WLB Checks Walkout Back To Roosevelt For Such Action As Required

NEGOTIATIONS HALTED

The miners and the operators, informed of the board's order, immediately stopped making any comment. They had suspended their negotiations in accordance with an expected announcement from the board's directive order of May 20, 1943, therefore in conformity with the procedures of the War Labor Board which has been uniformly applied in all past cases.

Truck Kills Rye Father In Blackout

Auxiliary Policeman Hit By Auto As He Directs Post Road Traffic

DIES UNDER WHEELS

Mark A. Savage, Rye Auxiliary policeman and father of nine children, was run down by two trucks and killed during last night's blackout at his post at Boston Post Road and Park Avenue, Rye, just as the second "blue" signal was sounded to permit traffic to move.

A resident of 59 Florence Avenue, Glen Oaks, Rye, the 47-year-old father of nine children, was well-known and respected in Rye—where he had resided most of his life—as well as in Rye.

Mr. Savage was struck by a light truck and hurled under the wheels of a 10-ton van proceeding in the opposite direction. He died instantly at 10:40 P. M., one mile after the "blue" signal had been received in the Rye Control Room.

Trucks Were Passing

Andrew Christensen, 26, Astoria, 1, driver of the light truck, told police he had been given the signal to "go ahead" on the Post Road by a warden or an auxiliary policeman, after having been "held" during the period of the "red" alert.

Near Park Avenue, Christensen pulled out of line to pass an automobile in front of his truck, he said, and saw Mr. Savage in the right front wheel of a 10-ton Shawmut Transportation Co. trailer driven by Philip A. Fortier, Rye, Mass., proceeding in the opposite direction, away from New York City.

Army Bombers Lend Realism To Blackout

Civilian defense officers of the Town and Villages of Larchmont and Mamaroneck agreed today that last night's practice air raid drill was the most realistic and the most successful the county has had. It was the longest yet called, an hour and a half over.

The reasons for the length of the test, it was emphasized today, was to give wardens, rescue squads and other units time to handle problems which would arise during a real raid. For instance, four sealed letters were given out to district wardens in one area.

MARK SAVAGE

There were two practice incidents in the Village of Mamaroneck and American Legion, which was supposed to have been dropped near the Elks' Club and a time bomb was thrown under the Barry Avenue railroad bridge. The bomb reconnaissance agents from the Police Department took charge and the "victims" were transported to a casualty station at the town.

The incidents in the Town area included the supposed bombing of the Oak Haven Apartments and the Murray Avenue School. The bridge at Rocky Road and Lake-side Drive was "blown up" and destroyed.

Capt. Rositer Holbrook said there was a minimum of confusion and a minimum of violations in the blackout.

Realism was lent by three army bombers which sailed across the Hudson to the county against the stars from west to east in the 22-minute period of complete blackout.

The longest test yet called—an hour and a half overall—and it brought the first violent death during a blackout. There was some confusion in the town, but the New York City line became Westchester received its signals after New York City.

The signals were received at the Westchester district warning center as follows and the sirens sounded each time about a minute later.

Yellow preliminary, 9:31 (no sirens). Blue alert, 9:45 (steady sirens 2 minutes). Red danger, 10:16 (warring siren). (Continued on Page Three)

Fines Anger Lewis; New Strike Seen

Miners' Chief Terms Ickes' Order 'Brutal', Act Of 'Tyranny'

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A powder keg atmosphere hung over the nation's coal fields today as Government men on miners for their last walkout brought threats of a new strike.

War Labor Board colonnes toward a wage increase between the United Mine workers and a Pennsylvania group of operators contributed also to the tense atmosphere.

Interior Secretary Ickes, Federal order of the mines since May 1, ordered the fines yesterday. They follow terms of the old UMW contract, $1 a day for each miner for each day he is off the job without a valid reason. In this case, the men were away five days. The amount goes to charity.

THE WEATHER APPEALS TO ITALIANS TO BUY WAR BONDS AFTER SURRENDER OF BOB-DAZED PANTELLERIA

President Blames Duce For Plight Of His Nation

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Roosevelt declared today that the surrender of Pantellera was very good news and at the same time he appealed indirectly but strongly to Italy to get out of the war.

He held a press conference that the United Nations could assure the Italian people the opportunity of choosing the kind of non-Nazi, non-Fascist government they want established after Franco has been put down, and the Germans have been driven from their territory.

If it is the hope and intention of the United Nations, Mr. Roosevelt said, that Italy be restored to national freedom, it is the duty of the United Nations to make it possible. He said the Italian people, he said, have the right to choose the kind of government they want. He said the Italian people, he said, have the right to choose the kind of government they want.

Ally Take Over Citadel After 19 Day Air Assault

By HAROLD V. BOLE Associated Press Staff

AN ADVANCED AMERICAN BOMBER BASE IN NORTH AFRICA—Pantellera, Mussolini's island that couldn't take it, flew the white flag of surrender in the vicinity of its bomb-cratered airport at 11:40 A. M. (5:40 A. M. EWT) today.

It thus became the first fortress in history to be blasted into submission chiefly by air power.

Allied ground forces landed at noon (6 A. M. EWT) met slight resistance but reached all objectives by 12:22 P. M.

The resistance was attributed to the fact that the agreement of Pantellera's surrender didn't reach all points of the island prior to the Allied landing. A strong force of cruisers and destroyers covered the landing, shelling shore defenses at frequent intervals.

End of 18-Day Battle By ROGER GREENE Associated Press Staff Editor

Headquarters announced today that the Bomb-Dazed garrison of Pantellera, Italy's "Gibraltar," had surrendered unconditionally after 19 days of incessant aerial and naval assault and that Allied troops have begun to occupy the last stepping-stone island 60 miles from Sicily.

