CHAOS IN DISTRIBUTION

A Coupons May Be Eliminated From Ration Program, Dealers Hear

NEW YORK (AP)—The executive board of the Eastern States Gasoline Dealers Conference has asked the Office of Price Administration to permit an increase in the sales price of gasoline to permit retail dealers to "survive" the "long, general" cost of the group, said today.

In Boston, Frederick W. Moore, executive secretary of the Retail Gasoline Dealers Association of Massachusetts, said that he had received reports from Washington that A-coupons might be eliminated from the rationing program.

Moore said the dealers were asking for a 1.5 cent increase in the price of gasoline to offset the increase in the cost of A-coupons as an elimination of the coupons is imminent.

Meanwhile, it was learned that representatives of the oil industry would probably recommend to the Petroleum Administration for War that the rationing program be reduced with possible elimination of A-coupons in order to make it possible to move more fuel oil for heating purposes.

Hertz said the eastern states group has proposed to the OPA for an increase through the rationing program. The Washington members of the conference he said the executive committee would meet in New York tomorrow to make a survey of the entire situation.

"From the testimony before the senate yesterday," said Hertz, "it would indicate that something is going to be done."

"With supplies available for gas, the rationing program is causing winter difficulties of overhauling and transportation. The last 10 days have again witnessed something approaching chaos in distribution."

"The factor is emerging more clearly all the while, and that is that little hope for genuine construction of a rationing program exists as long as the rationing program is divided."

HEARINGS TO RESUME

BULLETIN
LONDON (AP)—Reports reached London today that the German armies in the Caucasus have been ordered to hold their positions at all costs, even to a last-ditch stand in the event the Russians cut their corridor of escape through Rostov.

The information, so far unconfirmed, said the German plan was to supply the Caucasus Strategic Group of hand communications failed.

Heavy battles raged on five great fronts in the Russian campaign today, impelling the Germans on a 1,000-mile line, with the Red Armies of Col-Gen. Nikolai F. Vatutin threatening to spring a fresh trap around Nazi garrisons in the Don Bend 100 miles west of Stalingrad.

Soviet dispatches said two Russian forces lacked only 30 miles of forcing the final link in a new ring around the Germans following the capture of Cherkassk and the Nazi air base at Cherkassk, 40 miles to the north. Units of the two Red Armies would encircle more divisions of the German forces, it was reported.

Russian Headquarters denouncing German claims of success as "illusory lies," as foolish as they are false," reported an Associated Press dispatch.

"Our troops continued their attacks and occupied several important places," the Soviet Command announced.

Especially fierce engagements took place in the area of a large village. The Germans threw considerable numbers of infantry and tanks into the attack. In the night, Soviet troops routed the German forces and drove them from the village.

Pressing their comeback drive through the Caucasus, the Russians were reported surging ahead from newly-captured Mirok, gateway to the Grozny oil fields, and south-east of Nalchik.

MIDDLE DON—The German High Command threw masses of reinforcements into one sector of the Middle Don, scoring a slight gain, but Red Army tanks were driven into the battle, killing several hundred Nazis and wrecking 49 enemy tanks.

A Soviet communiqué said the Middle Don (AP) — American shipyards advanced President Roosevelt's goal of producing 800,000 dead weight tons of shipping in 1942. Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, chairman of the Maritime Commission, reported today.

The plan originally had been to mount the yards on top of two existing sites in each city, which would have meant razing some yards across the street from the power lines to make the necessary room.

The plan was placed by the tentative plan, as the trustees finally approved the results furnished by the plan and the following.

County Shows 12 P. C. Rise In Juvenile Delinquency Under Impact Of War

Judge Says Revels Greatest Increase During Last Half Year

BY WORTH JUDGE
Personal cases of delinquency rose 12.4 per cent in Westchester last year under the impact of the war, Judge Smith declared today in a report to the Children's Court Judge George W. Smith disclosed in a speech before the White Plains Council of Social Agencies yesterday noon at the White Plains YMCA.

Yet the war offers an unexcelled opportunity to meet the menace of juvenile delinquency, Judge Smith declared. The increased trend to religion, brotherhood and patriotism can be welded into a strong force to counteract the rising tide of youthful delinquency, he asserted.

Although schools in Westchester are doing a "marvelous job" in leading children to citizenship, they must do more, Judge Smith said. Children spend four-fifths of their waking hours out of school. The schools must accept increasing responsibility for providing leisure time activities during the four-fifths of the day, the speaker declared.

The increase in juvenile delinquency was not limited in Westchester during the first six months, although figures for the rest of the state of New York showed a 22 per cent increase. In many industry centers the increase was 25 per cent.

The figures for the complete year were more disquieting. Judge Smith went on. The increase of 12.4 per cent in Westchester is based on the average for the years 1933 through 1940.

A distinct increase in informal cases where court action was not required, raised the total to a record high of 475 as compared with 328 the previous year. The combined total of formal and informal cases reached 523, a figure 100 above the previous high in 1938.

"We are not alarmed in Westchester," although we know this," Judge Smith said.

