P. S. C. Lifts Restrictions On Local Service By Fordham Line

NEW YORK—The Public Service Commission today removed restrictions on the Fordham Transit Company, Inc., against taking on passengers between Larchmont and Mamaroneck.

Under the company's original franchise, no intermediate stops were permitted between its Bronx and Rye terminals. In 1946, the commission removed restrictions against local service through New Rochelle. The new order extends the unrestricted portion of the route.

Commissioner George A. Arkwright is overruling objections of the New Haven Railroad and the County Transportation Company, Inc., that the new service would constitute "a competitive service."

"It appears that there is no direct and continuous transportation between Larchmont and Mamaroneck and the Bronx," the order continued. "The proposed extension would be convenient and necessary."

The Fordham route runs from the Bronx over the Boston Post Road through Pelham Manor, New Rochelle, Larchmont, and Mamaroneck to Playland in Rye.

The National Safety Council said 235 persons will be killed over the three-day holiday but it said the toll could be lowered if motorists used more caution. An estimated 30 million cars were expected to be on the highways as millions headed for vacation lands and lakes.

In the three-day holiday period last year the violent death toll was 322, including 253 traffic, 163 drowning, five fireworks and 109 miscellaneous causes.

UNION HELD HOPE OF WORLD PEACE
 Larchmont Chapter of UWF Draws 40 to Case Home, Dr. Warner Speaks
 A federal world government must be a grass roots movement since most politicians are afraid to take any course in which they believe, Dr. Nathaniel Warner, chairman of the Larchmont Chapter of the United World Federalists, told a group of 40 persons assembled at the case home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Case, 25 Valley Road, Larchmont.

The meeting was one of a series planned locally to acquaint the public with the aims and principles of the World Federalists and to enroll members in a conference later this year, Dr. Warner and John W. Herz, both of whom answered questions from the floor, stressed the fact that the organization seeks to work with the United Nations by revising the charter. The United Nations now serves only as a conference table, they declared, whereas to preserve world peace there must be a formal treaty with executive direction, law-making powers and the strength and authority to enforce the law. The UWF program was cited as the model of an international level and the speakers compared the present world situation with the crisis which faced the framers of the United States Constitution when the Articles of Confederation failed to bring peace and union to our country.

Mr. Herz, answering a question as to the practicability of world government, outlined several alternatives. Unless we move toward world government, he said, we face either atomic war, an armament race which has always brought war in the past, treaties and Zelta agreements which are already being interpreted in the light of conflicting ways, or peace treaties which divide the world into opposing camps growing stronger and stronger until they

PATROLMAN HURT IN POLICE GAME
 Clark Knocked Unconscious in Softball Contest With Parkway Team
 Patrolman Robert Clark of the Mamaroneck Village Police Department suffered a possible brain concussion last evening in a softball game between the Mamaroneck Police Department and the Parkway Club at Glen Park in Yonkers.
 Patrolman Clark, who was catching for the Mamaroneck team, was waiting for a throw to home plate from the outfield when a runner from third base, Taxman Marvin Erickson of the Parkway Police, collided with him. Patrolman Clark was knocked unconscious in the collision and was removed to the Yonkers General Hospital in an ambulance where he was treated and later released.

Tel Aviv Bombing Renews Palestine War As Truce Leads Battle Resumes on Zion Front; UN Still Holds Hope
 HAIFA, AP — Haifa's first air raid alarm since World War II sounded this afternoon and a bombing broke out in Northern Palestine.
 TEL AVIV (AP) — Tel Aviv was bombed today in the renewed Palestine war but the United Nations mediator still fanned flickering peace hopes.
 A Jewish commando from the three Egyptian-held villages near Be'er Sheva, 28 miles south of Tel Aviv, it said, fighting with the Israel forces yesterday before the UN mediator continued all day and acknowledged the loss of two other villages to attacking Arab forces.
 The mediator, Count Folke Bernadotte, announced in Haifa he had just received news from Amman and discussed with King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan the prospect of averting new fighting in Jerusalem and demilitarizing the Holy City. He said he still was hopeful.
 Haifa also broadcast for an expected Egyptian attack. The returned city, largest Eastern Mediterranean port, has been blasted out now for full week.
 Egyptian Attacks Reported — Newspapers in Haifa reported Egyptian attacks far to the south. New fighting had been reported 23 miles south of Tel Aviv even before the truce ended, and in Cairo an official said there was no doubt that the Egyptian Army resumed fighting this morning.
 Back in Haifa for a brief report after his talks with Abdullah, Bernadotte said he would discuss the conference other than to say it seemed demoralizing, Bernadotte said he had discussed with the Trans-Jordan Legion already held parts of the Holy City. Apparently Bernadotte had a head-on conference with King Abdullah, he said, he had discussed the prospects of another truce in Palestine to supplement the one which expired this morning.
 Bernadotte's peace proposals, rejected by both Arabs and Jews, Arab parts of Palestine, in Jerusalem as his capital.
 The bombing of Tel Aviv came a few minutes after 3 P. M., Israeli time, which was some five hours before the expiration of the truce. One offensive plane was seen over the city during the attack.

Parcel Post Stamp Meters Installed at Postoffices
 The task of waiting in line to mail parcel post packages in the postoffices of Larchmont and Mamaroneck will be cut to a minimum as the result of the installation yesterday of electrically-operated postage meter machines.
 Instead of a long wait while patrons lick and affix a variety of stamps to their packages, the line at the parcel post window is now expected to move along as rapidly as the button can be pushed on the new machines.
 Hand the clerk your package, he weighs it and takes your money, then he punches the correct denomination on the machine and out pops a printed, gummed label automatically moistened to be affixed to the package—and that's all. The label tells the postal value and the place and time of mailing, thereby saving the clerk's time since packages can immediately be sorted for mailing without the process of canceling and postmarking.
 According to an explanation issued by Pitney-Bowes Inc., of Stamford, originators and manufacturers of the machine, the new model eliminates the storing, selecting, handling and affixing of various denominations of stamps since any value from one cent to $10 is issued instantly in a single "meter stamp." In a test installation in a large Eastern post office, a line of 60 parcel-label persons was served in exactly 10 minutes.
 The machine also provides fool-proof postage control and accounting as a protection to the employee since the register can be read as easily as a gas or water meter.
 The new machines went into service yesterday at 8 A. M. in the local postoffices.

DELEGATES ELECTED TO LIONS' PARLEY
 Delegates and alternates to the Lions Club national convention in New York City, July 25 through July 29, were appointed by President David Van at the meeting of the Larchmont Lions Club Wednesday at the Pal-Mar Restaurant.
 Delegates are Joseph Torro, Harold Elmer, Herbert Neale and Dr. Joseph Roth while Dr. Daniel G. Karrel, Charles Anderson, Fred Lowe and Gustav Klein were named alternates.
 The meeting was the first presided over by the new president, who on behalf of the members, presented Dr. Karrel, outgoing president, the past president pin, attempting as a guest was Burt Rankin of Larchmont.
 "Two or three 'fairly large' loans are being negotiated now," Bissel said. And within the next week or two, talks will be in progress with most of the major countries of Europe.
 Each hopes to have $750,000,000 in credits on its books within three or four months, the countries then could draw funds as needed for the development of power, railroad, mining, harbor and other industrial projects.
 Such loan-financed projects can play a major part in the expansion of Europe's production and export trade, ECA officials feel, if they are handled economically that aid probably will be confined to grants throughout the first year at least. This Bissel said, is true of Austria and Central Germany, and perhaps France.
 Meantime the foreign aid agencies unveiled a new plan to help revive trade among the European countries. Part of the plan is the dollar allocations for the current quarter, July through September, earmarked for intra-European use only.
 The bill forces the Western European countries to buy a certain amount of goods from each other or forfeit that much dollar help. The rest of the allocation of grants and loans may be spent in the United States or elsewhere, subject to ECA approval of each purchase.

