Self-Locking Nut
Robert Lay Hallock of 32 Vine Road, Larchmont, has been granted a patent on a self-locking nut which he designed and developed for use in high-temperature jet engines.

The patent is the latest of several hundred which he holds for many years operating his own private development organization as a service to industries throughout the Northeast. Many of his inventions have been incorporated into the latest model refrigerators, vacuum cleaners and aircraft fasteners.

Mr. Hallock is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and for 15 years he and Mrs. Hallock have two sons, Robert, Jr., a graduate of Syracuse University and a member of an industrial designing firm in New York City, and Peter, a junior at Cornell University. He is currently named commodore of the Cornell University Yacht Club.

Police Prophet
Despite weather bureau forecasts for a clear holiday, three and a half inches of rain flooded from the heavens Saturday and yesterday.

As a result of the drenching downpour, a solid wall of water 18 inches deep is cascading over the spillovers of the Mamaroneck reservoir down the morning. Men at the plant of Westchester Joint Water Works No. 1 are too busy handling the runoff to interfere with their side rules, but one inmate is that as much as a million gallons flood the reservoir, the island sound from the Mamaroneck river alone.

Sties cleared on a whistling neck wild minutes before dawn last night—just a little too late for motorists—and the weather bureau no forecasts late weather. Maybe the weather man knows what he's talking about.

Mayor Edwin B. Doolley today announced he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for 28th District Congressman, the top spot now held by Republican Ralph A. Gamble of Larchmont. The primary is May 19.

By ANGELO PATRI
Rarely does it help a bad situa-

That kind of attack meets with prompt denial from the child. "I am not." "I did not." It only rouses his antagonism and he defends himself with whatever idea comes first, there is no appeal to his personal honor; his deep wish to do and to be all that his friends want him to be and do. He is plunged deeper into his error. Direct attack is never good. Even good people with full faith in their uprightness shrink from the sharp accusation. Be gentle as a dove and as wise as a serpent. Wait for the right moment. Take the child aside when you are feeling most kindly toward him and when there is no ill feeling within you, and try to get him to tell you his trouble. Taft-Ike Battle Breaks Out Ahead of New York Primary

Compromise Bids Spurned In Delegate Disputes; New 'Fronts' Open

By The Associated Press
The Taft-Eisenhower battle for Republican Presidential nomination today spilled a quickly-spurred effort to compromise delegates in the South ahead of a half-dozen fronts today.

Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's backers cried "veto!" at Indianapolis, where Indiana Republicans complete a 32-vote delegation almost solidly backing Ohio Senator Robert Taft. In New York City today, Eisenhower's backers are expected to have their second out-of-uniform news conference.

At Sioux Falls, an official canvassing board decided the winner of South Dakota's 14 GOP delegate votes already cast in the Taft on the basis of his 50-vote edge in unofficial returns from the Tuesday primary.

The last two of Virginia's 23 Republican delegates are being picked at a district meeting in Staunton. A reshuffled reshuffled Nebraska's 18 GOP delegates are being picked possibly three votes from Senator Taft's total and adding one to Gen. Eisenhower's.

Pennsylvania's 70 Unpledged delegates in Harrisburg, Governor John Penn announced Pennsylvania's 70-member Republican delegation, as yet uncommitted, will meet at a party caucus in Harrisburg, Eisenhower and Senator Taft.

Mr. Taft took an indignant posture at a conference in New York City today, where he is expected to hope for a compromise in the Southern delegate news conference. (Turn to Page 3, please)

DOVING PAYMENT CURBS RELAXED ON NEW HOMES

Restrictions Lifted With 20 to 50 Per Cent Cut Permitted

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The government today relaxed its restrictions on how much you must pay down to buy a new house.

Under the new program, effective Wednesday, purchasers will be allowed to make down payments of 10 per cent less than those now required under "Resettlement X" which has been in effect nearly two years.

On the least expensive homes, down payment requirements were cut in half. On the most expensive, they reduced 20 per cent.

