party than in the voters.

"Nobody is so naive as to think they really care about the interest of the voter," she said.

The organization claims 11,000 members in about 60 local leagues.

Terming Permanent Personal Registration a "voter's issue," Mrs. Kelly said "none can prove that Permanent Personal Registration in itself would be an advantage to either one of the party organizations."

"Nobody has had the face to deny that it would be an advantage to the voter, to the ordinary citizen whose vote decides elections, even though he may have precious little chance of influencing his party's policy," she added.

Republican leaders have indicated that PPR is a dead issue at this election-year session of the legislature.

Earlier this month, the Democrats lost a "Test" vote in their fight for PPR. The Assembly's Republican majority crushed a Democratic motion to force a PPR bill for committee.

BOY ADMITS FIRING SHOTS FROM RIFLE

A sixteen-year-old Larchmont boy was apprehended by Town of Mamaroneck police Saturday after admittedly firing 12 or 13 shots from a .22 caliber rifle which he had borrowed from a friend.

Police arrested the boy after investigating complaints from Mrs. William Maguire and Pat Giacomo, both of Lafayette Road.

Mrs. Maguire stated that bullets had come dangerously close to her house and to her 17-months-old child who was in a playpen in the backyard, and Mr. Giamoco declared that several bullets had struck the ground in front of the shop where he was working on Lafayette Road.

The boy admitted firing the shots after being caught with the gun in his possession, and was taken to headquarters where the gun was confiscated.

He was released with orders to return to headquarters Sunday with his parents, who were away at the time.

No definite action was taken and the boy was released in the custody of his parents.

Historic Session Ends In Lisbon, Big 3 Continue Talks

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — The 14 Atlantic Allies today end a historic meeting which produced a master plan for Western Europe's defense.

Just two problems remained at the final sessions of the North Atlantic Council:

1—How much the U. S. will pay of an estimated $450 million "infrastructure" program to string air bases, communication networks and headquarters across Europe. The best guesses were at least 40 per cent.

2—Streamlining of the NATO civil and economic organization under a permanent secretary-general.

Opening of the final council session was postponed for two hours (until noon EST) as the Foreign Ministers in a special committee session sought to settle final differences over these two subjects.

Big 3 Delegates Remain

A Big Three meeting on Germany and Austria tomorrow holds U. S. Secretary of State Acheson, French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden here. They will talk chiefly about lifting Allied controls on defeated West Germany's war industries and try to settle the final size and form of its contribution to Western defense.

Most of the other 1,500 delegates and advisers leave Lisbon today—now celebrating carnival time amidst flowering almond trees — and scatter to their homelands.

They felt they had held the most successful of the North Atlantic

LIFER IS FREED BY COURT RULING

Troy, Sentenced For Holdup In 1930, Wins Release From Sing Sing

A man sentenced to life imprisonment for a White Plains holdup 21 years ago won his freedom today in County Court.

Judge Arthur D. Brennan ruled that under a recent Court of Appeals decision none of the three prior felonies charged against Edward Troy, forty-eight, of Philadelphia, could be considered as felonies.

Accordingly, Troy, who on Dec. 23, 1930 received the life term as a fourth felony offender, was resentenced as a first offender. The new term, made effective as of the original sentencing date, was seven and a-half to 15 years. Since Troy has already served over six years more than the maximum he will be released from Sing Sing as soon as necessary formalities are completed.

Troy's freedom is the result of study made by D. M. Kahn, attorney assigned by Judge Brennan to represent the prisoner when he applied for resentence on the contention that he was under age when convicted on one of the prior crimes, and not represented by counsel.

Proof of these claims was vague, but Mr. Kahn cited the Court of Appeals ruling that convictions of grand larceny in Pennsylvania could not be counted as such here, because the statute there covers lesser amounts than in New York.

Chief Assistant District Attorney Frederick F. Weeks Jr. reviewed the data on Troy and agreed that under the decision, the original sentence had not been proper.

Troy was arrested on Oct. 22, 1930 after he and some companions held up the store of Grazia Zito at 43 Russell Street and took $100. He was sentenced by County Judge Frederick P. Close, now a retired supreme Court Justice.

Attends Board Parley

Mamaroneck Town Police Chief Paul A. Yerick attended a meeting today of the Board of Governors of the New York State Association of Chiefs of Police in the Ten Eyck Hotel in Albany.

Chief William Short of Scarsdale and Retired Chief Inspector Michael L. Silverstein of Mount Vernon are also members of the board.

Wanted: Nurses

The Civil Defense office in Mamaroneck is anxious to communicate with all registered nurses in the village.

Questionnaires have been sent to 53 known nurses. Mrs. Mary Ingraham, assistant deputy director, said today, but others who have recently moved to the village or whose names have not been listed are urged to communicate with the CD office and fill out a questionnaire.

Debut at Met

Brenda Lewis, former Larchmonter, will make her debut tonight at the Metropolitan Opera House, singing the role of Musetta in Puccini's "La Boheme." Miss Lewis, Metropolitan Opera soprano who recently completed 22 weeks in the Met's road company of "Die Fledermaus", resides in New Rochelle with her husband, Simon Asen, conductor of the Mount Vernon Symphony Orchestra, and their two sons.

Heads Committee

Fred Lightfoot Jr. of 26 Rockland Avenue, Larchmont, is chairman of the annual reunion of St. Lawrence University alumni from the New York City area that will be held tonight at the Park Avenue Brass Rail restaurant in New York City.

A 1927 alumnus of the university, Mr. Lightfoot is an executive of Kiwanes, Inc., the service action chain. He has been with that firm since 1932 and has lived in Larchmont for 12 years.

Speakers at the reunion will be Eugene G. Bewkes, president of the university and Edward J. Noble, chairman of the board of trustees.

Corson Home

Corp Douglas Corson, son of Mrs. Hazel A. Corson, arrived home recently for a brief visit with his mother at her home at 7 East Avenue, Larchmont. Corp Corson is attending the Personnel Administration Course, Class 49, taught at the Adjutant General's School at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana.

A 1947 graduate of Mamaroneck High School where he was active in baseball, bowling, tennis, swimming, he studied for a time at New York University and later worked at the Life Saver plant in Port Chester prior to his enlistment.

Upon completion of his course, Corp. Corson will return to his home organization, the 31st Infantry Division, Fort Jackson, S. C.

A Night for Praise

If the Mamaroneck Village Board kept book on compliments the ledgers would have nearly balanced last night.

At the suggestion of Mayor Edwin B. Dooley, the board unanimously adopted a resolution commending Police Chief Louis Giancola for the "favorable publicity" given the village by the chief's appearance on a television program recently, and further commending him for the help his television talk provided police victim Edwin Thomas of Mamaroneck.

Shortly afterward a letter was opened from Lloyd Rice of 323 Sterling Avenue, Mamaroneck, commending the village for its efficient public service. Mr. Rice, whose father succumbed to a heart attack recently, praised the prompt action of the police ambulance crew, and described his sense of comfort and reassurance when the ambulance arrived.

He was particularly glad, he said, to praise the Village Board "at a time when public servants are more often singled out for criticism than for praise."

Takes Basic Training

Pvt. Andrew R. Torre, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Torre of 6 West Avenue, Larchmont, has been assigned to the 5th Infantry Division at Indiantown Gap, Pa., for 16 weeks of basic training., A former employe at the Palmer Pharmacy and the Palmerette in Larchmont, he enlisted in the army last month.

Pvt. Torre was graduated in 1950 from Mamaroneck High School, where he played football and was active in Speech Arts and the Glee Club.

His training at Indiantown Gap with the "Red Diamond" Division will include care and use of light and heavy infantry weapons, living in the field, strenuous day and night marches, and combat tactics. Combat-experienced veterans of World War II and the Korean campaign will be in charge of training.

DEMOCRATS FAIL TO PUT SLATE IN VILLAGE ELECTION

Party Caucus Unable To Offer Single Nominee In Mamaroneck

Republican candidates for Mamaroneck Village Board trusteeships will have clear sailing in next month's election as a result of last night's Democratic caucus which failed to place a ticket in the field.

Failure of the Democrats to induce a single qualified candidate to run for election will bring uncontested victory to Jack Holland, Joseph Dalfonso and Barney Epstein, Republican nominees, unless independent nominations or a write-in campaign develops—neither of which appear likely.

Following a discussion lasting more than an hour, the 40 Democrats attending the caucus went on record as stating that despite failure to produce candidates, their action "is not to be construed as an endorsement of the Republican candidates".

Resolution Adopted

The caucus closed with a unanimously-adopted resolution, offered by Harry Kurnzok, which stated that "notwithstanding the fact that the Democratic Party has definite policies and a constructive program for village government in Mamaroneck, we feel that since those among us, who are qualified by experience and activities in community affairs, are not presently available to undertake the duties of a campaign and the office, it would be a disservice to the voters to nominate any candidates not so qualified. This action is not to be construed as an endorsement of the Republican candidates".

Bank Holdup Suspect Seized At LaGuardia

NEW YORK, (AP) — Less than 15 hours after the crime the FBI arrested an armed ex-convict as he stepped off a transcontinental plane here early today and charged him with a $19,628 Los Angeles bank holdup.

Edward Scheidt, special agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, identified the suspect as John Richard Bayless, thirty-seven.

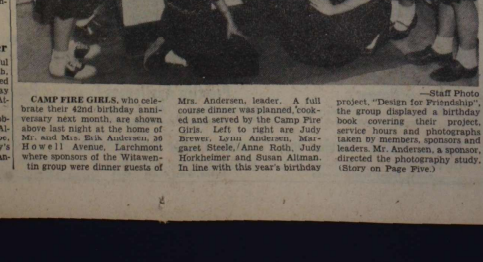
Bayless was sentenced to Alcatraz Prison in 1937 to a 25-year term for robbery of a bank at Mansfield, Mo.

The FBI said Bayless entered the Hollywood branch of the Bank of America in Los Angeles at 10:30 A. M. (local time) yesterday and, at the point of the gun, robbed the bank.

He was carrying a .38-caliber revolver in his belt and attempted to use it when he stepped off the plane, Mr. Scheidt said.

Hanging a Suicide

Death of John Dean, sixty-five of White Plains, found hanging in the cellar of York Lodge, Orienta Point, yesterday morning, was ruled a suicide today by Dr. Victoria Bradeo of the Medical Examiner's office, Mr. Dean was a personnel director of New York Hospital at White Plains.



CAMP FIRE GIRLS, who celebrate their 42nd birthday anniversary next month, are shown above last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Andersen, 30 Howell Avenue, Larchmont where sponsors of the Witawentin group were dinner guests of Mrs. Andersen, leader. Hospital Drive Tops $1,103,000 As Local Total Hits $13,007

The building fund being assembled for United Hospital's first expansion program in 25 years rose to $1,103,513 last night as volunteer campaign workers reported $37,248 in new subscriptions and prepared to complete all remaining calls on families in this area in time for the final report meeting Thursday night.

The pledges turned in last night by the public campaign volunteers brought the total obtained since Feb. 13, when this phase of the program opened, to $89,113 in 1,929 subscriptions, for an average of $46.21 per pledge. Of the total, $13,007 has been subscribed by residents of Mamaroneck.

Since the building fund workers have more than 3,000 more calls to make, many on subscribers who are considering their pledges, it is anticipated that the reports to be turned in Thursday night will boost the fund substantially. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 P. M. at the Westchester Country Club and Charles D. Silleck and Mrs. John S. Sutphen, Mamaroneck chairmen, have asked that all captains, lieutenants and workers on teams here be present.

