WESTCHESTER SEEKS SAFE AND SANE FOURTH BUT BOYS WILL BE BOYS

Firecrackers are outlawed in all but a few Westchester communities so where vendors are permitted they are a rushing business. Boys are shown above yesterday as they laid in a stock for a glorious and noisy Fourth.

It's fun of course but these boys seem a bit scared as their lucky pal sets off his giant cracker. They might well be too as they're exposed to real danger. And that's one reason most Westchester communities ban the sale of fireworks.

Copeland. Governor Lehman, Mr. Bleakley's 1936 opponent, has already announced he will accept the Democratic senatorial nomination.

Mr. Bleakley, designated a month ago by the Republican county committee as the party's nominee for Westchester County president this year, has persistently denied rumors that he will seek the gubernatorial nomination this year. Political observers shifted him during this week to the senatorial contest.

JAPAN OBSERVES WAR ANNIVERSARY

No Emotion Shown As First Year Of Conflict With China Ends

TOYOYO, July 8 (AP).—Japan observed the first anniversary of her undeclared war on China yesterday with a mingling of deep religious symbolism and harsh wartime practicality.

A moment of silence was observed at high noon. Throughout the day, thousands made pilgrimages to military shrines where, according to the Shinto belief, still live the souls of men killed in battle.

Special hatches, costing 12 cents, about three cents, were cast throughout the empire. Starting at sunrise, streams of people wound toward the shrines. Not the smallest sign of emotion was visible, apparently not a tear was shed.

Commemorative meetings were held by patriotic organizations and the emperor issued an important message. "We are satisfied with the fact that, during the past year since the outbreak of the China incident, the situation has greatly improved," the message said.

Stock Rally Halted By Profit Taking. NEW YORK, July 8 (AP).—Light profit selling was sufficient to knock leading stocks down from 3 to 5 points in today's market.

Transfers were at the rate of about 1,500,000 shares, more than 1,000,000 under yesterday's turnover.

Accruals displayed resistance to the downward, with few changes in price to post modest plus gains.

HERE'S EXPERT ADVICE ON HOW TO BUILD SOAP BOX RACER

Head Of University Mechanical Engineering Department Outlines Problems Involved In Constructing A Speed Car And How To Overcome Them

It is his advice on the finer points in constructing a Soap Box Derby racing car you're looking for, boys here the real McCoy from a man who knows the answers.

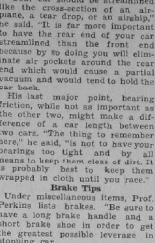

The man is Prof. Donald L. Perkins, head of the mechanical engineering department at Wayne University and because The Derby is less than a month away—July 30 is the date—he was asked to outline the engineering problems involved in constructing a Derby car and how they may be overcome.

Prof. Perkins believes that three engineering factors play the most important role in constructing your car: they are traction, bearing friction and streamlining.

Streamlining, which means contact between the wheels and the road surface, is probably the most important factor to watch.

REAL ESTATE MEN VIEW VILLAGE AS WORLD'S FAIR HUB

Westchester Board Believes Mamaroneck Will Be Focal Point COUNTY BENEFITS SEEN

Other Communities To Erect Signs Pointing Way To Village

Mamaroneck as a "hub" for Westchester County participating in the World's Fair in New York City next year was visualized yesterday at a meeting of the World's Fair committee of the Westchester Realty Board in White Plains.

Because of the fast express boat service to be established between Mamaroneck and the Fair Grounds on the other side of the Sound, this community should be a focal point of all activities, it was agreed at the meeting, which was attended by representatives of other Westchester communities and World's Fair officials.

Arnour Smith, regional representative of the World's Fair in the section, informed the gathering that Westchester is to be represented, along with other sections of the state, in the New York State Building.

LeRoy D. Kiley, vice-president of Mamaroneck Accommodations, Inc., which is handling details of the project, explained to the group that plans were under way 10 months ago and are now virtually ready to launch, for creating a ferry service between Mamaroneck and the Fair Grounds on Long Island.

The announcement was greeted with enthusiasm by the gathering, Mr. Kiley said today.

Westchester will be depicting in the State Building as being a desirable place in which to reside, and its advantages will be pointed out, Mr. Smith, the World's Fair official said. The problem, he said, has been how to tell visitors to reach the county, The Mamaroneck ferry service is the answer, he said.

Representatives of other Westchester communities at the meeting yesterday, Mr. Kiley reported today, agreed to seek a route to the fair. A representative of the parkway commission, Mr. Kiley said, also agreed to seek similar routes to the fair.

Further publicity will be given, the community at the Westchester exhibit at the Fair Grounds, where directions will be given for reaching Mamaroneck and other points in the county, Mr. Kiley said.

The board of directors of Mamaroneck Accommodations also met last night and discussed the developments in the project, which Mr. Kiley said, is definitely underway within about ten days.

PWA ALLOCATES $171,000 GRANT FOR NEW SCHOOL

Federal Fund Granted For Building To Replace Old Central School

REFERENDUM REQUIRED Bond Issue To Meet Remainder Of $380,000 Cost To Face Vote

A Public Works Administration grant of $171,000 has been allocated for financing a portion of the cost of building a proposed new school building to replace the old Central School in the Mamaroneck system, it was announced today by Mayor F. McKenna, New York City, resident engineer with PWA for this area.

The allocation of $171,000 would provide part of the estimated cost of $380,000 for the proposed new building of electrical wiring in the school district's voters.

A proposition to build a gymnasium and auditorium, situated in a room and a heating plant, at a cost of $200,000, was defeated at a special election last spring.

William S. H. Hamilton, president of the Board of Education, said that the defeat would prohibit the Board from allocating approximately $230,000 in the annual budget for fire retardation and replacement of electrical wiring in the school building.

Mr. Hamilton said that the board should, as a matter of form, apply for a bond issue of $380,000 to enable the eight old furnaces with a new heating plant, utilizing portions of the original design, was submitted to the voters at the regular election, and that was defeated.