 Plans for the drive were made Tuesday night at the first meeting held in Mamaroneck, presided over by Commander Kuritzky, who appointed the following committee chairmen and members for the coming year: house committee, James Heywood, chairman; Edward Lowery, and James Castellano; building committee, William Priar, chairman; Frank P. Wilson, and Samuel Smith; entertainment committee, Orlando Croso and Thomas Roberts, co-chairmen; membership committee, Roger Harper, chairman; Kenneth Van Allen was appointed athletic officer and Frank Wright will handle publicity.
 Edward Block was elected delegate and Robert Drake, alternate, to the Westchester County convention to be held in Mt. Kisco on July 16 and 17.
 Preliminary plans for a clam-bake to be held on Sept. 7 at Baldwin's Estate on Rockland Avenue were also discussed.

SCARSDALE DRAWS 30,000 FOR FIREWORKS
 SCARSDALE (AP) — An audience of about 30,000, the largest crowd ever to assemble for a fireworks display here, watched the water-delayed celebration at Butler Field last night, with ceremonies conducted by State Senator Philip W. Williamson and Mayor Kerney O'Connor.
 The U. S. Air Force band from Mitchell Field began a concert of military music at 8:30 P. M. and continued until 8:30 P. M. when Senator Williamson took charge, introducing Mayor Harry S. Humpfrey, Jr., who addressed the large crowd gathered in the field.
 Colors were advanced by the color guard of Fort Slocum, under Maj. O'Connor followed by the pledge of allegiance by the audience. This volley was fired by a double fire squad from Slocum as a salute to the flag, and a spectacular fireworks show was fired with the American flag unfurling and flying above the field.
 Showing of elaborate set pieces and aerial fireworks continued until 10 P. M.

CIO's Murray Declines Democrats' Invitation

PITTSBURGH, (AP) — Philip Murray today declined an invitation to address the Democratic National Convention in Philadelphia next week on labor.

The president of the CIO and its affiliate, the United Steelworkers, thus became the third national labor leader to decline such an invitation. Dan Tobin of the AFL, Teamsters and William Green, AFL president previously had declined similar invitations from J. Howard McGrath, chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Village Workers Cooperate In Preparing Derby Course

Everybody pitches in to make the Soap Box Derby a success and it is cooperation from Village of Mamaroneck officials and employees which is one of the major items in making Derby Day one which lingers long in the memory of all spectators and of all contestants whether they win or lose. Without the assistance of Village Manager Johnson and the departments under him the running of the Derby would be a far more difficult task than it is—as a matter of fact it would be practically impossible.

A member of the Lions Club Mr. Johnson plays a vital part in selecting the course and in acquiring the necessary permits from the county to use the course selected. That, however, is only the beginning.

Then, with equipment available other Village employees get to work. A large group of Park and Street Department workers is on the course this afternoon getting set for tomorrow's race.

The stands must be dismantled, trucked to the course and erected. The observation tower must be put into place (a big job of transportation in itself), the snow fence must be strung along the entire course and well beyond the finish line. This safety zone beyond the finish is of major importance because most Derby mishaps seem to occur when the boys put on their brakes after crossing the line. With the zone contestants can roll well down Mamaroneck Avenue and reduce speed gradually before they sign on the line.

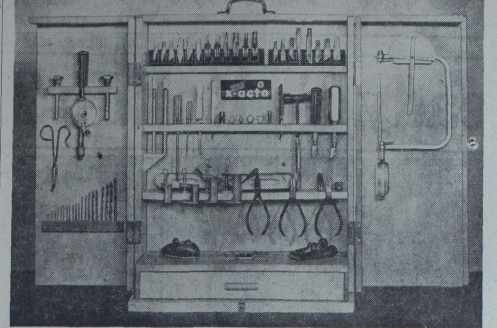

That much finished the course must be marked. The two lanes must be carefully measured. That is an engineering job and it's up to Guy Vroman, Village engineer and his staff to do it.

When everything is ready the Village crew retires—but not for long. A couple of hours later when a new clamp has been crowned and the crowds have gone home everybody's happy except the Village squad because now they go back to work and do everything in reverse.

Down comes the snow fence, the stands are dismantled and returned, markings are taken off the course, the tower goes back, and the papers and litter which naturally accumulate where big crowds gather, is cleaned up.

The men work into the night and soon Mamaroneck Avenue looks its old self and only those who saw the exciting competition know that a Soap Box Derby has been run over the course.

Before and after the Derby the Village departments help mightily to make the day a big one for boys and spectators.

Best Designed Racer Wins Tool Chest From Shell Oil

A large cabinet-type tool chest, specially designed for scale model building and wood finishing will be awarded by the Shell Oil Co. to the boy building the best-designed car in tomorrow's Daily Times Soap Box Classic. The company, through arrangements with the Chevrolet Motor Car Co. and The Daily Times, will also furnish mechanical lifts, lubricants and informed attendants at the starting line where the company's experts will help the boys with their lubrication problems and furnish repair materials for last-minute adjustments before the contestants go streaking down the hill.

The company has perfected an improved lubricant for the Derby racers at its large Wood River, Ill., laboratories. The lubricant has been actually road-tested at Akron's Derby Downs and every Derby contestant will be given a prize.

The tool chest, prize for the best designed car, contains a complete assortment of knives, blades, gouges, punches, routers and specially designed hobby tools. It is ideal for many types of work with wood, leather, plastics and paper. Besides serving as a prize for the mamaroneck classic the chest will also be one of the awards at the national finals in Akron on Aug. 15, where it will be presented to the boy with the best-constructed car. The chest measures 17 by 22 by 6 inches.

WEATHER VARIED AT DERBY RACES

Weather at the seven previous Soap Box Derbies has been more than a little bit variable. Some years the Derby has been blessed with perfect racing weather, not too hot and not too cold and with none of that stuff the prognosticators call "precipitation." That happened in 1938.

Otherwise, however, there've been hot days, humid days, showery days, and storm days. In 1939, for instance, it started hot and humid and the boys got through to the semi-finals when the bottom seemed to drop out of the sky. It turned out a practical cloud burst. But the race went on.

In 1940 spectators and contestants were well fired by the hottest, most humid day of the Summer. In 1941 the parade started from St. Thomas's Community House in a light sprinkle of rain which fortunately stopped and was followed by perfect racing weather.

When the Derby was resumed in 1946 Mamaroneck Avenue was like an oven on race day and last year Old Sol did his stuff again, accompanied by high humidity.

Anyway, Mr. Weatherman has promised us with plenty of variety.