"British military observers said today they expected the surrender of the Italian island of Lampedusa (Lampidusa), 80 miles south of Pantellera, was raised by a British scouting party south of the island today.

The settlement, which was made by agreement, was made by stipulation between counsel for the club and Town Attorney John J. Della.

Police Stopping Few Cars Here For Pleasure Driving; 25 Reported In 3 Weeks

Motorists of the three local municipalities are observing the OPA ban on pleasure driving if the number of motorists stopped here by local police and federal inspectors is any indication. It was reported today with the motorist's consent that only 25 drivers had been accused of possible violations since the start of the ban three weeks ago.

James Perrone, executive secretary, said this morning that "about 20 motorists" had been reported to the local rationing board since May 30 when the pleasure driving ban was enforced.

An examining board composed of Rationing Board members, John V. Baum, Charles King and Percy Everett has set for a week "two about two weeks," Mr. Perrone said, but he was not known this morning many charges had been made of what action was taken against the violators. A gas coupon of at least one violator has been taken, according to Mr. Perrone.

Chief Arthur Martensen of the Village of Mamaroneck reported that 14 cars had been tagged by the village police and reported to the board, three parked near club house, three parked near club house, three parked near club house.

Chief William J. Kersey of the Village of Larchmont said this morning that he was enforcing the ban, but declined to reveal how many suspected violators had been reported to the board. For the Town area, Chief Paul A. York said he had stopped but no suspected violators reported.

The total of 25 reported to the board since the start of the ban may 20, according to the village of the local police, been largely the result of the visit of the O. P. A. inspectors to this morning the gas ration classification and his reasons for using his car. The total of 25 reported to the board and allowed to drive, but not satisfactory, driver will be summoned to appear before the board next week, Chief Martensen said.

"So far in the Town and in the Village of Larchmont no tags have been printed as yet," Chief Kersey said today that the Larchmont department is using the O. P. A. blanks and has the "O. P. A. from Village Engineer Arthur Richards to go about with it."

$200,000 Fire Fed By Wax Guts Building

MOUNT VERNON—Flames caused by shells and wax on 24 bowling alleys caused damage estimated at more than $200,000 in a spectacular early morning blaze which gutted the three-story building at 146-150 Granatan Avenue today.

Flames were severely cut and burned, three of them when they reached a ceiling, while many others were staged when the fire spread up to the roof in fire.

The flames leaped high in the air, illuminating the area for blocks and could be seen as far away as New Rochelle. Officials are investigating today in an effort to fix the cause of the fire which was discovered shortly before midnight, only a short time after the proprietor of "Jerry's" alley closed for the night.

"The blaze started on the top floor of the building, the second floor of which is occupied by a dress manufacturing plant, while the ground floor is used by several stores."

Tons of wax poured into the flaming building at the rate of almost 2,000 gallons-a-minute cascaded into the street, washing with them beer kegs, some of which smashed and allowed a mixture of beer and water to swirl about the wax burn.

KEY RHINE CITIES BLASTED BY RAF; JAP ISLAND RAINED

Chinese Continue Offensive, Wreck Another Jap Town

By The Associated Press

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's bombers were officially credited today with raining havoc on six Japanese strongholds in the area of islands above Australia.

The raids were highlighted by a 15-plane attack on Koepang which left the capital of Timor "a mass of flames."

Fourteen tons of explosives were dropped on Koepang alone and improved flying weather sent American heavy Liberators, Mitchells and other aircraft on widespread sorties against the enemy.

Several Targets
Besides Koepang, the targets included Dili, on Timor; Rabaui and Gamau New Britain; Raiu, on New Guinea, and Sabu, Dutch New Guinea.

The Chinese front, dispatches said, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's armies had gained the upper hand in recent battles near Yangshou on the upper Yangtze River front, 80 miles northeast of the Big Japanese base of Yenchow, and savage fighting was also reported northwest of the main enemy base near Chungking.

Chinese troops pressing their victories offensively were reported to have destroyed sections of the Canton-Hankow railway in a drive to isolate Yenchow, while Chinese commandos twice raided Yenchow itself and inflicted heavy casualties on the Japanese garrison.

In Burma, the land force was pushing, but RAF bombers bombed the Japanese base at Akyab on the Bay of Bengal coast and machine-gunned Japanese troops in the area.

Delay Until Close of War Too Late For Peace Plans, News Analyst Tells Council

"Any intelligent person who bothers to think beyond the length of his nose will admit that it is not too early to plan the peace that will follow this war," said James G. McDonald at the general discussion meeting, the first of a series, presented last night at the Chatsworth School Auditorium by the Larchmont Peace Planning Council.

The meeting, which was attended by about 200 representative citizens of Larchmont, opened by the singing of the National Anthem, led by Alma Kitchell, with Lily Kedzie at the piano.

William J. McWilliams, village attorney, who is chairman of the executive committee of the council, opened the meeting with an explanation of the aims and purposes of the independent, non-partisan organization, which was started last March by representatives from every organization in Larchmont, inspired by a suggestion made by the Rev. Fred McCall, of the Larchmont Avenue Church.

The council was formed, said Mr. McWilliams, "for the expression of public opinion on a subject most an essential of a just and lasting peace. It is to be an expression of the opinions of the people in general, of neighbors, of information and news of plans submitted to us by the leaders of our section. That, candidly, is our experiment, but we believe we are so far, that the committee organized for the duration of the war."

Mr. McWilliams said that the plan of the Council was already being discussed in Chicago, with about six other communities planning to discuss the Larchmont plan.