KNOX DOUBTS IT

MELBOURNE (AP)—Melbourne newspapers displayed prominently today a statement by a government official that the Japanese were reported massing the largest armada they have yet sent into the southwest Pacific and that Japanese aircraft apparently operating from submarines had been scouting the Australian northeast coast.

In Washington, Navy secretary Knox said that there were always enemy ships at Rabaul, New Britain, but that "to the best of my knowledge there is no unusual concentration at the moment. It had been asked at a press conference whether the Navy had information of a concentration of Japanese shipping at Rabaul preparatory for an attack on Guadalcanal or the allied-held part of New Guinea."

The published accounts said reports of intensive enemy activity for the past few days had reached the Federal Government, but that the Japanese had information of a concentration of Japanese shipping at Rabaul preparatory for an attack on Guadalcanal or the allied-held part of New Guinea.

Richard's Plans To Mount Air Raid Alarms Up Utility Poles
The problem of how to wire up two air raid sirens in the Village of Larchmont without benefit of wire from the War Production Board came in for some "hot" discussion in the cold chambers of Larchmont's Board of Trustees at the latest meeting in the Municipal Building last night.

Village Engineer Arthur Richards, who has been repeatedly turned down by the Protective Division of the WPB in his efforts to get an okay for the purchase of 27 feet of copper wire needed to hook up two sirens the village purchased last October, told the board a communication signed by Herbert S. Marks, acting director of the WPB's power division in Washington, said the reason the request for wire could not be approved was because the Village of Larchmont was "not in the approved area."

This pronouncement elicited some stormy comments from Mayor Harry E. Gossaker and Treasurer Frank A. Washburn, Jr. "Not in the approved area?" Mr. Gossaker exploded. "Why do they pick on us?" Aren't we just as vital a spot as the rest of Westchester? How come all the other villages around us are in the target area and we're not?

Mr. Richards did not attempt to throw any light on the power division chief's meaning of the term "approved area," but he did have a plan to get around the WPB, and it amounts to this:

He is to get together with the Westchester Lighting Company to arrange for mounting the sirens on top of two utility poles in each city, which would have meant razing some yards across the street from the power lines to make the necessary room.

The plan was placed by the tentative plan, as the trustees finally approved the results furnished by the plan and the following.

Slaughtering Of Local Herds Expected To Relieve Meat Shortage

By The Associated Press
Beef may soon be more plentiful in some sections of the country, but reports indicated today that there will be no general alleviation of the civilian undernourishment.

A spokesman for the American Meat Institute in Chicago declared that the Army is taking very large quantities of beef and that "Army needs come first."

A cause of the civilian undernourishment, some meat packers asserted, is that the government has placed a ceiling on prices without balancing ceiling on livestock.

"There is a terrific loss in most beef and to remain in business we can't afford to kill any more animals than we have," one Pittsburgh packer said. "If means we keep Army orders filled but don't always have the 70 per cent of last year's meat available to get on to civilian trade."

Slaughtering of local herds was advanced as one of means of relieving the shortage in many communities.

A graduate of Mamaroneck High School, Lieut. Schermer was commissioned a second lieutenant on March 7, 1942, and was assigned to Camp Croft, S. C. He was a member of the S.O.C. at N. Y. U.

Begins Air Training

Chief Roger Rice, 25, son of Mr. Clara S. Rice, 219 Brooks Street, Village, has just begun the stepping-up new nine-week course of basic flight training at the Army Air Field, Tex., the "West Point of the Air," it was learned here today.

Before enlisting in the Army Air Corps, the P. E. Ballows High School graduate, Class of 1938, was employed by the Texaco Company in New York. He returned last March from 10 months' service for the company in Central America to enlist. Following training at the San Antonio air base, Cadet Rice will be transferred for another intensive nine-week advanced course at a Gulf Coast Training Center, where he will receive his wings and commission as a second lieutenant in the Army Air Forces.

Skating Today

Good news for skaters was received by Village Manager William H. Johnson today with the announcement that there will be skating on Harbor Island beginning this afternoon. The ice will be cut on the water and will be in place by 4 o'clock. The skating will be on the new rink, and will be open to all skaters.

Don't Delay!

Passenger car owners who have filed out and mailed their record forms but have not yet received back the part of the record which they must have for periodic inspection of their cars are asked by the local War Relocation Authority (No. 25093) to make out a duplicate form and mail it to the board office, 430 Mamaroneck Avenue, Village, N. Y.

Chairman Harry E. Kelly urges all car owners not to delay inspection of time, the time which must be made by Jan. 31. To postpone this inspection for any length of time would mean an expense of the month would impose an unnecessary burden on the car owner.

Cadet Transferred

Aviation Cadet R. Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Morris, 5 Oriani Drive, Town, has been transferred from Mamaroneck, Ala., where he completed his pre-flight training, to the 68th Army Air Force Base, Tuskegee, Ala. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan.

Third President

Mr. Moore was appointed club president last November to succeed Richard L. Henschel of Larchmont Acres, now in the Army.

Armed Forces Get 30 P. C. of Butter

WASHINGTON, (AP)—America's armed forces and their allies are going to get 30 per cent of the nation's monthly production of government butter and virtually all of the canned citrus juices.