Mayor B. J. Santoro of Mamaroneck, Mayor Walter E. Washburn of Larchmont, and Supervisor Owen A. Mandeville of the Town of Mamaroneck, have issued a joint proclamation which sets aside tomorrow as official Soap Box Derby Day. The proclamation reads as follows:

"Whereas, the All-American Soap Box Derby, sponsored by The Daily Times, Luby Chevrolet Co., Inc., and conducted by the Lions Club of Mamaroneck and throughout the United States and Canada sponsored by leading newspapers and civic organizations, will be conducted in Mamaroneck on Saturday, July 10, and

"Whereas, the youth of our communities will compete in the spirit of true sportsmanship in a supervised race of vehicles planned and constructed by them in accordance with national rules, and

"Whereas, this event is outstanding through its stimulation of American ingenuity and enterprise among the youth of our communities and of this nation, and

"Whereas, this event creates a great interest among our people in youth programs which will serve to assist in teaching boys to exercise their natural talents and skills, and

"Whereas, this class boys event offers opportunity to develop a splendid spirit of friendship, goodwill and cooperation in Mamaroneck and Larchmont and its surrounding communities, as we wish to pay tribute to youth, and

"Now, therefore, we do hereby proclaim July 10 as All-American Soap Box Derby Day in Mamaroneck and Larchmont and invite all our citizens to view the event and urge all our male youth to participate in programs such as this one."

The Daily Times for race day and the winner will, of course, be sent to Akron for the national final with the trip financed by The Daily Times.

Full coverage of the race will be handled by the editorial staff. A story concerning this appears elsewhere in this issue.

The Luby Chevrolet Co. Inc., in Larchmont, co-sponsor, also had a hand in running the classic. Entries were taken at the Luby offices and Luby provided the book "It's Easy to Build a Soap Box Race" for every contestant.

Through the Chevrolet Co. many of the items necessary for the successful running of the Derby were supplied, such as the helmets each boy will receive, numbered stickers for each car, the beautiful N. Drexelst wall plaque which goes to the Mamaroneck winner, and gold, silver and bronze tie clasps for first, second and third place winners in both Classes A and B. Add to that heat winner ties and official racing lists and you've got a little bit of an idea of what the sponsor does.

No, the Derby is not a non-organization undertaking and, although they've got lots of help, the co-sponsors still have plenty to do in order to insure that the classic is well-run and that the Derby spectacle is thrilling and interesting.

HELPFUL HINTS

All entrants in the 1948 Daily Times-Luby Chevrolet Co. Inc. classic received a copy of an exciting and well illustrated book entitled "It's Easy To Build A Soap Box Derby Racer."

The book, jammed full of helpful hints and drawings, was supplementary to the regular rule book and was presented by Luby Chevrolet Co. Inc., co-sponsor of the big race.

"We had a Derby that year," Mr. Wilson, "which couldn't be matched for enthusiasm. There have been years with far bigger entry lists and larger numbers of spectators, but by and large there never was more enthusiasm in an affair which is run for the sake of the boys."

William F. MacDonald Jr., former manager of the County Trust Co. branch in Mamaroneck and now assistant branch manager and vice president in the bank's main office in White Plains, looks back on the experience with lots of pleasure.

"Work? Sure there was plenty of it, but all the effort was rewarded by the best show anybody has ever seen," he says, "and the youngsters and the cooperation of the men and organizations, good-natured and generous, created when thousands of residents turn out to watch the youngsters do their stuff. You can't help but get a kick out of that."

In 1940 the Rev. Theodore O. Pessel, Jr., pastor of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church, took over the Derby reins.

"It's plenty of fun working with the youngsters," Mr. Pessel says, "but sometimes a chairman wonders whether there will ever be an end to details which crop up. However, both boys and committees were so cooperative that when Derby Day came everything went smoothly."

"Then there's the character building element implicit in Derby competition. The race makes boys realize the value of sportsmanship and there's also something in watching the contestants overcome one difficulty after another as they build their racers and finally coming up with a complete job. Briefly, it's good for the boys and that alone make the work of organizing and conducting a Derby worthwhile."

Came 1941 and the last previous running of the classic, this time under the direction of Village Manager William H. Johnson. The Village Manager emphasized that a large complement of equipment and men are needed to prepare for and then to run the Derby. He emphasized the safety angle of the classic and said "There's always a fear before the race that some ambitious youngster might take his car out for an unsupervised trial run and get hurt."

"But all in all it's a worthwhile undertaking, a fascinating job and a lot of fun. I'd do it again."

When the Derby came back in 1946 William E. Thurston, general manager of Westchester Joint Water Works No. 1 took over the chairmanship. He described his task as "quite a lively one." "The affair, however, after a lapse of five years was a smash hit with the public and a great experience for the contestants."

Last year's big race was run by Leo Heithaus of Happiness Laundry and when contacted and asked for his opinion of it Mr. Heithaus remarked, "Say anything good you want about the race. Whatever you say won't be good enough because I never

Former Chairmen Never Lose
Enthusiasm For Derby Work

The Soap Box Derby, although it's loads and loads of work never loses interest for those who have had a hand in running it. Witness the fact for instance that Lions Club chairman of the six previous Derbies held in Mamaroneck are still enthusiastic about the classic and every one of them is doing an important job in running the 1948 affair.

It was just 10 years ago in 1938 that the first Derby was run here. Fred T. Wilson was chairman for that one and he calls it "far and away the most interesting work I've been called on to do."

"We had a Derby that year," Mr. Wilson, "which couldn't be matched for enthusiasm. There have been years with far bigger entry lists and larger numbers of spectators, but by and large there never was more enthusiasm in an affair which is run for the sake of the boys."

crowded so much work into the days of organizing and running the Derby, nor did I ever get so much pleasure out of a job."

All former chairmen backed up their opinion of the race by pointing out that they are active again this year. Mr. Wilson is working with the committee on admissions, Mr. MacDonald has charge of activities at the tower, the Pev. Mr. Pessel is handling publicity and will be one of the timers, Mr. Johnson is caring for arranging the course, Mr. Thurston is head of the refreshment committee, and Mr. Heithaus will be in charge at the finish line.

Working for the Derby seems to go into a man's blood and stay there!

RICCI IS OLDEST DERBY ENTRANT

Philip Ricci of 625 Willow Street, Mamaroneck, is the oldest contestant racing in this year's Derby classic, a check of the entry list shows. Ricci will be 16 years of age on Aug. 25 and will be competing in his last classic, unless the national rules happen to be changed next year.

Close behind Ricci comes Franklin D. Lanza who will reach his 16th birthday on Dec. 6. Others who will be making their final attempt to get the big prize are Joseph Costa and Sal Marcellino, both of Ward Avenue. All four boys are veterans of the 1947 race and all but Marcellino competed in 1946.

Two others, Joseph Dinello, Jr. and Francis Durke will be 16 before the 1949 Derby, but under present rules they may compete again because their 16th birthday comes after June 1.

At the other end the youngest resident this year is John Masie of Rye whose 11th birthday came on June 19. W. Brendon Sullivan of Pine Knoll Lane runs him a close second for "youngest" honors as he became 11 years old on June 12.

DERBY INSURED

The Daily Times-Luby Chevrolet Co. Inc. Soap Box Derby is completely covered by both property and public liability insurance. In addition, coverage has been provided for every contestant in the big race.