"It is a simple idea," he said, "we shall get together and talk as neighbors on that vital matter of how to win the peace. We are neither long-haired people nor cosmopolites. They are usually the ones who meet and discuss problems, but why should they? Why can't we, as neighbors, meet and discuss these questions?"

After reading a telegram of greetings from the Rev. Floyd E. McGuire, who is now in Arkansas, Mr. McWilliams turned the meeting over to J. James Ehler, president of the Council.

Mrs. Mona MacRobert Boudley, who is moderator of the Council, was the choice for County Clerk.

Because so much time was consumed debating the choice of a representative, the meeting adjourned without considering nominees for District Attorney and County Judge. This will necessitate another session prior to the convention.

Won't Run
Mr. Brady, recently appointed prosecuting attorney in State Police, the fight for which was joined by at least three other leaders, but they were unable to persuade their colleagues. The decision is expected to cancel Mr. Smith's tentative plan to run as an independent, and the fight will be between Mayor Boudley and Charles H. Griffiths of New Rochelle, former GOP county leader.

Eadie Becomes Scoutmaster Of Troop 3

About 45 members of Larchmont Troop 3 of the Boy Scouts of America gathered Thursday night with their parents and friends to witness the inauguration of Ed. Crawford Eadie as scoutmaster and the investiture of 12 new members at a candlelight service in the Larchmont Avenue Church house.

E. F. Burns, chairman of the troop committee, stated that Scoutmaster Eadie had graciously resigned as scoutmaster due to press of business, but that the troop was fortunate in being able to obtain Mr. Eadie, who has been connected with scouting for a number of years and who called himself an Eagle Scout.

The oath of office and investiture of Mr. Eadie was administered by Larchmont Scoutmaster, William Carlson, who also presented Mr. Eadie with the badge of his office.

After Mr. Eadie had been sworn in by the members of the troop, a circle and the light were extinguished for the purpose of swearing in the following boys who have recently passed the Scoutcraft requirements:

The new members were arranged in 10 rows, representing the 10 points of the Scout law. These couples were lighted by the boys, being raised by the boys, and each repeating one of the Scout laws and reciting the Scout motto.

At the beginning of the Scout year it was announced that a special award would be given during the year, which was the Scout year in April, 1942 and advanced during the year through the ranks of First Class, Star and Life and now has 18 merit badges. Scoutmaster Eadie presented Scoutmaster Burns with a bronze badge in recognition of his work and contribution to the Scoutmaster and Troop Committee of the Troop. It was unanimously decided to honor Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Joseph Harrison during the year. Mr. Burns presented a letter to Scoutmaster Burns and Harrison with citations of their close adherence to the Scout law and their work for the year 1942-1943.

By unanimous action of the Council, the following were appointed Scoutmaster and members of the Troop committee. These officers were elected by the Scoutmaster and members of the Troop Committee.

Mr. J. J. Wright, former Scoutmaster, was named Scoutmaster and Scoutmaster director for the Larchmont District, spoke on Camp Duty. Fred Frank, District Scoutmaster, spoke in charge of Scoutmaster duties.

The meeting was held in the Larchmont Avenue Church house, which was presided over by Mr. Eadie.

Ikkes Softens On Fines As Miners Quit

WASHINGTON, (AP)—One small sector of the soft coal fields shut down and another vied to follow suit today, protesting government fines on miners for the June 1 walkout.

The walkout movement, the third in little more than a month, was distinguished for the purpose of protesting in the following ways when three mines, employing 400 men, had to stop operations. Near 1000 workers returned to their jobs on June 10.

The Alabama shutdown was described as a direct reaction from Interior Secretary Leach's announcement that United Mine Workers who struck early this month would be fined $1 a day for each day of the job under terms of their old contract with the operators.

The U. M. W. and its president, John L. Lewis, protested the action of the fines by their refusal to continue terms of the contract.

The Pennsylvania development, on an official said, was a two-fold protest. In addition to the fine, the miners were objecting to what they called failure of the War Labor Board to approve a wage increase of $1.3 a day, representing underground travel time.

The fine was agreed upon by Lewis and the Central Pennsylvania Miners' Association as a compromise after the entire group of operators rejected this proposal.

Associated Press Wire Editor

Striking with the war's greatest force of heavy bombers, RAF armadas (hundred back to the assault on Germany) before dawn today, while in the Mediterranean Allied warships and planes bombarded the Italian island of Lampedusa and sent an ultimatum for its surrender.

Italian headquarters said the garrison at Lampedusa, 80 miles south of newly-conquered Pantelleria, had refused to submit and was "heroically resisting."

The Pantelleria bulletin finally acknowledged that Pantelleria, Italy's Gibraltar, was forced to capitulate "under pressure of air and sea bombardments without precedence of frequency and scale"—the first island fortress in history to surrender to air power alone.

The Algiers radio said today that the surrendered Italian garrison at Lampedusa was "about 10,000 to 15,000 strong."

Taxi Drivers Make Plans To Save On Gas

About 25 taxi drivers representing companies in Larchmont, Mamaroneck and Harrison, met at the Municipal Building last night with John V. Baum, chairman of the local rationing board, to discuss ways of conserving gasoline and making the 7 ration allotment last until July 25, one month later than the original date of expiration of the present coupon.

Mr. Baum advised them to work out a system among themselves whereby they would cooperate in not taking on passenger but making trips only with their cabs full. If they would agree among themselves, Mr. Baum said, there would be no fear of suspicion or competition. In other words, if one driver returned a lone passenger, he would not need to worry about another driver's consoling to take him. "It is either a case of making your gas stretch, or getting out of business until July 25," Mr. Baum told them.