Burchell Team Leads

Both men's and women's teams in Mamaroneck increased their subscription returns last night by large amounts, the former now having turned in pledges for a total of $4,196, while the women have listed subscriptions amounting to $8,811.

The team captained by Mrs. E. B. Burchell leads all others in this community, having returned 34 subscriptions for a total of $1,591.50.

Returns by workers in other communities are as follows: Port Chester, $40,410; Rye, $33,667, and Harrison, $2,049.

Although the building program, which will increase United Hospital's capacity by about one-third, was estimated to cost $1,000,000 when it was first planned, rising costs since that time now make it apparent that the total expense will be about $1,250,000. Through memorial gifts, corporation subscriptions and contributions by doctors on United Hospital's staff, the original $1,000,000 was subscribed as the campaign opened, two weeks ago. The difference is now being sought in family subscriptions in the public campaign.

$5,500 Advance Gifts

The advance committees whose work led to the attainment of the original objective are continuing activities, reporting $5,500 in new subscriptions last night.

Edward J. Hughes, chairman of the area-wide campaign, who presided at the meeting, called upon all captains to "ask every worker to complete all his or her assignments between now and Thursday."

The 1,929 families who have already subscribed," he pointed out, "have proved that they want and are determined to have the additional hospital protection the United Hospital building program will offer. Give everyone an opportunity to do his share and our job will be done."

The subscription totals returned to date by Mamaroneck teams active in the campaign, as reported by their captains, are as follows:

Men's Teams

Division XX, Edward Margolius, commander, one for $10; Team 201, George Garfunkel, one for

RUSSELLITES FAN HST OPPOSITION

Backers of Georgia Senator May Enter Him In Race For Dem Nomination

By The Associated Press

Smouldering Dixie opposition to President Truman was being fanned today by admirers of Georgia's Senator Richard B. Russell.

Senator Russell's home state supporters may propel him into the middle of the Democratic Presidential race this week.

Senator Russell wouldn't comment on a request by the Georgia Democratic Executive Committee that he become an active candidate. But his friends said they doubt that Senator Russell could refuse.

The Georgian headed the 1948 Democratic convention rebellion against Mr. Truman but did not join the State Rights movement which took 39 electoral votes from the President in the election.

Florida Russellites Qualify

In Florida the Russell movement got a shot in the arm yesterday when nine Floridians instructed to support him qualified as candidates for state delegates to the Democratic national convention.

In Mississippi, the House of Representatives paved the way for another possible break with the national party. It voted without dissent for all political parties to nominate anyone they wish as the state organization's choice for President and Vice President.

Some southern Democrats fear Tennessee's Senator Estes Kefauver may split the Southern vote. Many leaders in the South remain cool toward Senator Kefauver's candidacy.

ZONING CHANGE LOOMS TO BALK FREE LAND USE

Hearing Slated March 24 To Consider Limiting Residence Area

Zoning changes to bar construction of tax-exempt institutions in residence areas were recommended to the Mamaroneck Village Board last night by Village Attorney Anthony Sansone, acting on a

The proposed amendment, decrecent request from the Orienta Point Association, signed to limit Triple A zones specifically to one-family residences, will be aired at a public hearing March 24 at 8:15 P. M. in the municipal building.

The change was requested Feb. 12 in a letter to the board from C. Frank Jobson, president of the Orienta Point Association. Other Point residents attending the meeting referred to rumors that a religious institution contemplated building on the Point and claimed that this constituted a threat to the assessment rolls and a possible traffic menace.

Law Amended

After a public hearing, the board unanimously adopted an amendment to local law No. 1 on utility taxes, providing for annual rather than quarterly payment of taxes by public utilities. It was unopposed at the hearing.

The board approved the following election inspectors, appointed by Mayor Dooley for the March

LARCHMONT POLIO FUND AT $15,090

Campaign Tops Last Year By $3,372, Chairman Reports

A total subscription of $15,090 to the 1952 Larchmont Infantile Paralysis campaign was reported this morning by Mrs. Henry B. Coakley, chairman of the drive. The total represents an increase of $3,372 over last year's figure of $11,718.

The Mothers' March on Polio, Mrs. Coakley said, which was tried for the first time this year, collected $5,400 in its one-night drive Jan. 30; and the sum of $5,026.41 was solicited by the Special Gifts Committee under the chairmanship of Platt K. Wiggins.

Coin envelopes distributed throughout the schools accounted for $583.51, and $442.71 was collected from coin boxes placed in stores. Mrs. Coakley expressed her gratitude to the many local merchants who gave prominent space to the containers.

A benefit bowling match, held under the chairmanship of Joseph Masto and Leonard Grosso, netted $110.

Harold E. Beyer was chairman of the Mothers' March; Mrs. John A. Samborn, vice chairman in charge of Material Distribution and Display, and Mark Lellek, treasurer of the campaign.

War Blocks Dredging Of East Basin

The status of the future dredging of the east basin of Mamaroneck Harbor and the commercial channel leading into the harbor were discussed last night with the members of the Marine Division of the Mamaroneck Chamber of Commerce by Claude Latimer, village engineer, in the Chamber meeting room at the Playhouse.

The present "police action" in Korea, Mr. Latimer said, has slowed almost to a standstill everything except vital dredging for war plants. The future of the east basin dredging, therefore, is not foreseeable, he added.

The commercial channel, on the other hand, he said, is an obligation of the Army Engineers and is rapidly reaching the point where something has to be done about it. The method of procedure in laying before the engineers the importance of immediate action will fully discussed, and plans for proceding were adopted.

The Marine Division will sponsor the newly reactivated Sea Scouts at the Merchants and Manufacturers Exposition if one is held this year, the members agreed. The headquarters for the Sea Scouts is Howard McMichael's Yard and the activities of the group are under the direction of Gordon and Robert Brauninger. The decision on whether or not there is to be another Exposition is expected to be made at the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chamber tonight.

Allies Face 3-Year Wait For German Aid

OWEN A. MANDEVILLE

WALTER B. C. WASHBURN

BONN, Germany(AP) — Allied officials said today that the Atlantic Army will have to wait at least until 1953 for the 12 German divisions it counts on to help defend the West.

Despite the green light given the European Army by the Atlantic Allies at their Lisbon conference, these officials said that recent political developments, especially in France, have set back the previous time table calling for combat-ready German troops by 1954.

No Draft This Year

The sources here explain the situation thus:

The Germans will need two full years from the starting points to call up, arm and train 300,000 to 400,000 men to serve with the six-nation European Army.

The outlook now is that not a single German soldier will be drafted before early 1953 and perhaps months later.

The Germans plan to start their new army with small units of volunteers who later will take over the training of draftees.

Nor do these prospects for German manpower for Western defense take into account a possible change in West German government. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's pro - rearmament coalition faces an election battle in the Summer of 1953 with the bitterly anti-rearmament Socialists.

Socialists in Opposition

The Socialists warned last weekend that they would continue to oppose German participation in the Western defense system "under present conditions," even if they take over the government next year.

They have demanded immediate elections.

Although the Germans are free to make preparations now for recruiting troops, they cannot put men into uniform until:

1. The six West European nations— France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands, and Luxembourg — complete the draft treaty for the European Army;

2. The six parliaments ratify the treaty.

3. The German parliament approves a separate conscription bill.

OFFICIALS LAUD RED CROSS WORK

Mandeville and Washburn Urge Full Support of Campaign

The Red Cross organization and the volunteers who have contributed to its success today received official recognition and encouragement in the 1952 fund campaign from Mayor Walter B. C. Washburn of Larchmont and Town of Mamaroneck Supervisor Owen A. Mandeville.

Commenting on the various fields of Red Cross activity, Mayor Washburn said, "I was delighted to learn that of the 10,000 registered blood donors in Westchester County, 260 are residents of Larchmont. This includes many of our local firemen. Under the present Red Cross set-up, donors fall into two groups: those who have contributed at least once at a local blood bank and those who constitute a 'walking blood bank.' These last have

The meeting will be conducted by Chef-de-Gare Timothy Gibson of Larchmont and will feature a discussion on the child welfare program in the county.

Ash Wednesday Services Open Lenten Season Here Tomorrow

The solemn season of Lent will be ushered in tomorrow with Ash Wednesday services in all the churches of Larchmont and Mamaroneck and blessing and distribution of ashes in the Catholic churches. Four guest preachers will occupy the pulpits in the Protestant churches.

Ashes will be blessed before the 7 A. M. Mass at St. Vito's Catholic Church in Mamaroneck and will be distributed after the 7 and 8 A. M. masses. Distribution will take place again between 3 and 4 P. M. for adults and children. At 7:30 P. M. the service will include devotions, rosary, litany, sermon and benediction with ashes again distributed at the close of the service.

Blessing of the ashes will take place before the 6 A. M. Mass at Holy Trinity Church in Mamaroneck. They will be distributed following the 6, 6:30 and 8:15 A. M. masses and again for children at 3 P. M. A Lenten course of sermons will open at 8 P. M. with the Rev. Nicholas Mosier, C. V. S., as guest preacher.

At the Church of Sts. John and Paul in Larchmont, the blessing will take place before 7 A. M. and masses will follow at 7, 8 and 9 A. M. with distribution after each mass and again at 3:30 P. M. At 8 P. M. the service will include rosary, sermon, benediction and imposition of the ashes.

Ashes will be blessed before 7 A. M. at St. Augustine's in Larchmont and will be distributed after

Truce Talks Adjourned, Each Side Accusing Other of Stalling

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—Communists today "categorically rejected" an Allied proposal that would ban Russian supervision of a Korean truce.

The Allies had proposed four neutral nations police the truce instead of six. This would cut Norway off the United Nations list and Russia off the Red nominations.

"We cannot consider it," said Chinese Col. Pu Shan.

Staff officers also remained deadlocked on the number of ports of entry each side should be allowed during a truce. The Allies now propose six, the Communists five.

Counter Charges of Stalling

GERMANY'S SHARE IS $2.6 BILLION

West's Big Three Set Figure For Defense Program; Bonn Okay Needed

LISBON, Portugal, (AP) — The Big Three Western Powers and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer have agreed West Germany should pitch in with 11½ billion marks ($2.6 billion) for Western defense over the next year.

An official source said today a draft of the new agreement had been sent to Bonn for final approval by Mr. Adenauer's government.

Ministers Draft Plan

He gave these additional details:

The agreement was drafted last night by Secretary of State Dean Acheson, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, who stayed on here after the closing of the Atlantic Pact parley to settle some outstanding German and Austrian questions.

The Ministers and their top advisers met again this morning. They also invited in the Benelux Ministers to keep them informed.

Before them last night was a message from Bonn in which the Federal government said it was ready to accept the figure of 11½ billion marks as the size of its defense contribution. The amount had been recommended by top Allied planners who were called in to measure Germany's capacity to pay.

If and when it is approved, the agreement will be announced simultaneously in Bonn, London, Paris, Washington and Lisbon.

Adult Indifference Assailed By Farley For Youth Problem

By JAMES A FARLEY

When I look on the older generation, my generation, struggling with terrifying world conditions, I realize the wonders we have achieved, the advances we have made, the marked improvements and progress.

Yes I also see the errors we committed, the mistakes, the wrongs, the many, many stupidities, and my heart is heavy.

When I look upon the generation after us, which was so often called "The Lost Generation," I marvel at their magnificence in World War II. They were boys to make the blood sing and the heart exult with pride. Those were our G. I.'s who are now pulling the load with us.