The relaxed controls program means that only 5 per cent will be needed in down payments on some houses and that the maximum required will be 40 per cent.

On houses between those figures, a sliding scale fixes requirements, it has been 30 per cent.

On houses costing $7,000 or less, 5 per cent down payments will be required; it has been 10 per cent.

On houses costing $25,000 or more, 40 per cent will be required; it has been 50 per cent.

A three-hour battle against turbulent Long Island Sound waves ended in victory Saturday for two Mamaroneck men who dragged themselves ashore on Peconick Point on the Long Island shore of the Sound after their boat foundered a mile and a half from shore.

Once during the three hours, the two men finally crawled shore past passed within a hundred yards of Peconick Point, where they apparently could not be seen, and because of the patrol boat's motor and the stiff breeze, they could not be heard.

CONGRESS FORCES TRUMAN TO TURN TO HARTLEY LAW

Senate Declines to Yield To President's Plea In Steel Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top government officials said today President Truman probably will turn to the Hartley law which heathens, in an effort to get the steel mills back into production.

The Senate, however, by Mr. Truman's personal appeal for special signing powers, had firmly rejected any alternative other than Hartley.

The issue for peace or war hangs in the balance and steel is vital element in the outcome. Mr. Truman said a hastily arranged meeting of the Senate and House yesterday.

After hearing him, irate Republicans and Southern Democrats Senators joined forces to write into the act an official request that Mr. Truman invoke at once the labor relations law he had just decried as "unfair, harmful and futile."

Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, co-sponsor of the law, and an opponent of the Hartley law, said his nomination, helped lead a succession of rebuffs to the White House on the statute issue. At day's end, Mr. Taft told a reporter out on the combined acceptance of them all in order to be successful.

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—U. S. Sabre jet pilots reported they shot down three Russian-built MIG-15 jet fighters today near Kimhae, the Yalu River border between Korea and Manchuria.

The U. S. 8th Air Force said the three were among seven shot down by the 4th Fighter-Interceptor Wing. Eighteen other MIGs were in the flight.

United Nations ground troops, using bayonets and grenades, beat back 200 Chinese troops striking at a hill on the Korean Western front. A battalion of Reds—about 700 men—supported by heavy artillery fire had failed to win the position yesterday.

Republican Committeemen Avoid Stand on Gamble-Dooley Contest

No action in support of either Republican candidate for Congress in the county primaries on Aug. 19 was taken last night at a meeting of the Town Republican Committee attended by 26 of the 32 members in the Town Courtroom.

Chairman Barton C. Meighan Jr. reported that the County Republican convention yesterday had unanimously endorsed for renomination Rep. Ralph A. Gamble who is being opposed in the primary by Mayor Edwin B. Dooley of Mamaroneck.

No move was made at the meeting to urge supporting either candidate as was done the previous night when the Mamaroneck Village Republican Committee was held in support of Gamble on record as supporting Dooley.

Recommended to the nomination Council for renomination to seek Village Republican Committee were Percy M. Bilbas, St. Mills Harris and Stanley J. Gorman.

Plans were made for a Presidential candidate's card party to seek Village Republican Committee support for Gamble on record as supporting Dooley.

Crediting for Taft

Senator Bob Taft has apparently decided the politicians' usual jape of kissing babies while he still is in high office, according to two Mamaroneck kids who aren't babies any more but are still too young to vote.

Minnie and Molly Richards, and eight-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Richards, 15 Glen Eddick Drive, were among a Westchester delegation which met at the candidate in the primary at LaGrande Field. They each presented bouquets of roses to the Senator and shook the ceremonial hand. One sister said, "He's wonderful" and the other reported, "I liked him very much." With that kind of backing, his nomination and election were virtually certain to be a virtual certainty by other members of the delegation.

Tribulations of Laddie

The tribulations of Laddie, a collie owned by Irving Shepard, of 827 Prospect Avenue, Mamaroneck, reached a climax yesterday. Tuesday Laddie nipped a three-year-old child and Shepard received a ticket for permitting the animal to roam at large. He was ordered to confine the dog for 15 days.

