Chandelera Story

Chandelera had her troubles at midnight when she lost her slipper in the rush to get home—last one of Mamaroneck's Red Cross workers had a similar experience yesterday afternoon in the snow and slush of Stuart Avenue.

Mrs. Henry E. Kincaid, captain of District 7, had made her last call and, in a great hurry to get her return back to headquarters, stepped in a deep snowdrift getting into her car and entered minus one shoe.

With a handful of pledges and checks, however, she had time to look for a mere shoe, so she rushed home to gather the rest of her campaign materials. She reported promptly to the Union Savings Bank with $1,347 proceeds from her district.

After that? Back to Stuart Avenue to recover the shoe.

Where Are The Houses?

Veterans and other residents who have been heavily displaced for homes for the last few years will have cause to wonder at an estimate of the present housing situation in an accurate picture, which in an accurate picture, indicates that 1,433 fewer persons live here now than in 1940, the last year of the official census when the population was 13,000 and 162 fewer than in 1930 when the census listed our population as 1,196.

No more houses available, though, no more to be built on Mamaroneck Avenue.

On Cruise

P. Joseph E. Patsien, son of Mr. Antoinette Patsien of 28 Madison Street, Mamaroneck, is one of 31 officers and crew members of the U.S.S. Wisconsin on its third Naval Reserve cruise of the year to the Canal Zone and a nearby bean area. The Wisconsin, escorted by the Destroyer Escort Larson, left Bayview Naval Shipyard Annex at 4:30 P. M. yesterday.

All personnel aboard are reservists who left civilian jobs to make the annual two-week cruise, which is required for a reserve status in the U. S. Navy.

The Wisconsin will call at the Canal Zone where all reservists will be given an opportunity to go ashore.

The ship will then proceed to the vicinity of Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, where a military practice will be conducted. The Wisconsin and the Larson will return to Bayview March 13.

Patsien, a one-time student in the local school system, enlisted in the Navy June 21, 1945 and was honorably discharged June 1, 1946. A reservist ever since, he is currently employed as a shipping clerk by the Betty Lee Food Products Company of 955 Mamaroneck Avenue.

Patrol Cars Stymied

The Village of Mamaroneck police cars, both without chains, were temporarily stymied in today's early morning snow.

Patrolman James Hughes in the police coupe, required pushing a little after 7 A. M. He stalled a second time, but finally got the auto to the village garage for a chain fitting.

Not much later, L. Giancola had to get out and push the radio car driven by Patrolman W. J. Fraili. He arrived home just before 8 A. M. after a 30-minute hour during which the car was unable to mount even the gentle slopes of Hunter Heights.

For the first time in village history, Mamaroneck's Red Cross Fund cleared over its goal in one afternoon yesterday, reaching a total of $8,515.26 by 9 o'clock last night.

Although the one-day drive for the fund was substantially successful since the goals have almost been met "in spite" of the nightfall, yesterday marks the first time the quota was reached and passed by more than 30 percent before the counters left the Union Savings Bank. The count showed more than $3,000 over the $5,500 quota.

Adults and children will be present at the service, where noise-makers and refreshments will be distributed. The holiday of Purim continues throughout Thursday.

The festival of Purim receives its name from the fact that lots were cast to decide the date of a day of destruction around the year 480 B. C. in Persia, similar to the story of the Jews who saved themselves from the Nazis of our generation proposed to institute, according to Rabbi Irving Kowalew.

"Haman, the prime minister of the Persian King Artaxerxes, wanted to institute a pogrom against the Jews of Persia because of his dislike of the foreign culture and for America, a pogrom Jew. Mordecai's sister had been chosen as the Queen of Persia, succeeding his first wife, Queen Vashti.

Idea For 'Larchmont Plan' Of Memorial Scholarships Evolved From Recent Forum

THE PROPOSAL OF C. C. BEALL that Larchmont's war memorial take the form of foreign scholarships evolved in the early hours of the morning after the last meeting of the Larchmont Forum for Public Opinion.

After the spirited public discussion of the question, "What does the word expect of the U. S.?" and "What is the U. S. going to do about it?" Mr. Beall and his neighbor, J. M. Van Law, stayed up into the small hours of the morning, attempting to answer the provocative questions.

They came to the conclusion, Mr. Beall says, that although most persons have been "ripened" through forums, the press and radio to the necessity of full participation in the affairs of their country, they still possess responsibility for success or failure of the two narrow shoulders of our representatives in Washington.

The discussion then shifted to the responsibility of the average citizen and what specific courses he might follow to help his country. The talk was put before the Community Chest at its annual meeting as a model which might well be followed throughout the country.

"The world is looking to America for leadership and America is not now capable of delivering," he said. "There is one hope and that is that America seek and find again quickly and in time her inherited faith and let it go to work in our own country and throughout the world."

"The first and foremost of our resources is Jesus Himself. He is not so much historically in the past as He is spiritually in the future. Jesus Christ as a source of energy throughout the world. We need a revitalized church, a reconverted church, a God-filled and inspired church."

"All extra-curricular expenses will be borne by the Community Chest."

"In order that we have some sort of guarantee that the winner of this high honor be worthy of it, his or her character and gifts will be ascertained carefully by the Veterans Administration, possibly in the point scale as they are used for military service."

Truman Urges World To End Trade Battle

WACO, TEXAS, (AP)—President Truman, calling for a reduction of world trade barriers, declared today the United States "can lead the nations to economic peace or we can plunge them into economic war."

The President en route home from a three-day good-will visit to Mexico, stopped here to receive an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from Baylor University. In an acceptance speech delivered by lawyers to the need for freer world trade, he:

- 1—Reaffirmed his faith in the Reciprocal Trade Act which has been under attack by some Republicans in congress.
- 2—Struck out at those who would return to high tariffs and "economic isolation."
- 3—Welcomed continuation of bipartisan support for a foreign policy which calls for cooperation in the economic as well as the political field.
- 4—Asserted that the alternative to "regionalization" of international commerce is the world trade charter to be considered by the nations at Geneva next month. The proposed international trade organization, he said, would apply to commercial relationships "the same principle of fair dealing which the United Nations is applying to political affairs."

Mr. Truman made no reference in his remarks to Greece's appeal, with support from Britain, for American economic aid. The negotiations in Geneva must not fail, he declared.

'Foxhole Acres' project Faces Collapse Without Town Aid, Veterans Claim

Board Gets Plea Anew As Soaring Prices Peril Jobs

Soaring prices in the construction material field have forced the Larchmont Veterans Housing Corporation to revise estimates of what "Foxhole Acres," on Palmer Avenue near Larchmont Ave., is going to cost. Without help from the Town of Maramoneck, therefore, the whole project faces collapse.

That news was conveyed to the Town Board last night when the corporation's board of directors appeared to renew a plea for town gift of public utilities and a loan.

The board's housing plan, unprecedented in the nation, "Foxhole Acres" will accommodate 30 existing families on a two and a half acre tract fronting Palmer Avenue. The veterans themselves have done the surveying, planning and worked out its operational details.

From an original estimate of $9,500, the veterans now judge that the project will cost each of the $10,524—providing rent says where they are. The new figure does not include the road and the public utilities.

John C. Merritt, corporation president, said that the board of the Larchmont Forum for Public Utilities has agreed to pay for the estimated expenses of the contractors' final cost estimate. He said each entry is being held to the lowest figure consistent with good construction.

To examine the question from many sides, two famous foreign correspondents, Reuben H. Markham and John C. Merritt, were asked to examine the project in the Balkans during World War I. That question is the topic of the next meeting of the Balkan Forum in the City of New York on March 14 in the Chatsworth Avenue School.

In February, town garbage trucks called at about 2,000 homes, schools and apartment houses, according to Page Thibault.

Port Chester Taxi Driver Slain in Cab

Domestic Liard, 35-year-old Port Chester driver and taxi driver, was found murdered in his cab at 9 o'clock last night on King Street, near Millstadt, in the Town of Rye, and at noon today one man was being held for investigation by Port Chester police and the Westchester County District Attorney's office.

Conferral of the 25th anniversary came after he had read the final report of the Town Housing Committee, which consists of himself as chairman, George Burrell, Paul Kane and Anthony Gallagher.

The report follows in full: On Dec. 4, 1946, this committee was appointed by the Town Board with instructions to make a survey to determine the housing needs of veterans living in the incorporated area of the Town of Maramoneck and to make recommendations in regard thereto.

The committee held several meetings and formulated a questionnaire from which it sought to elicit certain facts pertaining to the individual needs of the veterans who had lived in the unincorporated section and who served the armed forces from out township.

The results are as follows: 760 questionnaires sent out; 241 completed and returned; and 78 returned with no forwarding address.

The committee then proceeded with a study of the 241 replies. The committee was of the opinion that a majority of these problems are of the nature of larger housing projects confronting the nation.

Drivers Hurt In 2 Crashes

Two Larchmont drivers sustained slight injuries yesterday in a pair of accidents on Old Main Road in Rosedale, according to police.

Sam Cooper, 74, of 96 Weaver Street, was driving a Buick back at 10:30 A. M. when the panel truck he was driving overturned after colliding with another panel truck at Maramoneck and Scott Roads.

Police Chief Cooper, moving south on Scott Road, failed to make a right turn and struck the rear of the second truck. The second truck was operated by Abe Berger of 92 Nelson Avenue, Maramoneck. There were no charges or arrests.

At about 8 P. M. Miss Dorothy Hope Usher, 31, of 26 Avenue 31, suffered a leg laceration when her eastbound coupe veered off the left side of Maramoneck Road and hit a Western Union pole. According to police, she said she was blinded by the glare of westbound headlights. There was no charge.

'Keep Your Garbage Dry,' Stiner Urges in Report Of Incinerator Problems

After reading his February tabulation of Town of Maramoneck garbage collections to last night's Town Board meeting, Councilman Munroe Stiner pleaded with residents to keep lids on garbage cans at all times, "but particularly when it's snowing." Mr. Stiner is sanitation boss in the town.

Conveying thanks to the great body of the public for its cooperation with garbage collectors, Mr. Stiner said the one or two percent on the prima donna fringe who leave tops off cans to make an open cesspool for rain, snow and the other liquid elements.

"Give up dry garbage," he pleaded, and pointed out that the average taxpayer can ill afford to pay sanitation men for collecting ice and snow.

He said heavy black smoke is being blown from the incinerator. Soapy garbage burns very slowly at night, and causes the burning speed of dry materials to be retarded.

Stiner said that the incinerator is being run at close quarters with resultant odor.

And Mrs. Green doesn't think of it either," he said, referring to nearby property owner Mrs. F. Warren Green, occasionally call Mr. Stiner to chide him for the black smoke emanating from the municipal incinerator.

In February, town garbage trucks called at about 2,000 homes, schools and apartment houses, according to Page Thibault.

House Owners Urged To Give Vets Priority

Apartment house owners will be contacted shortly in the Town of Maramoneck in an effort to find living space for the 25 veterans shown by a recent survey to be seriously in need of it.

Councilman George E. Mills, Jr., was appointed last night by the Town Board to direct letters to landlords in the township with a view to persuading them that priority should be given deserving veterans on all future vacancies.

The letters come to noting, Mr. Mills will phone the landlords and if that does not work will make personal visits.

"You know what to do when you really want something," Supervisor Owen A. Mandeville said in explaining Mr. Mills' latest assignment.

Mr. Mills is an exhaustive check of two-family houses and converted houses in the town to find out if any can be had for $35 to 40 a month.

That of the 25 roomy veterans are unable to pay more than $10 a month.

Two Blazes Call Firemen In Two Hours

Two full alarms within two hours of each other called out all components of the Larchmont Fire Department last night. The first call came from the Dymore Market on Palmer Avenue and the second from the Melgham Building at 94 Post Road.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Supreme Court today upheld the $100,000 fine assessed against the United Mine Workers of America for violation of the anti-trust law.

The high tribunal at the same time upheld the $100,000 fine imposed on Lewis but ordered the $3,500,000 fine assessed against the United Mine Workers reduced to $100,000.

Pay Request Endorsed

Equality of pay for Village and Town of Mamaroneck policemen won firm endorsement at a meeting last night of the New York Republican League. A resolution was unanimously passed authorizing Louis B. Tolva, chairman of the village board, to direct a letter to the village board requesting that the local department's pay increase be granted in full.

"The members of the league, the majority of whom are taxpayers, feel that there should be no discrepancy in salaries of policemen," Mr. Tolva stated today. "We also feel that our policemen should be given equal consideration in this request, and it is hoped that the Village Board will pass favorably on it, so that our force will receive salaries equal to all levels with the salaries of the town police."

Doern Docked

A promoter, Mamaroneck real estate broker, with a penchant for parking in front of his Mamaroneck Avenue office, was docked in village traffic court this morning by order of Judge Patrick J. Hughes. The penalty was one of the first levied in a police drive to crack the parking bottleneck in the lead shopping district.

Peter C. Doern, Jr., with offices at 120 Mamaroneck Avenue, surrendered the dollar without comment and a moment later hurriedly left the courtroom.

He had pleaded the new program in a conversation last week with Patrolman Howard Hanley, dispenser of tickets. "It's a fine thing you're doing," he told the policeman as Mamaroneck Avenue began to show signs of clearing up. The next morning he received a summons on his own car.

59 Parcels Saved From Foreclosure

Landowners Pay Taxes As In Rem Redemption Period Nears End

275 PIECES ON LIST

The number of parcels on the Town of Mamaroneck In Rem foreclosure list is shrinking gradually as landowners rush in to redeem their property before the March 27 deadline.

Last month, the program included 334 parcels but 59 have been removed and more are expected to leave the rolls before the foreclosure is officially launched.

At this week's Town Board meeting, it was announced that back taxes hang over only 275 parcels of land in the township.

In the last month, 53 residents paid off full taxes and penalties and six parcels were found to be either empty or delinquent parcels (tax-delinquent in the county records).

Total taxes to the Town from February transactions was $21,417. That figure represents what the delinquent parcels brought in. The board generally pushed back the deadline from Feb. 27 to give property owners this "chance," he said, adding that all real estate in Westchester will be subject with the loss of supply materials after a costly war.

Orsino, town comptroller, seconded Mr. Dillon's remarks with a prediction of a "brighter future" for the town. He said the 53 landowners concerned "obviously attach more value to the property than to tax arrears on them." His guess was that the delinquent parcels would be separated from the In Rem program before March 27.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Supreme Court slapdown of John L. Lewis appeared certain today to preserve peace in the coal fields of this Spring.

In all probability, the miners will stick to their jobs at least until July 1, when soft coal operators are due to begin U. S. federal held pits.

Taking advantage of this respite, the government is expected to redouble efforts to get the coal operators into wage negotiations. The government is expected to transfer will not bring another shutdown.