Much had been said prior to the election as to whether the board should fail to seek federal funds, and many had expressed their willingness to vote for a "new building, but not a 'patchwork'.

He said "My 17 years in the Department ought to qualify me as something of an authority when I say that our citizens should not lose sight of the fact that the most essential function of their fire department is fire prevention in all its phases."

In commenting upon the purchase of a new pump for the Fire Department, Chief Osborne G. Smith said:

"The fundamental consideration which should be observed by the duly authorized officials both of the Village and the Fire Department should be the preservation of life and property."

Commenting that the type of construction most prevalent at Larchmont is such that "we are fortunate in having a particularly low mortality as far as fire are concerned," Chief Smith added "it should not be overlooked that our volunteer fire department is wholly responsible for both the prevention and protective phases of the Village firematic activities."

Deputy Chief Alexis B. Cunniff said: "The present spirit of the department will be a criterion for both the prevention and protective phases of the Village firematic activities."

GENTLEMAN THIEF GETS $130 FROM GOLFER AT CLUB

New York Priest Robbed Of $130 After Playing At Winged Foot

A thief who masqueraded with custom-made clothes and an air of gentility, as a member of exclusive club he intends to rob, was believed to have returned to Mamaroneck with the report made to Weaver Street police yesterday that the Rev. Joseph A. Keenan of New York City was robbed of $130 at the Winged Foot Golf Club on Fenimore Road, Town.

Father Keenan finished a round of golf at the club and went to the showers, leaving his clothes in a locker. When he returned his wallet, containing $130, was missing.

Officer Francis Waterbury, assigned to the investigation, suspected a well-dressed stranger who had followed about the club. The method used here was believed to have been similar to a "job" done in a Long Island club several days ago, Weaver Street police said.

The thief, dressed well, confident, respectable-appearing, gains entrance to the club by following members in, as if he is with their party, police said. He enters about the locker room until it is unoccupied, then ransacks the clothes in any locker left open.

A similar thief took place in the Weaver Street police jurisdiction several years ago, and was reported in Long Island. Police there arrested a man who was sent to prison for a term of years.

Weaver Street police were speculating on whether the "country club" thief had been raised and had returned to his old practice.

The note stressed the "detrimental" effect of military operations along the river between Nanking and Wanchow, halfway to Hankow, and outlined preliminary action remaining in the 80-mile downstream from the provincial capital.

A similar note to the foreign powers on June 11 was rejected.

ROOSEVELT RIGOROUS FIGHT TO OHLAHIA

President Expected To Give Thomas Support SPEAKS TONIGHT

Aboard President Roosevelt's Train Enroute to Oklahoma City, July 9 (AP)—President Roosevelt, anxious to keep his friends in the Senate, advanced today toward Oklahoma's political battlefield.

The day's campaign took him into the Democratic senatorial primary fight involving Senator Thomas, then Governor E. W. Marland and Representative G. M. Smith. The President was expected to give the edge in his Oklahoma appearances to Thomas, a loyal administration supporter.

During a stoppage across Ohio and Kentucky yesterday Mr. Roosevelt, in making a survey of the Senate, also was expected to make a special appeal to the understanding of national minded lawmakers of the Barkley type.

The President's Oklahoma schedule was a platform appearance at McAlester and Shawnee and a speech tonight at Oklahoma City, state, Fairgrounds, and a platform talk at Booneville.

That of the Oklahoma senatorial candidates—Thomas and Marland—were White House secretaries, and the four senators expected to be elected through Tennessee that they would be on the train through part of their state.

Senator John H. Chandler, of Ohio, and Senator William H. Borah, of New York, were expected to join the presidential entourage. Governor Lloyd C. Stark, of Missouri, and Arkansas Senators, Hattie W. Caraway and John E. Miller were expected to board the special. Elliott Roosevelt planned to come aboard with his father reached Fort Worth.

Conferees with those officials and similar for speeches promised a busy day for the chief executive. Some hours were allotted for the manner in which the President would promote the candidacy of Thomas remained in doubt up to the time of the special train.

In Ohio, Mr. Roosevelt will be accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, and his daughter, Anna Roosevelt. Mr. Roosevelt will be accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, and his daughter, Anna Roosevelt.

The President said he was not interested in any "massive" or "form" in the Kentucky primary but he suggested at the same time that Barkley's show in the Senate would lead to fill.

At Columbia, Laetonia race track, Mr. Roosevelt declared that Governor Chandler would make a good senator from Kentucky—"But I think my good friend the governor would be the first to acknowledge that as a very junior member of the Senate, it would take him many many years to match the national knowledge, the experience and the acknowledged leadership of that son of Kentucky, of whom the whole nation is proud, Alben Barkley."

The crowd packed into the grandstand at the horse-race track roared. Another, smaller crowd that gathered around the President's rear train platform at Worville, Ky., a short while later, cheered when Barkley advised them the President would appear there, too.

A countless, silent man in that group called out he had heard the President's Laetonia speech, adding: "Alben he an artist."

BRAVE WOODPECKER VANQUISHES EAGLE

A woodpecker's daily battles with the cartoon eagle atop the 100-foot flagpole in Station Plaza, Town of Mamaroneck, had an annual passer-by and park attendant.

Early every morning the cartoon eagle would peck at the woodpecker's nest and lands on the back of the woodpecker's nest and lands on the back of the woodpecker's nest and lands on the back of the woodpecker's nest.

After his eye was apparently pierced by the woodpecker's peck, the eagle flew off again to his home somewhere in the park.

REALLY BROKERS ASK ZONING LAW BE MADE STRICTER

Group Also Recommends Reduction in Amount Of Property Zoned For Business

Only one-family residences should be allowed in areas classified by zoning regulations as "residential A," according to recommendations which have been made by the Mamaroneck Chapter of the Westchester County Realty Board.

The zoning board, which is presently zoning regulations now permits the erection not only of one-family but of two-family residences, the realty organization points out. It suggested 13 specific changes in zoning regulations it recommended should be included in any revised map of the village.