NO DERBY BODIES FROM OLD TANKS

One basic rule concerning Soap Box Derby car construction is that there are certain prohibitions affecting the construction of car bodies.

Bodies fashioned from airplane gas tanks, water tanks, or similar units are not permitted, nor may metal lath be used in the construction. Plaster and concrete are also taboo and windshields of any kind are not allowed. Cars incorporating any of these features will not be permitted in the local race or in the national final.

The Derby seeks to develop a boy's mechanical talents. Myron F. Scott, director of the race for Chevrolet, national co-sponsor of the Derby, pointed out: "The more of the car he actually builds himself, the more the Derby activity furthers his creative instincts. Employment of these already fabricated units is contrary to the basic principle of the race."

It was pointed out however, that the rules specifically permit boys to use as body covering tin, sheet metal, aluminum, aluminum foil, fabric, wood, leather, paper, fiber wallboard paper, mack, plywood, linoleum, wire, cardboard or any other substance a boy might conceivably employ.

SINGLE PURPOSE

The entire Soap Box Derby program is dedicated to one purpose—to provide a constructive, inspirational activity for young boys which will encourage them to make good use of their leisure time and will promote their growth of sportsmanship through fair and open competition.

The 25 boys make up well over half of last year's total competitors. In the 1947 race exactly 34 boys went to the starting line. All but 14 are back this year and when it is taken into consideration that the 1947 champ, Walter Sternhaus, is ineligible and that seven other 1947 contenders are now over-age, it figures that only six boys who raced in the race failed to enter this year.

Dunn, Jr., co-chairmen, have set up the general plans for the event and have closely followed the organizational set-up of last year's classic. They have been assisted by a steering committee composed of all past chairmen of the race. Included are William H. Johnson, Fred T. Wilson, William Thrasher, Leo Heithaus, and the Rev. Theodore O. Posselt, Jr. This committee has been augmented by the addition of Charles Schmidt of the Larchmont Lions club, Joseph Caporera of Hartson Lions, and Dr. William L. Hitchcock of the Rye Lions Club. The latter three were added because this year's race takes in entries from surrounding communities.

Jack Egemeier has had charge of the all-important inspection committee which has been working hard the past several weeks giving every car in tomorrow's race three thorough inspections, checking on every detail of construction in order to insure absolute safety, make certain that every racing car is built according to the rules, and that every car is boy-built. The committee also conducted the final inspection which was held Wednesday at Mamaroneck Avenue School. Stewart Halsey, John Robinson, Carl Strauch, Albert Mueller, Brewster Smith, Ernest Kasting, Erwin C. Meyer, Jonathan Welsh and Mrs. Wyn H. Connor.

Wingie Manager William H. Johnson has had charge of setting up the course as well as outlining and setting up blockers. Other committees, active long before the race, included a group which secured sponsors for every boy needing one. R. J. Diforio handled that angle. One of the difficulties this year was in securing official 1948 Soap Box Derby wheel and axle sets. Finally, through R. G. Brewer of the Taine Club enough sets for all the boys were located and sold to the contestants at cost price. Every youngster, win or lose, is assured of at least one prize through the activity of the prize committee under the chairmanship of R. J. O'Neill. This group canvassed the merchants of Mamaroneck and included Edward Marzullo, Peter C. Dowdy, Cyril Treacy, W. Roy Halsey and Brewster Smith. Members of other Lions Clubs assisted in setting prizes in their communities.

Other pre-race work was handled by Everett Houghton who made arrangements for the scales used Wednesday in weighing in the contestants and their cars. Kirby Davidson of Luby Chevrolet, Inc., who arranged for transportation of cars on the hill; and the Rev. Theodore O. Posselt, Jr. who was assisted by Charles Gas in publicity work for the big event.

But preparations for the race are only a part of the job done by the Leos. Tomorrow they'll be out on the hill in full force to climax their efforts by running the race.

Charles Warren will have the first job tomorrow, that of arranging cars in the order in which they will race. Boys have drawn for heats and lanes and the parade from Mamaroneck Avenue School up the hill to the starting line will then march in reverse order to that in which they will race. Later on Warren will have charge of setting up the order of racing for winners of heats.

The start parade will be marshaled by Ralph N. Darcy, immediate past president of the Lions Club and then the competition will be under way.

At the top of the hill Jack Halsey, athletic director at P. E. Hedges High School, will be the starter and others working near the starting ramps will be Dr. Irvin A. Marsland, flag officer; William J. Kuntz at the direct telephone connection with the bottom of the hill; Charles Timin, Alfred Vollenweider, Hunter Meisner and Alfred Hicks who will operate the starting ramps; and William Thrasher together with Walter Ficke who will provide light refreshments for the boys.

At the finish line H. R. Campbell, managing editor of the co-sponsor Daily Times, will be chief of judges with Judge Charles M. Baxter as his assistant. Gabriel Wendel will head the timers with the Rev. Theodore O. Posselt, Jr. and R. J. Diforio as committee members.

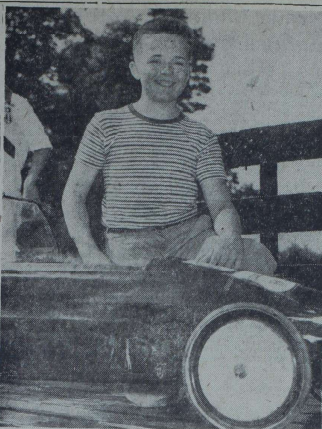

Last year's chairman, Leo Heithaus, will be in charge of all operations at the finish line and the flag officer will be Fred H. Burr. Earl Quirk will handle the vital Clerk of Course task with Albert Wilson as his assistant and admissions to the bleachers will be in charge of Charles Sillick, Fred D. Richards, Cyril Treacy and E. B. Watson. William MacDonald will be in charge of the lower.

In the untiring event that any protests are made they will be decided by a committee composed of Chaslaus Rowan, C. Smith, Arthur Dunn, Jr., and H. Richmond Campbell. A photographic record of the race will be made by W. Roy Halsey. They, when the race is over, the prize committee will take over, assign prizes and arrange for their distribution some time next week.

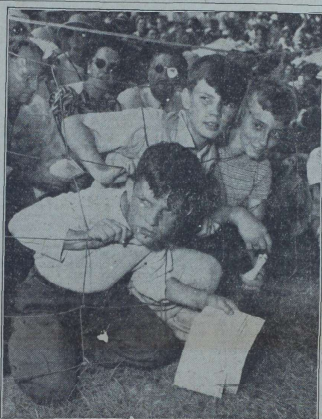

All in all it's a mighty big job which the Lions have taken over but members of the club seem to revel in it. To them it's worth all the work, all the planning and all the effort because this biggest of all amateur events is for the boys of the community and in its set up and operation aims to instill in the boys those qualities which go to make up good citizenship.

PUT IN MOTOR
The Soap Box Derby calls for ingenuity on the part of all boys competing but last year Robert Aulerich of Detroit had almost too much ingenuity. He started to build his racer early. The construction was so good that he decided to mount a 1½ horsepower motor on the frame, change from hard rubber to pneumatic tires, place the motor in the rear, license the contraption and then go putting around town.