At 9:25 A. M. yesterday, Edgar Kogor of 723 Delaware St., Mamaroneck, reported to police that the canine was again running around without a collar. Mr. Shepard was promptly given another summons.

Then at 1:28 P. M. Mrs. Gladys, grandmother of the child who had been bitten Tuesday, reported that Laddie was at large again. This time police couldn't find the dog but advised the Home Society to pick him up.

So, when and if Mamaroneck employees catch up with Laddie he is due for a period in the canine yard. Mr. Shepard, meanwhile, has at least two summonses to worry about.

House Rejects Truman's Steel Seizure Appeal

Committee Turns Down Proposal By Vote Of 15-10

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House committee voted down 15 to 10 today a proposal to let President Truman be empowered to seize and operate the steel strike steel power.

It was the first formal vote by any House group since Mr. Truman vetoed the Congress Tuesday and pleased for this power.

The Senate previously had rejected the President by voting that he should use anti-strike provisions of the Taft-Hartley law in an effort to end the strike of 60,000 steel workers. And today Senators favoring seizure power for the President abandoned their vote in a separate bill. They said they would propose it again later in a separate bill.

The seizure question was raised in the House Banking Committee by Representative Bolling, D. Mo., who proposed it as an amendment to legislation intended to control controls law.

Members of the House Banking Committee and 10 Republicans supported the seizure move in the House. The Democrats were 15-10. One Democrat voted present and one Republican was absent.

RYE NECK NAMES $1.9 Million Spending Spree On In County

Five of Two Articles BY MAUREN MCKERNAN Brother and sister in their graduation ceremony.

Big sister in her wedding dress; big brother nervously fixing his tie just before facing the minister. Last month and last year they may have been inspiring gray hairs for the cothety with their beebop, their big ideas, their breakfast driving or other juvenile aberrations.

But June is here and all of a sudden the graduating and marrying young folks of Westchester occupy the place of honor accorded by merchants to one of the county's greatest commercial assets.

Their weddings and their graduations. Westchester is being the gift givers they are, set cash registers to tinkling in stores from Peekskill to Port Chester, from Yonkers to Yonkers to run a total of sales estimated at $1.9 million. Most of that money is spent in Westchester, for the trend of recent years has been increasingly toward buying at home or in a nearby community.

Almost 2,000 boys and girls will be graduated this month from Westchester's public and private high schools and academies, according to Arthur H. Rosen, research analyst for the Westchester County Association. About 2,500 will go to college, Mr. Rosen said.

Not a count was given, but Allied authorities said hundreds of Red fighters were killed and wounded in the six days of vicious fighting around Chornob.

There was no indication that the Red was a certain factor to a Red offensive, threatened rapidly by Communist negotiators at the Panmunjom truce talks.

The U. S. 5th Air Force says its aerial spotters have found no indication of a Red building but questioned that the Communists are a good at camouflage and concealment.

Both sides engaged heavier tanks and probes and tanks in the 100-mile battlement.

The U. S. 8th Army said Allied defenses repelled nine probes on the eastern front by about 10 Red platoons, some 300 men.

Navy Identifies Pilot Killed In Crash Here

The airplane pilot who crashed to his death on the 16th green of the Bonnie Briar Country Club at 1:35 A. M. yesterday was officially identified by the Navy as Marine Corps Reserve Capt. George G. M. Duffy of Rosendale, N. Y.

The 313 Fighter Squadron stationed at Floyd Bennett Field in Brooklyn, members of which monthly members of hours a month in military craft to maintain their flight status. He was on a routine training flight in the World War II fighter type plane when, according to a Navy spokesman, he probably developed engine trouble and attempted a crash landing on the golf course.

Navy salvage crewmen who reached the scene yesterday after the dead pilot could probably have insured to put the plane down and escape injury if he had the crash and landed head first hitting a party of women golfers. Wanted "Safe Sport"

MURRAY REPORTS

Union Leader Addresses

Strategy Session On

Stumbling Blocks

PITTSBURGH (AP) — President Philip Murray of the striking CIO United Steelworkers told his policy-making allies today that the union shop issue is only one of four obstacles holding up settlement of the 13-day-old steel strike.