If the taxi drivers do their job conscientiously, Mr. Baum pointed out, there is no doubt that the public will be inconvenienced. "But what saving is there," he pointed out this morning, "I put my own call out and then call to taxi to go out this morning."

British King Visits Army In Africa

Ruler Restows Insignia Of Knight Grand Cross On Gen. Eisenhower

SEES U. S. COMMANDOS

By REMLAN MORIN Representing the Combined United States Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS in North Africa—King George VI of England has been in North Africa since last Saturday, visiting the scene of the Allies' greatest victory and talking with the soldiers and sailors who won it.

King George visited General Dwight D. Eisenhower with the insignia of a Knight Grand Cross, Order of the Bath.

The King visited an American military cemetery at Omeia, overlooking the Mediterranean, and paid his respects to American soldiers who had fallen in battle.

His inspection tour, continued in a few days, took the monarch into a number of different British and American military establishments, aboard warships, through convalescent camps— even to a beach of beach where more than 2,000 troops were having a Sunday swim.

Swimmers Break Records That was an unforgettable moment. The men caught sight of the King standing on the veranda of a small villa for officers, and loudly came racing down the beach from all directions, resembling nothing so much as a horde of semi-nude natives on the war path. The word reached even the King's ears.

More than a hundred members were present at the meeting, Dr. Henry Gerald, talking on "Psychology and Laughter" presented the first paper.

Men's Club Elects

Walter B. C. Washburn of Larchmont was elected president of the Larchmont Men's Club at the meeting of the club Monday night.

At the short business meeting following the dinner, the new slate was presented by the chairman of the nominating committee, Ralph Hawkins.

On Summer Schedule

The Mamaroneck Federal Savings and Loan Association will close Saturday mornings during July and August and through Sept. 4, according to a decision made at a recent meeting of the Board of Directors.

The Duke of Gloucester relinquished his military duties last year to give more assistance to the Queen's state affairs.

Army Takes Over

'Free Driving' Once Weekly Defeats Gas Conservation, Some Say; Others Favor It

John T. Ryan, Patrolman For 21 Years, Dies

John Timothy Ryan, a member of the Mamaroneck Village Police Department for more than 21 years, died Monday at the United Hospital, Port Chester, after a month's illness. Born Nov. 1, 1884 he was the son of the late Timothy and Mary Shea Ryan. He had lived in Mamaroneck 29 years.

The proposal was originally advanced in Westchester County newspapers and although Secretary Lokes has not commented on the matter, his aide said yesterday that he had no authority to grant the free day. OPA officials have declined to discuss the proposal.

The same opinion was expressed by James Perrone, executive secretary of the local rationing board. "I can't see where the justification would be in such an idea," he said today. "and we must all make sacrifices. If people have been issued tickets to use a limited amount of gas, when it's used up it's gone. There's too much gas allowed anyway."

AGAIN RAISES COGNIE; BREAKS WITH CRISIS BREWING

Rumania Capital Reported In Very Tense State

LONDON, (AP)—Axis anxieties about the Balkans were emphasized today with a report of the hurried dispatch of Ernst Kaltenbrunner, chief of the German security police, to Rumania for reorganization of the police force there.

At the same time, the Moscow radio reported that the atmosphere in Bucharest, the Rumanian capital, was "very tense" and that many of the country's prominent politicians were in hiding.

These dispatchs from Geneva reported both developments. These underscored an Ankara report yesterday saying Rumania had rejected peace feelers.

The Balkan radio was quoted in Stockholm dispatches to London morning newspapers as saying the expectation of a Rumanian peace was growing among the Balkan states and that frequent applause was given to the Axis every time he mentioned peace in his address Sunday.

Addressing a joint conference of metropolitan area field of dealers, officials representatives and OPA officials yesterday, he said that homes containing 600 square feet would benefit under the new program through use of a simplified table.

Except for small home owners, he added that all allotments would be issued to consumers next year on the same basis as last winter.

Some called another new feature, called ration banking. He said a consumer whose ration was between 20,000 and 50,000 gallons would get a fuel oil allotment in the form of a fuel oil credit certificate, and will be mandatory for those using more than 50,000 gallons annually, dealers who sold gas and those who sold gasoline.

Friendly Larchmont Neighbors Replant Victory Garden Of Japanese Residents Ravaged By Act Of Wrathful Vandals

Moved by the plight of Mrs. Tomi Matsumoto of the Larchmont Cable Apartments as the story of the destruction of her Victory garden spread through Larchmont yesterday afternoon, friends and neighbors of the loyal Japanese family took seedlings and plants from their own gardens and, before night, had replanted the ravaged plot.

The police this morning had still not located the owner of the nine foot plot which was thought to have been made by the vandals but were convinced that the damage had not been done by children.

Mrs. Matsumoto said yesterday that she didn't feel "very bad," about it, because she knew there was a new people like that everywhere. She said she thought some things like this when we are living in a strange country, but we know that Larchmont is a "friendly" city and she turned back to the ravaged garden.

The garden of Mrs. Tomi Matsumoto, which was destroyed by vandals yesterday, is being replanted by neighbors. Mrs. Matsumoto is seen in the foreground, surrounded by seedlings and plants.

A former student at Union Theological Seminary where she studied sacred music, Mrs. Matsumoto's first thought was of the disappointment of her little boy, Tadashi, who had worked with a small shovel and spade and helped plant the seedlings.