James A. Farley

But most important is the new young lot. Everywhere I meet them—they are the American leaders and lawmakers of tomorrow. I am deeply impressed as I talk with them by their sincerity, their directness and their capacity for devotion. These are the men of tomorrow—the bosses and law-makers. These are the men who will be and are making the United States.

Yet you and I know that the majority of our criminals are boys and young men. The average age of men who are inmates in prisons and reformatories is under twenty-six.

Problem Is Adult Indifference

What are we doing for them and about them? The problem is not juvenile delinquency, but adult indifference. The time to stop delinquency is before the boy becomes a delinquent . . . at an age when most adults consider them too much bother.

The farther I go in years, the boy I was draws closer to me. With each passing birthday I see more of what I am in what I was.

I was born at Grassy Point, N. Y., of second generation Irish stock, the second of five boys, my brothers being John, Phil, Tom, and Bill. My schooling began at five years of age, and included high school and a year's course in a commercial school.

The things we boys took for granted in a small town would be privileged beyond purchase to our city lads. We had open fields, hills, streams, trees, animals, birds, fenceless spaces. We had fishing and swimming and plenty of space to mark out a baseball lot. We had coasting, skating and the big popcorn or candy-making feasts around outdoor fires.

We had the blessing of needed work. You can't live in the country without going miles to school or market, without tending furnaces, clearing walks, caring for chickens, horses or cows or other stock, and knowing a garden with your knees.

My father was killed by a horse when I was ten. Mother was left a small insurance policy and a half interest in a little schooner that carried bricks 30 miles down the Hudson to the big city.

Five Sons Felt Mighty Important

Maybe we five sons didn't feel responsible! And therefore important. I ran errands and did chores until mother bought a small business with her last $1,000. Then we really had responsibility. During the Summers I also worked from 3:30 to 11:00 A. M. as a machine boy in Morrissy's brickyard for less than a dollar a day.

Hardships? No, it was a prideful achievement to a boy with the stirrings of manhood in him to be pulling his weight and to be needed. I still found time to be the local waltzing champion, and at eight I was carrying a torch in a "Bryan-for-President" parade, and I never missed church. I took a confirmation vow never to drink or smoke, and I've kept it.

Perhaps the two greatest blessings I had in boyhood were a fierce love of my parents and a deep devotion to my religion.

Harvey at the Wheel?

An oversized trailer truck parked last night on the Boston Post Road near Delancey Avenue looked empty—but either Harvey the Rabbitt, or a couple of skillful angels were at the wheel.

The driver left it at the curb headed for Connecticut while he crossed to the Red Circle restaurant for a cup of coffee. Suddenly, as horrified spectators watched, the massive vehicle began to move backward at an angle. It rolled for several feet—then the wheels turned and it backed across the Post Road as the heavy 7:30 P. M. traffic darted out of its path.

The back wheels jumped the curb, breaking the momentum slightly, and the unwieldy trailer edged between two gas tanks, missing them both, skirted a sign and jogged harmlessly to a stop. No one was hurt, nothing was hit and no damage was done—except possibly to the heart of the truck driver who plunged helplessly out of the restaurant when he heard the cries of passersby and the screech of brakes from Post Road traffic.

All in Point of View

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence B. Litchfield may have wondered for a while last night whether their application for a zoning variance would be denied by a too-literal interpretation of the zoning laws by the Board of Appeals at a hearing in the Municipal Building.

The Litchfields applied for permission to build a one-story house on Soundview Drive and members of the board reiterated that the law demands that new houses in Shore Acres must be at least one and one-half stories above the curb line.

The Litchfields were relieved, however, when Building Inspector G. Dewey Perachke had his brief say. He pointed out that the residence will be on a steep slope toward Otter Creek and will have two stories on the downgrade at the back.

"After all," he added, "if the house were a little farther down the hill, even the roof would be below the curb line."

Arthur E. Allen Jr., William Goyne, Edgar B. Ingraham and Charles Hardy, residents of Shore Acres, supported Mr. Litchfield's application. It was pointed out that a taller structure would spoil the view from several neighboring houses.

The board unanimously granted the variance.

Kitty Rescued

A cat may not have a chance to look at a King in Mamaroneck but one distressed feline was pretty happy to look a patrolman in the eye yesterday.

An anonymous kitty was treed by several dogs in Shore Acres and a resident who noticed his plight finally called Mamaroneck Village Police. Patrolman Frank Paonessa responded and chased the dogs away—whereupon Mr. Cat made a dignified descent to the ground.

Playoffs 'Replayed'

The hot stove league replayed baseball's 1951 season last night at the Mamaroneck Post 90 American Legion Club. Then on Prospect Avenue when diamond fans viewed films of the National League three-game playoff that saw the New York Giants squeak into the World Series by conquering the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Legionnaires took another squint into baseball doings when Harry Rodriquez of White Plains Post 135 narrated his season's management of a Legion-sponsored junior baseball team that competed in national championship finals in Detroit, Mich. Mr. Rodriquez told how he has built up the team since 1948 when he took over and urged Post 90 to sponsor its own junior team in 1952.

A White Plains city employe, Mr. Rodriquez heads the Civil Defense rescue squad of that community.

Mamaroneck Village Manager William H. Johnson presented to the board an aerial photograph of the club house. A new member, Joseph Caredo, was inducted into the Post.

Good Record Pays Off

Justice was tempered by mercy last night in Larchmont Police Court when Judge John R. Cahill suspended sentence against Dr. William B. Short of Chatsworth Gardens, whose parking violation was his first traffic offense in almost 30 years of driving.

Dr. Short said this morning he drove the first automobile to arrive in Westchester County when it belonged to the former Miss Adelaide Goff, who later became Mrs. Short. He's been driving continually since then and was completely blameless in the eyes of the law until Saturday when he parked in a prohibited area near Manor Park.

Dr. Short has been a Larchmont resident for 43 years.

THIEF GETS $3,127 IN JEWELRY, FURS AT CIPOTH HOUSE

Screen Cut, Glass Broken At Residence On Claflin Ave.

Jewels and furs valued at $3,127 were stolen from the home of Mrs. Jacques Cipoth, 406 Claflin Avenue, Mamaroneck, last night while Mrs. Cipoth was in New York City.

According to Mamaroneck police, who were summoned to the Cipoth residence at 12:18 this morning when Mrs. Cipoth returned, a thief had entered the house by cutting a porch screen and then breaking a glass pane in the door of the dining room, unlatching the door from the inside. Evidence showed he had previously attempted an entry through the garage, also by breaking a pane, but had found the inside door to the garage locked.

From a jewelbox in the drawer of a bureau in the master bedroom the thief took a diamond ring mounted in white gold and set with several small diamonds, a canary diamond in a white gold setting encircled by 10 small diamonds, an amethyst and pearl ring mounted on white gold, a jeweled flexible gold bracelet, another gold bracelet, and a gold bracelet watch.

From the second bedroom the thief took a fur caracul jacket worth $500.

Police discovered footprints in the soft earth at the rear of the house.

RED CROSS PLANS APARTMENT DRIVE

Chisholm Named Chairman Of Division For One-Day Campaign

David B. Chisholm of 1231 James Street, Mamaroneck, was announced as chairman of the apartment division for the 1952 Red Cross fund drive at a meeting yesterday in Mamaroneck Branch Headquarters at 1 Depot Plaza.

A Mamaroneck resident since 1941, Mr. Chisholm has been active in Red Cross work since 1926 when he volunteered for emergency duty during a severe flood in Jackson, Ky., where he was making a geological study. In that emergency he helped organize a relief set-up without professional medical assistance that left the region free of a typhoid fever epidemic for the first time in its flood-ridden history.

Since he moved to Mamaroneck, Mr. Chisholm has served successively as lieutenant and captain in District 9 during previous Red Cross fund drives.

Mr. Chisholm has been a professor of geology at New York

'Mamaroneck Day' On TV Show To Be Sponsored By Chamber

Mamaroneck Day on Club Matinee, an audience participation show telecast daily over WJZ-TV, won unanimous approval of the Board of Directors of the Mamaroneck Chamber of Commerce last night in the Chamber meeting room. Arthur Dunn Jr., executive secretary, was instructed to confirm with the American Broadcasting Company the tentative date of March 20.

Mr. Dunn explained that he has written to all of the women's groups listed in the Chamber office, telling them about Mamaroneck Day and asking them to send representatives. He displayed a sheaf of letters of acceptance from many of them and said he expected to hear from the rest during the week. William Fulcher, Chamber vice-president, said that the idea is sweeping the Village like "like wildfire."

Between 40 and 50 women will be entertained at lunch at Healy's Restaurant, 66th Street and Columbus Avenue by ABC at 12:30. At 1:45 those who will participate in the hour-long telecast will be selected and briefed. Following the show there will be refreshments.

Mr. Dunn urged the directors to watch the show March 5 when it will be sponsored by a Long Island Chamber of Commerce.

Invitations to participate in the telecast will be mailed today to Mayor Edwin B. Dooley, Village Manager William H. Johnson, Police Chief Louis Giancola and Fire Chief George D. Perschke. Others who will be asked to be at the studio are Mr. Fulcher, Charles A. Gaa, Chamber president, and Albert J. Lombino, chairman of the Retail Division of the Chamber.

CHAMBER PLANS 4TH EXPOSITION

Initial Details Outlined For Manufacturers and Merchants Show

A budget and floor plans for the 4th annual Merchants and Manufacturers Exposition won the approval of the Board of Directors of the Mamaroneck Chamber of Commerce at a meeting last night in the Chamber meeting room. Charles A. Gaa, president of the Chamber, announced today. This year's floor plan, he pointed out, eliminates the lower floor of the St. Thomas Community House where the exposition will again be held.

The elimination of the lower floor has been made possible by changing the booth arrangement on the main floor to provide 12 more large booths while eliminating four small ones. A new layout in the South wing provides two more booths while eliminating bad features of corner booths which plagued exhibitors the last three years.

Details of entertainment and other features designed to draw crowds were not announced, but it is understood that women's

LIONS HEAR TALK ON HEART DISEASE

Dr. Ranges Outlines Effort To Aid Cardiacs In Industry

Heart disease has increased during the last 15 years and is now the biggest cause of death, Dr. Hilmert A. Ranges of New Rochelle told the Mamaroneck Lions Club yesterday at the Green Haven Inn. Dr. Ranges is a staff member of the New Rochelle Hospital, a director of the Westchester Heart Association and a member of the Medical Advisory Board. He stressed the need of more funds to fight heart disease.

The County Association was formed two years ago, he said, as an affiliate of the American Heart Association to which organization 25 per cent of the funds raised in the county are paid. Half of the funds received by the parent organization are spent on fundamental research to get to the core of the disease and determine the causes.

In Westchester County $10,000 was spent last year on research, mostly on rheumatic heart. Another $5,00 was spent on research projects outside the county which the county group elected to sponsor. Another $8,000 was spent in the county on educational work, both lay and professional, and also on community services "helping to direct cardiacs to better health, especially children," he explained.

Lawton Sees No More War After June 30

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The administration in planning its spending, is assuming the fighting in Korea will end by June 30 this year and that this country will not be involved in war for at least a year afterward.

Senator Taft, R., Ohio, brought this out in questioning budget director Frederick J. Lawton at a closed hearing of the Senate-House Economic Committee Jan. 23. The testimony was made public yesterday.

Mr. Lawton said spending estimates for fiscal 1953—which starts next July 1—were based on peacetime attribution rates for forces in Korea.

"For the purpose," Mr. Taft asked, "you are assuming the Korean War will be over for fiscal 1953?

"Yes, in effect," Mr. Lawton replied.

"And that there won't be any other (war)?"

"That is correct."