The present consideration is that the precedent-making coal strike to the even though Lewis and his Union in the coal fields of the West is not yet out of the limelight.

It is on this fact the likelihood rests that the 400,000 A.F. miners will keep on digging coal for the next 30 months.

Lewis, a real tycoon, would not reveal his plans at once. His lawyers could seek a rehearing, the Supreme Court seldom grants one.

But the tribunal's 7-2 decision definitely blocks any federal action until the case completes one more major phase: Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough, who handed down the original contempt ruling affirmed by the high court, still must hold trial on it.

Did Lewis have the right to break off his contract with the government last November by precipitating the 11-day strike?

Is There A Doctor In The Accident? A Mamaroneck physician involved in an auto accident yesterday afternoon on the East Post Road, received attending physician and treated three victims.

Dr. Nolan H. Baird of 745 East Post Road, turned his car into the Boston Post Road from Keeler Avenue at 4.30 P. M. A moment later he was in collision with the vehicle driven by Jack Taber of 222 Highview Street, Mamaroneck. Both cars sustained heavy front-end damage.

Local Grant Suggested To Aid Hospital

United Hospital President Eugene H. Watson, in his first progress bulletin to hospital trustees today, drew a picture of continuing financial stress but a betterment of service with some increase in the number of employees asking to the efficiency of ministering to the needs of the community.

Mr. Watson called attention to the services of the Out-Patient Department of the United Hospital Clinic, which he said was visited by 4,322 patients in the first half of a "yearly" loss of $7,500—after fees and a Port Chester municipality appropriation of $2,000.

"Our clinic," he said, "is the underprivileged patients' doctor and does a wonderful job for the poor. If a patient is to be hospitalized much of the work-up can be done in the clinics at less expense to the Hospital. It is considered our yearly deficit in this department, it seems only right and proper that we should ask a help out from a yearly grant to our clinic patients come from Mamaroneck and 8 per cent from Harrison. In January, 1946, 338 patients called at our dispensary.

Members of the Larchmont Democratic Club, who met last night by Theodore G. Schad and William A. Hardy, Democrats, and in Mamaroneck by Ralph H. Mann, Republican, opposing Benedict Hoffa, Democrat, for the trustee post while Harvey B. Santoro is running unopposed for his third term as village trustee.

The polls will be open for registration from 2 to 8 P. M. in the Municipal Building and for District 2 in the Chatsworth Avenue School.

The hours in Mamaroneck are from noon to 8 P. M. and polling places are located as follows: District No. 1—Mamaroneck Avenue School, Mamaroneck Avenue. District No. 2—Building at corner of Fenimore Road and Weaver Avenue.

District No. 3—Mamaro Fire House, Fenimore Road. District No. 4—Central School, West Boston Post Road. District No. 5—Holy Trinity School Auditorium, East Boston Post Road.

District No. 6—Columbia Fire House, Barry Avenue. District No. 7—Barry Avenue School, Barry Avenue. District No. 8—Halstead Manor Fire House, Halstead Avenue.

District No. 9—Bassment, Hillcrest Apartments. In addition to the election of a mayor and trustee, on March 18 there will be a vote on the proposed for the installation of parking meters on Mamaroneck Avenue.

Mr. Watson, among other things, noted that the total income for the first four months of the fiscal year, Oct. 1 to Jan. 31, from patients was $208,800, with operating expenses of $208,800, a net profit of $200,000 being $30,000 from Community Chest and $170,000 from the Hospital.

He said that the rate of pay for temporary extra nurses has been increased from $1.00 to $1.25 per hour to conform to the practice of the State Nurses Association and pointed to the reopening of the C. O. to Jan. 31, from 38 beds to Feb. 24, the increase of hospital employees from 226 on Jan. 1 to 263, and the decrease in average number of days treated per patient from 10 1/2 a year ago to 8 1/2 today.

He included his talk with the following statement: "This village government depends upon the interest taken by the residents and the efforts and loyalty of elected, appointed, volunteer and part officials and employees. Our trustees and mayor must be approachable for general and special problems, but must not be unduly influenced by special pressure groups. They must have the foresight to handle new problems and the ability and energy to keep operations smooth, efficient and within the budget control system."

"The immediate future will probably mean new or continuing problems. Our sewer system, our water works, our streets with increasing traffic, and other departments will all present problems. Then, too, there is always the question of the overlapping town government.

"The solution of these matters will affect the welfare of all Larchmont residents and a sound economical administration is important to all homes in the village." According to it, it is my opinion that Village matters are best handled by a truly representative (Continued on Page Three).

ALBANY, (AP)—Legislative passage of the Gugno Bill to grant limited dependency benefits and dependent of jobs persons qualifying for Unemployment Insurance benefits appeared assured today following Assembly and Senate Committee action in reporting it favorably.

The Bill, introduced by Assemblyman Frank Gugno, Buffalo Republican, would provide weekly payments of $3 to the first dependent of an unemployed worker and $1 for each of the next two dependents up to a maximum of $20 weekly.

Some observers say the chances of the Young-Demo Bill to raise the Unemployment Merit Rating and dependent of jobs persons qualifying for Unemployment Insurance benefits appeared assured today following Assembly and Senate Committee action in reporting it favorably.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—John L. Lewis told Congress today the United Mine Workers could settle difficultly with the coal operators if the Government would "cease using a blackjack."

The UMW leader then tore into each of the major proposals for dealing with labor problems now before the committee.

First, he attacked the plan to create a Federal Mediation Board and nullify all period before strikes. He said this would be the next step toward imposing compulsory arbitration upon the millions of workers in this country, and would be the first thrust of the knife of absolutism into the heart of free America.

Without mentioning the court proceedings in his prepared remarks, Lewis said: "To single out labor organizations and to say that they will be liable to suit in the Federal Courts notwithstanding the laws governing the procedure in suits against voluntary labor organizations, is discrimination and lack of equal protection of laws under our constitution."

Damage Suits Hit Lewis referring specifically to proposals of the Federal Government suits against unions breaking contracts.

On the question of unionization of supervisory workers, for which Lewis has been fighting two years, he said: "Coal operators have claimed that if we would organize the life and limb of employees in the mines and their supervisors become liable to damage suits, the date there has not been any acknowledgment of the right of supervisory workers to belong to a union, and yet we are being asked to put meters on Mamaroneck Avenue."

He cited figures to show that between 1930 and 1942 total 60,842.

Another controversial issue between himself and the coal operators—the five-cent royalty on each ton of coal for a miner's health and welfare fund—Lewis had this to say: "If we are to maintain the free enterprise system."

On the question of unionization of supervisory workers, for which Lewis has been fighting two years, he said: "Coal operators have claimed that if we would organize the life and limb of employees in the mines and their supervisors become liable to damage suits, the date there has not been any acknowledgment of the right of supervisory workers to belong to a union, and yet we are being asked to put meters on Mamaroneck Avenue."

He cited figures to show that between 1930 and 1942 total 60,842.

Another controversial issue between himself and the coal operators—the five-cent royalty on each ton of coal for a miner's health and welfare fund—Lewis had this to say: "If we are to maintain the free enterprise system."

Democrats Ask 2-Party Rule In Larchmont

Members of the Larchmont Democratic Club, who met last night by Theodore G. Schad and William A. Hardy, Democrats, and in Mamaroneck by Ralph H. Mann, Republican, opposing Benedict Hoffa, Democrat, for the trustee post while Harvey B. Santoro is running unopposed for his third term as village trustee.

Mr. Watson called attention to the services of the Out-Patient Department of the United Hospital Clinic, which he said was visited by 4,322 patients in the first half of a "yearly" loss of $7,500—after fees and a Port Chester municipality appropriation of $2,000.

"Our clinic," he said, "is the underprivileged patients' doctor and does a wonderful job for the poor. If a patient is to be hospitalized much of the work-up can be done in the clinics at less expense to the Hospital. It is considered our yearly deficit in this department, it seems only right and proper that we should ask a help out from a yearly grant to our clinic patients come from Mamaroneck and 8 per cent from Harrison. In January, 1946, 338 patients called at our dispensary.

UMW To Settle Difficulties, He Tells Congress

WASHINGTON, (AP)—John L. Lewis told Congress today the United Mine Workers could settle difficultly with the coal operators if the Government would "cease using a blackjack."

The UMW leader then tore into each of the major proposals for dealing with labor problems now before the committee.

First, he attacked the plan to create a Federal Mediation Board and nullify all period before strikes. He said this would be the next step toward imposing compulsory arbitration upon the millions of workers in this country, and would be the first thrust of the knife of absolutism into the heart of free America.

Without mentioning the court proceedings in his prepared remarks, Lewis said: "To single out labor organizations and to say that they will be liable to suit in the Federal Courts notwithstanding the laws governing the procedure in suits against voluntary labor organizations, is discrimination and lack of equal protection of laws under our constitution."

Damage Suits Hit Lewis referring specifically to proposals of the Federal Government suits against unions breaking contracts.

On the question of unionization of supervisory workers, for which Lewis has been fighting two years, he said: "Coal operators have claimed that if we would organize the life and limb of employees in the mines and their supervisors become liable to damage suits, the date there has not been any acknowledgment of the right of supervisory workers to belong to a union, and yet we are being asked to put meters on Mamaroneck Avenue."

OpenParley Truman Expected To Call On Congress For Power To Intervene In Greece

Joint Committee Calls Public Meeting Next Thursday TO DISCUSS 'DETAILS'

A special meeting open to the public has been called by the joint War Memorial Committee of Larchmont and the Town of Mamaroneck for Thursday at 8 P. M. Harold V. Zozell, chairman, announced today.

Scheduled at the Larchmont bring residents up to date on the progress of the war memorial project "as agreed upon and recommended at the last meeting, and to consider certain details."

The meeting will be open to the public at the request of the Larchmont village board. Mr. Zozell stated that anyone interested may attend, present any pertinent views and be given explanations of the project as planned.

At the last meeting of the committee, Jan. 7, it was resolved that the plan for a monument on the site of the late Henry Roth be adopted by the committee and that the Village of Larchmont be requested to contribute $10,000 to match the $10,000 which has been appropriated by the Town of Mamaroneck.

Since that time, the subject of a monument to the "living" memorial has aroused vigorous public sentiment in the community. It is believed that both points of view will be supported at Thursday's meeting.

President Talks On Monday With 15 Leaders

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Truman today weighed his most momentous decision since the war's end—whether to re-assert American leadership in policy by calling for direct intervention in the internal affairs of Greece.

In both congressional and diplomatic quarters, it was expected that Mr. Truman will call Congress early next week to shoulder the lion's share—and perhaps even more—of Britain's burden in Greece to build up Southern Europe against the spread of Communism.

He called 15 congressional leaders of both parties to a White House conference Monday, at which he presumably will say what course he has decided to take.

Mr. Truman's task is a delicate one. His words will be weighed in Moscow for what they portend in future Soviet-American relations.

150 Miles Of Paper A Day Is Camatone's Output As A Rosy Future Looks Ahead

By PAUL D. THOMPSON

A modest two-story structure on Halsted Avenue conceals beneath its plain facade one of Mamaroneck's most active industries—a charming manufacturing plant which is gradually making a name for itself in paper circles the nation over.

You can pass the place a dozen times without noticing it and some of the village's oldest residents have never heard its name. But the four Camatone presses, paper magazine, out of what started a 16 years ago as a spare-time hobby.

After 16 years of 42 years in the paper business, is not trying to impress anybody. He is interested in the results—sales volume, production facts and figures. He is ambitious too, with an urgent, driving ambition that may prove too big for the village. He looks forward to the day when his premises will be steadily between his storerooms and his living quarters.

Among the rare Mamaroneck who are industry-minded, only a handful are operators of the broad-scale operations going on here by day in the Halsted Rotogravure Corporation, located at 313 Halsted Avenue.

Mr. Camatone, for instance, that every last wrapper for the four Camatone presses, all right here in Mamaroneck—at Camatone's. Totalling more than 10,000 wrappers a month that should be enough work for any small-town printing plant.

But the four Camatone presses roll off all the wrappers for two other nationally known periodicals and numerous lesser organs besides. Add a few hundred thousand cards with ornate cardboard covers and the healthy proportions of the local enterprise can be seen in your mind.

On a good day at Camatone, 150,000 foot-wide paper—enough to stretch from Mamaroneck to Albany—is fed to the four cylindrical presses and 20 men spend a happy eight hours doing nothing but that. That's a turnover of better than 600 feet a minute and the reason why Jack Auer is tagged by the paper industry as a big operator.

After it happens, is far from satisfied. He comes from a long line of diligent Scots and freely admits that there is no ceiling to his ambition. When he thinks of paper shipments he sees boxes, not trailer trucks. A plant he envisions in his eyes when it overgrows a few centrally-located business blocks. Ask him to name an adequate yearly income and his face lights up with the other worldly gaze of the aspirant.

Special Rifle Exhibited For Rotary Club

The invention and development of the revolutionary 37 millimeter M-18 Army rifle, a scrollwork pin was traced yesterday by Charles H. Greenall, executive director of the laboratories for research and development of Franklin Institute, Philadelphia, at a Rotary meeting in the Larchmont Street Club.

The rifle, which is exclusive with U. S. forces, was exhibited by Mr. Greenall with other types of American and German rifles. His talk was illustrated by slides showing the basic principles of the rifle. Also shown was a technical picture of the V-2 rocket.

The Rev. Floyd E. McGuire of the Larchmont Avenue Church, appeared at the meeting to read contributions to this year's Red Cross drive. Another speaker was Wesley Thompson, representative of the Rotary district governor, who described finished plans for Charter Night at the Fishkill Country Club March 19.

Dr. Edward Ernst was named to head a nominating committee to select a slate for the coming year. He is assisted by Gilbert Mervell and Fred Krieh.

Famous Zionist Will Address Local Chapter

M. tomorrow at the Mamaroneck Hebrew Institute. His address is sponsored by the Mamaroneck Z.O.A. chapter.

Mr. Rosenfeld, who recently covered the World Zionist Congress in Biala, has attended several important Jewish conferences in the United States for several years. His series of articles on incoming refugees, called "Don't Buy the Sun," won honorable mention in the American Newspaper Guild's annual "High Wood Brown" contest.

Mr. Rosenfeld will give a first-hand account of what happened at the historic Zionist Congress of December, 1946. He will also report on the current situation in Palestine. A question period will follow his speech.

Drop In Price Seen In Realty

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The National Association of Real Estate Boards predicted today home sales will drop both in volume and in price in a majority of cities this year.

But an association report covering a survey in 470 cities says first-hand prices for home-owners and home-seekers.

Prices on houses are expected to be lower as the year progresses in 25 per cent of the reporting cities," the report said.