The new government order, effective Jan. 1, is expected to set aside 510,000,000 pounds of butter this year for war requirements, leaving about 1,100,000,000 pounds for civilians.

Secretary of Agriculture Wickard said last night that the current allotment will permit about 13 pounds of butter each in 1944 as compared with an estimated per capita consumption of 12 pounds last year.

CAL SKIDS INTO ANOTHER

Clyde Taylor, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Taylor, 111 New Street, Village, reported to Mamaroneck High School yesterday afternoon that while making a right hand turn into a parking space on 22nd Mamaroneck Avenue, his car skidded and bumped into the rear of a car owned by Joseph Catalucci, a defense worker who lives at 2224 Mamaroneck Avenue. The Japanese had been attempting for weeks to establish a strong air base there, presumably for operations against American troops on Guadalcanal.

Russian Army quickened the flood-tide of German disaster in the Caucasus and Middle Don today, engulfing at least six vital new cities and towns, and there were indications that a final drive had begun to annihilate the remnants of 22 Nazi divisions trapped before Stalingrad.

Soviet approaches said the German Army was in full retreat in the Caucasus, blowing up bridges and mining roads in a desperate attempt to delay the onrushing Soviets.

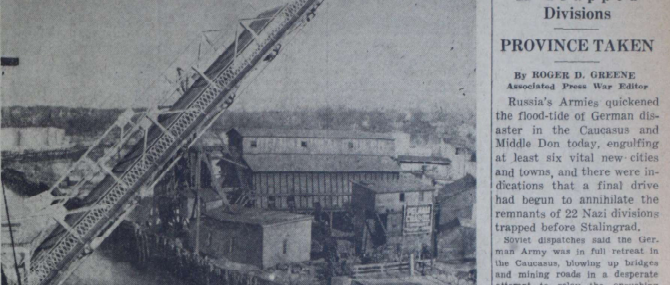

Reuters, British news agency, estimated that more than half a million of Hitler's finest troops were in heading withdrawal before the twin Russian offensives in the Caucasus and Middle Don. Hitler's High Command acknowledged that 22 German divisions were pressing the initiative, declaring "Heavy defensive fighting continued with unabated fury in the Don-Volga Corridor."

Dispatches to Red Star, the Russian Army newspaper, reported that the entire Caucasian Province had been captured by the Red Army. It was reported that the Red Army had captured the town of Nalchik, a large number of towns.

Looking back over the year's "100's", Mr. Payne noted that the most notable one, that most marriages in uniform are happy and long-lasting, and that many couples are being young couples. Mr. Payne, who picks up a lot of over-the-counter information, while blushing and giving information from the struggle with medical certificates and vital statistics records by the state, contends that 90 percent of the military marriages are between "steadies" from one to three months, managing to save the main part of the house with some damage.

Drive On To Wipe Out 22 Trapped Divisions

PROVINCE TAKEN

By ROGER D. GREENE

Associated Press War Editor

Russian Army quickened the flood-tide of German disaster in the Caucasus and Middle Don today, engulfing at least six vital new cities and towns, and there were indications that a final drive had begun to annihilate the remnants of 22 Nazi divisions trapped before Stalingrad.

Soviet approaches said the German Army was in full retreat in the Caucasus, blowing up bridges and mining roads in a desperate attempt to delay the onrushing Soviets.

Reuters, British news agency, estimated that more than half a million of Hitler's finest troops were in heading withdrawal before the twin Russian offensives in the Caucasus and Middle Don. Hitler's High Command acknowledged that 22 German divisions were pressing the initiative, declaring "Heavy defensive fighting continued with unabated fury in the Don-Volga Corridor."

Dispatches to Red Star, the Russian Army newspaper, reported that the entire Caucasian Province had been captured by the Red Army. It was reported that the Red Army had captured the town of Nalchik, a large number of towns.

The fighting in the Caucasus, Russian headquarters reported a battle in the Caucasus, blowing up bridges and mining roads in a desperate attempt to delay the onrushing Soviets.

Russia's victorious armies, rippling through a wall of German resistance with tanks and planes, were reported to have advanced to only within 65 miles of the great German base at Rostov, on the Lower Don River, and for the first time since the Nazis seized Rostov in the bitter struggle.

The fall of Rostov, gateway to the Caucasus, the center of German forces unofficially estimated at between 200,000 and 1,000,000 troops, announced the evacuation of the civilian population of Rostov, key Nazi base for the attacking of Moscow, as a precautionary measure.

This suggested that Rabe, a system link in the German defense system in the Caucasus, was under dangerous threat by Soviet troops who have been storming it since December.

Advancing Russians Recapture 20 More Towns

RAF RAIDS RUHR

By ROGER D. GREENE, Associated Press Staff Writer

Russia officially challenged Germany today to tell the truth about the disaster rapidly enveloping Adolf Hitler's invasion armies, even as Soviet troops recaptured more than 20 additional towns in their triumphant sweep through the lower Dan River valley and the Caucasus.