The zoning board is now engaged in making a survey of the village to determine the complete revision of zoning regulations deemed out-of-date by many residents.

The realty organization further recommended that "a thorough check should be made as to existing deed restrictions and that an effort be made to have future zoning conform with the same."

The recommendations urged that Mamaroneck Knolls and vicinity be zoned for residential purposes and the Murdock property on Old White Plains Road be changed from "B" classification to "A."

With the exception of one "industrial" or "B" change recommended, the balance of the realty organization's 13 revisions involve property now zoned for business purposes, it said, should be made "residential A."

Major complaint against the existing zoning regulations has been that there is too much of the village's territory zoned for business purposes.

The realty organization, led by H. Boren, Wilbur Cartwright and other members of the board, has arranged to join the presidential entourage. Governor Lloyd C. Stark, of Missouri, and Arkansas Senators, Hattie W. Caraway and John E. Miller were expected to board the special. Elliott Roosevelt planned to come aboard with his father reached Fort Worth.

CHAPTER 35 BUCKSHOT BROWN wouldn't enter Ellen's Casa Hermosa much, after she moved in. He had helped build it, but when the paint and the "trimmings" were all on, he was shy of the place, sensing that an unsmooth old hulk such as he was out of place there.

However, a day or two after the cake had arrived, Ellen invited Mr. Brown formally to dinner. Dinner at seven. To save his soul, he could think of no way to refuse! Right after breakfast that day he began preparing himself for the ordeal. He bathed out in the open stream up to a canyon, notwithstanding a temperature that morning of approximately 45 degrees.

Bill had refused to attend the dinner. He was jealous of Ellen. He was not just for fun, Ellen put on all the style possible for Uncle Buckshot. He sat straight as a soldier; with his knife shaved jaws, pointed, neat, matted and bread soaked in gravy, reekingly that favorite food, only when the Mexican girl looked it away and gave him a shiny spoon with his ice cream.

BLUE SPRUCE INN FAMED FOR FOOD

Popular Restaurant Offers Advantage Of Outdoor Dining On Warm Days

The outgrowth of the old Evelyn Court Restaurant in the Evelyn Court Apartments is today's Blue Spruce Inn on Beach Avenue, just off the Boston Post Road, Mamaroneck. Opened more than seven years ago by the then Miss Evelyn Lake, the original restaurant proved so popular it was less than two years that new and larger quarters were necessary to accommodate comfortably those who appreciated fine food at reasonable prices, and the removal to the new and more commodious quarters was the result.

Bill grinned, but it was more of a sad grin than a happy one. "Buckshot, I work here because the pay is good and because I can be near her. But a hundred dollars a week, which I get, is nothing compared to her hundreds of thousands."

He and Bill both were in bed with swollen heads. Bill admitted to himself, when Buckshot was gone, that Ellen needed more friends, more social outlets. But he would always talk. "Things look swell to me, Buckshot. I have arranged with the university to extend the feeding tests in spring. They will keep an expert down here next week to discuss them. He is physical, but I tried tonight because the day in the saddle had been a hard one, but he would always talk."

It was a faint sound, but foreign to this place, at this hour. It was music, guitar music, from somewhere in the direction of Ellen's home. Bill raised on his elbow to listen.

U. S. FLYER LANDS PLANE IN PARIS

to the door of the plane and opened it. He stuck his head in and shouted.

"Congratulations, did you have a good trip?"

Hughes said he was planning to take off for Russia "as quickly as possible."

That means "one or two hours," he added.

Hughes was the first of his crew to alight. He was evidently tired, but had a broad grin on his face.

Before coming out he had put on a necktie and a hat.

The right motor was followed by the other four.

"We had a fine trip," said Hughes. "We made it in 16 hours 33 minutes."

French air officers stepped up to pat Hughes on the back and touch his hand.

Hughes introduced his army and naval attaches and French officers to Hughes and members of his crew in turn.

The five flyers, accompanied by the ambassador, went to the airport commandant's office after they succeeded in cutting a pathway through the dense crowds which were shouting.

"Vive Les Américains!" "Long live the Americans!"

A special crowd crew took the plane in hand immediately after Hughes and his crew left it and began to turn up the motor.

Somehow the plane arrived at the airport that everyone was caught unawares. The first landing was when the plane arrived at the airport to descend quickly to the field.

Because the plane is of the same type as those used in the Spanish mercenary air force with a terminal here many observers thought that the plane was a French one or another similar through London.

The first intimation official had that the flyers were over France was a radio message in French Le Bourget, they were about to land.

It barely had been received when the plane's broad wings dipped toward the surprised crowd.

Until that moment, in fact, airport officials denied the flyers even had reached the French coast.

Brown hat away, Hughes immediately checked the plane and gave orders to refer it. He said he had not been able to check but believed he had 250 gallons of gasoline left when he landed.

It was as sugar to get off as it was to get on.

He said weather reports showed good conditions on the other side of the Rhine and he would head straight for Moscow by way of Cologne, Germany. Permission to fly to Germany, he said, had been granted.

"The airline distance from Paris to Moscow is 1,841 miles. About eight hours flying time if Hughes plans makes its transatlantic speed."

Forty minutes after touching ground, the spokesman was inquiring about conditions, with American.

WAGNER MENTIONED WASHINGTON, July 11 (AP)—Capital speculation over a successful trip to Moscow by Senator Benjamin N. Cardozo, who died Saturday after a long illness, centered today on two possible causes.

President Roosevelt might neglect Senator Robert F. Wagner (D-N.Y.) or some other New Yorker because the late Justice was a resident of that state.

2. His trip might be a resident of the Far West, because that region is not now represented on the court.

Resolutions designed to benefit veterans included: Amendment to U. S. Veteran Bureau rules, which prohibit free osteopathic therapy to disabled veterans, who are eligible to all other forms of medical treatment; amendments of the Railroad Retirement Act of 1937 to eliminate the provisions that time spent in war service is deducted in establishing annuities and seniority records; and legislation to the effect to nullify civil service protection for veterans.