SUMNER S. KITTELLE

KITTELLE NAMED CHEST PRESIDENT

Larchmont Directors Hear Reports at Annual Meeting

Sumner S. Kittelle was elected president of the Larchmont Community Chest last night at the annual meeting of the board of directors and Chest members at the Larchmont Avenue Church House. He succeeds Vincent R. Smalley for a one-year term.

Edward P. Foley was elected first vice president; Mrs. J. Clarke Babcock was reelected second vice president and Mrs. Henry P. Truesdell was reelected secretary.

New members elected to the board of directors for three-year terms were Mrs. C. Emerson Baker, William J. B. Dixon, Jesse M. Van Law and Donald K. Wright. Mrs. Claude L. Selxas and Clayton L. Davis were reelected to the board.

The nominating committee was composed of Edwin E. Berliner, chairman; Paul W. Atwood, Mrs. Babcock, Walter C. Reich, and Platt K. Wiggins. Mr. Reich gave the nominating committee report in the absence of the chairman.

Board Member 1 Year

Mr. Kittelle was elected to the board of directors of the Chest last year. He served as general chairman of the 1950 Community Chest campaign, special gifts chairman in 1949, and personnel chairman in last year's campaign. He is chairman of the Camp Fire Girls Council, and former chairman of the Committee for the Selection of School Board Nominees. Mr. Kittelle was graduated from Purdue University with a de-

Thought And Action Stressed In Promotion Of Brotherhood

The need for action as well as discussion to achieve brotherhood of men and nations was stressed last night by a representative of the United Nations at a Community Brotherhood Week observance sponsored by the Larchmont-Mamaroneck Lodge and Chapter of B'nai B'rith at the Weaver Street Fire House.

Mrs. Delphine Krellsheimer, national director of the UN Mobile Film Division, compared the problem of world unity to a huge jigsaw puzzle of which only the framework has thus far been put together. The speaker also presented two films, "The United Nations in World Disputes" and "The Toy Maker", a technicolor film in which puppets symbolically portray how man can conquer the fears and hatred which produce conflict.

More than 200 guests attended the program, including Mamaroneck Town Judge Munn Brewer, Larchmont Acting Judge Joseph Gagliardi, Mamaroneck Town Councilmen Jeremiah C. Waterman and Peter P. Kane Jr., and Louis Bohmrich, chief administrator of the United States Mission to the UN.

Guests Introduced

Other guests representing community organizations were Benjamin Morrell, president of the Mamaroneck Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored Peoples, the Rev. Arnold A. Fenton of St. Thomas's Episcopal Church and Rabbi Irving Koslowe of the Westchester Jewish Center.

Another feature of the entertainment program was the interpretation of international folk songs by Jean Mural, a member of the music faculty of Hunter College, who accompanied her singing on the guitar. Miss Mural presented a program that included songs of Mexico, South America, Ireland, Eastern Europe and Israel.

Officers Named

Following welcoming addresses by Lodge President Herbert E. Herrman and Chapter President Mrs. Maxwell Raddock, the slates of officers of each group for the coming year were presented. Chapter officers are, in addition to Mrs. Raddock, Mrs. William S. Bruno, Mrs. Irving Bloomberg and Mrs. Harvey Pierce, vice presidents; Mrs. Daniel Zell, recording secretary; Mrs. Jerome Dresler, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Harold Klein, financial secretary and Mrs. Arthur Bielweiss, treasurer.

Lodge officers presented were Irving Bloomberg, president; Benjamin Posner and Joseph Silberman, vice presidents; Mr. Herrman, chaplain; Harvey Pierce, secretary; Alan Block, financial secretary and Milton Hoffman, treasurer.

Rabbi Koslowe offered the invocation and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Mr. Fenton. Mr. Posner was chairman of arrangements for the meeting and Mrs. George Rosenthal and Mrs. Jess Messing acted as ushers.

REGISTRY OPEN FOR BLOOD BANK

Red Cross Seeks to Enroll 290 Donors For Event March 15

Campaigning is already under way for registration of donors for the Red Cross Bloodmobile which will be stationed at the Mamaroneck Junior High School March 15, according to a joint statement made today by Mamaroneck and Larchmont Blood Donor chairmen.

Mrs. Albert Sichel of Mamaroneck and Mrs. Martin Stern of Larchmont announced that mass enrollments are being formed in local business and fraternal organizations to provide the 290 donors that will be needed to keep the Bloodmobile fully employed while it is here.

The two chairmen stressed the need for donors, pointing to Red Cross requirements for 300,000 pints of blood each month until July to meet the demands of the armed services.

Free use of blood at aid stations and hospitals near the lines in Korea has been held accountable for a sharp drop in mortalities among the men wounded in combat.

Mass Enrollments

Local groups where mass enrollments are being organized are Betty Lee Food Products Inc., the Schaffer Brewing Company, both Lodge and Chapter of the Larchmont - Mamaroneck B'nai B'rith.

Question Returned To Committee With One Issue Unsettled

MUNSAN Korea (AP) — Staff officers tentatively agreed today to drop the question of voluntary exchange of prisoners of war back into the laps of a truce subcommittee.

They've settled all prisoner exchange details but this key issue and one minor translation problem. The translation was to be ironed out tomorrow.

The subcommittee of armistice negotiators tentatively was scheduled to take over again Friday.

A second staff committee headed toward a similar stalemate over Communist insistence that Soviet Russia help supervise the truce.

Col. Don O. Darrow told the Reds they "appear to be more interested in arguing the merits of the Soviet Union than in reaching an armistice agreement."

North Korean Col. Chang Chun-San said the only solution was for the U. N. Command to accept the Red nomination of the Soviet Union Poland and Czechoslovakia as neutral nations to help police a truce.

The Reds previously turned down a U. N. offer to drop Norway from its list, retaining Switzerland and Sweden as neutral supervisors, if the Communists eliminated Russia.

S. I. JURY INDICTS 2 EX-GOP HEADS

Ruppell, Spinelli Charged With Extortion; Panel Eyes 2 Dem Leaders

NEW YORK, (AP) — A Staten Island grand jury, after indicting two former Republican County leaders in an alleged patronage shakedown conspiracy, focused its inquiry today on two Democratic politicians.

The special panel in New York City's ferryboat borough yesterday accused the Republicans, Edward A. Ruppell and Peter B. Spinelli, of plotting to extort political contributions from office-holders and of accepting bribes from persons seeking liquor store licenses.

Mr. Ruppell was Richmond County (Staten Island) GOP chairman during the period covered in the conspiracy indictment, May, 1944 to September, 1951. Mr. Spinelli was secretary of the County Republican organization at the time.

Democrats Herman Methfessel and Irving Rivkin also came under the grand jury fire, and the panel said it was still considering an indictment against the two on undisclosed charges.

In a report, the grand jury said Mr. Methfessel, who was Richmond District Attorney until Jan. 1, and Mr. Rivkin had been "so venal" in their conduct of public office that "appropriate disciplinary proceedings" should be started. Mr. Rivkin was Mr. Methfessel's assistant.

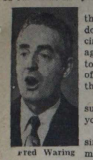
His Devout Mother Gave Fred Waring Advice, Inspiration

by FRED WARING

I wondered what mother's reaction would be that day when four of us came home from high school and organized our first band.

There was no point in being secretive about it, so my brother, Tom, Freddie Buck, Poley McClintock and I—all "self-taught" musicians—decided to hold our rehearsal in the parlor of our home in Tyrone, Pa.



Fred Waring

When the chandelier began to swing and the furniture to shake, mother appeared in the doorway—not to bawl us out, but to give us cinnamon rolls and cocoa. She not only encouraged us, but what was much better, she listened to us. Because of her understanding and sense of humor, our house became headquarters for the gang.

Her advice: "Whatever you do, son, make sure it's worth the doing. Then do it with all your heart."

Mother's ambition for me, however, was singing. How well I remember the Sunday mornings when the Waring family would hustle off to the Methodist Church in Tyrone, where we all sang in the Sunday School or Church choir. At that age my idea of Heaven was millions of angels rendering beautiful songs.

Mother Captivated By Choral Music

On Sunday evenings after church, Tyrone musicians would drop in for a musicale and a long session of hymn singing. My mother was captivated by choral music. "You can't give them too much sacred music, Fred," she told me often with rapture in her eyes.

Devout as she was, she never preached religion at us. She and father lived it together. Their faith was rich and vital with love and human goodness. The memory of the wholesomeness of our lives in Tyrone has never left us.

When I entered Penn State College, my ambition was to make the glee club. Music had been such an important part of my younis that I felt quite confident during try-outs. When the final roster was posted, my name wasn't there!

Surely, there must have been a mistake, I thought. But a check-up revealed the conclusive fact that I had not been chosen.

Looking back now, I can chuckle about it. Then it was a major blow, and I was petulant. Yet it was one of those divinely-guided experiences that direct a person out of one situation into a better one. God helps us when He provides a setback, but we seldom see the wisdom of it at the time.

Eased By Banjo Orchestra Popularity

My heart was eased somewhat by the popularity of our banjo orchestra, which defrayed my college expenses. The Pennsylvanians were born soon after. Of course we always sang as a band, and it wasn't until years later that we added a glee club to the orchestra. It was a slow process convincing radio sponsors that the blending of choral singing and dance orchestra was music at its soul-stirring best.

The first offer of a commercial radio show was a milestone. Then came the hitch. The sponsor wanted only the orchestra. "Choir singing," he opinioned, "is good only for Sunday morning. It will flop as an evening show."

I used every kind of persuasion without success. It was a hard decision and an important one. I felt a sense of mission about our choral group, thanks to mother; without the glee club the Pennsylvanians were just another band.

The offer was refused regretfully. Thirty-two times in all

Girl Scout on Radio

Miss Barbara Vandernoot, Larchmont Wing Scout, will be interviewed Wednesday by Mary Margaret McBride, well-known radio personality, on a nation-wide broadcast over WJZ at 1 P. M., according to a report given yesterday at the meeting of the Larchmont Leaders Group at the Girl Scout House on Harmon Drive.

Mrs. Olney Steffens, chairman of the senior leaders, announced that Miss Vandernoot was chosen "pilot" of the local Wing Scout troop will explain what a wing scout does. This field is the newest in the National Girl Scout program and is designed to provide training and education for girls interested in planes, she said. Larchmont girls who are members of the three senior groups, Wing, Mariner and Senior will assist troop leaders of Brownie and Intermediate Scouts.

Grateful Firemen

The Town of Mamaroneck Fire Department has contributed a check for $25 to the Salvation Army in appreciation of the services extended to the firemen at a recent fire, it was announced today by Arthur M. Brown, secretary.

In a letter to Major Alfred Schotter of New Rochelle Branch of the Salvation Army, Mr. Brown says, "the department has asked me to extend their thanks and appreciation for the splendid services you rendered our firemen at the Oak Haven Apartments fire on Jan. 24.

"The coffee and doughnuts you served the members was a great morale booster and we as volunteer firemen who are rendering our services free to the community thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

"Many of the members of the department who served in the armed forces of our country during World Wars I and II know of your great work and humanitarian spirit is both bears."

Pictures in Show

Edmond J. Fitzgerald of 1889 Palmer Avenue, Larchmont, and Norman Kent of 437 Carroll Avenue, Mamaroneck, are among 200 artists almost every state in the union who are exhibiting watercolors at the 85th annual exhibition of the American Watercolor society at the National Academy Galleries in New York. The show will continue until March 9.

Mr. Fitzgerald's watercolors are titled "Golden Morning" and "Great Salt Pond, Block Island" and Mr. Kent's watercolors are "Reflections" and "The Boy Born."

