Raids Jap Refineries

One of the pilots who participated in the recent 13th AAF long range strike against the Japanese gas and oil refineries at Balikpapan, in southeast Borneo, was Lt. Hollis H. Chase of Larchmont. His wife, the former Miss Beverly Seaman, resides at Chateaufort Heights.

Consuming 15 hours of flying time, the mission was the longest ever flown by B-24 bombers, and was the first daylight raid on that target.

Lt. Chase, who was awarded the Air Medal and Oak Leaf Cluster last Spring, has been overseas since November, 1944. He was commissioned a second lieutenant at George Field, Lawrenceville, Ill., and was promoted to first lieutenant in February while serving in the South Pacific.

Enlisting in June, 1942, while associated with a New York firm of certified public accountants, he was trained at Decatur, Ala., and advanced training at Boise, Idaho, and Scotts Bluff, Neb. He is a graduate of Ohio State University and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Chase of Washington, D. C.

Walsh Refuses To Resign As City Manager

YONKERS—City Manager William A. Walsh today returned a demand of three constituents to resign or face removal by the common council. Walsh told the councilmen who called on him to seek removal in the usual manner, they comprise a majority of the council of five necessary to pass a removal vote.

Mayor Curtis E. Frank, Republican, endorsed by the City Manager's League, Mrs. Edith P. Walsh, city manager, and John J. Whelan, Democrat, called on Manager Walsh in his office at City Hall at 10 o'clock.

The three issued a statement in which they said Manager Walsh, a former mayor, had administered the affairs of the city well under a retrenchment program, but that now with the approach of the end of the war the city needs an administrator "more sympathetic to business interests."

The majority of the council seeking the resignation of Mr. Walsh say they will not force an appointment as city manager of Robert Craig Montgomery, now city controller.

Mr. Frank quoted Vice Mayor James A. Sullivan, Democrat, as saying he thought Montgomery would make an "excellent" city manager.

Dewey And FR Climax Campaign In East Tonight

Governor Makes Final Appeal In New York City

BY JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff
ALBANY—Two months of active campaigning and 20,000 miles of traveling take Gov. Thomas E. Dewey into New York City's Madison Square Garden tonight to make a theme that the Republican presidential nominee has hammered at the voters "this time for a change."

During a little more than eight weeks of accelerated appeals for support that began in Philadelphia Sept. 7, the Governor is expected to call again for a "house cleaning" in Washington in his final appealing appearance before next Tuesday's voting.

The GOP nominee's supporters with a nationwide broadcast from the executive mansion Monday night before returning to New York City to vote.

Indications in the Dewey camp were that the candidate would pull no punches in his appeal, but his continuous attack on President Roosevelt's handling not only of domestic but foreign problems and upon what the Governor has called "the international security pact" is expected to be the main theme of the Democratic Party.

The GOP nominee's supporters looked for a reiteration of the foreign policies he covered broadly in Minneapolis, where he was so well as a restatement of the philosophy of government outlined in his "New Deal" book. Dewey's campaign speech at San Francisco last week.

Dewey has pledged cooperation with other nations for the formation of a new international security organization, insisting that there must be a balance between the executive and legislative departments in the approval of the "right kind of pact."

At San Francisco he said there must be some degree of government intervention in the life of the country, but declared that he would not support a new bureau which would do this kind of work.

President Roosevelt campaigning in Connecticut and Massachusetts, Dewey related to the press that he has met with leaders that he has met with in other Connecticut or New Jersey.

Wife Listens To Husband's Voice On Guam

Mr. John M. Cooper of Larchmont Acres tunes in on the world news every morning at 8 o'clock, but yesterday he was made his own news broadcast for her. For the first time in many weeks, she heard his husband's voice coming over the air from the South Pacific.

The broadcast was characterized by the National Broadcasting Company as a historic one since it was the first time that a man's voice since that island was taken back from the Japs. Mr. Cooper has been traveling in that area since he left Honolulu last month, leaving here on his mission for the broadcasting company last May.

He has been out with a carrier force, he said yesterday, and witnessed the sinking of a Jap carrier by planes from his ship. The spectacle lighted up the sky for miles around, he said. The Japs are being driven out of the Pacific, he said, and he continued, adding: "But it is still very much a war."

Mr. Cooper said the broadcasting company tried to notify her of the broadcast but was unable to reach her. "I was listening yesterday," she said yesterday, "and it came as a complete surprise because I had been told that I probably wouldn't hear from him for two months."

Fog Blamed For Crash

Fog was blamed for an auto crash which sent Frank P. Carey, 39, of the Bronx, to the United Hospital last night with serious lacerations of the face, by police reports.

Mr. Carey told police his car struck a pole on North Street when fog obscured his vision as he rounded a bend in North Street. Carey was proceeding slowly, however, so the damage to his car was slight.

President Talks In Boston After All-Day Tour

BY HOWARD FLEISHER
Associated Press Staff
BOSTON—President Roosevelt today spoke to a crowd of 100,000 in the city of Boston, the first stop on a four-day tour of New England which will be capped tonight by the President's seven-day major campaign address in Boston's Fenway Park.

The President, speaking from the roof of the Boston Garden, said a lot of people are going to be sorry after Tuesday for some of the things said in this campaign. "There is nothing to be gained by saying dreadful things," he said.

He will close the one-day tour with a speech at Boston's Fenway Park at 9 o'clock tonight. The address, expected to be the capstone of his seven campaign speeches, will have the widest radio coverage of any fourth term talk.

WEAF, WABC and WJZ networks. Before his late afternoon arrival in Boston, Mr. Roosevelt's schedule called for brief talks in Bridgeport, Conn., at 10 A. M.; Hartford at noon and Springfield, Mass., at 2 P. M. The train will pass at Worcester, Mass., en route to stop at Senator David I. Walsh, (D-Mass.) who announced he was joining the party of the President's invitation.

The trip took the President into the home district of one of his Republican opponents who is campaigning for a second term.

His third trip to the White House is the last political trip of the campaign. Mr. Roosevelt traveled without the secrecy of his usual campaign. Political reporters and news photographers rode the train with him.

After tonight's Boston speech he is expected to go to his home at Hyde Park, N. Y., for a Sunday rest before making his traditional trip to the White House. He will close the campaign with a speech to the press at Rough Point last Monday.

Lt. McKelvey Cited For 50 Aerial Sorties

Dr. Donald C. McKelvey, formerly a resident of Larchmont, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for 50 aerial sorties in aerial fighting throughout 60 combat sorties in the Mediterranean Theater.

A graduate of Mamaroneck High School, Lt. McKelvey has been overseas since last April serving as pilot of a B-24 Liberator. His citation describes the combat conditions which brought him the award as follows:

"Consistently performing vital strategic combat missions against heavy enemy opposition from highly aggressive fighter aircraft and intense and accurate anti-aircraft fire. Lieutenant McKelvey has displayed outstanding courage, aggressiveness and intense devotion to duty."

"A frequently severely damaged B-24 has been completely fought through by Lt. McKelvey, using materially in the effort to destroy vital and important enemy installations."

"Under adverse weather conditions, over rugged terrain and surrounding many other aircraft, Lieutenant McKelvey has gallantly engaged, fought and destroyed the enemy with complete disregard for his personal safety against overwhelming odds."

Lieutenant McKelvey previously received the Air Medal for "meritorious service" in sustained combat flight. He is a member of a veteran group which holds two B-24s in flight training for a "outstanding performance of duty."