Despite the Soviet job, Hitler's Field Headquarters still resorted to generalities and gave the German people no intimation that the once-conquering Nazis legions were suffering their worst setbacks of the war.

The German High Command in the East, however, balked and the amendment approved by the House, to put selective service on a statewide basis instead of on a local basis.

Rep. Kilday, D. Texas, sponsor of the amendment, said he would introduce it again next Monday, and may attempt to support it.

GAS POLICE CHECK PLEASURE DRIVERS

100 OPA Inspectors Reported Busy In County

CLUBS DESERTED

By THEODORE R. GOETZ

Police in Westchester today turned additional suspected pleasure driving license numbers over to local rationing boards, parkway police began a check of cars at skating ponds and other amusement places, filling stations again instituted their own rationing systems as deliveries of gasoline were cut in half this morning, a score more registrations turned back their 1943 registration plates, and reports gained currency that the OPA is studying new restrictions on taxicabs by which many riders have been beating the pleasure-gasoline ban.

School closings and altered vacation schedules cut Westchester as much as 100,000 gallons of gasoline to coal before the Jan. 21 deadline. But the strike in Pennsylvania coal mines threatens a shortage which will be worsened by conversion.

OPA TIGHTENS UP ON RATONS FOR DRIVERS IN EXTRA FUEL CLASSES

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Office of Price Administration today announced that it has tightened up on rationing for drivers in extra fuel classes.

The new regulations are designed to prevent the use of extra fuel for non-essential purposes and to ensure that the most essential drivers receive their full share of the limited supply.

The regulations apply to drivers who are classified in the extra fuel classes, such as those who operate heavy machinery, transport goods, or provide essential services.

Drivers in these classes must now obtain special permits from the OPA to purchase extra fuel, and they must keep accurate records of their purchases and usage.

The OPA also announced that it will be conducting a series of inspections to ensure that the regulations are being properly enforced.

STATE TO SHARE COSTS

City, Town And Village Plans For Improvement Total $25,000,000

Postwar projects in Westchester totaling more than $35,000,000 in cost of construction have been listed with the State as the county's program for public improvements after the war to take up the anticipated slack of employment. It was learned today.

The streetcar J. R. Babson, L. L. field consultant for the State Commission for Postwar Public Works Planning, conferred yesterday and today in White Plains on the list with County Executive Herbert C. It is said today he will submit the list to Albany where an appropriation of approximately $2,000,000 is to be asked of the Legislature for the individual items of the state-wide program.

Under the plan, explained Mr. Babson, the State will contribute 50 percent of the cost for dollar the cost of the plan and the county will contribute the balance on projects unless the municipality or county to pay one-third of the project.

Westchester, he said, has listed such projects with costs ranging from $100,000 to $14,000,000, while the State will contribute $7,000,000 in programs aggregating $5,000,000. The State will contribute $1,000,000, he said, but of the towns receiving such projects, only four—Rye, Eastchester, Mamaroneck, and Yonkers—will be asked to contribute.

Control Of Larchmont Reservoir Proposed For Immediate Flood Relief

Increased Deposits Total $26,908,347, President Tells Stockholders

The County Trust Company with an office in White Plains and branches in Hastings, Hartsdale, Scarsdale, Mamaroneck, Larchmont and the unincorporated section, according to the chief of the three local groups.

No reason for alarm was seen here despite the statements made yesterday by Deputy Protection Director Roscoe Holbrook and Mayor Stanley W. Chase, Jr., of Roselle, that the new driving restrictions are impeding the retail civilian protection operation.

Mr. Holbrook called on O.C.D. Director James M. Landa for a letter yesterday and the use of cars by emergency personnel. Mayor Chase sent telegrams to Mr. Landa and Governor Lehman stating that "if volunteers are held to this ban on civilian protection, it means the complete breakdown of the civilian protection service."

No complaint against the ban will be lodged by either William Wilson, Jr., or the Town of White Plains, the Mamaroneck and Larchmont civilian protection units, they say today.

Because of the shorter distance to the stores, the use of cars by emergency personnel, many of the defense volunteers are being held to use their cars and those who do are entitled to supplementary gas.

Flames which broke out in the basement of a residence owned by J. N. Reed, at 43 Hillside Road, Town, causing damage estimated at $4,200, ripped through the house for four hours yesterday before the Town Fire Department could get them under control. The cause of the blaze, the third in the town in 48 hours, was not known. Chief George W. Burton said.

According to the chief, the blaze started around the furnace and ignited the gas meter. Flames then mushroomed up through the ceiling partitions to the third floor and burned several small holes in the roof before they were extinguished. The first and second floors were burned through around the chimney, the chief reported. There was also considerable water and smoke damage.

A general alarm was sounded at 7:28 P. M. and the recall came at 7 P. M. The apparatus was in charge of Chief Burton and Deputy Chief Charles Conte.

WILL ACP ENTERS SAFETY CAMPAIGN

Protection Of Pedestrians Aim Of Drive Enticing Clubs, PTA Schools

A vigorous safety campaign will be conducted this year in Mamaronock following the example of the AAA national pedestrian protection contest which was announced today by Police Chief Arthur W. Marston.