COMBING THE FIRE RUINS

Old Shop Still Stands

The old Biblical story of "one being taken and the other left" worked out with one amazing result. It was learned following yesterday's fire. The machine shop near the Shell gas station operated by R. T. Walker has been purchased by the Westchester Chemical Corporation to make room for the new addition now under construction. The small building was soon to have been torn down to make room for the modern brick structure. When the smoke cleared away and firemen were able to reach the heart of the destruction, they found there was just one building left standing in the midst of the holocaust—the machine shop operated by Mr. Walker.

New Water Record

More than 1,200,000 gallons of water were used fighting the flames, according to the report from the Westchester Chemical Corporation to make room for the new addition now under construction. The small building was soon to have been torn down to make room for the modern brick structure. When the smoke cleared away and firemen were able to reach the heart of the destruction, they found there was just one building left standing in the midst of the holocaust—the machine shop operated by Mr. Walker.

Rail Ties Ablaze

The heat from the fire was so intense that the railroad ties on a siding near the main tracks of the New Haven Railroad caught fire and had to be extinguished by the emergency crew stationed at a railroad car drawn up for the purpose. The crews were bound to watch the railroad crew holding the poles holding the high tension wires above the fire to repair the porcelain insulators which cracked from the heat.

Auxiliaries On Duty

Air aid workers, auxiliary police and fire volunteers cooperated with the Village Police department in holding the "crowd" back from telephone and electric wires began to fall when the pole caught fire.

Steel Safe Intact

The only piece of office equipment to be found more or less intact in the wreckage that morning as firemen still fought the flames, was a safe in a Westchester Warehouse.

Keys Burned Off

One of the last pieces of office equipment to be carried out of the building as the fire spread through the framework was a large adding machine which firemen deposited out of reach of the flames. When spectators nearby examined it, they found that all the keys had been burned off.

Brick Wall Cracks

The brick wall at the end of the addition being built for the Westchester Chemical Corporation cracked from the intense heat and bulged out in the direction of the flames. The building is being constructed by E. J. Mastaglio, a construction firm and the Mayor was watching the wall anxiously because of the fire around the burning building.

Trains Slowed

Nearby roads were crowded with fire equipment and the train passing through on the New Haven railroad were slowed down to pass through the dense pall of smoke which settled down over the community.

Loss Their Jobs?

A crowd of job waiting for the 1:30 P. M. train for New York employees of one of the companies, saw the blaze and, apparently rushed down the station steps and headed for the fire. When they saw the extent of the blaze one of them said, "Well, I guess we've lost our job."

Port Chester Sees Smoke

The conductor on the New York bound train issued orders and remarked that they had been looking for the fire all the way down the line—they had first noticed the smoke in Port Chester.

Smoke Burns Through

Flames became so intense during the height of the blaze that a hose, carrying water, burned through, halting the flow of water to firemen battling the flames.

Sign Survives

A sign by eight foot sign, reading "This Business Property For Sale," still stands today. The sign, owned by the Peter C. Bauer, Jr. real estate firm, for some unexplained reason, survived the flames which swept all about it.

Ickes Moves To Undertake Active Charge Of Management

DRAFT CLUB INVOKED

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Secretary Ickes moved today to undertake active charge of the management of coal mines and indicated he expected to continue operating them for the Government "for a considerable period of time."

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Roosevelt's proposal to meet any new coal strike with a draft club was viewed in most Congressional quarters today as an inadequate substitute for the anti-strike bill, which many lawmakers now expect him to veto.

Mr. Roosevelt disclosed yesterday that steps already had been taken to set up machinery for inducting all draft-age miners into the armed forces, and he said moreover that he will ask Congress to raise from 45 to 55 the maximum age for induction into non-combat military service. This would take in many of the older miners.

Some quarters interpreted this to mean strikers would be put in uniform and under Army discipline returned to their coal diggers' jobs at private pay of $10 each per month. Chairman William H. Davis of the War Labor Board has estimated that private pay for a six-day week at $10 would cost the Government $100 million a year.

Immediate reaction in both House and Senate to the proposal was mixed. The Appalachian operators however were not so pleased. They said that their mines, operated by the Government since May 1, are returning to the operators. They said they had obeyed the Government's order to close their mines, but that they had not been paid for the coal they had mined.

Lewis instructed the miners to work until Oct. 31, but only as long as the mines are Government-operated. Meanwhile the back-to-work movement was slow as some union locals in Pennsylvania voted to accept the Government's offer. Other miners' groups called off the walkout.

The President's coup was greeted with surprise by the coal strikers. This was quickly interpreted as a move to end the coal strike. The measure would outlaw strikes in Government-controlled plants or mines, regulate wages in privately-operated facilities and clothe the NLR with statutory authority to settle all labor disputes in defense industries.

Overriding Validity Supporters said that if a veto is forthcoming efforts will be made to override it, but they admitted privately they have little hope of rallying the necessary two-thirds vote. There seems little doubt, however, that the proposed Selective Service Amendment would have rough going.

Calling on Mr. Roosevelt to sign the anti-strike bill, Rep. Smith, D., Va., said the alternative proposal is "an insult to the Army. His view was shared by Senator Johnson, D., Colo., a member of the War Relocation Authority, who said he does not think the anti-strike bill should be made into a "penalty."

Chairman Truman of the Senate War Investigating Committee also told reporters he was against the President's suggestion, commenting: "I don't believe in a military dictatorship and I don't believe in drafting labor. It's an honor to serve in the Army and I don't want fellows of that kind in our Army."

Discussing the general situation, Mr. Roosevelt said: "The action of the leaders of the United Mine Workers coal miners has been intolerable and has greatly stirred up the anger and disaffection of the overwhelming mass of the American people."

