UN To Act On County Site Only

Westchester Section Alone Considered For Permanent Home

TWO COURSES OPEN

NEW YORK—Despite protests by residents of the area and even by members of U. N. delegations, the Westchester-Fairfield site today remained the only section under consideration for the permanent home of the United Nations.

Assignment of the tract as UN's permanent home led to resident protests through mass meetings and protests before the Westchester-Fairfield Area Investigation Committee, the Town of North Castle, one of the Westchester townships included in part in the site originally designated, and the United Nations representative of those throughout the area protesting against UN's entry into the district.

Sir Angus said his commission, which is authorized to make specific recommendations for UN's permanent headquarters site, will not consider any other section in the Westchester-Fairfield area. His authority goes no further, he said.

The commission chairman took today a preliminary survey of the site and some UN delegates and secretaries-in-charge who have expressed dissatisfaction with the accommodations in the area and that they have voiced opposition to UN headquarters would be set up in some other part of the country or outside the United States.

His Commission's powers, Sir Angus said, give it the choice of these actions:

1. To make a positive recommendation for a site.
2. To find the Westchester-Fairfield site generally unsuitable.

Gurney Hits House Action On Draft Bill

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Senator Gurney, R., S.D., declared the quickest way to obtain an all-out effort to extend selective service for a year and increase soldier pay.

Opponents of the fight for quick Senate passage of a selective service extension bill, Gurney insisted, was a complete extension of House action in voting to stop all work in the Senate on October and bar the drafting of teen-agers.

The South Dakota Republican said he was extending the full draft authority with a pay raise starting in enough volunteers to make it possible to let selective service the next May 15.

"At this stage of our history the Selective Service Act is like a life preserver on a ship sailing uncharted seas," Gurney asserted. "We may not need it. But if we do, we should need it desperately. We can't afford to take the chance of throwing it overboard because some think the sea looks smooth today."

"To restrict the age limits as was done in the House is to punch holes in the life preserver, to rip holes in it and then hope it will keep us afloat."

While Gurney predicted speedy approval of the Military Committee's bill, opponents prepared a series of amendments to whittle down the bill. Under a new amendment, Gurney insisted, the Army and Navy "have bungled the whole program" by their insistence on retaining the draft.

Larchmont Vets Abandon Rezoning Plea For Homes In Face Of Opposition

Kennedy Loses Court Battle To Upset Village Denial Of Prefabricated Home Permit

WHITES PLAINS—Holding that provisions of the recently adopted amendments to the Larchmont Zoning Law and Building Code are not arbitrary or confiscatory, Official Referee Frederick P. Close today dismissed a petition by which Harold J. Kennedy sought an order requiring village officials to issue him a permit for construction of a pre-fabricated house on property he owns on Beach Avenue and Hazel Lawn.

Justice Close also held that Kennedy did not avail himself of the right of appealing to the Board of Appeals he is not entitled to a peremptory order. A dismissal is without prejudice to the renewal of the application.

He holds there is no merit in the petitioner's claims that the amendments are invalid because of alleged failure to give a fair hearing or that action on his application for a permit was unjustly delayed to allow adoption of the amendments.

Kennedy's property comprises 3,500 square feet, and on Jan. 3, he applied for a permit for the erection of a single-family residence to consist of five rooms, two baths and a garage. A permit was issued on Jan. 21, but the petitioner found he could not purchase the necessary building materials.

He then submitted plans and specifications for a pre-fabricated house of five rooms, two baths and a garage, and charged that Building Inspector Arthur Richards informed him the plans met the requirements of the building code.

He then submitted plans and specifications for a pre-fabricated house of five rooms, two baths and a garage, and charged that Building Inspector Arthur Richards informed him the plans met the requirements of the building code.

Next, he charged he was told a new application must be filed with the village and was charged that the inspector and his staff had entered into a scheme to prevent him from acquiring a vested right to a permit.

He alleged the inspector delayed beyond the customary time to amend the laws. The amendment he said restricted the building lot to those having more than 10,000 square feet of area, in place of the former 5,000, and continued the requirement that the building could not exceed more than 30 per cent of the area.

Kennedy charged that the amendments violated public health and welfare, and that they were not passed to "promote health and welfare" but to discriminate against him.

In their answer the defendants, Mr. Richards, Mayor E. Spencer Greson and Village Clerk Margaret E. Lord, denied all the allegations and set up in separate defenses particulars in which they claim the plans violate the 1928 building code.

They charged the amendments are intended to promote the health, safety, morals and general welfare of the village. On the point of the lot size restriction they pointed out that the Board of Appeals has the power to make adjustments.

The defendants further stated that on April 1, Kennedy asked that he have one of his buildings on Beach Avenue built. (Continued on Page Three)

The festival of Shevua is one of the most important festivals in the Jewish calendar, and it is a time when the Jews are reminded of their obligations to God and to their fellow men."

Bakeries Face Shutdown In Bread Making

NEW YORK, (AP)—Four that some bakeries might be forced to stop producing bread for a short time was expressed today by a spokesman for a large chain grocery company, who said that the cut in flour for bread had reached some such as 50 per cent in some cases.

The pre-war wheat shortage will force the nation's milling industry to burn along at only partial capacity all next week. This situation prevails despite a government offer to lend mills wheat from foreign pooled stocks until the new crop becomes available.

The loan decision was announced even as Senators heard news from the Millers National Federation yesterday that 98 per cent of all flour mills in the country would be forced to close by tonight.

To avoid any prolonged shutdown, the Agriculture Department said it will make wheat available both to relieve domestic bread shortages and to produce flour for export. But mills in areas where consumer capacity is so low are short of the reduced famine emergency levels will be able to borrow flour enough to bring their output for the month up to 50 per cent of their June quota, and this quota is only three-fourths of the amount of flour as they distributed monthly last year.

Pirates Vote To Strike For Baseball Guild

PITTSBURGH, (AP)—Major league baseball faces the threat of the first union strike in its long history here tomorrow night in a scheduled game between the Pittsburgh Pirates and the New York Giants.

Robert Murphy, labor relations director of the American Baseball Guild, announced last night that the Pirates had voted unanimously not to take the field against the Giants unless the Giants' officials meet their demands for an immediate collective bargaining election.