Mr. Murray declared the steel wage-price dispute has become a political football.

The silver-haired labor leader told a joint strategy session of the USW executive board and was policy consultants.

"I do not profess to know how long the struggle (strike) will last," he said in a closing session when he said it is his purpose to "carry out my mandate and the mandate of the last convention."

He referred to a resolution adopted at the union's convention last May which urged a settlement based on recommendations of the Wage Stabilization Board.

The WSB recommended a 26-cent hourly raise for steel workers plus a 10-cent cost-of-living allowance in addition to the union shop.

Mr. Murray listed these other obstacles to a final settlement:

1. The steel industry's insistence on a management clause in any new contract.
2. The union's position on such a clause, defining management's rights, would allow company to hire non-union workers.
3. Incentive pay. The labor chief declared U. S. Steel Corp. also insisted on its version of incentive pay.
4. Murray said the industry falsely gave the union stop as the only alternative to a plain unadulterated fee.

Mr. Murray discussed the union shop plan in a final address.

Spending Spree Runs From Slips To Lamps

Second of Two Articles

By MAUREN McKEAN

Buying habits of those who will spend an estimated $1.5 billion this month in Westchester for graduation gifts and the traditional June wedding, follow a general pattern. The amounts spent and the articles chosen vary, but there is a trend.

How does Westchester spend its money for gifts?

"More of a men's issue, because I want something as pretty as I can find," that was the wish over and over again by mothers, fathers, bridegrooms, prospective suitors and brides-to-be, say the clerks. What is "pretty" is the buyer may cost $10 or as much as $30. Clothes say the nightwear purchase is usually something plush and lace at between $25 and $30.

Take slips. Every girl graduate, from Junior High School to college, gets at least one slip. For the young girl, gift slips costing $4 to $5 are generally purchased for the older girl the cost runs from $5 to $8, on an average.

A growing trend is detected about four or five years ago, was the purchase of a girl's "silver party." Traditionally the gift of an item in her silver pattern was held at Rutgers University June 16 to 18. This year's season will be the first for Mr. Leick and Mr. O'Neill, who will qualify for graduation upon acceptance of a written thesis.

Gen. Boatner Cracks Koje Isle Resistance

KOJE ISLAND, Korea (AP) — Brig. Gen. Hayden L. Boatner said today he has cracked the resistance of Koje Island's 80,000 Communist-led prisoners.

Communicated POWs knuckled under four days before the United Nations authority. Gen. Boatner, the tough prison camp commander, then suspended for two weeks days operations to break up the large groups of prisoners. This was Communist prisoners.

Gen. Boatner would not go so far as to say that all resistance is ended. "I definitely got the job and I believe the word is over," he told newspapermen.

Three prisoner compounds housed in allied authority. The prisoners in another No. 45, responded to an ultimatum by Gen. Boatner and surrendered 21 anti-Communist prisoners.

"I want no speeches," the hard-boiled commander told five Communist compound leaders. "Get back that compound and release those men by 5 P.M."

At 4:55, the leaders delivered the 21 anti-Communist prisoners. The 21 of 21 dashed their Redcoats' hopes to the ground in what may be the last act of anti-Communism on Koje.

Miss Capino first observed the 'chute in a cherry tree on the property of John B. Capino, 432 1/2th Avenue, and thinking it had blown there after a dramatic descent from the blue sky.

Freedom from Tradition

The most important freedom left to Americans is freedom from tradition, Arthur H. "Red" Moley of Larchmont told 400 Adelphi College graduates Wednesday at the 1952 commencement.

"This freedom, enjoyed only in this country, permits thousands of unknowns to carve out for themselves a niche commensurate with their willingness and ability to select a goal and forge ahead to it," he said.

A contrary to success, the publisher told his audience of 3,000, is freedom to fail and try again unfettered by the shackles of tradition. He noted several cases of new enterprises and successful people, who had at one time or another been faced with failure, before they managed to find their right niche and gain success.