"Only 10 per cent of the cities believe that prices will continue to rise, but not one of the largest cities with a population of more than 500,000 looks for higher prices, and only 3 per cent of the cities with a population of 100,000 or more anticipate such a rise."

Msr. Breslin, Catholic Dean Dies Suddenly

WHITE PLAINS—The Right Rev. Monsignor Joseph Aloisius Breslin, D.D., pastor of the Church of St. John, the Evangelist and dean of the Catholic clergy in Westchester, died of a heart attack shortly after 7 o'clock last night in his room at the heart of the city.

Monsignor Breslin, who was 68, had been confined to his bed during the day after complaining yesterday morning, following a Thursday night visit to Yonkers that he did not feel well. An attendant at St. John's, the Rev. Benjamin C. Roth, said Monsignor Breslin was sleeping and appearing to be resting comfortably at about 5:30, but when Father Roth returned to the room at 7:45, he found the Monsignor dead.

Pastor of St. John's since 1936, Monsignor Breslin came to White Plains from Rome, where for 11 years he had served in vice rector of the American College, a post which saw him closely associated with the then Eugene Cardinal Pacelli, now Pope Pius XII.

In White Plains, he helped build in youth work and organized the Catholic Youth Organization here. He also increased parochial school faculties at St. John's to 200.

Roth, said Monsignor Breslin was sleeping and appearing to be resting comfortably at about 5:30, but when Father Roth returned to the room at 7:45, he found the Monsignor dead.

Pastor of St. John's since 1936, Monsignor Breslin came to White Plains from Rome, where for 11 years he had served in vice rector of the American College, a post which saw him closely associated with the then Eugene Cardinal Pacelli, now Pope Pius XII.

In White Plains, he helped build in youth work and organized the Catholic Youth Organization here. He also increased parochial school faculties at St. John's to 200.

150 Miles Of Paper A Day Is Camatone's Output As A Rosy Future Looks Ahead

By PAUL D. THOMPSON

A modest two-story structure on Halsted Avenue conceals beneath its plain facade one of Mamaroneck's most active industries—a charming manufacturing plant which is gradually making a name for itself in paper circles the nation over.

You can pass the place a dozen times without noticing it and some of the village's oldest residents have never heard its name. But the four Camatone presses, paper magazine, out of what started a 16 years ago as a spare-time hobby.

After 16 years of 42 years in the paper business, is not trying to impress anybody. He is interested in the results—sales volume, production facts and figures. He is ambitious too, with an urgent, driving ambition that may prove too big for the village. He looks forward to the day when his premises will be steadily between his storerooms and his living quarters.

Among the rare Mamaroneck who are industry-minded, only a handful are operators of the broad-scale operations going on here by day in the Halsted Rotogravure Corporation, located at 313 Halsted Avenue.

Mr. Camatone, for instance, that every last wrapper for the four Camatone presses, all right here in Mamaroneck—at Camatone's. Totalling more than 10,000 wrappers a month that should be enough work for any small-town printing plant.

But the four Camatone presses roll off all the wrappers for two other nationally known periodicals and numerous lesser organs besides. Add a few hundred thousand cards with ornate cardboard covers and the healthy proportions of the local enterprise can be seen in your mind.

On a good day at Camatone, 150,000 foot-wide paper—enough to stretch from Mamaroneck to Albany—is fed to the four cylindrical presses and 20 men spend a happy eight hours doing nothing but that. That's a turnover of better than 600 feet a minute and the reason why Jack Auer is tagged by the paper industry as a big operator.

After it happens, is far from satisfied. He comes from a long line of diligent Scots and freely admits that there is no ceiling to his ambition. When he thinks of paper shipments he sees boxes, not trailer trucks. A plant he envisions in his eyes when it overgrows a few centrally-located business blocks. Ask him to name an adequate yearly income and his face lights up with the other worldly gaze of the aspirant.

Alvin Rosenfeld, ace reporter for the New York Post and the only newsman to travel with the first group of refugees arriving here under the Truman Immigration Directive, will be a guest speaker at 8:30 P. M. tomorrow at the Mamaroneck Hebrew Institute. His address is sponsored by the Mamaroneck Z.O.A. chapter.

Mr. Rosenfeld, who recently covered the World Zionist Congress in Biala, has attended several important Jewish conferences in the United States for several years. His series of articles on incoming refugees, called "Don't Buy the Sun," won honorable mention in the American Newspaper Guild's annual "High Wood Brown" contest.

Mr. Rosenfeld will give a first-hand account of what happened at the historic Zionist Congress of December, 1946. He will also report on the current situation in Palestine. A question period will follow his speech.

Drop In Price Seen In Realty

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The National Association of Real Estate Boards predicted today home sales will drop both in volume and in price in a majority of cities this year.

But an association report covering a survey in 470 cities says first-hand prices for home-owners and home-seekers.

Prices on houses are expected to be lower as the year progresses in 25 per cent of the reporting cities," the report said.

"Only 10 per cent of the cities believe that prices will continue to rise, but not one of the largest cities with a population of more than 500,000 looks for higher prices, and only 3 per cent of the cities with a population of 100,000 or more anticipate such a rise."

Speaks For U. S.

Richard DeLima of Mamaroneck High School represented the United States Saturday in a panel discussion on "America in the Eyes of the World" at the annual session of the New York Herald Tribune Forum for High Schools at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York.

Students from eight nations exchanged their views on dates, teachers, political parties, family relations, racial prejudice and hopes for the future. Summing up his conclusions on the visit to the U. S. of 29 Latin-American and four Canadian students, DeLima said, "I've seen these ideas, we can also have uniformity of action. I believe that, sharing the same ideals, we will have to adopt some joint action and that with such a basis, we can get anywhere we want."

Local faculty members who attended were Miss E. A. Koster, principal, Miss Frances Hopkins and Robert Zimmerman of Mamaroneck High School; and Principal Joseph C. McLain, William G. Fuller and Walter Ludwig of Mamaroneck High School. The hosts and hostesses of the Larchmont and Mamaroneck visitors also attended.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Office of Temporary Controls announced today that spare stamp No. 11 in OPA Form 10-A, Household Booklet will become good April 1 for 10 pounds of sugar.

Zionists Hear Basle Report

Alvin Rosenfeld, reporter on the New York Evening Post, said in a Basle, Switzerland, discussed the two basic theories of Zionism, the Zionists conference table. The first, advocating assimilation of the Jew in all things, was contrasted with its opposing theory, whose champion is Dr. Abba Hillel Silver of New York City. Though no advocate of military force, Dr. Hillel urges the Jews to fight with every legitimate means at their disposal any action, plan or policy they judge to be in their future as a nation.

Sensors Send Nomination For Atomic Post To Upper House Floor

BRICKER IS OPPOSED

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Atomic Energy Committee today voted 8 to 1 for confirmation of David E. Lillenthal, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

The committee also approved the nominations of W. W. Waymack, L. E. Strauss, Dr. Robert Serber and Stanger T. Fike, members of the Commission, and Carroll Wilson as general manager.

Sensor Bricker, R. Ohio, cast the only vote against Lillenthal. His Ohio colleague, Senator Tate, chairman of the Republican Policy Committee, recently had declined against the former chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Senator Connally, D. Texas, and Vandenberg, R. Mich., who were attending a White House conference, voted by proxy.

All the names now go to the Senate floor for consideration.

Scholarship Memorial Gets Schach Support

Additional support was given yesterday to the "Larchmont Memorial" scholarship fund by Theodore G. Schach, Democratic candidate for village trustee at a meeting of the Village Democratic Club yesterday at the home of James Ferral, 23 Prospect Avenue.

Mr. Schach stated that the Democrats have a keen interest in the scholarship fund which is interested in furthering its well-being.

"Many topics of interest are being discussed by the members of our citizens," he said, "and among those are the subjects of new housing developments and of improving the cleanliness of the village which is being currently sponsored by the Garden Club and finally, the proposed form of a Larchmont Memorial Club house, a 'living memorial' and now the 'Beall' plan of a memorial scholarship. All have merit but the latter particularly interests me. As an individual who is a veteran of World War I and father of a veteran of World War II, I am particularly interested in its careful study. Regardless of whether we are veterans or not, we as Americans and world citizens must do everything we can to avoid a World War III."

"At my heart be it said, I am standing, and with a steady confidence, which is based on knowledge, which is based on experience."

"Whether Mr. Beall's proposal, in its present outline of a four-year memorial scholarship, which annually would prove too expensive for the community is something which can be done in the Park drill tower in the third session of drill school, under the direction of Deputy Chief Hugh Colling, Lt. Sam Robins and ex-Lt. Philip Taylor.

Next Sunday the members of the company will drill with the apparatus of the Hook and Ladder Company. Capt. Lester Simon of the "Hook" will designate a crew of six members of his company to assist the officers of the school, arrangements for their members with the operation of the equipment of the Hook and Ladder Company.

For the sixth and final session of the school, arrangements have been made for the use of the drill tower of the New Rochelle Fire Department. Members will be judged and certificates awarded to those satisfactorily completing the course.

Marshall Pushes 4-Power Alliance Against Germany As Moscow Parley Opens

U. S. Secretary Assured Of Only British Support

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Minister Aneurin Bevan, in his American, British and French counterparts today the Four Power Conference, said that was not easy but had a "realistic basis for joint work," the Moscow Radio said.

MOSCOW (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson said today to the United States proposed for a Four-Power alliance against Germany, but he was assured the support of only British and French governments and foreign Ministers Council met in non-mantled Moscow to consider peace treaties for Germany and Austria.

The ministers opened the momentous session with little ceremony as an anonymous swiftness over the news of the Russian Foreign Minister George Bidault of France was reported to be in London, agreeing to support the Four-Power pact sponsored by the United States only if it was part of a broad pattern to keep Germany impotent. He also said that the other nations must include political separation of the Ruhr from Germany, a restriction on German armaments and a low level of industrial production.

Marshall told correspondents he was going to press for the Soviet disarmament and demilitarization treaty originally proposed by James F. Byrnes, his predecessor. Bevan is known to favor the Byrnes plan strongly.

At a meeting yesterday of the Kiwanis Board of Directors, final plans were drafted and committee members named for the "Evening of Basketball" to be held Wednesday in Mamaroneck Junior High School. The feature attraction will bring together the St. Augustine Saints of Larchmont and the Hastings East Side club, with proceeds to go to the village fund for boys and girls.

St. Augustine, one of the county's leading amateur quinquets, has been defeated only three times this season, one loss coming at West Point. The St. Augustine team will bring together the St. Augustine Saints of Larchmont and the Hastings East Side club, with proceeds to go to the village fund for boys and girls.

General Electric's "House of Magic," a science show which has been presented before more than 12,000,000 persons during the last 15 years, and which was one of the hit shows of the New York World's Fair and of every major exposition since Chicago's Century of Progress, is coming to Mamaroneck on Wednesday, March 13.

The show, which presents the marvels of modern science, will take place at the Junior High School at 7:45 P. M. under the sponsorship of the Westchester Industrial Arts and Vocational Education Association.

The Education Association, composed of school shop instructors of Westchester County, will hold this year's annual county meeting in connection with the General Electric show. Since its organization in 1924, the group has held about eight annual meetings in the different school shops of the county. Local members are Herbert Lidstrom and Fred Wurzbacher of Bellows Falls, N. Y.; Paul Ansel, Fred Parr and Herman Post of the Junior High School, and Wallace Burroughs of Mamaroneck High School.

The "House of Magic" will be shown at the Junior High School assembly the afternoon of March 20. The patient derived its name from the late Floyd Gibbons, author, lecturer and foreign correspondent, who so dubbed the General Electric research laboratory, in which scientists discovered the phenomena presented in the science show.

Now entering its 14th season, the "House of Magic" has attracted capacity crowds at every performance. More than 2,500,000 persons saw it at the New York World's Fair and during World War II.

Musical Record Collection To Be Proposed Wednesday At Library Ass'n Meeting

A plan to add a musical record collection to the shelves of the Mamaroneck Free Library will be presented Wednesday night to the membership of the association at a meeting on the main floor of the library building.

The idea of a lending library of records will be described by Miss Eleanor Morrow, librarian, and William E. Macdonald, Jr., chairman of the association, who will explain the various aspects, including ways and means of financing it and what committees would be needed to administer the project.

Members will be asked for ideas on the subjects of music appreciation, hours, record selection and publication of the collection with a possible financial program. A record player will be demonstrated at the meeting to determine the feasibility of presenting occasional musical programs in the library.

If the association adopts the plan, Mamaroneck will become the second library in the county with a lending collection of records, a first in the county since the Yonkers library some time ago.

Miss Morrow announced today that the library's drive to increase the association membership has yielded 123 new names. She stressed the fact that membership at $3 per year is open to all residents of the village.

The following names have been added since the last list was published: Mrs. Donald E. Babington, Mrs. George W. Babington, Mrs. George W. Babington, Mrs. George W. Babington.

Orphaned at a young age in 1927, Dr. Donegan became a priest of the Holy See in 1932 and served as assistant rector of All Saints Church, Worcester, Mass., from 1937 to 1940. He is now rector of the Church, Baltimore, Md., from 1929 until 1933.

In London, he is a member of The Pilgrims' Society, United Nations League Club and the National Club.

For three hours yesterday morning, 30 members of the company No. 1 of the Larchmont Fire Department, participated in competitive evolutions at the First Park drill tower in the third session of drill school, under the direction of Deputy Chief Hugh Colling, Lt. Sam Robins and ex-Lt. Philip Taylor.

False Notions Seen Here On Foxhole Acres

Some people in the town of Mamaroneck have false notions about where their Town Board is located. It is not at the Foxhole Acres, as many believe, but at the Larchmont Avenue Church.

Mr. Mandeville, who says he likes fox holes and wants to get them, has been accused of everything from stupidity to downright hostility to the vets' cause. Most of the criticism stems, he believes, from the Town Board's alleged unwillingness to present a "public utility" to the vets and a modern road.

"A few critics have blasted our work on the Foxhole Acres," he said, "but the issue involved, the supervision of the town, is a 'jump decision' he cited a passage from a feature story appearing last week in the 'Times' by Albert A. Koster, secretary of the Larchmont Veterans' Association, 'Foxhole Acres' group. Mr. Charnay writes:

"We have money, land, priority, architect and building contractor, Kohler said. 'Now all we need is to line up manufacturers of materials and appliances.'"

"But that isn't the only obstacle before the town. So far the board has taken no action."

"According to Mr. Mandeville, the board's action in favor of the vets and that its failure to do so constituted 'an obstacle.'"

"What the writer fails to consider is our own responsibility to taxpayers," the supervisor said. "We can't spend a nickel until we know exactly where we're going."

In this connection, he noted that four different acts of legislation from the local veterans have come to his attention, "each one richer than the last." He said the board can't be sure of its position until the vets are foursquare on their own.