Lieutenant McKelvey entered the army on Oct. 21, 1942, and was commissioned at Moody Field, Ga., on Aug. 20, 1943.

His father, Mr. David M. McKelvey, lives at 420 West 24th Street, New York.

Russians Battle In Outskirts Of Budapest

MOSCOW, (AP)—Russian troops laid siege today to Budapest and front dispatches said the German and Hungarian defenders had fallen back into the Hungarian capital itself.

Red Army tanks were said to be battering at the outskirts of Pest, the part of the capital on the eastern bank of the Danube. Fighting was raging well within Budapest's outer defenses.

A Russian dispatch said the Russians had buried an armored column around north of the city in an encircling move. This column was said to be storming the approaches of Ujpest, on the opposite bank of the Danube two miles north of the capital.

The capital itself was reported to be enveloped in wild disorder as the Germans poured through the streets. Hundreds of fugitives were said to be jamming the railroads and highways toward Vienna, 100 miles to the north.

Red Star reported that the "field army" formed by the Hungarian puppet government had been routed outside the capital and that a captured captain said that out of one division only 200 men remained after three days of intensive fighting.

The newspaper describes German and Hungarian losses in high power as "immense," particularly near the tributary of the Danube just south of Budapest where Red troops wiped out 20 tanks in a great "slaughter" last night.

The capture of Pest appeared inevitable, but the fall of Budapest, on the west side of the Danube, was another matter. The Danube river is broad and there was word on whether the Russians had been able to seize any bridge.

Stamford Man Guarding FDR Train Killed

STAMFORD, (AP)—An auxiliary policeman guarding President Roosevelt's special train was killed and another was critically injured today when struck by a New Haven passenger train in a heavy fog near the "New Haven Railroad" Stamford depot.

Francis Carrigan, 41, of Stamford, died of a fractured skull and other injuries, while Theodore Havelit, 41, also of Stamford, was taken to Stamford Hospital where he was being treated for serious injuries to his side and hip.

Carrigan and Havelit had been assigned to guard the train from vantage points on the railroad tracks. The accident occurred about ten minutes after the special arrived.

Railroad officials said the engineer of New Canaan train was Roy Oakley of Bridgeport.

There was no report as to whether those on board the Presidential special were aware of the accident.

Nazi Rail Lines, Oil Plants Hit In Mass Attack

LONDON, (AP)—The U. S. Eighth Air Force staged a mass attack on German synthetic oil industries and railways today with more than 1,100 bombers and 800 fighters, focusing on over targets from Hamburg to Saarbrücken.

LONDON, (AP)—Daylight bomb runs were out in strength today after RAF Mosquitoes attacked Berlin last night for the sixth time in nine nights.

"The Mosquito, usually operating in small forces and carrying one 4,000-pound bomb each for one specific target, again recaptured the British capital and buzzed without loss. Eighty-five of these 4,000-pounders were dropped on Berlin last month by the Mosquitoes."

Small forces of the Mosquitoes, however, which few thought an Austrian snowstorm part of the way, attacked targets in the Vercors, Munich and Algenau areas yesterday.

Our Forces Jab Along 500-Mile Western Front

LONDON, (AP)—Allied armies, jabbing all along the 500-mile western front, racked up consistent local gains today as the Berlin Radio dimmed its warnings that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's forces were massed for a huge offensive.

The American thrust into Germany 15 miles southeast of Aachen lost speed as it collided with stiffening resistance after capturing the town of Schmidt, but forged ahead for small gains with the aid of fighterbombers blasting German infantry and tanks in its path.

In this area U. S. First Army veterans were showing down the last 1,000 yards toward the Roer River, the next and hardest enemy barrier on the way to the Rhine 35 miles to the east.

Having rolled beyond the thicket forest in this area the Americans were advancing against hastily built defenses and natural obstacles—barriers which American officers believe may be tougher, cruder than the treacherous concrete and steel belt of the Siegfried Line.

The assault was on a limited scale, covering a front of over 4,000 yards. But in the first two days of the drive the Americans had captured almost four miles.

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Bogger's forces apparently was accelerating its way up to a jump-off line for a final thrust into the German Army's main line.

To the west of the Roer River, German troops swarmed over the West Wall Canal above Neufort, and drove the enemy back 4,000 yards, capturing Oepel and reaching the vicinity of Gronow, in thrusts toward the German border at Vello.

Japs Marshal Reinforcements In Leyte Fight

GEN. MAX ARTHUR R. RIDGE, PHILIPPINES, (AP)—The aroused Japanese, defying superior forces of American troops, are sending reinforcements to Leyte, where they are fighting a fierce battle for the island.

Reports for the past 24 hours indicate that the Japanese are sending reinforcements to Leyte, where they are fighting a fierce battle for the island.

At Pearl Harbor, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced Japanese planes attacked an aircraft carrier group of the Third Fleet, which has been supporting the Philippines invasion, and damaged several ships.

Enemy tanks, troops and artillery have been landed at Ormoc from a convoy which lost two transports and 20 covering planes in a fierce battle with the 4th Fighter Group, record-breaking squadron of the 7th Eastern Air Force.

The 4th, which has shot down 300 Japanese planes during the war and boasts America's ace of aces in Maj. Richard I. Bong of Poplarville, with a bag of 29 later spotted in a "brother-in-law" of the 4th, is also serving as the Army.

He is Dominick Vito, husband of the former Helen Piacente, who is an instructor in the armored school at Fort Knox, having spent three years in active service overseas.

Wallace Calls State 'Close'

NEW YORK, (AP)—Vice President Henry A. Wallace, who has stepped New York State from today, "New York is close."

He said he had to put up New York's 41 electoral votes in the Democratic column as the subject of President Roosevelt's latest.

"Otherwise I would have spent this last campaign week in the middle west," he told an overflowed crowd in Brooklyn's academy of music last night.

Sells Warns About Serious Coal Shortage

"A very serious shortage of coal for domestic use" has been predicted by the United States Department of the Interior through the Solid Fuels Administration according to a letter to Mayor E. J. Santos of Mamaroneck from Charles H. Sells, state director of fuel conservation, who has forwarded to the municipality a list of suggestions for saving fuel.

"We have been advised," Mr. Sells writes, "that mine production has proceeded at a record breaking pace, but that production is in effect for equitable distribution of the available supply, and that we have now reached the point where household conservation means of averting serious fuel shortages in the home."

Among the suggestions the director makes are the following: "Water-saving" homes with insulation, caulking and storm windows; delaying starting furnaces; closing shades at night; removing radiator covers and other heat obstructives; keeping temperature at 68 degrees; saving of electricity and gas which in turn helps conserve coal.

There was no report as to whether those on board the Presidential special were aware of the accident.

Westchester Vote Expected To Reach Nearly 290,000

WHITE PLAINS—Under a clear sky, Westchester voters had marched by many thousands before noon today to cast their 1944 ballots. Indications this afternoon were that a heavy vote would be polled and that the admittedly keen interest in the Presidential contest brought many to the polling places early to avoid a "tail-end" rush.

The County Board of Elections in White Plains only minor complaints had been registered up to noon.

Meanwhile, other members of the Board of Elections staff were traveling throughout the entire County to distribute the last batch of soldier absentee ballots. A carload of soldiers' absentee ballots was picked up at the last equipment line, rushed back to White Plains and was sorted and are being placed back to White Plains by the district inspectors until the polls close at 6 P. M. and are being placed in the boxes for the machines as they are tabulated.