"There are those who fear Communism so much they advocate complete suppression. I would not suppress free speech. You can't kill it by education and enlightenment," Senator Williamson said.

4 DIE AS PLANE FALLS AT ARMONK

Food, flames burst out immediately. It was impossible to use the small hand fire-fighting apparatus stationed in the airport hangar, but volunteers of the Armonk Fire Department pushed their apparatus near the flaming fuselage, and as the flames died down, firemen sprayed chemicals on the wreckage.

The bodies were removed two hours later. Wilcox's body and one of the women were removed from the rear of the plane, but it was necessary to use back-axes to get out remains of Houghton and Putnam.

Although no official report of the crash has been made, officials stated they believed it was caused by the pilot, raising the flaps too soon, permitting the plane to drop. Squire said his preliminary investigation indicated nothing wrong with the plane or the handling of it.

Vandals Sought In Harbor Case Harbor Master Richard Savage and Detective William O'Neill today were investigating the report made by Warren Clark of Orienta Point that several men swam out from Harbor Island Beach harbor of a boat Clark was painting seaward from the dock, stole two cars and departed.

Clark reported that the boat was owned by Walter Hovey of the Shore Acres Club. He had finished the paint job, Clark said, when the men boarded the boat. He made them leave, he reported, but they took with them two cars, he said.

CHUCK, HOW COULD ANYBODY SAY THAT ALL CIGARETTES ARE ALIKE? CAMELS ARE SURE WAY AHEAD IN MY ESTIMATION!

COW-PUNCHERS Curtis and Riegel certainly feel that there is a big difference between Camels and other cigarettes. Read what they say—at right!

JAPAN ABANDONS PLANS TO STAGE 1940 OLYMPICS

Tokio Halts Arrangements Because Of Duration Of Chinese War

FINANCES ALSO LACKING

London, Finland And New York Mentioned As Possible Sites

TOKYO, July 14 (AP)—The Japanese government suddenly abandoned plans today to stage here the 1940 Olympics, because of the probable duration of the Chinese War, and the cost of financing the games.

The announcement of the cancellation by Public Welfare Minister Maruya Kichiro, through the Japanese News Agency, surprised the entire nation, military and Japanese organizing committee members who had declared the 12th Olympiad would be conducted "whether or not the government supports it."

Various athletic organizations and newspapers in several countries have indicated for a long time that they would support the 1940 games, but the Japanese government has been unable to obtain the necessary financial support from the various nations. Foreign leaders opposed to a growth of internationalism among the nations were cited to explain the suspension.

Despite several previous indications that Japan did not wholly support the 1940 games, the government had prepared to contribute 4,000,000 yen (about $1,250,000) toward the cost and had a 1,000,000 stadium near Tokyo.

London and Helsinki, Finland, had been mentioned as possible sites for the coming Olympiad, if Japan found it impossible to host the games.

The cancellation was taken to indicate Japan is convinced the year-old conflict in China will continue until 1940. Japan lacks money and materials for the necessary sports structures.

Some smaller buildings were under construction. Foreign technicians had been working for months completing plans. Many athletes had started training although the games were forbidden to enter the country.

Count Michimasa, Boyshimin, member of the International Olympic Committee, said Japan might bid for the 1946 games.

"I hope Japan can bid then," he said. "Apparently it is impossible to bid even for the 1946 games. The cancellation was inevitable under present circumstances."

ARMY ENGINEERS READY TO DREDGE WEST BASIN AREA

Work To Start About Oct. 1, Letter Forecasts After Conference With Corps Head

Dredging of the West Basin under supervision of the United States Army will probably get underway in about Oct. 1, it was announced today by Village Manager Charles A. Lattimer, who yesterday conferred with Col. F. C. McCooch, chief engineer of the Army Corps of Engineers.

Plans for the dredging work are to be set shortly, Col. McCooch informed Mr. Lattimer in New York City yesterday. The engineers appear to be anxious to start the work as soon as possible. Mr. Lattimer said.

Work on the dikes to hold the basin, meanwhile, is progressing. Mr. Lattimer said he anticipated that the dikes will be completed in time for the engineers to begin their work.

With the assistance of the Works Progress Administration, the village is building a series of stone and earth dikes in the rear of the village as well as a series of seawalls on Harbor Island and that the low-lying areas can be diked with material to be pumped from the basin.

A dike about 100 ft. to be placed on the job within the next few days and it will accelerate the dike-building work, Mr. Lattimer said.

The village purposely delayed starting dredging operations until the summer was over to avoid any interference with bathing at Harbor Island Beach or elsewhere in the vicinity.

Some of the material from the basin may be used to fill in the depression at Harbor Island Beach which makes impossible the use of the beach at low tide. If the dike is extended, all-day bathing will be in order next year, regardless of tide, village officials said.

Howard Hughes, millionaire flyer, glances through the window of the specially-built plane in which he completed today a record-breaking round-the-world flight.

Expecting the largest crowd since Col. Charles A. Lindbergh returned from his historic flight to Paris in 1927, police officials detailed 1100 policemen to protect the flyers and handle traffic. A detachment of 100 U. S. Marines, however, was assigned to aid them.

Hughes and his crew will be greeted at the time by Mayor J. P. Kelly, La Guardia and Ernest W. Brown, head of the New York World's Fair, at almost the exact spot where the late Wiley Post was welcomed after completing his record solo round the world flight in 1931.

Officials planned to roll the plane through the city streets and post a special guard to protect it from souvenir hunters.

After resting overnight, the flyer is scheduled to fly to the top of Wall Street, tomorrow morning in an amphibian plane, then paraded by motor car through the canyons of Lower Manhattan to City Hall for a formal welcome by the mayor.

Late tomorrow or Saturday they will go to Washington.

As soon as passed and word was broadcast at the field that Hughes and his companions were arriving closer, the excitement and gaiety increased at the field. The bar and restaurant were crowded. Observers sat at windows and on the platforms.

Crowds milled inside the barrier along the concrete apron. The weather still held a threat of rain, but men, women and children continued to arrive by automobile and bus.