"As a matter of fact," he added, "I have yet to receive a letter from the 50 participants in this project, though I asked for it three weeks ago."

While he is firmly behind the veterans in their efforts to get the town to take action on the Foxhole Acres, Mr. Mandeville said he could not recommend a town grant until the vets had answered these questions have any more.

U. S. Secretary Assured Of Only British Support

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Minister Aneurin Bevan, in his American, British and French counterparts today the Four Power Conference, said that was not easy but had a "realistic basis for joint work," the Moscow Radio said.

MOSCOW (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson said today to the United States proposed for a Four-Power alliance against Germany, but he was assured the support of only British and French governments and foreign Ministers Council met in non-mantled Moscow to consider peace treaties for Germany and Austria.

The ministers opened the momentous session with little ceremony as an anonymous swiftness over the news of the Russian Foreign Minister George Bidault of France was reported to be in London, agreeing to support the Four-Power pact sponsored by the United States only if it was part of a broad pattern to keep Germany impotent. He also said that the other nations must include political separation of the Ruhr from Germany, a restriction on German armaments and a low level of industrial production.

Marshall told correspondents he was going to press for the Soviet disarmament and demilitarization treaty originally proposed by James F. Byrnes, his predecessor. Bevan is known to favor the Byrnes plan strongly.

3 Patrolmen Lauded For Saving Life

Three Montauk Village patrolmen won citations of commendable merit last night by unanimous action of the Board of Trustees. For alert and efficient execution of duty on the night of Feb. 15, Vito Fraoli, Charles R. Clark and Joseph McNamara were recommended by PBA Chief Arthur W. Martensen for official laudation.

According to the chief, the quick, timely and effective action of the three saved the life of Arvella Jackson, 28, of 725 Old White Plains Road, who had inhaled noxious gas fumes and lay unconscious on the floor of her apartment.

Chief Martensen's recommendation is in full: "On Feb. 15, Patrolmen Vito Fraoli, Charles R. Clark and Joseph McNamara responded to an emergency call at the home of Arvella Jackson, 28, of 725 Old White Plains Road, who had inhaled noxious gas fumes and lay unconscious on the floor of her apartment."

Airman Blown From Plane; Falls 4 Miles

NEW YORK, (AP)—A navigator sighting on the stars from his plastic bubble atop Trans World Airlines' plane was blown from the cockpit and tossed nearly four miles into the Atlantic Ocean 500 miles off the coast of New York last night.

Victim of the freak accident was George Hart of Sag Harbor, TWA official said. The pilot was O. P. Hamilton of Richmond, Va. The plane, which was flying at an air speed of about 250 miles an hour at an altitude of 10,000 feet, made a safe return to the Gander Airport at 10:24 P. M. The accident occurred at 7:28 P. M.

The Coast Guard sent a message to all ships in the area to be on the lookout for the lost navigator. The Coast Guard said there was scant possibility the navigator could have survived the long fall. Reports received here did not state what had caused the plane to break and the navigator to be thrown upward through the opening.

Breaking of the dome released the air pressure within the plane, reportedly sealed so that the atmosphere would be maintained at a comfortable pressure at high altitudes. According to the pilot, the altitude at the time of the accident was about 10,000 feet. The return to Gander.

GRASS FIRE—A grass fire in the rear of the Yellow Taxi office near the Larchmont railroad station, believed to have been started by sparks from a passing train, brought out the Larchmont Fire Department at 6:30 last night. No damage was reported and recall was at 7:10 P. M.

$535,000 Is Estimated As Cost Of New Parkway Toll Stations

WHITE PLAINS—Erection of the new toll collection stations on the Saw Mill and Hutchinson River Parkways will cost $535,000, State engineers' supervisors were advised yesterday afternoon by the County Park Commission, which uses its statement on an estimate from the County Department of Public Works.

Supervisor Jefferson Armstrong stressed that the figure was only an estimate. Previously he had said that the actual budget appropriations, that $400,000 would cover the cost of the toll stations. The construction will not be advertised for until the summer. The Park Commission asked for $150,000 with which to purchase additional land for the station on the Saw Mill Parkway in Yonkers near McLean Avenue. The request was referred to the board's budget committee.

Over objections from Mount Pleasant's Supervisor, Owen Sullins, the board will request $250,000 with which to acquire an acre in that town as a site for a toll station. The board also approved the installation of an instrument on the Hutchinson River Parkway. Quinn declared there is already too much tax-exempt county-owned land in his town.

A request from Supervisor Al Sullins of Harrison that the airport be officially named "Westchester County Airport" was turned down by the board. The board also approved by the board was delayed a week by the suggestion. Sullins put through a resolution, however, calling upon New York Members of Congress to request Federal building restrictions and allocations which, he claimed, are being withheld by the board and Mrs. Lionel Bennett, CAP lieutenant.

CAP Hears Talks On Communication

Forty members and cadets attended and the meeting was supervised by the supervisor of CAP, Capt. Eugene B. Ligon, communications instructor and Mrs. Lionel Bennett, CAP lieutenant.

Truman To Ask Big Greek Loan

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Truman will address Congress tomorrow on the whole question of the Greek crisis and the critical situation in the Mediterranean.

Announcements of Mr. Truman's decision to go before a joint session of Congress on the Greek question was made by Senator Vandenberg, R-Mich., and the White House after a 20-minute press conference of the President and Congressional leaders.

The Pontiff evidently was preoccupied by the prospect of the Moscow Conference of Foreign Ministers. He nodded assent to the suggestion that he should achieve in the slightest of the conference's beginning.

Vets Join Civic Clubs In Urging Village Support

The Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis Clubs, three veterans' organizations and 15 other civic groups are backing a living memorial to the Harbor Island. William J. Kuhn of the Rotary Club spoke for the organizations before a packed Village Board meeting in the Municipal Building last night.

Terminating the project "A splendid idea," Kuhn said, "is well as to all men and women who have served. Mr. Kuhn said that the memorial would be a living memorial to the village, thanks to your boards in the past. It is better financial condition today than at any time in my memory."

Mr. Kuhn, chairman of a Rotary committee to implement the project, said that the following local organizations are backing the memorial: The Files Club, Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club, Lions Club, American Legion Post 90, David Potts Jr. Post 1156, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Association of Boy Scouts, N.A.A.A.P., Odd-fellows, Kiwanis Club of the Village, Young Men's Republican Club of the Village, and the Village Youth Bureau.

Mr. Kuhn said he is not trying to run your business for you. Mr. Kuhn stated, "Our only idea is to improve the village. It is in our opinion, the foremost project in the minds of the board and the people in our own minds."

Mayor B. J. Santoro thanked the board for its interest in an appearance and congratulated him. He said that the memorial project is a fine idea and that the board should take the lead in this project. He said that the memorial would be a living memorial to the village, thanks to your boards in the past. It is better financial condition today than at any time in my memory."

Court Probes Brutal Beating Of Little Boy

WHITE PLAINS—The father and stepmother of a five-year-old boy, who was beaten "so badly he wouldn't eat" until his body was literally covered with bruises from head to feet, were charged yesterday with neglect for allowing the child to be beaten.

The charges were filed against Axel Lohr, 37, and Mrs. Ann Stang Lohr, 35, of 217 Gordon Avenue, North Tarrytown, under William J. Bennett, Child Protective Services Director for the Westchester Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, investigated the case on a telephone message.

Mr. Bennett said it was the "worst beating he had ever seen." There were also abrasions on the child's face, neck, left hip, left forearm and right finger. The child's thumb was also injured.

The father and stepmother, admitting the beating, said they had been going on "for some time" and that the last beating was administered Friday. Questioned concerning their actions, Mr. and Mrs. Lohr said they became so exhausted and frenzied over the child's not eating that they lost their tempers and lost him. The stepmother used a stick, the father his hands.

Blizzard Women

Today may be just March 12 and nothing more to you, but to Mrs. E. Hatfield (turnout of 59 Shore Drive, Larchmont) it is a host of others throughout the country, it is the 50th anniversary of the never-to-be-forgotten blizzard of 1888.

Mrs. Turnbull, 76-year-old hostess of the Connecticut Pioneer Branch of the National League of American Penwomen and the mother of the Garden Club of Larchmont, who saw the blizzard out in her girlhood home in Milford, Pa., would like to see an organization of women veterans of the famous event and thinks it would be a good idea for the organization to get together a year from today to observe the 60th anniversary of the blizzard, like the "Blizzard Men of 1888."

She got good and tired of all the propaganda that only men had anything to do with the blizzard and wrote a letter to a New York newspaper, recently published. To her surprise a raft of letters came to her reply from woman blizzard survivors from many states.

Calling upon woman survivors of the "inclement weather" of March 12, 1888, to form a "Women of the Blizzard" organization, Mrs. Turnbull urged her contemporaries to "hang up and have a time in 1948."

"We could learn you young souls a thing or two," she remarked, suggesting that the '88 men who held a dinner annually on the occasion, "are in their dotage now."

Schoolmen Busy

The two local schools have two busy months ahead.

At last night's meeting of the Mamaroneck School, dates were set for school committee meetings, budget sessions and regular meetings as follows:

- March 19—Building and grounds committee meeting.
 - March 21—Adjourned regular meeting.
 - April 8—Regular meeting.
 - April 15—Budget hearing with civic associations.
 - April 26—Registration of voters.
 - May 6—Annual district meeting.
 - May 7—Election of trustees.
 - May 13—Regular meeting.
- On the date for registration, the annual meeting and election of trustees coincide in the Rye Neck District. The trustees will meet a special meeting for budget study March 21 and on the regular meeting for April 8. The date for a preliminary hearing on the budget will be set soon, the board decided.

Chief's Request

A glimpse at Chief Arthur W. Martensen's recommended raise for members of the Mamaroneck Village Police Department discloses two variations from the salary scale requested by the local Police Benefit Association.

The PBA seeks equality "at all levels" with the Town of Mamaroneck Department. Chief Martensen departs from the PBA scale in the case of patrolmen, for whom he asks $3,200 as against the PBA's $3,000. In the case of lieutenants, however, the chief asks $200 less than the PBA's $4,000 as opposed to $4,200.

In all other respects the chief's recommendations adhere to the PBA requests.

Better Parking

Availability of parking spaces in Mamaroneck Avenue has become a problem since the 30-minute limit has been enforced. The Chamber of Commerce has notified its members of the current Chamber bulletin urges all merchants to continue to cooperate so that the ordinance will have a fair trial before the referendum on parking meters is held March 18.

The Chamber also suggests that a map be issued either by the Chamber or by the village to acquaint residents with the location of off-street parking lots.

The next session of the organization will be a dinner meeting March 17 at the Elks Club.

Rally Tonight

Mayor H. J. Santoro will deliver a pre-election message to-night at a joint rally of the Women's Republican Club of Rye Neck and the Young Men's Republican Club. The rally will be addressed by Ralph H. Mann, party candidate for trustee in the March 18 election.

Refreshments will be served by committees from both clubs. A message will be announced today, and the rally will be open to the public.

Taxpayers Hit 'Spree' Of Spending

Oppose Pay Increases For Village Policemen In New Budget

BACK MEMORIAL PARK

"Seeing what it termed a 'spending spree' in the village, the Mamaroneck Taxpayers Association decided last night that 'something must be done to curb the extravagance if people are to retain their property and pay the taxes.' A large turnout attended the association meeting in the Public Library.

Police Chief Arthur W. Martensen requested salary increases for members of his department from $30,000 to $35,000. It was also pointed out that the police had received a 12.5 per cent increase last year.

The association further stated that because in the past year the salaries of 13 members of the office personnel amounted to $1,400 last year alone, any further increase granted during the proceeding year would be a hardship.

The proposed 100,000 "Living Memorial" at Harbor Island was also mentioned in the letter to the Board of Trustees urging that "nothing be done about this 'Living Memorial' until the matter can be gone into more thoroughly."

In this connection, the statement of Col. H. R. Lacey, Jr., in the Daily Times "Review" of March 10 was read to the membership. The colonel, noting that the swiftness of the drop in the price of the land, walk away and pretend it isn't there. The men and women of the town are urged to pay attention to the fact that the money is being spent on the 'Living Memorial' and not on the town's needs.

The case first came to attention when the tax driver reported to police that he had driven Davis to New York and that the latter had been told by his employer to deliver the whiskey. He said that Davis had given him a case of whiskey as a present. On returning to Larchmont, the driver became suspicious and checked it up.

After a checkup it was reported that Davis had been seen in the vicinity of the incident charges Davis had been charged with the murder of a woman in New York on Feb. 20.

Pay Question Seen Waiting State Action

The question of teachers' pay in the 1947-48 school budget is being held up by the State Education Department. The PBA seeks equality "at all levels" with the Town of Mamaroneck Department. Chief Martensen departs from the PBA scale in the case of patrolmen, for whom he asks $3,200 as against the PBA's $3,000. The result of the calls was that the three officers in operation since Liconi was found shot to death in his car on the town of Rye last Wednesday night.

Lodge Liquor Thief Indicted By Grand Jury

WHITE PLAINS—Samuel Davis, alias Abraham Schultz, who is alleged to have staged a sumptuous New Year's Eve party with the $1,600 proceeds from the sale of 25 cases of Scotch whiskey stolen from Larchmont Lodge, where he had been employed, was indicted by the Grand Jury yesterday for grand larceny first degree.

Davis, who is alleged to have taken 60 cases of the hard-to-get Scotch from the lodge on the night of Dec. 31, and to have removed it to New York, by taxi, was arrested in New York on Feb. 20.

The case first came to attention when the tax driver reported to police that he had driven Davis to New York and that the latter had been told by his employer to deliver the whiskey. He said that Davis had given him a case of whiskey as a present. On returning to Larchmont, the driver became suspicious and checked it up.

After a checkup it was reported that Davis had been seen in the vicinity of the incident charges Davis had been charged with the murder of a woman in New York on Feb. 20.

Brady Brands Our Editorial As Inaccurate

Commenting on the editorial "To Trustee Brady" which appeared in the Daily Times of Feb. 24, Trustee Walter F. Brady told the other members of the Mamaroneck Board of Education last night that it "replete with errors or inaccuracies."

The editorial was in answer to Trustee Brady's remarks at the February meeting of the board when he assailed the Daily Times coverage of the teacher pay dispute, accusing the press of an attempt to magnify the seriousness of the situation.

He said the editorial reminded him of a story about a Scotsman who had bought a horse. Shortly afterwards the horse died and he recouped his loss. Sandy decided to haul a horse on the road. Sandy told a lot of lies and took a lot of money. The raffle was held and Sandy sent the horse to the winner. Of course the horse was dead and when the man who won received it, he went to Sandy and said, "Sandy gave him my money back."