All bills are closed during the polling hours from 6 A. M. to 9 P. M. as are liquor package stores, and grocery stores are forbidden to sell beer during these hours.

It was expected that the total vote in Westchester today will run between 280,000 and 300,000, including the absentee ballots. This would be slightly lower than the 1940 total of about 280,000, explained by the absence of many in military service and in war industries.

2 Overheated Chimneys Call Out Firemen

Two overheated chimneys were responsible for separate calls for the Mamaroneck Fire Department last night.

The first call, from 292 Jensen Avenue, was answered by the Hook and Ladder Company. The second at 818 Mamaroneck Avenue, was a fall alarm answered by all companies.

Some confusion resulted from the second call when the wrong house number was blown, calling all apparatus to the Village Square. The error was quickly discovered and the men and equipment sped to the correct address.

Damage in both cases was small. Chief James Duggan was in charge at both fires.

Heaviest Turnout In 38 Years At Polling Places Early

By the Associated Press

An unprecedented early and heavy turnout swamped polling places the nation over today, indicating a possible record vote of 50,000,000.

Stirred by the first wartime election since 1864, the men and women who make up America began lining up to cast their ballots even before the polls opened.

The first hours were orderly despite the warm feeling between some partisans of Franklin D. Roosevelt, 65-year-old third termer in the White House, and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, 42, bidding for a first term.

City voting officials reported 95 per cent of the vote in the absence of the actual polling places 50 to 60 were standing in line.

Pennsylvania, May, 31st Peak

In Pennsylvania, whose 33 electoral votes many expect may be decisive in the election, all indications were that the total would equal or surpass 1940, despite the absence of the actual voters of thousands of younger men and women.

Reports from other population centers across the country, such as Kansas City, Omaha, Des Moines, Oklahoma City, St. Louis, Detroit and Louisville, were similar.

The weather was favorable generally, but even where it was not ready for the voters, the "heavy rain" left Lake voters "heavy rain."

See-Saw Swings In 3 Key States Snarl Final Vote

G. O. P. Candidate Inches Ahead In New Jersey But President Records Gains In Michigan And Ohio

See-saw swings in three key states today kept in doubt the size of President Roosevelt's fourth term victory.

Governor Thomas E. Dewey inched into a lead in New Jersey while Mr. Roosevelt threatened to capture Michigan and Ohio.

New Jersey shifted from the Roosevelt column at midday but in a vote total approaching two million Dewey's margin amounted to only 400. Outstanding ballots to the eventual decision remain.

The President was gaining in both Ohio and Michigan and there was a possibility that if New Jersey switched back and he won a lead in those two states he would run his electoral vote up to 451 against 80 for Dewey. His third term electoral count was 449 to 82 for Wendell L. Willkie.

At midday the popular vote for President, from 100,414 of the country's 130,810 valid ballots, showed Roosevelt 20,424,100 and Dewey 17,094,641.

Allies Capture 4 Villages On 25-Mile Front

LONDON (AP)—It is said Army troops captured in a dawn offensive today at points along a 25-mile front between Metz and Nancy, seized four lightly-contested villages and scored advances up to 100 yards.

To the north, doughboys of the First Army still battled strongly-entrenched Germans in the town of Vossenack, 13 miles southeast of Aachen. Bloody and at yet inconclusive fighting continued through out the Hurgert Forest area. Two Nazi counterattacks near Schmidt were broken.

The Third Army "substantially improved" its line between Metz and Nancy, a front dispatch said. Midway between the two French cities, the Americans crossed the Sella River. Resistance ranged from light to moderate.

In Holland, the Germans retreated from the north bank of the Meuse River had wrecked every river bridge between the sea and Holland. The Germans were being driven back in their offensive that began last Friday. The Americans improved their positions yesterday and mopped up pockets of resistance. Fighter-bombers attacked enemy concentrations in that area.

The Germans now have been driven from all except one small pocket south of the Mass (Mass) in Holland.

Bitter Battle Rocks Road To Ormoc Base

MACARTHUR'S HDQS. PHILIPPINES (AP)—One of the bitterest battles of the Leyte campaign ended today as the Americans pushed the road to Ormoc today as the U. S. 24th Division and units of four Japanese divisions battled in ridges below Ormoc.

Savagely fighting Japanese stood down the American advance and, for the first time, the Japanese held the Ormoc road.

One American battalion took an important ridge summit yesterday in the slow, cautious campaign to drive the Japanese from favorable defensive terrain flanking the road. Associated Press correspondent Fred Hampson reported progress in eliminating the Japanese from the Ormoc road.

Man Dies At Fire In Larchmont

Over-Exertion Causes Death Of W.R. McPhail As Smoke Fills Home

2 FIREMEN INJURED

Over-exertion and smoke are believed to have been responsible for the death last night of William R. McPhail of 70 Harmon Drive, Larchmont. The fire broke out in the basement of his home. The blaze, which caused dense clouds of smoke to fill the room, was confined to the basement and extinguished in about 45 minutes.

According to Chief George W. Burton of the Westchester Fire Department who was in charge at the fire, the family "heard a bang" at about 10:30 p.m. McPhail went to the cellar door and found the smoke rolled up when he opened it. He seized a pall and made several trips up and down the stairs. He said, but the smoke kept him away from the fire itself.

"When I arrived," Chief Burton said, "Mr. McPhail was still in the house. I ordered him out at that time. He was carried to the hospital by ambulance. He died at the hospital. Mr. McPhail was 40 years old. He was a member of the Larchmont Fire Department and had been in the service for 10 years. He was a member of the Larchmont Fire Department and had been in the service for 10 years. He was a member of the Larchmont Fire Department and had been in the service for 10 years.

Efforts at resuscitation under command of Lt. Deputy Chief Chas. J. Brennan were continued for some time, but shortly after the arrival of the ambulance from New Rochelle Hospital and Dr. Charles Weller, Jr. of Larchmont, he was pronounced dead. Dr. Amos O. Squires office gave permission to bury the body to Gehring and Weller. The funeral will be held at the home of Mrs. McPhail, 70 Harmon Drive, Larchmont, on Monday, Nov. 15, at 10 a.m.

Dr. E. H. Huntington, assistant county medical examiner, ruled the death as a result of asphyxiation. He said that Mr. McPhail was "overcome by smoke and over-exertion while fighting a fire in the basement of his home, and that the probable cause of death was asphyxiation by smoke.

Mr. McPhail was assistant to the traffic manager for transit-union operations in the New York State Division of Public Safety. He was also in business at Krane's Stationery store.

TOKYO (ENEMY RADIO)—U.S. Navy planes from Manila and nearby airfields yesterday and today, Manila time, did "slight damage" to warships, installations and shipping, Tokyo radio and the enemy-controlled Manila broadcast station said today.

Two hundred planes blazed the Philippines capital city, Cavite and Clark Field yesterday and 400 sorties were flown over Manila targets today, said the broadcast heard by the Federal Communications Commission.

Old Water Bill Throws Lodge In Quandary

It's a case of no-water, no lease over at 48 Madison Street, Mamaroneck, where members of the Village Improvement Society, 82, B. P. O. E., are waiting to take over the premises. But it's also a case of no-money, however, as far as the Village of Mamaroneck is concerned.