Senior high school children and PTA associations will be enlisted in the drive, aimed not only at increasing Mamaronock's safety record but also in competition with other municipalities for an annual citation awarded to communities having the most effective safety program and having the best record in the contest.

Patrols will be deployed at prominent spots about the village and members of the police force will deliver talks before civic organizations, school children and PTA groups.

The village had one pedestrian fatality in 1942 but an increase has been reported in accidents to persons crossing thoroughfares since the inauguration of strict regulations. Although gasoline rationing has brought a sharp drop in automobile deaths in Westchester at the same time it has increased the proportion of pedestrian cases among fatalities by motor vehicles. The dimout may be a factor in increasing the danger to persons on foot.

All of the first four victims of automobiles in the county this year were pedestrians. Each of the fatalities occurred after dark when visibility is much lower on dimmed-out streets than last year. However, the four deaths this month compare with seven up to this time last January which was the worst month of 1942 for automobile fatalities with 14 killed.

Automobiles in the past three weeks have killed pedestrians in Elmwood Park, including Harry T. Ryan and White Plains.

Russians Capture Railroad Hub At Salsk

RUHR HIT AGAIN

By ROGER GREENE, Associated Press War Editor

Fire-battered Tripoli, the pride of Premier Mussolini's vanquished African Empire, fell to the assault of British shock troops at 5 A. M. today and vanguards of the triumphant British 8th Army lunged in pursuit of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's column retreating into Tunisia.

"Our forward troops entered Tripoli early this morning," British Headquarters announced.

Consistently with the United Nations victory ebbing Tunis Minister Churchill's 1942 pledge that the Pacific Empire in Africa would be "back to back and shoulder-to-shoulder" with the Red Army of Russia piled up fresh triumphs all along the 1,200-mile Desert front.

In swift succession, the Russians reported they had captured the rail hub of Salsk, 100 miles southeast of Rostov, and that the four columns of the great Donets valley industry were retreating 10 to 15 miles southwest, and 100 miles southwest of Velnik along the Central Caucasus front.

The fall of Salsk rubbed out a main base on the German plan for a counter-offensive in the mountains of 22 Nazi divisions trapped before Stalingrad.

RAP bombers returned to the assault on Hitler's great war foundation in the German Ruhr, striking for the second time in 24 hours and the 12th time this month.

"At least part of Rommel's battered forces, estimated at approximately 100,000 men, had already fled across the Libyan Frontier and were reported in contact with Col. Gen. Jürgen Von Arnim's Axis Army, holding the Mareth line, 65 miles inland Tunisia.

United Nations Headquarters in North Africa said German parachute troops were dropped behind the Axis line in Tunisia in a fruitless attempt to break up re-organized German units that had slipped down the Kofir River and the Ouassala Valley.

Units of the Nazi sky troops were quickly rounded up. It was announced that the Mareth line, 65 miles inland Tunisia.

German and Allied ground forces continued to fight in the Ouassala Valley, below Port of Fuah, while American and British planes bombed and shot up the Nazi columns.

Military experts said it was expected that Rommel, despite the reduction of his troops, would attempt a new delaying action behind the French-British fronts fortifications, a triple-line system of concrete emplacements and pillboxes extending 60 miles inland from Zarzis, on the Tunisian coast to the Matmata Mountains.

Dispatches said British troops were moving into Tripoli at dawn from the sea, using the atoll of Barbary pirates, in flames. Axis demolition squads were reported to have added to the havoc wrought by Allied bombs and shells.

The fall of the Axis citadel el Mareth, a 1,200-mile-long strip across the desert from El Alamein, Egypt, the farthest point of Rommel's offensive toward the Suez Canal, and left the Axis bottled up in a 90-mile strip of territory along the African North Coast.

COMBING THE TOWN

Army Graduate

Harold Finson, son of Mrs. Rose Finson, 515 Wagner Avenue, Village, and brother of Alexander Finson, clerk at the town superintendant, was graduated last week from the U. S. Air Corps Technical Training School at Colorado State College, and was transferred to Base Hospital 10 at Kellie Field, Mich., where he is now an engineer and operations clerk. He was inducted into the service Nov. 8.

In a letter telling of his recommendation for a good conduct medal because his "demeanor and cheerfulness impressed the adjutant," Pvt. Finson says, among other things:

"I feel that I have been given a very square deal by the service and have no cause to complain. I suppose I will have to stand it, once every four weeks and that isn't bad at all. . . but you haven't heard of any other bragging. . . I just feel that they have treated me like a man and I am grateful for it. . . one of the fellows in the barracks has a radio and it helps to relieve the monotony of the long evenings. . . the only thing we have to do is to get through with it. . . so if you have any other leading matter I'll be glad to go along with it. . . I would appreciate it if you would send it to me."

At Flying School
Aviation Cadet John M. Palmer, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Palmer of 105 North Chatsworth Avenue, Town, was reported at the Lockheed Army Flying School, Lockheed, Texas, for the final lap of the training which is preparing him for the silver wings and gold stars of an Air Corps Flying Officer.