He said he would telephone President William E. Benavenger today and ask him for his decision.

Almost On Last Night
The 19th game of the home session in the Pirates' clubhouse kept the strike from coming off before last night's game with Brooklyn which the Dodgers won 5-3.

The 20th game was allowed a breakdown of a conference earlier in the day at Benavenger's office, during which the Pirates management suggested the game be deferred until the baseball season is over.

First work of the strike threat came to all major league ballclubs when the players and the players' union met today to discuss the players' union and Benavenger came to town today to discuss the union.

Benavenger headed the ultimatum and made his first trip to the Pirates clubhouse in 12 years, while, thousands of fans poured into Forbes Field unaware of the drama that was being enacted.

Berenger led Seaward W. French, Jr., his chief counsel, do most of the talking. French rejected the club's stand that recognition of the Guild should be postponed until the end of the baseball season.

The Bucc, who had appeared for battling practice but failed to take their infield drill, made their decision to absent with last night's game a few 20 minutes before the scheduled 8:30 starting hour. By that time the crowd had swelled to more than 26,000.

Democratic County Chairman Endorses Fasso For State Senate Seat

Democratic County Chairman Henry Zieger, 6 Hawthorne Road, Larchmont, an engineer, graduate of Columbia University, legislator and former commander of the American Legion, endorsed Fasso for State Senate seat in his endorsement letter to the County Board of Supervisors.

Other Democratic County Board members endorsing Fasso are: Robert J. Field, Peconick, Republican; and two candidates for Congress, to oppose Republicans Ralph W. Givnan, Bronxville, and Richard A. Gamble, Larchmont, incumbents. The latter two candidates appear certain of Democratic nomination. Benjamin Pinto of Tuckahoe, to oppose Republican incumbent Christopher Lawrence, Rockville Centre, and Charles Harrison.

It Was Also Announced That Instead Of Holding a County Convention, As It Is Not Required by Election Law, The Democrats May Nominate Merely by Primary Petition.

In explanation of the action, the executive committee, referring to Judge Fasso's 20 years of public service and 12 years upon the New Rochelle bench, issued this statement.

"The executive committee of the Democratic Party of Westchester has endorsed City Judge Thomas N. Fasso, a Republican of the 12th District, as its candidate for County Judge. We have taken this action in order to promote a free and open election of county officers in Westchester. This is consistent with our policy of endorsement of judges of proven ability.

"We believe that the standard of public morals in Westchester can best be improved by the application of the principle of non-partisanship in the election of county officers."

Truman Gets Warning Against Effort To Man Struck Vessels

TIIEP APPEARS SURE

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The threatening maritime situation was considered today by President Truman and his cabinet. Reconstruction Director John W. Snyder was reported to have urged the outlook "pretty bad." Attorney general Tom Clark told reporters Snyder used those words during the long-hour cabinet session. The White House gathering, closed with a working meeting of top men in the CIO's powerful national maritime union.

NEW YORK, (AP)—Two AFL Maritime Unions laid plans today for a nationwide ship strike and telegraphed President Truman that government personnel would be "striker breakers" if they attempted to man any vessels in case of a walkout.

The union stand was taken here today by the invocation by the Seafarers' International Union and the Sailors Union of the Pacific, authorized by an immediate strike in a three-hour meeting with the AFL Maritime Union. Leaders of the two maritime unions said today all seamen would return to work by 10 a. m. tomorrow, but they added there was "a possibility" that another wave of strikers would be called some time today.

An SIU spokesman said "if there is a no-strike notice today," the work stops today. He declared in a news conference after a 2:00 p. m. seaman approved certain.

Jack Hawk, international president of the SIU and Jack Sawyer, port agent of the SUP, said there might be a demonstration if the strike might occur.

Charging ship operators—now negotiating with seven CIO unions—said today a 20 per cent increase over wages now ranging from $18 to $19 a month, plus 15 per cent overtime rate, a six-hour work day at sea and in port and a 40-hour week would be held.

Former War Labor Board Member Paints Optimistic Picture Of Labor Situation

NEW YORK (AP)—Moderately optimistic about the present labor situation, George F. Fanelli, former member of the National War Labor Board, told more than 300 members and guests of the Larchmont Democratic Club at the June meeting last night at 2 East Avenue.

"The labor situation today is far more optimistic than the public conception of it," said Mr. Fanelli. "Public alarm has exaggerated the current picture almost in a general strike."

These strikes cannot be considered political, he declared, nor as an attack on the economic system. Rather, they were "more bread and butter strikes" and the picture was exaggerated because of the proximity of one strike to another, the speaker added.

The present cycle of strikes was intended to compensate for increased living costs. Mr. Fanelli stated. If the power of OPA is destroyed, he said, the resultant increased prices will start another round of wage demands.

When the restrictions on wage increases were in effect, he said, the war, no increases could be granted through all contracts contained the provisions that requests for increases could be made as soon as the restrictions were lifted, Mr. Fanelli said. Therefore, when the lifting came, all the accumulated complaints of years came at one time, when normally they would have been distributed over a long period, he stated.

The increased use of grievance procedure and arbitration mechanisms is proving satisfactory to both management and labor, he declared. He said that a new maturity has been reached in the management-labor relationship, assuring well for the future.

Mr. Fanelli was introduced by Alexander O'Donnell, Town Democratic chairman.

The club voiced support for the campaign of Henry Gueger of Larchmont for state senator from the 33rd District.

An Award For Every Boy Aim Of Lions Committee For July Soap Box Derby

An award for every boy who participates in the big 1946 All-American Mamaroneck-Larchmont Soap Box Derby, that's the aim of the prize committee of the Mamaroneck Lions Club which is co-sponsoring the race with the Daily Times and the Soundview Chevrolet Corp.

The committee has already begun to work and the prizes which have been donated by local residents are among the awards already listed.

Then there are such things as baseball gloves, mittens, a water-resistant sport jacket, a camera, and a Remington pen which every entrant will be awarded.

The boys are only the beginning as the Lions Committee, under the chairmanship of William MacDonald, has not nearly completed its list of securing prizes. Some cash donations have been received and they will be used to acquire the prizes.