The property is owned by Mrs. Henry Gironda, and there is a water tax on the property amounting to $109 making it impossible for the village to authorize the turning on of old water to prospective tenants until the account is paid.

An appeal was made to the Village Board last night by the prospective lessees, but the trustees voted that, since it has been the policy of the board to require payment of water taxes, no exception could be made.

It was suggested that the rent be applied to payment of the water bill, an arrangement to which the Gironda family has agreed, but Mayor Santoro said that there are 400 other buildings that have been allowed two months' concession of repairs and rentals, which they were being paid for by the members.

Russians Drive Into Rail City Near Budapest

MOSCOW (AP)—Russian forces have driven into the important rail city of Jaszbereny, 37 miles east of Budapest, and are engaging the enemy in hand-to-hand fighting from dispatches said today.

The Germans were reported hurrying in numerous tanks and scores of anti-tank weapons from the west to meet the Russian drive to outflank the Hungarian capital. The Nazis were offering the most determined resistance since the big tank clashes in which they were beaten off in the Debrecen area last month.

Ret Army columns striking from the northeast after crossing the Tisza River apparently had been saluting in drawing the forces of Admiral Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Second Ukrainian Army, which was driving in from the assault line to Jaszbereny from the west and south.

Despite the fierceness of the enemy opposition the Russians captured in a matter of hours including the rail terminal of Jaszbereny, the town of Jaszbereny and 45 miles east of Budapest.

Americans Gain All Along Front In Fierce Fight

LONDON, (AP)—American infantry, having a new breach in fortifications south of Metz, captured Fort Orny today, and pushed to within 9 miles of the Moselle.

Even as this fourth fortress fell, and all of Metz' roads of reinforcement were cut, the Seventh Army pushed forward in two-mile gains at either end of a ten-mile front, spreading the U. S. attack into the snow-drifted foothills of the Vosges Mountains.

Divisions of the Fifth Division seized Fort Orny and pushed on into the town of Metz. The assault against Metz from the north, now extended nine miles from Fort Orny to the town of Corry on the east bank of the Moselle.

Fifth Division units, punching through unexpectedly light resistance, had captured Fort Alesse and two of its satellites near Vermy. The town of Vermy is nine miles from Fort Orny to the town of Corry.

With capture of Fort Alesse and the town of Vermy earlier, the Americans had cut up behind formidable Fort Orny, on the Moselle west bank.

Campbell Wins Distinguished Flying Cross

The Distinguished Service Cross has been awarded Lt. William L. Campbell of Larchmont, for "extraordinary achievement in aerial flight." The 26-year-old bombardier, serving with the 15th AAF in Italy, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Campbell of 10 Clark Court.

Lt. Campbell, who holds the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Branches, is in command of the 10th Clark Court. He recently participated in a mission against the important Florentine oil fields in Rumania. On the way to the target, one of the engines developed trouble with a supercharger, when the plane was out and a half hour from the target area. Despite the handicap of one crippled engine, Campbell's crew decided to try and continue with the formation and complete the mission. Using all the power of the three remaining engines they were able to stay with the rest of their group until their engine started to lose power, and the Liberator began to drop behind the formation. Without regard for the risk involved in attacking their target, separated from the other planes, Campbell's crew decided to attempt a high speed approach to complete a highly successful bombing run. Despite the blazing oil fields, they managed to join with another group and were able to return safely to the base base without further difficulty.

Entering the Air Force in November, 1942, while employed with the Vick Chemical Company in New York, Lt. Campbell received his commission last month after the Harlingen Army Gunnery School, Big Spring, Tex.

Yanks Smash 3-Way Jap Ormoc Blow

MACARTHUR'S HQS., PHILIPPINES (AP)—Japanese attempts at counterattack and reinforcements failed today, all around the Ormoc perimeter on Leyte Island.

On the north, east and south, American troops broke up the enemy's desperate moves without losing a foot of ground. In some cases they even advanced slowly in the face of Japanese efforts.

The most important of these advances was the capture of an evacuation movement by units of the 24th Infantry south of Linao, four miles from Pinao. They threw a roadblock across the Ormoc Highway, 14 miles south of Linao. Japanese supply columns moving north along the road toward bloody Linao Village were destroyed.

Slocum Prison Protest Filed By Yacht Club

NEW ROCHELLE—Soldiers to be disciplined but no "hardened criminals" will be sent to Fort Slocum beginning next week when the status of that post changes. The Second Service Command public relations office said today.

On Monday Fort Slocum will return to the jurisdiction of the Second Service Command from the jurisdiction of the New York Port of Embarkation under which it has served as a transfer point for troops returning from overseas.

"It will be used for the re-education and rehabilitation of certain soldiers who have violated the articles of war and a formal statement from the public relations office of Major General T. A. Terry, Second Service Command headquarters.

Congressman Ralph A. Gamble said he had learned that Fort Slocum will receive no long-term prisoners for a second camp is maintained in nearby Dutchess County. None of the soldiers under guard will be permitted to go from the island into New Rochelle at any time, Congressman Gamble said he was told.

The Second Service Command expects to send a representative to the mass meeting called by Mayor Stanley Church in Albert Leonard High School next Wednesday evening to explain the Army's plan for the new use of the Slocum center for imprudent soldiers.

The Larchmont Yacht Club today joined the protest, telegraphing the War Department that Fort Slocum is much better situated to continue as a re-education center for imprudent soldiers from overseas, than to be turned into a prison. The club suggested that abandoned Army camps remote from cities would serve better than Slocum.

Mayor of committees near Fort Slocum and along Long Island Sound, have been invited to meet with Mayor Church at City Hall on Monday night at 8:30 to consider possible steps to block the planned use of the post. He declared that the Army's plan presents "even worse possibilities" than Fort Slocum was used for prisoners of war by "Papa Doc" Duvalier in Haiti.

Outlook Now Seems Dark And Murky For Feasting On Thanksgiving Turkey

The blizzards residents of Larchmont and Mamaroneck will give thanks for next Thursday won't include the good, old traditional "Thanksgiving turkey dinner, if the dark predictions of the most astute of the community come true.

"The outlook was described yesterday in terms ranging from "doubtful" to "dramatic" when a Daily Times reporter made a survey of the prospects. One establishment went so far as to say that people will have to be content with "fried turkey" this year.

"Fish turkey" we asked about to place an order.

"Sure—corned beef and cabbage" he replied.

The manager of the Quality Market in Mamaroneck said he is in the dark about two things: first, will he get any, and second, if so, how many. His final comment ("and you can quote me please") was, "personally, I hope we don't get a one and I'll save us a lot of trouble."

The Fenimore and Prospect Market reported a similar situation, one manager adding, "If we do get any, the prices will be so high nobody will touch them."

At Jim's Market the report was "So far we don't have any and there's no prospect of getting any."

"George's Market" the report was, "The outlook is very, very dark. Even if we should get any, it would be only about 25 percent of what we had last year."

The situation is about the same in the large markets, the Great Scott reporting that they have "ordered a few pieces to get some, but no luck" so, at present, at least, they are not planning for turkey at all.

The A and P "doubts very much" that they will have any and the First National "may have a few" but the manager is taking no chances.

Conditions are no brighter in Larchmont where Gracie Brothers' store expects none and has been told not to take any orders. "We are hanging in the air," the manager added.