MYSTERY CLOAKS SLAYING OF BRIDE IN LOWER BERTH

Navy Ensign's Sex Found With Her Throat Slit Aboard California Train
NO MOTIVE UNCOVERED

No Suspects Found Despite Abundant Clues Two Held For Questioning

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The slaying of comely Mrs. Matthe Virginia Brinson James, 21, whose train was seen in a lower berth 13 of a California-bound train, grew more mysterious today.

Clues abound, but police in their third day of investigating the strange death of a Navy ensign's bride said they were questioning the train crew and other passengers. They held two men for questioning at Klamath Falls, Marine Post, and one man for questioning at Wash. who slept in upper 13, dining car waiter on the train, but there was no evidence to connect them with the crime.

They issued a John Doe warrant for arrest of a man, an unidentified Negro, who was believed to have been a passenger although treatment could find no record of him.

It was the story. Mrs. James, daughter of a prominent Norfolk, Va., family was followed by a man in a dark suit, months Ensign Richard F. James, also of a prominent Virginia family, who was a regular Navy traveler from Seattle.

One of the men, Eugene Norton, Daily City, Calif., looked into the train aisle immediately. He said he saw a man in a dark suit, who had sprang into the aisle.

Blood spurted from a neck wound and Norton said, "I looked to me the wound was made by a gun."

Norton also thought he saw a man running down the aisle, but it was dark and "it might have been a shadow," he said.

Wilson said the scream awakened him and he looked out in time to see a man in a dark suit running. The man was dressed in a brown suit, and he saw the man's face as he pulled on his pants and shoes as fast as possible and jumped down.

A porter, called from the car next to Mrs. James' sleeper, said he saw a man in a dark suit running. He did not believe the trail had been set by Wilson, who had been questioned while hitting Mrs. James.

A brown suit was found among the wreckage. Police said they did not have a pin-point strip. Fingerprinting was being done by other Negro employees that night, setting about 1 A. M. Police said the man was wearing a dark suit and a hat.

Trucks were found in the snow where the train stopped momentarily by Tugnet, indicating a man stepped off the California-bound train and sprang aboard a north-bound train. Police said, however, a brakeman could have made the tracks.

A brakeman said he saw a Negro of Wilson's description on the train between Portland and Salem. The Negro was not seen after the train left Salem, 30 miles north of Tugnet.

BRITISH PUSH ON

BULGARIAN (AP)—Almost all the Italians and the greater part of the Germans of Marshal Erwin Rommel's Africa Corps already have crossed into Southern Tunisia and are arrayed behind the Mareth line of fortifications, which runs from the front said today. Only rear-guard elements of the Africa Corps were reported to be still in the northwestern tip of Tripolitania, and they were moving rapidly westward with the British Eighth Army in full pursuit.

Striking swiftly across Southern Tunisia, American troops have raided an Axis position near Maknassy, only 23 miles from the coastal road along the Gulf of Gabes, weak link in Marshal Rommel's line of withdrawal to merge forces with Col. Gen. Jürgen Von Arnim.

An Allied Headquarters communique, which announced that the Americans took 30 prisoners, did not indicate how near the coast the American striking force was based, but the penetration was the closest yet made to the coastal road which the Germans must hold to reach Tripoli.

32 Junior High Youths Appeal To Town Board For Recreation Activity

Boys Say They Don't Know What To Do With Spare Time Since Project Ended

A comprehensive plan was suggested to bring together representatives from various groups and organizations in the Village to discuss recreation problems of Mamaroneck boys and girls at a meeting of the Rye Neck Recreation Council on Thursday.

While the members of the Rye Neck body did not feel that the community has an acute recreation problem, the thought was brought up that under present conditions it might be gained by organizing a kind of super recreation council to survey the situation. Mrs. Richard Savage was chosen to approach various organizations and groups with this idea.

Miss Olympia Auletta, who directs the activities of the Rye Neck Recreation Center, reported that attendance had fallen off during the school examination period.

Seit. Herman Paul reported good progress in his boxing classes this year. The following boys have attended regularly: Douglas McCallin, Hugh Barry, John Van Leuven, Parker Ryan, James Egan, Harry Mattin, James Keady, DeRobertto, Joseph DiRollo and Michael Galt. Striking swiftly across Southern Tunisia, American troops have raided an Axis position near Maknassy, only 23 miles from the coastal road along the Gulf of Gabes, weak link in Marshal Rommel's line of withdrawal to merge forces with Col. Gen. Jürgen Von Arnim.

An Allied Headquarters communique, which announced that the Americans took 30 prisoners, did not indicate how near the coast the American striking force was based, but the penetration was the closest yet made to the coastal road which the Germans must hold to reach Tripoli.

A military spokesman said the British, who lost their momentum the taunt of a U. S. line saying: "Why worry the Americans? They come out and fight!"

Axis lines held firm in the Ouedsa Valley, more than 100 miles to the north, where the Germans captured a ship in Sicily and Allied forces bombed a ship in Sicily. The British and the Russian Winter, and Mussolini, who lost his African army, are now in a bleak retreat. Further unmeasured reverses today.