GERMANS BOLSTER FORCES FOR FIGHT, Ickes Says

WASHINGTON, (AP)—

Indications that Germany is moving huge forces into France and Italy in preparation to fight off an invasion were reported today by Secretary of War Stimson.

He asserted also that "an extraordinary buildup" in ground fighting on the Russian front has occurred although the weather has been highly suitable for military operations.

Italy Faces Her Hardest Hour—With the Rome radio claiming that the Allies have gathered a gigantic invasion force on the southern front of the Mediterranean for the assault on Europe, Italy now faces her darkest hour. Yesterday a heavy force of bombers made a 2,800-mile foray, dropping bombs on Germany and Italy and landing in North Africa. On their return trip they dropped more bombs on Axis held territory. The step shows how Allied bombing strength based in North Africa, bludgeoned the "invincible pilots" of the Axis.

Stimson continued that reports show that the Germans are concentrating "large numbers of fighter planes for protection of military installations in North Africa and Italy." He said that the reports which may be seen reason for the fall in operations there.

Concluding with this latest development in the Allied warfare offensive against Hitler's European forces, NAF heavy bombers from the Middle East and Wellingtons from North Africa returned to the attack on Italy's anti-invasion outposts in the Mediterranean.

Allied Headquarters said the raiders rained fiery destruction on the enemy airbase at Comiso, Sicily, and at Oria in northern Sicily.

Premier Mussolini's high command acknowledged the attack on La Spezia and Allied warplanes also bombed Porto Empedocle and Catania, Sicily.

Italian planes yesterday landed a British airframe at Latakia, the area of Syria where the British have been reported to be operating. The Italian communiqué reported today.

The German overseas radio reported that the Italians had evacuated Chios, an island in the Aegean Sea, and that the British have been reported to be operating from the island.

There are reports in the Turkish capital that the Allies may start operations against the Dodecanese group of islands.

East To Get No Increase In Gasoline
Ikes Allots Only 328,000 Barrels Daily For Next 3 Months

SEES ECONOMIC LOSS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hope of relieving civilian gasoline rationing curbs on the East coast this summer were apparently dashed today by action of Secretary Ikes, as petroleum administrator, in allocating a scant 328,000 barrels daily to the East coast through July, August and September.

Ikes said he was fully aware that the allocation "must inevitably result in considerable inconvenience to millions of people" and in many cases business dislocation and actual economic losses.

Actually the allotment is 2,000 barrels a day greater than in June, but the increase is a negligible one. Ikes said the continued emergency of rationing is "absolutely necessary" in view of the tremendous and constantly increasing military requirements of gasoline.

"We fervently hope that the continuing progress which is being made in the country, particularly in the East will make it possible to ease curbs to increase our supplies to the point where larger amounts can be made available to civilians," he declared.

The allotment was the first made upon a quarterly basis, instead of a monthly basis. The Ikes had noted that the rationing curb had handled more satisfactorily in monthly rather than quarterly available for a larger time base.

Mine Strike Deadline To Be Ignored

President Won't Recognize Time Limit Imposed By Lewis

WLB IS AROUSED

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt said today he would not recognize or accept a cut in deadline set by the United Mine Workers for continued coal production in Government-operated mines.

The Chief Executive told a press conference he was merely trying to see that coal was mined and that that had to be done some way. He added that many of us get away from the fact we are at war and the life of a nation is very much at stake.

Without that recognition, the board would have little standing, he said. It was set up only by executive order—not legislation, and he has a plan for amending the law.

President Roosevelt would exercise his powers to increase coal production if necessary.

John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers, however, reckon they're working for the Government and the operators. Under the new contract, Lewis said, the men would work for the Government and the operators would work for Lewis.

"I'm sure that the operators are going to work for Lewis and Lewis is going to work for the operators," he said.

The operators, including the United Mine Workers, have a 300,000 acre mine, including the anthracite belt, which was abundant in Pennsylvania.

The conditions, as extended by the operators, constituted a "quit or buy" contract," Lewis said.

This set of facts raised a mighty question as to whether Lewis would sign the agreement with the same conditions that bear the names of the operators.

The WLB in a brief statement said that Lewis had been urged to accept substantially the same terms of the 1942 contract, plus a few WLB conditions, which would pay raises of about 20 cents a day. Hence, the board feared that a new contract on that basis should be signed.

The stand was announced after Interior Secretary Ikes, Government operator of the mines, had referred to union owners to a conference today. "The controversy between the mine operators and the operators" was pressing today it would be settled.

Immediately the WLB set back that it had made the final date; the date of the dispute and the WLB's position.

Major Chester said it is necessary for public morale and health that people be allowed to go to the beaches. He will suggest a request to OVV to amend the 40 per cent reduction in sea mileage, and a request OVV to lift the pleasure driving ban.

The City of Rye, and in all probability the Village of Mamaroneck will join the Village of Port Chester in a protest to the OVV against the cut in the County Transportation Company's gasoline quota which has crippled bus service in the three communities.

The Port Chester Board of Trustees, as a result of numerous complaints concerning the reduced bus schedule, last Tuesday night directed Corporation Counsel Alfred P. Tompkins to request a formal complaint with the OVV office in New York.

Upon hearing from Chester B. Tompkins, superintendent of the Transportation Company, the OVV has been advised that it had received from City of Rye and Village of Mamaroneck, June 24.

2 Mamaroneck Boys Meet In South Pacific

"If you ever hang like my father in New Orleans yelling to get overseas, tell him to stay where he is and be satisfied!" That's the message from Sgt. John R. Quinn, Jr., stationed where in the South Pacific, to the Editor of The Daily Times.