It is certainly that there'll be a memento of the big race for every entrant. A foreman in addition to the exciting trip to Akron for the winner, the pen and pencil set for the best upholstered car, and the official Soap Box Derby helmet which every racer will receive.

Then, there are the medals which go to first, second and third place winners in each class, and of course the thrill of racing for its own sake, plus the fun of building a racer.

Entries for the biggest amateur event of the year are open and applications may be made at the Daily Times, 120 Elm Street, Mamaroneck or at the Soundview Chevrolet Corp., 1879 Palmer Avenue, Larchmont. All Mamaroneck and Larchmont boys between the ages of 11 and 15 are eligible to enter but must be accompanied by a parent or guardian when making application.

Citizens' Group Raps Gwinn On OPA Stand

Opposition to Rep. Ralph Gwinn's desire to have OPA price controls removed was voted by the Westchester County Independent Citizens' Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions at an executive board meeting.

The following letter, signed by Donald K. Weissman of White Plains, chairman of the Westchester Chapter was sent to Rep. Gwinn in Washington Thursday.

Your recent statement, made in Washington and published in the newspapers, advocating removal of OPA price control, was condemned last night at an executive board meeting of the Westchester County Independent Citizens' Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, and as chairman of the board I have been directed to address an open letter of protest to you.

We are firmly opposed to the dropping of price control at this critical period and we believe that the majority of your constituents are of the same opinion. We object to your applying the term "normal economy" to the only method yet devised which attempts to keep the cost of living within the earning capacity of the average salaried worker and to the vital importance of the professional man.

In the interests of the people who you represent we urge that you reconsider your position and vote to retain and to strengthen its vital importance to the nation against inflation.

E-BOND REDEMPTION HERE DOUBLES SALES TO NEW PURCHASERS

$90,573 Paid Out, May Sales Total Only $52,406

A gloomy picture of the financial transactions Treas. Sam is carrying on with E-bond issues was revealed yesterday by a survey of the banking institutions of Larchmont and Mamaroneck which shows that nearly twice as much money is being paid out by the government in redemptions as is coming in from new bond purchases.

During May, the total amount of money paid in redemptions in the two communities totaled $90,573 whereas only $52,406 came in from the purchase of the E-type of bonds.

Of the five institutions surveyed all but one recorded redemptions far in excess of sales and the one that balanced in the other direction was the Federal Savings and Loan Association of Mamaroneck which showed $24,770 in sales and redemptions of $57,121.

Of the banks which do a large bulk business of bonds, the Bank of Westchester in Larchmont showed the greatest percentage of redemptions over sales. Money paid out during the month totaled $42,000 in redemptions and only $28,350 were sold. The Federal Savings and Loan Association redeemed $2,441 worth of bonds and sold only two for a total of $37.50.

In Mamaroneck, the County Trust Company redeemed bonds amounting to $31,750.64, or about $10,000 more than the $21,750.64 in sales. The United Savings Bank redeemed $8,044.77 and sold bonds totaling $3,090.

Although the banks indicated that the sale of the larger denomination E-bonds was subject to a certain degree of the E-bond which are being redeemed, the redemptions of the smaller denomination situation and attitude of the general public or the "small" buyer, is a factor in the declining sales. The fact that a longer term is required for the E-bond as well as the fact that the redemption of the E-bonds is being made by the Federal Government, the wealthy people and the institutions are apparently not holding as necessary to cash them as the holders of the small denominations.

Collection By Legion Post Handicapped As Few Volunteer Aid
2 BOX CARS FILLED

An unusually heavy tonnage of waste paper and the lowest number of men yet to collect to help, characterized the collection conducted yesterday afternoon by Mamaroneck Post 90 of the American Legion.

While the volume of paper carried to the freight yards appeared to be the most successful drive, there were stacks of magazines and books which the Legionnaires judged would weigh more than the usual volume of paper.

The bundles were very well tied, and the volunteers, many of them, were very well dressed for the occasion, adding that the residents of Mamaroneck are becoming well educated to the drives, calling up the committee if their bundles are not called for promptly.

Ten trucks were loaned for the afternoon by Jubb, Pergola, Goodrich, and others. The village of Mamaroneck, Greenwich, and the Buxton Ironworks of the York were the collection was the fifth one made by the Legion for the benefit of the veterans clubhouse fund.

Polish Underground Leader, On Visit Here, Tells Story Of Butchery And Courage

By RUTH R. TAUB
The horror and the magnitude of the 63 days of the Warsaw uprising of August, 1944, the superhuman effort of a small band of ill-equipped Polish patriots to withstand a well armed German army of a million, came vividly alive Saturday afternoon on a pleasant Larchmont terrace.

As Mme. Irena Orska, leader of the underground movement, in charge of the Women's Army Forces in her quarter of Warsaw, spoke of the butchery and the valor of those gripping 63 days, it was easy to share her marvel at the great courage of her Polish sisters, fighting shoulder to shoulder with the men, and nursing them when they would felled them.

Salute To Our Village

By RUTH R. TAUB
 Fair, friendly village on the peaceful Sound,
 Your sons and daughters proudly gather round
 To pay you homage on your Jubilee
 Your fiftieth golden anniversary:
 A village birthed and nurtured
 by strong men, sons and grandsons
 battled yet again
 To keep Democracy's bright torch aflame,
 And make Mamaroneck a noble name.
 No threat of atom bombs overturn your life
 In those quaint days when muskets conjured strife;
 And though the muddy lanes no longer hear
 The tread of horse-drawn wagons in this year,
 The spirit of the village and its ways
 Is strong as in its olden by-gone days.
 With new blood adding vigor to good stock,
 To build the village on substantial rock.
 And as you celebrate your golden date,
 Your people wish for you a kindly fate:
 That you may prosper under God's great will
 And never more your youth go forth to kill
 And that the men may be forever free—
 Blessings, Mamaroneck, today on thee.

The Rev. Floyd E. McGuire of the Larchmont Avenue Presbyterian Church and the Very Rev. Magt. Thomas J. Deegan of St. Augustine's Church, Fire Department chaplains, delivered the invocations and made short talks after the reading of Alice Lee had been given.