PWA AID SOUGHT FOR APARTMENTS

Negotiations Under Way For Roadway On Petter Property

Negotiations to obtain a Public Works Administration grant to aid the financing of a roadway through the Petter property on Palmetto Avenue to the Boston Post Road were started today in a hearing by Supervisor Bert C. McCooch and Frank Caplan, attorney, the latter representing the property owner and other interests.

The roadway would be built to accommodate the 384 families who are expected to occupy the proposed apartment development on the property, which is just west of the Junior High School.

Delays in starting the building project have resulted because of various hitches in the preliminary plans of the sponsor, a group of private investors.

It is expected that the road is obtained the project will be much easier to carry out. It was also reported that the building project is being advanced by having been ironed out.

The great part of the land upon which the apartments are planned lies within the unincorporated area of the Town, with a small portion lying within the village of Mamaroneck.

Supervisor McCooch was accompanied to Albany not only by Mr. Caplan but also by Mr. Gagliardi, by Commissioner of Public Works, and by representatives of the Federal Government. They are making the request that the Federal Government lend its assistance in building the roadway.

RYE NECK WINNER TO GET DERBY CUP

Young Men's Republican Club To Award Prize To Sectional Leader

A loving cup will be awarded by the Young Men's Republican Club of Rye Neck to the Rye Neck boy who comes in first in the Daily Times Soap Box Derby on July 20, it was announced today.

The decision to award the cup was made at a meeting of the club in Arroyo Hall on Henry Avenue last night. The cup, suitably engraved, will be given to the first of the many Rye Neck entrants who come to the race.

The winner of the trophy does not necessarily have to win the derby. It was expressed by George Dewey Pereske, president of the club, that the trophy would be awarded to the winner of the race, the first Rye Neck boy to finish in the top ten.

The club last night heard a talk by one of its members, Alex Campbell, of the national government, and another by Edward Julius, clerk of the village police court on his work.

At the next meeting the club will hear a talk by former Fire Chief Ed Johnson on fire prevention and fire hazards. Myron Vane, employed in the village engineering department, will also describe the work of his department.

The club set Sept. 11 as the date for its annual barbecue, which will be held at Hall's Garage. The White Plains News Committee to arrange the event will be announced shortly, Mr. Pereske said.

HUGHES LANDS PLANE IN NEW YORK AFTER RECORD WORLD HOP

Crowd Gathers Early At Floyd Bennett Airport

MARINES CALLED

NEW YORK, July 14 (AP)—Despite heavy showers, a crowd began gathering at Floyd Bennett Airport before dawn today to welcome Howard Hughes and his four companions at the end of their earth-circling flight.

The first spectators arrived at 3 A. M.—more than 12 hours before the flyers were expected and two hours later 50,000 were there. Some sought refuge from the rain in automobiles.

Expecting the largest crowd since Col. Charles A. Lindbergh returned from his historic flight to Paris in 1927, police officials detailed 1100 policemen to protect the flyers and handle traffic. A detachment of 100 U. S. Marines, however, was assigned to aid them.

Super-Ship Finishes 91-Hour, 17 Minute Flight

14,690 MILES

FLOYD BENNETT FIELD, NEW YORK, July 14 (UP)—Howard Hughes, first man ever to circle the world within the space of four days, landed here at 2:37 P. M. EDT today in a super-airplane stained with the dust of three continents.

Like a thoroughbred that is fastest on the run down the stretch for home, Hughes and his four companions roared in from Minneapolis on a 40-trip mile wind hitting at times the highest speed of the entire flight of 14,690 miles.

When the wheels of the big plane lumped on the concrete landing field, Hughes had cut in half the best previous round-the-world record—18 hours, 49½ minutes, made by the late Wiley Post in 1931.

He had crossed three continents and two oceans since leaving his base at 7:30 P. M. EDT last Sunday. His unofficial round-the-world time was 91 hours and 17 minutes.

It was a shining achievement—for the five headed, weary crew of the multi-million-dollar ship that carried them through the frozen blizzards of the Arctic and the howl winds of the Pacific between two continents.

The end came under gray skies at 14, carrying the multi-million-dollar ship that carried them through the frozen blizzards of the Arctic and the howl winds of the Pacific between two continents.

HENDAYE, FRANCE, July 14 (AP)—A sudden insurgent advance down the Teruel Highway just before dawn today, the government positions about Mora De Rubielos, and threatened to trap thousands of militiamen holding that spread of resistance.

After a night of fighting, the insurgents reported they had passed the Village of Albenoz, junction of the main Teruel-Valencia Highway with the military supply road leading north to Mora De Rubielos.

Sarrison was captured last night, insurgents reported. It is 23 miles southeast of Teruel.

At 11:28 A. M. (E. D. T.) a plane believed to be Hughes' Lockheed 14, carrying the multi-million-dollar shipman and his four weary but triumphant companions, was sighted, a swift bird against brooding clouds, soaring past Two Rivers, Wis., approximately 70 miles west of Floyd Bennett Field about 27 minutes later it was sighted at Lindstrom, Mich., approximately 600 miles from New York.

He had left Minneapolis, where a 23-minute stop was made for refueling, an hour and 17 minutes earlier and in that time had covered about 300 miles.

Half Not Expected

The Minneapolis pilot was unexpected after leaving Fairbanks, Alaska, at 7:30 A. M. (E. D. T.) last night the big ship, its radio silent. The end and a half hour, had roared down across the treacherous canyons of the Yukon, the wind Canada Rockies, its occupants jubilant as their swift voyage, apparently destined to elude a full four days of the record by the late Wiley Post in 1931, neared its end.

Post's time was seven days, 15 hours, 49 minutes. Hughes and his companions left New York four days ago—at 7:30 P. M. Sunday.

REGIN LAST LAP

MINNEAPOLIS, July 14 (AP)—Howard Hughes and his companions took off from the Minneapolis airport at 7:31 A. M. (E. D. T.) today on the last lap of their world-wide flight.