Mr. Moley is author, editor and publisher of Larchmont Publications.

Air Force Lieutenant

Albert R. Schreck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Schreck of Larchmont Acres Apartments, one of 33 Williams College seniors who received commissions in the United States Air Force yesterday before formal graduation ceremonies at the college.

Mr. Schreck was commissioned as second lieutenant, and will enter active duty later this summer.

He was graduated in 1948 from Larchmont High School where he was a member of the Student Council and played football, basketball and baseball.

Pair Commissioned

Two local men received commissions as reserve officers in exercises at Princeton University this morning on Cannon Green behind the university's historic Nassau Hall.

Motorboat, 'Skipper', Bounces Owner Out, Skips To Shore

The eleven-and-a-half foot outboard motorboat, Skipper, that sailed from the Bronx yesterday was more aptly named than her owner, Nathan De Chiara, was reported to have been.

De Chiara swam to the nearby beach and set off in pursuit of the Skipper. They were hand-capped, however, by the fact that they were three men in a two-horsepower boat, while the Skipper was ridden and had her 15-horsepower motor with open.

She disappeared plunging east from the beach and was seen in the choppy water of the Bronx and was not sighted again till 7:30 p. m.

School Play

Foul balls smacked by ardent hatmen did some foul tricks to scatter the glanshine in Larchmont on the evening of June 8.

On Saturday at 10:35 A. M. George L. Youmans of Greenwich reported to police officers that he was driving west on Larchmont Avenue past the Larchmont Junior High School when a foul came sailing the windmill of his car. He reported the incident to Charles Warren, principal of the school.

A routine police check of doors at 1:50 A. M. yesterday revealed a broken glass in the door of the Moffat-Hood Painting and Decorator establishment, 89 Larchmont Avenue. Police flashlight showed up the culprit, another foul ball which was lying just inside the door. The batsmen were not identified.

Hearing on Freight

The New York State Public Service Commission will hold a hearing in the White Plains Court House, 100 Main Street, Wednesday at 10:30 A. M. on a petition by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, to increase its rates to discontinue less-than-carload freight service at Larchmont Station.

If the railroad's petition is granted, no merchandise or mail in carload volume will be delivered to the village, but will be held off instead at Larchmont's freight station. The railroad contends that delivery of small items to Larchmont is a wasteful operation from the point of view of maximum utilization of carrying space.

Commissioned

Ensign Donald J. Balinton, twenty-five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Balinton of 4 Pryer Lane, Larchmont, was commissioned in the U. S. Navy yesterday.

A member of the Columbia crew, Ensign Balinton is now in Syracuse preparing for the inter-collegiate regatta which is to be held a week from today.

In Navy Band

From high school in the U. S. Navy was an earlier member of the Richard Chingola of 811 Lester Avenue, Larchmont, that first met young apprentice drummer, judging from a letter received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Agnes Chingola, recently.

Seaman Chingola, who played trumpet in the Larchmont high school band before he was graduated in 1951, is now playing in the band at the Bainbridge, Md. Naval Training Base, where he first reported June 3.

While in High School

He was captain of the football team and a varsity letter in ice hockey.

Rate Residents Demand Action On Flood Relief

Board To Seek County Aid In Dredging River

Residents of the Mamaroneck village area in the vicinity of First Street moved on the Mamaroneck Village Board on mass last night to renew their demands that something be done to correct the flood hazard which accompanies heavy rains.

Claiming that they have had "flooding but promises" for the last dozen years, more than 100 residents cheered and applauded their spokesman's demands were given tax relief to help defray damage expenses until the board could act.

In answer to a demand for a survey, Village Manager William H. Johnson declared that surveys have been made by the County and State. He explained that a minor road flanking by the County in 1945 recommending three possible courses of action. Depreciation of the channel and treatment of the river by damming at a cost of $197,121, a tunneling project which would send the river out by a bypass to the Sound in 1953, or the raising of the river on an estimated $350,000, a project which he said would cost $1,000,000 or three quarters of a million or a million dollars if necessary.