The board also announced the resignation of Robert S. McDowell, industrial arts teacher, who has been on leave of absence since he was fired from his position in the fall of 1946. (Continued on Page Three)

TRUMAN CALLS FOR CONGRESS FOR FIGHT OF 40 MILLION GREECE AND TURKEY

Military Backing Sought To Block Communism

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Truman called on Congress today to battle totalitarian aggression by sending $400,000,000 in men and materials to Greece and Turkey.

"In addition to funds, I ask the Congress to authorize the detail of American civilian and military personnel to Greece and Turkey, at the request of those countries, to assist in the tasks of reconstruction. It is our duty to assist in supervising the use of such financial aid, to insure that the aid is used for the benefit of the people of those countries and to prevent the aid from being used for the benefit of the enemy."

Should Greece disappear as an independent state, he went on, it would have a profound effect on those countries in Europe which are struggling to maintain their freedom and independence while they resist the dangers of war.

As for Turkey, he said its future is of the utmost importance to the freedom-loving peoples of the world. The future of Greece is essential to the preservation of order in the Middle East.

Maintenance of its national integrity is of the utmost importance to the peace of the world. It is essential to the preservation of order in the Middle East.

"I am confident that the Congress will act promptly and effectively, in the interest of the people of these countries, to assist in the tasks of reconstruction. It is our duty to assist in supervising the use of such financial aid, to insure that the aid is used for the benefit of the people of those countries and to prevent the aid from being used for the benefit of the enemy."

Put God First, Donegan Says In Lenten Talk

The Rev. Dr. Horace W. B. Donegan, rector of St. James Episcopal Church, New York, who preached the sermon at the Union Center service in the Larchmont Avenue Church last night, reminded his listeners that "God comes first in life," but that many people failed to recognize this fact and "suffer for their neglect of God."

He pointed out that modern man is prone to leave God out of his life and mentioned the fact that there is no prayer being offered at the Moscow Conference where men are negotiating for the peace of the world.

"Some people," he said, "make comfort their God or at least put comfort ahead of God. Others prefer prestige to God, or one's family may stand ahead of God in our loyalties."

Dr. Donegan also mentioned the legal code as a modern substitute for God. Men are apt to live according to the law with little reference to what is moral duty and highest loyalty is explained, and so long as they live within the law, they think they are satisfying the demands upon them.

Another modern substitute for God, he said, is social service. Dr. Donegan emphasized his belief that of course social service is commendable but that some of our modern people are forgetting that behind social service there is the Spirit of God and that with out God social service will die.

The speaker deplored what he called "hypocritical religion" as practicing an unworthy religion. He compared this to the unprofitable friendship wherein one tries to use his friendship with another for selfish purposes. Such purposeful friendship will soon break up as friendship will purposeful religion spoil our relations with God. Dr. Donegan asked his audience to get a first-hand experience with God in surrender to His will and thus to place God first.

Editor Plunges To Death When Fire Hits Home

NEW YORK, (AP)—Edward P. Flynn, 48, executive editor of the New York Post and the Bronx Home News, died early today in a plunge from a window of his eighth floor apartment during a fire there.

"I'm trapped, I'm going to jump," Flynn was heard to call before he plunged from a kitchen window of the smoke-filled apartment, police said.

Police said Flynn's body fell from the skylight of a one-story building extension scattering glass on the beds occupied by Mrs. William Logan, wife of the apartment superintendent, and their daughter Elizabeth. They were not injured.

As Deputy Fire Chief James E. Gowdy reconstructed the scene, he said Flynn had gone from his bedroom to the large living room of the apartment to rest after being awakened by a fire alarm in the bedroom.

He said Flynn found he could not smoke. Flynn found he could not enter the bedroom, in which the bedding and drapes were burning, to reach a fire escape or window.

He said he started cutting through the window, called to residents of nearby apartments, and finally, in panic jumped.

Board Denies Trade Group Use Of Gym

The Mamaroneck Board of Education last night denied a request from the Larchmont Fair Trade Association for the use of the Junior High School gymnasium for its Trade Exposition.

It was the opinion of the board that the use of the school for such an exposition is not permitted by law.

The Fair Trade Association, which had originally scheduled the exposition March 23, 25 and 26 in the Weaver Street Fire House, requested use of the gymnasium by leaving the fire house was in view of the board's ruling, the association will apparently carry out its original program.

Trustee Hugh B. Kirkman read the request saying that theoretically the community project is a personal gain any money in the exposition will be used for the benefit of the community to promote business which will be outside the limits of which the law governs the use of a school.

John Curran, the board attorney, explained that while he feels the exposition is a very desirable project, it is not a "business" and is not permitted by law in the accepted use of the school.

Hollywood, an Irishman, selected the green number in the place and is wearing it proudly today.

League Claims Rye Seeks To Evade Relief

WHITE PLAINS—The charge that the City of Rye seeks to evade sharing county-wide relief costs with the other cities and towns of the county, and endeavor to pay only for their own relief cases was laid before the Board of supervisors this afternoon by the Westchester League of Women Voters.

A week ago the supervisors considered a local bill advanced at Albany by Assemblyman Frank McCullough of Rye City, giving the City the right to operate under Option Three of the State's new Otterleg Relief Law until Dec. 31, 1948.

Supervisor Hugh Lavery, Ostling, questioned advisability of the board's approval of the bill and moved it over to the next meeting.

However, on personal solicitation from Budget Chairman Richard H. Lever, White Plains, Lavery withdrew the objection and the board approved the McCullough bill.

Mrs. Dorothy Conover, president of the County League of Women Voters, in a letter to the board today, pointed out that the bill was apparently misunderstanding and that the board members apparently considered it as a means to come into the relief administration.

Larchmont Campaign Reaches $14,436 At Half-Way Mark

CONDUCTED BY MAIL

With the Red Cross drive at the halfway mark, Larchmont has already exceeded its $11,225 quota by $3,771. Frank X. O'Donnell, Jr., campaign chairman, announced yesterday to the Board of Directors at campaign headquarters, 132 Larchmont Avenue.

"As of March 15," he stated, "$14,436 has been received and checks will undoubtedly continue to come in for the remainder of the month."

Except for advance gifts, the committee has carried on the solicitation entirely by mail. Mr. O'Donnell thanked board members for their cooperation which had contributed so largely to the success of the drive and to A. A. C. Woodruff, Jr., though not a Board member gave valuable assistance.

He also expressed appreciation to corps and committee chairman of the Larchmont Branch, Mrs. John G. van Santvoord, chairman of staff assistance and her helpers for office work; Mrs. Fredrick C. Woodruff, Jr., secretary; Miss Elizabeth Bennett, press relations; Mrs. Benjamin K. Boyce, assistants.

GOP Wins Up Election Drive In Larchmont

More than 40 persons attended a luncheon-meeting of the Larchmont GOP at the Larchmont Shore Club and heard former Trustee Harold V. Bozell recommend the re-election of two candidates for Trustee.

"I am very glad," said Mr. Bozell, "to have this opportunity to make a few remarks about the candidates for Trustee on the Republican ticket."

He served as host for trustees who have known both of these men for many years and have expressed to have a deep respect for both.

"I have known Mr. Golliday intimately from both a business and a personal standpoint for over 22 years. A man of a higher character and purpose I have never met."

Mr. Golliday is a native of Galena, Ill., and is a graduate of the University of Chicago. He is now in charge of his home city. He was a captain of artillery in the A.E.F., World War I, after which he entered business with the investment bank of Chicago, where he remained until 1928.

Mr. Golliday is now in charge of the village shortly afterward. He soon became a vice president and director of Bonbright and Company, Incorporated, based in Chicago, where he has remained since.

Mr. Golliday is also a member of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Westchester, where he has served for the last 10 years, except for the war period. Mr. Golliday's firm has been in business for over 20 years.

Write-In Drive Aimed At Santoro

Democrats Back Smith In Last-Minute Effort To Defeat Mayor

ELECTION TOMORROW

An eleven-hour write-in campaign against Mamaroneck Mayor J. Santoro, Republican candidate for a third term, developed today as leaders of both parties prepared to get out the vote in tomorrow's village elections in Mamaroneck and Larchmont.

Democratic Chairman F. P. McGeough admitted this morning that Democrats are being urged to inscribe the name of Julius Smith on the mayoral ballot.

For three years, Mr. Smith has been commander of David Post, Jr., Post No. 1124, Veterans of Foreign Wars. He is also a member of the Mamaroneck RPO Elks. During World War I, he saw duty with the Sixth Battle Squadron abroad in France and was in the Insular Division in Virginia before coming to Mamaroneck 21 years ago. Currently, he is assistant to Dr. Sol Shupera, Mamaroneck veterinarian.

Unofficial Democratic sources also reported that Republicans known to be disgruntled over recent squabbles within their party were being asked to write in Mr. Smith's name tomorrow. Advised of the new movement yesterday at his home, Mayor Santoro had no comment.

The polls in the village will be open from 7 A. M. to 8 P. M. and the candidates, apart from Mr. Santoro, are: Ernest Hoffa, of Rye Neck, Democrat, and Ralph H. Mann, of Larchmont, Republican, for the one vacancy on the Board of Trustees.

In Larchmont, where two elective posts are being contested, the polls will be open from 10 A. M. to 9 P. M. The vote register is expected to terminate what has been a bitter and hard-fought campaign of recent years in the village.

Running for two vacancies on the Village Board are Republican Arthur E. Coombs and Democrat Theodore G. Schad and Democrat William A. Hardy. Both will be in the candidate of both parties for another four-year term as police officers.

The Republican campaign in Mamaroneck will wind up tonight in Manzoni Lodge, where Mayor Santoro and Mr. Mann will address a rally sponsored by last and 2nd District leaders.

Democrats Hit 'Closed G.O.P. Corporation'

A plea for good local government which is not "closed" to the public was made yesterday by Larchmont's Democratic candidates for trustee at a party luncheon at the home of James P. Ferral, 23 Prospect Avenue.

Before the address were made by William A. Hardy and Theodore G. Schad, both trustees of the Republican Incumbents for election, Vincent Cullen, former trustee, endorsed the Democratic candidates explaining, "I feel very strongly that it is in the interest of this community that both parties be represented on the village board."

"A strong local government," Mr. Hardy declared, "is a traditional policy of the Democratic Party and, in this time of disturbed world affairs and major national problems, it is important that every Larchmont resident have the comforting knowledge that Village affairs are administered soundly, economically and fairly."

"In common with many service men during the recent World War, my thoughts turned often to my home town and, the more I thought on the subject, the more I came to realize how important it is that we have good local government. It seems to me that this is the first and most important step toward righting the affairs of this troubled world."

Although an exception of the good excesses of the twenties, our Village Administration has been excellent. It has been put aside in favor of a new administration. The division of responsibility between unpaid volunteer and full-time paid officials and workers has and still does require much effort from residents. Our volunteer is a superlative job. Our zoning Board of Appeals and Planning Commission and Recreation and Public Utility Boards have all demonstrated our village life.

At the annual dinner of the David Post, Jr., Post 1126 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars was attended yesterday by 125 persons. Louis Savone was chairman and Raymond Smith chef.

Lucy Cook Dies In Stream Near Her Home

Lucy Cook, the 19-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cook, 419 Chestnut Avenue, Mamaroneck, met death Saturday afternoon in the swollen waters of the Mamaroneck River, a block from her home. A crowd of 250 collected on the river's west bank as desperate efforts were made to save the child, whose body was recovered from the stream at 4:15 P. M.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Cook, the little girl had been playing with Bruce Bailey, a neighbor's child. The mother left the two youngsters momentarily to show a visitor into the Cook home. When she returned, she told police that the child was in the river and the Bailey boy was in the water. Police were summoned at 4 P. M.

Lucy, who was the Cooks' only child, apparently crossed the street to the public property at 504 Chestnut Street and descended a flight of stone steps out retaining wall to the river bank. Topping, the youngster was caught up in the strong current and carried to her death 300 feet downstream.

Police Chief Arthur W. Martensen, Lt. Herman Pauls, Sgt. Joseph Palmer and Sgt. William O'Neill were dispatched to the scene following Mrs. Ray Johnson's phone call. They arrived at the scene of the river. Fifteen minutes later, Sgt. Palmer saw a patch of blue under trailing brush near the west bank and signaled Mrs. John Muschler, who was waiting in search of the child. She picked up the body and carried it to the bank, where artificial respiration was immediately begun.

Next with blankets, hot water bottles and rest-cases containing boiling water, the child was revived. Sgt. Palmer and others carried on with artificial respiration. Dr. William Dreiker came to administer medicine and assist in the revival. Police and Westchester Lighting Company inhalators were used and Fire Chief Richard Granger appeared with the Volunteer Company.

With arrival of a United Hospital ambulance, the child and Mrs. Kurtz were placed on a stretcher with inhalator and moved to a unit into the townhouse. Artificial respiration continued without pause throughout. George Blizard accompanied Mrs. Kurtz to the hospital.

Dr. Clark of the hospital staff examined the child at 6:50 P. M. and pronounced her dead. According to police, she was dead when taken from the water, having been immersed for upwards of 15 minutes before discovery of her body.

Police Physician William Barrett, summoned to the river bank with Dr. Ertzler, left the latter in charge and administered to the child's mother at the Cook residence.

Private funeral services were held at 2 P. M. today at the Sillock and Keech Funeral Home, with the Rev. Arnold A. Fenton officiating. Interment was in Ferncliff Cemetery, Hartsdale.

2 Burglaries Yield Thieves $41 In Cash

Two burglaries in which $41 in cash and 17 phonograph records were stolen were committed over the weekend in Larchmont.

For the second time in six months, burglars broke into the Larchmont Spa on Palmer Avenue and stole $40 sometime Saturday night. Larchmont police reported, Anthony S. George, partner of the Spa, discovered the theft at 12:30 P. M. yesterday. Entry was apparently made through a side window where the lock had been forced. Mr. George's partner, Ernest Robinson, reported this morning that the $300 was in the cash register but that the thieves had overlooked $300 hidden elsewhere on the premises.

Burglars made a $800 haul from the Spa last September. The money was taken from a clear box under the counter and at the time, Mr. Robinson reported they had overlooked $500 in cash kept in a paper bag in the safe.

This morning, however, he said it was $1,100 the burglary overlooked last September.

The order of Evening Prayer will be said by the Rev. Arnold A. Fenton and the choir will sing under the direction of Charles E. Hall, organist and choirmaster.

Miss Anne Holmes of 160 Beach Avenue, Larchmont, who was bitten on the left thumb finger Saturday by a dog squirrel, was treated by Dr. G. C. Lyons. She said the squirrel was injured and bit her as she tried to pick it up.

PCA Postpones Housing Meeting

A meeting of the Larchmont Mamaroneck Branch, Progressive Citizens' Association, originally scheduled for Wednesday has been postponed indefinitely. President Brian Head announced today. He said members would be notified well in advance of the next meeting date.