Before going overseas, Sgt. Quinn was stationed with the Mamaroneck Police Department at Camp Blanning, N. Y. A graduate of Mamaroneck High School, Sgt. Quinn, Jr., joined the National Guard when he was 17. His letter, mailed to The Daily Times May 15 follows:

"Dear Editor: I am a member of the Mamaroneck Police Department and I am writing to you to tell you how much I love my country and how much I love my job. I am currently stationed in the South Pacific, and I am proud to be a part of the U. S. Armed Forces.

"Mother sent me a copy of your 'Newly Letter' and it sure was interesting to read. I guess just about all the boys from home are in some kind of uniform by now.

"As for me, well, I'm getting a new view of the South Pacific Area. A couple of months ago I ran into Capt. 'Skeeter' Lerner, U. S. M. C. and he was looking good. The weather is rather warm with cool breezes except when it rains and it sure does hit hard.

"I do hear from my old buddies back home but I don't know where they are in the Navy and is never at a standstill. I just wanted to say 'hello' to everyone. And let's hope this war will be over soon as we can get back to Mamaroneck. I sure miss the old town."

New Car Owners Acquiring $5 Use Tax Stamp As Sale Lags At Postoffices

SALE LAGS AT POSTOFFICES

The sale the new $5 Federal tax stamp for automobiles has been progressing so slowly in this area, according to Postmaster Frank L. Egger of Larchmont and J. E. Lohan of Mamaroneck, that the regular staff at each post office has been able to handle it easily.

"Last year at this time," Postmaster Lohan said, "we were running around trying to get stamps from other post offices because the sale was so heavy."

"So far only 175 stamps have been sold in the Village of Mamaroneck, since they were put on sale June 30 last year," said Postmaster Egger.

"The sale of the stamps was slow, but the Government is still making a profit on them," Postmaster Lohan said.

Ruhr Cities Flame In New Raids

Embittered Nazis Open 'Hate Campaign' To Whip Up Home Morale

ITALY OUTPOSTS HIT

By ROGER GREENE
British sky fleets hopped new devastation on the heart of the Ruhr industrial valley before dawn today, blasting the steel cities of Bochum and Gelsenkirchen, and the Germans, beginning to wall, launched an embittered "hate campaign" to whip up morale on the Nazi home front.

Great fires are being raging in both cities, the British Air Ministry announced, although heavy clouds obscured an accurate check of the damage. Thirty RAF bombers were listed as missing.

Dispatches from Bern, Switzerland, said between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000 persons had already fled the Ruhr area as the Allied aerial offensive, striking by day and night, roared through its seventh consecutive night.

Nazis Losing Planes

In the Mediterranean, the assault on Italy's anti-invasion operations increased in violence, with the largest force of U. S. Flying Fortresses ever sent out in that theater, spraying the beach on Messina, Sicily, while RAF Wellingtons hammered the Asie air base at Olbia, Sardinia.

With their deadly fire power, the Fortresses destroyed 20 enemy aircraft, it was announced.

On Europe's northern ramparts, American heavy bombers were officially credited with destroying 100 enemy fighters in their last two engagements, over the Reich against a loss of 37 U. S. planes. Twenty were hit in Tuesday's attack on the Ruhr, the site of important synthetic rubber works, and 17 in yesterday's attack on northwest Germany.

American fliers described yesterday's operations by Nazi fighters as "placid as a kitten," estimating that nearly 200 Bock-Wulf and Messerschmitt pressed home their attacks with aerial fury. U. S. planes from a single base shot down 24 of the enemy.

As the invasion of France, thousands of refugees streamed out of the Ruhr by the hundreds of thousands, Nazi propaganda minister Goebbels bitterly attacked the American "cultural vandals and military barbarians."

Conveniently forgetting the devastation suffered by London, Coventry and other cities in the 1940-41 Battle of Britain, Goebbels complained that Allied "terror planes" were "destroying" in a short hour, cultural possessions which the centuries have built.

In a ranting broadcast, chiefly aimed at the United States, Goebbels ignored damage to German military targets and declared:

"The Americans destroy towns of the European continent, which there are no equals in Chicago or San Francisco. What they cannot do is to destroy the German people. Last night's raid on the Ruhr, which will become victim of their terror bombers."

A London military observer declared that the campaign recently launched by the Ruhr was fourfold: to new approaching completion, and estimated that nearly 30,000 tons of bombs had been cascaded upon the entire valley in the last three and one-half months.

In that period, more than 500 Allied bombers have been lost and approximately 3,000 air personnel killed or captured.

Hitler's command says the German front on a series of tank-led Soviet attacks in the east of the Russian front.

Moscow reports Russian bayonet charges broke into German trenches of northern Karelian front. Last night's raid on the Ruhr, which produced a "short hour" of terror and served as an important rail hub, was the 11th attack on Germany in two weeks of the heaviest bombing the world ever known.

Nazi war reporters returning from the Ruhr were now making "horror" broadcasts to instill hatred in the German people, asserting that the last night's raids, hospitals and schools were the targets of Allied bombs.

Suspension Of A Cards Considered

Gas Ration Revocation Looms As East Coast Faces New Crisis

JULY CUT POSSIBLE

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The East Coast faced a new crisis in gasoline today, and it was anybody's guess whether gasoline rationing would have to be cut again in July.

Talk was revived of suspending all A books, and an Office of Price Administration spokesman admitted this was a possibility. He noted, however, that the Agency has a few days left before July 1 to try to reckon exactly what the effect of Interior Secretary Ickes' new gasoline allotment would be.