Village Manager Johnson suggested that Mayor Edwin B. Dooley joining the rest of the board in concerning the river and asking the County "Something has to be done. I support the present village plan. It is intelligent enough to support a bond issue for a project—$300,000, or three quarters of a million or a million dollars if necessary."

LIKE APPEARS SET TO BATTLE FOR TEXAS DELEGATES

Points for First Political Slugging, Leaves for Series of Stops

DENVER (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower apparently ready for some old-fashioned political slugging, pointed for Texas today and the middle of his first bitter political fight.

Advisers said he will "take off his gloves" to wage into the middle of the Texas fight over two delegates. The Republicans and the other Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio. Various Eisenhower campaign leaders have termed the situation an attempted "steal" by Taft.

Meanwhile, Paul G. Hoffman, Michigan's Communist Party, Chairman of the Eisenhower, told reporters in a news conference late yesterday.

He would not accept appointment as Secretary of State, he believes his job is to remain head of the Ford Foundation.

The Republican's Gen. Eisenhower as their nominee would attract three to four million young people's votes. The party won't get otherwise.

Europe Economy Modernized

By Trans-Atlantic Commuter

By BERNARD Z. FRIEDLANDER

When Paul Stokes last time to spend a Saturday morning working in the garden of his home at Dyons, France, Larchmont, he looks like most other suburbanites whose work week begins each Monday at the railroad depot and ends at the same place Friday night. The train disgorges its load of executives fleeing from the city.

Mr. Stokes' week may begin on Monday morning but the chance it won't end on Friday—before over half the world's best executives in humming factories and steel offices.

Mr. Stokes has no direct connection with the military, though his talk, well-timed but a few more years to go before he reaches forty, he looks as though he'd be used in any army. He's his soldiering as a top-level executive of the National Management Council, an organization uniting industrialists in the United States that keeps flowing across the Atlantic Ocean a steady stream of technical and managerial know-how between nations of the west, east, and south.

"Potent Vitamins"
 The way Mr. Stokes describes his work it is almost obvious in basic outline and doesn't become a complex web of complications until he gets down to actual cases. The United States, he says, and the nations of Western Europe are committed in the struggle to contain Russia's military, economic and political expansion. High industrial productivity is the most potent vitamin in the health of a nation's health for the struggle. Productivity can be boosted by lightening the bolts in the machinery of an industrial process. That's where Mr. Stokes and the National Management Council fit into the picture—to act as an advisory money trench wherever bolts have to be tightened.

He does this by exchanging managerial knowledge at the highest level between American and European manufacturers, bankers and businessmen. Each group gains and profits by the experience of others and the vitamin production and better distribution of finished goods.

It sounds like a simple case of logic but Mr. Stokes points out it was never tried on a big scale before the present crisis, particularly in Europe where businessmen are traditionally cagey about talking over their affairs with anyone.

Must Sell Idea
 They are usually cool to the idea that Americans can help them streamline their organizations," he observed, "and we've got to sell them the idea that our methods can fit with their own." (Turn to Page 3, please)

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—The United States has put Russia on the spot by demanding a U. N.-sponsored inquiry into Soviet Red warfare charges.

The proposal laid before the U. N. Security Council late yesterday, is certain to cause overwhelming support and cause the withdrawal of its 11 members.

This will leave the Communists two possible courses of action: the unlikely one of agreeing to an investigation; either Russia can veto the proposal or the Communist China and North Korea can refuse to let investigators enter their territories.

HOUSE CURB LIFT RIPS APART WSD

End of Price Control Means Drastic Changes; T-H Aot Vote Due Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House has tentatively voted to lift price controls from virtually all consumer goods and drastically reorganize the Wage Stabilization Board.

The ripper and laterer resolution of the administration's Defense Production Act faces other sharp changes when it comes again next Wednesday.

First vote will be on a provision requesting President Truman to invoke the War Relocation Authority to handle the steel strike.