They arrived here from Fairbanks, Alaska, at 7:38 A. M. and stopped only long enough to put in 6,000 gallons of gasoline, scan a batch of weather bulletins and messages from New York flight headquarters.

They have been out of radio communication since midway from Fairbanks, when both transmitters failed.

Their trip was a home-land since the takeoff from New York Sunday was the briefest in their four-day flight. They speeded take-off preparations, joined by a corps of local airport mechanics.

FLEW ABOVE CLOUDS

Ed Lund, flight director, weary from his long vigil at the controls, said they had flown above clouds from Fairbanks to east Edmonton, Alberta, and did not stop there because of weather conditions.

"Buddy, we were well over 14,000 feet and had to lose the time it would take to come down," he said.

They have no difficulty whatsoever, outside failure of transmitters, in flying above clouds. Lund said they did not stop at Winnipeg because of weather conditions. (Continued on Page 22)

Young Men's Republican Club To Award Prize To Sectional Leader

A loving cup will be awarded by the Young Men's Republican Club of Rye Neck to the Rye Neck boy who comes in first in the Daily Times Soap Box Derby on July 20, it was announced today.

The decision to award the cup was made at a meeting of the club in Arroyo Hall on Henry Avenue last night. The cup, suitably engraved, will be given to the first of the many Rye Neck entrants who come to the race.

The winner of the trophy does not necessarily have to win the derby. It was expressed by George Dewey Pereske, president of the club, that the trophy would be awarded to the winner of the race, the first Rye Neck boy to finish in the top ten.

The club last night heard a talk by one of its members, Alex Campbell, of the national government, and another by Edward Julius, clerk of the village police court on his work.

At the next meeting the club will hear a talk by former Fire Chief Ed Johnson on fire prevention and fire hazards. Myron Vane, employed in the village engineering department, will also describe the work of his department.

The club set Sept. 11 as the date for its annual barbecue, which will be held at Hall's Garage. The White Plains News Committee to arrange the event will be announced shortly, Mr. Pereske said.

TALKING IT OVER

with BOB FORBES

WESTCHESTER 108 IS RICHEST OPEN There has been some doubtful talking of eyebrows throughout the county the last few days in repeated pronouncement that the Professional Golfers' Association tourney now in progress is offering $45,000 in prizes, while the forthcoming Westchester 108 will pay on the line a mere $25,000.

The credit division arises from frequent claims since announcement that the Westchester 108 will be the richest tournament in the country.

This does amount to no cleared up and the excitement of our young's first golf offer will not be answered to a certain small point are explained.

It must be remembered that the PGA offer is closed, in that only professionals, and those of a limited type, choose after this cash raising, a portion of the prizes belonging to the PGA must have secured a certain apprenticeship, thus eliminating some pros. For a strictly professional tourney it is the highest paying figure.

But the Westchester 108 is an open tourney, in which a non-PGA player, and amateurs may compete, thus putting it in the category of the best paying open competition in the United States, with $5,000 first prize going to the victor.

Another worthwhile point of the Westchester play, which bears repeating is that it should be a definite test of a more marathon type tourney, with perhaps revolutionize the distance of the tourney, with its 108 holes over the Fenway course in White Plains.

SETS THE PACE

Latchmont Leaders Fall In Non-Loop Softball Game

A combination of Tony Santoro's single and an error by Billy Forrester, raving shortstop, not to mention a home run by Hawk Ciraco with one man on the bags brought four runs and the game to the Griffs. All other runs came in a hard waged softball battle against the Ten Fingers at Mamaroneck Avenue School.

The score was 6-5. The Griffs quartet of markers was pushed over in the next to last frame, the sixth, in a non-loop duel between the leaders of the two Home Town divisions.

The Latchmont pace setters held an apparently safe 5-2 lead going into the last half of the sixth when Tommy Hogan and the fielders Ciraco, a pitcher, knocked the four boys afire over the outfield fence with Quercia aboard. Then A. Walker and Steeter Lacroce crossed the plate on Santoro's single and Forrester error to win the game. The Ten Fingers failed in their bid of the seventh to knot the count.

While the Griffs grabbed a 2-0 lead in the second, the Fingers came back in the third with three runs and one more in the fourth. The big third round Bill Forbes and Bob Ellis singing, and then scoring on Tom Hogan's long one-bagger. Hogan came in on Crowley's two base hit, and the latter finally crossed on an error.

To one sense Hogan was a hard luck victim as he allowed by two back while Ciraco gave up 10 hits at crucial moments and Pinger errors provided the eventual Griffs victory, although Hogan would five and Ciraco failed to give a free catch. The box scores:

Table with 2 columns: Team, Score. Griffs 6, Fingers 5.

The most potent blow came in the fourth as he smothered a line drive to left field which was good for three bases. He also got two singles, one in the first that scored two runs.

Carl Carpin pitched top ball for the Weavers, allowing but four hits, all singles, as he displayed good control. Wilbur Wright, starting for the Haberdasher, was relieved in the sixth by Ed Bracken after the former displayed a tendency to be wild despite a nice fast ball.

Carl Carpin's big moment in the first, scoring four runs on two singles and a triple. Roy Berggren and Al Synowicz, after Wright had walked three. Mutually doubtful the start of the Weavers, bringing in a run, while Harvey Wright got a double in the sixth with none aboard. The losing harbor yielded ten blows. The box score:

Analysis Of Results In Last Year's National Finals At Akron, Ohio, Shows That Weight Is An Important Factor In Their Speed, Boys In Mamaroneck Derby Are Informed

Every Soap Box Derby entrant knows the importance of the question of weight throughout the race. A good approach to the problem is for a boy to determine his own weight, because the combined weights must not exceed 250 pounds. The builder must consider any fact such as recent illness, that might have effect on his weight. When the time he is building his car, it is a mistake, however, to think of weight only in terms of a top limit which he exceeded. It is usually better to work on the basis of reaction between his car's weight and his own.