Suspension of the A coupons, it was said, would be a "last resort." The civilian allotment, made yesterday, was 328,000 barrels a day for all civilian use through July, August and September.

The allotment was 2,000 barrels higher than June's but some OPA officials estimated that the season's gas in a net loss to passenger cars of about 7,000 barrels a day in July.

This seemingly small deficiency of about 300,000 gallons daily could upset the preceding balance between supply and consumption which has been achieved by the curbing of A, B, C and T rations and bans on non-essential driving in the opinion of several rationing officials.

There was some indication OPA would appeal to Ickes for increased supplies entering the East, but spokesman for the Petroleum Administration for war shrugged off this report with the comment:

"There just isn't any more gasoline available."

Killing Of Veto Termed Blow To 4th Term

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The whirlwind enactment of the anti-strike bill over President Roosevelt's veto today prompted Republican assertions that there would be no fourth term and counter-assertions that the action should be considered a reflection on the Executive.

Elated at the result of Senate and House votes overriding the veto, Senator Henry R. Nelson, Neb., told reporters:

"This is the first concrete evidence that there will be no fourth term. The President's veto of the measure also provoked sharp criticism from members of his own party, with Senator Byrd, D., Va., asserting that the action was laden with politics."

"The veto was not the act of Franklin Roosevelt, commander in chief of the Army and Navy in time of a desperate war, Byrd declared. "It was the act of a politician, Roosevelt, candidate for reelection to a fourth term as President of the United States."

On the other hand, Senator Pepper, D., Fla., who voted to override the veto in the Senate, said he thought Congress' action expressed only a bipartisan determination to prevent further strikes in war industries such as the coal walkouts.

Inductees Get 3 Weeks, Now

NEW YORK, (AP)—Beginning July 1 three-week furloughs for new inductees into the Army will become effective in New York, New Jersey and Delaware, says Major Gen. Thomas A. Terry, commanding general of the second service command. The one week furlough for men entering the Navy remains unchanged.

Please Return Fire Souvenirs, Chief Urges

The Mamaroneck Village Fire Department lost several pieces of equipment during and after Sunday's raid when Chief Stephen Johnston feels might have been taken by spectators in search of souvenirs.

"If they realize how valuable the pieces of equipment are and how hard they are to replace, I am sure they will be willing to return them to the department," he said today.

Among the missing articles were two hand-held fog nozzles. The nozzles are made of brass and worth about $70 each, Chief Johnston said, and before they can be replaced, the village will have to appeal to the War Production Board for priorities. It is not known how long it will be before the nozzles are made.

The other missing articles are axes, pile poles, firemen's hats, boots and coats. Souvenir collectors are "urgently" requested to return all these objects to the department as soon as possible.

UPSET OF ANTI-STRIKE VETO DEALS BLOW TO ROOSEVELT; NEW REVOLT GRIPS

'Union Chiefs See 'Major Disaster' In Reversal

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Congress, in a stunning reversal of President Roosevelt, put American war production today under the whip-lash of an anti-strike law so stringent union leaders proclaimed it a "major disaster." Republicans saw in it a mortal blow to the Administration and resentful coal miners exploded in a new revolt.

Whirlwind action on the Connally-Smith-Harness bill forced the long-awaited issue yesterday.

Anti-climax set in today and "with it came doubt and the confusion on the full effects of the law, how it could be applied to the thing that inspired it—the coal walkouts—and a certain amount of fear as to the ultimate reaction at the workbenches of the "arsenal of democracy."

Attention focused on the coal fields where 350,000 miners—a cool half the total—had failed to return to work despite orders from John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers ending the recent walkout, the third in seven weeks. On top of that, passage of the law was followed immediately by fresh strikes by 20,000 more miners.

Mr. Roosevelt touched off a momentary day when he vetoed the anti-strike law as more likely to foment labor troubles than to restore peace. "I don't see how the law could be applied to the coal strike," he insisted. Labor had kept his non-strike pledge since Pearl Harbor.

With speed unequalled in recent years, the Senate and the House promptly overrode his veto to make law the measure providing stringency and punishment for persons instigating or aiding wartime strikes in Government-owned industries, and outlawing strikes by all war plants without a ballot of the workers. The law also broadens the power of the War Labor Board.

So rapid and unexpected was the Congressional action that the Justice Department was unprepared to say how it would proceed to enforce the new law.

Nor was there any pronouncement from the War Labor Board concerning its plans now that it has given power to force the attendance of witnesses for the subpoena authority in the past, the board steadfastly had been ignored by President Roosevelt and a UMW in its handling of the coal wage controversy.

On one subject there was the sharpest agreement it was the sharpest Congressional rebuff handed the President, his veto the Supreme Court reorganized and a Republican was junked in 1937. It followed by just a week preliminary House reorganization and a Republican was junked in 1937. It followed by just a week preliminary House reorganization and a Republican was junked in 1937.

With eagerness that preaged the result, the Senate took up the veto five minutes after the President's message was read late in the afternoon. The senators overrode the veto by a 75-23 vote, 29 Democrats joining 37 Republicans to override Mr. Roosevelt's, and 39 Democrats and 10 Republicans and one Progressive voted to uphold the executive. Among those voting to override was acting Democratic Leader Hill of Alabama.

The Senate's action was reported to the House while it was in the middle of a heated debate on an anti-submarine bill. Crisis of "vote" immediately went up. Delaying the vote by a few members were futile.

House Acts Swiftly
With a margin of nine votes, only two (a two-thirds vote being required in each case), the House overrode the veto by a 25-20 vote. The roll could be called voting against the House were 214 Democrats and 130 Republicans while 67 Democrats, 10 Republicans and four minor party members upheld him.