Aboard Carrier

Aboard the Aircraft Carrier USS Antietam with Fighter Squadron 837 in the Far East is Lt. Comdr. Roland H. Kenton, USN, above, husband of Mrs. Doris Kenton of 368 Weaver Street, Larchmont.

A veteran of World War II, Lt. Comdr. Kenton was a member of the Organized Reserve at Floyd Bennett Field, Brooklyn, and was recalled to active duty in February last year. As a civilian he was secretary of Press-on Inc., and treasurer of Allen-Kenton, affiliated corporations with headquarters in the Bronx. He and his wife, who moved to this community from Long Island six years ago, have two daughters, Lynn Carole, six, and Diane Susan, two.

Looked Too Innocent

Four fugitives from Harrison might have made good their escape yesterday, if they hadn't looked so innocent. When they asked Mrs. Frank Huber of 1090 Mamaroneck Avenue how to get to Mount Vernon, she became concerned for their safety, since the oldest was only eleven and the rest were nine years old.

She reported the incident to Mamaroneck village police who picked up the quartet in front of 1043 Mamaroneck Avenue. Questioning revealed that the four were running away from the Kohut Boys' School, a private academy in Harrison.

Police notified the school authorities, and Mrs. Mamaroneck and took the boys back to school.

U.S. To Bolster Air Power But No More Troops For Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will add no more Army divisions to its ground force in Europe this year, but will send considerably more air power to help meet the immediate goals set up at the Lisbon session of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

In outlining the part the United States would have under the NATO master plan, Defense Secretary Lovett also tried to clear up confusion arising from the phrasing of an official summary of the meeting which he attended.

The summary issued at Lisbon produced the widespread impression that by the end of this year the Western European defense command of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower would have 50 battle-ready divisions or about 20 more than previously expected. Mr. Lovett told a Pentagon news conference yesterday that this idea was wrong.

The plan, he said, is to have something more than half of that number fully combat-ready, their manpower and weapons complete, ready to go into action at an alarm's notice. The others would be of the reserve system generally used in Europe—with major combat equipment, transportation and supply systems ready but without all the manpower needed for combat-readiness.

Mr. Lovett explained the European reserve system differs from the American; that in Europe men can be called to active duty quickly (sometimes within 48 hours), and that they often have their small weapons and equipment stacked and ready in their homes.

Mr. Lovett made it plain the Defense Department has no intention now of asking Congress to approve sending one or more divisions to Europe.

5 U. S. Divisions in Europe

Army strength in Europe now consists of five divisions and a constabulary force presently equal to about two-thirds the size of a division.

The Lisbon plans will provide more than 200 air bases, some of which are main fields for stationing units, while others are intended for redeployment under changing conditions.

LIBRARY REELECTS BAXTER PRESIDENT

Judge Starts 30th Year As Board Head In Mamaroneck

Judge Charles M. Baxter Jr. was reelected to his 30th consecutive term yesterday as president of the Mamaroneck Free Library.

The board of trustees, at the annual meeting in the Board room of the Library, also reelected Mrs. Russell Niles, vice president; Mrs. Phillip D. Wesson, secretary, and William M. MacDonald Jr., treasurer.

Judge Baxter, a Justice of the Peace in the Town of Mamaroneck, was instrumental in the founding of the Library in 1923 and has headed the board of trustees ever since. He maintains law offices at 100 Mamaroneck Avenue and is a director of the Union Savings Bank.

Miss Doreen Harper, librarian, reported a circulation of 6,481 volumes and periodicals during January including 5,025 adult books and 1,316 juveniles. The report marks an increase of 1,125 for adults and 401 for juveniles over December; and an increase of 653 in the adult department over January, 1951, but a decrease of 119 in the juvenile volumes as against a year ago.

Miss Harper was authorized by the board to try to obtain a part-time clerical helper in the Library until a children's librarian can be employed.

The trustees approved a tentative budget for next year to be recommended to Village Manager William H. Johnson and the president asked that each trustee offer suggestions at the next meeting for a new trustee to succeed Luther Nelson until the next annual meeting of the Library Association.

A&P Super Markets Open Till 9 Fridays

All A & P super markets throughout the New York metropolitan area will be open until 9 P. M. every Friday starting this week, the company announces.

"We hope this will make shopping a little easier for many of our customers who do not have very much weekend shopping time," said Charles P. Small, the food chain's Eastern Division sales director. The requests of many customers for this convenience were a factor in the company's decision, Mr. Small added.

Stores affected by the new policy are situated in the five boroughs of New York City and in southeastern Connecticut. Westchester County, the metropolitan areas of New Jersey and on Long Island.

17th Century Silver Spoons On Display At County Trust

Back in the early days when Mamaroneck was first settled there wasn't much cash in circulation and families measured their wealth in terms of silver tableware, samples of which are now on display at the Chatsworth Avenue Branch of the County Trust Company in Larchmont.

Sponsored by the Mamaroneck Historical Society, the exhibit shows silver spoons dating back to 1660 and points out how the family treasures were passed on from generation to generation by specific mention in family wills, in 1738 Mary Palmer deeded two silver spoons to her daughter and two silver spoons to her granddaughter.

In the next generation in 1761, Nehemia Palmer left five silver spoons, perhaps some of the same ones, to his daughter, Mary. The 1771 testament of Henry Disbrow distributed one-third of his silver to Henry Jr. and one-half of the silver to son John, but makes no mention of the remaining one-sixth. History doesn't tell us what became of the leftovers.

Emil Severin and John Merritt, directors of the bank, initiated the series of exhibits at the bank.

STRUCK BY AUTO, WOMAN INJURED

Mrs. Parker Spends Night In Hospital After Accident

A Larchmont woman was knocked to the pavement on Palmer Avenue at noon yesterday as a Queens driver unsuccessfully attempted to halt his car before striking her.

Mrs. William Lee Parker, thirty-nine, of 28 Elkan Road, was treated at New Rochelle Hospital by Dr. Hugh McHugh and was expected to return home today after spending the night in the hospital.

Mamaroneck Town police state Harry John Brennan, sixty-seven, of 115-19 120th Street, South Ozone Park, was driving west on Palmer Avenue near Weaver Street at about 15 miles per hour when Mrs. Parker started to cross the avenue from north to south.

Half way across the street she started to retrace her steps, the report states. Mr. Brennan tried to halt his car but she was struck by the left front fender.

Mrs. Parker was taken to Dr. McHugh's office in a police car and from there to the hospital by ambulance after she complained of pain in the back of her head.

Mr. Brennan was booked at headquarters for driving with improper auto registration.

HOSPITAL DRIVE CLOSES TONIGHT

United Volunteers to Give Final Reports At Club Dinner

The public campaign for United Hospital's building fund will come to a close at a dinner meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Westchester Country Club when volunteer workers from all communities served by the hospital will turn in final reports.

At the semi-final report meeting Monday, the building fund stood at $1,103,513. Meanwhile, the volunteers have been completing their calls at family homes, inviting participation in the program, and advance indications point to a substantial increase in the fund.

John C. Andresen, president of United Hospital, reported today that the Rye Womans Club has subscribed $1,000 out of its club treasury, an act he called "extremely generous."

"Most of the members of the club are active supporters of United Hospital," Mr. Andresen said, but many have already made substantial individual pledges to the fund. Now, by voting a club subscription they have re-affirmed their determination that the 'haven on the hill' shall always be prepared to do whatever demands the community places upon it. Thus, they continue to set a marvelous example of civic-minded thoughtfulness."

TWO CARS DAMAGED IN LEFT-TURN CRASH

Cars driven by Mrs. Elaine C. Glenn of 847 Soundview Drive, Mamaroneck, and Joseph E. Sheldon of Elmsford were damaged at 11 A. M. yesterday when they collided at Mamaroneck and Halstead Avenues, Mamaroneck.

According to police, the collision occurred when Mr. Sheldon started a left turn onto Halstead from the right lane of the southbound traffic on Mamaroneck Avenue. The Glenn car, police said, was in the left lane and sustained damage to both front and rear right doors when the Sheldon auto met it in mid-turn. The left front fender of the Sheldon car was damaged.

There were no injuries or arrests.

Truman Sets Decision For Late In March

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman said today he won't announce whether he will seek re-election until after he returns from a trip to Key West, Fla.

In a news conference exchange with reporters, Mr. Truman did not commit himself to an announcement on his return but knocked down speculation that he might make known his plans while at Key West.

The President is leaving on Friday of next week for the Naval Submarine Station in Florida. He is expected back in time for a speech in Washington to the $100-a-plate Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner March 29.

Mr. Truman turned aside questions from reporters as to whether he might make the dinner an occasion for announcing his political intentions.

A reporter asked Mr. Truman whether he would be happy to see Governor Adlai Stevenson of Illinois get the Democratic nomination for President.

In reply, the President said only that Governor Stevenson is a very able man, one of the ablest, and has made one of the best Governors Illinois ever had.

That in itself, he said, is a good recommendation.

RICHARD PERCOCO Jr.

Star Carrier Is Yachtsman

A full-fledged amateur yachtsman with a three-year business record topped the monthly competition among Daily Times carriers in January to win a $25 bond and $1 in savings stamps.

Richard Percoco Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Percoco of the Orienta Apartments in Mamaroneck now delivers The Daily Times to 69 subscribers on Bleecker, Rushmore and Orienta Avenues and the profits from his private enterprise remain right along the Sound shore, where his business lies, in the form of new equipment for his 22-foot Star class craft, "Old Ironsides."

A fourteen-year-old ninth grade student at Mamaroneck Junior High School, Dick has been carrying The Daily Times since 1949. There were only 40 subscribers in his territory when he took over. Each addition to the list represents, for Dick, extra hours afloat after his craft skims back into the water come Spring for another season of yachting.

He'll be striving for a first place this year in another competition besides the business-like one he just won and is already scanning racing news for regattas to enter. He raced almost once each week last year, but the best he could get was a second slot trophy. That

Resident's Car Damaged In Collision With Truck

Gregory Tomaselli of 115 New Street, Mamaroneck, was the driver of a 1938 sedan which was severely damaged yesterday in a collision with the rear of a fuel truck at Calvert and Harrison Avenues in Harrison.

He told Harrison police he was headed east on Calvert Street and had made a full stop at Harrison Avenue before starting across. His auto collided with the rear of a Suburban Fuel Oil Service vehicle operated north on Harrison Avenue by Russell Oakley of Bronxville. The truck was not reported damaged but the front of Tomaselli's auto was crushed and it was towed to Mamaroneck.

Venuti Taken To Grasslands, Placed Under Arrest There

BRONXVILLE—

Former Eastchester Democratic Chairman Joseph E. Venuti was removed from Lawrence Hospital on a stretcher at 11:15 A. M. today, after being served in his hospital room earlier with a warrant for his arrest.

Acting County Court Judge John P. Donohoe ordered Mr. Venuti's arrest yesterday to insure his appearance in court Monday when the Tuckahoe gambling conspiracy trial will resume.

Mr. Venuti, tightly wrapped in blankets, was removed in an ambulance, accompanied by a doctor and three Deputy Sheriffs.

Under Guard at Grasslands

A court order from Judge Donohoe, accompanying the warrant, directed that Mr. Venuti be kept at Grasslands Hospital, where he will be booked upon his arrival.

Acting Sheriff John E. Hoy said today Mr. Venuti would be kept under 24-hour guard by Deputy Sheriffs as long as he is confined in Grasslands.