However, Aulerich also built another car and raced in the Detroit News event. Cars Really Speed
It doesn't sound so fast but when you get a car built with a road clearance of three to five inches 25 miles per hour is quite some speed. That's about how fast racers travel as they come streaking down the hill. It was back in 1941 that Motor Cycle Officer John Prendergast

THE THRILL-PAKED SOAP BOX DERBY attracts spectators from all walks of life, young and old, all of whom regard the greatest amateur racing event in the world as one of the highlights of the Summer. These boys were caught clicking their watches out to get the best possible view of their favorites in the Championship Derby at Akron last year.

Times to Cover Local and National Races

Complete coverage of the local Soap Box Derby tomorrow and of the national All-American Derby at Akron on Aug. 15, are assured readers of The Daily Times.

Two writers and a staff photographer will be on hand at Mamaroneck Avenue hill to get every bit of news which develops. One will cover the details of the race itself and another will be on the course to pick up sidelights and interviews with officials and contestants. A staff photographer will also be present to insure complete pictorial coverage of the big event.

The Daily Times will also have special coverage of the race in Akron when the Mamaroneck champion will compete in the national finals. H. Richmond Campbell, editor and general manager of The Daily Times, plans to go to Akron for the race and to accompany the local champ through all the thrilling events leading up to the competition on Derby Downs and following the race.

Blocked the running of each heat and found that virtually all the cars averaged about 26 miles an hour. They'll probably go a bit faster this year because of improved design and better wheels.

Westchester Weighs Extended Chlorination In Pollution War

WHITE PLAINS — In further efforts to eliminate sewage pollution which on many occasions caused closing of Westchester bathing beaches this year, County Public Works Commissioner James C. Harding is considering extended use of chlorination of sewage plant effluent for the 1949 season.

At present the county begins chlorination of the output of county-operated sewage treatment plants on May 15 and continues such sanitation aid until Sept. 15.

C. A. Holmquist, director of sanitation for the State Health Department, has proposed that two weeks additional periods of chlorination be added at each end of the bathing season, beginning on May 1 and continuing until Sept. 30.

Checking on the added cost, Commissioner Harding has a report from Otto Gerlach, in charge

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Chapter of the American Red Cross has issued an emergency call for registered nurses for duty in North Carolina to help combat a poliomyelitis epidemic. Two nurses already have left this area. Red Cross officials

Variety Of Awards Awaits Every Contestant In Derby

Prizes big and prizes little await the lucky and unlucky contestants in the big Soap Box Derby to be run tomorrow on Mamaroneck's new Derby Downs. The course, on Mamaroneck Avenue between Soundview and Barry Avenues, is a testing one for every driver as well as for every car and every youngster who has had the ingenuity, the ability and the perseverance to build a car is assured of at least one award, whether he wins or whether he loses.

The winner will, of course, represent Mamaroneck at Akron, but he'll also come away with trophies, best prizes and perhaps some special prizes donated by generous merchants in Mamaroneck, Larchmont, Harrison and Rose, as well as manufacturers, restaurateurs and business men.

That trip to Akron is what every one of the boys will be after and that will be supplemented by the N. Dreyfus with the winners' name inscribed as well as a gold cup for winning in his class. But that's only the start because the Mamaroneck Lions Club committee under E. J. O'Neill has collected an assortment of prizes which is difficult to equal.

There will be pen and pencil sets, a wrist watch, soft balls, bats, gloves, games, flashlights, free dinners, fishing gear, precision tool sets, and so many awards that it's impossible to list them all. The interest to each item as hair tonic, donated by a local barber shop. Prizes are still coming in as this Soap Box issue of The Daily Times goes to press. Speed on the course, however, won't be the only basis on which the awards are made. There will be handsome prizes for important items of construction. For example, there's the Shell Oil Co. X-Aceto tool chest for the best designed car, there's the precision vise given by Collins and Airman for the best upholstered car and there will be awards for the best brakes, best steering, best looking, most unusual, most original steering, oddest design, best springs, best metal work and so on, an incalculable list. It wouldn't be at all surprising if the committee came up with something for the best looking kid in the race, or for the toughest looking youngster.

Also, the winner's mechanic and the runner up's mechanic are on the prize committee's list. They'll come away with some of the loot, as they help their principals get up on the top of the Soap.

Some of the prizes, not nearly all, are on display in the Fred T. Wilson Corp. window at 433 Mamaroneck Avenue. Already many boys have stopped and looked with admiration at the offerings of business and professional men of Mamaroneck and its surrounding communities. Many a lad has nose away from the window sorry that he didn't have the foresight to enter the Derby, build a car and get in on the big event.

Arrangements are being made and will be announced in the near future for the time and place for awarding the coveted trophies which represent hard and skillful work by the contestants in the

ONLY BIG STORM WILL HALT RACE

No Mamaroneck Soap Box Derby has ever been postponed because of the weather but on one or two occasions the weatherman has come close to ruining the race. What'll happen, though, if it rains tomorrow?

Take it from Howard Smith, chairman for the big event, that nothing short of rain heavy enough to make the course unsafe will cause a postponement. Arrangements for the race are so complicated with regard to permits to use the racetrack strip on Mamaroneck Avenue, police protection, radio, and all the other multitudinous details that postponement would just about amount to a tragedy. Then there's the thought that the contestants are so keyed up for tomorrow that deferring the race would be anti-climactic.

So, if it's humanly possible and as long as weather, of which we've been having too much of the bad sort, doesn't make the course unsafe, the race will be run as scheduled.

Should it be impossible to send the boys out on the course, the Derby will be run at the same time Sunday.

But, weatherman, please be

WHERE BAD MONEY'S GOOD
BANGKOK (AP)—Counterfeiters are so good in Siam that experts have trouble detecting fakes. So said a criminal court judge, dismissing a charge that a village medicine man had 40 fake notes for the purchase of rice, bark and leaves he used for dabbings. Since Bank of Siam experts had difficulty telling a counterfeit note from a real one, said the judge, you couldn't expect villagers to spot the bad ones.

GOLD MINING SLOWS
SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Gold production in Australia is still declining, although experts say a great fortune is waiting to be mined. The output for April was 61,036 fine ounces valued at $2,929,220. In March it was 62,907 ounces and in April last year 66,856. Although still greater than during the war years, the production of gold is lower than pre-war figures. In 1929, 1,645,697 fine ounces were produced but last year the total output was down to 1,080,000 ounces.

CLASS WINNERS GET SILVER CUPS

Two silver cups, one for each of the Class A and B winners are among the prizes to be awarded in the 1948 Soap Box Derby classic. The awards have been presented by Dr. Helen Parkhurst who conducts the radio program "Child's World" over WJZ every Thursday evening.

Dr. Parkhurst will be at the Derby tomorrow afternoon as a result of her interview with youthful Donald Martin of Larchmont, one of the entrants in Class B. She and her guests will have reserved seats in the grandstand.

The interview which resulted in a recent "Child's World" program will be repeated at 6 o'clock by special arrangement with Dr. Parkhurst on station WFAS radio outlet for the Westchester County Publishers.

"Young Donald Martin," writes Dr. Parkhurst, "is entirely responsible for my enthusiasm in the race. His description of his racer and his dreams about the event captivated 'Child's World' audiences from coast to coast."

If the presentation of cups does not interfere with one of my broadcasting appointments I should be happy to attend when the awards are presented."