Boys Say They Don't Know What To Do With Spare Time Since Project Ended

A comprehensive plan was suggested to bring together representatives from various groups and organizations in the Village to discuss recreation problems of Mamaroneck boys and girls at a meeting of the Rye Neck Recreation Council on Thursday.

While the members of the Rye Neck body did not feel that the community has an acute recreation problem, the thought was brought up that under present conditions it might be gained by organizing a kind of super recreation council to survey the situation. Mrs. Richard Savage was chosen to approach various organizations and groups with this idea.

Miss Olympia Auletta, who directs the activities of the Rye Neck Recreation Center, reported that attendance had fallen off during the school examination period.

Seit. Herman Paul reported good progress in his boxing classes this year. The following boys have attended regularly: Douglas McCallin, Hugh Barry, John Van Leuven, Parker Ryan, James Egan, Harry Mattin, James Keady, DeRobertto, Joseph DiRollo and Michael Galt. Sergeant Paul has had letters from several of his "alumni" who are now in the service recreational activities at the Mamaroneck Avenue School.

STRIKE HALTS MOUNT VERNON OIL DELIVERIES

14 Drivers Fail to Report for Work in Midst of Fuel Shortage

DISPUTE OVERTIME PAY

Essex Threatens to Sue Union if Damages Result from Walkout

In the midst of the fuel oil shortage and delivery problems, 14 drivers of Suburban Oil Company of Mount Vernon failed to report for work today and J. Henry Essex, of Mamaroneck, president of the firm, notified the AF of L Local 14 that he would sue it for any damages resulting from union action.

The dispute arose over the rate of pay for overtime which is not provided for in Suburban's contract with Local 14 of the Teamsters and Chauffeurs Union. Mr. Essex said the contract has about two years to run.

Under the contract the drivers get 40 hours and any overtime is paid at the same rate. The drivers pay some overtime as they are working and on-call for overtime.

Mr. Essex declared he offered to pay the overtime at the rate of 1.5 times the regular rate. The union refused to accept this offer.

Lions Inaugurate Victory Leader Plan Covering All Homes in Mamaroneck

TAX COLLECTIONS GAIN IN VILLAGE

$124,548 Still Unpaid; Deadline Set At March 15, Arrangements to Be Published

Novel Organization to Keep Every Family Informed of War Activities

A plan to build an organization in the Village of Mamaroneck similar to that of the air raid warden setup for the purpose of carrying out government voluntary activities was introduced to the Lions' Club by the Rev. Frank Deas, D.D., of the Episcopal Church.

Through the plan, modeled after the Lions' Club, there will be a victory leader for every 10 families in the village. The victory leaders will be headed by district leaders, one for every 10 of the former. The district leaders will be responsible to district chairmen, one for each of nine areas in the village. Heading the entire organization will be chairmen of committees in charge of particular activities undertaken.

It will be possible, Mr. Reid said, to bring to every family proper information of government sponsored activities which will help individual homes, such as salvage and victory gardens. It will no longer be necessary, he said, to rely so much on extensive leaflet campaigns.

The Lions' Club adopted the proposal and volunteered to organize the community in accordance with the plan starting next week. Lions' Club members, acting as district leaders will select victory leaders and instruct them in their duties.

It is hoped, said Mr. Reid, that many men, women and older children, such as Boy and Girl Scouts, will volunteer their services. Voluntary work will be done on a field during the day at Mamaroneck 210.

The victory leaders will be supplied with the latest information on each activity and will see that families in their charge are properly notified. For example, in cases where the wife-tired and partially buried body of his wife, Mrs. Elwyn Lawrence, 28, missing since Jan. 21.

President Roosevelt's historic "unconditional surrender" conference with Prime Minister Churchill in North Africa drew nervous jitters from Berlin while stirring great hopes in United Nations capitals today as the two Allied leaders separated to put their strategy "into active and concerted execution."

Military secrecy shrouded the exact plan laid down in the dramatic 10-day meeting, but consensus was apparent, said Roosevelt's aide, Gen. Henri Honoré Girault, leader of the Fighting French, that the two Allied leaders agreed to put their strategy "into active and concerted execution."

Prime Minister Churchill implored the conference to do this, saying that the results would be seen soon.

Clarification of French leadership was the condition under which the conference took place, said Girault, who said that the results would be seen soon.

Flying Fortresses Attack Nazi Naval Installations

RAF ALSO BUSY

LONDON (AP)—United States heavy bombers, Flying Fortresses and Liberators, attacked Nazi naval installations in the dock area of Lorient, Nazi-held France, last night.

It was the United States Army Air Force's first attack on the German homeland.

It was believed that German U-boat centers particularly were chosen for the attack.

Just what part of the Reich was hit was not disclosed.

The United States Headquarters communique said: "United States Army Air Force Flying Fortresses (B-24) attacked Nazi naval installations in Germany last night."

The raid followed overnight forays in which the RAF set fire in the dock area of Lorient. Nazi U-boats were coming increasingly into prominence in this theater. They threw a heavier bomb load faster than the Fortresses, and have been used to good effect by the RAF, as well as the United States Army Air Force.