Following a reception in the hotel lounge the members and their guests, more than 50 in number, went to the main dining room for the annual dinner and the speeches in honor of the ex-officers and the "old timers." Mr. Breunlich spoke briefly on the value of training periods for prospective firemen, such as he had to take in his early days with the department.

The board voted a letter of appreciation to Mrs. Benbow for her "faithful service to the village."

Action Urged By Greenbaum On Park Land

Lawrence Greenbaum of 724 Stuart Avenue got it squarely up to the Mamaroneck Village Board last night about the property it apparently intends to acquire for park purposes but never does anything about.

He pointed out that the village has been paying school taxes for several years on parcels it has acquired through tax proceedings and added emphatically that he thought the people had a right to know what was going to be done with the property.

Mayor Santoro explained that when the village acquires property, it must pay either the Town of Mamaroneck or the Town of Rye a proportionate share and Mr. Greenbaum replied that he knew that very well and asked, "Then why do you do it and get it cleared up?"

He continued that the people have a right to expect any business corporation or any municipal corporation to act in a businesslike manner and let the people know the status of the property that is neither on the tax rolls nor in the possession of the municipality.

The board agreed that steps should be taken to clarify the property in question and Mr. Greenbaum concluded that he hoped it would be done soon.

Chief Reports On Demand For Traffic Light

During the last four years, 11 accidents have occurred at or near Ribbald Road and the Boston Post Road and it is doubtful if any of them could have been avoided by the presence of a traffic light at that intersection, Village Police Chief Arthur Martenson told the Village Board last night.

The report was submitted at the request of Mayor Santoro who was charged last week by Douglas London of Larchmont Acres with "gross negligence" in connection with three accidents which occurred there within 96 hours.

The mayor replied that he had never received a request from Larchmont Acres residents for a traffic light and explained that, even if he had, it was a state highway and not under the jurisdiction of the village on the matter of traffic lights.

The chief's report revealed a variety of accidents, pedestrian, bicycle and vehicle on the list ranging in seriousness from bumper dents to the fatal burning of the truck driver on May 23 of last year, two in 1942, one in 1944, four in 1945 and four in 1946 in 1946 including the three Mr. London mentioned.

The information has been forwarded to the State Department and the chief said that, before a decision is made about the light, a 24-hour traffic check will be made and the state men will then confer with the local authorities on the situation. He added that the function of lights is to expedite traffic rather than to hinder and pointed out that since Robert's has reopened, trucks no longer park on the street and there is now a clear view of Ribbald Road from the Post Road.

Johnson To Attend Montreal Session

For the first time since 1941, Village Manager William H. Johnson of Mamaroneck will attend the international convention of city managers, held this year in Montreal from June 16 to June 21.

In previous years, the association has usually had an attendance from 400 to 500 members at its conventions, and the group is divided into villages, towns, and cities of about equal population.

Round-table discussions as well as open forums will aid the managers in solving their problems, according to Mr. Johnson.

Mr. Johnson will attend for the first three days, but will then have to return to his duties at home. Mrs. Johnson will accompany him to Montreal.

FULCHER TO SPEAK

When William J. Kuhn calls the roll of 50-year residents tonight at the Golden Jubilee celebration at the Municipal Building, 153 persons will come in the platform to receive gold pins from Mayor B. J. Santoro.

Anyone who has lived in the village for 50 years and has not yet registered with Mr. Kuhn is asked to notify the committee tonight and he will be awarded one of the anniversary pins.

The program is scheduled to start promptly at 8 P. M. after an hour of music by the Mamaroneck and Bellows High School bands and, after a greeting from the mayor who will be introduced by Leo Heitman, anniversary chairman, the Municipal Building will be delivered by William Fulcher, chairman of the historical committee and author of "The Story of the Friendly Village" now on sale throughout the community.

One of the highlights of the anniversary will be the announcement of the Chamber of Commerce of the winners of the window display contest sponsored by the Chamber in which the merchants have been asked to exhibit their "Story of the Friendly Village" now on sale throughout the community.

The former mayors of the village will be introduced as honorary chairmen of the Jubilee and residents will be invited to inspect the Municipal Building at the close of the program when all employees will be at their posts.

The program will open and close with the invocation and benediction delivered by the Rev. Ashby G. E. Stromberg and the Rev. Thomas B. Kelly, respectively.

The display of industrial products manufactured in the village will be placed in the Municipal Building and in the lobby of the Mamaroneck Playhouse.

At the Playhouse at the present time is a historical display arranged by Mr. Fulcher, who will be present every evening to authorize copies of his book. The volume is on sale at the banks, the Municipal Building, and at most of the other merchants in the village. The paper backed edition costs $1.00 and the book-ram edition will sell for $2.

Jackson Blast Against Black Stuns Capital

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The unprecedented spectacle of one Supreme Court Justice publicly assailing another stunned officials here today, but several lawmakers held it might lead to restoring what they term the "Lost Dignity" of the tribunal.

The bombshell which Justice Robert H. Jackson expounded in his dissent on Justice Hugo Black projected a long-smoldering judicial feud into the open, and these influential lawmakers thought this could be a good thing in the long run.

Specifically, they said privately Congress may order a complete overhaul of Court procedure in an effort to minimize "bickering" on and behind the bench.

At the moment, however, the Capital buzzed with more immediate speculation over whether Jackson and Black intended to continue on the high bench, despite a virtual state of war between them. The situation was without parallel in modern court history.

Chairman Hatton W. Sumners, D-Texas, of the House group said only today that he would submit the document to his committee "immediately after its receipt."

Most members expressed doubt that the Committee would even consider impeachment proceedings, which under the Constitution must originate in the House and be tried by the Senate.

Larchmont Food Drive Nets $1,923

Workers Still Needed For House Canvassing In Two Districts

A total of $1,923 has been collected in Larchmont so far for the emergency food drive, according to a report made at noon yesterday by Martin Stern, finance chairman.

The workers with allocated territories are attempting to complete their solicitation by Wednesday but volunteers are still urgently needed for several districts including about 1,500 homes and apartments. Mr. Stern appealed today for help in the canvassing of these territories and the unincorporated area of the town where the workers have not had time to visit.