TRAFFIC PLANS SET FOR DERBY

All traffic will be detoured tomorrow at the scene of the Derby classic, according to an announcement by Police Chief Arthur W. Martensen. Mamaroneck Avenue between Warren and Hillside Avenues will be completely closed to traffic during the running of the Soap Box Derby and the speeding youngsters will be provided with the fullest police protection and will have the assurance that, although their wagons may break the speed limit, they won't get any tickets.

Chief Martensen has requested the assignment of patrolmen and motorcycle officers from the Town of Mamaroneck, the Village of Larchmont, the City of Arze and the Town of Harrison to help in patrolling the course and the detour.

Village firemen under Chief William Lennon will also be stationed along the course to handle crowds and help in meeting any emergency which may arise.

Because Mamaroneck Avenue is the only exit from Knobwood Avenue, necessary traffic will be permitted to move from and to Knobwood Avenue.

Barricades, however, will close off all streets entering Mamaroneck Avenue as far as Hillside Avenue where another barricade and an officer's station will mark the end of the course. Another patrolman will be stationed at Mamaroneck and Warren Avenues and at Knobwood Avenue.

Motorcycle officers as well as extra police will patrol the course and the detour. Village firemen will be stationed at intervals along the course and in the safety zone set beyond the finish line.

SPONSORS ASSIST MOST ENTRANTS

Every youngster racing tomorrow, who needed a sponsor and requested one, is being sponsored by merchants, clubs, manufacturers or private individuals.

Most of the racers will have some firm name painted on their cars but just what proportion of youngsters is being sponsored is not known since several have reported "unlabeled" entries which will only be backed by persons wishing to remain anonymous.

R. J. Dorfiro of the Mamaroneck Lions Club was chairman of the sponsoring committee and has successfully found a sponsor for every boy who needed one.

SPECIAL AWARDS AT DERBY FINALS

Four special trophies, in addition to those awarded to the national championship Soap Box Derby drivers who finish in the first four places, will be presented in Akron to Derby competitors.

They will go to the boys whose cars are the best designed, best-upholstered, have the best brakes, the best constructed and run the fastest heat. The winners will be selected by the National Contest Board of the All-American Soap Box Derby.

These trophies will be of special significance this year because of the rule-changes which have simplified construction, yet put a premium on good design and workmanship.

The C. F. Kettering Trophy for the best-designed car will go to the car whose overall appearance, originality of design, safety, style and adaptability to speed is deemed best of the 138 entries in the championship race at Akron.

The best-upholstered-car trophy is given annually by the Collins & Aikman Corp., manufacturers of upholstery materials, who will consider, among other things, neatness of the upholstery, paneling of the car and the ingenuity exhibited by the builder.

The best constructed car in the national finals will win the Small Oil Co. award, a Hande Tool Kit. The award will be made on the basis of safety and originality in construction.

The Chevrolet trophy for the best brakes is of unusual importance also, because drastic rule changes involving the Small Oil Co. 1948 cars, a single drag brake must be used, and the facing must be no more than 18 inches from the extreme rear of the car and must be in the exact center of the width of the car, according to the new rules. The brake must be operated by a foot pedal—hand operation is prohibited. The brake must be faced with a piece of tire tread with a contact area of at least nine square inches with the track. Facing must be bolted to the brake shoe.

The fourth special trophy is given by Chevrolet to the boy whose car runs down Derby Downs race course in the fastest time of the finals. Each heat is timed automatically by an electric timer, and a photo-finish camera records the winner of each race. Thus the fastest heat can be picked easily without the possibility of an error.

One Third Of Derby Entries Reside Outside Mamaroneck

There is a 1-2 chance that The Daily Times-Loby Chevrolet, Inc. Soap Box Derby championship for 1948 will go to a contestant outside of Mamaroneck. For the first time in local Derby history, 33 per cent of the entries need have come from outside Mamaroneck and it may be a boy from Larchmont, Harrison, Rye or even Pelham who will carry away the coveted Mamaroneck trophy and who will make the trip to Akron for the national finals as guest of The Daily Times.

It is also the first time since 1938 that boys outside the Mamaroneck-Larchmont area have

60 'CHISELING' CASES CITED BY STATE AIDE

MOUNT VERNON — 60 cases of "chiseling" in unemployment insurance benefits have been uncovered in this area during the past few weeks and violators have been forced to return several thousand dollars. This was announced today by Miss Roslyn Radner, manager of the local office of the State Division of Placement and Unemployment Insurance.

Miss Radner said that most cases of chiseling were uncovered in the severest industry, and investigators of the Unemployment Insurance Division uncovered the frauds. All persons who obtained benefits to which they were not entitled were requested to return the money.

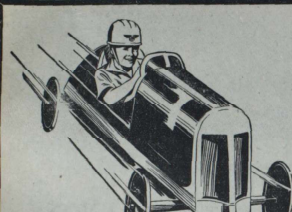

"Masses of unemployment insurance is dangerous," added Miss Radner. A conviction may carry a penalty of one year in jail and a $500 fine for each week's pay obtained illegally.

Heithaus, 1947 Local Champ, Sorry He Can't Race Again

There's one boy in Mamaroneck qualified by age, who simply can't race in this year's Soap Box Derby, nor in next year's, nor in a 1950 Soap Box event. His age would permit him to run in all three—but the rules won't.

He's the only youngster in the entire territory covered by the Mamaroneck classic who is within the age group, whose entry would be turned down.

He's young Walter Heithaus of Wood Street, and he'd love to get into the race—but he's in the 1947 local Soap Box champ and national rules definitely state that no local champion may again compete for Derby honors.

Young Walter, who won his honors when he was only 12 years old, doesn't like the idea at all. "Sure," says he, "I'd get into the race again. I'm sorry I can't because Soap Box racing is such fun that win or lose, any boy who has entered a race and won it hates to think that he can't compete again."

The Mamaroneck champ, however, is philosophical about the whole matter. "I suppose," he opines, "that it's a fair rule because it gives as many boys as possible the fun and excitement of a trip to Akron to compete in the national finale. But I'd like to get another shot at that bunch of champs out there."

"Anyway, I can't do that," he says, however, that whoever wins tomorrow, he'll have just as much fun as I did and come away from Akron with the big prize."

There is another rule in the book with regard to the car and wheels of past champions. They also may not again enter and Derby competition.

The rule specifically states: "No boy who has ever won an officially sponsored Soap Box Derby race, nor his car, nor his wheels, nor any part of his car, will be allowed in the 1948 Derby."

Other cars that have been entered in previous races, however, may compete if they have been altered to conform to the 1948 rules. They must be entered and driven by the boys who built them originally. A car or boy who has competed in one local authorized Soap Box Derby may not enter another authorized race in the same year.

And a new rule provides that any car or boy that has won any race not authorized by the local sponsoring newspaper or by Chevrolet dealers may not enter an authorized race.

CHECKERED FLAG GOES TO VICTOR

The victor in the All-American Soap Box Derby at Akron, Ohio, on Aug. 15 will receive a black and white checkered flag bearing the autographs of the ten previous All-American and International Derby champions.

The memento, introduced at the All-American Derby last year, is a perpetual award. The winner keeps the flag for one year, then returns it the next year to be passed on to the current winner.