The Grand Union manager doesn't know what to expect. "I might know more Monday" but the outlook is reported "not so good."

The Byrum may have a few, "but very few" and the small independent markets report, "There isn't such a thing as this year."

The Larchmont Shore Club on the other hand, is planning to serve Thanksgiving dinners with turkeys that money can buy.

One Mamaroneck dealer said the scarce price is due to the fact that the government is paying the packers one cent more per pound than the selling price allowed by the OPA in order to supply the market with the turkey.

At the same time, here are the selling prices announced by the packers: young light, 60 and 62 cents; old, light, medium and heavy, 50 and 52 cents; young, 58 and 62 cents; old, light, 60 and 62 cents; medium, 63 and 64 cents; old, light, 63 and 64 cents; medium, 62 and 64 cents; heavy, 61 and 60 cents.

5th Paralysis Case Reported In Larchmont

WHITE PLAINS—Although health authorities learned of two new cases of infantile paralysis last week, the fact that both cases had their onset prior to Christmas leads to hope that this is a definite indication that the epidemic is rapidly tapering off.

The new cases, involving a 12-year-old Mount Vernon girl, the 27th case this year, and a 12-year-old Larchmont boy, the fifth case in that community, bring the total for Westchester to 81. James F. Ashburn, executive secretary of Westchester Chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, announced that this total is 29 cases less than the 210 reported in the County during the 1935 epidemic.

Despite the decreasing number of new cases many of those affected by the disease are being cared for at the special polio-hospitals set up in Sunnyside Cottage at Crosswicks Hospital, and at the Yonkers Community Diseases Hospital. The treatment of the patients is said to have been particularly effective this year and medical authorities report an extremely large percentage of the cases probably will recover with no ill effects.

Lions Learn Objectives Of Rent Control

The only purpose of rent control is to check inflation, Frederick C. Debus of the O.P.A. Federal Control Division told the Lions Club at its weekly meeting at the Elks Club yesterday noon.

"When you understand it, you will sympathize with it," he added. Mr. Debus was secretary of the meeting by Herbert H. Dahn, of Mamaroneck and Clarence J. Carroll, both assistants of the O.P.A.

The jelly and cakes, taken to the club by Mrs. Margaret Looney, were sold at auction for the benefit of French orphans. Successful bidders were Mrs. Marvin Connor for the jelly and Mrs. Conroy for the cakes. The total realized $1,150 which Peter Doorn, the auctioneer, turned over to Earl Quick, speaking for the Youth Center Committee, stated that the youngsters are making rapid progress.

41 Seek Cuts Of $2,148,835 In Tax Rolls

Apartment houses, large estates and business properties of the bulk of the 86 properties whose owners filed protests last night against their 1944 assessments during the Grievance session held by the Mamaroneck Village Board and Mayor B. J. Santoro.

The reduction asked by 41 protestors, seven of whom made personal appearances before the Board, would bring the assessments on those 86 properties down from $3,970,275 to $1,821,440, if they were granted, making a reduction of $2,148,835 in the roll upon which 1945 taxes will be based.

The protestors number a little more than half of the 1944 figures. This figure is disappointing in that it shows a lack of realization of the seriousness of the war situation, Mr. Wendel said.

"The Mayor and trustees, who compose the Board of Review, will consider the requests in private sessions of small home owners, a fact which apparently reflects, in that it has been little or no change in the market value of business property and large estates.

Officer Traces Identification Of Criminals

Criminal identification from the 18th century to the present day was discussed last night at the Mamaroneck Civic Club by Police Lieut. Louis Giancola of the Mamaroneck Police Department at a dinner meeting held at the Elks' Club.

Citing methods used in the past to identify criminals, Lieut. Giancola described their shortcomings and pointed out that the method of fingerprinting now employed in the United States and in most sections of the world is " fool-proof."

"He told the group that fingerprinting is of inestimable value to the police forces of the nation not only in the detection of crime, but also for the assistance it affords in the identification of missing persons."

The speaker was introduced by the president, Arthur Goetz, and the members expressed their thanks to Police Chief Arthur Goetz for the interesting and informative arrangement for Lieut. Giancola's appearance.

Dockert of Larchmont, has announced today that restrictions have been lifted on the delivery of the regulated sizes of anthracite and eastern coal to the consumer at the quota of 100 per cent for the full year can now be delivered to each consumer if the retail dealer has the solid fuel available.

SEIZED BY FRENCH; METZ BATTLE ENDS

By WILLIAM FRYE
LONDON (AP)—French troops captured the Maginot Line fortress Metz, 40 miles from Strasbourg, after several weeks of an encircling siege, it was announced today.

The breakthrough of the U. S. Seventh and the French First Armies on the southern end of the Western Front created a definite salient along the northern slope of the difficult Vosges Mountains, encircled in spots.

More than 1,000 prisoners surrendered to the staff officers at Mulhouse, normally a humming industrial city of 96,000 and 61 miles southwest of Strasbourg. Once a free city of Alsace, it lies 100 miles from the German frontier on a tributary of the Rhine.

Boy Dying After Fall In Furnace

Elmsford Youth Burned Seriously By Drop Into Village Incinerator

PULLED FROM FLAMES

A Thanksgiving Day holiday visit with friends in Fort Chester resulted in a tragedy today for Herbert Whitcomb, 16, of Hillside Avenue, Elmsford, when at 8:45 A. M. he fell into the Village of Elmsford garbage incinerator and was possibly fatally burned. He was rushed to the United Hospital, Fort Chester, and at noon hospital authorities said the possibility of his recovery appeared "very slim."

WHITCOMB BOY

The Whitcomb boy was 16, the Thanksgiving school holidays with George Wesley, of 109 West Avenue, Elmsford, who is a private garbage collector who contracts to remove refuse from chain groceries and other large stores in this section.

This morning young Whitcomb volunteered to help two of the Wesley boys and their father collect the trash from the Wesley route and after the truck was loaded, Mr. Wesley drove to the incinerator at Fayette Street and Northrup Avenue.

There, according to Wesley, he ordered the boys and their father to get out of the truck and instructed them to "stay away from the incinerator. Load your stuff and dump it into the bins which lead from the second floor level to the incinerator."

The truck had been dumped and was being when Wesley heard to scream, Benny Rialdi, attendant at the incinerator, raced down two flights of stairs, yanked open the furnace door and slipped into the flames.

Neither Mr. Wesley nor either of his sons was able to account for the accident except to say that the boy attempted to get on the rear of the truck immediately after the load was dumped and slipped into the flames.

Whitcomb is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Whitcomb. They were notified and immediately taken to Fort Chester. He is their only child.

Forty-eight appointments were being held at the Blood Bank at the Daniel Warren School, it was announced today by Mrs. Malcolm D. Brown, chairman of the Mamaroneck Red Cross Blood Drive.

"We cannot make our quota of 180 to 200 units of blood unless we fill these appointments," Mrs. Brown said today. "So far we have had no cancellations, but they will surely come, and we must allow for them and for the extra blood."

"There are so many healthy, well-fed Americans aware of their blood needs at this holiday season, that I am sure we will have no trouble in making our quota of 180 to 200 units of blood, which will be used to send some of their strength overseas to snatch some boy back from death."

Red Cross Headquarters, Mamaroneck 1967, will be staffed tomorrow until 5 P. M. at scheduled appointments. On Sunday and Monday and in the evening, volunteer donors may telephone Mrs. Brown at her home, Mamaroneck 616.