Reporters were prevented from seeing Mr. Venuti at Lawrence Hospital, when a hospital authority reported:

"He doesn't want to see anyone. He's quite upset. He didn't know about the warrant until last night when his wife visited him."

Deputy Sheriff Maynard Allen, who served the warrant on Mr. Venuti in bed, reported the Democratic politician was cooperative. Mr. Allen was accompanied by Deputy Sheriffs William Fitzgerald and John Adams.

Codefendants with Mr. Venuti in the trial—which now has become an historic event in Westchester because of its duration—are Tuckahoe Mayor Millon A. Gibbons and Mrs. May B. Hayes, Yonkers stationery store proprietress. The three were indicted by the May Grand Jury on a charge of conspiring to set up a professional dice table in a village warehouse.

Phone Campaign Planned To Spur Interest In Panel Series

"Politics and You", the program of public discussion meetings to be presented by local Republicans, will be implemented by a campaign of letters and telephone calls to spur attendance, according to plans made last night at the home of Telephone Committee Chairman Mrs. G. E. Stewart, 2 Highwood Way, Larchmont.

Members of the committee reported to John O'Conor and Biehl Clarke, presidents of the two sponsor organizations, on their recruitment of some 80 volunteer workers for the job of contacting by phone the more than 5,000 enrolled Republicans and un-enrolled residents of the town. Calls will be made following receipt of written invitations which will be mailed next Monday. Included in the letters will be tickets for the first panel meeting on March 13 at 8:30 P. M. in Weaver Street Fire House, but a general invitation is extended by the Mamaroneck-Larchmont Republican Club and the Young Republican Club regardless of party affiliation.

Noting that the subjects of each of the three Thursday night programs will affect every voter, committee workers will seek to inform the great majority of town residents of their stake in the New York State Primaries of April 22.

The series here is an outgrowth of a greatly expanded program of political education to be conducted throughout the state. At a ses-

ARC Banners Herald Drive In Larchmont

The flutter of Red Cross flags and the gleam of red painted signs at the railroad station testify to the fact that Larchmont is in the midst of its annual Red Cross drive.

One of the most spectacular window displays in the village may be seen at Sylvia Cluxton's on Larchmont Avenue where one mannequin is dressed as a nurses' aide, another as a gray lady and a third wears the outdoor uniform of a Red Cross worker. They are flanked with Red Crosses, flags and posters.

Victor Herre's window on Palmer Avenue is dedicated to first aid and home nursing. A tiny doll lies in bed with a Red Cross nurse bending above her while nearby is a display of bandages, booklets of instruction and other related material.

Hugh A. Owens, display chairman, said today that there is hardly a window in Larchmont without its poster and placard. He paid tribute to the merchants who have given prominent space to the promotion of the drive.

"When you consider that shop windows are a merchant's most valued means of advertising and acquainting the public with his goods," he said, "you will realize that giving the space to Red Cross for an entire week is a very substantial contribution and one for which they receive thanks from the entire local Red Cross personnel."

Secretary Reports to Closed Session on Lisbon Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson today meets with the House Foreign Affairs Committee in the first stage of what may become a battle over foreign aid funds.

The secretary was due to a report in a closed session on results of the Lisbon conference of the 14-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Mr. Acheson returned yesterday from the Lisbon conference which decided on a formula for merging German units into a European Army, and set a $300 billion budget for Western European defense.

Would Gear Aid to Progress

Members of the House committee already have expressed belief that U. S. foreign aid should be geared to the actual progress made by European countries toward unification.

In that sense, Mr. Acheson's report on the Lisbon meeting was a prelude to the administration's forthcoming request for funds.

SPEAKER PROBES NIAGARA POWER

Con Ed Official Addresses Lions; Explains Expansion Possibilities

Three possible means for expanding electric power production facilities along the Niagara River were explained to the Larchmont Lions Club yesterday at the Shore Club by Carl Jackens, an official of the Westchester Division of the Consolidated Edison Company.

Of the three bills now before Congress relating to the Niagara River project, one calls for federal financing, the second would permit expenditure of New York State funds and the third would provide for investment of private capital, Mr. Jackens said.

If the project were built with federal money, he stated, a $300,000,000 burden would be thrown on taxpayers and special power rates would eventually be granted to cooperatives and municipalities. Mr. Jackens discounted the significance of such special rates, claiming there are only nine cooperatives with 2,500 members in the entire state.

He termed the state financing plan similar in most respects to the plan for a federally financed project, and noted that a governmentally sponsored venture would void millions of dollars in tax returns that would otherwise be forthcoming from a privately-owned enterprise.

If the power project were to be

Child Introduces 'Her Friend God' Always With Her

By ELAINE ST. JOHNS

My daughter, Kristen, has turned six years old . . . a thoroughly joyous being who inhabits a small, tanned body and inspects the world curiously through unperturbed blue eyes.

During her day of play it is very hard to tell when she is my daughter and when she is somebody else—Brave Heart or Gretel.

Every so often, because of her high regard for the truth, and to keep the record straight between us, she reassures me.

Elaine St. Johns

"It's only a 'pretend' Mommy," she confides.

"I'm really your little girl, Kristen."

But she has one special friend with whom no liberties are taken. That is "my friend God."

She introduced Him into our daily living when she was five. Sitting on the living room floor in a pool of sunbeams, Kristie seemed absorbed in crayoning. It should have been a quiet Sunday afternoon. But the radio had been nudged higher and higher so the Head of the House could hear the ball game above the noises that her brother, Koko, and I were making.

Suddenly over the din Kristie's voice rose. "My Friend God wants me to have peace," she pleaded.

Kristie Continues Her Art Work

In the shashed silence that followed, Kristie didn't even look up. She continued her art work.

Since then, I, who introduced them, have been humble before their ripening friendship. Humble, too, before the unfailing simplicity with which she approaches Him.

Where did she get her facts? She got them from the usual sources . . . Bible stories we read at home, Psalms we say together, from the little Sunday School where she and her playmates learn hymns. But the interpretation is strictly her own.

She has found that her Heavenly Father is always around, a thing she cannot truthfully say of her earthly parents. She is sure He created all things good and beautiful, hence He is a powerful ally, fully capable of assisting her with any problem. He has never let her down.

Wagon Lost? 'Better Ask God'

Take the matter of her red wagon. Did we, or did we not, lose it? One day it is there in its usual place, the next day it is gone.

We search diligently in all the possible places on our four acres. We ask Koko. We have done our best but we do not find it.

"Well," advises Kristie matter-of-factly, "We'd better ask God."

And because her blue eyes are fastened trustfully on mine, I sit down on the stone wall beside her and we ask. But I'm afraid it won't work.

Suddenly we are prompted to look in the coal shed, an unheard-of place for the red wagon anytime—especially during Summer months.

We go to look. It is there. We hug each other, rejoicing. Scrambling into the wagon and pushing off with one foot, Kristie says, "Thanks, God."

She has good-natured tolerance for those of us who "get away" from God temporarily by losing such human things as tempers or self-control. For there are times when she herself is not on the very best of terms with her Friend.

"Some days," she explains thoughtfully, "I just want to do what I want to do. I don't want to listen to Him."

Between Her And Her Friend

These are very unpleasant days, crammed with tears and punishments, and I am always grateful when she has had enough and creeps quietly into her room to "get close" to Him again.

Combing The Town

Greer Discharged

George Greer, son of Mrs. George A. Greer of 128 Elm Street, Mamaroneck, arrived home recently after receiving his discharge from the US Navy. He was a radioman second class.

Mr. Greer first enlisted in the Navy in 1945 following his graduation from Mamaroneck High School. He did anti-submarine work out of Newport, R. I., and was discharged in 1947. He was employed for a year by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad in Stamford.

Since February, 1948, when he enlisted for the second time, Radioman Greer has been stationed on Guam, on Koror in the Palau Islands and aboard the cargo ship USS Faribault.

He hopes to begin the study of electronics at the New York State Institute in White Plains next September.

Sea Scouts See Films

The third meeting of Mamaroneck's new Sea Scout Troop will be held Monday at 8 P. M. at Legion Hall under the direction of Gordon Brauninger, skipper.

Ten boys between the ages of fourteen and seventeen have enrolled so far. Last Monday's meeting featured a program of movies on navication and seamanship and movies will again be shown next Monday. The meetings will be held weekly at Legion Hall with a program of films every other week.

Dinner Chairman

Arthur I. LeVine of Orienta Point, Mamaroneck, is now serving as a member of the national coordinating committee for the 40th anniversary campaign of the National Council of Young Israel. In this post Mr. LeVine will act as chairman for a dinner to be held March 23 at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York City when the campaign will reach its climax.

The National Council is a world-wide organization that carries on religious, social and cultural activities in the United States, Canada, Israel and the Netherlands among youth and adult groups.

A native of London, England, Mr. LeVine is president of Ad Press Ltd., a printing concern, and has been in this country since 1903. He is prominent in numerous community and philanthropic organizations, including the United Homes for Aged Hebrews, the YMHA Beth David Hospital and the University Heights Jewish Center in New York. He is a member of the Westchester Jewish Center in Mamaroneck.

Return from Parley

Dr. Walter Lurie of 742 Halstead Avenue, Mamaroneck, and his wife, Dr. Olga Lurie, returned yesterday from Atlantic City where they were among 1,200 psychologists, psychiatrists and social workers attending the annual convention of the American Ortho-psychiatric Association.

Primarily concerned with promoting wholesome emotional development among children, the convention discussed the fostering of mental health in the home, school and community to prevent the occurrance of emotional problems in children from infancy through adolescence.

Dr. Walter Lurie does private vocational counseling and guidance and is program analyst of the National Community Relations Advisory Council in New York City. A graduate of Tulane University, he earned his Ph.D. at the University of Chicago. He is a fellow of the American Psychological Association and is affiliated with numerous other professional groups.

His wife is also a practicing psychologist and is a consultant to the Colonial Nursery School in Larchmont. She is a member of the American Psycholonical Association also and is a fellow of the American Orthopsychiatric Association.

They have lived in Mamaroneck since 1946.

Home from Korea

Corp Carmine Federico, veteran of 17 months' active duty in Korea, returned home recently to spend a 30-day furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Federico of 130 West Post Road, Mamaroneck.

A former student at Mamaroneck High School, Corp. Federico enlisted in the Air Force in November, 1947. Before being assigned to the 6132nd Aircraft Control Warning unit in Korea, he was stationed at Shaw Field, S. C., and at Munich, Germany.

He arrived in San Francisco by boat Feb. 21 and came East by plane early this week.

UNITED HOSPITAL FUND DRIVE GOES OVER $1,190,000

Record 2-Week Campaign Here Nears Total of $20,000

The United Hospital building fund soared last night to $1,193,305, almost 20 per cent over its announced $1,000,000 objective, as volunteer workers turned in their reports at a meeting at the Westchester Country Club.

The total has established an all-time record for subscriptions made to a hospital building fund during a single campaign in the history of Westchester County. Previously, the high mark was $1,120,000 subscribed for the United Hospital building project in 1928, when the objective was also $1,000,000.

Volunteer workers told campaign leaders that additional subscriptions are still being made by residents in all the communities served by the hospital and were informed that the "campaign books" will be kept open for one week more for the filing of final returns. By the time complete reports are made, it is expected that the fund will exceed the $1,250,000 maximum cost for United Hospital's enlargement program, already under way.

As a result of the campaign, United Hospital, now seriously overcrowded, will have up-to-date accommodations for 2,100 more patients each year than it can serve at present, as well as expanded surgical, obstetrical, nursery and laboratory facilities.