Victor's signatures are embroidered in the six-inch white squares of the 36-inch silk flag.

The name occupying the first position is that of Robert Turner, Muncie, Ind., 1934 winner. The last name to go on this unique flag was that of Kenneth Holmboe of Charlton, W. Va., 1947 champion.

The checkered flag is the authentic symbol of the winner in all types of vehicle racing and lies in with the motif of the Nicholas Dreyfus award, which shows the winner flagged down by the checkered banner at the finish line.

RULES ARE EASED FOR 1948 RACERS

The 1948 Soap Box Derby racing cars, built under radically changed rules, have been simpler to design and construct and more in keeping with the original idea of a boy-built car made out of wooden boxes.

The rule changes were adopted by the National Rules Committee of the Derby and were formulated so that racing car construction would be on a more equitable basis for all boys.

The trend in design of the Soap Box Derby racers was such that it was becoming more and more difficult each year for a boy to build a championship car," said C. J. French, executive Derby director and advertising manager, Chevrolet Motor Division, co-sponsor of the event. "The Rules Committee felt that, with the new rules, more entrants will be attracted to the race because the cars will be easier to build."

The most important rule changes involve body design, steering and brakes. All the new rules emphasize safety in construction, and all tend to make the new cars easier to build and safer to drive.

"Some of the ultra-streamlined models that were being built for Derby racing were fashioned after torpedoes, jet planes or transparent automobiles on wheels," said French. "They were getting too far away from the original conception of the soap-box racer. The new rules will open the race up to boys of average technical abilities and give many more boys a chance to compete in the race."

The Derby is open to boys from 13 to 15 years of age inclusive, and the cardinal rule which remains unchanged is that the car must be boy-built throughout, and must be built by the boy who drives it in the race. Older boys or adults can give advice only.

The overall height of the car was reduced in the new rules from 32 to 28 inches, and it is provided that no windshield is to be used, nor any transparent material to be used anywhere on the car. The steering wheel must be placed on the top of the car. The steering wheel must be counteracted; the tendency of car-builders in recent years to construct an integral part of the car.

The use of a tiller for steering was banned, but a similar steering-bar may be used as a part of the steering apparatus only when it is coupled with a steering wheel.

Improvements were made in the construction of the cable-type connection of wheels to steering gear, providing that the stum around which the cable winds may be no more than an inch and a half in diameter. A narrow drum makes for more accurate steering, the experts declared. The cable must be anchored to the drum or threaded through it to keep it from slipping.

Brakes were ordered changed so that the force of the draw on the pavement will be as far toward the rear of the car as possible. The braking surface, under the new rules, must be no more than 18 inches from the rear of the car, and it must be in the exact center of the car, from side to side. It must be foot-operated, as before, with a pedal. The brake facing must be of tire tread, and the surface touching the pavement must be at least nine square inches.

OPPOSES PLAY STREET
MOUNT VERNON — WAYNE D. HEDGECOCK, nationally known planning consultant, has vigorously opposed designation of Park Place in Mount Vernon as a play street. He suggested, instead, that City officials gain approval for use of County-owned property near the Cross County Parkway for a play area.

EPI TAPHS TELL OLD WEST STORY

TOMBSTONE, Ariz., (AP) — Epitaphs in Boothill Graveyard have tell some of the story of early Tombstone—the town "too tough to die."

President Truman gave national prominence to the western lore of the cemetery when he paraded his White House efforts to the life of a cowboy whose headstone reads, "Here Lies Jack Williams. 'Tis done his damndest."

Many of the original epitaphs of the men who died with their "boots on" were collected by souvenir hunters before a watch was kept over the graveyard.

Boothill's first group of graves mark the climax of the famous Clanton-Earp feud which ended with blazing gun play 87 years ago. The single marker reads: "Tom McLowery, Frank McLowery, Bill Clanton—Murdered on the streets of Tombstone." That's the quiet opinion of Clanton sympathizers.

Then there's George Johnson who had a sad demise. He was "killed by mistake" or so his marker reads. Other hangings weren't accidental with an 1884 head board attesting to the legal execution of Dan Dowd, Red Sample, Bill Delaney, Tex Howard and Dan Kelly. Trial of the five, accused of killing four townspeople during a holdup, was conducted legally but mob justice had its say.

"Died of Wounds" ends one man's story, with "Ambushed by Apaches" and simply "Killed by Indians" vividly telling another Western history chapter. Dumped unceremoniously in his final resting place, a cowboy's epitaph tells of his death: "John Blair. Died of smallpox. Cowboy thrown rope over feet and dragged him to his grave."

All boys who built cars for the 1948 Daily Times Soap Box Derby were given opportunity this week to hold a trial run on Mamaroneck Avenue hill. OAKLAND, Calif., (AP)—"You're in our way!" yelled reporter Sam Blumenfeld to a motorist who stopped ahead of him. Blumenfeld and photographer Paul Burgess just had jumped into their car at the Oakland Police Station to track down a report of a killing.

"Wait a minute, I just killed a man," said the other driver, coming to Blumenfeld's car with a .45 caliber pistol in his hand.

Thrills Aplenty Await Champ In National Finals At Akron

By THICK CAMPBELL

Derby Downs at Akron, Ohio, is a place where you can see a champion before and after he has never again experience await the lad who races to victory Saturday at Mamaroneck's Derby Downs.

The thrill of victory that will come to him here will be surpassed many times over when he arrives in Akron for the national derby on Sunday, Aug. 15.

With all expenses for the round-trip to Akron financed by The Daily Times, he will be feted and dined, entertained in a style befitting a champion from the minute he arrives in Akron until the time of his departure.

A new feature of Derby Downs this year is the setting up of "Derbytown," a boys' camp nine miles from the city of Akron. In previous years, champs from all over the nation were entertained at the Mayflower Hotel, which this year will be given over to newspapermen and Derby Day guests.

When our 1948 champion arrives in Akron, whether it be by train or car, he will be met by a police escort for a thrilling trip through Akron's streets and with sirens screaming will be driven in an official Derby car to the Mayflower hotel. From thence he will go to Derbytown, a beautiful location beside a lake, his headquarters for the exciting weekend.

The camp, use of which has been granted by the Akron Y.W.C.A. is one of the finest of its kind in the country. Besides the lake, which affords supervised swimming and boating, the camp is equipped with tennis courts, baseball diamonds, a recreation hall with a stage, a modern mess hall, a "post exchange," and a fully staffed medical unit. He will sleep with boys from 132 other communities throughout the United States in groups of 10 in modern cabins and at all times under the supervision and guidance of experienced counselors. Special dietitians and chefs will be on hand to prepare the wholesome food which is always a feature of Derby Week in Akron.

Derbytown will be his headquarters at all times. He will be taken from the camp by buses to meet the various engagements on a busy calendar of fun and play in and about Akron. Motion picture and still cameramen will be at the camp at all times to record highlights of his stay in Akron. Professional entertainers and men trained in organized sports will help direct activities and provide amusement.

Among the many features of his entertainment will be trips to rubber laboratories and plants; Akron Day at an amusement park and special dinner with local industry executives as hosts.