With a coalition of Republicans and Democrats in control of the legislation, administration leaders have a good chance to block adoption of that proposal. Absences have soured the voting strength of the administration.

The Senate voted a similar request into the version of the stabilization law.

From the standpoint of the stabilization agencies, the price decontrol amendment will hasten all implementation by Representative Talle R. Iowa. It was tentatively approved by a 166-50 standing vote Wednesday.

ROJE SCREENING MAY EXTEND WAR, COMMIES WARN

UN Taking Dangerous Step, Gen. Nam Tells Truce Negotiators

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)— Communist truce negotiators today warned the United Nations that continued screening of prisoners at Roje Island may extend the Korean War.

"You are taking dangerous steps which show that you do not intend to extend the Korean War," said North Korean Gen. Nam Il (Ma). Gen. William K. Harrison replied, "We cannot and will not barter the right to freedom of any individual as possessed of free will, not a slave bound without choice to a lifetime of servitude."

About 45,000 prisoners on Roje are being questioned to learn whether they want to go home. Refusal to repatriate any prisoner against his will is the main stumbling block to an armistice in Korea, according to Gen. Nam's warning came during another brief progress session at hot, dusty Panmunjom.

Gen. Harrison suggested another shot at the Reds "re-consider and advise" their position, but Gen. Nam insisted on another session at 11 M. tomorrow (10 P. M. EDT today).

Medal Missing

Fame is said to be fleeting and the token of it certainly was last night for one graduate of Mamaroneck High School, Alvin Brew, who was one of the winners of the Betty Farr Memorial Award, reported to be missing shortly after commencing her medal was lost somewhere between the Junior High School auditorium and the Larchmont railroad station.

Police and the Brew family have combed the area in search of the medal, which Conte is more than anxious to regain. Her name is engraved on the back and anyone who finds the token and returns it has no difficulty returning it.

Almost $200,000

Mamaroneck High School graduates have won more than $200,000 in scholarships and prizes at commencement over the last 10 years.

Dr. Joseph C. McGee, principal of the high school told the commencement audience that the commencement audience had elected him Superintendent of Schools. T. James Abernethy presented this year's share of $30,000 to winning students.

"That's quite a nice change," he said, "but it is another chapter, beside the dollars which help out young people continue their education. More important than the money is the symbol of confidence, which colleges and scholarship societies have in our schools and our young people."

Crash 'Blaze' Extinguished By Firemen

Almost a full turnout of volunteer fire departments doused a simulated airplane crash fire on Guider Street last night in a department drill planned to give training in case of another air tragedy here.

The alarm was sounded 7:30 P. M. with location of the blaze unknown in advance to members of the department. A mock-up airplane was straddled in flames when the apparatus arrived and burning fuel was splashed widely over the nearby neighborhood.

The volunteers used 11,500 gallons of water to drench the "air" and watched a mock body from the flaming wreckage as soon as the first streams of water struck against the dummy airplane. Pieces of apparatus were deployed to protect neighboring property and the firemen stretched 2,100 feet of hose and raised 25 feet of ladders in their lift.

Deputy Chief Francis Custer was in charge of the operation.

Incomplete returns of the fluoridation poll being carried on in Mamaroneck, Town and Village of the Town of Harrison show four to one response in favor of fluoridation.

The poll was conducted by the directors of Westchester Joint Water Works No. 1 learned yesterday at a meeting in the water company's Halstead Avenue plant in Mamaroneck.

It was reported that 900 responses have been received, mostly from the Town of Harrison and that the returns thus far to the post-card poll have exceeded anticipations.

By the close of business today the last of the 7,116 questionnaires will be mailed to voters in the Junior High School. Replies have not yet come in in significant numbers from the Town and Village of Mamaroneck.

Medical authorities claim application of measured fluoride to the water supply can reduce tooth decay by as much as 65 per cent in growing children. The poll asks whether water customers are in favor of fluoridation, and also asks the number of water users in each customer's household.