"Larchmont made a splendid showing in the emergency clothing drive," Mr. Stern pointed out. He ranked second in the United States in the nationwide clothing drive. We should equal and better the record in this collection of food for the hungry.

The people of Europe have, for many months after hostilities ceased, been eating their lives on 80-calories a day which equals eight ounces of ordinary bread, coffee, tea, sugar, vegetables, or meat. If by chance, they are given some other type of food they had the caloric content deducted from it.

Patrolman Paonessa Probes A Dream And Turns Up With Two Large Sides Of Beef

You know the stories of men lost in the desert who see a pool of water in front of them and men on a life raft who have delirious day dreams of three-course meals before their eyes?

Patrolman William J. Paonessa of the Mamaroneck Village Police Department as he was cruising along Halsted Avenue near Florence Street at 2:35 P. M. Wednesday saw lying in the street was enough to stop anybody in his tracks back in normal pre-war days. It was something to send a man scurrying to his psychiatrist.

Paonessa and other motorists were apparently gazing at the sight and then rubbing their eyes and shaking their heads as they passed on their way by Patrolman Paonessa, being an enterprising officer who has been taught to investigate everything—even a dream—got out and took a closer look.

Two large sides of beef were lying side by side in the street. Whether they had arrived there by some supernatural means or had merely bounced off some mysterious truck, the policeman did not determine. The sides had been thrown into his police car and drove them to headquarters where they have been placed in storage pending the application of their owners.

Unions End Threatened Ship Strike

Walkout Cancelled As Washington Agreement Climaxes Dispute

SOME SEAMEN OUT

NEW YORK, (AP)—Shipping facilities in New York City's vast port were confused today as most members of the CIO National Maritime Union remained idle and AFL longshoremen went to work loading ships.

By The Associated Press
Most of the Maritime Unions in the nation's ports cancelled strike plans today and scheduled retreats to vote on the committee for maritime Washington agreement ended the CIO Maritime Labor dispute.

At the 146-Angelo-Long Beach Harbor, more than 5,000 seamen and waterfront workers were called onto the streets at 12:01 (PST) and L. B. Thomas, local chairman of the Committee for Maritime Unity, instructed all seamen to remain aboard their vessels. He live in their quarters, but not to work on the ships.

Thomas said he doubted if the men on strike could be called together today for ratification.

Plans for picking New York's waterfront were called off by the New York Joint Maritime Committee, which has nearly 20,000 seamen in five unions.

All demonstrations have been cancelled and five membership meetings are scheduled for noon today on the committee for maritime unity (CMIU) agreements.

The statement came several hours after 5,000 members of the committee adopted by unanimous vote a resolution declaring a strike "in accordance with the policy of the Committee for Maritime Unity and instructed all national maritime union men to report for picket duty at 8 A. M."

It was estimated that 4,000 seamen walked off their vessels at midnight, when the National Maritime Union ratified terms of the agreement and the men drifted back to their vessels.

Picketing of the Port of Philadelphia which started at the midnight deadline, was ordered halted two hours later after receipt of official notification of the Washington settlement.

An announcement by Harry Bridges and Joe Curran that the settlement represented an "unprecedented" triumph for the unions was countered on to a peevish approval by the rank-and-file and insure no important interruption in merchant marine operations.

"I will keep 'em sailing," promised Curran, who is co-chairman with Bridges of the Committee for Maritime Unity.

The break in the strike threat deadline came last night at 11 P. M. (EST), after a long day of suspense and an evening of bitter-sweet chaos at the Labor Department. It was then union leaders and employers, began signing the documents that meant they had agreed to labor.

Truck Driver Recovers Beef Found Here
There won't be any free steaks passed out by the Mamaroneck Village Police this week.

Frank Prascella of the Highland Packing Company of Port Chester, rumored to Mamaroneck this morning to reclaim his two sides of beef, found yesterday at Halsted Avenue and Florence Street.

"I'm sure glad to get that meat back," he told police. "The coat would have come out of my own pocket, since I was driving the truck." He expressed his gratitude to Patrolman William Parness and Village employee John Porworny, who saw to it that the meat was put safely into the hands of the police.

Manzoni Members Attend Convention
Three members of the Allesandro Manzoni Lodge of Mamaroneck left yesterday for Syracuse where they are attending the state convention of the Sons of Italy of the United States.

The delegates are Joseph Calzona, James Vitro and Joseph Patti. They will return tomorrow night.

A postage-paid, self-addressed envelope is enclosed for answers to questions indicating varying shades of support or opposition to the Fasso candidacy, in accompanying letter, characterizing the COP County Committee as the "rank and file who help and bring out the vote" and as "the backbone of the Republican Party in Westchester," continue.

"Without the party could never function with success. Despite this, you never had a choice in the choice of candidates. Of course you know that Republican candidates for high office in Westchester County have been selected in backroom sessions by three or four individuals known as the 'Inner Circle.' You are not consulted. Your opinion is not sought. Even Town and City leaders have been ignored."

"Every free and independent person will agree that such steamroller tactics constitute sheer political dictatorship. We must stop it. Our sons fought and sacrificed their lives to stamp out dictatorship abroad. Should it thrive here in our own country, is the detriment of every citizen? Shall we submit forever to this political dictatorship?"

Republicans today viewed the letter as an opening gun in Judge Fasso's campaign. A number of them feel that during his Bench political procedure, he traditionally keeps a judicial countenance, but in the political arena he is a different man. During the Primaries, it is pointed out, he will be a vocal and active opposition to the dominant Republican County organization.

3 Villages Village Falls Far Short Plan Joint Chamber Of Commerce To Discuss Uniting With Larchmont, Harrison

4 ADVANTAGES CITED

The advisability of creating a single Chamber of Commerce for Mamaroneck, Larchmont and Harrison will be discussed at a special meeting of the Mamaroneck Chamber of Commerce tomorrow at 8:30 P. M. at St. Thomas' Parish House.

Merchants in Larchmont and Harrison who have been approached by the Chamber of Commerce, according to Mamaroneck organization have responded favorably, according to Frank Vavloski, president.

The proposed plan would enable each community to have its own organization and officers, but would provide for directors from each town to represent the particular group in the overall Chamber, which might be called the Business and Civic Federation of Mamaroneck, Larchmont and Harrison.