DERBY DOWNS AT AKRON, OHIO, is beautified, improved and refurbished each year for hoodlum's great challenge to the All-American Soap Box Derby. This is a view of the crowd, estimated at 100,000, which watched the tenth anniversary Derby in 1947. The race is operated from the bridge over the Maumee river and is covered by hundreds of newspapermen, radio commentators and photographers. The eleventh annual race will be held in Akron, Aug. 15.

As Goodyear blimp floated gracefully overhead, the tenth annual derby got underway at exactly 2 P. M. under a scintillating sun which sent temperatures up to 85 degrees.

And although the Mamaroneck-Larchmont camp failed to win the coveted national honors, he did win the admiration of the 100,000 spectators who saw him make a courageous and thrilling victory at Mamaroneck's Derby Downs.

Walter Helhaus, who, as Mamaroneck's champ experienced the thrill of a lifetime at Akron. Although Walter took it all in his stride, he'll tell you today that he never knew such thrills existed.

Walter accepted Akron's gala welcome with modest grace. Arriving seven miles outside city limits at 1 P. M. on that eventful Aug. 14 of last year, the 1947 champ was met by a motorcycle police escort and, seated in an official Derby car, sped through Akron's streets as sirens screamed, crowds cheered.

Seventy-five boys had already lined up in when Walter pulled up in front of the Mayflower Hotel where he was greeted officially to the accompaniment of a 20 piece gold helmeted band.

With him on the 500-mile trip by car from Mamaroneck were his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Helhaus and sister, Carol. They had made the trip by way of Harrisburg and Pittsburgh "without even a puncture."

Also with him in Akron were Mayor and Mrs. B. J. Santoro; Leo Helhaus, his uncle, who had directed last year's derby for the Mamaroneck Lions Club, and Mrs. Helhaus.

Walter put his trim racing car through its test run at Derby Downs the following day, inspecting also the other 134 cars of that year's champions.

The 374-foot course looked "small" to him compared with Mamaroneck's Derby Downs. Walter said as he inspected it for the first time from the top of the hill. Saturday—the day before the big day—was packed with entertainment. It included a visit to Sandy Beach for the Akron Day program, an ox-coast dinner at the Rotary Club camp, dedication of a loten pole, gift of the Juneau, Alaska Rotary Club and a wide variety of other activities.

His trim maroon racer, bearing the number 70 and in silver letters the name of his sponsor, The Daily Times, passed official inspection without difficulty by Chevrolet mechanics.

DERBY RESTORED AFTER PROTESTS

The Soap Box Derby tomorrow culminates weeks and even months of work by the Mamaroneck Club and members of the staff of The Daily Times and of Luby Chevrolet Co. Inc. but there was almost no Derby in Mamaroneck this year.

The Chevrolet Division of General Motors originally simulated the Mamaroneck Derby from its 1948 plans and it was only civic pride and activity on the part of The Daily Times and the Mamaroneck Lions Club which brought the classic to Mamaroneck.

Early last November it was learned that because of the large number of requests from larger communities it would be necessary for Mamaroneck boys who wanted to run a Derby to file the Applications for the White Plains event.

A storm of protest immediately followed. Editorially, The Daily Times printed an "Open Letter To Chevrolet." The editors' was reprinted in every paper in the Westchester County Publishers' group.

Following that the Mamaroneck Lions Club took up the cause. Collectively as a club and individually as private citizens, the members wrote Chevrolet officials expressing keen disappointment over the cancellation of the event.

Meanwhile, "Editor and Publisher" the newspaper man's trade magazine, mentioned the dispute in its issue of Dec. 27, 1947.

Finally the protest became so great that Chas. J. French, Chevrolet's national advertising manager, and F. M. Larkins of Harrywood, race manager, came to Mamaroneck for a conference. Fortunately, they came on a Tuesday, the meeting day of the Mamaroneck Lions Club.

After a conference with H. Richmond Campbell, managing editor of The Daily Times, and the Rev. Theo. O. Poedel, Jr., Mr. French and Mr. Larkins were guests at a meeting. There they experienced the enthusiasm of the Lions Club for the Derby classic and, after explaining the difficulty of taking care of all cities which wanted a Soap Box Derby, finally presented a contract for the 1948 Derby to Mr. Campbell. The contract enlarged the scope of the Mamaroneck Derby and boys from all along the Long Island Sound were permitted to enter.

So the boys who race tomorrow can thank the civic pride and civic ability of The Daily Times and the Lions Club for the opportunity to compete in America's greatest amateur sporting event.

Fishing Boat Rescues 2 From Sound Waters

RYKE A girl and a boy who spent an hour and a half in the water one mile off the Long Island shore when their sailboat capsized Tuesday afternoon are home in five hours the worse for their experience.

Miss Anne Rahman, sixteen, and Kenneth Cook, eighteen, left Milton Harbor Tuesday morning for a sail across the Sound in the "Vixen," a 13-foot Wee-Scot. They arrived in Oyster Bay and started home again about 4 P. M. when a gust of wind capsize the boat and they were flung into the water. In life preservers, they clung to the boat until the commercial fishing boat Richmond took them aboard and towed their boat back to Milton Harbor.

They were met on their way in by a launch from the American Yacht Club carrying their parents searching for them. The Coast Guard had also been asked to search for the young sailors.

LABOR AND DEMOCRATS

AUTHORIZED spokesmen for both the AFL and the CIO have appeared before the Democratic National Convention's Platform Committee in Philadelphia to file their demands on what the Party's platform must say with regard to union labor.

But, significantly, contravention, in rapid order President William Green of the AFL and President Philip Murray of the CIO have abruptly declined the convention's offer to "My Old Friend Dan Tobin," at which AFL leader Benjamin Franklin D. Roosevelt liked to start his campaigns, has sent his regrets.

The answer is obvious to those acquainted with the tactical strategy of such leaders. They never stick with a losing cause; they are unwilling to be associated with any venture seemingly destined for misfortune.

FOOD PRESERVATION WEEK

TO EMPHASIZE the importance to home-makers of taking advantage of the present supplies of fruits and vegetables, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has asked that the week of July 12-18 be made National Home Food Preservation Week.

It is this good advice and we suggest the wisdom of Frutes and home-keepers cooperation. By canning abundant Frutes and vegetables this provides better nutrition for her family at lower prices and at the same time help combat inflation by reduction of competition for foodstuffs next winter.

Young Need Play And Love In Home To Grow Up Happy

Children, however, being active, interested people in search of knowledge about things in general, are more interested in the degree of adults' values, week such ambitions unless carefully managed.

Wallace's Strength Waning, Democratic Leaders Informed

By RAY TUCKER. PHILADELPHIA — The only bit of good cheer the Democratic leaders have heard since their arrival in Philadelphia, which is such a cheer as James A. Farley recently estimated that the Iowa would roll up eight million votes, while some placed the figure at ten million. But these latest polls indicate that he will be lucky to get five million possibly less.

BARLEY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay. "The Authority on Authorities"

MUST BE ON THE ALERT. TO BE FRANKED as a first-class bridge competitor, you must always be on the alert for the unexpected, and should apply the logic of plain common sense to everything that happens. Even if you know your partner, or one of your opponents, as a player you never made a psychic bid in his life, you yet should be prepared to recognize one if he should call it.

How'd You Make Out? 1. A white elephant. 2. A collection of stars in the sky. 3. A black potato. 4. A variety of domestic pigeon.