U.S. ARMADA BLASTS TOKYO RECORD-BREAKING RAY; BREKTOP UP STRASSBOURG

'Relentless' Air Attack on Japan Homeland Begun

By The Associated Press

A Japanese Imperial communiqué reported about 70 superforts participated in the raid on Tokyo today (Japan time) and claimed three were shot down.

The communiqué, recorded by the Federal Communications Commission in a Tokyo broadcast, said the B-29's raided Tokyo for about two hours, starting at 12:30 P. M.

"Our damages have been slight," the Imperial communiqué said, "and the war result confirmed up to now is three."

Twenty-first Bomber Command, Saipan, (AP)—A mighty armada of B-29 superforts blasted Tokyo today for the 3,000 mile flight which marked the initial attack on Japan's homeland.

An undisclosed number of superforts roared from newly-completed airbases here at dawn for the 3,000 mile flight which marked the initial attack on Japan's homeland.

Brig. Gen. Emmett "Rosie" O'Donnell, of Jamaica, L. I., 38, former West Point football coach, led the historic daylight assault, believed to be the largest attack yet made on Japan's homeland.

The aerial task force was led by Brig. Gen. Robert S. Johnson, commander of the 20th Army air force, operating from the Marianas Islands.

Two-way Bessie, a B-29 from the Marianas south and east of Tokyo creates a two-way aerial squeeze against the Japanese. The B-29s with observer B-29s from China, to the westward.

First official announcements of today's raid merely said a "strategic attack" on Japan's industrial targets in Tokyo.

Another communiqué was promised when further details were available.

Ky's great sprawling industrial area is ringed by airfields and anti-aircraft defenses, recent lone B-29 reconnaissance flights showed. Shipping and shipbuilding yards are located in nearby Yokohama.

Enemy Not Surprised

They departed from here well aware that the raid would not be a surprise to the Japanese, long accustomed by reconnaissance flights and practice B-29 bombing missions against Iruk and the Ryukyu Islands. Use of bases in the Marianas solved a major logistics problem.

The islands are within far more practicable supply lines than the "island hoppers" from which World War II planes in China.

Canadian Draft May Cause Fall Of King Regime

OTTAWA (AP)—The Canadian Government's abandonment of its policy of sending only volunteer troops overseas through quick operation last night from the French-speaking Province of Quebec, traditionally has been a source of consternation.

Foe Frustrated In Try To Seize Rhine Bridge

LONDON — French armor cleaned out the whole western part of Strasbourg today and the Germans asserted that a surprise attempt to capture a bridge there across the Rhine had been frustrated.

On the hottest corner of the western front, however, a violent German counterattack with six or seven divisions, half of them armored, tried to seize the Army out of Haven of the muddy Colonne plain, three miles northeast of captured Gelsdorf.

Flame throwers were used. The U. S. Gen. Miles C. Dempsey stood firm on the high ground overlooking the Worm valley north of the levee. He still farther north, the British absorbed all German counterattacks and triced forward, yard by bloody yard.

The flak bursts began to dot the sky, and then, as they got over range, they really turned loose. You could feel the ship buck and bounce from the concussion. They say the first time is the worst. I sincerely hope so."

Lt. Maggard entered the service in February, 1943, while attending Virginia Military Institute, Lexington, Va., and has been serving with the 15th AAF in Italy since early this month. He is first graduate of Mamaroneck High School.

Capt. Conway Wins Medal For Rescue Of Flyer From Flaming Aircraft In Italy

For his heroism in helping to rescue a combat crew member from a burning aircraft, Capt. William H. Conway, former school physician for Larchmont and Mamaroneck, has been presented the Soldier's Medal. The 32-year-old flight surgeon with a B-24 Liberator squadron serving in Italy with the AAF, formerly resided at Chatsworth Gardens, Larchmont.

The award made by Brig. Gen. Hugo P. Rush, Wing Commander, 92nd Central Postal Directory, at great risk of life at an Allied airfield in Italy. A B-24 type aircraft crashed on an early morning take-off and immediately exploded. Rushing to the scene of the accident, Capt. Conway, then a first lieutenant, heroically rescued a combat crew member from a burning aircraft, saving the life of another, and saving the life of the injured man.

While they were assisting the injured man, a bomb exploded nearby, stunning them and seriously injuring one of the rescuers. Displaying outstanding courage, coolness and devotion to duty under such grave conditions, they remained with the injured man and succeeded in carrying him to safety.

By risking their lives to rescue the life of another, they have reflected great credit upon themselves and the Armed Forces of the United States of America.

Prior to entering the AAF in June, 1942, Capt. Conway was attending medical training at the New Rochelle Hospital and Marine Hospital, and was a surgeon in addition to his school duties. He received military training at the Medical Training School, Robinson Field, Ca., the School of Aviation Medicine at San Antonio, Tex., and the AAF School of Applied Tactics at Orlando, Fla.

Stationed in Italy since December he won his flight surgeon's wings there last April. His wife, Helen Conway, now residing in Johnston, Pa., Capt. Conway is the son of Mrs. Marie C. Conway of New York City.

Mr. Conway did post-graduate work at Harvard University, was a track and football player at Georgetown.

Mr. Wesley was treated at United Hospital, finally recovering from his injuries.

Incinerator Breaks Down, Causes Fall Fatal To Youth

Elmsford Boy Dies In Hospital After Plunge Into Furnace Here

Herbert Whitcomb, 16, of Hillside Avenue, Elmsford, for whom a Thanksgiving vacation pleasure trip turned into a terrifying tragedy, died at 5:10 last night at United Hospital. The 16-year-old, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Whitcomb, fell mysteriously into the Village of Mamaroneck garbage incinerator, Fayette Street and Third Avenue, yesterday morning.

For eight hours with a staff of nurses always at his bedside and with three or four doctors constantly in attendance, the boy fought death valiantly, a hospital nurse said. "He never fully regained consciousness," she added. "We used everything modern medicine has to offer."

It was reported at United Hospital that transfusions were administered throughout the day, plasma equal to 15 pints of blood was given, but finally a vein attempt to save the life of the lad.

Council Medical Examiner Amos was called to conduct an inquiry into the accident, probably a fall from a ledge.

Whitcomb boy had intended to spend the holidays with a friend, Louis La Luna, 439 West 12th Street, Port Chester, Tuesday morning he requested George Wesley, 189 Terrace Avenue, Port Chester, to allow him to "ride along" with him on his rounds as a private garbage collector.

He asked me two or three times, Mr. Wesley explained, "and each time I said he had better wait, but finally I agreed."

Boy Disappeared

He was sitting on the front seat of the truck and he was not, the truckman said. "When we got to the incinerator I got out to empty the truck. Wesley was sitting in the front seat. I saw him get out of the truck, but I didn't see him go in."

Wesley was released in the afternoon of the Mamaroneck Police Department pending investigation by the county medical examiner.

Mr. Wesley was treated at United Hospital, finally recovering from his injuries.

GERMANS BATTLE SAVAGELY IN TRY TO CROSS RHINE

LONDON (AP)—The Paris Radio said today that French forces were moving toward a junction between virtually liberated Strasbourg and Colmar to the south, awaiting what a trap on German troops in the Vosges Mountains.

The French were using every means to pull back across the Rhine to the homeland in the south, the savage resistance of 10 or 12 Nazi divisions in the Aachen sector held the advance of the Allied armies to a slow crawl.