'More Than Money'

John C. Andresen, hospital president, told the workers their efforts produced "something more than money—something which means the best of health and protection for every family in this part of Westchester County."

The building fund volunteers in Port Chester, Rye, Mamaroneck, Harrison and Purchase reported a total of $152,144 in subscriptions during the two-week public campaign, which opened Feb. 13 after

Leap Year Babies Celebrate; Camillones Have 2 In Family

The unique phenomenon of two Leap Year Day births in the same family is being celebrated today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund P. Camillone of the Orienta Apartments, Mamaroneck, by four-year-old Donna-Lu Camillone and her grandfather, John Camillone of New Rochelle.

Born in 1948, Donna-Lu is having her first real birthday in four years while her grandfather, born Feb. 29, 1884, is observing his 16th birthday in 68 years. (No leap year was observed in 1900, so today becomes Mr. Camillone's 16th rather than 17th birthday.) Donna-Lu's parents are holding a party for their daughter and her friends this afternoon, and tonight a family gathering will be held to toast grandpa's health.

Today also marked the fifth Leap Year birthday of Edward C. Tillman Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Tillman, also of Orienta Apartments, Mamaroneck. Mr. Tillman is celebrating his fifth birthday (in his twentieth year) at the home with his parents.

A sophomore at Colgate University, Tillman is a member of the Army Reserve Officers Training Corp, Theta Chi Fraternity, Colgate Glee Club, and was ice-hockey goalie on the freshman team last year. He was Westchester All Star High School Goalie of 1950, his senior year at Mamaroneck High School.

'IKE' HAS MARGIN IN N. H. ESTIMATE

Editors' Survey Shows It's Only Slight Over Taft In Vote Battle

CONCORD, N. H. (AP)—A county-by-county newspaper estimate of popular sentiment in New Hampshire indicated today that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is holding a narrow, and possibly a shaky, margin over Senator Robert A. Taft in the battle for Republican votes in the state's Presidential primary election, March 11.

The editors of eight Associated Press member newspapers have been conducting a continuing survey, each in his immediate area.

Slight Edge for Ike

As of today, they gave these appraisals—

Gen. Eisenhower appears to have a 55-45 percentage edge over Senator Taft in communities covered by the Nashua Telegraph, the Dover Democrat and the Portsmouth Herald.

The editors of the Concord Monitor estimated a 52-48 lead for Gen. Eisenhower in Merrimack County.

Political observers on the Claremont Eagle, the Keene Sentinel, and the Manchester Union-Leader said sentiment in their areas appeared to be evenly divided, with

How To Avoid Trouble At Home If You Are Nicked For Speeding

The George Saxtons of 60 Walnut Street, New Rochelle, have hit upon an infallible recipe for avoiding arguments over their respective driving ability.

Mr. Saxton doesn't complain when his wife gets a ticket for speeding—and Mrs. Saxton offers a similar lapse on her husband's part with equal complaisancy.

How come? Simple. They drive separate cars and when one gets a ticket for speeding, the other one manages to get pulled in at the same time.

It happened last night on the Boston Post Road when Mrs. Saxton, driving her employer's car, pulled away from a gas station and headed west. Patrolman John J. Pendergast Jr. clocked her at 45 miles an hour and gave the familiar signal. Not before he had also signaled another speeder, however, which turned out to be Mr. Saxton headed in the same direction in his own auto.

The fines were $15 each in Mamaroneck Village Police Court this morning—and Mr. Saxton paid 'em both.

Other Fines

Judge Henry T. Hornidge also imposed a $75 speeding fine on Harvey Benedix of the Bronx and charged Harold Thomas Baldwin of New Rochelle $20 for driving while his license was suspended.

Two-dollar parking fines were paid by Wallace Jansen of Greenville, S. C., Mrs. Lynn Straus of New York City and Mrs. Dorothy Flexner of Harrison.

Harry Kurzrock of 620 Sylvan Avenue and Mrs. Alice Washington of 217 Royal Place, both Mamaroneck, were each fined $1 for permitting dogs to roam at large.

Construction May Start Soon On 2 Religious Buildings Here

The National Production Authority today announced allotments of controlled materials to permit construction of the new Westchester Jewish Center at Palmer and Rockland Avenue in Mamaroneck and a new school building for the Larchmont Avenue Church at 6 Wendt Avenue, Larchmont.

The NPA announced the allocations with assurances that materials will be made available for the $472,000 Jewish Center and the $250,000 Church School building during the last half of 1952 or the first quarter of 1953, in accordance with its policy of allowing sufficient time for planning and preparatory work before materials are needed.

Previous requests for allotment of materials had been turned down by the NPA.

COURT RULE AIDS HAROLD STASSEN

Pleases Kefauver By Deleting Slate He Said He Didn't Want to Run

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The entry of Senator Richard Russell of Georgia into the Democratic Presidential race raised serious threats today to the chances of candidate Estes Kefauver and possible-candidate Harry S. Truman.

At the same time, a ruling by the Minnesota Supreme Court seemed likely to present Republican candidate Harold E. Stassen with a home-base nucleus of Minnesota's 28 Presidential nominating delegates.

The court pleased Kefauver by ruling out a slate he said he didn't want to run in Minnesota against Senator Humphrey. D. Mgs. The effect will be to give Senator Humphrey, the only candidate, the state's 29 Democratic votes and make them available for President Truman if he runs.

Supporters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower were reported divided in their reaction to the court's ruling that a slate for the general couldn't run. Some wanted to contest Mr. Stassen, others to avoid a fight with him in a state where he formerly was Governor.

Left in the Republican race against Mr. Stassen in Minnesota was a slate pledged to Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who says he is not running.

Senator Russell, fifty-four-year-old lawyer who got national attention last year when he headed the Senate's investigation into Mr. Truman's firing of Gen. MacArthur as Pacific commander, created a stir in the Kefauver and Truman camps by getting into the race.

A U. N. spokesman said the Allied statement was the "strongest since last July" when the Reds were warned that armistice negotiations would break down unless they abandoned demands for a cease-fire line on the 38th Parallel.

Reds Also Firm on USSR

The Communists replied in almost equally strong language that "any such attitude of arrogance and arbitrariness will be categorically rejected by our side."

Col. Don Darrow told the Reds "Further debate on this subject is completely futile."

In an adjacent tent the subcommittee on prisoner exchange made little progress in its first session since Feb. 6. Staff officers turned the voluntary repatriation problem back to the subcommittee after reaching virtual agreement on all other points of an exchange plan.

Subcommitteemen ironed out some minor disputes today but failed to break the voluntary repatriation deadlock.

Rear Adm. R. E. Libby said the Communists again brought up the Feb. 18 riot in a U. N. prison compound on Koje Island in which 75 Korean civilians were killed and 139 wounded.

The Reds charged that Allied guards "massacred their people with rifles, hand grenades and tanks."

U. S. Army authorities announced in Pusan that a seven-man military board has completed its investigation of the Communist-led Koje riot.

FILTER CENTER DEPUTY NAMED

County C. D. Chief Announces Appointment of Mrs. Edna Schulhofer, Harrison

WHITE PLAINS—

Mrs. Edna Schulhofer of Harrison has been appointed Deputy Administrative Supervisor for the USAF Air Defense Filter Center here, it was announced today by William J. Slater, Westchester Civil Defense Director.

Lt. Gen. Clarence R. Huebner, State C. D. Director, welcomed Mrs. Schulhofer in a ceremony at the Filter Center, saying, "It's a pleasure to present to you these wings, representing service of the highest caliber."

Mrs. Schulhofer has been an active volunteer at the Center since September, 1950, during which time she has accumulated more than 200 hours of training time.

None Of Banned Books Found In Libraries Of Local Schools

None of the nine books banned from New York City schools on racial and religious grounds are on the shelves of Bellows or Mamaroneck High School, it was learned today by The Daily Times after questioning the principals of both schools.

NEW YORK (AP)—Eight textbooks and Paul Gallico's "Farewell to Sports" have been barred from city school libraries on grounds that the books slur minority racial and religious groups.

The Board of Education announced the action yesterday, with one board member describing Mr. Gallico's book as "viciously anti-Semitic."

He said one section contended that Jewish athletes excel in basketball because that sport calls for "shifty" tactics rather than brute force.

Book 14 Years Old

Mr. Gallico's book was published in 1938.

Although the names of the eight banned textbooks were not disclosed by the board, it was learned that they included "Strange Incuts and their Stories" by Hyatt Verril, and an early edition of Gavian and Hamm's "American Story."

The book about insects, according to a board member, contained "invidious references to the superiority of white ants over black ants."

The early edition of Gavian and Hamm's text reputedly described the purposes of the Ku Klux Klan as "patriotic." A new edition of the same book, with the offending section deleted, was added to the list of approved texts.

Rommel Story Banned

Also refused approval, pending further study, were "Rommel, the Desert Fox" by Desmond Young and "Wilch Hunt" by Carey McWilliams.

The Rommel book was described by some board members as a "glorification of the Nazi military system."

Mr. McWilliams' book, which deals with loyalty probes and inquiries into communism, was attacked by some board members as "one-sided, unsound and pro-Communist."

The board indicated, however, that the eight textbooks might be restored to the approved list if revised editions omitted the passages objected to.

CONTRACTS HAVE been signed for sale of this 11-room Colonial residence at 31 Colonial Road, White Plains, by Mrs. Helen P. Riegel to Lewis Wessel of Bronxville, according to Previews Inc., marketing agent. Leslie D. Kull of New Rochelle is the broker.

Industrialist To Purchase Showplace

Mrs. Helen P. Riegel has signed contracts to sell her Colonial showplace dwelling at 31 Colonial Road, White Plains, to Lewis Wessel of 76 North Road, Bronxville, a New York industrialist.

An unusual feature of the transaction is that the contract was signed in Florida, where Mr. and Mrs. Riegel and the selling broker, Leslie D. Kull of New Rochelle, were vacationing. Previews Inc. was marketing agent.

The 11-room house is located on a two-acre landscaped plot, including a formal garden, in one of the county seat's best residential sections. The house, built in 1938, is set well back from the road on a tree-shaded lawn. It was designed with a center hall running straight through the house, both downstairs and upstairs, from which the main rooms branch. Adjoining the large living room with fireplace is a library with a picture window overlooking the formal garden. Other main floor rooms include a dining room with connecting alcove kitchen, and flagstone terrace.

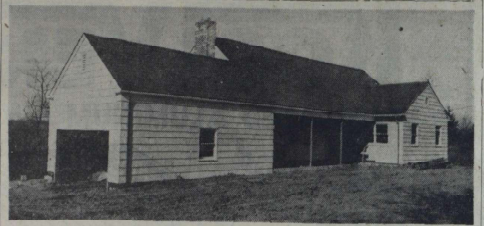
The second floor includes four master bedrooms, three baths, two servants' bedrooms and a bath. There is a two-car attached garage. The house has a full basement, brass plumbing, and a slate roof. The property was held for $62,500.

Mr. Wessel is president of Mexlite Industries Inc., New York.

Carnoy on Committee Of Home Builders Unit

Alan L. Carnoy of Larchmont, head of the Carnoy-Walter Construction Co. in White Plains, has been named a member of the steering committee of the Committee on Larger Homes of the National Association of Home Builders. He was appointed by Alan E. Brockbank of Salt Lake City, Utah, the president of the NAHB.

Irvin Blietz of Evanston, Ill., is chairman and O. C. Powell of Des Moines, Iowa, is vice chairman. Other members are: Arthur Fossier of Chicago, John Rakee of Detroit and John Worthman of Fort Wayne, Ind.