The advantages of such a plan, as outlined in the semi-monthly bulletin of the Mamaroneck Chamber of Commerce, would be as follows:

"1. It would have a sound financial structure capable of supporting the needs of all three communities.

"2. It would add prestige to the communities involved and add to their influence in both local and county planning.

"3. It would act as a clearing house for local state and national information to help the local businessmen who are doing business more than 30,000. It would give them a voice equal to that of any other large town in the county."

Another pleasing weekend brought even higher weekend crowds than in the past. Saturday and Sunday, with parks and beaches and an estimated 20,000 people, and more than 30,000 people, respectively, reported their car registers on a pre-war basis on a Saturday morning at each town.

The American occupation in Japan is taking the first step in that liberation, he said, granting full basic freedoms including the right of women to vote, abolishing Shintism, paving the way for the Emperor to become a human being instead of a divine personage; but the liberation of the individual in Japan, he added, is a matter that a military occupation cannot accomplish no matter how noble its performance. The occupation of Japan is not, technically, an exclusively American undertaking and there are therefore certain limitations to the application of American doctrine of man. In Japan Buddhism and even sectarian Shintism are given as much freedom and protection as Christianity.

The major task of liberating the individual, then, lies with the missionaries who will preach Christianity, he continued, emphasizing the "gigantic task" ahead where there is no room for "petty denominational rivalry."

Rev. Mr. Matsumoto defined a liberated individual as "a person who has freed himself from the spiritual, moral, psychological and social bonds created by man a person who acknowledges the fact that every one was made by God and is of infinite worth to God and that there is no man above him and there is no man below him."

The speaker, who was born in Japan and received his early education there traced the history of Japan from 1853 when Commodore Perry opened the country to foreign influence until Sept. 2, 1945, when Gen. MacArthur accepted Japan's surrender in Tokyo Bay with the words "the end of the world is theological."

He described the work done by the missionaries who followed Perry last declared, "There never were enough missionaries to meet the needs of the people who are so poor and so ignorant."

He continued, "The leaders who have been appointed to carry on this no time in formulating policies and methods for the future curbing this energy and despair."

They accepted and developed the material aspects of western civilization, but they refused to accept other nations on equal terms."

Granting that a few political changes have been made by Gen. Perry's arrival, Rev. Mr. Matsumoto said that instead of the old caste system in which the professional warriors occupied the leadership, the new system is a

81,000 Fund To Boost Total As R. R. Car Wails

An army of volunteers worked on Sunday on a small area of Mamaroneck yesterday afternoon for the collection of cans for the emergency collection and managed to fill only a few square feet of the mamaroneck car after the sorting and packing was done at the Commodore building on Halsted Avenue.

Although the area covered in the project car is small, only the number of cans is estimated at about 10,000 weighing three and a half tons.

A group of 20 volunteers did the sorting and packing in Carmel and in the truck. Some of the 52 cartons averaging 150 pounds in weight were filled, consigned for the UNRRA and then transported to the freight yards to be loaded into the car.

Chairman Charles D. Silbeck said last night that the car will remain on the tracks until tomorrow when the wholesale food purchases by Altonline Food Co. will be collected by the agency and taken to the car.

No Peace Yet, Graduates Warn As Bellows Gives Diplomas To Class Of 55

Colorful Program Highlights Annual Graduation

By MASON GOULD

Fifty-five young men and women representing the youth of our nation upon whose shoulders rest many of the responsibilities for maintaining a world at peace, received their diplomas last night in the flower-decked stage of the Rye Neck school's 51st annual graduation ceremonies.

Standing out sharply among the criss and gowns of his classmates was the white-uniformed Martin C. Gallotti of the U. S. Navy, reminding the large attendance of parents and guests that 13 Bellows boys gave their lives in World War II and 655 answered the call to duty, a fact denoted on a banner hanging to the right of the stage.

Ira Garfunkel, valedictorian of the Class of 1946, sounded the keynote of high school seniors thinking throughout the country by warning that we do not yet have real peace.

"Now that the war is over," he declared, "there is peace in the world. Or so they say. But the end of the war in Europe and the Pacific did not mean the immediate shutting off of a valve—the crossing the line which divides chaos from peace. As we see it, there is not yet peace in the world. We graduates in the year 1946 see only partial victory."

"We are not trying to tell others what to do," he continued, "but we feel our education has at least given us a basis for forming our own opinion, and our opinion is that peace between armies and people of lands and planes over the enemy does not mean peace with nature, peace between religions and men, peace between capital and labor."

As we make progress against the weapons of nature, however, the valedictorian declared, modern science is striving, pushing, making its way against odds more measurable than ever.

"We are making progress, yes, but we have not won. As long as people die of starvation in Poland and India; as long as floods devastate an Illinois; as long as cancer is dreaded, we shall not have real peace."

"We are not trying to tell others what to do," he continued, "but we feel our education has at least given us a basis for forming our own opinion, and our opinion is that peace between armies and people of lands and planes over the enemy does not mean peace with nature, peace between religions and men, peace between capital and labor."

Plans For 'Welcome Home' Celebration Now Under Way, Mayor Advises V. F. W. Post

The Mamaroneck Village Board made short work of its regular meeting last night to clear the decks for the opening of the bids on village property.

All "old business" items were disposed with and, under "new business" the deputy clerk read letters from the Mamaroneck Realty Board, the Young Men's Republican Club of Rye Neck, Thomas B. Sutton and J. Henry Easer opposing the acceptance of the lease to Fern hill submitted some time ago by OWEN A. Mandeville.

Mr. Easer called the board's attention to the procedure in Mount Vernon where the city advertises property after a bid has been received at an upset price and a public auction is held. He said he thought property should go to individual buyers "who are more apt to develop them speedily and to greater advantage to the village."

In reply to a letter from the Chamber of Commerce urging the village to encourage light industry in the community, MAYOR SANTORO recognized the board had done all in its power in the past and it sure will continue in the future to encourage light industries provided they live up to our zoning laws.

A request from David Morse, No. 1156 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars for a ceremony recognizing the retail industry in the community, MAYOR SANTORO recognized the board had done all in its power in the past and it sure will continue in the future to encourage light industries provided they live up to our zoning laws.