Experiments With Children Set To Avert Paralysis From Polio

(First of Three Articles)

ALTON L. BLANKENEE

Associated Press Service Writer

NEW YORK—A way to prevent paralysis from polio is being tested this summer in a great and dramatic human experiment.

Time and 60,000 children will tell whether it works.

Very soon in a few cities bit by polio, children will line up for injections.

Half will get a magical medicine from human blood—gamma globulin or G.G. Its makers, the G.G. has prevented polio paralysis in 100 per cent of those who have had it.

The other half will get the injection that looks the same but lacks the G.G.

Answered in Fall

Late this Fall, the answer will be known. Was there less paralysis or even no paralysis, among those getting the G.G. Did the G.G. blockade the polio virus and stop it from hitting human nerves?

If the answer is yes—was it really practical way of taking the virus out of the human race and run. America's parents, children and doctors will never know whether.

Chief Louis Gianico of Mamaroneck reported receipt of a letter from the New York State Department of Social Welfare Commission for the Blind, urging rigid observance of anti-fireworks laws, as essential to the health and safety of the public.

Chief William J. Kearney of Larchmont stated that a crackdown by Larchmont police had netted 52 packs of fireworks to date, with one court case pending on violation of the law prohibiting fireworks.

He is in Mamaroneck briefly to attend funeral services for his mother, Mrs. Frances Paonessa Gironda, who died Sunday.

Air Raid on Mosquitoes

That low-flying plane you saw over Shaw Ave. Mamaroneck this morning was not on a scouting tour or looking for a landing place. It was sent out by Village Manager William H. Johnson to drop small pellets in the swamp between Southview Drive and Taylor's Lane in the current mosquito-control campaign.

That area is one of the worst places of infestation. Manager Johnson admitted that it was inaccessible to the trucks which use for spray in other parts of the village. The pellets are those which hit the ground and deal death to mosquitoes throughout the area. The pellets contain benzene hexachloride with gamma isomer and have been used only twice before in the United States—in the everglades in Florida. H. G. Williams of New Rochelle who conducts the control program explains that the pellets penetrate the marsh grasses and kill the mosquito worms in the mud where they lay or spray away on the surface.

On Time—Or Else

The sixty lucky youngsters who will be guests of the Mamaroneck Police Benevolent Association tomorrow at the Yankee Stadium will have to be on time, or else. They will be transported by police to the Yankee Stadium and will be accompanied by uniformed policemen. They will see the Yankee-Atlantic ball game.

Fracs Over Pool

Temperatures cooled slowly with yesterday's evening's frost breezes after a heated argument between a Larchmont stockbroker and a customer who was disturbed by a rubber wading pool he bought earlier in the day for his two young children.

Henry Linden, proprietor of the Chatham Station, 30 E. 90th St. North of Chatham Avenue, told police it all began about 9 P. M. when his patron complained that the hole in it was burning pool had a hole in it. He said Bruno R. Barnes of 525 Carroll Avenue, Mamaroneck, brought the pool into the store, spilled water on the floor, made a disturbance and generally messed things up. Mr. Linden obtained to Mamaroneck Town Police, who were called to quell the excitement, that he only wanted his money back.

Efficient Sergeantry

Among the visiting legionnaires and officials who finally worked out last night's installation of Joseph in Larchmont Hall, Mamaroneck, none could hold a candle to a band leader to County sergeant-at-arms Eugene Henry of Yorkville, whose job was to meet the incoming state before the installing officer.

The casual tone of the evening set by dinner master of ceremonies William Kurzman ended abruptly at about 9 P. M. when a loud bang of "Ten - Seven" was heard from the rear of the hall as Sgt. Henry lined up the new officers for the march down the aisle.

Running along a couple of misplaced chairs in his "Command" rights at the front of the room, Sergeant Henry saved the night's fun even after he lined his men up in front of the installing officer. Sgt. Henry didn't relax.

"A - One - Eight" he roared, and assumed the formal posture of a position hunter, hands behind back.

After the ceremonies, Sgt. Henry replied to a compliment on his performance with the remark: "If there were a little more room up front, it could have really done a job."