The size and weight of the raid were not disclosed immediately.

A master war plan for 1943 aimed at forcing the unconditional surrender of Germany, Japan and Italy has been mapped in a historic 10-day conference among President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and a group of top-flight military and supply leaders, and today the Allied heads had separated to put their global strategy "into active and concerted execution."

President Roosevelt, breaking new tradition, flew 6,000 miles to the meeting that began Jan. 24 and ended last Sunday with a press conference that gave the world a "both of these events are deemed to be of great importance."

ANNIVERSARY ADDRESS Delayed By RAF Visit; British Enter Tunisia

Huge Red Offensive Envelopes 40 More Towns

BIZERTE BOMBED

By RICHARD McMURRAY Associated Press War Editor British Eighth Army vanguards moved into Tunisia today in remorseless pursuit of Marshal Rommel while the great Red Armies of Russia enveloped 40 more towns west of Voronezh in an offensive consuming Hitler's remaining manpower.

Allied successes in Russia and on the rim of Europe in North Africa combined to make a powerful backdrop for the tenth anniversary of Hitler's rise to power in Germany. It was ten years ago that bewildered Germany's people were told by Adolf Hitler that the German people were being misled by the chancellery in the Reich chancellery. The German people were being misled by the chancellery in the Reich chancellery.

The Stalingrad debacle where 200,000 of Hitler's finest troops were slaughtered or captured, was a masterpiece of German military strategy. He said the Russians had tricked the Germans with "the cleverest camouflage in the history of the world—the poor Soviet showing in the Finnish War. Later, he contradicted himself by saying "but the Russian's intention warned him that my attack."

The British move across the Tunisian frontier completed the conquest of Libya, last bit of Mussolini's empire. The British Empire, and lightened the narrow straits to which Rommel's army and the expeditionary force of Col. Sir Bernard Montgomery. The British army of Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery. The British army of Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery.

The weather remained bad, limiting flying and ground operations, but the peak of the enemy assault will soon be passed. Toward the middle of February, the terrain may be dry enough for a massive Allied offensive to drive the Axis completely from Africa. Allied planes bombed German-held Bizerte hitting a docked ship, attacked a convoy between Sicily and Tunisia, damaging two ships, and shot down 12 enemy aircraft. Four allied planes were lost. Headquarters reported no change of ground.

The German command reported the bombing of Bizerte, the destruction of three transports and two destroyers and the damage of three other vessels. The German command reported the bombing of Bizerte, the destruction of three transports and two destroyers and the damage of three other vessels.

Reporting on the Russian campaign, Hitler's Headquarters said the Red Army was attacking with artillery and tanks in the Leningrad area south of Lake Ladoga. The Germans said the Russians were reported to have captured the Stalingrad situation was un- known.

English Hit Target At Time Set For Radio Talk

PLANES RETURN

LONDON (AP)—Adolf Hitler told the German people in a proclamation on the 10th anniversary today of his rise to power that they must win the war or be enslaved by Bolshevism. In the Führer's absence, Goebbels, Reich propaganda minister, read the address before an audience of 10,000 persons at the Berlin Reichstag. Hitler was said to be with his troops.

By the Associated Press LONDON—British Mosquito Bombers swooped across Germany and poured explosives on Berlin today to delay for a tumultuous hour an anniversary address in which Air Marshal Herman Goering promised ultimate victory to the German people. Timing its first daylight assault on the Nazi capital to coincide with the tenth anniversary of Adolf Hitler's accession to power, the RAF struck its target precisely at 11 A.M. once Goering was supposed to start his speech.

A Nazi radio announcer said the British air raid was "with its results." In the Führer's absence, Goebbels, Reich propaganda minister, read the address before an audience of 10,000 persons at the Berlin Reichstag. Hitler was said to be with his troops.

The Berlin radio subsequently issued this statement: "Three British planes penetrated into Germany under the cover of thick clouds today. This operation was carried out for propaganda purposes only." The announcer did not say where the planes went.

During a delay of an hour in the start of Goering's address, the announcer said that the British bombs and explosion-like noises, which were heard in Berlin, were caused by the British bombers. Goering spoke in the Air Ministry Building, which is in the center of Berlin's business district.

In pledging final victory to the German people, Goering said there would be no Nazi offensive in the Spring, and declared: "On the day we finally crush Bolshevism resistance I will renounce what the RAF has done to Germany."

Alluding to the straggled German Army before Stalingrad, he said that: "In a thousand years to come every German will still know that Germany, at Stalingrad, has set the final stamp to ultimate victory. A people which fights as the Germans are fighting at Stalingrad can and must win."

During the long interval before the start of Goering's speech, the announcer kept saying at frequent intervals: "There will be a few more minutes delay in Marshal Goering's speech." At last one loud "bang" was clearly audible to London radio listeners who had received no previous hint that the RAF was raiding the capital. It was the second time since he was appointed chancellor by President Paul von Hindenburg 10 years ago today that Hitler himself had not addressed the German people on the anniversary. The streets were unadorned with flags and the anniversary in the Nazi capital even before the bombs began to fall from the Win- tler's air.