The postponement was thought advisable in order that the local PCA branch might profit by discussion of housing problems at the March 22 Westchester Legislative Conference in White Plains.

The local contingent, largest from Mamaroneck in conference history, was made up of Schiller and the following patrolmen: William Paterson, Howard Hanley, Hugh Downey, Michael Circo, Robert Clark, Dominick Pisto and Anthony Cravotta, secretary of the local Police Benevolent Association.

Tired Pigeon

Exhausted from a long flight appearing leading nowhere, a racing pigeon last night landed in the home of Frank Rapp, 347 Half-Hundred Avenue, Harrison. It carried an identification band on its right leg, indicating it was no ordinary bird, otherwise Rapp was stumped about the creature.

In the end, he turned it over to Harold Saunders of Jefferson Avenue, Mamaroneck, a well-known pigeon fancier who attempted to locate the rightful owner.

Strong Arm Weakens

Service Officer Charles Schmidt of the Larchmont American Legion came in for considerable ribbing last night during the discussion of the proposed paper drive, Mr. Schmidt stated that he would organize a "strong-arm squad" to knock on the doors of the homes and pick up the paper. He sat in the rear of the room surrounded by a number of younger fellows.

After the report made by Pat Commander Ziegler of the Mamaroneck paper drive and a further discussion of the matter by the members of the eighth Army, one of Mr. Schmidt's "strong-arm squad" arose and said:

"Mr. Commander, would that the paper drive be abandoned."

Lewis Obeyes Court, Drops Strike Order

WASHINGTON, (AP).—John L. Lewis today withdrew his court termination of his contract with the government effective March 31 in compliance with a Supreme Court mandate.

Lewis sent a 20-word letter to Secretary of Interior Harold I. Green stating that he was withdrawing the notice which he had given Krug last Nov. 15 to hereby unconditionally terminate the contract.

It was this notice of contract termination that touched off the 17-day strike last fall.

Lewis called off the strike until March 31. His action today thus apparently erases the possibility of a renewal of the strike at the end of this month.

Without a contract, the miners historically do not work.

Lewis' action continues in force the contract he signed in the government late last Spring after the federal court seized the mines to end the 59-day stoppage.

It was this contract that Lewis sought to end last fall. The government obtained an order from Federal Judge T. Alan Goldborough directing Lewis and his miners to call off a strike that followed in November.

When Lewis refused, he and the miners were held guilty of contempt, Lewis was fined $100,000 and the United Mine Workers were fined $250,000. The Supreme Court upheld the contempt convictions and Lewis' fine but reduced the union fine to $70,000, provided Lewis withdraw his notice ending the contract with the government within five days after issuance of the Supreme Court mandate.

Subsequently, on petition of the government, the Supreme Court expedited effectiveness of its order. Its mandate is to be filed with the Federal District Court tomorrow.

Trustees Coombs and Golliday Win By 2-1 Margins

The Republicans returned Trustees Golliday and Arthur W. Coombs to office yesterday in Larchmont, chalking up a healthy 2-1 margin in both districts. The total vote for Golliday and Coombs received 66 for a plurality of 21 and 59, respectively.

The Democrats advanced beyond the strength they showed last year, Theodore Schud polling 218 votes as against 211 in 1946; and William Hardy polling 228, over two more than he cast for Richard Carr last year.

The total vote was only 739, last year when 685, or 44 percent of the 1,552 registered voters, was ruling on the Republican Party as police justice, received 632 votes and Edward Tatum scored 100, or 13 percent of the total. Two voters also wrote in Mr. Tatum's name for a plurality of 21 and 15, respectively.

Mr. Golliday polled a larger vote in the more populous Second District where Golliday and Coombs (R) received 254 and 253, respectively to 138 and 130 for Schud and Hardy. Golliday's vote in the second was 376.

In the First District, Golliday received 254 and 253, respectively to 138 and 130 for Schud and Hardy, 98 and 98, respectively.

Golliday's vote was only 26 behind Coombs' in spite of the fact that the Republican Party was split wide open between Golliday and John Ryan who lost the primaries decided the issue.

Mann Victorious With Santoro As Write-In Fails

A Republican sweep that extended into all nine voting districts in the Village of Mamaroneck yesterday as Judge Mayor D. J. Santoro beat into office for two more years and gave Ralph H. Mann an impressive plurality of 787 over Santoro in the Democratic opinion of the trustees.

The village's nine districts voted 1751 persons, more than 33 percent of the total registered voters, 5,265. Political observers termed it a "better than average" turnout.

In announcing 1,280 votes for an official plurality of 1,243 over Judge Mayor Santoro, Mr. Santoro jumped a last-ditch Democratic effort to unseat him through a "write-in" campaign. The Smith movement was described last night as a "last gasp" effort.

Eighty-seven persons apparently wrote in their names on ballots for Mr. Smith, but since only 37 wrote "R. Smith," the official designation, the remaining 50 votes went by the boards.

The village's nine districts voted 1751 persons, more than 33 percent of the total registered voters, 5,265. Political observers termed it a "better than average" turnout.

In announcing 1,280 votes for an official plurality of 1,243 over Judge Mayor Santoro, Mr. Santoro jumped a last-ditch Democratic effort to unseat him through a "write-in" campaign. The Smith movement was described last night as a "last gasp" effort.

Eighty-seven persons apparently wrote in their names on ballots for Mr. Smith, but since only 37 wrote "R. Smith," the official designation, the remaining 50 votes went by the boards.

Parking Meters Turned Down By 631-324

Fighting meters on Mamaroneck Avenue as a permanent solution to shopping center congestion were soundly defeated yesterday as only 243 members of the village electorate favored them while 631 turned thumbs down. The negatives represented slightly over 66 percent of the 955 votes cast on the proposition, which has been a vexed question in local commercial circles for nearly a year.

Civic and business organizations led the fight against meters. The Chamber of Commerce has taken a resolute stand against them, demanding the street police enforce a 90-minute parking limitation now on the books.

Official reaction to the disclaimer was temperate last night when most municipal representatives accepting it in silence as the public's clear preference.

50 School Voters Endorse Nelson And Jobson For 2nd Terms On Education Board

Trustees Luther Nelson and C. Frank Jobson were unanimously endorsed for reelection to the Mamaroneck Board of Education at an open meeting last night of the Committee for Selection of School Board Nominees in Mamaroneck Senior High School.

More than 50 persons attended the meeting and unanimously elected nine members, three from each municipality in the school district, to form the nucleus for next year's election committee.

Prior to the nominations and election, Richard I. Land, chairman, traced the origin of the school committee and stated that the Delta Society, formerly, at an open meeting of the Committee for Selection of School Board Nominees.

Mr. Land pointed out that the school committee has no legal status and that it is not interested in the health of the community, but that it is interested in the health of the school.

He reported that at a meeting Feb. 27, the committee unanimously endorsed Trustees Nelson and Jobson for reelection to the school board.

Work Clothing Wanted

The drive to collect work clothing for children in Europe will continue as long as the need exists, Mrs. Paul C. Schwantes, Jr., of 688 Forest Avenue, Larchmont, stated today in appealing to residents for donations.

To date, only three packages of clothing, from babies to men's wear, have been received since the drive started last month. They have been sent to the exchange where children of all nationalities who lost their families during the war are cared for by the Bavarian Red Cross.

Mrs. Schwantes is directing the Larchmont collection in connection with the nationwide drive which is being conducted by the American Friends Service Committee of the Society of Friends in international religious organizations.

Heavy clothing, shoes, baby clothes and blankets are urgently needed for the children who range in age from babies born recently to mothers in displaced persons' camps to 14-year-old Larchmonters. Donations may be left at Mrs. Schwantes' home or telephone Larchmont 2-2294.

Reserves Decision

The Larchmont Zoning Board of Appeals reversed decision last night on the appeal of Frank E. Webb of the Chateaufort Apartments, Larchmont, for a variance to permit the use of a portion of property on the east corner of Palmer and Chateaufort Avenues for the sale of used cars.

Appearing in opposition was Eugene G. Garfield, city engineer representing his wife who owns a piece of property at 1879 Palmer Avenue which is leased by the Luby Chevrolet Corporation. He told the board he believes if the variance were granted it would create unfair competition to the tenant.

Mr. Garfield pointed out that the property was originally owned by the Larchmont Mayor's Office and donated to the New Haven Railroad June 7, 1886. The deed carried a provision that it be used only for railroad purposes and, in the event of a violation, it would revert to the Mayor's Office. It is leased at present to Carmine Peruggia of 4 Cabot Road, Larchmont, who operates a gas station and parking lot but Joseph G. Garfield, who represented Mr. Webb, told the board the New Haven railroad has no objection to the use of the property for a used car lot.

Deadline Extended

Morning space in Mamaroneck Harbor may be applied for until April 1, the Newark 15 deadline having been extended two weeks for the benefit of stragglers. Village Manager William M. Johnson announced today.

The letter to small boat owners follows:

"We wrote you under date of Jan. 20 that we would set a deadline of March 15 for receipt of all mooring and dinghy float applications. As you are well aware, we are unable to do so, as we will be required to assign your mooring dinghy float space to someone on our waiting list."

Initial Mixup

A mix-up in initials cost VFW Leader John Smith 50 votes in yesterday's Village of Mamaroneck election. His official designation, "J. S. Smith," was garbled by well-meaning but misguided helpers these were written as J. S. Smith, S. J. Smith, J. C. Smith, M. S. Smith, J. F. Smith and J. S. Smith.

To enrich the vote in confusion, three would-be supporters of Benedict A. Hoffa, trustee candidate, wrote in his name for mayor, one of them scribbling "Benedict Hoff."

On Occupation Duty

He was recently assigned to the 139th Infantry Regiment, a unit of the 24th Infantry Division, for occupation duty in Japan. The 24th, known also as the "Victory" Division, is now occupying the island of Kyushu, southernmost and third largest of the Japanese home group.

Upon his arrival in the 24th Division area, Pvt. Rose found many improvement projects under construction, according to an official announcement. He is to be sent to make live overseas equal to that of a soldier stationed in the United States. The Victory Division has furnished his men with modern living quarters and the best recreational and medical facilities available.

Pvt. Rose entered the Army Sept. 18, 1946.

In a light collision on Palmer Avenue yesterday, a car driven by Salvatore Perolla, Old White Plains Road, Mamaroneck, received two scraped fenders, according to village police. The second car, operated by Raymond Layton, 209 Fremont Street, Harrison, escaped unscathed.

House Committee Questions Him On Truman's Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Undersecretary of State Acheson expressed conviction today that American aid for Greece and Turkey to block the spread of Communism was not "head to war."

The question was raised by Rep. Mansfield, D. Mont., as the House Foreign Affairs Committee questioned Acheson on President Truman's broad program to send money, material, and military missions to the two Mediterranean countries.

Acheson hesitated for a moment before replying that he was going to say no possible doubt that the aid program would be a "head to war."

"I don't think it could lead to war. By strengthening the forces of democracy and freedom, you do a great deal to minimize the friction between great powers."

On the other hand, he said, could not the aid program "bring about a chain reaction" among other countries—both to the east and west—countries in which we may be able to give help?

"I don't think it is ever correct to assume anything," Acheson replied. "There are other areas in which we may not be able to give help. There are other countries in which we may give aid in a different way."

"I don't think that help for Greece and Turkey to resist Communist aggression cannot wait for United Nations action but assured the lawmakers:

Thompson Puts Talmadge Out As Party Voice

ATLANTA (AP)—Gov. Melvin E. Thompson declared today that he would not allow the name of his political associate no longer had the right to speak for the Democratic Party and branded the Talmadge-sponsored "White Supremacy" bill an invitation to fraud and stolen elections.

"I am in a speech prepared for a joint session of the Georgia Legislature, just 24 hours after the State Supreme Court had rejected Talmadge's claim to the governorship of the Democratic Party."

"Those who sought to seize the State of Georgia for their selfish ends and who undertook to prostitute the Democratic platform to extend their own reign, now have no right to speak for the Democratic Party."

Thompson, who just passed on 151 bills apparently signed illegally by Gov. Talmadge, indicated he might vote Talmadge's number-one measure, the so-called "White Primary" bill, and asked enactment of legislation which would restrict the right of white persons and Negroes.

The growth of the oil industry from its accidental discovery in western Pennsylvania in the early 1800s until the present time was traced last night for the Mamaroneck Kiwanis Club by A. E. Coburn, fuel publication editor.

It was first used as a horse manure and later as a cure-all patent medicine, he said, and when it was used as heating fuel was discovered, it launched the industrial revolution which affected every industry in the country.

McLain Outlines Proposal Of Conference To Modernize High School Study Courses

A four-part plan by which courses of study and administration of high schools can be modernized to give more practical education to public school students has been evolved by educators who attended a three-day planning conference which closed last night at the Westchester Country Club in Harrison.

The major universities of the state as well as principals from 20 to 25 high schools all over the state will take part in the conference.

Result of the conference is a proposed study program to be carried out by the State Department of Education and representatives of the major universities of the state as well as principals from 20 to 25 high schools all over the state will take part in the conference.

Before they begin work, they must fill out an application for employment and obtain a social security number so that when they leave school in June, they will have had an actual interest in specific experience.

The students who will participate are Ethel Cowham, Angelina Antonelli, Jennie Bales, Elvira Bales and Mary Miranda.

The proposal was turned down last year by the Rye Neck School Board, but when suggested again this year it was referred to Superintendent Alvin W. Hicks for decision.

The five points of the four part planning program were explained today by Mr. McLain, Martin M. Mansberger, principal of the Freeport, Long Island, High School, who was secretary of the conference, and other educators.

The first point of attack is general education for all students planned to provide a course of study and school program which will give the student a basic education that covers not only book knowledge but skills and aptitudes, ideals, attitudes of the student toward work and his career, and human relationships that will make the student a good citizen.

At present, Mr. McLain explained, we do a fine job preparing students for college and professional training that takes care of perhaps 20 percent. We do a good job, also, in trade school training which prepares a student for a craftsman's job. That takes care of another 20 percent. But the remaining 60 percent of our students are not prepared for anything and do not go on to college; they leave the school with no preparation to find their best place and job in the community. That we must cure.

The second area of discussion was labor industry and education. The school should plan to coordinate the study courses with part time jobs in local business houses and industries.

The school should take some responsibility in helping a boy plan a work program that will give him helpful experience that can be done by developing cooperation between the school and local industry. This can be done by developing cooperation between the school and local industry. This can be done by developing cooperation between the school and local industry.

He Found Out!

The Chamber of Commerce has spearheaded the drive for parking regulations, strictly and impartially enforced, as the best solution for traffic snarls in Mamaroneck's business district and Frank Wright, Chamber secretary, has personally supervised all organizational publicity on the subject.