A study of the information on this point collected at last year's national finals at Akron, Ohio, shows that weight is an important factor in the success of the boys who finished in the top places. In the case of the boys who finished in first, second and third places, it was found that the car weighed more than the driver on the basis of these facts it appears that all other things being equal, the ideal combination is to fit in a light, well built, muscular boy.

This theory is supported by evidence compiled by Toledo Science Engineers on all weights recorded at the national finals. The boys who won the heats at the finals were won by means driving the heavier car, that all other things being equal, the boy who won was heavier than the boy who lost.

The Story Of Barbara Hutton No. 2—The Knights Come Riding

Frank W. Woolworth, founder of the Woolworth five-and-ten-cent store fortune.

Franklyn L. Hutton, Barbara's father, New York broker.

Barbara Hutton, before her first marriage.

Woolworth building, built with the nickels and dimes that rolled through the cash registers of Frank W. Woolworth, Barbara's grandfather.

This is the second of six articles on the life of Countess Barbara Hutton von Hatzfeldt-Amerongen, well-known writer.

By HELEN WELSHMER Central Press Writer NEW YORK, July 14.—The Woolworth building, New York City was the world's tallest skyscraper in the days of the World War. It was built from a billion nickels and dimes that rolled through the cash registers of old Frank Woolworth.

Dominating the New York skyline for 50 miles around, rearing its golden-bronze spire above the financial center of the modern world, it was nevertheless more European than American, more old world than new. For from top to bottom this great steel-and-brick giant was covered on over with grandiose Gothic architectural details.

Its lobbies and corridors were lined with marble and rich with ornate decoration. High above the street, Frank Woolworth had his executive suite. His private office was a veritable throne room.

Once he may have been poor, but once a girl-week grocery clerk, a nickel and dime business man, he had built himself a fortune. He had made it all himself. He could sit in his throne room and dream.

It is the story of the rise of the business giant of nickels and dimes from a small change, make-or-buy business, to the Woolworth empire. How did he do it? How did he escape into a dream of grandeur?

Her Father Remarries An Barbara went into her second year her father married again. His second wife was Mrs. Irene Hutton, a Detroit divorcee. The marriage occurred in 1908.

At the correct age of 15, Barbara made her debut and for the first time the outside world began to know something of her. New York saw an occasional carefully selected photograph in the newspapers. The public had known so little about this second wealthiest girl in America—Miss Duke was first—that it had not been especially curious.

Barbara's debut was made at a ball. Little did she know that the ballroom of the Ritz-Carlton—a quiet little affair but it cost $8,000 just for formal decorations. There was a magnificent garden setting, scores of silver-brocade trays, with sprays of succulents brought across the continent from California at a cost of $3,000 apiece.

One thousand guests drank Barbara's imported champagne that night. And she the bright young girl. She smiled upon all of them—and many men were interested in her. She smiled upon all of them—and many men were interested in her.

But Barbara Hutton had embarked a noble quest on her dreams. She wanted a life, although she may not have realized it. Meantime, her comeliness—and no doubt her millions—were being observed by the stag lions.

The knights came riding. Tomorrow: Magic Carpets

How To Prevent Burglar Visits

Police Chief Gives Warning To Vacationists About Protecting Home

Recently a woman was visited by a house to house canvasser selling magazines. You know the kind who advise your home you can't afford to be without.

There is no one of a hundred cases caused by a negligent housewife who should have demanded a check-up on her home.

There is the sneak thief, said Chief Kersey, who steals under pretense, the early evening thief, the thief who works between 2 and 4 A. M. Right now it is the sneak and early evening thief that causes the most trouble.

Veteran Accused of Receiving Money For Procuring Liquor Licenses

NEW YORK, July 20 (AP)—State Senator Julius S. Berg, Bronx Democrat, shot and killed himself today a short time before District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey's office announced he had indicted on charges of receiving money for his aid in procuring liquor licenses.

The Bronx County Democratic Committee yesterday had refused to re-nominate Berg as a legislative candidate, naming in his stead Assemblyman Chas. J. Glavin.

The indictment, severely returned against Berg, contained 17 counts. None related to the investigation Dewey is conducting into charges that certain legislators were recipients of sums of money paid by large taxable corporations to influence legislation. Assemblyman Edward S. Moran, Jr., already has been indicted in that investigation.

Dewey did not disclose the name of money Berg was accused of receiving.

Berg killed himself, Detective Captain Conrad Rothblatt said, by sending a 22 caliber bullet into his right temple in his cell at 1630 Broadway after a 12-hour argument with his wife, who had urged him "to tell everything."

He ate breakfast before he shot himself, and apparently his wife thought he was safe from self-harm, for she had just left the room for a moment and was still outside when the shot was fired.

Berg lay slumped across his desk when the rain in.

Captain Rothblatt said she stumbled out of the room, starting to the office telephone operator.

"I thought you told me that he didn't have a revolver,"

"I asked tonight what day yesterday and couldn't find one," the operator was quoted by Rothblatt as saying.

Berg, a one-legged war veteran, was chairman of the Senate Finance Committee of the Senate. He handled much of the legislation sponsored in the Assembly by Assemblyman Edward S. Moran, Jr., who was indicted three weeks ago charged with extortion and acquiring illegal fees as a legislator.

Last night Berg went to his office and telephoned his wife Rose, at their Belle Harbor Summer home. She arrived at 1 A. M. and a few hours later they both left the building. They were again seen and still arguing when they returned not long afterward.

An elevator operator was impressed by the conversation that he wrote out a report on the day and the name of the building and its location. He was taken over to the police.

"What you should do is tell everything," Mr. Berg replied. "I can't, I can't, my husband killed me."

The elevator operator said he then heard Berg say that what he could reveal might come close to implicating one of the highest officials of the state.

RAIN POSTPONES CLUB POOL NIGHT

Annual Outdoor Festival Is Deferred Until Tomorrow Evening

Cloudy skies and inclement weather have caused the postponement of Pool Night, the annual outdoor festival at the Leitchman Club. From this evening until tomorrow evening, it was announced this afternoon by the entertainment committee.