House Approves Draft Extension

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Compromise legislation extending the draft law until next March 31 but prohibiting the induction of 18-year-olds was passed today by the House and sent to the Senate.

OPA Bill Holds Meat, Gas Curbs

Offers Expected $500,000 As Village Puts 1,200 Parcels On Block

Price Controls Remain Also On Cigarettes And Butter In Compromise HOUSE GETS MEASURE

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Chairman Spencer, U. S. House Banking Committee today expressed belief that President Truman will sign the compromise OPA bill worked out last night by a Senate-House conference committee.

In his opinion, Spencer said, the bill "is workable."

The Kentuckian, who has battled for months for continuation of a strong price control law, made his statement after a session as the House convened two hours earlier than its usual meeting time for a session which probably will see a showdown vote on the OPA compromise.

Spencer voiced confidence the House will approve the compromise. The measure's renewal of OPA powers is far short of what the Administration has asked for. But at the same time its curtailment of OPA powers is a good deal less drastic than the Administration had expected in view of separate actions taken by the two chambers when the renewal legislation was first taken up.

With other legislation scheduled for prior consideration, the final vote on OPA was not expected before midnight.

The compromise measure leaves rent controls unchanged. Left intact were price controls over meat, sugar, cigarettes and gasoline, but the one-year extension of the war-born agency which took away many OPA powers over the national economy.

An article in the Senate, and finally President Truman must approve the measure if it is to keep all price ceilings from expiring next Sunday midnight.

Although a last minute decision blocked out sections which would have ended controls over livestock, poultry, dairy products, tobacco and petroleum at the end of this month, many of the Bill's provisions are specifically to force a raise in prices.

Advocates contended that such a course would spur production and put the nation on the highway to prosperity. But Stabilization Director Chester Bowles dammed them in advance as "Booby Trap" breeders of inflation.

Among them: "The House's controversial program calling for specific quantities of lower-cost clothing, 12 A. belt-called cost-absorption on such things as autos, refrigerators and radios."

Seven delegates to the state convention of the VETERANS of Foreign Wars were named last night at a meeting of David Potts, Jr., No. 1158 of the post room.

The delegates, who will attend the convention at the St. George Hotel, Brooklyn, June 27-28, are Walter Needham, Nicholas Leon, Julius Smith, James Amrose, Victor Bravo, Walter Ketchum, and Frank Anderson.

Only one meeting per month, on the second Monday, will be held in July and August, it was decided.

A report was made on the annual picnic Sunday on the post grounds which refreshments were served and several contests run off with prizes for the winners.

Board Receives No Bulk Bid For All Properties

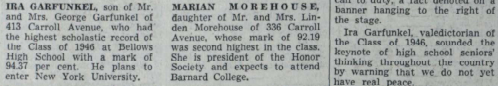

After more than 10 months of activity to bring the grueling In Rem foreclosure of more than 1,200 parcels of property to a head, the Village of Mamaroneck last night witnessed one of the most amazing bidding sessions in the annals of local real estate history.

Before a packed room with the crowd overflowing out into the corridors, the paper cutters went into 596 sealed envelopes as the deputy clerk, assisted by the assessor and the village manager, read off a staggering list of more than 1,200 parcels, including duplicate and overlapping bids worth over the $1,000,000 mark.

The bulk bid made a month ago by Owen A. Mandeville for $429,000 for all the parcels was not among them and was nearly as high as the highest bid. The village employees began the mounting task of tabulating the bids according to section, block and lot number. The village will net well over that amount—perhaps between $500,000 and $600,000 when the duplicate bids have been weeded out and the highest offer accepted on each lot.

The board faces a major task within the next few weeks as the 600 bids come up for consideration and are complicated by the duplicate and overlapping bids on many of the popular parcels.

According to the best estimates available, the value of the available lots in Section 9 should bring over $1,500,000; in Section 8 about $130,000 and in Section 4, about $200,000.

IRA GARFUNKEL, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Garfunkel of 413 Carroll Avenue, who had the highest scholastic record of the Class of 1946 at Bellows High School, was a mark of 94.37 per cent. He plans to enter New York University.

Supervisor Has Client Interested In Taking Over County Building

2 PROPOSALS MADE

The possibility that the auditorium of the County Center in White Plains might be leased was revealed today by County Executive Herbert C. Gerlach who also stated that among those who would be interested in such a project is Supervisor Owen A. Mandeville of Manamont.

Supervisor Mandeville said this morning that if the County Center should be available for leasing, he is in contact with business men in New York who would be interested in promoting it.

Mr. Gerlach emphasized that there has not yet been any definite action taken, but that there have been discussions of an excellent opportunity for the rental for special occasions, and of rental of all or most of the building.

One proposal has been made by White Plains Republican City Chairman Harvey T. Turner. Mr. Gerlach said that Mr. Turner had made a verbal proposition and that he had countered with a similar proposal.

Mr. Gerlach said that Mr. Turner has not revealed the identity of his client, nor has Supervisor Mandeville said whether or not New York boxing interests are seeking to lease the auditorium.

The County Center is under the jurisdiction of the County Reception Commission and any proposal would have to meet with its approval. The auditorium is not being used at present because of damage to the roof of the building.

Mr. Gerlach said that the present negotiations for the center are somewhat similar to those which preceded the lease for Westchester Airport.

Governor Makes Nine-Hour Circuit Of County En Route To Cornerstone-Laying

Crowding one stop after another in campaigner fashion Governor Thomas E. Dewey made a nine-hour circuit of Westchester today. The Governor jammed his schedule with a brief glimpse of Governor Thomas Dewey, 59, at 10:30 A. M. today as a police escort swept his car along the Boston Post Road to Rye, where he will inspect a veterans' housing project this afternoon.

Three motorcycle police headed the escort, another three rode in the Dewey auto, and two cars of detectives immediately preceded another following the Governor. A police car brought up the rear.

The Governor, accompanied by Norman D. Slikeman, State Emergency Housing Chairman and Executive Secretary Paul Lockwood, arrived in Rye by the Boston Post Road at 11:30 A. M. At Rye, his car stopped in front of the Square House where Livingston Platt, Westchester County Republican Chairman came out to greet him.