That, however, didn't prevent Mr. Wright from working from violating the ruling he has been at such pains to publicize and enforce. Officer Howard Hester, as consistent as he is hard-working, slipped a ticket on Wright's car after it had exceeded the parking limit on Mamaroneck Avenue.

In remitting his $1 fine by mail yesterday, Mr. Wright had this to say to Chief Arthur W. Martens: "I want to commend your men on their efficiency. I was interested in finding out how rigidly the 15-minute parking limit was being enforced."

"I want to assure you that you will receive 100 percent cooperation from the merchants and business men that are members of the Mamaroneck Chamber of Commerce. We feel this will be the complete solution if continuously enforced, as it has been in my case, to the bottleneck on Mamaroneck Avenue."

No Theater Drive

A special effort must be made this year to meet the cancer problem. Drive quota since theater collection has been discussed. Mrs. E. B. Ingraham, Mamaroneck chairman pointed out today.

The village quota for the 450 year, a large majority of those who have settled in this great country have become Americanized, have stopped pushing and shoving and have adopted the ways of the majority. "Since the beginning of time, minorities have cried about being persecuted. If these different groups took stock of themselves, they would probably find that they are crying 'wolf' when there isn't a wolf."

"It is the only country in the world where the individual has had the privilege of becoming outstanding figures regardless of their lowly origin. Individuals constitute the majorities as well as the minorities. Individuals and their respective groups, it may seem hard for an individual of the majority group, but he is one of the few that can be done and is being done daily and hourly."

"One thing individuals must remember is that since the beginning of time, the majority has won." (Continued on Page Three)

Photogenic

When you say "photogenic" you're apt to think "a pretty girl or a starry-eyed media" can happen to other media, too—buildings, for instance.

Mamaroneck High School has long been considered in that category not only by amateur photographers hereabout, but by professional ones who are busily contesting for advertising spots.

The latest manifestation is on the back cover of this week's Saturday Evening Post where the Grecian pillars at the Kodak entrance are featured in a Kodak ad.

Jewish Congress Leads Protest Before Realty Board of Larchmont

NO ACTION IS TAKEN

The American Jewish Congress led an attack last night on Thomas B. Sutton at a meeting of the Real Estate Board of Larchmont for what is termed "inflammatory" remarks prejudicial to minorities contained in a recent issue of "Sutton's News," a publication issued by the Thomas B. Sutton Corporation.

The letter from the New Rochelle Chapter of the organization, which was read by the board protesting Mr. Sutton's article and recommending that he be reprimanded by the real estate board.

Under the title "The Marches On," the article points out that there are many newcomers in Larchmont. Plans are always had the best waterfront park and beach in the Westchester Shore line, but Americans have been unable to understand this policy. They have used the Park and bathing beach for the past few years. In 1942, foreigners landed and started pushing the American people out of the beach which had been used for 450 years, a large majority of those who have settled in this great country have become Americanized, have stopped pushing and shoving and have adopted the ways of the majority.

"Since the beginning of time, minorities have cried about being persecuted. If these different groups took stock of themselves, they would probably find that they are crying 'wolf' when there isn't a wolf."

"It is the only country in the world where the individual has had the privilege of becoming outstanding figures regardless of their lowly origin. Individuals constitute the majorities as well as the minorities. Individuals and their respective groups, it may seem hard for an individual of the majority group, but he is one of the few that can be done and is being done daily and hourly."

"One thing individuals must remember is that since the beginning of time, the majority has won." (Continued on Page Three)

Sea Scouts Plan To Visit New Battleship

Members of the crew of the U.S.S. Nautilus, the first nuclear-powered submarine, will visit the Sea Scouts of Larchmont, N. Y., on Saturday, March 22, it was announced by Commander Kenneth S. Smith, commanding officer of the ship.

The trip has been arranged through the commandant and the executive officer of the Washington Navy Yard. The ship will provide guides for the Scouts who will visit in uniform.

The Navy training film, "Rites of the Nautilus" will be shown at the meeting supplementing instruction received during the previous sessions on buoyage and navigation. The film also shows "Anchor to Westward-Gum" depicting the capture of the island by the Japanese and its subsequent recapture, and "Battle for the Beaches," covering action at Diego and on several Pacific Islands.

The association had appealed to the Mamaroneck Board of Education for the use of the Junior High School gymnasium for its exposition. The Board denied permission, however, on the ground that the use of the school for such an exposition is not permitted by law.

Mr. Sutton said the association is now contemplating holding the exposition this summer under a tent in Flint Park.

Realty Board Spurns Plan To Open Sundays
A proposal to open for business on Sundays met with disfavor following discussion by 18 members of the Larchmont Real Estate Board last night at its offices at 131 Larchmont Avenue, Larchmont.

The matter was brought up after some members felt that remaining closed on Sundays gave brokers an adjoining territory in an advantage. Mamaroneck, it was said, is open for business Sundays. It was pointed out, however, that members of the New Rochelle Real Estate Board are closed not only on Sundays but Saturday afternoons as well.

The Board also discussed a proposal to amend the constitution which would prohibit members of the board to take an exclusive listing, without an overriding commission. The proposal will be voted on at a special meeting preceding the regular meeting of the Board on April 17.

Thomas B. Sutton, chairman of the civil affairs committee, reported on the public hearing last Monday on the proposed new sign ordinance. After a discussion, action was considered necessary, and the board of governors for further study and to take what action was considered necessary.

Kuhn Asks Village Survey Of Town Merger Under City Manager Government

Retiring Trustee Urges Fund For Thorough Study

A city manager form of government, the retiring trustee of Mamaroneck, Larchmont and unincorporated area is recommended by Edward J. Kuhn, outgoing Mamaroneck trustee, Monday night to make immediate budgetary provision for a professional survey this year of the consolidation issue.

Should Larchmont and the unincorporated area, for reasons of their own, decline to enter the consolidation framework, a city charter for the Village of Mamaroneck is advanced by Mr. Kuhn as an "excellent alternative" and a definite possibility.

He will suggest Monday that the board set aside "at least $7,500" to implement the proposed survey.

Mr. Kuhn, who makes his farewell appearance at the Monday night meeting after six years as a trustee, has long been associated with the consolidation issue. His ideas on a "City of Mamaroneck" came to the fore frequently during his three trusteeships and on at least one occasion won full backing from his fellow board members.

He believes in a city form of government not only for reasons of economy, but because future expansion can be more readily promoted, in his opinion, under a city charter than under a trusteeship and public improvements in such county areas as have been incorporated into cities during recent years, notably Larchmont and Yonkers.

As a resident of Yonkers, however, he advocates through consolidation the city idea in the viewpoint of tax and debt reduction. He believes that when Yonkers became a city, Yonkers was isolated from the rest of the county. Mr. Kuhn said that he has long been a town tax payer, therefore, the Yonkers tax is a "profit less than Village of Mamaroneck."

"This is the kind of thing a survey will tell us," Mr. Kuhn declared last night. "There are decided advantages to be gained under a city charter, but we want to be equally familiar with the disadvantages, whatever they are."

He said that about city government has been going on locally for years, but for some inexplicable reason has never been placed on blueprints.

"To my mind, this sluggishness has cost the county great many thousands of dollars," Mr. Kuhn said. "How do we know what advantages might have been obtained or other advances made? Nobody has ever done a survey of this kind." (Continued on Page Three)

Village Police Fail To Find Trace Of $5,000 Loot In 17-Month-Old Hirsch Theft

No portion of the estimated $5,000 loot of a 17-month-old burglary at the residence of Mrs. Hirsch, 681 Orienta Avenue, was traced by the village police, it was learned today. Moreover, as in the hefty Gorizia jewel theft of Sept. 2, 1946, the public received no inkling that a serious crime had been committed.

One full-length milk can valued at $3,000; five sable skins worth $300; more than $250 in men's clothing; two bottles of imported Scotch whiskey; 120 high-grade Havana cigars.

Mr. Hirsch, reached at his home last night, stated that all his home about police investigation of the burglary, which is still technically going on, is that it has led to recovery of five of the above items.

Notice of the break appeared in the Nov. 24, 1946, issue of the Daily Times. However, nothing was said about the loot, which apparently had not come to the notice of detectives. Their morning drive had battered through the door, jimmied their way into the home and seized the loot.

Mr. Hirsch, residing substantially the same information from the local detective bureau.

As soon as they returned home for the Christmas season, Mr. Hirsch called the police to search for their premises and found that the loot had been removed from a third-floor room. He advised police immediately.

Mr. Hirsch told a reporter last night that nothing related to the burglary has appeared since that time in the press. In addition, the public record in the local station house carries no notice of the burglary.

An insurance adjustment has been received by Mr. Hirsch, he disclosed last night, adding that since the stolen goods were "completely understood," he took a measurable loss in the settlement. He said the price of milk "shot up almost perpendicular."

He retired from the Mount Vernon public school system in 1946 after serving progressively for 30 years as physics instructor and head of the Science Department of A. B. Davis High School. Before accepting the Mount Vernon post in 1914, Mr. MacGregor held the post of principal at Hudson High School, Hudson, N. Y.

For nine years he was a member of the Milton School Board of Education, Rye from 1927 to 1936. He lived in Rye for 30 years.

He was born in Gloversville, N. Y., the son of the late Malcolm and Laura Colquhoun MacGregor.

Mr. MacGregor was graduated from Union College, Schenectady, in 1900, and received a Master of Arts degree from Columbia University.

None of the three local municipalities has lost ground in their state equalization rating for 1947, as released this week by the State Department of Taxation, and the rate for the Town of Mamaroneck was boosted one point from 95 to 96 percent. The rate for Larchmont remains at 94 and the Village of Mamaroneck stays at 95.

The assessment of special franchises has been boosted in all three communities, giving each one a larger base for the tax. In the town, New York, New Haven and Hartford, property values dropped from $49,100 to $47,900; New Rochelle Village property stays at the same value, $300; Westchester Lighting Company, a brother, John Richardson of Hawthorne, N. Y., two sisters, Mrs. J. J. Holzman and Mrs. J. J. Harshman, both of Mamaroneck, and one grandchild.

Charles G. Richardson of Seattle, Wash., a former resident of Rye, died yesterday in Seattle after a brief illness. He was 49 years old.

Survivors are his wife, the former Lillian Swift of Atlanta, Ga., one daughter, Mrs. Loin Himmelman of Seattle; his mother, Mrs. Janet Richardson of Hawthorne, N. Y.; two sisters, Mrs. J. J. Holzman and Mrs. J. J. Harshman, both of Mamaroneck, and one grandchild.

Bi-Partisan Move Starts In Congress To Prove To World It Does Conform

ACHESON MISQUOTED

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bipartisan Congressional drive got underway today to notify the world that the plan to shove up Greece and Turkey against Communist conformity with United Nations' principles and purposes.

The plan obviously intended to meet foreign charges in Congress and foreign capitals that this country is enabling the international organization, was advanced even as the administration was reported weighing in plan for reaffirming its support in U. N.

Embarrassed and angered, both closely associated with development of American diplomatic policy, tried to correct their own misstatements.

The misunderstanding arose during a question-and-answer session before the House Foreign Affairs Committee hearing today.

Judd: "I understand our major reason for proposing and adopting this legislation (aid to Greece and Turkey) is our belief that it will help to bring about the security of the United States by having Communist-dominated governments in Greece and Turkey, is that correct?"

Acheson: "That is correct. It is not dangerous to the security of the United States to have Communist-dominated governments on the Pacific in China."

Judd: "I think you should not look with favor upon that."

It was at that point that some members of the transcript established otherwise.

Secretary of State Acheson yesterday said that a Communist-dominated government would endanger the security of the United States.

Larchmont Chosen As Site For Two-Day Convention Of County Legion In July

5,000 Expected To March In Big Veterans' Parade

The annual convention of the Westchester County American Legion will be held in Larchmont, Conn., on July 11 and 12. B. F. McGrath, commander of Larchmont Post, announced today. It will mark the first time that the Legion has held its convention in Larchmont. "It promises to be the biggest thing ever held in Larchmont," the commander said.

Official notification came yesterday from County Legion headquarters in White Plains in a letter signed by Harry Williams, chairman of the area and vice-committee for the 1947 convention, although it was announced unofficially at the Post meeting Tuesday night. Mr. Williams, a resident of Larchmont, is past commander of the County Legion.

The matter of holding the convention in Larchmont has been discussed by the "Williams" committee since its appointment. Commander McGrath said, and "the selection of Larchmont is the result of a great deal of missionary work by Post 567 here."

George H. Scott, past commander of Larchmont Post, immediately past commander of the County Legion and now vice-commander of the State Department, has been named chairman of a large general committee which will have full charge of the elaborate plans necessary in entertaining the large gathering expected in Larchmont. McGrath pointed out that the general committee will be broken down into numerous sub-committees, each with assigned special and important duties.

It is planned to hold the entire convention in Flins Park, which is a well-landed Forum discussion at the Mamaroneck Hebrew Institute that Jewish Conference executive had already approached Secretary of State George C. Marshall on the need of branding Germany "for time immemorial as the perpetrator of atrocities against helpless minorities."

Mr. Kenen, who has attended all major post-war conferences, said that "if definite responsibility" for anti-Semitic brutality is not hung on the Germans, the matter will become a "mooted question" in future years.

He said $2,500,000 in reparations paid to the Jewish people of life and other outages at the hands of Germans "a pitifully inadequate sum" and he confidently predicted that a great deal of Jewish settlement would be drawn from the Germans.

Mr. Kenen concluded by calling the Jewish civilization in Palestine substantially sound. "They are too well organized to collapse under current pressures," he said.

Streak Heads

Dr. Lyon P. Strain of 146 Storer Avenue, New Rochelle, was elected president of Westchester Lodge 1386, B'nai B'rith, at a meeting held last night at Temple Israel, New Rochelle. More than 150 attended. The installation will be held April 5.

Gerlach Seeks Airport Fund

Thymus Condition Killed Baby, Dr. Squire Finds

WHITE PLAINS — Medical Examiner Amos O. Squire today ruled that the death Thursday of Johnnie Michael Dapice, 33-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dapice, 28 Hillside Avenue, was a thymus death, caused by an enlargement of a gland in the throat.

Combing The Town

Slight Interruption

It could only happen in the PTA! Rehearsals for "Joint Owners in Spain," one of the Daniel Warren PTA plays to be presented Friday night, nearly went to the rocks yesterday when it was discovered that Mrs. Morris Mamorsky, who plays one of the leading parts, had no one to leave her four-month-old baby with.

Mrs. Hattie May Pavlo, the director, saved the day by suggesting that the baby come along to the rehearsal. She refused to sleep in her bed, however, and Mrs. Mamorsky bedded her down on a couch on the stage while the rehearsal proceeded. At times the mother went through the lines with the baby in her arms.