In Strasbourg, French armored forces were battling at close quarters to smash the Germans from their last dockfront stand guarding the last bridge to Colmar.

French armored units rushing along the west bank of the Rhine were being held up within eight miles of a meeting with advance units of the French First Army west of the Rhine from the Mar.

At front detachments yesterday said Allied patrols were reported to have thrust across the Rhine from the south, but there was no official confirmation and no further report.

On the central portion of the western front, Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's U. S. Third Army had won a crossing on the rain-swollen Moselle, but there was no crossing on the Rhine, at a point 25 miles south of Saarbrücken.

To the north, a three-army Allied assault team, made up of American First and Ninth and British Second Army, was fighting foot-by-foot on the flooded dunes of the Chaine Plain.

Today proclaimed the historic holiday bombing as the opening phase of a relentless campaign to knock out Japan's war plants.

Flying 8,000 miles round trip from Saipan bases captured only five months ago, the four-army assault (Tokyo said there were 20 planes) flew in high above the capital at more than 400 miles an hour yesterday noon (11 P. M. Thursday EST), and passed their bombs with deadly aim.

Reconnaissance photographs showed fires still burning several hours later with smoke rising to great heights.

Two of the Superfortresses were acknowledged in this first hand-bombing raid on Tokyo, a city of nearly 7,000,000. The industrial heart of the Japanese Empire was bombed once before, April 18, 1942, by carrier-based bombers led by Mitchell Medium Bombers led by Lieut. Col. William Doolittle.

(Tokyo radio last night broadcast an Imperial communication claiming that five of the Superfortresses carried only light bombs and dropped them wide of their intended targets.

"Practically no damage was sustained by important installations," the broadcast said in an indirect admission that major targets were hit.

The bombers approached Tokyo through a heavy overcast but found a clear area over the city. They funneled a substantial portion of their bombs on the Kasanji airfield plant, a principal supplier of Japan's army and navy planes. Other choice targets were ripped and razed.

Lieut. Gen. Millard S. Harmon, interviewed at Saipan, said "we have the whole of Japan under our bombights now."

"We are not bombing people, we are bombing the Japanese war machine," he said. "When we have seriously crippled the war machine, all the toughness in the world won't save the Japanese."

Patton's Forces Battle Through Maginot Line

LONDON (AP)—Americans of the First Army advanced a mile today and captured Frenz, 25 miles inside Germany, 25 miles short of Cologne, while men of Third extended their front inside the Reich to 19 miles at the western fringe of the industrial Ruhr.

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' troops also drove into Hlucian at the edge of the doosly forest by that name. German resistance stopped the enemy's advance and anti-tank fire was especially heavy. The weather was relatively clear allowing overhanging allied air power to support the infantry and churning tanks.

Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army fought through the Maginot Line fortresses on a sector along the western edge of the industrial Ruhr.

Heavy fighting continued in the Ruhr sector. The British teams of the U. S. First and Ninth Armies closed in yard by yard on the German Roer River line from Julich to Duren, nine miles to the southeast.

At the northern end of the 400-mile western front, the British Second Army probed into the formidable western defenses of the Dutch border city of Breda, a gateway to Germany's Ruhr.

Wins Bronze Star

Sgt. John N. Civitelli of 634 Palmer Avenue, Mamaroneck, an aircraft mechanic in a U. S. Troop Carrier Force, Europe, has just been awarded the Bronze Star Medal for meritorious service in connection with military operations his organization engaged in during the period from June 6 to Sept. 30, 1944, in the European theater.

Sgt. Civitelli has been overseas for over a year, and during this time has been an aircraft mechanic in his troop carrier squadron. During the recent airborne invasion of Holland, Sgt. Civitelli's superior technical skill plus a marked talent for the maintenance of aircraft, kept his troop carrying C-47's in smooth working order.

The citation, in part, reads as follows: "The eminent successes achieved in combat by the respective units were in large measure attributable to the energy, zeal and devotion to duty displayed by these individuals and the high standards of performance maintained by them in the performance of their assigned tasks."

Sgt. Civitelli is a member of the famous Troop Carrier Force Group commanded by Major William B. Whitacre of Western Springs, Ill., who made the award a ceremonial event by presenting an airplane in the European Theater of Operations. This group is part of the U. S. Troop Carrier Force under the command of Major General Paul H. Williams and this unit is, in turn, the Air Force component of the First Allied Airborne Army under the leadership of Lieut. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton.

WILLAGES DRIVE INTO CENTER OF SAAR FRONT AS FRENCH FORCES PUSH ACROSS

Americans Also Reach Banks Of Flooded Roor

LONDON, (AP)—Third Army infantry advanced three to four miles in the center of the western front today, with the capture of 200 prisoners and 100 machine guns. A crossing of the Rhine north of Strasbourg by elements of French forces was reported in a French communique broadcast by the French High Command. No immediate confirmation or additional information was forthcoming. The French elements are part of the American Seventh Army and spearheaded the drive through three rivers from the Moselle to the Rhine.

Other Americans, of the Ninth Army, reached the flooded Roor River, the natural barrier before Cologne and the Rhine. In extremely fast fighting, they cleared the village of Kirchberg, just across the muddy 30-yard wide straits of the Roor, less than a mile to the north. Kirchberg is 23 miles from the western limit of the flooded Roor.

Between these armies, men of the U. S. first gained by the yard in the natural barrier before Cologne, still in the contested forest; the French, within five miles of Duren on the Roor; and in the western outskirts of Groschau, three miles from the Roor in the Duren area.

On the southern flank, Germans were pushing through the Canal in Alsace virtually were wiped out by the capture of Dannewitz and several other villages. Scattered resistance continued in other areas where the U. S. Seventh Army pressed forward through snow and mud.

Village Set To Observe 50th Year

Mamaroneck Trustees Plan To Celebrate Half Century Of Growth

37 ARREARS PAID UP

With the approach of Mamaroneck's 50th birthday as a Village, the trustees last night authorized Mayor B. J. Santoro to appoint a committee to plan a celebration next Fall. The Village was incorporated in November, 1894.

The coming anniversary was brought to the board's attention by Philip D. Weston, chairman of the Post War Planning Commission. He suggested that a committee be named to draw up a program to commemorate the date.

Treasurer Clark Frederick H. Bull reported that of the 277 unpaid special assessment accounts which the Village is trying to collect $7 have been paid and a few other taxpayers have communicated with him after receiving the bills.

Mayor Santoro asked Mr. Bull to prepare before the next meeting a list of property owners whose taxes are paid to date but who owe one or more of the special assessments.

Trustee John Withers said he has received several complaints from residents of Harbor Heights and the Knolls about the 10-cent fare for the bus service to Harbor Island.

A 12-year landmark making to all residents of Mamaroneck and the nearby Sound shore will be removed next Spring when the Shoreland Yacht Club is permitted to vacate the premises it has occupied since 1932 as the result of action taken by the Village Board last night.

Upon recommendation of the Village Park Commission, which pointed out at a recent meeting that the club building is situated on tax free property rented by the Village, the board voted to terminate the arrangement when the present lease expires in March.

The property was first rented to the club for a nominal sum of $100 per year but later the rate was increased until, last year, the members paid the Village $500.

Charles Price, commodore of the club, could not be reached this morning for comment on the board's action or the members' plans for next season.