Dewey did not leave his car and after a pause of but a moment turned to St. Benedict's Home, the third veterans' housing project he planned to inspect in Westchester. Mayor Greenville S. Sewall, in a police car, met the Governor at the Rye City Hotel and conducted him to St. Benedict's home.

Dewey said the expense of his temporary housing program "make all the fight to build up the surplus worthwhile." He referred to the large surplus of funds which the State built up during the war.

Dewey's schedule called for him to be a luncheon guest of Mr. Platt at Rye. He will have dinner at the home of Pliny Williamson, Republican State Senator, in Scarsdale.

Gov. Dewey arrived in Mount Vernon on schedule this morning and inspected two schools being converted into apartments for rent.

Many Get Awards For Outstanding School Work

By MASON GOTLD

Created by tremendous applause in the packed Junior High School auditorium, 25 of the World War II veterans members of the Class of 1946 last night as Manamont High School graduated the largest senior class in its history.

Four parents graduated the stage to receive diplomas for their sons, and other still in the audience have re-elected for further duty.

Valdicatorian Douglas Cook, president of the class and the recipient of four scholarship medals and awards during the ceremony, delivered the principal address and called for a greater interest in the affairs of government if we are to live up to our democratic principles.

"We have the greatest opportunity in the world to practice democracy," he said, "but exercise it less than either our forefathers or those of our fathers which have adopted it from us. How can we then so blindly criticize our leadership and complain about pressure groups when we are responsible for their existence and their actions?"

"When it comes to voting, most people exercise little or no say in their government. Over the nation as a whole this situation is most regrettable. But this election will draw it from 70 to 80 per cent of the voters. In 1944, slightly over 48-000,000 citizens cast their vote. This year we have nearly 90 per cent of persons over 21 years of age. In 1896, the figure was over 80 per cent. The number of votes has steadily declined to its present level. But this election will draw it from 70 to 80 per cent of the voters. In our local and state elections the figures are even lower."

"Each citizen must know what the state of the nation is and if that his vote goes for a candidate who will fight for the same principles. We must have a government by and for the people and our future will depend on the quality of the men we elect. In 1944, slightly over 48-000,000 citizens cast their vote. This year we have nearly 90 per cent of persons over 21 years of age. In 1896, the figure was over 80 per cent. The number of votes has steadily declined to its present level. Meat Supplies Dwindle To Record Low

A virtual famine in fresh meat for most of the nation was reported today—with no indications of immediate relief—as the Senate prepared to act on the house-approved compromise OPA bill revising meat price controls.

Some packer industry spokesmen said today the Bill became law, keeping the lids on livestock and meat prices, the country's meat supply "will get even worse."

Others asserted the scarcity would continue for several months. The larger packer said the shortage would continue "until the fate of OPA is determined. There were threats of a complete shutdown of facilities from packing and meat prices, the country's Ангелос because of expressed dissatisfaction over the OPA bill provisions.

Larchmont Sets Date For Auction

64 Foreclosed Parcels Up For Bids July 22 In Village Hall
UPSET PRICE SET

The 64 parcels recently foreclosed by the Village of Larchmont through its Rent proceedings will be offered at public auction July 22 at 8:30 P. M. at the Village Hall. It was announced yesterday.

Establishing a general policy of accepting a certain percentage of the assessed valuation, Assessor Frank E. Barnes has inspected each parcel and set a minimum figure which will be known as the upset price and below which no bids will be acceptable.

The final date for the submission of satisfactory bids has been set for July 16 in the office of Treasurer W. Edward Bracken. According to the board's announcement, the broker whose bid wins the property will receive the legal commission by the County Deeds Office, but in the case where an initial bidder does not win the property, the winning broker will share the assessed valuation of the foreclosed property totals $158,660 whereas the total of the upset prices set at a minimum by Mr. Barnes is $121,775.

The minimum is equal to the assessed valuation and in several other cases it is within a few hundred dollars of the assessed valuation. Properties which receive no satisfactory bid by July 16 will be put up again for sale at a subsequent date.

The parcels range in assessed value from $104 for the 1,782 square feet at the rear of 172 Larchmont Ave. to $15,500 for the 300 sq. ft. parcel at the rear of Boston Post Road and Deane Place.

Senators Urge Investigation Of War Profits

One committee member who said not to be quoted by name told a reporter this unusual power probably will be used to dig into the affairs of a 14-company combination which reputedly yielded nearly a million dollars in profits to a half dozen individuals who borrowed that amount to finance their first war contracts.

To Explain His Action In Talk Over Radio

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Truman today vetoed the controversial CPA bill. He took the action which Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles called "the most significant act of the Bill—an action which Democratic leaders in Congress said would "put the President in the hot seat" in the House, the Chief Executive said the Extension Bill presented to him by Congress offered no choice between continued price stabilization and inflation.

Mr. Truman called the Bill put together by Senate and House a "travesty of the public interest." He asked that Congress control the present controls for resolution for the use required to write a workable bill.

Democratic Minority Leader Barkley told his colleagues last night, however, that hope for such an extension tonight, especially in the event of a Republican victory in the House, was not a dream.

President Truman will broadcast to the American people at 10 o'clock (EST) tonight, an explanation of his reasons for vetoing the CPA bill.

Chairman Spencer D. Kay, of the House Banking Committee, told reporters that any extension resolution was almost sure to be amended along the lines of the measure Congress approved.

Mr. Kay said the measure would override the veto, the curtailed Price Control Act would become law, and the veto is likely this afternoon.

Veto talk was filled throughout the Capitol, especially after the Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles said he would support the measure last night, urging the President to reject the diluted legislation.

But not a single vote was cast on the question, for the present CPA bill expires at midnight Sunday. The Senate gave the President a maximum of time to act on the measure before the session on the CPA Extension Bill yesterday by a 47 to 23 vote.

President Truman said he was not willing to accept the measure, which he said he believed would be a public letter to the President from the Wage Stabilization Board, which the compromise bill would "uncontrolled inflation."

They also fastened on the President's letter accepting Bowles' offer to accept the measure. Mr. Truman promised the administration to continue the battle against inflation with every weapon at our disposal.