For the first time in several years the event, which is expected to draw about 2,000 members and their guests, has been postponed until another date than that originally scheduled.

The show will go on tomorrow at 8:30 o'clock, however, with the same program as that planned for this evening. According to Glover Johnson, manager of Leitchman, the entertainment committee is in charge of the arrangements, the swimming and diving champions, Harnden, and other featured performers have all consented to appear, and there will be the elaborate fireworks display and beach carnival.

MOVIE FIRMS FACE MONOPOLY CHARGE

Attorney General Accuses Eight Companies Of Controlling Industry

WASHINGTON, July 20 (AP)—Attorney General Cummings charged eight major film companies today with virtually monopolizing the motion picture industry.

He filed civil suit in Federal District Court in New York asking that the firms be required to divest themselves either of their ownership of theaters or of production and distribution facilities.

The case, among the most comprehensive brought in recent years under the anti-trust laws, was presented after a long investigation by the Justice Department. It was disclosed just as a committee of congressmen and Federal administrative officials is starting a broad monopoly inquiry.

The government's bill of complaint charged the eight companies with controlling about 60 per cent of the nation's moving pictures.

"From selection of the theaters," a statement issued at the Justice Department named as principal defendants:

Paramount Pictures, Inc.; Loew's, Inc.; the Irving Trust Company, N. Y., as trustee in bankruptcy for Radio-Keith Orpheum Corporation; Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc.; Twentieth Century-Fox Film Corporation; Columbia Pictures Corporation; Universal Pictures Corporation; and United Artists Corporation.

Mary Pickford, her former husband, Douglas Fairbanks, and Charles Chaplin were among those named as individual defendants.

Harbor Heights Section Will Be Scene Of Youth Speed Classic

Here is the Soap Box Derby speed fests. The site for the first big youth speed classic here has been named.

It is on Mamaroneck Avenue, starting at Soundview Avenue and turning down the sloping hill to North Barry Avenue. That follows is the Mamaroneck Knolls or Harbor Heights section of the village.

A map prepared by Bill Christen of the Village Engineering Department, accompanies this story showing the site.

Those boys from the Mamaroneck-Harbor area will meet one hour later, at 11 A. M., on Tuesday, in front of the Soundview Chevrolet showroom at 443 Mamaroneck Avenue.

The Lions Club, "The Daily Times" and Soundview Chevrolet, are co-sponsoring Mamaroneck Chevrolet's first annual Soap Box Derby on that date.

Mr. Wilson outlined plans for the youth speed classic here which is expected to draw upwards of 5,000 spectators, with one of the biggest drawing cards being "Theorie" or "The" Soap Box Derby.

Harbor Island and Daniel Warner School grandstands have been leased the Derby to seat 1,500 spectators. The race line is located on the island.

WHERE DERBY RACERS WILL TEST SPEED

The heavily-lined rectangle within the circle (above) is the site on Mamaroneck Avenue of The Daily Times Soap Box Derby to be held Saturday, July 30. The course, in a downward grade, is 900 feet long. It starts at Soundview Avenue and ends at North Barry Avenue. The track is in the North western part of the village, on the side of the waterworks and of the sharp turn on Mamaroneck Avenue. It slopes down toward Mamaroneck Avenue School.

CONTINUED RAIN FLOODS CELLARS ANEW IN COUNTY

Thunderstorms Predicted For Today; White Plains Hard Hit

40-MINUTE CLOUDBURST

Autos Stalled As Gauge Shows Record Downpour Of Rain in Recent Years

WHITE PLAINS, July 20—Continued rain today flooded again cellars where yesterday's flood waters were just beginning to subside, and hampered work of repairing broken street surfaces, raised driveways and overflowing wash-out roads.

Thunderstorms were forecast at noon for this afternoon and to-night with more of the steaming masses of Southwestern weather. Cooler is predicted for tomorrow.

Torrents of rain yesterday afternoon were concentrated in this vicinity and residents recalled that it had rained last Friday, St. Swinburn's Day, and some each day since.

The White Plains area, which is within three miles of ground, was flooded out of storm drains and flooded cellars, some to a depth of three feet. Wash-out cars were lifted after the water had made a fountain of them spouting up through the vents. Large sections of pavement were pushed up by the force of the water.

The Mamaroneck Joint Water Works reported a rainfall of 7.2 inches yesterday and last night. It was the heaviest in the month.

Those boys from the Mamaroneck-Harbor area will meet one hour later, at 11 A. M., on Tuesday, in front of the Soundview Chevrolet showroom at 443 Mamaroneck Avenue.

80 entrants in the Daily Times Soap Box Derby, scheduled for a week from Saturday, were notified today that their pictures will be taken next Tuesday morning, with their racers.

Entrants from the Leitchman Club, who were asked to meet for a Daily Times photo on Tuesday, at 10 A. M. sharp in front of Soundview Chevrolet, 1879 Palmer Avenue, accompanied by Bill Christen of the Village Engineering Department, accompanied this story showing the site.

40 Days Of Rain If Adage Holds

St. Swinburn's Day Superstition Threatens Continued Downpour

A lot of little boys got out of bed this morning, wet to the skin, and said when Mr. Abbenessh said, "It's raining again."

The superstition is that if it rains on St. Swinburn's Day, it will continue for 40 days thereafter.

The nine days of rainfall this month brought a total of 2.36 inches, an unusual amount for July, Mr. Abbenessh said. If it keeps raining (perhaps the thought), a record will be established for this month.

Last year 2.45 inches of rain fell during the whole month of July. This has been almost equaled by the 2.36 inches of rain which fell during the month of July, which was 1932, when Mr. Abbenessh said.

The largest amount recorded in this month was 3.30 inches in 1927, when Mr. Abbenessh said.

The rain gauge at the water works recorded 14 inches of rain yesterday, and had recorded 20 inches between midnight last night and about 10 P. M. today.

The sky was overcast, promiscuous, and it was slippery. Streets were wet and slippery. A lot of little boys with noses flattened by the rain today were probably wishing that someone would speak to St. Swinburn.