FINAL GRADING is being done on this eight-room house at West Street and Winfield Avenue, Harrison, being built for Mrs. Helen Crystal of Bellevue Road in the Westchester Country Club section. Completion of the work on this property, which was held for $51,500, is expected this Spring.—Staff Photo

New Colonial At Harrison Reported Sold

The Colonial type house under construction at West Street and Winfield Avenue, Harrison, has been purchased by Mrs. Helen Crystal, formerly of Bellevue Road in the Westchester Country Club section.

Of shingle and vertical flush-board siding, the house stands on a one-and-a-half acre plot surrounded by an old fashioned stone fence dating back to times when the area was farm country.

In addition, there are several old trees on the property. large front and side terraces, and a hard-surfaced drive.

Inside, the house has an entrance hall with lavatory, large living room with picture window, dining room with access to side terrace, modern kitchen, pine panelled library, and two master bedrooms and baths, one with a dressing room, all on the first floor.

The house also has a complete basement, two-car attached garage, and an air-conditioning oil heating unit.

Mrs. Crystal and her daughter, Judith, fifteen, and son, David, thirteen, expect to move into their new home in the Spring.

The house was sold for Patrick Petrosillo, Harrison builder, by Walter Haeger, Larchmont broker. The property was held at $51,500.

Shift Seen Spurring G. I. Loans in County

A recent amendment to the Servicemen's Readjustment Act will enable many Westchester was veterans to purchase homes of adequate size for their growing families, the Westchester Home Builders Association pointed out today.

Prior to the amendment, $4,000 was the limit a veteran could obtain on Veterans Administration guarantee. The amendment lifted the ceiling to $7,500.

Joseph E. Muson of Mount Vernon, counsel to the association, suggests that the amendment should serve to encourage banks and other lenders to make G.I. loans. Two county savings banks have indicated increased interest in this type of investment, it was learned, and others may follow.

At the end of World War II when veterans were desperate for housing, many purchased homes which were inadequate for their needs, or not entirely to their liking. In a majority of cases the family has grown.

Another recent amendment, this one to the Internal Revenue Act offers further aid. If the veteran sells his present home at a profit, the profit is not taxable if he invests it in the purchase of another home within a limited period—18 months if he builds a new home.

Proceeds of the sale, plus the more liberal mortgage ceiling, will put the veteran in position to make the substantial down payment on housing required by Regulation X, Mr. Muson points out.

Although many lenders have been reluctant to make G.I. loans because of the four per cent interest rate limit, a changing outlook is apparent and veterans whose credit rating is good and who are personally known to the lender usually can obtain a loan, Mr. Muson reports.

"Home building is the largest industry in the county. Regulation X and the current movement in Washington to curb higher priced homes will affect the home building industry in Westchester drastically," Mr. Muson stated. "This new opportunity offered veterans to use their profit, amortization and additional G.I. benefits to purchase new or existing dwellings should, in some measure, make up for the business loss occasioned by current restrictions on building."

PELHAM SALE—This nine-room four-bath house with three-car garage on a quarter-acre plot at 14 Benedict Place, Pelham, has been sold for Dr. and Mrs. Frank Camps-Campins to Mr. and Mrs. Cecil H. Thomes of Longmeadow, Mass., by John J. Donohue, Pelham broker. It was listed at $35,000. The center hall stucco house has a tile roof. Mr. Thomes has been transferred to the New York office of the McLellan Stores Co.

Estates Sold In Bedford, New Castle

Recent sales of acreage estates in Bedford and New Castle have been reported by the real estate office of Janice S. Winterling Inc., Mount Kisco.

The 14-acre estate of George Arents Jr. on Succabone Road, has been sold to Andrew D. Hall of Mount Kisco. Name of the purchaser was disclosed by County Clerk's office records. Walter King Cooley of the Cooley Realty Co., Mount Vernon, was exclusive agent for the owner. The property has frontage on three roads and includes a Southern Colonial mansion dating from the 19th Century, tenant cottage, large barn, small greenhouse and other outbuildings.

A tract of land on South Bedford Road has been sold for James Van Toor of New York to Benjamin Greenspan, an adjoining owner.

A large tract on Millwood Road was sold for Harold J. Hustis of White Plains to Mason B. Starring 3d of Mount Kisco.

The Colonial home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Evans on Cross River Road, Bedford, was sold to Mr. and Mrs. William Julius Jr. of Mount Kisco.

Mount Vernon Broker Buys in White Plains

A Mount Vernon real estate broker and builder will establish a branch office in White Plains, it was disclosed in sales reported today by Mrs. M. L. Clark, White Plains broker.

The business parcel at 134 Court Street, improved with an eight room house and three baths, has been sold to Walter King Cooley, Inc., of Mount Vernon for Abraham Goldstein, who held the property at $30,000. There is parking space in the rear. After alterations the buyer will occupy part of the building as a branch office with Douglas Cooley in charge.

A six-room house with bath and garage on a plot 100 x 148 feet at 135 Clinton Street, White Plains, has been sold for Mrs. W. C. Grape to A. T. Hogan of New Rochelle, by Mrs. Clark. It was held at $10,000.

A vacant business plot with a frontage of 100 feet on North Broadway, north of the branch post office at the corner of Fisher Lane, was sold to Carl Rossing, White Plains contractor. It was held at $20,000.

Mortgage Lending Cut In Half for County

FHA on conventional mortgage lending in Westchester last year was cut in half, compared with the previous year, according to a survey by the Title Guarantee and Trust Co.

The total was $18,520,000. The decline in FHA lending was 76 per cent and in conventional mortgages, 28 per cent.

Trap Rock Co. Starts Work on Yonkers Office

The Mount Vernon Trap Rock Corp. will erect a one-story building on Central Park Avenue, Yonkers, to rent to the National Cash Register Co. for its Westchester headquarters.

National Cash Register signed a 15-year lease for the building when Dominic Luciano, president of the Trap Rock Corp., purchased the 50,000 square foot site.

The new quarters will give National Cash Register the additional space it needs to handle increased business with plants having defense contracts. Excavation has started at the site, and the company hopes to occupy the building in July.

National Cash Register has been in Yonkers about 40 years, and maintains offices at 246 and 510 South Broadway. Besides providing more space, the new structure will consolidate the offices. Surrounding property will provide parking area for 50 customer cars and eight company vehicles an advantage the company never enjoyed on South Broadway.

The building will be constructed to the register firm's specifications, according to T. C. Friedmann, manager, and is estimated to cost $70,000. It will contain about 12 rooms for the staff of 30 employes.

The Central Park Avenue site was chosen because of its proximity to Westchester parkways and the route of the New York to Buffalo Thruway. It is approximately 400 feet north of the population center of Westchester.

The building was planned by Hall and Paufve, architects, of Tuckahoe. The sale and lease agreements were negotiated by C. Van Ness Wood, Yonkers broker, and title was insured through the Title Guarantee and Trust Co. of White Plains.

NEW HEADQUARTERS for the Westchester branch of the National Cash Register Co. will open on Central Park Avenue in Yonkers in July. This rendering by Hal and Paufve, architects, shows the $70,000 structure which the Mount Vernon Trap Rock Corp. will erect and rent to the company.

Appraiser Conference To Hear Talk by Pace

Gerald Pace of Pace Associates Inc., Bronxville, will be among the speakers at the twelfth annual conference of the New York State Society of Real Estate Appraisers March 14 at the Hotel Astor, New York.

Albert W. Lockyer of White Plains president, will welcome the group.

A SECTION of the Crossroads development in Briarcliff is shown above. The development, located off Route 9 A, will have 85 homes with completion this Fall. David and Morris Bogdanoff are builders.

Bogdanoffs Planning 150 More Homes

David and Morris Bogdanoff, builders of the Crossroads development in Briarcliff, will continue to build in the area upon completion of the 85 home project in late Fall.

The builders are now formulating plans for the development of 150 homes in Ossining on the former Donald Estate of 96 acres on Somerstown Road. Recently the developers presented a plan of the Torbank development to the Town of Ossining Planning Board.

Homes in this area would be similar to those in the Crossroads development. This land was sold to the Ossining Hospital Association by Anne Donald and purchased by the Bogdanoffs this Fall.

With the completion of the Torbank development the Westchester builders will have completed 370 homes in northern Westchester. Last year the builders completed Tarrytown Crest, erecting 135 homes.

Their present project the Crossroads located east of Route 9A now has 30 homes constructed. Recently the second section of the development was started with buyers for 20 homes making total purchases 36.

Guarding against the "look alike" effect, the developers are using over 20 different plans for the ranch-type home ranging in price from $16,700 to $21,500.

The $1,500,000 development on 44 acres was started last August.

Nelco Sees Big Year for Pre-Cut Homes

The Nelson Construction Co. of Chappaqua, which has sold more than 100 Nelco Plan custom pre-cut homes in Westchester since 1946, is anticipating a banner year in 1952.

Among the recent sales is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Barnes on Ridgeview Drive, in the Lake Street section of Mount Pleasant. This Sylvan model contains 976 square feet of floor area including three bedrooms. It also has a full basement, a photography dark room, and a two-car garage.

Nelco Plan houses are designed on a two-foot module. After conferences with buyers on what they want in a house, plans are drafted. Room sizes on a standard plan can be enlarged or reduced, or wings added, on the two-foot module basis.

The company was founded 30 years ago by Gottfried Nelson. It built most of the houses in Chappaqua Ridge, off Route 117. The modular plan of building was adopted about 10 years ago by his son, Earl Nelson, who is president of the firm. The lumber is pre-cut in the company plant on North Greeley Avenue, Chappaqua, and a complete house is delivered to the owner's plot for erection. Prices start at $10,990.

The company delivers without charge within a 30-mile radius and has sold homes in Scarsdale, Rye, Port Chester, Greenburgh, Tarrytown, Briarcliff, Elmsford, Valhalla, Hawthorne and Thornwood.

Nelco Plan model homes have been inspected by thousands of visitors to the Westchester Better Homes Exposition at County Center in recent years. The 1950 model, erected on the stage at the Center, was sold later to Edward Binns, television entertainer. It was torn down, trucked to Chappaqua Ridge and reassembled. Similarly the 1951 model, erected outside the main entrance, has been transferred to Chappaqua Ridge as a showplace.

DINERS TO SEE FILM

Manufacturer's representatives will show a film on masonry waterproofing products at the monthly dinner meeting of the Westchester-Home Builders Association Monday at 6:30 P. M. at Hillmann's Inn, Hartsdale.

Building Costs in N. Y. Area Show No Change Since Year Ago

Using White Plains and Yonkers as Westchester samples, a survey indicates that building costs in the New York metropolitan area have not changed since a year ago.

White Plains and Yonkers report a one per cent increase, but decreases elsewhere in New York and New Jersey balance the small Westchester increase, according to Myron L. Matthews in the current Dow Service Daily Building Reports.

The survey is based on material costs of brick, cement, lumber, plaster, steel and iron, and prevailing wage rates. No change in material prices was disclosed in White Plains and Yonkers.

Labor costs were up three per cent in White Plains and two per cent in Yonkers, as measured in hourly wage rates, but actually the increase is considerably smaller due to increased productivity, Mr. Matthews states.

White Plains building costs are rated three per cent higher than costs in New York City, while Yonkers costs are three per cent less.

Compared with 1941, costs in Yonkers are up 147 per cent and in White Plains 142 per cent. Translated into a sample project, a building which cost $10,000 to build in 1941 would now cost $24,700 to build in Yonkers and $24,200 in White Plains.

The same $10,000 building would cost $25,800 in Trenton, N. J., but only $21,200 in Jersey City, the survey shows.