When Mrs. Pavlo called to report the incident, she was asked if the rehearsal was over for the day.

"Oh, no," she replied. "We just had to stop for a minute while Mrs. Mamorsky changed the baby!"

Teach Russian?

When the study of the Russian language in our schools was suggested at last night's joint P. T. A. meeting at Mamaroneck Junior High School, as a means of understanding the Russians with the goal of preventing another war, principal Ross Smith, who presided, remarked that "we'd be in trouble if we came out with anything like that, we'd be branded Communists."

Dean Ernest O. Melby of N. Y. answered by saying that "the board of education would have the nerve to do anything when teachers are so hard to get to get your list in."

"Besides, it would be worth the loss of a few jobs to undertake the study of something that might lead to preventing the loss of millions of lives later on."

Appreciate Fare Cut

In a letter to the Village Board, Gabriel Wendel, president of the Union Savings Bank, last night commended the trustees for the recent cut in bus rates from the village center to Haledale Avenue.

Mayor B. J. Santoro pointed out that, gratifying as praise might be to the village fathers, in this case they didn't deserve it. The Public Service Commission, he said, forced the Westchester Surface Transportation Company to lower the rate after investigation disclosed that the concern's overall profits were all they should be.

More Fines

Six more persons were assessed $1 last night in Mamaroneck Village Police Court. They were Benjamin H. Price of 1103 Park Avenue, Melvin Goldman of 122 Carey Avenue and John Fellicelle of Haledale Avenue, all of Mamaroneck, and Henry Berger of New York City and Mary S. Smith of Harrison.

Howard R. Knudson of New Rochelle paid $3 for making an illegal turn.

Ends Furlough

Pfc. Gordon F. Edwards, son of Mrs. Stulle L. Edwards of 24 W. Wood Road, Larchmont, left yesterday after a 10-day furlough, for Camp Stockton, California, for further assignment.

Date Advanced

The public hearing on the County Transportation Company's application for renewal of franchise in the Village of Mamaroneck has been shifted from April 14 to April 7, the Board of Trustees announced last night.

Local organizations interested in the hearing will be notified by letter of the change.

More Robins

Larchmont had no monopoly on the Robins yesterday. It was disclosed this morning that Mrs. Clarence L. Kilgus reports that one was singing lustily in her yard on Maple Avenue, in spite of the glowing skies, and others were reported in Shore Acres late in the afternoon.

Sputtering Mud, Sputtering Words

There's nothing like a car spluttering mud and water on a pedestrian to set off tempers. Apparently that's what happened at about 8:45 P. M. yesterday, near Carl's Tavern on Myrtle Boulevard, between Harry H. Ketchum, 429 Weaver Street, Larchmont and George H. Sturm of Herkimer Road, Scarsdale.

According to Town Police, Barbara was "willing" when Sturm drove by. A little too close, and Sturm started to spout a few choice words. That was too much for Sturm so he stopped and got out of his car. A few more words were exchanged and when Town Police arrived to break it up both men were wrestling with each other on the ground.

Marshall Charges Allies Share Peace Settlement

Equal Rights For Warring Nations Sought By U. S.

MOSCOW, (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Marshall urged the Foreign Ministers Council tonight that all nations which declared war on Germany participate in the final peace settlement.

The Marshall recommendation was made as the Ministers took up discussion of a procedure for the German Peace Conference.

Marshall said that the United States was referred to the Minister Molotov urged that Albania and Iran be included among the nations which would assist in drafting a preliminary treaty. The question of participation of these two countries was referred to the Minister Deputies.

Marshall proposed that the Foreign Ministers Conference, with China, call a peace conference of all states which had been at war with Germany and that consider the Marshall proposal.

Marshall also urged that, after the peace conference, the foreign ministers draft a final treaty for Germany, considering as top priority all recommendations passed by a two-thirds vote.

The American secretary said he did not believe any peace conference would be held until the government should be saddled with the onus of signing a treaty to end the conflict.

Marshall also urged that the peace conference be held in a neutral city, and that the conference be attended by representatives of all nations which were at war with Germany.

$7,500 Proposed For City Merger Survey By Village

In drafting his 1947 tentative budget for public presentation April 7, Village Manager William H. Johnson has earmarked $7,500 as the minimum sum requisite to stage a complete and authentic survey of Mamaroneck Village consolidation.

The survey, long recommended by Trustee Edward J. Kuhn, would explore the gains or losses to be anticipated under consolidation of Mamaroneck, Larchmont and the unincorporated area. The effects of a city charter on the Village of Mamaroneck, alone would also be considered.

Mayor B. J. Santoro stated at last night's Village Board meeting that the public will have final say as to whether the budget of $7,500 is approved. A date for this year's public hearing will be set following presentation of the tentative budget at the April 7 session of the board.

"We won't spend a cent on a thing like this without full backing of the people," Mr. Santoro said.

Officials Pay Kuhn Honor At Final Meeting

After eight years service to the Village of Mamaroneck, trustee from Rye Neck, Edward J. Kuhn attended his last official meeting last night amid a series of glowing testimonials from his associates. Following the meeting Mr. Kuhn's fellow trustees joined with the Village office employees in tendering him a farewell party in the basement of the Municipal Building.

Mayor B. J. Santoro wound up the board session by praising Mr. Kuhn for the eight years of his service to the Village. He rendered unselfishly of your time and energy in working for the best interests of the taxpayers.

Calling the outgoing member's contribution all the more remarkable because it was uncompensated, the Mayor wished him the best of luck in his future activities as a member of the Rye Town Council. He advanced the hope that Mr. Kuhn would continue to promote the harmony that has characterized recent-year relationships between Rye and Mamaroneck governing bodies.

"We will miss you at round table discussions before and after these meetings," Mr. Santoro said.

"We know you will give us much in village affairs, especially in the recreation field, where you have pursued of your own great hobby—fishing."

In reply, Mr. Kuhn spoke of his pleasure at having served on "such a superior board" and wished the trustees to continue to work for the best interests of the Village.

Annual Report Of New Haven Shows Deficit

NEW HAVEN, (AP)—The New Haven Railroad had a return of only one-quarter of 1 percent on its depreciated investment in 1946 despite the fact that it was a record year of peacetime gross revenue, the Trustees of the road said today in a deluxe issue of the 79th annual report.

The trustees stressed among other things the fact that since the reorganization in 1935 the road had reduced the net value of its investments in carrier property by $27,307,000 and in outside properties by more than $147,000,000. The latter item was carried on the books at $196,265,000 in 1935.

"Wage increases and resultant payroll taxes in 1946 added $15,400,000 to the New Haven's wage costs, the report states, and in 1947 provisions of the Crosser Act on retirement pensions and unemployment insurance will add about $17,000,000.

"The road finished the year with a deficit in net income of $6,965,728 after inclusion of a Federal income tax carry-back credit of $3,145,000.

Admiral Tells Editors Russia Has Created Warlike Tension

NEW YORK—Russia is responsible for warlike tension existing in the world today, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, assistant commander of the United States fleet, told 30 members of the New York State Society of Newspaper Editors at a luncheon aboard the 45,000-ton battleship North Carolina yesterday.

"The cause of the western world is in danger from the most potent weapon—Communism—infiltration," Admiral Nimitz said.

"There seems to be no defense for the United States against the atom bomb, but we must not let ourselves be intimidated by it," he said.

Nimitz said that the United States is not a defenseless island, but that it is surrounded by a world of warlike tension.

Opera Singer To Appear In Sacred Cantata

Among the guest artists who will participate April 2 in the presentation of the sacred cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ" at the Mamaroneck Methodist Church is Allen Stewart, operatic tenor, who has appeared in several New York theatrical productions and on the radio.

The cantata will be directed by J. Ellsworth Olsen, who heads the music department of the church and will be sung by the Senior Choir and the Choral with an accompaniment by artists from the Westchester Symphony Orchestra.

Mr. Stewart, who will sing the tenor solos, is a resident of White Plains and is best known for his roles in the Gilbert and Sullivan series presented at the Ambassador Theatre in New York three years ago. His professional career started when he won a national contest sponsored by the American Federation of Music Clubs in Chicago and a fellowship at the Juilliard Graduate School in New York. He has been a member of the New York Opera Company, The American Lyric Theatre, The Lyric Opera Company, and appeared for two seasons with the Shuberts in stock on the road.

He has appeared in more than 40 operas, musical comedy and opera productions, has had a solo program on the air, and has sung with Paul Whiteman and Fred Waring radio groups.

For 10 years he had been soloist at a New York church, and has given an extensive concert, oratorio and church solo work.

The cantata will be the principal Holy Week observance at the church.

NEW HAVEN, (AP)—The New Haven Railroad had a return of only one-quarter of 1 percent on its depreciated investment in 1946 despite the fact that it was a record year of peacetime gross revenue, the Trustees of the road said today in a deluxe issue of the 79th annual report.

The trustees stressed among other things the fact that since the reorganization in 1935 the road had reduced the net value of its investments in carrier property by $27,307,000 and in outside properties by more than $147,000,000. The latter item was carried on the books at $196,265,000 in 1935.

"Wage increases and resultant payroll taxes in 1946 added $15,400,000 to the New Haven's wage costs, the report states, and in 1947 provisions of the Crosser Act on retirement pensions and unemployment insurance will add about $17,000,000.

"The road finished the year with a deficit in net income of $6,965,728 after inclusion of a Federal income tax carry-back credit of $3,145,000.

Russia Fights Peace Parley Bid To China

MOSCOW, (AP)—Formal Russian opposition to an American, British and French peace parley in China should be one of the leading powers for a proposed German conference was officially disclosed tonight.

With release of a report from the Council of Foreign Relations Deputies to the Big Four Council itself on procedure for preparing the German peace treaty, a wide variety of disagreements became officially evident.

These followed the same pattern of spite hesitations unofficially reported from the Deputies' meetings over such issues as the kind of voice that should be given to all nations in treaty making and whether the German government should be compelled to sign the treaty.

The peace conference report, which the deputies gave the Council of Foreign Ministers two days ago, said: "The United Kingdom and the French delegations consider that China should be invited to the convening powers of the conference. The Soviet delegation disagrees."

MOSCOW, (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov agreed today to U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall's proposal for a written exchange of information on China, but said his government still believed in formal Big Three discussions offered a better means of dealing with the Chinese problem.

"I have no objection to offer to your suggestion," Molotov told Marshall, but he added:

"Such a way of communicating information does not seem to me to be entirely satisfactory."

Trustees Unaware Of Wreck; Motor Sold For $200

A Larchmont Village-owned car, a 1940 Ford Tudor coupe, was so heavily damaged in an accident last November it had to be sold for junk. The Daily Times learned this week.

A British spokesman said a cable from the London government was expected momentarily giving his delegation instructions to place the issue before the United Nations in this manner.

This development came as it was learned the United States had sent a note to the British Foreign Office declaring this country had declined to join a special session on Palestine.

Meanwhile, Warren R. Austin's speech in the Security Council yesterday on President Truman's plans for helping Greece and Turkey to resist totalitarian pressure was being hailed by the United States as a landmark that the United States intends to back the United Nations to the hilt.

Delegates said they did not expect the Soviet Delegate, Andrei Gromyko, to wrangle over the procedure but before Austin took the floor at an attempt to prevent the United States delegate from speaking.

The Russian delegate insisted that the issue opened up a whole new issue distinct from the Greek and Turkish problems and creation of the Council's independent commission now in the Balkans.

Gromyko declared he was not opposed to holding a special session but the subject should be considered a new question after Austin had spoken. Gromyko said he would have a reply ready in 10 days.

Oscar Lange, Polish delegate who consistently votes with Gromyko, said he would support the speech "a great victory for the United Nations."

"It shows the power of public opinion, the power of the American people," Lange said.

Britain An Empire In Agony With Hardships Worse Than During War, Shinkin Finds

By RUTH R. TAUB

"An empire in agony" is Leon Shinkin's succinct phrase for England today, a country desperately plagued by internal and external problems and difficulties, her confused, bewildered people overwhelmed with war hardships and restrictions during the war, not bitter, but sorely disillusioned and aware of their helplessness.

Mr. and Mrs. Shinkin returned earlier this month to their home on East Drive, Larchmont, after spending eight weeks in England, France and Switzerland, and Mr. Shinkin's reflections and impressions are those of a clear-sighted, sympathetic observer of conditions and a wise student of human nature. As a modest and unassuming executive, vice-president of Simon and Schuster, he has lent his guiding genius to the myriad details of that organization, and has attained considerable distinction since in the world of books and publishing.

His picture of England presents a gloomy one that was through years of not knowing from day to day and night to night whether the war would end one day or night for themselves or their children. And when the war was over, they looked ahead to some improvement in their daily diet and restful and rigorous rationing and restrictions, more than two years after stipulated dates.

U. S. Economy Is Cutting County OPA Rent Staff

WHITE PLAINS—In line with a general OPA liquidation three employees of the County Area Rent Office have received 30-day dismissal notices, announced today by Joseph E. Kelly, area rent director, revealed today. Mechanically, the notices date from April 1. Mr. Kelly explained on April 30 the rent office staff will be reduced to 12,000 in June, 1945, he added.

Region 11 includes New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, and District of Columbia.

At the same time Mr. Kelly pointed out that the volume of evictions permitting delayed certificates has fallen off noticeably. This month, the rent office disposes of approximately 200 evictions, which permit purchasers of tenanted dwellings to take legal action to evict after stipulated dates.

Cases pending at the end of the month total 125—in all-time low, Mr. Kelly reported.

Decline in eviction certificates, Mr. Kelly noted, is related to "a sluggish real-estate market" in which many one- and two-family houses have slowed down considerably lately.

This month the rent office docketed 383 eviction petitions, disposing of 381. This month 213 were docketed.

The office granted 211 evictions in March, Mr. Kelly said.

In connection with his reduction-of-staff announcement, Mr. Mender stated that Rent and Sugar Offices will continue in present locale, but effective April 30, three of the five enforcement offices are in Newark, Baltimore, and Syracuse.

Easter Recs To Delay Action On Greek Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional plans for an Easter holiday recess also stymied the Greek-Turkish aid measure before the middle of April.

The homework trek by the lawmakers—many want to talk over the diplomatic issues with constituents—also stymied the separate measure to authorize $50,000,000 of relief for Italy, Greece, Hungary, Austria, Poland, and China.

There was some doubt a quorum could be mustered in the House next week for action on a $241,072,863 deficiency appropriation bill which includes an $800 million relief for American occupation zones.

Should a quorum call be demanded in a challenge over any of the Deficiency Bill's contents, it might force a delay in action until the House recess has ended April 9. In any event, Senate approval of this measure seemed highly unlikely before then.