Lieut. Smith Sends Word He's Safe

Reported Missing On Thanksgiving Day, Flyer Well, He Says In Cable IN ITALIAN SECTOR

Thanksgiving Day came a few days late to the Watson B. Smith residence at 6 Eden Avenue, Larchmont, but when it finally arrived yesterday it dappled the gloom which has filled the household since Thursday—when their son, Lt. Watson B. Smith, Jr., was reported missing in action.

The second message came yesterday afternoon from Lt. Smith himself, to inform his family that he was "safe and well." It was able to reveal no details of what experience he had which led to the "missing" report, but the main detail he had which led to the message was that he had been able to make it to a small Phoskigiano Day for his family.

The cablegram from Lt. Smith was confirmed last night by a telegram from the adjutant general in Washington, although no further information was furnished.

A bombardier with the 15th Air Force in Italy, Lt. Smith has overseas only a few weeks. He entered the service in June, 1942.

Ex-Resident Ends Life At Jersey Home

A former Woods of Larchmont resident, William T. Hedlund, 45, president of the Elastic Stop Nut Corporation, was found dead yesterday morning, apparently of suicide, with his throat slashed, and a kitchen knife beside him, police reported.

William T. Hedlund, 45, whose body was discovered in a two-story house at the rear of his home at 25 "Wildwood" Road, Woods of Larchmont, three or four years ago. The company of which Mr. Hedlund was president, produces nuts and washers with a locking lightness—an article of importance to war industries.

Yesterday afternoon, after word of his death was received, the Secretary of the County Commission ordered trading in securities of the corporation halted for 30 days. A statement from the commission revealed that the order was "to protect security holders" during the interim period.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ruth Hedlund, and his 16-year-old son, Robert Hedlund, of the P. O. Box Country Day school from Larchmont.

A native of Cambridge, Mass., Mr. Hedlund served in the Navy before 1914. He was president and legal adviser for the Electric Light Corporation of Old Greenwich, Conn., until he joined the Elastic Stop Nut Corporation in 1941 when he lived in Larchmont.

Found at 9:14 A.M., he was wearing only pajamas and bath room slippers. The police reported he had been worrying about business affairs and statements from the company said that he had suffered a nervous breakdown as a result of overwork.

"Despite his illness," the statement continued, "he endeavored to carry on his duties because of the importance of his company's products to the fighting forces. The strain proved too great and this morning he took his own life."

Mr. Hedlund was not a heavy stockholder in the company, it was said, holding only 1,500 of 433,615 common shares, 54 of the 20,645 preferred shares outstanding as of last May, and five $1,000 debenture bonds.

Pinball Games Cause Furore At Yacht Club

LEYTON FERRY, Commodore of the Larchmont Yacht Club, this morning confirmed reports that a pinball machine which appeared in the Men's Lounge on Election Day had caused a "furore" among members.

On the heels of the furore created by the discovery of the machine, members found a second machine, by the name of "The Game," will be removed today, according to Commodore Ferry, who understood that one of the members had placed them in the lounge for the amusement of guests.

The objection of members to the machines as "not in keeping" with the spirit of the club, was echoed by one young girl at the dance Saturday night when asserted that "one-armed bandits" were robbing young women of their escorts.

Mabel Taylor, announced earlier than the dance, told a meeting Friday evening at 8:15 o'clock at the Roger Smith Hotel. Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ruth Hedlund, and his 16-year-old son, Robert Hedlund, of the P. O. Box Country Day school from Larchmont.

A native of Cambridge, Mass., Mr. Hedlund served in the Navy before 1914. He was president and legal adviser for the Electric Light Corporation of Old Greenwich, Conn., until he joined the Elastic Stop Nut Corporation in 1941 when he lived in Larchmont.

Found at 9:14 A.M., he was wearing only pajamas and bath room slippers. The police reported he had been worrying about business affairs and statements from the company said that he had suffered a nervous breakdown as a result of overwork.

"Despite his illness," the statement continued, "he endeavored to carry on his duties because of the importance of his company's products to the fighting forces. The strain proved too great and this morning he took his own life."

Mr. Hedlund was not a heavy stockholder in the company, it was said, holding only 1,500 of 433,615 common shares, 54 of the 20,645 preferred shares outstanding as of last May, and five $1,000 debenture bonds.

Pinball Games Cause Furore At Yacht Club

LEYTON FERRY, Commodore of the Larchmont Yacht Club, this morning confirmed reports that a pinball machine which appeared in the Men's Lounge on Election Day had caused a "furore" among members.

On the heels of the furore created by the discovery of the machine, members found a second machine, by the name of "The Game," will be removed today, according to Commodore Ferry, who understood that one of the members had placed them in the lounge for the amusement of guests.

The objection of members to the machines as "not in keeping" with the spirit of the club, was echoed by one young girl at the dance Saturday night when asserted that "one-armed bandits" were robbing young women of their escorts.

Mabel Taylor, announced earlier than the dance, told a meeting Friday evening at 8:15 o'clock at the Roger Smith Hotel. Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock.

Snow Forecast By Tonight As Two Days Of Rainfall Bring Flood Threats Here

Wind and two days of rain today threatened to bring flood conditions to Mamaronock and Larchmont lowlands and points along the Sound as the Weather Bureau forecast snow flurries for this afternoon, tonight and tomorrow.

After a tour of inspection of Mamaronock's danger points, Village Manager William E. Johnson said this afternoon that neither the Mamaronock nor the Shelburne rivers had yet gone out of their bounds and in fact, the water level was higher than it has been in many years.

Measure taken of the Mamaronock River at Halstead Avenue near the railroad bridge revealed that the water had risen two and a half feet, which, Manager Johnson said, is not unusual with heavy rainfall. If the rain continues to any great extent, however, he saw the danger of possible floods in low-lying areas.

Shortly after noon with high tide in, Sound waters had completely covered a wide section of the sea wall in the West Basin. At that time the tide was reported to be three feet above normal.

It is estimated that three feet higher tide in the September hurricane. Heavy winds and boat owners were busy at noon securing boats threatened by the rising tide.

The rainfall was greatest on Monday when 3.5 inches were recorded; on Wednesday the measure was 2.1 inches and up until 12:30 P. M. today there had been another 6.5 inches of rainfall.

Pupils in the Milton School at Rye were manouevred by water at the luncheon recess and police mobilized rowboats to get the children out which anxious mothers gathered on high ground nearby. Police said the danger at Milton School will diminish this afternoon when the tide recedes.

Along the waterfront at Old Greenwich the water had flooded cellars and reached the level of the second floor in many places. The Port Chester sanitation department said it was "frankly surprised" and sent pumps to the cellars. The department's some main business section buildings were endangered.

200 Give Pint As Blood Bank Attains Quota

A successful Blood Bank was held yesterday when the mobile unit under command of Capt. James Van Buren visited the Larchmont Blood Club for the ninth time and obtained the maximum quota of 200 pints of blood.

More than 60 persons were first time donors and 10 new members of the "Golden Club" were enrolled. Mrs. Charles J. Johnson, chairman of the Blood Donor Service of the Larchmont Branch, American Red Cross, reported an unusually small number of cancellations and only 18 rejections. Owing to this circumstance, few transfusions were unable to donate as the transfusion was rescheduled for the closing hour. "In spite of the weather, donors unfailingly kept their appointments and enabled the unit to work at capacity all afternoon," she stated.
